FATHER O'HARA PICKS SAILORS FOR CHINA TRIP

Twelve Men and Four Alternates Named; Meeting of Men Tonight

The list of the 12 students chosen by Father O'Hara and a committee to take the Orient trip this summer was announced yesterday. It follows:

Charles Case, Robert Smith, Philip Donovan, Richard Zeller, Carson Dalton, Donald Campbell, Edward Hunger and Hamilton Schwartz—students in foreign commerce.

Fermin Fusz—mechanical engineering.

Robert Howland—journalism.
Harry McGuire—Litt. B.
Raymond Brady—law.

The alternates will have the opportunity of making the trip in case any of the men named cannot go. They are: Albert Sommer, first; August Fipp, second; Bernard Putney, third; Frank Murray, fourth.

In selecting these men many factors were taken into consideration, the most important of which were the course, class averages and activities of each man. A meeting of the future sailors will take place at 8 o'clock tonight in room 222 Main Building, at which plans for their journey will be discussed, and short talks will be given them by men who have made the trip before.

Father O'Hara has received assurances from the officials that every endeavor will be made to route all of the twelve men through the Orient; if this cannot be done, however, it is probable that some of them will go to Alaska. The kind of work at which the men will be employed is not certain; but in the past the students have spent their time in scrubbing and painting the vessel, in working in the mess or the engine-room, etc.

The first group of six men will leave Seattle on June 19, on the passenger steamer "Madison," and the second group will leave July 1 on the "McKinley." The round trip will take about seven weeks; in most of the important Chinese ports the boat will stop one day, but at Manila, Philippine Islands, where it turns around and starts on the homeward journey, the ship will put up for about five days.

Returns to School; Attended Funeral

August G. Desch, Corby Hall, returned yesterday from his home in Newark, N. J., where he attended the funeral of his mother Wednesday. With him was Frank McDermitt, Sorin Hall, who attended the funeral as representative of the Monogram Club, of which Desch is president.

Many spiritual and material bouquets were sent to Newark from Notre Dame, expressing the students' sorrow at the death, and a public mass was said on the day following Mrs. Desch's death in the Church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart by Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, honorary president of the Monogram Club.

FRESHMAN CONTEST

The class oratorical contest finished for the year with the award of honors to the freshmen. Seymour Weisberger won the first position with an oration on "The Spread of Bolshevism." Second place was awarded to Dennis Ruby, who spoke on "The Free State in Ireland."

Edward G. Hunger, Commerce '24, left Saturday for St. Meinrad, Ind., where he will witness the ordination of a second brother to the priesthood. Ed. plans to stay in Madison over Sunday and to return to the University on the following Monday.

Senior Week Has I. A. C. Here in Special Meet

One of the big attractions of Commencement Week will be a special track meet with a squad from the I. A. C., of Chicago, including Ray Watson, Kansas Aggie miler, who beat Joie Ray at the Drake last year and again at the intercollegiate meet in Chicago; Anderson, star hurdler, and Pope, former discus champion. Rockne will send his best bets against the visitors in the 100 yard dash, quarter mile, high and low hurdles, mile run, discus and mile relay. Watson was clocked in 4:24 3-10 when he won from Ray at the Drake classic last year and Paul Kennedy is due to give Watson a fast run when they meet here in June.

CASEY BANQUET HEARS N. D. MEN

Prof. Shuster, Fr. Lahey, Tim Galvin, Mark Storen on Program

Men from the University of Notre Dame took up the greater part of the program of speeches at a Knights of Columbus initiation dinner in Valparaiso, Sunday evening. Fifty candidates were initiated and 250 men attended the dinner that followed.

Professor George N. Shuster, speaking on the spirit of Columbianism, Rev. Thomas A. Lahey, speaking on the need of men who followed Catholic principles, Timothy Galvin, practicing attorney of Valparaiso, and Mark Storen, attorney at Michigan City, speaking on the K. of C. State Convention at Michigan City, Notre Dame men, and made up the program. Rev. Edward Mungovan, of Valparaiso, was toastmaster.

