$29,840 allocated

ND activities receive monies

By MARK BOENNIGHAUSEN
News Staff

The ND Activity Fee Subcommittee allocated $29,840 worth of funds to various on campus clubs and organizations last Thursday night.

These funds, which come in part from the $25 student activity fee which is included in the bill all students receive at the beginning of the year, represent only a portion of the total incoming fee.

The subcommittee has resources totaling $35,000 but decided not to appropriate all of it, holding some in reserve as a contingency fund, James McDonnell, director of Student Activities and subcommittee chairman, said.

If a group is dissatisfied with the amount of money they received they have until Oct. 5 to appeal, in writing, to the subcommittee, McDonnell said.

To make their decisions, the subcommittee broke down the requests it received into six categories: volunteer service organizations; ethnic organizations; academic and departmental; various clubs, athletic and recreational; and special projects, McDonnell explained.

The subcommittee deemed the volunteer service organization as the group that deserved the highest priority, McDonnell stated, "(because) the service organizations don't have much time to raise money, so they should be funded as fully as possible."

The only volunteer service organization not to receive the full amount requested was the World Hunger Coalition. The subcommittee, McDonnell said, decided to wait for more detailed information on a project the Coalition was undertaking before making a final decision.

Under the Academic and Departmental category, only the honor societies and ROTC groups did not receive funds. The honor societies did not get money because they are open to a limited number of students, McDonnell said, and the ROTC groups did not receive funds because most of the students involved are on scholarship. Also, he said, the ROTC groups have adequate funds available from other sources.

Other groups not receiving funds were Spiritual Rock, Young Democrats, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and Windsurfing. The self-supporting, Windsurfing was denied funds due to the uncertainty of whether the group actually exists.

The allocations of activity fee funds changed immensely last year, McDonnell said. Two years ago funds were distributed by Student Government through their general fund. Last year, however, the activity fee was raised from $17 to $25, $5 of which is automatically given to the subcommittee.

The success of the revamped system is evident, McDonnell noted, by

"College to Career Days" promote various lifestyles

By JANE DeROSE
News Staff

"College to Career Days," a program geared to highlight various career and lifestyle possibilities, opened last night with Juliette Noone Lester's keynote address, "Planning for Careers and Lifestyles After a Liberal Arts Education."

The program, which is sponsored by the SMC Student Government and Counseling and Career Development Center, features discussions and speakers throughout the week.

Mrs. Lester last night gave pertinent tips on successfully combining a certain career with a certain chosen lifestyle. She emphasized the importance of obtaining all the possible information about a chosen career before entering into it.

She advised that college women should choose their courses wisely, so as to be as fully prepared as possible for whatever career opportunities should arise. This involves studying subjects that could possibly compliment a future occupation as well as studying core courses.

The schedule for the rest of the week is:

Monday: 2:20 p.m., Carol Ecker, veterinarian; 4:30 p.m., Mrs. Mary Bernard, director of religious education; 6 p.m., Mary Theis, college counselor, and 7 p.m., Judy Thorp, special education supervisor.

Tuesday: 2:20 p.m., Mary Sonneborn, paralegal; 6 p.m., Maggie Walters, public relations, and 7 p.m., the film, What you are, is who you were, when, in Little Theatre.

Wednesday: 2:20 p.m., Kathy Lavery, projects manager/customer relations; 6 p.m., Kathy Schneider, Holy Cross Associates, and 7 p.m., Barbara O'Toole, attorney.

Thursday: 2:20 p.m., Marge Andrysiak, personnel; 4:30 p.m., Doris Wilke Mikesell, director of public relations, and 7 p.m., a panel discussion involving a panel of five women with different careers and lifestyles in an informal question/answer session.

Friday: 2:20 p.m., Linda Lasure, research scientist, and 4:30 p.m., Catherine Murray VanTornhout, newspaper, anchorwoman.

All speakers will be in Stapleton Lounge, LeMans Hall.

Fire hazards come under fire

By COLETTE ST.AUBIN
News Staff

It's 6:30 in the morning. You are rudely awakened by the blast of the fire alarm. Angry? Perturbed? You think fire prevention is a waste of time?

Think again. Fire drills are extremely important for students, states Jack Bland, Director of Fire Safety for the Notre Dame Fire Department. Bland explains, "the fire drills give students a chance to hear the fire bell ring and associate the noise with the idea that something is wrong."

Saint Mary's Director of Residence Life Mary Helen Nugent says the main reason for having early morning fire drills is to make sure that the alarms can wake students out of a sound sleep.

Fire drills are not the only form of fire prevention practiced at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's. Notre Dame has spent a lot of money on fire safety equipment, Bland states, including sprinkler systems, smoke detectors and fire extinguishers, all installed in residence halls. A new fire truck was also purchased for the Notre Dame fire department.

In order to inform students on fire safety on both campuses, authorities have shown fire prevention movies and distributed pamphlets on fire prevention. Fire prevention techniques at Saint Mary's include Fire Safety Week, which was held Sept. 6-11. During that week, a film titled, Fire Safety in Residence Halls was shown, and afterwards fire exit routes were pinpointed and students were given pamphlets on fire safety.

Ms. Nugent states that in addition to having effective equipment such as ABC fire extinguishers in the residence halls, Saint Mary's also has a very efficient check system for making sure that all students are out of the building.

When the fire alarm sounds, the resident assistants knock on students' doors checking if everyone is evacuated, she says. Once students meet outside at the designated area, section leaders take attendance. Nugent states that the check system is a very effective way of making sure the building is evacuated.

MONDAY FOCUS

Fire hazards continue to exist at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's, despite their efficient prevention systems. Bland emphasizes that a "major cause for concern" at Notre Dame is the amount of building materials that accumulate in the halls when students are constructing things for their rooms.

Another problem which adds to the risk of fire is storage of items such as furniture and cardboard boxes. These items get crowded into areas which then become inaccessible to electricians and other maintenance people, Bland explains. These problems, however, are easily taken care of through the help of the hall rectors and the students.

Bland says that most residence hall fires are caused by carelessness, or students who "aren't paying attention to details." He explains that

"Clashes everywhere"

More die in war-torn Iran

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Guerrillas firing machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades battled official forces in Iran's capital yesterday in street clashes that left several people dead and dozens wounded, according to reports from Tehran.

"There are clashes absolutely everywhere in central Tehran," said one resident reached by telephone by The Associated Press here. "There is no possible way to know how many people are involved."

The source said anti-government fighters were "very well organized. They have formed themselves in commando groups, ranger-style, and they are hitting with machine guns and anti-tank rockets" described as shoulder-carried, rocket-propelled grenades.

Tehran Radio said "several persons, including policemen, revolutionary guards and innocent people" were killed in the clashes, but did not say how many died.

The official radio also announced 59 new executions yesterday and claimed that Iran won its "biggest victory" in its year-long war with Iraq, recapturing the oil refining city of Abadan and inflicting 600 enemy casualties. There was no immediate comment from Iraq.

The fighting in Tehran was said to be the worst in several months of regular clashes between the Iranian authorities and opponents of the strict Islamic regime of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

Tehran Radio reported there was fighting between the out-lawed, Marxist-Islamic Mujahadeen Khalq guerrillas and government forces in "several areas."

