ORCHESTRA IN CONCERT HERE LAST NIGHT

Final of Year Last Night; DeMott, Labedz, Kay, Enzler, in Specials

By NORBERT ENGELS
Rev. Frank Remmes' alluring posters helped to gather a crowd in Washington Hall last night for his orchestra recital.

For a school orchestra, they performed in a creditable manner. Perhaps the bowing of the violinists was not absolutely in unison, and perhaps with a bit of attention, one might have discerned unwritten dissonances, but taking all in all, the concert was enjoyable. For the young musicians, it represented the work of an entire year—an honest striving to acquire perfection, and some of the numbers were indeed a credit to them.

It seemed to me, however, that they played under a grave handicap, an apparently uninterpretable baton. In the marches, especially, there seemed to be a decided lack of the vim that should characterize such numbers and even in the heavy forte passages, the baton swayed peacefully and at the same precise altitude. Apparently, it was left to the men themselves to interpret their music.

J. Edmond de Mott played his violin numbers well and was accompanied by Victor Labedz at the piano. The trio also provided their share of the program.

Program follows:
Eagles Nest Overture, Isenman; La Charmante, Kurtz; Selection from "Robin Hood," Wiegand; Notre Dame orchestra.

Canzonetta, d'Ambrosio; Madrigale, Simonetti; Rococco, Drdla; violin solo by John E. De Mot; Victor Labedz at the piano.

Divertissement (Scene de Ballet), Bendix; National Emblem March, R. B. Hall; Narcissus Overture, Schlegel; orchestra.

Intermission—five minutes.
Marche Militaire, Schubert; Pine Trees and Shadows, Moore; Invincible Eagle March, Sousa; Emerald Isle, Langéy; orchestra.

Ave Maria Stella, Grieg; Camellia, P. Yon; "Pot-Pourri" from Carmen, Bizet; violin, De Mot; cello, Kay; piano, Labedz.

Ballet Egyptian, Luigini; Am Meer, Schubert; trombone solo by Joseph Enzler; Parade of Wooden Soldiers, Jessel; Campus Echoes, Rollinson.

The Orchestra will play in Tomlinson Hall, Indianapolis, on Saturday.

LEWIS MURPHY SOON TO MARRY

Prominent Student and Miss Kubath of Indiana City Marry in June

Miss Anne Kubath will become the bride of Lewis J. Murphy, graduate in philosophy at Notre Dame this year, on June 12, in Michigan City, Ind., the home of the young lady, it was announced yesterday. The ceremony will be performed at St. Stanislaus Church.

Murphy, who will return to Notre Dame next year to take law, and to receive a doctor of jurisprudence after finishing his law studies, is one of the best known men on the campus. He has been president of the Day Students, president of the Knights of Columbus Scholarship Club, commandant of the Notre Dame post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and is a member of the Boosters.

Durkin Breaks Arm; Leaning on a Truck

James Durkin, Walsh Hall, has his right arm in a sling. It was broken at Cartier Field as the Irish ball team played the enemy.

Durkin was leaning against a Velvet Ice Cream Co. wagon when the wagon pulled out and banged his arm. George Barry, Corby Hall, tried to pull Durkin away but his grasp slipped. Tom Walsh, Corby, lunged at the wheel, but too late.

SOPHS TO MEET ON DEDICATION

Juniors to Get Senior Pins Due to No Ruling by the S. A. C.

The sophomore class of this year will meet with the present junior class at the meeting to dedicate the Dome next Tuesday in the Library. It had been announced, due to a misunderstanding of an S. A. C. ruling, that the present juniors alone would meet and make the decision, but it was ruled yesterday that both classes would meet and make the decision. The meeting was planned for today but the time was changed.

The theme of the book, "The United Spirit of Notre Dame," the editors of the book hope, will be carried out by an appropriate dedication.

Juniors on Pins
After the Dome meeting the juniors will meet to act on senior pins. In the absence of an S. A. C. ruling on the matter, the class will order pins this summer, and the juniors will be privileged to wear them before they return in the fall. "There is no ruling on the matter," said President Swift yesterday. The treasurer's report will also be read.

Jerry Lyons Emerges from Hermit Life

Jerry Lyons, news editor of the DAILY, secured his release from the University isolation hospital yesterday. He was mistaken for a member of the House of David three times before he got to his room and razor. After he gets through worrying about final examinations he will pull the DAILY through its last few days.

LOOK IT OVER

Several members of the St. Rita's high school football team, of Chicago, were visitors at the University, for the Michigan-Notre Dame game.

MEMORIAL DAY IS CELEBRATED IMPRESSIVELY

Services Begin With Church Call and Field Mass; End With Taps

Memorial Day of 1923 is history at Notre Dame.

