Notre Dame Songs . . .

Victory March

Rally sons of Notre Dame,
Sing her glory, and sound her fame,
Raise her Gold and Blue,
And cheer with voices true,
Rah! Rah! for Notre Dame
We will fight in every game
Strong of heart and true to her name.
We will ne'er forget her
And we'll cheer her ever,
Loyal to Notre Dame.

Chorus:

Cheer, cheer for Old Notre Dame
Wake up the echoes cheering her name,
Send the volley cheer on high,
Shake down the thunder from the sky,
What tho the odds be great or small,
Old Notre Dame will win over all,
While her loyal sons are marching,
Onward to Victory.

When Irish Backs Go Marching By

Chorus:

And when those Irish backs go marching by
The cheering thousands shout their battle cry:
For Notre Dame men are marching into the game,
Fighting the fight for you, Notre Dame,
And when that Irish line goes smashing through,
They'll sweep the foemen's ranks away;
When Notre Dame men fight for Gold and Blue,
Then Notre Dame men will win that day.

Hike Song

The march is on

No brain or brawn,
Can stop the charge of fighting men.
Loud rings the cry,
A grim defy,
Of hard attack let loose again,
O it's a hike, hike, hike to victory,
The call to rise and strike,
For Notre Dame men are winning,
When Notre Dame hears hike, hike, hike.

Chorus:

Hark to the cheering
Songs rising high,
Hark to the roar,
As her ranks go marching by!
Shoulder to shoulder,
Chanting her glorious name,
Burn high your fires,
And swing along for
Notre Dame.

Down the Line

On down the line! beside the glory of her name
On down the line! beneath the colors of an ancient fame,
On down the line! another day for her proclaim;
Old Gold and Blue—you're going through!
Go down the line for Notre Dame!

Notre Dame, Our Mother

Notre Dame, our Mother
Tender, strong and true
Proudly in the heavens,
Gleams the gold and blue
Glory's mantle cloaks thee

Golden is thy fame,
And our hearts forever,
Praise thee, Notre Dame
And our hearts forever,
Love thee, Notre Dame

Placing students in academic curriculum according to ability. 3. Counseling in academic matters after enrollment. 4. Cooperating with the Alumni Placement Bureau when student has completed studies.

According to the recently established bureau, more than five hundred inquiries have been received to date from men in service. Pep Rally Tonight

Tonight at 7:15, the old walls of the Notre Dame fieldhouse will resound once more with the tingling notes of the Victory March as the students stage a sparkling Pep Rally for tomorrow's game with Tulane. Assembling at Washington Hall, the band will parade around the campus and gather the enthusiasts before they march into the fieldhouse.

Buzz Hassett, in charge of festivities, has announced that Rev. John Cavanaugh, C.S.C., vice-president of the University and faculty chairman in control of athletics, will be present to give the keynote address at the rally, welcoming Tulane to the campus.

If "Monk" Simons, Green Wave mentor, arrives in time for the rally, he will be on hand to enlighten the crowd on the long-awaited contest, and you can be sure that you will hear from genial Coach Ed McKeever and Captain Pat Filley.

Last Wednesday, the student body headed by Rev. Thomas J. Brennan, C.S.C., gave the team a rousing send-off before they embarked to conquer the Pitt Panther.

This week, a bigger and noisier rally is in order for a winning spirit for the Tulane tussle.

Civilian Week-end Activities Start Tonight

Arrangements Completed for the Biggest Civilian Social Event of the Semester.

BY BOB O'TOOLE

High point of social activities of Notre Dame's civilian students will be reached this evening when Chuck Cavallo and his Douglas Airs swing into action at the Student Council's Autumn Ball, feature of the civilian week-end. Semi-formal is the rule for the evening, with the lads in street suits and the lasses in formals. Reason for the informal attire of the boys is, of course, the war-time formal clothes restrictions.

Festivities will get underway at seven o'clock when the whole campus gathers for the pre-Tulane game rally. This rally, first of the home season, should see a re-birth of the famous Notre Dame spirit, especially after the overwhelming defeat of Pittsburgh, which opened the '44 season for the Irish. Rev. John Cavanaugh, vice-president of the university, will be among the speakers of the evening.

All paths will lead to the Rockne Memorial after nine o'clock, when Cavallo strikes the first chord of the evening's dancing. Decorations Chairman Jim Retter and his crew have been hard at work knocking the "Rock" into shape for the affair, and they say that the decorations will be simple but effective.

Special guests for the evening are Miss Marguerite E. Varga, of Pittsburgh, and South Bend guest of General Chairman James Casey, and Jeannette Roberts of St. Mary's and South Bend, guest of Council President Harry Berliner.

Patrons of this evening's dance are: Captain and Mrs. J. Richard Barry, Lieutenant and Mrs. James J. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Pedtke, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus W. Rauch, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Baldinger, Mr. and Mrs.

Miss Marguerite Varga

Francesco Montana, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kormendi, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skeeler, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Schubmehl, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Manion, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Bartholomew, and Mr. and Mrs. James E. McCarthy.

Students are advised that they must get to the dance by ten o'clock, for no one will be admitted after that time. Chairman Jim Casey discarded all plans for a program in favor of a full evening of dancing. Ball-goers have been given two o'clock permissions by the Prefect of Discipline, and the usual ban against cars has been relaxed for this evening.

Tomorrow afternoon will find the weekenders and their guests in a special section of the stadium for the Notre Dame-Tulane game, and it promises to be a good one. Tulane is regarded as second only to Georgia Tech in the South and is yet untried in an actual game. The Irish will enter the contest favored to win, but from the first kickoff to the final gun it will be anybody's ball game.

Saturday night the scene of the week-end activities will shift to the Indiana Club, where St. Ed's hall is sponsoring a Victory dance. This dance is open to all on the campus, and bids are $1.20. It will run from 8:00 until 11:00.

Soap and Candy Bars for Italian Children

In response to a request from Major John V. Hinkel, former SCHOLASTIC editor, and now with the U. S. Army in the Rome area, the members of the SCHOLASTIC staff are conducting a drive among the students for the collection of soap and candy bars to be given to the children of Italy at a Christmas party to be sponsored by Major Hinkel.

Since the army entered Italy, the army caravans have been besieged by the young Italians begging for candy and soap. The Yanks have exhausted all available supplies of these items, but the demand is undiminished.

