

The Observer

VOL. XXV. NO. 111

MONDAY, MARCH 22, 1993

THE INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER SERVING NOTRE DAME AND SAINT MARY'S

CALL challenges University's prolife commitment

By MEREDITH MCCULLOUGH and NICOLE MCGRATH
News Writers

Close to 100 prolife activists challenged the University of Notre Dame and its president Father Edward Malloy Friday, claiming that the University has failed to uphold Catholic teachings concerning abortion.

- Arrests / page 6
- Hesburgh / page 7
- CALL / page 7

In an effort to persuade Malloy to join the group in prayer for unborn children, members of the national prolife organization Collegians Activated to Liberate Life (CALL) held a peaceful seven-hour sit-in outside his third floor office. Filling the hallway with hymns and prayers, the group pledged not to leave the building until Malloy agreed to meet with them.

"President Malloy has an obligation as a Catholic leader," said CALL founder Peter Heers. "As a leader of the most illustrious Catholic University, he must stand in solidarity with the victims of crime."

"The University of Notre Dame has not done anything to follow the teaching of the Catholic Church. We ask them to stand in solidarity with us," he said.

The sit-in came to a close after seven hours when Malloy agreed to meet with Heers, Johnson and two other CALL members.

The tone of the half hour meeting was amicable and by no means confrontational, according to Dennis Moore, director of public relations and information at Notre Dame. CALL explained their position and again asked Malloy for commitment to their cause.

Malloy told the South Bend Tribune that he emphasized to CALL that Notre Dame is a pro-life institution and always has been.

The Observer/Jake Peters

Members of the Collegians Activated to Liberate Life (CALL) kneel in prayer during initial moments of a seven-hour sit-in outside of University President Edward Malloy's office Friday. The nonviolent protest was aimed at encouraging Malloy to take a firm stand against abortion.

However, a university has the responsibility to present all sides of an issue for debate and discussion, he said.

"The only thing they asked of me was to pray at a location where abortions are being performed," he told the Tribune. "I gave them no commitment."

To make a specific commitment would have reduced his freedom of action, explained Moore. The way a university deals with such issues is not the same as how an individual deals with them, he said.

Malloy was "polite" and "kind," according to Heers, but his response was disappointing. "Father Malloy said they are content with the present course," said Heers. "He said he is doing other things in other areas. He will take our advice and think about it."

"In our opinion he has chosen a path of failure," he added.

"We did what we wanted to do, which was talk to Father Malloy with love in our heart," he said. "Praise God we got the meeting, but pray for Father Malloy."

Members of CALL spent Friday morning at the Women's Pavilion, 2010 Ironwood Circle, demonstrating against the abortions that take place there. With signs and rosary beads in hand, the group circled quietly in front of the clinic, but no radical action took place.

Thursday night, Claire Johnson, co-president of the ND/SMC Right To Life group, and two other Notre Dame students met with Malloy to invite him to pray at the clinic with them.

"He was noncommittal," she said.

After two hours of protest, the group marched in a single file line across South Bend Avenue towards the campus. At this time CALL leader Patrick Mahoney invited the group to join him in the march to Malloy's office.

see PROTEST / page 4

Prochoice students attend rally

By NICOLE MCGRATH
Saint Mary's News Editor

When pink flyers saying "Protect Your Freedom of Choice" went up on the Saint Mary's campus after spring break, Renee Young found herself the target of varying praise and criticism.

"We've had lots of resistance. I've had several phone calls ranging from hang-ups to being called 'baby killers'," said Young, one of four women whose name was on the flyer.

The flyers asked Saint Mary's pro-choice students to join in a non-violent gathering in front of the Women's Pavilion in South Bend this past week. According to the flyers, "Fanatical factions of the anti-abortion are coming to South Bend."

"NOW (National Organization for Women) contacted faculty before break and spread word of mouth, about the demonstration before break," said Young.

The main goal was to keep the clinic open, she said. "It is not so we can only have abortions, but they do so many other things such as pregnancy testing, birth control and family planning."

"A lot of Saint Mary's and Notre Dame women do use that clinic although the schools are reluctant to admit it," she said.

Some Saint Mary's students approached Young and told her they approved of what

see PROCHOICE / page 6

Keough given Laetare medal

Special to The Observer

Donald Keough, president and chief operating officer of The Coca-Cola Company and chairman emeritus of the University of Notre Dame's board of trustees, has been awarded the University's Laetare Medal for 1993. Keough will receive the medal, the oldest and most prestigious honor given to American Catholics, during Notre Dame's 148th Commencement exercises on March 16.

"Both Notre Dame and the Catholic Church have been beneficiaries of Don Keough's thorough commitment and liberal sharing of his leadership talents," said University President Father Edward Malloy. "With this bestowal of our highest honor, we demonstrate our heartfelt gratitude to Don as we celebrate his example."

A 1949 alumnus of Creighton University, Keough joined The Coca-Cola Company in 1950 and worked in a variety of positions before being named president of its foods division in 1971. He subsequently became president of Coca-Cola USA and of the company's Americas Group. He has been president and chief operating officer of The Coca-Cola Company since 1981 and chairman of Coca-Cola Enterprises Inc., the world's largest bottling system, since 1986. He will retire from these posts in April after having served two years beyond Coca-Cola's usual retirement age.

The father of five Notre Dame graduates, Keough joined a University advisory council soon after his first child's enrollment and subsequently served as chairman of the Sorin Society, which encourages unrestricted giving to the University. Elected a Notre Dame trustee in 1978, he was awarded an honorary doctorate by the University at the 1985 commencement exercises, the same day his youngest son received his baccalaureate degree.

In October of 1986, Keough was elected chairman of the University's board.

During his six-year tenure in the post, he presided over the selection of University President Father Edward Malloy following the 35-year tenure of Father Theodore Hesburgh, University president emeritus, and officiated at the University's first-ever presidential inauguration.

Keough served as national chairman of the University's Strategic Moment campaign, which began as the most ambitious fund-raising effort in the history of American Catholic higher education and concluded as its most successful. The final campaign total— in excess of $463 million— was more money than had been raised in the entire previous history of Notre Dame.

Ironically, Keough also was admired during his chairmanship for his eloquent readings of the citations honoring the annual Laetare Medal winner.

Keough recently was named "Irish American of the Year" by Irish America magazine. He

see KEOUGH / page 4

ND junior hurt in hit-and-run accident near Edison Road

By JENNIFER HABRYCH
Saint Mary's Editor

A Notre Dame junior was struck by a car in a hit-and-run accident on Ivy Rd. early Saturday morning.

James Irwin, a Flanner Hall resident, was hit just north of Edison Road in front of the Jamison Inn at 2:59 a.m., according to the Saint Joseph County Police.

Irwin was walking from the Linebacker Lounge to Turtle Creek Apartments with four friends when a car swerved off the road and hit him.

He said that one of his friends turned around and saw the automobile and another dove out of the path of the car before Irwin was struck by the vehicle.

Irwin was taken to Saint Joseph Medical Center where he was treated for minor injuries and released.

Irwin said that his friends did get the licence plate number of the car that hit him.

No charges have been filed in connection with the accident, according to the Police.

Further information from the Saint Joseph County Police was unavailable at this time.

Vote today

Run-off elections for the Senior and Sophomore class officers at Saint Mary's are today. Voting will take place during all meals at the dining hall. Off-campus students can vote from 1 to 3 p.m. in the off-campus lounge.

INSIDE COLUMN

Eating disorders: Still a problem on these campuses

You wouldn't know it's a problem here because no one really talks about it.

It's not something you see or something you hear about.

No one talks about it, especially the administrations, but eating disorders are a serious problem at Notre Dame and at Saint Mary's.

Part of the reason for it is that these schools are made up of highly competitive over-achieving individuals who want to be as perfect as they can.

The problem is confined neither to Notre Dame nor Saint Mary's. It is present on both campuses, but it is never addressed or acknowledged on either. Women on both sides of the street are destroying their bodies through poor eating habits, starvation, regurgitation and over-exercising.

These women won't admit that they have a problem, but all of them know that what they are doing is not normal. Although they allude to the problems they think they have, they will never openly acknowledge them.

Society is a major cause of these problems. This has never been more apparent to me than over Spring Break. I went to Florida to stay with my mom's parents, and my 60-something-year-old grandma told me that she was dieting because she wanted a body like Barbie (she was serious).

What sort of culture do we live in when a plastic doll, who if life-size would be completely misproportioned, is an ideal for women?

I'll admit that my body is not close to perfect, and there are times when I really don't like it, but I realize that no one is really happy with the way they look. Plus, I really like to eat. I enjoy food.

Me, too in writing this column is not to slam the schools for not addressing the problem or to proclaim my own well-adjustedness or to start a full-scale boycott of Barbie dolls. Rather, I want women on both campuses to acknowledge that problem exists.

The most important way to combat eating disorders is for those who have them to admit they have them. Only when a woman admits that she has an eating disorder can she begin to solve the problem.

Eating a muffin and a small bowl of plain pasta with a glass of water all day is not healthy. As women, we need calcium every day, and if we don't get that calcium the detriments could be life long.

Not only should the women who eat like this realize that they are starving themselves and weakening their bodies, but their friends should approach them if they think a problem exists.

If a friend or a roommate is exhibiting signs of an eating disorder, do not ignore it. Question her about it and talk to her about it until she admits that she does have a problem.

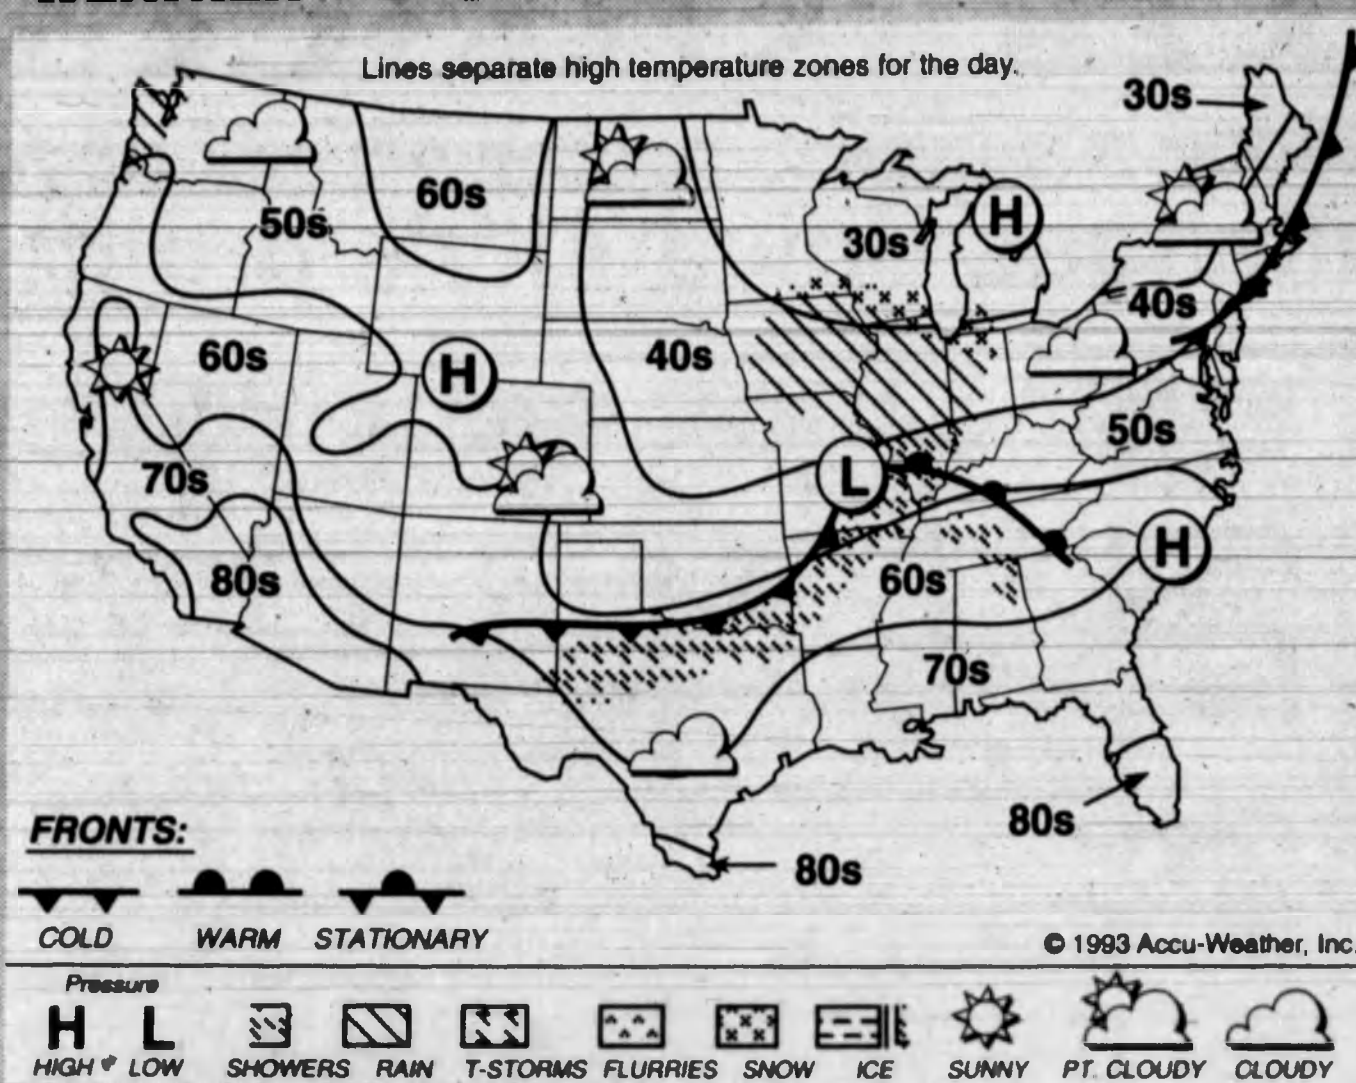

Eating disorders won't begin to go away unless we realize that they are there.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

Jenny Marten
Associate Sports
Editor

WEATHER REPORT Forecast for noon, Monday, March 22

FORECAST

60 percent chance of rain and snow today with highs in the 30's. 80 percent chance of light rain tonight and tomorrow.

