

ACCENT: King awareness heightened

VIEWPOINT: A fond farewell to Reagan

Warm once again

Variable cloudiness and cooler today. Highs around 40. Partly cloudy tonight. Lows in the upper 20s.

The Observer

VOL. XXII, NO. 71

TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1989

the independent newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

Earthquake strikes USSR, kills 1000

Associated Press

MOSCOW-- A pre-dawn earthquake in Soviet Central Asia unleashed a 50-foot-high wall of dirt and mud that buried a mountain village and swept through at least two others Monday, killing up to 1,000 people as they slept, officials said.

The devastating earthquake in the republic of Tadjikistan news agency Tass reported. "Now most of it is razed to the ground by the ruthless force of the natural calamity."

Tass said the number of dead in the disaster zone 1,800 miles southeast of Moscow was estimated at 1,000, but cautioned that was a preliminary figure.

"Rescue work is being continued and distant mountain villages have not been checked yet," Tass said. Damaged roads were hampering those efforts.

The quake struck the southwestern part of Tadjikistan, a Soviet republic of more than 4.8 million people that borders Afghanistan and China.

The 40-second tremor, at 5:02 a.m. (6:02 p.m. EST Sunday) was centered about 20 to 30 miles southwest of Tadjikistan's capital of Dushanbe, a city of more than 460,000 people, in the fertile Gissar district, a grape-growing and livestock-raising center, Tass said.

An official at Dushanbe's seismic center said the quake was strong enough to knock things off shelves in tall apartment buildings in the city, but that it caused no known damage or injuries there. He declined to give his name.

The U.S. Geological Survey

See QUAKE, page 3

was the second to strike the Soviet Union in two months.

"Almost everybody died," Zainiddin Nasreddinov, editor-in-chief of Tadjikistan's official news agency, said after visiting the wrecked farming settlement of Sharora. He estimated the number of dead there alone at 600.

Sharora "had more than 150 peasant households before that tragic moment," the Soviet

AP Photo

An earthquake victim is removed from under debris after an earthquake hit Sharora in the Soviet republic of Tadjikistan Monday. A landslide caused by the quake buried the village causing an estimated 600 deaths. Story at right.

Students may soon register for classes by telephone

By JOHN O'BRIEN
Staff Reporter

Notre Dame will soon enter the computer age as students begin registering for classes on computer terminals and possibly by phone.

According to Daniel Winicur, dean of Administration and Registrar, registration for the 1989 summer and fall terms will take place from April 10 to April 28 and will be conducted on terminals connected to the University's recently implemented on-line computer system.

"If all goes well, by the end of this three week period, the sophomores-to-be will be using the telephones," said Winicur. The new software system will enable students to register for classes on any touch-tone telephone, according to Winicur.

The eighty-thousand dollar touch-tone package, developed by the 1776 Company, will complement the registration software created by Software Research Northwest (SRN) of Washington. Over 300 universities and colleges have similar registration systems, many of them developed by SRN, said Winicur.

The new system has many advantages, according to Winicur. "It will provide the students with better access to schedule information and also will give immediate feedback," he said.

This feedback will cut the time it takes from registration to schedule verification from almost six weeks to minutes, said Winicur.

According to Winicur, worksheets will be distributed to students before registration. "If a student completes the worksheet before registration and includes alternate courses, he or she can register in about three of four minutes," said Winicur. During a scheduled fifteen minute appointment, students will be able to register for courses and immediately know which classes are available, he said.

In addition, Winicur said, "You will be able to call up the system, drop a class, add another course, and then have

See REGISTER, page 4

Irish win shirts

The Observer / Trey Raymond

Eric Niebrzydowski and Russ Humberston sell T-shirts at the South Dining Hall during dinner Monday. Perspective buyers include Lellwynn Gretz, on the phone, and Paul Begande.

Soldiers invade base in Argentina

Associated Press

BUENOS Aires, Argentina-- Armed civilians seized a small military base near the capital on Monday, and up to 24 people were killed or wounded before soldiers firing tanks shells, mortars and machine guns retook most of the base, news reports and officials said.

The civilian attackers who stormed the base carried pamphlets supporting officers who have led three previous uprisings, the private news agency Diario y Noticias said.

"Militarily, the situation at the 3rd infantry regiment at La Tablada is dominated," the secretary for state intelligence, Facundo Suarez, told the government news agency Telam about 10 hours after the incident began.

He admitted, however, that some civilian attackers remained inside, and gunfire could be heard coming from the base as he spoke on the radio.

DyN quoted a military source as saying at least 20 of the estimated 50 civilian attackers were killed or wounded during fighting.

Hospital officials said at least four soldiers were killed and 12 wounded in the fighting, along with one reporter.

Two small tanks opened the noon counter-attack, firing on the officers' club in which the civilians were thought to be isolated, Telam said. Sporadic shooting continued for several hours.

The Ministry of Defense, anticipating a possible fourth insurrection against the government in the past 21 months, bolstered defenses at Government House and the official residence of President Raul Alfonsin, Telam said.

The civilian president spoke by telephone with Defense Minister Horacio Jaunarena and Army Chief Gen. Francisco Gassino and told them to retake the base, presidential press secretary Jose Lopez told reporters.

The incident comes less than two months after a short-lived barracks insurrection to protest Alfonsin's treatment of the military.

IN BRIEF

Surrealist master Salvador Dali, who was among the century's most important painters, died of a cardiac arrest Monday in the town where he was born 84 years ago. Dali, a founder of the surrealist movement, was the last of an outstanding generation of Spanish painters that included Pablo Picasso and Joan Miro. -Associated Press

OF INTEREST

Summer Job Fair sponsored by Career and Placement Services, to be held in the CCE Wednesday from 1-5 p.m. A variety of companies will be represented and available to you for information and/or interviews. -The Observer

Siegfried Hall will offer a mass in memory of Richard Macrina and Bob Satterfield today, at 10:30 p.m. Father Lucas will be the celebrant. -The Observer

Juniors- office hours for Junior Parent's Weekend will be Monday through Thursday, 7-9 p.m. in rm 305 LaFortune Student Center. Call 239-6028 to have questions answered or ticket information given. -The Observer

Collegiate Jazz Festival is sponsoring a logo contest for the 1989 Festival. A $75 award will be given to the winning entries. The deadline is Feb. 6 at 4 p.m. Entries should be submitted to the Student Activities Office on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center with the artist's name and phone. If selected, entries become property of CJF. Questions contact Kevin Keane at 271-0359. -The Observer

Learn Self-Defense both Tae Kwon Do & Juji Tsu are taught by the ND Martial Arts Club. Beginner classes will be taught Sunday and Thursday from 6:30- 8:30 p.m. at the Rockne Memorial in rm 219. If interested call Drew at 288-0954. -The Observer

Volunteer Opportunity in Japan for Seniors interested in teaching in Japan. A representative of "The Good Shepherd Movement" will be at the Center for Social Concerns on Monday, from 1-5 p.m. and Tuesday from 9-5 p.m. stop by for more details. -The Observer

We need dressers interested in helping out with the 1989 Fashion Show. Contact Laureteen Carla Morris at 283-4968. -The Observer

WSND-FM is accepting applications for student engineers (Any major). Some technical experience is needed. Direct questions to Tara Creedon 283-3867. -The Observer

The Annual Billiards Tournament will begin Feb. 2. Sign up in the poolroom today under The Huddle. -The Observer

Martin Luther King Week includes the film "King: Montgomery to Memphis," which will be shown today at 8 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns. Also, a videotape of King's "I have a dream" speech will be shown on every hour from noon to 8 p.m., today through Friday. And on Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. in the Center for Social Concerns, a panel discussion will take place discussing the contributions of King to society. Panelists will include quarterback Tony Rice and Director of Minority Student Affairs Ken Durgans. -The Observer

JPW Mass Lector Auditions will be held on Wednesday at 3 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church. If you have any questions, please call James Brandt at 283-3265. -The Observer

Job Interviewing Tips will be the topic of a workshop open to all students scheduled for this afternoon at 4 p.m. in the Hesburgh Library Lounge. Lois Kress, director of Personnel, Coopers and Lybrand, will offer suggestions. Sponsored by Career and Placement Services. -The Observer

The Observer

Design Editor ..... Kathy Huston
 Design Assistant ..... Karen Newlove
 Typesetters ..... Tim Kiefer
 ..... Mark Ridgeway
 News Editor ..... Michelle Dall
 Copy Editor ..... Missy Weber
 Sports Copy Editor ..... Pete Skiko
 Viewpoint Copy Editor ..... Julie Scharfenberg
 Viewpoint Layout ..... Laura Manzi
 Accent Editor ..... Trisha Chambers
 Accent Copy Editor ..... Kathy Lenney
 Accent Designer ..... Alison Cocks
 Typist ..... Diana Bradley
 ..... Will Zamer
 ND Day Editor ..... Christine Dombrowski
 Photographer ..... Trey Raymond

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $40 per year ($25 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

INSIDE COLUMN

Warning: Upcoming scare tactics

Steve Houser
Staff Artist

It is the beginning of a new semester, which is sufficient cause to raise the blood pressure of most students, but second semester especially tries the junior pre-meds: the Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) looms at the end of the semester.

The most common pre-MCAT question that a junior will ask is, "How do I go about studying for the MCAT?" and there are basically three approaches. The first method is to study exclusively old class notes and texts ($0). The second method is to buy review books written specifically for MCAT study (around $60). Third, a student can sign up for a programmed course of study, such as a $545 Kaplan course.

The first option is not thorough enough. Class notes emphasize what the professor felt was important, which may not coincide with the MCAT test makers felt was important. Students most commonly choose between the second and third methods.

How does Kaplan increase the number of students that choose the organized course despite the weighty price difference?

Stanley Kaplan's organization plays on pre-meds' fears.

Everyone has seen posters in bright pastel colors saying, "Warning, Upcoming Tests," and, "Don't compete with a Kaplan student, be one." Students get the impression that they NEED Kaplan in order to perform well on the MCAT; if they do not shell out $545 then they diminish their chances of being admitted to their choice medical school.

At the end of the MCAT is a survey which, among other things, asks the test taker whether or not he has enrolled in a private study course in preparation for the MCAT. The MCAT board has studied the effects on the scores of study course vs. non-study course students and they found an average of only 2.2 scaled points higher among the study course group.

When examined in depth though, we must realize that the question lumps all the non-study course students together. All of the students in the study course group must be serious about their preparation for the MCAT; their willingness to pay a large fee shows this. But the non-study course group includes students who have studied seriously for the test and those who have not. If the non-study course group could be subdivided, and then the study course vs. serious self-study students' scores were compared, then perhaps the ineffectiveness, or harm, of the Kaplan would be revealed.

How could a $545 study course possibly hurt a person's score?

For example, the Kaplan review book for the reading section on the MCAT uses responses from the actual MCAT. After a passage, the test taker will find a statement relating to the text, and will choose whether (a) the passage supports the statement, (b) the passage contradicts the statement, or (c) the passage neither supports nor contradicts the statement. Kaplan review books use each response 1/3 of the time, yet the actual MCAT uses response (c) perhaps 5 times out of 45 questions. A student who is accustomed to a Kaplan pattern will naturally expect to answer (c) a third of the time, and doing so will cost serious points.

Also, Kaplan review questions always try to trick the student, so he must read deeply into the question. MCAT questions, on the other hand, are rather straight-forward and reading into them will cost time and points.

Also, when it comes time for medical school interviews the non-Kaplan student can claim full responsibility for his study habits. Kaplan charges an outrageous fee for study best left up to the individual.

The review course probably produces no change, or perhaps a decrease, in a person's score. Responsible use of review books is the most reasonable preparation for the MCAT. Junior pre-meds, the choice is yours.

(P.S.- if you want a rough estimate as to your score on the MCAT: your GPA $\times$ 3.4 $\times$ 60 plus a couple points if you study hard).

BUY OBSERVER CLASSIFIEDS

Join The Observer

THIS WEEK'S EVENTS AT SMC

CLUB TUESDAY JAN. 24 8:30-11

SEAN & THE SUN KINGS

HAGGAR PARLOR

AS USUAL SNACKS & ADMISSION FREE!

TOP GUN

CARROLL AUDITORIUM JAN. 24-26

9 & 11 $1

COMING NEXT WEEK:

WHO FRAMED ROGER

RABBIT? JAN 31 - FEB 2 FREE

S A D
STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD
S M C
SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

Accident, theft mar students' trip to inauguration

By REGIS COCCIA
Senior Staff Reporter

The luck of the Irish wasn't with four Notre Dame students and a Saint Mary's student who left campus last Tuesday to attend the presidential inauguration-- after a crash totalled one car and hospitalized two students, the group's second car was stolen.

The group was traveling in two cars when one crashed into a concrete divider on Route 70 near Pittsburgh, Pa. about 6:45 p.m. last Tuesday, said junior Dave Bruner, who witnessed the accident. Bruner's car was stolen in Washington the next day.

Mary Harless, a Saint Mary's senior, and Notre Dame junior Christine Seng were badly injured when their station wagon slammed into the divider and was hit by a tractor trailer seconds later, said Bruner, who was driving in front of them with junior Bob Groth.

Harless, who was riding in the back seat, was knocked unconscious and trapped inside the car for 20 minutes until firefighters could free her. She suffered a fractured pelvis and compression fractures of her vertebrae, he said.

Seng suffered a broken nose and required surgery for a hand injury. Both women were taken to Westmoreland Hospital in Greensburg, Pa., Bruner said.

