THE INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER SERVING NOTRE DAME AND SAINT MARY'S

Bush is skeptical of Soviet peace proposal

But the administration has not yet definitely rejected the initiative

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush has "serious concerns" with a Soviet-Iraqi proposal to end the Gulf War, the White House said Thursday night, but the administration pointedly did not reject the dramatic initiative that could result in Iraq's withdrawal from Kuwait.

"The war itself continues," said spokesman Marlin Fitzwater, acknowledging that Bush had not decided yet whether to open a ground assault that had seemed imminent.

Earlier in the day, Defense Secretary Dick Cheney said allied forces were massing for "one of the largest land assaults of modern times," a comment that lent urgency to the Iraqi mission to Moscow.

Fitzwater said, "We have had our hopes erased before" but pledged that "we are taking a look at" the Moscow plan. He said the White House would consult with coalition leaders and a flurry of diplomatic calls went out Thursday night from the offices of Secretary of State James Baker III.

Bush himself went to the theater, leaving aides to pour over the announcement from

Tariq Aziz

Moscow. One administration source said among the problem areas were a proposed early end to sanctions against Baghdad and the avoidance of war reparations by Iraq.

Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev called Bush Thursday night to brief him on details of the plan. The president thanked him for his efforts "but raised serious concerns about several points in the plan," Fitzwater said.

"The president has indicated there could well be some difficulties here," Fitzwater said. He turned aside questions about whether there was anything positive in the proposal, saying, "I don't want to give it any characterization."

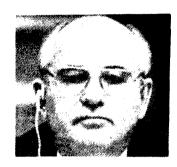

OPERATION DESERT STORM

- War and Gospel / page 8
- Families protected / page 9■ World reactions / page 9
- Saddam's speech / page 8
- Saddam's speech / page 8
 The Soviet plan / page 9

"The war itself continues," he told reporters in a brief statement. "We will continue to seek compliance with the U.N. resolutions and the president will make decisions concerning the ground war as appropriate."

There were some encouraging words in Congress, where Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., called the Moscow plan "a very serious proposal." He said it was an improvement over an Iraqi formula — full of conditions — offered last Friday but that still, "It does have some problems in

Mikhail Gorbachev

Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole, in a speech on the Senate floor, said, "Let's be cautious." He said that Saddam "might be playing a stalling game."

Hamilton, while offering a cautiously upbeat assessment of the plan, said, "My reaction would be to continue the military action, certainly the military bombing." He said the ground war should not begin "at this point."

Sen. James Exon, D-Neb., said, "It isn't a question of whether the Soviets accept it but whether the president of the United States accepts it. My guess is he will not."

While the world studied the announcement from Moscow,

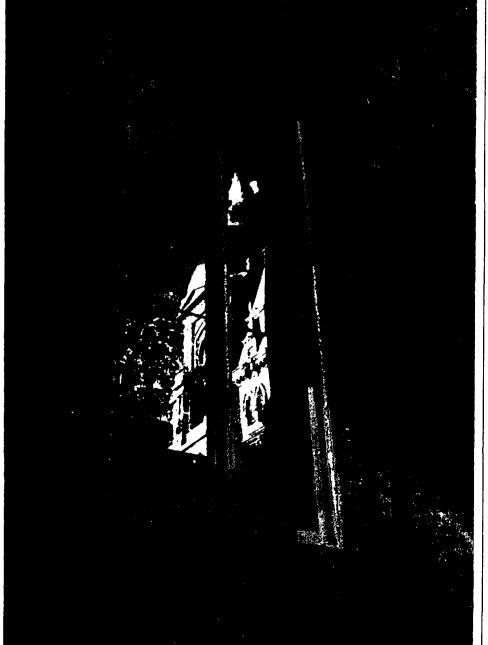

Bush went to Ford's Theater to see "Black Eagles," a show about black Air Force pilots in World War II.

Fitzwater declined to go into Bush's concerns, but knowledgeable officials, insisting upon anonymity in offering an initial review, suggested several possible obstacles.

"The Iraqis are talking about voiding other U.N. resolutions, including reparations for the damage they did to Kuwait," said one. "That, essentially, would be letting them get away with it," he said.

"The only positive point is that they say they'll withdraw," another official said. But he added, "They've moved a long way from last week when they set out a long list of conditions."

The diplomacy in the Kremlin capped a day that began with a bellicose radio speech in Baghdad by Saddam. He vowed to continue the war and not to surrender. Bush and leaders of Congress registered sharp disappointment with the radio speech, and the administration said plans were moving ahead to begin a ground war against Irag.

Prayerful reflections

The Observer/Kevin Weise

A picturesque Golden Dome is reflected in the stained glass windows of Sacred Heart Church Thursday. The finishing restorative touches were put on the Church last spring.

Mozart's death will be honored by concert at ND

Special to the Observer

The 200th anniversary of the death of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart will be observed at the University of Notre Dame with a faculty recital of his music Sun., Feb. 24th at 2 p.m. in the Snite Museum's Annenberg Auditorium.

The Mozart program, performed by Carolyn Plummer, violinist and associate professor of music, and William Cerny, pianist and professor of music, will include Sonatas for the Piano and Violin in C Major, K. 296; B-flat Major, K. 378; E Minor, K. 304 and B-flat Minor, K. 454. The concert is free and open to the public.

Carolyn Plummer holds a bachelor of music degree from Indiana University and a master of music degree with honors in violin performance from the New England Conservatory. She joined the Houston Symphony Orchestra in 1974, was a frequent soloist and served as assistant concertmaster from 1977 to 1986.

In 1987, she joined the Atlanta Virtuosi chamber ensemble, and last summer she was concertmaster of the Grand Teton Music festival and a guest artist in the Steamboat Springs Chamber Music Festival and in the Great Lakes Music Festival at Notre Dame.

William Cerny, who chaired Notre Dame's music department from 1972 to see MOZART / page 7

Kuwaitis, other refugees will be allowed to remain in the U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bush administration is preparing to let as many as 51,000 people who fled war in Lebanon, Liberia and Kuwait stay in the United States temporarily, sources said Thursday.

A new legal status enacted by Congress last year, called temporary protected status, allows people who have fled war to remain in this country with it is safe to go have until it is safe to go home.

Attorney General Dick Thornburgh is poised confer the designation on Lebanese, Liberian and Kuwaiti citizens who do not have other legal means of remaining in this country, said the sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Justice Department spokesman Dan Eramian refused to comment.

It could not be learned immediately for how long the temporary protected status would apply, but law provides for a minimum period of six months and a maximum of 18.

The designation permits those under it to work legally and to apply for permanent residence.

The designations were requested by Undersecretary of State Lawrence Eagleburger on the recommendation of the State Department's Bureau of Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs, said one source familiar with the decision.

Eagleburger was particularly concerned about the plight of people who fled Liberia during civil war that has toppled the military government of Samuel Doe, said the source.

As many as 13,000 people have died in fighting in Liberia since late 1989 and see REFUGEE / page 7

INSIDE COLUMN

Subtle racism, sexism a problem at ND

Last week I received a call from a reporter who was doing a story on "politically correct" behavior at colleges and wanted to know what the atmosphere was here at Notre Dame. I told him about Students United for Respect and he questioned me on the events that led up to the formation of this

Kelley Tuthill News Editor

He asked me what type of racism exists at Notre Dame and wanted to know if there are incidents of racial slurs reported on campus or in the classroom? I thought a moment and said, no, we don't have reported incidents of blatant racism.

After hanging up the phone, I thought about what kind of racism and sexism does exist here. Then it occurred to me that I was so quick to deny the blatant racism because some of the behavior that many of us find so repugnant is subtle and very few admit that it happens.

When Spike Lee came to visit he talked about the way we separate blacks on college campuses: "They're (athletes) not really considered black per se, because if you're a big football player at Notre Dame...you're not black...you're Irish. If you're not an athlete, you're a nigger."

This comment is tough to swallow at first, but then I thought back to the last two years of Bookstore Basketball. Tensions surfaced between black and white students. A few football players expressed their outrage about being treated like gods during football season, and then, like Lee's "nigger" off-season.

Recently, I heard of a white student who received racially-harassing phone calls attacking her for her involvement with ethnic students and organizations on campus. Whoever is calling her has to mask his comments behind the anonymity of a phone.

We don't want to admit that people in our community are being harassed each day on our campuses on account of their sex, race, political beliefs, sexual orientation, etc.

All of us, especially the ones who aren't doing the harassing, need to wake up and face the reality of what is happening here. We need to speak out and express our disapproval at harassment. It is not appropriate to laugh at jokes that poke fun at ethnic or sexual stereotypes. No longer should we sit through class lectures where various groups are denigrated.

Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., had great problems with the white moderate of the 60s. "Shallow understanding from people of good will is more frustrating than absolute misunderstanding from people of ill will," he wrote in his letter from Birmingham Jail.

"...We who engage in nonviolent direct action are not the creators of tension. We merely bring to the surface the hidden tension that is already alive. We bring it out in the open, where it can be seen and dealt with."

It's time for the students, faculty, administration and staff at Notre Dame to acknowledge the harassment that takes place here and deal with it.

Thursday's Staff

News M Brad Galko J Siobhan McCarthy

Production Graphics
Melissa Cusack
Jeanne Blasi Ann-Marie Conrado
Michael Muldoon

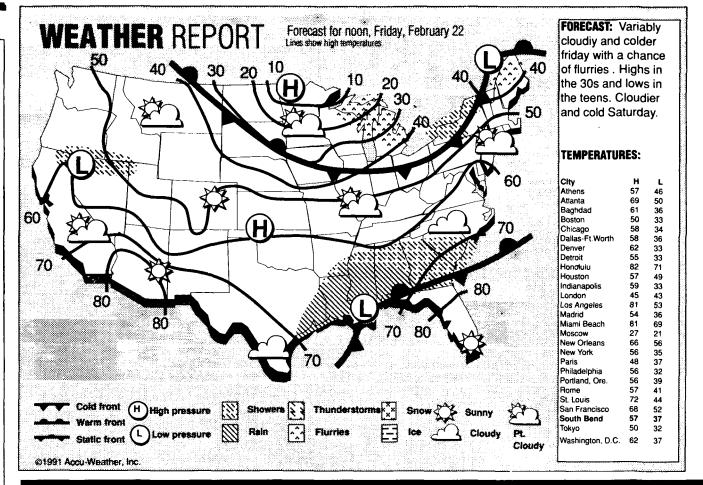

Accent Robyn Simmons Charmaine Martinez Michelle Devers Systems Chris Caracciolo Edouard Beauvais

Circulation Bill O'Rourke s Matt Novak

Sports Rene Ferran

Scoreboard Rolando de Aguiar Viewpoint Michael Krause

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

TODAY AT A GLANCE

WORLD

Whales drown British trainer to death

■ OAK BAY, British Columbia — Three killer whales dragged a trainer to her death before horrified spectators at a theme park. Keltie Lee Byrne, 23, had ridden on the back of one of the whales during the exhibition at Sealand of the Pacific on Wednesday. She fell into the water as she walked along the edge of the whale pool, said witness Nadine Kallen of Calgary, one of about 10 spectators. As she was being helped out, one of the whales grabbed her foot and pulled her back into the water, Kallen said.

Explosion knocks out fuel pipeline

■ CORDOBA, Spain — An explosive device blew up today on a pipeline carrying fuel to U.S. air bases in Spain, knocking it out of service, officials said. An anonymous spokeswoman reported the 480-mile-long pipeline would be out of service for about 24 hours. The company reported the pipeline carries gasoline, diesel fuel and kerosene. Central government delegate Alfonso Garrido said the explosion occurred near a railroad siding outside Cordoba. The pipeline runs from the Atlantic port of Rota, where the United States maintains a naval station.

NATIONAL

Marlboro Co. sues video game maker

NEW YORK — Philip Morris U.S.A. sued a video game manufacturer Thursday it says failed to follow through on an agreement to remove a cigarette brand logo from an auto-racing game for children. Sega Enterprises of San Jose, Calif., agreed in March 1990 to remove the Marlboro trademark from its "Super Monaco GP" video racing game, the tobacco company said in its lawsuit. The negative publicity stems, it said, from "the mistaken belief that Philip Morris was and is utilizing video games to market and promote its Marlboro cigarettes to children."

Patient to sue dentist for AIDS virus

■ STUART, Fla. — A 65-year-old retired schoolteacher infected with the AIDS virus says she'll sue the estate of her dentist, who died from AIDS, claiming she is the third patient he gave the disease to during dental work. Barbara Webb, 65, of Palm City will file claims against the estate of Dr. David Acer and the insurance company that referred her to him, said her lawyer, Robert Montgomery. Mrs. Webb had four teeth pulled and two teeth capped by Acer in 21 office visits during a 13-month period ending in January 1989, Montgomery said Wednesday.

INDIANA

Hodgsett warns of religious scams

"ESOUTH BEND, Ind. — Hoosiers need to be aware of "experienced con artists" who are using religion to obtain money illegally, Secretary of State Joseph Hogsett said Thursday. Hogsett was touring the state Thursday warning Hoosiers about "Our Father's Congregation" and other "religious" investment operations that offer usury-free loans. "Experienced con artists are aiming religious-based securities and loan scams" at Indiana residents, Hogsett said in a South Bend news conference.

CAMPUS

Marzolf wins SMC run-off elections

NOTRE DAME, Ind.--The Saint Mary's class of 1993 run-off election resulted in victory for the ticket of Martha Marzolf (president), Donna Ruth (vice-president), Dina Selman (secretary), and Caroline Molnar (treasurer). Marzolf took 62 percent of the vote. The ticket of Kelly Green, Nora Richardson, Erin Foley, and Mimi Gibbons took the remaining 38 percent. Approximately 50 percent of the class voted.

OF INTEREST

John Coogan, assistant professor of Foreign Policy History at Michigan State University, will be speaking at the Vincent DeSantis Lecture Series today in 211 Cushing Hall. Students enrolled in History 701 and 705 are required to attend. Of Interests are for free, one-time events of general interest. The deadline for submission is 1 p.m. the day before publication. Clubs are encouraged to use the 'Club Column' and not this space for announcement of their regular meetings and activities.

MARKET UPDATE

YESTERDAY'S TRADING/February 21, 1991 VOLUME IN SHARES NYSE INDEX 0.01 180.77 Million 199.27 S&P COMPOSITE 0.17 UP 364.97 DOW JONES INDUSTRIALS 834 2,891.83 7.18 UNCHANGED PRECIOUS METALS 505 DOWN GOLD 🐶 $1.90 to $ 362.70oz. 715 SILVER $ 3.7¢ to $ 3.640/oz.

ON THIS DAY IN HISTORY

■ In 1630: English colonists in America got their first taste of popcorn.

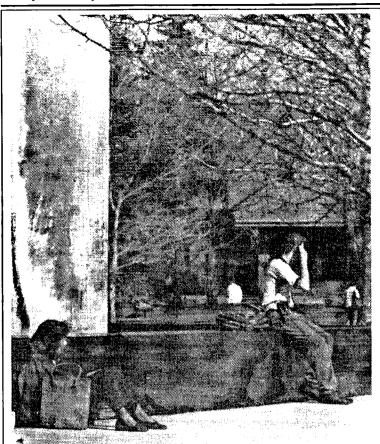

■ In 1732: The first president of the United States, George Washington, was born at his parents' plantation near Fredricksburg, Va.

■ In 1973: The United States and Communist China agreed to establish liaison offices in Beijing and Washington.

■ In 1984: David, a 12-year-old Houston boy who'd spent most of his life in a plastic bubble because he had no immunity to disease, died 15 days after being removed from the bubble for a bone-marrow transplant.

■ In 1987: Pop artist Andy Warhol died at a New York City hospital at age 58.

■ Ten years ago: A wildly cheering crowd gave Pope John Paul II an exuberant farewell as the pontiff ended his hectic six-day visit to the Philippines before flying to the American island of Guam.

Catching some rays

The Observer/E.G. Bailey

Notre Dame students lounge outside by the War Mamorial Thursday in the unexpectedly balmy afternoon temperatures.

Ladrech: Europe is moving towards greater integration

By DAVID KINNEY News Writer

While political union is not imminent, Europe is already on the verge of an economic union and is slowly moving toward integration, said Robert Ladrech, assistant director of political science at Saint Mary's College.

Ladrech discussed current trends toward a supernational status of Europe Thursday during a lecture titled "EC Political Integration: Is There a Socialist Agenda?"

A variety of individuals and parties, particularly the socialist parties of Germany and France, are striving for the unification of Europe, according to Ladrech. A variety of recent developments over the past two years have pushed Europe towards integration, he said.

"This is a big step forward ... from four or five years ago," said Ladrech.

Last year, for example, French President Mitterand and German President Kohl drew up a joint resolution calling for increased political unity. The European Parliament was a prime beneficiary of this increased power.

An inter-governmental conference has also been planned to discuss the issue in the near future, Ladrech said. In addition, the economic union to be completed by 1992 is putting pressure on Europe to "catch up" politically, he continued.

There are two possibilities for political integration. First, a central body could be formed in order to protect the interests of all nations. Secondly, a federalist system could be adopted to create a kind of "United States of Europe," according to Ladrech.

A variety of barriers currently restrict the development of this movement, including prevailing nationalist sentiments, he continued. Even elections for the European Parliament, a group of country representatives who address international European issues, depend on varying national election procedures and campaigns and tend to focus on national issues, he said.

In addition, said Ladrech, many fear that if Europe becomes a supernation, the interests of each nation, including social issues, government pensions, and environmental concerns, may be neglected.

There are, however, a variety of advantages for the European Community, Ladrech said. Political integration would help Europe protect itself from international pressures. European nations who compete heavily in the international market will avoid becoming an economic prisoner of U.S. and Japanese interests, he pointed out.

The lecture was sponsored by the Kellogg Institute, the Committee of European Studies, ISLA, and the Departments of History, Sociology, Government, and International Studies.

No clues on cause of air crash that killed 20 people near Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Passengers clung in icy waters to the wings and tail of a chartered Chilean jetliner after it skidded off the runway of a remote Chilean island, killing 20 people, authorities and witnesses said Thursday.

The small four-engine jet of the Chilean airline LAN was trying to land Wednesday at Puerto Williams on Navarino island when it overshot the runway and crashed into the Beagle Channel, 1,500 miles south of Santiago, airline officials said.

The plane sank within minutes, and some passengers froze to death after they jumped into the icy waters of the channel, which separates the Atlantic and Pacific oceans near Cape Horn, witnesses said.

The 65 mostly American passengers were on their way to an Antarctic cruise organized by a Seattle-based tour company. Seven crew members were also on the plane, and all survived.

On Thursday LAN issued a final list of the dead, including 17 Americans, a Canadian, an Italian and an Israeli. An initial inquiry of the crash site uncovered no clues to the cause of the crash of the British-made BAe-146, said Chilean air force Cmdr. Hernan Baharhona, who heads the investigation team.

Witnesses said the plane sank quickly in the freezing water.

"After 10 minutes, all you could see was the tail," wrote Maria Cristina del Pino, a correspondent for the Santiago daily El Mercurio. "The aircraft started to sink, while the passengers emerged, many of them clinging to the wings, awaiting to be rescued."

She said navy personnel using rubber boats quickly reached the scene.

Another reporter said passengers froze to death when they tried to swim 150 yards to

"Several passengers, in despair, jumped into the water trying to swim to the beach. We who live here would never dare to do that," said Mauricio Carvajao, a radio reporter in Puerto Williams. "The water is like ice, and you may freeze and die in a matter of minutes."

He said island fishermen using their small boats helped rescue some survivors.

Speaking in Punta Arenas, 250 miles north of the crash site, Baharhona said the island had been sealed off to commercial air traffic so as not to "hamper our work."

GO TO MEDICAL SCHOOL

TUITION

PAID

And out how you can have your medical school twition, required books and

Find out how you can have your medical school tuition, required books and fees paid in full—plus earn more than $700 a month while you attend school.

Clip and mail the coupon below, and we'll send you full details on the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program.

We'll tell you how you could qualify for a Physician's Scholarship from the We'll tell you how you could qualify for a Physician's Scholarship from the Army, Navy or Air Force.

If selected, you'll not only beat the high cost of medical school, you'll also gain valuable medical experience serving on active duty 45 days each school year as a commissioned officer in the Reserves.

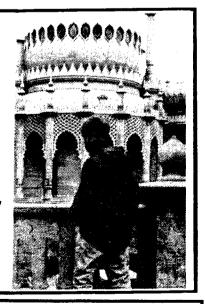

After graduation, you'll serve three years or more—depending on the Service you select and the level of scholarship assistance you receive—as a respected Armed Forces physician. You'll also get good pay, regular hours, great benefits and the chance to work with a variety of patients and the latest medical technology.

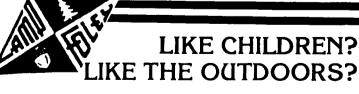

If you meet the age requirements noted below for the Service of your choice—and want to cut the expense of medical school—send for more information today.

I understand I am under no of Mail this coupon to: Armed Huntington Station, NY 1174	Forces Scholarships, I	P.O. Box 2865			9018
Check up to three: 🗆 🖟	rmy 21-34 years of age)			☐ Air Force (18-34 years o	f age)
Please print all information	clearly and complet	ely
Name	Middle Initi	al	Last	[] Ma	le 🗌 Female
Address				Apt. #
City		State		Zip 🔲
Phone Area Code N	ımber	Soc. Sec.	Na.
College (039)			Birth	Date Mo	Day Year
Field of Study			Gra	duation Date

To Someone Who Cannot Help but Leave His Mark-

HAPPY 21st CHRIS!!!

