PICK BARNHART TO HEAD CASEYS ANOTHER YEAR

Impressive Election; Barnhart Meets No Opposition; Father O'Donnell Talks on Boy Council.

Henry F. Barnhart was re-elected grand knight of the Notre Dame council, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night in the most impressive business meeting in the history of the council.

Pleading that he could not hold the office because of the stress of his post-graduate work, Barnhart refused the nomination time and time again, only to find his protests futile against the acclamations of the council. At one time after a flat refusal to stand for the office, the grand knight insisted upon further nominations. For almost five minutes the council sat in dogged silence, refusing to make any other nominations, then burst into an ovation which caused Barnhart to break his determined stand and accede to the wishes of his brother knights.

All the offices except those of outside guards were filled by a unanimous vote. Raymond Cunningham was chosen to serve as deputy grand knight; John J. James as financial secretary; George Bischoff as chancellor; John P. Hurley as recording secretary; Mark E. Nolan as advocate; Tom Lieb as warden; Albert A. Sommer as inside guard; and Charles Collins and John McMullan as outside guards. The appointments of chaplain and lecturer will be announced at the next meeting, as well as various committees.

Before the elections Rev. Hugh O'Donnell delivered a short talk with regard to Notre Dame's camp for the training of boy leaders, which attracted about 70 men last summer. He did this in connection with the announcement of the decision of the Supreme Council, K. of C., to sponsor organizations in the subordinate councils, for boys between the ages of 14 and 18, to be known as the Columbian Squires.

ELECTRICAL CLUB ELECTS

Professor Caparo Addresses A. I. E. in First Meeting of the Year at University.

Officers were elected at a meeting of the Notre Dame branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, on Monday evening. The following were elected: Francis X. Egan, president; Edward Sullivan, vice-president; Kenneth E. Faiver, secretary; Hubert Hersam, treasurer.

Professor J. A. Caparo, chairman of the club, gave the members matter for thought by his pithy statements.

"A strictly technical education does not prevent a man from taking a position in the business world," he said. "The University does not give a complete education; it merely lays the foundation for future work in life. Part of the ground-work in the course for Electrical Engineering is gained in the class rooms, and part through attendance at the club meetings. Such a club as the Notre Dame branch of the A. I. E. E. affords a training in methods of presenting problems to the public."

Meetings will be held at 8 o'clock on the first and third Monday evenings of each month, in the Engineering Building. All students of Electrical Engineering are asked to attend in order that the Notre Dame branch may be a representative organization.

Petrich Elected to Head orchestra; Want More Players

John P. Petrich was elected president of the University orchestra at its first meeting of the year, Monday noon in Washington hall. Victor F. Lemmer was elected vice-president, and T. D. Kenney and A. I. Reichert were elected to act, with the officers, as a governing board.

Dr. J. Lewis Browne will personally conduct the orchestra. The first rehearsal was held Tuesday afternoon in the Washington hall auditorium at 5 p.m.

Although the number of men turned out for the orchestra is considerable, more men are wanted. Men with any musical talent are urged by the band officers to appear at the next meeting, to be held in Washington hall at 5 Tuesday afternoon.

MANY ARTISTS WILL COME HERE

Alberto Salvi, Famous Harp Soloist, Opens Program at Washington Hall

The Washington hall program for the present term is announced. The program promises to be the best produced at Notre Dame.

For musical entertainment, some of the greatest organizations and soloists have been engaged. Alberto Salvi is recognized everywhere for his ability as a harp soloist; Jesse Isabel Christian is a concert and operatic soprano who has appeared with huge success both in Europe and America, and the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra is a famous organization, ranking with the best in the country.

The program that will be presented this year is:

Alberto Salvi.....	October 8
Maunuel and Williamson.....	October 16
Cleveland Symphony Orchestra.....	November 6
Adanaes.....	November 21
Mac Farrens.....	December 1
Fenwick Newell.....	January 21
Werno Quartette.....	January 14
Jesse Isabel Christian.....	February 4
Arthur Coggeshall.....	February 29
Smiling Thru.....	April 25

Kentucky Club Names Colonel

Ernest Russell McClure was elected colonel at a meeting of the Kentucky club Monday night in the south room of the library. James K. Hammond was made lieutenant-colonel and Edward Miller received the office of revenue collector. The position of still house watch, eligible only to freshmen, will be filled at the next meeting of the club.

