

CHOOSE COMMITTEE TO MAKE AWARDS AT S.A.C. CARNIVAL

S. A. C. EXPECTS TO COMPLETE
ERECTION OF STAGE BY MONDAY MORNING

The Student Activities council announced last night that Coach K. K. Rockne, Father Holdrith, and Father Galligan will compose the committee to award the prizes at the All-Campus carnival at 7:30 Monday evening, in the university gym.

Two prizes will be awarded to the acts receiving least appreciation. The prizes will be presented at the carnival Monday night, and then sent away to be inscribed with the winners' names.

Tickets Selling Well

The construction of the stage in the east end of the gym was started Saturday morning under the supervision of Walter Moran, and will be completed Monday morning. The first batch of tickets placed on sale by Donald Gallagher have been exhausted and a new set are now being distributed. The S. A. C. urges that all university men reserve Monday night for the first official all-campus "goofing party," and secure their tickets as soon as possible. One of the biggest Notre Dame nights of the year is predicted.

Monogram Club Entered

The Monogram club entered an act yesterday and the Day Students have signified their intention of appearing. Every act of the twelve or fifteen presented promises to meet with the hearty approval of the student body. The usual side attractions of a carnival have been secured to add atmosphere.

The committee in charge has ruled that "booing" and "hissing" will count as appreciation. The decision will rest entirely with the judges.

Everyone who is to take any part in the carnival must report to the committee Monday night at 7 o'clock sharp in the gym.

The Scholarship club will have a booth in the rear of the gym where its members will distribute home-made cakes, doughnuts, coffee, and candy.

To Erect Bleachers

The lighting effects have been secured through the courtesy of Mr. Richardson, stage manager of the Palace theater. Bleachers will be erected for the student body and chairs placed for the faculty members. The stage will give the appearance of a carnival tent.

The student body is urged to turn out and make the carnival an annual affair by its co-operation.

"Her" Photo Must Be in This Week

The Junior Prom committee announced last night that those men who intend to furnish a picture of their Prom guest must attend to the matter this week.

It is necessary, according to the committee, that the pictures be on hand soon, as they will be reproduced in the rotogravure section of the South Bend News-Times on Sunday, May 4. Three weeks are required to make up the "roto" section.

Every man may turn in a picture. The Prom committee stated that all pictures will be printed. The following men will receive the pictures and give any additional information desired. Leach, Bartley, Dwyer, Donahue, Weitzel, Hurley, Moran, and Shaefer.

With the announcement of the selection of Jean Goldhette's Victor recording orchestra, interest in the Prom has become manifest and a great stimulation of the ticket sale is reported.

The "Notre Dame Life" Section of the Dome Is New Feature of Year Book

The "Notre Dame Life" section of the 1924 Dome promises to be a unique method of depicting the year's events in pictures. Beginning with registration lines and the confusion of frantic freshmen seeking rooms and advice, and ending with commencement and leave taking, this section carries the readers through all the happenings of the year.

Well-arranged snapshots of the football team in action, tracing the history of the season through the early training period, through the games both at home and on foreign fields, and through the scenes of meeting and cheering the team, are of particular merit. Homecoming, with the returning grads, the newly uniformed band, the barbecue, and the game, is cleverly portrayed.

Not only is the football season colorfully illustrated, but many pages are devoted to intimate scenes of campus life. Pictures of the basement chapel, of the "campus beautiful" under winter and spring skies, and of the Ball, the Prom, the Cotillion, and the Frolic, are included in this new feature of the Dome.

DAY DODGERS SELL TICKETS FOR SHOW

DENNY'S ORCHESTRA TO HEAD
LIST OF FEATURES ON VAUDEVILLE BILL

Tickets for the Day-Student vaudeville show, which is to be presented in Washington hall on Thursday and Friday evening of this week, have been placed on sale. Students may purchase their tickets at the off-campus office, cafeteria, news-stand, and from Pat Hyland in 104 Corby hall, on the campus, and at Berman's Sporting store, and Hulle and Mike's, in the downtown district.

Two Performances

A large part of the proceeds of the show will be given to the Notre Dame Scholarship club of South Bend to aid in the education of needy students. Members of the club have placed their tickets on sale at the Blue Gate shop, Adler Bros., and Elbel Bros. The Thursday performance will be for the people of South Bend, and students who are accompanied by ladies. About 500 seats for this performance will be reserved for students only. In buying tickets it is necessary to look at the date on the tickets, as two different colors have been used.

