

K. OF C. WILL HOLD INITIATION TODAY

LARGE CLASS TO ENTER SEC- OND AND THIRD DEGREES

Today promises to be a memorable one in the history of Notre Dame Council, Knights of Columbus. A large class of candidates composed of Notre Dame and South Bend men will be initiated into the mysteries of the second and third degrees of the order this afternoon at Mishawaka, and later a banquet in honor of these men will be held at the Oliver hotel. This will be the second and last ceremonial to be held this year under the auspices of the local council.

Milroy to Speak.

The thirty-four candidates who received the first degree at Notre Dame last Thursday night are asked to be present at the K. of C. council chambers in Mishawaka at 12:45 sharp as the degree work is scheduled to begin promptly at 1:00 p. m.

William J. Milroy, a former Notre Dame man, now prominent in Chicago political circles, will be the principal speaker at the dinner following the initiation. Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., former president of the University, will also deliver an address. Professor George N. Shuster will act as toastmaster.

Butterworth to Entertain.

The program also includes a humorous talk by Charlie Butterworth, well-known campus monologist, and vocal selections by Dick Griffin. Harry Denny's Oliver hotel orchestra will provide musical entertainment.

Those who have not yet secured tickets for the banquet may obtain them this morning from any of the following men: Mark Nolan, John James, Harry McGuire, James Egan, Robert Cooney, Paul Sagstetter and Ed Lynch.

Daily Iowan Will Have Woman Editor

When Miss Hazel Samuelson becomes editor-in-chief of the Daily Iowan June 1, she will achieve the distinction of being one of the few women editors of daily papers in the country, and of the still fewer women editors of college dailies. The monopoly of this position by college men, which had come to be regarded as almost a tradition, will be broken.

The Iowan is generally recognized as being one of the largest college dailies. Published every day except Monday during the college year, it has full leased associated press wire, comic features and news photo service. The paper, which is self supporting, has a staff of more than 100 students.

Michigan U. Library Receives Rare Books

A recent addition of the "Voyages" of Theodore Deby to the William L. Clement's library at Michigan University is said to make that library the "outstanding depository of this work in America." "Deby," states the Michigan Daily, in an article concerning the gift of these rare volumes, "lived during the sixteenth century at the time when discovery and exploration of the new world was revolutionizing history. He determined to publish a collection of accounts of the voyages of Columbus and other explorers, accompanying each volume with a series of large engravings illustrating the text." Officials of the library plan to place the books on public exhibition at an early date.

Juggler Announces a Commencement Issue

The "Commencement Number" of the Juggler will make its appearance on the campus the latter part of this month, or the first of next month. It will be the last issue of the scholastic year, and from all indications it promises to eclipse all former issues. All contributors are urged to hand in their contributions as soon as possible.

The usual prize awards will be given for the best art and literary contributions according to the custom instituted by the Juggler staff this year.

The election of next year's staff will take place following the issue of the Commencement Number. There will also be many new appointments made to fill vacancies made by graduation.

Several contributions by former students are expected to appear in this number.

CHEMISTS TO HOLD MEETING HERE SOON

DR. GERALD L. WENDT TO BE CHIEF SPEAKER AT JOINT MEETING

Plans are practically completed for the joint meeting of the Indianapolis, Purdue and Northern Indiana sections of the American Chemical society to be held at the University on May 23 and 24. Mr. H. B. Froning, chairman of the Northern Indiana section has announced that Dr. Gerald L. Wendt, chairman of the Chicago section has been secured to give the chief talk of the meeting on Friday evening.

Dr. Wendt will talk on "The Story of Gasoline," illustrating his lecture with a three-reel film. His talk will comprise recent developments in the petroleum industry, gasoline substitutes, ethyl gas, and the mechanism of lubrication. Dr. Wendt is now engaged in research work at the Standard Oil Company's plant in Whiting, Indiana, and is one of the foremost figures in the country in that particular field.

STAFF APPOINTED

The staff for the University of Wisconsin Homecoming for 1924 was recently appointed. The Homecoming will take place in the fall of 1924.

The Chimes, St. Mary's Magazine, Founded in '92, Now Read by 1,000

St. Mary's Chimes, official monthly organ of St. Mary's College and Academy, was inaugurated by Mother M. Annunciata during the scholastic year of 1892-93. Previous to the founding of this magazine, a department of the Scholastic was devoted to an account of happenings at St. Mary's.