TEMPERATURES

City	H	L
Anchorage	35	27
Atlanta	65	46
Bogota	66	45
Boston	66	48
Chicago	41	29
Cleveland	38	34
Dallas	68	49
Detroit	41	34
Indianapolis	47	34
Jerusalem	61	41
London	55	45
Los Angeles	74	58
Madrid	70	46
Minneapolis	35	25
Moscow	43	36
Nashville	64	46
New York	48	34
Paris	61	46
Philadelphia	50	35
Rome	68	50
Seattle	61	46
South Bend	48	30
Tokyo	54	39
Washington, D.C.	57	38

TODAY AT A GLANCE

WORLD

Mitterrand defeated in election

PARIS — Fed up with scandals and unemployment, French voters handed the right a huge victory in first-round elections for parliament and left President Francois Mitterrand's ruling Socialists in tatters. The voting Sunday marked a historic catastrophe for the left, exceeding all predictions. Ecologists failed to attract voters who rejected the Socialists and the governing party's total fell below 20 percent. "The sanction has fallen: it reflects the wear-and-tear of time, of unemployment, of disappointment. This punishment has been harsh," Socialist party leader Fabius said. Soto persistent unemployment, which has doubled to 3 million people since 1981; a series of scandals, including the state health system allowing hemophiliacs to receive transfusions of AIDS-tainted blood; and racial tension between French whites and Arab immigrants.

NATIONAL

Church scandal in New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — Three women told "60 Minutes" Sunday that a Roman Catholic archbishop who resigned this week sexually assaulted them years ago when they were teen-agers. Sanchez, 59, the nation's first Hispanic Catholic archbishop, submitted his resignation Friday to Pope John-Paul II. He had headed the Archdiocese of Santa Fe since 1974. Sanchez's archdiocese notified the Vatican on March 8 that allegations have been made that the archbishop had sexual relationships with as many as five women during the 1970s and '80s. That same day Sanchez issued a public apology for any harm or disappointment the allegations caused. He didn't specifically confirm or deny any of the allegations.

Preparations begin for King trial

LOS ANGELES — The Police Department is amassing more than $1 million in riot gear and asking officers to put off vacations until after the Rodney King beating trial, as it prepares for possible violence after the verdict. "If this is a plan that we never have to pull off the shelf," Chief Willie Williams said as he discussed anti-riot plans at a recent meeting with homeowners in the Sherman Oaks area. Last week Williams told a radio program that 7,000 of the department's 7,691 sworn officers would be available to respond to any trouble after the verdict is announced. Police were criticized for being unprepared when the acquittal of four officers of most brutality charges set off riots last spring that killed 54 people and caused $1 billion in damage.

OF INTEREST

A job search orientation for juniors will be held this afternoon from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Notre Dame Room of LaFortune Student Center. The presentation is designed to give an overview of the types of activities involved in preparing a job search in their senior year and how the Career and Placement services office can assist in this process.

Marketing and Communications Career Exploration Night will be held tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the SMC dining hall. Twenty area professionals will be there to discuss careers in marketing and communications fields.

Auditions for faculty-directed one acts "Sister

Mary Ignatius, Stalag 69", or "Il Fornicatore", auditions will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in room 16 Regina Hall. No preparation is required and interested designers and stage managers are also invited. For more information call James Birdner at 284-4644.

A memorial liturgy for Pasquerilla West senior Tara Deutsch will be held this afternoon at 5 p.m. in the Basilica of the Sacred Heart.

Jesuit International Volunteer representative, Father Vincent DeCola will be on campus today at the CSC to interview seniors who have applied to this program. If you have applied, or are interested, please call the CSC at 634-5293 and make an appointment.

Today's Staff

News	Sports
Becky Barnes	George Dohmann
Lisa Wolter
Production	Viewpoint
Whitney Sheets	Rolando de Aguiar
Cynthia Ehrhardt
Graphic	Graphics
Kenya Johnson	Chris Mullins
Lab Tech
Dave Hurling

The Observer (USPS 598 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction

MARKET UPDATE

YESTERDAY'S TRADING March 19

Not Available

ON THIS DAY IN HISTORY

- In 1901: Japan proclaimed it was determined to prevent Russian encroachment near Korea.
- In 1915: In Poland, Russians took Premysl after a 194-day siege and resumed advances through Carpathian Mountains.
- In 1933: FDR signed a bill legalizing beer and wine.
- In 1969: Doctors in Houston performed the first transplant of the human eye.
- In 1972: The U.S. Senate passed the Equal Rights Amendment.
- Five years ago: Thousands of striking workers in Manila blocked the gates of a U.S. military base.

Feigl: Stereotypes need to end

By COLLEEN HAGEN
News Writer

Ending stereotypes of the "typical" women's college student is necessary to improve enrollment at women's colleges, according to Dorothy Feigl, Saint Mary's assistant vice president and dean of faculty. Feigl was one of two keynote speakers Saturday during Saint Mary's first annual Women's College Appreciation Day.

Dorothy Feigl
assistant vice president and dean of faculty.

The existing stereotypes portray women as liberal feminists, rich and beautiful, mousey and withdrawn, or career-driven, she said. Most high school girls do not see themselves fitting into any of these categories, she continued. Feigl emphasized the importance of going to a women's college and its relevance in the work world. She also expressed concern that there are only 84 women's colleges remaining in the United States. Feigl suggested the way to attract high school students to single sex colleges is to send more women's college students to high schools and provide positive role models for them. A way to provide positive role models is for students to represent their alma mater well when they graduate, she said. When students first graduate from college, their undergraduate degree represents them, but, as time goes on, their actions and accomplishments will reflect back upon their school, she continued. The day's first speaker, Mary Lauck, a 1979 graduate of Saint Mary's and a "professional volunteer," said her experience at Saint Mary's was "life shaping, a monumental experience." After Saint Mary's, she decided to make a job out of volunteer work. Her list of accomplishments includes mother, army reserve captain, teacher, foster parent, founder of Hypatia Day and the Director of Programs and Development at Saint Matthew's Cathedral in South Bend. Her advice to current Saint Mary's students is to "never underestimate the volunteer experience." Women's College Appreciation Day was sponsored by Student League for Women's College and Board of Governance.

Off-campus co-presidents, Senate campaigns begin

By EMILY HAGE
Assistant News Editor

1993 Elections

After submitting petitions last Friday, Student Senate candidates and off-campus co-president candidates began campaigning Saturday, according to Judicial Coordinator Peter Castelli. Running unopposed, sophomore Sean Sullivan of Zahm Hall is senator of district 3, or North Quad, and Sophomore Dana Anderson of Pasquerilla West is senator of district 4, or Mod Quad. District 1, or South Quad, candidates are junior Wayne Goveia of Alumni Hall and Erin King, a sophomore from Howard Hall. Tickets for district 2, or God Quad, senator are junior Jennifer Halbach and sophomore Allison McCarthy, both of Walsh Hall. Candidates for off-campus co-presidents, who act as members of both the Hall Presidents' Council and Student Senate, are Tanya Bulakowski and Rich Toohy, A.J. Mencias and Andy Kris, Jesse Ewan and Steve Hank, and Kevin McGuire and Howie Lanser. Campaigning ends at 11:59 p.m. Tuesday, March 23, and elections will be held on Wednesday, March 24. On-campus students can vote in their dorms and off-campus students can vote at the information desk at LaFortune from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. Run-offs for off-campus co-presidents will be held on Friday, March 26 if necessary.

Club Column MARCH 22, 1993

- 1) All Clubs... Any group which has not signed up for meeting times or that missed their meeting must sign up for another time. Sign up sheets are on the bulletin board outside the Club Coordination Council Office. Social Service/Action groups must sign up for times during Bill Updike's and Frank McGeehee's office hours which are Tuesday 12:30-3:30 p.m. (Bill) and Tuesday 8-10 p.m. (Frank). Come by and sign up! Also, Social Service/Action groups now have mailboxes outside the Club Coordination Council at 631-4078 or Jennifer Blanchet at 634-4975. Remember to check your mailboxes.
- 2) Last Day To Access Club Funds is April 15... Plan accordingly. See the Student Treasurer's Office with any problems.
- 3) Toastmasters International will meet on Tuesday at 7 p.m. in 120 Hayes-Healy.
- 4) The Notre Dame Council on International Business Development will be sponsoring a spring forum, Business in the Context of Latin American Development, "Growth in the Making" on Thursday, March 25th at 7:30 p.m. in the Hesburgh Center. Members are required to attend, but everyone is welcome and encouraged to come and hear from experts on Latin American Development.

All registered clubs may place short announcements of meetings and activities in the CLUB COLUMN. Entries are due in the Club Coordination Council Office by 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

Don't forget:
March is energy conservation month.

Six new members elected to ND Board of Trustees

Special to The Observer

Six people have been elected to the University of Notre Dame's Board of Trustees. The four elected to the regular trustee positions are Kathleen Andrews, vice president of Universal Press Syndicate; John Jordan, founder of the New York City investment firm and the Chicago-based holding company bearing his name; Phillip Rooney, president and chief operating officer of Waste Management, Inc.; and John Sander, chairman of the board of governors of the Chicago. Two others were elected to three-year trustee positions reserved for recent graduates of the University. They are Catherine David, senior marketing assistant for Target Stores in Minneapolis, and Marty Rodgers, a legislative assistant in the office of Sen Harris Wofford, D-Pa. in Washington D.C. David is a 1985 graduate in marketing, and Rodgers a 1988 graduate in economics. Kathleen Andrews, who holds a 1963 master's degree from Notre Dame, was a co-founder with her late husband, James, of Universal Press Syndicate. She established the Andrews Memorial Scholarship Fund at Notre Dame. She has been a member of Notre Dame's advisory council for the Institute for Church Life. John "Jay" Jordan graduated from Notre Dame with a business degree in 1969. In 1982 he founded The Jordan Company, a private investment firm. He has been a member of the College of Business Administration advisory council. Phillip Rooney joined Waste Management in 1969 and held several executive positions leading to his current post in 1984. He has also served as a member of the advisory council for Notre Dame's College of Engineering. Jack Sander is serving a record seventh term as chairman of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange's board of governors. He assumed the chairmanship again in 1991. Sander is a 1968 graduate and benefactor of the Notre Dame Law School and has served on its advisory council.

Meet Your Arts and Letters Major

Date and Time	Major	Place
Sunday, March 21, 1993
7:00-8:00	English	114 O'Shaughnessy
8:00-9:00	German & Russian	215A O'Shaughnessy
Monday, March 22, 1993
5:00-6:00	African-American Studies	215A O'Shaughnessy
6:00-7:00	Art, Art History & Design	200 Riley
	European Studies	207 O'Shaughnessy
7:00-8:00	Government	116 O'Shaughnessy
8:00-9:00	Latin American Studies	207 O'Shaughnessy
Tuesday, March 23, 1993
5:00-6:00	Sociology	217 O'Shaughnessy
	Romance Languages	114 O'Shaughnessy
	Hesburgh Program	218 O'Shaughnessy
6:00-7:00	History	217 O'Shaughnessy
	COTH	218 O'Shaughnessy
	Medieval Studies	114 O'Shaughnessy
7:00-8:00	Gender Studies	217 O'Shaughnessy
	Economics	218 O'Shaughnessy
8:00-9:00	American Studies	218 O'Shaughnessy
	Medieval/Mid-East Studies	208 O'Shaughnessy
Wednesday, March 24, 1993
5:00-6:00	Music	103 Crowley
	CAPP	217 O'Shaughnessy
	Classics	219 O'Shaughnessy
	Anthropology	215A O'Shaughnessy
6:00-7:00	Theology	215A O'Shaughnessy
	Film & Cultural Studies	207 O'Shaughnessy
7:00-8:00	Psychology	215A O'Shaughnessy
	Asian Studies	207 O'Shaughnessy
Thursday, March 25, 1993
5:00-6:00	STV	217 O'Shaughnessy
	ALPP	114 O'Shaughnessy
	Peace Studies	218 O'Shaughnessy
6:00-7:00	Philosophy	217 O'Shaughnessy
	Education	114 O'Shaughnessy
7:00-8:00	Soviet & European Studies	217 O'Shaughnessy
	PPE	218 O'Shaughnessy

In memoriam

A liturgy to celebrate the life of

Tara Deutsch

Monday, March 22, 1993
Basilica of the Sacred Heart
5:00pm

Seven cult members leave Waco compound

WACO, Texas (AP) — At least seven more Branch Davidian cult members left the group's armed compound Sunday, a quickening tempo of releases that the FBI said is a positive sign.

"The quicker it picks up, the better the situation is, and we're getting more and more out," said FBI agent Richard Swensen.

The first of the seven — two women — left the compound shortly after midnight. Two more women followed them out late Sunday morning and a man and two women left in the afternoon, authorities said.

Also, at about midday a school bus was seen moving into the compound area, and a short time later a bus left the area with one passenger. But federal authorities wouldn't immediately say if that was yet another cult member leaving the compound.