The request from students is small, but to these freedom-loving people who have been so long under the heel of a fascist rule, these items mean a great deal.

You can cooperate by leaving either soap or candy bars with Miss Varga in the publications office in the east wing of the Main Building, before Oct. 15.

Glee Club Concert

The Glee Club will present its first campus concert of the present semester in Washington Hall next Thursday night at 8:00. This semester has seen the club grow to the present number of forty voices, and the program will be highlighted by the solo piano work of Ted Tannehill.

As yet the exact program for the club and Mr. Tannehill is not complete, but posters will appear on all hall bulletin boards early in the week.

Alfred E. Smith, Laetare Medalist, Dies in N. Y.

The Honorable Alfred Emmanuel Smith, 1929 Laetare Medalist, died in New York City October 4.

Mr. Smith, because of his long and honorable public career, was one of the best known and most colorful figures on the American domestic scene. His entire life was spent in New York City, save for the eight years he lived in Albany, as governor of the State of New York. As the recipient of but a parochial school education, he fought his way up from the humble assistant truck driver to the highest position within the gift of the citizens of New York. As the popular choice for President on the Democratic ticket in 1928, he became the most outstanding exponent of the American way of life. His presidential campaign revealed one of the most gallant fights in American political history against terrific odds. The entire nation is familiar with his record as a statesman and with his courageous conduct, and at no time was there ever a charge proven against his civic and moral righteousness.

Alfred E. Smith

Mr. Smith received the Laetare Medal awarded by the University of Notre Dame from the hands of the late Cardinal Hayes, in the Hotel Plaza, May 5, 1929. He was the 48th recipient of the award.

V-12 Week-end "Highly Successful"; All Features Enjoyed by Trainees and Guests

BY JOE THORNTON
"Scholastic" Associate Editor

The curtain has fallen on the fourth V-12 week-end at the University of Notre Dame. Every semester since the conception of the V-12 here, there has been a V-12 Ball; every semester the occasions have been increasing in scope and magnitude.

The week-end began on Friday evening, September 29, at 2100 in the navy drill hall. Through planning and a maximum of hard work on the part of seamen Madden, Bevington, and Marks, was made possible the complete transformation of the drill hall. No longer was it a simple structure of stone and wood and iron, but it had taken on the appearance of a man-of-war on the high seas, complete with 16 inch guns, gangways, and a bridge.

Music for the ball was furnished by Blue Barron's orchestra under the direction of "Tiny" Wolfe, and during the course of the evening music was broadcast to the nation, being carried through the facilities of WSBT of South Bend.

Dance programs of tan leather with the Navy or Marine Corps crest embossed on the cover, were presented to each couple attending the ball. Fruit punch provided refreshments. The general chairmanship of the ball was held by Seaman Nelson Boswell, under the over-all direction of the V-12 Executive Committee. Over 125 trainees participated actively in the production.

The week-end did not end with the grand ball, and on Saturday afternoon a review of the V-12 regiment was held on the Navy parade grounds. Accompanied by the V-12 military band, the entire regiment marched in review before the people of South Bend, and the guests of the trainees.

Three complete showings of the two-thousand foot moving picture, "The V-12 at Notre Dame", were presented in the Engineering Auditorium to large audiences of trainees and their guests. This moving picture has been taken by Rev. Edward Keller, C.S.C.

Saturday evening at 2000 the curtain went up on "Anything Goes," an all V-12 show. The drill hall was now decorated as an old barn, with hay, corn stalks, and hay racks. Under the general direction of Seaman Jack Schneider and Marine Private Bill Over, the show was presented with Seaman Art Fuss as master-of-ceremonies. Stage management was under the supervision of Private Tom Shay. Following the show, all chairs were removed and an informal dance was in progress. The V-12 dance band, "The Commanders", under the baton of Seaman "Dutch" Crask, provided music for the occasion.

Kegs of cider were rolled out, and cider and doughnuts were served from hay wagon counters. The dance ended at 2300.

The Council of Churches of South Bend had made arrangements for special services to be given Sunday morning, and churches of every denomination welcomed

Whence Come the Guardians of Rights...

Oldest Catholic Law School in the United States Continues Its Progress

BY ROBERT MOLNAR

The College of Law, an outgrowth of a course in law established at the University in 1869, is the oldest Catholic law school in the United States. At the present time, it is under the deanship of Mr. Clarence E. Manion, Ph.M., J.D. In the reorganization of the University in 1905, the Department of Law was given the status of a college, and since then it has enjoyed a steady growth.

Since 1919, the College of Law has had a building of its own. In that year it was moved from a wing of Sorin hall to Hoynes hall, named in honor of the late Col. William James Hoynes, whose labors of a lifetime were devoted to the development of the law school at Notre Dame. In September of 1930, the College was transferred to a new building, a three-story structure of Gothic type and up-to-date construction. This building 157 feet long and 104 feet wide, has an assembly hall for 350 persons, eight classrooms, four seminar rooms, a courtroom, a discussion room, and a library reading room, 50 by 100 feet, with a working library of 16,214 volumes, readily accessible to the students, additional stock-room for 25,000 volumes, and offices for the dean, the librarian, the members of the faculty, and the Notre Dame Lawyer, the quarterly review of the Law school. This new building, erected at a cost of more than $400,000, is at the entrance to the campus.

The law library, under the charge of a special and full-time librarian, consists of State reports and statutes, the Reports of the United States Supreme Court, the United States Statutes, Federal Cases, both series of the Federal Reporter, the National Reporter System, complete sets of the Select Case System, the more important law reviews, and the standard textbooks, treatises, and encyclopedias. The library has, from time to time, been augmented by substantial gifts of books from friends of the University.

The Notre Dame Lawyer, founded in the fall of 1925, is primarily a student publication, edited and managed by the students of the College of Law. Members of the faculty act as advisers to the student board of editors. The magazine, published quarterly within the school-year, contains articles by jurists, lawyers, and professors of law, reviews of recent cases by the students of the College, and reviews of current publications.

