

The Observer

VOL XIX, NO. 117

the independent student newspaper serving notre dame and saint mary's

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1985

The Observer/Paul Kramer

Getting picky

Sophomores at Saint Mary's picked future dwelling places last night, which is what these sophs are doing in the LeMans Hall lobby. Freshmen chose earlier this week, and juniors will select rooms tonight.

HPC approves extension of terms, announces restructuring timetable

By SCOTT BEARBY
Staff Reporter

Student Body President Robert Bertino announced a revised timetable for implementing changes in student government structure at last night's Hall Presidents' Council meeting.

The revision became necessary after the HPC unanimously passed Monday's Student Senate action extending current senators' terms by two weeks. Extending the terms will allow the Senate to complete the restructuring process before current members leave office.

The plan, which calls for one senator to be elected from each hall, was originally to go into effect by April 1.

The new administration is now scheduled to take over April 15, according to Bertino. The rough draft of the revised constitution will be presented to the Senate at their April 1 meeting and will be sent to the HPC in time for their next meeting.

Because of the limited time available before the deadline, the Senate and the HPC need to accept or reject the rough draft next week. Unless either body rejects the draft, elections for hall senators will be April 9 in each dorm.

The HPC-dorm raffle to benefit Multiple Sclerosis begins today and will continue until the end of the week. Tickets are available in each hall for $1.

Each ticket is also good for admission to a "Chance to Dance" on Saturday night at Chatauqua in LaFortune.

HPC Chairman Chris Tayback announced that University President Father Theodore Hesburgh will speak April 15 on the role of leadership in avoiding nuclear war as part of the HPC lecture series.

Soviets: U.S. story of officer's death 'deliberately false'

Associated Press

MOSCOW - The Soviet Union said yesterday that a U.S. army major shot and killed in East Germany was spying on forbidden ground and that the United States is spreading a "deliberately false version" of the incident.

The United States says Maj. Arthur Nicholson Jr. was on a legitimate mission, in an unrestricted area, and the shooting was tantamount to murder. A U.S. embassy spokesman in Moscow called the report by the official Tass news agency an attempt "to justify an action that just cannot be justified."

Michael Burch, a U.S. assistant defense secretary, said in Luxembourg, "When we find the Soviets, even in restricted areas, we simply take their cameras away and send them home. We don't shoot them."

In Washington, State Department spokesman Bernard Kalb commented, "We can only say that our reaction is one of disgust that the Soviets would compound their inexcusable killing of Maj. Nicholson with such an obviously tendentious account of the events."

A Soviet sentry shot Nicholson on Sunday near the East German town of Ludwigslust about 30 miles from the West German border. U.S. officials said Nicholson's driver was prevented from going to the wounded man with his first aid kit, and the major was left to die without medical attention.

The Americans say Nicholson and Sgt. Jessie Schatz were on a routine surveillance tour permitted under the 1947 agreement that provides for liaison missions on both sides. Since the end of occupation, the main function of the missions has been intelligence gathering.

Tass said in its report that Nicholson "secretly approached" a military equipment storage facility in a camouflage uniform, opened a window and was taking pictures. It said the sentry shouted a warning in Russian and German, fired a warning shot, then shot to kill when the American tried to flee.

Nicholson spoke fluent Russian.

In Frankfurt, West Germany, a U.S. diplomatic source said the facility was a tank storage shed and that Nicholson was standing outside it, "near, but not on, restricted ground." The source, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said he could not say exactly how far the American was from the shed.

In its version of the shooting, Tass referred to Nicholson as "the stranger" or "the intruder," indicating the sentry did not know he was an American. But it asserted that the Russian soldier's actions were "in strict compliance with military regulations."

It said the incident was "regrettable, but the entire responsibility for it lies with the American side, which is now circulating a deliberately false version of what happened."

President Reagan said he was "shocked and saddened" by the shooting. He added that Nicholson was "not spying and violence was not justified."

A Pentagon source, speaking only on condition of anonymity, said the missions cause confrontations on both sides. He said a French officer was killed a year ago when his vehicle was rammed by an East German guard truck, "but to the best of our knowledge, the killing of Maj. Nicholson is the first outright shooting of a liaison mission officer."

Hellwig to open center

By THERESA GUARINO
Saint Mary's Executive Editor

Monika Hellwig, "America's foremost woman theologian," will inaugurate Saint Mary's Center for Spirituality tomorrow night with a lecture on today's Christian woman.

Hellwig's topic, "Christian Women in a Troubled World - Can We Make A Difference?" will be published by the Paulist Press as the first Madaleva Lecture in Spirituality.

Saint Mary's Center for Spirituality was first proposed by Religious Studies Department Chairman Keith Egan last March, and was approved by both the Board of Regents and College President John Duggan. The Center's purpose is to prepare women to become spiritual leaders in the Church.

Programs will include speakers, workshops and seminars on adult theological education. Men and women of all faiths are invited to attend all events.

The Center will give participants a chance to reflect upon the contributions women today can make to the Catholic Church and the spirituality of the world in general.

Saint Mary's offered a graduate theology program from the 1940s through the 1960s. The Center for Spirituality hopes to continue the same kind of education in a way relevant for today's college student.

Hellwig's lecture will focus on some of the goals of the Center, including the relationship between tradition and current expressions of faith, the problems women face in power structures, and Hellwig's vision of Christian women's vocation possibilities.

Hellwig, a professor at Georgetown University, was recently awarded the John Courtney Murray Award for Distinguished Achievement in Theology. Her inaugural lecture for the Center for Spirituality will begin at 7:30 p.m. in O'Laughlin Auditorium.

GE indicted on federal charges

Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA - General Electric Co., the nation's fourth-largest defense contractor, was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on charges it defrauded the government of about $800,000 on a nuclear warhead system.

The company was charged with four counts of "making and presenting false claims to the United States" and 104 counts of making false statements to an agency of the United States, said U.S. attorney Edward Dennis, who announced the indictment.

In a statement issued after the indictment, GE denied the company or any employees had committed any criminal wrongdoing, but said it is willing to reimburse the government for any improper charges. It also issued a statement before the indictment, denying any criminal wrongdoing.

The indictment also charged GE employee Joseph Calabria and former employee Roy Baessler with two counts each of "making false declarations" before a federal grand jury, Dennis said.

Their lawyer, Walter Phillips Jr. said, "Pure and simple, neither Roy Baessler nor Joseph Calabria made a false declaration to the grand jury, and there is no question that they will be fully vindicated after a trial in this case."

If convicted, GE faces a maximum penalty of a $1,080,000 fine, and Calabria and Baessler each face a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $20,000 fine, Dennis said.

"The mischarging was accomplished by altering time cards of GE's Re-entry Systems Division employees without the employees' knowledge, charging properly, having employees submit blank time cards which were completed incorrectly by managers, and allowing the division's accounting department to transfer costs from the contract, which was over ceiling, to another contract, which had costs that were reimbursable," Dennis said.

The indictment charged that Calabria and Baessler, after being given immunity, "made false declarations before a grand jury concerning the closing of accounts related to the contract on which the cost overruns were incurred and changing employee time cards."

The indictment "does not allege, and there is no evidence to suggest, that there are any defects in the actual work performed by GE on the contracts," Dennis said.

In anticipation of the indictment, GE denied any criminal wrongdoing by the company or its employees.

The government alleges "incorrect charges on about 100 employees' time cards of approximately 100,000 time cards submitted between March and November of 1980," Larry Vaber, a GE spokesman at company headquarters in Fairfield, Conn., said.

"We understand that there is no allegation of charges for services

see GE, page 4

In Brief

A man sought by campus security officials at Notre Dame for questioning in connection with several reported incidents of indecent exposure over the last three to four weeks, has been apprehended and admitted his participation. Security officials said he was not a resident of the immediate area and has agreed to seek professional assistance for the problem. — The Observer

Of Interest

A symposium on Carl Sandburg today honors the late Father Leo Ward, poet and philosopher for most of his 91 years at Notre Dame. Three faculty members, Professor and Director of Graduate Studies Thomas Schlereth of the American studies department, English Professor Thomas Werge, and professor emeritus of the English department Ernest Sandeen will participate in several programs honoring the American poet. The program begins at 3:30 in the Memorial Library lounge. Admission is free and the public is welcome. — The Observer

The Charles and Margaret Hall Cushwa Center for the Study of American Catholicism presents a lecture, "Poverty and the Irish Economy Before the Famine," by Joel Mokyr, professor of economics at Northwestern University. The lecture is in Room 122 Hayes-Healy Center today at 4. Mokyr is author of the book, "Why Ireland Starved: A Quantitative and Analytical History of the Irish Economy 1800-1850." This lecture is sponsored by the Ancient Order of Hibernians Endowment. — The Observer

The American Catholic Studies Seminar will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 in Memorial Library lounge. Speaker Edward Kantowicz of Chicago titles his presentation "The Golden Age of Catholic Church Architecture in Chicago, 1891-1945." The seminar will deal primarily with the work of seven architects or partnerships who built most of the churches during these years. — The Observer

Juniors of all majors are invited to attend a presentation tonight at 6:30 in Room 118 Nieuwland Science Hall. Paul Reynolds, assistant director of Career and Placement Services, will highlight the office's services as well as outline some activities juniors should consider in preparation for their possible job search next year. This presentation will be repeated at the same time tomorrow night. — The Observer

A "Show Off Your Tan Party" is sponsored by the senior class at Senior Bar tonight beginning at 9.

Observer Editor-in-Chief Sarah Hamilton will be the guest on WVFI-AM 64's "Campus Perspective" talk show tonight beginning at 9. Listeners are invited to call in with questions and comments at 239-6400. — The Observer

CILA will sponsor a reflection and discussion group tonight at 10:30 in Room 115 of Farley Hall. All are invited. — The Observer

Weather

Look out. It will be warm, but it might be wet. Windy and warm today with a 60 percent chance of thundershowers and a high from 65 to 70. Cloudy tonight with a 40 percent chance of thundershowers and low in the mid 40s. Cooler tomorrow with a 60 percent chance of showers and high in the lower 60s.

The Observer

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday and on home football Saturdays, except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $30 per year ($20 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

Today's issue was produced by:

Design Editor.....Andy Saal
Design Assistant.....Matt Gracianette
Layout Staff.....Tracy Schindele
Priscilla Karle
Typesetters.....Vic Guarino
Ted Dore
News Editor.....Bob Musselman
Copy Editor.....Liz Flor
Sports Copy Editor.....Eric Scheuermann
Viewpoint Copy Editor.....Mary Ellen
Viewpoint Layout.....Carol Brown
Features Copy Editor.....Ed Nolan
Features Layout.....Andi Schnuck
ND Day Editor.....Cindy Rauckhorst
SMC Day Editor.....Ed Nolan
Ad Design.....Mary Carol Creadon
Kathy Krenzer
Photographer.....Paul Kramer

Fireside dreams transformed into more practical goals

The sun was setting like a flare across the Illinois River, as we finally managed to start the campfire. We had ridden 90 miles that day and were exhausted.

Graduation was two days away, and having completed our last set of finals, we had two days of freedom to tour downstate Illinois. As we sat around the campfire, burning Fritos and marshmallows, we talked about our four years together in high school and what the future held for us in college. At the time none of us knew what we wanted to do with our lives or what careers we would pursue.

