

The Observer

VOL XX, NO. 56

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1985

an independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

Reagan and Gorbachev reach 'broad areas of agreement'

Associated Press

GENEVA - President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev concluded their extraordinarily personal summit yesterday, claiming "broad areas of agreement" but providing no details on whether the superpowers had resolved any major issues.

"The news is so good that we're going to hold it for tomorrow," Reagan teased reporters after the formal talks had ended. A joint farewell ceremony was hastily scheduled for this morning.

A U.S. source indicated that there would be a joint statement to provide impetus on arms control but that the leaders would issue no specific guidelines to help negotiators break the current impasse.

Gorbachev said only, "I hope there will be," when asked if any joint agreements would be signed.

A State Department negotiator, Raymond Benson, said the two sides had approved cultural exchange provisions that call for exchange of students, performing arts groups, exhibitions and sports teams. The official who spoke on condition of anonymity said the agreement would be signed today.

Reagan's chief adviser on arms control, Paul Nitze, was among experts who continued discussions following the end of yesterday's formal negotiations. It was an indication that the summit's most contentious issue remained unresolved as the leaders adjourned for dinner.

The leaders, sitting with advisers and their wives before a roaring fire in the library, went over and endorsed the experts' telephone report.

The U.S. source, who spoke on condition of anonymity, predicted at least one surprise at today's farewell and said plans for a follow-up summit might await a post-summit decision.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes declined to comment on whether any significant agreements were forged, adhering to the news blackout established during Tuesday's first summit session.

Speakes promised a briefing following the ceremony set for 10 a.m. Geneva time (4 a.m. EST) and said it would be clear to observers then whether the summit could be considered as success.

The Soviets had sought a final ceremony for weeks, but there was no word on Reagan's acceptance until almost midnight yesterday, Geneva time.

Speakes refused to say whether a joint statement or communique would be issued or whether the leaders would sign specific agreements. He said neither Reagan nor Gorbachev would take questions, but the Soviets indicated Gorbachev would hold a news conference after the ceremony had ended.

The ceremony was to be Reagan's final event in Geneva before leaving to brief NATO leaders in Brussels en route to Washington and a speech to a joint meeting of Congress.

Last night's dinner was to have been a social affair, but like the formal negotiating sessions, the agenda didn't hold.

Signs added at U.S. 31 to make crossing safer

By SHANNON OAKES

Staff Reporter

Five new pedestrian crossing signs have been installed on U.S. 31 between Notre Dame and Saint Mary's as a result of a letter written by Richard Chlebek, director of security at Saint Mary's.

The signs are placed such that two are visible to northbound traffic and three to southbound traffic.

Chlebek sent a letter to the Indiana State Highway Commission Aug. 7 concerning what he said he felt were "dangerous traffic conditions" on U.S. 31.

The volume of motor vehicle traffic on U.S. 31 and the number of Saint Mary's and Notre Dame students that cross at the intersection increase the probability of an accident, according to Chlebek.

Chlebek also proposed the installation of a strobe light on the intersection's traffic signal to "warn motorists of the dangerous intersection," extending the delay signal between the light cycle, adding street lights south of the intersection, and north to the toll road exit and entrance ramps, and installing an automatic traffic signal at Douglas Road which would be in operation an hour before and an hour after business hours.

This would aid the merging of traffic entering U.S. 31 from Saint Mary's, according to Chlebek.

These proposals are awaiting authorization from Indianapolis, Chlebek said. He said he is expecting a reply within the next week.

"Hopefully these (changes) will improve the dangerous conditions at the intersection," said Chlebek.

On easy street

The Easy Street Band performed last night at the Senior Alumni Club. Playing the music of such artists as the Doors and Pink Floyd, the band was "a good example of some of the untapped local talent in South Bend," according to club General Manager David Wood.

Less incidents at home games attributed to new policies

This is the second part of a three-article series examining security at Notre Dame home football games. Today's story focuses on how security has evolved over the years. It analyzes how recent changes have attempted to improve security.

By MARK PANKOWSKI

Assistant News Editor

There have been fewer detentions, fewer thefts from vehicles, and fewer people thrown out of the stadium.

People are enjoying the games more and drinking less.

And it's all the result of changes instituted this year, according to Notre Dame Security Director Rex Rakow.

Or so he'd "like to think," Rakow said.

There have been several changes in football Saturdays since last year, the ban on kegs and the addition of 12 mounted officers among the more visible.

"The lawsuit was the catalyst for a lot of the changes . . .," Rakow said, referring to the woman who successfully sued the University for injuries suffered as the result of an inebriated fan.

"It forced the University to re-evaluate . . . what responsibilities we have to provide a safe atmosphere," he said.

The ban on kegs from parking lot areas has been "one of the biggest changes," Rakow said, and is "an extension of the alcohol policy."

"If it's fair for students for the whole year, then it should be fair for visitors."

Because the ban is "more an ordinance than an arrestable offense," Rakow said, no one has been arrested for violating the rule. Security does confiscate kegs, however, and has done so six times this year, he said.

Along with the ban on kegs came signs warning tailgaters of the University's crackdown on alcohol abuse; this is the result, Rakow said, of a "joint effort between the athletic department and the (University) legal council."

The signs, several of which were stolen soon after being posted, warn that "abuse of the rights of others as a result of the use of intoxicating beverages will not be tolerated on University grounds."

In order to enforce this, Rakow said, Security brought in 12 mounted officers this year.

The St. Joseph Sheriff's Posse, which is armed and divided into six teams of two, serves two purposes, he said.

The first is to control "alcohol and behavior (which) were getting out of hand" last year, and the other is to "keep an eye out for thefts from vehicles, vandalism and people who might find themselves in an intoxicated state."

"The mounted police are not looking so much for kegs, but for people infringing on the rights of others," Rakow said.

In addition to the posse, 12 officers on foot were hired this year, he said. The unarmed officers "are extra eyes and ears for us. If they see a problem, they call it in to us."

Once a report is called in, Security then responds, he said.

There have been no arrests inside the stadium so far this year, Rakow said, adding that five to six persons normally are arrested inside the stadium each year.

There also have been fewer detentions and fewer problems inside the stadium, he said.

In addition, there have been no vehicle thefts and "only three or four break-ins," Rakow added.

"I credit that to the extra people we brought in."

Although 60 city and county police officers still are used inside the stadium, the South Bend Police Department is no longer in charge of them, he said.

St. Joseph County Police Department is now the primary agency in command, Rakow said. The change was prompted by the city officers' threat to go on strike and boycott Notre Dame football games during the summer. The county police offered to take command and Security accepted.

Another change this year resulted in students' disappearing from a once-traditional environment: the playing field.

The ban on "persons without specific authorization," according to Rakow, was prompted by an incident last year in which fans rushed onto the field and tore down a goal post.

"It's such a dangerous situation. There were several injuries at other schools when goal posts came down," he said. "That caused us to really look at it."

So far, Rakow said, the rule has been effective.

"I don't know if we've been successful or if people who used to run on the field have just given up," he said, adding, "I hope students get some kind of award for staying off the field."

In an effort to curb drinking during halftime, "pass-outs," which permit fans to re-enter the stadium after leaving, are now issued and honored only at gate 14.

Last year fans could leave and re-enter at all the gates, he said.

The new system of "pass-outs," Rakow said, has "reduced the number of people who go out and get tanked up - or we hope."

Although drinking has been curbed as a result of the new rules, Rakow said Security next year "will be doing even more educating of our usher staff" to prevent drinking inside the stadium.

"At the games in the future, we'll be getting more strict," he added.

But for now, Security still has its problems, Rakow said.

"It's no picnic for officers to wade through 200 persons to take their keg away," he said.

"It's like taking the proverbial thorn out of the lion's paw."

In Brief

Anne Marie DuCharme, a senior at Notre Dame majoring in marketing, is the winner of a Geraldine Escobar Memorial Scholarship. She will attend a five-day collegiate institute in direct marketing in New York City in December. DuCharme is one of 28 winners in this national competition sponsored by the Direct Marketing Educational Foundation. The scholarship covers tuition, materials, meals, hotel accommodations and a transportation allowance. - The Observer

Notre Dame's College of Engineering has been selected for membership in the Association for Media-based Continuing Education for Engineers. The association is a group of universities that produces and distributes videotape continuing education programs for engineers, industrial scientists and technical managers. Notre Dame is one of 33 members of the AM-CEE, which is headquartered at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta. - The Observer

The Decio Faculty Building has been cited for outstanding design by a jury of professional architects and educators. The announcement was made in the November 1985 issue of American School and University, the monthly business magazine for school and college administrators. The jury said of the building, "The architects were able to address both the older and newer architectural styles in a prestigious setting with a building that is convenient, comfortable and inviting for faculty and students." - The Observer

Milton Burton, internationally recognized as the "Godfather of Radiation Chemistry" and for 25 years director of the Radiation Laboratory at Notre Dame, died in his home at 11:55 a.m. on Monday. During World War II, Burton was among the scientists who worked on the Manhattan Project, which developed the atomic bomb. His research during the war was conducted in Chicago and at the Clinton Laboratories in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Burton received the title "Godfather of Radiation Chemistry" decades ago from the French scientist Michel Mugat during a banquet in Moscow. Burton gave the field its name and at one time supervised virtually all radiation chemistry research worldwide. - The Observer

Of Interest

The Overseas Development Network will hold an organizational meeting tonight at 7 in the Center for Social Concerns library. ODN encourages anyone interested in Third World developmental issues to attend or contact Professor Kenneth Jameson of the department of economics. - The Observer

All students interested in auditioning for the Notre Dame Concert Band should inquire in the band office in the lower level of Washington Hall. - The Observer

The Enduring Wilderness, a film about the importance of our National Parks will be shown tonight at 8 in the Center for Social Concerns by the Environmental Concerns Organization. - The Observer

Advertising Careers will be the topic of discussion presented by Gary Villani, manager of employment for the Young and Rubilam Advertising Agency tonight at 8 in room 122 of Hayes-Healy Center. The presentation is sponsored by the Arts and Letters Business Society. - The Observer

Weather

Keep your nose covered because it's going to stay cold outside. Temperatures will dip toward freezing, with a high near 40. Gradual increasing cloudiness and a 20 percent chance of rain, possibly mixed with sleet in the afternoon today. There's a 60 to 70 percent chance of rain for tonight and tomorrow. Tomorrow's high will approach 50. - AP

The Observer

Design Editor.....Alice Kroeger
Design Assistant.....Mark McLaughlin
Layout Staff.....Bill Argenta
Typesetters.....Becky Gunderman
Mark B. Johnson
Chuck Papandrea
News Editor.....John Heasley
Copy Editor.....Miriam Hill
Sports Copy Editor.....Eric Scheuermann
Viewpoint Copy Editor.....Doug Hasler
Viewpoint Layout.....Carol Brown
Features Copy Editor.....Ed Nolan
Features Layout.....Mariel Labrador
ND Day Editor.....Sharon Emmite
SMC Day Editor.....Mary Jean Sully
Ad Design.....Mary Carol Creadon
Peter Georges
Joan Wrappe
Photographer.....Maureen Bachmann

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $30 per year ($20 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

If the weather don't get ya' the television commercials will

As the temperatures begin to fall and the tons of snow begin queuing up to fall on this lovely campus, I am reminded how much I hate the winters in South Bend. I can't stand the pasty, grey sky that is omnipresent from December to March and I can't stand plodding through snow and slipping on the ice in front of the dining hall.