The Chimes came as the result of a literary activity which began to manifest itself noticeably in the early sixties, when manuscripts were produced and read by the students. The purpose of the magazine is stated in an editorial in the first issue, "To promote the advancement of all that is good and noble; to elevate the standard of literary taste; and to serve as an incentive to earnest and persevering labors in all that pertains to a thorough, Christian education."

Since its institution the Chimes has been issued monthly during the school year. Its circulation has now reached the 1,000 mark. Each student of the college and academy receives the magazine; a copy of each issue is sent to parents; many alumnae are subscribers. Although originally edited by the graduating and upper classes, the publication

NOTRE DAME TAKES MEET FROM AGGIES

SCORE EASY VICTORY IN DUAL MEET WITH MICH- IGAN TEAM

LANSING, Mich., May 17. (Special)—Notre Dame easily defeated the Michigan Aggies in a dual track meet here this afternoon on College field. The final count was 91 1-2 to 34 1-2. The visitors from South Bend were never in danger of being headed after the first few events had been run off. The Aggies garnered three first places, winning the discus, high jump and 220-yard low hurdles.

Oberst Registers Win.

Although the wind behind the runners in the sprints aided Barr of Notre Dame in winning the century in 0:09 9-10, the time in the other events was not overly fast. #### Sheehan Takes Mile.

Sheehan of Notre Dame took the mile run in 4:40 while Cooper of Notre Dame followed the pace set by his teammate and copped the two mile run in 10:8 1-2. ## LOYOLA BLANKED BY IRISH TEAMS

CHICAGOANS LOSE IN BOTH GOLF AND TENNIS CONTESTS

CHICAGO, Ill., May 17. (Special)—Notre Dame completely outclassed Loyola University in golf and tennis here this afternoon. Both teams whitewashed the Chicagoans, the count for the golf match being 11 to 0, and the Irish net men winning three singles and two doubles.

Loyola failed to score a single point in the golf match. The results of the matches for the eighteen holes are as follows: Adams, 3; Aubrey, 0. Bulger, 3; Fitzpatrick, 0. Ward, 2; Morrissey, 0. Foglia, 3; O'Neil, 0. Foglia of Notre Dame held the low medal card for the afternoon, at 81. Bulger's score was 84; Adams', 84; Ward's, 85; Aubrey's, 85.

Northwestern to Enroll African

Charles Blooah, son of Chief Kaiwillie Geequammas of the Neheah tribe of negroes in Liberia, Africa, is to attend summer school at Northwestern University, according to an article in the Daily Northwestern of recent date.

"I was playing up a cocoanut tree in my native village when I first saw a white man," said Charles. He related a strange story of conversion to the Christian faith, of working his way to this country, of preliminary education at Taylor college in Indiana, of his ambition to obtain a college degree. Mr. Blooah earns his own living by doing odd jobs and delivering his lecture, "From Cocoanut Tree to College."

"My ambition is," said he, "to obtain my degree at Evanston and to qualify myself for religious educational work. When I've done that I shall go back to my native tribe in Africa and try to convert my brothers and fellow tribesmen to the Christian religion."

ST. VIATORS WINS OVER KEOGANITES

IRISH NINE SUFFERS UNEX- PECTED DEFEAT, 11 TO 6.

KANKAKEE, Ill., May 17. (Special)—An unexpected defeat was handed to the Notre Dame baseball team when the St. Viators sluggers fell on two Irish pitchers for an 11 to 6 victory here this afternoon.

The Kankakee aggregation started out with a crash and hammered in three runs in the first inning before Notre Dame came to bat. The three run lead was cut down by the Irish in the third frame when Dundon was touched for three runs to add to the one counter hung up in the second inning. From then on, the St. Viator southpaw held the Irish in check while the home crew nipped the visiting twirlers for eight more runs.

The fourth inning marked the downfall of McGrath on the mound for the Irish when five runs were scored on four hits and Stange took up the burden, with one out. The locals added another counter before the inning expired.

St. Viators completed its scoring in the seventh when with two men on the path, J. Winterhalter connected with a home run. After Notre Dame's sensational victory over Illinois, the St. Viators nine expected a killing for the Irish, but the smart ball playing of the day before was lacking.

YESTERDAY'S BULLETIN.

Because it is in the nature of an editorial, the bulletin issued yesterday morning by Father Matthew Walsh, president of the University, is published in its entirety in this column:

"It has been rumored that the Ku Klux Klan is to hold some sort of gathering in the vicinity of South Bend, this evening. There is also a rumor to the effect that there may be a parade of the Klan in South Bend.