The Law club, primarily an organization of the law students, has charge of all the social and extra-curricular activities of the college. Lectures by prominent judges and lawyers are arranged for and delivered under its auspices. The South Bend committee of the American Bar Association holds a meeting every month with the senior members of the Law club at the court house of St. Joseph County. At these meetings, court dockets are examined and explained, and the mechanical features and routine operations incidental to the trial of law-suits, probate of estates, the recording of instruments, execution sales, and the like are illustrated by court and county officials by reference to actual public records.

There is a special branch of the College of Law which is a combination program of the College of Arts and Letters and the College of Law, and also a combination of the College of Commerce and the College of Law. These programs are so arranged that the student taking the course receives the degree of Bachelor of Arts or the degree of Bachelor of Science in Commerce at the end of his fifth year of studies, and then receives the degree of Bachelor of Laws at the completion of his course, which is the end of his sixth year.

At the present time there are only 35 students enrolled in the College of Law, but, according to Dean Manion, "the prospects for enrollment for the coming semester look better now than they have in past years. Furthermore, even though the enrollment has dropped from 105 students in pre-Pearl Harbor days to the present enrollment, Notre Dame has had a much smaller shrinkage than any other law school in the country."

It is the aim of the College of Law to give its students a thorough preparation for the practice of law in any state of the Union. The case method of instruction is employed. By the study, comparison, and discussion of selected cases, the principles of law are considered with reference both to their history and to their application in contemporary practice. The classroom lectures and discussions are supplemented by collateral reading and by systematic training in procedure in the practice court of the college. In this court the students receive training in the preparation of cases for trial and briefs on appeals. Each candidate for a degree in law is required to conduct the complete procedure of at least one case, from the service of process to final determination on appeal.

The College of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, an organization of eighty-nine law schools, including the leading university schools of the country, and is rated as approved by the Council of Legal Education of the American Bar Association.

K. of C. Open Meeting

The Notre Dame council of the Knights of Columbus will have an open social meeting on next Friday night in the Law auditorium at 7:30. At this meeting a football motion picture will be shown and refreshments will be served. All students over 18 years of age, and practical Catholics will be eligible to attend.

ON THE BALL

Only a few of the more tired swabbies, and practically all of the Marines have by this time recovered from the V-12 Ball weekend. Some enjoyed Blue Barron's music, others, not so much; most everybody liked the way the girl friend looked at the formal, and on the other hand, three or four blind-dates were disastrous; but the over-all opinion is that the weekend was great and that a marvelous time was enjoyed. It was all lots of fun, but for the Gizmo and about ten other happy Gyrenes, the best part of the weekend was the clean-up EPD detail at 2400 Saturday. Ohhhhhh! Gosh!!

GLIB GYRENE

And there's the story of a certain lad from these here parts who went for a real joy-ride last weekend. From first hand recounting, it seems this gyrene was feeling extremely happy, and on encountering a city steam roller perched atop a hill, decided to release the brake and investigate the free-wheeling theory. It was an exciting ride all the way down, we are told, until the machine got out of control and landed in somebody's front parlor. So glib a salesman was the Marine, and so friendly was the man whose quiet evening at home was disturbed when the roller knocked his newspaper out of his hands, that the man ended up by towing the roller back up the hill with his car, with the Marine still in the saddle, and decided to forget the whole incident! Now there's a story for the books!

FAREWELL ELEGY TO MY ROOMIE, WEENIE SLOYER

*My roomie has flunked,
And the Major de-bunked,
His plans to do much better.*

*Now he's going away
To 'Dago they say,
And I'll only have his letter.*

*So long, little Weenie,
With the eyes so gleamy,*

*And the heart so carefree and gay,
I'll have you no more,
We'll meet on Tokyo's shore,
On that happy victory day!*

*So, adieu, little Weenie,
With the pants too seamy,
And the talented key-board fingers.*

*Best luck, dear old sock,
We'll miss you at the Rock,
Your memory still lingers.*

*You tried to study, with your cheeks so ruddy,
You tried, but to no avail.
We knew what it meant, when on your desk was sent,
A notice from MacHale.
Now it's done lad, I guess you're stuck,
But remember Weenie, we wish you
"Best of luck!"*

WITH APOLOGIES

In the scurrying around before the last issue there was a slip-up on copy. The cartoon below was printed, but without the accompanying caption. Feel-

"Do I Get College Credit For This, Sir?"

ing that the pungent humor may have been missed in last week's issue, and realizing full well that V-12ers spend many hours on just such "intellectual" pursuits, we are running it again. You'll just have to guess what the blacked-out sign on the door reads!

ON THE TULANE SIDE?

This idea of men from many different colleges coming together to study under the V-12 program at some entirely new university is really excellent; but sometimes it presents difficult problems of divided loyalties between the alma mater and the other college. As former Illini in the past have had to choose, and as men from Georgia Tech have had to decide, as transfers from Minnesota and Wisconsin have had to elect in the past, so will Major Jones have to make the decision at the N.D.-Tulane game this Saturday. On which side will he choose to sit?

H. S. Principals to Hear Cunningham, Beatty

A meeting of the Northern Indiana High School Principals will be held on the campus tomorrow. Saturday, under the chairmanship of Mr. Leo F. Kuntz, of the College of Law.

On the program tomorrow morning, from 10 to 12, Rev. William F. Cunningham, C.S.C., will talk to the group on Charter Education; and Lieutenant S. L. Beatty, USNR will talk on Guidance: Pre-War and Post-War.

About forty principals are expected to attend this meeting which will be followed by the Tulane-Notre Dame game that afternoon. All those in attendance will be taken to the game. Mr. H. R. Beabout, principal of the Lincoln High School, Plymouth, Indiana, is president of the group.

"SCHOLASTIC" POSITIONS

A number of positions on the SCHOLASTIC staff are now held by Seniors, and will be available to those interested in journalism at the beginning of the next term. The positions include columnists, re-write men, and reporters, as well as feature writers. Columns available include "The Green Banner," "Man About The Campus," "College Parade," etc. Applicants for these columns, and for other SCHOLASTIC positions, should call at the Publications Office, Main Building, within the next two weeks. Only dependable men, with good class averages, need apply.

Southern Hopefuls Have a 58-0 Triumph to Consider When They Buck Irish Tomorrow

BY BILL WADDINGTON "Scholastic" Sports Editor

The boys from the Crescent City are coming northward this week to put on their version of a football "Mardigras" but in the light of the work negotiated last week by Ed McKeever's charges against Pittsburgh, it looks as though the lads from the Gulf will merely be amiable visitors.