Orchestra Features

Harry Denny and his orchestra, who will be the feature of the bill, promise to present an act original in setting and arrangement. Special scenery and stage settings are being prepared for the act. Charles Butterworth will appear in an original monologue sketch. "The Amen Corner," a comedy skit in one act, will be another feature of what is said to be a well-balanced vaudeville bill.

Brother Ferdinand Beautifying Campus

Numerous changes in landscape gardening have been begun on the campus under the direction of Brother Ferdinand, who plans to make it more beautiful, and at the same time more convenient by the addition of several paths. The "please" signs which are annually placed and call attention of students to a forbidden short cut have now been staked. At present workmen are busy on the west campus, where the new road has been cut through. The ground in front of Badin is being prepared for a lawn.

TODAY

6:30 a. m.—Low Mass in Sacred Heart Church.
8:30 a. m.—High Mass in Sacred Heart Church.
3:00 p. m.—Varsity baseball team vs. Indestructo Truck company, of Mishawaka.
7:30 p. m.—Services in Sacred Heart Church.

TOMORROW

8:00 p. m.—S. A. C. Carnival in gymnasium.

Graduate to Wed Mary Virginia Hull

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Mary Virginia Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hull, of South Bend, and Louis V. Bruggner, Journalism, '23. The wedding will take place Thursday morning, April 24, at St. Patrick's church, South Bend, at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Bruggner was graduated from Notre Dame last year. He came to Notre Dame from Illinois, where he completed his first university year. During his time at Notre Dame he was connected with university publications, was an editor of the Scholastic and an associate editor of the 1923 Dome. He was president of the Villagers and an officer in other organizations.

They will be at home after May 1 at 1512 Keller street, Marquette Park, South Bend.

Scholastic Appears Monday or Tuesday

The Scholastic, which will be out either Monday or Tuesday, will contain Mark Nolan's winning oration; a long poem, "Our Lady of Sorrows," by Dr. MacGregor; stories by James Hayes, Harry Flannery and Joseph Breig; and essays by Henry Bolger and Corbin Patrick. Of particular interest also is a complete review of the minor winter sports, and a dramatic review in Mr. Withey's best style.

Afternoon Classes to Begin Earlier

Beginning tomorrow, afternoon classes will start at 1:15, 2:15 and 3:15, instead of at the half hour. The change comes in the nature of a re-establishment of the policy which was followed at the beginning of the term. The time for beginning classes was 15 minutes ahead last fall, and the arrangement continued through the winter months. With the coming of spring, however, it was deemed advisable to again change the time in order that a longer period after afternoon classes may be available to students.

Rahe Appointed to G. O. P. Committee

Paul Rahe has been named secretary-treasurer of the Republican club, according to an announcement made last night. Rahe, a junior in the law school, becomes an ex-officio member of the executive committee as a result of his appointment. John Stanton, chairman, is now preparing a list of members of permanent committees of the club, which will include financial, publicity, membership, absentee voters, and arrangements. Hon. William L. Harding, former governor of Iowa, will talk here on Tuesday night under the auspices of the club.

The club, which is sponsored by the Republican National committee, plans to bring several speakers of prominence here.

STARS FOR DEPAUW

Paul Jones

Paul Jones, diminutive DePauw track star, was the feature performer in the dual meet with Notre Dame yesterday afternoon. Jones took first place in the pole vault, high jump and broad jump, scored one-third of DePauw's point total.

Jones first claimed the attention of sport critics by giving a very creditable performance in the National Intercollegiate meet last June. The Methodist star next came to the front in the ranks of middle-west track stars when he won the all-around championship in the Illinois relay carnival March 1. Jones is entered in the Penn relay, and hopes to qualify in the Olympic trials to be held in June.

INTERHALL NINES GET INTO ACTION

SEASON OFFICIALLY BEGINS WITH GAMES ON CARTIER
FIELD THIS MORNING

The interhall baseball season will officially open when the Carroll and Sorin squad meet on the Cartier field diamond this morning at 9:30.

As the schedule is arranged there will be five contests staged each week, as many as possible being played on Sunday. It will probably not be possible to play more than two or three games in one day, and those that are forced to be postponed are to be arranged by the rectors at a date later in the week, so as not to interfere with the following scheduled date.