As you may have guessed, I am from the South, and I do hate the weather here.

If this place were in my hometown, I would think Notre Dame was the perfect University.

Despite how much I hate the weather in South Bend, I would endure all of the back-breaking skids on the ice and all of the 80 below zero wind-chill factors if they would just get rid of the horrible media in this town. If there is one thing that I hate more than the weather in South Bend, it has to be the "public service" spots that are run on WNDU television and the horrible advertising present on both South Bend radio and television.

Do not get me wrong, I do not hate South Bend, nor am I trying to offend all of those Domers who hope one day to replace Lt. Sam Walsh on "Crime of the Week." It's just that I can't stand seeing all of those plastic people on my television set.

The most unbelievable character on television has to be the above-mentioned Lt. Sam Walsh. Granted, the Crimestoppers' "Crime of the Week" does serve a very admirable purpose in this community. The one-minute spot helps to solve crimes that the police have no solid leads on and encourages people to be better citizens.

But think about it, how would you like it if it were your murdered grandmother being portrayed by some old bat on television as Sam proceeds to give an exact sketch of a crime "they have no leads on"? No matter how annoying the portrayal may be, however, the show does have a purpose.

On the other hand, the one spot on WNDU that makes absolutely no sense to me is "Job Tips." Let's face it, folks, this thing is garbage.

Every time that I have seen this clip, they always have featured some person who is so drippy that I would never even want to admit I thought of being in his line of work.

I will never forget the thousand-part series that "Job Tips" ran featuring a waiter from a prominent South Bend restaurant. Every time this guy was asked another meaningless question about being a waiter, he would stare directly at the answer sheet he had on his lap as the camera zoomed in on the side of his face. It was classic

Kevin Becker

Assistant Viewpoint Editor

South Bend television.

But, enough of the picking on the series that some will defend as helping the public. The spots that no one in the civilized world should be exposed to are the advertisements we see on South Bend television.

There are two particularly grating TV sell sessions that come to mind.

The first, of course, is the ever-famous song of this wonderful city. As the scenes of the Golden Dome fade into a majestic shot of the top of St. Joe's Bank, a cherubim of South Bend angels chant in harmony, "South Bend, Mishawaka, alive with pride."

It almost brings a lump to my throat to think about it. This is a city that is so full of pride that they need to send the "South Bend, Mishawaka" hymn over the airways for at least 50 percent of the time that I am watching WNDU.

But the last and most obnoxious of all things that has ever hit the airwaves in the retrospective, present, and future history of mankind has to be the commercials for - you guessed it - "Waterbeds, Waterbeds, Waterbeds" where waterbeds are their "middle name" and aggravation is their first.

I cannot begin to count the times that my ears have been decimated by this annoying spurt of the ridiculous.

I also cannot begin to say how often I have wanted to kill the producer of this commercial and the owner of this store. Because of this ad, I will never sleep on a wavy waterbed, semi-waveless waterbed or even a waveless waterbed. I hate those peoples' ads. I hate their sales and I hate them for torturing me with their stupidity.

This winter, I am going to turn off the television and go play in the snow - I probably will enjoy it more.

The views expressed in the Inside column are the views of the author, and do not necessarily reflect the views of The Observer editorial board or staff.

21 NOVEMBER 1985

Smokeout Day

DO IT!

SOUTH BEND
• Pita Stuffed Sandwiches
• Delightful Pastries • Turkish Coffee
Tues - Sat 5:30PM - 9:30PM
COMPLETE CATERING FOR PARTIES & BANQUETS

MID - EASTERN VEGETARIAN

FOODS
• Vegetarian & Meat Dishes
SHAWERMA - MUGEDERA - BABA GHENOUJ
HOMMUS - FELAFEL
TEBBOULI SALAD
• LEBANESE STYLE GYROS

288-5639

838 Portage

10% Discount for ND/SMC Students

Summer Job Applications Available

The Notre Dame Alumni Association, in cooperation with the Career and Placement Services Office, will again sponsor the Summer Job Placement Program in 1985

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN APPLYING FOR SUMMER JOBS IN AN

Alumni Club city, obtain an application from the Alumni Office, 201 Admin. Bldg.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE COMPLETED AND RETURNED BY NOVEMBER 30.

Y&RNYYOUNG & RUBICAM NEW YORK*"The No. 1 Advertising Agency in the World"*You are invited to meet Mr. Gary Villani, Manager of Employment and hear him speak on
"Alternative Careers in the World of Advertising"*Thursday, November 21st*8 pm in Hayes — Healy Auditorium*Sponsored by the Notre Dame Arts & Letters Business Society*TESTS Unlimited

The campus-wide test file.

Ordering starts today!To order your tests (or just to see what we've got) look in your hall for the room of your Tests Unlimited hall representative
now!!!orders taken today through Tuesday

comments, questions, problems - call 1373

ND professor endorses divestment of SMC South African investments

By MARGIE KERSTEN and
KIMBERLY TRENNER
Senior Staff ReportersWill Saint Mary's College divest its South African investments?

Selective divestment, total divestment or the maintenance of the College's present position were all possibilities discussed by William Hickey, acting president of Saint Mary's.

Hickey remarks were presented at a lecture held Tuesday night, which was part of a South African Awareness week at Saint Mary's.

"I think Saint Mary's and Notre Dame need to be pulled out of their parochialism," said Peter Walshe, professor of government and director of African studies at Notre Dame.

Walshe was the fourth speaker in the series of lectures held this week. The discussion focused primarily on both the economic and business aspects of U.S. involvement in South Africa and the role Saint Mary's could play in countering apartheid.

The lecture was preceded by a short film, "More Than an Investment," produced by the South African Embassy. The film was "professionally done," but, "the most fascinating part about it was that it neglected to address the issue of apartheid," said Walshe.

Walshe spoke to an audience made up of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students, faculty, Saint Mary's administration and members of the South Bend community, some of whom participated in the two-hour discussion.

After the film, Walshe spoke, pointing out both moral and economic reasons in favor of divestment.

"A process of divestment takes time, perhaps one or two years," he said, and then went on to explain why this divestment should take place.

Corporate investments in South Africa "have strengthened apartheid," he said. Corporations bring "capital, technology and administrative expertise" into South Africa, according to Walshe. These corporations are productive enterprises for the South African government, military and police through tax revenue.

Walshe also stressed the importance of two "levers" which are necessary for change. These are protests by blacks, backed by economic sanctions. Walshe stated the importance of the collaboration of these two forces.

The distinction between micro and macro analysis of apartheid was made by Walshe. The Sullivan Principles are strictly micro analytic and do not change the segregation in society as a whole.

Walshe commented, the Sullivan Principles focus their concern on integrating the "restaurants and toilets" within the corporate buildings. But segregation remains outside the corporate walls, he said, leaving the basic structures of apartheid untouched.

Walshe said the response of the South African government to the black uprising is clear. The government has "refused to meet with members of the African National Congress," its military occupies black townships, and they have destroyed "the last remnants of free press."

"Our white middle-class paternalism," must be overcome, Walshe said. "We think we have the answer for South Africa but we block our cars and do not hear black opinion," he said.

Dorothy Feigl, acting vice president and dean of faculty at Saint Mary's, questioned why divestment would be a positive step. Walshe responded by explaining the necessity of a growing economy in South Africa and an increase in jobs for blacks. "South Africa needs the help from the West to expand their economy," Walshe said.

The question of divestment at Saint Mary's was posed to Hickey. He responded, "We have been reading a lot . . ." and he continued on to say "we have found no answer, it is a rather complex issue."

Hickey explained that the issues of divestment are being researched by the Investment Sub-Committee of the Finance and Budget Committee. This sub-committee is made up of members of the Saint Mary's Board of Regents and two administrators from the College.

Walshe then said the College always should keep the morality of the issue in mind. "Our investments are a moral issue." But if the board is concerned with the legality of the issue, they should be "questioning their responsibilities to the stockholders, as the rate of return in South African investments has fallen to a mere 5 percent," Walshe said.

In response to the question, "Would Saint Mary's disclose the names of the corporations in which the College has investments?" Hickey replied, "I can't think off-hand why we wouldn't." Hickey then recommended writing a letter to request the names of the corporations and said in the meantime he would check through the proper channels.

Rowing club 50-hour 'ergathon' begins today

By CHRIS MURPHY
News Staff

Members of the Notre Dame Rowing Club will be doing a lot of rowing for the next two days. But they won't be going any farther than South Dining Hall.

The club will begin its annual ergathon at 10:20 this morning.

The ergathon, which will take place at the South Dining Hall, is to rowers what a marathon is to runners.

Club members will test their stamina on an ergometer, a machine which simulates the resistance of rowing. A boat is attached to a bike wheel with metal chains. Four rowers sit in the simulated machine much like a rowboat. One hundred and twenty members in all will be rowing for the club during the ergathon.

Club President Mike Songer said he hopes the club will reach its goal of rowing for 50 hours. The ergathon will conclude at 12:20 Saturday afternoon, kickoff time for the Notre Dame-LSU game.

The ergathon's purpose is to raise money for the Notre Dame Rowing Club. All 150 members of the club collected pledges from the Notre Dame community. Pledges are 2 cents per hour or a $1 contribution if the club meets its 50-hour goal.

The club has set a goal of raising $2,000 this year. Last year, the club raised $1,200 for its rowing efforts. All proceeds of the ergathon will go to meeting club expenses, according to Songer.

"Rowing is a very expensive sport. We currently have nine boats that cost about $700 per boat. Occasionally, there are expenses such as a broken rudder that can cost up to $50. Maintaining these boats is very expensive, as most of them are handmade, said Songer."

Rowing club members will also be accepting donations at the ergathon.

Attention: Notre Dame Employees YOU CAN JOIN THE FIRST LOCAL IPA * HMO IN THE MICHIANA AREA

Key
Health
Plan*100% TOTAL HEALTH CARE WITH NO DEDUCTIBLES
AND MINIMAL COPAYMENTS*COVERS
IN FULL

- ▶ OFFICE VISITS
- ▶ ROUTINE CHECK-UPS
- ▶ PREGNANCIES
- ▶ SURGERIES
- ▶ HOSPITALIZATIONS
- ▶ EMERGENCY CARE BOTH IN AND OUT OF AREA —
WORLDWIDE
- ▶ PAP SMEARS
- ▶ IMMUNIZATIONS/INOCULATIONS

KEY HEALTH PLAN

Wholly Owned by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Indiana

*Individual Practice Association (you personally choose a privately practicing physician as your health care manager)AN OFFICER
AND
A
GENTLEMAN*Fri & Sat Nov 22 & 23*9:30 & 11 PM*Carroll Hall-SMC*$1

Juniper Press offers 'valuable' book publishing experience

By LARRY BURKE
Staff Reporter

It is not every day that a group of students publishes a book, but at Notre Dame it happens once a year.

The group is the Juniper Press, a student-owned and operated company which selects one publication to sell and market each year.

This year the publication is "Reflections in the Dome," a collection of personal remembrances from 10 former Notre Dame students and professors.

Juniper Press consists of the students in a book publishing course offered by the American studies department and taught by Elizabeth Christman, associate professor of American studies.

Christman began the course at Notre Dame and has taught it each fall semester for the past nine years.