Prof. John M. Cooney, who was a speaker on the occasion, reminded those present of the traditions and characteristics of the club in former years. He also remarked on the growth of the organization which now has approximately 30 members. Prof. Cooney is himself a Kentuckian and an honorary member of the club.

Brother Florian in Serious Condition

Brother Florian continues to lie in a serious condition at the Community House. Yesterday, according to Dr. Francis Powers, the attending physician, he was resting comfortably though in a weakened state.

Brother Columba, well known for the number of cures reputed to him through his devotion to the Sacred Heart, is also ill, in consequence of a bad cold which has kept him inactive for three weeks. His condition yesterday was slightly improved, though he is still very weak.

CENTRALIZE ACTIVITIES OF SENIOR CLASS

One Committee to Handle Affairs; Chairman of the Pin Committee Makes His Report.

The centralization of all senior class activities in a general committee headed by Chairman Walter Moran was announced following the first class meeting of the year, held Tuesday noon in the library.

The committee is composed of John James, Peter Curran, Walter Rader, Paul Funk, John O'Sullivan, Edward Cantwell, James MacSweeney, E. J. Noon, Ted Huether, Harold Thompson and Jim Corbett. President Donald Gallagher, Joe Bergman, vice-president, Richard Gibbons, secretary, and Jim Corbett, treasurer, of the class, are ex-officio members of the committee.

The members of the committee will be given charge of particular class functions, such as dances, concessions, publicity, and the like, and will be privileged to name men to assist them. Their plans, however, must be ratified by the class to be of any effect.

Charles Robrecht, chairman of the pin committee, reported that progress was being made toward securing the class pins in spite of the fact that a contract with one company had been broken because their product was not up to specifications. Senior class stationery was favorably acted upon, but a suggestion as to the wearing of senior caps or sport jackets was tabled.

FATHER SMITH DIES IN EAST

Noted Author and Teacher Was Responsible for Catholic Actors' Guild.

Rev. John Talbot Smith, C.S.C., formerly a professor at the University, died Tuesday morning in a New York city hospital, where he had been confined for nearly two months with a serious illness. The burial is to take place in New York city.

He was the author of many novels and a competent literary critic. Father Smith was the guiding spirit of the Catholic Actors' Guild for whose formation he was largely responsible. He was a promoter of Irish welfare and constantly before the public eye.

While at Notre Dame, Father Smith was one of the best known men on the campus. His lectures were listened to with delight by several generations of Notre Dame men. In a number of pamphlets he set forth successfully the spirit of old Notre Dame. He received an LL.D. from the University in 1907.

Bishop Caruana Returns to Home

Rt. Rev. George J. Caruana, Bishop of Porto Rico, who celebrated the pontifical high mass last Sunday in the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, has left for Washington, D. C., where he will attend a district conference of bishops, to be held at the Catholic University.

The Bishop brought with him from Port Rico eight students who entered seminaries at Baltimore, Rochester and St. Paul.

Dome Editors Ask Return of Queries To Get in Dome

Off Campus seniors must return their Dome questionnaires to Box 82, Notre Dame, Indiana, before September 30, the editors announce.

Because senior pictures will be taken on the campus this year, it is necessary that the editors have a complete and definite list of the seniors who wish their pictures in the Dome. Those who do not sign and return a questionnaire will not have their picture in the annual.

The Russell Company of Chicago will have a studio on the campus for a week, beginning October 9, and it is necessary that every picture be taken within that week.

ARRANGES FOR "HELLO WEEK"

Tag to Designate Men; "Hello" to Be Greeting Everywhere; DAILY Campaign.

Plans for "Hello Week" were completed at a meeting of the Blue Circle at 12:30 yesterday in the South room of the Lemmonier library. Matt Rothert was in the chair. Every man is expected to recognize and speak to every other man during "Hello Week," saying "Hello."