The teams are listed in groups of five, the two listed first playing on the Cartier field diamond in the morning, and those scheduled second using the Brownson diamond at the same hour. If possible there will be three games played in the afternoon, the teams listed third on the schedule playing on the Cartier field diamond, and those listed fourth and fifth using the Brownson grass diamond and skin diamond respectively. It may be more convenient, however, to have the games played later in the week.

Following is the schedule for the week of April 6:

- 1—Carroll vs. Sorin.
- 2—Sophomore vs. Freshman.
- 3—Walsh vs. Cadillac.
- 4—Day vs. Brownson.
- 5—Corby vs. Badin.

PILLOW TOP SALE ENDS

The sale of pillow tops by the Senior class will come to a close Saturday. There will be no canvass for orders after that day, but students who desire to secure the tops may place their orders with Walter Moran or Donald Gallagher before Saturday.

N. D. CINDER MEN WIN OVER DEPAUW BY 81-45 SCORE

IRISH TEAM MAKES CLEAN
SWEEP OF 440-YARD DASH
AND JAVELIN THROW

GREENCASTLE, Ind., April 5.—Notre Dame won over DePauw, 18 to 45, in a dual meet here this afternoon. The Irish copped the meet in easy fashion and made a clean sweep in the 440-yard dash and the Javelin throw. Barr broke the tape in the century and 220-yard dash, while Kennedy won the mile run in 4:37 1-10.

Hamling Makes Monogram

Gene Oberst won the javelin throw with a heave of 195 feet, 7 inches, incidentally setting a new field record here. The throw was said to be one of the best marks the Irish javelin star ever made. Gephardt won the discus, and Hamling breasted the tape in the quarter mile, thus entering the ranks of the monogram wearers. Hamling finished the quarter mile in :53 3-5. Gephardt threw the discus 116 feet, 2 inches.

Jones Outstanding Star

DePauw broke into the win column due to the performances of Paul Jones in the field events, and Johnson and Seis in the hurdles. Jones won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 7 inches. Brady and Johnson of Notre Dame tied for second place. Jones entered the broad jump and won the event with a leap of 22 feet, 6 inches. Brady, of Notre Dame, scored second place in this event, while Adams, of DePauw, was relegated to third place. The DePauw star came back in the pole vault and copped this event with a vault of 12 feet. Jones has performed in stellar fashion for two years in the field events.

Milbauer Takes Shot Put

Milbauer and Rigney took first and second place in the shot put, Milbauer winning the event with a heave of 40 feet, 10 1-2 inches. Wayne Cox lived up to expectations in the half mile, winning the run in 2:07. The unfavorable weather and soft track slowed up the runners to a great extent, and the time in all the events was below standard. John Wendland and Jimmy Keats placed first and third respectively in the two mile, which the Irish star won in 10:25.

The summary follows:

Pole vault—Won by Jones, DePauw; Harrington, Notre Dame, second; Carey, Notre Dame, third. Height, 12 feet.

100-yard dash—Won by Barr, Notre Dame; Smith, DePauw, second; Layden, Notre Dame, third. Time, :10 2-5.

High jump—Won by Jones, DePauw; Brady and Johnson, Notre Dame, tied for second. Height, 5 ft., 7 ins.

Shotput—Won by Milbauer, Notre Dame; Rigney, Notre Dame, second; Doyle, DePauw, third. Distance, 40 ft., 10 1-2 ins.

Mile run—Won by Kennedy, Notre Dame; L. Meyer, DePauw, second; E. Meyer, DePauw, third. Time, 4:37 1-10.

Broad jump—Won by Jones, DePauw; Brady, Notre Dame, second; Adams, DePauw, third. Distance, 22 ft., 6 ins.

Discus throw—Won by Gephardt, Notre Dame; Fortune, DePauw, second; Rigney, Notre Dame, third. Distance, 116 ft., 2 ins.

Javelin throw—Won by Oberst, Notre Dame; Rigney, Notre Dame, second; Layden, Notre Dame, third. Distance, 195 ft., 7 ins.

Two mile run—Won by Wendland, Notre Dame; Wilcox, DePauw, second; Keats, Notre Dame, third. Time, 10:25.

High hurdles—Won by Johnson, DePauw; Casey, Notre Dame, second; Adams, DePauw, third. Time, :13.

Low hurdles—Won by Zeis, DePauw.