In the actual publishing process, Christman is only an advisor, however. It is the students who handle the complete operation - from selection of material to production and sales.

"This course is valuable in two ways," explained Christman. "It offers the possibility of a career in book publishing for Arts and Letters majors because it provides substantial experience in that area, but it also teaches students about the business world in general - getting along with co-workers and thinking in terms of profit and loss."

The members of Juniper Press take an interest in financial matters from the start. Each student invested $35 in the company to cover the initial production costs. If the book realizes a profit, then the students can choose to keep the extra money or put it in a fund for the next year's class.

Although the course does include some reading and lectures on book publishing, the actual work on the book begins early in the semester. After the fourth class session, officers are selected and students assume the responsibilities of their various positions.

There are officers in the areas of production, marketing, and business, as well as a company president, a corporate secretary, an editor-in-chief, and a copy editor.

Once the structure of the company is set up and the type of publication is determined Juniper Press begins the publishing process.

The first major task this year was selecting the specific essays to be published. Major James O'Rourke, 1968 alumnus and professor at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indiana, submitted a collection of essays to Juniper Press, and the final product is made up of the edited versions of 10 of these essays.

"We wanted essays that were well-written and entertaining," said Maura Mandyck, editor-in-chief of Juniper Press, who has final say as to which essays will be published.

"We also wanted a good variety of essays. Generally, Juniper Press is aimed at appealing to students, but since this book contained essays from alumni we tried to make it more appealing to alumni."

Once the content is decided upon, the material is edited and the production process begins. The work of Juniper Press does not end with the editing and designing of the book, however. The business and marketing departments are at the same time working to finance and publicize the publication.

All the members of Juniper Press are required to put in extra time outside the regular class sessions, but Mandyck said she saw it as time well spent.

"It's like an extra-curricular activity because it does take up a lot of time," she said. "The thing that makes it worthwhile is that in this class you have something to show for all the time you put in. In other classes you study, take tests, and get a grade, but you don't come away with anything to show for it."

"Reflections in the Dome" is currently on sale in the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's bookstores. Sales are going well, according to Patricia Vanek, book department head at The Hammes Notre Dame Bookstore.

STV courses to be offered this spring

By EILEEN HOFFMANN
Staff Reporter

"Bridging the culture gap between the sciences and the humanities" is the goal of a new Notre Dame program to be offered this spring, according to Associate Professor of philosophy Vaughn McKim, director of the new program.

Titled "Science, Technology and Values," the program was made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

STV courses may be taken as elective courses for credit toward graduation, as complements to a particular course of study or as a concentration complementing any major.

In the past 10 years, programs such as this have emerged at more than 40 schools throughout the country, McKim said. "MIT was probably the first school to begin such a program," he said.

Notre Dame's program is most closely related to the programs at Stanford and Duke, McKim added.

A concentration in STV consists of a total of five courses. Of the five courses, a student must take one course in each of three "clusters." The other two courses can be taken in any cluster.

The clusters are; "History of Science and Technology," "Philosophy of Science and Technology," and "Science, Technology and Values."

Themes to be emphasized in the curriculum will be the history and philosophy of the sciences, as well as ethical issues in science and technology.

The STV office is in Room 338 O'Shaughnessy Hall.

University receives grant

Special to The Observer

The University of Notre Dame will receive a $1 million grant from the Dr. Scholl Foundation to endow a professorship in international economics.

According to University President Father Theodore Hesburgh, "In gratefully accepting this important grant from the Dr. Scholl Foundation, we also celebrate Notre Dame's international character which the Foundation's beneficence have recognized and encouraged. We are pleased that from now on, there will always be a Dr. William Scholl Professor of International Economics at Notre Dame."

The Dr. William Scholl Chair in International Economics brings to 63 the number of endowed chairs established at the University of Notre Dame.

MORGAN STANLEY

will host an informal reception

to discuss

2-year job opportunities for

1986 graduates

as

Financial Analysts

in

Investment Banking

Thursday, November 21, 1985

8:00 p.m.

Notre Dame Room

The Morris Inn

All Majors Welcome

Accent

A collection of songs from your attic

ANDREW HUGHES
features writer

The success of the film "The Big Chill" has brought new meaning to the term 'Baby Boomer.' The soundtrack to that film contained nearly 20 songs indicative of the wide range of musical styles that came out of the '60s. Now the people at Jeito Concepts Inc., a division of Warner Brothers Communications, have compiled ten albums containing 12 tracks each of some of the '60s best songs under the group heading Baby Boomer Classics - The Sixties.

Records

Baby Boomer Classics

★★★★ (out of four)

This collection is an invaluable guide to the '60s music. Each album is appropriately titled to reflect the genre it represents. The collection's titles are British, Electric, Folk, Soul, and Surf.

Well known hit songs generally make up the albums. Occasionally, a rare song or rendition of a song will pop up though. Surf contains "I Live For The Sun" by the Sunrays. The Sunrays were a young California group produced by the Beach Boys father, Murray Wilson, after his sons fired him.

Ike and Tina Turner's version of Creedence Clearwater Revival's classic "Proud Mary" is included on Dance. British contains Marianne Faithfull's excellent rendition of the Rolling Stones' hit "As Time Goes By."

British covers the early English Invasion with such hits as Manfred Mann's "Do Wah Diddy Diddy," Peter and Gordon's "A World Without Love," (penned by Paul McCartney), and the Kinks' "You Really Got Me." The Small Faces' "Itchykoo Park" spotlights British psychedelia. English folk star Donovan is represented by "Catch The Wind."

British covers the English '60s music scene quite well through its balance of early pop hits and later artistic songs. JCI decided to omit the Beatles from British so that lesser known groups such as the Fortunes could be included.

Dance works its way through the '60s dance styles from the early Beatlesque rock-pop of "Lies" by the Knickerbockers to the soulful "Rescue Me" by Fontella Bass. Some of Dance's highlights are Mitch Ryder's "Detroit Medley," the Spencer Davis Group's "I'm A Man," and Eddie Floyd's "Knock On Wood," which Eric Clapton recently covered. Dance stays away from songs about dance crazes, which were very popular during the early years of the decade. Only Headhunter and the Cannibals' "Land of a Thousand Dances" which is a survey of then popular dances is included in that vein.

Mellow is one of the best volumes in the collection. Such well known easy listening hits as "California Dreamin'" by the Mamas and Papas, "Brown Eyed Girl" by Van Morrison, "Turn, Turn, Turn" by The Byrds, and "Aquarius" by the 5th Dimension are included. Counterbalancing the well known hits are the lesser known, but equally enjoyable, "A Different Drum" by the Stone Poneys, "Good Morning, Starshine" by Oliver, and "Coming Into Los Angeles" by Arlo Guthrie.

Mellow is probably the best compiled album in the series as every song belongs on this volume. The other albums contain at least one song each that does not fit in, unlike Mellow.

The sound quality on these albums is extremely good considering the age of some of the master tapes these songs come from. The entire collection is also available on high quality chrome cassettes.

TWELVE EASY ROCKIN' HITS OF THE SIXTIES

ALL ORIGINAL MASTER RECORDINGS

Whether you enjoy a particular genre of '60s music or are a fan of the whole era, Baby Boomer Classics - The Sixties will serve you well. In addition to the '60s, JCI has just begun an excellent series of '50s anthologies. Hopefully, JCI will continue digging through the vaults of record companies and will release more series albums.

Band mixes secret ingredient in each song

ERIC BERGAMO
features copy editor

Wine improves with age. Rock groups also improve over the course of time. Rush, Canada's premier rock band, proves that the longer they stay together, much like fine wine, the better they become.

Records

Power Windows

★★★★ (out of four)

Power Windows is Rush's latest album and shows the groups penchant for experimentation. Each song is different in its own way. From the 25-voice chorus in the background of "Marathon" to the provocative use of African drums and bongos on "Territories" and "Mystic Rhythms," Rush seeks the needed ingredient that will make each cut distinct from the others on the album. If that is not enough to convince, Rush uses a thirty piece string section on "Manhattan Project."

But Power Windows is much more than the instrumental music, it is also clever lyrics which sets the music of Rush apart from the rest of today's contemporary rock groups. "The Big Money" tells of how money has dehumanized society to the point where money has taken control of man. "Marathon" describes the glory and pain of running a long run.

If there is a song that stands out above the rest, "Manhattan Project" is that song. Telling of man's quest for the atom bomb, it relates a disquieting vision of the consequences of making the bomb.

All of the brightest boys.
To play with their biggest toys -
More than they bargained for...
The cut provides a haunting and thought provoking image of the Cheers to the three Canadians who comprise Rush. Geddy Lee is at his best here with his tight vocals. The talented Alex Lifeson gives an excellent account for himself on guitar and Niel Peart's drums are par excellence on this album. Also to be congratulated is sound engineer Jimbo Burton, who brings out the best in Rush's music, and Andy Richards, who wrote a number of intriguing synthesizer arrangements.

Power Windows is a work of art made by three talented rock artists and it is their best since their live album Exit... Stage Left.

So if you want an album of vintage rock to add to your collection, Power Windows is the album that will increase your music collection's value. This is the Chateau de Rock that you won't mind storing in your cellar of rock classics.

Please support
AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY®

Wygant Floral CO. Inc.
"Flowers for all occasions"
Come in and Browse
327 Lincolnway 232-3354

Kegs Available
Ironwood stands Bayou, IRISH!
ironwood liquors
1725 NORTH IRONWOOD ROAD
SOUTH BEND, INDIANA 46635
(219) 272-7144

Happy Birthday
Maureen
McMahon

How do you do it?
You manhandler you!!

Love,
Jen, Brigid, Katie,
Mary & Terry

the Student Activities Board presents:

against all odds

November 20th and 21st
7:00, 9:15, and 11:30 p.m.

$1.50

Hall of Engineering

The Bomb

Peace efforts garner Nobel Peace Prize

SCOTT BEARBY
features staff writer

Five years ago 1965 alumnus Dr. James Muller, two American colleagues, and three Russian doctors had a prescription for the nuclear arms race: stop the build-up of nuclear weapons before it becomes out of control.

Together, they formed the International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War. Even though they knew their organization had historical potential, they had no resources other than their determination to make the world aware of the danger of nuclear weapons.

As the years progressed, the IPPNW spread its message and now boasts over 135,000 physicians in 41 countries.

Earlier this month their world influence became apparent as the Norwegian Nobel Committee named the group as the 1986 Nobel Peace Prize winner. They were selected over a record 99 applicants, including President Ronald Reagan and Elie Wiesel, the chronicler of the holocaust.

The organization represents what Muller calls the "abolitionist viewpoint on the nuclear arms race." He explained that unlike the arms control viewpoint, their organization is calling for a stop to the production of nuclear arms, as well as an end to all nuclear testing. He added that "arms control means keeping as many weapons as you can while bargaining."

The reasons behind the physicians' desire to make their goals reality are simple medical facts. Muller said if a nuclear bomb were to hit South Bend, the city, Notre Dame, and the surrounding area would be destroyed.

According to Muller, approximately 300 nuclear weapons would be needed to destroy all cities in the United States and the U.S.S.R. Currently, his estimate is that both sides have 8,000 weapons which can be sent at any time. The calculations show that there are more weapons than are necessary to destroy the world.

