The Observer

VOL. XVI, NO. 13

an independent student newspaper serving notre dame and saint mary's

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1981

New directive limits Stepan use

By TOM JACKMAN and BOB VONDERHEIDE News Staff

All future Polish Weddings, Irish Wakes and movie showings in Stepan Center have been permanently cancelled by the University, as a result of two letters sent to Student Union Director Bill Lawler last week.

The letters, one by Dean of Students lames Roemer and one by Director of Student Activities James McDonnell, were spurred by what McDonnell termed "numerous reports of drunkenness and illness" as a result of the Student Unionsponsored "Polish Wedding." The annual event, held in Stepan Center dring Welcome Week, featured nonalcoholic refreshments and live music, but McDonnell's letter charges that "most of the 900-plus students brought alcohol into Stepan Center.'

The "Irish Wake," a similar partytype event sponsored by Student Union, is held annually during the An Tostal festival in April. Featurelength films are shown occasionally in Stepan Center also, in a more informal atmosphere than those shown in other campus buildings.

McDonnell said in his letter that his attention to the matter was drawn initially by the posters advertising the Polish Wedding, which said "BYOB," and featured a Lawler, in an earlier letter, apologized to the administration and accepted full responsibility for the advertising, claiming he was unaware of DuLac's prohibition of al cohol promotion on campus.

However, it was the event itself which inspired Roemer and McDonnell to take action. McDonnell wrote, "never have I received reports to this extent concerning any event." He also observed that "we see similar trends (of BYOB) in LaFortune at the Nazz and Chautau-

Dean Roemer, whose letter was shorter than McDonnell's stated that "as of now, this tradition is ended." He added that "none of these alcohol rules are new. Alcohol is never allowed in Stepan Center."

The sanctions also include a stipulation that all future advertising must state that alcohol is not permitted, and this must also be stated on admission tickets. "On-site security will have to be increased," McDonnell wrote, "and procedures instituted to ensure that alcohol is not carried into Stepan.

Lawler was unavailable for comment last night.

McDonnell suggested "perhaps it would be better holding events in the ACC, dining hall, Engineering Auditorium, and Washington Hall — locations in which we have not experienced the alcohol problems associated with a Stepan event."

Two other major studentsponsored activities held in Stepan Center - the Collegiate Jazz Festival and the Country Rock Jam were not cancelled by the administration, but McDonnell has instructed that the new sanctions apply to these events as well.

Striking Philadelphia teachers peacefully walk to police van Wednesday morning after they were arrested for contempt of a court order for blocking the entrance to the Board of Education offices.

More than 200 persons were taken into custody. The teachers are striking to force the city to fulfill its contract and not to layoff about 3500 teachers. (AP Laserphoto)

Power failure

Explosions darken Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) - An explosion and fire at a generating station knocked out power to much of lower Manhattan for four hours yesterday, trapping office workers in elevators, snarling traffic, closing financial markets and creating transit chaos for homebound commuters

Traffic lights went out, telephones went over to emergency power, and closed because they were without traffic lights were out, creating paralyzing street gridlock. Traffic control agents were dispatched, and some private citizens stepped in to direct traffic to help solve the giant

An eyewitness said he heard two explosions at the Con Ed station, but the company said it had not determined what caused the blast. four hours after the blackout started, power was restored to all areas.

Paul Cohen, a Traffic Department control agent standing in the middle of a downtown intersection, said that with traffic lights out "people just do what they want. It's bedlam over here. There are a lot of tem-

"I've been sitting here for about one hour," said Rolando Revs as he listened to the radio in his idling sports car at the corner of Broadway and Chambers Street at about 6 p.m..

Flashlights and candles lighted the way down darkened stairwells for workers trapped in skyscrapers on the street. But many bars were cars jammed intersections where power and electric cash registers would not work.

Telephone service was switched to emergency power, but dial tones were slow in coming. Lines of people at downtown phone booths stretched 20 deep.

Subways slowed to a crawl with signal lights affected. Bus stops were jammed with displaced subway "People just do what they want. It's bedlam over bere."

Before power was restored, Lawrence Kleinman, a Con Edison spokesman, said there was no danger of the kind of problem that has blacked out the whole city in the "The problem is co Many people were drinking beer within the area that has been affected," he said.

Roemer toughens alcohol abuse stand on

By BOB VONDERHEIDE News Staff

Dean of Students James Roemer, in issuing his annual alcohol directive banning kegs of beer on campus, included a new, specific fine of $100 for all students having a keg on University grounds.

A $100 fine is also the penalty for carrying alcohol on campus-owned grounds, or for drinking alcohol inside the football stadium, according to the directive.

Roemer, by spelling out the specific fines, sees the directive as an indication of a "tougher stand" on alcohol abuse at Notre Dame.

'An awful lot of people here abuse alcohol," Roemer said. "As part of an educational institution, there's no way we can look the other way. We want to deal with the problem in a strong, effective way

Before the changes were made, Roemer consulted Student Body President Don Murday, Judicial Coordinator Carol Silva, and Hall Presidents' Council President Mike Martin for their reactions

Murday feels the keg fine is far too high and that it will not deter alcohol abuse. "You can get drunk just as well off cans as off kegs," he said, adding that kegs are more economical and easier to clean.

Roemer said the administration remains opposed to kegs because "a keg attracts a large crowd of people who hurry to get their share. Granted," he said, "it tastes better and is more economical, but there's almost a compulsion to exhaust the contents of a keg.

In other years, the directive did not spell out the fines; it only said violators might be sent to the Dean of Students, who usually handled the problem by assessing a $50 fine deposits forfeited.

Roemer set the fine at $100 since that amount is a "stronger deterrent." Also, he said the $50 fine became traditional six years ago when $50 was worth "about as much as $100 is now."

"We're trying our darnedest to enforce this policy," Roemer added.

See KEGS, page 4

New faculty offices

Donor contributes $5 million for complex

By JOE LUBBEN News Staff

A grant of $5 million by an anonymous donor will enable the University to build a new faculty office complex on the southeast quadrangle behind O'Shaughnessy Hall.

The long-awaited building will house the offices of the faculty in the College of Arts and Letters that are presently located in the basement of the Memorial Library

The anonymous grant will provide most of the funding for the project, which will not only alleviate the present cramped condition of faculty offices, but also create room for expansion of the University Library collection in the area now used by the profesors.

According to Donald Dedrick, director of the physical plant, the building is in a "schematic planning stage." He explained, "right now we're deciding what type of facilities we will have, without doing any actual designing." It will be at least a year, he said, before bids are taken for the actual construction. However, Dedrick predicted "it's going to be an exciting building."

Improvement on the present situation of the faculty offices for Arts and Letters is definitely needed, according to acting Dean Robert Burns. "The offices are cramped," Burns said. "We simply don't have adequate office space."

He added that "the faculty are like moles living underground there (in the library basement)." The new facility will have windows for natural light in all the offices, according to Burns. "This building will be a welcome improvement.'

While the faculty and students will have a better environment in which to meet, the Memorial Library will be gaining a fair amount of space from the vacated offices in its basement. Though he said it is still to early to make definite plans for utilizing that space, Director of the Libraries Robert Miller speculated that "any space opened up would be used primarily for expansion of our collection.'

However, Miller explained that much remodeling would have to be done before the areas could be utilized. Miller estimated that it would be at least three years before such a project would be completed.

News Briefs

by The Observer and The Associated Press

Solidarity's powerful Warsaw branch proposed free elections in Poland yesterday in a draft resolution that put the independent union on a new collision course with the communist regime. The delegates to the union's first national congress tried to sidestep another challenge to the government - a measure that would remove wording from the union charter acknowledging the leading role of the Communist Party. But the congress faced a procedural fight over the issue, and Gdansk delegate Lech Sobieszek worked furiously to put it back on the meeting's already packed agenda. Meanwhile, the Polish Communist Party paper, Trybuna Ludu, said the support Solidarity expressed for free union activists throughout the Soviet bloc was "an attempt to interfere in the socio-political life of friendly -(communist) - countries." "In plain language, the message is a call for changes in the existing social structures in other countries of realistic socialism, a call for creation of similar organisms as Solidarity, and a readiness to cooperate in such changes," the paper said. -AP

Balking at any return to the "old ways of Nixon," Democratic congressional leaders assailed yesterday a drive by President Reagan's supporters to reinstate executive authority to withhold money Congress had voted to spend. Speaking to reporters upon Congress' return from a month-long recess, House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., said Reagan's "pie in the sky" economic predictions are falling apart. Meanwhile, Senate Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, said he saw an administration in disarray. House Republican Leader Robert H. Michel of Illinois and Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., met with Reagan at the White House Tuesday to propose legislation that would give Reagan limited authority to impound - namely, not spend - appropriated funds. Richard M. Nixon repeatedly impounded federal funds when he was president. An anguished Democratic Congress enacted legislation which barred that practice in 1974. -AP

Primary elections in the nation's largest city were apparently doomed yesterday when the U.S. Supreme Court refused to interfere with a voting rights ruling that barred today's scheduled vote. After hearing oral arguments in his chambers, Jusice Thurgood Marshall discussed the case with other justices by telephone, then issued a two-sentence ruling denying a stay. Tom Goldstein, a spokesman for the mayor, said Corporation Counsel Allen Schwartz "has called the mayor and told him there'll be no citywide election tomorrow." Goldstein said, "There are options that can be pursued tomorrow," but he would not elaborate, saying only that "we will have further announcements tomorrow as options become clear." Schwartz, the city's top lawyer, had sought the stay from Marshall after failing to win reconsideration from the special three-judge panel that issued the ruling Tuesday. The ruling left campaigns in chaos and voters in confusion. -AP

Tavern owner Ramona Desich testified yesterday that Ralph DeMeyer, at the time a candidate for St. Joseph County sheriff, offered to allow her to operate a house of prostitution in exchange for campaign finanacing. DeMeyer later was elected, and remains in office. Mrs. Desich said the deal was offered during a meeting in February 1978 involving herself, DeMeyer and Edwin Hayden at Hayden's home in Mishawaka. Hayden, who was an organizer of DeMeyer's campaign, is an unindicted co-conspirator in the charge that accuses the sheriff of extorting money from Mrs. Desich from 1978-80 in exchange for protection of Mrs. Desich' prostitution operations. DeMeyer was indicted by a federal grand jury late last

