O'Shaughnessy gift

The University of Notre Dame has received a $2.2 million gift from the estate of oil executive and philanthropist I.A. O'Shaughnessy, who died in November, 1973.

O'Shaughnessy's will, filed in his hometown of St. Paul, Minnesota, left the University 40,000 privately held shares of stock in Globe Oil and Refining Co., which had a per share valuation of $55 at the time of his death.

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., president of Notre Dame, said "Mr. O'Shaughnessy's munificent legacy to Notre Dame follows his lifelong interest in Christian education and in the University. He was a man of great human warmth and a philanthropist of wide vision. Notre Dame could not be where it is today without the support he gave over the years, starting with a gift toward liberal arts education in 1942 and culminating with the construction of our Ecumenical Institute in Jerusalem. We are deeply grateful for yet another example of the kind of generosity which characterized his life." Father Hesburgh said the money would be put into the University's endowment "for purposes as yet unspecified."

Dean Shaffer

Thomas L. Shaffer, dean of the University of Notre Dame Law School for the past four years, will resign this summer and return to teaching following a year's sabbatical.

A specialist in estate planning, Shaffer joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1963 and served as associate dean in 1969-70.

In his tenure as the head of the Law School, which has 400 students and 20 full-time faculty, Shaffer supervised a $1.6 million expansion and renovation which included a sorely needed improvement of the law library. Under his direction the curriculum beyond the first year became elective and a number of clinical options became available. To a year-abroad program in London, he added summer terms in that city, Tokyo and at Notre Dame's main campus. In the face of enormous admissions pressure, he raised entrance criteria while also attracting more women and members of minority groups to the study of law at Notre Dame.

The 40-year-old legal educator will be on leave during the 1975-76 academic year to write and to teach part-time as a visiting professor of law at the University of Virginia.

Sorin award

The 1975 Edward Frederick Sorin Award was presented to J. Arthur Haley '26, former Notre Dame director of public relations and business manager of athletics, at the January 23 meeting of the Alumni Association board of directors. The award, named for the University founder, is presented annually to an alumnus who has contributed distinguished service to the school.

Haley retired in 1970 after serving the University for 44 years. After graduation in 1926, he joined the staff as business manager of athletics and supervised financial arrangements for athletic events. Named director of public relations in 1940, Haley supervised the University centennial celebration in 1942 and assisted in the organization and development of its board of trustees, advisory councils and President's committees. All major visitors to the campus were greeted by Haley and he planned dedication ceremonies for some 30 buildings constructed during his term as public relations director.

Law forum

Legal counsellors for several of the nation's top entertainers and athletes will participate in a forum planned by the Law School of the University of Notre Dame March 6-8. Speakers at sessions in the Center for Continuing Education will discuss contracting, copyrights and royalties, collective bargaining and many taxation interpretations in the multi-million dollar fields of sports and entertainment.

Registrations for sessions are being accepted by the Notre Dame Center for Continuing Education. Special arrangements have been made to permit law school faculty to attend the forum at a reduced registration fee, and law students to attend without charge. All others will be subject to a $125 fee.

April 16, Wed. -- NOTRE DAME CHORALE. David Isele, conductor. Washington Hall.
April 23, Wed. -- NOTRE DAME UNIVERSITY CHORUS. Walter Ginter, conductor. Washington Hall.
April 30, Wed. -- CHAMBER TRIBUTE TO RAVEL. Yolanda Davis, Louise Foreman, Patrick Maloney, William Cerny. Library Auditorium.

May 4, Sun. -- NOTRE DAME ORCHESTRA. Ralph Lane, conductor. Washington Hall.

There is a $1.00 admission for the February 26 Druzinski-Glasser concert and a $2.00 admission for the March 5 performance of the Indianapolis Brass Quintet and the March 10 Chicago Strings concert. All other concerts will be free.

Alumni director

Tom Pagna, an assistant coach under Ara Parseghian for the past 11 football seasons at the University of Notre Dame, has been named executive director of the Notre Dame Alumni Association.

