Donahue entertains overflowing crowd

by Mark Rust
Senior Staff Reporter

An overflow crowd of approximately 1100 last night heard syndicated talk show host Phil Donahue, a Notre Dame graduate, discuss an assortment of concerns ranging from feminism to campus issues in a two hour talk in Washington Hall.

Donahue was interrupted throughout his speech by the applause of a standing room only crowd that did not appear to thin out until the closing minutes of the talk.

Donahue reserved the largest part of his allotted time for a spirited question and answer session, during which students asked him to respond to such current campus topics as parietals, sexual attitudes and "in loco parentis."

Donahue dismissed the subject of in loco parentis as a reflection of "a paternalistic attitude that is very much a part of the Catholic decision making hierarchy."

Many questions dealt with an interview that Donahue will conduct in his Chicago studio today with University President Theodore Hesburgh.

The Donahue talk was attended by many members of the HPC. They cut their weekly meeting short last night to send Hesburgh a message through Donahue. Ellen Dorney, Badin Hall president and HPC member, asked Donahue to express to Hesburgh student concerns that "the University has no feeling for the students."

After three more pleas posed in a similar vein by students, Donahue responded that "I can't make this a 'get Hesburgh' day."

In response to similar concerns expressed by members of the audience over parietals, co-ed dorms and the off campus lottery, Donahue concluded that "you can't expect them (the University) to call a press conference and say that they are now going to run this place like Ohio State."

He said that he was "in favor of co-ed dorms... for everyone except my daughter." Donahue appeared to play down a comment he was alleged to have made during a recent show favoring "the healthiness of co-ed dorms."

In response to a question about the "fairness" of an off-campus lottery, Donahue reflected that when he was a student (in the mid-fifties) "living off-campus was the thing to do. You could have a car and a six-pack of beer. Today," he continued, "I understand that it is not the amusement park it once was."

An interviewer celebrated by TV critics for his outspokenness on controversial issues, Donahue did not lack for pithy aphorisms. Of the church hierarchy Donahue said "I think a lot of what the Church does today is unfair to God," and on the financial mismanagement of Cleveland, his hometown, Donahue observed that "a lot of insecure macho-men are running around spreading a lot of bull," that does them "absolutely no good."

When questioned about his divorce and his relationship with actress Marlo Thomas, Donahue, who said that he is "not a practicing Catholic," grew reflective. "The (church) annulment proceedings were a burden. I've thought about it since then and

Coordinator Flynn terms exchange 'a success'

by Ann Hesburgh

The Notre Dame Toronto Exchange was officially proclaimed a success by Toronto's coordinator Norman Flynn at both the Brunswick Pub and Musical Jam Party that was held Sunday night in the library of the South House, a student dormitory. "This is the best exchange that we have ever experienced," said Norman. "The Notre Dame people are just great."

Four bus loads of Notre Dame students entered the beautiful city of Toronto at 5:45 Friday evening. After a short accidental tour of downtown, the students arrived at the University of Toronto, where they unloaded their luggage, met their hosts for the weekend, and attended a pre-arranged dinner that was served in the Great Hall of the Hart House.

The activities that began Friday night did not end until Monday afternoon. Friday after dinner, the Notre Dame students and their hosts attended a "get acquainted" party that was held at the Vic Pub on campus and which lasted until 1:00 a.m. There the students were able to dance and met all those involved in the exchange.

Saturday's schedule was one of the busiest, as the day's activities began at 10 a.m. with tours of the CN (Canadian National) Tower, the tallest free-standing structure in the world. Other activities included sightseeing of historic Toronto, a luncheon at City Hall, and a tour of Queen's Park, which included a talk given by Alderman Gilbert and tours of both the Parliament Buildings and the Provincial Legislative Chambers.

Two social activities maintained the spirit of the day. The first of these team activities was a "boat racing" contest that took place at the Brunswick Pub between four members from each school. Much to Notre Dame's dismay, both the women's and men's teams were overcome by the Canadians.

The second team activity was the Pub Crawl. Co-ed team members from both the Universities of Toronto and Notre Dame were given a map and five and a half hours to visit 16 pubs throughout the city. At each pub, participants collected paraphernalia to prove that in fact all 16 bars were visited. The winners of this contest were the Manitoba Flying Beavers.

Robert S. Bothwell discussed Canadian-American Relations Sunday. The day also included sports activities such as water polo, swimming, basketball, and volleyball.

A mass honoring the Notre Dame students was held at 8 p.m. Sunday, and was well attended by the students from both universities. The mass ended with a talk given by Fr. Robbins, the celebrant.

Following the mass, students from Toronto as well as Notre Dame displayed their musical talents in a jam session that was held in the library of the South House. After the session, students agains danced and socialized until the early morning hours.

The students were free to do as they pleased Monday. Some chose to attend university classes with their hosts, while others made a last attempt to see as much of the city as possible in the time that remained.