Eighteen thousand Hoosiers will lose welfare benefits Oct. 1, according to the head of the Indiana Department of Public Welfare, under new guidelines adopted by Congress. Robert F. Smith, the department's acting administrator, said federal, state and local expenditures for welfare in Indiana will dip about $20 million a year because of the changes. Smith said the new procedure involves a formula used to calculate eligibility for Assistance to Families with Dependent Children and the related Medicaid. A more complicated system will be replaced by setting a maximum of 150 percent of the state standard of need for recipients which is based on size of family, said Marion N. Steffy, director of public assistance. When a person gets a lump sum payment, such as an insurance settlement, she said, the money will be considered in determining AFDC eligiblity for that month. Also the amount that exceeds the monthly allowance for income will be used to judge continued ineligiblity, she said. -AP

Forty-six Chinese scientists say they believe they have found a rarity in the modern world - a pollution free spot. China's official Xinhua news agency said the conclusion followed examination of thousands of animal, plant, soil and water samples on the 8,182-foot Fanjing mountain in south China's Guizhou province. The secluded mountain in subtropical northeastern Guizhou usually is shrouded in clouds. Gray and gold-haired monkeys, as ancient and rare as China's prized Pandas, inhabit the mountain, the report said. It said most of the forest on Fanjing mountain still is virgin timber, and some of the medicinal and other plants there date back to anywhere from 2 million to 70 million years ago. -AP

Mostly sunny and a bit warmer today. High in the low 80s. Fair and mild tonight. Low in the mid 50s. Sunny and warm tomorrow High in the low to mid 80s. -AP

YOUNGEST ON DEATH ROW: At 17, Todd Ice, shown here in his Eddyville, Kv., prison cell, is believed to be the youngest death row prisoner in the U.S. His death sentence for the slaying of a seven-year-old girl is under automatic appeal.

NAACP LEADER DIES: President Lyndon Johnson bands one of the pens be used in signing the Civil Rights Bill in the White House to Roy Wilkins, Executive Secretary of the NAACP, in this 1964 AP file photo. Wilkins, who led the NAACP for 22 years, died Tuesday at New York University Medical Center. He was 80.

AP Photo File

HOBO CAMP DISCOVERY: Officer Sharon Jones of the Lexington, Ky., police department, looks over the bobo campsite where she took a four-month-old girl into protective custody. She found the child sleeping on the dirty mattress at center.

UP IN SMOKE: Mary Ann Miller didn't realize the muzzleloading rifle she fired at the Old-Time Family Day in Louisville, Ky., Monday was going to create such an atmospheric disturbance. Jim Cloe of the Knob Creek Muzzle Loaders Club belps clear the smoke.

The Observer

| Design Editor       | Monica Gugle         |
|---------------------|----------------------|
| Design Assistants   | Tonia Hap            |
|                     | Randy Rentner        |
| Layout Staff        |                      |
| Typesetter          | Mike Jans            |
| News Editor         | Kelli Flint          |
| Copy Editor         | Tom Jackman          |
| Sports Copy Editor  | Dave Dziedzic        |
| Typist              | Skip Desjardin       |
| Systems Control     | Bruce Oakley         |
| ND Day Editor       |                      |
| SMC Day Editor      |                      |
| Ad Design           | Fran Fierko          |
| Mary Torc           | hia, Bob Slota, etc. |
| Photographer        | Linda Shanahan       |
| Guest Appearances   |                      |
| Molality, Concentr  |                      |
| Company of the last | Basicity             |
| Precipitates Coll   | loidal Suspensions   |

The Observer (USPS 598 920) is published Monday through Friday and on home football Saturdays, except during exam and vacation periods. The of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $25 per year ($15 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q. Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved. Second class postage paid at Notre Dame, Indiana 46556

Observer is published by the students

THURSDAY NIGHT FILM SERIES

Thursday, September 10

McCabe and Mrs. Miller Warner Brothers 1971

Robert Altman's ode to the Western, "a pipe dream of a movie," according to Pauline Kael. With Warren Beatty and Julie Christie. Cinematography by Vilmos Zsigmond, music by Leonard Cohen, from a screenplay by Brian McKay MUSEUM OF ART

7:30 pm admission $1.00 sponsored by the ND-SMC COMMUNICATION & THEATRE

Tiannellos ITALIAN-AMERICAN FOODS Corner Spring & 13th, Mishawaka

HOURS: Tues., Wed., Thurs. 4 to 10 Fri. & Sat.

4 to 11

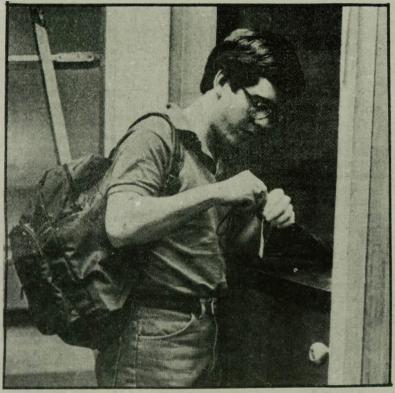

Stuffed Pizza

Our Specialty

$1.00 off any size stuffed pizza with student ID good thru Feb. 28

1123 Spring Street

256-2620

Brian Eichenlaub of Flanner Hall tries to identify his black umbrella from among the many turned into the Lost and Found in the basement of the Administration building. (photo by Linda

Leaders meet

Reagan assures U.S. support

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan, moving to allay Israel's concerns about U.S. arms deals with her Arab foes, assured Prime Minister Menachem Begin yesterday of unflagging American support because "We know Israelis live in constant

Neither leader mentioned publicly the pending $8.5 billion package of U.S. arms to Saudi Arabia, which may face a threatened congressional veto next month, as they exchanged tributes in an elaborate welcoming ceremony on the South Lawn of the White House.

When the two men met privately, Begin outlined "quietly and without the slightest bit of rancor" his opposition to the Saudi sale but did not ask Reagan to withdraw it, according to a senior U.S. official who asked not to be named. After hearing Begin out, Reagan then "indicated he expects the ... sale to be approved by Congress," the official said.

Still, that test on Capitol hill looms as extremely close, by all accounts, and the administration hoped Begin would indeed muffle his heretofore vehement opposition to the Saudi deal. In exchange, Reagan was expected to offer even closer military links between Israel and the United States - including, possibly, intelligence gathered by American

But Reagan left no doubt Arab countries have roles in his strategy to protect the Persian Gulf oilfields against Soviet encroachment.

Working with all our friends in the Middle East we seek to reinforce the security of the entire region," Reagan said in his public remarks.

And yet, he said, "the security of Israel is a principal objective of this administration.

We know Israelis live in constant peril," Reagan declared at the ceremony under sunny skies. "But advisers, then with a larger group.

Israel will have our help."

Begin, who is on his 12th visit to the United States, has assailed the Saudi arms sale as "endangering very seriously the security of Israel." It would give 62 American F-15s the Saudis are buying the range to reach Israeli territory. Also included in the deal are five modern radar planes which operate as a far-seeing flying command post.

In his speech, Begin stressed Israel's vulnerability. He said it had to fight five wars "out of necessity to defend our people and to save its existence and sustain our indepen-

At the same time, he assured Reagan "we shall stand together and Israel will give its share in defending human liberty."

Reagan and Begin met for nearly two hours, initially with a handful of

NOW . . HAVE BLATZ DRAFT BEER ANYTIME, ANYWHERE!

Lake Shore Distributors

Vernon Jordan resigns as League president

dan Ir., one of the nation's most respected civil rights leaders who survived a sniper attack last year, announced yesterday he will resign as president of the National Urban line, from time to time I will speak

Jordan, whose departure is efbecome a partner in the Washington, D.C., branch of the Dallas law feld. Robert Strauss, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee and former President Carter's 1980 campaign director, is a partner in the firm.

The 46-year-old Jordan said neither his health nor the still unsolved May 29, 1980, attack in Fort Wayne, Ind., had anything to do with his decision to leave the non-profit, non-partisan civil rights organization after a decade as its leader.

"I contemplated a 10-year job from the beginning. Ten years of hard work suggests that it's time to pass the torch," he said.

He added, "I feel absolutely ter-

An outspoken critic of Reagan Administration policies, Jordan said that while he would be "off the front my piece ... One can resign from the leadership, but not from the troops. fective Dec. 31, said he would I'm still black. I still care. I'm still committed.

A seven-member search commitfirm of Akin, Gump, Strauss, Hauer & tee has been appointed to assist the Urban League's board of trustees in selecting a successor. Coy G. Eklund, chairman of the board, said the organization has "no one in mind at the moment" but expected the decision to be made before Jordan

> "Heve the leadership of the Urban League with pride in what we have been able to accomplish; disappointment with the halt in progress toward equality; sadness at leaving my colleagues and friends, and exhilaration at the prospect of a new career," Jordan told a crowded news

MASTERCARD VISA SEARS College Credit Card Program

lenient terms - over 90% accepted established your credit

WHEN: Wednesdays, Thursdays LaFortune 11-1 pm dining halls 4:30-6:30 pm sponsored by the finance club(3657)

TONIGHT AT SENIOR BARSS

TAME THE TIGERS

with a "Passionate Irish Kiss!"

Special on this drink all night!

Don't forget, Friday is Senior Bar's first Pre-Pep Rally Beer Garden Celebration! Show the spirit of the fighting Irish --Wear your Blue & Gold! open 4:30 pm to 7:00 pm

What do football and beer have in common? BEER BALLS 5 gallons of draft beer in a no deposit keg. Perfect for tailgators and post game celebrations. OAK DAIRY PARTY STORE 1129 Stateline Road 684-4950 open sunday

Michigan law... ND SMC checks

THE FIRST SPEAKER OF THE YEAR

Katherine Brady on Incest, Rape and Child Abuse

Monday, Sept. 14 8 pm Library Aud.

reception for all to follow sponsored by your student union

HERTZ ECONOMY FARES WEEKENDS FROM $16.99 A DAY

234-3712 at Airport 232-5871 Downtown

These Economy Fares are Touring Rates, subject to change without notice and non-discountable. There are no minimum day and advance reservation requirements, but where cars must be returned. Gas is not included. Call Hertz for details

WHERE WINNERS RE

SPICER PIZZA

"Featuring Eastern Style Subs" Complete Deli Sandwich Line

ANGEIA

Expires Oct. 15, 1981

SPICER'S 1 mile (Next to Joe's)

$1.00 off any large pizza with this coupon Open 7 days - Open for lunch

Mon. thru Thurs. 10:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Fri. & Sat. till 1:00 Sun. 4:30 to 10:30 Just 3 minutes from Campus

Representing charity?