It seemed our lives were just beginning; a vast void lay ahead of us, and it was we, not our guidance counselors or parents who would decide how to fill that void. As the fire burned down, we decided our first priority in life was to have fun - that was the bottom line. We were going to enjoy ourselves and do what we wanted. We felt we could conquer the world and could do anything if we worked hard enough.

During high school, life was easy. We always had enough money, we never had to work too long or too hard, and school was just an inconvenience to endure until the end of the day when we went to practice - the only reason we bothered to go to school. After school, we went home to talk on the phone, watch television and maybe, if we had time, do some homework.

How things have changed.

In high school, we believed success would come easy. The job offers would just roll in, and we would never have any trouble with school. Back then, the main criteria for choosing a career was to find a job we would enjoy as much on the day of our retirement as we did during our first year.

Now our first questions about a career are: "What is the starting salary? What are the prospects for advancement?" These seem logical questions, but two years ago we did not consider them the most important factors.

As high school students, we did not think quality of life should be dictated by position or salary. Rather, we thought happiness should arise from activity we enjoyed and at which we were good. We thought our jobs should be recreation, not hard labor.

In the last two years, we have awakened to reality. We have discovered photography is not the path to riches, and that if you want the house on the top of the hill, coaching track may not be the ideal career choice. In the real world money talks, and it is a safe bet that if you want job security, a nice place to live and a month-long vacation every year, you will have to throw out the no-

Vic Guarino

Photographer

tion of doing what you want and settle for a career that will give you the lifestyle you want. We have learned to make a tradeoff between what we would like to do and what we should do.

Upon graduation from college, our lives will be much less carefree. If we want to "get ahead," our actions will often be dictated by others. No matter how hard we work, we may not achieve what seemed so easy a few years ago.

College has been one step in our baptism into the world. It has taught us to cope with many difficulties and still enjoy life. When we graduate we will, if you will pardon the cliché, become full-time actors in the play of life.

Two years of college have taught us to replace fireside dreams with practical ambitions. Safe jobs with sound companies have replaced our former plans to become freelance photographers and high school coaches.

The years ahead hold many opportunities for us. However, no matter what we do, I hope we will never forget the hopes and ambitions of the three boys camping along the Illinois.

The Observer encourages the free expression of opinions through letters to the editor. Letters should be brief (approximately 250 words) and typed whenever possible. All letters should be signed (although the author's name need not be published), and should include a phone number at which the author may be reached. Letters are published on a space-available basis. Letters are edited to correct errors in grammar and for space considerations.

Learn the facts about cancer. And make not knowing the risks, one less risk.

S.O.A.P

Students on Alcohol Problems

Meeting on Mondays 4:00 - 5:00 pm
Counseling & Psychological Services
Center rm. 316

Do you have some ideas about alcohol? Would you like to share them with other students who may also be like you?

Call 239-5085 or stop by C.&PSC. (Mon. & Thurs.)

COLUMBIA ARTISTS
presents

CZECH CHAMBER SOLOISTS

MIROSLAV MATYÁŠ
ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

"Vivid proof of the high level of Czech musical culture."

THE NEW YORK TIMES

SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE
PERFORMING ARTS SERIES

MARCH 29 8:00 PM
O'LAUGHLIN AUDITORIUM

Support the

March of Dimes
 BIRTH DEFECTS FOUNDATION

The Observer

The independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's is accepting applications for the following position:

Assistant Production Manager

For further information contact John Mennell at The Observer (239-5303) by 5 p.m. Thursday, March 28.

'ND / SMC Millions Against MS' ★★ ROCK-ALIKE CONTEST ★★

Wed March 27
9:30-?

North Dining Hall
$3.00
(includes 1 vote card for favorite performer)

Tix on sale in the Dining Halls
Tues. and Wed. during dinner and also available at the door.

COME HELP US CLOSE OUT OUR FUND DRIVE WITH A BANG!!!

Juniors looking toward Nassau: deadline for payment April 12

By JOHN WALTERS
News Staff

Spring Break is still fresh in our minds and our tans have not surrendered to the South Bend climate, but already plans for the next tropical assault have been made.

The class of '86 senior trip has been in planning stages since January. For those who want to attend the October break escape to Nassau, the Bahamas, the time to register is now.

The $150 non-refundable deposit must be submitted by April 12 to reserve places for the excursion.

Total cost of the trip is $460, which includes round-trip airfare from O'Hare, plus a week's stay at the Sheraton British Colonial, a beachside resort in Nassau. Special arrangements have been made to return the seniors on the Friday night before break's end, in time for the USC game the following day.

"We originally sent out surveys right after Christmas break to let the juniors decide where they'd like to go," said junior Paul Kolano, one of four trip coordinators. Montreal; Cancun, Mexico; and Nassau were the locations under consideration.

Approximately 500 juniors answered the survey, making Nassau the most popular destination by far. Explains Kolano, "In choosing a site, we were looking for a place that would provide both a change in climate and a good night life. Nassau had the best of both."

Kolano said he expects approximately 350 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students from the class of '86 will attend, but foresees potential problems because of the early deposit necessity.

"The problem is that this is a terrible time to collect money from people," said Kolano. "Everyone is either broke from spring break or will be by Easter, but when they have some extra cash this summer, they'll wish that they had signed up."

The early deposit is necessary to secure some special advantages in store for the sun worshippers. For example, First Source, the travel agency handling travel details, will have a tour representative in the Bahamas to plan events during the trip. Delta is also giving one free flight for every 25 tickets sold.

"We will raffle off the free flights when students bring their deposits to the first-floor desk at LaFortune between April 9 and 12," said Kolano. This will save the winners approximately $250 off their vacations.

"Our biggest problem is momentum," said Kolano. "Once word of mouth spreads, the trip's popularity will snowball."

The coordinators have had informational meetings in every dorm, and have displayed posters as well as put out a newsletter to stir up interest. Kolano said he knows many people will be excited to go, but that it is vital to plan for the trip at the present time.

The absolute deadline for submitting the $150 deposit for the Caribbean fling is April 12.

Peacemakers present Central America week

By KAREN BRADY
News Staff

Concerned about your lack of knowledge regarding world events?

The Saint Mary's Peacemakers are sponsoring a week of education about Central America, an opportunity to learn about Nicaragua and El Salvador.

Central America Awareness Week will run today through Friday. The theme is "CA Libre," a central idea for the week's activities.

The symbol of the project will be the Quetzal bird which represents the forces of good against evil.

This educational program will include an inaugural lecture, four films, a panel discussion and two prayer services.

Throughout the week, the Peacemakers' Issues Board will be located at various points around campus. This board will provide facts and opinions about the serious issues at hand and the way they relate to U.S. citizens.

The prayer service today is in Holy Cross Hall chapel and will focus on "The 8th Station, The Weeping Women of the Americas."

Tomorrow afternoon, the movie "Target Nicaragua" will be shown in Room 125 of Regina Hall at 1:15 and 3:25.

Schedules of the week's events are at the front desk of all hall lobbies.

Vocation Retreat

where is the Lord leading you? ...a chance to explore religious life as a sister of the Holy Cross...

April 19 and April 20

(7 pm. Friday to 7 pm. Saturday)

Mary's Solitude

St. Mary's College campus...it's free!

to register, call Sr. Pat McCabe, C.S.C. 284-4466/4287

Serve in Appalachia

Appalachia...a region of stark contrasts. You'll see some of God's most beautiful scenery, surrounding an area of abject poverty. Join other Catholic men and volunteer a week this summer in exchange for memories to enrich the rest of your life. You'll experience firsthand an active mission life, by bringing practical help and hope to the poor people of Appalachia.

May 18-24, 1985

June 8-14, 1985

July 20-26, 1985

August 3-9, 1985

For more information and an application, please send completed coupon to: Reverend Jerry Dorn, Glenmary Home Missioners, Box 46404, Cincinnati, OH 45246.

Name _____ Age _____
 Address _____
 City _____ State _____ Zip _____
 Telephone ( ) _____ 1183/85

SENIORS

Remember to make GRADUATION PLANS

with parents for Commencement Weekend
May 17-19th

FRI, MAY 17 - Senior Class Cocktail

Dance - ACC North Dome
tickets required

SAT, MAY 18 - Dinner/ACC North Dome

SUN, MAY 19 - Brunch

No./So. Dining Halls

Order form has been sent to parents. Must be returned to CCE by April 23rd

Court denies pregnancy lawsuit

Associated Press

ALBANY, N.Y. — A mother who became pregnant after undergoing a sterilization procedure cannot sue the doctors and hospitals for the costs of raising her daughter, New York's top court ruled today.

"In view of our society's acknowledgment of the sanctity of life, it cannot be said as a matter of public policy that the birth of a healthy child constitutes harm cognizable at law," wrote Judge Matthew Jasen for the state Court of Appeals majority.

The 6-0 ruling narrowed the kind of damages Brian and Susanne

O'Toole may seek in their suit against doctors Benjamin Greenberg and Arthur Leber as well as the Jamaica Hospital and Family Practice Center.

No trial has been held yet to determine whether the doctors and the hospital were negligent. If the couple can prove negligence was involved, the couple may seek damages for expenses incurred for the pregnancy, delivery and other medical expenses.

At the center of the controversy is the accidental conception of the O'Tooles' daughter, KellyAnne

Marie O'Toole, a 3-year-old, blue-eyed, strawberry blonde.

Both parents have said they love their daughter but brought the suit to raise a point: "It's hard bringing up too many children," O'Toole said recently. The couple has four children. "This is something that never should have happened."

John Bonina, the O'Tooles' attorney, said he had not read the decision yet but indicated he may recommend an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. He said Mrs. O'Toole was Catholic and rejected abortion as an option.

Grain dealers feel farming pinch

Associated Press

GARY, Ind. — Grain elevators, many of which sell seed grain, chemicals and fertilizers to farmers and then buy their crops of corn, soybeans and wheat, have felt the pinch of a weakened farm economy, an agriculture agent says.

"They're facing the same credit problems that farmers are," said Harold Eubanks, Lake County agent of the Purdue University Cooperative Extension Service.

In northwest Indiana, at least three grain dealers have filed for protection in recent months from creditors under federal bankruptcy laws, the Gary Post-Tribune reported.

"If the farmer is suffering, the elevator is not going to be in clover," said Don Harrell, manager of the Farm Bureau Co-op in Crown Point.

The filings have left dozens of creditors, including many farmers, to wait for approval of plans to reorganize the grain businesses and free thousands of dollars in cash and grain assets frozen by the courts.

Ed Hein of rural Lake County said he was issued a $41,000 check in January for 15,000 bushels of corn brokered through Ag-Consultants Grain Division Inc. of Lowell. The check bounced after he had written about 25 of his own checks against the deposit, Hein said.

Early this year Brett Ellis of Lowell, the owner of Ag-Consultants and Ceres Farms Inc. filed under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy laws. Court records show the companies hold assets of $700,000 and liabilities of $2.1 million.

Neither Ellis nor his attorney could be reached for comment. Ellis' wife, Ann, when reached at home, said she had been instructed not to comment.

Two other area grain elevators have also filed for protection from creditors, according to the Post-Tribune.

Eubanks said slow collections of bills, coupled with high interest rates, were responsible at least in part for the financial troubles of each of the three elevators.

"They have to purchase (their) goods and they generally have 30 to 60 days to pay for them," he said. "If they don't collect from the farmers, who are drawing out their debts, then interest costs can be very high."

ALANON

Monday 5:45 - 6:45 p.m.