While at Notre Dame, Muller was encouraged by his father, alumnus Paul Muller to study Russian. While serving as the first American medical exchange student to study in Russia in 1967, Muller was able to make valuable connections with Russian doctors who also opposed the nuclear arms build-up.

Muller said "by 1978, the arms race was going crazy." He decided to see if Russian physicians would publicly oppose the nuclear policies which the United States and the U.S.S.R. were adopting at the time. Muller and his American co-founders received a letter from the Russians in October, 1979 agreeing to the concept of the IPPNW.

Since that time Muller was spending an average of 40 hours a week in promoting the organization, while raising a family and continuing his work as a cardiologist at Harvard University. He continued his efforts despite sacrificing time with his family and having Harvard tell him "his future at Harvard is limited" because he did not have the time to have his cardiology research published.

The organization continued to make headway in making the dangers of nuclear weapons known. Muller views the IPPNW as having a hand in the recent Soviet agreement to stop nuclear testing. He explained that one month after the physicians' group set the policy to have nuclear testing halted, the Russians did also.

Muller views other Notre Dame alumni as being just responsible for the organization's success as he has been. He cites 1963 graduate Dr. John Pastore as "making a similar contribution to mine" and has succeeded Muller as secretary of the IPPNW, after Muller took a leave of absence in order to devote more time to his family and his research.

Dr. James Muller receives Nobel Peace Prize.

Alumnus Dr. David Grier, current Brown University medical school dean, also served as one of the first officers in the group.

Muller added that world-famous neurosurgeon Dr. Joseph Evans, played a great role in getting South American physicians involved, before his death.

Muller involved his father in the group, who helped make the organization more legitimate by having the American Medical Association say physicians should educate about nuclear weapons. Before the backing of the AMA, the organization was not considered legitimate and was even thought to be a Soviet sympathizing group by some.

Of the twenty original people who helped the organization off the ground, one-quarter were Notre Dame graduates. Muller believes the involvement by alumni is because "Notre Dame gives a good technical background for understanding the problem. Students develop the attitude that no problem is too large. Many people believe the nuclear problem is hopeless, but Notre Dame students do not. Finally, there is the Christian sense of understanding your enemy and trying to find a common ground to work with them."

Muller also appreciates the support Notre Dame President Father Theodore Hesburgh has given him and the IPPNW. Hesburgh wrote two letters to Muller when the organization was in its early stages saying he is "fully with you in your wonderful efforts." He told Muller the group had a large task as "there are too many (people) who are blindly promoting the nuclear race for extinction."

Now with the recognition by the Nobel Committee and the $225,000 prize, Muller hopes the organization will have added success in raising public consciousness on the nuclear issue, while stopping governments from "playing nuclear chess." Muller knows it will be a lifelong struggle but feels the world does not have more than 30 to 40 years if present policies continue.

Muller feels governments are still operating under the "bow and arrow and bullet principle - the more you have, the safer you will be." He counters that nuclear weapons are so destructive, this principle doesn't apply. Muller feels the public is much more aware of the dangerous situation, saying "any grade school child knows there are too many weapons."

Muller is planning to visit Notre Dame on December 4, although he has not worked out details of the visit as of yet.

Eye-opening Hiroshima mission

AMY STEPHAN
features writer

On August 6, 1945 a group of American B-29 bombers flew over Hiroshima, and the atomic age began. Amidst the group of bombers was a plane carrying four civilians, including a Notre Dame scientist, Bernard Waldman.

Waldman joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1938, where he became involved in research in atomic disintegration and X-rays. In 1943 he was granted a leave of absence to join other research scientists on what is known as "The Manhattan Project."

He was present at the first test of the atomic bomb on July 16, 1945 at Alamogordo, N.M. and later flew to the Tinian island, where he joined three other American civilians in an army observation plane with the group of B-29s that dropped the bomb over Hiroshima.

Waldman described his experience to the South Bend Tribune upon his return to Notre Dame: "We wore welder's glasses to protect our eyes from the first flash and glare, then we took them off and watched as a cylindrical column of smoke reached into the sky with flame churning out of the top.

"Presently a white cloud emerged from the top of the column and pushed 40,000 feet straight up.... A cloud of dust arose from a circle we estimated to be three feet in diameter. Nothing was visible through it. It was impenetrable."

Although Waldman called the blast "an awesome spectacle" in the Tribune article, his was not a sight-seeing mission. One objective of the scientific party was to measure the blast, and Waldman's work in New Mexico had involved preparing instrumentation to record the pressure wave of the explosion.

Because the measurements taken from the plane would be subject to turbulence, a pressure-measuring device was attached to a parachute and dropped into the area. An FM radio transmitted the data to the plane, where it was displayed on an oscilloscope that had been calibrated with a TNT explosion. These measurements indicated that the Hiroshima bomb exploded with the force of about 20,000 TNT bombs.

After the war, Waldman continued his career at the Notre Dame, where in 1956 he supervised the construction of Notre Dame's third electrostatic generator. He was named dean of the College of Science in 1967, a position he held until his retirement from the University in 1979. During his tenure as dean, he oversaw the completion of the Galvin Life Science Center and plans for a new chemical research building (Stepan Chemistry Hall).

Although Waldman said in a 1946 South Bend Tribune article that the use of the atomic bomb in Japan was warranted because of the American lives saved that would have been lost in a Japanese invasion, he recognized the threat posed by the technology he helped to develop.

"Control of the national atomic energy program should be entrusted to civilian - not military - direction 'if the nation is to avoid decay and possible disaster,'" Waldman said in a 1946 Chicago Daily Times article.

He opposed offering the atomic bomb to other nations in an article in The Guardian of Little Rock, Ark. "The nations of the world, through the United Nations Organization, must set up a workable basis for cooperation. When this is done atomic energy information as well as all other scientific information could be freely interchanged. But this can't be a one-way deal. It must be an interchange in the fullest meaning of the word."

Dr. Bernard Waldman

Waldman, one of a select group who saw firsthand the devastation humans could create, seemed in 1946 grimly prophetic in his vision of the coming nuclear arms race: "We actually are in an armament race right now and will be as long as the military has control. The disturbing thing about it is that, in the long run, this nation could not win out in any such armaments race. Eventually, we must lose."

Sports Briefs

The ND Charity Bowl to raise money for injured student Kevin Hurley will take place Sunday at 1 p.m. in Notre Dame Stadium. An all-star team of ND women flag football players will play an all-star team of SMC players at 1 p.m., followed by the men's inter-hall football championships. Cost of the event is $1, and students may purchase tickets at 12:30 p.m. the day of the game at Gate 14. - The Observer

NVA white water river rafting will be held over spring break of 1986. For those interested there will be an informational meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the Footbal Auditorium of the ACC. For more information call the NVA office. - The Observer

WVFI Sports, AM-64, will broadcast tonight's ND-Lake Forest hockey game at 7:20 p.m. with Joe Malvezzi and Chuck Freeby. Friday night, Pete Pranica and Frank Mastro will call the ND-St. Joseph's (Ind.) basketball game beginning at 7:50 p.m.. On Saturday, WVFI will broadcast the ND-LSU football game beginning with "The Irish Today" at 11:45 a.m.. Pete Pranica and Kelly Brothers will call the action. - The Observer

An NVA hydorobics sample class will take place tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Rolfs Aquatic Center. Non-swimmers are welcome to partake in the water aerobics. For more information call the NVA office. - The Observer

The ND water polo team will hold a meeting tonight at 6:30 p.m. in the Rolfs Aquatic Center. Yearbook photos will be taken at that time. For more information call Tom O'Reilly at 283-3588. - The Observer

ACC open skating will be available for all students, faculty, and staff immediately following tonight's Notre Dame-Lake Forest hockey game. Game time is at 7:30 p.m. and skates will be available for a rental fee. - The Observer

A pep rally for the ND football team will be held tomorrow at 7 p.m. in Stepan Center. Guest speakers will include Allen Pinkett, Mike Larkin, coach Mal Moore and Head Coach Gerry Faust. - The Observer

SMC co-ed volleyball tourney registrations are due tomorrow at the Angela Athletic Facility. Play will start this Monday evening and continue until Dec. 19. For more information call the Angela Facility at 284-5549 or Karla at 284-4354. - The Observer

SMC Turkey-Trot registrations must be turned in with the $1 entry fee tomorrow by noon at the Angela Athletic Facility. Races will include a 3-mile run, a 5-mile run, and a 1 1/2-mile walk. - The Observer

Laufenberg signed by Washington

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Washington Redskins re-signed former Indiana University quarterback Babe Laufenberg yesterday to serve as a backup to Jay Schroeder.

Schroeder became the Redskins' starting quarterback in the second quarter of Monday night's game against the New York Giants after Joe Theismann suffered a compound leg fracture. Theismann, 36, who broke the tibia and fibula bones in his lower right leg, was listed in fair condition at Arlington Hospital in Virginia.

Laufenberg, 25, returned from a Mexican vacation and checked in at Redskin Park Wednesday after being contacted by General Manager Bobby Beathard.

Classifieds

NOTICES

TYPING AVAILABLE
287-4082

TYPING CALL CHRIS 234-8997

PRO-TYPE Over 15 years exp. Specializing in student papers, law papers, dissertations, resumes. 277-5833

$10-$300 WEEKLY/UP MAILING CIRCULARS! NO QUOTAS! SINCERELY INTERESTED RUSH SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE: SUCCESS, PO BOX 470CEQ, WOODSTOCK, IL 60086.

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE. CALL MRS. COKER, 233-7009.

TYPING
277-6045
FREE PICKUP & DELIVERY

TYPING
Jackie Boggs
654-5793

TYPING DONE BY BALLY. 272-7573.

PSYC CLUB MEETING 7:00 PM NOV. 25 LAFORTUNE AUD. OFFICER ELECTIONS, TALK ON STRATEGIES FOR GETTING INTO GRAD SCHOOL, AND REFRESHMENTS

LOST/FOUND

LOST
One woman's Pulsar watch
(all black)
Please call 1254 if found

Found: car key belonging to an Audi. Has been taken to Lost & Found, La Fortune.

Have you lost an umbrella lately? Did you leave it on a tray in the dining hall? Well then you're in luck. Call Anne at 1320 to claim it.

LOST: 1 clear glass dangling heart-shaped earring on 11/14; somewhere around Architecture bldg, south dining hall, or stadium lot. If found please call Stupid at 272-3379. Great sentimental value. Thanks.

FOUND: A woolen cap on the sidewalk in front of the Notre Dame Post Office. May be claimed in Room B-19 Fitzpatrick or by calling 239-6381.

HIGH SCHOOL JACKET LOST: VERY, VERY, VERY SENTIMENTAL!! picture of New York state on back-- "CHRIS" on front-- "12 on sleeve If you return it, I promise I'll make it worth your while. THANK YOU! Chris 1453

LOST: PAIR OF GLASSES. GOLD METAL FRAME AND SLIGHTLY TINTED. WERE IN A SOFT, BROWN CASE. IF FOUND, PLEASE CALL 3404. THANK-YOU.

FOUND A WHITE YARN CAP. SUNDAY EVENING IN FRONT OF DILLON HALL. 1431

LOST: small cameo ring on Monday 11/19 - maybe in N. Dining Hall or BP. If found, PLEASE call 1264 REWARD

LOST-ND ROUND METAL KEYCHAIN AND FOUR KEYS-SOMEWHERE IN ENGINEERING BLDG. CALL ANNE 277-7566.