The broadcast, monitored here, reported four buses were set afire and "the Mujahadeen opened fire on innocent people in various places, wounding 40 persons."

Residents told the AP by telephone that the fighting broke out about 9 a.m. near Tehran University and quickly spread downtown. They said battles were

Denis Healey, a moderate, was re-elected deputy leader of Britain's bitterly divided opposition Labor Party last night by a razor-thin margin over left-winger Tony Benn. In a runoff ballot at the party's annual conference, Healey received 50.4 percent of the vote to Benn's 49.6 percent in a runoff ballot at the party's annual conference. A third candidate, John Silken, also a left-winger, was eliminated on the first ballot. Benn's challenge was widely regarded as a bellwether of the 80-year-old Labor Party's future and that of British politics. The ballots, after being counted three times, were read to a hushed conference hall, which broke into loud applause. Healey apparently squeaked through on the strength of abstentions by between 10 and 20 left-wing members of Parliament who had voted for Silken on the first ballot. — AP

Prosecutors in San Francisco were deciding yesterday whether to seek a new trial and defense lawyers said they would ask for bail for Peoples Temple member Larry Layton, whose murder-conspiracy trial ended with a hung jury. U.S. District Judge Robert Peckham declared a mistrial Saturday after the jury said it was "not possible" to decide Layton's guilt or innocence in the Nov. 18, 1978, slaying of U.S. Rep. Leo Ryan of California on an airstrip in the Guyanese jungle. Defense attorney Tony Tamburello said he will seek to have Layton, 35, released on bail. Government attorneys refused to say whether they would retry the case. Prosecutors claim Layton plotted with the Rev. Jim Jones to kill Ryan, then boarded a truck for the Port Kaituma airstrip where Ryan, three journalists and a cult defector were gunned down. — AP

Former first lady Bess Truman was in serious condition yesterday in Kansas City, Mo. after being hospitalized for a mild stroke, according to a spokeswoman for Research Medical Center here. Dr. Wallace Graham issued a statement saying the 96-year-old widow of former President Harry S. Truman was having trouble swallowing and was receiving oxygen, said Jackie Bergh. Graham also reported Mrs. Truman was receiving nutrients, including vitamins and fat emulsions, through a tube in her chest, Ms. Bergh said. The stroke was described by Graham as a transient ischemic attack involving a spasm of a blood vessel. No further details were available as to its effect on Mrs. Truman, who was in a private room. — AP

A typical married worker with two children and weekly income of $400 will take home an extra $3.90 a week starting Thursday because of the tax cut recently enacted by Congress. Assuming the worker claims a withholding exemption for himself and each dependent and an extra one for itemized deductions, the federal income tax subtracted from each weekly paycheck will drop to $44.60 from the present $48.50. If that worker earns $300 a week, the tax withheld will drop to $24 from $26.90; a $600 weekly earner will see withholding fall to $98.30 from $104.20. For the $700 earner, tax withheld will drop $8 to $130.90. — AP

Robert Montgomery, the debonair actor who carved a career as a director, producer and television host, died yesterday of cancer at Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital, a spokesman for the hospital said. He was 77. He made his movie debut playing a campus football hero in "So This is College." Montgomery graduated from campus comedy parts to romantic roles against such actresses as Greta Garbo, Norma Shearer and Joan Crawford. — AP

Saint Mary's Board of Governance met last night to discuss and offer support to the 1981 College To Career Days and Oktoberfest 1981. Both events will take place this week. Eileen Murphy, student body president, announced that she will present a preliminary proposal to increase parietal visitation to Student Affairs today. Other issues discussed at the meeting included last Thursday's meeting of the Library Committee, which formulated a time-table and goals concerning what will be done with the old library; the good voter turn-out for Freshmen Elections, and the upcoming meeting for Student Government Allocations, which will be held at 5 p.m. today in the Student Government Offices. — The Observer

Leaping, prancing and posturing, Mick Jagger led the Rolling Stones in a hard-driving rock'n'roll show yesterday in Orchard Park, N.Y., as 75,000 fans danced in the rain. The performance, at Rich Stadium in this Buffalo suburb, included songs from the group's latest album, "Tattoo You," as well as songs that were hits in the 1960s — about the time many in the audience were born. First appearing on stage in high, bright-red socks, tight powder-blue pants and a yellow jacket, lead singer Jagger peeled off the jacket and drew a cheer when he removed the last of several shirts, despite the chilly autumn air. The band left the stage after two hours as a host of giant balloons flew skyward. After one encore, a fireworks display signaled the end of what promoters said was the fastest-selling show in the entertainment history of upstate New York. — AP

A step toward tomorrow

Many college students feel apprehensive about their future, uncertain of what profession to choose or what responsibilities and opportunities await them in various career fields. This week, however, is a chance to relieve some of that tension.

The Saint Mary's Student Government and SMC's Counseling and Career Development Center are sponsoring "College to Career Days," a lecture series which began last night and continues through Thursday. The series, open to all Saint Mary's and Notre Dame students, features women from a variety of careers who will discuss their fields with interested students. Each of the 15 individual speakers (all in Stapleton Lounge, LeMans Hall), along with the members of Thursday night's panel discussion on "The Roles of Women Today," represents a different profession, ranging from veterinary medicine to public relations to volunteer work to television news to law.

Emmie Lopez, SMC student body vice-president for academic affairs and coordinator of the event, explained that SMC student government has sponsored "College to Career Days" for the last three years. The speakers, many of them Saint Mary's graduates, were selected last May from SMC Alumnae Office lists to find a cross-section of different occupations.

Each lecturer will "present a little of themselves and what they're doing," during their 45 minute slot, then answer questions from the audience. Each session, scheduled either in the afternoon or evening, "will benefit freshmen and sophomores as much as juniors and seniors," according to Ms. Lopez.

But neither juniors or seniors nor freshmen or sophomores have taken much time to enjoy past "College to Career Days" speakers. Attendance at last year's sessions ranged from 0 to 20 participants, with only 14 students turning out for last year's keynote speaker — a poor reception for the women who have volunteered time from their jobs to come to Saint Mary's.

Ms. Lopez explains that the students that have attended, however, completed evaluations which indicated they felt "they benefited from being there, but pressure from school made it difficult to attend the sessions." But how difficult can it be to take an hour from a daily schedule to listen to someone who can benefit your future?

Juliette Noone Lester, a guest scholar at Brookings Institute in Washington, D.C., began "College to Career Days" last night in Carroll Hall with her keynote address on "Planning For Careers and Lifestyles After a Liberal Arts Education." Mrs. Lester, who has had an extensive background in education, history and government, has been involved since 1965 in a variety of key positions in the U.S. Office of Education and the former Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Inside Monday

Carol Ecker, a local veterinarian and co-owner of Clayview Animal Clinic, will speak today at 2:20 p.m. Mrs. Mary Bernard, director of religious education at ND's Sacred Heart Church, is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Assistant Director of SMC's CCDC, Mary Theis, will begin her presentation at 6 p.m., while Judy Thorp, supervisor and consultant for Special Education Programs in Cass County, Mich., is featured for 7 p.m.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:20 p.m. Mary Sonneborn will discuss the paralegal profession. Maggie Walters will talk about public relations and advertising at 6 p.m. and the movie "What You Are Is Who You Were, When" will be shown in Little Theatre, Moreau Hall at 7 p.m.