Counseling & Psychological Services Center
Room 316

Does someone significant to you have a drinking problem? Does it affect you? Maybe we can help.
Call 239-5085

Notre Dame Avenue Apartments

NOW RENTING FOR FALL

Completely furnished, balconies, laundry, and off-street parking.

On site management & maintenance, all deluxe features

ASK ABOUT OUR SPECIAL SUMMER RATES
(good deals for Summer Session)

Office at 820 ND Ave
open Mon-Fri 3-6pm
Sat 11-3pm

or call 234-6647

GE

continued from page 1

or products not received by the government, nor for excessive pricing," he said. "Rather, the matter involves complex contractual and accounting procedures. GE has fully cooperated with the government during its four-year investigation."

"It's entirely possible that during the course of performing these multimillion-dollar contracts, charging errors did occur," Vaber said. "However, there was no criminal wrongdoing on the part of the company or its employees."

A Pentagon official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said an indictment of GE "will almost assuredly be the largest defense contractor ever charged on criminal counts."

The GE work was performed at the company's Re-entry Systems Operation division here, since merged into GE's Space Systems division, which employs more than 6,500 people in Valley Forge and Philadelphia, said John Terino, product information manager for GE.

If convicted, GE also could face debarment proceedings aimed at all or part of its Pentagon contracts. The company and its subsidiaries received more than $4.5 billion in military contracts in fiscal 1983, fourth among defense contractors, according to the most recent statistics available from the Pentagon.

General Electric's 1983 contracts included supplies such as washing machines and light bulbs, as well as nuclear-missile warheads and engines for the B-1 bomber and the F-14, F-15 and F-16 fighter planes.

EVEN BEFORE COMMENCEMENT, YOU COULD BEGIN USING
THE AMERICAN EXPRESS CARD.

As soon as you get a job, you could get the American Express® Card.

If you're a senior, all you need is to accept a $10,000 career-oriented job. That's it. No strings. No gimmicks. (And even if you don't have a job right now, don't worry. This offer is still good up to 12 months after you graduate.) Why is American Express making it easier for you to get the Card right now?

Well, simply stated, we believe in your future. And as you go up the ladder, we can help—in a lot of ways.

The Card can help you begin to establish your credit history. And, for business, the Card is invaluable for travel and restaurants. As well as shopping for yourself.

Of course, the American Express Card is recognized around the world. So you are too.

So call 1-800-528-4800 and ask to have a Special Student Application sent to you. Or look for one on campus.

The American Express Card.
Don't leave school without it.™

Addressing the difficult decisions of senior year

The agonies of making decisions continue to exasperate me even after close to four complete years of a rigorous Notre Dame education. The powers of conceptualizing, organizing and criticizing that have been expertly developed during my Liberal Arts education seem to desert me when it comes time to make the big choices. And senior year seems to be full of big choices.

Mark Boennighausen

gravity is a myth

Throughout my life I have had the decision-making ability of a child in a candy store. Now the complex choice of whether to buy a grape or cherry sucker has multiplied tenfold into decisions concerning going to grad school or finding a job. And once a decision has been made the ultimate result is the opening of a whole range of new situations where choices have to be made.

Part of my problem undoubtedly stems from having a bunch of overachievers as friends. Talking to any of them makes me question any current decision I have made about my future. When I talk to one friend who is having his own difficult time deciding between Harvard and Stanford law school, I want to go to law school. Talking to other friends who have secured lucrative jobs makes me want to find gainful employment. Finally, discussing the future with my Rhodes Scholar buddy makes me wish I had studied a little harder during my four years under the Golden Dome.

I am almost to that absurd point where I envy all of my ROTC friends. After all, they at least have the military making sound and competent decisions about their futures for them. I hear constant speculation about being sent to basic training camps in such exotic and seemingly fun-filled places as Fort Benning, Georgia and resort-sounding places in Texas.

Many of them, however, do gripe about being put in branches for which they did not apply and being denied opportunities to immediately pursue graduate education plans. And in the final analysis one does wonder about many of the Pentagon's decisions.

These days, it seems that my entire decision-making process has begun to operate by default. A specific example being my decision not to go to law school. I did successfully take the LSAT but when it came time to fill out those applications I just couldn't bring myself to compose a personal statement. I took this as a sign that I did not want to go to law school but it may have been pure procrastination.

Adding to my problems is a pep talk I often hear in one of my classes. The professor in this class, a dynamic and invigorating lecturer, repeatedly provides enlightening philosophical digressions on what it takes to be successful. Doing the work for his class is, of course, a prerequisite but he also offers examples of former students who took his philosophy to heart and have gone onto great heights in the academic and business worlds. After describing the accomplishments of these past students he lets the class know, if they work hard enough, they too can reach that enigmatic plateau commonly referred to as success.

After one of these classes my current decision to stay around home for a year and work before (ugh) deciding where to go back to school and what to go back in seems wimpy. A part of me wants to change my laid back ways to that of a marauding Yuppie whose ultimate goal in life is to take over small companies, but such a change would involve making a major decision.

The best solution appears to be to go home and watch television and to wait for those military recruitment commercials. "Be All You Can Be," seems to be the best advice to follow when faced with those tough choices.

Mark Boennighausen is a senior government major and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

Where's the beach?

Florida - the land of clear water, blue skies, open beer cans - it represents everything Notre Dame is not.

In Florida, one can drink the water and guzzle the beer without fear of poisoning or arrest.

In Florida, the air does not reek like a pile of basketball players' socks left after the NCAA Tournament came to town.

I have developed Murphy's Laws on Florida (called an Irishman's guide to finding a pot of gold):

First and above all, to look tan - don't wear white, wear make-up.

Joe Murphy

so it goes

For the trip down, rent the smallest car available and find the fattest people to ride with you.

Never, but never, stop at McDonald's, when you can go the whole way without eating. Save your money for Florida.

Bring more luggage than Nancy Reagan would for a week at her ranch.

Don't bring a cassette player when you can listen to Phil Collins 48 times on the radio.

Be friendly with the other riders - you may not be on speaking terms with them on the way back.

Once in the Sunshine State, act like a native, not a savage. Those who reside in Florida do not generally eat their empty beer cans.

Do not refer to Florida as the land where - as a friend says - old people go to sweat.

Allow yourself enough time to get to the beach, since your ocean-view hotel is always a minimum of five miles away.

Do not talk to young ladies with purple hair or young men with tattoos on their arms of young ladies with purple hair.

Remember, Florida is America's micro-wave, and you are its frozen dinner.

Finally, take lots of pictures because none of your (jealous) friends back at school will believe you had the incredible time you will say you had.

On the ride back, don't roll the windows down. Keep the air conditioner on maximum since that is the only thing that will keep you from breaking out in sun blisters.

And finally, when you get back to Notre Dame, stop the car (or at least bring it to a slow roll) and get out and kiss the muddy South Bend ground. It may be wet and chilly, but it's home for four years.

I like many of you, had to learn these laws the hard way last week. I am printing them before I forget them, and so that next year you can have a road map to the better way of life that is Florida.

Spring break is part of college, but it is not college. Four days have past since I left, but I still find myself on the beaches (baking in the sun). The time has come for school, for work, for what we, the young and restless, call "hell."

Still, there is a purpose to what we do here at Notre Dame. Florida must wait; now is the time to learn. I was tempted to stay in Florida (and had I had my dad's credit cards I may have), but Florida will always be there. We, hopefully, will only be at Notre Dame for four short years.

In today's world, a college degree is almost a prerequisite for success. If we did not believe that we would not be here. Most of us seek success material; some of us seek spiritual success. However we define success, all of us believe Notre Dame will help us find it. Otherwise, we would all be in Florida.

I wondered how people can go to Florida and see how peaceful life can be, and then go back to their work with all the pressure that goes with it. Work is one long massive heart attack, but it is a matter of survival. People leave Florida, not because they want to, but because they must.

Accepting the pressure and doing the work make the fun times seem so much more fun. Responsibility comes with age. Oh, many of us still called our parents to let them know we arrived safely in Florida, but more and more we are on our own. Vacations now are much more appreciated than vacations as children. Then, life was one constant vacation.

Oh, I am not saying we have to go to Florida to relax (Padre Island is nice too). Rather, I am saying that we should make a part of each day a vacation. Relax, as Frankie would say, or you'll die young before you have a chance enjoy life.

And I am not saying pressure always follows hard work and that hard work leads to an early death. Look at Ronald Reagan. But it can. Remember Ernest Hemingway, Judy Garland, and Peter Sellers. They either could not cope with the pressure or overextended themselves.

I have another law, Murphy's Universal Law, which states that you just do the best you can where you are; anyone can do less than his best.

And so, I say at a time when the memories of spring break are fried into your being and the hope of summer springs forth in your soul, to be patient. Your season in the sun will come. For now, study, study, study.

Nothing replaces persistence and hard work. Talent will not, nor will beauty. Hard work and determination make all things possible, but do not let the pressure get the best of you. If you do this now, later in life when you are old you can go to Florida (and sweat). I'll be there. Until then, hang ten and ride the waves of life as a born surfer.

P.S. Does anybody have a clean white shirt I can borrow?

Joseph Murphy is a sophomore government and international relations major and is Viewpoint editor of The Observer.

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

Policy

Viewpoint would like to hear from you. If you would like to respond to something you've read in The Observer, why not write a letter to the editor. Letters should be well-written, typed, no more than 250 words in length and must bear the signature of the author. Letters which are not signed by the author will not be published.

The Observer reserves the right to edit all material submitted to the Viewpoint department for publication.

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556

(219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief ..... Sarah E. Hamilton
Managing Editor ..... Amy Stephan
News Editor ..... Keith Harrison Jr.
News Editor ..... Dan McCullough
Saint Mary's Executive Editor ..... Theresa Guarino
Sports Editor ..... Jeff Blumb
Accent Editor ..... Mary Healy
Viewpoint Editor ..... Joe Murphy
Photography Editor ..... Peter C. Laches
Copy Chief ..... Frank Lipo

Department Managers

Business Manager ..... David Stephenitch
Advertising Manager ..... Anne Culligan
Controller ..... Bill Highduchuck
Systems Manager ..... Mark B. Johnson
Production Manager ..... John A. Mennell

Founded November 3, 1966

Accent Class Rings

More than prestige

Dan McCullough
features staff writer

The poet George Crabbe once said,
"The ring so worn as you behold,
So thin, so pale, is yet of gold."
There are a lot of worn, yet golden rings around the world from the bookstores of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's.

The familiar blue and gold ring with the golden dome and shamrocks, and the antique gold crushed seal of Saint Mary's act as symbols which graduates carry with them throughout life.

Garnering a class ring is a tradition that many Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students take part in

"The style has not changed, the same design is still there. The rings now are a little larger than they used to be."

Br. Conan Moran

before graduation. And yet a ring is more than simply for traditional or ornamental purposes.

"It's a prestigious thing," said Brother Conan Moran, Hammes Notre Dame Bookstore manager and resident class ring expert. "Most men wear a ring of some kind. Notre Dame is one of the few schools where the class ring is something that is really traditional. At some other schools, anybody can walk in and buy a ring."

"This is definitely not the case at Notre Dame," explained Moran. "Only Notre Dame graduates are allowed to purchase a class ring. The rings are made available to students at the end of their sophomore year," said Moran, "because students will generally not drop out of school once they have entered their third year. If a student drops out during the summer between sophomore and junior year, he or she will not receive the ring even if the balance has already been paid."

"We have several double checks on this," said Moran. "Students purchasing a ring must present a valid ID card. For alumni, if we don't know them we'll check them out on the alumni list."