With church call at 8:20 the day's exercises, which ended with taps at the Community Cemetery began. A field mass was said on an altar erected at Walsh Hall by Rev. Ernest Davis, C. S. C., chaplain of the 109th Infantry, A. E. F. Hundreds of students and visitors knelt on the grass before the altar as the Veterans of Foreign Wars stood in formation before it.

Exercises at Washington Hall followed, where Lewis J. Murphy, commander of the Notre Dame post of the V. F. W., was presiding, officer. Professor Eugene Payton delivered the address at the exercises, dwelling on the significance of the day.

From Washington Hall the body moved to the Community Cemetery where a hollow square was formed about the south section centering on Father Corby's grave. The band played "America" during the decoration of the graves of the veterans; the chaplain read a short prayer, three volleys were fired over the graves, and Bugler Plin Swanson played taps.

Robert O'Riordan was in charge of arrangements for the day, and is responsible for its success.

John Q. Adams, of Badin, recently visited Tommy Byrne, also of Badin, who has been confined to the St. Francis Hospital at Evanston, and says that Tommy is now on the way to recovery and is expected to return to Notre Dame after the opening of school next year. Tommy has been at the hospital for the past five months.

Leahy Will Marry Miss Mary Sullivan

Mrs. Nora Sullivan, of Wabash, Ind., announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Frances Sullivan, to Thomas F. Leahy, youngest son of Mrs. Catherine Leahy, of Fitchburg, Mass. Leahy will be graduated in journalism with the class of '23 with high honors. The day for the wedding has not yet been appointed.

SENIORS GET DOMES FIRST

Those Who Have Paid for Annuals Get First Chance, He Says

Seniors will get the first copies of the 1923 Dome, Tom Walsh, business manager of the book, announced yesterday. More than 500 copies will be ready for distribution on Saturday morning. No copies will be given out to anyone before that time.

Preference will be shown those who have paid for their copies as only a limited number will be distributed, 1,300 in all. Names of those who have recently applied for copies are being placed on the lists following the names of those who subscribed at the time of the last drive, and the few extra copies will be distributed to these men until the supply is exhausted. To prevent unsold copies being left over, this year's staff was careful to order but the number of ordered copies.

Lines will form at the Walsh Hall offices of the Dome in the north end of Walsh subway at nine on Saturday morning.

Announce New Men for Faculty Here

Rev. Michael Mulcaire, C.S.C., and Rev. Henry Glueckert, C.S.C., who will receive doctors' degrees at Catholic University in June will both teach at the University next year, it was announced yesterday.

Father Mulcaire, who will receive a Ph.D. in Sociology, was ordained last year. He will be connected with the Department of Economics.

Father Glueckert will receive his Ph.D. in Classics and will no doubt be placed in the English Department. Both young men are graduates of Notre Dame.

BUCKLEY BACK

John Buckley '22, has returned to the University for Commencement. He is practicing law in Youngstown, Ohio.

MANY PLAYS BY DRAMA CIRCLE FOR NEXT YEAR

Hold Preparatory Meeting Last Night to Outline the Year's Plans

At least two dozen plays are planned by the Dramatic Circle for next year.

The Circle met in the Library last night, the president, Ray Cunningham, in the chair, and discussed the plans of the organization for next year, generally outlining the purposes of the Circle. One-act and three-act plays will be staged from talent selected from members in the club. Different act cliques will be formed within the club to compete for the parts in the play, and by this means the club hopes to be able to secure the best talent on the campus. The method, it is expected, will encourage interest, careful research work, and friendly antagonism, giving every man a fair chance to display his ability, and a chance to make use of it.

When the first meeting is called in September, bulletins will be posted regarding the admittance of new members.

PROCESSION OF FEAST DAY

Mediaeval Custom Recalled by Annual Manner of Remembering Day

The mediaeval manner of celebrating Corpus Christi by a procession of the community was recalled at Notre Dame yesterday. The custom is traditional at Notre Dame, with the community passing from one hall to another as they make a circuit of the campus. Years ago, the procession passed about the lakes and back to the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart.

A pontifical high mass was celebrated in the Church at eight o'clock by Rev. Dr. Matthew J. Walsh, president of the University, assisted by Rev. Thomas Irving, vice president of the University, as deacon, Rev. T. Kearney, or Moreau Seminary, as sub-deacon, and Rev. Francis Weninger, as master of ceremonies. Benediction was given from altars erected on the steps of the Administration Building, Walsh Hall, and Science Hall. The order of procession was Holy Cross, DuJarie, the novices, Moreau, the community, the sisters, the congregation, Freshman, Badin, Corby, Walsh, and Sorin.