She was released on Sunday and returned to campus that day but Harless remains in the hospital. Sophomore Tom Ehrhardt, who was also in the car, incurred a minor shoulder injury, said Bruner, adding that Ehrhardt and Seng were wearing seatbelts.

"Thank God for that or they wouldn't be here right now," Bruner said.

Seng was driving Harless and Ehrhardt when the car went out of control and slammed into the divider, said Bruner.

"Bob and I saw the whole thing happen in our rearview mirror," Bruner said. "I had just pulled into that lane. I looked up to see if (Seng) was behind me and saw a quick swerve.

"Just as we stopped and were running down the road, we saw a semi hit (the station wagon)," he said. Both cars were traveling about 65 miles per hour when the accident happened, Bruner added.

"Christine and Tom were trying to help Mary out when they looked up and saw a tractor trailer," Groth said. Ehrhardt and Seng jumped over the divider into the opposite lane to avoid getting hit, Bruner added.

The truck clipped the rear bumper, dragging the car about 10 feet and forcing it into the divider, Bruner said. "If the semi hit the car full force, Mary would have been dead, and so would Tom and Christine if they hadn't jumped out of the way."

Groth said he, Bruner and Ehrhardt were hosted by Methodist minister the Rev. James Tubbs at his house in Greensburg Tuesday night. The three continued on Wednesday to Washington, where they met three other Notre Dame students who flew in to attend the inauguration.

"We wanted to leave, but we didn't want to leave. We convinced ourselves that despite the accident we were going to make the best of the weekend," Groth said.

Bruner said he left his car, a 1985 blue and silver Chevy Blazer, parked near George Washington University while he and the others went to dinner. He returned about 1 a.m. Thursday to find it had been stolen, along with all their personal belongings.

The Washington Metro and Capitol Police Departments were investigating the theft, Bruner said.

"All we had was what we wore out to dinner. It was hell," he said.

Bruner said he learned Monday night after he returned to Notre Dame that his car was found Sunday by police in Prince George's County, Maryland. No other details were available.

Bruner, of Scottsdale, Ariz., said he contacted Rep. Jon Kyl (R-Ariz.) and Sen. John McCain (R-Ariz.), who arranged spare clothes for the students during their three-day stay in Washington. The students flew back to campus on Saturday, he added.

The group, which included Bruner, Ehrhardt, Groth, junior Matt Schlapp and sophomores Sue Fitzgerald and Allison Heuring, attended the Indiana Society black tie dinner on Thursday, the inauguration ceremony and parade and the Youth Ball on Friday, Bruner said.

"It would have been really cool if we had all our stuff, but that was the number one thing on our minds," he said.

"It was the worst thing that ever happened to me in 20 years," Groth said. "I figure we're golden now."

Joy run?
The Observer / Trey Raymond
Sandy Seccia and Keri Dresser enjoy the warm weather by going for a run on the road between Saint Mary's and Notre Dame.

Quake

continued from page 1

in Reston, Va., estimated the quake at 5.4 on the Richter scale, which measures ground motion as recorded on a seismograph. The Dec. 7 earthquake in northwestern Armenia, 1,300 miles west of Dushanbe, registered a 6.9 on the Richter scale and killed 25,000 people.

The earthquake unhinged a wall of sodden dirt and mud at least five miles wide that buried the village of Okuli-Bolo and much of Sharora, said Erkin Kasimov, an official of Tadjikistan's Foreign Ministry.

"Almost all of the victims died asleep in the beds," Maj. Alexander Loparev, duty officer at Tadjikistan Interior Ministry headquarters in Dushanbe said.

Residents of another village, Okuli-Poyen, apparently roused in time, fled in panic before the mudslide could reach their homes, Kasimov said.

Officials and Soviet media said the devastation was vast, and total in places.

The TV news program "Vremya" showed aerial footage of Sharora, with white roofs of buried homes peeking through the dirt like seashells scattered on a beach.

Applications are being accepted for:

THE OBSERVER
Editor-in-Chief
1989-1990

A 5-page personal statement and résumé are due in Chris Murphy's office by Friday, January 27 at 3 pm.

The Center for Social Concerns

Celebrates
Martin Luther King Awareness Week

Tuesday Jan 24, 8 pm at CSC film--King: Montgomery to Memphis

Wednesday Jan 25, 8 pm at CSC film--I have a Dream plus discussion with Traci Aaron (BCAC), Lionel Coleman (NAACP), Kenneth Durgans (Minority Student Affairs), Roland Smith (Ex. Asst. to the Pres) and TONY RICE.

Jan 24-27 Dooley Room, La Fortune, 12 noon-8pm on the hour video of King's "I have a Dream" speech.

Husband suspected in his wife's death is found dead

Associated Press

MARION, Ind.-- The body of a Fairmount man suspected of killing his estranged wife was found in a wooded area by two off-duty sheriff's deputies Sunday afternoon.

The body of Junior Jones, 37, was found in a thicket near his mother's home in Marion, where he had been living since his wife's death.

Jones was shot once in the chest, and probably had been dead since Tuesday, authorities said.

Grant County Coroner Beverly Devine said the wound appeared to be self-inflicted. A gun that had belonged to his late father was found near Jones' body.

An autopsy was to be conducted in Fort Wayne.

Police had considered Jones

a prime suspect in the Jan. 14 death of his estranged wife, 35-year-old Jane Jones, who had filed for divorce in October.

Mrs. Jones' body was found in her car after it rammed into a dentist's office four blocks from her Fairmount home, police said. She had been strangled.

Authorities had been searching for Jones since Tuesday, when he failed to return to his mother's home. His body was found about a half-mile away by Lt. Tom Heinzen and Deputy Tim Holtzleiter.

Authorities declined to say whether Jones had left a suicide note.

The couples' two daughters, ages 12 and 13, were placed with the Grant County Welfare Department after their mother's death.

Army base attacked

Soldiers and police in Buenos Aires, Argentina, take up positions in private homes outside an infantry base that was attacked and taken over by civilian commandos Monday morning.

AP Photo

Senate plans 2nd semester events

By FLORENTINE HOELKER Staff Reporter

Student Senate began the second semester with a pledge to remain active, then proceeded to present a host of upcoming events which concern the Notre Dame community. "We'll be quite busy for the remainder of our term, until April," said Student Body President Tom Doyle.

Teacher and course evaluation forms will be distributed later in the semester, according to Doyle. The evaluation forms will be completed by students and compiled by computer. Results will then be available to students to help in future course selections.

The evaluations should give students an accurate idea of any professor or course being considered.

The closing of the 24-hour Oak Room was also discussed. Although the Senate said a re-opening of the lounge is doubtful, it will probably be open 24 hours during mid-terms and finals.

Upcoming events include an off-campus formal and Notre Dame Night at University Park Mall February 9. A shuttle which will take students to University Park Mall and to Scottdale Mall is also scheduled to begin February 9.

The Student Union Board reported that St. Patrick's Week is still in the planning stage, but that it will be full of activities appropriate for the Fighting Irish.

Register

continued from page 1

confirmation, all by phone."

He added that the number of courses that must be "check-marked," or registered with permission, will be greatly reduced because the system will close a course as soon as it is filled up.

However, Winicur said there will still be some courses in which the department requires permission. These include (but are not limited to) music courses which require an audition, he said.

For those classes, students will need to obtain an access number from the department offering the course. The student will then use this number to register for the specified course on either the telephone or the terminal.

During the three week registration, daily lists of the courses which have been closed will be given to students to save more time, said Winicur.

Daily "comeback" periods will be scheduled throughout the registration period for students who miss their appointments, want to view their schedules or want to add or drop a course.

Requests for passfail courses must be directed to the student's dean who, after giving permission, can make the change for the student from a desktop terminal, said Winicur.

After the registration period is over, both the student and his advisor will receive a paper copy of the schedule. Also, at this time, "the system will be open for students to perform any transactions they want to, up until the seven day add/drop period expires in the following semester," he said.

Winicur said the touch-tone system will enable students to alter their schedules from home during the summer "if they want to pay the long distance bills."

Despite the many advantages of the new system, Winicur said enrollment procedures will remain the same as in past years. "We still need students to enroll, because we have to know if they're in school or not," he said.

Convicted spy Pollard begins fast

Associated Press

MARION, Ill.-- Convicted spy Jonathan Pollard began a five-day fast Monday to protest what he said was improper treatment of his ailing and imprisoned wife, Pollard's father-in-law said.

Pollard, imprisoned at the Federal Penitentiary in Marion, was angered by the transfer of his wife, Anne, from a Danbury, Conn., hospital to a federal prison medical facility at Rochester, Minn., said Mrs. Pollard's father, Bernard Henderson.

Randy Davis, assistant to the warden at the Marion penitentiary, said federal privacy regulations barred him from confirmed whether Pollard had begun a fast and from releasing any other information about the prisoner.

Pollard, 34, formerly of South Bend, Ind., was sentenced in 1987 to life in prison without parole after he was convicted of supplying classified U.S. documents to Israeli agents. His wife, 28, was given a five-year sentence as an accessory to her husband's illegal possession of the documents.

Henderson claimed that his daughter was moved from the Connecticut hospital Jan. 14 before treatments for a gastrointestinal disorder had been completed- an action he labeled as "reckless endangerment of her life."

He also said she has been denied treatment since her transfer to the Minnesota facility.

"It's the only way (Pollard) has to protest this," Henderson said in a telephone interview from New York City. "He can't do anything else."

Gregory Bogdan, a spokesman for the U.S. Bureau of Prisons, said Mrs. Pollard was moved "for medical reasons" and denied that she was being mistreated.

"She is receiving all the appropriate treatment," Bogdan said in a telephone interview from Washington, D.C. "It just was felt that she would be more appropriately cared for at Rochester."

Sunchase 8th Annual

SPRING BREAK 1989

RESERVATIONS AVAILABLE NOW!

• BREAK WITH A WINNER • NO AIR MATTRESSES • CONFIRMED RESERVATIONS •

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND	$149*
SHERATON CONDO OR HOTEL, HOLIDAY INN, GULF VIEW OR LANDFALL TOWER CONDOS • 5 OR 7 NIGHTS	from
STEAMBOAT	$213*
SHADOW RUN CONDOS OR OVERLOOK HOTEL • 5 OR 7 NIGHTS LODGING-LIFTS-PICNIC-RACE-GOODIE BAG!	from
DAYTONA BEACH	$118*
TEXAN HOTEL AND KITCHENETTES 7 NIGHTS	from
MUSTANG ISLAND/PORT A.	$136*
PORT ROYAL CONDOS 5 OR 7 NIGHTS	from
HILTON HEAD ISLAND	$107*
HILTON HEAD ISLAND BEACH & TENNIS RESORT 7 NIGHTS	from

DON'T DELAY!
CENTRAL SPRING BREAK TOLL FREE INFORMATION & RESERVATIONS

1-800-321-5911

7AM-7PM M-Th, 7AM-5PM Fri, 9AM-5PM Sat, Mountain Standard Time
Reservations may be made by credit card or you may contact your local Sunchase campus representative or your favorite travel agency

* Depending on break dates and length of stay

LAST YEAR 7,514 HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS STOPPED DRINKING AND DRIVING.

DON'T DRIVE DRUNK. OR RIDE WITH ANYONE WHO DOES.

Joanne James, center, of Fitchburg, Mass., flanked by Dianisha Boles of Fitchburg, Mass., left, and Angie La Freniere of Lunenburg, Mass., arrive at the Washington Monument grounds for the anti-abortion march Monday.

Bush says abortion is an 'American tragedy'

Associated Press

WASHINGTON-- President Bush on Monday called abortion "our American tragedy" as nearly 70,000 protesters marked the anniversary of the Supreme Court's landmark decision legalizing abortion. The march organizer said the new administration should "provide actions to carry out their words."

Bush, speaking by telephone hook-up to the activists, said the Supreme Court's 1973 Roe vs. Wade decision "was wrong and should be overturned."

"I wanted to share with you my deep personal concern about our American tragedy-abortion on demand," Bush said over loudspeakers. "I think America needs a human life amendment, and I think when it comes to abortion, there's a better way- the way of adoption, the way of life."

The president said he was "confident that more and more Americans every year- every day- are hearing your message and taking it to heart. I promise you that the president hears you now and stands with you in a cause that must be won."

The crowd, estimated by U.S. park Police at 67,300, assembled at noon in sunny, mild weather on the Ellipse with the White House as a backdrop. As Bush spoke at the start of the rally, which came after a weekend of demonstrations around the nation, the demonstrators cheered his words and waved signs.

But Nellie Gray of the March for Life, which organized the annual protest, told the crowd Bush could not hear their applause because the White House communications office had installed a one-way communications line. She said she hoped that did not portend the nature of their future communications.

"He spoke to us, but he could not listen to us," she said. "That was not an adequate way to deal with our pro-life movement."

Gray said that at a meeting earlier in the day with Dan Quayle, she and other anti-abortion leaders told the vice president, "We will not be talked to, and not (have) him listen to us."

She said they told Quayle and other administration officials that "they need to provide actions to carry out their words."

Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., echoed that call, saying,

"Bush has repeatedly made his commitment to the unborn. Now is the time to produce."

Quayle said he assured the group of the administration's support and told them he has been involved with people from his home state of Indiana on the issue.

Asked whether the Bush administration could succeed in getting the Roe vs. Wade decision reversed, Quayle replied, "Time will tell. We have the same commitment."

Abortion opponents are hoping that the Supreme Court, with Reagan appointee Anthony Kennedy on board, may use a case from Missouri to review the legal doctrines governing abortion and reverse the decision legalizing abortion. Kennedy's views on abortion are not known.