Tom Taese, who worked on the exchange committee, credited the success of the program to the exchange chairmen. "The value of this trip and its lasting memories can to a large extent be attributed to the very hard work of both Chuck DelGrande and Norman Flynn," he said. "Heart filled thanks of appreciation for the exchange go out to these chairmen and our wonderful hosts in Toronto."

HPC discusses rights

by Aileen Lavin
Staff Reporter

The HPC met with members of Carroll Hall last night to discuss the possibilities of fighting for student's rights through the issue of parietals.

"We picked parietals because it was an issue that affected everybody," explained Tim Coonan, a representative from Carroll Hall.

"The idea was to get other halls to do something - it was up to them to make their own choice," Coonan continued.

Andy Herring, representing Student Government, was also in attendance to issue a memo announcing a campus-wide meeting in LaFortune Ballroom, Monday, February 12 at 6:00 p.m. "in order to assess the campus-wide support for this movement." Students will be asked to sign a paper committing themselves to support a proposal to extend parietals.

Some members of HPC questioned the purpose of such a meeting and the extent to which it would be influential in promoting the movement for student's rights.

The debate ended with HPC chairman, Chuck DelGrande, proposing a meeting between Student Government and HPC members to ensure the student body of a unified, concrete movement towards the issue of student's rights.

The Toronto student exchange program which took place last weekend was also discussed at the meeting. There was an overwhelming positive response to the weekend and hopes were

Court orders cultist to stand trial for murder

GEORGETOWN, Guyana [AP] - Stephan Jones, 19, son of the Rev. Jim Jones, walked out of a courtroom yesterday a free man, but fellow Peoples Temple cultist Charles Beikman was ordered to stand trial for murder in April. Beikman, 42, will be tried for the throat-slashing death of Sharon Amos, a top aide to Jones. She and her three children died in the Temple's headquarters here last Nov. 18 the same day that more than 900 other cultists died in a mass murder-suicide in the Temple settlement of Jonestown. After Magistrate Prem Persaud read his ruling, Beikman grabbed Jones by the hand and elbow and congratulated him on his release. Beikman was not charged with the deaths of the three children, but under Guyanese law he could be later. At the conclusion of the preliminary inquiry last week, defense lawyers argued that there was no case against either Jones or Beikman.

Butz blasts farmers for Washington protest

TOPEKA, Kan. [AP] - Former U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz said yesterday that the farmers demonstrating in Washington have so turned off the American people that their effort is now "strictly counter-productive." "When you see the television shot of some fellow driving a $50,000 tractor down Pennsylvania Avenue, or blocking traffic, it doesn't impress the taxicab driver, or the government clerk, or the housewife," said Butz, who was in Topeka to address a dinner meeting of the Knife and Fork Club. "I'm in sympathy with their objectives, and I'm sure Secretary (Bob) Bergland is too. But he can't countenance their methods, and neither can I. It's very unfortunate, and it's very counterproductive for them at this point." He said the American Agriculture movement served a very useful purpose a year ago in calling the people's and government's attention to farmers' economic problems. "But it's got to the point where it's strictly counterproductive."

Now collectors items

Police keep watch on signs

SALISBURY, Rhodesia [AP] - Police are watching street signs bearing names of Rhodesian pioneers lest they be lifted as souvenirs. And flags, old books, anniversary beer mugs, stamps, medals, coins - even T-shirts - are bringing big prices.

With Rhodesia's white colonial history fast fading, its relics are suddenly collectors' items.

A Salisbury businessman recently went to court to force the registrar-general to supply him with 100 copies of Prime Minister Ian Smith's marriage certificate and the records of other prominent Rhodesian whites.

John R. Lentell told the court he wanted the documents as "speculative investments" since he believed the political situation - in which the black majority is expected to take over the reins of government in April elections - placed a collector's value on them.

A related demand has developed for souvenirs of the colonial life-style and the vicious bush war, with shops peddling products ranging from zebra-banded bush hats to pens and bottle openers fashioned from spent cartridge shells.

The buyers include white Rhodesians hankering for a tangible piece of a land and life they may soon have to abandon, speculators hoping to cash in on what they see as future collectors' items, and foreign tourists simply succumbing to a morbid desire for a chunk of a world they believe may soon be swallowed up in civil and racial war.

Among the current bestsellers:

-Full-size, official Rhodesian flags - the country's arms set in green and white - are sold out, and shops report long waiting lists of customers who have already paid up to $45.

-Beer mugs with Ian Smith's portrait and quotes from his 1965 unilateral declaration of independence from Britain, put out on the 10th anniversary of the declaration, cost $3.50 a year ago. The few remaining ones go for 10 times that.

-A book of reprints from the Rhodesia Herald newspaper tracing Rhodesian history, "The Valiant Years," is almost sold out.