CONCERT POSTPONED

The Band's second concert, which was scheduled to be given last night, has been postponed until Monday evening. The change was made to avoid a conflict with last night's appearance of the University Orchestra.

DAY MEN—STOP AND LISTEN!

Not so many years ago Notre Dame men lived together as a unit within the shadow of the Dome. Perhaps it was the splendor that radiated from its golden surface that encouraged a healthy and absorbing interest in the divers student organizations.

The rapid growth of the University during the last few years has caused a change. A large number of students must of necessity live in South Bend. This is regrettable for those men usually prefer life on the campus.

Today activity on the part of the oppidans in campus organizations is on the decline. Few day students interest themselves in writing, dramatics, or athletics. Is the day student to blame? No. He has never been properly approached, nor has he had the chance to be initiated into the spirit of Notre Dame.

The first and most obvious remedy which suggests itself is, of course, the erection of more resident halls. This cannot be done over night, however. The University is planning more of them as soon as possible.

Companionship and association with other commuters would be advantageous and provocative of the old Notre Dame spirit of democracy and good fellowship. The result would be a NEW Notre Dame spirit of fraternity, with the day students and their campus brothers working as a unit for the glory of Notre Dame and their mutual good.

CAN AN OFFICER DO WRONG?

It was paradoxical that on the eve of the DAILY'S South Bend-Notre Dame Friendship edition, a Notre Dame student, speeding in a car, should have been almost fatally wounded for ignoring an officer's signal to stop.

But if there is any force interfering with the constructive work of Father Quinlan, prefect of discipline, and the progressive, considerate efforts of Chief of Police Lane, that force should be discovered and stamped out. For two years the relations between the student and the officials of South Bend have been remarkably amicable.

The student body has been exceptionally amicable, exceptionally law-abiding as student bodies go. In this spirit they have been opposed only by a few scattered officers, men who have forgotten that they are SERVANTS, not persecutors, of the people. An example of this type is Officer Bates, who has at certain times violated the most fundamental rights of American citizenry in order to make himself better-known as an "active" officer.

It were better to be confronted by a hold-up who shoots only when he has to, rather than by an officer who depends upon his connection with the law to protect him in any abuse he cares to inflict. It may be true that Officer Luczny was aiming at the tires of Gorman's machine. Assuming that he had the right, the results of his marksmanship indicate that it would be best to equip such officers with "beanies" or wooden swords.

Gorman has in a sense been a martyr to the cause of South Bend-Notre Dame friendship. It is to be hoped that his sacrifice is not in vain, and that the exposed worms gnawing at the tree of Mutual Good-will may be crushed.

Colyum O' Bits

By CLIFF WARD

I SAT on the porch
The other night,
And I got to feeling,
Rather gloomy.

I WAS strolling along,
When I heard a cry,
From a tiny babe,
Who had crawled too far.

SO I carried the child
Into the house,
And the parents wept
With happiness.

AND I said good-night,
And I set out for home,
With chest stuck out,
And my chin raised high.

KEEP YOUR VISION.

(Oregon Daily Emerald)

Usually, after a riotous good time, on a week-end of excitement, a queer feeling comes over all of us. We call it "the blues"; we say we are "low"; in general, we subject ourselves to a few hours—or possibly days—of mental misery, agonizing moments of self scrutiny and criticism.

Sometimes it does, but more often it doesn't. Perhaps the sun shines, or, if it has been warm, it rains. And we say that the change in the weather is what was needed. In reality, it is a change in ourselves we need—a stronger purpose, a renewed energy sufficient to carry us ahead, a bigger vision which will give us this strength and energy.

renewed energy sufficient to carry us ahead, a bigger vision which will give us this strength and energy.

Sit by yourself out of doors a while. Look at the far-off horizon, listen to the ripple of a continuously-flowing stream, enjoy the chatter of the birds high up in the trees, and then let your eyes wander to the shrubs and flowers far enough away from you so they appear perfect. Everything will be beautiful—inspiring. Of course around you there is soil—mud perhaps; tiny ants chase over your shoes; worms appear from under the leaves; a fat slimy snail crawls slowly toward the rotting log on which you are seated. But don't look at them. Keep your larger vision and the tired, low feeling will soon disappear.

INTRAMURAL TRACK TITLE TO BROWNSON

Basket Ball, Baseball and Track of 1923 Won By Same Hall

Brownson Hall added another title to her already long string of honors, when the Purple flyers copped the Interhall track championship at the annual outdoor meet yesterday afternoon, with a total of 48 1-3 points. Freshman Hall followed close with 37 1-2 points.