Kathy Laverty from Humana, Inc., will discuss management and marketing at 2:20 p.m. Wednesday, and Kathy Schneider, a member of the Holy Cross Associates and assistant rector of Pasquerilla Hall, will speak at 6 p.m. Barbara O'Toole, attorney for the Roger Baldwin Foundation, American Civil Liberties Union, Inc., is slotted for 7 p.m.

South Bend's American National Bank Director of Personnel, Marge Andrysiak, will speak at 2:20 p.m. Thursday. Doris Wilke Mikesell, RKO General Inc. (New York) director of public relations, is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. At 7 p.m. begins a panel discussion, "The Roles of Women

Today," featuring Mary Elizabeth De Pauw, director of the CCDC, Nancy Foldesi, a full time homemaker and mother, Kathleen Rice, dean of student affairs and Sr. Mary Louise Gude, SMC assistant professor of Modern Languages.

Linda Lasure, a senior research scientist at Miles Laboratories, is scheduled for 2:20 p.m. Friday, along with Catherine Murray VanTornhout, a television news reporter and anchorwoman who will speak at 4:30 p.m.

Any of the speakers will be interesting to students, Ms. Lopez reasoned, because "even if students don't have that degree (the same degree the speaker graduated from college with), they can see the range of what can be done. A lot of students don't realize what the possibilities are." So take time this week to listen to someone who might help you realize what you can be.

Mardi Gras to continue despite gambling ban

By MARC RAMIREZ
News Staff

The Notre Dame Mardi Gras will kick off on schedule next year, although there have been some drastic changes, said James McDonnell, director of Student Activities.

"Several things have been discussed, and the format will be altered drastically," McDonnell said. "The whole purpose is to benefit charity."

The Mardi Gras, now in its 23rd year, has been tentatively slated for February. It was conceived as a way for students to have fun and at the same time help those who are less fortunate.

"Each hall would sign up to run a booth at Stepan Center, with a game like blackjack or roulette. What Mardi Gras had become was eight nights of gambling," McDonnell explained.

So when the diocese banned gambling-type functions in South Bend and Ft. Wayne catholic institutions last year, problems arose. Hundreds of people and students petitioned the decision, McDonnell said, but had no effect. He added that Notre Dame was allowed to hold Mardi Gras last year only because of the expenses already incurred.

Adverse advertising, however, hurt the Mardi Gras. The actual proceeds for charity were one of the lowest totals ever.

Now, McDonnell said, the Office of Student Activities is looking for new ways to keep the Mardi Gras alive and achieve the goals of helping charity and providing an opportunity for students to have fun.

McDonnell said that it appears that the students are willing to keep the Mardi Gras alive and that organizations such as the Arnold Air Society and Alpha Phi Omega are very willing to help.

One of the problems in the past, he reported, was that the process of booth construction and tearing down prohibited the use of Stepan Center for other purposes for an entire month. McDonnell said he hopes that the timespan will be concentrated this year.

Some of the changes which will take effect are as yet undecided, but there will be no gambling booths. One proposal made by a student from New Orleans is to have each hall construct a float for a Mardi Gras parade. "This probably would not be a money-maker, but it would be similar to what is done in New Orleans," said McDonnell. "One difficulty of the floats, however, is that we don't know what the costs will be."

Another proposal is to have a dance at the ACC for those age 20 and over, including the South Bend community as well as students. This dance would be scheduled simultaneously with dances for those under 20 at places such as LaFortune Student Center or the dining halls, so that everyone could be involved, McDonnell said.

The Office of Student Activities is also planning to find a "top-name" performer for a possible benefit concert, McDonnell said. At this point no one has been contacted, but McDonnell said he hoped that someone such as Bruce Springsteen or Billy Joel would be willing to help.

Actual organizational plans will have to start soon to allow ample time for the halls to prepare, McDonnell said. "We've really got to get going. Things have to start happening shortly. We'll welcome any new ideas."

CILA, Special Olympics and the Logan Center are a few of the charities toward which Mardi Gras proceeds go. If anyone has ideas or is willing to help, they are urged to contact the Office of Student Activities or Student Government

Self-management

Walesa blasts dissidents, urges unity

GDANSK, Poland (AP) — Solidarity chief Lech Walesa defended leaders of the independent union yesterday in a blistering denunciation of bitter internal feuding over a new compromise law on worker rights.

Speakers on the floor of the sprawling, glass and steel Oliva sports hall here spent the second day of the union's congress criticizing the new law they say is a watered-down version of the workers' self-management they demanded.

"We have got self-management now and we will be able to choose our own directors," Walesa said. "If anyone wants to try not to give me the director I want, let him."

Delegates interrupted Walesa's fiery speech several times to applaud, but he continued to denounce the Solidarity squabbling, his voice rising and falling in rage.

"Don't treat me as a stupid guy who is led around by our experts," he shouted, referring to reports that dissident leader Jacek Kuron had been instrumental in convincing union leaders to accept a compromise version of the self-management law.

The law, passed Friday by Poland's parliament, allows workers and authorities to share power to name managers in most factories but exempts certain vital defense industries and public utilities.

Many rank-and-file unionists, seeking total autonomy to choose their bosses and make production decisions, say they want to reject the law. Solidarity advisers said they were concerned about the heat and tenor of the denunciations of Walesa and other union moderates.

"The decision was an unforgivable political mistake," said the union's No. 2 leader, Andrzej Gwiazda. "The people who made the decision forgot that they are representing 10 million" (members of Solidarity).

Jan Rulewski, member of Solidarity's national presidium who was among three unionists beaten by police in Bydgoszcz last winter, said: "agreeing to a compromise in this situation doesn't make sense. We were trying to channel the anger and cancel all action because we were awaiting real self-management."

He said it now seemed certain the membership would push for a national referendum on worker self-management, conceding it might cause trouble but "now it is a little bit late" to avoid one.

Convention sources said Walesa may deliver an ultimatum to the delegates: accept the compromise or his resignation.

Walesa was not immediately available to confirm this speculation, however, and he was expected to win official election to the union's presidency.

Solidarity's national congress reopened Saturday in a militant mood, showing no signs that harsh Polish and Soviet criticism since its first session ended Sept. 16 had quelled its ambitions.

In an apparent move to pressure Solidarity and assure the Soviets of its control, the Polish government warned last week of a new crack-down on anti-Sovietism, blamed partially on the union.

The angry debate over the worker self-management law is the first serious row to erupt at the congress of the Soviet bloc's first independent labor federation.

the fact that the subcommittee is able to fund 74 groups this year in contrast to the 21 groups that were given money two years ago. careless acts such as using appliances with frayed wires and overloading the circuits of room outlets can lead to fires. Bland adds, however, that for the most part students are very interested in fire prevention and they are very good at taking directions and suggestions on fire safety.

Notre Dame Housing Director Fr. Michael Heppen states that most problems with fire safety at Notre Dame are handled through the hall rector. He explains that at the beginning of the year the rectors are given a list of fire regulations and after that it is "up to them (the hall rectors) to follow the regulations."