Woman peddles monkeys

By DAVE GUFFEY News Staff

A woman claiming to be from a youth charity group was illegally soliciting in Holy Cross Hall Tuesday night, and an investigation has shown that the woman is probably a member of the Holy Spirit Association for the Unification of World Christians, commonly refered to as 'Moonies.'

Around 11:15 p.m. Tuesday, a woman approximately 23 years old was going door-to-door selling small stuffed monkeys. She claimed that it was "National Monkey Day" for her charity and profits from the sale of these toys would go to take care of orphans and for alcohol and drug rehabilitation.

. Kegs

continued from page 1

A rough draft, which the three student leaders examined, dictated that 'other sanctions" would have been possible also for having kegs or for carrying alcohol. Murday said that Roemer struck that phrase from the directive altogether at the three students' request attempting to eliminate any vagueness in the

Actually, a directive dated Sept. 4 erroneously includes the "other sanctions" phrase on the keg fine, but a corrected directive dated today outlines just the $100 fine specifically named her charity, and of her sales approach was remarkably similar to those used by members of the Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church, according to local reference works.

Several Holy Cross residents bought the stuffed toys for five dollars each. One paid by check, When he asked who he should make the put the initials "H-S-A - U-W-C." This is the acronym for the Holy their rectors immediately

However, the woman never Spirit Association for the Unification World Christians or the "Moonies."

> Holy Cross Rector Bro. Frank Rotsaert noted that no one had been given permission to conduct such a sales campaign on campus by the Student Activities office, which must sanction all such solicitations.

Holy Cross and other residents check out to, the woman told him to have been warned to report any such door-to-door solicitations to

Football lottery winners

Winners in the Student Union lot- 095607340 ery for Michigan and Purdue tickets are listed below by ID number, by game. Winners may buy one ticket or the game under which they are listed at the Student Union Ticket Office/Record Store, Tuesday, Sept. 15, through Thursday, Sept. 17, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Winners are listed in numerical order.

|  | AN |
|--|----|
|  |    |
|  |    |
|  |    |

| MICH      | IIGAN                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|-----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 014526687 | 049447887                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 014587616 | 050447512                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 019563443 | 050568224                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 021508260 | 057429078                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 034542459 | 057429791                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 040606053 | 059460179                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 041640427 | 067540297                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 042506448 | 070385205                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 043505868 | 075507645                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 046668431 | 079502721                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 047665504 | 079601433                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 048563603 | 093609954                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|           | ALEXANDER VIOLENCE DE LA CONTRACTOR DE L |

327621247

328429721 330523441

333645452

339627806

342425547

344406260

344526615

344604432 345487597

348483329

349468806

353623785

354402715 354406530

356562301

357604883

361404191 361624010

362645264

362723399

362804403

See LOTTERY, page 8

$1.00 OFF! any regular record or tape with ad. Limit 1 per person Expires Oct. 1,1981

RIVER CITY RECORDS

Why pay more any place else?

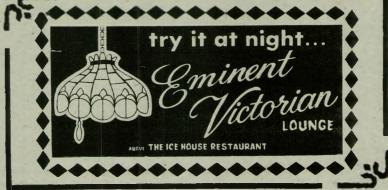

Northern Indiana's Largest Selection of Albums & Tapes.

50970 US 31 North 3 miles North of Campus next to Al's Supermarket

277-4242

Open till 10 every night ND/SMC checks cashed up to $20 over purchase amount ● Record Crates available

A NOTRE DAME TRADITION FOR YEARS

222329906

225864106

227067870

234020593

236081951

254273017

261316018

261375229

261519961

262824727 263593105

268629541

268709573

269567961 273426015

273585017

273682093

274526760

276488169

276609682

277688969

279488837

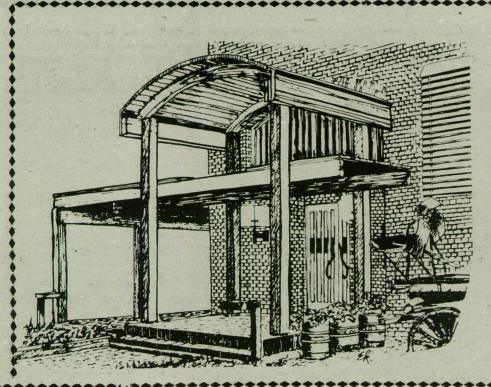

THE ICI RESTAURANT

FOR RESERVATIONS — 259-9925

LUNCH - DINNER - SUNDAY BRUNCH

Enjoy dinner in our 3 story wood & brick dining room

Located in Historic 100 Center — Mishawaka

Amnesia victim rediscovers wife

By SHARON COHEN Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) - When Larry Krusinski leaves the hospital for the first time in a year, he will go home to a wife he can't remember marrying, but a woman who cared so deeply for him that he fell in love with her twice.

Krusinski is suffering from amnesia - the aftermath of head injuries suffered in a car accident that almost killed him.

After 12 months in a hospital room, Krusinski will return home Saturday to join his wife, Jane, who has twice inspired his love.

The ordeal began one evening in September 1980 when Krusinski's car smashed into a tree. Krusinski, then 28, arrived at the hospital in a coma. A priest gave him last rites. Doctors were not certain he would

But his wife was.

THURSDAY FOCUS

The one thing I remember was touching him for the first time there," she said. "I thought if I touched him, he'd be OK. God, he was still alive.

"I remember people asking me if I was prepared if he would die," said Mrs. Krusinski, a 25-year-old beautician. "I just didn't think of it. It was like a dream standing there."

For 10 anxious days, Mrs. Krusinski waited for signs that would give her hope. His eyes opened. His hands started moving.

But when he looked into her eyes he saw a stranger. He didn't recognize the woman he had married three years earlier.

"I didn't realize I wasn't going to be remembered," she said. "I kept trying to show him pictures. He didn't remember them. He really didn't know what he looked like. He hadn't seen a mirror."

The past was not a total blank. "He remembers his family and most of my family," she said. "He could recall when he was a little kid just like yesterday. He recognized college friends and stories they told. He even remembered our first date when we went and played bingo."

Program offers awards

The Youthgrants Program of the National Endowment for the Humanities will once again offer a limited number of awards to young people in their teens and twenties to pursue non-credit, out-of-theclassroom research projects in the humanities. The deadline for receipt of empleted application forms is November 16, and funded projects begin the following May.

Up to 75 grants will be awarded, offering as much as $2500 for individuals and a few group grants up to $10,000 ($15,000, for exceptional media projects). Youthgrants are intended primarily for those between 18 and 25 who have not yet completed academic or professional training but can demonstrate the ability to design and perform outstanding humanities research and translate that into an end product to share with others.

If you are interested in the program, a copy of the guidelines should be available for review at the Placement Office.

But the memory of their home and their days together was wiped

Mrs. Krusinski wasn't frightened. She visited him almost every day, bringing him pizzas, telling him funny stories and saying again and again that she loved him. "I was trying to bring his memory back," she said.

Throughout the long days of waiting, she said, "He was real honest. He didn't remember me. But he really seemed to like me. He trusted me right away.'

And then one special day, after she told her husband she loved him, he repeated the words to her.

"I think he fell in love with me all over again. He doesn't remember that he ever loved me before.

Quarterback Jane Cugini, of the awesome Pasquerilla West football team, practices with ber running backs Jean Gartland and Kathy

Maher. The team is coached by Dave Crawford and Greg Liebscher. (photo by Linda Shanahan)

TODAY!!!

Business Activities Council Picnic

From 3:30-6:30

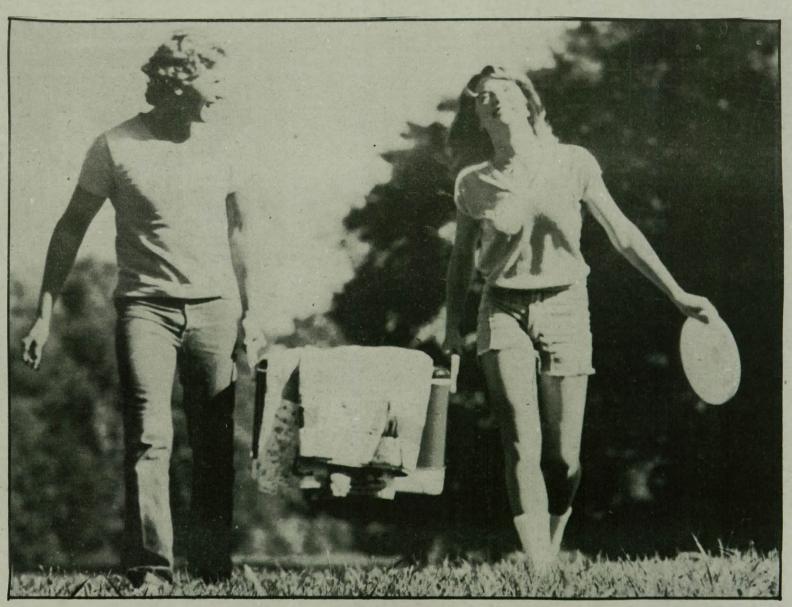

Placement night follows immediately

SMC STUDENT GOVT ALLOCATION APPLICATIONS Available Now

Student Activities Office 168 Lemans All SMC/ND clubs & organizations eligible due mon. sept 21

CUT CLASS WITH EVELYN WOOD.

Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics invites you to a free Lesson. It's the first lesson in our remarkable 7 week course....and you're invited FREE of charge. You'll not only learn about reading faster and better, but you'll also learn:

HOW TO TAKE BETTER NOTES

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR STUDY TECHNIQUES

HOW TO TAKE TESTS

HOW TO COMPREHEND AND REMEMBER MORE OF WHAT YOU READ

HOW TO REDUCE STUDY TIME

This is actually the first lesson of the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics course...AND IT'S FREE! You're under absolutely no obligation when

BUSCH. The official beer of The Charlie Daniels Band."