Similarly at Saint Mary's, only students are allowed to buy rings. According to Shaheen Bookstore Manager Barbara Racine, "Only juniors and higher are allowed to buy rings."

In the early 1950s, said Moran, a company from Okalahoma tried to copy the style of the Notre Dame ring and placed fake rings on sale in a department store in downtown South Bend. The legal counsel of the University hit the company with a cease and desist order.

"Then they sued us for the right to the ring style," recounts Moran. "The case was finally decided in a federal court in northern Indiana. The trial lasted a week. After the University won, the company appealed to a higher court in Chicago. The first decision was upheld. It was made final in 1954." The University had won the exclusive rights to the current ring design. "That gave added prestige to the Notre Dame ring," said Moran.

Notre Dame rings can be bought only through the Hammes Bookstore. At Saint Mary's, however, things are done a little differently.

Two companies offer rings for sale at Saint Mary's — the Balfour company, the same company who supplies Notre Dame's rings, and the Herff Jones company. Balfour is located in Alburn, Mass. Herff Jones, which is a division of the Carnation Company, is from Monticello, Ind.

Unlike Notre Dame, where students can order their rings at any time (providing they are juniors, of course), Saint Mary's students are able to buy rings only when the representatives from the companies are on campus. "We try to provide the opportunity for students to order rings at least once a month," said Racine. "The student can order a ring directly from one of the companies. But they usually use the bookstore service."

Alumnae of the College are more likely to order directly from one of the companies. "We act as an agent for the companies. The alumnae could buy direct," said Racine. "We're just a go-between."

The most popular time to order a ring at Saint Mary's is on Ring Day, a traditional day of decision-making for ring-orderers that takes place at Saint Mary's usually in early September, according to Racine.

"Ring orders are also especially abundant during Saint Mary's reunion weekends at the College," she added. Moran said he gets a "good number" of requests for rings from alumni because, "People are always losing their rings."

At Notre Dame, it's almost always busy around the ring counter which is located in the back, left-hand corner of the bookstore. "Certainly Junior Parents' Weekend is a good

"Notre Dame is one of the few schools where the class ring is something that is really traditional."

Br. Conan Moran

weekend for rings. And graduation. A great number of sophomores buy their rings when the sales are first opened to them," said Moran. This way, students will not receive their rings until September — guaranteeing they will be returning for their junior year.

"It's a forgone conclusion that when you see an ND ring on a person there is a fairly good chance that the person graduated from Notre Dame. Not very many students drop out after junior year," adds Moran.

"Sometimes a student will not be able to afford a ring while they are still in school. In that case, the person will generally wait until he is financially stable, and then he

Saint Mary's and Notre Dame students can choose from a number of different styles, designs and stones to create a ring which is uniquely their own.

Photos by Hannes Hacker

calls Notre Dame to order a ring," said Moran.

Moran has been selling class rings at Notre Dame since 1930, when class rings were first sold at the bookstore. He has seen fashion change the way people live and dress and the shapes of the cars they drive. But the passing generations have left one thing unchanged — the Notre Dame class ring.

"The style has not changed, the same design is still there," said Moran. "The rings now are a little larger than they used to be. All college rings are larger."

Class rings are a relatively new tradition. "Prior to 1930 there were class pins," said Moran. "They were fancy with the year the student graduated in the middle."

At Notre Dame, the styles range from the petite women's dinner ring to the monstrous men's ring with a diamond centered in black onyx. And the prices depend on how much the customer wants to spend, according to Moran.

Ring buyers at Saint Mary's are given the choice of a number of different styles, designs and stones. "The most popular is the one you wear on your pinky. It's called the petite miniature," said Racine. "Every ring from the College has the official seal on it."

Moran estimated that About 90 to 95 percent of the students who graduate from Notre Dame buy a class ring. The blue stone is the most popular for both men and women. Being the school colors, said Moran, it isn't surprising more of this type are sold than any else.

Every Notre Dame ring includes the golden dome, the insignia, the University seal and shamrocks. In the center is a stone, which can be the tradition fire blue, the color of the buyer's birthstone, or any other of the various colors available.

Racine said, "At Saint Mary's, the basic ring is pretty much the same. What kind of diamond the buyer wants in the middle is what determines the changes in price."

At both schools, each ring is custom-made to the buyer's order. This is why delivery takes a while. The inside of each ring may be engraved. Students can have three initials engraved for no charge, or else they can pay by the letter for their full name.

Stones are either smooth or cut. At Notre Dame, the metal can be either 10 karat yellow or white gold, 14 karat yellow or white gold, or the mysterious quasar plus. And the ring can be antiquated or left shiny.

While most people wear their ring from Notre Dame or Saint Mary's as a symbol of prestige, tradition or even as just an ornament, some people have the ring for other reasons.

"Perhaps William Shakespeare said it best in 'Richard III,' 'Look, how my ring encompasseth thy finger,

Even so thy breast encloseth my poor heart;

Wear both of them, for both of them are thine." (1,ii,204)

ND's Rock-Alike look alike jam tonight

Karen McCloskey
features staff writer

Close your books, break your date, blow-off your test, plan to wash your hair another time, just don't miss the Rock-Alike Contest at 9:30 tonight in the North Dining Hall.

The Rock-Alike Contest will be a combination of all the concerts that don't visit Notre Dame and the parties of your wildest dreams, well, semi-wildest dreams.

The Contest is the culminating event of nearly two months of fundraising organized by the ND Millions Against MS Committee.

The Rock-Alike Contest should be the biggest MS fundraising event held on campus both in terms of money raised and student participation.

Contestants registered to enter the contest before spring break and attended practice sessions in Stepan Center on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

And The Winner Is...

The winner of the Notre Dame Rock-Alike contest will be determined by audience participation.

Each person paying admission to the contest will receive a ballot ticket good for one vote. The vote should be cast for the best or favorite Rock-Alike contestant.

Everyone is encouraged to vote more than once by purchasing additional ballot tickets at the Contest. The extra ballot tickets will cost $1 each.

Contest organizers look favorably upon ballot-box stuffing because vote selling increases fundraising revenues. Members of the audience may also vote for more than one contestant.

The Rock-Alike contestant with the most votes at the end of the evening will be named the Notre Dame Rock-Alike.

"It's Gonna Be A Fun Time!"

Vince Willis, co-Chairman of ND Millions Against MS, is enthusiastic about the Rock-Alike Contest. He said, "It's going to be a really good show. The acts are going to be really good. It's going to be a fun time."

Several contestants shared Willis' enthusiasm. Dan Holland, Rock-Alike for Morris Day of The Time, said, "We've been practicing. It's the dance routine from 'Purple Rain'." The song we're doing is 'The Bird'.

"People are going to be really surprised when they come out because these people have been working really hard," said Tara Shea. Shea will be Keith Partridge in the Rock-Alike Partridge Family.

Madonna a.k.a. Linda Ryndak said, "It'll all come off really great if we have people come out."

Joining The Time, The Partridge Family, and Madonna will be twelve other acts. Soloists include Bruce Springsteen, Mick Jagger, Cyndi Lauper, Stevie Nicks, Cyndi Lauper (yes, another one), Pat Benatar, and Bryan Adams. Barry Manilow may also make an appearance.

The Pointer Sisters will be there in drag, sharing the spotlight with The Eurythmics, The Monkees, and Quiet Riot.

North goes Rock'n Roll

North Dining Hall was chosen as the site for the Rock-Alike Contest for a number of reasons. Bill Healy, chairman of the Rock-Alike Contest, said, "We couldn't get the ACC. North Holds more people than Stepan (Center)."

Healy arranged to use the dining hall through William Hickey, Director of Food Services. "Mr. Hickey and his staff have been extremely helpful. He said, 'We'll do anything and everything we can to help you.'"

Hickey and his staff have moved the North Dining Hall dinner to Stepan Center for the evening. The dinner in Stepan will have a special Rock-Alike theme. Dinner at South will not be changed.

One Last Chance To Win

Aline Gioffre, chairperson of ND Millions Against MS, is hopeful about the results of the Notre Dame fundraiser. With a good turnout at the Rock-Alike Contest, Gioffre thinks Notre Dame will win the MTV concert.

"I'm afraid to say it in case some school does some fantastic thing," Gioffre said. "We're one of the top schools in terms of money raised.

Can any student look this much like Barry Manilow?

We have a good chance to win. Marquette is our closest rival."

Gioffre commented on the Rock-Alike contest, "We have some good participants. It is the final major event. We need the full support of the student body in order to make it a success."

"Being our last major event, we hope people will come out and support it," Gioffre continued. "We hope the student body has enjoyed the events. We appreciate the participation given. This is one last contribution."

Following this weekend, the official ND Millions Against MS contribution will be sent to the New York office of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Gioffre requests that all organizations and dorms deliver their money as soon as possible. All contributions should be delivered to 238 Lewis Hall by Friday morning.

The Place To Be Tonight

The festivities begin tonight at 9:30 in North Dining Hall. Admission will be $3, and include one vote ballot. Tickets are on sale during dinner in the dining halls. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Pizza, popcorn, and soft drinks will be sold for a nominal charge. All door and refreshment proceeds go to the fight against MS.

Healy said, "We're hoping for 1000-1500 people. We're really excited about the number of contestants. We have fifteen."

The Contest

The contest itself is a competition in rock impersonation. Student contestants will don costumes and makeup and lip-sync onstage to the music of their favorite performers.

The winner of the contest, the best impersonator, will enter the next round of competition at the MTV free concert to be held in April. At that time, the Notre Dame Rock-Alike winner will compete against the "Rock-Alikes" from the other schools in the Millions Against MS project.

The winner of the overall competition will receive a paid internship with MTV in New York this summer.

Velvet Underground's sound - timeless treasure

Tim Adams

Record review

The Velvet Underground. You've probably never heard a song by them. Then again, you've probably never heard of them, for that matter. But without the Velvets, today's music scene would certainly not be the same.

They never sold many records, but their influence on thousands of bands is, and has been, felt in all kinds of music, from avant garde to punk. The Velvets were never the most technically proficient band, but nonetheless they gave proof that inspiration, imagination, and succinctness were all that great music required.

To commemorate the 20th anniversary of the Velvet Underground's formation, PolyGram Records has re-released their first three albums, The Velvet Underground and Nico, White Light/White Heat, and The Velvet Underground. In addition, the company has also issued 10 previously unreleased songs by the Velvets, recorded between February, 1968 and October, 1969, on a new album called V.U..

V.U. is immediately striking because of its very high fidelity. Obviously, much care went into the process of mixing and engineering the 10 songs; they sound as if they were recorded yesterday. If you're familiar with the Velvet Underground's songs, you'll be startled at how good the group can sound when produced well.

Not that the production makes the album; the songs themselves are the stars. Two of V.U.'s songs feature bassist John Cale, who departed in September, 1968. "I Can't Stand It" is one of these, a resonating ditty which displays the group in peak form. Cale's rumbling bass, the dual frenetic guitar work of Sterling Morrison and Lou Reed, and Maureen Tucker's solid drumming all choogle along, with Reed, in his Brooklyn accent, singing, "I can't stand it any maw, maw." The other song which features Cale is "Temptation Inside Your Heart." Bongo-spiced and a little nutty, "Temptation" is a hip, fast-paced composition that cannot be resisted. My only regret is that it isn't any longer. At any rate, these two songs are quite good.