Father Walsh Speaks to Seniors Tomorrow

A special meeting of the senior class is called for 12:30 Wednesday in the south room of the Lemonnier Library. Rev. Matthew J. Walsh, president of the University, will address the class.

INDIANAPOLIS MEN TO DANCE

Informal and Hard Time Rassale, Program of Summer

Plans for an informal dance to be held in Indianapolis June 15, and for a Hard Time Rassale to be given in September, were announced by the officers of the Indianapolis Club following the meeting which was held Sunday morning.

The informal will be featured by the Notre Dame special, in which the Victory March and Hike Song will be played. The Club Rondeaux Orchestra, of Indianapolis, will furnish the music. The Hoosier Athletic Club has been secured for the evening.

Details for the Rassale have not been thoroughly gone over yet, so nothing concerning it was announced beyond the fact that it will be held about Sept. 7.

Noon luncheons will be given for the membership frequently during the vacation months, to bring the Notre Dame men together and to discuss plans for the Rassale.

Professor Vincent L. O'Connor, instructor in drawing at the University last year and for several previous years, was a visitor at Notre Dame Sunday. He is now superintendent of schools at Argo and Summit, Ill.

ANNUAL ARTIST WINS $125 FOR COLOR PLATES

O'Riordan and DeBarry, Art Editors of the Dome, Awarded Prize

Robert B. O'Riordan, associate art editor of the 1923 Dome, and Charles O. DeBarry, also associate editor of the Dome, have been awarded the first prize for the best set of annual division pages for this year. The prize is awarded by the Art Crafts Guild to the art editor or staff artist of the successful university, college, or high school entered in the contest. It consists of an art course in the Federal Art School at Minneapolis, valued at $125.

The Guild is an association composed of the representative engravers and printers of the Middle West, and the universities eligible to competition include almost every large one in this section of the country. The award, consequently, indicates the unusual quality of O'Riordan and McGuire's work, and also gives the 1923 Dome a distinction among this year's annuals.

O'Riordan is said to be the best brush man on the campus, and was chosen for his position because of this. The plates for which he received the award consist of five water color plates for each of the five divisions of the book; university activities, athletics, history and satire, and were mounted on duotone plates in a blue and gold standard design.

DeBarry, of the architectural department, has done many plates for the Scholastic and Juggler, as well as the Dome, this year. His work in designing is of the best that, perhaps, Notre Dame has ever seen.

JUNIORS NAME S.A.C. MEMBERS

Some Elected by Day's Vote; Others Voted on Thursday

Junior class nominations for S. A. C. representatives were held in the library Monday noon. While this meeting was intended only to name nominees to go before the class in the election Thursday, lack of opposition assured several places without further voting.

The elected are James Egan, of the College of Commerce, Ray Brady, of the College of Law, Matthew Rothert, of the College of Science, and William Greavy, of the College of Arts and Letters.

Mark Nolan, Norman Smith, and Peter Curran were nominated for representatives at large; Walter Moran and Timothy Rauh for the College of Engineering. Two from the former group and one from the latter will be elected at a meeting of the class to be held Thursday.

The death of James R. Martin's mother was learned Sunday through a telegram to Father Cary. James Martin was graduated in February of this year as a Ph.B. in Comm. He lives at 4036 Patterson Avenue, Chicago.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Some confusion cannot be avoided in the distribution of the initial issue of the DAILY. Any complaints or suggestions regarding distribution may be handed in at the DAILY office, Main Building. The office is open from 8 to 5.

Foreign Commerce Men on Foreign Ground for Day

Members of the College of Foreign Commerce, "The Exporters," will hold their first annual picnic today at Indian Lake. The date of the picnic was to have been Wednesday, but it was changed because Wednesday is a fast day. Jim Egan, who is in charge of the picnic, announces that there will be a chicken dinner and supper. Professor McCarthy will umpire the baseball game, which will be played in the afternoon. Egan states that the swimming will afford experience for those who are studying Marine Insurance.