Saint Mary's also has its problems with fire safety. Saint Mary's Director of Fiscal Affairs Dick Lindower states that Saint Mary's has installed sprinkler systems, smoke detectors and fire extinguishers which are all very effective; however, some problems do exist.

One such problem is the theft and abuse of fire extinguishers. Lindower says that he strongly encourages students not to tamper with the fire extinguishers, since, he stresses, they are vitally important in a fire.

Another problem is a lack of volume of the fire alarm in LeMans Hall. Students in certain areas of LeMans could not hear the alarm when the drill took place, so the volume is now being upgraded, states Lindower.

Student response to fire prevention has been very positive, both Bland and Nugent agree. Bland says that fire prevention at Notre Dame works well because the students cooperate and the equipment is excellent.

Nugent summed up her feelings by saying that the fire safety program at Saint Mary's is "very well-refined and serves the needs of the community."

If you think "pads and rollers" are just a California craze, you're not ready for New Memorex.

Pads and rollers are key components of a cassette's tape transport system.

This system guides the tape past your deck's tape head. It must do so with unerring accuracy.

And no cassette does it more accurately than totally new Memorex.

Roller precision is critical.

The new Memorex tape transport system is precision engineered to exacting tolerances.

Flanged, seamless rollers guide the tape effortlessly and exactly. An oversize pad hugs the tape to the tape head with critical pressure: firm enough for precise alignment, gentle enough to dramatically reduce wear.

Our unique ultra-low-friction polyolefin wafers help precision-molded hubs dispense and gather tape silently and uniformly, play after play. Even after 1,000 plays.

In fact, our new Memorex cassette will always deliver true sound reproduction, or we'll replace it. Free.

Of course, reproduction that true and that enduring owes a lot to Permapass™, our extraordinary new binding process. It even owes a little to our unique new fumble-free storage album.

But when you record on new Memorex, whether it's HIGH BIAS II, normal bias MRX I or METAL IV, don't forget the importance of those pads and rollers. Enjoy the music as the tape glides unerringly across the head.

And remember: getting it there is half the fun.

Iranian children join anti-Khomeini forces

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story is based on reports from Iranians who recently left Tehran and from others interviewed there by telephone. They include teachers and personal acquaintances of some of the students. In every case these sources requested anonymity to protect themselves and their families.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iran's schoolchildren, once swept up in the revolution which overthrew the monarchy, are now appearing in the ranks of leftists devoted to toppling Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's fundamentalist Islamic regime. Scores have been reported imprisoned, tortured and executed.

Teen-agers and young children march at the forefront of demonstrations against the clergy's tight grip on day-to-day life. They distribute leaflets denouncing the hundreds of executions of Mujahadeen Khalq guerrillas and other leftists waging the terror campaign of bombings and assassinations against Khomeini loyalists.

Revolutionary officials, including Tehran Prosecutor General Assadollah Lajavardi, have called for the execution of "even a 12-year-old child if that child participates in an armed demonstration."

Khomeini himself, in radio broadcasts, exhorts schoolchildren to inform on fellow pupils who harbor thoughts harmful to his theocracy.

"Nearly 200 fighting Mujahadeen children have been executed in the past few days," Mujahadeen Khalq leader-in-exile Massoud Rajavi declared in a statement issued Sept. 20 from his exile in Paris.

Contacted by The Associated Press few days later, he said by telephone he had just learned that "30 of my sisters, children belonging to the Mujahadeen Militia Girls," had gone before firing squads. Their ages ranged from 9 to 14, he said he was told. His claims could not be independently verified.

Education Minister Ali-Akbar Parvaresh, in a telephone conversation with the AP, denied that schoolchildren as young as 12 have been executed.

"This is not the case at all," he said, but he did not address the question of whether high school students were executed.

Parvaresh, one of the five Khomeini disciples running for president in Friday's election to replace the assassinated Mohammad Ali Rajai, said some high schoolers "who are fighters against Islam have been arrested and are in prison."

But he said it was too early to tell how many students have been imprisoned because schools opened for the fall semester on Wednesday.

Several Iranian sources, who stayed out of politics during the late shah's regime and continued that aloofness after his downfall in 1979, told the AP they had personal knowledge of 30 Tehran high school girls being executed earlier this month.

These sources, interviewed here and contacted by telephone in Tehran, said they knew some of the girls and their families.

They said the girls were accused of belonging to the Mujahadeen Khalq and distributing its literature at their school last spring. They were rounded up, taken to Evin Prison, and executed two days later, the sources said.

An Iranian woman, recounting a separate case, said a 12-year-old girl in the class of a teacher friend was executed for writing "Death to Khomeini" on a wall.

As part of the campaign to muzzle dissent in the schools, some high school pupils have been arrested and tortured, sources told the AP.

A half-dozen other Iranians contacted by telephone all reported there were reports circulating in Tehran that up to 70,000 high schoolers had been barred from school this fall. One source said a low-ranking Education Ministry official had verified this.

Education Minister Parvaresh, asked about it, said: "Those who are fighters against Islam and the Islamic Republic were not competent and did not register (for classes)."

raging in several areas of the city nine hours later. The reports indicate some of the worst street fighting since President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr was ousted by the Islamic clergy-dominated Parliament three months ago.

The Mujahadeen Khalq has been blamed for hundreds of deaths of Islamic clergy and government officials, including Bani-Sadr's elected successor, Mohammad Ali Rajai, in an Aug. 30 bombing that also killed Iran's prime minister.

SAGA changes, big improvements

By KANDY POWELL
News Staff

Charles Flaim, head of Saint Mary's College dining hall, stated that a desire to make the "Saint Mary's dining hall food and atmosphere more enjoyable," has resulted in several changes since last year.

One of the major changes, Flaim commented, was the new lunchtime deli line. "We had high hopes for the deli line, and it turned out to be a bigger win than we anticipated," he said.

An average of three hundred students go through the deli line every week, Monday through Friday. They have their choice of different breads, meats, cheeses, spreads, and garnishes. Flaim said he feels the tuna fish is one of the biggest factors in the overall student satisfaction.

A new cracker display and an increased availability of fresh fruit were among other changes made. Flaim added "We made an effort toward a more enjoyable dining hall decor by keeping flowers on the tables." Flaim urged students to help keep costs down by eating what they take and resisting the urge to carry food out of the dining hall, with the possible exception of a piece of fruit or an ice cream cone.

He added that the students could also help by communicating their wants and needs. Students can make suggestions in person, he said, or there is a bulletin board on the LeMans side of the dining hall — called the Beef Board — to which they can pin their request.

There is also a food committee that meets every month, Flaim said. This committee has a student government chosen representative from every dorm.

... Clashes

Iranians are to vote Friday for a new president. Tehran Radio reported yesterday that 24 leftists were shot by firing squads overnight and that a clergyman in Khoramabad, 180 miles southwest of Tehran, was killed by an assassin firing from a motorcycle. A later broadcast reported that 35 more opponents to the clergyed regime were executed in four Iranian cities.

The latest executions bring to 874 the number reported sent before firing squads for anti-government attacks and demonstrations since Bani-Sadr was ousted June 22.

