Women representatives will gain seat on SLC

by Bruce Petrovick

The Student Life Council resolved yesterday representation from the Notre Dame women, the formation of standing committees, and a schedule of meeting dates.

The SLC voted unanimously that Student Body President Bob Kersten hold an election in Badin and Walsh Halls within two weeks to find a woman representative.

Etienne's seat used

The Steering Committee had recommended that the SLC obtain a representative from the women undergraduate students. It had provided three suggested methods of achieving this. However, the resignation of Ed Gray as Student Body Vice President and the election of Dennis Etienne as his replacement remedied the situation. Etienne had already been seated in Bob Kersten's ex-officio seat and his new post left him with another on the SLC. Since this is against SLC by-laws it was then decided by Student Government that the women representative could sit in the place of Kersten.

four committees

The Council also voted to accept the Steering Committee's recommendations for four standing committees in addition to the Steering Committee: a Planning Committee, Hall Life Committee, Campus Life Committee, and a Rules Committee. A question rose over the problem of overlapping responsibility between certain committees, and it was decided that the steering committee would act as a "traffic cop" to handle such matters.

The SLC will meet on the first Monday of each month, Standing Committees will meet on the second and third Mondays, and open hearings by the committees will be on fourth Mondays of each month.

This schedule was proposed in a slightly different form by Acting Vice-President for Student Affairs Philip J. Faccenda. He proposed a system whereby there would be regular meetings of the SLC on the first Monday of each month, Standing Committee Meetings on the second Monday, public hearings on the third Monday, and Standing Committee meetings on the fourth Monday of each month.

Faccenda supported his plan of public hearings by saying, "We need campus and community attention for some of this year's issues and this is one way to get it."

Earlier the Council had voted to meet once every four weeks, but reversed its decision in favor of Mr. Faccenda's plan. The previous scheme had prompted a multitude of discussion in which Floyd Kezele SLC Towers Representative told members, "It has been my found in my past experience with the Council that in meeting every two weeks, a deadline is put on the committees and so more will get done."

The Council also set up the membership of its Standing Committees, accepted a Graduate Student to a seat with speaking but no voting rights, and discussed holdin meetings at Holy Cross Hall. The Council is also looking for a secretary, this is a paid position.

LaFortune study needs volunteers

by Denise Crowley
Observer Staff Reporter

The Student Center Committee, to research the possibilities and facilities of the student center, has as yet received no applications for positions on any of the subcommittees.

The four subcommittees, Architecture, Facilities, Food Services, and Publicity, require input from interested students in order to succeed, according to Dan Schipp, one of the organizers of the group.

Schipp, a member of the Facilities Committee, was enthusiastic about the possibilities for the Committee as a whole. "I don't think we see much of a hassle in getting the center open twenty-four hours a day," he said.

His committee will study the present use of all the rooms and the extent of their use. They will then make suggestions as to which facilities should be retained and what new ones should be added.

"It all depends on the students' needs and wants," says Dave Caruso, another member of the committee.

Dr. Robert Ackerman, Director of Student Activities, said that "unless the facilities offered there could be improved, there is no sense in opening the door twenty-four hours a day." He felt that there was "no reason to go there if it is open." Improvement and expansion of facilities can be done in response to the need of the students, as expressed through the Committee.

"The whole program will concern long range goals and things that will be accomplished in the near future," Schipp revealed. The most important thing now is to overcome the "apathy of the student body."

The study will be presented in February and the results of it could be seen next semester if the administration is convinced the changes are needed.

Students interested in serving on any of the subcommittees should call either the Student Activities office or the Student Government office, and leave name, address and phone number.

SMC benefactor McCandless is dead at 92

Marion McCandless, 92, alumnae secretary emeritus of Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame, died at noon, yesterday, after forty-five years service to the College and its ten thousand alumnae. She had been a patient in the Saint Mary's Convent Infirmary since July 1, 1972.

McCandless, a graduate of Saint Mary's College in 1900, was born in Pinckneyville, Illinois, April 7, 1880, the daughter of Dr. William L. and Elizabeth Ritchie McCandless. Her ties with Saint Mary's College began early in life. Her mother was a graduate of 1877, an aunt and great-aunt were 1875 graduates.

After college graduation, she returned to her home town, serving as postmistress. Her father before her served as the town's postmaster. She was active in the early years of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, serving in various office on its Board of Directors, 1919 to 1946.

Founded Courier

In 1927 she became the first professional alumnae secretary at Saint Mary's College. In the same year she founded the Alumnae Association's quarterly magazine, the Courier.

Published Family Portraits

In 1952 Miss McCandless published the history of the Alumnae Association, 1879-1949, Family Portraits, termed best of its kind by professional colleagues. She travelled extensively in the United States, Europe and South America, visiting alumnae and establishing a network of clubs across this country, now numbering fifty-seven throughout the United States.

Marion McCandless

Received Magnificat Medal

Mundelein College, Chicago, in 1956 awarded Miss McCandless its ninth Magnificat Medal, which is conferred annually upon a Catholic college alumnae who, utilizing her college training to the fullest, has intensified appreciation for Christian social living by the character of her own life and by her contributions to social, aesthetic, scientific, philanthropic or religious leadership.