Attorney General Dick Thornburgh said Sunday he hopes the court will use the Missouri case to overturn Roe vs. Wade.

The noontime rally and march to Capitol Hill have become an annual affair. Crowds at past commemorations on the Ellipse have ranged from 5,000 in a heavy snowstorm to 100,000 or more.

Police reported no violence Monday, but said about 75 anti-abortion protesters were arrested for blocking access to a Washington doctors' office where abortions are performed.

Soviets join abortion outcry

Associated Press

MOSCOW-- The highest-ranking woman in the Kremlin decried the chronic shortage of contraceptives in the Soviet Union on Monday, saying it contributes to an estimated 6.5 million abortions a year.

"It is not normal that the number of abortions is about equal to the number of births," Alexandra Biryukova told a news conference.

"Our complaints from women are completely well-founded concerning the number of abortions compared to the use of contraceptives," she said.

The comments by Biryukova, a candidate member of the ruling Communist Party Politburo and a deputy premier, addressed an issue that until recently would not be discussed by the official Soviet media, much less by a top official.

But in the past two years, as the society has begun to discuss openly many of the social problems it kept hidden for decades, women have protested the lack of contraceptives and sex education and the humiliation they say they face when they seek an abortion.

Abortion is used instead of contraceptives as the main means of birth control in the Soviet Union, and Western experts estimate that the average Soviet woman has nine abortions during her child-bearing years.

The Health Ministry newspaper Meditsinskaya Gazeta, commenting on a critical shortage of condoms, said some couples were so desperate they had turned to using children's balloons.

"The first thing we have to do is increase production of contraceptives," Biryukova said. "We have to improve conditions in hospitals."

The latest salvo against the medical profession came in an article published in the weekend edition of the newspaper Moscow News.

Yekaterina Nikolaeva wrote about standing in line at the door of a hospital operating room one recent morning, waiting for her abortion.

"What are you waiting for? Come on, don't stare," she quoted the doctor as saying, taking off a pair of blood-stained rubber gloves as she entered.

"My hands started to shake; I felt scared, hurt and on the verge of tears," she continued. But the doctor said, "Hurry up, you! I'm sick and tired of your stupidity!"

After the abortion, the doctors left for the day without checking on her, and she finally left on her own in a nightgown and robe, she said.

Nikolayeva said 600 to 700 women die every year as the result of abortions in the Russian republic, the largest of the Soviet Union's 15 republics.

She said 90 percent of all first pregnancies end in abortion, and that 6.5 million abortions are performed annually in the Soviet Union.

She did not cite a source for the figures, but if they are accurate they would indicate that there are about 900,000 more abortions a year in the Soviet Union than live births. A Soviet statistical reference says there were 5.6 million births in 1986.

She said the leadership was committed to improving health care, and had allocated an extra $12.8 billion during the current five-year economic plan.

Arson suspected in restaurant fire

Associated Press

MISHAWAKA, Ind.-- The owner of Liberty Town USA was sought for questioning Monday after the pizza restaurant's manager was killed in a suspicious explosion and fire at the restaurant, police said.

Officers identified the victim as Jack Edwards Sr., 29, of Mishawaka. A cause of death was not determined immediately, but Dr. James McMeel, the St. Joseph County coroner, said he believed Edwards died from the combined effects of smoke inhalation and burns.

Edwards' body was found in a restroom at the south end of the building late Sunday.

Detective chief Richard Bonne said Jack Barben, 29, of South Bend, the owner, was sought for questioning. He said Barben may have suffered facial burns.

The explosion and fire was reported just before 11 p.m.

A witness reported seeing a man run from the east side of the building and disappear behind a wooden fence.

The witness said he later saw a van with its lights off drive away.

WELCOME BACK!!
SO LETS GET THE YEAR STARTED OFF RIGHT.....
ALL MOVIE RENTALS $1.50
thru Jan
Video Vendor located in the basement of the student center.

PRE LAW/PRE MED
U of Michigan Trip
Thursday, Feb 2, 1989

Prelaw and Premeds have separate itineraries, both featuring:

- luncheon
- tour of facilities
- attending a class lecture
- panel discussion with LawMed students and doctors/lawyers who are ND alums

If interested in either trip call either
Liam Brennen 1369 or Denise Salerno 4853
by January 26

sponsored by
SARG and The Preprofessional Society

The New York Times

Have the New York Times delivered to your dorm room or faculty office. Rates are $.25 daily (that's 50% off the newsstand price!) and $2.50 for the Sunday paper. For more details call Jeff at 283-2199.

SPRING SEMESTER
Mon.-Fri.	$17.25
Mon.-Sat.	$20.25
Mon.-Sun.	$50.25
Sunday only	$30.00

Spring delivery: January 20 to May 5 (excluding school breaks)

Correction

Due to a reporting error, Monday's story on off-campus crime incorrectly reported that Patrick Kearns was a junior. While there is a junior named Patrick Kearns, the Patrick Kearns in the story is a sophomore. The Observer regrets the error.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Dali and his work

Deceased Spanish surrealist painter Salvador Dali poses with his painting "The Face of War" during a show in Los Angeles in 1941. He died Monday in Figueras, Spain at the age of 84.

AP Photo

EPA predicts 85 cancer cases linked to Chicago area pollution

Associated Press

CHICAGO-- Air pollution from steel mills, cars and other sources could lead to an additional 85 cases of cancer over 70 years in a 64-square-mile area encompassing the industrial Southeast Side, said a draft federal study released Monday.

That extra risk amounts to an average of about two chances in 10,000 over a lifetime, said Frank Covington, deputy regional administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, which released the draft report.

"The risks are high by environmental standards, (but) they're not particularly high by some self-imposed things that people do, like smoking or the environmental risks of, say, radon in people's basements," said David Kee, director of the U.S. EPA's regional air and radiation division.

"But our job is to clean up air pollution," he said, noting the report did not address the impact of industrial pollution on waterways or fish living in them.

The pollution-related cancer cases are not necessarily fatal, said Kee, who noted that about a third of the population contract some form of cancer during their lifetimes.

The three-year study examined pollution sources in an area of about 800 square miles in northeastern Illinois and nearby Indiana

Lawyers in Bundy case seek appeal

Associated Press

STARKE, Fla.-- Confessed serial killer Ted Bundy was "subdued and emotional" Monday while he talked with the defense's psychiatrist, and his attorneys filed a flurry of appeals to stop his Tuesday morning execution.

The 42-year-old law school dropout, who confessed to 20 murders in western states during the last three days, met with psychiatrist Dorothy Lewis while attorneys apparently prepared an argument that Bundy was mentally incompetent to be executed.

Bundy also met with James Dobson, host of a California religious radio show, during the afternoon. And he was to meet with representatives of the Colorado State Attorney General's office to discuss murders in that state.

Bundy was scheduled to die in Florida's electric chair at 7 a.m. today for the 1978 kidnapping of 12-year-old Kimberly Leach of Lake City. He also was convicted of killing two sorority sisters in Tallahassee in 1978.

Bundy's attorneys filed an appeal Monday with the U.S. Supreme Court to stay his execution, pending a review of the jury instruction in the sentencing phase of the Leach case. The Supreme Court rejected another Bundy appeal just last week.

The attorneys also filed an appeal in state court, claiming the jury instructions were improper.

Bundy's discussions with the defense psychiatrist meant he might raise the insanity argument once more.

The governor was ready for him. Gov. Bob Martinez told reporters in Tallahassee that three psychiatrists were ready to examine Bundy if his competency was questioned by anyone.

It is the fourth time an execution has been set for Bundy.

But this weekend, he began confessing to a string of murders. He has been linked to as many as 36 killings and disappearances of young women in Washington, Colorado, Utah and other Western states.

But Colorado Attorney General Duane Woodard accused him of stringing along investigators to avoid or delay execution.

Martinez said the execution would go forward whether or not Bundy has time to tell all he knows about killings and locations of bodies.

"I think the way in which Ted perhaps is using the confessions to bargain for time with the law enforcement people has been difficult for some folks to deal with," said David Ernst, pastor of the Tacoma, Wash., church where Bundy's family worships weekly, said in an interview Sunday.

SUB PRESENTS

SPRING BREAK GETAWAYS

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND

*7 nights luxurious lodging at the Sunchase Resort Condominiums

*Round Trip Air (via chartered jet) Transportation

*Welcome parties

*Windsurfing or Hobie cat sailing or

*Trimaran sailing

INFORMATIONAL/SIGN UP MEETING

JAN 26, 7PM

LaFortune Montgomery Theatre

1st Floor LaFortune

Questions: Call Bob 283-1521

Ind. GOP works with Quayle

Associated Press

WASHINGTON-- Indiana Republicans, still regrouping after the loss of the governor's office, hope Dan Quayle's rise to the vice presidency will help the party rally from its rare defeat.

Hoosier GOP leaders say Indiana's new prominence at the national level could help revive the spirits of the party as it faces a reorganization and a special congressional election this spring and lays the groundwork for congressional and legislative races in 1990.

"I think the thrill of it helps for the people in Indiana, after losing one major race," said former Secretary of State Edwin Simcox, visiting Washington for Quayle's inauguration last week.

"This gets the adrenaline pumping as actively as a good political convention does," said Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind.

While the spirits are high, expectations are also as Hoosiers who looked to the governor's office for favors for the last 20 years now turn toward Washington.

With Quayle in the administration of George Bush, Indiana Republicans believe they will have greater access to the highest levels of government and more Hoosier foot soldiers at the lower levels.

"Access through Dan Quayle will be a very practical benefit to the state," said Lugar. He added, however, that it's too early to speculate about the specific benefits.

"In practical terms, it means a lot," said Dan Coats, Quayle's appointed successor in the Senate. "Together, I think Dick Lugar, Dan Quayle and I can be a great working team."

An early sign of how Indiana Republicans will benefit could come within the next few months as Bush and Quayle finish making appointments for their administration.

"From the practical aspect of what the administration may or could do, everybody's poised to see what happens there," said Simcox. "Maybe some major appointments are coming."

Among those looking for jobs are former Gov. Robert Orr, who wants to be an ambassador to a Far East country, and Durnil, who plans to step down as state party chairman when his term expires in March.

Durnil said Quayle "is pursuing quite diligently" an appointment for Orr.

The outgoing chairman said he will probably get an administration job that allows him to work part-time and remain in Indianapolis.

With Quayle's election and Durnil's departure, the party gets a series of new challenges.

Coats, appointed by Orr, has already been busy getting to know Hoosiers outside the 4th District and laying a foundation for a 1990 special election.

More pressing for the GOP is the 4th District special election March 28 to pick a successor for Coats. Dan Heath, the Republican nominee to face Democrat Jill Long, was in Washington last week to meet people who could help his campaign.

Shrine to victim of Bundy

AP Photo

Eileen Rose keeps a shrine to the memory of her daughter, Denise Naslund, in the living room of her home south of Seattle. She is one of the victims that Ted Bundy has admitted killing.

Employees say workplace unsafe

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS-- Workplace safety won't improve until employers are held financially accountable for their negligence, labor leaders and accident victims said Monday.

Indiana's worker's compensation law prohibits people with job-related injuries or illnesses from suing their employers for damages, even if negligence is involved.

"Through their actions or negligence, employers can disable a person for life, destroying their ability to earn a decent wage," said Keith Dayton of Bloomington, who lost the fingers on his left hand after safety devices were removed from a machine he operated.

He added that worker's compensation benefits are "rarely enough to live on."

The Indiana General Assembly approved legislation last year to raise the compensatory benefit for permanent impairment caused by a work-related accident or illness from $75 to $120 per week by mid 1990, and to increase the weekly benefit for temporary impairment from $190 to $294 over three years.

Dayton and other members of the Hoosier Alliance for Consumer Rights urged support for three bills filed Monday by Rep. Tracy Boatwright, D-Marion. The proposals would allow an injured worker to seek damages from an employer if:

-The injury or illness was caused by unreasonable exposure to toxic substances in the workplace.

-The injury was suffered because the employer altered or removed warnings or safety devices from machinery.

-The physical problem occurred because an employer ignored safety laws or standards. In that case, the injured worker or dependents of someone who died from the job-related illness or injury could seek a 50 percent increase in worker's compensation benefits rather than file suit.

Kathy McKimmie of the Indiana Chamber of Commerce said her organization would oppose the bills.

She said the worker's compensation system is a historic trade-off in which employers assume responsibility for paying benefits for workplace accidents, regardless of fault, in exchange for protection from lawsuits.

"The trade-off was a good trade for both parties, and we believe it still is," McKimmie said.

She added that allowing lawsuits would "throw out the whole purpose of the compact."

Buford Holt, international representative for United Auto Workers Region 3, said Boatwright's bills would encourage employers to keep their workplaces safe.

"The proposed bills are designed to make it too expensive for employers to compromise worker's health and safety, and (they) put the blame where it rightfully belongs," he said.

Does service fulfill you?
If the answer is YES - think about teaching English in Kyoto, Japan for a year.

For more information see Father Peter on
February 23 1 - 5 pm
February 24 9 - 5 pm

at the Center of Social Concerns
Contact Mary Ann Roemer 239 - 5293

The Nation's Bar Review

Over 100 Centers Nationwide Offering Proven Preparation For The Bar Exams Of:

California	Florida	Massachusetts	New Mexico	Texas
Colorado	Illinois	Michigan	New York	Vermont
Connecticut	Maine	New Hampshire	Pennsylvania	Virginia
Dist. of Columbia	Maryland	New Jersey	Rhode Island

YOU CAN STUDY IN SOUTH BEND. CONVENIENT!