Don't drink, drive

To enjoy a night out with friends at the local bar may sound like fun, but the thought of who's going to drive when it's time to leave is not.

Alcohol-related driving accidents (one-half of highway fatalities) kill 25,000 people each year, with many of the victims simply innocent motorists who happen to collide with someone not responsible enough to realize the effects of alcohol on driving. Even with a high body tolerance to alcohol, the substance, a depressant, slowly creeps into one's system, dulling reflexes and judgement and creating a dangerous situation behind the

In 1979, 47,000 individuals from 18-24 were arrested for driving while intoxicated, with the overall amounts totaling 977,300 males and 94,400 females arrested for the charge according to the Statistical Abstract of the

Millions of dollars are spent each year on various drinking-driver programs, but a 1979 study done by the federal Comptroller General's Office indicates that attitude is the problem. "Before any significant reduction in alcohol-related traffic accidents will occur, a long term continuous educational commitment must be made. Governments, educational institutions, and the general public need to work together to change attitudes about drinking and driving," the report states.

Society's acceptance and use of alcohol — too much alcohol — is a large obstacle to solving the drinking-driver problem. The CGO report also cites a 1977 Gallup poll that reported 71 percent of American adults indicated themselves as "drinkers" as opposed to "abstainers." Per capita consumption of alcohol has been increasing steadily over the past 20 years, weaving alcohol into almost every leisure setting - whether it be an athletic event, social gathering of friends and organizations, or the weekly ritual of "happy hour." Drinking, according to the CGO report, "is often associated with positive concepts in our society, such as maturity, glamour, and good times.

Drinking and driving is unacceptable at all times. The Observer recently endorsed a keg proposal for campus residence halls. We also endorse responsibility. Injury to yourself, or worse, to someone else, due to negligence is inexcusable.

Whenever you drink, don't drive - ever.

P.O. Box Q

ND-SMC gays seek support

Dear Editor.

Over the last 12 years the Gay Students of Notre Dame-Saint Mary's College (GSND-SMC) have been meeting the needs of gay students in the Notre Dame-Saint Mary's community. Continuing in this tradition we wish to inform gay students that there is an existing group of students willing to provide mutual support.

It might help people to better understand this group by stating some of the things we are not. We are not a political group concerned with wielding power within the University or anywhere else. We are not a group of freaks or whackos but a group of normal, well-balanced, intelligent human beings indistinguishable on the whole from anyone else on campus. In fact, most people probably have gay friends without ever suspecting they are gay. Further, we are not interested in "recruiting" people to our ranks, but we are concerned with helping people who are questioning their sexuality in the generally repressive atmosphere here at ND-SMC.

If you are a gay student, think you may be gay, or are just interested in finding out what being gay is all abou feel free to call the Gay Student Hotline at 283-6282 between 9 and 11 p.m. on Thursday nights, or write ND P.O. Box 206. Confidentiality is

Mary's College

ND alum offers help

Dear Editor:

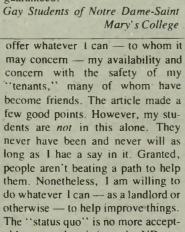

I read your editorial, "Whither oc crime," (Sept. 2) with much interest. As a landlord of many Notre Dame students and a former Domer myself (Class of 1981), I am very concerned with the crime situation. 1 have tried to be active in solutions to a very real problem. Last year, as a senior at ND, I met much resistance from all sides — administration, city and students. In spite of this, limited success was achieved, even in the face of apathy.

As in past years, I would like to few good points. However, my students are not in this alone. They long as I hae a say in it. Granted, do whatever I can - as a landlord or otherwise — to help improve things. The "status quo" is no more acceptable to me than it is to the ND students living in any of my homes.

offer my help. Give me a call (234-7968) or stop by any evening at 525 Napoleon St. I welcome the chance to accomplish more improvements.

Tim Mannix South Bend

Again, for whatever it is worth, I

U.S. correct in South Africa

If you desired, Thursday last, to take your news from evening television, and relied on CBS, you would have come upon the story of the South African incursion into Angola

Dan Rather: "South Africa's incursion into Angola evoked condemnations from governments aroud the world - with one major exception. The only vote supporting South Africa's right to participate in the discussion on the future of Namibia (was the United States) ... Its lone support for the South Africans has evoked some comments.'

(Camera to Julian Bond, black activist in Atlanta.)

Bond: "This nation is a blot on the conscience of the world. For the United States to be in alliance with it lowers us to a level that no president previously has ever done.

(Camera to Andrew Young, former U.S. ambassador to the U.N.,

now running for mayor of Atlanta.)
Young: "(The acti t on by the United States) will cost American corporations billions as black Africans take their business elsewhere. Supporting racist South Africa in Angola, (we are) thereby sanctioning the slaughter of blacks by 4.5 million whites in a continent of 450 million blacks.

(Camera to Donald McHenry, former U.S. ambassador to the U.N.)

McHenry: "The U.S. risks being identified as a country which will do nothing unless we are opposing the Cubans and the Soviets ... we would go to the help of the devil."

(Camera to an assistant to Dan

Assistant: "Black leaders are planning to express protest ... If South Africa is permitted to invade Angola without any protest, who is to say that Zimbabwe won't be next?"

Had enough? There is no way in which that question can be negatively answered — because there is no more. I mean, that is CBS's entire treatment of the entire incident, three black leaders telling us that South Africa is a racist country, and that the United States, by voting for South Africa, is derivatively pro-racist.

What happened?

In 1975 the Cubans, directed by the Soviet Union, landed a detachment of troops in Angola. Their goal was, of course, to communize Angola. To take advantage of a) the departure of the Portuguese, and b) the confusion in Washington over the loss of Saigon, to do to Angola what the communists were simultaneously doing to Mozambique and would later do to Ethiopia, i.e., establish communist dictatorships aimed at

About the Author: William F. Buckley, Jr., one of the most controversial public figures in America, is the editor of National Review, host of television's "Firing Line," nationally syndicated in over 300 newspapers around the country, and the author of numerous books. Buckley's career has taken him from Yale to the United Nations into politics and journalism, where he has become something of an institution. His column will run every Thursday in The Observer.

bringing convulsion to noncommunist African states.

The United States was enjoined by such as Senators Church, Cooper and Javits from resisting the colonization of Angola by Cuba. However, antitotalitarian forces, notably championed by Jonas Savimbi, have ever since continued to resist the central communist tyranny.

South Africa, which has been running Namibia (South West Africa) ever since World War I, notwithstanding that the old mandate has been revoked by the United Nations, is unwilling to turn Namibia over to the South West African Peoples Organization (SWAPO) because this movement, quite simply put, is an arm of the Soviet Union. SWAPO has engaged in concerted acts of terrorism against Namibia from its guerrilla bases in Angola

.Anthony Walton

William F. Buckley

On the Right

The South Africans announced that this must end and struck the guerrilla bases in Angola; and, having struck them, pulled out.

The United Nations, led by such exemplars of freedom and justice as the Soviet Union and China, drew up a resolution condemning South Africa and a second resolution banning South Africa from participating in any of the conferences that would determine the future of Namibia. With the exception of Great Britain, which abstained, other countries took what one must these days call the "Mitterrand Line."

The United States, through Ambassador Kirkpatrick and Charles Lichenstein, voted No in a carefully worded statement which said a) we don't approve of violence; b) we don't approve of apartheid; but c) this isn't a pure and simple case of South Africa attacking a peaceful Angola, but one of a series of violent actions and counteractions, precipitated by Angola, not South Africa; and d) the issue before the U.N. is the action against Angola, not the domestic policies of South Africans, as to which the U.S. is fully on the record. And finally, e) there would not seem to be much point in discussing the future of Namibia, which is governed by South Africa, without the participation in those discussions of South Africa.

This is a complicated world, but it really isn't so complicated that CBS News should leave us feeling that we would get a clearer account of what is going on by reading the comic strips than by listening to three U.S. black leaders who find nothing to criticize in the Cuban totalitarization of Angola, and who seek to frighten us into good behavior by the awful specter of a black African boycott of American

Universal Press Syndicate

Michael Monk

.Tom MacLennan

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions, and letters are the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged

Editorial Board and Department Managers

SMC Executive Editor ..

Production Manager

Circulation Manager

John McGrath Editor in-Chief. Managing Editor Tom Jackman Executive News Editor ..Lynne Daley .Tim Vercellotti News Editor ....Kelli Flint Senior Copy Editor ...... Mary Fran Callahan Sports Editor . Michael Ortman Features Editor.

| SMC News Editor     | OMEIN DOMESTICO |
|---------------------|-----------------|
| Photo Editor        | John Macor      |
| Business Manager    | Rich Coppola    |
| Controller          | Joe Mulflur     |
| Advertising Manager | Mark Ellis      |

by The Observer and The Associated Press

The deadline for entry in the interhall track meet is next Wednesday (Sept. 16). The meet, scheduled for Friday, Sept. 25, is for both Notre Dame men and women. Sign-up at the Office of Non-Varsity Athletics (C-2 of the ACC) or call 6100. – The Observer

Cross Country league competition will consist of seven man teams. All members must be from the same hall. The deadline for entries is Wednesday (Sept. 16) and can be submitted to the NVA office (C-2 of the ACC) or call 6100. Competition will take place on Burke Golf course and the time and date will be announced. — The Observer

Referees are needed for Notre Dame's women's interhall flag football. Interested men or women should contact the NVA office at 6100 or stop by C-2 of the ACC. — The Observer

The ND chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) is sponsoring a presentation of the Notre Dame-FCA Forum with assistant football coach Tom Lichtenberg on Wednesday, September 16. The session will be held in St. Edward's chapel at 8:30 p.m. This will be the first of a series of monthly forum. The FCA is a non-denominational group which promotes Christian fellowship among athletes and coaches. — The Observer

The ND soccer team scored a convincing victory yesterday in its league opener. The Irish defeated Grace College, 7-0, at Winona Lake, Ind. Every member of coach Rich Hunter's squad played in the contest, which the Irish led 4-0 at halftime. Ed O'Mally, Jay Schwartz, Sami Kahale, Ken Harkenrider, Rich Herdegen, Steve Chang, and Ed Williams all scored for the Irish. Notre Dame outshot Grace, 34-2. Goalies John Milligan and Gerard McCarthy combined for the shutout. — The Observer

Windsurfing at Notre Dame? That's right. A preliminary gathering of students interested in this new activity is scheduled for this evening at 6:30 p.m. in the Library Auditorium. All are welcome. — The Observer

Basketball tryouts are scheduled for Monday (Sept. 14) for any interested Notre Dame women. Call the basketball office at 4428 before the weekend for more details. — The Observer

A jogging clinic is scheduled for next Tuesday, Sept. 15 at 7 p.m. in the ACC Auditorium. Notre Dame track and cross country coach and noted clinician Joe Piane will speak on developing different types of running programs. Admission is free. — The Observer

TENNIS

Yesterday's Results Saint Mary's 8, Valparaiso 1 SINGLES

No. 1 — Debbie Laverie (SMC) def. Erin O'Neill 6-0. 6-2. No. 2 — Mary Ann Heckman (SMC) def. Julie Bartler

4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

No. 3 — Brenda Busse (V) def Maureen Fitzgerald 6-4, 6-1.