LOST AT SMC - GOLD WOMEN'S 1985 HIGH SCHOOL CLASS RING ON 11/8/85 - GARNET STONE - INITIALS CAB INSIDE - REWARD CALL CHERYL AT 284-5081

LOST IN MADEIRA - A PURPLE FOLDER CONTAINING ALL MY MANAGEMENT ASSIGNMENTS INCLUDING FINAL EXAM!!! IF FOUND PLEASE CALL LIZ 284-4102 PLEASE HELP IT IS VERY IMPORTANT I GET THIS BACK!!!!

LOST - BURGUNDY GIRL'S EYE GLASSES BETWEEN THE GROTTO BUS STOP AND FLANNER. IF FOUND PLEASE CALL THEREBA AT 284-4128.

FOUND: VARIOUS JACKETS WITH "KENOSHA", "ILL. STATE", "T.T. LAWN SERVICE", AND "MADEN CATHOLIC". CLAIM AT LOST AND FOUND, LAFORTUNE.

LOST!!! 14k. gold rope chain bracelet, possibly in Art bldg. please call 277-1256 THANKS!

Lost: My father lost his Omega watch somewhere on campus on the Saturday of the Mississippi game, November 9. This watch has great personal value to him. It has a leather band, with his company's initials, WNL, on its face. The watch also has his name engraved on it in script: John K. Drake. Please call 234-0363 or 284-5236 and ask for Rose if you have any info about this watch. Thank you!

LOST! A grey Swatch with a black face and two watchgaurds. Possibly at the Rockne Memorial. Was given to me by my Hometown Honey and has great sentimental value. Large reward offered!!! Please call Eric at 283 2558

FOUND: 14K GOLD BRACELET IN THE LIBRARY. TELL ME WHAT FLOOR AND THE DATE LOST TO CLAIM. 4364.

FOR RENT

HOUSE FOR 2ND SEMESTER. 5-BDRMS, $125/MO/PERSON. 1 MI. NO. OF CAMPUS. CALL 674-6595 AFTER 5 P.M.

Nice furnished homes for next school year 277-3604

HOUSE FOR 2ND SEM. 3 BDRM. GREAT SHAPE. STUDENT NBHD NEAR CAMPUS CALL 277-0988 AFTER 8 P.M.

WANTED

Need riders to Atlanta area 11/27-12/1. Call Ed 232-8230.

HELP DON'T LEAVE ME STRANDED AT SMC! NEED RIDE TO CINCINNATI FOR THANKSGIVING BREAK PLEASE CALL ANNE AT 284-5409 WILL SHARE IN EXPENSES

I NEED A RIDE TO YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO FOR 2 PEOPLE, CALL 2722

WANTED: Ride to Mass. 11/24/85, any friends traveling to N.D. for the L.S.U. game who can take me home on Sunday? Call Paul at 277-1913 Also need ride back to N.D. after Thanksgiving

RIDE/RIDERS TO LEXINGTON FOR THANKSGIVING. DON'T MAKE ME EAT TURKEY HERE CALL MIKE, 1644 ANYTIME. THANKS!

NEED RIDE TO CHICAGO THIS WEEKEND 11/22-11/24 CALL JUDY 283-3572 OR 284-4389

RIDE NEEDED TO U OF ILL NOV 22-24 CALL KATHY 4395(SMC)

Please help me! I need a ride to Washington, D.C., for Thanksgiving. Can leave anytime. Call Paul at 1636.

Going to Columbus Ohio for Thanksgiving? Take me with you. Will share expenses. Chris 2882

Help! I need 4 LSU GAS. Call Mike X1145

YOU CAN HELP ME GET HOME or, you can turn the page. Ride needed to WASH., D.C. for T-giving break. John 234-7412

Need ride to Cleveland area (exit 10 off of Ohio Turnpike) for Thanksgiving. Please call Colin 2371.

WANTED: TUDORING IN BASIC CHEMISTRY. MAKE AN EASY EXTRA BUCK AND HELP SOMEONE OUT. CALL ALEX. EVENINGS. 289-3604.

Need Ride to Cincinnati from 11/26-27 Tom 1441

I need a ride to Cleveland for Thanksgiving!! I will leave either Tuesday or Wednesday and will come back Friday, Saturday or Sunday! Will Share expenses! Lisa 2955

Ride needed to AKRON for Turkey Day on Tues. 26 after 12:15! call Moe at 4173

$ IF YOU ARE GOING TO BE AROUND DURING CHRISTMAS BREAK AND WOULD LIKE TO EARN SOME EXTRA $$$$, THE PHONE/MAIL PROGRAM IS JUST THE PLACE FOR YOU! PARTICIPATE IN CALLING ALUMNAE OF SMC IN AN EXCITING FUND RAISING VENTURE. SMC STUDENTS ONLY. CALL MARTHA OR PAT AT 5351 TODAY!!!

Need ride to Northern Chicago for Thanksgiving leaving Wed. Call Megan 284-5198

FOR SALE

Original French Perfume now available on campus! 3.4 fl. oz. only $18. Imported directly from France. Call 272-5206 between 6-8pm and ask for a product demonstration.

76 TOYOTA WAGON 4-CYLINDER, 4 SPEED. SOME RUST, RUNS VERY WELL. PRICE: $750 277-5294 EVENINGS.

TICKETS

LSU GAS FOR SALE 272-6306

Need Two LSU GAS's or Student Tickets call John at 4073

WILL PAY BIG BUCKS FOR 2 GAS'S TO THE ND VS. ST. JOSEPH'S BASKETBALL GAME THIS FRIDAY!! CALL MIKE AT 1173

Need two (2) B-Ball GAS's to St. Joseph's game. Call x1464.

NEED TWO LSU GAS'S 283-4332

NEED LSU TIXs. 232-1486 after 3.

I have 6 LSU GAS's for sale. Best offers. Eric 1527.

NEED 4 LSU GAS (2 PAIR OK) $20EA CALL JIM 1605

HELP! I NEED 2 ST. JOE'S B-BALL TIX CALL 2075

NEED LSU TICKETS-GAS'S AND STUDENT CALL 277-0740

NEED 2 GAS'S FOR LSU GAME. CALL HELEN 3624.

2 LSU GAS'S FOR SALE BLOB 1222

Need LSU Student Ticket for a very beautiful lady. call Paul at 3510

6 LSU GASs for sale Best Offer Call Sean 2075

FOR SALE: Two LSU GAS's. Call Martha at 284-5019.

MY VISITING BROTHER SAID TO ME "GET ME 2 LSU TIXS OR I'LL KILL YA" PLEASE HELP SAVE THIS SCARED SIS! CALL 284-4201.

PERSONALS

The trouble is that we get so good at telling ourselves we won't use our real powers that after a while we think we can't

- Richard Bach, The Bridge Across Forever

OUR HOUSE: COLD BEER & LIQUOR. CARRY OUT TO 3 A.M. U.S. 31 N., 1 BLOCK SOUTH OF HOLIDAY INN.

Earn $$$ for all those books you didn't read!! PANDORA'S will buy your used books M-F 11-4 or we can help you find a used book for a class. We're open M-F 11-6, SAT & SUN 10-5. PANDORA'S is opposite CORBY'S at 937 South Bend Ave.

SENIORS! HOLY CROSS ASSOCIATES Work as a volunteer in several U.S. cities. Application: Mary Ann Roemer, 7949.

Applications for AN TOSTAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE positions are available in the student government office on the second floor of La Fortune. Anyone interested in working for the zaniest group on campus should apply by December 2. Any questions? Call Kendra Erven at 289-4417

FOR SALE

Six LSU GASs
Call Jay at 2081

HUNGRY? Call YELLOW SUBMARINE at 272-HIKE. Delivery hours: 5pm-12pm Monday-Thursday; 5pm-2am Friday; 3pm-1am Saturday; and 4pm-10pm Sunday.

Need ride to PITTSBURGH for break! Donna 2279

Need help- ask St. Jude

LIVE BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN TAPES FROM ALL TOURS FOR SALE. CALL 2011 FOR INFO.

Just last night I was reminded of just how bad it had gotten and just how sick I had become. Femmes

PLEASE HELP ME. I need a ride to the WINDY CITY for Thanksgiving Break. Will share expenses etc. Call ANNE 284-4083.

THANK YOU ST. JUDE. aj

THE BRIDE IS BACK!!

THE BRIDE IS BACK!!

THE BRIDE IS BACK!!

Fred and Sally Faver - CATCH IT!

"You're so ugly! Baby, what do you WANT FROM ME!" - The new Violent Femmes album will be released next week.

Sue from LeMans - Please call me again! I want to meet you. John

New Albums by Marillion
Depeche Mode
Asia
Yes
Freddie Jackson
Eddie Murphy
and lots more!
ONLY $6.99
Rock du Lac, first floor La Fortune

TDK S90
blank tapes
ONLY 2 for $3.99
While supply lasts
Rock du Lac

Ski Colorado over Spring Break!!! Stay on the slopes of Breckenridge Mtn. Trip includes slope side condominium, lift tickets (for Copper Mtn, Keystone, A-Basin, and Breckenridge), and shuttle to Mtn. All for $249!!! Organizational Mtg. Monday Nov. 25 Contact Joe McBride (1236) or Jeff Parker (3419) for place and other details

TOYS FOR TOTS NIGHT!! Thursday night, November 21 at the SENIOR ALUMNI CLUB. All proceeds at the door go to the TOYS FOR TOTS program. C'mon out and help the Semper Fidelis Club put a smile on the faces of the kids of South Bend this Christmas.

Dave- You make me happy. Remember "UNBELIEVABLE!!" Love Ya -K.

SPEAKER: GARY CARUSO
SUMMER JOBS AND CAREERS IN WASHINGTON D.C.
TONIGHT
7-8PM
LIBRARY AUDITORIUM

DANCE WITH
THE RHYTHM METHODS
IT'S NOT NATURAL!
FRIDAY NIGHT
10:30PM
CHAUTAUQUA

ATTENTION EVERYONE: SPECIAL EDITION TO YOUR PHONE DIRECTORY, AS INFORMATION LISTED IS INCORRECT: BUNEK Heidi Ann.....1F7
219 Breen-Phillips.....1275
WALSH Kathleen Teresa.....3AL
219 Breen-Phillips.....1275
PLEASE ADD THIS TO YOUR DIRECTORY, OR POST NEAR YOUR PHONE!

NO! It can't be true! The return of Big MAC!

MB-WELCOME TO COLUMBIA EEE THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL BY... BEEP BEEP "PRESSURE-COOL! THRASHED OUT THE EAGLE HAS LANDED HAPPY 19TH!! LOVE KUB&MOE

YO BUNNY. Only 1 day left! Here are some thoughts for the day: - and just how many buttons have you collected? - so, tell us about your nocturnal habits that make you sleep so much during the day! - may the fleas of a thousand camels... I'm starved! Luv, Lost Sheep, Crowder Woman, Lone Roomie, Sexy Me and Zippy

LOGAN NEEDS TICKETS! LOGAN CENTER NEEDS EXTRA LSU TICKETS TO TAKE KIDS TO THE GAME ON SATURDAY. TICKET COLLECTION AT THE DINING HALLS THURSDAY AND FRIDAY NIGHTS. SEND A LOGAN KID TO WATCH THE IRISH!