McGUIRE HEADS WRITERS AGAIN

Jack Scallan, New Secretary of Scribblers Club Next Year

At the final Scribblers' meeting, held Friday in the Brownson Room of Lemonnier Library, Harry McGuire was re-elected president and Jack Scallan was elected secretary for the ensuing year. In selecting new Scribblers next September, when invitations to make application will be extended to all aspiring writers, the members have decided that there will be no preference shown men who have been on the waiting list. Numerous other plans that will surpass those of this year were also made.

Nature Runs Off First N. D. Daily

While the students stirred dreamlessly impatient in their beds, waiting for the first DAILY, the sky became riotously restless, and threw a thunderbolt near enough to the presses to start them on their course. The foreman of the pressroom was locking the final form of the paper when the shock came, and Nature began the first edition of the NOTRE DAME DAILY.

CASASANTA IN PIANO RECITAL

First Bachelor Recital in Five Years; Furey Will Sing

The first bachelor music recital at the University in five years will be held Friday evening, June 1, in Washington Hall, at 8 o'clock. Joseph Casasanta, being graduated in music this year, will give the recital assisted by William Furey, Glee Club president and soloist.

Casasanta is one of the most prominent students in music that Notre Dame has had in years. He has been instructing and has taken part in concerts many times during his years here. He is an officer in the Glee Club, for whom he has played in the regular program for several years. He is from a family of musicians; his brother is the director of a large and well-known orchestra in Massachusetts. He may master in music here next year.

Ray Gallagher Addresses Club

Raymond Gallagher, who has distinguished himself in the oratorical field, delivered his "A Century of Isolation" before the Kiwanis Club, of Elkhart, at their regular noon-day luncheon last week. Since his recent enviable achievement of winning the Central States Intercollegiate Oratory contest he has been in great demand as a speaker.

SPEAKERS FOR SENIOR WEEK ANNOUNCED

Lindsey Blayney, of Rice Institute, and Rt. Rev. Kerwin, to Talk

Lindsey Blayney, Ph.D., professor at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, and Rt. Rev. James M. Kirwin, vicar-general of Galveston diocese, have been chosen by the Faculty Committee, to deliver the addresses at the Notre Dame Commencement, June 10.

Prof. Blayney, who will deliver the Commencement address, has a wide literary reputation in the South. After receiving his A.B. and A.M. degrees at Centre College, he went abroad in 1897. During the seven years he spent in Europe he studied in Switzerland, Italy and Germany, and obtained his Ph. D. at Heidelberg in 1904. While in Germany he served as vice-consul, and also went on an expedition to Africa. Returning to the states in 1904 he accepted a professorship at Central University, Kentucky, where he taught until 1912, when he went to Rice Institute. Three seasons were spent touring this country for the Archeological Institute. After making a trip to the Orient he wrote "Ideals of Orient."

When the United States entered the world war the professor laid aside his teaching duties and enlisted at the Officers' Training Camp in Texas. He saw service against the Turks and on the Western front, serving on American, British, and French divisional staffs. When the war came to a close he had attained the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He is now commander of Houston post of the American Legion. For his bravery in service he was twice cited with the Croix de Guerre; he also received the Cross of Greece and the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The baccalaureate sermon will be given by the Rt. Rev. James M. Kirwin, in Sacred Heart Church, Sunday, June 10, at the Pontifical High Mass. Bishop Kirwin has done much for the development of civic conditions in Galveston. After his ordination at Mount St. Mary's College in Cincinnati in 1895 Bishop Kirwin was appointed rector of St. Mary's Cathedral in Galveston. During the Spanish-American war he served as chaplain in the regiment composed of men from his own school. In 1900 when the city was struck with a disastrous storm, the bishop worked unceasingly to relieve the suffering of the inhabitants. Again in 1907 it was he who brought about the settlement of the Southern Pacific Dock strike. Then a few years ago it was through Bishop Kirwin's efforts that the saloons were driven out of the residential district, after a strong fight in the state legislature.

Fund Committee Moved to Pennsy

The Endowment Drive Committee, after three months' work in Ohio, headed by Rev. Dr. James A. Burns and his assistants, Earl S. Dickens and Joseph C. McGinnis, have moved on to Pittsburgh. The new headquarters have been established at the William Penn Hotel.