Branch Davidian leader David Koresh and his followers have been holed up inside the compound since a Feb. 28 shootout between cult members and agents with the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

At about 11 a.m., Rita Riddle, 35, and Gladys Ottman, 67, were whisked away in a red car. One woman acknowledged a row of news reporters with a slight smile as the car sped by. Both refused to talk to reporters at the McLennan County Jail.

About 2:30 p.m., James Lawten, 70; Sheila Martin, 46; and Ofelia Santoyo, 62, left the compound, said FBI agent Sharon Smith. They were also taken to jail.

Earlier, about 12:30 a.m., Victorine Hollingsworth, 59, and Annetta Richards, 64, left the compound, Swensen said. Ms. Hollingsworth was taken to Hillcrest Baptist Medical Center for an examination because of a heart condition.

As with other adults released from the compound, the women were expected to be detained as material witnesses.

FBI officials have said for several days there were 20 to 30 people who were close to leaving the compound.

Keough

continued from page 1

serves on the boards of a number of national charitable and civic organizations and, with Father Hesburgh and Notre Dame trustee Jane Pfeiffer, has been a member of the Knight Foundation Commission on the reform of intercollegiate athletics.

The Laetare (pronounced Lay-tah-ray) Medal is so named because its recipients nounced each year on Laetare Sunday, the fourth Sunday in Lent on the Church calendar. "Laetare," the Latin word for "rejoice," is the first word in the entrance antiphon of the Mass that Sunday, which anticipates the celebration of Easter. The medal bears the Latin inscription, "Magna est veritas et prevalebit" — "The truth is mighty and it shall prevail."

Established at Notre Dame in 1883, the Laetare Medal was conceived as an American counterpart of the Golden Rose, a papal honor which precedes the 11th century. The medal has been awarded annually at Notre Dame to a Catholic "whose genius has ennobled the arts and sciences, illustrated the ideals of the Church and enriched the heritage of human." Previous recipients of the Laetare Medal are Civil War General William Rosecrans, operatic tenor John McCormack, President John Kennedy, Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, Catholic Worker foundress Dorothy Day, novelist Walker Percy, and evangelist Sister Thea Bowman.

SUNNY'S KIM CHIL GARDEN PATIO	512 S. Spring St. Midtown (219) 255-5274	Hours: Tues-Thurs 11-9 p.m. Fri-Sat 11-10 p.m. Sunday 12:30-7 p.m.
New, Healthy Korean Menu!
Lunch Buffet: Tues-Fri 11:30-2 p.m. $4.95 all you can eat.
Open Sunday for Dinner Buffet: 12:30-7 p.m. All you can eat. Includes: braised hot pork, chob chae, sweet and sour pork, soups, appetizers, salads, fruits and desserts. All for only $8.50.

FRESHMAN

Come to Our Open House

TONIGHT

From 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in RM 226 of the Computing Center and Math Bldg.

FIND OUT ABOUT OUR
MATH
PROGRAMS!

Sponsored by the Department of Mathematics

Yeltsin may face impeachment

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's standing legislature took the first step Sunday toward impeaching President Boris Yeltsin, while outside thousands of protesters gathered to jeer or cheer the president.

A day after Yeltsin declared emergency rule in an effort to sidestep legislative opponents of his economic reforms, the Supreme Soviet's action appeared to cement a stalemate. Yeltsin's chief legal adviser, Sergei Shakhrai, said earlier that the president would not step down if impeached.

The Supreme Soviet also moved to have Yeltsin's top aides investigated for usurping power.

Inside the parliament building, known as the "White House," a parade of hard-line lawmakers denounced Yeltsin, but the atmosphere was generally orderly.

Outside, a heavy police contingent, with more than 100 jeeps and bus loads of militiamen in reserve, kept apart the two groups of placard-waving demonstrators.

No violence was reported, and the crowds dispersed Sunday night.

The crowds listened to the legislature's debate over loudspeakers, and the pro-Communist side cheered as the Supreme Soviet voted 125-16 to ask Russia's Constitutional Court to review Yeltsin's declaration of emergency rule.

If the court finds that Yeltsin violated the Constitution, he could be impeached by the full parliament, the Congress of People's Deputies.

Defense Minister Pavel Grachev called for a compromise in the fight over dividing up governmental powers and promised the army would stay out of the dispute. But he warned that "tempers are running high" in some units, especially in the Moscow Military District.

"Any attempt to split the army forces could lead to bloodshed," Grachev said at the emergency session of the legislature.

Protest

continued from page 1

In the abortion issue, "there are two great evils," he said. "The first is pagans killing children, the greater evil is Christians doing nothing. Christians are standing here while children die."

"President Malloy must be held publicly accountable," added Johnson.

However, Moore said the University did not need to defend itself.

"The University and President Malloy are routinely pro-life in their activities," he said. "There is no legitimate basis for their claim."

To support their argument that the Notre Dame has abandoned the pro-life cause, CALL cited the University's awarding noted prochoice activist Senator Daniel Moynihan the prestigious Laetare Medal. They also referred to speakers such as Reverend Jesse Jackson and President Bill Clinton, also prochoice supporters.

"Notre Dame is a Catholic institution," said Moore. "It follows the tenants of the Church. But it is also a University which fosters public discussion."

Moore pointed out that the University had also invited many prolife speakers to the campus. He mentioned former President George Bush as well as a number of individuals on CALL's own speaker list.

CALL also criticized Notre Dame's stance on abortion by noting the existence of an abortion clinic just blocks away from the University.

"If Notre Dame cared, it would not be here," said Johnson. "Notre Dame runs South Bend. It has an enormous influence over the city."

Moore called this claim "nonsense."

"According to the Supreme Court, abortion is legal in the city of South Bend. We have no legal claim to force the closing of the clinic," he explained. "It is no reflection upon the University. It doesn't mean we don't care about the issue."

Johnson emphasized that the demonstration was not an official Notre Dame/Saint Mary's Right To Life event. Students who participated in the day's activities acted independently, as CALL supporters.

The CALL demonstration was not in agreement with the rules of DuLac, according to Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs William Kirk. It was neither registered with the Assistant for Residence Life, nor was it organized by an official University-recognized organization.

Although it was a peaceful demonstration that did not infringe upon the freedom of the University community, it was still prohibited by DuLac.

The Office of Residence Life will have no repercussions against students who participated in the event, said Kirk.

SCHYLEEN QUALLS IS THE LAST WORD!

Wednesday, March 24

7:00 p.m.

Carroll Auditorium

"THE LAST WORD"

is a thought provoking dramatization of African-American poetry and prose.

"Schyleen Qualls: A treasure, a flower, a trump, a hum-dinger of a word slinger, a corker of a talker, a heller of a storyteller, dawn's first light, and a downright delight."

KEN KESEY

Author, "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest"

SPONSORED BY

MINT OFFICE

SAB

Join us for a

"VIBRANT, EXCITING, & ENERGETIC" Performance

Saint Mary's holds Hypatia Day events

By JENNIFER HABRYCH
Saint Mary's Editor

Over 100 area seventh graders, their parents and 50 Saint Mary's students participated in Hypatia Day this Saturday at Saint Mary's to promote the study of math and science by girls.

Tobi Laren, a Le Mans Hall junior who participated in the event, said that the day was successful.

Laren helped the girls make silly putty and slime during the hands-on sessions in the chemistry lab.

"They were really excited and it was neat seeing them realize that chemistry wasn't just test tubes, but it is related to the real world," said Laren.

Parents who participated said that they enjoyed the day and the reminder that they need to be involved in their daughters' education.

"It was a good reminder of ways I need to get involved to make sure my daughter is on the right track to college," said Martha Detlefsen, the mother of a seventh grader from Edison Middle School in South Bend.

Many of the parents said that what they liked most about the program was that it targeted such a young group.

"I never thought about it before, but the choices they make at this age open and close the doors for later on in life," said Kathryn Henke, whose daughter attends Pierre Moran Middle School in Elkhart.

The hands-on session in which students participated in laboratory and classroom demonstrations led by Saint Mary's students was the favorite part of the day for the seventh graders.

Rachel Sefton, a student at Wanatah Junior High, said that learning to take a person's blood pressure and how to read a thermometer were two of the things she learned in nursing class which she really enjoyed.

"I'm planning to be a nurse when I grow up, and I learned a lot," she said.

Heather Beecher, also a seventh grader at Wanatah Public School, said that while she has always enjoyed math, after the day she believes she will probably study math when she is in college.

Hypatia Day was initiated in response to reports such as the American Association of University Women's "Changing Schools that Shortchange Girls," which claims that girls do not receive as much attention and encouragement in the classroom as boys.

Hypatia Day was sponsored by Miles, Incorporated of Elkhart and Saint Mary's College.

The Observer/Eric Ruethling
Saint Mary's students Tobi Laren (on left) and Denise Frantoni (right), both of Le Mans Hall, assist junior high school students in a hands-on session during Hypatia Day Saturday. The event was held at Saint Mary's in order to encourage women's advancement in math and science.

Page: Quality education offers opportunity

By JASON WILLIAMS
Assistant News Editor

Installing quality, public education with the help of groups and individuals from the private sector is essential in providing intellectual opportunities for students, said Justice Alan Page.

Page, a justice on the Minnesota Supreme Court and 1967 graduate, recounted his personal experiences in witnessing the disillusion of young students in American schools.

"I'm not sure when children begin to lose hope, but I have seen it happen," Page said.

"They see themselves slipping into the huge underclass that our society seems to tolerate."

Page has personally taken initiative with the apparent disintegration of confidence in young students by establishing the Page Education Foundation, a program designed to assist minority and other disadvantaged youth with post-secondary education.

He said the most important aspect of helping students retain their interest in education lies in giving minority and disadvantaged students a sense of purpose in the classroom.

"We must make changes before they give up on the system and make sure the system doesn't give up on them," Page said, "I think the best way to do this is through education."

Page said everyone else who believes in America's education system, should use their own story as a role model for all students. Page pursued his law degree from the University of Minnesota while at the same time playing professional football for the Minnesota Vikings.

Page told law students that learning just begins when they pass the Bar Exam and enter into the work force. Channeling efforts towards preparation will enable them for activities in the courtroom, he said.

"Preparation is critical for success," he said. "Even if your fears cause you to stumble, good preparation will pick you up."

He continued that the rigors of law school do not disappear once students enter the work force. The toughest part of being a lawyer lies in deciphering the vast realms of facts and evidence which can often question their beliefs as individuals, he added.

Attention Juniors

interested in the Rhodes

Professor Walter F. Pratt, Jr. will have a meeting to inform you of • deadline dates and the Fall application process on Tuesday, March 23, 1993

7:00 p.m.

120 Law School

If you are unable to attend this meeting, a sheet of information may be obtained in 102-B O'Shaughnessy Hall after the meeting date.

You may be Tools

but we love you anyway!

Summer at Loyola

First Session 6 weeks beginning May 24
Second Session 6 weeks beginning July 6

- Day, evening or weekend classes.
- Courses in Business, Arts and Sciences, Education, Nursing.
- All courses applicable to Loyola University degrees.
- Classes at Loyola's Mallinckrodt Campus in Wilmette, as well as at the Lake Shore, Water Tower and Medical Center Campuses.
- Register using any Touch-Tone telephone.

To receive your free copy of the 1993 Bulletin of The Summer Sessions, return coupon or call (312) 915-6501.

The Summer Sessions
820 N. Michigan Avenue
Chicago, IL 60611-2106

The Summer Sessions
Loyola University Chicago
820 N. Michigan Avenue
Chicago, IL 60611-2106

Name _____

Address _____

City _____

State _____

Zip _____

ND

Loyola is an equal opportunity educator/employer.

ND German Summer Language Institute

June 21-August 4, 1993

The Notre Dame German Summer Language Institute offers an intensive summer program of courses and cultural enrichment. Earn up to 9 language credits at $130 per credit hour (!) in small, lively classes taught with imagination. The professors are experienced in offering concentrated, yet personalized instruction. Recent ND graduates benefit from a 50% reduction in tuition.

Learn The Language of the 90ies

German Feature Films/Soaps

Video/Interactive Video/Computers/Video Discs

Daily Tutorial in State of the Art Language Laboratory

Tuition Savings/Personal Attention

Imaginative Instruction/Lively Classroom Atmosphere/Experienced Professors

Classes Offered (three credits each):

GE 101 Beginning German I: first 2 1/2 weeks (3 cr.). Intensive introduction to German for students with no or minimal background.

GE 102 Beginning German II: second 2 1/2 weeks (3 cr.). Continuation of GE 101.

GE 103 Beginning German III: third 2 1/2 weeks (3 cr.). Continuation of GE 102.

Fulfills ND language requirement. Taught daily 9-11 a.m., tutorial at 1 p.m.

GE 240 Conversational German (3cr.). A course for students of all ages with some background in German (101/102= elementary, or equivalent). Emphasis on conversation, speaking fluency and comprehension, using interactive video discs together with accompanying textbook. Communicate effectively and appropriately in a range of common situations and for a variety of purposes.

Fulfills ND language requirement. Taught T/Th, 7-9:30 p.m.

Application forms may be obtained by writing to: Summer School Director, 312 Main Building, University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, IN 46556

Abortion Demonstration

ND and SMC students arrested in demonstration

By MEREDITH MCCULLOUGH
News Editor

Three Notre Dame students and one Saint Mary's student were arrested Saturday in Merrillville, Ind. for participating in a "rescue" at a Planned Parenthood clinic.

Regina Hall sophomore Lori Dickinson, Pasquerilla East sophomore Kelly Dwight, Farley Hall junior Claire Johnson, and Cavanaugh Hall freshman Robert Schlosser were among approximately 50 members of Collegians Activated to Liberate Life (CALL), a midwestern pro-life organization, who attempted to close down the clinic for the day by locking arms and blocking all entrances to the facility.