I HAVE THE WHAM! SCARF AND THE MILLION DOLLAR CHECK. WHAT WILL YOU GIVE FOR THEM BOTH??

LOGAN VOLUNTEERS: DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT 7:30-10:00. FOOTBALL REC AT 10:00 SATURDAY. SMC VAN PICKUP AT 7:10 FRIDAY AND 9:40 SATURDAY.

Honorable Crazy One, If you knew anything of sexual psychology you'd know that I should derive no keener pleasure than to be manhandled by those MEATY boys. Ecstasy of the NAUGHTIEST kind! Kunyet, Tae Kwon Woman

NEW ORLEANS TAILGATER!!! Everyone from the New Orleans area should stop the New Orleans Club "car party!" Plenty of food and liquid refreshment. If the Irish win, you LSU fans are invited also!!!

DESPERATELY NEED RIDE TO INDPLS MON 11/26 CALL MICHELLE 4054

WANTED: ONE MINNESOTA STATE FLAG TO USE FOR A PRESENTATION! CALL SHIRLEY AT 239-6303 BETWEEN 9AM & 4PM! PLEASE!!!

Once upon a time, a bunch of hestone were getting heated, looking to party, when they were taken for a ride by the SB Trib. "Boss id they told the driver, "Can we talk?" he asked. "No way, we're Catholic." "Where to?" "Iraq" "Why Iraq? Do you know how many 20 minutes that is from here?" "Yeah, but we need to get some honey from Iraq so Betty can blow chow."

WOMEN WOMEN WOMEN WOMEN Order your GPA tags today! Each tag has your first two initials, your last name, and your GPA. They come in red, blue, gold or pink on white, black, or yellow fabric. 400 tags to a roll. Call 1-800-GPA-TAGS and order today. VISA or MC accepted. No CODs please. GPA GPA GPA GPA GPA

SORIN HALL TALENT SHOW
SORIN HALL TALENT SHOW
SORIN HALL TALENT SHOW
SATURDAY 10:00-ON FRONT PORCH BEFORE LSU

YOUNG LIFE!!! YOUNG LIFE!!! REMEMBER YOUNG LIFE?? INTERESTED IN HELPING A LOCAL GROUP?? CALL CHRIS X1074

GOOD LUCK TO ALL N.D. NOVICE CREWS IN PHILLY. FROM ALL OF US WHO DID NOT MAKE THE TRIP.

Keenan 4-N Roommates of the Week JEFF "The Case Club Shayster" SHAY and JOHNNY "The Mongrel" WEYKAMP

Philadelphia! Need ride for 2 or to share rental on brk. Call Anne or Tammy-284-4365

Help!! Desperately need ride to Minneapolis for Thanksgiving Break! Will share expenses. Call Martha at 284-5019.

Yes, you too can join THE MIKE BLOCHER FAN CLUB! Just send a 6x10 glossy and resume to: President Mike Blocher at 406 Carroll Hall. This public service announcement is sponsored by V.P. (Kathy) Secretary (Lisa) P.R. Director (Kelly) and the member (Amy)

Coach: go wild, go crazy, go out of control in Philly!! Live the immortal words of Rocky "Unless you believe in yourself, nothing is real." Beat of luck, we'll miss you!! Your two happy campers...S and K

JOHN JOE HEARN LOVES JOHN JOE HEARN LOVES JOHN JOE HEARN LOVES

REGINA HALL RAFFLE
For new racketball equipment Wilson racket Wilson tennis balls Volt bag Ektelon glove $100 value $1.00 each ticket or 6 for $5.00 Call Jennifer 284-4092 or Mary 284-4081

Dear Schnookums: Looking forward to Thanksgiving dinner, but don't expect me to eat the stuffing. Love, me

HEY ANNE LINEHAM!! HAPPY 18TH BIRTHDAY!! MUCH LOVE, WHITT, M.S., MALF&AIL.

Notre Dame wide receiver Reggie Ward (83) is shown above in action earlier this season against Michigan. The sophomore is currently second on the Irish squad with 20 receptions. John Coyle features Ward in his story at right.

Ward joins other Irish standouts, helps to strengthen receiving corps

By JOHN COYLE
Sports Writer

Although he is not very big, at 5-11 and 179 pounds, sophomore Reggie Ward has already proven that he is, indeed, a big play receiver. Ward has combined with fellow classmate Tim Brown and senior Alvin Miller to give Notre Dame one of the better receiving corps in the nation.

It was not the number of receptions that Ward had in his freshman year, but rather, the length of each that impressed the Irish coaches and fans. The talented receiver made the most of his six catches last year to lead the team in average yards per catch (32.3 yards).

The Alumni Hall resident made two very important catches for 81 yards in the South Carolina game, but the highlight of Ward's freshman season came against Missouri. Ward hooked up with quarterback Steve Beuerlein for a 74-yard bomb and a touchdown, which earned him a game ball in the Irish locker room after the big victory. Having played in every game but Purdue, Ward was one of only five freshmen to earn a monogram last year.

A native of Long Beach, Calif., the gifted athlete finished his career at Long Beach Poly High School with 63 receptions for over 1,200 yards and 15 touchdowns. With 4.45 speed in the 40-yard dash, Ward was the object of several recruiters' desires. Luckily for the Irish, he decided to attend Notre Dame.

"Notre Dame is a good academic school with a lot of national exposure. A lot of top players have come here to be part of a great tradition. Also, I knew Steve Beuerlein from high school and I liked him and knew I'd have a chance to work with a good quarterback," explained the dependable sophomore.

Ward said that the transition from high school to college was not overly difficult. The hardest part, he believes, was becoming acquainted with more sophisticated defenses and competing against bigger and faster players.

"It's a lot different from high school in many ways. In high school, I was usually wide open, but here I often have to slide into a hole in the defense to get to the ball," noted Ward. "On the college level, it takes a lot more concentration because you have to read coverages and make adjustments in your patterns."

Due to Milt Jackson's withdrawal from the university on account of health problems and the graduation of Joe Howard, Ward has moved from the flanker position to split end, where he is a starter. He currently is second on the team in receiving with 20 receptions for 285 yards. His best performances have come against Michigan State and Air Force, where he caught 5 passes for 64 yards, and 4 passes for 57 yards, respectively.

The outgoing Ward finds life in often snowy South Bend different from life in almost always sunny California.

"I'm cold when a lot of other people are warm. I usually have to wear a lot of extra clothes when I go outside. I had seen snow before, when I went up to the mountains in northern California but I never had to walk to class in it," explained Ward.

Ward said that he does not regret coming to Notre Dame at all, despite the team's lack of success. The optimistic Ward believes the Irish will bounce back and overcome the disappointments of the past.

"It's been an up-and-down season," says Ward "but like my mom always said, 'You have to take the good with the bad.'"

A b i o g e n e s i s

Dance Collective
presents

"Works in Progress"

Nov 23 (Sat) 7:00 PM

Nov 24 (Sun) 2:00 PM

Regina Hall Studio-SMC

Admission:

$1.00

Lindbergh buried in native land; number most likely will be retired

Associated Press

STOCKHOLM, Sweden - Pelle Lindbergh, a Philadelphia Flyers fan since his early teens, bought his favorite hockey team's jersey at 14 when touring Canada for the first time with a Swedish juvenile club.

The No. 31 he wore as goalie for the Flyers until his death ten days ago after an auto accident in Somerville, N.J., is now likely to be retired and join three other retired hockey players' numbers in the Spectrum.

"We haven't had an opportunity to discuss that yet," said Flyers President Jay Snider yesterday after attending Lindbergh's funeral.

"It depends on each team. It's something that we'll discuss after we get over this."

The Flyers have retired the numbers of former stars Bernie Parent and Bobby Clarke as well as the late player and coach Barry Ashbee, who died of cancer.

Parent, a former goalie and one of Lindbergh's childhood idols, and Clarke, the Flyers' general manager, both attended the funeral.

Lindbergh's family, including his father Sigge and mother Anna-Lisa, sisters Ann-Christine and Ann-Louise, his fiancée Kerstin Pietzsch, friends and fans attended the service. Some 80 flowered wreaths surrounded the white marble casket inside the church.

Irish

continued from page 12

edge to 22 points at the end of the first half behind Barlow's 26 first-half points on 12-of-14 shooting.

"I was pretty happy with my performance," said Barlow. "I've been struggling a little, but I hit my first couple of shots and I felt the rhythm. There are a few things we have to work on, and we'll get a lot better. But overall I thought we did a good job."

The Irish continued to stretch the lead, gaining their largest advantage at 89-57 with 8:47 left in the game. The Yugoslavs cut 14 points off the lead in the next four minutes with the Irish starters on the bench. Phelps then put them back in for a few minutes, whereupon they quickly went on a 8-0 spurt to push the score up to 97-71.

"(Smelt Olimpija) is really not a good rebounding team, so I can't be too encouraged about our performance in that department," said Phelps. "I really can't be too encouraged about anything since they aren't that strong a team. Our first real test will come in two weeks against Indiana."

But beating a team by 21 points isn't a bad place to start. And the Irish will get another chance to shine tomorrow night as they face an outmanned squad from St. Joseph's (Ind.) at 8 in the ACC.

IRISH ITEMS - Sophomore guard Jeff Peters saw a bit of action in last night's game after missing some practice time recently while recovering from a thigh contusion.

The Class of '87

Gary Caruso, N.D. '73
Director of Legislation
U.S. House of Representatives

TONIGHT
7:00, Library Auditorium

Topics to be covered include:
congressional careers, preparing a resume, interviewing, and job search strategies

Lochmandy Leasing & Rental, Inc.

National Car Rental

Weekend and Weekly Specials all year round. Need transportation to get off campus for the weekend? Check our low rates. Going on a long trip? We have weekly specials designed for a student's budget.

One Way Rentals Available to over 1000
locations - at low unlimited mileage rates with no drop charges. Excellent way to get home for vacation at reasonable prices.

Conveniently Located at the Elkhart Municipal Airport

262-0111

We feature
GM cars like this Buick Regal.

EASY RIDER

TO AND FROM CHICAGO'S O'HARE
EVERY 2 HOURS EVERY DAY

United Limo

10844 McKinley Hwy Cicero

674-6993

255-3068

or call your Travel Agent

FOR ALL YOUR EYE CARE NEEDS—

COMPLETE EXAMS
contacts, glasses

ND/SMC students,
Faculty and Staff

Show Your I.D. and Receive
20% OFF GLASSES OR CONTACTS

Excluding Specials

Professional Vision
ASSOCIATES

1635 N. Ironwood
277-1161
South of U.S. 23

1341 Portage
234-2400
Martin's Shopping Center

Mattingly wins AL MVP award over Brett, Henderson and Boggs

Associated Press

NEW YORK - First baseman Don Mattingly of the New York Yankees, who led the major leagues with 145 runs batted in this year, yesterday was named the American League's Most Valuable Player by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Mattingly received 23 first-place votes and five seconds for a total of 367 points in balloting by a 28-writer panel, two voters from each of the 14 league cities.

Third baseman George Brett of the Kansas City Royals finished second with five firsts, 20 seconds and three thirds for 274 points. Mattingly and Brett were the only players named on all 28 ballots. Points are awarded on the basis of 14 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Outfielder Rickey Henderson of the Yankees was third with 174 points, followed by Boston third baseman Wade Boggs, the batting champion, with 159 and first baseman Eddie Murray of Baltimore with 130.