Wearing the blue and gold jerseys for the first time since the Georgia Tech set-back two seasons ago, the Irish hope that there will be no repeat performance because of the change in equipment. A gang of Ramblin' Wrecks did plenty of damage to an Irish schedule a few years back and Tulane, another southern aggregate, is set on spoiling another Fighting Irish billing that is off to more than a flying start.

After displaying an assorted attack of aerials and running plays against Clark Shaughnessy's Panthers at the Smoky City last week, the Irish came out a bit bruised but what is more, a 58-0 triumph resulted, a fairly good criterion that there is plenty of padded potency running around the Cartier field turf on week-days. Tulane, like Pitt remains in obscurity as to their possibilities. This is their first tussle of the season and also the first time in grid history that they have ever met the boys from Notre Dame.

Monk Simons, the Green Wave's mentor, is undoubtedly intent on a victory, something that will serve as the spur to a Notre Dame-Tulane annual contest rather than the two year-home-and-home series that now prevails on the books. He does have fourteen lettermen back from last year's squad which split even in a half dozen games. If the comparison boys care to speculate a bit, they will probably be interested in this wee bit of good tidings. While Notre Dame defeated the Georgia Tech eleven, 55-13 last year, the same Techmen squelched Tulane, 33-0. And with the locals off to a grand and glorious beginning, and Tulane having the semblance of almost the same unit that represented the southern institution for the '43 card, there may be something to crow about.

With the disappearance of Irish skepticism last week, it seems almost inevitable that the nation will be riding the Blue and Gold bandwagon for this encounter. George Sullivan and John Adams will be the tackles all season, and good ones at that, unless something else like unto a mountain comes along to take their place. Fred Rovai, for a beginner, looked all right as did John Mastrangelo. But don't forget, the whole squad of thirty-five that made the trip, got to see action, and the best prospects have officially unveiled their talents to McKeever and company. Their may be some changes this week, some due to discoveries and others to necessity.

Bob Skoglund, who broke a molar right in half, had to have the tooth extracted during the week and the swelling may cause him to be sidelined when the team takes the field against Tulane. But there is a good newcomer to take his place if such a change is necessitated in the person of Tom Guthrie. Zeke O'Connor can hardly be pushed out of his spot both on offensive and defensive merits. Although Ralph Stewart got the starting nod at Pitt, he will probably relinquish his post to Johnny Ray who substituted for him and played remarkably well as a line-backer. Then there

Tulane's "Green Wave"--Plenty Experienced; Put on First '44 Grid Exhibition Tomorrow

BY ABE SILVER "Tulane Hullabaloo" Sports Editor

NEW ORLEANS, OCT. 6.—In preparation for the 1944 season's opening gridiron tussle with the mighty "Fightin' Irish" of Notre Dame, the highly touted Tulane Green Wave have had daily intra-squad scrimmages and contact workouts. As the pre-game training season nears its close, practice should taper and will be confined to polishing up on offensive plays. The Greenies' head coach, Claude "Little Monk" Simons, seems to be well pleased with the progress of his team, as all of the Wavemen are looking forward to this all important contest.

At present, the starting pair of ends for the Greenies will be Ray Olsen and Sam Mulloy. Olsen is the only returning letterman at the terminal post, and was All Southeastern Conference last season. Ray is a New Orleans lad, weighing about 185 and is 6ft. 2in. tall. He is a great defensive player, and as a pass snatcher, he's dynamite.

The two possible starters at the tackle spots will be Fred Roseman and Leroy Schneider. Roseman is a returning letterman, the only one on the Wave squad as a tackle. Fred, who is pretty close to a 200 pounder, is a Louisiana lad, playing his second season with the Tulane varsity. Schneider, a transfer student from the University of Maryland, is one of the most promising tackles that Line Coach Charlie Rucker has. Leroy is about the heaviest player on the Green Wave team, weighing some 225 pounds. He is a very powerful blocker on offense.

The Greenies are very strong at the guard positions as two very capable lettermen are back this season to start in the Tulane lineup. Gaston "Boogie"

Bourgeois, the 'baby' of the Wave squad, earned All Southern Conference honors as a Freshman last year, and was only 16 years old at the time. Elliot "Ike" Igleheart will be the other possible starting guard for the Green Wave. "Ike" was out most of last season due to injuries, nevertheless he did manage to earn his "T".

At center, the Greenies will start the shortest and lightest pivot man in the entire football history at Tulane. This former University of Tennessee lad weighs only 155 pounds and is just 5 ft. 7 in. tall. Tris "wonder boy" is Edwin Hofman, who was a star guard at the Memphis Central High School a few years ago. This year, the Greenies were minus returning centers, so, little Ed tried out for the job and is there to stay. Ed is one of the hardest tacklers on the squad. He put Joe Renfroe out of commission for a few days in one of the recent scrimmages.

Tulane's backfield appears to be one of the strongest college ball carrying aggregations. The starting Wave signal caller will be Leonard Finley, a very smart player and a rugged blocker. At left half will be W. A. "Dub" Jones, a triple threat, the Wave's top ball carrier weighing 185. "Joltin' Joe" Renfroe will start at right half for the Wave. Joe is playing his third year with the Tulane team. Renfroe is also an All Southeastern Conference player and will be counted on to do a great deal of the Greenies' offensive duties. At the fullback post will be Harry "Hurricane" Robinson, former University of Vanderbilt star. Harry weighs about 185 and runs as fast as any half back on the squad.

Student Poll Shows Notre Dame Favored Over Tulane by 15 Points; "Game Will Not Be Easy"

BY PAUL WOOD

In spite of the one-sided score over Pittsburgh, the campus predictors are conservative this week. The student poll shows that a margin of at most 15 points will separate Tulane and Notre Dame; a few believe that Tulane will come out victorious. The average score predicted is Notre Dame 27, Tulane 12. One significant feature of the poll is the fact that no one believes it will be an easy game.

John Arcadi, civilian junior from Whittier, Calif., predicted the score of last week's encounter to be 52-6, thereby earning the honor of being the guest interviewee this week. John says:

"Although it has been pointed out that Tulane has the power-house of the South, with a potentially impregnable line, I believe it will be cracked tomorrow. With one inspiring victory under our belts and lessons learned from last Saturday's encounter fresh in our minds, it seems obvious that Notre Dame will come through again. The combination of Dancewicz and Kelly with our super line will make a score of 39-13 in our favor."