Her own alma mater conferred upon her an honorary Doctor of Laws degree at the 1957 Commencement. The Alumnae Association recognized her contribution to its development when it awarded her, at her sixty-fifth anniversary reunion, the Evarista Brady Cotter Cup for outstanding service to the College. The most recently built student residence is named Marion McCandless Hall in her honor. She retired in 1954, and was one of the College's major financial benefactors.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Hickey Funeral Home, South Bend, Indiana. Friends may call on Tuesday, October 17, 1972 between 2:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. at Saint Mary's College, Le Mans Hall, Stapleton Lounge. The funeral Mass will be Wednesday, October 18, 1972 at 11:00 a.m. in Saint Mary's College Church of Our Lady of Loretto. Reverend Philip G. Corbet, Miss McCandless' newly ordained godson, will be the main celebrant. He is attached to Saint Jude's parish in South Bend. Burial will follow the Mass in Our Lady of Peace Cemetery, Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame.

Planning process committee releases report

by Maria Gallagher
Observer St. Mary's Editor

The first of a series of planned reports to the Saint Mary's community on the progress of the Planning Process has been released by planning Committee Chairperson Donald Horning.

Included in the report is a description of the structure and guidelines established by the committee, as well as information concerning where reports and proceedings of the Planning and Area Committees may be obtained and an invitation to students to participate in one of the task forces which feed ideas and information into the Committee.

The Planning Committee's first meeting was an organizational meeting on September 23 in which definitions were arrived at for the Planning Process itself and the Core Structure of that process.

The Planning Process refers to the "entire set of committees, personages, and organizational entities through which information will flow on through which which recommendations will be channeled."

The Core Structure refers to that part of the organizational structure extending from the President's Office on down through the Area Committees.

Within these two organizational concepts lie the numerous committees and and task forces charged with reviewing the present and making recommendations for the future course of Saint Mary's. Two major committees have been formed:

Planning Committee--the major committee involved in the Planning Process. All appointments to the committee were made by President Henry following extensive consultation with members from the entire Saint Mary's community. The composition of the committee reflects the varying constituencies of the college: twelve are faculty, seven are administrators, three are students, two are parents, and one is an alumna. In addition to the primary representation, many of these also cut through other constituencies: four are CSC sisters, several are members of the Board of Regents, some are tenured faculty and some non-tenured, some are relatively new members of the community while others have been members for many years.

Area Committees--On the assumption that there are key "affinities of interest" within the college community, seven Area Committees were established, which deal with Values and goals, Student Life, Academic Concerns, Faculty Affairs, Governance, Physical Requirements, and Development. The Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson for each of the Area Committees are also members of the Planning Committee. All Area Committee appointments were made by President Henry.

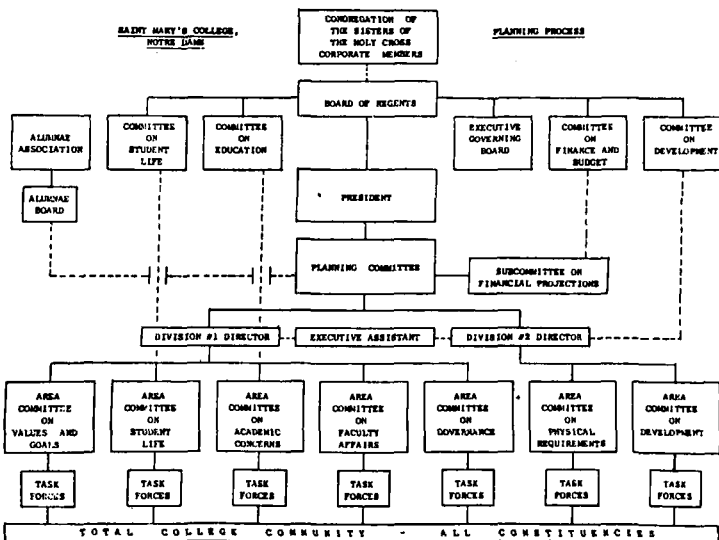

Under each of the Area Committees will be a series of task forces dealing with specific aspects of the community, and which will concern themselves with gathering information and ideas, and submitting proposals to the Planning Committee for consideration. Any member of the community is eligible to contribute to a task force, and may contact Committee heads or Dr. Donald Horning for more information.

The report noted that the Planning Committee is not a policy-making body. It is merely recommendatory, and the recommendations and reports of Los Angeles--Sen. George McGovern, prompted by a disturbance at a meeting with union officials in Los Angeles, characterized the Nixon Administration as the "most ruthless" in history and lectured the news media on "maturity." His angry remarks followed an argument between a Los Angeles Fire Marshall and an American Broadcasting Company television crew that interrupted the Presidential Nominee's address to leaders of the United Auto Workers Union.

Washington--President Nixon's Re-election forces reacted on three fronts to charges that important Nixon aides had created and sustained a widespread effort to disrupt the Democratic campaign. One of those reacting was White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, who described the charges as "hearsay, innuendo, guilty by association."

Washington--Less than 12 hours after he was sworn in as Army Chief of Staff, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams was sent to South Vietnam Monday on what was officially portrayed by Pentagon spokesman as a routine on-the-scene assessment of growing South Vietnamese military capabilities. Administration officials, however, hinted that the visit, coming only four months after General Abrams returned from four years as military commander in Vietnam, was far from routine.