STANLEY H. KAPLAN-SMH BAR REVIEW SERVICES

KAPLAN EDUCATIONAL CENTER
 1717 E. SOUTH BEND AVE.
 SOUTH BEND, IN 46637
 219/272-4135

GUYS, CALL KERRY BROWN AND WISH HER A HAPPY 19TH AT 284-4320. NOW SHE HAS BIG PACHANGOS.

WE LOVE YOU KER-BEAR, SEAN, THE RENTS AND THE WHOLE GANG

Reagan's impact: A new confidence

The time has finally arrived; Ronald "Dutch" Reagan, the smalltown boy from Illinois who made good, must now ride off into the sunset. He departs the presidency with an approval rating of over 60%, unheard of in the modern era, and with an economy continuing to grow and the nation at peace.

Kevin Smant

on politics

This is remarkable when one thinks back upon the last eight years. In many ways, they have been tumultuous; President Reagan inspired the kind of conservative-liberal debate that had not been seen in this country for years. In some ways, this has been to the President's detriment. His policies mobilized many liberal interest groups and guaranteed their noisy demonstrations the lead story on the evening news. Furthermore, Mr. Reagan alienated large numbers of those who will now judge him: America's historians, many of whom are unashamed liberal Democrats who will undoubtedly take pleasure in trying to belittle his accomplishments.

In fact, this process has already begun. A recent American Heritage article asked leading intellectuals and historians to list their favorite over-rated and underrated historical figures. Unsurprisingly, many took this opportunity to denounce the President; Ronald Reagan's policies will "plague us for years to come," said one; another complained that "because he has been so appallingly overrated, he has somehow managed to win two presidential elections," and a third decided that "it will take years to calculate the impact of his disasters on future generations."

For those of us in academia who have actually dared to support Mr. Reagan, these criticisms no longer raise an eyebrow. They are the wailings of those who charge Reagan with being an ideologue while they, in fact, are the ones trapped within their own orthodoxies. For they have never understood Ronald Reagan. They have not seen—or have refused to see—that Reaganism has benefited America in two ways. First, Ronald Reagan restored Americans' confidence. He urged them to go to work; to use their drive and innovation to produce, to earn, and to thus make a better living for themselves without fear of massive new governmental interference. In denouncing the idea of "limits," Reagan has not been, as George Will points out, a true conservative; rather, he has been the optimist who tries to inspire. The idea of "confidence" is intangible and cannot be quantified, but woe to the president who cannot induce it. Remember the Carter years?

Secondly, because of Ronald Reagan, America is at peace with itself. To a great extent, we are no longer a nation consumed by guilt, allowing embittered, self-flagellating intellectuals to lead us in abusing ourselves for supporting this or that country which is not a utopia on earth, or for not having completely eradicated this or that social problem. Instead, President Reagan told us that we have a lot to be proud of; rather than tying up our energies in compiling lists of our failures, we are remembering—and trying to build up upon—what we have done right. Problems still exist, but we are trying to solve them the best we can. And thanks to President Reagan, we are now exploring alternative solutions to social ills, alternatives that explore the possibility—are you listening, liberals?—of non-governmental avenues to a better world. Finally these new ideas can gain a hearing in Washington power circles. This will be an enduring legacy of the new agenda that President Reagan brought with him.

The saddest episodes I have observed in the past eight years have been the attempts by Mr. Reagan's opponents to paint him as somehow a conspiratorial, devious evildoer who plasters on his daily smile as some kind of disguise. Even the President's harshest critics in the Washington press corps know that not to be true. President Reagan is a warm, decent man; what you see is what you get. Whether we agree or not on his policies, we should all admit that he has always done what he thought was right. Because of that, he can return now to California at peace with himself. There were, indeed, many things he did not accomplish. But the "Reagan Revolution" did happen. Not bad, Dutch. I will miss you.

Kevin J. Smant is a graduate student in the History Department and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

P.O. Box Q

Student appreciates support from ND

Dear Editor:

I'm writing to update the Notre Dame family on the condition of Carlos Petrozzi, one of our seniors who is battling cancer.

On Jan. 4, Carlos entered Harper Hospital for a bone marrow transplant which was given to him by one of his twin sisters, Ursula. The transplant went very well and Carlos is presently responding positively in the restoration of his immune system.

Carlos watched the Irish win the national championship two days prior to the bone marrow transplant. The win gave him an upbeat feeling and additional energy for the upcoming medical procedure.

Carlos' twin sisters are now enrolled here at Notre Dame as freshmen so that they can be closer to Detroit where their brother is hospitalized. They had studied at Providence College back east for the first semester.

Doonesbury

I have spoken to Carlos on the telephone and he is doing quite well. He expects to be in the hospital until Feb. 14. He appreciates the prayers, cards, letters, and many kindnesses he has received from many people at Notre Dame. His address at home is:

Carlos Petrozzi, Jr.
288 Woodcreek Way
Bloomfield Hills, MI 48013

I am sure that his parents will be more than happy to bring him any mail from Notre Dame. Meanwhile, let us continue to keep Carlos and all of the sick of our community in our prayers.

Fr. Andre Leveille, C.S.C.
Director of Campus Ministry
Jan. 18, 1989

Priest praises ND community

Dear Editor:

Reflecting back on the 1988 Fall Semester of the Center for Continuing Formation in Ministry (CCFM), I want to express my personal thanks to the entire University of Notre Dame community for its great hospitality, friendliness, intellectual challenges and atmosphere of spiritual and religious reflection.

I arrived last Aug. 15 on campus along with 45 priests from throughout the United States, Canada, South America and Bangladesh and began the Notre Dame Sabbatical for priests. The CCFM stressed a wholistic approach to spirituality, a relationship with God that involves the whole person. The program dealt with the whole person as the integration of four components: the intellectual, the emotional, the physical, and the spiritual dimensions. Five months later, I have to admit that I'm a better person and priest for having gone through the experience. As I prepare to end the sabbatical, I'll cherish the memory of having been a part of the Notre Dame family.

To all whom I encountered, I wish to say you were Christ's energy to me. As I leave the CCFM Program and Notre Dame Campus, I'll never forget the camaraderie and support of the other priests on sabbatical, and that of the Holy Cross priests, brothers and sisters.

I guess I'll have the distinction of having grown up with Lou Holtz and his family in Follansbee, West Virginia and of having graduated from West Virginia University but having cheered for the Fighting Irish for football season '88.

The sabbatical priests have been enriched by Father Bob Pelton's concept of a continuing education institute for the clergy. We'll all leave here "as winners" for having been involved with Notre Dame. For cocktails, dreams, memories and new friendships, I personally say "thank you!"

Father Joseph D'Aurora
Campus Minister
Clinch Valley College
University of Virginia
Dec. 6, 1988

Garry Trudeau

Quote of the Day

"A good beginning makes a good ending."

14th century proverb

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief: Chris Murphy
Managing Editor: Chris Donnelly
News Editor: Regis Coccia
News Editor: Mark McLaughlin
Viewpoint Editor: Dave Bruner
Sports Editor: Marty Strasen
Accent Editor: Beth Healy
Saint Mary's Editor: Sandy Cerimele
Photo Editor: Michael Moran

Operations Board

Business Manager: John Oxrider
Advertising Design Manager: Molly Killen
Advertising Manager: Linda Goldschmidt
Production Manager: Bernadette Shits
Systems Manager: Mark Ridgeway
Controller: Todd Hardiman
Graphic Arts Manager: Marga Bruns

Founded November 3, 1966

Remember the meaning of King

KELLY JURAS
accent writer

Since 1986, the nation has honored Martin Luther King by declaring the third Monday of every January a national holiday. Last Monday while we were enjoying the final days of Christmas Break, school children and employees slumbered, temporarily forgetting their studies and responsibilities. How many people, however, understand the significance of Martin Luther King as a source of inspiration for blacks and whites alike?

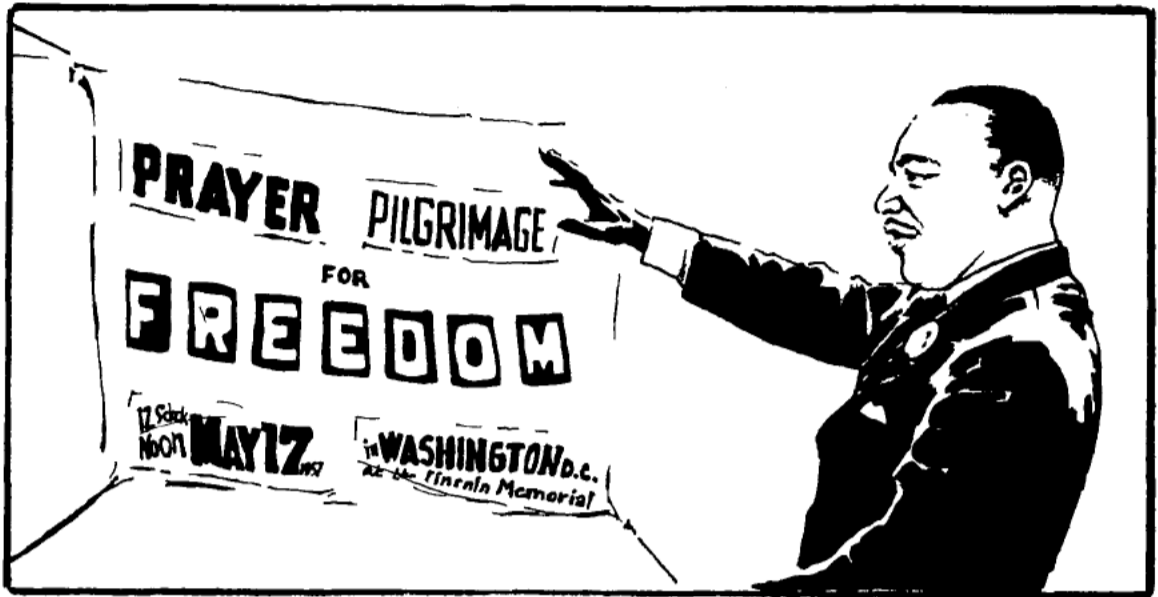

Our parents and grandparents who lived during the early 1960's, the zenith of the civil rights movement, remember Martin Luther King as a skillful rhetor, fresh voice, and inspiring personality. The rest of us can only imagine the intensity of his leadership in drawing the nation to fight against racial discrimination.

Born January 15, 1929, the Reverend Martin Luther King recognized the need for mass movement, a nonviolent tactic arousing an allegiance of blacks and whites, in promoting black civil rights. His efforts towards gaining civil rights began in 1955, the year Rosa Parks refused to give up her seat that was customarily reserved for whites. King was the president of the Montgomery Improvement Association which boycotted transit systems in Alabama.

From 1960 to 1965, King's influence reached its highest point. Leader of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, he organized the Great March on Washington where he joined other civil rights leaders and their supporters. 200,000 people gathered on Lincoln Memorial where crowds were uplifted by the emotional strength and prophetic quality of the "I Have A Dream" speech based on biblical phraseology.

King's ability to turn protests into crusades, and to translate local conflicts into issues of nationwide concern gained him both national and international recognition. The Civil Rights Act was passed in 1964 granting desegregation of public accommodations and outlawing discrimination in publicly owned facilities. That same year King received the Nobel Peace Prize.

Although his momentum in the height of the civil rights movement was stifled by James Earl Ray's fatal bullet on April 4, 1968, Martin Luther King remains a symbol of a crusader against violence. Truly Martin Luther King continues to be an inspiration for people of all ages. Don't let the dream die. This week make time to view the "I Have A Dream" speech which will be played in the Dooley Room in La Fortune Center every hour on the hour from 12:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. today through Friday.

Theodore's adds variety to draw crowds

Brian O'Fallon
accent writer

Do you remember the opening of Theodore's two years ago? Jack Brogan, general manager of Theodore's, remembers, "When it opened there were lines down the stairway. We had to turn people away." The newness of it attracted everyone.

Today the crowds are gone, but Jack Brogan and his staff of 16 student volunteers are working to bring them back.

"We kept doing the same thing. It just got monotonous," said Brogan. The staff decided to try something new. Last semester, Theodore's brought in several comedy acts. They were so popular that the Theodore's

Comedy Zone was established to bring in a different comedy act every Thursday night at nine. "We are able to bring in quality acts that you would have to go to Chicago to see," said Brogan. In this semester alone, the Comedy Zone will present two improvisational troupes, including a Notre Dame alumnus, a hypnotist, and nine other comics. From the end of the show until 1:00 a.m., Theodore's will have dancing with different themes, such as progressive, R&B, and classic rock.

In addition to giving Thursdays a permanent theme, Theodore's will also feature Free Fun Flicks every Wednesday night. It will present a mixture of our childhood favorites, half animated Disney movies and half musicals.

On Friday and Saturday nights, Theodore's will still have dancing, with a mix of live bands and DJs. With five professional bands coming, including an R&B, a classic rock, and a progressive band, students will no longer be able to complain about the non-existent music scene on campus. In addition, the best of the on campus bands, The Groove, Catholics In Bad Standing, and Zeto and the Heatons, will be there.

To give the students more of what they want to hear, Theodore's will emphasize requests. In fact, requests will soon be about half of every evening's songs, said Brogan.

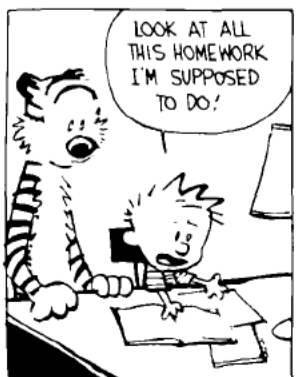

Hopefully, with these changes, the crowds will return to Theodore's. It's one of the neatest facilities the administration has ever given the students, and it would be a crime if it wasn't put to good use. The Theodore's staff is trying to do just that.