In addition, Notre Dame graduate students Mary Lalli and Michael Sheliga acted as "prayer supporters." These students were on site to silently offer support to the group, according to Johnson, co-president of the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's Right to Life group.

In a standard rescue, pro-life protestors try to reach the site before clinic employees, explained Johnson. They position themselves in front of the doors, pray, and do not let anyone through. At the same time, "sidewalk counselors" approach potential clinic clients with alternatives to abortion, she said.

The rescue activity is "a non-violent, prayerful attempt to save the lives of children," said Johnson. "We place our bodies between the abortionist and the mothers."

The group arrived in Merrillville at about 7:15 a.m. Central Standard time and blocked the four doors of the clinic.

By 10:45 a.m. the police began to move protesters out of the way of the doors and arrest them. "It went a lot faster than we wanted it to," said Dwight. "We would have liked to have been at the clinic longer."

During the process of arrest, many of the demonstrators received poor physical treatment, said Schlosser.

"It seemed as if they wanted to be as expedient as possible," he said, "even if that meant actually throwing people into the paddywagons."

"I was treated roughly, but I expected that," said Dickinson, president of Saint Mary's Right to Life. "They were trying to get us out as quickly as possible and though we did not fight them, we hoped to stay as long as possible."

The protestors were taken to the Department of Public Works building where they were held for about one hour, said Johnson.

Prochoice

continued from page 1

she was doing. "They said they were scared for me," she said.

Fear was also on the mind of senior Delia Garcia last Friday morning.

"There was an initial feeling, anticipation of violence. I'd be lying if I didn't say I was a little scared," said Garcia. "With the doctor in Pensacola being shot, I didn't know what to expect."

For her, action and belief are tied together, Garcia said. It was positive seeing Saint Mary professors on the line as well, she added.

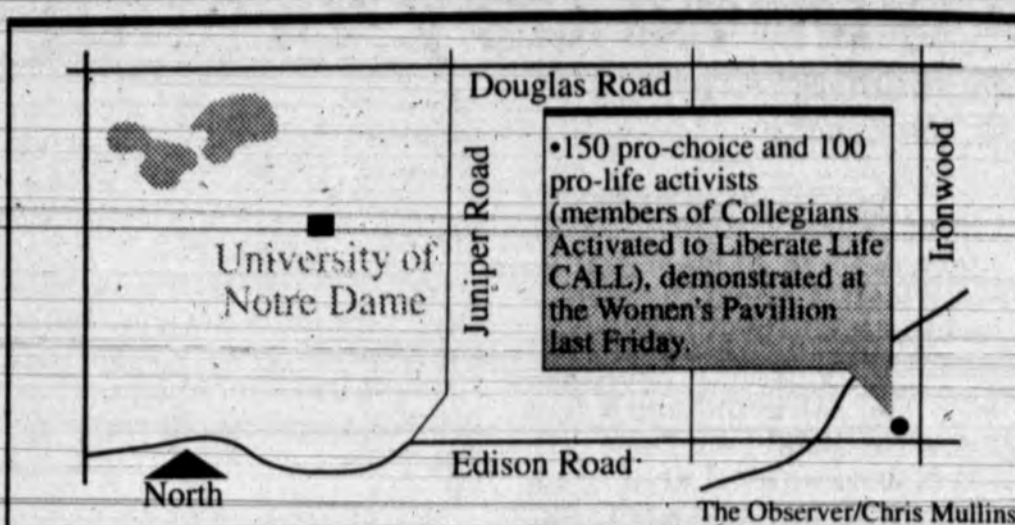

Students drove to the clinic where they met with Saint Mary's faculty. It was "weird" to see Saint Mary's professors at the clinic, said Young.

"There was a community spirit throughout the whole thing," said Young. Although it was 6:30 a.m. and chilly weather, some people passed out doughnuts and bought thermal socks for the pro-choice demonstrators.

"I kind of felt strange because it seemed like some people, on both sides, wanted a big show," she said. "I was kind of scared

"They said they were scared for me."

--Saint Mary's students to Renee Young, prochoice activist of those few people who wanted to be radical, chanting."

Both sides need to practice some respect, according to Young. She referred to an incident where three pro-lifers walked in a circle holding a sign saying "Unborn babies feel pain," and some of the pro-choice demonstrators began following them around chanting and yelling.

Respect was something lacking at Saint Mary's campus earlier in the week, said Garcia. "I'm kind of disappointed in the fact that our voice was being limited because people were ripping our flyers down."

What bothered Garcia was that the women who tore down the signs knew her, she said.

Since she lives in a small section of Le Mans Hall, the people who did it were aware of who she is.

Both Garcia and Young agree that this is an important time for students to become active.

"I think that this is a wonderful opportunity to stand up for what you believe. You have to act now; to voice your opinion," said Young.

Garcia stressed, "It doesn't matter what side a Saint Mary's student falls on but they should get involved. Take some action."

According to the flyer, Saint Mary's pro-choice supporters will be showing their support two more times this week, March 23 and 26.

O'MALLEY AWARD

1993 UNDERGRADUATE TEACHER OF THE YEAR AWARD

what is it?

Each year a committee of students representing all years and majors decide which undergraduate prof has best dedicated his/her time and effort to classroom teaching. The chosen prof wins an award of $1000.

can students nominate the profs?

YES! Forms for nominating your favorite and most deserving profs will be available in the Student Government Office, 2nd floor of Lafortune starting Fri. March 19. They will be due by Wed. March 31.

Any questions call Megan at 271-8888.

Alumni Association

sponsored by Student Government and
The Alumni Association

GREEKS & CLUBS

RAISE A COOL
$1000

IN JUST ONE WEEK!

PLUS $1000 FOR THE
MEMBER WHO CALLS!

No obligation. No cost.

And a FREE

IGLOO COOLER

if you qualify. Call

1-800-932-0528, Ext. 65

FREE
TANNING

• Buy 4* sessions at the regular price and get 4 FREE • Buy 5 and get 5 FREE • Buy 6 and Get 6 FREE GET THE IDEA?

Chicago Hair Cutting Co.

Indian Ridge Plaza
next to Venture
Grape Rd., Mishawaka
277-7946

Daily 9-5 Sat. 9-5 Sun 11-5

Abortion Demonstration

CALL holds prolife conference

By MEREDITH MCCULLOUGH
News Editor

For a number of college students in the Midwest, this year's spring break has not been typical.

Nearly 70 students from a 10-state area joined Collegians Activated to Liberate Life (CALL) in South Bend this week for "Agape in Action," a two-week prolife conference including speakers, rallies, demonstrations and several "rescues."

The organization's communication center claims the conference follows "revolutionary prolife mission in the South Bend area's churches and Christian communities," a mission that is a reflection of the group itself.

According to the CALL philosophy "as Christians we must sacrifice; we must love one another. This means giving our lives if we have to," said Claire Johnson, co-president of the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's Right to Life group and CALL affiliate.

For CALL, such giving has manifested itself even from the beginning.

Peter Heers, a student at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, began the nondenominational group two years ago. CALL's leadership team is currently comprised of seven core members, including Heers. However, the organization also boasts of hundreds of affiliates in the midwestern region.

In terms of affiliates, this year is CALL's biggest year yet, said Johnson.

While in South Bend, the group has provided a "prayerful presence," she said. They have conducted peaceful protests at both the Women's Pavilion, 2010 Ironwood Circle, and the University of Notre Dame.

On Thursday, March 18, a number of CALL members chained themselves to each other and to the abortion clinic. All 18 protesters were arrested. Eight were released the same day, but the rest were not released until Friday or Saturday.

The final week of the "Agape in Action" schedules much of the same. With speakers ranging from testimonies of successful sidewalk counselors to rallies such as "Love your neighbor as Yourself," CALL's "alternative spring break" continues.

Hesburgh remembers former protests

By NICOLE MCGRATH
Saint Mary's News Editor

A sit-in is a rare occurrence on the Notre Dame campus, but for five consecutive years in the 1960's, it was an everyday event, said Father Theodore Hesburgh, president emeritus.

Fr. Hesburgh

"The student revolution was happening all over the country. All over, students were destroying offices. That is not the way to do business," he said.

The Vietnam War was the only time young people taught the older people a lesson in the United States, said Hesburgh.

At Notre Dame, Hesburgh said his students always held back a bit because they could never claim, "We (the administration) weren't available."

"We had a policy that you do have an administration that you can talk to about a problem. As far as I knew, everyone around here is open," he said. "A university must be civil."

When it seemed that the Notre Dame students were nearing violence, Hesburgh said he announced some clear restrictions.

"My rules were to be non-violent, don't impede on another's education and don't try to coerce others by violent means," he stated. If those rules were broken, students were either suspended or expelled.

While some students did protest and hold sit-ins, Hesburgh said he did not participate but he also did not criticize. "You ought to fight with a mind and a moral persuasion," he added.

Hesburgh thinks CALL organized Friday's prayer sit-in because they wanted publicity for their own agenda.

"They think of the University as a bulldozer. We think of the University as a great persuader," he said. "A university must attack problems in a moral, intellectual way; in its own way."

Hesburgh said he recognizes different ways of approaching a problem. The University has had conferences and published books which clearly show that Notre Dame is against abortion, said Hesburgh.

"Everyone is prochoice. You're prochoice, I'm prochoice," he said. "The problem is not prochoice, especially in a democracy, but can you use your freedom to kill other human beings?"

"The problem is not prochoice ... but can you use your freedom to kill other human beings?" --Father Hesburgh

Timeline of Events

Thursday

11 p.m. Three ND students ask University President Father Edward Malloy to join them in prayer at the Women's Pavilion.

Friday

7 a.m. Thirty Saint Mary's students and faculty, seven Notre Dame law students and about 70 others from the St. Joseph County Chapter of NOW set up a pro-choice counter-demonstration.

8:30 a.m. About 115 members of CALL walked single file from Boehm Park to the abortion clinic.

9:30 a.m. Pro-life group drops to its knees in prayer facing the pro-choice demonstrators.

9:35 a.m. CALL leaves in single file line across South Bend Avenue.

9:45 a.m. CALL leaders announce they will march across the Notre Dame campus to Malloy's office in the Main Building.

10:15 a.m. CALL members kneel in front of Malloy's office and begin praying the rosary. Director Peter Heers announces intention to stay in building until he meets with Malloy.

11:30 a.m. First meeting between CALL members and administration. Malloy is not present. CALL leaders announce that conference speakers will address the crowd in the Main Building.

3:30 p.m. Security closes Main Building to all non-students and faculty. Speakers begin to address protesters.

3:50 p.m. Second meeting between CALL leaders and administration, with Father Oliver Williams, associate provost.

5:25 p.m. CALL leaders meet with Dennis Moore, director of Public Relations, and Matthew Cullinan, counselor to the president, and Matthew Cullinan, assistant to the president.

5:30 p.m. CALL announces that Malloy has agreed to speak with them on the condition that protesters leave the building.

5:45 p.m. CALL leaders meet with Malloy and ask him to pray in solidarity at the Women's Pavilion.

6:15 p.m. Malloy speaks to media after meeting, saying he will follow his own agenda in supporting pro-life values.

Attention Junior and Sophomore Business Majors:

Gain valuable work experience by holding a position with the Student Business Board

Help run an organization with sales of nearly $100,000 per year!

The Business Board is responsible for the operations of the Three Student Run Business:

Irish Gardens

Adworks

Notre Dame Video

Applications for General Manager (Seniors to be) will be due on Friday, March 26. Applications for Assistant General Manager (Juniors to be) will be due on Friday, April 2.

All applications can be picked up in the Student Government office on the 2nd floor in LaFortune. Interviews will follow.

Any ?'s, please call Matt Cenedella at 631-3504.

The Second Annual Breen-Phillips Hall

Wednesday, March 24, 1993
La Fortune Ballroom
7 pm to 2 am

Free Admission-- Donations Accepted

☆ Starring Judy Hutchinson ☆

All proceeds go to the Catholic Worker House

The Observer

NOTRE DAME OFFICE: P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 631-7471
SAINT MARY'S OFFICE: 309 Haggar, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 284-5365

1993-94 General Board

Editor-in-Chief
David Kinney

Managing Editor
Kevin Hardman

Business Manager
Brian Kennedy

News Editor ..... Meredith McCullough
Viewpoint Editor ..... Rolando de Aguiar
Sports Editor ..... George Dohrmann
Accent Editor ..... Kenya Johnson
Photo Editor ..... Jake Peters
Saint Mary's Editor ..... Jennifer Habrych

Advertising Manager ..... Anne Heroman
Ad Design Manager ..... Steph Goldman
Production Manager ..... Kathy Fong
Systems Manager ..... Patrick Barth
OTS Director ..... Brendan Regan
Controller ..... Mark Meenan

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, News Editor, Viewpoint Editor, Accent Editor, Photo Editor, Sports Editor, and Saint Mary's Editor. Commentaries, letters and Inside Columns present the views of the authors, and not necessarily those of The Observer. Viewpoint space is available to all members of the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's community and to all readers. The free expression of varying opinions through letters is encouraged.

Observer Phone Lines

Editor-in-Chief	631-4542	Accent/Saint Mary's	631-4540
Managing Editor/Viewpoint	631-4541	Day Editor/Production	631-5303
Business Office	631-5313	Advertising	631-6900/8840
Sports	631-4543	Systems/OTS	631-8839
News/Photo	631-5323	Office Manager	631-7471

Abortion protesters miss the mark

It was a unlikely sight. More than one hundred anti-abortion protesters lined the hallway of the third floor of the Main Building, calling on the University President Father Edward Malloy to join them in solidarity.