In making the appointment with the concurrence of the Association's national board of directors, the University's president, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., said, "the qualities of mature, creative and inspiring leadership which have marked Tom Pagna's career thus far at Notre Dame will also stand him in good stead in his new responsibilities."

Pagna, 43, received a master's degree in education at Northwestern in 1961 and while at Notre Dame has been in great demand as a speaker. He will be only the third head of Notre Dame's alumni since a formal association of graduates was established 108 years ago.

University appointments

Rev. Frank Gartland, C.S.C., former editor and student counselor, has been appointed director of the Notre Dame World Hunger Coalition.

Non-university appointments

J. Massyngberde Ford, assistant professor of theology, has been appointed a consultant to the Thanksgiving Conference on the Ordination of Women sponsored by the American Branch of the Association of Women Aspiring to the Presbyteral Office.

James R. Langford, director of the University Press, has been appointed to the Arts and Humanities Committee of the Association of American University Presses.

Rev. Daniel J. O'Neil, C.S.C., director of the Notre Dame's office of International Student Affairs, has been elected chairman of the Midwest Region of the National Association of Foreign Student Affairs.

David E. Sparks, director of libraries, has been named to the Task Force on the Research Tools Program of the National Endowment for the Humanities of the Association of Research Libraries.

Evelyn Eaton Whitehead, assistant professor of theology, has been elected to the Executive Board of the Association for Theological Field Education at its biannual convention in Fort Worth, Texas.

Miscellany

Charles W. Allen, professor of metallurgical engineering and materials science, was the inaugural speaker on January 24 for a televised graduate credit seminar offered by the Department of Electrical Engineering at the University of Maine - Orono. He spoke on "Structures and Defects in Some Rare Earth-Cobalt Intermetallics."

Lawrence J. Bradley, assistant professor of Collegiate Seminar and assistant university archivist, was recently appointed to the faculty of the Center for Criminal Justice Administration of Indiana University, Bloomington, and on December 9 delivered a lecture on the historical background of the search, seizure and arrest provisions of the Bill of Rights to a seminar conducted by the center for police officers at the Royal Inn in South Bend.

James M. Daschbach, Jr., professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering, presented a seminar on "Video Work Measurements, Portable Equipment in Relation to the Industrial Use of Video" at the Seminar and Equipment Show sponsored by Communications Systems in Indianapolis, on February 3.

Philip Gleason, professor of history, has been awarded an NEH Fellowship for Independent Study and Research for a study of the history of Catholic higher education in the United States. Gleason also participated in a consultation on theological education at Tarrytown, New York, October 25-27 sponsored by Yale University and the Rockefeller Foundation; and he has been invited to serve on the advisory board of the ethnic encyclopedia being published by Harvard University Press.

N.C. Huang, associate professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering, delivered an address at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, Mathematics Research Center on February 5 entitled "Application of Optimization Techniques to Structural Design."

Michael J. Loux, associate professor of philosophy, is the author of a new translation of Summa Logicae, considered by many scholars to be one of the most original and influential medieval texts in logic. The book, "Ockham's Theory of Terms," is printed by the University of Notre Dame Press.

John R. Malone, associate dean and professor of marketing in the College of Business Administration, gave an address January 23 to the members of the Michiana Credit Management Association on "1975: An Economic Puzzle."

Paul A. Rathburn, assistant professor of English, presented a paper entitled "Tony Richardson's Hamlet" at the National Convention of the Modern Language Association of America in New York, on December 28.

Norlin G. Rueschhoff, associate professor of accountancy, presented a paper on "International Accounting Education" at Virginia Polytechnic Institute's Seventh Annual Seminar on Trends in the Education of Accountants, held November 14-15 in Blacksburg, Virginia.

Thomas J. Schlereth, assistant professor of American Studies, has been awarded a fellowship by the National Trust for Historic Preservation to participate in a national planning conference on community preservation and architectural history. Schlereth was one of 14 scholars supported in residence at Woodlawn Plantation, Mount Vernon, Virginia, to participate in a series of lectures and seminars in Maryland, Virginia and Washington, D.C., February 1-8.