THE DAILY'S STAND FOR NOTRE DAME

A union building to be built as soon as possible.
A well-organized student body, residing on the campus.
True recognition of good scholarship and a better appreciation for the efforts of men in campus activities.

AMERICA

America is a land where hugeness and wealth are gods. It is a land that measures accomplishments with a yard-stick or a bushel basket, a land the spirit of which is illustrated by the popularity of The American Magazine. Its representative city is Chicago, the material capital of America. It is a city of action, restless, surging, crushing, chaotic. It is a city of noise, uproar, clamor, rumbling, bangs, screeches, howls, shrieks. It is a city of commerce, announcing the economic interpretation of civilization, boasting of the largest grain market, the greatest meat market, the mammoth producers of cement, clothing, furniture, stoves, pianos, telephone apparatus, and so on, boasting of "the greatest negro settlement outside of Africa"; "the most disastrous fire of modern times"; "the most congested street corner in the world"; "more litigation per capita than any other city in the world"; "one of its dirtiest, drabbist, most miserable, most ramshackle streets is—20 miles long!"

It is a city of size—representing America.

So Jay William Hudson paints it in his story of "Nowhere Else in the World," and we who, in college, are idealists, and believe success is something spiritual, not material, that quality not quantity is important, are led to wonder.

We wonder of this spirit, because it is new, which most of us now oppose, and to which many of us will succumb, as did Hr. Hudson's hero, is revolting only because it is new. Perhaps there is more in material results than we think, that although spiritual ends are most important, here, on a material planet, we wonder if material results are not as adequate expressions of a real civilization as the arts; and if, which is by the way, Rotarian and Lion club banquets are not to be laughed at, but are to be rejoiced in as signs of a healthy, optimistic America, fatuous, smug, often mistaken, but actively progressing toward a new kind of spiritual life that expresses itself not in orthodox paintings, literature, and music, but in skyscrapers, railroads, and "all modern conveniences."

We wonder.

A GOOD INDICATION

College men and women, gathered in the national capitol at the call of the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand, are yesterday and today attempting to work out a program for law observance, particularly as to prohibition, for the colleges and universities of the country.

In calling the session, at which 150 colleges are to be represented, the committee said: "In recognition of the fact that as a part of the apparent tendency everywhere to disregard lawful and orderly methods of life, this same spirit has manifested itself to a degree among the students of the institution of higher education. The committee does not believe these violations are of such proportions that they are to be regarded as an indictment of the vast majority of those attending the colleges and universities, but they represent a tendency which it is believed ought to be promptly corrected."

It is hoped by the committee that a real, thorough-going awakening of the nation to the necessity of fundamental righteousness and loyalty to orderly methods of government will be fully considered and discussed.

This is a good indication. It shows an earnest endeavor not only on the part of the committee, but on the part of the colleges as well to correct a growing evil. The most it can hope to do, however, is to bring to the attention of individual college men and women the need of a better respect for law and authority. The true correction must come from the individual himself.

If the conference now in session in Washington can bring home to individuals an old-fashioned respect for obedience to law and order, it will have achieved its purpose. Its success is, with every student at Notre Dame and with every student in every college in the land.

An extremist is one who places all the weight on one foot in order to rest on the other.

It is absurd to say that women are getting homlier. The drug stores are doing the best they can.

What Others Say

On Good Friday

Nobody questions the fitting respect paid to the memory of a great national figure, when at the time of his interment, flags are struck and the wheels of industry halt for a reverential minute. The nation which, nominally at all events, is a Christian nation, pauses in the rush of trade and commerce and the day's labor, to reflect on the passing of greatness. Each year, on Good Friday, there is occasion to pay tribute to the memory of the death that transcends all other leaths of God or Man. Throughout the British Empire the day is made a holy day. To all Christians, everywhere, it should be holy without the legal aid of civic authority. That is why the movement of councils of the Knights of Columbus, originating in San Francisco, to have a period of solemn remembrance observed by all on Good Friday, is a movement that commands itself, not only to councils of the order everywhere, but to all Christian men who know—and what practical Christian doesn't know?—the crucial significance of Good Friday in the Christian calendar.—Columbia.

New Offerings on Stage and Screen

PALACE: "Hill Billy."
BLACKSTONE: "The Tiger Rose."
ORPHEUM: "Name the Man."
OLIVER: "Haldane of the Secret Service."
LA SALLE: "Singer Jim McKee."