"Notre Dame is interested in the proposed meeting of the Klan, but not to the extent of wishing to interfere with whatever plans may have been made for a demonstration. Similar attempts of the Klan to flaunt its strength have resulted in riotous situations, sometimes in the loss of life.

"However aggravating the appearance of the Klan may be, remember that lawlessness begets lawlessness. Young blood and thoughtlessness may consider it a duty to show what a real American thinks of the Klan. There is only one duty that presents itself to Notre Dame men, under the circumstances, and that is to ignore whatever demonstration may take place today. This suggestion should be taken in all seriousness. It is my wish that the Klan be ignored, as they deserve to be ignored, and that the students avoid any occasion of coming into contact with our Klan brethren during their visit to South Bend. Let the South Bend authorities take care of the situation. The place for Notre Dame men, this afternoon and tonight, is on the Notre Dame campus. An injury, or even serious mishap, to a single Notre Dame man would be too great a price to pay for a protest, which in the nature of things is unnecessary and highly undesirable to the authorities of both the University and South Bend."

STANDARDIZING.

The costs of producing the Dome increase every year. As long as improvements are made in the book, this is inevitable. Part of the increased cost is met by increased returns from advertising and circulation, but there are some means of saving that may be suggested. One of these is standardization of the cover.

The cover design of the 1924 Dome is simple, tasteful, and attractive. Some such a design, possibly in the orthodox blue and gold, and including—as seems desirable because of the name—a design of the dome, might be chosen as the standard cover of the book. This is done by other schools, among them Illinois. It will effect an annual saving of time and money, and it will provide a uniformity in the appearance of the book, for those who collect several during their years at Notre Dame.

We suggest this idea to the S. A. C. and to the new editors of the Dome. Now is a good time to decide.

REVEILLE.

Nothing is more pleasant than to awake in the early hours of these pleasant days. The soft beams and warm breezes that come in your window are much more pleasant means of arousing than alarm clocks and prefects. It is a temptation to lie there lazily in the soft glow, to doze off again, and be roughly awakened later when the glory of the early morning is passed.

But the day is begun when we make the effort needed to get out of bed, and wander aimlessly out onto the campus to make our slow way around the lakes. The head is clear, and the pulse beats temperately. The odors are fresh and inspiring. Our day is begun well with an exhilarating sense of both physical and mental joy.

One of those "meanest men" is the fellow who parks his car in the space designated for two.

An American citizen recently filed his application with the secretary of the league of nations for the position of King of Spain. Who said nobody wanted to be king?

What Others Say

MAKING FRIENDS

At the beginning of the term and especially at the first Fall term, we have an opportunity to make friends. Friendships formed in college are the friendships which benefit us most, for here we are on equal terms with all those with whom we associate. We are all interested in studies, athletics, university activities; in fact, nearly all our interests are common. When friends are on the same level they really know each other and can acquire the ability to judge personality.

There is one danger in making friends, and that is that we may make too few of them. Sometimes groups are formed in which the students enjoy the companionship of each other but forget that there may be a few who were left out of any group.

Perhaps those who are most apt to limit their number of acquaintances are the students who were in school recently and have returned. When they come back they greet their companions of the year before and proceed to spend all their leisure time with them, neglecting to meet new students.

Whether we come under any of the classes mentioned or not, we can all do considerable more getting acquainted than we have thus far this year. Remember one thing—a person can never have too many real friends.—The Carnegie Tartan.

OVERLOADED WITH JUNK

A note of especial interest has come to light with the announcement of Simon L. Nye, president of the American Booksellers' Association, speaking at the Association's twenty-fourth convention in New York, that too much "new fiction," most of it unworthy of a prominent place in the home library, can be attributed as the cause for the prevalent slump in the book sales of the country. It is a note of particular interest because it demonstrates most clearly that the reading public is on the verge of a revolt.

For a number of years, beginning immediately after the war, there had been turned out of the presses of the country countless numbers of novels of this "new fiction" type that were wholly useless and absurd as works of art. Not that alone, but they actually served to lower the taste and demands of the readers. The markets were loaded to overflowing and the mind of the public flooded with sensual and debasing thoughts. This type of novel continued to be written and sold unabated, and even today it constitutes by far the greater percentage of the novels printed. But with this announcement, it begins to look as if the pendulum is about to begin its backward swing, the swing to normalcy.