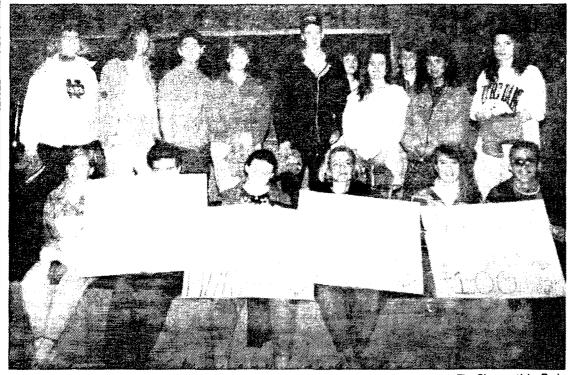

Be a counselor this summer at Camp Foley in Pine River MN

Come see us: Mon Feb. 25 at SMC in Lemans Tues Feb. 26 at ND in Lafortune

Looking for staff in sailing, swimming, biking, windsurfing, tennis, waterskiing, fencing, canoeing, archery, riflery, crafts, & more

An Tostal winners

The Observer/John Rock

An Tostal winners Anh-Tuan Truong, Ann Cook, Colleen, and Sarah Johnson display their gift certificates after a recent drawing. An Tostal is scheduled to be held during the week of April 21-27.

Big 3 autoworkers will be idle next week

DETROIT (AP) — About 41,000 workers for the Big Three automakers will be idled for a week starting Monday as all or part of nearly two dozen assembly plants are shut down due to sluggish demand, the companies announced Thursday.

The number of layoffs at General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. is about two-thirds the number of workers affected by temporary layoffs in January, but remains an indication that the industry is struggling.

January's combined sales of domestic and imported cars and trucks totaled 823,526 vehicles, down 27.8 percent from January 1990.

Workers affected by the shutdowns are eligible for benefit packages designed to give them 95 percent of their regular wages while laid off because of sales slowdowns.

More than half of next week's layoffs will be at Ford plants, especially truck factories. About 22,000 Ford assembly plant workers will be affected.

Spokesman Joel Pitcoff said car plants in Chicago; Dearborn and Wayne, Mich., and Lorain, Ohio, will be shut down.

Truck plants in Kansas City, and St. Louis, Mo.; Wayne, Mich.; Norfolk, Va.; St. Paul, Minn.; and its medium-duty truck plant in Louisville, Ky., will be closed. Truck plants in Edison, N.J., and Lorain, Ohio, will be working on one shift each instead of the usual two.

The only truck plants Ford will be operating at regular ca-

weedend Presiders at Sacred Heart Church Second Sunday of Lent

Saturday, February 23 5:00pm Fr. Stephen Newton C.S.C. Sunday, February 24 10:00am Fr. Mark Poorman C.S.C. pacity next week are its Oakville, Ontario, plant, where it makes the F-Series truck, and Louisville Assembly plant in Kentucky, where its Explorer sport-utility vehicle is made. The F-Series truck has been the best-selling vehicle in the United States for the past nine years and the Explorer is eating into Jeep's market share.

GM is closing car plants in Linden, N.J.; Doraville, Ga.; Oklahoma City; and Ste. Therese, Quebec; and laying off one of two shifts at its Ypsilanti, Mich., factory.

Czechoslovakia begins to privatize gov't. assets

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)
— Parliament on Thursday approved the former East Bloc's most ambitious plan to return property nationalized by Communists to its previous owners.

The legislators then immediately moved on to another cornerstone of the government's plan to end its control over the economy — a bill to turn much of industry over to private hands.

As much as $10.7 billion worth of property nationalized by the Communists after they took power in 1948 will be turned back to private owners under the so-called restitution bill approved Thursday, Finance Minister Vaclav Klaus was quoted as telling parliament.

About $714 million would be paid in cash to original owners, the daily Lidove Noviny added. The remaining property would be returned in real estate and in the form of government-issued bonds, the newspaper quoted Klaus as saying.

The bill was approved on a second vote in parliament, about 12 hours after it was narrowly rejected. The government of Slovakia, the eastern and more rural Czechoslovak republic, had opposed it.

It had proposed giving original owners government bonds and access to management of companies turned over to private hands.

The legislation also allows Czechoslovak emigres who decide to return to their homeland to reclaim property. It gives original owners and their heirs six months to apply for their

If the property is not returned within 30 days of the application, the owner has another 12-month period to claim his rights in court.

No other former East Bloc country has yet taken a similar step, and Hungary and the former East Germany rejected such a move as too costly.

The restitution bill was approved by the House of the Nations in a repeat vote by margins of 51-10 with four abstentions among deputies from the Czech republic and 45-14 with five abstentions among deputies from Slovakia.

In order to pass, a bill has to receive an absolute majority of all 75 deputies in both the Czech and Slovak sections of the House of Nations. On the first ballot, the Slovaks gave it 36 votes.

The other house of parliament, the House of the People, approved the bill on the first ballot on a vote of 86-25 with 13 abstentions.

The property to be returned to private owners under the restitution bill is only a fraction of the total to be transferred to private ownership as the former Communist country tries to swiftly develop a market economy.

The second piece of legislation would transfer large enterprises not eligible for return to individual owners.

It is not expected to be voted on until at least Friday.

tonight

Name
School Address

City
State Zip
Home Address

City
State Zip

Northwestern University Summer Session '91 Think or swim.

I'm thinking. Send me a free copy of the Summer Session '91 catalog with financial aid and registration information (available in April).

my school.

Northwestern University Summer Session '91 2003 Sheridan Road Evanston, Illinois 60208-2650

Adworks to sell b-ball team shirts

Special to the Observer

Bookstore Basketball fashion may reach new heights this year with the addition of the Adworks five-shirt package deal.

The package, to be sold Sunday at sign-ups, will include five shirts of any color bearing a standard design for the tournament. They will also feature the team's own name and design.

For teams expecting to play multiple games, Adworks will offer a ten T-shirt package consisting of five white shirts and five dark-colored shirts.

"We want to show our support for the tournament, and our appreciation for what our fellow students want," said Scott Kluge, Adworks' vice president, "Offering something for the players to have as a reminder of this event, with their own personal mark on it, we feel, is a unique idea."

"Our staff is very talented

"Our staff is very talented and they're excited about designing team shirts," said Damian Shiner, president. Adworks ad agency is an entirely student-run organization.

Already a four-year sponsor of a team in the tournament, Adworks' desire to increase its support of Bookstore Basketball resulted in the T-shirt project.

Yugoslav republic desires secession

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (AP) — Croatia on Thursday invalidated all federal laws on its territory and said it would join its pro-independence ally Slovenia in initiating secession from Yugoslavia.

Croatia's parliament, the Sabor, voted overwhelmingly to proclaim the superiority of its law over federal legislation, and unanimously approved a resolution formally starting its secession from Yugoslavia's federation of six republics and two provinces.

The parliament of Croatia's neighboring republic, Slovenia, took similar action Wednesday.

The moves raised the stakes for Friday's scheduled meeting of the federal presidency in Sarajevo. Four previous rounds aimed at sorting out Yugoslavia's ethnic, political, and economic differences have failed.

All 340 deputies in the Sabor voted to adopt the resolution that foresees dissolving Yugoslavia, a nation of 24 million people, "into two or more countries."

Any like-minded republics could join Croatia in a new, looser association of states that "fully respect each others' sovereignty," the resolution said

It said the federation should be dissolved in a peaceful manner and republics should emerge with their former borders intact.

Independence moves by prosperous, pro-Western Croatia and Slovenia have set them at odds with the largest state, Communist-ruled Serbia, and threaten the country with disintegration. There are 9.8 million Serbs, 5 million Croats and 2 million Slovenes.

Officials of Croatia and Slovenia cite Yugoslavia's longstanding inability to solve its deep divisions as reason for their drive toward independence.

Serbia vehemently opposes any plans to change the current federal system. It is backed by the pro-Communist People's Army and the army's Serbdominated officer corps. Serbia's hard-line President Slobodan Milosevic threatens to alter borders to "protect" ethnic Serbs in other regions should the federation split.

Mine class

Staff Sgt. Robert Archiable of Elkhart, Indiana explains how a U.S. made M-21 anit-tank mine works to a group of U.S. marines in the Saudi desert Tuesday. The Iraqi army has acquired many mines from a variety of different sources, including the United States.

'Thrill killer' holdups have some storeowners nervous

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Along the streets where police say a "thrill killer" has slain six people in two holdups, stores are closing early and stepping up security.

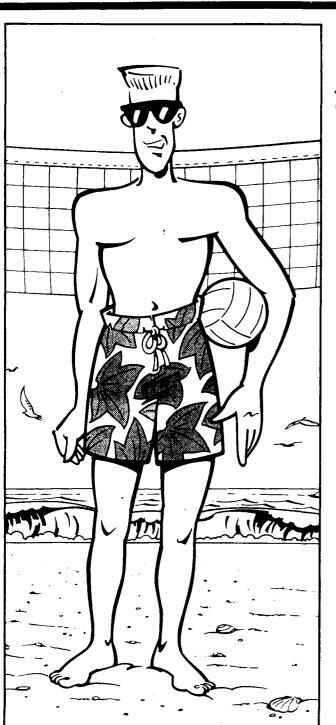

Virtually all the detectives in the Sheriff's Department were assigned to hunt down the killer after he struck a second time, shooting three pizza parlor workers Tuesday. The first shootings were at a Quik Stop Market a mile away.

"We are scared — there is no other way to put it," Harold Edwards, manager of the Quik Stop market, told The Sacramento Bee. "I just hope to God they apprehend this individual before he takes any more lives."

A sheriff's official said Thursday that investigators have more than 100 leads but no suspects.

Tuesday's triple homicide occurred a week, almost to the minute, after two employees and a customer were shot in the head at the Ouik Stop.

This is a great way to spend the summer but it doesn't look very impressive on your resume.

At Allstate, summer interns get the chance to do resume-quality work on real projects in offices all over the country.

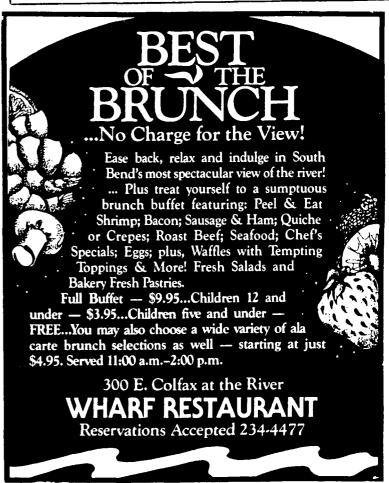

So if you're interested in auditing, accounting, systems, actuarial science, human resources, finance, law, marketing, graphics, underwriting, advertising, or other related areas, send your resume to the Internship Coordinator, Allstate Insurance Company, Allstate Plaza, GIC, Northbrook, IL 60062.

Of course, you'll still have time to perfect your power serve. It's just that you'll also finish the summer with skills that people may actually pay you for.

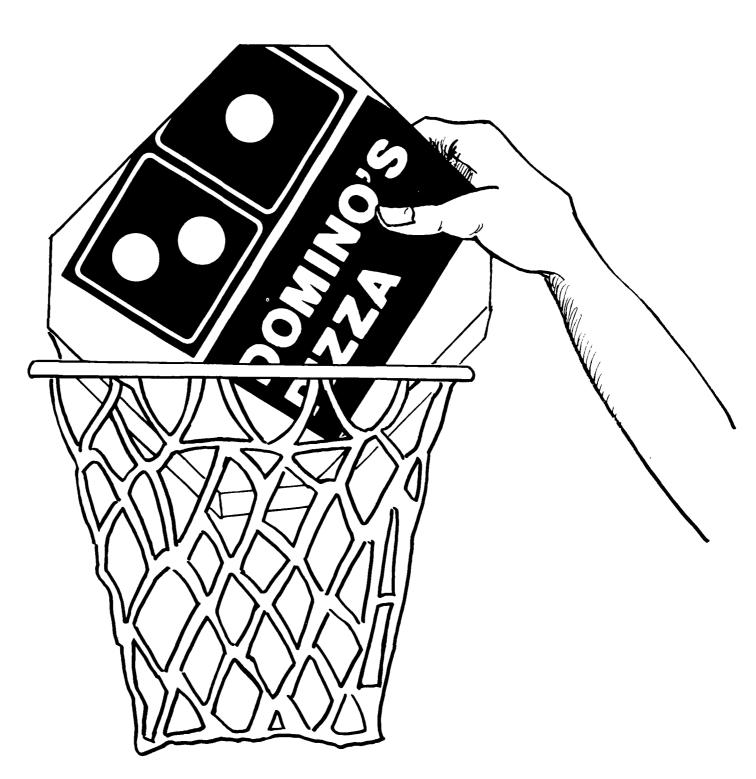

A member of the Sears Financial Network Allstate' You're in good hands.

© 1991 Allstate Insurance Company, Northbrook, Illinois

DOMINO'S PIZZA" TOP 10 PICKS

	_
POLL
22-0
22-1
25-2
22-3
23-3
20-4
22-5
24-2
19-4
20-5
	22-0 22-1 25-2 22-3 23-3 20-4 22-5 24-2 19-4

Call about our 30th Anniversary Special! Employment Opportunities Available.

MONDAY - TUESDAY SPECIAL	SUNDAY DOUBLE FEATURE	ANY DAY SPECIAL
Get a Large Cheese pizza for $4.99. Additional toppings 91¢ each. Good on Monday and Tuesday only.	Get two Small one-topping pizzas for $5.99. Good Sunday only.	Get two Large one-topping pizzas for $10.95.
Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offers. Customer pays sales tax where applicable. Delivery areas irrited to ensure sale driving. Our drivers carry less harn $20.00. Dur drivers are not penalized for late delivener. Good thru 3-11-91	Valid at participating stores only. Not wall with any other offers. Customer pays sales tax where applicable Delivery areas imited to ensure sate oriving. Our divers carry less than $20.00 Our drivers are not penalized for take deliverses.	Valid at perholopeting stores only. Not valid with any other offers: Customer pays sales tax where applicable. Delivery areas smited to rearer sate driving Our drivers carry less than $20.00. Our drivers are not penalized for late delivering.

Call Us! Notre Dame 271-0300 1835 South Bend Ave.

289-0033 816 Portage Ave.

33rd ANNUAL GRAMMY AWARD WINNERS

Record of the Year "Another Day in Paradise," Phil Collins

Album of the Year "Back on the Block,"Quincy Jones

Song of the Year "From A Distance," Julie Gold

New Artist

Mariah Carey

Pop Vocal, Female "Vision of Love," Mariah Carey

Pop Vocal, Male "Oh Pretty Woman," Roy Orbison

> Pop Vocal, Duo or Group

"All My Life," Linda Ronstadt, Aaron Neville

FED pledges campaign to alleviate U.S. 'credit crunch'

Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan on Thursday pledged an aggressive campaign to overcome the reluctance of banks to make loans, the "credit crunch" hurting some parts of the country. But skeptical lawmakers complained that the central bank's efforts so far have been late and

Greenspan, appearing before a subcommittee of the House Banking Committee, said that the central bank viewed the reluctance of banks to make loans as the most critical problem confronting the Fed's handling of monetary policy at the

He said that the Fed was working with other banking regulators and the Bush administration and would in a few days unveil a package of accounting changes designed to

In addition, he again called on banks to make greater use of their option to borrow money directly from the Fed. Banks have been reluctant to do that about concerns their soundness.

A hesitancy by banks to make loans, even to generally creditworthy customers, has been cited by the Bush administration and private economists as a contribution to the current

The reluctance to lend has several apparent causes, ranging from an over-reaction by bank regulators increasing their scrutiny in the wake of the savings and loan crisis to an excess of caution by bankers faced with steep declines in real estate values.

Rep. Richard Neal, D-Mass., told Greenspan he believed the Fed had been "very late" in addressing the credit problems in New England while Rep. Doug Barnard, D-Ga., asked, "Hasn't there been over-aggressive criticism by regulators of bank loans?"

Greenspan contended that the Fed began moving to offset the credit crunch by lowering interest rates starting last July. He said he believed the chances were "a good deal better than 50-50" that the country could have avoided a recession if consumers had not lost confidence and reduced their buying following Iraq's Aug. 2 invasion of Kuwait.

have still offered little in concrete solutions.

are going out of business in New England, the economy is being strangled and we are talking about studying the problem," he told Greenspan.

Kennedy said that the Fed has the power to purchase commercial loans from banks, an idea that has been advanced as a way of freeing up money that banks could use to make new loans.

the credit crunch.

Refugee

continued from page 1

the strife displaced more than half the country's 2.5 million people, according to a report prepared by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.

A cease-fire was declared last fall but a rebel leader and a vice president under Doe have both proclaimed themselves president.

Thornburgh also agreed to designate people from Lebanon and Kuwait as eligible for the temporary protected status, sources said.

According to Immigration and Naturalization Service figures, recently there were as many as 27,000 Lebanese, 14,000 Liberian and 10,000 Kuwaiti citizens in the United States.

But one source cautioned that many of them may have student or travel visas, perhaps expired by now. For instance, most Kuwaitis came on business or to study at American universities, the source said.

Many people may have already left. The immigration service does not keep good records on the number of people leaving because travelers often don't turn in departure cards.

The immigration law enacted last year specifically gave temporary protected status to Salvadorans who fled civil war in El Salvador. "But the legislative history makes clear that Congress urged quick and favorable consideration of Kuwaiti, Lebanese and Liberians," one source said.

Under the law Thornburgh may designate a period of time during which these groups will have temporary protected status. At the end of the period, the attorney general could review the situation in each of the three countries to determine whether to extend the designations.

The law allows those who receive it to work and apply for permanent residence status, which could eventually lead to obtaining citizenship. Those whose visas expire during the period designated by the attorney general could also remain.

Mozart

continued from page 1

1981, received his bachelor and master's degrees in music from Yale. Before coming to Notre Dame, he was a member of the faculty of the University of Rochester's Eastman School of

While at Eastman, in addition to giving musical performances, Cerny taught piano, music history, accompanying sight reading, piano literature, and American, European and intellectual history.

In 1968, he developed a presentation entitled "Explorations into Piano Literature" for college and university audiences. The presentation evolved into a weekly series aired for many years on the National Public Radio network.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal half-hearted.

present time.

encourage greater lending.

for fear that it would raise

Rep. Joseph Kennedy, D-Mass., complained that the Fed and other agencies first denied that any problem existed and

"The trouble is that bankers

Greenspan told Kennedy that the central bank had been exploring such a proposal for the past two months. But he indicated the approach contained a number of problems, including the Fed's lack of expertise in commercial loans, and probably would not do much to alleviate and Interested Freshmen: Don't Miss The College of Arts and Letters "Meet Your Major Program"

SOPHOMORES

Day Sunday	Date 2/24	Time 5-6 6-7 7-8 8-9	Department CAPP Hesburgh Program Sociology Philosophy	Location 104 O'Shag 104 O'Shag 218 O'Shag 104 O'Shag
Monday	2/25	4:30-5:30	AE/ALPP Music German & Russian Romance Languages	104 O'Shag 103 Crowley 115 O'Shag 218 O'Shag
		7-8	Theology	218 O'Shag
		8-9	Anthropology History	204 O'Shag 104 O'Shag
Tuesday	2/26	7-8	American Studies Economics Gender Studies	218 O'Shag 104 O'Shag 115 O'Shag
•		8 - 9	English	104 O'Shag
Wednesd	ay 2/27	4:30-5:30	Classical and Orient Languages	al 218 O'Shag
		7-8	Program of Liberal Studies (PLS) Science, Technology	Grace Pit
			& Values	218 O'Shag
		8-9	Communication and Theatre	O'Shag Loft
Thursday	2/28	4:30-5:30 7-8	Psychology Government Art, Art History &	119 Haggar 104 O'Shag
			Design	200 Riley

Note: Those students interested in an AL Math major please attend the College of Science Information night.

9

Saddam: Iraqi forces 'are ready for the showdown'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Iraqi President Saddam Hussein said Thursday that his forces "are ready for the showdown" — the all-out ground war that hinged on the outcome of his foreign minister's trip to Moscow.

"There is no path except the path that we have chosen," he said in a radio address to his nation. The speech seemed aimed at preparing the Iraqi people for hardships ahead.

But in Moscow early Friday, Kremlin spokesman Vitaly Ignatenko announced that Iraq and the Soviet Union agreed on steps that could lead to an Iraqi withdrawal from Kuwait and an end to the Persian Gulf War.

The announcement came after talks between President Mikhail Gorbachev and Iraq's Tariq Aziz on terms of a Soviet peace plan proposed this week.

Saddam spoke Thursday as his foreign minister was traveling to Moscow with Iraq's response to the plan.

"We will proceed on this path which Tariq Aziz has carried to Moscow," Saddam said, without describing his position on the Soviet plan. Any other course, he added, would lead Iraq and the Arabs into "indignity and darkness."

"The response is positive," Ignatenko told reporters immediately after the Gorbachev-Aziz meeting.

Baghdad Řadio said Saddam's speech, his first since Feb. 10, was taped sometime before delivery.

About an hour before it was broadcast, Iraq fired more Scud missiles at Saudi Arabia. Shortly after the speech, the Iraqi military announced that units along the Saudi border had crushed a land attack by the U.S.-led allies.