JOHN PARCHEM, civilian senior from Grosse Pointe, Mich.: "I think this game may be termed critical. Tulane have most of their lettermen back from last season and they had a good second team last year. This plus the fact that I think Notre Dame played over their heads against Pittsburgh will make this game very close. However the Irish have the knack of winning close ones. Notre Dame 26; Tulane 20."

J. P. STOKES, Midshipman from DaKalb, Miss: "Tulane—They have the material to win and are heavier than Notre Dame boys. Especially the line-men. Score: 13-6 favor of Tulane."

JIM BLACK, Marine V-12 sophomore from Akron, Ohio: "I am not much of a follower of Tulane but they are rated pretty strong down South. By their past record, where they have won by large scores, I pick N. D. by at least 35-12."

DAN MEANEY, Navy V-12 junior from Corpus Christi, Texas: "Notre Dame 27—Tulane 14. Judging from the Pittsburgh score, N. D. should have an easy time winning until it hits Army."

JIM COOPER, Marine V-12 junior from Newark, Ohio: "Although Tulane is supposed to be the great team of the South this year, in my mind will still be inferior to N. D. This is N. D.'s first home game of the season and due to last week's performance I like N. D. 32-6."

RICHARD DEEB, Civilian senior from St. Petersburg, Fla.: "The N. D. players that were considered green have pretty well gotten over their fright since the Pitt game. This game should test Notre Dame's defense, but we'll win: 26-13."

RALPH VALVA, civilian from Brooklyn, N. Y.: N. D. 41—Tulane 6. Too much power for Tulane to cope with. This game should test N. D.'s defensive strength."

H. C. WILKINS, Midshipman from Pine Blott, Ark: "The score will be, Tulane 14 and N. D. 12. I'm probably prejudiced because I'm from the South, but Tulane has a lot of material. They've lost a couple of good ends, and a fullback is injured. But there are a lot of lettermen back, and some new trainees that are pretty fair. The game will be close, and a tie won't surprise me, but it won't be a runaway like the Pitt game. Tulane has the power, all they need is some spirit, and the first blow."

BILL MEIER, civilian junior from Kenosha, Wis: "Last week's score may sway my opinion, but Notre Dame is playing on its home field and we look like we are packed three deep in every position. So we ought to win by 40 to 0. This is Tulane's first game, and one game has given us a lot of confidence. Look for a break during the game where the new kickoff will give us the ball unexpectedly. Our coaching staff is one of the best in the country and we may be sure that they will have plenty of tricks up their sleeves."

R. H. SZARZYNSKI, Navy V-12 sophomore from Chicago: "N. D. 33 - Tulane 6. It should be a sad opener for Tulane because the Irish showed fine team work and plenty of polish last Saturday. Tulane will also be handicapped by recent injuries, and I doubt whether they will be able to hold off very well."

PHIL MARTIN, civilian from Santee, Calif., who saw the Notre Dame team in action last week, says: "Notre Dame will win 13-6. The team should have ironed out their weak points in their defense during the week, but Tulane will have the power to put over at least one touchdown. Meanwhile the Notre Dame offense, which ran wild at Pittsburgh, will meet stiff opposition and will not get any break, as it did in the Pitt game. Therefore, the total score will be lower than expected."

The Shillelagh

The 56th season opened last Saturday.

The question now is whether the Irish depantherized the Panther, or whether the Panther was depantherized before the Irish arrived.

Clark Shaughnessy claims that the Panther still has some claws. It may be that he wasn't wearing his best claws at home. After the dressing down the lads gave him, it will take some dressing up to put him on the road looking fit. I still think Clark's kids will beat some of them.

I hope the Notre Dame boys take that one the right way. Woudn't it be awful if it went right to their heads? I don't think they're that kind of a team. But they had better listen to the coaches and not the back-patters. After all, they did make some mistakes. The Shillelagh wont fall unless there's a reason.

Bob Kelly looks like he'll do all right. What do you think?

George Sullivan is a natural. He stops 'em like Gehringer used to scoop 'em.

Big John Adams will take good care of the right tackle job.

Pete Berezney is coming along. Don't overlook Schuster.

Just to have Pat Filley around is a lot. To have him in there is great.

Mike didn't get better than a close draw with the Panther. Nine to go, Mike.

Tulane is a very good team, so they say. Don't ask me who said so. Just believe it. If you don't, you'll be sorry.

Scrap Young looked happy. After all, Scrap has run on and off that same field when the Irish were having trouble.

Boley Dancewicz played a great game. Keep your eye on the kid from Lynn.

Whoever said Rovai is tough might have something. Let you know later.

Johnny Ray seems to like football. Stewart and Stauto and Schreiber are coming along.

Zeke O'Connor should make a very good end. I'm still trying to find out if he's tough.

Skoglund has some things his big brother Len had a lot of.

Maggioli and Nemeth and Terlep and Angsman will be a lot of help.

Corbisiero has the makings. Don't overlook him.

Joe Gasparella looked good against Pitt. Stay in there, Joe.

IRISH FACE TULANE

is always the question of just when Pat Filley will be ready to go the distance.

The veneer of doubt no longer prevails with regard to the backfield. Bob Kelly showed what a genuine Irishman can do when he wants to play football. His substitutes, Frank Ruggerio and Steve Nemeth did remarkably well in his stead, but still no Kelly. Chick Maggioli, George Terlep, and Art Fitzgerald handled the left halving duties well. This week, the added strength at that post will come from Nunz Marino who became eligible this week. Elmer Angsman, Rudy Krall and John Corbisiero should develop into carriers of capability.

The "T" formation never works efficiently without a good quarterback, so it's said in sporting circles. But the Irish have no fear of diminishing returns in this category. In Frank Dancewicz, they have not only a passer of grandiose caliber, but a runner and blocker of equal note. His understudy, the young and clever Joe Gasparella, is further assurance of expert field-generalship. Then there's Ed Clasby, new, but aggressive and willing to learn.