No. 4 — Ann Huber (SMC) def Sue Jenny 6-2, 6-2.

No. 5 — Ann Dodd (SMC) def Carol LeFeore 7-5, 4-6, 6-3.

No. 6 — Carmel Maenza (SMC) def. Lori Wolfe 6-2, 6-1.

DOUBLES

No. 1 — Debbic Laverie and Maureen Fitzgerald (SMC) def Erin O'Neill and Brenda Busse 6-2, 6-2.

No. 2 — Carmel Maenza and Mary Ann Heckman (SMC) def Julie Bartler and Lori Wolfe 6-2, 6-7, 7-2.

No. 3 — Allison Pellar and Renee Yung (SMC) def Carol LeFeore and Michelle Andergg 7-6, 6-0.

... McEnroe

continued from page 12 nan's serve.

Then came the key third set, the turning point of the match.

In the ninth game, Krishnan was up 40-0 on his serve. But McEnroe won the next five points, earning the only service break of the set. It was all downhill for Krishnan after that.

The brash New Yorker, seeking his third consecutive U.S. Open title, won the final five games to close out the match and end Krishnan's dream of reaching the semifinals.

The Observer will accept classifieds Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. However, classifieds to be run in the next issue must be received by 3 p.m. the business day prior to insertion. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or through the mail

Classifieds

NOTICES

RIDE NEEDED TO HOUSTON TEX FOR OCTOBER BREAK. WILL SHARE USUAL. CALL CHRIS AT x1678

REWARD: ND class ring stolen from Campus View apartment Friday night. Reward offered for information leading to recovery of ring or assault of thief. Initials MDL inside. Call 272-8454

IT'S ALL HAPPENING AT THE ZOO!

CRYSTAL ROCKS
CRYSTAL ROCKS
CRYSTAL ROCKS
CRYSTAL ROCKS
Saturday nite at IRISH COUNTRY With special guest Joe Eby Rock'n Roll and

LOST/FOUND

LOST GOLD RALEIGH 5-SPEED BICYCLE. ANY INFO. PLEASE CON-TACT JENNIFER MAGUIRE 6239.

QUANTA Found: Several items found at Freshman Field Day. See Lost and Found in the Admin Building.

LOST. N.D. Class Ring at Senior Bar Thursday Gold, blue spiral stone with N.D. engraved in stone. Thomas E.Conroy 82" engraved inside If found call Tom at 277-4924.

A 7-iron was lost on the golf course Saturday. If found, please call John 1689.

Lost: One runner's watch at Beach or Rockne area -- If found, Please call CHRIS at 8608. (Model: CASIO F-200.BLACK W/ LED Display)

FOUND: green jacket in rm. 356 Fitz. Hall (EG BLDG) on 9/6/81. Call 8421 to iden-

FOR RENT

2-Story frame. 7 rooms, 1-1/2 baths, basement 1212 E. Madison St., $350 mo. Call Lois Varga, 255-7244.

Efficiency apartments--100.00/mo. Near Notre Dame. On bus line. Call 255-8505 or 259-4629.

RENT TO OWN A COLOR TV OR STEREO CALL SUN APPLIANCE 291-5112

House for rent. Walk to campus. For info call Jim at 3234.

tion call 232-6344 early or late.

UGLY DUCKLING RENT-A-CAR From

259-8459 for reservations.

Need 1 roommate 4 a house, v. near campus,utilities paid, furnished kitchen. Rent v. cheap! CCall Iqbal 288-0076.

$8.95 a day and 8 cents a mile. Phone

WANTED

I NEED TWO GA TIX FOR USC!!! I WILL PAY MEGABUCKS!!! PLEASE CALL BETH AT 283-4236

NEED 2 FSU G.A. AND 2 MSU STU-DENTITIX. TOM 1020

EVERY MICHIGAN TICKET YOU HAVE

We intend to see this game if we have to knife the gatekeeper. Keep many delinquents out of jail, sell your Michigan tix now Call 272-8454

I am not choosy-will pay big bucks for 3-4 G.A. tickets to any home game. Please Bouncers wanted. Good pay and fringe benefits. Mostly saturday nites. Call 272-9913.

1 babysitter for LSU game, call 277-6255

NEED RIDE TO COLUMBUS, OHIO ANY WEEKEND OR THANKSGIVING. CALL 4850 AT SMC.

NEED FSU GA AND STUDENT TIX-WILL PAY $$$$ CALL JOHN 287-6035

Noble Roman's is now hiring waitresses and waiters, schedules can be adjusted to meet your class schedules must be 21 call 277-5303

FOR SALE

ALL YOU MCAT CANDIDATES!!! STAN-LEY KAPLAN BOOKS FOR SALE- $100.

NEED TO REVIEW FOR THE MCAT? STANLEY KAPLAN REVIEW BOOKS FOR SALE. ONLY $100 FOR THE

MCAT REVIEW BOOKS FOR SALE AAMC. BARRON'S AND ONE OTHER BOOK FOR SALE BEST OFFER. CALL BETH AT 4236.

For Sale - Couches, $30 up; Chairs, $5 up. Free Delivery to dorm. Call Mrs. Cooper at 272-3004 after 12 noon.

74 Chevy liftback, runs well driven from Wisconsin $200. call 233-2032 stereo for sale, tuntable, amp, spkrs, casst, all in good shape, call bernie at 283-7666

TICKETS

Need LSU Student & GA's. Call Jack 1173.

Need 2 LSU tickets. Call Jo 41-5236

Need 2 GA LSU tickets. Call Shirley at 1715 before 5 weekdays.

I NEED TWO GA TIX FOR USC AND WILL PAY ANYTHING!!! CALL BETH AT 4236!!

Need 2 student fix for LSU. Call John 3527

Need 2 or 4 GA tix for LSU. MSU. or FSU. Big bucks. Call Stan, 3008.

Need LSU GA's PAY MUCH $$ Call 283-8598

NEED 4 MICH. ST. TICKETS. CALL JOHN 1001

DESPERATELY NEED USC TIX FOR IRATE ALUMNUS!!! CALL CHRIS at x1678 WILL PAY GOOD BUCKS.

WANTED: 2 OR MORE GA LSU TIX. WILL PAY! CALL ROB 1628

Need 6 G.A. and 1 Stud. TIX for LSU. Call CHIP 3123

Desperately need 5FLA State tix GA or Student Jenny 41-4507

will trade 2 navy GAs for 1 Fla. St. GA call Colleen x3477

10LSU ticket wanted. Money is no object call Donna at 6771

LSU ticket wanted. Will pay mega-bucks. Call Donna at 6771

Penn St. ticket wanted please call Donna at 6771

Need 4 GA tix for Penn State. Call Dom, 3075

Need 3 or 4 GA tickets for FSU game. Call collect 219-362-4292 evenings.

FOR SALE: One complete student football ticket....best seats possible Best offer at 4604.

MSU TICKETS NEEDED (LOTS)

PREFERABLY GA. JULIE 289-6731
DESPERATELY NEED LSU GA TIX

$$$$$ CALL JOHN 1764
DESPERATELY NEED FLA. ST. TICK-

NEED 2-4 GA TIX FOR ALL HOME FOOTBALL GAMES CALL ART AT 1593

NEED PENN STATE TICKETS. CALL

Need Florida St. tickets. Call Steve.272-

Need 2 student LSU's. Chris 3384.

NEED 4 LSU GA TIX. CALL JOHN 1001
NEED: 2 or more GA LSU tickets! Call

NEED TWO GA'S TO ANY ND FOOT-BALL GAME FOR DAD. SECOND SEMESTER'S TUITION COULD BE IN PERILI CALL MIKE AT 1071.

Help! Need up to 4 GA MICHIGAN ST. tix so excited relatives can see ND in action. Call Pat 8601

I NEED LSU GA JOE 8810

Need 4 GA tix to any home football game. Call Rene 4408 SMC.

Wanted: 2 GA tickets for LSU. Call 5135 SMC

MICHIGAN tix for sale. Pair, row 59, 35 yard line. (313) 532-1313 or (313) 356-3696.

Desperately need 12 Michigan tix. Check my prices. Call Mike O. at 8661. Leave message with Shirley if necessary.

Will trade any home game ticket for one USC ticket OR will pay cash Valerie 6426

For sale, 6 lickets to the Springsteen concert in Chicago on Friday, Sept. 11. Call 6700

Want to trade 2 LSU tickets for 2 USC tickets. Call Marianne 2733 need LSU student tickets. Will pay big bucks. Call Mike C 1744

FFOR SALE: 2 LSU GA'S WANTED: 1 MSU student lix Call Vince x1238

Need 5 MSU GA tixs. Together or separate. Will pay big $$. Jack 277-5098 after 11 p.m.

WILL TRADE 2 L.S.U. G.A.'s for 2 MICHI-GAN G.A.'s call Darryl x8297

Dad Coming form Tacoma-Needs Two Tickets to USC!!! Call Bill at x1678. Need 2 LSU G.A.'s. Will pay any price.

Call Steve 3661 or 3662.