"The aggressors suffered massive losses in personnel and equipment. Many of them were killed or wounded," the military communique said. It was read over Baghdad Radio, which is monitored in Nicosia.

U.S. military officials in Riyadh confirmed that the American forces were staging armed forays into Iraq and Kuwait in advance of a full-scale land offensive. But there was no report of widespread casualties.

Allied officials also said two or three Scuds were fired into north-central Saudi Arabia late Thursday afternoon, and were intercepted and destroyed by Patriot missiles.

In his 40-minute speech, Saddam did not say if he was accepting or rejecting the Soviet plan, details of which had not been disclosed prior to the Moscow announcement early Friday.

The White House said it was disappointed by Saddam's speech; British Prime Minister John Major said it left "no glimmer of hope." Germany said Saddam is to blame for any further bloodshed. France said the Iraqi stance was "negative."

Defense Secretary Dick Cheney, addressing Congress, said the allies were preparing for "one of the largest ground assaults of modern times."

From his exile in Saudi Arabia, Kuwaiti ruler Sheik Jaber al-Ahmed al-Sabah told his nation in a message that "the hour of salvation is near."

Much of Saddam's speech was taken up with complaints about the allies, particularly the Arab members of the anti-Iraq coalition, and warnings about the battle to come.

"The Iraqi armed forces ... are ready for the showdown, supported by God and all people of goodwill," he said. "Our nation and armed forces, in addition to their strong determination for jihad ... are confident of a victorious conclusion to the eye of the battles."

Jihad is the Islamic term for a holy war.

Saddam complained that the United States and its allies had promised to end the war if Iraq agreed to withdraw from Kuwait, but then spurned Iraq's offer to withdraw. That offer, delivered last week, was tied to other conditions that the allies considered unacceptable.

DETAILS

Kuwait.

hostilities.

fixed time frame.

4 After the withdrawal of United Nations' economic

OF PEACE

I lrag agrees to a complete, unconditional withdrawal from

2 The withdrawal begins the second day after the cessation of 3 The withdrawal takes place in a two-thirds of the Iraqi forces, the sanctions against Iraq cease to 5 After the full withdrawal, the resolutions against Iraq cease to 6 After the cease-fire, all prisoners of war will be immediately released.

monitored by countries not directly causes for the remaining U.N.

7 The withdrawal will be involved in hostilities, to be

Council.

HOME

ALUNe

entrusted by the U.N. Security

AP Photo

Specialist William Dunsford of Baker, Fla., holds a puppy, which was found wandering in the desert. He and his comrades Staff Sgt. Barry Burke and Sgt. Thomas berry sit on a tank Tuesday in Saudi Arabia.

Gospel, war in contradiction says priest

By ANNMARIE ZELL
News Writer

Father Nicholas Ayo asserted that the messages of the Gospel contradict the current war in the Middle East in his lecture Thursday, titled, "Peacemaking:

The Gospel Imperative."
"Gospel is an astonishing call to love. It tells you to love your enemies," said Ayo. "The Gospel is so light, it's blinding. War is so dark, it's blinding. You are looking at a bright light or a black hole", he said.

In the gospel, Jesus provides an example for Christians to emulate, according to Ayo. "It is impossible for me to imagine Jesus taking someone's life. For anyone to imagine it, it would have to be with much difficulty," said Ayo.

Further, Ayo said, "If you take Jesus Christ as your savior, the taking of life is a big contradiction. It's a big darkness."

Ayo referred to an excerpt from Luke as an illustration of where Jesus provides an example of the Christian ideal. Jesus sent John and and James ahead to Jericho to make arrangements for the evening. Upon meeting rejection, James and John asked Jesus whether the people in the city should be sleeping with the enemy R

4:45-

7:30-

9:45

punished. Jesus subsequently rebuked the disciples, maintaining a 'love your enemy' attitude.

The story of the Good Samaritan also exemplifies the ideal that Jesus presents in the Gospel, said Ayo. The Good Samaritan did not pass the wounded man by, although the wounded man was his traditional enemy.

"This is the traditional ideal: clothe the naked, heal the wounded, including your enemies", said Ayo.

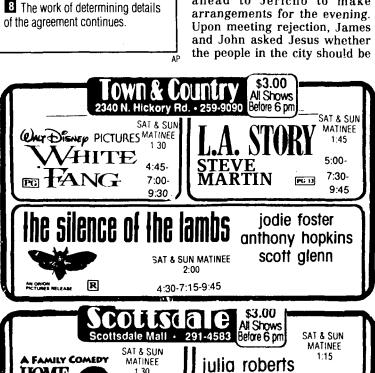

Ayo also believes that the message of the cross contradicts the war. To illustrate his point he referred to Jesus' plea, "Forgive them for they know not what they do," as an example of unwavering love despite the circumstances. He described it as the "mystery of love that will not let go."

However, Ayo acknowledges that the Gospel does not tell a Christian what to do when innocent people are being hurt. Ayo referred to the example of being in a bus where someone was going to kill innocent people.

Ayo said, "It does not explain whether it is worth taking another person's life to stop 30 deaths? Is one better than thirty?"

Upon exploring the issue of the Gospel in everyday lives at Notre Dame, one ROTC student voiced her concerns involving the contradiction of being both a Christian and a soldier "trained to take lives." The student contemplated that perhaps it was "her place to bring peace within the military."

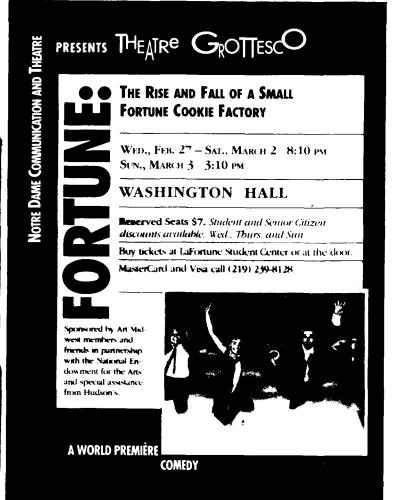

The lecture was co-sponsored by the Center for Social Concerns and Campus Ministry, the third lecture in a series to formulate consciousness and explore the Christian perspective of war and peace during the current Middle East

4:30-

7:15-

9:30

PRACTICIONERS

Poul GRESK

SINGLETON

1800 INB Tower Indianapolis, IN 46204 (317) 634-9777

Initial in-office consultation no charge multilingual capabilities

GULF WAR ROUNDUP Chemical Thursday, Feb. 21 assaults Soviets await Iraqi reply expected Saddam Hussein's sent his foreign minister Battle field intelligence suggest back to Moscow to convey Iraq's response Iraqis may fire rocket-propelled grenades filled with cyanide gas Chemical weapons also could be peace proposal the Soviets hope will spare the region connected to land mines or sprayed from helicopter. TURKEY LEBANON = IRAN Ó IRAQ Persian KUWAIT SAUDI ARABIA Kuwait City Border skirmishes escalate In an artillery duel, Iraq lost five tanks, 20 artillery pieces and an unspecified amount of men. One American was killed by Iraqi fire. Army helicopters destroyed a complex of Iraqi bunkers in Kuwait Wednesday, capturing up to 500 Iraqi soldiers. U.S. aircraft hammered tradi vehicles in Kuwait destroying 28 tanks, 26 other vehicles and three

Senate passes law made to protect Guard families

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday night passed legislation protecting members of the National Guard and other armed forces reserve units serving in the Persian Gulf from mortgage foreclosure and a host of other legal problems.

The chamber passed the measure, an amendment to the Soldiers and Sailors Relief Act of 1940, on a voice vote without dissent and sent it to the House.

"Passage today is the only way to assure these citizen soldiers and sailors that their country will not fail to match their commitment to duty," said Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., chairman of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee.

"Let the word go out that America has nothing but uncompromising support for each and every reservist, wherever they serve, whenever they serve and however they serve," he said.

Earlier Thursday, Rep. Toby Roth, R-Wis., introduced legislation that would direct the Defense Department to allow immediate members of a family to be exempted from service within the same combat zone.

"Losing one member of a family is a real tragedy. Losing more than one, especially when we could have acted in time to prevent it, is too great a sacrifice for any family," Roth told reporters at a news conference.

Similar legislation sponsored by Sen. John Heinz, R-Pa., was defeated Wednesday. The Pentagon opposes it.

Among the protections afforded the more than 200,000 citizen-soldiers are these:

*An increase in the maximum rental or mortgage delinquency required before an eviction from $150 to $1,200.

*Reinstatement of employerprovided health insurance.

*A prohibition against credit discrimination related to a service members' credit record.

*Suspension of malpractice insurance premium payments for physicians called to active duty until their return to the United States.

*The right to return to the civilian job if called up for more than 90 days.

Accompanying Roth at his news conference was Jim Sullivan, the only son of Albert Sullivan, the youngest of the famous five Sullivan brothers of World War II. The five brothers died when their ship, the light cruiser Juneau, was sunk at Guadaleanal

Iraq avoids linkage for the first time with Soviet proposal

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — For the first time, Iraq has agreed to withdraw from Kuwait without linkage to other Middle East issues, including the Palestinian cause Saddam Hussein has championed.

The Soviet-Iraqi plan may contain some points objectionable to the United States and its allies, and its full details are not yet known.

But noticeably absent from the eight main points presented Friday morning in Moscow was Saddam's insistence that pulling out of Kuwait must involve a comprehensive Middle East peace, including Israeli withdrawal from Arab lands it has occupied since 1967.

That has been a mainstay of Iraq's policy since Saddam's peace initiative of Aug. 12, 10 days after his invasion of Kuwait.

At the time, Saddam proposed "that all the occupation problems, and those that have been portrayed as occupation problems in the region, be resolved simultaneously and on the same principles and basis that should be laid by the (U.N.)

Security Council."

The Iraqi leader said that should include "immediate and unconditional Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab lands in Palestine, Syria and Lebanon; a Syrian withdrawal from Lebanon; mutual withdrawals by Iraq and Iran and arrangement for the situation in Kuwait."

That condition, unacceptable to President Bush and his allies, has continued to be part of Iraqi peace proposals, including one issued on Feb. 15.

The Revolutionary Command Council, headed by Saddam, said then that an Iraqi withdrawal "should be linked to an Israeli pullout from occupied Palestine and other Arab territories in the Syrian Golan Heights and Lebanon.

"Should Israel resist, the Security Council is to apply against Israel the same measures applied against Iraq," the Iraqi leadership said in its proposal, which was termed by Bush to be a "cruel hoax."

To many Arabs, the linkage hinged on an equal application of U.N. Security Council resolutions. To Iraq and its sympathizers, it seemed unjust to impose sanctions and go to war to enforce resolutions aimed at getting Iraq out of Kuwait while such measures were not taken to enforce Resolution No. 242, which calls for Israeli withdrawal from areas it captured in the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Those territories include the West Bank, taken from Jordan, and the Gaza Strip, won from Egypt. The occupied territories are home to 1.7 million Palestinians who would like to form their own independent state there, a goal staunchly opposed by Israel.

The eight points of the Soviet plan disclosed in Moscow dropped the demands for linkage, but they left the door open for possible additions.

The final term announced was that talks would continue between Soviet and Iraqi officials on other "details and specifications," with results on those talks expected to be announced later Friday.

World reacts to Soviet peace proposal

(AP)—Iraq's acceptance of the Soviet peace plan set off immediate, intensive consultations by world leaders on Friday. The proposal was met with some skepticism but not immediate rejection as the allies pored over the provisions. "Too many conditions," was the reaction of Samir Shihabi, the Saudi ambassador to the United Nations.

Both President Bush and British Prime Minister John Major were examining the proposal, which calls for a full and unconditional withdrawal from Kuwait.

Under the plan, the pullout would begin two days after a cease-fire and would be monitored under U.N. auspices by countries not directly involved in the war.

"The United States will consult with its coalition partners. The United States and its coalition partners continue to prosecute the war," White House spokesman Marlin

Fitzwater told a news conference

He said Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev had explained the initiative to Bush in a telephone conversation Thursday.

In London, the Foreign Office issued a brief statement early Friday saying it had "no reaction at present. We want to study what has come out of the meeting (in Moscow)."

Reaction was swifter in the U.S. Congress, with Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, the ranking Republican in the upper house, urging caution.

"Let's be very cautious. Let's be very certain we've examined it carefully," Dole said on the Senate floor. "Let's remember that the Soviet Union's only been an observer in this process ... And let's remember that Saddam Hussein may be playing a stalling game."

The Soviets are expected to brief the U.N. Security Council on the plan on Friday. Conflicting responses to the proposal came from ambassadors representing Arab allied nations.

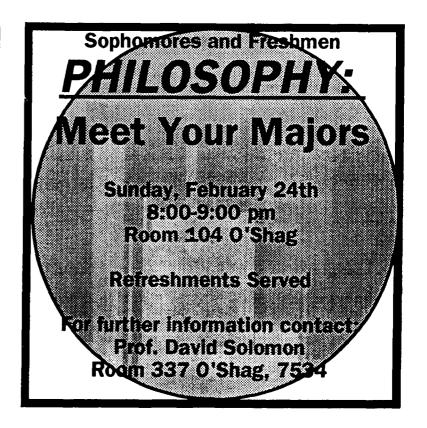

Saudi Arabia's Shihabi may have complained about conditions, but Egyptian Ambassador Amre Moussa observed, "If this is to be made very clear, it will be a very important first step toward a political settlement."

U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar departed through the basement from his office without giving a response to the peace plan, which was announced in Moscow after a meeting between Gorbachev and Iraq's foreign minister, Taria Aziz

Few people were stirring when the news broke early Friday morning in Desert Storm encampments in the Saudi

One, Navy Capt. Mike Doubleday, a Central Command public affairs officer, said of Iraqi President Saddam Hussein's acceptance: "Unbelievable! He's surrendered to the Russians!"

Viewpoint

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556 (219) 239-5303

1990-91 General Board

Editor-in-Chief Alison Cocks

Managing Editor

Business Manager Kathleen O'Connor

.Kelley Tuthill News Editor. Viewpoint Editor Sports EditorMichelle Dall ...Greg Guffey Accent Editor Photo Editor ...Eric Bailev Saint Mary's EditorCorinne Pavlis

Advertising Manager	Beth Bolger
Ad Design Manager	Amy Eckert
Production Manager.	Lisa Eaton
Systems MgrBerna	rd Brenninkmeyer
OTS Director	Dan Shinnick
Controller	Chris Anderson
Art Director	Michael Muldoon

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, News Editor, Viewpoint Editor, Accent Editor, Photo Editor, and Saint Mary's Editor. Commentaries, letters and Inside Column present the views of the authors. Column space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus through letters,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Peralez unable to speak for all Hispanics

We are writing in response to a letter by a Hispanic student felt "compelled to pronounce a Hispanic opinion" concerning SUFR. (Observer, Feb. 15) Being Hispanics ourselves we feel that he has no right to speak on behalf of the entire Hispanic community, thus, we would like to express our individual opinions concerning his unimpressive and contradicting generalizations.

First of all, he states that "blacks have chosen auspicious conditions for hell raising" because of the war in the Middle East. This statement does not carry any weight. Where would we be without the Civil Rights Movement that reached it's height during the Vietnam War?

Mr. Peralez seems to feel that learning only comes from a structured classroom curriculum. This blind view obviously relates to his idea that Notre Dame has compromised its standards by allowing HIS admission to the University. Of course, we all realize that ignorance is bliss, which accounts for Mr. Peralez' living in oblivion. We personally feel that our admission to Notre Dame was due to our abilities and not the color of our skin.

He also seems to be uniformed about the racial harassment policy which would not only protect the rights of blacks, which Mr. Peralez seems to feel is its main purpose, but also those of every student on campus despite their race, origin or color.

Mr. Peralez assumes that minority professors are less competent than others when he states that Notre Dame would have to compromise its standards for faculty by increasing their representation.

His example of the drastic comments made by the student body president of Morehouse College are merely another instance of one individual attempting to speak for an entire race. He contradicts himself by condemning the students extreme tactics while he, Mr. Peralez, does the same. When "neither he states that Hispanics nor the whole nation" are prepared to embrace blacks, he once again attempts to speak not only for Hispanic people, but for the nation as a whole. We personally do not feel that anyone has the right to express the personal opinions of others, especially those of the nation as a whole.

Although Mr. Peralez expresses pride in his Hispanic culture, he also states that Hispanics are kowtowing (bowing) and being proselytized (converted) to black leadership. How can he believe for one minute that Hispanics, or any other person, would follow a cause that they did not believe in. Furthermore, they would not concede to participating in a organization where everyone's leadership abilities were not employed.

If Mr. Peralez were truly the proud minority he claims to be, he would never make some dumbfounded, racist remarks towards blacks. In addition, if he is not the racist he appears to be, we can only conclude that his comments were made out of sheer need for attention.

We would like to conclude by emphasizing that these are individual opinions and not those of an entire community or nation. We also feel that it is important to state that we are not members of SUFR.

Elaine Maldonado Patricia Acosta Knott Hali Feb. 17, 1991

Student Affairs Patricia O'Hara to please clarify what she means by "students of color." As an international student at Notre Dame, I find this term not only derogatory, but also misleading.

The use of "color" is anachronistic and reminiscent of the term "colored people" used during the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960's. By the way, isn't white a color too? (white: as in pallid, pale color) If you are going to group Blacks, Asians, Hispanics and American Indians (that is, minority/ethnic groups on campus) as "students of color," are you saying that whites are 'colorless?

people are grouped according to their skin color in America. I prefer to think of an American as an American, but ethnically African-American, Japanese-American, Mexican-American or whatnot. Even among whites can have German-American, Irish-American people, etc. It would certainly be a much better world if we could all be "color-blind," so to speak, and instead respect each individual's ethnicity and cultural background and treat him/her as a human being worthy of the dignity he/she de-

> C.Y. Chen Off-campus Feb.13, 1991

Student challenges SUFR to achieve unity through nonexclusion

Dear Editor:

I wrote an article criticizing the SUFR group, because I feel the organization is counterproducitve to achieving less racial tension. I feel I must respond, because of the misinterpretation of my article by Elizabeth Peterson, (The Observer, Feb. 12) and Maureen A. O'Reilly (The Observer, Feb. 17).

Before I begin, I must say that before and after I wrote my first article, I had and have had lengthy discussions with active SUFR and BCAC members. I do not liken to the unfair and unsupported accusations that I received in Ms. O'Reilly's letter. Is fairness not what this is all about anyway?

I did not write the first article to ask everyone to feel sorry for me, and say that I have suffered so many injustices. My whole point is that we are equal. I never made any claims or implications that I am any more disadvantaged than minorities. The only claim I made is that I have received no advantages, and SUFR is exclusive in its goals.

I get angry when I read claims that SUFR is not trying to achieve racially exclusive goals, because it is so blatantly untrue. The request for supplementary scholarships for minority students is in itself racially exclusive. I do not care if every other goal of the organization is reasonable, which is also not true; I will not support the group.

The group SUFR creates anger, which in turn creates blindness. SUFR creates a disturbance that makes it hard to see the goals that would benefit this University. If SUFR wants support of its goals, it must make itself more representative of the whole university. SUFR must refocus, to downplay the racial importance of the group. More can be achieved if everything is not all black and white.

I stated before in my first column that I believe in a unity GARRY TRUDEAU that can be achieved through non-exclusion and education. I still believe this, and I challenge SUFR to try to make this their goal. Do not exclude me from you goals, and I will be happy to come along. Educate me in your goals, and I will be sympathetic. We can work together, if we create understanding and not demands.

> R. Schwartz Cavanaugh Hall Feb. 19, 1991

DOONESBURY

QUOTE OF THE DAY

he best remedy for a short temper is long walk."

Jacqueline Schiff

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SUFR leader clarifies grievances and demands

Dear Editor:

Our University's alumni, faculty, staff and students pride themselves on being members of the "Notre Dame Family." However, the majority of Notre Dame's traditionally underrepresented Ethnic Americans have been alienated and made to feel like step-children in this family. We are misunderstood, disenfranchised, frustrated and, most importantly, disrespected. There is a lack of recognition and consideration for our cultural differences and the needs that arise from those differ-

As a result, Students United for Respect (SUFR) has emerged at Notre Dame. SUFR is a coalition of Ethnic American students of color seeking to end the University's long tradition of disrespect (at times through apathy) toward underrepresented Ethnic American concerns. SUFR is working toward the acknowledgement of, respect for, and expression of cultural diversity on this campus. The coalition is open to students of all colors who have genuine interest in achieving the fruition of SUFR's goals. SUFR has formulated a list of demands addressing imperative campus issues which it feels have been needlessly and flippantly neglected by University adminis-

Among these demands are priority efforts on the part of the University Administration to recruit Ethnic American faculty members, the establishment of a Notre Dame multi-cultural facility, autonomy for the Director of Student Affairs in hiring assistants and in the conduct of daily operations affecting ethnic students, a more stable financial aid structure for the complete duration of a student's academic career, and the institution of a racial harassment and discrimination policy.

The University Academic Affirmative Action Report for the Spring of 1990 reports that "Total minorities equal only 11.0 percent," of the "regular teaching and research" faculty. The study cites 0.9 percent African American representa-

States, or are disinterested in ethnicity within a land whose history is not an integral part of their lives. Although faculty from other countries undoubtedly enrich the research and teaching capabilities of this university, they lack the North American experience of race relations. The students of Notre Dame cannot expect this portion substantial 'minority" faculty to adequately address the questions raised by America's racial history and climate. Therefore, it is apparent that the data presented in the Spring Affirmative Action Report of 1990 is inflated due to the definition of terms formulated by the administration. The actual percentages and numbers of Ethnic American faculty at Notre Dame are much lower (8 of 800, according to the Board of Trustees Report on Ethnic American students) once this element of the study has been corrected.