Notre Dame's Women's Track and Cross Country Club will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the basement of Lewis Hall. The coach will be on hand to discuss practices, fund raisers and more. If you wish to attend but are unable to do so, contact Lisa Monti (801) or Barb Jacobs (2722). — The Observer

Rich Hunter's Notre Dame soccer team kept its 1981 record unblemished with a 2-1 win Friday over the University of Dayton. The victory upped Notre Dame's season mark to 6-0-2. With the completion of a four game road trip, the Irish return to the friendly confines of Alumni Field, where they will take on the Blue Demons of DePaul University Wednesday at 4 p.m. — The Observer

Notre Dame's field hockey team won two of five matches at this weekend's Sauk Valley (Mich.) tournament. The Irish lost their first two matches, 7-0 to Ohio University and 4-0 to Purdue, before coming back to beat Berea 11-0 in Saturday's action. Notre Dame opened yesterday's play with a 1-0 decision over Marion, before dropping its third match of the weekend, 2-1 to Bemidji State. The Irish will return to action this afternoon at 4:30, when they will take on Taylor on Alumni Field. — The Observer

Tom Hartzell and Tom Robison each won three matches to lead Tom Fallon's men's tennis team to a second place tie in this weekend's Notre Dame Invitational, held at the Courtney Tennis Center. The Irish won three of their four matches, the lone loss coming to the Broncos of Western Michigan in the opening match for both teams. A win in that match would have probably vaulted the Irish into a berth in the championship round against the University of Missouri, the tournament winner. In addition to Hartzell and Robison, freshmen Paul Najarian and Tom Pratt combined to post three wins as a doubles tandem. Notre Dame's three wins came against Purdue (5-4), Illinois State (5-1) and Miami of Ohio (9-0). — The Observer

The Notre Dame women's volleyball team could manage only one win in three tries during this weekend's four-team Saint Mary's Invitational volleyball tournament, held at the Angela Athletic Facility. After opening the tournament with a 15-13, 15-9 win over Southwest Michigan, the Irish dropped a pair of matches, 15-6 and 15-13 to Hillsdale College, and 19-17 and 15-6 to the host squad from SMC. The Irish will try to regroup in time for their next meet, a triangular with Indiana State and St. Joseph's of Indiana, scheduled for 5 p.m. Wednesday in the ACC. — The Observer

Tigers take back A.L. East lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dan Petry hurled a four-hitter Sunday to boost the Detroit Tigers back into first place in the American League East with a 2-1 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Petry, who lost a 1-0 decision to Baltimore his last time out, won his 10th game in 18 decisions to tie his career high for victories.

Detroit broke a 1-1 tie in the bottom of the eighth inning when Kirk Gibson singled off starter Randy Lerch, 6-9, with two out, stole second and scored on Ron Jackson's single to right.

The Brewers, who had won the first two games of the series, trail the Tigers by one-half game heading into the last week of the season.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland rallied in the eleventh inning to beat Boston, 8-7, the Yankees downed Baltimore 5-2, Kansas City moved back into first place in the AL West by drubbing Seattle 15-3, Minnesota stayed close with a 5-2 win over the Rangers, the White Sox swept a pair from Oakland, 9-5 and 10-3, and Toronto edged California 4-3.

Cleveland 8, Boston 7

Jorge Orta doubled and scored on a double by Bo Diaz in the 11th inning Sunday as the Cleveland Indians spoiled a late Boston comeback and handed the Red Sox another jolt to their American League East playoff hopes with an 8-7 victory.

The Red Sox rallied from a five-run deficit to pull into a 7-7 tie on Dwight Evans' two-out, two-run homer, his 20th, off reliever Sid Monge, 3-5, in the ninth.

However, Mark Clear, 8-3, who became the fourth Boston pitcher in the ninth, was unable to check Cleveland in the 11th and the Indians ruined Boston's 1981 regular-season home finale by winning for the third time in the four-game series. The loss, before a crowd of 31,719, left the Red Sox just one game behind Detroit in the tight American League East race.

New York 5, Baltimore 2

Reggie Jackson smashed a three-run tape measure homer in the first inning, carrying the New York Yankees to 5-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Sunday.

The loss, their second straight to the Yankees, jolted the Orioles' hopes of winning the American League division race for the second half. With just six games remaining, Baltimore is in fourth place.

The Yankees nicked Martinez for a quick run in the first on consecutive singles by Willie Randolph, Larry Milbourne and Dave Winfield. Jackson then smashed his 14th homer, driving the ball some 450 feet into the bleachers in right-center field. It was only the third time a ball has been hit in that area since Yankee Stadium was remodeled in 1976.

Detroit boots Raiders, 16-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 1981 Super Bowl champion Oakland Raiders were shut out for the first time in 15 years Sunday as Eddie Murray booted three field goals and an alert Detroit special team set up a 3-yard touchdown run by Billy Sims as the Lions posted a 16-0 decision.

Murray's 36-yard field goal with 11 seconds left in the second quarter was the only score in the first half and the second-year kicker gave Detroit a 6-0 lead on a 39-yarder with 7:21 left in the game.

Then Oakland rookie Malcolm Barnwell fumbled the ensuing kick-off and Detroit's Luther Bradley recovered on the Raiders' 3-yard line. On the first play, Sims swept around his left end and slanted into the end zone for the touchdown.

"We had as good a special teams performance as I've ever seen here or anywhere," said Lions Coach Monte Clark. "And we did it against the world champions, which made it all the more meaningful."

The Lions' Silver Rush defense was credited with six sacks.

While quarterback Jim Plunkett had a tough day at Detroit, Craig Horton fired four touchdown passes for the second week in a row and completed 17 of his 18 tosses as the Denver Broncos raced to a 35-0 lead en route to a 42-24 victory over the San Diego Chargers.

Morton threw scoring passes of 93 and 21 yards to wide receiver Steve Watson, a 19-yarder to tight end Riley Odoms and a 2-yarder to reserve tight end Jim Wright.

In other NFL games, Cleveland beat Atlanta 28-17, Cincinnati outlasted Buffalo 27-24 in overtime, the New York Jets romped over Houston 33-17, Pittsburgh beat New England 27-21 in overtime, Philadelphia blasted Washington 36-13, Miami outscored Baltimore 31-28, Minnesota bombed Green Bay 30-13, Kansas City edged Seattle 20-14, San Francisco shaded New Orleans 21-14, Dallas defeated the New York Giants 18-10 and Tampa Bay stopped St. Louis 20-10.

Brian Sipe passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third, all in the first half, and Mike Pruitt scored two touchdowns as the Browns erased a 10-0 deficit and sent the Falcons to their first defeat.

Ken Anderson fired three touchdown passes and Jim Breech booted a 28-yard field goal with 5:27 to play in overtime as the Bengals edged the Bills. Anderson had rallied the Bengals from a 21-10 deficit in the fourth quarter and he hit on four of five passes in a 70-yard drive that set up the winning field goal on Cincinnati's first possession in the overtime. Buffalo's Nick Mike-Mayer had kicked a 40-yard field goal with one second left in regulation to tie the game.