Black enrollment drops in freshman class

by Dean Mayors
Observer Staff Reporter

The number of black students enrolled in this year's freshman class is lower than in either of the past two years, according to Assistant Admissions Director Dan Saracino.

Saracino attributed the decline in the enrollment of blacks to the fact that academically qualified black students are being sought by literally every college and university in the country. "The numbers of applications and acceptances of blacks were just as high this year as in the past two years," said Saracino, "but fewer blacks decided to actually enroll at Notre Dame."

Saracino released yesterday figures indicating that the class of '76 contains twenty seven blacks as compared to 49 last year and 59 in

Saracino indicated that such a significant decline is not due to any decreased effort on the part of the administration to recruit blacks. He commented, "We are, in fact, trying harder each year to increase the number of not only black students but all minority students." He added that the primary objective of the Admissions Office is the enrollment of "as many students from minority ethnic groups as possible."

Federal Government to Blame

In addition to higher competition among colleges for blacks, Saracino blamed the decrease in enrollment of blacks on the federal government. "We were told to expect only fifteen thousand dollars of the seventy-five thousand dollars we had been promised in National Educational Opportunity Grants," he said. "This made it impossible for us to provide an adequate number of scholarships to blacks."

Many blacks who had been accepted thus found it impossible to enroll at Notre Dame because of financial reasons. "Finally when it was too late to enroll students, we were notified that over fifty thousand dollars would be available," said Saracino.

A decrease in both athletic grants-in-aid and ROTC scholarships to blacks further contributed to the decline in black enrollments, according to Saracino. He added that such fluctuations are "uncontrollable as far as this office is concerned."

Overall Minority Enrollment

Greater

Despite the significant decrease in the enrollment of blacks, Saracino stated that the overall numbers of minority group enrollment increased over last year's figures. He cited as proof the fact that "twice as many Chicanos and Indians are enrolled in this year's freshman class as in 1971."

Nevertheless, Saracino was dissatisfied with the current figures on black enrollment. "We have not made as great an effort as possible in contacting qualified black students," he commented. He hastened to add, however, that new methods are being employed this year so that greater numbers of blacks will enroll in coming years.

New Methods

One such innovation is the establishment of a committee of seven black students who will personally contact each high school senior who decides to apply to Notre Dame. The purpose of such a committee, according to Saracino, will be to "informally follow up on each applicant."

In addition to the creation of a committee, Saracino noted that special trips are being planned by both Notre Dame admissions counsellors and minority students to various cities such as Detroit, Chicago, and Philadelphia. While hesitating to term them "recruiting trips," Saracino did state that the trips comprised "extra effort" to increase interest in Notre Dame in areas of high minority group concentration.

As a third means to increase black student enrollment, Saracino commented that Notre Dame is now working in conjunction with the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students. He noted that NSSFNS serves essentially as a "guidance counsellor" for blacks attending high schools whose own counselling services are of dubious merit. Through NSSFNS, Notre Dame seeks out minority students who might consider applying to Notre Dame, according to Saracino.

Enrollments can be Increased

Saracino said he felt that by such methods the University can significantly increase black enrollments. "We can change the low statistics for 1972-73," he stated, "and we can do so by using 'soft sell' methods - we want blacks to know what life for a minority student at Notre Dame is really like."

When asked if increasing the number of applications to blacks would not be the best means to insure greater final enrollment,

Saracino commented, "I suppose that the proportion of enrollments would be greater if we increased the applications, but I think we should work primarily on getting more of the blacks we've already accepted to enroll here."

Saracino concluded that he wants greater numbers of minority students, but above all he wants "qualified" students. He stated that he wants to dispel the image that some white racist students have of blacks: "They seem to think that the term 'minority student' means 'inferior student'." Said Saracino, "We take pride in the fact that over 30 percent of the minority students in this year's freshman class are Notre Dame scholars while only 15 percent of the entire freshman class have been accorded that honor."

Econ. fraternity sponsors debate

Omicron Delta Epsilon, the national economics fraternity is sponsoring a debate on the economic issues in this year's political campaign. The debate will be held in the Library Auditorium at 8:00 Wednesday night.

Dr. James Rakowski, assistant professor in the economics department, and John Lonergan, economics graduate student, will defend the policies of President Richard Nixon. Dr. Ken Jameson, assistant professor in the economics department, and Dr. John Houck, professor of management, will defend the economic policies of Democratic candidate George McGovern.

Dr. Dennis Dugan, chairman of the economics department, will moderate the debate.

God's Gifts! Man's Love?

There is a great deal of talk about the need for people to love one another, to care about loving and understanding one another. But rarely has this theme been articulated as well as it is in the best-selling ELEMENTS OF HOPE.

Join Boston University's Paulist Chaplain James Carroll as he hums to you "of earth, fire, water, air; elements of life and of our brotherhood/and words of hope." For he does care and shares with you his very personal view of this world of ours.

With gripping word imagery he describes the elements, God's gifts, to bring you to a realization of what man is doing to destroy himself and the earth. Horror and destructiveness are there, and so is a reminder of the beauty and hope and promise that surround us.