SMC charity names Saint Jude as project

by Ellen Buddy
Saint Mary's Editor

Saint Jude Children's Research Hospital is Saint Mary's campus wide charity project for this year, according to Development Commissioner Mary Mullaney. The Board of Governance selected the hospital as the beneficiary of the annual charity drive in a vote last October. The theme for this year's project is "...For the Children."

"Everyone was really excited. We hope to build it up and keep it a future project, much like the United Way Campaign," Mullaney said.

Appeals for donations through activities were issued to all the classes and halls. Augusta Hall held the kick-off event in January, a New Year's party.

Events in the near future include an ice skating party, sponsored by the Junior class, to be held Feb. 20. "We are encouraging participation to the utmost because it is a chance to reach out and do something for the children," commented Elaine Belle, Junior class vice-president.

Another main event will be the Charity Ball, sponsored by the Senior class Feb. 22. The Freshman class, in conjunction with the Co-Ex Commission and Public Relations Commission, will host a campus-wide barbecue in late April.

The final event will be a talent show sponsored by the Sophomore class. The show is scheduled for April 24, and tryouts will be open to both Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students.

Each hall is also contributing to the charity project. LeMans and McCandless are joining forces to hold various sales during March and April. Holy Cross intends to host a Happy Hour March 9 and Regina is planning a hall talent show for Feb. 23. Details concerning hall and class events will be released as the dates for each event draw near.

Rental fees, food and beverages will be donated to the halls and classes for their projects by cooperating businesses. This enables all profits to be given to Saint Jude's. The money goes to ALSAC, a national fund raising organization that was established by Danny Thomas for the purpose of funding the research institution.

Saint Jude's Hospital was established in Memphis by Thomas in 1962. It is a research center dedicated to eliminating catastrophic childhood diseases such as leukemia and Hodgkin's disease. Their research also includes studies of malnutrition among children.

Iran's government shows 'force'

TEHRAN, Iran [AP] - Waves of jet fighters and helicopters flew in tight formation over Tehran yesterday in a new show of government force as supporters of a rival government named by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini marched through the city.

The thousands of demonstrators supporting Khomeini defiantly waved their fists at the aircraft, shouting "Allah Akhear" (God is great).

The flyover punctuated the resolve of Prime Minister Shapur Bakhtiar to stay in power until elections can be held.

A top aide to Khomeini claimed the threat of a military coup had passed and that the ayatollah now has some military support. But he hinted broadly that more violence was likely before Iran's crisis eased.

The aide, Dr. Ibrahim Yazdi, formerly of Houston, Texas, said many elements of Iran's 430,000 man army had swung over to Mehdi Bazargan, Khomeini's choice as prime minister of a provisional revolutionary government.

Yazdi also claimed yesterday's flyover was a display of backing for Bazargan. He did not elaborate.

Residents of Isfahan, Iran's second largest city, said Khomeini backers had assumed police functions and administration of city departments there.

"The time for a coup has come and it has failed," Yazdi told reporters at Khomeini's command post in Tehran. "We have very good reason to expect no problem in this regard."

Referring to clashes yesterday between pro and anti-Khomeini groups at Zahedan, near the Pakistani border, in which three persons died, Yazdi said, "We're at a very critical and sensitive stage. It is not as rosy as one might expect. There are remnants of the old regime (of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi) still operating and seeking to cause violence."

The exodus of foreigners continued with the departure of 400 Americans and 70 Canadians from Tehran aboard military transports. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the number of Americans in Iran is 5,000, down from a peak of up to 50,000 before political strife began a year ago.

Among those leaving yesterday were George Van Vladriken and his Iranian wife Lida. Van Vladriken, of New York, has a pilot for Bell Helicopter International in Isfahan.

"Everybody feels good about going, although most people will have to find new jobs when they get back and there are worries about that," he said.

He said death threats and abusive notes were common and anti-American feeling was high but not universal.

"Mildred Tolley of Fort Worth, Texas, also a Bell employee, said: 'I have enjoyed Iran and I like Iranians. If possible I would like to return sometime."

Bakhtiar relaxed martial law by approving to all peaceful marches.

SMC faculty members meet, discuss compulsory retirement

Members of the Saint Mary's College faculty met yesterday in Carroll Hall to discuss the Compulsory Retirement Law which was enacted in 1977. This piece of federal legislation prohibits the involuntary retirement of any employee below age seventy, except college and university professors who are exempt from mandatory retirement until July 1982.

In October of 1978 members of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) supported SMC faculty assembly's proposal requesting "continued employment by Saint Mary's College of tenured professors, should they choose to go on, who would otherwise retire in the period between January 1, 1979 and June 30, 1982 before reaching age seventy..." In October of 1978 an ad hoc committee was appointed to look into the faculty assembly's proposal to extend the protection offered by the legislation to currently retired SMC faculty members who have not yet reached age seventy.