Sue Henderson Seid, University organist and assistant professor of music, performed works from the organ repertory of Bach, Buxtehude, Durufle and Widor in a Department of Music concert January 29 in Sacred Heart Church.

William P. Sexton, associate professor of management, will present a paper entitled "Constructive Discipline in a Unionized Hospital," at the Management-Labor Relations Institute of the Catholic Hospital Association on February 22, in Boston.

Rev. William Toohey, C.S.C., director of campus ministry, conducted a workshop on preaching for the priests of the Atlanta archdiocese on January 8.

James D. Whitehead and Evelyn Eaton Whitehead, assistant professors of theology, presented a paper, "Educational Models for Field Education," at the Biennial Consultation on Field Education sponsored by the Association for Theological Field Education in Fort Worth, Texas, on January 22-25.

Necrology

John T. Frederick, professor of English for more than 30 years at Notre Dame and chairman for the three years prior to his retirement in 1962, died January 31 in Iowa City, Iowa, at the age of 82. Funeral services and burial were in Lincoln, Mich., on February 4. The family has asked for memorials to the John T. Frederick Fund in the Department of English.

Policy Statement

Revised Policy on Overexpenditures, Disallowances, etc., for Sponsored Program Accounts

Principal Investigators and department chairmen are requested to note that the University's 1970 policy concerning overexpenditures on sponsored program accounts has been revised. Effective immediately, the policy will be:

IRREGULARITIES

Fiscal responsibility for restricted funds accounts rests with the principal budget officer of the account. His or her activities are normally processed through, and monitored by, regular academic channels to Restricted Fund Accounting.

Whenever any restricted fund account has an irregularity (e.g., unapproved budget deviation, overexpenditures, disallowances, etc.) the circumstances will be examined by the Office of Advanced Studies in conjunction with the Office of the Comptroller.

Irregularities will normally be charged against the University budget account of the department of the Principal Investigator, unless it can be shown that the responsibility rests elsewhere in the University. For interdepartmental or intercollege projects, depending on the nature of the irregularity, charges will be against academic units having primary responsibility for the project, or proportionately between units having shared responsibility. Appropriate notification of such charges, properly documented, will be made to the Principal Investigator and other academic offices by the Office of Advanced Studies.

Information Circular

National Science Foundation Applied Research on Economic, Institutional, and Legal Barriers, and Incentives to the Commercial Production and Use of Solar and Geothermal Energy

No. FY75-66

The Division of Advanced Productivity Research and Technology (APRT) of the Research Applications Directorate, National Science Foundation, intends to provide up to $2,000,000 for applied research into the economic, institutional, and legal barriers and incentives to the commercial production and use of solar and geothermal energy.

Research is solicited in three areas:

1. Alternative incentives to promote the commercial scale use of solar and geothermal energy. This research should focus on the design and evaluation of incentives for energy producers, related industries, and consumers.
2. Industrial organization and regulatory requirements for new energy source exploitation. Research in this area should examine the impact of the current industrial organization of energy industries on the growth of solar and geothermal energy, the implications of changes in the industry organization for the rate at which these energy forms are introduced, and implications of changes in the industry structure on the economic efficiency and social equity of energy use. Research should also address the regulatory requirements for new energy industries and appropriate changes in the regulation of existing energy industries.

3. Social costs and benefits associated with energy production and use. This area deals with the comparison of social costs and benefits of solar and geothermal energy use with existing energy sources.

Within each of these areas the proposed research may be as broad or narrow as the proposer deems reasonable as long as the research is explicitly related to the objective of awards stated for each area. Research may focus on problems related to a single solar or geothermal technology, or may deal with problems common to more than one technology.

Support will be considered for levels of effort ranging from one to five equivalent professional person-years. The maximum duration of awards is two years.

The deadline for receipt of proposals is March 13, 1975. For further information, contact the Office of Advanced Studies, Division of Research and Sponsored Programs, Extension 7378.

Graduate School

The Institute of International Education

No. FY75-GS-10

Type

A new fellowship program sponsored by Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A., Inc. for studies in Japan.

Duration of Award and Financial Data

Awards of $5,000 each will be made to pre-doctoral U.S. graduate students to provide for five to six months of study and research in various fields.