Every day in the United States sees three hundred new novels thrown into the hands of the reading public. Of these approximately two hundred and ninety-nine are not worthy of even being opened. They are for the most part stories that deal with sex and various forms of vice and crime in a way wholly exaggerative of life. These books fall into the hands of the younger folk who do not understand what is attempted to be brought before the reader. New and fresh illusions of a nature that is very harmful are created in the minds of these persons. Not few in number are the evidences of the concrete injury resulting from such reading, and it is therefore a most gratifying thing to hear that less and less of these novels are being sold.—The Michigan Daily.

Many Here to Visit Library Last Week

During the past week the university library has had many visitors. On Wednesday the art class of the South Bend High school paid a visit for the purpose of observing the art collection of Notre Dame. On Thursday students of some of the South Bend schools went through some manuscripts, known as "incunabula" manuscripts because they were written before the fifteenth century. On Friday morning two hundred members of the United Commercial Travellers visited the university and went through the art gallery.

New Offerings on Stage and Screen

OLIVER—"BLOSSOM TIME."
 ORPHEUM—"THREE WEEKS."
 BLACKSTONE—"DADDIES" AND VAUDEVILLE.
 PALACE—VAUDEVILLE.

"Blossom Time", one of the greatest musical shows in recent years, comes to the Oliver today to begin its South Bend engagement. This play which, incidentally, is based on incidents in the life of Franz Schubert, will run for four days, with a matinee on Wednesday afternoon. You won't make a mistake in seeing "Blossom Time."

The Blackstone picture, until Thursday, will be "Daddies", with the perennial Mae Marsh as the heroine. As for the vaudeville, we have as a headliner the Variety Revue, with George Browning as the life of the party. Also on the program are Jess Libonaty, who confesses to being the "world's greatest xylophonist", and Jed Dooley, the cameo comic.

The Orpheum will show the latest version of "Three Weeks", which was considered very daring a few years ago.

At the Palace, a rather promising array of acts will line up in the following order: The Joe St. Onge Trio will reveal a "Novelty Surprise", and Frank and Gertie Fay dabble in "A Little of This, and a Little of That". As for the headliners, we have two tried and proven acts in the skits of Patrice Fay and Johnnie Weston, and Frank De Voe and Co. Power's Dancing Elephants are also included in the vaudeville.—E. C.

ROETTGER GETS MEDAL

Wally Roettger, captain of the 1924 Illinois baseball team, a member of the Indian baseball squad for the past three years and a member of the Illinois basketball squad in his junior year, has been awarded the conference scholarship medal for all around ability at Illinois this year.

At Other Colleges

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA—A veritable watering trough is the latest aid to higher learning at the university. More than 1,000 students daily fill their pens at it, consuming more than a quart of ink every five hours. The fountain works like the old-fashioned water fountain in chicken yards.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON—Two hundred and fifty foreign students, representing 28 countries of the world, are now attending the university. Filipinos lead the list with 75 students, and Chinese and Japanese follow closely in number.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN—In celebration of the 75th anniversary of the university, a large cake bearing 75 candles was served. It required 150 pounds of sugar, three-fourths of a barrel of flour, 480 eggs, 40 pounds of butter, 32 quarts of milk and 9 pounds of baking powder to make the cake. The frosting contained 65 pounds of sugar, the whites of 240 eggs and 30 pounds of marshmallow.

TORONTO UNIVERSITY—Students recently took advantage of the zero weather by holding an ice carnival. Free-for-all dancing on the ice was the main feature of the evening.

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY—Co-eds ruled supreme for two weeks. During that time no man was allowed to ask for a date, while the co-eds did all the dating and paid all the bills. If a man refused a date, he was forced to give the girl a box of chocolates.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON—Ten billion dollars worth of German money, at pre-war value, shipped directly from Germany, was distributed at a combined dance, carnival and party recently given by a campus club.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO—Professor Freeman, of the university, characterized the periodical examination as "unsound, unscientific and generally meaningless. The retentive capacity of the student never is accurately indicated by the written examination."

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO—Wrecking of freshmen's rooms by sophomores, a tradition at Trinity College, the university, was characterized by the new Provost as exhibitions of "that innate vulgarity so common in America". He imposed a fine of $400 upon the group of sophomores most recently perpetuating the tradition.