At yesterday's meeting a modification of the present resolution was suggested. This resolution would include SMC faculty members who turned sixty-five before 1979. This proposal was voted down by the faculty assembly in favor of a request to modify the college retirement policy which concerns professors who turn age sixty-five between 1979-1982. At present, contrary to federal legislation where an employee cannot be required to retire until age seventy, college and university professors are subject to retirement on university demand, at age sixty-five. The Saint Mary's College faculty assembly intends to recommend a change in college policy on retirement to the administration and request action as soon as possible.

A report was made by the Personal Welfare Committee regarding the increase in faculty salaries, a percentage of which will be distributed to the retiree-Teacher's Insurance Annuity Association retirement fund. A second report was offered by the ad hoc committee about the study of proposals regarding changes in the Rank and Tenure Committee and its procedures.

The meeting also included the election of the Nominating committee to serve for 1979. The committee will consist of: Mary Jo Kubinski (acting chairman), Charles Martucci, Martin Dull, Lin Vacca, and Rita Cassidy.

Announcements were reported by Dr. Anthony Black, chairman, concerning submission of questions for the College Bowl, CPR training courses available to SMC faculty members, and proposed arrangements of faculty use of the Angela Athletic Facility. The meeting adjourned at 12:15 p.m.

Carter asks for beefed-up drafting

WASHINGTON [AP] - President Carter is asking Congress for $5 million to beef up the standby draft system to meet the Pentagon's "worst case" requirement for enough men to fight a sudden, bloody war in Europe.

But White House officials say that is only a first step and not Carter's final decision on new efforts to resurrect draft registration - if not the draft itself - that are expected to be taken up early in the new session of Congress.

The push for reworking the draft system comes amid studies that show the present system could not turn out enough soldiers quickly in the event of a European war in which thousands of GIs were killed.

Senate Armed Services Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., says the only answer is to bring back the draft because the all-volunteer force cannot supply the technicians that the military needs.

Pentagon officials including Gen. David Jones, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, favor renewal of draft registration to create a pool of people who could be drafted fast in a sudden war.

The latest draft registration advocate, Army Secretary Clifford Alexander, said last week that women should also be registered. He would not say whether he thought women should be drafted for combat.

A fourth option would be to draft people into the military reserves and create a trained force to send into a sudden war.

No one knows yet how far Carter and Congress will go, but the betting is between improving the present standby system or bringing back only draft registration, not the draft itself.

For one thing, Stennis is the only influential leader calling for renewal of the peacetime draft. For another, neither Carter nor most congressmen want to antagonize young voters if they do not have to.

Some congressional experts who want more done predict privately that Carter's decision will be to keep the draft system on standby.

The problem is that the standby draft now cannot move fast enough to meet the Pentagon's requirement, based on a "worst case" sudden non-nuclear war in Europe, that the standby Selective Service System supply the first draftees in 30 days, 100,000 draftees in two months and 650,000 draftees in six months.

The Selective Service, with a skeleton staff of 92 people, would have to move that quickly from a standing start.

Its present plan is to set up draft offices in three days and within 15 days use state election machinery to conduct a mass one-day registration of more than 4 million young people. It would conduct a draft lottery in 20 days and mail out draft notices in 28 days.

But Carter's federal reorganization experts say test runs last fall showed it would take Selective Service possibly 58 days to do that - and at least eight to 10 months to supply the 650,000 draftees.

The president's Reorganization Project experts concluded the system needs a computer 10 times larger than its present one to handle the load and a simpler draft machinery that could be set up rapidly.

Acting Selective Service Director Robert E. Shuck says he thinks he needs only four times as much computer capacity but a study is under way to determine the actual needs.

Displaying the charm and personal ideology that led Gloria Steinham to once call him "a great feminist leader," Donahue explained that he once was "the kind of person they talked about in those feminist conventions," until feminism "had a major impact in my thinking."

"When I went here the guys had kind of a seventh grade mentality," Donahue said. "They would hang out the windows and drool when a girl came on campus. We never saw a girl as 'routine' in life. We never really learned what it means to have a 'friend'."

Donahue's studio audience show with Hesburgh is scheduled for today at 12 p.m. It will be broadcast live over Chicago's WGN-TV, channel 9, and will be taped for distribution to syndicated stations at a later date.

Faculty from the Education department will speak at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. Programs by the Math department at 7 p.m., the Modern Languages department at 7:30, and the Psychology department at 8, will follow.

Presentations will be given again Thursday by the History department at 5 p.m. and the Modern Languages department at 7.

In addition to these programs, the CCDC will offer a "Choosing a Major" workshop in the executive board room of LeMans Hall three times daily. The workshops will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m., 1 p.m., 4 p.m., and Thursday at 11 a.m., 1 p.m., and 4 p.m. Factors important in deciding on a major will be discussed.

The coldest days of these harsh winters can at least provide some beauty, as can be seen by the icicles which have formed from this drain spout.