It is unrealistic to expect that this small number of Ethnic American faculty, however diligent, will be able to rectify the cultural ignorance of the Notre Dame community at large. This small percentage of the Notre Dame faculty is insufficient to service the cultural education of the Ethnic American component of Notre Dame students (10 percent of all enrolled students) as well as the student body in general. In light of the Administration's repeated pledges to promote cultural diversity at Notre Dame and its goal to compete with other reputable universities, it is important that the Administration make unmistakable efforts to recruit true Ethnic American faculty.

At Notre Dame, we have all heard the rhetoric. SUFR believes that if the Administration of Notre Dame were genuinely serious in its commitment to diversify its faculty, it would have little problem in increasing its efforts to bring underrepresented Ethnic American scholars to this prestigious institution. It has been argued that there is an alarming nationwide shortage of Ethnic American faculty which compliNotre Dame). In the past year, attempts have been made by Ethnic American student organizations to draw Administration's attention toward this goal. Each attempt, however, has been met with referrals to numerous committees action on policy where proposals is suspended indefinitely. The formal and procedural requests of students have been collecting dust on the desks of certain administrators for years. In addition, the moral character and strength of this Catholic university's Administration come into serious question when a moral issue of human rights is treated frivolously. While the University Administration continues its rhetoric of commitment to cultural diversity and to ethnic expression and concerns, it has failed to show any tangible and substantial signs of progress.

In regard to a multicultural center, the Administration has, again, failed to honor the need for cultural diversity. Unlike most quality universities, Notre Dame has not made an overt material contribution to the idea of cultural diversity. The 10 percent Ethnic American population of University students, the few Ethnic American professors, and all other students and faculty members with professional and personal cultural interests have been left to ponder why they are delegated cubicle space in the LaFortune Student Center in the midst of two beautiful new buildings symbolizing the administration's commitment to the Notre Dame Band and the Notre Dame R.O.T.C. It should be understood that the multicultural center, containing a cultural reference center as well as exhibit space, would enrich the entire Notre Dame community by providing a place for cultural exchange, expression, and, therefore, enlightenment open to all people of all colors.

Another point of action SUFR calls for is the inclusion of Ethnic American studies in the form of required courses for Notre Dame students. This may take many forms: an ethnic studies graduation requirement, the addition of African and may diminish as people become more culturally aware.

Also for many students, an education at Notre Dame is made possible through vital financial help offered by the University. The University's financial aid mechanism does not account for 8 percent annual tuition increases. In the American students and a single administrative authority, i.e. Father Malloy. Furthermore, we require budgeting for the second assistant (as promised by the Administration for the 1991-1992 school year) and increased respect for and consideration of Ethnic American students' opinions and needs.

case of many Ethnic American students who depend heavily on this assistance, the yearly increase in tuition is of great concern. In other words, the real (as opposed to nominal) financial needs of Ethnic American students who rely on such aid, and all students who suffer the same ordeal, are not met. Of 32 highly respected universities across the nation (including Princeton, Harvard, Cornell, and Duke,), Notre Dame ranks by far the worst in financial assistance to all of its students. The University provides less than 25 percent of its tuition and fees in grants and scholarship funds while 29 of the other 31 schools supply at least 50 percent of their student's tuition through grants and scholarship money. Simply put, there is a minimal commitment to financial aid by made Administration of Notre Dame, and the Financial Aid Office does not offer financial security spanning the duration of a student's college education. SUFR, which can only speak for its constituency of mostly Ethnic American students, requires that more funds be allotted for financial assistance programs and that necessary reforms encompassing the needs of a four or five year education for Ethnic American students (and others if desired) be discussed, ormulated and enacted

The final SUFR demand to be discussed is the issue of autonomy for the Director of Minority Student Affairs in the hiring of assistants and in the conduct of daily operations concerning Ethnic American students. Within the past two years, the opinions of dormitory rectors have been more instrumental in the (non-) hiring of Office assistants than the formal recommendations of the Director of Minority Student Affairs and Ethnic American student screening committees. The procedural recommendations of those people who would have the most contact, by far, with such assistants were rudely disregarded. SUFR seeks to bypass the bureaucratic red tape of administrators least affected by the Office of Minority Student Affairs activities, and demands autonomy for the Director, holding him accountable only to Ethnic

The demands and deadlines issued by SUFR respond to the historical lack of initiative by the Administration to address these concerns. In past years, members of SUFR have attempted repeatedly to bring these issues to the attention of administrators through other formal organizations and procedures. The Black Cultural Arts Council (BCAC) approached the Board of Trustees in 1986-1987 with the need for better financial assistance and more Ethnic American faculty. During the 1989-1990 academic year, representatives of an Ethnic American student coalition met with Father Oliver Williams, Associate Provost Eileen Kolman, and Provost Timothy O'Meara and asked for a procedural method of documenting student grievances (which today are voiced by SUFR). Native American students have had contact for many years with Administration and have been particularly active within the last two years in voicing their concerns. Also within the past two years, the Multicultural Executive Council formally approached the Administration regarding the need for a multicultural center. And finally, in the Fall of 1990, BCAC officers spoke with Father Malloy about many of the appeals now demanded by SUFR. Each appeal has been met with the same noncommittal and disregard toward student grievances. In some cases, students have been summarily referred to slow and ineffective bureaucratic procedures already exhausted. Essentially, each appeal has been met by lip-service treatment, a lack of enthusiasm. much stalling, and little action. Thus, the members of SUFR have taken it upon themselves to formulate and present these demands to the Administration. Although we have been critical of the Administration, it is SUFR's hope that some day this university will be culturally diverse and responsible to all of its students. Perhaps on that day we may all be able to confidently and proudly proclaim that "WE ARE ND."

American, Native American,

Pedro Villegas Students United for Respect Off-Campus

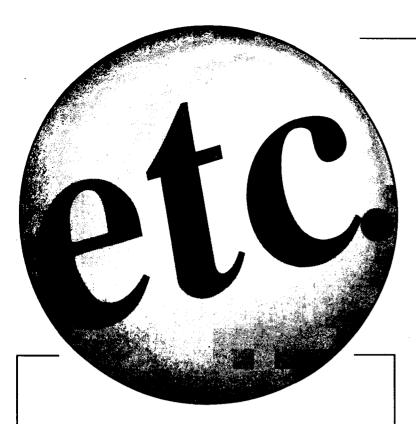

resentation, 6.3 percent Asian composition, and no Native American professors. Although the report is evidence of some effort on the part of the Administration to address the lack of diversity, the data and conclusions of the study are inaccurate.

The study is predicated on an extremely generous and unacceptable definition of "minority." The report counts non-U.S. citizens as "minority" or, as we prefer, Ethnic American. This is misleading on the grounds that some teaching and research faculty are imported from foreign countries and are either oblivious to the unique nature of race relations in the United

This neither excuses mediocre efforts by the University administration toward this goal nor explains the success of other universities in their campaigns to attract Ethnic-American faculty. If Notre Dame can compete successfully with other colleges for monetary endowment, contributions and athletic talent, why should it not do so in its commitment to cultural diversity?

Secondly, it is an overt sign of neglect and ignorance (or arrogance) that a university of such global stature does not have an effective and concrete racial harassment policy (encompassing the on-campus and off-campus students of

Hispanic, Pacific Islander, and Asian American studies to the Freshman Year Program (seminar and composition) or to core courses in all colleges through appropriate means. The demand is not intended to force-feed the history of an ignored culture down the throat of Notre Dame students any more than a theology course aims at stuffing Catholicism into the hearts and minds of non-Catholic students. Rather, it would foster an awareness of ethnicity and cultural heritage among students (perhaps faculty as well) and encourage respect for ethnic histories, peoples, and values. Much of the racism we all experience is due to ignorance of other cultures weekend calendar

MUSIC

The Generics, Alumni-Senior Club, 10 p.m. New Earth Band, Center Street Blues Cafe, 9:30 p.m. Good Question, McCormick's, 10 p.m.

Harvey & the Blues News, Midway Tavern, 810 W. 4th St. Mishawaka, 9:30 p.m.

3 Speed Driving Rock, Club 23, 10 p.m.

THEATRE

"While the Lights Were Out," Washington Hall, 8:10 p.m. Free admission.

MUSIC

Jester, Club 23, 10 p.m.

Southside Denny, Center Street Blues Cafe, 9:30 p.m.

Doorknob Lore, Bridget's, 10 p.m.

Web of Lies, Midway Tavern, 810 W. 4th St., Mishawaka, 9:30 p.m.

EVENTS

BCAF Fashion Show, Monogram Room, JACC, 7:30 p.m.

"While the Lights Were Out," Washington Hall, 8:10 p.m. Free admission.

MUSIC

Music, Motion and Form, O'Laughlin Auditorium, Saint Mary's College, 2:30 p.m.

FRIDAY

"Mo' Better Blues," Annenburg Auditorium, 7:15 & 9:45

"Ghost," Cushing Auditorium, 8 & 10:30 p.m.

SATURDAY

"Mo' Better Blues," Annenburg Auditorium, 7:15 & 9:45

"Ghost," Cushing Auditorium, 8 & 10:30 p.m.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

"Silence of the Lambs," 4:30, 7:15 & 9:45 p.m.

"White Fang," 4:45, 7 & 9:30 p.m.

"L.A. Story," 5, 7:30 & 9:45 p.m.

A South Benc

Super food sets Old Spaghetti W head and shoulders above the

By ROBYN SIMMONS

Assistant Accent Editor

the South Bend/Mishawaka area, old factories don't fall under the wrecking ball; they are turned into restaurants. Out of all of these renovated factories, the Old Spaghetti Works, located on 501 N. Niles Av. in South Bend, is clearly the best of the lot.

It's little wonder why the Old Spaghetti Works is a South Bend favorite. The food is excellent, the servings are generous and the prices are very reasonable. The decor is a hodgepodge of turn-of-the-century advertisements and other artifacts, including memorabilia from the old Studebaker fac-

This local touch sets the Old Spaghetti Works apart from other Italian restaurants, but the food is what really puts the Spaghetti Works head and shoulders above many area restaurants.

The meals come with either soup or salad and a basket of piping hot garlic bread. The garlic bread is generously coated with garlic seasoning and cheese, and it's absolutely incredible.

It's a good idea to pace yourself if you're eating the garlic bread. There is a great temptation to go through several baskets of it and not have any room left to eat the main

The Old Spaghetti Works specializes in pasta. Patrons can choose their own combination of pasta and sauce. There are six types of pasta: fusilli (corkscrew pasta), fettucini, linguini, angel hair, mostaciolli and spaghetti.

The sauces range in price from $4.95 to $6.50. The Old Spaghetti Works offers marinara, meat sauce, hunter's sauce (a unique combination of tomatoes, green peppers, mushrooms, onion, brown sauce, sweet and dry vermouth), alfredo, white clam and red clam sauce.

The fettucini with alfredo sauce is a staple at most Italian restaurants, and the Old Spaghetti Works does a good job of preparing an alfredo sauce that isn't too thick or too

Other favorites at the Old Spaghetti Works include lasagna ($8), Manager's Potpourri ($6.95) and The Works ($6.50). The Manager's Potpourri is mostaciolli with selection of marinara, white clam sauce and Hunter's sauce. The Works is another combination platter with lasagna, ravioli and

The Veal Parmigiana ($7.50) is highly recommended. The veal is covered with melted cheese and red sauce and rests on a bed of pasta. It's almost impossible tire plate, ing sever bread.

For thos have enough stomachs Spaghetti sweets su cannolli, as and crea Mousse Pie

Don't let renovated 1 Old Spaghe of the bes Bend/Misl restaurant Works Hote own bar. Anvone formal con this restau good Itali works, stu stray far f an afforda dining expe

Polo Club does not live up to its own billing as 'fine dining'

By ELIZABETH WHOLIHAN Accent Writer

erhaps management of the Polo Člub felt they had a good thing going with South Bend's new restaurant, but this

The Polo Club, a "fine dining establishment" located at 1345 N. Ironwood, just does not have the atmosphere, excellent service or any sign of outstanding food to keep customers sat-

With prices equivalent to those of Tippecanoe's, one would expect quite a bit from this new competitor, but it just seems to fall short. A limited menu may be expected at such an establishment, but in itself the food is nothing to write home about.

The regular choices of veal, steak, fish or chicken are exactly what one expects on a menu promising "European Cuisine," but the chicken stir fry makes a surprising appearance. (I never considered that to be European cuisine, but it evidently joins the ranks of the illustrious at the Polo Club.)

The appetizers had more appeal than the rest of the menu; the sauteed mushrooms come highly recommended and are generously portioned. It would have been even better had the on the table with the appetizers, which shouldn't be too much to ask of a fine dining establishment that makes the pretense of serving sherbert to cleanse the palate.

I would prefer to refrain from commenting on the salad, but I'll just mention that the salad dressing could in no way disguise the amount of brown lettuce presented on the plate.

The dessert choices were surprisingly disappointing, mainly because carrot cake seems pretty typical and the other two choices were the lemon torte and the black forest cherry torte. You can't win if you're anti-torte or want something other than carrot cake, which was actually pretty tasty.

My companion and I are still wondering why we were both certain that our waiter called the choices on the dessert menu "low-calorie." The management certainly hadn't had a stand-up routine before that point in the evening, so it seems unlikely it would start then.

The atmosphere of the Polo Club definitely wasn't designed very square room with a lot of dusty rose, brick, wood and beige vinyl with a really odd mirror is that of a banquet hall.

The restaurant has more than one room with plenty of seating, but these surroundings just aren't that attractive. The attitude of the management makes the restaurant out to be something mighty great, but the attitude doesn't match up with service or style.

The Polo Club isn't such a bad place, it's just not special. Mediocrity doesn't make it when you want a nice dining experience in South Bend. The $15 average price of a main course isn't outrageous, but there are restaurants in the same range in this city that are more pleasing with the food, aesthetics and service.

nd dining adventure

ti Works the rest

impossible to finish off the entire plate, especially after eating several slices of garlic

For those diners who still have enough room in their stomachs for dessert, the Old Spaghetti Works offers Italian sweets such as spumoni and cannolli, as well as a super rich and creamy Rocky Road Mousse Pie.

Don't let the outside of this renovated factory fool you. The Old Spaghetti Works has some of the best food in the South Bend/Mishawaka area. The restaurant is attached to the Works Hotel and it also has its own bar.

Anyone who has an SYR or formal coming up should keep this restaurant in mind. For a good Italian meal with the works, students don't have to strav far from campus to find an affordable and enjoyable dining experience.

Gina's offers the best pizza you can get in the South Bend area-- plus they deliver

By JENNIFER SOUKUP Accent Writer

he next time you get the urge to order a pizza, instead of calling Domino's or Pizza Hut, try Gina's instead. You won't be disappointed.

Located at 1740 South Bend Avenue, Gina's is new to the area and relatively unknown. This is unfortunate.

The original Gina's is located in Niles, Mich., where it has been turning out pizzas for almost 20 years. The South Bend store opened three months ago and is hoping for similar success. I must admit, I was worried when we pulled up to a former gas station, but journalistic curiosity got the better of

The place itself is small and very sparsely decorated, with only two booths, one bench, a cooler, and a phone that looks like a pizza cook tossing a pie. The lack of ambience is not a problem for the owner, as it is primarily a take out/delivery operation.

Fortunately, the real allure of a restaurant is not in the decorating, but in the food. The pizza is fabulous. The dough and the sauce are homemade, and the sausage is specially made from Gina's recipe. Everything is amazingly fresh. We're not talking assembly line pizza here. The toppings, including the cheese, are generous and leave little crust at the

They offer one creation called "Our Famous Everything." The menu claims "full portions of ten toppings," and they are not kidding. We saw one of these monsters before it was delivered. It was a pizza to be reckoned with, capable of calming even the worst study-induced hunger with ease.

In addition to pizza, Gina's also offers sandwiches, including Italian sausage, stromboli, and an "Original Scapooch," which features turkey, ham, pepperoni, onions, cheese, lettuce, and mayonnaise. They also have items such as garlic bread, bread sticks, and Pizza Gretel, another Gina's original.

The best part is that everything is available for delivery, except for a lone order of bread sticks or garlic bread. The prices are competitive, with a large combination pizza costing $13.98. The average delivery time is 25-35 minutes, depending on the volume of business.

Gina's is open until midnight every night, but the last orders are taken twenty minutes before closing. They will accept student checks. (Off campus students may have to show a school ID to get check writing privileges.)

This is one of the better pizzas, and certainly the best pizza available with delivery, that I have ever had. My room has a new pizza delivery number posted near the phone. Their slogan is "Everybody Loves Gina's." Well, they have certainly made a believer out of igement itand-up

it in the ilikely it he Polo lesigned ffect of a a lot of od and ally odd uet hall. ore than enty of undings ive. The gement up with ch a bad ial. Meit when experi-The $15 1 course iere are ut to be

, but the

e range e pleassthetics

An open letter to the Commander-in-Chief

Dear Mr. President:

I saw you on television last Sunday, walking on the beach at Kennebunkport, and decided you look credible as a beachwalker. Beachwalkers are born to walk tall; otherwise, all that convergence of earth, sea, and sky can leave them looking like a shipwreck, or like J. Alfred Prufrock, measuring out his life with coffee spoons.

Prufrock, humiliated by his vision of Neptune's daughters, does not have the image a President needs: "I grow old. . . I grow old. . . / I shall wear the bottom of my trousers rolled./ Shall I part my hair behind? Do I dare to eat a peach?/ I shall wear white flannel trousers, and walk upon the beach."

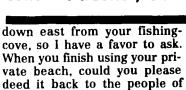

Jack Kennedy in his windbreaker, and Bobby Kennedy barefoot and shirtless, looked at home on the beach. That's because they were good-looking Irish men and knew the dress code. Richard Nixon, striding the sands at San Clemente wearing a three-piece suit and Florsheims, was an embarrassment. The lifeguard should have taken him in for loitering.

But you, Mr. President, in your sports cap and parka, kept all your Prufrockisms hidden, and we could have called you Ishmael. Melville told us. "Water and meditation are wedded forever;" and so, as the President who must find himself growing grim around the mouth," because of the imminent ground war, using the coast of Maine for a stage must have been your substitute for a sea vovage.

I grew up on the Maine coast,

Father Robert Griffin

Letters to a Lonely God

The natives have always resented the rich tourists who invade their state in the summer, fencing in the loveliest inlets and harbors with access to the sea, maintaining them back to back as a millionaires' playground.

Mr. President, you may never see this letter, unless you subscribe to the Observer, serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's. I'm not sure what you have heard about my criticism of your war, but to be honest, the dropping of all those bombs leaves me ashamed as a patriot.

As a way of supporting the troops, must I pray that those bombs hit their target, and make a blind act of faith that children are not becoming the victims of a holocaust? It makes me sick to think of our young people as part of a fighting machine that is blind to and mindless in the damage

To show you my good will towards the Americans who are bearing arms on a foreign field half a world away, I'd like to offer myself as an unofficial chaplain serving the army. I'd voluntarily enlist, but hell's bells, Mr. President, I was classified as a 4-F in WW II because my ticker had kinks in it. I still have the same damaged heart, only it's 50 years older, but it's in the right place.

If, as the Commander-inchief, you could pull some strings for me, I would join Operation Desert Storm as an itinerant padre, wearing a decent black suit instead of a uniform, needing only a Mass kit and confessor's stole, and forsaking the perquisites paid to a regulation holy Joe whom the Service commissions.

You may think I'm grandstanding, Mr. President, but I swear by my faith in the Holy Ghost, this request to be made a sky pilot by executive order is filled with an old man's deepest yearning to be of use to "the kids," as you call them. Didn't you promise them that they will not have to fight with one hand tied behind their backs?

As to the warmongering itself, I don't know what Billy Graham said to anesthetize your conscience, but I think that, as a Christian leader, you have opened an unforgivably tragic can of worms.

Do you remember the last book of the Bible, called the Apocalypse or the Revelation of John? The apostle John on Patmos has a vision of four horses, each of a different color, and their riders--personifying the four major plagues of mankind: war, famine, pestilence, and death--are referred to as the Four Horsemen of of the Apocalypse.

Apocalypse 6:8 has a horror to it that chills the heart: "And I looked, and behold a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him.'

I'm sorry to say, fearless leader, that you are the sponsor who has almost single-handedly unleashed the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse on the world, and for what? Compared to the crimes against humanity that this century has seen, Saddam's invasion of Kuwait ranks with the third-rate burglary at the Watergate.

In five years, you tell us, Saddam, left unchecked, could become another Hitler. You should have watched PBS film footage on Hitler's invasion of Russia. The Germans chalked up over 3 million casualties in less than six months, before the invasion was finally halted by the Russian winter.

Saddam isn't a fleabite on a bear's backside when compared to Hitler. Sending the Four Horsemen against Saddam is to bring this planet the risk of the nuclear winter. The truth may be that we could have nailed him with sanctions.

As a Yalie, Mr. President, you must know that New England is notorious for inciting moral passion. Cotton Mather saw a gaggle of old women hanged because his conscience grew indignant over witchcraft. The Abolition movement in Boston sparked the flame leading to the war which freed 4 million slaves. Prescott, the Harvard historian, justified the rape of Mexico by the Spanish: the conquistadors, in their rage for gold, brought an end to the human sacrifices which made the religion of Mexico barbarous.