Deadline

The application deadline is April 1, 1975.

More information and application forms may be obtained from the Division of Study Abroad Program, IIE, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Faculty Senate Journal January 16, 1975

Prof. James Cushing called the meeting to order at 7:38 p.m. Prof. Paul Conway offered a prayer. Thirty (30) members attended.

READING AND CORRECTION OF THE JOURNAL - After corrections of a word and a first name, the Journal of December 3, 1974 was approved without dissent.

READING OF COMMUNICATIONS - Chairman Cushing reported as follows:

Faculty Service Report - A letter was sent to Father Burtchaell on December 11, 1974 renewing the Faculty Senate's request for his office to officially transmit the proposed Faculty Service Report to the senate for discussion and comment. (The letter was mandated by the senate at its December 3, 1974 meeting.)

Executive Committee Meeting with Fr. Hesburgh - A letter was sent to Fr. Hesburgh on December 11, 1974 in response to his letter of November 19, 1974 in which he expressed his uncertainty about the types of issues the Executive Committee might wish to discuss with him.

Notre Dame Magazine - A letter was sent to the editor on January 8, 1975 to correct an erroneous inference drawn in reporting Fr. Hesburgh's announcement of a $600 faculty salary supplement in the December, 1974 Notre Dame Magazine.

Letters Received - Letters were acknowledged from:

- (1) Prof. Robert Gordon expressing his appreciation to the senate for the information supplied to him from the senate's canvas of the faculty to determine those willing to serve on the various committees that exist throughout the University.
- (2) A member of the Board of Trustees - two letters commenting on the senate reports on collective bargaining and the Budget Review Committee.
- (3) A faculty member commenting on the Collective Bargaining Report.

Academic Council Meeting - Cushing presented a summary of his version of Fr. Burtchaell's discussion of faculty salaries at an Academic Council meeting this academic year.

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES - Prof. James Danehy, chairman, reported on the recently formed Committee on Retired. He announced that the committee would be composed of five (5) members of the senate: Professors Conrad Kellenberg, Dolores Miller, Julian Pleasants, Robert Vasoli and himself and three (3) from outside the senate: Professors Emeritus Paul McLane and Willis Nutting and Fred Freeman from the Personnel Office. An organizational meeting was held January 14, 1975.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE - At the December 3, 1974 senate meeting, the Executive Committee was charged with the responsibility of preparing a draft of a proposed referendum on University governance at Notre Dame for discussion at its next meeting. Cushing indicated that each member had received a copy of this draft and he suggested the following procedures be adopted for discussion/debate of the subject:

1. Debate, in the order listed, the twelve (12) items on the referendum draft
2. Approval of a final referendum
3. Discussion of the mechanics of conducting the referendum and the desired distribution of the results.

He noted that a few of the earlier items on the referendum draft consist of statements, reports or positions already approved by the senate so that discussion of these items should properly be limited to the wording of the questions and ought not to extend again to the statements themselves.

He also indicated that the Executive Committee wanted to conduct such a referendum as early as possible in the spring semester and, therefore, senate meetings would be held weekly throughout January since debate on some items was likely to be extensive. Future meetings in January would be:

Wednesday, January 22 - 7:30 p.m., Room 120, Hayes-Healy Building
Tuesday, January 28 - 7:30 p.m., CCE Building

After limited discussion on the procedures to be followed, Prof. Vincent DeSantis, seconded by Danehy, moved that the senate proceed to debate the draft of the referendum in the manner proposed by Chairman Cushing. The motion was approved without dissent.

ITEM ONE - Concerns the senate's Statement on Faculty Salary Increase passed by the senate on October 1, 1974. Danehy, seconded by Vasoli, moved that item one be included as a candidate for the proposed referendum. After a brief discussion on whether financial conditions had changed in the interim from the senate's report, the motion was carried without dissent.

ITEM TWO - Concerns the attitude of the faculty towards the $600 cost of living supplement announced by Fr. Hesburgh at his October annual President's Faculty Meeting. Prof. Norman Haaser, seconded by Danehy, moved that item two be included as a candidate for the proposed referendum. Some members questioned the need for this question in light of item one. The Executive Committee did not feel this applied to the senate's position on salary increases per se and was, therefore, independent of item one. The motion passed 21 to 5.