Leo Cavanaugh was appointed chairman of the committee for the week; with Ray Cunningham and Ralph Heger as the other members of the committee.

Ray Cunningham presented a sketch of the tags proposed to be used. The sketch was approved. The upperclassmen will be given a gold tag with a space provided in which their class standing may be inserted, and the freshmen will be given blue tags. The wearer of the tag will put his name on it. Every man is urged to become acquainted.

The method of distributing the tags has not been decided upon yet. It will be announced Saturday.

The tags are two by four inches. A picture of the Dome is at the top and below this two students are pictured shaking hands. A name plate is at the bottom.

In the meantime, the Blue Circle is continuing its campaign for 100 per cent subscriptions to the Dome and THE DAILY. Special attention this week will be paid to non-subscribers off the campus, and an opportunity will be given them to subscribe. The drive will continue until Friday noon. At that time, the committees will make their report.

Daily Communions Are on Increase

Statistics, recently compiled, show an increase of 100 daily communications over last year for the month of September. Last year there was an average of 543 daily communicants, while this year's figures show 643.

Freshman hall still leads the various halls with 74 a day.

It is expected that upon the completion of the sophomore chapel the daily communication average will register another increase.

NO MORE HULLIES.

Hull and Calnon, 112 South Michigan street have sold to John H. Pulschen of the South Bend Floral Co., 122 North Michigan avenue, according to an announcement yesterday.

The business will be taken over by the new owner on October 1. "Hullies and Mike" are familiar to practically the entire student body. It is believed that the former owners will not re-enter the business in South Bend.

BRING YOUR ATHLETIC TICKETS TO THE GAME SATURDAY.

BAND TO LEAD STUDENTS TO PEP MEETING

Rockne, Father Walsh, Tim Galvin, Harvey Brown, Gene Mayl, and Others to Speak.

The new Notre Dame 60-piece band will lead the students from their halls to the Pep meeting tonight in the Gym, it was announced yesterday by Ed Luther, cheer leader.

Promptly at 6:45 p. m. the band will meet in front of the Main building to start the march. Carroll and Brownson hall men will form behind the band and the column will then proceed to Sorin and Walsh. At the post office the Day students will fall in line. Stopping at Badin and Corby halls, the parade will move across the campus to the Gymnasium. After the students of Freshman and Sophomore halls have joined the column, the meeting will begin in the Gymnasium.

Jim Swift, chairman of the S. A. C., will introduce Ed Luther to the students as the new cheer leader. Luther will try a few yells that the students must be familiar with by Saturday. Tim Galvin, prominent alumnus, is expected to be here to tell how much noise the student body made in his days.

Rev. Matthew J. Walsh, president to address the men. Coach Rockne will speak. George Keogan, assistant coach, will follow Mr. Rockne. Talking for the team will be Harvey Brown, football captain, and Gene Mayl, varsity end and basketball captain.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Washington hall but it was the opinion that the crowd would be too large. Luther, the cheer leader, emphasized the need for all students to attend the meeting.

A short meeting of all freshmen was held last night for the purpose of teaching the first year men the Notre Dame yells. Ed Luther gave a talk and illustrated the yells.

WAR ROMANCE FOR OLD GRAD

Clarence McCabe, of 1923 Class, Married After Romance of War; On Denver Post.

Clarence J. McCabe, Ph. B. in Journalism, 1922, of North Platte, Nebraska, and Mlle. Andree Charmoille, of Beaune, France, were married recently, according to announcements received at the University.

The marriage is the culmination of a romance that had its origin at the University of Beaune during the World War. When McCabe returned to the United States to resume his studies at Notre Dame, Mlle. Charmoille went to London as secretary of the London-Paris Air Service.

The wedding took place in the parish church at Beaune, on July 31, the ceremony being performed by Monsignor the Cure of Beaune. The honeymoon was spent on the Riveiera. Mr. and Mrs. McCabe sailed for the United States on August 21. They will make their home in Denver, Colo. McCabe is on the staff of the Denver Post.

Professor J. F. Hines, of the History department, is suffering from an attack of ptomaine poisoning. He was obliged to leave his classes Monday morning, and has been confined to his home at 803 East St. Vincent's street since then. He is now recovering, however, and expects to resume work Monday morning.