ELEMENTS OF HOPE is a sensitive appeal to the senses as well as to the mind, "something in between God-talk and love songs... one man's humming of his soul." If you or your group have not yet read and discussed ELEMENTS OF HOPE, why not be one of the first on campus to "bring the message home" to those around you?

Niles police nab students

by Dave Rust
Observer Staff Reporter

Niles' (Michigan) police confirmed yesterday that two Notre Dame students were arrested by the police in Niles during the Homecoming weekend just ended.

Reportedly the two have been charged with possession of dangerous drugs.

The police chief at Niles has released all the information concerning their arrests to Notre Dame Security Director Arthur Pears, and the security department should release that information today.

Notre Dame Dean of Students Fr. Hames Riehle refused to confirm any of this information except to say that two students had been arrested.

Youth Fare ban will not affect foreign flights

British Overseas Air Company representative-on-campus Clark Eide hastened to make clear today that the Civil Aeronautics Board's decision to outlaw youth fares does not affect foreign flights.

Yesterday's Observer reported that the CAB is planning on announcing in November its decision to cut out youth fare discounts.

Eide reminds potential fliers that there exists no such abolishment of youth fares for students wanting to travel overseas.

However, reports, BOAC's Eide, as of Dec. 1 of this year the age limit now set at 26 years-old for youth fares on international flights will be dropped to 23, and each airlines customer under that age will be met with a $20 increase on each flight fare.

The age will drop still further, to 21, on April 1, 1973, and will stabilize at that point, all fares remaining the same except for normal across-the-board rises.

Both decisions were made under the authority of the International Association of North Atlantic Carriers, whose commerce is restricted to Europe and the Middle East, where almost all U.S. student foreign traffic heads.

It is the IANAC, and not the CAB, which controls international flights.

But even with the drops in the age limit and increase in fares internationally, says Eide, there will be "nothing as drastic as complete abolition (of the youth fare)."

"We (BOAC) still have youth fare," he says, "but many airlines do think youth fares are discriminatory."

We got beat

As important as minority recruitment is the crucial admission we all have to make is that this year we got beat.

It's not really hard to see why. Dan Saracino, assistant admissions director, was right when he said that academically qualified black students are sought by every college in the country. The question now is how can we collectively make Notre Dame a more desirable place for minority students--blacks, chicanos, and Indians.

New Methods

The admissions office is doing its best to attack the problem--the committee of black students, the recruitment trips and the increased cooperation with the National Scholarship Service Fund for Negro Students. But intensified recruitment efforts can't change the fact that socially and culturally Notre Dame is a pretty dull place for minority students.

More emphasis ought to be placed on improving the socio-cultural atmosphere.

Then, instead of discussing Notre Dame's potential recruiters could point to genuine advancements that the university has made in the area of minority relations. Right now the biggest claim that the university can make is that the University Press is one of the biggest publishers of chicano literature in the United States.

Channeling some university money into the black student clubs on campus via the black studies program would provide the impetus to build an interesting and provocative cultural program. For instance, Notre Dame could imitate St. Mary's fine American Scene Cultural Series in which students who attend the weekly lectures receive one credit upon completion of a paper. By using the current faculty and several guest lecturers an excellent program on minority problems might be developed.

For the minority students

A cultural series would benefit the entire campus but we should also begin looking for solutions to the problems peculiar to minority students at Notre Dame. The biggest of these is the extreme lack of female blacks, chicanos, and Indians. The admissions and financial aid departments should make a special effort in the next several years to meet this problem head on. It's hard even to make suggestions in this area which indicates that we are all short of information.

In order to close the information gap the best move the university could make would be to form a task force on female minority recruitment. With the information this group would make public we could begin to make positive headway toward increasing the number of minority women on campus.

the football ticket exchange program

by bingle

Today is the last day designated for Notre Dame and St. Mary's students to turn in their tickets to the Ticket Exchange Program. It gives the students the opportunity to turn in their football tickets in order that a child from South Bend might see the Notre Dame-Missouri game.

For those underclassmen unfamiliar with the program and for those upperclassmen who have forgotten, the project works like this. About 700 children from the South Bend/area who are affiliated with different volunteer services are invited to come to the Notre Dame game. Thus, they are all looking forward to coming to Notre Dame on Saturday to see the game. For this to be a success as it has been in the past two years, the full support of the entire student body is needed.

What to do

"What do I do if I'm a student and want to help out in some way?"

Funny you should ask that question. First, you can take your ticket to the second floor of the Athletic and Convocation Center today anytime from 9:00 until 4:00. By turning in your ticket you give an underprivileged child a chance to see Notre Dame beat Missouri. A receipt for the ticket is given to you so you can retrieve your ticket next week.

Drivers are needed

The second way you can help is this. To get the kids to Notre Dame we're going to need a lot of drivers. If you have a car, why not help us out for about an hour before and after the game by signing up to drive the kids to and from Notre Dame.

Monitoring

Finally, once the kids are here, someone is going to have to watch them and this is the third way that you can help. You'd be doing the whole project a great favor by looking after three or four of the children before, during, and after the game until they leave. A very short meeting for all those interested in monitoring the children will be held at 7:00 tonight in the second floor lobby of LaFortune Student Center.