Irish Find Little Trouble Penetrating Pitt Defense--Roll Up 58-0 Score in First Win

BY GEORGE KRAUSER

"Scholastic" Sports Writer

Displaying an overwhelming burst of offensive power, the Irish of Notre Dame raised the curtain on their 1944 pigskin season by steam-rolling to a 58-0 victory over the Pitt Panthers. The Irish juggernaut started slowly punching over a lone tally in the first period, but by halftime it had built up a 19-0 advantage. In the third period complete havoc was wrought on Pitt as the Blue and Gold counted four times and then in the last 15 minutes the touchdown total surged to nine as the final 58-0 count was tabulated.

For six minutes the Red and White held the Notre Dame backs in check, but then the Irish began to march. Starting on their own 20, three first downs were racked and the ball advanced to the Pitt 36. Then "Boley" Dancewicz faded back and uncorked an aerial to Bob Kelly, who grabbed the pigskin on the Panther 20 and raced into the end zone for the first tally. Kelly failed to convert and no further scoring developed as the period ended.

Kelly Tallies Again and Again

On the first play of the second quarter, Elmer Angsman pounced on Mike Sprock's fumble on the Panther 13, and a few plays later Kelly completely outfaked the Pitt safety to snag "Boley's" pass for the second tally. Later in the period Dancewicz intercepted Buddy Freeze's pass and started the Irish on an 81 yard touchdown march which was culminated as Bob Kelly smashed center from five yards out. Kelly converted this time to up the halftime lead to 19-0.

The third period was only one minute old when the Irish lightning struck again. The sensational Kelly tore through right tackle and with Sullivan and Angsman making the key block, Bob traveled 85 yards to register his fourth TD of the day. Kelly converted and brought the Notre Dame and the Kelly point total to 26 as the Chi flyer retired for the day.

Continuing with the same relentless fury, the Irish touchdown machine rolled up three more markers. George Terlep intercepted a Pitt forward—this time on the Panther 24. After advancing to the 9, "Boley" pitched a strike to "Zeke" O'Connor in the end zone and Terlep converted. Steve Nemeth's recovery of a Pitt fumble paved the way for the next marker. With the oval on the Irish 36, Gasparella uncorked a 40 yard heave to Terlep who gathered in the pigskin on the Panther 25 and went the remaining distance to the goal. Tom Guthrie recovered a fumble on the Pitt 17 and after advancing to the 1, Gasparella sneaked over to bring the count to 45-0. The eighth tally was made by Steve Nemeth from the one foot line after a 56 yard march. Art Fitzgerald intercepted a Panther desperation heave to set up the last score. The marker came as Gasparella hit Mark Limont in the end zone from 22 yards out.

EXCERPTS FROM THE EXPERTS

BY JOHN FEENEY

Another bolt of Irish lightning has been unloosed from Notre Dame and will be able to meet any and all comers on equal if not superior terms—that's the consensus of opinion of the sports-writers who witnessed Notre Dame's surprisingly simple runaway from the befuddled Pitt Panthers by the even more surprising margin of 58-0.

Here presented are the comments which appeared in some of the nation's leading papers:

Harry Keck, Sports Editor,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph:

"Lightning struck the Pitt football team and stunned more than 50,000 spectators at the Stadium yesterday as the Notre Dame football team staged a track meet at the expense of the Panthers to roll up a 58-0 margin in a game which was expected to be close."

Wilfred Smith, Chicago Tribune:

"Sure, and it was a great day today for the Kellys. And it was a great day for all the other followers of the Irish in this crowd of 55,000 as the Notre Dame lads, led by Chicago's Bob Kelly, who scored the first four touchdowns, smothered a hapless Pittsburgh team, 58 to 0, in the opening game of a campaign to defend the national college football championship."

Jim Kearns, Chicago Sun:

"Everybody here saw Kelly today as Notre Dame's newest football team utterly crushed the University of Pittsburgh Panthers by a score of 58-0 in the opening game of the Fighting Irish season. Kelly is apple-cheeked Robert Joseph Kelly, 19-year-old Irish sophomore right halfback from Chicago. The "everybody" who saw him included 55,000 customers in the stands and a squad of Pitt footballers whose collapse was started and speeded and all but sealed by Robert himself as he scored Notre Dame's first 26 points in less than 32 minutes of action."

United Press:

"Notre Dame opened its drive for a second consecutive national football championship today by crushing an inept Pittsburgh Panther team, 58-0, before 50,000 disappointed fans at Pitt Stadium. The Irish could do no wrong as they scored through the air and along the ground with equal ease, turning virtually every Panther mistake into a touchdown."

Associated Press:

"Notre Dame's Irish, striking with unexpected speed and power, today served notice they'll again be very much in the running for the mythical national collegiate title they won last year as they smothered the University of Pittsburgh's Panthers under a barrage of aerials and a varied running attack, 58-0."

Dan Desmond,
Chicago Herald-American:

"Notre Dame struck straight and mercilessly today at Pittsburgh's most embarrassing weakness, protection against passes, and pulled out with a 58 to 0 victory that startled the 50,000 spectators. The Irish attack, once it got into motion, was devastating and versatile. On the ground and in the air, they piled up the amazing total of 622 net yards gained."

Jim Costin, Sports Editor,
South Bend Tribune:

"The 1944 Notre Dame football team, about which so many of us were feeling so sad because it was made up of practically nothing but boys of no previous college experience, exploded all over the Pitt stadium before 55,000 astonished fans this afternoon to hand the Panthers a 58 to 0 lacing."

Chester Smith, Sports Editor,
Pittsburgh Press:

"Robert Joseph Kelly, pink-cheeked, piano-legged sophomore from Flossmoor, Ill., whose cherubic smile belies the blitz he packs in his feet, turned up with Notre Dame's football team at the Stadium yesterday and put on as eye-filling a one-man show as Pittsburgh has ever seen. It wasn't so much that Kelly was the indispensable man, for the young and hungry eleven that is carrying on in the place of the 1943 collegiate champions scored 32 points without him—but the fact remains that 'Bobbing Bob' accounted for the first 26 in the 58-0 thrashing that was dealt out to Pitt before an awed crowd of 50,000 fans."

"Irish Pennant" Flash. . .

Lt. (jg) S. J. Jablonski, USNR, athletic officer of the Naval ROTC, has been detached from the Notre Dame unit with orders to report to Camp Farragut, Idaho, according to the Irish Pennant, mouthpiece of Walsh Hall.