In fact, V.U. does not contain a bum song. Even with the variety represented here, the Velvets have shown that they can handle it all, from hard rockers to romantic ballads. Surprisingly, lots of Velvet Underground fans think that the Velvets' ballads are some of their best songs. From the robotic yet effective singing of German chanteuse Nico on "Femme Fatale" to Lou Reed's touching, restrained vocal performance on "Pale Blue Eyes," this "wimpy" outlet has proved to be a pot of gold for the Velvets.

On V.U., "Stephanie Says" and "I'm Sticking with You" similarly join the ranks of classic 60s ballads. The former is simple and beautiful. From the soft, tuneful backup singing to the delicate instrumentation (featuring xylophone and viola), this song gives the listener a really good feeling. "I'm Sticking with You," the other ballad, ends the album in grand fashion. Sung mostly by Maureen Tucker (who makes up in directness what she lacks in vocal strength), this one will remind you of another old Mo Tucker vocal piece called "Afterhours." Except on "Sticking," Tucker receives help from the rest of the band towards the end, as they build up to a low crescendo. It's a glorious ending, one that signifies fidelity to a friend, lover, or both.

Lou Reed, who has gone on to a solo career of some note, sings the rest of the songs on V.U. He gets aggressive, as does the guitar playing, on the hard-rocking "Foggy Notion," but then he rattles off the child-like lyrics on the funny

"Andy's Chest" without a hitch. Perhaps his best work is on "She's My Best Friend," a darn fine pop song. He sings pleasantly throughout the song, and when he needs to go higher, he does it wonderfully.

If you're not familiar with anything that the Velvet Underground has done, I would advise you to try any of their albums, except possibly White Light/White Heat, which should be reserved until you get adventurous. All of their studio albums, except Loaded, have been re-mixed, so their sound quality is probably pretty good. V.U. sounds good, and if sound quality is what you seek, I heartily recommend it. But every one of their albums contains several classics, and each deserves a listen. So get a little adventurous and go discover what a lot of happy music fans already know.

Sports Briefs

Wednesday, March 27, 1985 — page 8

An Tostal inertube water polo signups will be held tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the O'Shaughnessy Hall lobby. An entry fee of $7 will be charged for the 64-team tournament, which begins on Tuesday. Teams must consist of at least seven players, two of whom must be women. No more than two varsity swimmers or water polo club members may be on one team. - The Observer

The ND Women's Soccer Club will be meeting for practice today and Friday at 4 p.m. and tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. on Stepan Field. - The Observer

The ND/SMC Sailing Club will meet tonight at 6:30 in room 204 O'Shaughnessy. The club will hold practice for this weekend's freshman icebreaker regatta tomorrow from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. All first-year sailors, especially crew, are invited to attend. - The Observer

NVA spring sports captains must attend meetings this week. Mens' softball team captains will meet today at 4:30 p.m., women's softball captains at 5 p.m. and floor hockey captains at 5:15 p.m. Women's soccer team captains will meet tomorrow at 4:30 p.m., open soccer captains at 5 p.m. and baseball captains at 5:15 p.m. All meetings will be held in the football auditorium at the ACC. - The Observer

The ND Women's Water Polo Club will be meeting for practice tomorrow from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the Rockne Memorial Building. Anyone who is interested may attend; no previous experience is necessary. For more information, call Marianne Buckley at 283-3891. - The Observer

The ND Skateboard Club will be meeting tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. outside the LaFortune Little Theatre to discuss ramp construction. - The Observer

An off-campus lacrosse team is now forming. Anyone who is interested should attend a meeting tomorrow at 6 p.m. in LaFortune and bring proof of insurance. For more information, call Dan at 287-6262. - The Observer

Bookstore Basketball team captains must attend a mandatory meeting on Sunday from 1:15 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the Library Auditorium. This is the only time schedules will be distributed. Tournament action kicks off on April 9 with the Hall of Fame game. - The Observer

Professional wrestling is coming to Stepan Center. The MS Drive presents World Wrestling Federation "Wrestlemania," a closed-circuit broadcast live from Madison Square Garden on Sunday at 1 p.m. Tickets are on sale now at the Gate 10 ticket office at the ACC and at Rock du Lac. All proceeds go to Multiple Sclerosis. - The Observer

A Knute Rockne memorial Mass and breakfast will be held on Sunday by the Notre Dame Club of St. Joseph Valley at 9 a.m. in the West side of the South Dining Hall. For more information or to make reservations, call Pat Novitzki at 237-5392. - The Observer

Dancin' Irish tryouts are coming up. An organizational meeting for anyone interested in trying out will be held on Monday at 7 p.m. in the Chautauqua Ballroom. For more information, call Debbie at 283-3552 or Lisa at 283-2697. - The Observer

Several top amateur wrestlers from the United States and Japan will participate in an international challenge match on Thursday, April 4, at 7 p.m. in the ACC. Some Olympians and NCAA champions will compete, including Irish assistant coach John Azevedo, the NCAA 57 kg. champ. Tickets are available now at the Gate 10 ticket office of the ACC at $5 for adults and $3 for students 18 and under. - The Observer

An interhall lacrosse league is being formed by NVA. The deadline for entries is Monday, April 8. For more information, call the NVA office at 239-6100. - The Observer

Interhall baseball umpires are being sought by NVA. Anyone who is interested may fill out an application at the NVA office. - The Observer

Think you're a better ref than those in the Big Ten? Perhaps you would like to ref for Non-Varsity Athletics and the Bookstore Basketball tournament. If so, call Mike Dunn at the NVA office (239-6100). Previous experience is preferred but not necessarily required. - The Observer

The St. Mary's softball team opened its season yesterday by sweeping a doubleheader from Bethel College, winning by scores of 10-3 and 12-9. The team hosts Nazareth College in another twinbill today at 3:30 p.m. - The Observer

Golf

continued from page 12

Fuhrer posted a score of 264. "Steve was a pleasant surprise during the fall," says O'Sullivan. "Being named to the all-conference team has proven his skill."

The spring trip tournament was played on Miami's Fountainebleau Course, a par-72 championship-calibre site with a 73.5 course rating. "I wouldn't know what to do without spring trips," O'Sullivan comments. "They're a necessity. We'd be in the intramural leagues without them."

The Irish begin their spring season Saturday with the Tri-State meet. "Our goal is to try and break the course record of 359," says O'Sullivan optimistically regarding the 13-year-old mark.

Sunday is a triangular meet against Xavier University (Cincinnati) and Detroit's Wayne State. Both meets are scheduled for the Burke Memorial Golf Course.

This weekend's play also marks the beginning of the season for the Irish blue team, the second squad. "This could very well be the best blue team ever," says O'Sullivan. The No. 1 player for the blue team is junior Tim Hanlon, followed by sophomores Tom Ryan and Mike Culver, and freshmen Joe Hills and John Parker. Junior Blake Garside, who O'Sullivan calls the "true" No. 1 on the blue team, will be out for the spring season after having hand surgery.

O'Sullivan is confident that the success in Florida will serve as a formidable springboard for the spring. In addition to the two home dual meets, five 54-hole tournaments lie ahead for the Irish in which they will face teams representing the Big Ten, the Mid-American Conference and major independents, among others. "I'm going to enjoy this season," O'Sullivan says. "I really am. The rapport, consideration and respect between the players has been wonderful."

"We hit a pretty good thing down there in Florida. It can happen again."

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Haggard College Center, accepts classifieds from 12:30 p.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. Charge is 10 cents per five characters per day.

Classifieds

NOTICES

TYPING CALL CHRIS 234-8997

TYPING AVAILABLE
287-4082

WORDPROCESSING AND TYPING
272-8827

WORDPROCESSING
277-8045

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE. CALL
MRS. COKER, 233-7009.

TYPING
Jackie Boggs
684-8793

Word Processing - Call Andrea at 283-3880 from 9:00 am - 11:00 pm.

GOVERNMENT HOMES from $1 (U repair). Also delinquent tax property. Call 805-687-6000 Ext. GH-9834 for information.

BURKAT COMPUTER CENTER
SOFTWARE AND ACCESSORIES
FOR MACINTOSH. BEST SELECTION
SUPER LOW PRICES. ALL SOFTWARE
20-50% OFF 3105 MISHAWAKA AVE.
287-3344

ROCKALIKE! ROCKALIKE!
ROCKALIKE! ROCKALIKE!
TONIGHT 9:30
NORTH DINING HALL
MILLIONS AGAINST MS
ROCKALIKE! ROCKALIKE!

LOST/FOUND

WASHINGTON, D.C. IS WHERE I NEED
A RIDE TO. CAN LEAVE THURS. APRIL
4. CALL JOHN 277-0607.

FOUND: CROSS PEN AND PENCIL IN ROOM 124 NIEULAND SCIENCE BLDG.
CALL TIM AT 2543 TO IDENTIFY.

Lost: Maroon Samsonite overnight bag containing BOOKS and personal items.
Lost 3/16 between ND and SMC.
REWARD offered, no questions. Please call Barb at 283-3846.

WANTED

Relatives traveling from El Salvador to see beloved president. So, I need many COMMENCEMENT tickets. Call 3811 or you may find a guerilla at your door.

RIDE OR RIDERS NEEDED
ANYWHERE FROM S. PA. TO DC
AREA FOR EASTER. CAN LEAVE
ASAP AFTER WED PM - ALAN 3128

HISTORY TEACHER, FORMER TRAVEL AGENT, PLANNING SUMMER IN EUROPE, SEEKS PERSON OR PER-SONS WITH SIMILAR PLANS. AS TRAVELING COMPANION/S. CALL
JACK YOUNG: 616-683-0547, Ex. 36.

SR FORMAL TICKET NEEDED- IF YOU'RE WILLING TO SELL YOURS
FOR FULL PRICE, CALL 232-0659 OR 232-5432.

NEED BICYCLE FOR APRIL-MAY.
WANT TO RENT OR BUY. MUST IN GOOD SHAPE SEAN 277-3953

WANTED: A place to live next year! If you are in need of an extra man for a house, or have yet to find an OC home, call Ray at 2059.

ROUND TRIP CHARTER FLIGHT FROM SOUTH BEND TO ST. LOUIS FOR EASTER $120 CALL 1527

JUNIORS, JUNIORS, JUNIORS:
CAREER PREPARATION FOR YOUR
SENIOR YEAR. WED., MARCH 27, 6:30
P.M. 118 NIEULAND SCIENCE HALL.
SPONSORED BY CAREER AND
PLACEMENT SERVICES. PRESENTA-TION REPEATED ON MARCH 28.

FOR SALE

1978 Pontiac Grand LeMans. Air-conditioned, No rust, One owner, good condition. $2800. 282-1805.

For sale: La Belle slide projector, carrying case, four stack loaders. Superb condition. 277-1226 after 7. $50.

TICKETS

HELP!!! ONLY CHILD NEEDS
7 SEVEN! GRAD TIX. If I don't get 'em, they won't spoil me anymore. If you share your tix, I'll share what I have. CALL KAREN 277-6740.

PERSONALS

OAR HOUSE: COLD BEER & LIQUOR,
CARRY OUT 'TIL 3 A.M., U.S. 31 N., ONE BLOCK SOUTH OF HOLIDAY INN.

PITT CLUB EASTER BUS SIGNUPS:
THURSDAY, 6 P.M. LAFORTUNE
LITTLE THEATER. $45 ROUND TRIP,
$30 ONE WAY. FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED. QUESTIONS? CALL A.J. AT 1657.