Could this be happening at Notre Dame, the nation's preeminent Catholic University?

In fact, that was the scene for seven hours Friday, as members of Collegians Activated to Liberate Life (CALL) knelt in prayer, sang hymns and accused Notre Dame of undermining the pro-life movement.

But underlying the group's anti-abortion protest was the claim that Notre Dame is not fulfilling its responsibility as a Catholic university to foster the teachings of the Church. The group cited Notre Dame's decision to award last year's Laetare Medal to pro-choice supporter Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan.

"The Church teaches us to stand in solidarity against abortion," CALL director Peter Heers said. "Notre Dame hasn't done that."

Amid the extreme words that have become all too familiar in today's abortion debate, the University took a sane middle ground.

"Notre Dame is a Catholic institution," said Dennis Moore, director of Public Relations. "It follows the tenets of the Church. But it is also a University which fosters public discussion."

Any Catholic university must determine what it values most: being Catholic or being a university.

Notre Dame has shown that it possible to value both. It is Catholic in that it adheres to and fosters Catholic morality, values and social justice. But it is also a university, a place where information is presented and students must decide what to value. A university must educate, not indoctrinate.

Even a university rooted in the Catholic tradition must be open to the marketplace of ideas on all issues. Through courses and guest speakers, Notre Dame allows for discussion of various issues and opinions.

But Notre Dame also has a proven dedication to Catholic values. The Center for Social Concerns shows a unique commitment to service that leads many students into social justice work. The University has even supported pro-life values by banning fetal tissue research in University laboratories.

Notre Dame has shown it is possible to reconcile Catholicism and education, and that seemed to be lost on the extremist ears of the members of CALL. At a time when pro-life extremism threatens to strangle the message of the anti-abortion movement itself, a few sane words are long overdue.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader gives thanks for support

Dear Editor:

Recently, both the Notre Dame family and the Catholic character of Notre Dame have been subjects of contention in the Viewpoint section of the paper. I withheld my opinion for the most part, but in facing the death of my closest friend after four years of growing and sharing together, my feelings on the subject have become much stronger.

Tara and I both took the time to question our faith and examine our doubts about Catholicism. As I try to accept the fact that Tara is gone, I realize that my time at Notre Dame has allowed me to develop a strong faith.

Blind acceptance of Christian teachings gets you nowhere. There have been times in which I have wondered if perhaps my faith was not as strong as I would like to think. With the death of Tara, I am quickly realizing how strong my faith is. This is not the time to question God's existence but to accept His will to give Tara her glorious freedom now.

The time I have spent surrounded by people of faith at Notre Dame has allowed me to question, doubt, and finally accept the most difficult aspects of faith. I am relying on that faith now with all my heart as I struggle with the death of one of the most giving and loving

I have ever known.

I cannot question the Catholic character of this University or the concept of the Notre Dame family when I witness the outpouring of love and support directed both towards Tara's family and myself. No place is perfect, and we must continually strive to be like Christ as individuals and as a community. However, I feel blessed to have benefited from both an excellent Catholic education and the love of a wonderful community, particularly in PW.

My thanks go out to each of you who has comforted me and Tara's family. I certainly never expected my senior year to end this way and it will be a very difficult time for me, but I am so grateful for my faith and family.

Elizabeth Wholihan
Pasquerilla West
March 16, 1993

Program hopes to encourage pen pals

Dear Editor:

Last fall I wrote to ask one question of the students at Notre Dame. It was this: "Could you spare fifteen minutes (or less) per week to improve a child's life in the inner city of Chicago? If so, please read on."

Thankfully, more than 125 Notre Dame students, faculty, graduates and friends read the letter, responded and became pen-pals with students in our school on the westside of Chicago. Our pen-pal program is called Write To Them.

Write To Them is a guided pen-pal program matching college students with inner city grade school students in a laid-back, but successful exchange of letters, guidance and friendship.

We especially would like three things: 1) Students who will be studying abroad next year - My class has been corresponding with a student in the Anger Program, and it has given my kids more than I ever imagined! 2) Next year's R.A.'s who could offer it to their whole section as a service project and 3) a larger number of male pen-pals. We have need for many more pen-pals so think it over, and talk it up.

I would ask anyone who is interested to please write a note to me today or tomorrow (or by April 16th at the latest). Please write to: WRITE TO THEM, c/o Sean Scanlon, 3900 W. Lexington, Chicago, IL, 60624.

GARRY TRUDEAU

Include your name, address, phone number, major, interests, the grade level of the child you would like (K-8) and also include a short statement (a paragraph) on what interests you about this program.

I, along with many children, await your response. We can take as many students as can write to us, so please do today!

Sean B. Scanlon
Class of 1991
March 18, 1993

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"A baby is an inestimable blessing and bother."

Mark Twain

Procreate. Submit:

QUOTES, PO Box Q, N. D., IN 46556

DOONESBURY

First grade students in Passagon wait for class to begin. Passagon is seeking school supplies from Notre Dame students.

ND helps educate African children

By BECKY BARNES
Accent Writer

Students in Passagon in the Republic of Benin, Africa can't take tests if they can't afford the paper to write their answers on. They don't go to school if they have no lunch for the day. The school buildings are collapsing.

But at least they have a school.

When Christophe Kougniazonde was growing up in Passagon, he walked 18 miles a day to a school in a neighboring town. Now a graduate student in international relations at Notre Dame, Kougniazonde played an instrumental role in initiating Project Passagon, a project of Pi Sigma Alpha, the government honors society, which collects money and supplies to send to Passagon.

When Pi Sigma Alpha heard about the condition of the Passagon school, they decided "[the project] was something students could do something about," said Karen Weigert, who led the project last year.

The group collected paper, pens and pencils during the last week of the school year and sought private donations. In total, they collected over 500 pounds of supplies and over $1,000.

The people of Passagon were so excited to get the supplies that they held a welcoming ceremony for the boxes, said Weigert. Over 2,000 people, including the mayor, traditional chiefs, elected representatives and a representative of the department of education attended the event, said Kougniazonde.

"When someone gives you something, that is a testimony to the way he or she loves you," he continued. "It is a proof of friendship, and that is usually celebrated."

The ceremony included a review of the students in the school, six entertainment groups with singing and dancing, and speeches by officials, said Kougniazonde. Many people held signs that read "Long live the University of Notre Dame" and thanked members of Phi Sigma Alpha.

The Observer/Chris Mullins

he added. "For my people, that the students of Notre Dame, who don't know the people of Passagon, were so sensitive to send materials to the school; that was a big deal," he said.

The town of Passagon includes 5 to 7 villages and consists of about 10,000 people, said Kougniazonde. It is largely agricultural, producing palm trees, corn, peanuts, beans and oranges.

The town had no school until the early 1970s when the people realized "a combined feeling about the necessity for schooling," he continued. In a general meeting of all the villages and chiefs in 1972, the people decided to build a school themselves.

Individuals at the meeting offered to donate material and land, and the building started a week later, said Kougniazonde. They completed the school during the 1972-73 school year, but then lacked teachers.

Coincidentally, a new government took control of Benin during this time, with a slogan that the people should "count on our own forces," Kougniazonde continued. Since they demonstrated initiative by building the school, they convinced the government to send them teachers.

Although the school has grown from two classrooms to six and accommodates over 350 students, the hastily constructed structure is now about to "collapse on itself," he said.

Because the only funding the school gets from the government is for the teachers, students must supply all their own materials and pay a registration fee, he continued. When parents cannot afford materials, children do not go to school.

The community also combined efforts to build a health center with a maternity ward and dispensary which houses about 25 patients. "But the effort to build the health center distracted attention and funds from the school," said Kougniazonde.

"That's why and how we got to the point where we need to call for assistance for both projects," he added.

Julie Longstreth, this year's organizer of Project Passagon, said she hopes to expand the project to include corporate and local sponsors.

The group has already received a $1600 grant from the national chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, who told the group "it was the best proposal they received all year," said Weigert.

Monetary donations are important to buy materials in Africa to rebuild the school, said Kougniazonde. Shipping the materials to Passagon last year cost over $1,000, which could buy about 10 tons of concrete there, he added.

The group will again collect pens, pencils and paper from each dorm during the last week of school, said Longstreth. Anyone interested in making donations or helping with the collection should contact Julie Longstreth at 634-3719.

Locals entertain in various art forms

By KENYA JOHNSON
Accent Editor

Poets, musicians, dramatic readers, and even magicians have the chance to perform in front of a welcoming audience every Tuesday night at the Madison Oyster Bar and Seafood parlor.

Writers and Other Troubadours is a group that has enlightened the South Bend community for nearly 12 years with entertainment and talent.

The group was originally started by Michael Varga, a Philadelphian who came to work at Notre Dame's Fatima Retreat House in 1981.

"He was a part of a writer's performing group back east but everyone told him [Varga] that it would never work in South Bend," said Julie White, a former Writers and Other Troubadours board member. "But he went ahead with his plans anyway."

The idea proved to be a good one, seeing that Writers and Other Troubadours has been successful for a significant number of years.

Two professors from the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's community have been booked in this season's schedule.

Jacque Vaught Brogan, an associate professor of English at Notre Dame, will be performing this Tuesday, March 23. Brogan readings will be from her "extensive" repertoire of published poetry.

Brogan's critical books, "Theory of Language," and "Part of the Climate: American Cubist Poetry," she has two poetry books in circulation and has published over 30 poems.

Next month, on April 20, Max Westler, director of the writing program at Saint Mary's, will read selections from his widely-published collection of writings.

"This is the first time I'll be there in about five years," Westler said. "I've presented my work maybe three or four times total."

Westler said he still appreciates the opportunity to read his work in front of others.

"It's a wonderful forum," he explained. "Writing tends to be a lonely act. It's good to have an audience to look forward to."

The audience is one of "high intelligence and utmost challenge," according to Westler. Burnett expressed

Spring Schedule

- 3/23 Jacque Brogan
poetry reading
- 3/30 Lauren Friesen
presents Prairie Poems from his works
- 4/6 R.J. Harmony
musical mixture of folk, classical, gospel and melodic country songs
- 4/13 Phillip Ray and friends
original songs on piano
- 4/20 Maz Westler
selections from collections of writings
- 5/4 Asi Es Mi Tierra
Latin music, dance and stories of culture
- 5/11 Jeanne Martinelli performance, prose and poetry

these same sentiments, yet stressed that it was not a crucial audience.

"It's a good place and a very supportive atmosphere for both professional and amateurs," said Burnett.

"Anyone in the audience can go up to the mike," she said. "We've had everything from poetry and music to belly-dancing, and even magic."

continued success to publicity, good performers and "word of mouth."

"We're very pleased to offer the forum to artists and provide the service to the community," said White.

Madison Oyster Bar and Seafood Parlor is located at 421 East Madison St. in South Bend. Writers and Other Troubadours perform every Tuesday at 8 p.m. during the academic season. For more information call (219) 288-3776.

Award-winning poetry

By KENYA JOHNSON
Accent Editor

Poets who want to showcase their talents may want to check out one of these poetry contests being held at the local and national level.

Earth Day "Poet Tree"

"The goal of the 'Poet Tree' contest is to provide a forum for students and adults to express their environmental concerns and dreams for a better tomorrow," said John Foegley, contest coordinator.

The 1993 "Poet Tree" book will contain approximately 160 poems by local South Bend authors as follows: 10 poems from each grade 1-12, 20 college students and 20 adults. Poems should have an environmental theme or should promote a better world in the future.

Entries must be 1 page or less and are due today, March 22. Mail or bring submissions to: Earth Day Poetry Contest, 425 Michigan St., Suite 102, South Bend, IN 46601.

The National Library of Poetry
The National Library of Poetry has announced that $12,000 in prizes will be awarded this year to over 250 poets in the North American Open Poetry Contest. Every poem entered also has a chance to be published in a deluxe, hardbound anthology.

The contest is open to all and entry is free. Poems should be no more than 20 lines, any subject and any style. Entry deadline is March 31. Send ONE original poem to: The National Library of Poetry, 11419 Cronridge Dr., P.O. Box 704-XJ, Owings Mills, MD 21117.

Archive of the Arts

Archive of the Arts, a publication based in Mississippi, is giving poets a chance to appear in a nationwide anthology. They are searching for poetry writers for an upcoming book entitled "Feelings of the Past."

Poets may send one or two poems, 25 lines or less, on any subject and in any style. The deadline for submission is April 15. There is no entry fee. Send poems to: Archive of the Arts, ATTN: Jerry Medina, 2630 Beach Blvd., Suite 22, Box 38, Biloxi, MS 39001.

Photo Courtesy Karen Weigert

Passagon's only school serves the entire community. Today it barely stands and is in need of much repair.

Three Irish earn CCHA awards

Observer Staff Report

The Central Collegiate Hockey Association honored three Notre Dame hockey players at their annual banquet on March 18. Seniors Curtis Janicke, Carl Picconatto and freshman Jaime Ling received awards.

The league coaches selected Ling to the CANSTAR, CCHA All-Rookie Team. He led the Irish this year in scoring with 40 points and 26 assists, and was tied for the team lead with 14 goals. He posted eight multiple-assist games and 11 multiple-point games on the season and never went a weekend without registering a point.

"We are excited about Jaime's future in our program," said Irish head coach Ric Schafer. "Hopefully, the best is yet to come."

CCHA faculty representatives selected Janicke and Picconatto to the All-Academic team.

Janicke, who will graduate with a major in finance, has achieved a 3.105 GPA and is a four year monogram winner for the Irish. This year, he was an assistant captain. He finished tied for second with 30 points, scoring 12 goals and dishing out 18 assists.

"Curtis is a tremendous competitor," said Schafer. "He works hard every shift."