On a lightning fast track, Clem Crowe, freshman speed star from Brownson, stepped the century in .10 flat and came back in the 220 for first place crossing the tape in .22:8. In both events, Crowe was pushed all the way by the off-campus flash, Dehoughie, who finished second. Johnson, brilliant hurdler of Brownson, was the high point man of the day, with three firsts in the hurdles, and broad jump.

In the mile run, Cooper of Walsh sprung a surprise by winning from Bidwell of Walsh in 4:57. Cooper drew the pole at the start and led the field at the half-way mark. Bidwell drew into the lead at the start of the third quarter, but on the last turn, Cooper let out a burst of speed, passing Bidwell and crossed the tape five yards in the lead. Johnson in the 120 high hurdles won his event by ten yards, breasting the tape in .17:3. He returned in the 220 low hurdles and raced home a winner in .27:2.

Conlin of Freshman kept the lead all the way in the 880, and was followed at the finish by Bidwell of Walsh and Keats of Brownson. Daly of Badin took first place in the javelin throw with a peg of 146 feet, 4 inches, and fourth place in the discus. In this event, Max Houser, the lone entry from the Gym, won his spurs with a toss of 109 feet, 7 inches and Hamel, the sole Sorinite, tied with Driscoll and Carey in the pole vault with a leap of 10 feet, 6 inches. Rigney of Badin, twirled the shot for 35 feet, 10 inches.

Walsh took third place in the meet with points in the distance runs and high jump. Badin bid for fourth place with 14 points and the Day-dodgers made fifth with a total of nine points, due to the speed of Dehoughie.

The meet was under the direction of Coach Rockne. Brownson Hall, Brother Allen's team, closes a very successful season with the titles in three sports, having won the championship in basketball, baseball and track.

IRISH BEATEN BY MICHIGAN

Conference Champs Hit Ball Hard and Beat Notre Dame 12-4

The Fighting Irish felt the power of the Conference Champs and went down before the onslaught of the Michigan U. batters, 12-4, at Cartier Field on Memorial Day. The Wolverines brought a powerful, well balanced club with plenty of reserve strength to Notre Dame and defeated the Irish by sheer force.

Falvey Off
The Michigan victory was no fluke, but real and decisive, but had Dick Falvey been in form, undoubtedly there would have been a different story. Falvey, who has pitched splendid ball this season, was off color on the day of the big game and was batted hard by Michigan. Then, too, the Irish felt the loss of Sheehan and the infield was considerably weakened. The Irish as a team played good ball, but they were unable to hit in the pinches and fell down in the fielding at critical times. Red Magevney, who replaced Falvey, pitched good ball, but errors allowed Michigan to score several times.

ADAMS READY FOR THE FINALS

Defeats Sullivan; to Play Foglia for the Championship Now

John Quincy Adams, continuing to play his super-game of golf, defeated Bill Sullivan in the semi-finals yesterday, six up and five to go. Adams is now qualified to meet Joe Foglia in the finals for the championship and the trophy cup, donated by Eugene O'Brien.

Adams began behind Sullivan who succeeded in holing his shots, consistently better than Adams during the early part of the game. After the first few holes, however, Adams began to creep up on his opponent and ended the first nine holes with the same score.

Adams had five up at the 19th, was four up on the 20th, and retained his lead until the 31st hole, when he won, six up and five to go. On the 30th hole Adams caught the ditch and required four strokes while Sullivan, after sending a beautiful mashie to the green, was down in three and won the hole. On the next hole, Sullivan fell short of the green while Adams hooked to the left. Both were on in two and down in four. The hole was halved and the match went to Adams.

The scores follow:
Adams 6 4 5 4 3 6 4 4 5—41
Sullivan 5 5 3 4 4 4 4 5 4—38
Sullivan 5 4 3 4 3 4 4 4 4—35
Sullivan 5 5 3 3 5 5 4 6 5—41
Sullivan 5 4 3 4 4 5 5 6 5—39
Sullivan 6 4 4 4 5 5 5 4 4—41
Sullivan 5 6 3 4

TO CONVENTION
On their way to the K. of C. convention at Michigan City, two Fort Wayne men, graduates of Notre Dame, stopped at Notre Dame. They were Charles Niezer, president of the Old National Bank, of Fort, Wayne, and Adrian Hayes, prominent lawyer of the city. Mr. Niezer was very prominent in the work for the Gibault Home.

Kane, Nolan and Foley were the Irish mainstays and played good ball and got two hits apiece and helped to drive Gibson from the box. Shackleford was the Michigan star and pounded three hits, including a home run. Paper, Kipke, Uteritz, Ash, in fact the whole Michigan team played good ball, and Stryker held the Irish scoreless after the third inning.

The Irish play one more game this season with Illinois at Cartier Field on June 9, as a Senior Week feature.