The Stewart Sisters, with their Girl's Golden West band, are the headliners of the vaudeville at the Palace this week. The act is rich in musical and dancing numbers. Billy McDermott, in a comic act, and Harry and Emma Sharrock, in "Behind the Grandstand," also a humorous skit, are on the bill.

At the Blackstone we have Lenore Ulric in a film presentation of her famous stage success, "The Tiger Rose." Nat "Chick" Hawes and a company of fourteen appear in "Yes, My Dear," an act billed as "a miniature musical comedy." Dan Valerio, a wire-dancer, and Theresa and Estella, are also included in the vaudeville.

The LaSalle offers Elaine Hammerstein, Wallace Beery, and Jack Mulhall in "Drums of Jeopardy," a genuine thriller which will be shown tomorrow.

Beginning today, "Name the Man," from Sir Hall Caine's story, "Master of Man," will be shown at the Orpheum. Conrad Nagle, Patsy Ruth Miller and Hobart Bosworth are in the cast of this picture, which has its action laid on the picturesque Isle of Man.

Starting today, for four days, the Houdini Film corporation is presenting at the Oliver a six-reel feature "Haldane of the Secret Service." This picture gives Houdini a chance to show his whole bag of tricks and should provide good entertainment.—E. C.

Campus Briefs

Francis Esch, M. E. III, has left for his home in Sandusky, O., to recuperate from an operation for appendicitis, recently performed at St. Joseph's hospital.

George Dever, '23, son of Mayor Dever of Chicago, was a visitor on the campus yesterday.

Sore throats and tonsillitis seem to be the prevailing ailments of those confined to the infirmary; there are a few students suffering with colds and the grippe. Those confined to the infirmary are: Jerry Merches, Walsh; M. A. Henry, Freshman; Dave Hickey, Freshman; Don McDonald and Ed Pontarelli, Sophomore; Joe Pars, Freshman; Robert Rink, Sorin; Allen Foley, Badin. Frank Walsh, who recently underwent an operation, is slightly improved and is expected to recover. Father Maher passed a comfortable night and is also improving. George Schaff, who recently fractured his ankle, has been hobbling about with the aid of crutches for the past two weeks, and has now almost completely recovered.

Of Interest on The BOOK SHELF

COLLEGE DAYS, by Stephen Leacock; Dodd, Meade and Company, New York. $1.25.

What with "Behind the Beyond," "Over the Footlights," and "Non-sense Novels," not to mention "My Discovery of England," Stephen Leacock is in some danger of becoming a national institution. Certainly his ventures in humor have brought him more fame than would have come to the author of a prosaic text on Political Economy.

Like most men who have acquired an audience, Mr. Leacock has proceeded to turn his earlier work to account, and in "College Days" we have a sheaf of essays which have appeared in various publications during the past 20 years. It is a Leacock in a somewhat different mood, in a mood much the same as that displayed in "My Discoveries of England." Since he is Stephen Leacock, the thing to say is that he is as humorous as ever—it is platitudinous to say that a humorist is never taken seriously. Here and there, however, through his usual drift of nonsense, appears a momentous truth, and an attempted arraignment of contemporaneous education, the justice of which you may or may not agree with.

THE MARRIAGE VERDICT, by Frank Spearman; Charles Scribner's Sons, New York.

Some years ago, Frank Spearman wrote what is still his best novel, "Robert Kimberly," which gave the Catholic doctrine on divorce in a way that compares favorably in many respects to Mrs. Wilfred Ward's "One Poor Scruple." Spearman's latest novel, "The Marriage Verdict" is very similar in plot to his earlier work. The heroine, unhappily married to a man who has turned his attentions in other directions, seeks release from the marriage bond, but because she is a Catholic, knows that the church forbids it. The only great difference between the two novels is that in "Robert Kimberly" the heroine is released by death, while in "The Marriage Verdict" there is an arbitrary twisting of the plot which makes it possible to invoke the Pauline Privilege.

Spearman has nothing new to say; his book depends for its success upon its plot. It is a plot which is by no means unusual, and one which could have been handled by any one of a number of Catholic authors who have not the reputation of Mr. Spearman. Perhaps the outstanding fault is that he persists in making the theology too apparent, a fault by no means unusual in those who have a moral to drive home.—J. S. B.