Prior to his detachment, Lt. Jablonski had aided in the conducting of the V-12 swimming program, especially in the training of non-swimmers in the Rockne Memorial.

Wrestling Tournament Goes Into Finals

Amateurish grunts and groans were to have been on exhibit in the Old Gymnasium last Wednesday at 1930 as the finals of the University wrestling tournament were scheduled.

Supervising the entire tournament was Dr. John Scannell, head of the Physical Education department of the University. Whipping the men into shape with words of advice and encouragement was Chief John Broderick, wrestling instructor. Specialist 3/c John Durdach assisted in the instruction and prevented the Chief from using his cap pistol on any of the participants.

Scheduled to battle it out for the heavyweight "crown" were Mike Morang of Dillon hall and Art Archer of Zahm. Morang had defeated Jack Sanders of St. Edward's in the semifinals; whereas, Archer had drawn a bye.

In the 175-pound division, it was Carl Gobel of Zahm versus D. E. Mowery of Cavanaugh. Gobel, in the semis, had won the decision over Gerald Sawtelle, Alumni's representative. Mowery drew the bye.

Paired off in a clash for the crown of the 165-poundsters were T. A. Harrington of Walsh hall and R. A. Stasiewicz of Cavanaugh. In the semifinal bout, the "R.O." had won over Sheldon Fellman, Dillon hall. Stasiewicz garnered the bye.

Warren Meyer, Dillon, had defeated J. V. Michaud, and C. Q. Steinbach of Cavanaugh outsmarted Harold Wismann of Dillon to enter the finals. Meyer and Steinbach were matched in the 155-pound class.

It took three series of bouts to decide the finalists in the 145-pound division with Ken Zike of Dillon hall and G. J. Norini of Cavanaugh coming out on top. In the preliminaries Norini dumped L. J. Kontras of Zahm, R. L. Wollam of Walsh topped R. M. Wheeley of Zahm, and Zike decisioned J. A. Stoker of Dillon. Norini drew the bye in the semifinals and sat by while Zike defeated Wollam.

The 135-pound clash was between J. A. Hasten of Walsh hall and P. G. Stavridis of Cavanaugh. Hasten had defeated C. A. Clinard of Dillon in the semifinals while Stavridis drew the bye.

Gene Diamond of Dillon hall and John Whitacre of Dillon were the only two men entered in the 128-pound division, so they automatically were declared the finalists.

NEWS FLASH. . .

The winners of the wrestling matches were: Art Archer, D. E. Mowery, T. A. Harrington, C. Q. Steinbach, G. J. Norini, P. G. Stavridis, and Gene Diamond.

Victory Dance

The first Victory Dance of 1944 will be held tomorrow evening at the Indiana Club. The dance will start at 8:00 P.M. sharp and end at 11.

This dance is part of the big Civilian week-end to celebrate the opening of the Home season. However, it is open to all NROTC and V-12. They are cordially invited to attend and are assured a good time.

The affair is being sponsored by St. Edward's Hall, which is a slight departure from the usual N. D. procedure. Chris Cochran is General Chairman with many capable assistants. Paul Ragan has managed to obtain Myron Walz, considered the best of the available local bands. Another item worthy of attention is that Stags will NOT be permitted.

Bids are $1.20 and may be purchased from hall representatives. Tickets are also limited to the capacity of the Indiana Club.

the members of the V-12 unit and their guests for the week-end.

Through the co-operation of the University the buildings on the campus were opened Sunday, for the inspection of all those interested. The navy also opened the navy barracks so that everyone could view the living quarters of members of this unit.

Sightseeing on the campus, and inspection of the barracks took the greater part of Sunday afternoon, but for the further entertainment of the trainee and his guest a tea dance was held in the Rotary Room of the Oliver Hotel, Sunday afternoon, from 1430 until 1700. Music for the dance was furnished by Myron Walz and his orchestra, and the dance was open to any member of the V-12 Unit. Thus was concluded the fourth annual V-12 ball.

THE SHILLELAGH

Mastrangelo is getting the knack of it.

Tom Guthrie has everything that a little experience will help.

Fitzgerald and Fallon look like a couple of good Celts.

There are some other boys I'll tell you about later in the season. Keep your eyes on all of them. Anybody's liable to do it.

That coaching staff must have had something to do with the way those kids put out. There's an outfit—I mean Ed, and Hughie, and Adam, and Clem, and Wally, and Jake.

Those southern teams in the early weeks of the season have a habit of spoiling records. Do you remember Georgia Tech in the second game, two years ago? Castleberry and Stuff. It did happen here. It shouldn't, but it might. It won't if you listen and learn, and then—Beat Tulane!

Have a "Coke" = Welcome back

... or giving a returned soldier a taste of home

There's an easy way to make a soldier on furlough feel right at home. It's to offer him refreshing Coca-Cola. Have a "Coke" is always the hospitable thing to say. In many lands overseas, as in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, —has become a happy symbol of hospitality, at home as everywhere else.

SUNDAY NIGHT SOLLOQUY

Ever come in on Sunday night from a big weekend and be dead tired having had only two hours sleep Saturday night and none since boy what a feeling and then you suddenly realize you have a big test Monday and you try to study but the book jumps and blurs and your eyes are red and blackcircled and when you get up on Monday at oh six fourteen people laugh and pinch you and say is it alive and you begin to wonder if not already and you just barely manage to get through Monday and then Tuesday comes even worse and the SCHOLASTIC man comes over and says well where the heck is your copy and you just laugh at him and think terrible thoughts like murder and torture and you finally tell him its beyond all possible human endurance and to please depart as your mind is like a thick hunk of concrete and it is very funny because you can sit back and look at your mind and talk to it and you say mind produce something but your mind just grins and sits like a thick hunk of concrete boy what a feeling!

CONGRATULATIONS

To Company K for their softball victory. We should have reported this last week, but due to Ball preparations didn't quite get around to it. Now a week later, it is still not too late to remind those bewildered boys in Cavanaugh of the incident. I'm still laughing at a marine who was offering two to one odds on the outcome of the contests, with the gyrenes favored, of course.

Good for another laugh was a little joke which this hoppie quoted which went something like: "forward to complete victory with the marines." As any fool can plainly see they are carrying out this policy to the furthest extent possible. Their showing in the softball tournament was only a minor example. The way they stood up in the boxing bouts of several weeks backs is even better.