Picconatto has maintained a 3.77 GPA in chemistry. He played in 10 games between the pipes and started six. He was a Rhodes Scholar and Marshal Scholar candidate, and has attained the Dean's List six out of seven times.

"Carl is the hardest working goaltender I have ever been around," said Schafer.

Cosgrove shines as Belles open season

By KILEY COBLE
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's tennis team found very little difficulty in defeating their on-court opponents last week, but their off-court opponent proved a little tougher. The storm that hit the East Coast last weekend prolonged the Belle's victorious vacation at Hilton Head.

The team came away from the tournament, their first matches of the season, with a 6-1 record. On March 7, the Belles swept Guilford College, 7-2. On the next day, the Belles had a close loss against Haverford College, 5-4. Later on that same day, however, they crushed Roanoke College, 9-0. Then on March 9, they were successful in stopping Bryn Mawr College, 6-3, and Ursinus College, 8-1. On the following day they slaughtered Averette College, 8-1. The Belles finished off the tournament by beating Washington University 6-3.

Junior Mary Cosgrove, seeded in the number one spot, went undefeated in both singles and doubles play.

"She had two significant wins against Roanoke and Washington University," said coach Jo-Ann Nester. "This will definitely move her up."

Cosgrove is ranked No. 13 for the region, a number which should increase after she defeated the No. one singles player at Washington who is ranked No. eighth in the region. Also aiding Cosgrove will be the presence of Washington University's coach, who is a member of the rankings voting committee.

The Belles finally returned to the Midwest last Tuesday and they left on Thursday to play against Calvin College, in Grand Rapids Mich. The Belles winning streak ended here with a painful loss, 4-5.

Cosgrove stopped Debbie Pettinga, 7-5, 6-1, and senior Natalie Kloepper stomped Betty Williams of Calvin in number two singles, 6-3, 6-4. Sophomore Andrea Ayres lost to Julie Kozee in the third position, 6-3, 6-4. At number four singles, junior Lisa Rania was unsuccessful against Courtenay Teen, 7-6 (7-4), 7-5. Senior Chris Smiggen couldn't beat Jill Boerema at number five singles, losing 6-3, 6-4. In number six singles, sophomore Nancy Waibel beat Beth Vanderkooi, 6-4, 6-4.

In doubles play, Cosgrove and Ayres swept Pettinga and Williams, 6-4, 7-6 (8-6). Freshman Robin Hrycko and Smiggen were unsuccessful against the Teen/Boerema team, losing 6-4, 2-6, 6-2. And senior Shannon McGinn and Kloepper, had similar difficulty against Kuzee and Vanderkooi, losing 6-4, 2-6, 6-2 again.

"We hadn't played since Friday. We were absolutely flat," said Nester.

Kloepper, however, is doing anything but playing flat. She has been filling junior Thayma Darby's spot who has been away due to an illness in the family.

"Natalie is playing well at number two," said Nester. "She plays at a level higher than last year. She only lost once at Hilton Head."

"I like playing at number two," said Kloepper. "I'm much more confident this year. For the last two years I've been playing at number four, and I wanted to come back this season in at least the third spot."

Nester said she is also very pleased with Rania's performance at number four. She has only lost one of her last four matches.

The Belles next game isn't until March 31, at home against Kalamazoo College.

Photo Courtesy of SMC Sports Information
Senior Natalie Kloepper turned in a strong performance over break.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Aikido Club will have practice from 6-8 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday from 2-4 p.m. on Friday in 219 Rockne. Beginners are welcome.

ND/SMC Equestrian Club is having a club show. If you are interested in showing stockseat at Purdue on March 27, please call Katie at 284-5520.

ND/SMC women's lacrosse will meet at 4 p.m. at Saint Mary's beginning March 22 for practice. If weather is bad, go to Loftus at 4 p.m. If you have any questions, call Heather Jackson at 284-5703.

Bookstore Basketball is looking for a joke team to play against campus celebrities in the Hall of Fame Game on March 28. Contact Andy at 634-1223 if you are interested.

Bookstore Basketball captains' meeting will be March 25 at 7 p.m. in Cushing Auditorium. It will be short and schedules will be passed out. All should reduce reuse recycle

Classifieds

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 314 LaFortune and from 12 p.m. to 3 p.m. at 308 Haggard College Center. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The charge is 2 cents per character per day, including all spaces.

NOTICES

TYPING 256-6657

DEB'S TYPING SERVICE 1-656-3038 PICK-UP/DELIVERY

The NDCIBD will be sponsoring a spring forum, Business in the Context of Latin American Development, "Growth in the Making", Thursday, March 25 7:30pm at the Hesburgh Peace Center. Everyone is welcome to attend.

LOST & FOUND

Foamie - Pair of glasses on corner of Eddy & Edison. Call 232-8572. Mrs. Sniagowski

Lost - Gold crucifix & chain before break. Sent. Value $34-1917 Seen.

REWARD!!! Lost set of keys with Pan & Stimp keychain before Spring Break. Call Ryan x1607.

WANTED

SUMMER JOBS
ALL LAND/WATER SPORTS
PRESTIGE CHILDREN'S CAMPS
ADIRONDACK MOUNTAINS
NEAR LAKE PLACID
CALL 1-800-786-6373.

CRUISE SHIPS NOW HIRING - Earn $2,000+/month + world travel (Hawaii, Mexico, the Caribbean, etc.) Holiday, Summer and Career employment available. No experience necessary. For employment program call 1-208-634-0488 ext. C6584.

Need 1bdrm apt for summer. Call Nicole at X4935.

50,000,000 babies

ATTENTION INDIGO GIRLS' FANS!! How would you like a free ticket to see them? 2 of us need a ride to Decorah IA for Apr. 18. All gas and lodging will be paid for. Call Joe at x2033.

5 ALASKA SUMMER EMPLOYMENT - Fisheries. Earn $600+/week in canneries or $4000+/month on fishing boats. Free transportation! Room & Board! Over 8000 openings. No experience necessary. Male or Female. For employment program call 1-208-545-4155 ext. A5584

SAILING SCHOOL DIRECTOR 10wk season June-mid Aug. Salary $3000-3500 dep. on exper. CPR/first-aid cert., teach. exper. desired. Returns to St. Joe Jr. Foundation, 1820 Niles, St. Joe, IN 46785 by Apr. 15 '93; Instruct. pos. also; 7'a call Diann 294-5282

FOR RENT

Four bedroom furnished Oakhill Condo open for summer rental. Rent negotiable. Call Amy or Doug @ 614-237-1370 for info.

EX-ND STAFFER AND SPOUSE DESIRE TO RENT FURNISHED APARTMENT FOR SUMMER. NON-SMOKERS, REFERENCES. WRITE 135 LAKEVIEW DR., MULBERRY FL 33660 OR CALL (813)425-4404.

BED 'N BREAKFAST HOMES FOR ND/SMC PARENTS. 219-291-7183.

4 BEDRM/3BATHRM SEMI-FURN. OAKHILL CONDO 4 RENT 93-94 SUM and/or YEAR CALL 277-9452

Newly Remodeled 5br. house for rent. Close to ND. all appliances, security system, etc. $650/ mo. 232-8256

2 br. Apts for rent totally remodeled with new appliances and lots of space truly the best price in town Call us and compare 232-8256

3-5 person furnished house, SEC Syst, wash/dry, Beach V-Bell, Prime Location 233-9947

SUMMER SESSION - Visiting Professors, grad students. 4-bdrm. home. Use of all utilities. $250/mo. Close to Campus. Call Paul or Monica 232-2794.

FURNISHED HOMES FOR NEXT SCHOOL YEAR EXCELLENT NEIGHBORHOOD NORTH OF ND IDEAL FOR 4-7 STUDENTS 2773087

Rent or Sale 2 B.R., W. D. R. R. 2 baths. Located College Park Condos. Corner of Buile & Ironwood. Must be responsible tenant $565 per mo or Sale $85,900. Send info to PO Box 4075 South Bend IN 46634.

FOR SALE

STEREO COMPONENTS: 1 yr - like new ($800) NAD Preamp & Amp Philips CD player Klipsch speakers subwoofer, tape deck x1528 Will or Mike

'87 HONDA CIVIC DX hatchback call Sham @ 277-4269 for more info

1,400sq CONDO $80K*2BED/2BATH w/FPLC & DECK. PERFECT FOR STUDS/ALUMS. 272-5901

LIVING OFF-CAMPUS NEXT YEAR? NEED FURNITURE?

WE HAVE:
BEDS
COUCHES
TABLE
5 CHAIRS
ENTERTAINMENT CENTER
DRESSERS
AND A DESK
CALL 273-2810

SANYO 4 SEPARATE COMPONENT STEREO (tuner, amp, EQ, and tape deck) $150.00 271-1443 Ask for Steve

Car for sale. '77 Olds 98; V-8. Runs Great, new tires, brakes. Very BIG. Perfect for getting you, friends, and stuff home for summer. $600 or BO 2893695

TICKETS

Help!! I desperately need extra tickets for graduation! This is my grandparents' last chance to see one of their grandchildren graduate! Call Gabrielle at 4-3023

PERSONAL

Astrologer, Birth Charts & Personal Forecasts. Send SASE: Astrological Services, Box 8038, South Bend, IN 46615, or call Pager #282-7042.

Just one word to all the students who don't like the rules or the food at ND - LEAVE

BOOKSTORE BASKETBALL

Needs a joke team to play versus the campus celebrity team on Sunday March 28th

Please submit proposals to the SUB office in LaFortune no later than Monday, March 22nd.

BOOKSTORE BASKETBALL!

---The Sixth Sense---
Have you ever experienced deja vu? Are horoscopes the first thing you turn to? Do you believe in E.S.P.? Are crystal balls and tarot cards a way of life for you?

OR
Do you think horoscopes and fortune telling are bogus, perhaps even sacrilegious? We're interested in what you think!! Call the Accent department of The Observer and talk to Kenya at 631-4540.

Snap-a-scum man, who the hell do I give my 23 to?

LADIES.07(former) @ P.E.
Greetings from Rome! I miss all of you & can't wait to see you! Love, Felicia

TRICIA & NERMS - DON'T ACT LIKE YOU DON'T WANT TO ROOM W/ ME! GO IRISH. WOOL I MISS U The Phonerster

Drummer seeks guitar and bass players for original band Call Dave X1305

Pregnant and feeling alone with no where to turn? We offer confidential counseling at no cost to you. For more information call Nancy at 232-5843.

Adoption: Doctor and teacher will make dreams for your baby come true. Full-time parenting. Best of the city; summers by the beach; your baby rocked to sleep by a cozy fireplace in winter, and by ocean waves in summer. Art, music, the best education, endless love. Call Franny or Stephen collect. (212)389-2587

Heading for EUROPE this summer? Jet there anytime for only $169 from East Coast, $229 from the Midwest (when available) with AIRHITCH! (Reported in Let's Go & NY Times.) AIRHITCH (r) 212-884-2000.

To the girl who was looking for "Hereditas" vol. 45 in the Brans Thurs. afternoon... Would you like to go out w/ the guy who helped look?

ADOPTION: A loving happy home, financial security, and educational opportunities await your newborn. We can help with your expenses. Please call us collect: David and Rosemary (919) 288-4490 Let's help each other.

CHILDLESS TEXAN COUPLE. NO Grad. Happily married for 4 years. Anxious to adopt newborn infant. Personal meeting welcome. Lawful and proper pregnancy related expenses paid. Couple approved by Texas adoption authorities in advance of placement. State supervised adoption procedures. Call collect: David & Maureen (512) 463-3418.

GO SCREAMIN' NAKED NIEMANN!!!!!!

.....really.

Top 10 Quotes Heard During the Adventures of Tom, J.B., Chris, and Ryan in Florida:

10. "I'm not drunk—it just seems like it."
9. "Ploach: that's how I remember her name."
8. "She's Abigail!"
7. "Oh my God, it's full!"
6. "I'm not just a security guard—I'm also deputy sheriff."
5. "Don't curse—it offends me."
4. "Can we stop at Denny's?"
3. "Hey kid, I've got something that's a real FUN SIZE in my pocket for you."
2. "Wh, you are so funny!"
1. "Cops are nothing."

GRAM & NANC - How are my fellow graces? I miss you & can't wait to see your sorry little butt! Causes you Don't Impress Me, Dobahel Love, Grace #3

NCAA MEN'S BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP 1993

1993 DIVISION I WOMEN'S BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Strip

continued from page 16

call on his pocket size cellular phone. Odds are he was making hotel reservations for the sweet sixteen.

5:30 - Stefanie swears she will give up candy on Sunday's (the one exception on her Lenten promise) if Cal wins. I just keep swearing as Grant Hill catches fire and Duke cuts the Cal lead in half.

:06 - The Chancellor of Cal with his 5'6" stature and Joe Paterno glasses runs up and down the aisle slapping every hand in his sight. Upon reaching the top of the section he begins pumping his fists in celebration.

:00 - I hug Stefanie and several other strangers around me. The joy I feel for Cal hides the pain coming from my fingers where my nails have been reduced to nothing.

The small list of occurrences does not do justice to the emotion which rippled through the Horizon. Nor does it mention the sadness felt upon leaving the arena.

How long had it been since Notre Dame fans had the opportunity to relish in the emotions surrounding a relevant basketball contest? The Irish's upset of UCLA last season standing as the only game in recent history, which seems decades ago after the Irish's 92-93 debacle.

It is not a matter of school pride or bragging rights, it is simply a passion for the intensity surrounding a game of such magnitude. Irish fans must look elsewhere. Indiana, Michigan, or Cincinnati are widely chosen candidates.