WHAT A DEAL.... WILL TRADE 2 MSU,
FSU, NAVY, OR GT TIX FOR 2 LSU

TIX.... CALL JANE AT 6889 IN THE EVENINGS.

home game. Call Mary Jane 41-4411.

Need 2 or 4 GA or Student tix to any game. MUY IMPORTANTE!!! Call Leslie or Cathy 277-2244.

U of M - ND football fix, 2 great seats! 45 yardline row 22 Best offer over $100 for pr. 313-971-2583 eves.

need 4 GA's to Michigan State call John at

Need 2 GA's any game Keith 3507

ATTENTION: desperately need one, and only one LSU ticket. Please! Call 7942 anytime.

DIVORCE RATES SOAR: By making 2 GA tix avail, to me you will help curb divorce rates. Sis & bro-in-law must see NAVY game. DOON 4640

NEED 1 STUDENT LSU TICKET PLEASE!!! call John at 1591

Michigan tickets. Call 287-6942.

NEED 3 GA FOR PURDUE. NAME
YOUR PRICE. CALL BOB AT 277-4022.

BARRY MANILOW CONCERT LOT-TERY 7PM THURS. SEPT.10 LAFORTUNE BALLROOM NEED FLORIDA STATE TICKET, Just one. Cousin coming from Florida, and she's a beautiful blonde. Call Tom at

WILL TRADE 2 GEORGIA TECH G.A.'S FOR TWO FLORIDA STATE G.A.'S OR ONE OR TWO U.S.C. G.A.S. CALL DAVID M. AT 8241

Will trade 2 LSU tickets for 2 USC tickets. Call 4726 Laura.

Help! Need 2 or more tix to any game esp. Mich. St. Call Maureen. 284-4156.

Will pay good $$.

NEED 4 LSU TIX. CALL JOHN 1001

Need 1 LSU Stud. Ticket, Chris-1714

HELP! I need ONE LSU ficket! Please call 289-8955 anytime.

Desperately need one G.A. for LSU. Will pay $$. Bruce 289-1916

WANTED:2 NAVY G.A. TIX. CALL DAVE 1396

FOR SALE: 3 PAIRS OF LSU GA'S.
BEST OFFER. CALL 3815.
For Sale 2 LSU GA's best offer gets them.

PERSONALS

Hey Jo F. Reiner:
How could a such a wild woman bite the dust so soon? The big affair must be during spring break, on the beach, complete with kegs and drugs. Lots of drugs.

And the abuse goes on...and on...and on 8960 So pick up the phone and give him a thrill; dial 8960.

1st Warning, Beware Brassil!!!!

FREE MICHELOB ON TAP! Celebrate the grand opening of IRISH COUNTRY'S new Blue/Gold Room Thursday Night as we tap a complimentary keg of Michelob at 9 PM! That's right, FREE MICHELOB

HOW COULD YOU PASS UP FREE MICHELOB DRAFTS? DON'T! IRISH COUNTRY CELEBRATES THE GRAND OPENING OF OUR NEW BLUE/GOLD ROOM WITH A FREE KEG OF MICHELOB STARTING AT 9 PM TONIGHT!

FREE MICHELOB ON TAP! TONIGHT AT IRISH COUNTRY, 9 PM!

IT'S ALL HAPPENING AT THE ZOO!

ACC Catering Service is looking for a few good men to work funcheons in the Monogram Room on home football weekends. 10-1 Saturdays and 11-3 Fridays. $3.50/hr. For info call 234-0114 (Mary) or 3323 (Jeff). Especially need people this Friday!

BARRY MANILOW CONCERT LOT-TERY 7PM. THURS SEPT 10 LAFORTUNE BALLROOM

Its Annette Isoms 20th B-day today, or was it in August??Give North- villes finest a happy B-day punch on the arm!

Freshman Clarinet Commandos, CON-GRATULATIONS! You are now members of the only truly awesome section of the band Good Luck this weekend!Tom R. P.S. Good Luck Debbie,Shelly I. and Paul

-ATTENTION LADIESkeep "HOOKSETT" happy!!!! dial 8960 and... say helio to "HOOKSETT"

keep "HOOKSETT" happy-8960

Hi Shirley!!!

LOST: VERY TALL OR VERY ATHLETIC INDIVIDUAL WEARING BRAND NEW DESIGNER JEANS. LAST SEEN IN 426 KEENAN. "FUN---WOWII" (BAAAAH) IF YOU HAVE ANY INFORMATION CALL RM. 426 AND ASK FOR KEVIN.

I LOVE YOU, MARISA. ONLY 37 MORE DAYS! KOB

I LOVE YOU, TRINA, ONLY 85 MORE DAYSIBRIAN

ACHTUNG! German Club Organizational meeting tonight September 10 at 7:00 PM in O'Shag room 121. ALL interested parties are encouraged to attend.

Judy.
Where is your Dollie? OH,MY! Will SCANDALS never cease?

TO ALL THOSE DECADENT DIEHARDS
THAT GRACED OUR HORMONALLY
CRAZED PROVINCE - THE ONCE
BEAUTIFUL BATTLE CREEK! THANKS
FOR BREAKING THE SHACKLES'
THATS WHAT WE LIKE ABOUT YOU'
SUPPOSEDLY' LAKE GOGUAC
WENT THROUGH A TIME WARP' WATERSKING WAS GREAT THE
BEER BETTER. THE COMPANY THE

CONTINUE?

LET SMUT REIGN... FOREVER!
FROM MICK! & THE GREEN EYED

Michael J. Dunn and William P. Slattery start trend. For Details call 3584

FRESHMAN FIELD DAYS— BLUE 1 IS No.1!!! Dick Lynch, Glen Ramos, John Regan, Tricia Huberty, Dena Lordi, Nick Grasberger, John Koechley, Kevin Emery, Hamil, Joanne, 4 CRAZIES from Cavanaugh: Owen Murray, Mike Schlehuber Bob Guilday, and Dave Hoerster, with "Coach" G.K. *...A BIZARRE EXPERIENCE."

Whoever took my calculator from the golf area yesterday morning, please!!! return it. That is of considerable sentimental value as it was a graduation present from my parents. You can leave it outside 23

Attention Copy Editora:

Brief but crucial meeting, SUNDAY,
SEPT. 13, 7:30 P.M. NEWSROOM, All

Soccer'81

Kickers quest for NCAA berth

By RICK KRIST Sports Writer

When the Notre Dame soccer team gained varsity status four years ago, few would have believed the program would progress to the point it is at now. The first four years have seen the team struggle through the ranks of NCAA Division I soccer, constantly growing, to the point that now the Irish field an experienced. confident group of athletes, capable of playing with the best the NCAA has to offer.

The ups and downs experienced by the squad have been numerous. Inconsistencies have plagued the team the last two seasons. Last year, for example, the squad lost a number of games which it probably should have won. The goal of this year's squad is to overcome the letdowns which invariably occur throughout a season.

of depth, especially at the forward position. The loss of Kevin Lovejoy, Notre Dame's all-time leading scorer, is not to be minimized. year's squad will provide a more past, concentrate on containing several position this year. players, whereas in the past, most teams would key on Lovejoy

Italy, shared top scoring honors last season with Lovejoy. "I feel our offense is much improved over last says Kahale. "The comand the halfbacks is better than it's last year after starting his freshman more variety than it has in the past.

assume the role of coach on the field the halfback position."

scoring attack will provide more goal output than in the past.

The starting three at forward most likely will be Kahale at center forward with junior Mario Manta and sophomore Rob Snyder on the wings. However, freshman Richard stands a chance of starting. "Rich knows the game extremely well. He fits in well and he's tough. I think he has a very good chance of being one of the starting forwards," comments Rounding out the offense this year will be Alan Gianotti and Ed Graham. Both should see plenyty of action this fall coming off the bench.

Due to the increased depth at the forward spot, senior Ed O'Malley will convert from wing to left halfback. O'Malley ranked second in scoring for the Irish last season with 13 goals. His role at halfback will be This year's squad will be one full offense-orientated and he should contribute significantly in scoring.

The job of the halfbacks this year will be altered significantly

"Our halfbacks will attack more However, indications are that this this year," explains Hunter, "In the our halfbacks weren't balanced and probably more ef-prominent in the scoring attack. We fective scoring attack. Consequent- expect a significant amount of our opponents will have to goals to come from the halfback

Joining O'Malley at midfield will be junior Jay Schwartz. As the center Co-captain Sami Kahale leads the halfback, Schwartz will utilize his Irish attack. The senior from Rome, passing skills and hustle, qualities which are essential to a center halfback speedster Sophomore Harkenrider will play at right munication between the forward halfback, the position he assumed ever been, and our attack will offer year on the wing. As Hunter explains, "Ken's speed, control and Coach Hunter says Kahale "must passing ability can be best utilized at

Filling in at midfield will be Mike

dent that this year's balanced Sullivan and Steve Berry. Both figure to see a lot of playing time. "Sullivan and Berry are just about equal to out sarting halfbacks," comments Hunter. "We feel that we're not going to hurt ourselves at all by any substitu-

The big question mark this season Herdigan of Somerset, England, will be the defense. Hunter has expressed concern over the defense, which may be the key to the team this year. "Our defense has not worked that well together this fall," admits Hunter. "This is especially disappointing because I honestly thought it was going to be our strongest area this year. As a result, we may be making some changes in the near future to strengthen the

> These changes may include freshman Tom Halubeck, who was sensational in high school at St. Xavier in Cincinnati.

> Tom is originally a midfielder." explains Hunter. "However, we've moved him to fullback at practice and he's done very well there. I think that's where his future with the team

> Anchoring the defense will be senior co-captain and center ful-Iback Jim Stein. Stein is an agressive. dedicated player. Hunter considers him one of the finest defenders in the Midwest. He saw action in only two games last year, due to a shoulder separation and a broken leg. He will be in charge of covering the best player on the opposing team this fall.

Stein also feels that the defense hasn't played up to its potential

Go for it!

Irish soccer co-captain Sami Kabale moves toward another goal. Kahale will lead the Irish against a tough schedule including games against nationallyranked Indiana and St. Louis squads. For a preview of the season, see related story at left. (photo by John Macor)

See PREVIEW, page 10

Billikens to face tougher Irish

As far as the NCAA soccer world is concerned, the game couldn't have been less important. But for the Notre Dame soccer team, an entire season may be built around the lessons of one meaningless exhibition game last spring in Fort Wayne, Ind.