Many Christians are indignant at the human sacrifice that goes on in America under the title of legalized abortions. Abortions in America could turn out to be the greatest crime in history.

What would you say, Mr. President, if an army of Christian crusaders--zealous like the abolitionists united against slavery--started to shed blood in the street in their war to bring an end to abortion? You'd probably remind us on television: "We're not revolutionaries in a banana republic. Ballots, not bullets, are the American way."

Civil war is no answer to our domestic crimes and national sins. Foreign wars against cities that are not our own is no answer to the crimes that are committed abroad against other nations.

What do you think would happen to this country if a peacemaker were elected to serve in the Oval Office? At our backs would we continue to hear/ the Horsemen of the Apocalypse hurrying near?

Mr. President, you must dream of Flanders fields where "poppies blow/ Between the crosses, row on row." Shakespeare wrote: "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." May God bless you and Mrs. Bush.

SOLD IN THE DINING HALLS THROUGH FEB 26TH

RAFFLE HELD AT THE MEN'S BASKETBALL GAME VS. DAYTON

For more information call 283-1597

Garagiola enters Hall of Fame

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) -Joe Garagiola, one of baseball's best story-tellers for nearly 40 years, will enter the Hall of Fame this summer as recipient of the Ford C. Frick Award for broadcasting.

Garagiola was a fixture on NBC-TV's "Game of the Week" telecasts through the 1960s. He began his television-radio career with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1955, worked on the New York Yankees' television crew in 1965-66 and spent the 1990 season with the California Angels' TV team.

Garagiola worked on NBC's "Today" show from 1962-73 and served as co-host from 1968-73. He rejoined the show last year. Garagiola also has been a game show host on "To Tell the Truth" and "Sale of the Century"

In a nine-year career as a catcher with the Cardinals, Pittsburgh, Chicago Cubs and New York Giants, Garagiola batted .257 with 42 home runs.

Semis continued from page 17

with five apiece. Flanner was led by Griggs Midgett with five. He was followed by Lake Dawson and Bryant Dabney who both added four.

Flanner got in foul trouble early in the second half, so it could not be as aggressive on the boards. Dabney fouled out early in the fourth quarter and finished with 10 points.

Griggs then made presence known on offense, scoring 12 second-half points to finish with 19 overall.

'It was hard to rebound tonight. Ray was able to control the pace of the game with his rebounding," Flanner coach Mike Trainor said. "Cavanaugh played real well tonight. They are a well-rounded team. The final should be a great game."

Classifieds

NOTICES

TYPING AVAILABLE

NY TIMES, used and new books Pandora's Books 233-2342 corner of ND ave. & Howard 10-5:30 everyday

SPRING BREAK!!! $136.00 ROUND TRIP ANYWHERE GREYHOUND GOES. RESTRICTIONS APPLY 287-6541

Dissertations, Theses, Papers Professional Typing 277-7406

Tired of the protesters? Want to show real support for our troops? Call 289-1321, leave your name & number. e

WORD PROCESSING Low Rates = 277-6091

TYPING term papers/reports/letters/resumes. Pick up & delivery available. 277-5134

LOST/FOUND

LOST - ROYAL BLUE/GOLD WATERMAN FOUNTAIN PEN IN VICINITY OF ARCHITECTURE BLDG./OLD COLLEGE. SENTIMENTAL VALUE. REWARD. 239-6546

MY CLOTHES. LAST SEEN IN A WASH. HALL DRYER. INCLUDES SHIRTS, RUGBY SWEATS, AND PANTS. I NEED MY CLOTHES BACK. $$$REWARD OFFERED$$$ X-1252

LOST: Keys on Nike key chain Walsh and Niewland PLEASE call Meg at x2693.

FOUND: A necklace on 16 Feb in the snow near P.E. Call x4530.

LOST:

A 35mm camera was left hanging on the coat rack in Room 101 of Galvin Life Sciences on Sat. the 16th-during JPW weekend. If you have any info., please please call: Tim #1151

FOUND: WRISTWATCH ON FEB. 14 IN FRONT OF BREEN-PHILIPS CALL 277-5912 OR 239-6886 (Romance Languages)

LOST: gold ring in Gym 2 of ACC on Mon 2/18. Family heirloom. Please call x2755

Found: corduroy ND cap after Depaul game in band room under stands. Call Matt x 3472.

WANTED

ACCENT ON FUN! Coed. sleepaway camp in Massachusetts seeks enthusiastic staff: WSI, lifequard, tennis, arts & crafts, all land & water sports, fitness, gymnastics, piano/play for shows, drama, judo, dance, archery, photography, computers, model rocketry, guitar, radio, video, yearbook, newspaper, wilderness, woodwork, RN. 6/23-8/26. CAMP EMERSON, 5 Brassie Rd., Eastchester, NY 10707. 800-955-CAMP.

EARN $300 TO $500 PER WEEK READING BOOKS AT HOME. CALL 1-615-473-7440 EXT. B 340. I NEED ride to Boston Will split gas & driving March 7, 8, or 9

I need a ride to BALTIMORE WASH DC area for Spring —Emily x4097

FOR RENT

GRAD, WEEKEND BED 'N BREAKFAST REGISTRY 219-291-7153.

3 Bedroom Homes. Walk to campus

Move Off Campus in '91-'92. 3 great houses avail. Sign lease before break and get discount. Call now 288-5653.

Ramada inn of Elkhart. Award-Winning Hotel, has rooms

Graduation weekend. Located at Toll Road Exit #92 Elkhart (12 miles from South Bend) Minimum stay 2 nights with $110 deposit per room. Send letter with deposit to 3011 Belvedere Rd, Elkhart, FREEDOM! Rent the best houses. Prime locations, 233-

FOR SALE

FOR SALE Macintosh Plus with two 800K disk drives and word processing software. Call Alison at 283-4011.

CD FOR SALE Double CD of "EAGLES LIVE"-Excellent condition except for 2nd CD which skips a few times. BEST OFFER. Call NOW!!

"2 1 - way airline tickets to San Francisco, Feb. 27. $100 684-7203.

INDIANA AUTO INSURANCE. Buying a car? Good rates. Call me for a quote 9:30-6:00, 289-1993. Office near campus.

1/2 of round trip TIX to La Guardia Airport Leaves Mar 9 Sat from SB @12:25pm Call X1346 Annie

1-Way air ticket, SB-Tampa, 10 Mar. 7 am. $85. Call 272-7503.

HEARSE, 1975 OLDSMOBILE EXCELLENT CONDITION BEST OFFER - CALL PAUL IN CHICAGO 312-235-6959

TICKETS

BENGAL BOUTS ARE COMING BENGAL BOUTS ARE COMING BENGAL BOUTS ARE COMING

Sun. Feb. 24, 1991 12:30pm 7:30pm

Wed. Feb. 27, 1991 7:30pm

Fri. Mar. 1, 1991 8:00pm

Show your support and buy tickets from the student boxers !!!

For sale-One rnd trp ticket to Orlando, Florida for Spring Break Price Negotiable. Call x1891.

FOR SALE: rd trp tkt, Kzoo,MI to Newark, NJ-leave 3/8, return 3/17. must be female, VERY CHEAP!

For sale: one round trip TIX to Padre for spring break. Price negotiable. Call x4833.

Round trip Tix to Boston for spring break-Mar. 8-17. from S.B. Must Sell! $99 call Chris 273-9316

PERSONALS

DO YOU ENJOY WORKING WITH

If you are searching for an opportunity that will allow you to earn an exceptionally large income while helping people, call 291-2964 for an appointment.

CLUB 23 Daily Specials. New addition: The Coffee House Bring your books and come study, or just come socialize. Open daily 4pm-3am.

CLUB 23

Daily Specials. New addition: The Coffee House Bring your books and come study, or just come socialize. Open daily 4pm-3am.

CLUB 23 Daily Specials. New addition: The Coffee House Bring your books and come study, or just come socialize. Open daily 4pm-3am.

CLUB 23 Daily Specials. New addition: The Coffee House Bring your books and come study, or just come socialize. Open daily 4pm-3am.

CLUB 23 Daily Specials. New addition: The Coffee House Bring your books and come study, or just come socialize Open daily 4pm-3am.

"EXPO ROMA"

EXPO ROMA EXPO ROMA

This week at Architecture Building

I need a ride to D.C./Virginia for Easter Break. Dana x2697. You will enjoy my company.

SPRING BREAK SPECIAL SAVE SAVE SAVE!! CANCUN FROM $349 A WEEK OF FUN AND SUN!! SUN SPLASH TOURS 1-800-426-7710.

Happy 22nd birthday to my older half! I am very excited about this weekend. It should be one we will always remember

Wanted: Caring, Energetic, Responsible Individual to care for 3 1/2 year old and 1 year old in my S.B. home. Flexible hours. Own transportation. References. $3.00/hr. Kathie 289-1709 for interview

Need ride to NJ. Sprg brk. will pay $$$. Kevin x4043

Attention:

1991 BENGAL BOUTS PROMOTIONS COMMITTEE (Sandy, Bill, Alan, Howie, Sean, Mo,

IMPORTANT pre-tournament meeting: Friday, Feb 22 @ 6pm JACC Boxing room

??s or problems, call me. Until then, SELL SHIRTS!!! Thanks - Amy

ATTENTION JUNIORS Vote the write-in ticket that is sweeping the campus DENNIS-BRIAN-DAVE-TOM 'Senior Class Government on a First-Name Basis"

We're serious. Just write "Dennis."

Beginning Friday morning at Coach's...THE DRIVE TO SURVIVE!!!

..oxygen masks are located directly above your seats. In the event of an emergency, pull the masks down

> JESTER.....we're not afraid to fly.

SATURDAY (23) - CLUB 23

CLUB 23 CLUB 23 CLUB 23 SATURDAY 23RD SATURDAY

COME OUT AND SEE FUTURE K-tel LEGENDS...

JESTER

In their SALUTE to DEAD rock

SATURDAY 23rd SATURDAY CLUB 23 CLUB 23 CLUB 23

MODELS WANTED FOR ADVANCED HAIRCUTTING CLASS. CALL COSIMO'S 277-

Glad you liked the rose. You'll find out soon There's something for you above the mailboxes in Cavanaugh. M.

AUDITIONS

AUDITIONS

AUDITIONS

SHAKESPEARE

SHAKESPEARE

SHAKESPEARE

Auditions for Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" will be held Thursday, Feb. 28 and Friday, March 1. All interested in acting or backstage productions, please attend. This is being done solely for the love of the theater. Place and time to be announced in "Of Interest" section and this space next week. For more details, contact Scott Brutocao at 234-1048 or Paul Salvatoriello at x1355

Class of 1991 ""WEDDING WEEK" TONITE-Rehearsal Dinner Bruno's 4:30-6:30 $4 all you can eat SAT-Weddingless Reception HI's, Niles 9-1am Hors d'oeuvres,cake $6 a person-no date required. SYR attire. Busses leave Main Circle at 8:30

> NO MO! NO MO!

Forget about Hussein (both of them) and go to

> BRIDGET'S ! SAT. FEB 23 DOORKNOB LORE CLASSIC ROCK

"I touched her thigh and death smiled" - Jim

MAH-

WHAT CHU DO? YOU NO DO NUH!

> LOVE STE.

SLOAN,

HAPPY BIRTHDAY FROM THE MARRIED WOMEN AT CHEERS THE FARLEY CHICKS AND YOUR ROOMIES!

TIRED OF THE SAME OLD SCENE ? Check out

"GOOD QUESTION"

at McCORMICK'S - TONITE!!!!

FRITZ KLEIN I saw you out Wednesday night, and I could barely restrain myself from making a public display of my red-hot, cajun-spiced affection. I long to hold you in my arms and look into your eyes, all the while enjoying your love nectar. Respond here if you feel the same.
a lustful admirer

Hey Sweet-ums-Now that "IT" is finally here, we can both take it easy. This weekend will be awesome...you ARE the best date ever! Luv, L.B.

Photography for Formals- Halls-Dances- ROTC. Call IHS Photography at 234-8539

To all ENGL 491A warriors: "All wars are boyish and are fought by boys." words to live (and die) by.

FORMAL WEAR FOR YOU BY CALLING VANESSA 272-9305.

 Spring Break Money  Notre Dame Fed Credit Union No Co-Signer Necessary See Our Ad **

BALLROOM DANCE CLUB

DANCE-A-THON

UP MALL

SAT. FEB 23

OINK! You're next......

Vote for THE FOUR CLASSMEN

Vote for THE FOUR CLASSMEN

Vote for THE FOUR CLASSMEN Vote for THE FOUR CLASSMEN

Vote for THE FOUR CLASSMEN

Needed:

A ride to Ft. Lauderdale area between approx. March 5-7. Willing to help drive and pay for gas. Call 4936, Karen.

BONESSI

I stare and I stare 'Cuz I'm very aware of how shy I am.

Your dreams have come true so open your eyes. I'm staring at you. C-ya every Tues & Thurs

Airline Ticket for Sale to Corpus Christi, TX (Next to South Padre) for Spring Break REAL CHEAP Call x2090 Ask for Rob

BENJY (M.S.)—You're the ultimate! Do I stand a chance among your many admirers? -Hopelessly infatuated

CC, I'd love to pay homage to u sumtime in P"W" (u have a great eye for detail, other things aside) but my lowly status compels me to enter my own house of worship, the brar, for the weekend.

Our Brother,

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 314 LaFortune. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The charge is 2 cents per character per day, including all

ERIC CHRISTIANSEN IS 21!

Here's to his first beer ...???

Love.

Nadine &

Denise

is looking for a new singer or singer/guitarist willing to begin immediately. Please call Thom x3334 or Kevin x3347

Sea Monkey Conspiracy

"Always a playground instructor, never a killer" Break on through with-DOORKNOB LORE SAT. AT BRIDGET'S "Did you have a good world when you died-enough to base a movie

The Countdown Has Begun Only Eight More Days Until Cruiser Turns 21!!

Mike

I spent last night dreaming of But your hair kept getting in the

Your lips dropped in to tell me how you'd been But when I tried to kiss them My pillow told me I missed them

Your voice dropped by and sang a lullaby And it was then I knew just what to do I'd fall asleep and then

I'd dream of you again. -Don't forget the jar of cherries!

For Sale: 14 ct. gold art deco ring, very large garnet, 3 small diamonds. $500 or Erin Smith, 287-2587.

Mon - Thurs Feb 25-28

African Film Festival 8:00 P M

CSC Multi-Purpose Room GREAT FILMS!

To "Not a Brunette," Keep your hands off!-Benjy's mine! Maisie

Marianne (Bubs), Chin up! Cheer up! Good luck in Walsh elections. Don't stress-you Good Luck!!!

Good luck in elections! Have a swell weekend! Love. Your Walsh admirers.

Love me

Women's tennis hosts three matches

By RICH SZABO Sports Writer

After consecutive losses to William & Mary and Indiana, two top tennis programs, the Notre Dame women's tennis team will try to bounce back this weekend, hosting three matches at the Eck Tennis Pavilion.

On Saturday, the Irish (6-2) play host to Iowa at 10 a.m., and then face LSU at 9 a.m. Sunday and Minnesota at 2 p.m.

Said Irish coach Jay Louderback, "It will be important to have a strong showing because we went 1-2 last weekend and finished losing the last two. I think everyone was a little down after the Indiana match.

"With three matches in two days, it's very important that we have a good weekend. The next match after this is against Northwestern, and they are ranked third in the region, so that will be a big match for us. I think this weekend will have a lot to do with how we play the next couple weeks after that.

This will be an Irish squad hampered by injuries that attempts to end a two-match skid this weekend. Katie Clark, a solid player at singles and doubles, injured her back before the road trip last weekend and will not be playing.

"I have a slipped disc," said Clark, "and will be going to see a back specialist on Friday. There is usually a mandatory rest time with this type of injury. We have a lot of depth, so I think we'll be alright, but it really depends on who is healthy and playing."

Christy Faustmann may make her return to the Irish lineup this weekend, but even if she is able to play, her action will be limited. Louderback did not want to take any chances in rushing the 43rd-ranked player in the country back into action.

Also, Terri Vitale has been sick and Tracy Barton is nursing a sore shoulder. With all of the injuries, Louderback did not know what the probable lineup would be.

"If we are short-handed, then we will have to play extremely well," Louderback said. "Iowa lost a close 6-3 match to Indiana, so they are a strong team. LSU has received votes in the current poll, and Minnesota also fell 6-3 to Indiana. All three teams are talented and the matches should be very competitive."

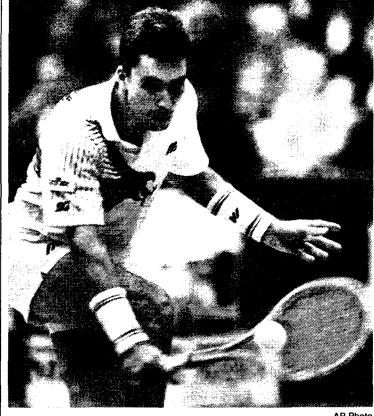

Coming off consecutive losses and playing three matches in two days with a squad hurt by injuries, the Irish will have to be focused on the weekend.

"The way we lost to William & Mary made it tough to bounce back against Indiana," Vitale said. "We might not have been mentally ready. Hopefully, if everyone can stay healthy, we'll do well. We want to play better this weekend, to redeem ourselves.'

With many big matches coming up for the Irish the remainder of the season, a strong performance this weekend would provide a tremendous confidence boost for the team in its quest for an NCAA tournament

"From here on in, we can't lose the big matches," Ann Bradshaw, a doubles specialist. said. "We have to break into the 20 if we want a (tournament) bid. It's not like we're there and have to worry about losing it. We have to earn it."

NBA STANDINGS

AP Photo

Lendl advances

Top-seed Ivan Lendl easily advanced at the Volvo Indoor tournament in Memphis, beating no. 16 Paul Haarhuis 6-2, 6-1.

SCOREBOARD

NHL STANDINGS

Patrick Divis	w	L	T	Pts	GF	GA	Home	Away	Div
NY Rangers	31	21	10	72	233	195	18-9-5	13-12-5	11-8-4
Pittsburgh	32	26	3	67	267	229	21-11-1	11-15-2	15-11-0
Philadelphia	29	27	7	65	208	197	16-12-5	13-15-2	9-12-6
New Jersey	25	25	11	61	212	202	17-8-7	8-17-4	9-12-5
Washington	27	31	3	57	195	210	15-11-2	12-20-1	14-11-
NY Islanders	21	33	8	50	181	229	12-15-5	9-18-3	9-13-4
Adams Divisi	on
x-Boston	36	19	8	80	236	206	21-7-3	15-12-5	15-7-3
x-Montreal	32	24	7	71	215	197	10-11-2	13.13.5	12-10-7

x-Montrea!	32	24	7	71	215	197	19-11-2	13-13-5	12-10-4
Hartford	28	27	6	62	180	198	16-12-3	12-15-3	9-10-3
Buffalo	22	25	14	58	210	211	11-11-9	11-14-5	6-10-6
Quebec	12	39	11	35	172	274	6-18-7	6-21-4	6-11-6
CAMPBELL	CONFE	RENCE
Norris Divisi	on
	W	L	Т	Pts	GF	GA	Home	Away	Div
x-St. Louis	37	17	7	81	242	193	19-6-5	18-11-2	14-7-2
x-Chicago	37	20	5	79	205	162	20-7-3	17-13-2	14-6-2
Detroit	26	30	7	59	217	233	21-11-0	5-19-7	11-12-3
Minnesota	21	32	10	52	200	216	13-14-4	8-18-6	7-13-3
Toronto	17	39	6	40	181	259	11-20-2	6-19-4	7-15-2
Smythe Divi	sion
Los Angeles	34	20	7	75	255	195	19-8-4	15-12-3	11-7-4
Caigary	33	21	7	73	255	194	18-7-2	15-14-5	12-6-3
Edmonton	29	29	3	61	208	204	17-11-1	12-18-2	10-11-2
Winnipeg	22	31	11	55	213	223	14-13-5	8-18-6	8-6-6
Vancouver	21	36	7	49	193	251	12-14-4	9-22-3	7-18-1
x-offnched pla	avoff bert

Thursday's Games N.Y. Rangers 4, Philadelphia 4 Pittsburgh 11, Toronto 4 Chicago 4, Boston 1 St. Louis 7, N.Y. Islanders 2 Calgary 6, Vancouver 4

Friday's Games
Pittsburgh at New Jersey, 7:45 p.m. N.Y. Rangers at Washington, 8:05 p.m. Los Angeles at Winnipeg, 8:35 p.m. Detroit at Edmonton, 9:35 p.m.