JUNIORS, JUNIORS, JUNIORS:
CAREER PREPARATION FOR YOUR
SENIOR YEAR. WED., MARCH 27, 6:30
P.M. 118 NIEULAND SCIENCE HALL.
SPONSORED BY CAREER AND
PLACEMENT SERVICES. PRESENTA-
TION REPEATED ON MARCH 28.

JUNIORS, JUNIORS, JUNIORS:
CAREER PREPARATION FOR YOUR
SENIOR YEAR. WED., MARCH 27, 6:30
P.M. 118 NIEULAND SCIENCE HALL.
SPONSORED BY CAREER AND
PLACEMENT SERVICES. PRESENTA-
TION REPEATED ON MARCH 28.

"Nice boat, but where's the chicken???"

Seniors-want to sell some gear when you graduate? Will make a Very Reasonable Offer for a small refrigerator if interested call x258-2998

HUNGRY? CALL THE YELLOW SUB
FOR FREE DELIVERY 272-4453 MO-TH
8-11pm FR-SA 8pm-1am

ROCKALIKE! ROCKALIKE!
ROCKALIKE! ROCKALIKE!
TONIGHT 9:30PM
NORTH DINING HALL
ROCKALIKE! ROCKALIKE!
ROCKALIKE! ROCKALIKE!

TONIGHT!!!!
COME OUT AND SEE YOUR FRIENDS
IMITATE THEIR FAVORITE ROCK
STARS!!! 3 MEN FROM DILLON WILL BE THE POINTER SISTERS!!! BRUCE!!!
THE TIME!!!! MADONNA!!!! THE MONKEYS!!!! THE STONES!!!! AND MANY MORE!!!! ROCKALIKE!
TONIGHT 9:30PM
NORTH DINING HALL
FUN, EXCITEMENT.....FOOD!!!
TONIGHT 9:30PM
ALL PROCEEDS GO TO THE MILLIONS
AGAINST M.S. CAMPAIGN!! THIS IS YOUR LAST CHANCE TO COME OUT
AND FIGHT M.S.!!!!!! 9:30 NORTH DINING HALL.... BE THERE!!

ELAINE, KATHY, & KIM, THANKS FOR A GREAT BREAK IN SANIBEL! JUST A FEW REMINDERS: CHOWDER AND PRIME RIB-I HATE THAT, RAMONE
AND SERGE SAW SHIRLEY A K-
MART'S BLUE LIGHT SPECIAL.
SPONGES. THANK GOD "WE'RE OVER THAT!" I CAN'T PUT ALL THAT I REALLY WANT TO SAY, BUT I THINK
YOU KNOW WHAT I MEAN...MM YOU GOT THAT RIGHT. -PROMY

TO THE TASTY MUNCHES: John, Dan,
Sully, Chris, and Eddy. Thanks for making Spring Break so much fun. It wouldn't have been the same without you. When are you going to tuck us in? Love, the Gumbettes.

You Need Easter Ride? Rockford, IL,
Beloit, Madison, LaCrosse, WI. I'm leaving 04/03/85 Call 3360, Steve

NEED RIDERS TO FLORIDA-LEAVING
4/2, CALL FOR DETAILS-3884-MARY

NEED RIDE TO
MIAMI(OHIO)/DAYTON/3/29. CALL
GLENN AT 3460

CLEVELAND: ride needed to Willowick area late 4/4. Call 1250.

LOST a ladies gold seiko watch around and about main or south quad about 2 weeks before spring break-heaps and bunches of sentimental value is attached to it-please call Heather at 3763 if you have found it--thanks!

FOUND: ONE COAT AND ONE BOOK ON THE WASH DC BUS. CALL 3744 TO CLAIM THEM.

Whoever left me in charge of their pearls at the last Dillon SYR. please call me to claim. Eric Schneeman at 3744

Rosemary Max and May: Thanks for being such great roomies in Lauderdale.
Don't forget about our party! If you bring Squish, I'll bring Pookey. May-we have to write to those guys from U.T.

Jeff Herman- Hope you enjoyed your break. I'm from New York originally, too.
Love, Your Secret Admirer.

TAM THANK FOR THE BEST BREAK EVER!HYWD BCH WILL NEVER BE THE SAME

WHAT IF... Obi Wan Kenobi were Jewish

"Darth is that you? Just look at you now.
You used to be my best student. Twenty years and not even a post card from you... I could be dead for all you know..."

RIDERS NEEDED TO VANDER-BILT/NASHVILLE. LEAVING THURS
3/28. CALL MARK ANY TIME. DAY OR NIGHT, AT 1638. RETURNING ON SUN

YOU MAY HAVE MISSED IT
LAST SEMESTER
NO MORE EXCUSES
IT'S BACK
BEWARE
THE BEAUX ARTS BALL
APRIL 12, 9:30
BE THERE!

ITALIAN CLUB NEWS
The ND/SMC ITALIAN CLUB will be meeting this Thursday at 6:30 in the LaFortune Little Theatre. Elections of next year's officers are scheduled and details of Italian Culture Week will be discussed.

TONIGHT
All are invited to a free showing of the classical Western film
"HIGH NOON"
starring Gary Cooper and a commentary-discussion of the film by
Prof. William Krier
Dept. of English
Tonight-March 27-7:00 PM
Howard Hall

JIM TABOR CORE COURSE
Player of the week:
Lonnie Erkins

Character Reference for
NANCY ELLEN YAST
(a.k.a. Pastey, Penguin, Rosebud)
Enjoys-teaching Archys about astrological phenomena Greatest Strengths-- rewriting songs: "Love is a rose so you better not pick it" and "Throw off your Greatest Weakness-- authority problem: "Nancy, put your beer in the car" "Some fun you are, Bob! Personal References-- "I DON'T KNOW HIM!!" (Aren't you glad we didn't write your recommendation?) CONGRATS ON YOUR I.U. MED SCH ACCEPTANCE!!!

Dear T-club, At times things got ugly but ugly things always come sooner or later Thanks for an awesome week. With you I feel so secure. Advice from Heidi: "Even when it is flowing in a big way, you can still feel happy. Sexually yours. MC

Piane named coach of the year

Notre Dame cross country coach Joe Piane was honored by being named District IV coach of the year along with Gary Wieneke of Illinois at the NCAA Indoor Track Championships in Syracuse, N.Y. The 37-year old Piane guided the Irish to their most successful campaign in his 10 seasons with a nineteenth place finish at the NCAA championships.

"It's a tribute to the kids and not to me," offered Piane upon hearing of the award. "This year's team just did an excellent job. All along I knew they had the potential to qualify for the NCAA's and they did it in one of the nation's toughest regions."

Piane's tenth edition of Irish cross country swept through the regular season with an undefeated slate and then placed fourth in the District IV championships behind Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan.

During the course of the year, Notre Dame captured its second consecutive National Catholic Championship crown and took home its own Irish Invitational title for the first time in 19 years. In addition the Irish also garnered first place finishes in the Midwestern City Conference competition and the Indiana Invitational.

Joe Piane

In addition to being named District IV cross country coach of the year, Piane has been appointed as president of the Central Collegiate Conference. The league consists of 25 member institutions and organizes annual cross country, indoor and outdoor track championships and was founded by legendary Irish football coach Knute Rockne.

"I intend to encourage better participation by the 25 conference schools," says Piane about his goals during his two year tenure. "I'd also like to see the organization get more exposure in the track community."

Referee Bain sues over disputed T-shirt design

Associated Press

IOWA CITY, Iowa - A Johnson County District Court jury was charged late Tuesday with deciding if Big Ten Conference referee Jim Bain was libeled by a T-shirt showing him with a rope around his neck.

Judge Paul Kilburg dismissed the jurors until 8 a.m. Wednesday after charging them just before 5 p.m.

Bain, 53, of Decatur, Ill., is suing Iowa City T-shirt printer John Gillispie for an unspecified cash settlement. Bain claims the T-shirt shows him in a hangman's noose and has damaged his career, reputation and peace of mind.

Bain's lawyer, David Dutton of Waterloo, claimed in his closing statement that Gillispie created a T-shirt showing Bain being hanged in effigy for the purpose of capitalizing on a storm of protest Bain created with a late foul call at a March 6, 1982 basketball game between Iowa and Purdue.

In that game, Bain called a shoving foul on Iowa's Kevin Boyle as time elapsed. The late call allowed Purdue's Dan Palombizio to make two free throws with no time left.

Irish

continued from page 12

Loyola was. In a sloppy, rain-soaked game, Notre Dame played well against a Loyola team that had beaten the Irish, 27-10, a few years ago. The Greyhounds also are making a bid to reach the Top Ten.

Thanks mostly to senior attackman Bob Trocchi's four goals and two assists, Notre Dame was able to keep Loyola from running away like it did in the past game. Although they never threatened after tying the score, 1-1, early in the first quarter, the Irish played better as the game progressed.

"We wanted to make sure that we kept improving during the game," said O'Leary. "We wanted to end the game well and everything worked out favorably."

Unfortunately for the Irish, though, they were not able to duplicate their performance against Duke and New Hampshire, two teams that had more talented players than Notre Dame. The Blue Devils blew open a close game in the final minutes of the first half, while New Hampshire took the Irish out of the game early by scoring nine of the first ten goals.

"I'm disappointed because, if we had played as well against Duke and New Hampshire as we did against Loyola, we would have won at least one more game," says O'Leary. "The teams we played were better than us, but I feel the scores were not indicative of our team."

"We did get a real good assessment of the team, though. We knew we were going in over our heads in the Loyola Tournament (where the Irish played both the Greyhounds and New Hampshire), but we learned just how good we are compared to the teams of the East."

"We're able to sit down now and better evaluate the individual talent and develop an offense that our talent is capable of running," adds O'Leary.

Offense does seem like the major weakness of the Irish after the trip. Trocchi (five goals, five assists) and Joe Franklin (nine goals, one assist) played well on the attack, but the midfielders failed to show much scoring punch.

"We're going to have to change our philosophy a little," says O'Leary. "We thought we could score in settled situations by creating offense with our middies. We concentrated a lot on that in practice, but we couldn't do it against the teams we played, and we hadn't practiced in an unsettled situation which was our strength last year. Now we'll try to do both so we can get a good offense."

IRISH ITEMS - Notre Dame will play half of its home schedule in the next week as Lake Forest, Kenyon College (Saturday), and Radford (next Wednesday) all visit Cartier.

Wednesday, March 27

90+ Canadian Imports
Senior Class "Show off
your Tan Lines" Party

Thursday, March 28

Senior Formal Kick-off
3 for 1 Buds and Bud Lights
Featuring Nazz Finalists "Cold Drinks"

"DON'T BLAME ME!
I VOTED FOR MONDALE!"

Bumperstickers for only $2:
B.P., P.O. Box 433
Edison, NJ 08818

ATTENTION SPORTSWRITERS

There will be a mandatory meeting on Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Observer office to set up coverage of spring sports. Anyone not able to attend should call Jeff Blumb at 239-5323 BEFORE the meeting.

WANTED:

Members of the Class of '87 for Junior Class Government

We're tough. We're mean. We hate puppies. We know that there is a Red under every bed. Richard Simmons is a whimp. We don't eat quiche. We don't even know what it is. We steal candy from babies. We drink Jack Daniels. Straight. Without ice cubes. We'd sell our little sisters down the river for some more money. We don't bathe. We don't write good, and we can't even spel. And we never laugh. Ever.