Senior Club to have Welcome Miller Night

The Notre Dame Senior Club is having a "Welcome Miller Night," tonight, to officially announce the addition of three new beers to the line of products currently being offered by the bar. The new beers are Miller, Miller Lite and Lowenbrau.

According to Senior Bar manager Mike Schlageter, "The new drafts offer club members an expanded line of beers at the cheapest prices in town."

"Most of the surveys we've read have reported that Miller and Miller Lite are two of the three most popular beers among college students with Michelob being the other. We already serve Mich so now we have all of the top three," Schlageter said.

The new additions are all distributed by Michiana Beverages of South Bend. This marks the first time this year that Senior Bar has worked with two distributors. The club's other beers, Michelob, Michelob Light, Stroh's, Anheuser Busch Light, and Budweiser are all handled by United Beverages.

"We are really looking forward to serving the students' needs in the upcoming semester," says Tom Gryp, campus representative for Michiana Beverages.

"We're going to work with Senior Bar throughout the semester and we are confident that our product will be very well accepted by the club's members."

In addition to "Welcome Miller Night," Schlageter and Gryp are also planning to establish a Senior Bar Bucket Brigade using Miller and Miller Lite buckets.

Students will be offered an opportunity to purchase a bucket which will then be engraved with the student's name and hung above the Miller bar. Students will then be able to have their buckets filled at discount prices.

Art festival to cast

Casting for the plays scheduled in coordination with the Senior Arts Festival to be held Mar. 28 through April 4 will take place tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Nazz. All interested seniors, regardless of experience, are encouraged to read for the plays, which are presented, directed, and in some cases, written by seniors.

The cast of "JB," a play by Archibald MacLeish chronicling the story of the Book of Job, calls for 22 characters ranging from the characters of Job and God to Job's friends and children.

Two Beckett plays, "Play" and an adaption of "The Lost ones," are also scheduled for production. Though little acting is involved, the plays call for casts of five to ten voices, some of which are taped.

A series of vignettes written by Mark Amenta, a senior, will also be cast. Between eight and ten roles are open, including many parts for women. The roles vary greatly in size and time commitment needed.

A radio play written by Tolkien and scheduled to be broadcast on WSND will also be cast.

For more information, call Cindy Dykhoff (3887) or Kathy Ryan (7916).

If you've got the time,
we've got the beer.

Finance Club to present forum

The Finance Club will present its Annual Finance Forum, today and tomorrow, in Hayes-Healy Auditorium. The forum is a program designed to inform students about the proceedings in the financial world. To achieve this objective, various corporate executives have been invited to share their experiences or emphasize related topics in the financial environment.

In addition to the forum, one of the speakers, Mr. William H. Darrow Vice President of Chemical Bank will be holding an informal discussion on career opportunities with Chemical Bank at 7 p.m. tonight in the Hayes-Healy Auditorium.

The opening speaker for the forum was Frank T. Alfieri, senior vice president and chief financial officer of Clark Equipment Company. Alfieri recently came to Clark from ITT Europe where he was ITT's vice president and comptroller to take over all of Clark's financial operations. He spoke on "Financial Controls in a Multinational Corporation" this morning in the Hayes-Healy Auditorium.

Frank A. Potenziani, a '67 Notre Dame graduate, followed Alfieri. Potenziani is the director of Mountain States Financial Corporation from Albuquerque, New Mexico. He lectured on "Mountain States Financial, an Intermediate Size Company Facing Economic Constraints of '79 and Growth."

At 2:20 p.m. today, William J. Hank, chairman of the board of Colon-Moore Corporation will be discussing "The Human Equation in Mergers and Acquisitions." This will involve the people problems firms are faced with when mergers and acquisitions occur. Hank is a '54 Notre Dame graduate.

J. David Dubin, vice president of The First Boston Corporation will speak on the investment banking industry and in particular "The Functions of an Investment Banker." His presentation is at 9:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Hayes-Healy Auditorium.

The final presentation of the forum will be by two Notre Dame graduates speaking in a dialogue fashion on "The Interaction of a Commercial Bank and a Real Estate Development Company." They are William H. Darrow, vice president of Chemical Bank and Anthony E. Wallace, president of Galbreath-Ruffin Corporation, a real estate development company. They will present an actual development they are involved with in Cincinnati, OH, at the First National Bank Center. The time for this presentation is 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Student Union
to sponsor
floral service