In the day's other overtime game, Terry Bradshaw threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to Lynn Swann with 3:19 gone in overtime to lift the Steelers over the winless Patriots. New England tied the score at 21-21 with 24 seconds left in regulation play when quarterback Matt Cavanaugh threw a 12-yard touchdown pass to Stanley Morgan.

Richard Todd threw three touchdown passes, including two bombs to Wesley Walker, and the Jets swarmed all over Houston quarterback Ken Stabler for their first victory. New York, surviving a club-record 15 penalties, intercepted Stabler twice, forced one of his two fumbles to set up a touchdown and sacked Stabler seven times. Stabler was sacked eight times last week in a loss to Miami.

Uwe von Schamann kicked a 28-yard field goal with 1:02 remaining to give the unbeaten Dolphins their victory over the Colts. David Woodley passed for two touchdowns and rookie Andra Franklin ran for two more as Miami, 4-0, held off Baltimore, which got 357 yards passing and three touchdown passes from Bert Jones.

Tommy Kramer passed for two touchdowns and defensive end Randy Holloway ran 45 yards with a recovered fumble for another score, leading the Vikings to their easy victory over the Packers.

Running back Louie Giammona, replacing injured starter Wilbert Montgomery, caught a touchdown pass and ran for another as the unbeaten Eagles won their fourth straight game, over the winless Redskins. Giammona is the nephew of Philadelphia Coach Dick Vermeil.

Bill Kenney directed Kansas City to a 20-0 lead in the second quarter and the Chiefs held on to beat the Seahawks. Kenney completed 16 of 25 passes for 239 yards and ran for one touchdown, while Seattle quarterback Jim Zorn completed 31 of 47 passes for 308 yards, including a string of 14 completions in a row.

The 49ers took the lead on Joe Montana's 60-yard touchdown pass to Freddie Solomon in the third period and held on to beat the Saints. New Orleans moved inside San Francisco's 30-yard line six times without collecting any points.

James Owens broke four tackles as he raced 2 yards around right end for the go-ahead touchdown with 2:41 left as the Buccaneers came from behind to defeat the Cardinals 20-10. Jerry Eckwood iced the victory when he sprinted 31 yards for another Tampa Bay score less than a minute later.

teammate Nolan Ryan had hurled his fifth career no-hitter — and finished with a two-hit beauty as the Houston Astros beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 in a crucial National League West game.

Sutton, 11-8, allowed only one baserunner, a walk in the third inning to Mike Scioscia, until Ken Landreaux led off the seventh with a single to center. Steve Sax hit a two-out homer in the ninth for the Dodgers' other hit.

Sutton struck out nine, while pitching his ninth career two-hitter.

The victory allowed the Astros to maintain their one-and-a-half-game lead over Cincinnati in the tight divisional race.

The Astros scored their first run in 26 2-3 innings off Dodger starter Fernando Valenzuela, 13-6.

New York 2, Montreal 1

Rusty Staub and Ellis Valentine delivered run-scoring doubles and Mike Scott tossed a three-hitter over six innings to help the New York Mets stop Montreal's seven-game winning streak with a 2-1 victory.

The defeat cut the Expos' first place margin to one-and-a-half games in the National League East.

Scott, 5-10, left the game with tightness in his right elbow after yielding a one-out single to Tim Lincecum in the seventh. He was replaced by Neil Allen, who gave up a run-scoring ground out in the ninth inning to Terry Francona before nailing down his 18th save.

The Mets took a 1-0 lead against Steve Rogers, 11-8, in the second when Dave Kingman tripled and scored on Staub's double.

The game was then delayed two-and-a-half hours by rain.

Hatalsky wins classic

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Morris Hatalsky engineered a two-stroke swing on the first hole and, with a front-running round of par 71, scored the first victory of his career Sunday in the Hall of Fame Classic.

Hatalsky, called "Cat" as in "Morris the Cat" by his fellow touring pros, wrote an end to six years of struggle and frustration with a winning 275 total, nine strokes under par on the famed No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club.

It pushed his winnings for the season to $1,186, by far the best of his career, and provided him with his first exemption from the Mor-

"Mistakes really hurt us," agreed fullback John Sweeney. "But if we want to come out of this, now more than ever this team has got to get close.

Ranked No. 1 in the nation just two weeks ago, the 1-2 Irish are off to their worst start since being 0-2 in 1978. "This is a tough, tough loss," said Faust, "but we're just going to have to stick in there and be the comeback team of the year."

it. He came up with a great play."

"There were two guys right on him," explained Irish strong safety Dave Duerson. "I just credit the quarterback and the receiver for making that work."

Notre Dame's defense stiffened for the next three plays. "I thought we were going to make a great goal-line stand at that point," offered Faust.

But on fourth down, Campbell, who amassed 246 yards in the air, set up in the shot gun formation. "I couldn't sweat this one out," said the sophomore, who's had big shoes to fill since record-setter Mark Hermann departed. "That last play was the game. I just realized that, and did what I had to do."

What he did was perform like a veteran, demonstrating poise that masked his youth. "He threw two perfect passes," said Faust, of Purdue's two scoring plays. "I thought we had it pretty well covered, but the passes were perfect."

Cornerback Chris Brown, filling in for an injured John Krimm, was the man covering Purdue's speedster. "I gave him a hit (on the touchdown pass), and then followed him into the endzone," explained Brown. "But I turned around too soon — when I looked back at the quarterback, the ball was going right over my shoulder."

"I wanted that ball," smiled Bryant. "There was a big difference between Krimm and No. 9 (Brown), and I knew there was no possible way he could stay with me if we went one on one. It didn't really surprise me that there was no double coverage, because they hadn't done it all day."

But Purdue's option offense had something to do with that. "We couldn't afford double teaming a man because of the way they ran the option," Faust explained. "But you can't fault Brown. We've got to improve our pass rush. The secondary can't sit on those receivers all day."

The Boiler front line gave Campbell plenty of time to throw, and he also had room to run when he needed it. "Their line was tough," admitted tackle Kevin Griffith, in on seven stops. Mark Zavagnin led the defense with 16 tackles; Bob Crable followed with 12. "They were very good at pass blocking, and today our rushing was pretty bad. Plus, we had some trouble with their running game."

The Irish offense had running game troubles, too. Purdue's "junk defense" took Notre Dame out of its game plan, as Faust admitted the Boiler shifts prevented him from using his own. "We wanted to see their defensive alignments first. That dictated whether we would go with motion or not."

Notre Dame elected not to, making backs Carter (113 yards in 21 attempts) and Chris Smith (53 yards on 15 carries) the Irish workhorses.

"We were going to run me a lot opposite the play, as a sort of decoy," offered wingback Tony Hunter, who touched the ball only three times Saturday. "But they gave us a lot of different looks. We cut down on all our shifting because we wanted everyone to see their defensive movements."

A brisk wind also cut down on the passing game, both teams throwing only when necessary. Tim Koegel, who went the distance at quarterback, finished 10 of 14 for 161 yards. "We had planned to get Blair in if we could," said Faust, "but Tim moved the ball well, so we stuck with him." Koegel was a perfect 6-6 going into the third quarter, after directing the first half's only scoring drive.

But busted plays and injuries bogged the Irish down. Split end Dave Condeni went out with a knee injury, forcing Faust to shuttle the plays in with backs Hunter, Greg Bell and John Mosley. Some confusion ensued, costing Notre Dame time-outs and momentum.