We are fighting a war for fun social life, quality service projects, and academic and liturgical excellence, and we're looking for Soldiers and Soldierettes of Fortune. The hours are long and the pay is non-existent, but the people are friendly, the activities are exciting, and the constituents, the Class of '87, make up the best Class ever!

Are you interested in joining Notre Dame's most exciting branch of Student Government?? Do you want to make next year a terrific one for the Class of '87? If you answered yes to the above questions pick up an application for Junior Advisory Board and Junior Committee positions.

Applications can be picked up in the Student Activities Office, located in the main lobby of the LaFortune Student Center, from Wednesday, March 27 through Wednesday April 3. Applications are due back to the Student Activities Office by no later than 5:00 p.m. Wednesday April 3.

We encourage all members of the Class to apply and contribute as much time as you can. London Program people are welcome. With your participation and continued enthusiasm THE BEST IS YET TO COME for the Class of '87.

Engineering Week Treasure Hunt

Clue 1: When found, this prize will be your crowning achievement.

Clue 2: This clue is the right size for March 17th

Clue 3: To win, you will have to come perilously close to the forbidden fruit.

When you find the certificate, contact Mary George, x3680.

Hudson works with quarterbacks; Stock moves to direct Irish offense

By MARTY BURNS
Sports Writer

Benjamin Franklin, who did everything but coach college football, once said, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

It was with this thought in mind that Notre Dame assistant football coach Ron Hudson asked Head Coach Gerry Faust earlier this month to take Franklin's advice by reassigning Hudson's own duties as offensive coordinator. This move would enable Hudson to concentrate solely on the task of developing freshmen quarterbacks Terry

Mike Stock

Andrysiak, Tom Byrne, and Pat Pesavento.

As a result, Hudson assumed the sole duty of quarterback coach, while Irish assistant Mike Stock took over the reins of offensive coordinator.

The Irish coaches are now hoping that through this move they can prevent the potential crisis of not having a capable quarterback to run the offense in the event of an injury to starting quarterback Steve Beuerlein. Last year's backup, Scott Grooms, will graduate in May, leaving only the three freshmen to fill his role.

"(Hudson) felt there was just not enough time to do the job he wanted when it came to working with the young quarterbacks as well as coordinating the ideas of the offensive staff," said Faust when he made the announcement of the coaching switch.

Although Hudson will be relinquishing the role of offensive coordinator, Faust will still look to him for help with the offensive philosophy.

"We want to be able to go into the fall with confidence in our backup quarterbacks, and that's going to require all of Ron's attention this spring and in the fall," continued Faust. "But when it comes to planning the offense, the quarterback coach is going to be just as involved as anyone else."

The official task of coordinating the offensive philosophy now will be thrown to pass receivers coach Mike Stock. Stock will continue to serve as pass receivers coach, although his other duties, that of special-teams coach and recruiting coordinator, have been reassigned to fellow assistant coaches Mal Moore and Joe Yonto, respectively.

Stock, who is in his third year of a second tour of duty as an Irish assistant, is no stranger to the offensive coordinator role, as he held that exact job for three seasons at the University of Wisconsin before moving on to be head coach at Eastern Michigan for five years.

Stock feels that his role will be to basically synthesize the ideas of the Irish coaching staff into a successful offensive philosophy.

"The offensive coordinator assumes the responsibility of setting up the game plan and the overall offensive philosophy," says Stock. "But the actual planning of the offensive philosophy will be group-oriented as it has been in the past."

So far in the young spring football season, both Irish coaches have stepped boldly into their new roles. Hudson is testing the young quarterbacks to find out which are ready to take the backup role, while Stock is trying to fill the holes in the offensive lineup left behind by graduating seniors.

"We're losing three quality players in (center) Mike Kelley, (guard) Larry Williams, and (tight end) Mark Bavaro," notes Stock. "There is going to be some movement in positions among the linemen. We just need to find people we can count on and the right combinations."

As for any changes in the general offensive scheme, Stock hesitates to make any binding decisions at this early juncture.

"Depending on what we see this spring," says Stock, "we'll then decide the personality of the offense. Our attack in the past has been centered on the rushing game, and that took us down the road last season. We have the same nucleus returning, so we'll probably use that same philosophy."

A couple specific changes which Stock is looking over during the spring, however, involve an adapted offensive formation, and a new flanker position for a pair of former wide receivers.

"We would like to run more from the split-back formation," notes Stock. "We had been running out of the I-formation and then throwing from the split-back, but that became too predictable, and we'll need some diversity.

Ron Hudson

"Also," continues Stock, "we are going to put (wide receivers) Tim Brown and Reggie Ward at flanker, and then put Milt Jackson and Alvin Miller at split end. Brown and Ward will give us the double threat as receivers and ball-carriers in the backfield."

Finally, Stock hopes to see a new spirit on the offensive squad this year.

"This team must play with feeling," he notes. "We are going to have to dig deep if things get rocky. This is Notre Dame. Everybody came here because of the tradition, and they have to realize that the tradition is now."

Benjamin Franklin himself could not have said it better.

Summer Special Rates STORAGE RESERVATION

CALL NOW 683-1959

- VERY CLOSE TO CAMPUS
- APPROX 2½ MILES NORTH US 31-33
- GATES OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY

Master Mini Warehouses

Bruno's
Style Pizza

THIS OLDE HOUSE
PIZZERIA & PUB

This Sunday, Monday and Wednesday we will deliver a medium 16" pizza with one topping for:

$6<sup>95</sup>

(SAVE $2<sup>00</sup>!)

Each additional item $1

HOURS

M-Th 4-11:30
F, Sat 4-12:00
Sun 4-10:00

277-4519

CALL BEFORE 11 p.m. FOR DELIVERY

TONIGHT — SENIORS — TONIGHT

"SHOW OFF YOUR TAN" PARTY

At

SENIOR BAR

IMPORT NIGHT, DJ, DANCING
9:00 - ?

Applications for Off Campus Coordinators available in Student Government Offices

Openings in the following commissions:

- Liturgical
- Social
- Athletic
- Social Concerns/
Community Affairs
- Treasurer

Must be living Off Campus next year
Deadline: Monday, April 1
Any questions? Call Beaver: 2225

Hey You!

SENIOR BAR, the funnest bar on campus, is now accepting applications for 1985-86 managerial positions.

Have you got what it takes??

Don't miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for FAME, FORTUNE, and FUN!!

Pick up and return applications at the Student Activities Office in LaFortune by Fri., March 29 at 5:00pm.

P.S. It'll look great on your resume!!

Bloom County

Berke Breathed

Zeta

Kevin Walsh

The Far Side

Gary Larson

Creationism explained.

The Daily Crossword

- ACROSS
- 1 N.T. book
  - 5 Muse for a laureate
  - 10 Fiasco
  - 14 Witticism
  - 15 Gaseous element
  - 16 Silkworm
  - 17 Certain school letters
  - 18 Form of combat
  - 20 Baboon
  - 21 Gait
  - 22 Dismissal
  - 23 Brook denizen
  - 25 Genesis victim
  - 27 Tossing game
  - 29 Big Apple attraction
  - 33 Scriptural preposition
  - 34 Capote the author
  - 36 Fruit drink
  - 37 Cavell or Bunker
  - 39 West of Ida.
  - 40 Bargain events
  - 42 Liquor
  - 43 Afr. antelopes
  - 46 Fr. girl's title: abbr.
  - 47 Superfluous
  - 49 Chatters
  - 51 Discharge
  - 52 Alliance acronym
  - 53 Lewis Carroll heroine
  - 56 Friendly talk
  - 57 Network
  - 60 Type of salesman
  - 63 Singular
  - 64 Chill
  - 65 Sculpt
  - 66 Disembarked
  - 67 Pink table wine
  - 68 Totaled
  - 69 Insect
- DOWN
- 1 — vitae
  - 2 Moon point

©1985 Tribune Media Services, Inc.
All Rights Reserved

3/27/85

Tuesday's Solution

3/27/85

- 3 From — (occasionally)
- 4 Resort
- 5 Deplete
- 6 Spring back
- 7 A Bancroft
- 8 Wool weight
- 9 Can. prov.
- 10 Lo!
- 11 Algerian port
- 12 Chin. dynasty
- 13 Invited
- 19 Vast amounts
- 21 Kitchen item
- 24 Tumult
- 25 Ready for war
- 26 Python
- 27 Grain grinder
- 28 Inappropriate
- 29 Comic George
- 30 Like carpeting
- 31 An Astaire
- 32 Agreements
- 35 Entree
- 38 Batter's protection
- 41 Amo, amas, —
- 44 Wreath
- 45 Lanced
- 48 Irade
- 50 Deserter
- 52 Elbow
- 53 Heb. month
- 54 Trademark
- 55 Certain debts
- 56 String
- 58 Indian
- 59 Gr. letter
- 61 Edible tuber
- 62 Father
- 63 U.K. flyers

Campus

- 3:30 p.m. — Lacrosse, ND vs. Lake Forest, Carlier Field.
- 3:30 p.m. — Lecture, "Carl Sandburg: Chicago Author in His Setting," Prof. Emeritus Ernest Sandeen, Prof. Thomas Schlereth and Prof. Thomas Werge, Library Auditorium.
- 4 p.m. — Lecture, "Poverty and the Irish Economy Before the Famine," Prof. Joel Mokyr, Northwestern University, Room 122 Hayes Healy, Sponsored by The Ancient Order of Hibernians Endowment Fund.
- 4:20 p.m. — Physics Colloquium, "Are Weak Vector Bosons Composites?" Prof. Kamal Dutta, Delhi University and Southern Illinois, Room 118 Nieuwland.
- 4:30 p.m. — Seminar, "Interaction of the Chicken Oviduct Progesterone Receptor with Target Gene DNA In Vitro," Dr. John Compton, Baylor College of Medicine, Room 278 Galvin.
- 6:15 p.m. — Circle K Meeting, CSC.
- 6:30 p.m. — Presentation For All Juniors, "Preparation For Your Senior Year," Paul Reynolds, Asst. Director, Career & Placement Services, 118 Nieuwland, Also on Thursday, Free.
- 7 p.m. — Wednesday Night Film Series, "My Darling Clementine," ETS Theatre of CCE.
- 7 & 9:30 p.m. & 12 a.m. — Film, "Firefox," Engineering Auditorium, Sponsored by Student Activities Board, $1.50.
- 7 p.m. — RASTA Meeting, CSC, All Are Welcome.
- 7 p.m. — Film, "High Noon," Followed by a Commentary/Discussion by Prof. William Krier, Howard Hall, Free Admission.
- 7 p.m. — Discussion, "All You Wanted to Know About Life in Mexico and Aren't Afraid to Ask," Dr. Olivera-Williams, 110 O'Shaughnessy.
- 7 p.m. — Mandatory Meeting, For Anyone Interested In Serving As An Officer For Finance Club Next Year, 122 Hayes Healy.
- 7:30 p.m. — Lecture, "What is Catholicism?" Rev. Richard McBrien, Catholicism and Morality, Catholicism and Social Justice, CSC Classroom.
- 8 p.m. — Concert, Gail Walton, Faculty Organ Recital, Sacred Heart Church, Sponsored by Music Department.
- 9:30 p.m. — Rock-A-Like Contest, North Dining Hall, $3 Per Person, All Proceed Go To MS Campaign.
- 9 p.m. — Finance Club Fest, 1635 Turtle Creek West, $1 For Members, $2 For Non-members.
- 9 p.m. — Senior Rejection Night, Senior Bar, Sponsored by Tau Beta Pi, $.75 Specials for Letters.
- 9 - 9:30 p.m. — Radio Show, "Campus Perspectives," Guest: Sarah Hamilton, Editor-in-Chief of The Observer.
- 11 p.m. — Mass & Reflection, "What Has Lent Meant to You?" Fr. Dave Tyson, Morrissey Hall Chapel, Sponsored by Lyons & Morrissey Liturgy Commissions.