Pitcher Donnie Moore of California (96), Toronto outfielders Jesse Barfield (88) and George Bell (84), Chicago outfielder Harold Baines (49), and Kansas City pitcher Bret Saberhagen, the Cy Young Award winner, (45) completed the top 10.

Mattingly batted .324 with 35 home runs as the Yankees finished second in the AL east behind Toronto. He led the major leagues with 48 doubles - the first AL player to do that in successive seasons since Tris Speaker did it four straight years, 1920-23. His 370 total bases and 86 extra base hits also led the AL and his .995 fielding percentage was the best in the league at his position.

His 211 hits, second best in the AL, made Mattingly the first Yankees' player to have consecutive 200-hit seasons since Joe DiMaggio in 1936-

37 and the total was the highest for a Yankee since Red Rolfe had 213 in 1939.

Mattingly, who won the AL batting championship in 1984 when he hit .343, missed the Yankees' first 18 spring training games in 1985 after suffering a minor cartilage tear in his right knee and undergoing arthroscopic surgery Feb. 22. He homered in his first exhibition at-bat, signaling the start of what would be a spectacular season for him.

He had hitting streaks of 19 and 20 games, and hit two home runs in a game five times. He was second in the league with a .567 slugging percentage and second with 66 multiple-hit games.

Willie McGee of the St. Louis Cardinals was named the National League MVP earlier this week. Saberhagen and Dwight Gooden of the New York Mets won the Cy Young Awards, which were announced last week.

sports at Notre Dame), Corrigan has overseen the upgrading of the volleyball and wrestling programs, and has also brought a renewed commitment to varsity hockey.

"I like to think our door is always open for coaches, students and student athletes," says Corrigan. "There is the potential for many problems, but as long as we don't get too excited or too depressed we can provide the advice and information our people need. Everything is a challenge, and there are days when six or seven hours are spent on the phone and a certain amount of pressure builds up.

"Our job requires calmness and sound, not emotional, decisions. I don't read the newspaper when things are tough and I tell the coaches not to. The visibility of Notre Dame creates an incredible interest in the athletic program. We think that's good and we're here to excel as students, student athletes, coaches, administrators, and as teams."

until they can get their own offense moving.

A quick start and some support from the home fans could get the Irish back on the winning trail.

Office

continued from page 12

charge of the cheerleaders.

- Joe Yonto has special football duties and works with Corrigan as a liaison to the football team and the administration. Road trips and game preparations are part of Yonto's function, and a natural ability for this veteran of Notre Dame football.

- Mike Danch runs the operations of the ACC and has the unenviable job of coordinating various athletic events.

A very important member of Corrigan's staff is assistant athletic director Brian Boulac. Boulac has been at Notre Dame for 15 years, 13 as a football coach and recruiting coordinator and the last two in the A.D. office. Besides working with Petro in a student relation and Notre Dame representative capacity, Boulac, along with Corrigan, deals with the NCAA for the athletic department.

Hockey

continued from page 12

played them, we've had good, close games."

The Irish, meanwhile, are still looking for consistency.

"Friday (a 5-3 Irish win) we played the best hockey we've played in the last two or three years," said Smith. "Saturday was a complete breakdown from one end to the other."

The main man for the Irish offense this season has been sophomore center Mike McNeill. With his two goals and three assists over the weekend, McNeill took over the Irish scoring lead with 15 points.

"Mike is playing extremely well. He was really sick all weekend, but he played very, very well despite it. He's been our most consistent player so far."

McNeill's linemate, Rich Sobilo, also had a good series against the Thommies, scoring two goals and assisting on three others to raise his point total to eight.

Another sophomore, center Tom Mooney, returned from the injury list last weekend and added three assists. Mooney had been playing well for the Irish before separating a shoulder in practice before the road series with Michigan-Dearborn. On the season, Mooney has lit the red light five times and has 13 points.

Center Mark Anquillare will probably return to the lineup this weekend after missing three games with a shoulder separation.

The Irish defense, shaky at times, is facing the possibility of playing without co-captain Bob Thebeau, who reinjured his leg in practice Tuesday. Coach Smith said Thebeau's status is doubtful.

Acting as a sounding board for questions and an interpreter of regulations for the coaches, Boulac serves a go-between for the coaches and the NCAA. He also devotes substantial time to Notre Dame's conference status in both men and women's sports, and works with both the admissions office and financial aid office for student athletes and potential student athletes.

While Boulac's role in regard to the NCAA directly affects the people of Notre Dame's athletic department, Corrigan has direct input into the NCAA itself. A member of NCAA administrative council, Corrigan represents the university on the governing body of Division I college sports.

He also has input into the NCAA Division I basketball committee. This body is responsible for selection of teams for the season-ending tournament, and for running the tournament at its various sites.

Despite the public polarization of the football and basketball programs (the only two revenue producing

For the first time this season, the goaltender position is looking clearer. Junior Tim Lukenda will get the starting job this weekend.

A key for the Irish this weekend will be holding the opposition early

The political turbulence of Northern Ireland explodes onto stage...

THE FREEDOM OF THE CITY

A Notre Dame Showcase Production

Directed by Reg Bain

November 14, 15, 16 and 21, 22, 23

Washington Hall- Lab Theatre (N. Entrance)

8:10 PM

All seats 4 (only 100 seats per performance)

Tickets available: At the door

At 320 O'Shaughnessy Hall

For ticket info: 239-5134

Some Sunday

Erasmus Books

1027 E. Wayne
Tues - Sun, noon - 6
1 block south of Jefferson & Eddy
Used & out of print books bought, sold, searched

Make it snappy

SNAPPY CAR RENTAL

Snappy Car Rental offers you

Unlimited Miles Low Daily Rental Rates

$26.95-29.95

Lincoln Town Cars
Chrysler Fifth Avenues
Ford LTD's/Tempos
Chevy Citations

South Bend
(219)277-6600

Fort Wayne
(219)436-6666

Indianapolis
(317)845-9100

Indianapolis
(317)247-0333

Nationwide Reservations 1-800-321-7159

Alumni-Senior Club

FRIDAY LUNCH:
Lunch from 11:30 - 2:00
Pizza - Subs - Beer

Alumni-Senior Club

Tonight:
$.90 IMPORTS!
Senper Fi and Alumni Senior Club present Toys for Tots. Please bring your toys to the Club!!

For Club Rentals... call Bryan Dedrick

Bloom County

Berke Breathed

The Far Side

Gary Larson

Zeto

Kevin Walsh

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS

- 1 Funny guy
- 6 Rabbit's foot
- 9 Rules
- 13 "Carmen" is one
- 14 Buy a pig — poke
- 15 Related on mother's side
- 17 Fruit disease
- 19 Ms. Lauder
- 20 Coaster
- 21 Multiplication word
- 23 Healthy
- 24 Humor of a kind
- 25 Ages
- 26 Pin
- 30 Inaccuracies
- 32 Of a Genesis man
- 34 Tune
- 35 Projection on a wheel
- 38 Dupe
- 40 Cookie
- 42 Native of: suff.
- 43 Stop — dime
- 44 Quilt!
- 45 Tebaldi or Scotto
- 48 Places of bliss
- 49 Emoters
- 51 Supposed
- 54 Pindarics
- 55 Dress in finery
- 56 Hold back
- 60 Sublease
- 62 Certain sport
- 64 Solo
- 65 Consumed
- 66 Western
- 67 Dill
- 68 "—, I can"
- 69 Irregular

DOWN

- 1 Intimidates
- 2 Ring stone
- 3 Allocate
- 4 Infuriated
- 5 Vehicle
- 6 Small bird
- 7 Lawlessness
- 8 Aquatic animal
- 9 Majors
- 10 Response
- 11 Sea view
- 12 Stone slab
- 16 Sniggler's catch
- 18 Depot: abbr.
- 22 Related items
- 24 Clothing type
- 26 Carp kin
- 27 Harem rooms
- 28 Summertime fruit
- 29 Printing measures
- 31 Took to the stump
- 33 Ottawa's land
- 36 Similar
- 37 Shea team
- 39 Channel
- 41 Fish
- 46 Ancient ascetic
- 47 Make bubbly
- 49 Isr. dance
- 50 Ms St. Johns
- 52 Mother and father
- 53 Inspect
- 56 Shadowbox
- 57 Dorothy's dog
- 58 Fermented drinks
- 59 Days gone by
- 61 Vietnamese holiday
- 63 Fish eggs

© 1985 Tribune Media Services, Inc. All Rights Reserved

Wednesday's Solution

D	A	N	E		B	L	A	D	E		H	E	E	P
E	V	I	L		L	I	N	E		O	T	T	O
L	O	C	I		A	N	T	I	C		A	U	T	O
I	N	E	X	A	C	T		C	O	A	X	I	A	L
					I	L	K		B	E	R	N	E
S	O	C	R	A	T	I	C		E	N	R	A	P	T
P	U	L	S		I	R	E	S		I	S	L	E	S
R	T	E		H	E	M		A	R	E		G	A	G
I	R	A	Q	I		A	P	S	E		B	A	R	T
G	E	R	U	N	D		I	S	H	M	A	E	L	S
					I	D	I	O	T		E	A	U
C	O	E	X	I	S	T		M	A	R	X	I	S	T
A	L	T	O		U	T	T	E	R		I	D	E	O
M	E	A	T		S	E	A	L	S		T	O	E	D
P	O	L	E		E	R	O	D	E		E	L	M	O

Campus

•12:00 P.M. - Brown Bag Lunch, Delbert Tibbs, Former inmate of death row, Menonite Steering Committee on Corrections, Center for Social Concerns, Sponsored by Center for Social Concerns

•4:00 P.M. - Lecture, The Takeover Environment of the Mid-Eighties, Donald Clark, Household International, Hayes-Healy Auditorium, Sponsored by Notre Dame MBA Program

•4:00 P.M. - 6:00 P.M. - Lecture, "Trade Unions and Political Parties", David Collier, University of California, Berkeley, Room 131 Decio Hall, Sponsored by Kellogg Institute

•4:10 P.M. - Presentation, "Career Opportunities for American Studies and English Majors", Paul J. Reynolds, Career and Placement Services, Room 105 O'Shaughnessy Hall, Sponsored by Career and Placement Services

•6:00 P.M. - Presentation and Reception, E.F. Hutton, Senior Alumni Club, Sponsored by Career and Placement Services, Open to all seniors interested in career opportunities with E.F. Hutton

•7:00 P.M. - Fellowship Meeting, Commoner Room, Flanner Hall, Sponsored by Fellowship of Christian Athletes

•7:00 P.M. - Presentation and Reception, COMPUSERVE, Alumni Room, Sponsored by Career and Placement Services, Open to all MBA's, Senior Marketing, Finance, Economics and CAPP majors interested in career opportunities with COMPUSERVE

•7:00 P.M. - Presentation and Reception, Foote, Cone, Belding, Upper Lounge, University Club, Sponsored by Career and Placement Services, Open to all Marketing and ALPA Seniors interested in career opportunities with Foote, Cone, Belding

•7:00 P.M. - Lecture and Meeting, "Alternative Careers in the World of Advertising", Gary Villani, Young & Rubicam, New York, 122 Hayes-Healy Auditorium, Sponsored by Notre Dame Arts and Letters Business Society

•7:00 P.M. - Thursday Night Film Series, "Sisters of the Gion", Loft

•7:00, 9:00 and 11:00 P.M. - Movie, "Against All Odds", Engineering Auditorium, Sponsored by Student Activities Board, $1.50

•7:00 P.M. - 8:00 P.M. - Lecture, On summer jobs and careers in government in Washington D.C., Gary Caruso, Director of Communications for Congressman Solomon Ortiz, Library Auditorium, Sponsored by Junior Class

•8:00 P.M. - Presentation and Reception, Morgan Stanley, Notre Dame Room, Morris Inn, Sponsored by Career and Placement Services, Open to all seniors interested in career opportunities with Morgan Stanley

•8:10 P.M. - Theater, "The Freedom of the City", Washington Hall Lab Theater, Sponsored by Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theater, $4.00

Dinner Menus

Notre Dame	Saint Mary's
Meatloaf	Roast Beef au Jus
Turkey Ala King over Biscuits	Beef Taco with Hot Sauce
Cheese Strata	Vegetarian Quiche
Chinese Hero Sandwich

TV Tonight

8:00 P.M.	16 Bill Cosby Show	9:30 P.M.	16 Night Court
	22 Magnum, PI	10:00 P.M.	16 Patty Labelle Special
	28 The Fall Guy		22 Knots Landing
8:30 P.M.	16 Family Ties		28 20/20
9:00 P.M.	16 Cheers	11:00 P.M.	16 NewsCenter 16
	22 Simon and Simon		22 22 Eyewitness News
	28 Dynasty II: The Colbys		28 WSJV Newswatch 28

The Irish Gardens

Pick up formal flowers early: Closed Saturday.