Also, St. Mary's students will be able to turn in their tickets and sign up for monitoring during their dinner hours today. A stand will be set-up in the entrance to LeMans Hall to handle the exchange.

Let A Child Go

This project depends on the students and since Nebraska defeated Missouri 62-0 last Saturday and since we know that Notre Dame is as good as Nebraska, why not let a child see Notre Dame romp this weekend?

frosh elections

Editor:
re: frosh elections

Dear Frosh Officers:

Congrats on your triumph over the forces that would see a question in the political futures of your holy eminences. Now that you have all undergone what will, in all probability, be your first ND ego trip and your best one since those glorious days of high school politicking, we have one comment to make. What in the hell did we vote for, or rather what were we supposed to vote for? What do our officers do? Sure, you and all the other candidates spouted platitudes about "more Freshman dances" and about the open-minded policies you maintain, but what good does it do? Do you actually expect to accomplish anything? If so, what?

Perhaps it is the fault of the present student administration in their neglect to inform the general student body (or at least the uninformed Frosh masses) of the responsibilities, duties, and powers of our elected officials, but we can't place all the blame on them. Nor do we blame the Observer; despite the petty private power struggle between its editors and student government officers which miraculously finds its way into public print, it is at least reporting the news to those few people who are actually interested in S.G. (the others are realistic, not apathetic).

We blame you, our elected officials. Yes, we blame you. Did it ever occur to you during your adventurous and extravagant campaigns that no one really knew what you were running for? Sure we knew the office's name! But what does it incur? What real and effective power do your offices hold? It seems that you got so carried away selling yourselves for an office that you neglected more importantly to sell the office itself.

Don't let it bother you though; you're in, so don't sweat; we'll go on as integrated university students when you're playing a game of miniature politics over at the Freshman Year, along with those 50 or so people who still go for those "Freshman Sock-Hops." but let us ask you these things: are you proud of the fact that you were elected in a campaign with no real issue? Are you proud of the fact that you were elected to an office which dozens of others could fill just as competently. Are you proud of the fact that you were elected to an office whose powers and duties the voters never really knew? Are you proud of the fact that you were elected in a race which saw a comparatively high but still mediocre turnout of only fifty per cent of the freshmen? Are you proud of the fact that you are the righteous representatives of the mere 200 or so students (at the most only fifteen per cent of the class) who voted for you.

on letters, elections, & entertainment

If you answer no to any of the above questions, the least you can do is make sure the same thing does not happen next year.

Sincerely,
T.J. O'Reilly

McCabe's letter

Editor:

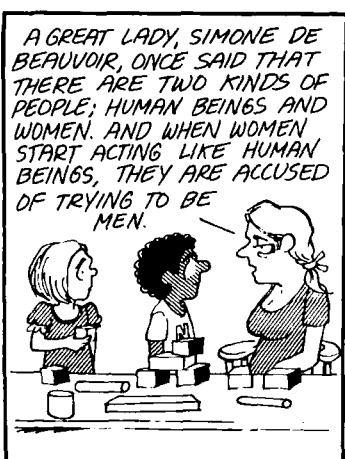

I was very disappointed to read Dennis McCabe's letter in Friday's Observer. It was disappointing because it might give people the impression that all of Senator McGovern's supporters are as paranoid as McCabe is. In the letter he seems to be using the old Spiro Agnew logic, "If you don't agree with it, then attack its credibility." This attitude is a poor reflection on the rest of us that really believe in what George McGovern wants to do for our country. Although I agreed with much of what Mr. McCabe said about President Nixon, I thought his attack on the YVP and their poll was very unfair.

I am surprised that he cannot accept the fact that Senator McGovern is not strong on this campus. Most of us knew when we came here that the Notre Dame student body is more conservative than those of other major universities. It is unfortunate but we decided to live with it. So it is rather useless at this stage to complain about a Nixon majority here and even more so to attach the YVP when there is no obvious reason to question the validity of its poll.

When this 25-year-old researcher wanted to investigate a possible cancer treatment, we gave him the go-ahead.

We also gave him the right to fail.

At Kodak, it's not unusual for a 25-year-old like Jim Carroll to win the title of senior research physicist. Like any company involved in a lot of basic research, Kodak has felt the pressure of modern technology and the need for young, fresh thinking. So we hire the best talent we possibly can, and then give them as much responsibility as they can handle. Whatever their age.

We have departments and divisions, like any company. What we don't have are preconceived ideas about how an expert scientist's time should be spent. So when we received a request from the medical community for assistance in experimenting with lasers as a possible cancer treatment, we turned to 25-year-old Jim Carroll, who is deep in laser technology, and gave him the go-ahead. He built two half-billion watt laser systems, one of which Kodak has donated to the National Institute of Health.

The lasers proved unsuccessful in treating cancer, but we'd make the same decision all over again. We entered laser technology because we have a stake in business. We let a young researcher help the medical community look for a means of cancer treatment because we have a stake in the future of mankind.

To put it another way, we're in business to make a profit. But in furthering our own needs, we have often furthered society's. After all, our business depends on our society. So we care what happens to it.

SMC planning process is open to students

the Planning Committee will go directly to the President for his action or referral.