Keoganites on Edge for Big Ten Games

With four conference victories to their credit, the Fighting Irish ball club will have only a few hours rest before the next big assignment on the 1924 card. The Iowa baseball nine will arrive on Cartier field Tuesday afternoon, to accomplish two objectives. The Iowans will endeavor to wipe out the stain of the sensational defeat handed to them at the end of twelve innings of perfect ball playing last year and uphold the honor of the conference by inflicting defeat on the Irish nine which has so successfully trimmed four conference schools, one of which is leading the Big Ten list.

Coach Barry of Iowa dropped a game to Illinois last week, and the results of the Notre Dame-Illinois game do not indicate very much of a walk-away when the westerners take the field Tuesday afternoon. The Iowans are conceded a hard hitting club always ready to take advantage of the first sign of weakness on the part of the opposing pitcher. However, a twirler with his slant making the break in perfect fashion will not be greatly embarrassed by the Barrymen at the plate. Iowa garnered six hits in the Illinois game but went hitless during four of the nine innings, and both the Indian twirlers were having a bad afternoon.

In all probability, Magevney will take the mound for Notre Dame, if Coach Keogan decides that Iowa is the harder of the two games, Minnesota invading Cartier field on Wednesday afternoon. With the Irish veteran on the mound against Iowa, Notre Dame will hang up another victory by displaying the same aggressiveness at bat that was shown in the Illinois game.

Errors by Iowa were used to good advantage by Illinois to win. Long drives to the garden were twice delayed long enough for two of the Lundymen to score. Notre Dame will present a garden defense little short of perfect in Crowley, Vergara, Farrell and Dunne. Incidentally this fielding quartet accounts for a good share of the offensive power of the Notre Dame club.

Coach Barry has a dependable hitter at the top of his line-up in Poepsel. The Iowa left fielder counted for the only home run in the Illinois game. Scantlebury in the short field is another one of Barry's powers behind the bat.

With Minnesota playing here on Wednesday, Notre Dame will have an opportunity to hang up a new record if the fates decree that the Keoganites should defeat two conference teams in as many days. Another Big Ten visitor still remains on the program. Wisconsin will be the feature attraction of the last lap of the schedule. The Badgers have manifested an increased power as is shown by their recent rise in Conference baseball ranks.

Illinois Romps Over Michigan; 106 to 26

The fates smiled with no little favor on Harry Gill's Illinois track team, when the Indians triumphed over the University of Michigan. The final count stood 106 to 26, and the victory practically decided the western conference outdoor championship for the Urbana school. The running of the regular conference meet will do little more than emphasize the Gillmer's right to the title.

Michigan took three firsts out of fifteen starts, not one of the first places being recorded in the track events. Broker defeated Brownell in the pole vault, which did not come so much as a surprise since the Indian champion is still suffering the effects of a wrenched shoulder. The ailment, however, did not detract from the performance of Broker who is rated almost on a par with Brownell.

Don Kinsey stepped the low hurdles for a new mark in 0:24 3-5. Bud Evans was clocked in the 220-yard dash in 0:21 1-5. Schildhauer put the shot, 45 feet, 7 3-8 inches. All are new Illinois field records.

What They Say

CRIMINAL NEWS

In a recent confession, a notorious young female criminal referred in an offhand manner, "to her initiation into the habit of taking other people's purses and belongings" and said in part "she had been reading details of such things in the papers, and while doing so had conceived the notion that it was feasible to get a considerable sum that way in a short time."

It is not putting it too strongly to state that the stories of crime printed in the daily newspapers teach no worth-while lessons. They do, on the other hand, give instruction in countless details of criminal practice. Some phases of crime it is true ought to be aired. But this is not the explanation of the motive underlying the publication of the crime news in the ordinary papers. With the average daily newspaper the motive for the printing of crime news is nothing more or less than a willingness to pander to the instinct of morbid curiosity.

The responsibility which the newspapers owe to the public is far greater than is ordinarily recognized. When one considers the influence which mental suggestions exercise upon the ordinary, receptive mind of the average individual it is easy to see that the common practice of recording, in all horrible detail, a great amount of crime news is conducive to no good for individual, community or nation.—The Michigan Daily.

FIRE!

The above picture, which appears in the 1924 Dome, vividly represents the old gymnasium when it was destroyed by fire. Work on many features included in the new Dome, which is a record of both old and new traditions, was begun almost immediately. This is only one of the new features included in the new Dome, which is a record of both old and new traditions.