EASTERN CONFERENCE

15-11-0 9-12-6 9-12-5

Atlantic Division
	W	L	Pct	GB	L10	Streak	Home	Away	Conf
Boston	39	13	.750	_	8-2	Lost 1	23-4	16-9	23-9
Philadelphia	27	24	.529	11 1/2	4-6	Won 2	18-7	9-17	19-12
New York	22	31	.415	17 1/2	3-7	Lost 2	11-17	11-14	13-19
Washington	22	32	.407	18	2-8	Lost 2	15-9	7-23	14-19
New Jersey	17	35	.327	22	3-7	Won 1	12-14	5-21	10-20
Miami	16	36	.308	23	5-5	Won 1	11-15	5-21	9-24
Central Divisi	on
Chicago	37	14	.725	_	8-2	Won 7	21-3	16-11	24-7
Detroit	37	17	.685	1 1/2	6-4	Won 2	23-4	14-13	25-9
Milwaukee	33	21	.611	5 1/2	6-4	Lost 1	23-4	10-17	21-12
Atlanta	28	24	.538	9 1/2	4-6	Lost 1	19-6	9-18	17-18
Indiana	23	28	.451	14	6-4	Won 4	17-8	6-20	14-17
Cleveland	19	34	.358	19	5-5	Won 1	13-15	6-19	12-20
Charlotte	15	36	.294	22	2-8	Lost 3	11-16	4-20	9-24
WESTERN CO	ONFE	RENC	E
Midwest Divis	ion
	W	L	Pct	GB	L10	Streak	Home	Away	Conf
San Antonio	33	16	.673	_	4-6	Lost 3	20-6	13-10	22-11
Utah	34	17	.667		7-3	Won 2	24-4	10-13	24-9
Houston	30	23	.566	5	7-3	Won 1	20-8	10-15	17-16
Dallas	20	31	.392	14	5-5	Lost 2	13-13	7-18	12-21
Minnesota	17	34	.333	17	3-7	Lost 1	12-12	5-22	12-25
Orlando	15	36	.294	19	5-5	Lost 3	13-14	2-22	11-22
Denver	14	37	.275	20	3-7	Lost 7	11-14	3-23	6-25
Pacific Divisio	on
Portland	43	10	.811		7-3	Won 2	27-2	16-8	26-8
LA Lakers	39	13	.750	3 1/2	8-2	Won 3	22-5	17-8	25-9
Phoenix	34	17	.667	8	7-3	Won 2	20-4	14-13	22-11
Golden State	29	22	.569	13	5-5	Won 1	18-6	11-16	18-15
Seattle	24	27	.471	18	5-5	Won 1	15-7	9-20	11-16
LA Clippers	16	35	.314	26	2-8	Lost 2	12-12	4-23	12-19
Sacramento	15	35	.300	26 1/2	3-7	Lost 3	14-11	1-24	10-21

Sunday's Games Boston at Indiana, 1 p.m.

Saturday's Games Philadelphia at New Jersey, 7:30 p.m. New York at Washington, 7:30 p.m.

Charlotte at Chicago, 8:30 p.m. Cleveland at Milwaukee, 9 p.m.

Golden State at Denver, 9:30 p.m.

Dallas at Atlanta, 8 p.m.

Phoenix at Seattle, 10 p.m.

LA Lakers at Detroit, 3:30 p.m. Houston at Minnesota, 6 p.m.

New York at Miami, 7:30 p.m.

Sacramento at Orlando, 7:30 p.m. Denver at LA Clippers, 9 p.m.

San Antonio at Portland, 10 p.m. Utah at Seattle, 10 p.m.

Thursday's Games Seattle 120, New York 101 Miami 104, Washington 90 LA Lakers 106, Dallas 92 Houston 92. Milwaukee 90

Friday's Games New Jersey vs. Boston at Hartford, 7:30 p.m. Detroit at Charlotte, 7:30 p.m. Indiana at Cleveland, 7:30 p.m. LA Lakers at Atlanta, 8 p.m. Orlando at Minnesota, 8 p.m. Sacramento at Chicago, 8:30 p.m.
Utah at Golden State, 10:30 p.m.
San Antonio at LA Clippers, 10:30 p.m.
Phoenix at Portland, 10:30 p.m.

TRANSACTIONS

BASEBALL

American League
BOSTON RED SOX—Extended the contract of Lou Gorman, general manager, through 1994. Agreed to terms with Denny Walling, infielder-outfielder, on a minor league contract. TORONTO BLUE JAYS—Agreed to terms with Bob McDonald and Frank Willis, pitchers; William Suero, Infielder; Randy Knorr, catcher, and Mark Whiten, outfielder, on one-year contracts.

National League
HOUSTON ASTROS—Agreed to terms with Eric
Anthony, outlielder, on a one-year contract.
SAN DIEGO PADRES—Agreed to terms with Tony Gwynn, on a three-year contract extension through 1995.

PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES—Agreed to terms with Jason Grimsley and Amalio Carreno, pitchers, and Rod Bocker, infielder, on one-year contracts.

BASKETBALL

National Basketball Association LOS ANGELES LAKERS-Placed Sam Perkins, forward, on the injured list.

HOCKEY
Canada Cup
TEAM CANADA—Named Mike Keenan coach and general manager.
TEAM USA—Named Craig Patrick and Bob

Pullord co-managers. SOCCER

Major Soccer League KANSAS CITY COMETS—Announced the retirement of Tom Kain, defender, Signed Tony Glavin and Kevin Koetters, midfielders, and Scott Gaither, forward; assigned Koetters and Gaither to the developmental roster.

COLLEGE

CENTRAL COLLEGIATE HOCKEY ASSN.— Suspended Ron Mason, Michigan State coach, and Red Berenson, Michigan coach, for one game after their teams were involved in a brawl during a

ARMY—Promoted Greg Gregory, offensive coordinator, to assistant head football coach. Named Denny Doornbos defensive coordinator and Ed Warinner defensive line coach.

BALL STATE-Named Eric Campbell running

NORTHEASTERN-Named Mike Borich wide

Duquesne 88, Rutgers 80 Fairleigh Dickinson 88, Long Island U. 85 Hofstra 72, Cent. Connecticut St. 49 Iona 72, Fairlield 68 Manhattanville 81, Kings Point 51 Marist 84, St. Francis, NY 80 Md.-Baltimore County 77, Drexel 73 Penn St. 71, St. Joseph's 87 Point Park 67, Geneva 66
Robert Morris 90, Mount St. Mary's, Md. 66 Salisbury St. 98, Lincoln, Pa. 82 St. Francis, Pa. 66, Monmouth, N.J. 63 Temple 80, Massachusetts 70

SOUTH

Alice Lloyd 110, Lindsey Wilson 103 Ark.-Little Rock 96, Samford 80 Athens St. 91 Ala -Huntaville 76 Austin Peay 122, Milligan 96 Belhaven 88, Xavier, NO 87 Bellarmine 90, Indianapolis 83 Breecia 82, Cumberland, Tenn. 80 Centenary 94, Stetson 87 Charleston Southern 69, Liberty 67 Clinch Valley 77, Tusculum 76, OT Delaware St. 109, Md.-E. Shore 87 Florida St. 76, Memphis St. 64 Francis Marion 57, Coker 36 James Madison 82, VMI 87 Johnson C. Smith 100, Elizabeth City St. 80 Louisiana Tech 113, Lamar 83 N. Kentucky 70, Kentucky St. 65 New Orleans 77, Cent. Florida 65 Old Dominion 73, South Florida 61 S.C.-Alken 78. Benedict 60 South Alabama 100, W. Kentucky 91 Talladega 87, Montevallo 82

MIDWEST

Bradley 87, Hilnois St. 63 Carthage 87, North Central 74 Creighton 69, Drake 63 Culver-Stockton 88. Missouri Val. 71 Dayton 116, Butler 98 Eureka 91, Mac Murray 60 Evansville 59, Marquette 55 Graceland 103, Mid-Am Nazarene 102, OT Grand Valley St. 95, Saginaw Val. St. 68 Iowa 80, Indiana 79, OT Judson 115, Moody Bible 60 Lake Erle 114, Bethany, W.Va. 103 Lake Superior St. 81, Northwd, Mich. 69 Lindenwood 108, Hannibal-LaGrange 99 Michigan 65, Wisconsin 62 Minn-Morris 91, Winona St. 73 Oral Roberts 98, Rockhurst 77 S. Indiana 81, Lewis 75 SW Baptist 122, Mo. Southern 77 Spring Arbor 71, Grand Rapids Baptist 68 St. Louis 98, Loyola, III. 83 Tarkio 113, Baker 94

Saturday's Games
Buffalo at Hartford, 7:35 p.m.
Philadelphia at N.Y. Islanders, 7:35 p.m.

Quebec at Calgary, 8:05 p.m. Toronto at Montreal, 8:05 p.m.

Detroit at Vancouver, 8:05 p.m Chicago at Minnesota, 8:35 p.m. Boston at St. Louis, 8:35 p.m.

St. Louis at Chicago, 8:35 p.m.

Sunday's Gamea
New Jersey at N.Y. Rangers, 1:35 p.m.
Pitsburgh at Washington, 1:35 p.m.
Los Angeles at Winnipeg, 3:35 p.m.
Hartford at Buffalo, 7:05 p.m.

N.Y. Islanders at Philadelphia, 7:05 p.m. Quebec at Edmonton, 8:05 p.m.

FAR WEST

Arizona St. 75, Stanford 57 Denver 96, Metro St. 84, OT E. Montana 76, Seattle Pacific 62 E. Washington 82, Montana St. 74 Gonzaga 95, San Francisco 72 Hawaii 84, San Diego St. 79, OT Loyola Marymount 104, San Diego 102 New Mexico St. 83, Utah St. 75 Pepperdine 77, Santa Clara 68 Pornona-Pitzer 92, Whittier 79 Regis 97, Colo.-Colo. Springs 55 Southern Cal 85, Oregon St. 75 UCLA 100, Oregon 83

HOW THE AP MEN'S TOP 25 FARED

How the Associated Press' Top 25 teams fared Thursday:

1. UNLV (24-0) beat Pacific U 80-59. Next: vs. UC Irvine, Saturday

2. Ohio State (23-1) did not play. Next: vs. Minnesota, Saturday.
3. Arkansas (26-2) did not play. Next: at Texas A&M, Saturday.
4. Indiana (22-4) lost to Iowa 80-79, OT. Next: vs. Michigan, Sur

Syracuse (23-4) did not play. Next: vs. No. 22 Pittsburgh, Sunday. North Carolina (20-4) did not play. Next: vs. Clemson, Saturday. Duke (23-5) did not play. Next: at No. 9 Arizona, Sunday.

7. Duke (23-5) dio not piay. Next: vs. Oklahoma, Saturday.
9. Arizona (21-5) beat on piay. Next: vs. Oklahoma, Saturday.
9. Arizona (21-5) beat California 100-63. Next: vs. No. 7 Duke, Sunday.
10. Utah (25-2) beat Colorado State 67-56. Next: at Brigham Young, Saturday, March 3.
11. Southern Mississippi (20-4) did not play. Next: at Florida State, Tuesday.
12. Kentucky (19-6) did not play. Next: at Florida, Saturday.
13. East Tennessee State (24-3) did not play. Next: at Marshall, Saturday.
14. Nebraska (22-5) did not play. Next: vs. Kansas State, Saturday.

New Mexico State (20-3) beat Utah State 83-75. Next: at San Jose State, Saturday.
 Oklahoma State (19-5) did not play. Next: vs. Colorado, Sunday.
 UCLA (19-7) beat Oregon 100-83. Next: vs. Oregon State, Saturday.

St John's (18-6) did not play. Next: vs. Notre Dame, Saturday. 19. LSU (18-7) did not play. Next: vs. Tennessee, Saturday.
20. Virginia (19-8) did not play. Next: at North Carolina State, Saturday.

21. Mississippi State (18-6) did not play. Next: at Alabama, Saturday Mississippi State (19-9) dui Int Jay. Next. at No. 5 Syracuse, Sunday.
 Princeton (18-2) did not play. Next: vs. Columbia, Friday.
 Seton Hall (17-7) did not play. Next: vs. Villanova, Saturday.

25. Georgetown (15-9) did not play. Next: vs. Connecticut, Saturday

AP WOMEN'S TOP 25

How the Associated Press' Top 25 women's teams fared Thursday: 1. Virginia (25-1) did not play. 2. Penn State (23-1) did not play.

3. Georgia (23-2) did not play.
4. Tennessee (22-4) beat Memph
5. Auburn (23-3) did not play.

6. Purdue (21-2) did not play

North Carolina State (22-4) did not play. Western Kentucky (23-1) did not play.

9. Arkansas (22-3) did not play

Alkarisas (22-3) did not play.
 Washington (19-3) did not play.
 Stanford (20-4) beat Arizona State 109-61.

12. LSU (20-6) did not play.

13. Rutgers (21-3) beat St. Bonaventure 73-70.
14. Connecticut (22-3) did not play.

15. Texas (17-6) did not play

16. Mississippi (19-6) did not play.17. UNLV (22-5) beat UC Irvine 78-57.18. Northwestern (17-6) did not play.

Providence (21-4) did not play.
 S. F. Austin (21-3) beat N. Texas 89-56.
 lowa (15-7) did not play.
 Notre Dame (19-5) dld not play.

23. Long Beach State (17-7) did not play. 24. Clemson (17-8) did not play. 25. Oklahoma State (22-4) did not play.

Grace, Cavanaugh to meet in IH hoops final

By MARK McGRATH Sports Writer

If you are looking for excitement and action, go watch the interhall basketball finals on Sunday in the Joyce Center.

The first semifinal matched Grace against Morrissey, with Grace earning a 53-48 win.

This game was a spectator's dream. Grace had Demetrius DuBose and Bryant King and Morrissey had Derek Johnson and Dorsey Levens.

The game plan for Grace was to work the ball inside to DuBose. After drawing the defense of Morrissey in, he would look to dish the ball outside for the shot.

Morrissey presented a different look. Morrissey coach Ed Larkin wanted to spread the scoring around but could not forget about Levens-who finished with 25 points,-and Johnson.

The two teams traded baskets for most of the first half. It was not until the final two minutes of the half that Grace first took control, taking a 28-24 halftime lead.

The second half presented the fans with more of the same

"Demetrius was the key tonight. He was able to control the game," said Larkin. "We February 26-28, 1991.

laundry building, which union.

239-5555.

■ IRISH

Douglas Road Closing

Douglas Rd., between Juniper Rd. and U.S.

33, will be closed to thru traffic

This is necessitated by preliminary construction work for the new campus is to be located northwest of the credit

Douglas Rd., from U.S. 33, should be utilized to reach University Village, St. Joseph Hall,

Holy Cross House, and Moreau Seminary.

Douglas Rd., from Juniper Rd., should be warehouse, and support services building.

contact N.D. Security/Police at 239-5053 or utilized to access the credit union,

Should you need further information lacked intensity. We started all our games slow, but in this game we could never turn it on."

"This was a great game,"
"Mark Sloan. said Grace coach Mark Sloan. Our passing was excellent and we were shooting well."

The second semifinal put Cavanaugh up against Flanner. Cavanaugh was able to earn a 51-41 win.

"It was a good game," said Ray Griggs. "Both teams played aggressively.'

Both teams presented very similar game plans, wanting to spread the scoring around.

Cavanaugh wanted to make sure that Griggs made an impact and stayed out of foul Flanner was without their best player, Zak Nagle, who was out with a sprained ankle. Flanner missed his rebounding on both ends of the court.

Cavanaugh was down 8-2 early when coach Rob Gerbery called a key timeout. After the timeout, the game was all Cavanaugh. They finished the first half with a 26-17 lead.

The scoring was balanced for both teams at the half. Griggs led Cavanaugh with seven points, followed by Pete Tulchinsky and Tim Quenan

see SEMIS page 15

Gwynn signs $4 million extension

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball owners clinched "victory" in salary arbitration on Thursday despite left-hander Paul Gibson's win over the Detroit

At the same time, San Diego outfielder Tony Gwynn agreed to a three-year, $12.25 million contract extension that makes him the 40th $3 million-a-year player and the third-best paid in the game.

The owners have a 9-6 lead with only two arbitration cases left unsettled. But they consider salary arbitration an overall loss because almost all players get big raises even if decisions go against them. awarded Gibson was $565,000 by arbitrator Stephen Goldberg instead of the team's offer of $350,000. Gibson made $150,000 last season, when he was 5-4 with a 3.05 ERA in 61 relief appearances.

Right-hander Frank Wills and the Toronto Blue Jays, who were scheduled for a hearing Thursday in Chicago, settled early in the day on a one-year contract for $435,000, a raise of $192,500.

Third baseman Jack Howell and California had a hearing Thursday before arbitrator Anthony Sinicropi, and second baseman Jose Lind and Pittsburgh are scheduled for a hearing Friday before arbitrator Raymond Goetz.

Free agent Denny Walling agreed with Boston on a minorleague contract, leaving 27 of the 96 free agents still unsigned. And in a front-office deal, Boston extended general manager Lou Gorman's contract two years through 1994.

Gwynn, only seventh on the Padres' payroll last season, will have an average salary of $4,083,333 under the extenis the 40th player with a $3 million-a-year contract and trails only Roger Clemens ($5,380,250) and Jose Canseco ($4.7 million) on the salary chart. Darryl Strawberry is fourth at $4.05 million.

"I feel like $4 million is probably above what I think I'm worth," Gwynn said. "Four million is a nice round figure that two years from now I honestly feel like I can live with. I'm very content. ... For a while, it's nice to see other guys trying to get where you are.

The extension includes a $1 million signing bonus. Gwynn's current deal is a $4,325,000, two-year contract.

"I think it's really a good day for all of us, the fans of San Diego, for Tony and for the ball club as well," said San Diego general manager Joe McIlvaine.

Women

continued from page 24

personalities off the court make them very special people to me.

"It's going to be a sad day on Saturday for me, too. We've grown to be so close, and I think that after four years, you don't always feel that way, but with them, it's been a great experience all four years.

But first, there is the task at hand, making the NCAA Tournament. And to do so, the Irish must win Saturday against Old Dominion. Notre Dame cannot afford to lose any more games if it hopes to earn its first-ever bid.

"I would hope we get a bid in the tournament," Davis said. "It would be real disappointing if it didn't come through. It would be like working four years for nothing if we didn't get one."

The Monarchs (3-18) have fallen upon hard times this season. They were 21-10 in 1989-90—including a 63-62 victory over the Irish last season-and participated in the NCAA Tourney.

Three players average in double figures for Old Dominion. 5-11 forward Celeste Hill (13.9 points per game, 8.2 rebounds per game) has made a quick adjustment from the. high school to the college game, and she is joined by senior Jackie Kenney (13.4 ppg, 4.5 rpg) and sophomore Stephanie Gilmore (4.4 ppg, 5.0 rpg) to form a formidable front line.

The Monarchs are also proficient from the three-point stripe, hitting 43.4 percent (106-for-244) as a team for the year. Seniors T.J. Jones (11.7 ppg, 42.2%) and Lee Etta Cummings (9.1 ppg, 45.0%) and junior Kim Aston (46.7%) all are deadly from the outside.

"They've got good three-point shooters, are very athletic and play good defense," McGraw said. "They're similar to Indiana in that they have good athletes but not a lot of size.

"We're worrying about ourselves. That's what has been successful most of the time this year. We can't really get too concerned with what they're going to do. We just have to play our game.'

And forget, just for a moment, the significance of the game. For as McGraw said, There's going to be a lot of teary eyes on Saturday.'

American Heart Association

HAPPY 21st ROCK ON BACKSEAT BECCA!!

Love, Ho, Fun, Lizard, Margaret, Julie, Liz, Caroline

ATTENTION SENIORS !!!!!!!!

COME OUT AND SUPPORT

SARA LIERSCHER

KAREN ROBINSON

IN THEIR FINAL HOME GAME and HELP SET A RECORD CROWD!!

NOTRE DAME WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

OLD DOMINION

Saturday, February 23, 1991 Joyce Athletic & Convocation Center 2:00 pm

FOR THE RECORD (in their four years 1987 - 1991):

- Overall Record 82 30
- MCC Conference Champions (1988-1989, 1989-1990)
- .634 Winning Percentage
- * 1990-91 MCC Regular Season
- * Plan to land their first NCAA Tournament Bid in Program's History !!

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

EUROPE 1992: A Kaleidoscope of Perspectives

> FRIDAY, FEB. 22 2:30 P.M. Hayes-Healy Auditorium

CALL AND WISH HIM A HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!!

*x*4330

Men's track hosts Alex Wilson Invitational meet

By HUGH MUNDY Sports Writer

For the second time this season, a national caliber trackand-field meet comes to Loftus Sports Center as the Notre Dame men's track team hosts the fifth annual Alex Wilson Invitational.

The event, named in honor of the longtime Irish track coach and two time Olympian, begins Saturday morning with preliminary events and continues throughout the day. It features teams from throughout the eastern United States, including national powers George Mason, Villanova and Penn State.

Notre Dame head coach Joe Piane is looking forward to his team's final regular season

This is a great opportunity for athletes from across the country to qualify for NCAAs," he said.

Piane is equally optimistic about the prospects of Irish athletes.

"We should get a few more guys qualified for the IC4As, mainly in the distance events, he said.

The meet will feature several highly regarded runners, including Olympian Jim Spivey, who will compete at 3,000 meters. Irish captain Ryan Cahill, also entered in the 3,000 meter run, will be making a bid to improve on his NCAA qualifying time of 8:07.

Cahill believes the meet will provide Notre Dame with momentum going into next week's IC4A Championships.

"This is a great meet," he said. "The caliber of competition will definitely help our guys run fast"

One Irish athlete who needs no help running fast, Raghib "Rocket" Ismail, will once again compete in the 55 meter dash, an event which he has dominated all season.

Ismail, who two weeks ago sprinted to the tenth-fastest 55meter time in history, will be challenged by freshman phenom and teammate Willie

Clark. In other sprinting events, Rod Smith will attempt to better the NCAA standard in the 200 meter dash. Lake Dawson, a winner at Monday's MCC meet, returns in the 55-meter hurdles.