Hours
Mon - Sat 12:30-5:30

ORDER NOW! CALL 283-4242

Irish easily win exhibition game as Barlow shines against Yugoslavs

By ERIC SCHEUERMANN
Assistant Sports Editor

No one really expected the game to be close. And it wasn't.

As soon as the Notre Dame basketball team jumped out to a 14-1 lead with only 2:35 gone in the first half of its exhibition game with the Smelt Olimpija team of Yugoslavia last night, the Irish virtually had a victory in hand.

And except for a few letdowns which allowed the Yugoslavs to make up a bit of ground, it was smooth sailing for the Irish as they cruised to a 109-88 win.

Senior captain Ken Barlow led the Irish with 32 points and 12 rebounds in only 27 minutes of play. Sophomore David Rivers scored 15 points, dished out 10 assists and, as he did last year, excited the capacity crowd of 11,345 with his flashy play. Junior guard Scott Hicks chipped in 18 points.

Forward Matiaz Tovornik led the Yugoslavs with 25 points.

"(Notre Dame) has a great team," said Smelt Olimpija head coach Janez Drvaric. "They are easily the best team we have played on our trip thus far. They have an excellent front line and they rebounded better than any team we have played."

"They also play a very good zone press and, overall, they have a very strong defense."

The Irish outrebounded the Yugoslavs by a two-to-one margin, finishing with 42 rebounds to the visitors' 21. This control on the boards continually allowed the Irish to start their fast break, leading to many easy buckets and 63 percent shooting on the night.

The Irish shot 71 percent in the first half, which ended with the Yugoslavs on the short end of a 59-37 score.

"I was pleased with the game the way it turned out," said Irish head coach Digger Phelps. "We fell asleep a few times, and we won't be able to do that later against some better teams. When we went up 14-1, the kids said 'The game's over.' And we lost our intensity, which I didn't like."

"But what I liked was that when we called timeouts and made adjustments, the players went right out and turned it around."

"There were some things I wasn't pleased with that we're going to have to work on," he continued. "But we got a lot out of this game, and we were able to let some people play and see what our bench can do."

Every Irish player was able to get into the game, except for sophomore Matt Beeuwsaert, who sat out the contest with bruised ribs.

Smelt Olimpija cut the early Irish lead to eight points at 16-8, but Notre Dame slowly stretched its

see IRISH, page 9

The Observer/Hannes Hacker

Notre Dame guard Scott Hicks (10) is shown in last night's game against Smelt Olimpija of Yugoslavia. Hicks scored 18 points in a 109-88 Irish victory. Eric Scheuermann details the game in his story at left.

Athletic Director's Office works to keep sports programs on track

(Editor's note: The Observer continues its four-part series on the various offices within the Notre Dame athletic department. Today part two focuses on the athletic director's office.)

By ED JORDANICH
Sports Writer

The word "team" generally describes a group of people working together for a common goal. At Notre Dame, the word "team" usually applies to the football, basketball and hockey programs, and to all of the university's 19 varsity sports. However, another type of team is responsible for these programs, and this team's multifaceted responsibilities serve as the leadership for Notre Dame's athletic department.

The athletic director's office, located on the upper level of the ACC, can be a hazardous place for an innocent bystander. Constant activity and very busy days best characterize the office at which Gene Corrigan has been director for the past five years.

Corrigan acts as the chief administrator of an office which works closely with the varsity coaches and their sports. In addition to decisions on coaches and new staff members, Corrigan works closely with associate athletic director Roger Valdiserri on football and basketball scheduling. He works with all coaches in approving and arranging scheduling.

Hiring and scheduling are a small fragment of Corrigan's duties. Supervision over the physical education department, television and radio contracts, contracts with other schools, as well as special projects like the Special Olympics and the new swimming and tennis facilities, all find their way to Corrigan's desk.

"This is a very busy place," says Corrigan. "There are always meetings which require decisions, conferences with coaches, hundreds of phone calls, and a variety of situations. I try to provide some balance, both for the coaches and their emotional highs and lows, and for their sports. The people I work with are a terrifically dedicated group who have that essential ability to work out disagreements."

The people who work with Corrigan have different responsibilities with regard to the athletic department.

- Joseph O'Brien handles the business activities of the A.D. office. Finances and budgets have become a focal point of collegiate athletics, and O'Brien has the duties of travel organization and purchasing.

- Tom Kelly, as director of the nonvarsity athletic program, oversees 12 club sports and 63 different intramurals.

- Sharon Petro, who aids Corrigan in interaction with students and student athletes, is an assistant athletic director like Kelly. She also travels with many of the teams throughout the seasons, and is in

see OFFICE, page 10

Hockey team goes for win against Lake Forest tonight

By DENNIS CORRIGAN
Sports Writer

It's been an up-and-down season so far for the Notre Dame hockey team, as evidenced by its 3-6 record and last weekend's split with St. Thomas. The Irish will try to regain some of the momentum they lost in Saturday's 10-3 loss when they face the Foresters of Lake Forest tonight at 7:30 at the ACC and Saturday at Lake Forest. Admission to tonight's game is free to students with their IDs.

The Foresters come into tonight's game with a record of 0-4. They dropped a pair of games to Kent State, which Notre Dame swept earlier this season, and another pair to Wisconsin-Riverside. All of the Foresters' losses have been fairly close. The Foresters, coached for the sixth year by Tony Fritz, have given up 22 goals while scoring 14 of their own.

The Foresters blew an opportunity for their first win of the year when Wisconsin-Riverside overcame a 4-3 deficit to snatch a 5-4 overtime victory. The Foresters still had a 37-35 shots-on-goal advantage. The Lake Forest defense will be suffering from the loss of its number-one defenseman, Mike Whalen who also keys the Forester power play.

"We don't know too much about Lake Forest," said Notre Dame head coach Lefty Smith. "All we can draw on is that Lake Forest recruits a lot of kids from eastern prep schools, and they play excellent hockey. In the past two or three years that we've

see HOCKEY, page 10

Bowl picture looks bleak for Irish football fans

Although the college bowl picture became clearer after last weekend's games, there are still a number of major bids up for grabs this Saturday. As far as Notre Dame fans are concerned, however, the picture became almost crystal clear after Saturday's 36-6 drubbing at Penn State. A bowl appearance by the Irish is virtually out of the question this year, even in the unlikely event that Notre Dame receives an invitation.

Bowl bids go out officially this Saturday evening, and in just one game the 5-4 Irish would be hard-pressed to improve their national standing enough to attract the attention of the bowl representatives.

Besides that, Athletic Director Gene Corrigan said late Monday night he had informed bowl reps prior to the Penn State game that Notre Dame would be out of the bowl picture if the Irish were to lose to the Nittany Lions. That, of course, happened, so apparently nothing short of an about-face on the part of the athletic department, accompanied by an awesome Irish performance against LSU, could put Notre Dame back in the bowl picture.

This year's Irish opponents, on the other hand, figure to do quite well when the bowl bids go out. It's small consolation for Irish fans, though, that this year's bowl lineup will prove just how tough Notre Dame's schedule really was. As it stands right now, at least seven teams on Notre Dame's '85 slate will be making bowl appearances this year.

• Penn State has already committed to the Orange Bowl where it will face the Big Eight champ on New Year's Day in Miami. That could produce the dream matchup of No. 1 vs. No. 2, provided 9-1 Nebraska beats No. 5 Oklahoma

Larry
Burke

Football Notebook

(7-1) Saturday. Oklahoma State (8-1), which has two conference games remaining, still has an outside shot at the title.

• Miami, Notre Dame's final opponent, will be spending New Year's Day in New Orleans in the Sugar Bowl. The Hurricanes will face the Southeastern Conference winner, which could be Tennessee, LSU, or Alabama. Right now Tennessee has the inside track; the Vols can take the conference title by winning their final two games against Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

• Michigan will be playing in a game on New Year's Day, but the question is where. If the Wolverines beat Ohio State Saturday and Iowa loses to Minnesota, then Michigan is off to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl to take on the Pac 10 champ, UCLA or Arizona State. If Iowa wins Saturday, then Michigan goes to the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz., where it will face the Big Eight runner-up.

• LSU is finished with its SEC slate and the Tigers will have to hope for Alabama and Tennessee to falter in their remaining games if the Tigers are to nail down a Sugar Bowl bid. If not, LSU has cut a deal with the Liberty Bowl and will face Texas A&M in Memphis on Dec. 27.

• Air Force, which was in line for a New Year's day bid before its loss to BYU last Saturday, will have to settle for a spot in the Bluebonnet Bowl, slated for New Year's Eve in Houston. There the Falcons will face the runner-up from the Southwest Conference, either Texas, Texas A&M, or Baylor.

• Army has already committed to the Peach Bowl in Atlanta, where it will face Illinois on Dec. 31.

• Michigan State will face Georgia Tech in the All American Bowl on New Year's Eve in Birmingham, Ala. The Spartans are one of six Big Ten teams that figure to make bowl appearances this year.

Sports Illustrated's Nov. 25 issue will feature a story by Rick Reilly entitled "Here's Mud in Your Eye, Gerry," which says that Head Coach Gerry Faust's days appear to be numbered after Notre Dame's loss to Penn State.

In the article Reilly cites three of Faust's theories on the cause of the losses: "the red-shirt theory" (Notre Dame is one of few schools that doesn't), "the parity theory" ("Any team can win on any given Saturday") and "the luck (all bad) of the Irish theory," (the miserable conditions at Penn State are the most recent example).

But while Reilly admits that Faust's teams have been unlucky, he also points out that sometimes they also have been "ill-conceived, oddly-coached, and Keystone Kop chaotic." He goes on to cite some of the more vivid examples of disorganization on the Irish sidelines, which have occurred all too frequently this season.