"We thought we could come out and do it in the second half, but we came up short," said co-captain Carter. "We played with more intensity this week, but we still haven't put things together."

ND junior varsity beats Boilermakers

Notre Dame's junior varsity football team did its part to retaliate for Saturday's disheartening loss to Purdue by beating the Boilermaker JVs, 20-6 yesterday afternoon on Cartier Field.

In front of 500 onlookers, the Irish ground out one touchdown rushing and passed for two others despite a wind that gusted up to 30 miles per hour throughout the game.

Junior tailback Tom Merrick picked up 103 yards on 21 carries, including a one-yard scoring run, to lead Notre Dame's attack, which amassed 351 total yards.

Freshman Ken Karcher, who started at quarterback for the Irish, was stifled by both the Purdue secondary and the strong wind as he completed two-of-six attempts for

Irish harriers take second place

By EARL RIX
Sports Staff

Despite a good performance, the Notre Dame cross country team finished second to Marquette in the second annual National Catholic Cross Country Championships, held on the Burke Memorial Golf Course Friday afternoon.

Five of the seven Irish runners were among the top 16 finishers in the 19-team race. Notre Dame was led by sophomore Ralph Caron, who finished the five-mile course in 24:50.3, good for sixth place. "Ralph is starting to run up to his capabilities," said Irish Head Coach Joe Piane.

Close behind Caron were junior Marc Wozniak (24:52.7 — 8th place), senior co-captain Pat Sullivan (24:58.1 — 10th place), sophomore Tim Novak (25:16.0 — 13th place), and freshman John Adams (25:22.9 — 16th place).

Piane also cited Novak's performance. "Tim is a completely different runner this year. He's a whole lot better."

Georgetown's John Gregorek, a member of the 1980 Olympic team, captured individual honors with a time of 24:09.1. Gregorek led Georgetown to a third-place team finish.

Marquette's Dave Uhrich placed second individually with a time of 24:09.1. Uhrich should be the favorite at next week's Notre Dame Invitational.

Although the Irish ran well, they were not able to overtake defending champion Marquette, whose top five runners finished second, third, seventh, ninth, and 14th. "I'm not down and I don't think the guys should be," said Piane.

"I thought that Marquette ran well and they were in extremely good shape," said Wozniak. "I think we've got to be happy with the way we ran."

The Irish will get a chance to avenge their loss to the Warriors at next week's Notre Dame Invitational.

The experts analyze games like this, trying to pinpoint what went wrong. What was it? Among the explanations have been ...

... the offense was stale; tailback carries out of the I-formation more than any other play.

... for the fourth time in three years, the team did not workout in the opponent's stadium the day before the game, and each time, Saturday's performance was less than mediocre (Tennessee in '79, Michigan State in '80, Michigan and Purdue in '81).

... a lack of intensity on defense, from the line back to the secondary. ... a new and different pass-rushing technique that the defensive linemen really aren't comfortable with.

... offensive linemen failing to sustain their blocks long enough.

Or going even further back in time ...

... a poor decision on Faust's part on how to handle the defensive line assistant coaches — making Brian Boulac assistant head coach, recruiting coordinator and coach of defensive ends and switching Bill Meyers from the offensive line to defensive tackles coach, something he had never done before in his life.

Meanwhile, Joe Yonto, perhaps the most successful defensive line coach college football ever has seen, sits behind a desk as an administrative assistant.

But all of these take a back seat when you try to get right to the heart of the matter.

For the past 10 months, the Notre Dame football players have heard nothing except how awesome the Fighting Irish would be in 1981. Large numbers of lettermen returning and Gerry "The Great" arriving. The day I met Gerry Faust in December, 1980, he told me we'd have lots of good things to write about — "11-0," he said until Tom Lichtenberg reminded him, "12-0!"

The problem has been that the media, the coaches and the students have not considered the possibility of losing. One player said as he wandered back to his dorm Saturday, "We just don't have a fear of our opponents. No one thinks we can be beaten."

Faust hinted at it last week when he said he had permitted the little mistakes to get by while preparing for Michigan. "Losing sure humbles you quick," he said last week. "We don't need to be humbled any more."

There's nothing wrong with losing. But until the Notre Dame football team realizes that Southern Cal and Penn State or Michigan State and Georgia Tech for that matter, can beat it, and addresses practices and games with confidence and fear, things will get worse before they get better.

Cubs, Phils split doubleheader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati 4, Atlanta 2

San Francisco 7, San Diego 3

Bake McBride slugged a three-run homer and a double in support of the six-hit pitching of Steve Carlton Sunday, leading the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the first game of a double-header.

The Cubs came roaring back in the second game to defeat the Phillies 14-0.

Carlton, 13-4, surrendered solo homers to rookie Ty Waller, who led off the fifth inning with his third homer, and Bill Buckner, who slammed his eighth homer leading off the ninth. Carlton struck out 11 and turned in his 10th complete game.

The Phillies scored an unearned run in the first inning off loser Doug Bird, 4-5, when Lonnie Smith reached base on the first of two errors by Ivan DeJesus and eventually scored on a sacrifice fly by Mike Schmidt.

Gary Matthews walked to open the Phillies' fourth and Schmidt followed with a single before McBride hit his second homer of the year, into the right field bleachers with the aid of a 20 mph wind.

Tom Seaver allowed only two hits in five innings and Ken Griffey drove in three runs with a second-inning double, leading the Cincinnati Reds to a 4-2 triumph over the Atlanta Braves.

After yielding his only two hits and Atlanta's first run in the first inning, Seaver, 14-2, left the game after straining his right thigh beating out an infield hit in the sixth. He retired 13 straight batters before he was replaced by Mike LaCoss, who earned his first save.

Atlanta's Gaylord Perry, 7-9, failed in a bid for his 297th career victory, allowing eight hits, five of them doubles, in six innings.

Brett Butler led off the Atlanta first with an infield hit and scored the Braves' first run two outs later on Chris Chambliss' double. But the Reds got to Perry for three runs in the second on Griffey's bases-loaded double.

The Reds got another run in the fifth on George Foster's RBI single before the Braves scored in the seventh on Dale Murphy's 12th homer.

Jack Clark homered, and pitcher Doyle Alexander stroked a three-run double to key a six-run fourth inning as the San Francisco Giants beat the San Diego Padres 7-3.

Alexander, 10-7, scattered 10 hits in 6 2-3 innings as the Padres concluded their 1981 home season with a five-game losing streak.

The game was tied 1-1 when the Giants staged their fourth-inning rally, sending 11 men to the plate against Chris Welsh, 6-7, and reliever Dan Boone.

That left assistant coaches Baron and Pete Gillen to co-ordinate the on-field performance of The Players. Gillen got the "Coach Kasey Kasem Award" for his directions to Varner. "Come on, Billy, don't be a hero," the former Pennsylvania phenom yelled.

Sliding was not one of the strong points of either team. Orsini fared somewhat better than Duff when the former football captain slid into third head-first. Former NBA star John Shumate, now an Irish assistant coach, demonstrated his patented, "I ain't slidin', get out of my way" slide. Stars third baseman Craig Chval, a former Observer sports writer, learned the hard way that Shumate means business on the base paths.

