O Holy Spirit, By Whose Breath.....Thomas Tallis

J. W. Grant, b. 1919

Based on Veni Creator Spiritus

O Ho - ly Spi - rit, by whose breath
Life ris- en vi - brant out of death;
Come to cre- ate, re - new, in spire;
Come, kin - dle in our hearts your fire.

People: You are the seeker's sure resource,
Of burning love the living source,
Protector in the midst of strife,
The giver and the Lord of life.

Choir: In you God's energy is shown,
To us your varied gifts made known.
Teach us to speak, teach us to hear;
Yours is the tongue and yours the ear.

People: Flood our dull senses with your light;
In mutual love our hearts unite.
Your pow'r the whole creation fills;
Confirm our weak, uncertain wills.

Choir: From inner strife grant us release;
Turn nations to the ways of peace,
To fuller life your people bring
That as one body we may sing:

All: Praise to the Father, Christ His word,
And to the Spirit, God the Lord;
To them all honor, glory, be
Both now and for eternity.

Alleluia Sing to Jesus.....Rowland Prichard

Hyfrydol

William Dix, b. 1837

Choir: Alleluia! Bread of angels,
Thou on earth our food our stay;
Alleluia! Here the sinful
Flee to thee from day to day:
Intercessor, friend of sinners,
Earth's redeemer, plead for me,
Where the songs of all the sinless
Sweep across the crystal sea.

All: Alleluia! King eternal,
Thee the Lord of lords we own;
Alleluia, Born of Mary,
Earth the footstool, heav'n thy throne:
Thou within the veil hast entered,
Robed in flesh, our great High Priest.
Thou on earth both Priest and Victim
In the Eucharistic feast.

The Academic Costume Code

The history of academic dress reaches far back into the early days of the oldest universities. Academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical wear, although mediaeval scholars tended to adopt a collegiate costume. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates and Bachelors" of the University of Coimbra (Portugal) wear gowns. Beginning with the second half of the 14th century, civilian collegiate costume was specified in various regulations of the universities. European institutions continue to show great diversity in their specifications of academic wear.

In American colleges and universities, the academic costume is prescribed by the American Council of Education, and its present form was adopted in 1932. The first suggestion for a uniform code was made in May, 1895, following an educational conference at Columbia University. In 1902, the Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costumes was created. It codified the 1895 rules and its legal firm serves as a clearinghouse and "repository" for official university and college colors, costumes and insignia.

The present academic dress consists of gown, hood and cap with the pattern and trimmings listed below. Exceptions have been granted to specific universities upon request.

GOWNS: Black cotton with long pointed sleeves for the Bachelor's Degree, long closed sleeves (with a slit for the arms) for the Master's Degree, and bell-shaped open sleeves for the Doctor's Degree. The Bachelor's and Master's gowns do not have trimmings. The Doctor's gown is faced down the front with black velvet and there are three bars of velvet across the sleeves.

HOODS: Black in all cases. For the Master's it is three and one-half feet long and closed at the end. The Doctor's hood is four feet long with panels at the sides. All hoods are lined with the official color or colors of the college or university which conferred the highest degree. The edging of the hood is velvet and three inches and five inches in width for the Master's and Doctor's degrees, respectively, while its color is distinctive of the subject field.

CAPS: Black cotton and stiffened into the so-called mortarboard style. Each cap has a long tassel fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap. The tassel color denotes the subject field. The Doctor's cap may have a tassel of gold thread. University administrators may also have a tassel of gold thread.