Your motto is all right, boys; but you have one slight trouble: You're moving in the wrong direction.

DA BRAWL
A Success

From the beginning to end the weekend was a series of smoothly working events. The highly polished exterior of the affair made it all seem so easy that the tremendous amount of planning and work which made it all possible just didn't seem to exist. Talk to one of the boys who worked over at the Drill Hall until 0500 the day before the dance for information on that subject.

Jack Boswell, Chairman of the Ball, of course, deserves a great deal of credit for providing the unifying and coordinating force which produced the final result. But the individual chairmen, who Jack claims really did all the work, deserve the highest praise too. Everything was done well, but outstanding in accomplishment was the decorations. Under the direction of Bill "Glacier" Bevington and his committee of: Otto Shander, Bob Waterhaut, Cliff Marks, Bob Englebrecht, Gene Diamond, Charles Border and John "Well-I-don't-know-about-that" Madden, the decorations exceeded anything on any previous dance. Whether Bill and John move as slowly as people claim is doubtful when their handiwork is viewed.

A Tradition

This was the fourth Notre Dame V-12 Ball. I'm not going to quibble with you whether it was the best or not. There are many opinions both ways on the matter. Whatever it was, it was certainly the continuation of one of the finest traditions of the V-12 Unit here at Notre Dame. With the men in this Unit arriving and leaving so rapidly it is hard to continue such traditions. In more ways than one the Ball was a real accomplishment.

been announced that pre-college, non-credit work may be offered in some fields as refresher and background courses for men returning to school. As in peacetime, students will be eligible to take up study for any degree for which they have the required academic background. Credit will be given servicemen for courses taken under the Armed Forces Institute or cooperating colleges.

Testing Mica Sheets

Mica's special insulating qualities are mighty important in communications equipment. No equivalent exists, so war's huge demands caused a critical shortage.

Bell Telephone Laboratories' scientists were assigned the task of somehow finding more mica. They found it—in the very considerable amounts of raw mica which visual inspection had rejected. By developing electrical apparatus to test the two most important electrical properties, they increased the usable amount of mica by half and so stretched current supplies of mica to fill all military needs.

In many such ways the Bell System is serving the nation, constantly meeting the needs of our fighting forces for dependable communications.

"Service to the Nation in Peace and War"

By BLAIR NATTKEMPER

Herb Daiker and Bill Grant, co-chairmen of the Naval R.O.T.C. Ball this Friday evening are very enthusiastic but also much bewildered over the prospects of the forthcoming weekend. "We started out with big ideas, then things began looking doubtful and BOOM, our dreams came true," so stated Bill. "A big weekend with Hal McIntyre to top the festivities off."

Herb is escorting Miss June Barnum from his hometown of Utica, New York so not to be out done, Bill will bring Miss Agnes Culhane from his home of Erie, Penna. These two girls will reign as co-queens of the Ball.

The Ball which will be held in the Service Mens Center in downtown South Bend, will have a treasure island theme. Jolly Rogers, all types of fishes, pirate garb, and other nick nacks of the days of Long John Silver will adorn the walls of the huge dance floor. Instead of a bid, Herb who is really an artist at heart, has drawn a pirate map which shows the "doin's" of the entire weekend. It begins with dinner at Rosies, the pep rally, the Ball, showing the girls around the campus, the game Saturday afternoon, the Victory Dance of Saturday evening, and finally sending them home-ward bound Sunday. The map is also bedecked with mermaids, star fishes, skull and cross bones, King Neptune, anchors and star fishes.

The R.O's and their girl-friends are going to have choice seats on the 45-yard line for the Tulane game and both Bill and Herb, along with Johnny Caron were having slight mathematical difficulties with seating arrangements and ticket money but before it was over, they turned up five dollars to the good. "We've been doing as much business as the athletic office," Herb stated while sticking his head up from the maze of figures before him.

Both boys came to N. D. in Sept. '42, and spent two semesters as civies; the whole R. O. T. C. unit then went on active duty and both will graduate this coming February. Herb went to New Hartford High School where he won eight letters in football, basketball, baseball, and track. Bill went to Cathedral Prep in Erie where he played football and golf. Although Bill is a Commerce man and Herb an A.B., the navy has decided to transfer both into navy engineering starting this next semester.

Herb loves to ski and spends his spare time on Big Moose Lake hence his nickname "Big Mooser." Bill brings out the golf sticks whenever he gets the chance and goes out and burns up the William J. Burke course in the low 80's. Bill said that he knew quite a few persons who would doubt that, but it sounds good anyway. They both like big steaks, french fries, and, "thousands of other things that Notre Dame doesn't have in the way of Food."

This will be the biggest dance the R. O. T. C.'s have ever had and one of the biggest N. D. has seen for a long time. "We're just praying for good weather and an Irish win, and we hope everything goes off as well as we expect it to."

Forum Elects Donnelly

The election of officers of the Commerce Forum for the coming semester was held on Thursday evening, September 28, at the Forum social. Jim Donnelly was elected president. The other new officers include Frank Linehan, vice-president; Mike Garry, publicity director; and Paul Ragan, program chairman.

Plans for this semester's Forum banquet were discussed at a regular meeting on Wednesday, October 4. The banquet is to be held on Wednesday evening, October 11, at the Hoffman hotel.

Co-President Tony Bristol high-lighted this meeting with his address on "Labor Unions in Politics."

Alumnus Authors Book

Mr. Basil Rauch, of the class of '29" and brother of Mr. Rufus Rauch, professor of English at Notre Dame, has recently completed his book, "THE HISTORY OF THE NEW DEAL". Additional books in progress include a second volume on the New Deal and a study of sectional foreign policy during the American Civil war. He is an instructor in History at Barnard College, at present on leave of absence for war service on the faculty of Annapolis.

Law Club Officers

Last Monday, the election of officers for the Law club was held.

Politics hit a new high as the various parties put forth their candidates. Ted Ryan, senior from Seattle, Wash., was elected President; John Rinella, Senior from Ill., Vice-president; Tom Bremer, Junior from Ohio, Sec.; and Ed. Mer-man, junior from Mich., Treas.

The officers will remain in office for two semesters.
