Michigan Defeats Varsity Nine, 9-6

The Wolverines took over first place in the Big Ten with a win against Michigan State, 9-6. The game was held on Saturday, May 11, 1924. The Michigan State team was led by John Adams, while the Michigan team was led by Joe Boyer. The final score was 9-6 in favor of Michigan.
Official Bulletins

DAILY MEN—There will be a weekly meeting of the freshman men and of all the men who plan to live in Kuehne residence for the fall semester. This meeting will be held at 9:00 o'clock in the residence hall on Tuesday, June 6.

ROOM RESERVATIONS—All students who plan to live in the residence halls during the coming fall semester must make reservations as soon as possible. Students who fail to make reservations by June 15 will lose their places;

WALLER—Second floor, number 41, is recommended for the residence halls for the fall semester. "The Katharine" is the name of the room.

What Others Say

CONCERNING THE KLAN

The Daily publishes another condemnation of the Ku Klux Klan. The gist of the writer's argument is that the Catholic church—a body of black organization which makes abundant use of ritual—is raising a large measure of support from the people who believe that the Klan also an organization which makes use of ritual for the purpose of raising and holding members—is organized to rid temporal affairs of the menace of Catholicism. Since it has certain features in common with the Catholic church, the writer implies, its existence is justified.

The writer's argument is based on a fallacy: namely, that the two organizations are fundamentally the same. True, they both make use of ritual to a large extent in holding their followers. But there is no element characteristic of the Klan which has no place in the Church—that of secrecy. The speaker at the Ku Klux Klan meeting, recently held in Ann Arbor, Michigan, announced that the Klan was in the business of secrecy in the working of the Klan. He said that without it the Klan could not hope to accomplish its aims. A Church, he said, is something they couldn't do it.

The Ku Klux Klan is an organization founded on a proposition which is fundamentally unconstituted and unorganized by any American government—obedience to the laws. The writer enumerates the various outgrowths of the Ku Klux Klan as Americanism, and claims a basis in the Constitution of the United States for the solution of the problem. The Ku Klux Klan has no place in the Church, and if it were to attempt to bring about obedience by extra-legal methods, it would be the worst possible course of action.

DISOBEDIENT THRILLS

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.

Yet a French physician, Dr. Paul Poret, asserts that the sneeze can be cured. He asserts that the sneeze is a characteristic of low class of good society than as hygiene measure. Consequently he considers his suggestions from the viewpoint of practicality in society. Thus the sneeze is considered more of a cure than a disease, and is regarded as impulsive as the sneeze.

The impetus to sneeze is one that is commonly regarded as practically irresistible. Many writers even make the impetuous, but uncontrollable, sneeze one of the diseases which are necessary for the development of the story. In spite of the universal condemnation of the sneeze and the thousands of hands of hygiene and social conduct, the sneezers are still with us.
NOTRE DAME GOLFERS
Drop Indiana, 11-9

After completing the morning round in a tie with the University of Indiana Golf team, the Notre Dame team, which won out in the afternoon round over the Crimson invaders, 31 to 19, on the Chaine o' Lakes course Thursday afternoon. The decisive win entitled the Irish golfers to lay claim to the Indiana state title.

The Crimson was the feature performance of the morning round.
Adams and Ward playing for Notre Dame in the best ball four of the afternoon, scored a brilliant victory over Engstrom and Propigliali of the Indiana squad, 3 and 2. Bulger and Propigliali lost to Utley and Redding in the other best ball four, 1 up to 0. The work of the Notre Dame players in the afternoon round was likewise superb, and over-rapped the best efforts of the Indiana team. Jake Adams of DePaul turned in the low medal card for the afternoon round of play, as he posted a 415, which included his second straight with a 70 in the morning round.

The Crimson victory marks the fourth straight win in five starts. Notre Dame has won over DePaul, Loyola, and Cudler, and lost to Northwestern by the margin of one point. DePaul after losing to the Notre Dame team, entered the Western conference golf tournament at Du quoin and won team honors, Notre Dame has one more match to make the 1924 card. The DePaul team will play on the Chaine o' Lakes course, Friday, June 6.

Summaries:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>N. D.</th>
<th>Ind.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Adam</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Utley</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Foglia</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ward</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Afternoon round, best-ball tournaments:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>N. D.</th>
<th>Ind.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Adams-Ward</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bulger-Propigliali</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total, N. D., 11, Indiana</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Office Phone Main 613 Residence Phone Main 855
Dr. J. E. McMeel
418 Farmers' Trust Bldg. Phone Number: 1-7-57-9

Famous Blends

Pilsner Beer?
Remember the boiling water method of pasteurization? You've never heard of a better way to make beer. We do it that way at Pilsner's! We don't make beer. We pasteurize. We make Pilsner beer. Try a real Pilsner beer at Pilsner's. You'll never forget it.