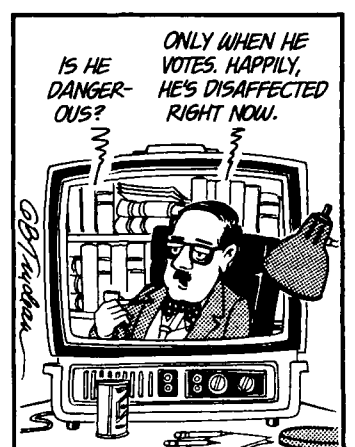

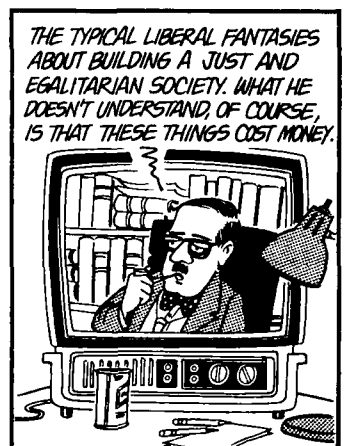

A Notre Dame-Saint Mary's Floral service, sponsored by the ND Student Union, begins taking orders today. The service will be able to provide corsages and boutonnieres for any formal occasion during this semester.

The price of flowers purchased through this service will be lower than retail stores, according to the Student Union, because the only cost will be for the services of an experienced flower arranger and for the flowers themselves.

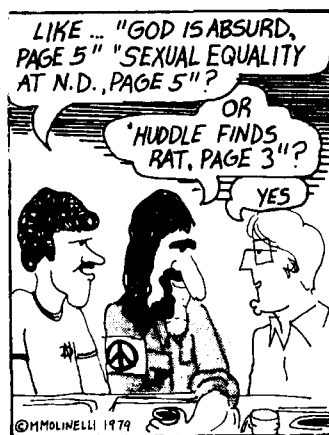

The Student Union requests that all orders be placed at the earliest possible time by calling 234-2389 or 232-0161. Students should specify the type and color of flower desired.

wasting a three-on-one situation.

Maggie Lally took a pass from Jan Schlaff and popped in a field goal to again give Notre Dame a four point lead but Morin came right back with a bucket off a two-on-one break to make the score 42-40 at the 12:01 mark.

Then, the Irish went to work.

Over the next 2:56, the girls outscored the Warriors 12-2, a basket by Tricia McManus giving them their biggest lead of the afternoon 54-42.

Marquette, however, refused to die. An 8-1 spurt by the Warriors cut the lead to five, at 55-50. Following an ND timeout, Carol Lally hit a free throw and Jan Schlaff a field goal to give the Irish a 58-50 lead with 5:40 remaining. A 7-1 burst brought the Warriors to within two at 59-57 with 2:17 left.

After Meyer missed a pair of foul shots, Marquette brought the ball up the floor. Jane Politiski knocked the ball away from one of the Marquette players, and Maggie Lally picked up the loose ball to give Notre Dame possession with 1:33 showing on the clock. Sievert then forced a jump ball with Carol Lally, and off that jump, Maggie Lally tied up Reeney. Marquette took possession of this second tap in their end of the floor and set it up for a shot. But Feeney missed a ten footer with :58 left and Notre Dame had the ball.

An intentional foul sent Schlaff to the line, but Jan missed the front end of a one-and-one. Feeney grabbed the rebound for the Warriors and they took a time-out with :27 left on the shot clock and :33 in the game. With :15 remaining, Morin's twelve footer from the baseline missed the mark, and Maggie Lally, the smallest person on the floor, grabbed the rebound. With :04 left, Carol Lally was fouled, and following a Notre Dame time out gave the Irish the three point lead. Marquette then called a timeout in an attempt to set up a desperation play. The girls came back out, and Lally missed her second free throw, but a long Warrior pass down the floor wnet out of bounds as the clock ran out.

After the game Coach Petro could only sigh with relief. "what a super game. The girls just played super, evidenced by the fact that we only had eight turnovers. In the second timeout at the end of the game, I told Carol that she had the shot with no problem, but I told the rest of the girls that if Mom missed it to just play good D, put pressure on the ball at that end of the floor, and don't commit any fouls. You saw what happened."

Carol Lally finished as the game's high scorer with her 23 points. Politiski was the only other Irish player to double figures with 12. Spellacy led Marquette with 19, followed by Morin with 15, all in the second half, and Sievert with 10.

The Warriors outrebounded the Irish for the game 44-38. SPellacy led Marquette with nine boards, and Feeney and Andrykowski chipped in with six. Politiski's 11 rebounds led Notre Dame, while Carol Lally had eight.

clearing 15 feet.

Freshman John Meyer, running the 500 meters for the first time ever, took fourth in that event in 1:06.9.

The other placer for the Irish was the sprint medley team. Jacques Eady, Bill Ribera, Jim Christian, and Jim Slattery combined for a time of 3:31 to take fifth place.

The Irish have two meets on tap for this weekend. On Friday they travel to the Big State meet in Bloomington, Indiana, and then on Saturday they compete in the Knights of Columbus meet in Cleveland.