The report further stated that the Planning Process will be completely open, with all reports being made available to the concerned constituencies. Planning Committee, Area Committee, and Task Force minutes will be made available to all constituencies of the college.

To aid in the distribution of information, A Planning Process will be completely open, with all reports being made available to the concerned

To aid in the distribution of information, a Planning Office and Resource Center have been established. The Planning Office is in Room 125 Madeleva Hall. Office hours are 1-5p.m., Monday through Friday. Phone: 4937.

The Planning Office will provide notification of meetings, preparation of materials for meetings, correspondence, preparation and distribution of minutes and reports, duplicating service, and information regarding available resource material to the Planning Committee, Area Committees, and Task Forces.

Under the auspices of the Planning Office will be the Planning Resource Center, which will collect and disseminate information of interest to the Planning Committee, Area Committees, and Task Forces, and set up a check-out control system for materials not available on a quantity basis.

Dr. Horning feels that the whole planning procedure is really beginning to unravel and, in his words, "I believe it will prove to be an unprecedented operation."

Budget considerations occupy Commissioners

by Lee E. Klosinski
Observer Staff Reporter

Budget considerations head the agenda for this Thursday's Student Government Board of Commissioners meeting, the first meeting under the new constitution passed last week.

The meeting is scheduled for 7pm in room 120 of the Hayes-

Healy Building, according to Student Body Treasurer Mike Marget.

The report of the Student Government Budget Committee will be the base for the work of the Board, and organizations that consider Committee recommendations inadequate have been invited to appeal to the Board, which has ultimate budgetary powers in the new Constitution.

Student Government Treasurer Mike Marget was questioned about the funding of the New Frontier Scholastic Society and the Society of Ujamma, which have been appropriated $2,500 jointly.

He replied, "We felt that these two organizations should both be funded. However, we felt that separate funding of each program would not be as effective as providing one lump sum for academic and cultural events that will be open to all students. In this way there is no duplication of programs."

Marget also added that he feels that "the budget will be passed as it is now."

Kids need 600 tickets for the Missouri game

Students turned in only seventy-six football tickets yesterday in the first day of the Missouri ticket exchange program. Almost 700 tickets are needed to make the program a success and allow children from South Bend to see the game this Saturday.

Program Coordinator B.J. Bingle reported yesterday that many students are apparently unaware of the program. He asked students who worked on the program in the past to explain the procedure to freshmen and to encourage them to give up their tickets for the cause.

Bingle explained that in the past, halls sponsored smokers during the game. He said he hoped the halls would do the same this year.

Tickets may be turned in today at the Convocation Center at the second floor ticket window. Each student who turns in his ticket gets a receipt that he can exchange for his ticket early next week. Bingle said that large groups can give a single student a number of tickets to turn in. This, he said, makes it easier for students to exchange their ticket.

Bingle also stressed that the individual student should decide now whether to turn in his ticket and not to wait to see if enough were received.

"I'm confident that the students will come through this year," he said. "I just wish they wouldn't wait so long to do it."

On October 21, 1972, students from Notre Dame and St. Mary's College will donate their tickets for the ND Missouri game. We would like to endorse this worthwhile project and ask that as many as possible cooperate so that children from the South Bend area will be able to see the Irish on their way to a national championship in 1972!!!!

Morrissey nips resurgent Farley

By Stan Urankar

Interhall football action brought scoring excitement Sunday afternoon, as six of the seven games were decided by a touchdown or less. Morrissey fought back to take a League Two tussle with Farley, and Cavanaugh's come-from-behind win over Lyons highlighted the day's play.

Morrissey 14, Farley 8

The Marauders faced as stern a seasonal test as they've seen in three years. Cornerback Ed Posluszny started the Morrissey scoring by intercepting a Carl Oberzut aerial deep in Farley territory. Six plays later, tailback Paul Breen bulled home from the one, and added the conversion himself.

Oberzut led Farley back to a tie with the first half coming to a close. The sophomore passing star connected with Harry Bigham on a 30-yard pass play for the score, with fullback Rich Aselage racing in for the tying points.

The big play came in the third quarter. Freshman Tim Puntirelli entered the Morrissey lineup as a halfback, and rolled right after taking a pitchout from Kirk Miller. Just short of the line, Puntirelli stopped and unloaded a 23-yarder that John Hargraves pulled in for the winning score.

"Al Calabrese, our cornerback, was all over him on the play," commented Farley AD Bill Powers. "The receiver just made a super catch."

"It was really a discouraging loss," he added. "All we can do now is hope Cavanaugh beats them."

Cavanaugh 16, Lyons 12

The return of quarterback Greg Corgan boosted his club to their first win of the season.

The sophomore from Wyckoff, N.J. clicked on three of six passes for 91 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

A 43-yard bomb to Kevin Ford, followed by Corgan's conversion run, gave Cavanaugh a 8-0 lead, but Bill Barrett's two-yard plunge cut the margin to two points at the half.

A low snap on a punt put Lyons in the lead early in the final stanza, as Robbie Hoertz pounced on the loose ball in the end zone to make it 12-6. But Corgan brought his club back, and with seven minutes to go, hit tight end Jim Mahoney on a 35-yard scoring play for the victory.