VALUES

Notre Dame has more activities than the whole republic of Nicaragua. A man with considerable initiative, fair ability and personality, and who is not timid about dipping his hands in work, by the time he has galloped over four years here can come to be known as a leader. He will wake up some morning and find that he is heaped with honors up to his nostrils, that he is president of four clubs, chairman of three committees, founder of a paper and the business manager of five organizations. This discovery will not unnerve him; since his freshman year he has perhaps been looking forward to just such a deluge. He will now ponder upon the consequences of loading on a few more honors, and breathing out of his eyes. He will probably take the chance.

We have indicated the pleasure of this gentleman's first awakening. His second is not as joyous. It comes about in February of his senior year, and is accompanied by a feeling of nausea, such as one experiences just before taking one's first dive off a springboard. The honors have by this time ceased to tickle the gentleman's ears, and are instead retarding the growth of his hair. With a great effort he throws them off, and stands with a puzzled expression upon his face. We should be thankful there is even that upon him, for otherwise he is naked.

Then suddenly someone taps him upon the shoulder. It is his benignant Alma Mater, smiling and showing a diploma into his hand. Gently old Alma Mater speaks: "I have done my best to clothe you warmly for the blizzards of the world, my son. Go forth, and do not freeze!" Whereupon our gentleman is pushed out of the door; and because honors have been packed so tightly about his eyes he probably stumbles on the door-sill: thus he makes his entry into the winds of the world.

So why allow honors and positions to blind you to the real values of things in college life? Activities help develop a man, up to a certain point. Beyond that they demand that he sacrifice very valuable things—study, reading, recreation, time for reflection and time for a certain inimitable kind of gathering for which Notre Dame is famous. You came here for an education, for culture, to come in contact with that creature called man, and to study him. Are you getting these things out of Notre Dame life?

Note for freshmen: If you don't believe that there is truth in this editorial ask the advice of some senior whose name has become a by-word through his activities.

—TESTING LOYALTY

THE DAILY has begun. Thanks to the efforts of indefatigable members of the circulation staff of the periodical and to the relentless endeavors of the Blue Circle, the paper has started on its way in 1923. But it limps as it goes, and cries for the support of Notre Dame men, traditional for their loyalty.

Unable to appear five days a week as it intended it appears but four. Unable to print a frequent issue of eight pages, it crowds its message into four.

But it goes on. Last spring, we all remember, the students were quizzed as to whether they wanted a daily. Ninety-five per cent of the replies were affirmative, ninety-five per cent of the students pledged their support. To test sentiment, THE DAILY was begun in the last few days of school. The venture resulted so favorably that plans were begun for the regular publication of the sheet this fall.

And then. In the first few days of school a comparative few signed the subscription blanks. Despite the efforts of the Blue Circle, two hundred eighty day students are yet unsigned, and three hundred twenty campus men also are not subscribers.

The campaign is being renewed in the halls and in town. Sophomore hall stands at the head of the loyalty list today. Every hall should be one hundred per cent loyal. THE DAILY has confidence that every hall will be so.

It needs the assistance of Notre Dame men, and it has confidence in them, and continues her fight. Notre Dame men do not quit despite discouraging odds. THE DAILY does not want to quit.

ROCK TALKS.

The Monogram Club began their active season with a meeting in Sorin Hall Monday. The entire resident membership of the club were then present to hear Coach Rockne give a talk on the general plans for the coming season. He also spoke on Homecoming and the boxing exhibition to be given on the night before Homecoming.

Roger Kiley of Chicago and Rev. Hugh O'Donnell also made short talks to the club.

In the football dance series, it was decided that the Monogram Club would give the dance after the Butler game on November 17.

Through the Looking Glass

Hi le hi low I got a date.
Hi lee hi up (Hope) I won't be late.

Hi lee the time was set for eight.
Hi up that I don't get the gate.

—The simple notes of gladness stole under the door jamb of the closed room, careened drunkenly against the wall and lit in a quivering mass at the singer's feet. It was Hooda who was singing. He was getting ready for a date.