The longer races also feature a wealth of talent for Notre Dame as the Irish will be represented in events ranging from 800 to 5,000 meters.

TANNING Buy 4 * sessions at the regular price and get 4 FREE • Buy 5 and get 5 FREE • Buy 6 and I Get 6 FREE GET THÉ IDEA? Chicago Hair Cutting Co. INDIAN RIDGE PLAZA GRAPE RD., MISHAWAKA 277-7946 Daily 9-8

Sat. 9-6 • Sun. 11-5

Senior Pat Kearns, perhaps the most consistent performer on this year's distance squad, will run with Cahill at 3,000 meters.

The 5,000 meter run also promises to be exciting as juniors Kevin Keegan, Bill Dauphanais, Mike Drake, and sophomore Nick Radkewich will have a final opportunity to qualify for the IC4A meet.

In the 800 meter run, Notre Dame junior Brian Peppard, who narrowly missed the NCAA qualifying standard at the Meyo Invitational, will compete against a pack of nationally regarded half milers from across

The jumping events will again be a strong point for the Irish trio of IC4A qualifiers—John Cole, Paul Maloney and Todd Herman-will be entered in the high jump.

Pole vaulter Greg Matteo, another consistent performer for Notre Dame, will try to better his personal best effort of 15-8.

Toronto's goalie Jeff Reese (shown here against St. Louis) did plenty of sprawling in last night's game against the Pittsburgh Penguins. The Penguins blasted the Maple Leafs 11-4.

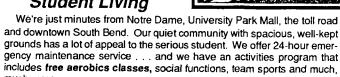

Kristen Maneri -Rare that your 19! Have a TOTALLY Happy Birthday We love you! Maureen, Tricia.

The Best Move You'll Ever Make

Convenient Student Living

If you're looking for the ideal off-campus home stop by today and we'll show you comfortable, affordable apartment living!

Efficiencies from $270 1-Bedrooms from $285 2-Bedrooms from $345

272-1880

Office Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9-7, Sat. 10-4 and Sun. 12-4

featuring Planned Activities Program Beautiful Clubhouse & Pool
Air Conditioning + Cable TV Available

Disposal + Laundry Rooms

 Basketball Court Picnic Tables & Grills

Volleyball Court + Gazebo
 24-Hour Emergency Maintenance Service

*Ask about the Hickory Village Summer Breeze ... the easy and economical way to keep your apartment through the summer and still go home.

Conveniently located on Hickory Road, just north of Edison Road

VALUABLE COUPON

NO APPLICATION FEE!

Save $15 when you apply for an apartment at Hickory Village. Just present this coupon to the leasing agent and the $15 application fee will be waived. Expires 9/1/91

THE CATHOLIC FAITH SERIES

$15

The Franciscan Way of Holiness

Francis of Assisi remains a radical figure whose interpretation of the Gospel life and our use of the environment can still unsettle our small worlds.

Sunday, February 24th, 7:00 - 8:30 p.m. Keenan-Stanford Chapel

Sponsored by Campus Ministry For further information call Sister Mary Curran, csc, Fr. Regis Duffy, a Franciscan friar is a member of the Notre Dame theology faculty. He has published three books. Next year, Harper Collins will publish his new book, The American Emmaus.

Fr. Duffy has taught on high school and college levels, worked in campus ministry and done parish work. He was a team member of an experimental parish, St. Severin in the Latin Quarter of Paris.

Fr. Duffy has taught at Washington Theological Union, Princeton Theological Seminary, Boston College, University of San Francisco and Loyola of Chicago. He holds seven academic degrees.

Robert Morris' season ends as suit thrown out of court

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Robert Morris College's lawsuit against the NCAA was overturned Thursday by a county judge who upheld the school's ban from postseason play, beginning with next week's Northeast Conference tournament.

Robert Morris is believed to be the first school to seek a court order allowing it to play in the 64-team NCAA tourna-

Following a daylong hearing, Allegheny County Commons Pleas Judge John L. Musmanno ruled the college didn't prove its punishment for rules violations was too harsh compared to recent penalties imposed on Nevada-Las Vegas, Illinois and Missouri.

"It's over, and we'll survive," athletic director Robert McBee said. "But this is a disappointment.'

"It's frustrating and disappointing," said school president Edward Nicholson, who said an appeal was unlikely.

Coach Jarrett Durham, who contends the NCAA treats marquee-name teams such as UNLV differently than smaller schools that don't deliver big TV ratings, declined to comment.

Robert Morris was barred from the 1991 NCAA tournament last May after an internal investigation disclosed a trustee helped pay a student loan obtained by senior guard Andre Boyd. Former athletic director Robert Miller assisted in arranging the loan.

Boyd, a Proposition 48 casualty, paid his own way to school as a freshman to preserve his four years of eligibility. When he fell behind on payments, a college trustee who had cosigned the loan, Dr. William Amos Jr., made three payments of $355 each in violation of NCAA rules.

Robert Morris also was placed on two years' probation, was banned from live TV this season and was stripped of two scholarships in 1991-92. The school must return $88,145 in 1990 NCAA tournament rev-

The NCAA infractions committee ruled the violations were major because Robert Morris gained substantial competitive advantages by allowing Boyd to play. Boyd initially was barred from playing this season, but was reinstated after the college argued he wasn't aware he had

Following the NCAA ruling, the Northeast Conference also barred the Colonials from its postseason tournament.

Robert Morris didn't initially appeal the NCAA decision, citing the high costs and unlikely prospect of winning a reversal. But the school changed its mind after the NCAA reversed a ruling that barred UNLV from defending its national champi-Musmanno's decision means Robert Morris (16-11) ended its season with Thursday night's regular-season game at Mount St. Mary's. Most of the Colonials' players attended the court session before leaving for the game.

"This is going to have an impact on our recruiting and our program ... it (an NCAA violation) always does," Nicholson said. "We're trying to upgrade our program, and this is a set-

Unlike schools that committed major violations uncovered only after NCAA-initiated investigations, Robert Morris drew major sanctions despite conducting its own probe and turning itself in, McBee said.

We did things the right way, and look what happened," he said. "I think that sends the worst kind of message.'

David Berst, the NCAA's enforcement director, said the threat of legal action by member schools won't discourage the NCAA from trying to maintain clean programs.

Thursday as Eric Davis, Bobby Bonilla and plenty of pitchers and catchers started spring training on schedule. Even Steve Howe was there, but Bo was a no go and Jim Palmer was a maybe so.

Skies were sunny in Florida and Arizona as 15 teams opened for business with just a minor hitch or two. Gone were the dark clouds that kept camps closed last year because of a 32-day lockout.

"There seems to be a lot of anxious anxiety to get going," New York Mets manager Bud Harrelson said in Port St. Lucie, Fla., where about 100 fans watched David Cone, Mackey Sasser and some others run through the outfield.

Officially, only pitchers and catchers were supposed to show up Thursday, and then just to check in. But rather than merely report, the march of the millionaires began when a lot of players, batteries included, broke out the bats and balls.

Davis, Barry Larkin, Rob

(AP)-Baseball returned Dibble, and Tom Browning were among more than a dozen regulars from the World Series champion Cincinnati Reds on the fields in Plant City, Fla. Manager Lou Piniella met with his coaches in anticipation of Friday's first formal workout.

> Davis, recovering from a kidney injury in Game 4 of the sweep over Oakland and offseason knee surgery, will take it slow for awhile. So will Bo Jackson.

> The Kansas City Royals put their star outfielder on crutches for four weeks after discovering that a hip injury he sustained in the NFL playoffs is more serious than originally thought.

> "It's not just the usual pulled muscle," Royals trainer Nick Swartz said Thursday. "He's not in the mild-injury category.

> Jackson is to report to the Royals' camp in Haines City, Fla., along with the position players. He will undergo therapy and do exercises, but is likely to miss the first part of the exhibition schedule.

'He was pretty upbeat, not real down," Royals manager John Wathan said after a telephone conversation with Jackson. "I guess disappointed is the right word."

There were a few other glitches, too.

The Minnesota Twins, who moved their training site from Orlando to Fort Myers, Fla., this year, aren't quite ready to move in yet. The major-league clubhouse and batting cages at the Lee County Sports Complex are not finished, so all players will be crammed into the minor-league headquarters for about 10 days. Newly acquired Jack Morris, Kirby Puckett and Kent Hrbek were among the Twins at the new location on Thursday.

At the New York Yankees' camp in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where last year's lockout resulted in a "No Trespassing" sign being posted above the players' locker room entrance, pitcher Pascual Perez was absent. The reason: that catch-all cause, visa problems.

It's that time of year again, as pitchers and catchers reported yesterday to spring training camps in Arizona and Florida.

Come Watch Irish Hoops on 5

Nightly Specials

Dart Tournaments

Fri + Sat 5-7 p.m. Show Student I D And Receive A Free Appetizer

> All you can eat 2 - topping pizza for only $6 a person

Hours: Mon.-Thurs. 4:30-2/Fri. 4:30-3/ Sat. 12-3/ Sun. 12-12 1602 Ironwood Dr., South Bend

Summer Housing in

Will you be working, doing an internship, or enjoying a summer in New York? You can live in the heart of Greenwich Village as an NYU Associate or take a course in our exciting summer sessions if you wish...

- · Minutes from New York's business and cultural centers
- Apartment-style and traditional residences; single and double occupancy
- Outstanding sports-recreation facility
- · Includes the New York Experience, an enjoyable noncredit program exploring careers and culture in New York City
- Over 1,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional courses offered day and evening

Housing available May 19-August 10 For more information and an application, call toll free

1-800-282-4NYU Ext. 840

New York University is an appartunity caphops:

14-A Washington Place New York, N.Y. 10003

Trail Blazers cruise to 122-111 win at Denver

DENVER (AP) — Kevin Duckworth had 25 points and 14 rebounds as the Portland Trail Blazers defeated Denver 122-111 Thursday night for the Nuggets' seventh consecutive loss.

It was the fourth victory of the season for the Trail Blazers over the Nuggets, the first series sweep ever for Portland over Denver.

Clyde Drexler had 19 points and eight assists for the Trail Blazers, who halted a threegame road losing streak and improved their overall record to 43-10. The Pacific Division leaders made only 43 percent of their 107 shots, but Portland's defense kept Denver at bay.

Orlando Woolridge led the Nuggets with 20 points and 13 rebound. Michael Adams, back in uniform after missing five games with a pulled hamstring, was 4-for 14 from the field and scored 12 points, 13 under his average.

Lakers 106, Mavericks 92

DALLAS (AP) — Magic Johnson had 21 points, 12 assists and 10 rebounds as the Lakers avenged two earlier losses to Dallas.

It was Johnson's ninth tripledouble this season and 132nd of his career. He had 18 points, 10 rebounds and 17 assists against Houston on Tuesday

Los Angeles held Dallas to a club record-low output in building a 52-29 halftime lead. Dallas' previous low was 31 against Houston in 1981.

Rockets 92, Bucks 90

HOUSTON (AP) — Otis Thorpe had 28 points and 19 rebounds and Vernon Maxwell scored the game-winning basket with 40 seconds to play as Houston ended Milwaukee's three-game winning streak.

Thorpe scored four straight baskets early in the fourth quarter and the Rockets held an 89-83 lead with 4:28 to play before the Bucks scored four straight baskets, aided by three Rockets turnovers, for a 90-89 lead with 1:29 remaining.

Maxwell's layup off a fast break gave Houston a 91-90 lead. Jack Sikma missed the Bucks' final shot with one second remaining.

SuperSonics 120, Knicks 101 NEW YORK (AP) — Shawn Kemp scored 24 points and shredded New York's defense with seven dunks as the Seattle SuperSonics continued the Knicks' homecourt woes with a 120-101 victory Thursday night

The Sonics, who never trailed, snapped a three-game losing streak despite playing without leading scorer Derrick McKey, out with an injury, and newly acquired center Benoit Benjamin.

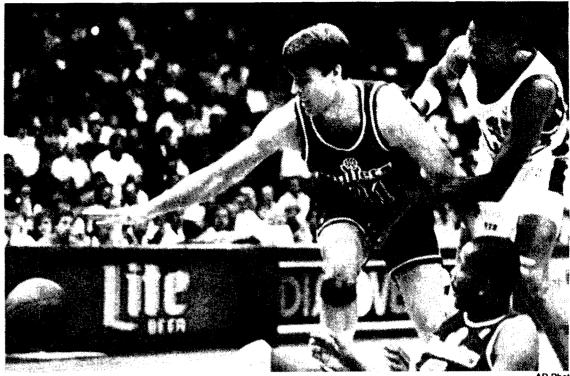

The loss dropped New York's record at Madison Square Garden to 11-17, the worst in the NBA.

Seattle's Ricky Pierce led all scorers with 26 points, 14 in the fourth quarter. Mark Jackson had 20 points and Patrick Ewing 19 points and 15 rebounds for the Knicks.

Heat 104, Bullets 90 LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Miami won its second road game in 1991 and fifth of the season as Glen Rice scored 27 points to lead the Heat past Washington.

Rice scored 12 points in the third quarter to give the Heat the lead, then scored seven in the final 5:08 to help Miami hold off the Bullets' comeback.

Seikaly scored 24 points and Sherman Douglas had 20 for the Heat, who are 5-21 on the road.

Both Washington and Denver were in action last night, and both lost. The Bullets fell to Miami 104-90, while the Nuggets lost their seventh straight, 122-111, at the hands of the Portland Trail Blazers.

Iowa upsets Hoosiers; Arizona rolls

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Iowa rallied from a 16-point deficit in the second half and beat No. 4 Indiana 80-79 in overtime Thursday night on James Moses' tip-in at the buzzer.

Indiana, which missed six straight free throws that could have won the game in regulation, took a 77-74 lead on two free throws by Matt Nover and three straight by Calbert Cheaney with 2 minutes left in the overtime.

But Iowa's Troy Skinner hit four foul shots to give the Hawkeyes the lead with under a minute to go, and Cheaney, who finished with 26 points, hit two more free throws for the last Indiana lead with 30 seconds left

After an lowa timeout with 8 seconds to go, Acie Earl missed one shot and Chris Street missed another on the rebound before Moses' winning tip.

Indiana (22-4, 10-3 in the Big Ten), led 50-34 6 minutes into the second half before the Hawkeyes (18-8, 7-7) rallied behind Val Barnes and Earl, who finished with 19 points each.

No. 9 Arizona 100, California 63

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Khalid Reeves hit five of Arizona's nine 3-pointers and the ninth-ranked Wildcats' balanced scoring smothered California 100-63 Thursday night to tighten their Pacific-10 Conference lead.

Reeves, a reserve freshman guard, and Brian Williams each had 19 points while Matt Muehlebach and Ed Stokes scored 13 apiece as Arizona (21-5, 10-3) made the Golden Bears (11-13, 7-8) their 60th consecutive victim at McKale Center, the nation's longest current home winning streak.

The Wildcats' defense and height advantage overpowered Cal as Arizona repaid the Bears for an 85-78 loss last month at Berkeley.

Arizona jumped to a 49-30 halftime lead and put the game away with a 12-2 run at the start of the second half, fueled by two jams, a layup and a jumper by Williams.

We buy and sell new and used guitars. ACCESSORIES - REPAIRS - LESSONS

GUITARS - AMPS
CRATE - ALVAREZ - YAMAHA
WESTONE - TAYLOR

241 DIXIE WAY N - US 33 (OLD 31)

(one mile north of St. Mary's College)

Roseland

— MON - FRI. 12:00 NOON - 6 pm CALL for SAT, hour

272-7510

DICK WISNER - OWNER

THE AD HOC OFF-CAMPUS COMMITTEE FOR QUALITY OF LIFE INVITES

ALL STUDENTS MOVING OFF-CAMPUS IN 1991-1992 to an

OFF-CAMPUS FORUM

113 N. St. Peter Street 3 pm

This Saturday, February 23rd

- Sharing of advice and expectations
- Community skills
- Free Food

Sponsored by Student Government and Campus Ministry

Transportation available from Main Circle at 2:45 pm.

SPORTS BRIEFS

■THE NOTRE DAME MEN'S TENNIS TEAM fell to Stanford 5-2 in the second round of the USTA/ITCA National Intercollegiate Indoor Team Championships. Sixth-seed David DiLucia defeated Alex O'Brien 4-6, 7-6 (7-5), 6-3 and Andy Zurcher beat Vimal Patel 3-6, 7-5, 7-5 to account for the Irish points. Notre Dame faces TCU in the consolation round today..

■TWO I.Y.H.L. MINIMITE TEAMS will be featured in an exhibition hockey game between periods one and two of tonight's Notre Dame hockey game vs. Air Force. The Notre Dame game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

TIMERS NEEDED for the MCC Swimming Championships today from 11-2 or 7-9 and Saturday from 10-1 or 6-9. Call Matt or Franco at 239-7042.

■BOOKSTORE BASKETBALL SIGN-UPS will be held Sunday, Feb. 24 from 12-5 p.m. in the Great Hall of O'Shag. A $5 entry fee is required.

■WOMEN'S BOOKSTORE BASKETBALL SIGN-UPS will be held in early March, separately from the sign-ups for Bookstore this Sunday. Players can participate in both tournaments but must sign-up for each. Also, anyone interested in being a commissioners - contact Diane at x1093.

■MEN'S VOLLEYBALL: tonight at 8 p.m., Notre Dame will take on arch-rival Michigan State. This match promises to be one of the best the Irish will host all season. Come out for great volleyball action in the JACC pit. Admission is free!

■ND/SMC WOMEN'S LACROSSE will have practice on Sunday from 4-6 p.m. at Angela Athletic Facility. Bring a blank check for jackets. Questions? Call Cathy at 284-4456.

Dive Into Our New Seafood Dinners

Fried Clam

Tender clams fried golden brown. Served with rice or potato.

Fisherman's Platter

Shrimp, stuffed crab, fish fillet and clams. Served with rice or potato.

Starting At

*24-Piece Shrimp Dinner Lightly breaded fried shrimp. Served with rice or potato.

Shrimp Combo

A generous serving of fried, charbroiled and scampi-style shrimp. Served with rice or potato.

Every dinner includes Shoney's Soup, Salad & Fruit Bar

Swimmers ahead of MCC pack

By BECKY WOOD Sports Editor

Day One of the Midwestern Collegiate Conference Swimming and Diving Championship saw seven meet records broken, including four by Evansville, but Notre Dame took an early lead.

The Irish men tallied 290 points over second place Evansville (179), St. Louis, Xavier, Butler, and Loyola, while the Notre Dame women scored 324 points, well ahead of St. Louis (189), Evansville, Butler and Xavier.

Senior co-captain Brian Rini edged out freshman Kevin Flanagan in the 500 freestyle and improved his own meet record by over two seconds. 4:40.10. Divers Sean Hyer and Jenny Kipp both won the 1-meter diving events.

The Evansville women claimed the 200 freestyle relay and K. Watson, Tricia Berger and Jennifer DeDoming set three meet records in the 500 freestyle, 50 free and 200 individual medley.

St. Louis' Jennifer Chase swam to victory in the 400 medley relay and touched out the Notre Dame women. St. Louis also set a meet record in the same relay, 4:07.64. The other meet record was set by Butler's Paul Newsom in the 50 freestyle, :21.52.

MCC preliminary and finals competition continues at Rolfs Aquatic Center on Friday (11 a.m. and 7 p.m.) and Saturday (10 a.m. and 6 p.m.).

Rocket

continued from page 24

around a bad team overnight. Mendes said Ismail remains "an option" for the Patriots, who have the top pick in the draft.

"If you look around the league at successful teams," he said, "you win with Cadillacs. And this guy I would certainly put in that class."

Ismail called the workout "pretty good" but reminded reporters that his exclusive status at the workout does not necessarily translate into his being the No. 1 pick.

There are a lot of other people out there," he said.

The Patriots, who finished 1-15 last season, have not said whether they plan to select Ismail or trade down in the

"We're still busy assessing opportunities and the avenues we have and want to take the one that's best for the team," Mendes said.

Ismail missed the NFL scouting combine earlier this month in Indianapolis because it conflicted with the Central Collegiate Championships, a regional track meet in which he ran the 55-meter dash in a school-record 6.07 seconds, qualifying for next month's NCAA meet.

PHONE (219) 233-4957

His speed should overcome or strength size anv deficiencies in the minds of many NFL scouts, who saw no reason to watch him work out in the weight room.

'Not many people are going to hit him," Pittsburgh Steelers special teams coach and former Notre Dame assistant George Stewart said. "His speed is outstanding. I'd put him in the neighborhood with Jackson.'

Scouts from the Chicago Bears, Cincinnati Bengals, Kansas City Chiefs, Atlanta Falcons, Detroit Lions, Green Bay Packers, Washington Redskins, Miami Dolphins, Los Angeles Raiders, New York Jets, Cleveland Browns and Dallas Cowboys also attended the workout.

PROFESSIONAL PRODUCTS

ROCCO'S STYLE SHOP

531 N. MICHIGAN ST. APPOINTMENTS OR WALK-IN

MEN & WOMENS STYLING CUTS - PERMANENTS - COLOR

The Observer

is currently accepting applications for the paid positions of

Asst. Accent Editor Accent Copy Editor

If interested, please submit a one-page personal statement to John O'Brien at The Observer by 5 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 24 or call John at 239-5303

THE NATIONAL COLLEGE

Joins with the Observer in hoping for the quick and safe return of our friends and loved ones in the Persian Gulf.