The contest featured a young, revamped Irish lineup against the defending national runner-ups from Indiana University. For the past three years, Head Coach Rich Hunter and his Notre Dame program have been marking their progress as a team by the results of their annual autumn matchups against two or three of the Top 10 teams in the nation (i.e. Indiana, St. Louis, Penn State). Last April, however, Hunter decided to stick Indiana onto the end of Notre Dame's nine-game spring schedule to get a preview of what his squad will be up against this fall.

For the first time in his coaching tenure, Hunter found out his band of non-scholarship ballplayers could throw one hell of a scare into a premier national power like Indiana. Eighty minutes went by that April afternoon with Notre Dame and Indiana even at 1-1 on the scoreboard, until the Hoosiers finally broke free for two goals in the last ten minutes and a 3-1 victory

Five months later, Rich Hunter and his band of nonames sit patiently, awaiting the arrival of St. Louis University — the fifth-ranked team in the nation, a school with all kinds of scholarships, and the closest thing to a UCLA basketball-like legend offered by Division I soccer — for a showdown Sunday (3 p.m.) on Alumni Field. When Hunter and his players talk about St. Louis, they talk about that Indiana game last spring.

"There is every good reason why we should have a good chance Sunday and why we should do well all year long," says Hunter, now in his fifth season as the only coach in Irish history. "We've gotten better every year. During the spring last year, the kids just gained in confidence because they worked hard all year long and made themselves better ballplayers. They proved it

The levels of maturity and sophistication in the Irish game which fell miserably short last fall in a 6-1 thrash-Notre Dame with the return of a healthy, in-tact lineup problems. with another year's work and experience under its belt. Irish to exhibit the lack of poise and confidence of last

The biggest thing last year, aside from people being awestruck, was that our forwards chased St. Louis' fullbacks all over the field," recalls junior halfback Jay Schwartz. "By overcommitting, a lot of two-on-one situations were created. On Sunday, we'll try to channel

Gary Grassey Sports Writer

them more and not commit to their back passes

We're much better controlling the ball this year." he adds. "I know the guy I'll be playing is going to be a scholarship player and by all rights, he should be better, but we're all just gonna have to hustle, beat them to every ball and be physical.

"I think about that Indiana game a lot. I know we can play with those guys." Co-captain Sami Kahale. playing the best ball of his career this fall, expects the Irish to show the Billikens a whole new dimension in Notre Dame soccer

We're going to take control of the tempo right away by controlling the ball and passing it slowly - not just trying to get rid of it," says the senior striker who rates as Notre Dame's fourth all-time leading scorer. "If we keep our cool and aren't intimidated and just play under control, we can stay with them.

"Against Indiana last spring, they weren't expecting us to be so competitive," remembers Kahale. "We played a defensive game because their skills are so good, but we didn't let them through. By the second half, Indiana began to get impatient and make mistakes. If we can stay with St. Louis for that long, anything can happen. But we can't have an off day.

"I know we can do it."

Inconsistency was the biggest Irish problem during their 1980 campaign. But Hunter begins this season with one critical ingredient he was missing a year ago in St. Louis and all season long - perfect health. Except for senior fullback lim Stein's lower back pains (he will start tomorrow against Loyola and Sunday against St. Louis), Notre Dame has a healthy lineup. Last fall, Hunter played the Billikens without three key starters and ing by St. Louis have improved markedly in 1981 for lost a fourth 10 minutes into the match with stomach

We were disorganized and confused last year with Don't expect the Billikens to score six goals inside the so many guys out," Hunter recalls. "But we're healthy 10-yard line as they did a year ago, and don't expect the now and the kids know what they can do. Our players are much better. If they play to their potential, we'll have a chance."

> And if the autumn Irish extend St. Louis for an entire game the way they did against Indiana last spring, this game could be the one to pull Notre Dame's soccer program out of its holding pattern and into the race for a long-awaited NCAA playoff bid.

|                               | Dame Soccer                  |
|-------------------------------|------------------------------|
| Sched                         | lule                         |
| Sept. 11 (Fri.) Loyola (C)    | 8:00 EST                     |
| 8:00 EST                      | Oct. 11 (Sun.) Wisconsin     |
| Sept. 13 (Sun.) St. Louis (A) | (C) 2:00 EST                 |
| 3:00 EST                      | Oct. 14 (Wed.) at St.        |
| Sept. 15 (Tues.) St. Joseph's |                              |
| (C) 8:00 EST                  | Oct. 17 (Sat.) at Western    |
| Sept. 16 (Wed.) Valparaiso    |                              |
| (A) 4:00 EST                  | Oct. 22 (Thur.) at Akron     |
| Sept. 20 (Sun.) at Ohio State | 3:00 EDT                     |
| 2:00 EDT                      | Oct. 23 (Fri.) at Northwes-  |
| Sept. 23 (Wed.) at Wheaton    | tern (C) 8:00 EST            |
| 4:00 EST                      | Oct. 25 (Sun.) Indiana (A)   |
| Sept. 25 (Fri.) at Dayton     | 2:00 EST                     |
| 7:30 EDT                      | Oct. 28 (Wed.) at Valparaiso |
| Sept. 30 (Wed.) DePaul (A)    | 4:00 EST                     |
| 4:00 EST                      | Nov. 1 (Sun.) Wright State   |
| Oct. 2 (Fri.) Michigan State  | (C) 2:00 EST                 |
| (C) 4:00 EST                  | Nov. 5 (Thur.) at Bowling    |
| Oct. 4 (Sun.) Chicago (A)     |                              |
| 2:00 EST                      | Nov. 7 (Sat.) at Louisville  |
| Oct. 9 (Fel.) Marquette (C)   | 2.00 FST                     |

continued from page 4

... Lottery

4721715 344403554

5749380 345646136

762683 352641886

441721987

445725351

462788931

791392527

| STATE OF THE OWNER, WHEN | PARKS SEALING SEALING                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | STATISTICS NAMED IN                         | WHEN THE PARTY OF                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Mary Mary Street, or other transmitters. | 10000           |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| 363522038                | 481888205                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | THE PARTY OF                                | PURDUE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                          | -               |
| 363721841                | 483783530                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 003521397                                   | 145564198                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 236040456                                | 30              |
| 366762711                | 483841607                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 016480169                                   | 160480518                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 246215067                                | 30              |
| 366847908                | 483886082                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 022527897                                   | 161402332                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 249232504                                | 30              |
| 368783282                | 510767638                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 022585378                                   | 166588636                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 254213591                                | 30              |
| 368822367                | 518849787                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 026546883                                   | 170382766                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 262498893                                | 30              |
| 371865156                | 521929110                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 041387142                                   | 172483930                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 264800954                                | 30              |
| 374707036                | 523664518                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 041706331                                   | 173547201                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 265210017                                | 30              |
| 378504936                | 523944612                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 053583730                                   | 177549117                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 269685617                                | 30              |
| 378681647                | 531763691                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 059561635                                   | 181465160                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 274441018                                | 30              |
| 378747576                | 534720145                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 071426054                                   | 182540979                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 274627304                                | 310             |
| 381680780                | 538703291                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 074526216                                   | 183502951                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 276542936                                | 310             |
| 383643990                | 545198678                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 078545881                                   | 184609634                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 276706923                                | 31              |
| 388484109                | 546356222                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 082505748                                   | 193445161                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 283586873                                | 31              |
| 390464982                | 550741743                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 092503362                                   | 193489831                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 284688038                                | 31.             |
| 394786963                | 552512685                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 095400842                                   | 197587055                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 285561087                                | 31              |
| 412138868                | 560317953                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 104565536                                   | 200581167                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 285726777                                | 31              |
| 418961891                | 562474238                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 104606437                                   | 205480942                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 285747733                                | 31              |
| 421907980                | 573276226                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 104649376                                   | 214923195                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 289685733                                | 31              |
| 427119853                | 578885517                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 107580056                                   | 218683676                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 292428624                                | 31              |
| 441563099                | 781320643                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 116584215                                   | 225021517                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 293566073                                | 31              |
| 448683631                | 999403414                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 128607416                                   | 227642021                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 296481396                                | 31              |
| 462157060                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 132448007                                   | 229642755                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 297622704                                | 31              |
| 469842472                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 139426517                                   | 229926336                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 299669336                                | 31              |
| 470868783                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 142620227                                   | 232089004                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 302601516                                | 32              |
| 478866304                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 143405592                                   | 233155853                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 302607256                                | 32              |
|                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | DE TRUMPAS                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Districtions of                          | 32              |
| BANQUET                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                             | No. of Concession, Name of Street, or other Persons, Name of Street, or ot |                                          | 32              |
| ROOMS                    | The state of the s | riday and S                                 | Caturday S                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | pecial:                                  | 32              |
| TATE                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | riday and                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 1350                                     | 32              |
| TREAT                    | Va                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | AV FO                                       | OK 4                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                          | 4000            |
| YOURSELF, T              | up, Choice of Potat                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | OT SIRLO                                    | OIN                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | antable Salad Ci                         | $\frac{32}{33}$ |
| AOOMO                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 20 GZ. Sparhetti an                         | d Unique Fresh                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | eleranic and                             | 23              |
| and a Co                 | up. Choice of Potat                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | CERVED MOI                                  | Fri. 11 to 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                          | 33              |
| Nomenian                 | LUNCHES                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | o or Spagnetti and SERVED Mon               | ATTOA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | NT                                       | 33              |
|                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                          | 34              |
|                          | TONY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | e Thurs 'til 9,                             | Fri. & Sat. 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 110                                      | -               |
|                          | Open Wed.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | & RES I& Thurs. 'til 9,American Foo | ds, Cocktails                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | THE RESERVE                              |                 |
|                          | Italian/                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | MINE SERVICE                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 255-753                                  | 3               |
|                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | At the sale                              | ALC: UNKNOWN    |

352526768

7747645 385500454 545982117 385685016 553578739 7789757 8621028 385744585 557433383 21541616 386488434 558318870 1624341 388567685 561391137 3469747 390487088 567022930 3528433 390602190 568433406 3603884 401743035 569748732 4488416 404867415 573219493 4583792 407763855 577825231 8428451 407941459 583614138 1605087 412786310 585542133

3547126 The Student Union will check winners to insure that no winner entered his name in the lottery more than once. Winners who entered more than once will be disqualified.