Andree charged hard into second base, trying to break up a double play attempt by the Stars, and only a close call at first guaranteed his success. Teammate Barry Spencer displayed more technical skill in his slides. Unfortunately, the sophomore made most of those slides in the outfield.

WSBT's Lynn Thornton, and John Fineran of the South Bend Tribune were awesome at the plate as well. Fineran had one home run, among his hits, and Thornton narrowly missed hitting for the cycle.

Versatility was another strong point for The Players. A couple of 6-8 forwards, Cecil Rucker and Gary Grassey, alternated at catcher. Freshman Ron Rowan was the game's only switch-hitter, getting on base from both sides of the plate.

Observerites Bill Marquard, looking remarkably like Duane Kuiper, and Michael Ortman, who doubled as a collection agency, alternated at second base and right field for The Stars.

The fund-raising will continue through December 1st, when the Notre Dame basketball team plays the Hoosiers in Bloomington. Donations can be made in person at The Observer offices, or through the mail. Please make checks payable to Obsever-Landon Turner Fund, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556

Today's highlight in history:

In 1965, a volcano erupted 35 miles south of Manila in Philippines, killing at least 184 people.

One year ago: Iraq claimed that its troops had advanced 50 miles inside Iran, but reports from Tehran denied the claim.

Miracle finish

Roles reverse in Irish loss

By KELLY SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

WEST LAFAYETTE, IND. — A miracle finish 15-14 win took place in Notre Dame's game with Purdue Saturday, but this time it wasn't the Irish who snatched victory from the clutches of defeat.

An aggressive Boiler defense and a never-say-die offense that gave Gerry Faust's squad fits all afternoon hung in there when it counted. Like so many contests between the intra-state rivals, this one went down to the wire, though the tables turned on Notre Dame and their patented last-minute heroics.

"I guess it was just our turn to lose one that way," said linebacker Bob Crable.

Purdue coach Jim Young credited the victory to more than just luck. "The effort by our players was outstanding. We said before the game we'd have to play every play, something we didn't do a week ago. It was a great thing for our team to achieve."

Boiler quarterback Scott Campbell rallied his team for what he called the "biggest, most emotional win of my life." Behind 14-7 with 19 seconds remaining, he fired a seven-yard strike to flanker Steve Bryant in the endzone, then came back and ran the same play to the other side for a two-point conversion that sealed Notre Dame's fate.

"I asked my players to give me everything they had for this game," related Young. "They gave that, and a little bit more."

"I thought Notre Dame was supposed to win that way, Gerry," noted one writer after the spectacle. "I thought so too," replied a dejected Faust. "I've won a lot of games like this, but now's a heckuva time to have it come back and haunt me."

Though both offenses looked sluggish through most of the day, the game's final three minutes exploded with big plays, bringing the 70,007 fans in Ross-Ade (third largest crowd in the stadium's history) to their feet. The two teams battled to a 7-7 stalemate until a three-play touchdown drive led by Phil Carter runs of 15, 5, and 30 yards put the Irish on top late in the fourth quarter. "Things just went the wrong way after that," offered Carter.

Only 50 seconds showed on the clock when Campbell heaved the ball downfield to Bryant on the one yard line. "I have to be honest," said Campbell, "I was throwing to Everett Pickens in the endzone. Bryant just reached up and grabbed

Media Stars win benefit

By SKIP DESJARDIN
Assistant Sports Editor

The Observer-Landon Turner Fund got off to a big start yesterday as a team of media all-stars defeated the Notre Dame basketball team in a softball encounter, 25-23.

The game was played on Jake Kline Field before a good-sized crowd, and approximately $115 was raised on the first day of the fund-raising drive.

The Stars were led by ticket manager Steve Orsini, who drove in 12 runs, five of them in the first inning. The winners also got offensive help from two other unexpected sources. Athletic director Gene Corrigan hit two doubles in his two at-bats, and South Bend Tribune sports writer Forrest "Woody" Miller was two-for-two as well.

The scoring punch was spread evenly among The Players. Tim Andree, Billy Varner and Tom Sluby each homered. Most of the team's runs came in a 14-run sixth inning, when The Players cut an 18-3 deficit to one run.

The proceeds from the game became the first installment in the fund designed to offset the medical bills of Indiana University basketball player Landon Turner. Turner was left paralyzed in an automobile accident in July, and is still hospitalized in Indianapolis.

The predicted rain held off, but a furious wind wrecked havoc with outfielders. The game was originally scheduled for seven innings, but the enthusiasm of both sides stretched the contest to nine.

The afternoon was marked by a number of highlights:

WNDU's Jeff Jeffers made a diving stab of a drive at shortstop that brought the crowd to its feet and saved several runs.

WAOR's Sid Schroyer made a running catch of a long shot to left field an inning later. That catch also kept several runs from crossing the plate.

The Observer's own Kelly Sullivan amazed some skeptics when her stretch at first base enabled Jeffers' throw to nip assistant basketball coach Jim Baron and brought an end to the explosive sixth inning.

Freshman basketball player Dan Duff made an auspicious debut when he left his pants behind on a head first slide into third base in the 14-run explosion in the fifth inning.

The Stars' pitcher, Mike Collins of WNDU, went the distance, settling down after the disastrous fifth inning to shut The Players off in the late going.

Collins' counterpart, John Paxson also went the distance in a losing effort. The stand-out guard also shared third-base coaching duties with backcourt mate Mike Mitchell.

Conspicuous in his absence was head coach Digger Phelps. Phelps was reportedly on a recruiting trip.

What's going on here?

MICHAEL ORTMAN
Sports Editor

Of course the logical question is, "Why?" How can a team that played with so much inspiration and intensity in front of its own fans become listless on the road? Oh sure. Michigan and Purdue aren't LSU, but the fire that was in each player's eyes two weeks ago has burned out.

The first question I heard after Saturday's fiasco was, "So what do you think of your Gerry Faust now?" I would hope that Notre Dame students are intelligent enough to differentiate between Gerry Faust the man and Gerry Faust the football coach. The man always has been, is, and will continue to be someone especially unique — friendly, cordial, intense, caring. The football coach on the other hand, rapidly is realizing that he has a few things to learn.

People were quick to criticize Dan Devine the man

Michael Ortman
Sports Editor

after Dan Devine the coach made a mistake. At quite the opposite extreme, people now are saying, "I feel so sorry for Faust. He tries so hard."

The Michigan loss hit Faust hard — very hard. Deep down he knew his team was not ready for the Wolverines, but he vowed that that would never happen again. Saturday, his team wasn't ready for a practice session, much less a game against a better-than-average team.

See QUESTIONS, page 9

With fullback John Sweeney providing interference in front, junior tailback Phil Carter cuts left and heads for the endzone. The Irish co-captain scored from 30 yards out to put Notre Dame ahead with just under three minutes remaining in the ball game. In the second frame, a barefooted Carter turns on the juice to keep away from the Purdue defender. The burst of speed was enough to carry Carter across the goal-line, and in the final frame, an unidentified Irish lineman joins Carter in celebration, just moments before the agony of defeat sets in. (photo by John Macor)