The song stopped abruptly. Hooda had discovered that one of his socks had a gap in it. Then the song started again. Hooda had decided to wear the red undergarments with the feet in them. Thus did he deal with his problems.

He appeared to view resplendent in his nicest shoes, tie, and roommate's hat. He next gave his hair a final touch, touched his roommate rather heavily, and left.

Walking rapidly for a number of blocks he paused to look at the janitor's watch. He could just make it. He turned in at a vine colored cottage and knocked. A girl came to the door. She turned the knob before she opened it.

"How do you do," said Hooda.
"Very well," she replied, "And how do you find yourself?"

"With a looking gl— I mean fine," said our hero. There was a spell of silence. Then she spoke, "Who are you and what is it you want?"

"Why," stammered Hooda, "Why, didn't we have a date?"

"Yes, but why didn't we," she replied smilingly. "But it must have been with my twin sister, and even so, young man, you should never call at eight in the morning." He left in a panic. Nearing his room he murmured, "I simply must remember that."

Synthetic Love: Car, swell dancer, slick hair, "You just oughta hear him tawk," etc.

With heaps of etc.

Other things may be prescribed.

The prescribed part is probably the most important.

Love and the world laughs with you.

Weep and she'll laugh alone.

It's an even break. You get it in the neck both ways. There's only one plan: Take the promise ring and the plain one down to a plumber, have 'em soldered together, and present 'em that way.

"You just oughta hear him tawk." A year from then they're leaning over the anvil chorus fence, chirping, "You just oughta hear him squawk."

And by that time the slick hair has changed to swell head.

All the world loves a lover, but if you're married, don't try to reverse it.

Girls! treat your husbands with more respect.

Men! treat your wives oftener.

The last line should have read, "Treat your wife oftener," of course.

Next time you're with your sweetie and he tips his hat to a girl don't get jealous. Ask him for an introduction. You'll find that he doesn't know her. A man simply must keep up his past.

One-half the country's marriages prove failures. This is from jealousy.

The other half prove just failures.

From Off Stage

"Luck," at the Blackstone today, affords Johnny Hines plenty of opportunity to display his sprightly ability as a comedian. He plays the part of a rich young man, who, in a rash moment, bets that he can make his own living for a year. He begins by becoming a prize fighter, and, having accumulated a goodly number of shekels in this way, graduates into the real estate business, founds a city, and then, as a grand finale, gets married.

In the supporting cast are Robert Edeson and Edmund Breese, two of the most accomplished actors of the legitimate stage who have gone into the movies. Violet Mersereau plays opposite Johnny Hines, and Charlie Murray furnishes the laughs which, by hook or crook, do not fall to the star's lot.

As an added attraction at the Blackstone, the Guilian Trio will appear in a selection of classical and popular songs.—J. S. B.

The cast of "The Silent Partner," the offering at the LaSalle, is headed by Leatrice Joy and Owen Moore. The story concerns a clerk who becomes tired of working for a weekly salary with no future in view. He begins to speculate in stocks, makes a fortune and gains a foothold in society. His wife, who believes that their position is almost too good to be true, demands that they consider their marriage a business proposition, and stipulates that their money is to be divided equally between them. When Coburn is ruined by his former employer, she comes to the rescue, not in time to retrieve their losses, but to persuade him, that, as the gentleman remarks in "The Spell of the Yukon," "Somehow, the gold isn't all."—J. Junior Class Will Plan for Two Dances

The junior class will hold an important meeting Friday at 12:30 p.m. in the north room of the Lemonier library, to discuss plans for the coming year.

Owing to the heavy expenses that will be incurred during the week of the prom, the class plans to give two dances during the year. One of the dances may be held the night of the Lombard game, which is on October 6, and the other will be held later in the year. Plans for the dances will be discussed at the meeting.

Other matters will also be discussed.

ONE reason alone that the Parker Duofold is invaluable to students is because fluent writing induces fluent thinking! You can't compose your thoughts if an unruly pen harries your brain. But Duofold's balanced swing, its super-smooth point, its fit and business-like feel in your hand, all give your mind free rein!