Dinner Menus

Notre Dame
Roast pork loin
Whitefish
Individual vegetable quiche

Saint Mary's
Turkey cutlet with parsley sauce
Fillet of fish parisienne
Spanish omlet
Eunice's six-foot hoagie

TV Tonight

- |           |                                 |            |                                  |
|-----------|---------------------------------|------------|----------------------------------|
| 7:30 p.m. | 16 Barney Miller                | 9:00 p.m.  | 16 Facts of Life                 |
|           | 22 WKRP in Cincinnati           |            | 28 Dynasty                       |
|           | 28 Wheel of Fortune             | 9:30 p.m.  | 16 Sara                          |
| 8:00 p.m. | 16 Highway to Heaven            | 10:00 p.m. | 16 St. Elsewhere                 |
|           | 22 Movie - A Summer to Remember |            | 22 CBS Reports: The Gift of Life |
|           | 28 Fall Guy                     |            | 28 Hotel                         |
|           | 34 Tosca                        |            |                                  |

Rock DuLac

Record Store

In LaFortune
Stop by and check it out!!

The ND Student Activities Board is now accepting applications for the '85-'86 school year for the positions of...

STUDENT MANAGERS

of
DARBY'S PLACE THE UNDERGROUND ROCK DU LAC RECORDS STUDENT SAVER

Applications available in the SAB Office - 2nd Floor LaFortune
Deadline: Thursday, March 28th Interviews begin March 28th

Junior Joe Franklin and his teammates suffered through a tough road trip over spring break, going 1-3 against Eastern competition. The Irish lacrosse team plays its first game at home today at 3:30 against Lake Forest on Cartier Field. For more on the team's road trip, see Mike Sullivan's story below.

Lacrosse team gains experience on Eastern road trip over spring break

By MIKE SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

Nobody said that Spring Break '85 was going to be easy for the Notre Dame lacrosse team as it headed to Baltimore to take on four East Coast teams. And the trip was indeed as tough as expected as the defending Midwest Lacrosse Association champs struggled to a 1-3 record.

The trip featured the best competition the Irish should see this year as they took on Duke, Vermont, New Hampshire and Loyola (Md.). Although the results will not help the team's record, Notre Dame coach Rich O'Leary hopes that the tough opponents will be good preparation for the MIA schedule which begins today with a game against Lake Forest College at 3:30 p.m. on Cartier Field.

"I'm worried because I now know how badly we can play, but I think the adjustments that we made over the last few games have made us a better team," says O'Leary, who has been leading the Irish since lacrosse became a varsity sport five years ago. "If we keep improving, we shouldn't be an easy game for anyone and we could win them all."

The Foresters should serve as a good yardstick to measure Notre Dame's improvement. Last year they gave the Irish a tough fight, taking an early lead and staying even through three quarters, before O'Leary's squad exploded for six unanswered goals to take an 11-5 victory.

Both Notre Dame and Lake Forest find themselves in the same division of the MIA - the Great Lakes Lacrosse Association - which also includes Ohio State, Michigan State, Ashland College, Wittenberg and Mt. Union. The main goal of each team, though, will be winning the Midwest championship since there is no MIA championship game. The league champion will be determined by a selection committee of judges.

"I'd rather not start out the Midwestern part of the season with a conference game," explains O'Leary, "but we've played some real good teams now. The teams we'll play the rest of the year aren't as good as Loyola or New Hampshire, but we still can't afford to let down."

Loyola and New Hampshire, as well as Duke, showed the Irish that they are still well below the level of play of many of the Eastern teams as they repeatedly took advantage of Notre Dame's mistakes to move out to big leads. The Irish were able to handle Vermont, 8-6, to start out the trip, but dropped the last three by fairly lopsided scores - 18-4 (Duke), 13-7 (Loyola), and 12-3 (New Hampshire).

Although the Irish played well for most of the Vermont game, the win over the Catamounts was not the highlight of the trip - the loss to see IRISH, page 9

Finishes third in Florida tournament

Irish golf team starts spring season

By MARC RAMIREZ
Sports Writer

Normally the Notre Dame golf team's spring trip to Florida is used primarily as preparation for the spring season. But following a good fall session, Coach Noel O'Sullivan was convinced his players had the right mental attitude and preparation going into last week's Florida International Tournament not only to take part, but also, as he put it, "to be competitive."

The right stuff paid off as the Irish came away with a remarkable third-place finish in Miami, finishing behind host Florida International University and Boca Raton.

"I was very pleased," says O'Sullivan. "Not just with the team's performance, but also with the players' preparation, sportsmanship and manner."

"To go south and take part in a tournament where five Florida schools are participating and come out third is a fine accomplishment. But it doesn't mean we're all that powerful yet."

The Irish finished with an overall score of 984, while FIU earned a score of 925 and Boca Raton 973. Yale came in fourth at 988, with Biscayne College and Salem State ran fifth and sixth with scores of 1001 and 1002, respectively.

Team captain John O'Donovan led Notre Dame, posting a 242 score that was good enough for seventh place out of a field of 60. As well as being captain and No. 1 player of the golf team, O'Donovan also is captain and No. 1 skier for the Notre Dame ski team. "He's only the second player in my 13 years as golf coach that didn't have an 80 in the fall round of our schedule," O'Sullivan says of the Ada, Mich., resident. "That's superb - a sign of a highly skilled performer."

Freshman Rich Connelly of Perrysburg, Ohio, came in second for the Irish with a score of 246, which gave him 11th place overall. Connelly had only one fall score in the 80s - and an 80 at that. "Rich is the only freshman to make the first team and make it with a lot of thunder," says O'Sullivan. "He's an excellent player from tee to green. He missed conference honors by only one stroke this fall and that's some way for a freshman to make his mark."

Finishing just behind Connelly was junior John Anthony, with a final tally of 247 and 12th place overall. The Ft. Worth, Tex., native is a second-year member of the squad, and according to O'Sullivan, is getting his chance on the first team after a fine fall season. "John can score some consistent rounds with his outstanding putting stroke," O'Sullivan says. "His future is now."

Lon Huffman, from Roseville, Calif., scored a 253 for Notre Dame. A third-year letterman, Huffman is expected to make a solid contribution to the team this year.

Finishing fifth for Notre Dame was sophomore Chris Bona, with a score of 254. "Chris' confidence is building after a strong fall season," says O'Sullivan of the Western Springs, Ill., resident. "He has a great deal of potential."

In sixth place for the Irish was junior Steve Fuhrer of Oakmont, Pa.

see GOLF, page 8

Brent, Billy and their use of cliches

Chuck Freeby

Irish Items

Hello again everybody!

If you have now seen so much basketball that your eyes have Spalding imprinted on their corneas, if you constantly hum the opening song of CBS basketball telecasts, and if you know that the Ugabee Travel Agency is the "official travel agency of the 1985 NCAA basketball tournament," you have become a basketball junkie. You can appreciate the topic of this column.

But even if you don't know a high post from a lamp post, a 2-3 zone from a tow-away zone, or Jim Bain and Patrick Ewing from Conrad Bain and J.R. Ewing, this may hold some interest for you. For if you have watched even one telecast of this NCAA tournament, you could be the next Brent Musberger or Billy Packer. All you have to do is remember a few cliches.

These are the familiar utterances used more often than we would like to admit by sportswriters and sportscasters, even by alleged ones such as yours truly. They are convenient, time-worn crutches which take up time and space and say absolutely nothing. So if you think you want a job in the media, just remember a few of these:

• "He's a player" - This would be fine if every time the camera showed somebody the announcer told us his occupation. For instance, you never hear "she's a cheerleader," "he's a tuba player," or "he's a welder." I can see he's wearing a uniform, so I assume he's a player. If he's not a player, then what is he? THAT would be telling me something.

• "He's some kind of player" - Well, that's as obvious as the preceding one. Of course he's some kind of player, but what kind of player is he? He could be a terrible player, and still deserve the title of "some kind of player." Use any adjective in place of "some kind of" and you say something meaningful, and thus lose every right to be read or heard.

• "He came to play" - I certainly hope he came to play, because if he didn't he's in the wrong place. What else did he have in mind in that get-up if he didn't come to play? Just once, I would like to see the camera get a shot of some walk-on who never plays and have the announcer say "He came to sit the bench. He has no intention of playing."

• "Cinderella Team" - If you hear the name Villanova used this weekend without this phrase following within the next 15 seconds, consider yourself fortunate. Somehow I can't picture a short, balding Italian man like Rollie Massimino wearing a glass slipper, going to a ball with a prince and talking to a winged creature. He looks more like the Keebler Elf than Cinderella. So, please don't call the Wildcats the "Cinderella Team."

• "They need a basket" - Thank you, Dick Tracy. Of course, they need a basket. In fact, if a team is trailing, it's going to be kind of difficult to win unless it gets a few baskets. On the other hand, if a team is ahead, it doesn't really need a basket. It might want a basket to make things easier, but all it really needs to do is stop the opponent from getting a basket. So, on one hand this is stating the obvious and on the other hand, it's just wrong.

• "There is no shot clock and there will be next year" - If you have watched one game in the tournament, you know this by now, so it doesn't need to be said again. If you haven't watched a game, you probably don't care that much, so the absence of a shot clock doesn't make any difference to you. In either case, the fact that the Kuumonga Conference used a shot clock all year but doesn't have one here but will have one next year if they get to the NCAA tournament doesn't matter. That doesn't mean it won't be said, though.

• "He's deadly from there" - This can only be said of Bernard Goetz on a subway. Bernard is definitely "deadly" from there. However, the fact that Chris Mullin can make a jump shot from the corner 90 percent of the time does not make him hazardous to your health. As far as science knows, a good jump shot is one of the few things that does not cause cancer, and thus it is not deadly.

• "They've shown a lot of heart" - This is great if you have a team made up of William Schroeder, Barney Clark, and Murray Hayden and have it coached by Dr. William DeVries. These guys have shown a lot of heart in the past few years. Unless I'm misinformed, not too many people have.

So you now have the basics to do your own broadcast this weekend. Turn down the sound, and pick which announcer you want to be. If you want to be Brent, drool over Georgetown, call everyone a key player, tell how wrong it is to malign the deities of John Thompson and Patrick Ewing and get a haircut. If you want to be Billy, explain why you wouldn't do any of these coaching maneuvers, extol the virtues of ACC basketball despite the fact that no teams from that conference are in the Final Four and lose a lot of hair.

On second thought, just turn down the sound. There's no sense making a fool out of yourself.

Pick of the Week . . . Making plans to go out to the Burke Memorial Golf Course this weekend? Guess again. The Irish golf team holds domain over Burke this weekend with their only two home matches of the season. On Saturday, Notre Dame entertains Tri-State, while on Sunday the Xavier Musketeers pay a visit.

Of course, that doesn't mean you should stay away from Burke. Go on out and give some support to the Irish linksters. Maybe you can even talk coach Noel O'Sullivan into giving you a free tip or two. If your game is like mine, it couldn't hurt.