"We're just doing what we can for the students. It's their club. That's the whole idea," said Brogan.

London U.S.A., a cover band, plays music from Springsteen to INXS. They will play January 28 at 9:30 at Theodore's.

Calvin and Hobbes

I DON'T WANT TO DO THIS GARBAGE! I WANT TO GO PLAY OUTSIDE!

Bill Watterson

FREE FUN FLICKS

January 25 Muppets Take Manhattan

February 1 Wizard of Oz
8 Bednobs and Broomsticks
15 Footloose
22 The Shaggy D.A.

March 1 Back to the Beach
15 Darby O'Gill and the Little People
29 Grease

April 5 Apple Dumpling Gang
12 Secret of Nymm
19 Alice in Wonderland
26 The Sound of Music

May 3 Pete's Dragon

THEODORE'S COMEDY ZONE

January 26 David Orion

February 2 Seagrav/Reedy
9 Jim Wiggins
16 Taylor Mason
23 Authorized Personnel

March 2 Bertice Berry
16 Irish King/Queen Competition
30 Jim Wand -- Hypnotist

April 6 Steve Kimbrough
13 Randy Levin
20 Tom Anzalone
27 Vic Henley

May 4 In All Seriousness

SPORTS BRIEFS

The novice crew team has a mandatory meeting tonight at 7 at the Joyce ACC track. -The Observer

The ND Sailing Club will hold a meeting tonight at 6:30 in room 204 of O'Shaughnessy. All members are asked to attend. -The Observer

The Observer sports staff will have a meeting Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Observer office on the third floor of LaFortune. Any questions should be directed to Marty Strasen at x1471 or 239-5303. -The Observer

The Aikido Club is holding practices on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. in room 214 of Rockne Memorial. Aikido is a Japanese martial art form which emphasizes self-defense, self-confidence and self-awareness. New members are welcome. For more information, call Brian McCarthy at 272-0196. -The Observer

The ND Water Polo Club is holding a meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Notre Dame room of LaFortune for anyone interested in competing during the spring season. Any questions should be directed to Jay Blount at x2303. -The Observer

The SMC softball team will hold a meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. on the upper deck of Angela Athletic Facility for anyone interested in playing on the varsity team. -The Observer

Irish Insanity will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Notre Dame room on the second floor of LaFortune. All are welcome. Any questions should be directed to Erich at x1562. -The Observer

The ND Synchronized Swim Club will be having a short but very important meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Rolfs Aquatic Center. New members are welcome. Questions should be directed to Jackie at x2678 or Ann at x1294. -The Observer

The NDSMC Equestrian Club organizational meeting is Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in room 222 of the Hesburgh Library. All new members are welcome. For more information, call Theresa at x2808. -The Observer

The ND Tae Kwon Do Club will hold its first meeting and demonstration for the spring semester today at 8:30 p.m. in the Joyce ACC fencing gym. New members are welcome, and current members also should be present. Any questions should be directed to Richard Jennings at x1943. -The Observer

WVFI-AM 640 will broadcast the Notre Dame-Rutgers game tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. Join Vic Lombardi and Steve Trepiccione as they call all the action. -The Observer

Speaking of Sports will follow the Notre Dame-Rutgers game tonight on WVFI-AM 640. Join Greg Guffey and Kevin McCormack as they discuss Irish athletics. Call 239-6400 with questions. -The Observer

Calcavecchia has hopes for big year

Associated Press

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. - Mark Calcavecchia's victory in the Phoenix Open has him thinking about a great year, and a tournament in September.

"It gives me the potential for a great year," he said.

"Winning this early really sets up the year for you," the hard-hitting 28-year-old said after his runaway triumph last weekend.

"It gives you the potential to go on and win another ... and another ... and maybe another ... maybe a major."

"It gives you the potential for a great year," said Calcavecchia, who is rapidly establishing himself as one of the game's most accomplished performers.

Last year, for example, he won one American tournament, captured the Australian Open, was runner-up in the Masters and won $751,912.

But money-winnings and individual titles in this intensely individual game are not the standards by which he will judge success this year, Cal-cavecchia said.

It will be on a team performance.

"It won't be a great year, no matter what I do, if we don't win the Ryder Cup," Calcavecchia said.

His Phoenix Open triumph virtually assured him of a place on the 12-man American team that will play the best from Europe in the biennial matches at Sutton-Coldfield, England, Sept. 22-24.

After decades of domination by Americans, the Europeans have won the last two matches, victories that have been a focal point in the perception of European ascendancy and American decline in the game. "I'm tired of hearing all this stuff about the Europeans," Calcavecchia said. "They're great players. But I don't think they're any better than we are."

"I was on that last team that lost. I want to be on the team that wins it back. Winning here ought to do it, ought to get me back on the team. Now we have to go win it. I want that as badly as anything."

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classifieds advertising from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Haggar College Center, accepts classifieds from 12:30 p.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per five characters per day.

Classifieds

NOTICES

ACADEMIC/BUSINESS TYPING
237-1949

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE. CALL
MRS. COKER, 233-7009.

SEEKING MAGNAVOX ODESSEY CARTRIDGES ESPECIALLY FOOTBALL. THIS MIGHT NOT SEEM IMPORTANT, BUT BELIEVE ME, IT IS. IF YOU, OR ANYONE YOU KNOW CAN HELP, THE MONETARY REWARD WILL BE GREAT. CALL 277-6224.

The memory has been preserved. Order your limited edition, laminated copy of January 3rd's TEMPE DAILY NEWS-sports page. Send $12.95 plus 2.00 postage and handling along with your name and address to: DAH Products-Post Office Box 12999 Arlington, VA 22209

TYPING AVAILABLE
287-4082

Typing/Wordprocessing
237-1949

TWO PRIVATE BR'S AVAILABLE IN LARGE 4 BR STUDENT HOUSE ON N.D. AVE. GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD. FOR INFO 259-7801 DAYS, 255-5852 EVENINGS.

LOST/FOUND

SEEKING MAGNAVOX ODESSEY CARTRIDGES, ESPECIALLY FOOTBALL. THE IMPORTANCE OF FINDING THIS CANNOT BE OVERSTATED. IF YOU CAN HELP, PLEASE CALL 277-6224

LOST a woman's Seiko watch with a brown lizard strap. Please call 272-5989.

Lost: ND Alumni Club of Cincinnati Banner at the Sheraton Scottsdale. Please return--no questions asked.

Whoever mistakingly took my blue backpack from the S. dining hall on Thurs., please call Jeff at 3151 REWARD UPON RETURN

LOST-U.S.Navy pin.Great sentimental value.Alyssa-2732

LOST:A blue Canon Snappy S camera, at the Sun Devil House in Tempe. The film really means a lot to me if you found it please call Sean 2087

LOST: HP calc w/ SSN engraved on it-on or about Dec 8 possibly in Prime Lab. Reward for return or info. Call 272-7690 nigh or 237-2920 days. Thanks!

Whoever took my slate-blue Notre Dame backpack with books from the bookstore on 1/18, please call Sherri at # 4915. Thank you.

LOST: Silver bracelet. Probably Lost in or around dining hall and Farley. Call Kate x4042.

LOST: LEATHER I.D. CASE WITH MARYLAND DRIVERS LICENSE, N.D. I.D., AND DETEX. IF FOUND, PLEASE CALL SUSAN AT 283-4266. THANKS.

FOR RENT

HOUSE FOR RENT 3 BLOCKS FROM ND 3 BEDROOMS-$475MO 516 NAPOLEON 232-3616

6 BDRM HSE AVAILABLE 99-90 SCHOOL YEAR. 675MO. 234-9364.

HOUSING FOR 6 STUDENTS. $125 EACH MONTHLY PLUS DEPOSIT AND UTILITIES. CALL 288-2100/232-0018.

WANTED

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900-2000 mo. Summer, Yr.round,All Countries, All fields. Free info. Write IJC, PO Bx 52-IN04-Corona Del Mar, CA 92625

WANTED:MAGNAVOX ODESSEY CARTRIDGES PARTICULARLY FOOTBALL. GOD WILL LOOK KINDLY UPON YOU IF YOU HELP. YOU'LL BE PAID, TOO. CALL 277-6224

ND Law school students to be reps for Kaplan-SMH Bar Review courses. Earn free bar review course plus $$'s. Call 272-4135. Ask for Sue.

On-campus travel representative or organization needed to promote Spring Break trip to Florida or Texas. Earn money, free trips,and valuable work experience. Call Inter-Campus Programs 1-800-433-7747

Lunch and Dinner Waitresses Wanted to work at LENNY'S AMERICAN GRILL. We will work around any class schedule and we our within walking distance of campus. If interested call 271-8158.

ATTENTION-HIRING! GOVERNMENT JOBS YOUR AREA. $17,840-$69,485. CALL 602-838-8885 EXT #6262

MAKE HUNDREDS IN YOUR SPARE TIME PLACING POSTERS. NO SELLING! CALL (918)333MONEY

ROOMMATE NEEDED AS 6TH MAN IN HOUSE FOR NEXT YEAR. CALL DAN X4079 OR GEOFF AT X4295 FOR DETAILS.

FOR SALE

Order your TEXTBOOKS 25% OFF! SAVE $$$ on paperbacks. 30% OFF! PANDORA'S BOOKS 808 Howard St. Just 3 blocks from campus. PH# 233-2342

Is It True You Can Buy Jeeps for $44 through the U.S. government? Get the facts today! Call 1-312-742-1142 Ext. L7316

GOVERNMENT HOMES From $1.00(U Repair) Foreclosures, Repos, Tax delinquent properties. Now selling this area! Call!(Refundable) 1-315-733-6064 Ext G34 For Current listings!

BOOKS FOR SALE
Microcomputers EE361, Real Analysis Math335, Abstract Algebra Math222, C Programming Math316, Logic Design EE241, French 103, Dutchess of Maffi, Dr. Faustus, The Bluest Eye, 4 Plays of Chicanatsu, 20 Plays of No Theatre, Chusingura, In Defense of Anarchism Holt Handbook, Anatomy of Drama, Epicoene, Portable Shakespeare
Call Will at 2089

FOR SALE: B&C Dubbing Cassette Deck. Dolby B&C, Auto Search. $100, best offer. Pete # 1142.

for sale CASIO KEYBOARD come try it out. call 4634

FOR SALE: GE electric typewriter w/correction. Best offer. Trish x4003

FOR SALE: GE electric range, dishwasher and garbage disposal. Kelly or Barry 239-5755 days or 272-7606.

For Sale: SYNTHESIZER call Joe 1865

TICKETS

NEED 3 DUKE TICKETS. CALL ANNE 3736

NEED DUKE TIX: TODD X4364

PERSONALS

hl ag.

PRAY TO ST. JUDE DF

Adoption is the only way we will experience the love and joy of a child. Happily married couple,both doctors,wish to take turns staying at home with a baby to love as our own. Medical/Legal paid. Call collect anytime & leave msg. 0-317-844-1856 Confidential.

LAW SCHOOL: Start your Bar Review early. Kaplan-SMH reviews for many states available here in South Bend. Transfer back home for summer. Discounts for Kaplan LSAT alumni. Reserve before March 2 Call 272-4135. Ask for Sue.

POP FARLEY WEEK IS HERE!! Everyone must prepare!!!!!!

interested in acting in a theater troupe? new group forming on campus call x4603 or x3105 for audition details.

SUMMER JOBS
ALL LANDWATER SPORTS
PRESTIGE CHILDRENS' CAMPS
ADIRONDACK MOUNTAINS NEAR LAKE
PLACID. CALL 1-800-343-8373

CHARITY BALL
Anyone interested in helping with the Charity Ball to help the hungry please come to the Sonn room Thurs at 7pm in LaFortune or call x4495

F5SUMMER JOB FAIR--Wed. January 25 in the CCE; from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. A variety of companies represented.

ADOPTION-Professional couple wishing to adopt an infant. Live in small town and can provide a loving caring environment. If you know of anyone considering placing a child for adoption please call us collect 217-345-9723 or call our lawyer collect 217-352-8037. Deb and Jon.

SPRING BREAK
DAYTONA BEACH
$50.00 reserves your spot.

Sign-ups and Info Wednesday, Jan 25 Room 118 Nieuwland Science Hall at 7:30pm

ST. EDWARD'S HALL FORUM
presents Fr. Beauchamp speaking on "Here's Where I Stand on Proposition 42" Wed., Jan. 25 at 7 p.m., first floor lounge.

FEMALE AUDITIONS
for Cavanaugh Hall's production of Don't Drink the Water a comedy by Woody Allen will be held in rm 127 Nieuwland on Monday, Jan. 23 and Wednesday, Jan. 25 at 7:30 pm No Experience Necessary

Satt, we love you and and will miss you. The SchmeeeeeeeeAs

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL
Saturday, February 4, 7:30 pm
Washington Hall

ATTENTION SOPHOMORES!!!
Mandatory meeting for all those going on the ski trip on Wed, Jan 25 at 7pm in Montgomery theatre

ATTENTION SOPHOMORES!!!
WE STILL HAVE UP TO 4 SPACES STILL OPEN FOR THE SKI TRIP! Call the office at 239-5225 or call Wendy Burek at X1511 for info!

SPECIAL COMMEMORATIVE ISSUES
THE OBSERVER-YEAR TO REMEMBER
AVAILABLE FOR $1.00 AT THE OBSERVER OFFICE

In thanks to St. Jude for prayers answered.