They are only substitutes for cheering for your own school, but when will Notre Dame fans no longer seek a replacement?

As the fans dispersed I noticed a fan who may have an answer.

"Hey Monty," I yelled to Notre Dame forward Monty Williams. "Your gonna bring Notre Dame here next year right?"

"I hope so," he answered.

I hope so too.

Pangborn Hall presents:

THE PRICE

$1,000
in Prizes

IS RIGHT

Dinner with Lou Holtz

to benefit La Casa de Amistad

March 27th, 7 p.m., Library Auditorium

Tickets $3 at LaFortune Information Desk

Controversial call aids Central Michigan in win over Notre Dame

A controversial net violation against Tom Kovats, shown here earlier in the season, handed the win to Central Michigan.

By KEVIN DOLAN
Sports Writer

A volleyball match that more closely resembled a war came to a strange, disappointing end Friday night, as the Irish men's team lost a deciding fifth game to Central Michigan on a controversial net-call on Tom Kovats.

The Irish, who fell 16-14, 15-17, 15-8, 9-15 and 22-20, were called for three net violations in the fifth game, violations that equaled CMU's final three points.

"That's a terrible way to lose," said club president Pat Madden, still seething long after the match was finished. "I think one, maybe two, were actual net violations."

"TK ( Kovats ) said that he netted the last one, but that the other guy did, too. So, I don't know," Madden said.

Club captain Brian Ceponis was equally unhappy with the outcome. "It was strange, really strange," said Ceponis. "There were some really bad calls today... you can't blame that for the outcome of the game, but it's still unfortunate."

The Irish jumped to a 12-7 lead in game one, and were serving for the game, but a series of poorly hit balls and other mental errors let CMU back into the game, and they prevailed 16-14.

Game two was a close, intensely played match, the biggest lead coming when Leo

ND Volleyball Schedule

Date	Opponent	Location
March 23	University of Wisconsin	Milwaukee 7 pm.
March 26-27	MIVA Tournament	Tri-State University
April 1	University of Toledo	Home 7:30 pm.
April 2	University of Michigan	TBA
April 4	MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY	2 pm.
April 15-17	Ntl. Collegiate Club Tournament	Austin, Texas

The Observer/Chris...

Casas smashed a sharp set to CMU's feet for a 12-8 Notre Dame lead. CMU then fought back to a 13-13 tie, but the Irish, with kills by Madden, Casas and Chris Murdy, took the game 17-15.

The third game was the low point of the night for the Irish, as Central Michigan began to attack every ball the Irish put up. One sequence saw players from both sides diving everywhere, digging balls that appeared unhittable, before a CMU spike took them to an 11-8 lead, and an eventual 15-8 win.

"We lost our confidence in that game," said Ceponis.

The Irish didn't suffer from a lack of confidence in the closing moments of game four. Tied at 9-9 in a must-win situation, Murdy and Casas led the Irish to six straight points.

"What mistakes we made were due to aggressiveness, which is good," said Ceponis. "We finally realized that we could control the net in game four." Murdy, Casas and Kovats were all strong on the net.

Game five, like the rest of the match, was back and forth, with the Irish taking the biggest lead of the game at 13-10. CMU then ran off four straight points, but the Irish rallied to tie at 20-20. Two controversial calls later, the match was over.

"I thought we played all right," said Ceponis. "Once we realized the net was ours, we controlled it. All we can do is just suck it up and play tough in the next one."

Lax

continued from page 16

letic team, and knew we would be fresher than them because this was their third game in five days," Corrigan said.

This freshness was reflected in the fact that the Irish gobbled up 65% of ground balls, keeping the ball pinned in the UMBC zone for most of the game.

The win was even more impressive considering the Irish are beset by injuries. Starting junior attacker Steve Manley (back) and sophomore midfielder Marc Pasquale (hamstring) were unable to play while starting goalie Chris Parent and midfielder Kevin Lynyak saw limited time because of the flu.

Corrigan turned to his younger players to step up and fill the vacancies. Sophomore Ryan Jewell shined in Parent's absence allowing only one goal in 36 minutes of action, while freshman midfielder Michael Maroney saw a great deal of time, in place of Pasquale and Lynyak, and had an assist. The strongest performance by a freshman, however, was turned in by Mahoney.

"We knew Kevin had a lot of talent coming in this year, so his performance didn't surprise me at all," said Corrigan.

"I was happy to get the chance to step up and contribute in such a big game. I had been practicing with Randy and Robbie Snyder since the first of the year, so I was confident that I could produce," he said.

Photo Courtesy Of Notre Dame Sports Info
The absence of senior goalie Chris Parent didn't hurt the Irish.

The Observer/Pat McHugh
Freshman attacker Kevin Mahoney contributed four goals during Saturday's 16-4 Notre Dame win.

Conserve Energy:

turn out your lights

Three's A Crowd

Buy 2
Get 1
Free

Not At-

1636 N. Ironwood
(Just south of SR23)
271-1433

Hours:

Mon-Tues 11-9:30
Wed-Sat 11-10
Sunday 4-9:30

Dine-in only. Coupon good till 4/7/93. Free dinner must be of equal or lesser value. Not good with any other offer.

+ LENTEN GRADUATE STUDENT MINI - RETREAT

Sunday, March 28
3:00 - 7:00 p.m.

A time of silence and reflection on the biblical texts of the Sundays of Lent.

Place: Fischer Graduate Community Center

Cost: The retreat will conclude with a pizza supper for which a donation will be welcomed.

CALL BY FRIDAY MARCH 26 TO RESERVE A PLACE.

Contact Fr. John Gerber, C.S.C., Fischer Residences 239-8606 or Sharon at Fischer Community Center 239-8607.

Irish exceed expectations with trio of wins

By RIAN AKEY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women's tennis team expected some success heading into this weekend's matches against Drake, Michigan, and Kansas State. And, for perhaps the first time all season, the Irish exceeded all expectations.

In their opening match against Drake on Saturday, Notre Dame plowed through the competition without losing a set and never looked back the rest of the weekend. The list of scores tells the story: Notre Dame 9, Drake 0; Notre Dame 9, Michigan 0; Notre Dame 8, Kansas State 0.

"We really did not expect to win as big as we did, especially against Michigan," said Irish coach Jay Louderback. "Michigan is a solid team, and Christy Faustmann was sick and could not play, but everyone stepped up and did a great job."

"I was very pleased with the way Ennie Bende played. She just had a great weekend," said Louderback. "She hasn't played much singles for us, but she's been playing well in practice and is pretty even with our other players."

Against Drake, Bende filled in for Sherri Vitale and posted a solid 7-5, 6-2 win.

"It was different for me to play singles," said Bende, "but it was helpful. In my first match, I didn't start out very well, but I got more and more comfortable as I went on."

"Playing singles also helped me with my doubles, because it gave me a chance to warm up. Also, I've been having some trouble with my returns in doubles, and my singles matches gave me a chance to work on that."

With Christy Faustmann unable to compete in the Michigan and Kansas State matches the rest of the singles lineup shifted up to cover her number-three spot, and Bende filled in at number six.

Against the Wolverines' Tara Graff, Bende dropped her first set 2-6, but recovered to claim the next two sets 6-4 and 7-6. Facing Kansas State she showed no signs of tiring, rolling to a 6-2, 6-1 victory.

With the three match wins this weekend the Irish raised their season dual match record to 10-6, and their regional record to 6-0. The Irish also extended their match win streak to four—the longest of the season.

"Right now," said Louderback, "We're seeing the results of the tough schedule we had at the beginning of the season. It's really helped us overall."

The Observer/Kyle Kusak

Sophomore Laura Schwab was one of several Irish players who picked up their play over the weekend.

Bende agreed with Louderback's assessment of the schedule.

"We started out against a lot of top-25 teams and we didn't have a very good record. But we did get a chance to see those good teams and measure ourselves against them. That gave us a chance to set some standards for ourselves and we know what level we have to reach in order to compete."

Though the team's confidence may have been boosted by more wins early in the season, Louderback is not second-guessing the schedule.

"At the time we made our schedule up we had Terri Vitale healthy and Melissa Harris was also expected to play. Those two players could have made a big difference in those early matches. But still, since then everyone else has really stepped up to fill in those spots."

Notre Dame hopes to continue its current success in home matches next weekend against Miami (Ohio) and 22nd-ranked Clemson.

As for Welsh, "Watching her last race was really emotional. I couldn't be happier for her."

ALUMNI SENIOR ECLUB

Don't miss Cliff Erickson's annual performances on his national tour.

This Friday & Saturday
10-2

Club opens at 9, come early for the best seat

must be 21

"A Spring of Hope after the long Winter of the Pastoral on Women?"

Lecture and Questions

Auxiliary Bishop
Francis Murphy

Baltimore, Maryland

Monday, March 22 at 7:30 PM

101 DeBartolo Hall

Sponsored by

Hall President's Council

Department of Theology

The William K. Warren Chair in Theology

The Robert and Marion Short Chair

Gender Studies

Notre Dame's Committee on the Ordination of Women

Upsets

continued from page 16

successful stint in doubles play and responded with two key victories.

However, perhaps most important for the Irish was the unbelievable play of seniors Coleman, Schmidt, and Rosas at the two, three, and four singles slots. Coleman and Schmidt won all four times they stepped on the court and Rosas went 3-1.

With the impressive tournament win, the Irish are sure to climb back up in this week's rankings, which will be announced on Tuesday.

Due to late Sunday night arrivals, coach Bob Bayliss and members of the team were unavailable for comment.

Notre Dame 5, No. 19 New Mexico 2

SINGLES: Forsyth beat No. 47 Gene Carswell, 6-2, 6-1; Coleman beat Coulter

Wright, 6-3, 3-6, 7-6; Schmidt beat Garrett Prins, 6-2, 6-1; Rosas beat Warren Brooks, 6-4, 7-6; Roy Canada beat Wilson, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3; Wojtalik beat Chris Brown, 6-2, 6-7, 6-DOUBLES: No. 21 Carswell-Canada beat

Forsyth-Coleman, 8-6; Schmidt-Wilson beat Prins-Wright, 8-6; Jeremy DeFalco-Brooks beat Wojtalik-Sprouse, 8-4

Notre Dame 5, No. 7 Miles, State 2

SINGLES: Forsyth beat No. 1 Dan Courcol, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3; Coleman beat No. 73 Laurent Orsini, 6-4, 6-4; Schmidt beat Laurent Miquel, 6-4, 6-1; Rosas beat Per Nilsson, 6-4, 6-2; Wilson beat Remi Barbarian, 6-2, 7-6 (8-6); Stephanie Plot beat Wojtalik, 7-5, 7-5.

DOUBLES: Courcol-Miquelard beat Coleman-Forsyth, 8-6; Nilsson-Kristian Bruns beat Schmidt-Wilson, 8-6; Orsini-Barbarian beat Rosas-Wojtalik, 8-6.

Notre Dame 4, No. 17 Florida 3

SINGLES: No. 9 Mark Merklein beat Forsyth, 6-3, 6-4; Coleman beat David Blair, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2; Schmidt beat Daimon Henkel, 6-4, 6-0; Rosas beat Trevor Taylor, 6-2, 7-6; Brett Stein beat Wilson, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4; Mike Sprouse beat David Baylog, 6-2, 6-3.

DOUBLES: Merklein-Blair beat Forsyth-Coleman, 8-2; Schmidt-Wilson beat Taylor-

The Office of Minority Student Affairs, Multi-cultural Executive Council, and the Lilly Foundation present:

"A Collar in My Pocket"
(a workshop)

Jane Elliott

Monday, March 22, 1993

Washington Hall 7:00 p.m.

Jane Elliott is the adapter of "Blue Eyes, Brown Eyes" discrimination exercise and her work has been documented on ABC's Peabody Award winning "The Eye of the Storm," PBS's Emmy Award winning "Frontline Series," and Florida Public Television's Emmy Award winning "The Eye of the Beholder." She has been a guest on a wide variety of television shows, including "Today," "The Johnny Carson Show," "The Phil Donahue Show," and "The Oprah Winfrey Show."

Williams ends career with finest performance

By HALEY SCOTT
Sports Writer

She had a long and distinguished career.

Tanya Williams, co-captain of the women's swim team, finished her collegiate swimming career this weekend with her last visit to the NCAA championship meet. And she went out in style.

Williams, a senior from Boca Raton, Fla., has led the Irish to three National Catholic championship titles, four Midwestern Collegiate Conference championship titles, and one Eastern Intercollegiate championship title. Not to mention that she is the only Irish swimmer to ever qualify for NCAA's—four times.

"She has had a wonderful career," said head coach Tim Welsh. "She has worked hard and has certainly earned everything that's come to her."

This weekend in St. Paul, Minn., Williams competed in her last NCAA meet, and according to Welsh, her best NCAA meet. Swimming in the maximum three individual events, Williams swam career best times in the 100- and 200-yard backstrokes. In the 100-yard backstroke, Williams reset her own university record with a time of 55.68. She also lowered her own university record in the 200-yard backstroke (1:57.68); a time fast enough for her to be named All-American in the event.

"Tanya raced really well all the way through. She swam magnificent in the morning in order to return to finals in the evening, which needs to be done when the meet is so fast," Welsh commented.

Williams also swam in the 200-yard individual medley. This event resulted in her fastest time this season, 2:03.91; a time that goes down in the record books as the third fastest ever at Notre Dame.

"I was really happy with the way I swam. It was exciting to finish with best times," Williams said. "It's so weird to be done with swimming. I can't believe it, I don't know what to do."

Tanya Williams ended her career at the NCAA Championships with her strongest performance ever.

The Observer/Sean Faman

Sports Shorts

The Notre Dame baseball team defeated Kentucky 7-6 on Friday, but lost three to the Wildcats over the weekend.