Oh Henry! A Fine Candy—The Everywhere

We want 500 N. D. Men to see our famous Baldwin and Buckingham models of Kuppenheimer Clothes

Made especially for the fastidious college man. They're Knockouts.
Special inducements to N. D. men.
MEMORIAL TO WAR HEROES DEDICATED

(Continued from page one.)

as chaplain, led a prayer for the fallen at the service held, a salvo was fired by the firing squad, and taps were sounded by James Egan, of the Notre Dame band.

The committee on arrangements for yesterday's observance was composed of Rev. J. H. O'Donnell, Robert R. Brown, Lewis J. Murphy, George A. Blachow, and John F. Ryan.

FOUR MORE BALL GAMES

(Continued from page three.)

Jay on the Madison diamond. While the game with the Normal site at Evanston is not figured to endanger in any way the prestige won by the varisty this season, the games against the Illinois Aggies are in apt to prove a little more troublesome than is expected. The Aggies are sporting a good ball club that all but got the measure of Heyker, when Michigan defeated the Farmers 3 to 1 on the Aggies lot. The first game of the season between the two schools went to Michigan 7 to 0 and, figuring on comparative scores, the Aggies are easily the equal of the Marquis of Queenborough.

"One-ayed," Connolly, a famous gate-crusher, who was thrown out of the Fifteen-Lemperty fight 13 times only to get in again and sit in a ring-side seat, has arrived on the ground and hopes to walk in with the doctors.

---

THE IDEAL LAUNDRY

The Students' Laundry for Eight Years

OFFICE PHONE : RES. PHONE
Main 639 Main 1182 & 1187
Dr. EDGAR S. LUCAS
DENTISTRY
Dr. ROBERT F. LUCAS
Extracting and Surgery of the Mouth and Jaws
415 J. M. S. Building
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA

---

CLOTHES FOR THE COLLEGE MAN

Accept our wish for a pleasant vacation.

Would you mind telling the boys in your Home Town that our representatives will cover all the leading cities during the Summer time. If they will let us know their home addresses, we will be glad to advise them, and it was our representative will be in their City or in the nearest City to their homes.

Nat LUXENBERG & Bros.
841 Broadway
117 Broadway
NEW YORK CITY
663 Broad Street
Newark, N. J.
531 Water Street
Easton, N. H.

---

THE HERR & HERR CO.

STUDENTS' SUPPLIES
130 South Michigan Street

---

Drive Home
This Summer
and Save Your Railroad Fare

USED FORDS

Priced from $35 to $200. Featuring touring and roadsters at $75 to $100. See them at our USED CAR MARKET 65 SOUTH LAFFAYETTE STREET

See George Schill at 226 Freshman of at

The Spenner Co.
Jefferson and Lafayette

---

MINIM TRACK MEET

(Continued from page one.)

Dugan, second; Simms, third; Duffy, fourth. Time: 6-8-1.55.

220-yard dash—Heltman, first; R. Francis, second; Detrich, third; Broenow, fourth. Time: 22-30-2.75.

440-yard dash—F. Teckley, first; N. Gulley, second; G. Reardon, third; Johnston, fourth. Time: 2:15-2.55.

Shot put—Keane, first; Fegarty, second; Reardon, third; L. Schue, fourth. Distance: 30 feet, 11-1/2 inches.

High jump—A. Francis, first; A. Egan, second; R. McCooy and R. Rosk, tied for third. Height: 4 feet, 8 inches.

Broad jump—Periobat, first; A. Francis, second; Swen, third; Weight 115-15 W. Jefferson Blvd.

---

"What a whale of a difference just a few cents make!"

Clausen's
Stock Reduction Sale

Diamonds Watches Jewelry
Silverware Clocks

20% to 50% discount on the entire stock

All Sizes
All Colors

---

SOUTH BEND, INDIANA, June 1

S. C. Momen Elected
By Sophomore Class
Results of the S. C. M. elections by the class of 1929 were announced yesterday by the election committee of the council. Edward O'Neill and John Q. Tewbey have been chosen for two-year terms, and John Perceau has been elected for a one-year term. The first two were victorious in contests with Jack Adome and Andrew Combs, while Perceau was elected over Barnabas Sara. Day, students will elect their representative Monday noon, Paul Robaut and James Below being the candidates.

---

Clerau's
Jewelers, Silversmiths & Diamond Merchants