IRISH LOOK GOOD IN PRACTICE GAME

SQUAD IS ROUNDING INTO CONDITION AS SPRING
TRIP NEARS

A practice game featured yesterday's baseball practice for Coach Keogan's varsity nine. A semi-pro team was scheduled to meet the Irish, but failing to appear at playing time, the Notre Dame mentor divided his squad and sent them through eight innings of good, fast ball playing.

With only a few days left before the start of the Southern jaunt, the battle for positions on the team has dwindled down to two or three men for each position. The teams as they were divided yesterday consisted of Nolan, Ash, Sheehan and Prendergrast on the infield; Dunne, Reese and Farrell held down the garden positions, and McGrath and Silver were named as the batteries of this team. Daus and Smith were on the twirling and receiving end for the other team, for which Kelly, Bergman and Vergara played the outfield, and Sammon, Quinlan, Scharer and Pearson made up the infield.

Very little comment can be made concerning the twirlers since Coach Keogan is keeping the wares of his slabmen in reserve. The varsity will probably carry a personnel of six pitchers this year, which will lighten the mound duty for each pitcher.

The coach has a choice of three first basemen, of which Nolan looks like the headline performer. Dunne is dependable in the outfield as well as on the initial sack and looks good at the plate. Sammon gave a creditable showing in yesterday's practice. Curly Ash and Quinlan were the competitors on the keystone corner yesterday, and both men turned in an easy game. Scharer has been showing some nice form at short stop while Pendergast, Ed. Barry, and Pearson have been performing around the third base in acceptable fashion. The outfield is still a problem and even the personnel of the spring trip may not determine who will be on duty regularly. There are four baseball lettermen competing for the position besides Tommy Farrell.

The practice session this afternoon will be featured by a game with a Mishawaka team.

TIGERS LOSE LEGRENDRE

According to an announcement of the Yale, Harvard and Princeton Athletic committee, Sidney Legrendre of New Orleans, star half-back of Princeton, and Earl Evans of Des Moines, Ia., Harvard tackle, will be ineligible for intercollegiate football competition next fall. It was brought out during the session of the committee that Legrendre had played one year at Tulane and Evans had competed at Marquette during his first year.

TO OPEN STADIUM

A football game between California and Pennsylvania, to be played in California Memorial stadium, January 1, 1925, was reported from the California athletic office this week. This will be the first to be played in the new stadium.

First Scrimmage for Irish Gridmen

In the first football scrimmage of the spring training season, held on Cartier field yesterday afternoon, six teams of moleskin candidates were put through the gridiron mill by Coach K. K. Rockne, and given their first taste of the Irish Pigskin sport which annually lays claim to the attention of the sporting world.

The squads were made up for the most part of the freshmen team of last fall. Sandwiched in between the yearlings, who were introduced to the sport light of Notre Dame by working against the varsity last fall, were many new men who are making their first bid for a varsity berth, and who incidentally made a nice showing in yesterday's scrimmage.

Both in the line and backfield there appeared several men who will undoubtedly make their presence felt in the varsity ranks next fall. Dick Hanousek and Joe Boland, and several others showed up well in the line and displayed their effectiveness on numerous occasions. Among the candidates for the end positions are two or three outstanding performers whose work yesterday afternoon was more than acceptable and who should develop rapidly under the Rockne system.

Backfield material, as usual, is rather prominent and several of the yearlings gave a very favorable exhibition yesterday. O'Boyle and Prelli enjoyed a very good season last fall, and with a little more practice this spring they should be working in good form. Charles Reilly, Edwards and Mullins make up a trio of freshmen quarterbacks who have proven by their work that they are headed for varsity company.

The squads were pitted against each other and one side retained the ball until they worked their way down the length of the field. The ball was then given to the other side in the middle of the field, and play was started from scrimmage. The early part of the afternoon was devoted to group work, where several of last year's team assisted Coach Rockne.

IOWA BASEBALL

Coach Sam Barry of Iowa took the Hawkeye baseball squad outdoors this week for the first time this year. The 40 candidates bunched in sweaters, limited the practice session to hitting and fielding. Eight veterans from last year have reported for the squad, including three pitchers. Chicago will open the conference season April 12, with a game at Iowa City.