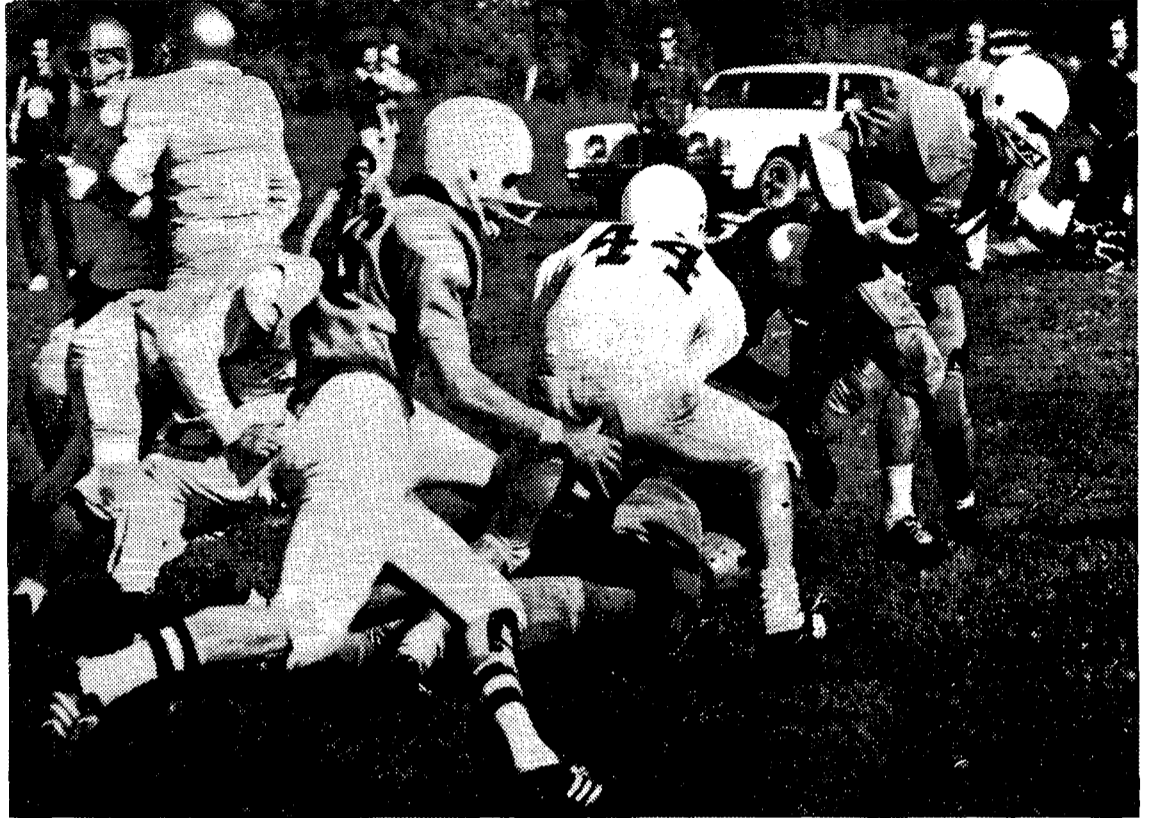

Sporting a 1-1 mark, Cavanaugh is the next on the list of potential Morrissey spoilers, with game time slated for 2 PM next Sunday.

Keenan 6, Grace 0

The winners remained in a tie for first place in the League Three race with this win that wasn't as close as the score sounds. George Faherty bolted home from the one to cap a 65-yard, third quarter drive. Grace's only strong threat was halted when soph tackle Robin Graf jarred the ball loose from a High Riser running back, and freshman Al Sondej recovered.

Stanford 6, Flanner 0

The winners' passing combo of George Packer-to-Mike Pohlman put the points on the board again as Flanner fell to their third straight loss. The aerial duo clicked from 30 yards to even Stanford with Keenan in the League Three top spot, setting up a face off game next Sunday.

Sorin 16, Pangborn-Fisher 6

The only rout of the day saw Doc Carberry's squad roll to their first win. Junior halfback Denny O'Brien wasted no time in putting Sorin on the scoreboard, as he bolted 60 yards to a touchdown on the second play from scrimmage.

QB Mike Boland snuck home from the two in the third period, with Bill Eble and Brian McMahon tallying the conversions. R-F avoided being blanked when Bill Donahue hit Pete Burke with a 60-yard scoring bomb in the last quarter.

Alumni 7, Off-Campus 0

Junior Rich Soeder starred in his club's initial victory. A nine play, 67-yard second quarter drive ended on pass plays of 11 and 25 yards from Jose Alonzo to Soeder, the latter going for the score. Overall, Soeder caught four passes for 53 yards.

O-C made it interesting with a first and goal at Alumni's four in the final stanza, but defensive end Randy Schultz ended that threat by sacking quarterback Chuck Voelker for a nine-yard loss on third down.

St. Joseph 6, Zahm 2

Tony Kaufmann's run with less than four minutes to go gave St. Joe their first triumph. The victors then chose to relinquish a safety late in the game as QB Tim Hagen downed the ball in the end zone, preventing a Zahm chance at a blocked punt and possible TD

Ruggers down Kentucky, 28-10

The Notre Dame rugby team regained its winning form this past weekend with a 28-10 over the University of Kentucky.