ATTENTION SMC TOASTMASTER'S III INDUCTION CEREMONY-TUESDAY NIGHT 8:00PM IN HAGGAR PARLOUR-2ND FLOOR NEW & OLD MEMBERS PLEASE ATTEND.

HAPPY B-DAY JEN BONVECHIO!

CHEAP!! ROUND TRIP TICKET TO NEW ORLEANS JAN 26-30. CALL KRISTINE AT 272-3395.

TOP 12 QUOTES
from Friday night Dare
12) F***! This is so cold! 11) Undo all fasteners

(do buttons count?)
10) Ev, you call that a death scene 9)- Your soul has touched mine- I must go with you or I shall die.

8) BLAHHH! (cough cough!) 7) Tom, can't you keep a straight face when you're kissed?
6) Lofts are good for this. 5) I LOVE MYSELF!(x5;You must shout 4) 'Elio room service? Send up some ice.

3) It'll be kinky, you might wanna stay.
2) Erin, lift up your hips. That's not working, I'll lift up your hips!
1) No Mark, don't kiss it S IT!

* Next time: eggs and bananas?

RIDER NEEDED
GOING TO WASH DC FRI MAR 3-SAT 11 CALL 2205 TODAY

HAPPY BIRTHDAY JIM CHAPPEL! Ladies, give him a call at x1175 Or drop him a line at 253 Alumni Your humble roommate.

WEPPS

VICKY RAPPOLD,
Did you really break panietals
Last year???

COBOL Book Needed
Introduction to COBOL GAPP 331 Book desperately needed. Call Will at 2089 and negotiate.

Novena to St. Jude
O holy St. Jude, apostle and martyr, near kinsman of Jesus Christ Faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need. To you I have recourse and from the depth of my heart, I humbly beg whom God has given such power to come to my assistance. Help me in my urgent petition.... In return, I promise to make your name known and your cause to be invoked. Say: three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys, three Glorias for nine consecutive days. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your name. This novena has never been known to fail.

ST. EDWARD'S HALL FORUM
presents Fr. Beauchamp speaking on "Here's Where I Stand on Proposition 42" Wednesday, Jan. 25 at 7 p.m. in the first-floor lounge

Campus rockband rock band seeking MALE VOCALIST. Call Steve or Pete at x1167.

DIANE ALVAREZ HAPPY 21st BIRTHDAY!!! YOU'RE A SEXY SEDUCTIVE UNATTACHED WOMAN OF THE 90'S ND MEN BEWARE!!!!

SPRINGBREAK BAREFOOT CRUISE
50FT. YACHTS BIMINI BAHAMAS GROUPS OF 8, $435.00 PP 7 DAYS INCLUDES ALL MEALS 1-800-999-7245 anytime ORGANIZE & CRUISE FREE

SPRING BREAK!!! SPRING BREAK!!!

The Bahamas at Nassau, 7-days & nites lodging, r-trip air, beach parties. FROM $319 call x3580

M-I think I'm the one you noticed downstairs middle right NDH on the Wed before finals. Let's meet. Pick a time & place. -Blond guy w/glasses

Vicky now knows what satyriasis means

To the hot dessert girl in C line last Saturday: the way you scooped pudding made me sweat. I'll sweep even more if you'll go to TEN LITTLE INDIANS with me this Thursday, Friday or Saturday. It'll only cost you $2. See you at 8:00.

RESORT HOTELS Cruiselines,Airlines & Amusement Parks, NOW accepting applications for spring and summer jobs, internships,and career positions. For more information and an application; write National Collegiate Recreation Service PO Box 8074; Hilton Head SC 29938

VALENTINE GLAMOUR Give that special guy the best gift of all-yourself-in a glamour portrait by Joe Ringer. Call for details and free brochure. 287-0613.

Roses are red, Violets are blue, I'm a free girl now, and I want to go out with you.

-Stacy Eb. x4922

KIM Y (about to be KIM K): Hope you survived last night so that you can read this today. HAPPY 21st B-DAY!! You finally made it! No more Tempe tickets! No more Miss Puckett!! We must celebrate tonight! LOVE YOU!!! --MIKE K (about to stay MIKE K)

DUCKDUCKDUCK GOOSE!
If the surprise party didn't get you, this certainly should. Happy Birthday to the best duck in the pond! The fun has just begun, Duck is finally 21!! Love and Hugs, Mary, Kathy, Kelly, Kim, Val, Carol and Pegs.

ST. EDWARD'S HALL FORUM
presents Fr. Beauchamp speaking on "Here's Where I Stand on Proposition 42" Wednesday, Jan. 25 at 7 p.m. in the first-floor lounge

Campus rockband rock band seeking MALE VOCALIST. Call Steve or Pete at x1167.

Pacers top Denver

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS - Herb Williams had a team-record 29 rebounds, while Reggie Miller and Rik Smits scored 12 points each in the third period as the Indiana Pacers defeated the Denver Nuggets 117-102 to end their five-game losing streak Monday night.

Miller finished with a season-high 27 points, including three 3-pointers, two of them coming in third period when the Pacers outscored Denver 38-16 to take a 97-70 lead.

Herb Williams had 21 points and Chuck Person scored 20 for Indiana.

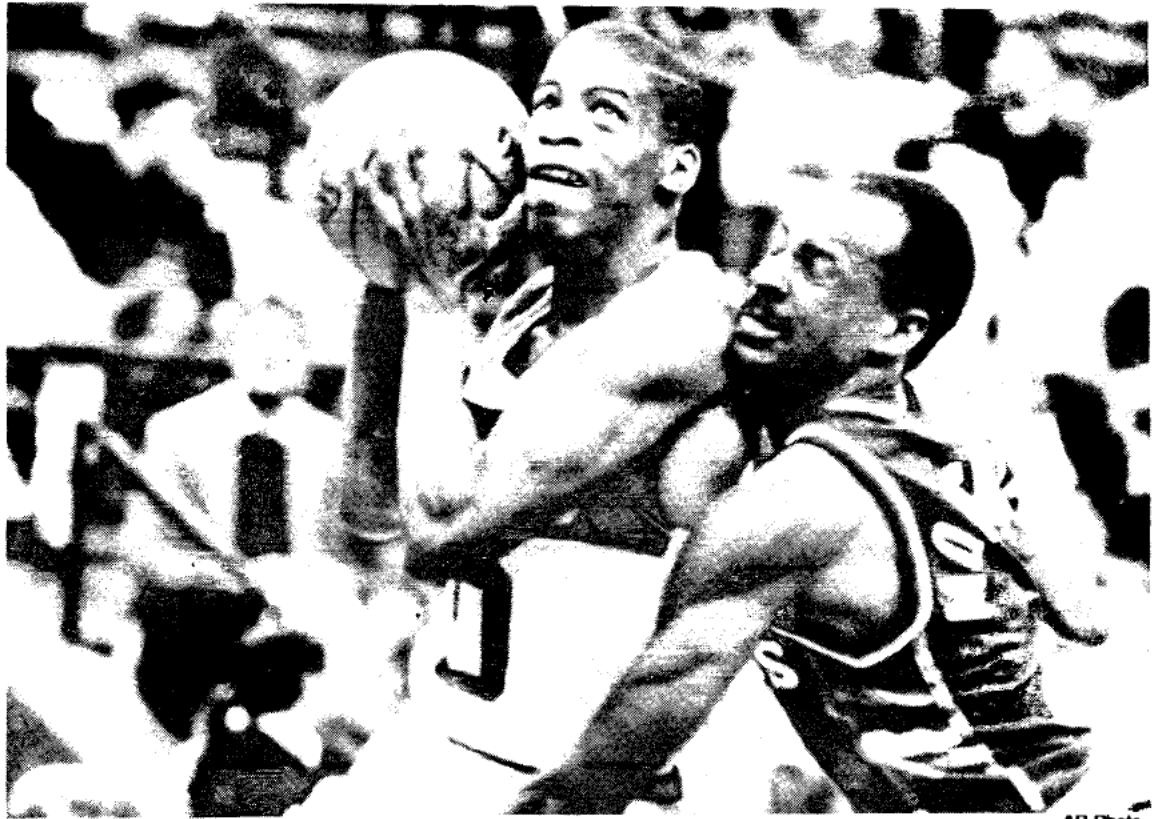

Alex English had 25 for the Nuggets, losers of three straight.

The Pacers, up 63-58 early in the second half, scored nine of the next 11 points as Miller scored on two drives and a 3-pointer. They stretched that into a 20-5 run concluded by another Miller 3-pointer, a Williams basket and two Miller free throws to take an 83-63 lead with 5:20 left in the period.

The Pacers scored the last six points of the period on baskets by John Long, Smits and Williams to take the night's biggest lead, 27 points.

The Nuggets could get no closer than 11 points in the final period.

The Pacers controlled most of the first half after using a 10-point run, including six by Vern Fleming.

Vern Fleming (with ball) of the Indiana Pacers, here guarded by the Bucks' Sidney Moncrief in a game earlier this season, led his squad to an upset 117-102 victory over the Denver Nuggets last night in Market Square Arena.

AP Photo

The Observer

The independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's is accepting applications for the following position:

Assistant Viewpoint Editor
Viewpoint Copy Editor

If interested, Contact Dave Bruner at the Observer, 239-5303, from 11:30-1:00 or 283-1601 evenings

NVA deadlines are approaching

Non-Varsity Athletics has announced that Jan. 25 is the sign-up deadline for the following activities:

- Team sign-ups for all Late Night Olympics events. The Olympics is scheduled for Friday night, from 9:00 p.m. to 4:00 a.m. at the JACC.

- Hall Track competition (men and women)
- Racquetball --Women's doubles
- Co-Rec Volleyball -- Elimination tournament
- Handball --Open doubles elimination tournament
- Hall Racquetball --Men's doubles
- Co-Rec Bowling -- Open to all students

A tennis clinic is scheduled for Monday at the Eck Tennis Pavilion. Call NVA for times and other details.

Classes for both general and faculty-staff low impact aerobics will begin on Wednesday morning, Jan. 25. Also, an information meeting for an NVA course in scuba diving will take place on Jan. 25 at 6:30 p.m. in the Rockne Building, room 218.

Classes for stretchercising will begin on Thursday, Jan. 26. Water Aerobics sessions will begin on Jan. 25 and 26 at Rolf's Aquatic Center in the JACC.

A karate demonstration will occur in the fencing gym at the JACC on Saturday, Jan. 28 and a karate program will begin on Jan. 30, also in the fencing gym.

A downhill ski trip to Ski World in Buchanan, Mich. is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 3. The deadline for signups is Wednesday, Feb. 1.

For further information about times, details, locations, fees and other sign-up information, stop by the NVA office in the JACC or call 239-5100.

LATE 3rd NIGHT OLYMPICS

Friday, January 27, 1989 • Joyce ACC • 9:00pm-4:00am

Contact Your Hall Representative • Sponsored by Non-Varsity Athletics

Proceeds To Benefit St. Joseph County Special Olympics

Deadline for Team Registration Tomorrow

EXPANDED DELIVERY TIMES

Call 277-7744

Subway is delivering to the Notre Dame and St. Mary's campuses during the following times:

- 12 Noon-12 Midnight Sat. & Sun.
- 5 p.m.-12 Midnight Mon.-Fri.

State Road 23 and Ironwood

Randy Cross (far right) celebrates with San Francisco owner Edward DeBartolo, Jr., with other jubilant 49ers in the background, after San Francisco had beaten Cincinnati 20-16 in Super Bowl XXII. Related stories appear at right and below.

AP Photo

Walsh to remain, one way or another

Associated Press

MIAMI - Still savoring the victory that made him the second winningest coach in Super Bowl history, Bill Walsh had bad news for the rest of the NFL Monday: even if he steps down as coach, he will continue working to keep the San Francisco 49ers on top.

"I don't necessarily have to coach to keep the 49ers at or near the top of the league," Walsh said as he basked in the last-minute, 20-16 victory over Cincinnati that gave the team its third NFL title in the '80s and stamped it as unquestionably the team of the decade.

"People with the right chemistry all participate together and are involved in the decisions. We have worked well together for years."

Walsh's news conference Monday was an opportunity for the 57-year-old coach, now second in Super Bowl victories to Pittsburgh's Chuck Noll, to get a few things off his chest.

He put in a none-too-subtle plug for defensive coordinator George Seifert as his successor if he decides to give up coaching and move into the front office after meetings later this week with 49ers owner Edward DeBartolo Jr.

And sometimes with tongue in cheek, sometimes not, he took jabs at impatient NFL owners; "mercenary" player agents and the Bay Area media, harsh critics when the 49ers were 6-5 and faltering this season.

But the criticism faded as the 49ers went on to win seven of their last eight, including Sunday's victory on a 92-yard drive in three minutes, capped by Joe Montana's 10-yard pass to John Taylor with 34 seconds left.

That pass may have given Walsh the opportunity to leave on top, although he still seems to be wavering. Ironically, he had served as the team's president as well as coach until after last season, when DeBartolo stripped him of the presidency after a 36-24 loss to Minnesota in the playoffs following an NFL-best 13-2 season.

"Now that we've won this game, it would be far easier to do it," Walsh said. "But I don't want to leave and then come back nine days later and say I've changed my mind."

That was the feeling of Jerry Rice, who earned the game's MVP award by catching 11 passes for 215 yards. The yardage was a Super Bowl record; the number of catches tied one.

"Right now, we feel like Bill is going to come back," Rice said. "I feel Bill is still competitive and not ready yet to give up the game. And when you're getting paid $1 million a year ..."