DRAKE CLASSIC ATTRACTS STARS

NOTRE DAME AND NEBRASKA
SLATED TO BE STRONG IN RELAYS

DES MOINES, Ia., April 5.—The Drake relay games scheduled for April 25 and 26 will from all indications be one of the biggest track classics in the west this year. The importance of the event can not be over estimated this year with the approach of the Olympic trials in June. Every track star in the country entered in the Drake classic will be out to break records and assert his right to a place on the American team going to France. Such a motive will thus raise the marks of the meet in proportion to the competition.

Schools from the Missouri Valley and Big Ten, and also universities not attached to any athletic federation, such as Notre Dame, will participate, and the stars of the respective schools will have an opportunity seldom presented. Illinois, holder of the world's record in the 440-yard relay, and the American intercollegiate record in the 880-yard relay, will probably not be able to compete in the meet with the same brilliancy that marked its performance of last year if the injuries that are at present depleting the ranks of the Gillmen continue until the opening of the Drake classic.

Iowa, Michigan, and either Wisconsin or Northwestern, will uphold the conference colors in the relay events. Nebraska, from the Missouri conference, and Notre Dame will make a strong bid for relay honors.

Illinois will be a favorite contender in the field events. Harry Gill has several noted weightmen and a javelin thrower holding

Charley Judge to Lead Yearling Track Team

Charley Judge of Sophomore hall, star miler on the yearling track team was elected by the freshmen numeral men to lead the 1927 outdoor track team, at a meeting held in the Main building yesterday noon.

Before the election Coach Rockne issued the freshman numerals to 27 track men and nine basketball men. The Frosh track team is one of the best first year aggregations that has been seen on the local cinders for several years. The yearlings defeated Culver, and held Western State Normal to a close count, and are expected to perform in more elegant fashion during the outdoor season. Judge was one of the most consistent performers on the squad, and registered a mark in the mile run as good as 4:32. Frey was a prominent contender in the high jump, while Charley Reilly, Mullin and McDonald looked good in the sprints. Barron and Wynne in the hurdles, and Prelli in the quarter, the American intercollegiate record. Poor of Kansas and Wright of Illinois will be numbered among the leading high jumpers, the Kansas star clearing the bar recently at 6 feet, 4 inches.

proved their effectiveness several times during the indoor season.

Coach Rockne announced that Mr. Royer, who became a member of the faculty at the start of the second semester, would coach the freshmen runners. The new coach is a former University of Pennsylvania track man. The following men received the numerals for basketball: Nyikos, Conroy, V. McNally, Maxwell, Dahman, Kirwin, Scheer, White, DeVault.

SPECIAL RELAY RACE

The University of Iowa crack relay team, which set a new American intercollegiate record in the mile relay at Drake, has been matched for a special race May 3 with an All-Star relay team from New York, composed of four of the best quarter miler on the east coast.

Wilson, Brookins, Morrow, and Noll will probably make up the Iowa team, although Coutler and Roberts may replace Wilson and Noll, who were graduated last year.

Says College Stars Fail in Big League

"All that glitters is not gold," says a New York sport critic as he looks with suspicion and doubt upon each new recruit into the ranks of major baseball, who has just been raked into the big league by scouts who tour the college baseball camps each year. From this adage, he comes to the conclusion that college stars sometimes fail in big time baseball.

Very often it is the case that the college star has skipped that invaluable training that accrues to the players in the minor leagues. Nearly every college player has to change his playing form as soon as he steps out in major company. It is very evident then that there is some difference in the system taught by college baseball coaches and that taught in the camps of professional baseball.

The eastern sport scribe mentions Mohardt and Castner as among those who enjoyed a brilliant career in college, but were not ready for the majors when they were given their first trial. It might be added that Dick Falvey probably made a better impression than either of the other two men, although Castner and Mohardt were looked upon favorably in the majors.

The men that have made good and the men who have been remanded to the minors for seasoning, would probably make two long lists, but in both cases the setting down of a few of the prominent players would suffice. Glenn Killinger, Penn State halfback; Urban, Boston college football star, and Hinky Haines, are the most noted of the recent flashes to appear in the majors, and then fade out. Killinger thought better of football coaching than shooting sage hens in the minors. On the other list we have Frankie Frisch, the Fordham flash; Joe Duggan, who went to the Yankees from Holy Cross, and Harry Heilmann of Detroit, who played with the Sacred Heart college team on the Pacific coast. Stephenson of Cleveland came up from the University of Alabama and Aaron Ward of Ouachita college fell into line with the Yanks.