While in Ohio the committee opened drives in Toledo, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Dayton. Other similar towns were also visited. As a result about $82,500 has been subscribed by old graduates and students in the Buckeye state. The drive was very successful in Cleveland, that city going over the top in its quota.

A few more Commencement invitations are available, according to E. Merlin Rolwing, chairman of the committee on arrangements, and can be secured if application is made to 247 Sorin, immediately.

The Techno-Log

We are still clinging to the Log waiting for the men in science and engineering to throw us a line. Send news items to 110 Sorin.

SPORTS

Men from engineering and science have organized baseball teams and arranged a schedule for the remainder of the school year. The members of the faculty, as well as the students, have shown interest and to date three games have been played, two of which were tied.

Because of late organization the Civils and Electricals were not included in the original schedule; but both have good teams now and are anxious to schedule games with other members of the league.

The season was opened officially on May 2 when President Smith pitched the first ball in a game between the Ground Hogs (Miners) and the Test Tubes (Chemical Engineers). It was a rip-snorting contest made particularly exciting because of Horan's artful dodging of pop bottles. The Ground Hogs led 8-4 until the last of the ninth, when the Test Tubes got hot and scored four runs. The game was called for supper with the score standing 8-8. A few days later the Drug-gists overcame a big lead and took the measure of the Pre-Meds to the tune of 11-9. Hereafter batting orders will be given and the standing of clubs will appear daily.

Another tie resulted when the Doctors met the Ground Hogs on last Tuesday. Good pitching and fielding held the game 2-2 in the eighth, when it was called on account of rain. The number of tied games played suggests the even matching of the clubs and the reason for the exciting interest in the games.

Schedule

- May 22—Pharmacists vs. Pre-Meds.
- May 23—Miners vs. Civils.
- May 24—Pharmacists vs. Mining Engineers.
- May 24—Mech. Eng. vs. Civils.
- May 25—Chem. Eng. vs. Pre-Meds.
- May 28—Chem. Eng. vs. Pharmacists.
- May 29—Miners vs. Pre-Meds.

All teams are eager to fill their schedules and the following managers should be consulted:

- Pharmacists, Leo Graf, Day Dog;
- Miners, Gene Sullivan, 308 Corby;
- Chemists, Dan Nolan, 350 Corby;
- Pre-Meds, Carl Gilsinger, 348 Corby;
- Electricals, Ed. Sullivan, 103 Corby;
- Civils, Ed. Cantwell, 309 Corby;
- Mechanicals, Joe Mulcarek, 7 Corby Subway.

Alvin A. Rohmberg, graduate in civil engineering, 1922, is now assistant engineer, Great Lakes Iowa.

Frank P. Goodall, C.S.C., former Grand Knight of Notre Dame Council 1477, Knights of Columbus, is finishing his second year at Holy Cross College, Brookland, D. C. In 1916 Mr. Goodall entered Holy Cross Seminary and in addition to the studies prescribed for seminarians continued his engineering studies. As a result he received two degrees at the time of his graduation in 1920. After spending a year in the Novitiate he continued his studies at Holy Cross College, where he will finish in June 1925, returning to Notre Dame in that month for ordination.

The following graduates of the course in civil engineering at the University of Notre Dame are doing exceptionally well in their profession:

From Off Stage

Ordinarily you are fairly safe in discounting by about 50 per cent what the advance agent says concerning a motion picture, but, fortunately, there are exceptions to the rule. "Hunting Big Game in Africa," the current attraction at the Blackstone, is a picture which fulfills all expectations, and which is well worth seeing. It is the result of a two years' expedition headed by H. A. Snow and Sid Snow, in the course of which they collected a remarkable number of specimens of African wild life as well as a pictorial record which is perhaps as good as any that has been done. Both the photographs of the action and of the scenic episodes are above the average, especially when you consider the adverse conditions under which the camera man worked.

It could be called an educational picture, but to call it so implies that it is tiresome and uninteresting. It is anything but that, and if you like real adventure and real thrills, the Blackstone is a fairly good place to spend an afternoon.