The visitors were 5-0 when they arrived at ND and were confident of a victory over the lightly regarded Irish, but they left the field a decisively beaten team. They were overpowered by a fine effort by the Irish scrum and by some good tackling and running by the Irish backs.

The Irish opened the scoring midway through the first half when Ed Fishburne ran four yards for a try after the Irish scrum had pushed over the ball in a loose scrum. ND increased its lead when Herb Giorgio broke away from the Kentucky backs and raced for a try, giving the Irish an 8-0 halftime lead.

Giorgio and Fishburne scored again in the second half on fine runs and Ed O'Connell successfully converted after each try to give the Irish a 20-0 lead. Tom Masenga and Jim Carr also scored second half tries for ND to turn the game into a rout.

The Kentucky club didn't give up, however, and scored two tries in the last minutes of the game to avoid a shutout. By then, though, the Irish were beginning to feel the effects of playing shorthanded for most of the second half, because Smigo had earlier been ejected for fighting.

The final score could have been worse but Dave Simpson ran out of the end zone before touching the ball to the ground, and thus nullified his score. The win boosted Notre Dame's rugby record to 7-2.

The Notre Dame "B" team remained undefeated as they trounced the Kentucky "B's" 29-3. Terry Kadyszewski scored two tries to lead the Irish while Mike Regan, Pete Frantz, and Sean McDonald also added scores. John McIntyre added nine points on three conversions and one penalty kick. The B-team's record is a perfect 5-0.

The Irish will take on the Evansville Rugby Club this weekend behind Stepan Center. The games are slated for 10 and 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

ND harriers place eighth in weekend Invitational

by John Wick

Notre Dame hosted over two hundred and seventy runners from thirty colleges and universities at the 17th Annual Notre Dame Cross Country Invitational held on the golf course Friday afternoon.

Despite the loss of Olympian Dave Wottle last year's invitational winner, Central Collegiate Champion Bowling Green captured their third consecutive invitational victory. Individual honors went to Mike Slack of North Dakota State. Slack, the NCAA Collegiate Division Cross Country Champion in '71, led the field over the entire five mile course and finished in the excellent time of 23:44:1. This broke the previous meet record of 23:49 set in 1969 by John Liebenberg of Western Michigan University. North Dakota finished 6th overall in their first invitational appearance.

Michigan representatives included Central, Eastern, Western, and Michigan University. Western Michigan, with five invitational victories to its name, was anticipating its sixth win. Instead, Eastern Michigan runners put on a very strong drive and, aided by the fourth place finish of teammate Gordon Minty, captured the number two spot—along with Michigan honors.

Ball State, always a strong contender, also fielded a tough team. They were led by Steve Wynden, who finished second to Slack. The Cardinals finished third in the meet.

Notre Dame harriers finished a respectable eighth with team captain Dan Dunne taking 19th place in a very good time of 24:21. Other top finishers for the Irish were Jeff Eichner, Marty Hill, Mike Gahagan and Tom Callahan.

Notre Dame's track and cross country coach Alex Wilson was honored during the halftime period of Saturday's Notre Dame vs Pittsburgh football game. In appreciation for Coach Wilson's "work, dedication and inspiration" an Invitational Plaque was inaugurated. This plaque will remain on the Notre Dame campus, and team and individual champions will be inscribed annually on this tribute to the founder of the Notre Dame Invitational.

The top finishers in Friday's meet were Bowling Green (81), Eastern Michigan (112), Ball State (115), Southern Illinois (158), Michigan (220), North Dakota State (295), Illinois State (295), and Notre Dame (303).

Empty seats snag SC trip

Notre Dame's cheerleaders have encountered difficulties while arranging the 1972 student trip to this season's Southern Cal game.

According to Charlie Morrison, who is coordinating the planning for the trip, 24 seats remain vacant on the charter flight to Los Angeles and they must be filled by October 25th or the entire trip will have to be called off.

The package offered by the cheerleaders includes, for $195, air transportation to and from Los Angeles, game tickets, a pre-game rally-party featuring the likes of Tim Conway and Andy Williams, hotel accommodations, transportation to and from the Los Angeles Coliseum, a side-trip to Disneyland, and a post-game party.

Without the package offered by the cheerleaders, the round trip flight to Los Angeles alone would cost $260.

For those wishing to sign up for the trip, full payment will be requested by October 25th, and anyone seeking further information is asked to contact Charlie Morrison at 3122.

ND wrestlers open practice

Notre Dame's wrestling team opened practice for its 1972 season yesterday, and Coach Terry Mather greeted approximately 40 try-outs—including six promising freshmen and three returning lettermen.

Led by acting co-captains Mike Kemp and Mike Martin, ND's '72 grapplers will be tested by a rugged schedule which includes national powers Wayne State and MacMurray College.

Martin and Al Rocek, both juniors, and sophomore Mike Fanning will bolster this year's squad, and four scholarship freshmen will be an added plus.

This year's home schedule:

Valparaiso—11-29
Wayne State—12-8
St. Francis—1-26
Marquette—1-27
Wheaton—1-30
MacMurray—2-9
Drake—2-10
W. Michigan—2-20