SENIOR

STUDENT MANAGER APPLICATIONS AND JOB DESCRIPTIONS FOR 1991-1992 ARE NOW AVAILABLE AT THE INFORMATION DESK IN LAFORTUNE

> APPLICATION DEADLINE IS MARCH 1, 1991

Irish finish up home slate with two games against Falcons

By RICH KURZ Sports Writer

The Notre Dame hockey team (15-13-1) hosts its last two home games of the season tonight and tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m., against a foe who is quite familiar to the Irish. This weekend will mark the third and fourth times the Irish play the Air Force Falcons (7-13) this season.

And if the games at the Joyce ACC, where the Irish have won 13 times in 15 games, are anywhere close to the games the two teams played in Colorado Springs three weeks ago, then Notre Dame hockey fans are in for a treat.

The Irish split the two games with the Falcons, coming back to win Saturday's game behind the stellar goaltending of Greg Louder who stopped 38 of 39 shots to ensure a 4-1 win for the Irish. The previous night, Air Force scored two goals in the final 10 minutes of play to pull out a 7-6 victory.

Junior left wing Lou Zadra thinks these games will be as exciting as those at Air Force.

"(The Falcons) are quick, and they check a lot. They should be down-to-the-wire games,' Zadra said.

Notre Dame coach Ric Schafer also expects two more hard-fought games this weekend

"It's another matchup with two even teams," he said. "I'd like to change that."

Zadra—tied with David Bankoske and Mike Curry for the team lead in goals with 19—thinks the Irish are primed to break loose against the Falcons, wins that could prove to be extremely important.

"We're definitely focused for both Friday and Saturday night's games. We want to come in and win big," he said. "We're still in contention for the (NCAA) tournament. These are big games."

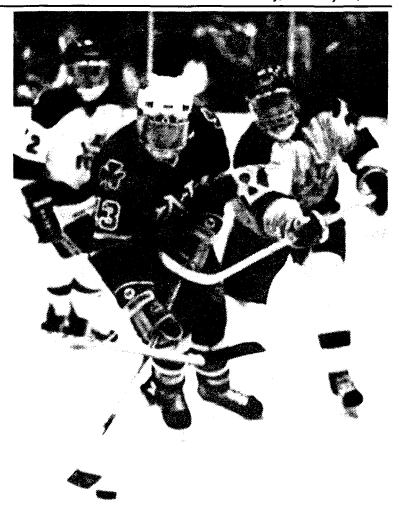

The Irish power play, which has been on a roll lately, could play a significant role in a tight game like this series should be.

"It's been really efficient. It just keeps improving," said Zadra

Both Zadra and Schafer think the Irish are ready to step up their level of play another notch going into the home stretch of the season. "It's time for a grand finish. We're four games from hanging our skates up until October. It would be nice to finish strong," said Schafer.

Zadra said, "We're hitting our peak"

NOTES—This weekend will mark the final home appearances for Irish seniors Chris Olson and John Ghia, the only two seniors on the Notre Dame roster . . . Notre Dame has begun talking to the CCHA about possibly joining the conference. The discussions are currently in an "exploratory stage," according to Schafer . . . Junior center David Bankoske needs only one assist to tie former Irish All-American Greg Meredith for 10th place on the career assists list for Notre Dame . . . After this weekend's games, the Irish travel to Anchorage, Alaska to participate in the Jeep/Eagle Independent Hockey Tournament March 9-10. Alaska-Anchorage, Alaska-Fairbanks and Alabama-Huntsville also are entered in the tourney which will go a long way to determining the lone independent representative to the NCAA playoffs.

The Observer/Scott McCann

Right wing Sterling Black and the rest of the Notre Dame hockey team face off against Air Force tonight and Saturday at 7:30 p.m in the JACC.

Wrestlers drop season finale to Hoosiers, 21-18

By DAVE DIETEMAN Sports Writer

The Notre Dame (4-8-1) wrestling team wrapped up its regular season last night with a 21-18 home loss to Indiana (5-8).

The loss, however, does not close the book on this year's Irish squad, who are preparing for next weekend's NCAA Western Regional meet.

"It's been a tough year," said Notre Dame coach Fran McCann. "Tonight was the same old thing—we've lost six meets this year where the difference was one match. With our schedule, that's just the way it goes

"I thought we wrestled well. We've got the NCAA Regionals next week, and we feel good. All the kids wrestled for seven minutes tonight, and I'm really pleased with that."

The Irish started the night on the right foot, as freshman Chris Jensen (12-14), who has been plagued by injury since Notre Dame's 51-0 setback at lowa, came from behind to stun the Hoosier's Chris Russo (19-7-1), 6-4, in the 118-pound match.

Russo took Jensen down with :13 gone in the first period. Jensen escaped and Russo took him down again as Russo jumped out to a 4-1 lead after one period.

Jensen opened the third period with an escape and was quickly awarded a bonus point for Russo's stalling penalty. Behind 4-3, Jensen rallied to take Russo down with :09 left in the match. The final margin of victory, thanks to over one minute of riding time, was 6-4.

"Jensen is still hurting," noted McCann. "He showed a lot of courage and a lot of heart in coming back. It was good for him because it will help his confidence before the Regional meet."

Marcus Gowens (21-7) led throughout his 4-3 victory over

Dave Nieradka at 126 pounds (16-9) as Notre Dame seized a 6-0 lead in team points.

Sophomore Kyle Cadman (3-13), however, fell to Indiana's Lou Silverman (14-11) at 134 pounds, and Jamie Boyd (13-12) suffered a major decision to Jeff Lyons (sixth-ranked at 142 pounds) as the Irish quickly fell behind 7-6.

The match see-sawed from that point on, as senior Todd Layton (14-9), appearing in the last home match of his career, handily dispatched of Adam Caldwell (21-12-1), 6-0, before Hoosier Casey Graham stunned Notre Dame's Emil Soehnlen (9-15-1) with a pin at 158 pounds.

With the Hoosiers apparently in the driver's seat, riding a 13-7 advantage, Irish senior Mark Gerardi (19-5 and ranked No. 12 at 167 pounds), also wrestling for the last time in the friendly confines of the JACC, won a 9-6 decision over Chris Yengo (11-11) to pull Notre Dame to within one point in the team scoring.

Jamie Reidy (0-1), a 165pound recent addition to the Notre Dame roster, volunteered to compete against 5-15 Steve Hiner of Indiana in the 177pound match. Reidy's heroics came after J.J. McGrew (177) injured his shoulder and Billy Hunter (177) hurt his knee, depleting the Irish depth chart.

"With McGrew, this is a different meet," observed McCann. "It would have been a 10-point difference because of the four points we lost at 177 and the six we would have got from McGrew's pin.

"Reidy was wrestling with a sprained ankle and he was outweighed. He came up to me and said he wanted to wrestle, so I let him. He was really concerned about trying to win this meet."

Steve King (16-7-4) registered a thunderous pin at 190 pounds to put the Irish back on top, 18-17, going into the heavyweight match, where Tom Salvino (1-5), a junior heavyweight from Chicago, fell 10-2 to Vito Maurici (17-15-1).

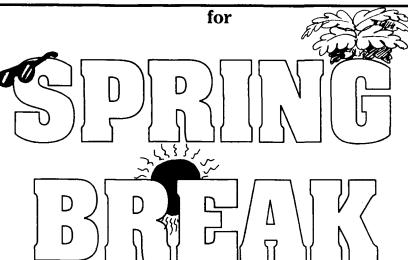

Thank you for being my inspiration and best friend.

Please don't ever change because nothing compares to you!

Love Forever, Michael

$$$ MONEY $$$

We'd like to give you a break with our Special Spring Break Loan!

- Only 11.99% APR, Fixed
- $500 Maximum
- Deferred Payments: You'll have all summer to repay (until Aug. 1, 1991)
- Students with good credit or no credit at all qualify. No cosigner needed!

NOTRE DAME FEDERAL CREDITUNION 239-6611

Separate from the University

LECTURES

4:30 p.m. Mathematical Colloqium, "Holomorphic Mappings of Submanifolds in Complex Space," M. Salah Baouendi, professor, University of California, San Diego. Room 226, Math Building.

CAMPUS

Friday

5:15 p.m. Mass for Peace. Sacred Heart Church.

7:15 and 9:45 p.m. Film, "Mo' Better Blues." Annenberg Auditorium, Snite Museum.

8 p.m. Play, "While the Lights Were Out," Produced by Cavanaugh Hall Players. Washington Hall. Sponsored by Student Activities and Hall President Council.

8 p.m. Film, "Ghost." Cushing Auditorium. Sponsored by SUB.

Saturday

7:15 and 9:45 p.m. Film, "Mo' Better Blues." Annenberg Auditorium, Snite Museum.

8 p.m. Play, "While the Lights Were Out," Produced by Cavanaugh Hall Players. Washington Hall. Sponsored by Student Activities and Hall President Council.

8 p.m. Film, "Ghost." Cushing Auditorium. Sponsored by SUB.

MENU

Notre Dame

Fried Fish Boats Broiled Haddock Fried Bread Cheese Pizza Tri-Color Shells with Marinara Sauce

CROSSWORD

ACROSS

- 1 Peel
- 5 Over 9 Chunk
- 13 Off balance
- 14 Root or Yale
- 15 Prong
- 16 Former chess
- master Richard
- 17 Surgical beam
- 18 Assess 19 Nonlizard
- lacrimation
- 22 Play the guitar 23 Spread out, as
- troops
- 24 Stadium yells
- 26 Merit

- 33 Telemachus, to 58 Ancient
- Odvsseus 34 Feat
- 35 Ratite bird
- 36 Door rails, to architects
- 39 Mythical mischief-maker
- 40 Bowery character
- 42 Valise
- 43 Styx ferryman 45 Ancient core of
- Constantinople 47 Three-handed
- card game
- 48 Pinna — Island

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

BLUEANDTHEGRAY

ABRAHAMLINCOLN

JEFFERSONDAY!S

ALOU

NET KLINES TAB SORTS

- 54 Nonlizard fruit
- 30 Western capital 57 Ice sheet

- Thracians
- 59 "Leave
- that!"
- 60 Public disturbance
- 61 Beatle Starr

- 64 Armhole
- syllables

- 5 Tartans
- 7 Collie
- sweater
- 10 Munchausen,
- 11 Julian Huxley book
- 14 Yore, of yore
- 20 Muscat dweller
- Cephalus
- 25 Nonporcine fast

- 62 Dotted, in
- heraldry
- 63 Sweet potatoes
- 65 Musical

DOWN

- 1 René's recreation areas
- 2 On the qui vive
- 3 Copter part
- 4 Gourmet
- 6 Usher's milieu
- 8 Nonreptilian
- 9 Wandered
- e.g.
- 12 Spelling contest
- 21 Lover of

- 47 Kind of bath
- rejection 29 First place weakness
- 30 Chops
- 31 Vent 32 Kind of moth
- 33 Droop

28 Presidential

27 Aft

- 37 Of element #46 38 Acute
- 41 Fluffy fare
- 44 Nonbeliever
- 46 Inlet: Ger. 54 Ending for
- 49 Muscle
- 51 Western
- 52 lonesco product minute).

- Saturn 55 Appear indistinctly

--- Park, Colo.

56 Rita's bailiwick 57 Sauté

Answers to any three clues in this puzzle are available by touch-tone phone: 1-900-420-5656 (75¢ each

CALVIN AND HOBBES

THE FAR SIDE

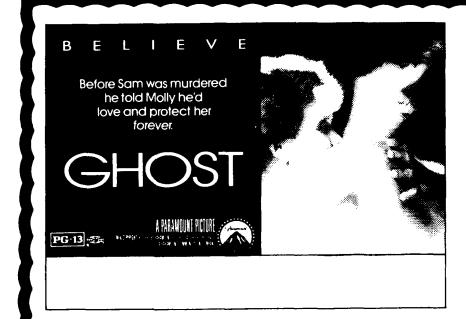

"OK, ma'am — it's dead. In the future, however, it's always a good idea to check your shoe each time you and the kids return home."

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY 8 AND 10:30 PM $2 CUSHING AUDITORIUM

Sports

Women to face Old Dominion

Seniors reminisce with last home game this Saturday

By RENE FERRAN

Sports Writer

Saturday is the last home game for seniors Karen Robinson, Krissi Davis, Sara Liebscher and manager Mike Caputo as the Notre Dame women's basketball team faces Old Dominion at 2 p.m.

And as the senior members of this year's women's basketball program recalled their most memorable experiences, one in particular came to their respective minds.

It was on their West Coast swing this year. The team was sightseeing in San Francisco the day before the Stanford game, and it stopped to look at the Golden Gate Bridge at an overlook. Stairs led down to the beach, and several players ran down to play in the water. Let Liebscher describe the rest:

"I'm kneeling down to take my socks and shoes off, and I see this guy walking towards me, so I look up, and then I do a double-take. Here comes this guy, naked, walking straight at me . . . I start looking around, and every single person on this beach is naked, and not only that, but they're all males. It was a nude gay beach.

Experiences like these have helped breed deep bonds between these diverse personali-

"Looking back, it's amazing to think that I didn't know those two until I got here, and in three-and-a-half years, we've become real close friends, Davis said. "Those two will be my closest friends from now to forever.'

"The people I've met through basketball have opened up so many doors for me," Liebscher "I've made so many friendships that it's an experience I've never regretted."

Among the achievements they are most proud of, building the program to the level it has reached ranks high.

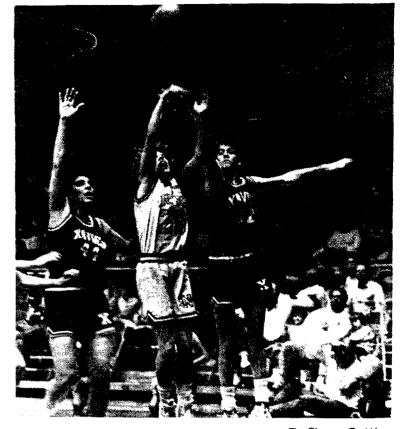

"We've had lots of ups and downs, but we've still been successful," Robinson said. "We've seen the program turn around since I've been here, and from here on it's only going to get better and better.

"We've definitely made some big strides since our freshman year," Liebscher said. "I'd like people to think of us as a hardworking group, one that overcame a lot of adversity through our four years to get as far as we did.'

This is the first group of seniors which played all four years under Coach Muffet McGraw, A smile broke out on her face when she reflected on their time together.

"With this group, it's going to be particularly hard to see them go," McGraw said. "The program has grown so much because of them, and just their

see WOMEN/ page 17

Karen Robinson is one of three seniors who will be playing their final game at the JACC Saturday afternoon vs. Old Dominion.

Irish look to upset No. 18 Redmen

By KEN TYSIAC

Associate Sports Editor

The Notre Dame men's basketball team will try to pick up right where it left off in Wednesday's 80-77 overtime victory over DePaul in Saturday's 8 p.m. matchup versus No. 18 St. John's in Madison Square Garden.

The Irish (11-16) finally came through with a gutty performance down the stretch against the Blue Demons, and will look to do so again when they meet Coach Lou Carnesecca's Redmen. St. John's (18-6) had lost four of six before Wednesday's 77-72 win over Syracuse at the Garden.

The big gun for the Redmen will be forward Malik Sealy, who averages 22.9 points and 7.5 rebounds per game and is a genuine threat to score inside and outside.

"St. John's is obviously going to the NCAA Tournament," Irish coach Digger Phelps said. "Malik Sealy can just take the game over; it seems that every team we play has somebody like Sealy's fellow teammates provide adequate support. Point guard Jason Buchanan (12.1 ppg, 5.5 apg) is a proven playmaker and scorer. Center Robert Werdann (10.8 ppg, 7.2 rpg) can get the job done inside, and Billy Singleton and Shawnelle Scott do an adequate job playing their roles in the Redmen offense.

"They have balance with those four-Buchanan, Werdann, Singleton and Scott,' Phelps said.

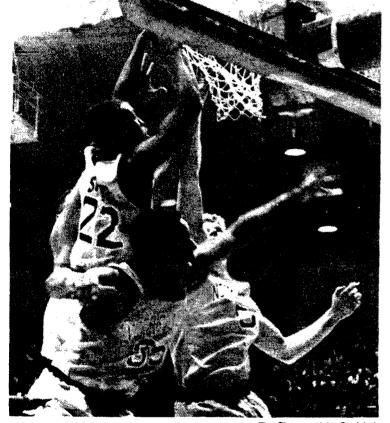

The Irish, meanwhile, will continue to look for the Texas Express duo of Elmer Bennett and Daimon Sweet to do most of their scoring. Bennett, a 6-1 guard, scored 21 points before fouling out against the Blue Demons and averages 14.7 ppg. Sweet, meanwhile, is the team's leading scorer at 15.9 ppg. He scored a career-high 26 against

"When Bennett fouled out,

Daimon Sweet just stepped up and did the things we needed, as did (Keith) Tower," Phelps said. "Our kids were just determined to win that one.

Senior Tim Singleton, who is second on the all-time Notre Dame assist list, is expected to start at point guard, while leading rebounder Tower (7.3 ppg, 6.5 rpg) will begin the game at center. Senior Kevin Ellery (11.2 ppg) rounds out the starting lineup.

NOTES—This weekend's game will be Notre Dame's 2,000th game. . .The Notre Dame-St. John's matchup will be preceded by a 6 p.m. battle between Dayton and Fordham. . .Phelps will be reunited with the 1970-71 Fordham team which he coached to the East Regional semifinals in his first and only season with the Rams. Phelps's old squad will be recognized at halftime of the Dayton-Fordham game. . . The Irish are 41-17 in Madison Square Garden, and are 14-3 in the Garden since 1974.

The Observer/John Studebaker Controlling the boards will be a key for the Notre Dame men's basketball team as it travels to New York to take on no. 18 St. John's boxers defend titles in Bengal Bouts

By ROLANDO DE AGUIAR

Boxing for Bangladeshi Missions, participants in the 61st annual Bengal Bouts will begin fighting this weekend at the Joyce ACC.

Bengal Bouts, founded by Dominick Napolitano, have been fought since the 1930s, and have become something of a legend in the South Bend area, and are an essential piece of Notre Dame tradition. Now organized by the Boxing Club, the event raises thousands of dollars each year for the Holy Cross missions in Bangladesh.

Among the field of 82 boxers. six champions return to Bengal Bouts. Though the number of fighters is down from last year's total of 102, Boxing Club President Mike Trainor sees an improvement in the boxers' level of skill.

'There is a lot of quality in the fighters this year," said Trainor. "We just don't have the numbers, which makes for a good tournament.'

will undoubtedly be one of the most exciting, led by Trainor, shoulder. the defending champion. Two more experienced fighters have transferred to Notre Dame, and each will challenge Trainor for his title.

Scott Mulcahy, a transfer from West Point, boxed in the NCAA tournament last year, and reached the regional level. A transfer from Chicago, Lou Hall, is another surprise. Having boxed for two years, Hall also could threaten Trainor's title.

"(My weight class) will definitely be interesting," said Trainor. "There are some really good boxers.'

Kerry Wate returns as champion in the 165-pound class. Wate won titles in both his freshman and sophomore years, and will look to three-peat as a

However, another Trainor will be trying to stop Wate's string of titles. Returning from a year off from Bengal Bouts, Mike Trainor's twin brother Tim will compete in the 165-pound

The 170-pound weight class class. Tim was kept out of last year's action by a separated

> Other returning champions include Jody Armetta, a junior 150-pounder, Kevin Max. a 185pound senior, Jim Hawkins, at 165, and John Manfredy, a senior competing at 140 pounds.

> The money donated to Bangladesh is very important to the mission's very survival.

> "They need the money badly," Trainor said. "When we send it to them, they have usually spent almost all of it."

> Bengal Bouts will begin Sunday afternoon next to the ice rink at the J.A.C.C. at 12:30. Approximately 20 fights will occur that afternoon, and an equal number will be fought Sunday night beginning at 7:30.

> On Wednesday, February 20, semifinal bouts will be fought at 7:30 p.m., and the finals of Bengal Bouts will occur March 1 at 8:00.

Rocket impresses NFL scouts during workout

Associate Sports Editor

Professional scouts from 15 National Football League teams turned out to watch Raghib Ismail's private workout Thursday afternoon at the Loftus Center to see for themselves what the rest of the country has been talking about since early fall.

The "Rocket" can run.

Ismail, who is projected as the possible No. 1 pick in April's NFL draft, ran a 40yard dash which was handtimed by the scouts somewhere between 4.25 and 4.3 seconds, did a 20-yard shuttle run, executed a vertical jump of 33 1/2 inches and caught passes from Pittsburgh Steelers receivers coach Dwayne Painter during a 30-minute closed workout.

"He has the excellent speed, athletic ability and all the per-

By FRANK PASTOR sonality traits that you're looking for in a first pick," said Joe Mendes, the New England Patriots' personnel director. "He certainly didn't do anything to hinder his chances of being the first pick.'

Ismail dropped two passes during the workout and a third bounced off his hands, but scouts agreed that his receiving skills are more than adequate for the NFL.

"I wouldn't say there was even a concern about his hands," Mendes said. "It's just a matter of wanting to see it several times."

Said Indianapolis Colts offensive coordinator Leon Burtnett, "He looked great, just like they said. We just wanted to see it for ourselves."

Despite wide speculation that Ismail is not the type of player capable of turning see ROCKET / page 21