ST. MARY'S

Twilight had scarcely fallen when the rusty gate between Notre Dame and St. Mary's was opened, and St. Mary's avenue was soon thronged with Notre Dame men on their way to the Senior Club House to attend the initial formal dance held in the new building. By means of directions, given in the invitations, and snapshots the hall was eventually reached and recognized. The Big Five orchestra, stationed in the sun parlor, furnished the music. During the evening, the Notre Dame guests were presented with pigskin cigaret cases, monogrammed in gold. At 11 o'clock the dance was over, the gate was swung to for another year, and St. Mary's lapsed quietly into darkness and dreams.

The deans of the English and the Economics Departments returned from Indianapolis, Ind., Saturday night, where they attended the Third Annual Conference of the Alumnae of the Indiana Chapter of International Federation of Catholic Alumnae.

The business meetings, held at the Catholic Women's Association, 1010 North Street, consisted of a report on the International Convention held at Louisville, October, 1922, and of reports from the chairman of committees and from the Indianapolis City Circle.

During the discussion of plans for the ensuing year, a recommendation was proposed for affiliating with the National Council of Catholic Women and was favorably received. The question of admitting non-graduates and alumnae members into the association was also discussed. The first Saturday of the month was chosen as general communion day. In the election of officers that followed, St. Mary's was represented in the persons of Miss Marie Guedelhoefer and Mrs. Mae Hoefler Trask, as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The convention was followed by a luncheon given for those who attended the meeting and for other guests.

The placid waters of Lake Marion have again become the scene of great activity, for the lake has been put into excellent condition for swimming and canoeing. Gay-colored canoes, newly painted, skimmed the waters yesterday for the first time this season. Each one is fitted with an entire new outfit of paddles and cushions. Three new canoes have been added to the number.

The canoe cup is a prize for which many ambitious students are striving. While the date for the canoe preliminaries is not set definitely, they will undoubtedly be an event of the near future.

Miss Agnes Lang, physical director is largely responsible for the improvement in the facilities for outdoor sports. Miss Lang, who has manifested unusual interest and enthusiasm in her work, will have charge of the races.

THE FLIRT

In spring she came to woo me
At Duty's castle strong;
The wiles she used to lure me,
To her alone belong.

Her hair she wreathed with flowers
Of every different hue.
The robes she wore were softest
green,
Which made her eyes more blue.

A sash and silver bow she wore,
That added to her charm;
The sunbeam's kiss she threw to me,
She thought 'twould do no harm.

She pleaded with her copious tears,
Entreated with her smile,
Although my mind was duty bent,
I weakened all the while.

I fell, and am a gypsy now,
Who sing her song by day;
At night I pipe, and dream of her,
For Duty is cast away.

CHEER LEADER TO BE NAMED

Gleason Ends Duties This Year;
One of Assistants to be Named

Never again will the doughty, diminutive Kid Gleason be seen astride the electric sign over the Grill or dancing excitedly on the balcony of the Oliver Hotel or cavorting proudly on Cartier Field, with the gang from Notre Dame behind him, yelling, fighting, mad for victory.

The days of a cheer leader are fraught with work and more work and with Commencement in June, John Gleason will be relieved of the task that earned for him the coveted monogram. Homecoming and the student trip were carried off this year with great success and unlimited praise is due to Gleason and his faithful assistants, Pat Hyland, James Smith, Richard Miller and Edward Thode, who will probably be candidates for the position next year, as the eligibility is restricted to seniors.

At today's meeting of the S. A. C., some plan will be arranged whereby the cheer leader for next year will be named.

"Dome Out Soon" Say the Editors

"The 1923 Dome will be issued some time next week, probably about the middle of the week."

The editors of the University annual made this announcement yesterday, remarking that almost all of the book had been printed, and that it was expected that the remaining two or three forms would be run off the press within the next few days.

As a result of Zev's winning the Kentucky Derby, "Tubby" Harrington, of Badin Hall, will give a banquet at the Oliver next Saturday night. The guests will be Harold Carey and "Pinkie" Schmieler, who backed Martingale and "Swonska" Leach who picked Bo McMillan to win.

Frank Thomas is confined to the infirmary with an infected foot. He will be released within a few days.