The Irish lost to the Wildcats 13-10 in 11 innings on Saturday and dropped two close games of a doubleheader (8-7, 9-6) on Sunday.

The Irish softball team was scheduled to play at the Indiana State Tournament in Terre Haute, Ind., but the tournament was cancelled due to weather. The Irish will play a doubleheader against Indiana State today if the weather permits.

Due to late Sunday night arrivals, complete coverage will appear in Tuesday's edition.

Conserve Electricity

Exercise serves you right.

TRANSLATORS

Earn extra money as contract translator in growing segment of our communications business. Call now for details and information packet. Zoss Communications, Inc. 219-288-1422.

Europe This Winter

London	$439*
Brussels	$499*
Paris	$538*
Rome	$569*
Tel Aviv	$649*

*Fares are roundtrip from Chicago. Taxes not included and restrictions apply. Call for other worldwide destinations, both one way and roundtrip.

Council Travel

1153 N. Dearborn St., 2nd floor
Chicago, IL 60610

312-951-0585

Call your FREE copy of the Student Travel Magazine

$3.50 ALL SHOWS BEFORE 6 PM

PLANNED MOVIES!

SCOTTISH BLOOD 291-4583
HOMEBASE BLOOD (G)
5:15, 7:15
FALLING DOWN (R)
5:15
TERRACE BLVD. MALL
YUTTER (PG)
5:30, 7:30, 9:30
TOWN & COUNTRY 259-9090
Grounds Day (PG)
4:45, 7:15, 9:45
Swiss Kids (PG-13)
5:00, 7:30, 10:00
Point of No Return (R)
4:30, 7:00, 9:30

Dr. Betty Shabazz

Widow of Malcolm X

The Status of Blacks and Women in Today's Society

Wednesday, March 24th
Stepan Center 7:30 PM
Tickets: $3 students/ $5 public
At LaFortune info desk or at door

There will be a 15 minute book signing in the Sorin Room at 6 PM for The Autobiography of Malcolm X and I Dream a World. Open reception will follow.

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBS

BILL WATTERSON

Unbeknownst to most students of psychology, Pavlov's first experiment was to ring a bell and cause his dog to attack Freud's cat.

CROSSWORD

Crossword

Edited by Eugene T. Maleska

No. 0208

ACROSS

- 1 Hoover, e.g.
- 4 Maxims
- 8 TV's "L.A. —"
- 12 Spoken
- 14 Ran
- 15 Actress Rehan
- 16 Caron film
- 17 Lazy ones
- 18 "— appetit!"
- 19 Shoe for 17 Across?
- 21 Profit ending
- 22 Extra
- 23 TV's "The — of San Francisco"
- 25 Comes back
- 27 Hodgepodge

- 28 Finish for, quip or tip
- 29 Ego
- 32 Early radio's "— and Abner"
- 34 Slapping sound
- 38 TV series: 1987-91
- 42 Port for Pompey
- 43 Blocker of "Bonanza"
- 44 Votes for
- 45 Hang laxly
- 48 Strikebreaker
- 50 Polish region
- 53 TV Angels' boss
- 57 In a bad way
- 59 Ukr., once
- 60 In evidence
- 61 Also

- 62 Birthplace of St. Francis
- 64 Minimum —
- 65 "Have you — wool?"
- 66 Arsenic, e.g.
- 67 — and void
- 68 Half a diam.
- 69 Arabian V.I.P.
- 70 French possessive

DOWN

- 1 "Guys and —"
- 2 Running wild
- 3 Of the cheekbone
- 4 TV's "Major —"
- 6 — of Man
- 9 TV bar sitcom
- 7 Harness part
- 8 TV commercials, e.g.
- 9 Toil
- 10 Deck out
- 11 Decreases
- 13 Bendix early TV show, with "The"
- 14 In a foul way
- 20 Moray, e.g.
- 22 Candice Bergen TV role
- 24 Trifles
- 26 S.A.T., e.g.
- 29 Narrative: Abbr.
- 30 Words of inquiry
- 31 Ignited

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

- 33 TV's "The — Squad": 1968-73
- 35 Fib
- 36 Memorabilia
- 37 Wires: Abbr.
- 38 N.M. art colony
- 40 Fem. opposite
- 41 Fetter
- 42 Supple
- 47 TV dog star
- 48 Rhine tributary
- 50 Shankar plays it
- 51 Actress Massey
- 52 Bridges of TV's "See Hunt"
- 54 Oahu feasts
- 55 Fireplace
- 56 Biographer Leon and family
- 59 — and shine
- 62 Simian
- 63 Spanish guitarist-composer: 1778-1839

Get answers to any three clues by touch-tone phone: 1-900-420-5656 (75¢ each minute).

CAMPUS

Monday

9 p.m. Film: "Avant-Garde Movies." Annenberg Auditorium.

LECTURES

Monday

7 p.m. Workshop. "A Collar in My Pocket," Jane Elliott, adaptor of "Blue Eyes, Brown Eyes," discrimination experiment. Washington Hall. Admission free.
7:30 p.m. Lecture: "A Spring of Hope After the Long Winter of the Pastoral on Women?" Auxiliary Bishop Francis Murphy, Baltimore. Room 101, Auditorium, DeBartolo Hall. Admission Free.
7:30 p.m. Lecture: "Violence and the Inner City Poor," Elijah Anderson, University of Pennsylvania. Auditorium, Hesburgh Center.

MENU

Notre Dame

Turkey Broccoli Bake
Pasta Bar
Cheese & Rice Croquettes

Saint Mary's

Prime Rib
Sole Fillets
Green Browned Potatoes

Dr. Betty

Shabazz:

(widow of Malcolm X)

Speaks on "The Status of Blacks and Women in today's Society"

Wednesday 3/24 7:30 pm Stepan Center

$3 Students/Faculty, $5 Public

Tickets at La Fortune Information Desk

EASTER BREAK TRIP!!

see: Shear Madness
in Chicago

tickets on sale now

April 10-11 See this long-running comedy, spend the night at Days Inn-Lakeshore Drive

and enjoy mass on sunday morning!

ONLY $45.00 tickets at LaFortune Info. Desk

Lacrosse beats 19th-ranked UMBC 16-4; moves into Top 20

By KEVIN MCGUIRE
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame lacrosse team has always had to battle to earn respect from the traditional eastern lacrosse powers. But with Saturday's 16-4 thorough domination of the 19th-ranked University of Maryland

The Observer/Pat McHugh
Midfielder Willie Sutton is held by a UMBC defender.

Baltimore-County Retrievers, the Irish avenged last year's loss, and at the same time gained a measure of respect.

Just how much recognition the Irish earned was reflected in the latest United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association's coaches' poll. Notre Dame moved into the top 20 for the first time this season, landing in the No. 16 slot.

The Irish had something to prove against UMBC because of last year's 13-7 loss on the road, and made their point from the game's opening minutes. Freshman attacker Kevin Mahoney scored 50 seconds into the game, and after junior attacker Randy Colley tallied the next two goals, the rout was on.

When the first quarter mercifully came to a close for UMBC, the Irish had opened up an insurmountable 9-2 lead.

"The first quarter, we were ready to play, and gave a flawless performance," said Notre Dame Coach Kevin Corrigan. "We had an excellent offensive performance in the first quarter and did a great job riding them and grabbing ground balls all game long."

UMBC scored the first goal of the second quarter, but Colley and junior Robbie Snyder replied with goals that hiked the lead at halftime to 11-3.

Colley scored five goals and assisted on two scores, while Mahoney turned in the strongest performance of his brief career with four goals. Snyder also added three goals from his attack position.

"We knew we'd come out and play hard, but we were kind of surprised that we blew them out," said junior midfielder Willie Sutton.

"I felt we were the more ath-see LAX/page 12

USILA Lacrosse Rankings

Rank	Team	1993 Record	Points
1	North Carolina	6-0	160
2	Princeton	2-1	152
3	Loyola(MD)	2-1	130
3	Virginia	4-1	130
5	Syracuse	1-2	122
6	Johns Hopkins	3-1	118
7	Navy	3-1	109
8	Army	1-0	102
9	Townson Sr.	2-0	97
10	Duke	4-2	88
11	Brown	2-0	73
12	Maryland	1-1	68
13	Massachusetts	0-1	67
14	Yale	3-0	62
15	Georgetown	3-1	41
16	Notre Dame	5-0	36
17	Rutgers	1-1	34
18	Penn St.	0-3	22
19	Delaware	0-1	17
20	Penn	1-3	14

The Observer/Chris Mullins

Four ranked teams fall to Irish

Forsyth tops nation's best player to lead weekend rout

By JON JENSEN
Associate Sports Editor

After losing three matches with top-20 teams on a spring break trip and slipping to 14th in last week's national rankings, some fans probably scoffed at the Notre Dame men's tennis team's chances of repeating their second place finish in last year's NCAA Championships.

Well, doubt no more. The Irish signaled their return to the nation's elite this weekend with four resounding wins over top-25 teams in the prestigious Blue-Gray National Classic, capturing the tournament championship with a 8-1 thumping of No. 18 Alabama on Sunday afternoon in Montgomery, Alabama.

Before this weekend the Irish had lost eight out of their 11 matches with top-25 foes, including six losses against teams that have been ranked in the top-10. But they turned it on during one of the nation's premier tournaments this weekend, downing No. 19 New Mexico on Thursday, and pulling off an upset of No. 7 Mississippi State on Friday to reach the semifinals. Saturday saw the Irish defeat No. 17 Florida, and No. 18 Alabama finally succumbed to the Irish on Sunday.

Though Notre Dame lost the crucial doubles point in three out of the four matches, it was the singles matches that saved the Irish, as they went an incredible 19-5 in overall singles matches.

In Thursday's match against the Lobos of New Mexico, the Irish got three straight set wins from seniors Will Forsyth, Mark Schmidt, and Ron Rosas, and seniors Chuck Coleman and Chris Wojtalik also captured close victories. Coleman defeated Coulter Wright, 6-3, 3-6, 7-6, and Wojtalik downed Chris Brown, 6-2, 6-7, 6-3.

Though the Irish's only doubles win was Schmidt and Todd Wilson's 8-6 victory over Garrett Prins and Wright, the five singles wins supplied the muscle for the 5-2 win.

Friday's improbable upset of the 7th-ranked Bulldogs was keyed by Forsyth's upset win over the No. 1-ranked singles player in the nation, Paris native Daniel Courcol. Forsyth defeated Courcol, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3 in an emotional match, and Chuck Coleman also beat a ranked player, 73rd-ranked Laurent Orsini, by a 6-4, 6-4 score. Schmidt, Rosas, and Wilson also came up with wins in the 5-2 trouncing.

On Saturday the Irish earned a bit of revenge, as they slipped past a Florida team that bounced them from the Blue-Gray last year. The Irish ended up finishing fifth in last year's tournament.

But this year it was a different story, as the 4-3 win earned the Irish their first berth in the tournament's final. Though Forsyth fell to 9th-ranked Mark Merklein, 6-3, 6-4, Coleman, Schmidt, and Rosas all remained undefeated on the weekend with three more singles wins.

In the finals against the 18th-ranked Roll Tide, Forsyth soundly beat 61st-ranked Juan Carlos Bianchi 6-4, 6-4 to ignite four more singles wins, after the teams of Schmidt and Wilson and Wojtalik and Rosas wrapped up the doubles point with key wins.

Along with the impressive play of Forsyth at one-singles, the emergence of junior Todd Wilson in singles play and at two-doubles will undoubtedly prove invaluable to the Irish as the season winds down. Freshman Mike Sprouse also got his first significant playing time in the singles lineup after a highly see Upsets/page 13

The Observer/Jane Peters
Will Forsyth sparked Notre Dame by beating the top ranked player in the country.

Substitutes not enough for Irish fans

"The End of an Era," ESPN labeled the upset. The changing of the point guard, Cal's freshman Jason Kidd replacing Duke senior Bobby Hurley as the game's premier floor leader. It was Cal versus Duke.

The Golden Bear's 82-77 upset of the defending national champion was all that is March Madness. And under the most unlikely conditions, I found myself in seat

GEORGE
DOHRMANN

Jock Strip

32, row J of section 101 in the Rosemont Horizon.

My friend Stefanie called Friday with an invitation to Saturday's game, due to free tickets she received from Cal guard Jerod Haase, a friend from high school. I accepted with a resounding "hell yes."

Twenty-two hours after that call I was sitting seven rows from the press tables at the NCAA's midwest regionals. And from that seat I witnessed a tide of emotion which rippled through the arena.

The first half:

18:30 - With a minute and a half elapsed in the game I began to work on the fingernails. My index, pinky and thumb on my right hand were the first to go, the result of Cal's opening spurt and the inaugural thoughts of witnessing an upset of such proportions.

9:27 - I began slapping hands with Cal alumni and students. A week ago I couldn't care less about either of these teams. Cal was Cal. Duke was Duke but neither was Notre Dame. So who cares?

3:06 - I've switched to the left hand, and realize that if I had twenty fingers it still wouldn't be enough.

0:00 - I call my dad at the half and tell him that if Cal wins, Stefanie and I may have tickets for the sweet sixteen in St. Louis on Thursday. He tells me I have school on Thursday. I laugh and then hang up.

The second half:

13:25 - Cal increases its lead to 17. A yuppie two rows in front of me places a see Strip/page 11

INSIDE SPORTS

SWIMMING

Tanya Williams concludes her career at Notre Dame.
see page 14

SAINT MARY'S

The Belles tennis team shines over break.

see page 10

VOLLEYBALL

Junior Van Suh and the men's volleyball team fall to Central Michigan
see page 12