Walsh, who has one year left on a contract due to pay him $1.3 million next season, laughed at that reference.

But he only half laughed about some other things that came up - like owners and agents.

"This is a competitive game. There are a lot of people - especially the owners - who have lost sight of the fact that there are 28 entities," Walsh said.

"A lot of owners don't realize you can't win every year. They come from businesses where they've had continued success and there's no competition. So a lot of coaches get fired unfairly or prematurely by owners who don't understand the dynamics of the game."

Walsh seems to have patched things up with DeBartolo after the two barely spoke for six months over differences ranging from player personnel to Walsh's personal life.

As for agents, Walsh suggested that they distract players from the goals of a team.

XXIII: Of winners and losers

San Francisco happy to beat 'chokers' rap

Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO - The San Francisco 49ers arrived home triumphantly Monday with their once-questioned reputation secure as one of the greatest clutch teams in NFL history.

They flew in to cheers from a small crowd at a closed-access area of San Francisco International Airport at about 1:45 PST and immediately headed for a late-afternoon parade downtown, where thousands of fans lined the streets.

Labeled playoff flops as recently as last month, the 49ers disposed of that notion emphatically in the postseason.

Their stunning 20-16 victory over Cincinnati in Sunday's Super Bowl was the fourth time this season the team came from behind to win in the final period-three in the final two minutes. So, in the afterglow of their third NFL championship in eight years, San Francisco's players could be forgiven a bit of a swagger.

"I think we're probably the best team as far as two minutes to go," fullback Tom Rathman said. "I mean, you have an excellent quarterback in Joe Montana. You've got Jerry (Rice) and you've got Roger (Craig), and those are two big targets."

Safety Ronnie Lott, who will be flying on to Honolulu for Sunday's Pro Bowl, attributed the comeback to the 49ers' championship mentality.

"Our guys have learned you have to play with your heart," Lott said. "That's the reason we're champions. ... Our ability to come back has been there since 1981. We've had it all year and it's been great."

In the '81 season, it was the play known ever since as simply "The Catch" that first stamped San Francisco as a comeback team. Dwight Clark's soaring grab of a Montana pass in the end zone beat Dallas in the waning moments of the NFC title game, and the 26-21 Super Bowl triumph over the Bengals was almost an anticlimax.

Three years later, the 49ers were front-runners from start to finish in an 18-1 season.

Cincinnati laments what might have been

Associated Press

MIAMI - The Cincinnati Bengals can't accept a storybook season without a fairytale ending.

The Bengals thought they had completed one of the most dramatic turnarounds in NFL history when Jim Breech's field goal gave them the lead with 3:20 to play in the Super Bowl. But San Francisco's Joe Montana fashioned a little legend of his own, leading San Francisco on a 92-yard touchdown drive for a 20-16 victory Sunday.

"We came so close to the top of the mountain and to lose this way really hurts," quarterback Boomer Esiason said.

The Bengals lost in an uncharacteristic way - their defense let them down when it mattered most.

After Breech's third field goal put the Bengals ahead 16-13, Montana drove the 49ers to the winning touchdown with just 34 seconds to play.

The nearness of a championship left the Bengals with an empty feeling, despite their turnaround from a 4-11 record last year to 14-5.

"We were 34 seconds away from a great victory," Esiason said. "The next thing you know, we're using all the losing cliches you can use."

Safety David Fulcher, who came within a couple of steps of knocking down the winning 10-yard touchdown pass to John Taylor, sounded bitter.

"Would you sound bitter if you lost a game you thought you should have won?" he said.

Cincinnati's offense has needed saves from its defense throughout the season. The defense preserved a season-opening victory over Phoenix with a goalline stand, throttled a last-minute drive by Philadelphia, and used a pass interception in the closing minutes to stop Pittsburgh and open the season 3-0.

They had chances in the Super Bowl, but let them slip away.

Tianjin, China

Summer of '89

University of Notre Dame

Foreign Study Program

INFORMATION MEETING

Tuesday January 24, 1989

242 O'Shaughnessy

4:30 P.M.

ALL ARE WELCOME !!!

PREPAREPREPAREPREPAREPREPARE

FOR THE SPRING CPA EXAMINATION

Classes begin February 6th and end April 25th
All classes held on the NOTRE DAME campus

REGISTER NOW!
SPECIAL STUDENT DISCOUNT

EXECUTIVE PROGRAMS
136 HAYES-HEALY
PHONE 239-5285

ENTREPRENEURS

Triple 'A' Student Painters
Manage your own business.
Gain valuable experience and earn $5 - 15,000 in one summer.
Call Scott Ruhl
(317) 362-9809

San Francisco wide receiver Jerry Rice beams while holding the Super Bowl's Most Valuable Player award presented to him after the game. The 49ers' late-game heroics provided one of the most exciting finishes in Super Bowl history and were a much-needed bright spot in what had been a week of turmoil for Miami and NFL officials. A related story appears at right.

AP Photo

Super Bowl drama saves Miami's day

Associated Press

MIAMI - A great final quarter saved a bad week. And so Super Bowl XXIII, shoved briefly off the sporting world's stage by television pictures of angry young blacks burning and looting in the streets, exited Miami still a star.

For openers, the NFL turned a tidy $16.8 million profit from the game, which under the league's revenue-sharing plan, translates into a $600,000 bonanza for each club.

For seconds, overnight Nielsen ratings showed that television sets in 65 percent of American households - almost two of every three - were on for the 49ers' dramatic final drive. Both were big improvements over last year's disappointing numbers.

But most important, Super Bowl XXIII delivered drama enough to be remembered - first and foremost - for the game, not for a mugging in Miami.

"The events earlier in the week were and remain a real tragedy," said NFL spokesman Joe Browne, filling in after Commissioner Pete Rozelle returned to New York to attend his stepson's funeral.

"We were asked several times what we - the NFL - were going to do about it. Were we going to bring national leaders in to help quell some of the disturbances in Overtown and Liberty City? Were we going to work hand-in-hand with the authorities?"

"But the fact is," Browne continued, "that once the game was over ... the tent was closed and the local leaders were in charge, just as they are in charge, properly, for the other 51 weeks of the year."

"The beginning of the week began on a note of tragedy, and nothing is going to overshadow that. But, yes," he added, "for what we were down here for, which is a football game, we were fortunate to have a good one."

Exactly how fortunate remains yet to be determined. From its modest beginnings as a one-day championship between the established NFL and the upstart AFL, the Super Bowl has grown into a week-long extravaganza that this year brought more than 2,000 national media to Miami and can be worth as much as $75 million to the host city.

And to be sure, the NFL has made a point of giving back much to the communities from which it draws its mammoth television and ticket revenues.

United Way commercials, done for free by the players, are a key fund-raising tool for an overall campaign that reportedly raised more than $2.6 billion for charitable causes in 1987 - the last year figures were available.

In a less-publicized move, the league was commemorating Martin Luther King Day by providing $10,000 in college scholarships to minority youngsters.

Now we can help English majors with their economics.

Whatever field of study you're in, a Macintosh® computer can help make the studying easier. And now Apple makes the payments easier, too, with the Student Loan-to-Own Program. If your parents qualify, you won't have to worry about the economics - you can attend to fun things, like term papers and exams. Stop by and pick up an application today.

Apple's
Student Loan-to-Own Program

Computer Center
Room 25 Math Building
8:00 AM - 5:00 PM

Hoosiers shade Wolverines

Two unbeaten teams remain in Big 10 conference play

Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich. - Indiana ran its winning streak to 13, six in the Big Ten, as Jay Edwards scored 20 second-half points to lead the 16th-ranked Hoosiers to a 71-70 victory over No. 10 Michigan on Monday night.

The Hoosiers led 71-70 when Edwards' off-balance jumper from beyond the free-throw line spun out of the basket.

Michigan got the rebound and called time out with 40 seconds remaining. When play resumed, the Wolverines ran the clock down to 15 seconds and called another time out.

Terry Mills missed a baseline shot from the right corner then Mark Hughes missed from the left corner as time expired.

The score was tied at 64 on a basket by Mills with 4:23 remaining. But Edwards hit a 3-pointer with 4:06 remaining and the Hoosiers led the rest of the way.

Michigan's Sean Higgins scored with 3:45 remaining, then Edwards answered with 3:20 showing for a 69-66 Indiana lead.

Indiana, which lost four of its first seven games, now is 16-4 overall, 6-0 in the Big Ten while Michigan, riding a two-game losing streak, has slipped to 15-4 and 3-3.

Edwards finished with 29 points. Glen Rice had 19 for Michigan.

G'town 75, St. John's 64

LANDOVER, Md. - Dikembe Mutombo set a school record with 12 blocked shots and Dwayne Bryant scored 18 points Monday night as second-ranked Georgetown beat St. John's 75-64 in a scuffle-interrupted Big East game.

The Hoyas, 15-1 overall and 5-1 in the Big East, never trailed in taking over first place in the conference with their sixth straight victory.

Miscellaneous

In other games Monday night, American won the war over North Carolina-Wilmington 86-85, the East Carolina Pirates capsized Navy 70-63 in a battle of the ships, future Irish opponent LaSalle topped Iona 89-64, Slippery Rock spoked the California (Penn.) Vulcans 84-73, Southern Mississippi bounced New Orleans 79-68 and South Florida won a Sunshine State showdown with Tampa 71-54.

Also, Nebraska branded the Wyoming Cowboys 71-58, Loyola (Md.) tripped a Rik Smits-less Marist squad 100-91, Florida A&M rattled Coppin State 69-68, Northern Iowa trounced Valparaiso 88-71, South Carolina won a battle of Carolinas with a 92-65 whipping of Coastal Carolina, Murray State tripped Tennessee Tech 76-71 and there were no miracles for Oral Roberts in an 81-77 loss to Southwest Missouri State.

The Observer / Paul Compton
Indiana's Joe Hillman goes in for an uncontested layup against Notre Dame. Hillman and the rest of the Hoosiers gained a lot of respect around the Big Ten last night by defeating the Michigan Wolverines at Ann Arbor. A college basketball roundup can be found below.

Illinois moves atop polls; Blue Devils fall to 8th

Associated Press

Illinois became the first team this season other than Duke to hold the No. 1 position in The Associated Press college basketball poll on Monday. It also marked the first time the Fighting Illini have held that spot in the regular season in 37 years.

The only undefeated Division I team, Illinois received 62 of the 65 first-place votes cast and 1,296 points from the nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. The Fighting Illini were pushed to the limit Sunday to win their 17th straight, a 103-92 double-overtime victory over Georgia Tech.

The last time Illinois held the No. 1 spot in the regular season was in the poll released on Jan. 22, 1952 when it took over the top spot from Kansas. The Fighting Illini held it just one week as they lost to DePaul four days later.

Illinois was No. 1 in the preseason poll for the 1952-53 season but lost an early season Big Ten game with Minnesota.

Duke had held the No. 1 spot in the preseason poll and in the first nine regular-season votings but the Blue Devils, 13-2, lost their first games of the season this week, a 20-point home loss to North Carolina and a 75-71 loss at Wake Forest to fall to eighth in the voting.

Georgetown, Louisville and Oklahoma each advanced one place in the voting as did Illinois.

The Hoyas, 14-1, took second with one first-place vote and 1,173 points, just six more than Louisville, 13-2, which had the other two first-place votes.

Oklahoma, 15-2, moved up to fourth with 1,079 points and was followed by fellow Big Eight member Missouri, 16-3, which received 939 points in moving up three places from last week.

Arizona, 13-2, which also moved up three spots, was sixth with 884 points, nine more than North Carolina, which improved to 16-3 with victories over Duke and North Carolina State. The Tar Heels had fallen to 13th in last week's voting, the first time in 63 polls dating to the 1983-84 season they had not been in the Top Ten.

Duke, Seton Hall and Michigan rounded out the Top Ten.

The Blue Devils received 860 points, while Seton Hall, 17-1, had 788 and Michigan, 15-3 after a 71-68 loss to Wisconsin, dropped from sixth with 719 points.

Florida State, 14-1, led the Second Ten followed by Iowa, Nevada-Las Vegas, Syracuse, North Carolina State, Indiana, Ohio State, Kansas, Stanford and Providence.

Last week's Second Ten was Syracuse, Seton Hall, North Carolina, Florida State, North Carolina State, Ohio State, Kansas, Tennessee, Indiana and Stanford.

Fencing

continued from page 16

To the surprise of even the Irish coaches, the consistently solid foil team was just short of perfect. The Irish had six undefeated foilists on the weekend, with six victories each from Colin Gumbs, Derek Holeman, Yehuda Kovacs, and Phil Leary. Both Joel Clark and Kent Kroener were also sporting unblemished finishes with five victories apiece. Freshmen Tom Clare (3-2) and Mike Trisko (5-1) didn't provide any relief for opponents.

Coach DeCicco sees a wealth of opportunities in this year's foil team. Kovacs, a returning All-American, will attempt this season to become the winningest foilist and overall fencer in Notre Dame history, displacing legends Mike Sullivan and DeCicco himself. Furthermore, senior Derek Holeman is doing the best fencing of his college career.

The key for this year's Irish could be the pressure applied by the non-starters in each weapon. With so many excellent athletes vying for a mere three spots in each weapon, the fierce competition already has been translated onto the strip against opposing teams.

Case in point. Missing two starters this weekend in sabremen Lesek Nowosielski and Dan Yu, the Irish were unfazed in coasting to a 40-5 team record. Seniors Tim Collins (7-0) and Jim Kowalski (6-0) were undefeated, as was sophomore Dave Kirby.