ITEM THREE - Concerns the senate's proposed Budget Review Committee passed at its December 3, 1974 meeting. Conway, seconded by Prof. Robert Anthony, moved that item three be included as a candidate for the proposed referendum. The motion was approved without dissent or discussion.

ITEM FOUR - Since this item had not been formally passed by the senate, Prof. William McGlinn, seconded by Vasoli, moved that the senate adopt the following position:

"The Faculty Senate requests that the administration make available to the faculty each year a distribution of academic-year salaries by quartiles (i.e., high quartile, median, and low quartile) for each rank (professor, associate professor, assistant professor, instructor) for every college in the University, as well as the corresponding salary increases for the coming academic year."

After some discussion regarding problems that might arise with certain segments of the faculty, i.e., the Law School and library faculties, if such a proposal passed, Haaser, seconded by Prof. Robert Rodes, moved to amend the proposal to read:

(line 5) "for each of the four (4) colleges" instead of "for every college" et cetera

The amendment was passed without dissent and the motion was passed with one (1) dissenting vote.

ITEM FIVE - Concerns faculty evaluation of those academic officers of the University whose periodic formal review is provided for in Article II of the Academic Manual. Vasoli, seconded by Danehy, moved to accept item five for consideration as part of the proposed referendum.

Rodes, seconded by Danehy, moved that the first sentence read:

"The Faculty Senate proposes to conduct a faculty evaluation. . ." instead of "The senate recommends a faculty evaluation. . ."

Prof. Vaughan McKim suggested that in line five "would" is preferable to "should" and this was accepted as an informal correction. It was also informally agreed that the word "proposal" replace the word "statement" in all of the choices of answers for item five. The motion, as amended, was approved by a vote of 22-4. Subsequently, the senate also adopted this motion as a position.

ITEM SIX - Concerns the proposed Faculty Service Report. Cushing noted that the consensus of opinion at the November 14, 1974 senate meeting was strongly opposed to this proposed form but a formal vote had not been taken since an official copy had not been transmitted to the senate by Fr. Burtchaeil. After a spirited discussion, Rodes, seconded by Haaser, moved that the senate adopt the following position regarding the Faculty Service Report:

"The senate strongly opposes such a form as unnecessary since avenues for submission of information and evaluation already exist." The motion was passed without dissent.

ITEM SEVEN - Concerns the 1967 Statement on Governance of Colleges and Universities of the American Association of University Professors. In view of the length of the document, this item was deferred until such a time as all senate members had an opportunity to study it.

ITEM EIGHT - Concerns recommendations by the senate to departmental committees on appointments and promotions (CAP) with emphasis on special situations, i.e., a candidate being considered for tenure and also chairman or dean. Vasoli, seconded by Prof. Robert Anthony, moved to accept item eight as part of the draft referendum. Much discussion followed concerning the wording of the statement.

Prof. John Lyon, seconded by Pleasants, moved that the last word of the statement be changed from "either" to "the latter". This amendment was passed by a show of hands. Prof. Ellen Ryan, seconded by Prof. James Noell, sought to clarify the confusion by substituting ". . .professional qualifications of a candidate from outside the University. . ." in line four. The motion was defeated.

Rodes, seconded by Prof. Gary Gutting, moved that item eight be sent back to the Executive Committee for rewording. The motion was passed without dissent.

The meeting was adjourned at 10 p.m.

Those absent but not excused were: Professors William Biles (aerospace and mechanical engineering), Raymond Brach (aerospace and mechanical engineering), Carvel Collins (English), W.J. Gajda (electrical engineering), J. William Hunt (modern and classical languages), C. Lincoln Johnson (sociology & anthropology), Gerald Jones (physics), John Lloyd (aerospace and mechanical engineering), James Robinson (English), John Roos (government), Sue Seid (music), Thomas Theis (civil engineering) and Daniel Winicur (chemistry).

Respectfully submitted,

Paul F. Conway
Acting Secretary