Ask your student friends who use this classic pen—they'll tell you they would rather let go of seven dollars than have to part with the faithful Duofold.

Its over-size ink capacity holds a long-distance ink supply. And its point is not only smooth as a polished jewel, but no style of writing can distort it; hence, a pen you can lend without fear.

Students call it the "All-American" Pen because it's the ranking favorite at leading universities and colleges.

IRISH COACH SPEEDS WORK

Rockmen Meet First Test Saturday; Mohardt Out; Livergood Returns to Squad.

The Irish football squad went through a stiff workout of general football tactics which was followed by a short, brisk scrimmage at last night's practice.

Johnny Mohardt, great half-back on the 1920 and 1921 aggregations, was on the field and drilled the backfield candidates in side-stepping and blocking incoming ends.

Tom Lieb drove his linemen hard in charging and blocking and drilled them on the bucking machine.

Rockne gave his squad of 19 wingmen a special workout against a freshman formation, laying particular stress on breaking through backfield defense to nab the runner before he has had a chance to get started. George Vergara displayed some clever work, succeeding several times in stopping the freshmen backs before they had reached the line of scrimmage.

Saturday's battle against the Kalamazoo outfit will give the South Bend followers of the Rockmen some idea of the team that will defend the honor of the Gold and Blue in the big ten-game schedule that the Irish battlers face this season.

Lombard, scheduled to meet Notre Dame here on the following Saturday, will stack up against the fast Marquette team next Saturday.

Berni Livergood, who was out with an infected leg, has returned to the squad.

Brownson Holds First Scrimmage of Interhall

Brownson hall first and second string men played a practice game on the Brownson campus yesterday. The Brownsonites, who are the first Interhall men to get into action, showed plenty of form and pep in their first scrimmage.

Coaches Bergman and Maher of the Badin hall team issued a call for candidates Tuesday and were scheduled to hold first practice last night. Badin will have practically the same team as last year when they won Interhall football honors.

Over 30 candidates answered the first call for the Carroll Hall football team at a meeting in the recreation room Monday night.

Tom Goss, the coach, will be assisted in rounding up the squad by "Doc" Connell, varsity fullback. Connell will probably coach the backfield. New equipment for two complete teams will arrive soon according to Rev. John Devers, Carroll Hall rector.

Although most of the squad are freshmen, they are not without some experience and seem confident of a successful season. A preliminary practice was held this afternoon, the men were given a short workout and instructed in their positions.

List of candidates: Pecon, McNellis, Adrian, Favere, Ohnemus, O'Brien, Wallner, Tyman, Pegg, Witt, Howland, Carroll, McBride, Hodson, Coleman, McDonald, Hartley, Kelly, Breman, Lloyd, Donahue, Geary, St. Germain, Roberts, Summers, O'Brien, Howland, Roberts, Dugan, and Hebert.

mers, O'Brien, Howland, Roberts, Dugan, and Hebert.

BROKEN LEG.

Francis "Judge" McGuigan, of Trenton, N. J., is in St. Joseph's Hospital as the result of a broken leg received in Brownson Hall football practice Friday. He will probably be confined to the hospital for several weeks.

Through SCHOOL Through COLLEGE In BUSINESS

Eversharp and Wahl Pen are America's finest-working and best-liked pencil and pen. When you buy these two you acquire writing companions for life.

Eversharp was the first successful mechanical pencil—and its features can't be copied. Eversharp lead never wobbles—the exclusive rifled tip holds it absolutely firm. The automatic index always tells how much lead is in the barrel. And Eversharp craftsmanship gives a balance to the pencil that suits your hand perfectly.

Wahl Pen in all-metal is the outstanding fountain pen achievement. The all-metal barrel cannot crack or split. You fill it less often because it holds more ink. And it will last a lifetime.

Eversharp and Wahl Pen are essential in school, in college and in business. Buy both, in gold or silver. Eversharp, $1 to $10; Wahl Pen, $4 to $10. Solid gold at higher prices.

The New Wahl Pen, engine-turned in jet-black rubber, is the best looking and most practical rubber fountain pen you have ever seen. Price $2.50 up.