Suffering but a single loss was senior Geoff Rossi (6-1) and freshmen Ed Baguer (6-1) and Henry Chou (5-1). Senior Bill Pietrusiak finished out the scoring with a 4-2 record.

"As the season progresses, we'll be better able to evaluate whether this weekend's performance was a flash in the pan or not.

"(Right now) I can hardly wait to fence the likes of Wayne State, Illinois, and Ohio State," said Decicco, referring to several traditional Midwest fencing powers.

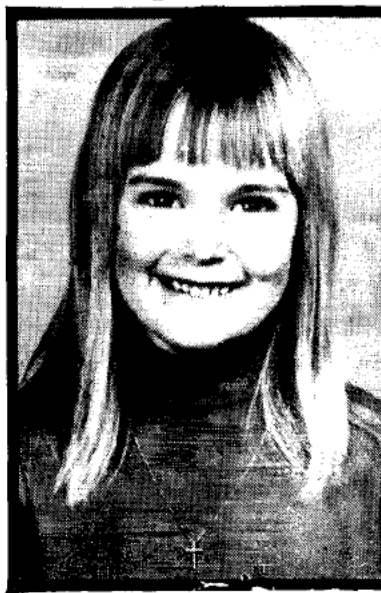

The Irish dominance came full circle as the epee team also finished at 40-5 for the day. Leading the way were freshmen David Calderhead and Mark Lawless, both at 8-0. Seniors Ted Fay (7-0) and Todd Griffie (7-1) continued their winning ways from last year. Completing the scoring were impressive bouts from junior newcomers Mark Gugel (5-3) and Paul Vogt (5-1).

Following suit, the women's foil team powered their way past the competition. Returning from a year's absence is captain Janice Hynes (5-0). Senior Kristin Kralicek (6-0) and freshman Heidi Piper (5-0) were also undefeated.

Sophomore Lynn Kadri and freshman Tara Kelly were both 10-1, while seniors Brenda Leiser (13-1) and Stephanie McNeill (10-2) had excellent records as well.

"Everything that I've said about the men also applies to the women's team," said DeCicco in reference to their chances this season. "The women have a great 1-2-3 punch in Janice Hynes, Heidi Piper, and Kristin Kralicek. (The team) is just one fencer away from the gold medal. Who that fencer is going to be, I'm not quite sure right now."

The fencing squads will be off this weekend, facing more competition during a home meet in two weeks time.

HAPPY
21ST BIRTHDAY
AUNT
MOLLY

Love, Mickey

ON SALE NOW

with special guest

BROKEN HOMES

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4 8:00 PM

MORRIS CIVIC AUDITORIUM

All seats reserved $15.50

Tickets available at the Civic Auditorium Box Office, Night Winds, Record Connection, and the usual outlets.

CAMPUS

Noon Kellogg Institute Brown Bag Seminar "A Shing Path: Violence and Power in Peru," by Charles Kenney, Institute Bartolome de las Casas, Lima, Peru, 131 Decio Faculty Hall.

6:30 p.m. SMC Philosophy Lecture "Impace of Women's Studies on Disciplines," by Professor Frances Maher, Wheaton College, Massachusetts, Stapleton Lounge.

7 p.m. ND Communication and Theatre film "Our Hospitality," directed by Buster Keaton, Annenberg Auditorium.

8 p.m. Basketball vs. Rutgers, JACC.

9 p.m. ND Communication and Theatre film "Destiny," directed by Fritz Lang, Annenberg Auditorium.

DINNER MENUS

Notre Dame	Saint Mary's
Bacon and Mushroom Sandwich	Sliced Ham
Roast Turkey	Shrimp Stir Fry
Shrimp Fried Rice	Cheese Enchiladas
Fettucini Alfredo	Deli Bar

NEW YORK TIMES CROSSWORD

- ACROSS
- 1 "Butterfield 8" author
  - 6 Stuff
  - 10 Like some horses
  - 14 Navarro of films
  - 15 Ohio city
  - 16 Part of A.D.
  - 17 Sorcery
  - 19 Con man's play
  - 20 Mongolian monk
  - 21 One's possessions
  - 23 "... than thou": Isa. 65:5
  - 27 Used a strap
  - 28 Wards off
  - 29 Go back
  - 32 Asian cereal grass
  - 33 Lady of song
  - 34 High peak
  - 37 Conjuror
  - 41 A neighbor of Turk.
  - 42 Seed used medicinally
  - 43 Progenitor
  - 44 Bush vs. Dukakis event
  - 46 Troupers
  - 48 Bewitched state
  - 50 Des —, Iowa
  - 51 Hosts
  - 53 O'Casey or Connery
  - 55 Kind of hog
  - 56 Diabolism
  - 62 Anne Nichols character
  - 63 Jewish month
  - 64 Bedeviled
  - 65 Layers
  - 66 Verboten
  - 67 Expressions of assent

DOWN

- 1 A marble, for one
- 2 Actor Holbrook
- 3 Physicians' org.
- 4 Legendary bird
- 5 Leg ornament
- 6 Littleneck, e.g.
- 7 U.S.S.R. Baltic port
- 8 "— Blue?": 1929 song
- 9 Medieval war club
- 10 Clergyman
- 11 Wizardry
- 12 Growing out
- 13 Like the Mariners' stadium
- 18 Red planet
- 22 Tabloid, e.g.
- 23 — on (overemphasizes)

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

AMMO SHEEN CLOY
 BEAS LARGO HOLE
 OCCUPATION OVEN
 ICH EVES VIREOS
 LAUNDRER TIRES
 OAS MOROSELY
 ATHOL REDAN AUS
 COOK METAL ETTE
 EMU DIARY LASER
 RESOURCE HUR
 EFLAT CARPOOL
 OSWALD TALC ARO
 MAIM OMARSHARIF
 ALFA ROUTE TENT
 NEED SPRAY EDGY

- 24 Pistil part
- 25 Hocus-pocus
- 26 Showy flower
- 29 Poker move
- 30 Brink
- 31 Clock-face numerals
- 33 Prepare for printing
- 35 "M" star
- 36 Iron
- 38 Drop leaf or gateleg
- 39 Actress Claire
- 40 Piedmontese province
- 45 Eliminates
- 46 Asian nursemaid
- 47 Ear
- 48 Wife of Abraham
- 49 Delve into
- 52 Sharp blow
- 53 Attempt
- 54 Beige
- 57 Actress Kaminska
- 58 Optic activity during sleep
- 59 Lizzie Borden's weapon
- 60 Marsh
- 61 N.F.L. triumphs

COMICS

Bloom County

Berke Breathed

The Far Side

Gary Larson

Buzz McFlattop

Mike Muldoon

"I've done it! The first real evidence of a UFO! ... And with my own camera, in my own darkroom, and in my own ..."

Calvin and Hobbes

Bill Watterson

The Far Side

Gary Larson

Wish your friends a happy birthday with Observer advertising. Call 239-6900

We need someone with the confidence of a surgeon, the dedication of a marathoner and the courage of an explorer. Peace Corps. The toughest job you'll ever love.

Men try to forget Syracuse, look toward Rutgers tonight

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Assistant Sports Editor

Just four years ago, Bob Wenzel was close to death after suffering cerebral aneurysm. Three years later, Wenzel's alma mater was looking for a new coach after suffering a 7-22 season.

These days, Wenzel is doing just fine. And so is the Rutgers basketball program.

The Scarlet Knights hold a 6-8 record (3-2 in the Atlantic 10 Conference) heading into tonight's game with an 8-3 Notre Dame squad. Tipoff is set for 8 at the Joyce ACC.

"We have total respect for Rutgers," said Notre Dame coach Digger Phelps. "They'll be playing with a lot of confidence. We cannot afford a letdown after our loss to Syracuse."

Syracuse recorded a 99-87 victory at Notre Dame on Saturday, ending a three-game Irish win streak.

A life-threatening illness forced Wenzel, then coaching Jacksonville University, off the sidelines during the 1984-85 season.

He made a successful comeback the next season and received the Most Courageous Award from the National Sportswriters Association. Wenzel went on to coach the Dolphins to post-season tournament appearances each of the next two seasons, and he has more ambitious plans for the Rutgers program.

"Everyone connected with Rutgers basketball should be dreaming big dreams," said Wenzel. "We want to have a program that is a consistent top 20 team which consistently graduates its student-athletes."

Wenzel appears to have the Scarlet Knights headed in the right direction. Despite having no players taller than 6-7, Rutgers needs only one more victory to equal last season's total and has played close games against some big-name opponents.

Rutgers fell to Syracuse and St. John's by respective scores of 100-91 and 62-61, and lost to Atlantic 10 rival Temple 85-79 on the road. Wenzel compares the matchup with Notre Dame with the St. John's game.

"They both have big inside power games," said Wenzel. "They (Notre Dame) will play pressure defense more than St. John's would."

Tom Savage leads the Scarlet Knights in scoring. The 6-5 sophomore forward held a 19.8 average and was shooting 32-of-57 from three-point range before last week's 102-87 win over Duquesne. Other probable starters for Rutgers include 6-7 forward Lee Perry (9.5 points per game, 5.1 rebounds per game), 6-6 center Anthony Duckett (7.8 ppg, 6.3 rpg) and guards Rick Dadika (11.0 ppg, 47 assists) and Craig Carter (8.8 ppg, 3.2 rpg).

Emory Ward has come off the bench to average 9.2 points and 5.6 rebounds per game.

For Notre Dame, LaPhonso Ellis averages 10.8 rebounds per game to lead the team. The 6-9 freshman forward also averages 15.5 points per game, tied for the team lead with junior guard and co-captain Joe Fredrick.

Jamere Jackson, a 6-2 junior forward and co-captain, averages 13.3 points per game. Keith Ross, a 6-9 junior center, is averaging 12.4 points and 8.9 rebounds.

Phelps is looking for the Irish to avoid giving up the easy baskets and improve their shooting percentages from the foul line. Problems in these two departments hurt Notre Dame severely in last weekend's loss to Syracuse.

"We gave up too many transition points, and we didn't shoot the fouls when we needed them," said Phelps. "If we can improve in those areas, the offense will fall in place."

The Observer / Paul Compton

LaPhonso Ellis (20) rises up for an open jumper against Indiana earlier this season. The freshman forward will lead Notre Dame into tonight's matchup with Rutgers at the JACC. Steve Megargee has details at left.

Vines, DePaul next up for ND women's basketball team

By JEFF HEILERT
Sports Writer

How do you stop an All-American post player when your starting center is out for the season and one of your weaknesses has been rebounding?

Notre Dame women's head basketball coach Muffet McGraw could lose a lot of sleep trying to solve that problem prior to this evening's meeting with the Lady Blue Demons of DePaul.

Notre Dame travels to Chicago today to meet last year's women's NIT champions. DePaul brings an 8-4 record into the game while the Irish are at 10-4.

McGraw's problems begin with Diana Vines, the 5-11 senior forward who sports a long list of accomplishments. Last year, Vines grabbed player of the year in the North Star Conference, and was named District IV All-America by Kodak. This season, she leads DePaul in both scoring (23.9 ppg) and rebounding (9.8 rpg).

McGraw is counting on 5-9 sophomore Krissi Davis to help keep Vines off the offensive boards.

"We don't have any one person that can stop her so we are going to double team her," said McGraw. "We are going to keep Krissi behind her and hope she can keep her off the boards."

The Irish also hope to get some help from the Lady Blue Demons. Their starting guards, co-captain Melanee Ehrhardt and junior Veronica Ross are both shooting under 40% from the field.

"Double teaming inside is going to leave someone open," said McGraw. "We are hoping their guards have an off night so we can shut off Vines in the middle. You never know though, when they are playing at home."

Notre Dame has had to make some tough adjustments after losing senior center Heidi Bunek. They now have to rely much more on the shooting of guards Karen Robinson and Sarah Liebscher. They have responded by shooting 57% from the field and both are averaging in double figures. The shorter lineup, however, has left a weakness underneath.

"Our biggest problem is rebounding and post defense, said McGraw. "It's not so much height as it is position. We've been working hard on that."

The game has become an intense rivalry. Last year the Irish lost both contests by a total of four points and finished second to the Lady Blue Demons in the North Star Conference. While the Irish have switched to the MCC this year, McGraw still sees this game as having great significance.

"This is one of the big games of the year," said McGraw. "It important to win games in the region to get to the NIT and have an outside chance at the NCAA. Last year they knocked us out of both of them and I want to beat them just for that, and I hope the team feels the same way."

The Observer / File Photo

The Notre Dame men's and women's fencing teams are off to their characteristic sizzling starts in 1989. Chris Fillio takes a look at both squads in his story at right.

Irish fencing teams Young talent leads

By CHRIS FILLIO
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame fencing teams opened up their season in Chicago this past weekend in championship form, destroying all takers.

"We went nuts this weekend," said Head Coach Michael DeCicco. "The story of this weekend is the performance of our first year people."

And, of course, the numbers don't lie.

Freshman contributors for the women's team posted an incredible 15-1 record against the teams from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Lawrence, and Michigan-Dearborn.

Equally impressive was the 35-5 mark by the freshmen on the men's teams, including victories against the University of Chicago. In addition, first-year fencers like junior Paul Vogt and Mark Gugel of the physical education novice program contributed to the shellacking in Chicago.

"We've got a little more depth that we haven't enjoyed in the past, with some quality fencers," said DeCicco. "I can't ever remember having a team, overall, as deep as the one we have (with the men). We have a good mix of senior experience, sophomore and junior backup, and young freshmen coming in to make a contribution."

see FENCING, page 14