Irish to face Wolfpack tonight

by Lou Severino
Sports Writer

The top ranked Notre Dame basketball team, 16-2 after Monday night's win, travels to Raleigh, North Carolina tonight to meet the North Carolina State Wolfpack. This will be the second contest between the two schools with the Irish having posted a 70-59 win last year at the ACC.

North Carolina State has an unusual 15-7 record with a mark of 1-6 in the ACC and 14-1 in non-conference play. But that record is deceiving since five of the six ACC losses were by three points or less. This past weekend State captured both ends of the North-South doubleheader at Charlotte defeating Virginia Tech, 97-88, and toppling Furman 73-63.

The Wolfpack trademark is depth with 10-12 players seeing action in every game. Norm Sloan's club featured balanced scoring last season with five players in double figures, but this year 6-5 forward Charles (Hawkeye) Whitney has taken over as the dominant scorer. Whitney, has come into his own this season after shedding twenty pounds in the off season, and has compiled a 20.3 scoring average. The Dematha High grad also leads State in rebounding (6.6) and steals (1.5).

The Wolfpack quarterback on the floor is 6-3 Clyde "the Glide" Austin who led State with 16 points in last year's loss in South Bend. Austin is the second leading point man with a 14.9 average and leads in assists with 94.

'...Flowers and Laimbeer will have to rebound well...'

Joining Whitney and Austin in the starting lineup will be 6-6 guard Tony Warren (7.8 ppg.) and 6-7 forward Kendall "Tiny" Pinder (11.9 ppg). Pinder is an excellent rebounder while Warren is a defensive specialist, usually assigned to the opposing club's top scorer.

Center has been the weak link at N.C. State since the departure of 7-4 Tom Burleson to the NBA. Glenn Sudhop has been erratic throughout his four year career and this season the South Bend native has been relegated to the bench by 6-11 sophomore Craig Watts, the South Easton, Mass. native is not much of an offensive threat himself, averaging only four points per contest. In addition to Sudhop, Sloan can also call on 7-4, 191 pound stringbean Chuck Nevitt for reserve duty.

Digger Phelps will send out his regular starting five with Kelly Tripucka and Orlando Woolridge at forwards, Bill Laimbeer in the pivot and Rich Branning and Bill Hanzlik in the backcourt. Tripucka leads all scorers with a 15.8 average. The Irish depth is shown by the fact that two of the top four scorers are reserves. Tracy Jackson who led ND with 18 against Loyola averages 12.7 and Bruce Flowers continues his outstanding play with 10 points per contest and 70 percent field goal shooting. As a team Notre Dame leads the nation with 56.2 percent field goal accuracy and 22.1 point margin of victory.

Tonight's game will be a matchup between teams with very similar styles. Both clubs play a motion offense and try to wear down opponents with their depth. The Irish advantage would seem to be at the center spot. The duo of Flowers and Laimbeer will have to rebound well to prevent easy fast break baskets by N.C. State. Tipoff for tonight's contest has been pushed up to 8:00. WSND AM-640 will broadcast the game live beginning at 7:55 with Lou Severino and Frank LaGrotta calling play-by-play.

Irish win at WMRs

by Mark Perry
Assistant Sports Editor

Several members of the Notre Dame track team turned in good performances last Saturday, as Irish runners pulled in ten places at the Western Michigan Relays in Kalamazoo.

"I thought the kids did really well," said Notre Dame assistant coach Ed Kelly. Kelly was in charge of the team while Head Coach Joe Piane was at the Los Angeles Times Invitational with the two-mile relay team.

And while this team was placing first in that meet, what amounted to the second string two-mile relay team brought home the only first place award from Western Michigan. Keith Cooper, Tim MacAuley, Tony Hatherly, and Thom Needham combined to win the event in 7:46.

Second place winners for Notre Dame were Marc Novak, who placed in the 5000 meters in 14:46, and Ahmad Kazimi, who leaped 45 feet, 10 1/2 inches, in the triple.

The distance medley relay team of MacAuley, Tom Bernier, Hatherly, and Joe Strohman, placed third with a time 9:58.

"MacAuley's split of 1:51.6 would have qualified him for the NCAA tournament if it had been run in a normal half-mile race," Kelly noted.

Other third placers were Tom Ferenc, who threw the shot 50 feet, 11 inches, and Tim Kardok, who cleared 6 feet, 4 inches in the high jump.

Petro's Irish women defeat Marquette, 60-57

When the Marquette Warriors walked onto the floor of the ACC Saturday, Coach Sharon Petro's women's basketball team was unimpressed. After all, they had been up against tall teams before. Then Kathy Andrykowski walked out. At 6-4, Kathy had the makings of a dominant basketball figure. But Petro took it all in stride. "We'll just have to deny her the ball," she decided. And deny they did. Andrykowski scored just 9 points and had only six rebounds in a 60-57 Irish win. But it was last minute Irish heroics that made the difference in the outcome.

Marquette jumped out to early 2-0 and 4-2 leads. Baskets by Pat Meyer, Jayne Politiski, and Maggie Lally gave Notre Dame an 8-4 lead at 16:41 of the first half. The Irish lead then alternated between two and four points until a hoop by Carol Lally made the score 16-10. A 6-2 spurt by the Warriors closed the gap to 18-16 with 8:13 remaining.

With an assist from Maggie, Carol Lally hit a bucket off the fast break, then completed the three point play to give ND a 24-26 lead. At the 2:38 mark, Pat Meyer picked up her fourth foul, and Mary Spellacy hit one of two free throws to complete a 7-2 Marquette run and cut their deficit to three at 26-23. Freshman Missy Conboy's basket closed out first half scoring, and the Irish took a 30-25 lead into the lockerroom.

Statistically for the Irish, Carol Lally scored 15 of her game high 23 points in the first half on 7-14 shooting from the floor and 1-4 from the line. Politiski added six points for ND and Meyer had three. Spellacy hit 6-8 field goal attempts and added 3-4 from the line to lead Marquette. Andrykowski and Kaylyn Sievert were the only other Warriors to score in the first half. Marquette held a 26-18 edge in rebounds.

The second half opened with the Marquette defense holding the Irish without a shot in the 30 second time limit. Marquette missed a shot at their end of the floor, and a hoop by Maggie Lally, with an assist from Molly Cashman, was the first score of the second half. The teams again traded points until the 17:25 mark, when Carol Lally picked up a technical foul. Lisa Morin converted the free throw, and Sievert followed with a basket to cut the lead to four, 36-32. A field goal by Maureen Feeney made the score 38-36. Carol Lally followed with a basket to again put the lead at four, but Spellacy followed with a two pointer of her own at 14:41 to make the score 40-38.

A little more than a minute later, Marquette missed an opportunity to tie the game,

Sports trivia: 'Who am I?'

"I started my baseball life as a catcher, until I was put in to pitch in a hopeless cause and established myself as a top-notch hurler. I have the highest won-loss percentage of pitchers with over 100 decisions. I retired shortly after the trade that returned me to the city where my big league career began."

How many of you recognized Babe Ruth's voice from beyond the grave? How many of the following can you identify from the clues given? If it's more than ten, claim the grand prize of an Observer t-shirt. Answers will be forthcoming in a future edition. Good luck.

1 While many players have homered in their first major league game, I am unique in clouting a grand slammer in my first big league outing. Despite compiling impressive credentials since, however, I have been traded away five times. Can you name me?

2 Due to my quiet nature, I suppose, I was somewhat overlooked as a backfield member of a national championship club of the 1960s as well as a West Coast NFL entry in the '70s. A knee ailment hastened my departure from football. What is my name?

3 Even though I was considered a top harness racing driver, I was better known as a back-up goaltender on a contending NHL team a few years back. Do you know me?

4 It was my homerun off Bob Gibson near the end of the 1974 season that knocked the Cardinals out of the pennant race. However, I am best remembered if at all for being born on the same day that Babe Ruth passed away. Who am I?

5 Blackballed by the NBA for a point-shaving scandal in which I was not involved, proved to be a blessing, for I helped my ABA team to three league titles. What is my name?

6 I am the only player in NCAA history to rush for over 1,000 yards and to catch 50 passes in a single season. In fact, I have accomplished this double each of the last two years. Yet, this year I was overshadowed by my fancy throwing quarterback. Can you name me?

Mike Henry

7 My three-hit shutout in the final game of the 1956 World Series was lost in the shuffle of Don Larsen's perfect game a couple of days earlier. Like many of Casey Stengel's hunches, I paid off in spades as the Yankees revenged our setback of the previous year. What is my name?

8 Though I was a starting hurler for most of my career, I hold the record of striking out seven consecutive batters at the start of a relief stint. A losing battle with the gopher ball in 1971 forced my hasty departure from the game. Who am I?

9 I won the Heisman Trophy by leading my school to a 9-1 record, best in our history. That record still left us short of a conference championship, however, an accomplishment never achieved by my university in over forty years of trying. Can you name me?

10 My job as a race-rider nearly ended after a near-fatal spill at Hialeah Park in 1969. A hard-luck jockey most of my career, my reputation for recklessness prevented me from collecting damages from Hialeah. Who am I?

11 After graduating from Baylor, I pitched for the same club from 1921-1946, with time in the service towards the end of my career. 260 lifetime wins secured my niche at Cooperstown. Can you name me?

12 The closest I ever came to winning a major championship was in 1970, when I lost the British Open to Jack Nicklaus in an eighteen-hole play-off. In the previous round, I missed an eighteen-inch putt on the seventeenth hole that would have guaranteed victory. Who am I?

13 I was a first baseman for the Dodgers in the Depression days. My brother, a prizefighter, was killed in the ring by heavyweight champion Max Baer. Can you identify me?