425967023

3461954 413313782

7605730 420044198

Buy Observer Classifieds

> OUTPOST BIKE SALE ON NOW

needed

a guitarist to lead song

Sacred heart Parish on the Campus 8:15 mass every Sunday

There is a stipend

Call 283-7511

255-7533 1213 E Jefferson, Mishawaka

RENT TO OWN

- no down payment
- no credit check
- monthly payment

can be done over the phone

we also have TVs

291-5112

Multi-function Vu meters, 3-digit tape counter • DC Servo Belt Drive Automatic Record Changer with magnetic cartridge, Low Mass S-shaped tone arm • AM/FM-Stereo Radio • 3-way multi tuned port speaker system, 8", 31/2", 21/2" speakers and 3-position high frequency level control • Model-CS7600.

SUN APPLIANCES & TELEVISION

. Preview

continued from page 9

"We're having a little trouble getting organized. However, I feel that once the season gets underway, we'll be Scheduled to start at the outside halfback positions are sophomore Joe Holterman and junior Brad McCurrie. Holterman proved he can do the job when he assumed the starting role last year. Other fullbacks who may see action this fall are Kevin Coughlan, Roer Brown and Phil Sweester.

An added dimension this fall will be a fourth fullback, commonly called a sweeper or "last man." This spot will be filled by sophomore Ted Schwartz. He will be playing behind Stein and will play a crucial role in the team's fortunes.

Probably the most important position on a soccer team is the goalkeeper. The Irish are not lacking in this aspect of defense. Senior John

Milligan will get the starting nod. "John is everything anyone could ask in a goalkeeper," asserts Hunter. "He's tough, quick, and has improved in his ability to control the goal area." Backing up Milligan will be junior Gerard McCarthy. He has also shown that he can do the job, having compiled an impressive 1.03 goals against average in 17 games in

It all adds up to what should be an interesting campaign for Hunter and his squad. This may be the beginning of a new era for the soccer team As Hunter puts it, "beating a team like St. Louis or Indiana would be similar to Notre Dame's football team winning its first big game. I feel we have the capabilities to pull off an upset of that magnitude, and I think the players deserve it. The attitude is 100 percent better this year as opposed to last year, and I think that may carry the team over an Indiana

Lacrosse tryouts end; team looks to season

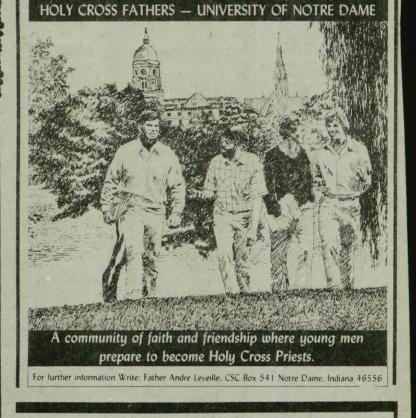

By PETER BOGAARD Sports Writer

ended its tryouts yesteday, with prospects looking better then ever for a successful season. Coach Rich O'Leary has done a fine job stimulating interest in the program, which High School in Morristown, New saw 19 freshmen attend the tryouts Jersey, as do four other members of held Monday through Wednesday.

the Midwest Lacrosse Association, and in the midfield. Coach O'Leary the stickmen ended last year with an

With 13 returning lettermen and an outstanding crop of freshmen, the team looks to win their division, The Notre Dame lacrosse team dethroning last year's champs, Ohio

The squad is led by senior cocaptains Dave Lewis and Mike Lynch. Both hail from Delbarton the team. The freshmen are ex-Playing in the Varsity Division of pected to give a big lift on the attack stated, "We are relying on the freshimpressive first-year record of 6-6. men for some solid production.

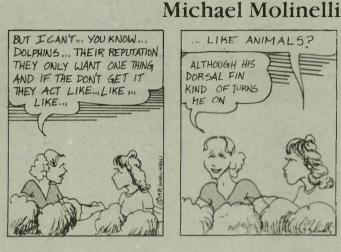

525 NORTH EDDY STREET • SOUTH BEND, INDIANA 46617 • 219-232-1177 MEMBER - NATIONAL RESTAURANT ASSOCIATION

Molarity

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

Jeb Cashin

ACROSS

1 Long story 5 Son of Noah 9 Ancient Greek

15 Own

island 14 Frosted

to the ear 17 Ninth:

The Daily Crossword

41 Laid open 43 Relate comb. form 18 Seed appendage 19 Simulacrum 44 Eye drop 46 Speechify 47 To the rear 20 Grisly 21 Hand 49 Sing softly 51 Compass grenades 23 Surround direction 53 Babbled

Wednesday's Solution

25 Relinquish 26 Path in a theater

28 Heart

33 Frolics

38 Tramp

36 Piedmont

suitable

wheel 67 "— boy 31 Encourage 32 Vein 68 Solitary 69 Organic compound 70 Titles 33 Pro — 34 Pindar products 35 Brewing ingredient 37 Atlas abbr used in Tunis 71 Finishes 40 Lab heaters 42 Inferior 45 Urge 48 Heavy 1 Scorch jacket 50 "Norma" and "Martha" fruit 3 Guardian spirits 52 Menu item 4 Neck projection Forms weapon 55 African antelope Mata -Indicates clearly 56 Eats

12 Furious

anger 13 Stout

relatives 22 Mingle with something 24 Catalogue

Ponselle

57 Altar area 58 Apple seeds

59 Scheme 60 Red pigment

61 Municipal-

27 Burden 29 Jimsonweed 30 Bonheur or 11:00 p.m.

11:30 p.m.

57 Nonsense!

Buddhist

language 63 Rice

concection 64 Covert

65 Blueprint

66 Part of a wagon

9 Capital

of Taiwan

10 Dromedary

feature

Campus

•4 p.m. — radiation lab seminar, "the theory of the hydrated positron - the (very) poor relation of the hydrated electron," dr. paul l. cade, univ. of mass., conference room, radiation lab.

•6:30 p.m. — meeting, aiesec, lafortune little theatre, new members welcome.

•7 p.m. - lottery, barry manilow concert, lafortune ballroom, sponsored by student union.

•7 p.m. — placement night, finance, management, marketing majors, cce auditorium, sponsored by placement bureau.

•7, 9, 11 p.m. — film, "young frankenstein", engineering auditorium, sponsored by dolphin

•7:30 p.m. - film, "mccabe and mrs. miller", annenberg auditorium.

•7:30 p.m. — organizational meeting, young democrats, lafortune ballroom, new members

•8 p.m. — organizational meeting, the thomas more society, rm. 110 o'shag.

•8 p.m. — concert, "duke tomatoe and the all-star frogs", o'laughlin auditorium, sponsored by sapb,

Television Tonight

Thursday, September 10

7:00 p.m. NBC Magazine Billy Graham Baltimore Crusade Mork and Mindy 28 Julia Child and More Co. Miracle Revival Hour NFL Football Special, Pittsburgh at 7:30 p.m. Miami The Victory Garden W.V. Grant 8:00 p.m. Thursday Night Movie, "Lady of the House' Nurse Sneak Previews Lester Sumrall Teaching Series Vic Braden's Tennis 8:30 p.m. Pattern for Living 9:00 p.m. Knots Landing Masterpiece Theatre Today with Lester Sumrall NewsCenter 16 10:00 p.m. 16 22 Evewitness News The Dick Cavett Show lack Van Impe 10:30 p.m. 16 Tonight Show The Jeffersons and Madigan Newswatch 28 Captioned ABC World News Tonight Blackwood Brothers

F. Lee Bailey will lecture Tuesday

ABC News Nightline

Tomorrow Coast to Coast

Praise the Lord

Charlie's Angels

Defense attorney and best-selling author F. Lee Bailey will appear in South Bend Tuesday, Sept. 15, as the final speaker in the 1981 Town Hall lecture series. The lecture will be held at 8 p.m. at the Morris Civic Auditorium.

According to league representatives, plans are underway for a third series to begin in February of 1982. Proceeds from the Junior League Town Hall lecture series will be returned to the community through support of various projects and services.

Tickets are still available for the Bailey lecture and can be obtained by calling 287-9642 or by purchase at the Morris Civic box office the night of the

IONICHI - Thursday, Sept. 10 7 pm Lafortune Ballroom Barry Manilow in concert ticket lottery bring ID's

4 tickets per person ticket sales start monday, sept 14 in S.U. record store

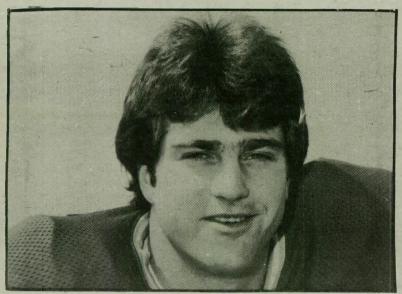

Sir Richard's THERMA FUSE Styling for men and women who like to

129 DIXIE WAY S ROSELAND RANDALL'S INN

277-0734

Senior Tony Belden, who spent three seasons playing musical positions, has been named captain of the Irish special teams.

McEnroe, Austin advance in Open

By BOB GREENE Associated Press

NEW YORK - Defending champion John McEnroe shook off a firstset loss and rallied to beat Ramesh Krishnan of India, 6-7, 7-6, 6-4, 6-2, yesterday, advancing into the semifinals of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

into the women's Moving semifinals were third-seeded Tracy Austin, No.4 Martina Navratilova and No.11 Barbara Potter. Austin trounced No.6 Sylvia Hanika of West Germany, 6-4, 6-3; Navratilova stopped Anne Smith 7-5, 6-4, and Potter eliminated amateur Barbara Gerken 7-5, 7-5.

In a men's fourth-round match which was postponed Tuesday night by rain, No.8 Eliot Teltscher outlasted No.14 Brian Gottfried, 6-4, 6-0, 5-7, 1-6, 6-3.

Krishnan, son of a former Indian Davis Cup star and the 1979 Wimbledon junior champion, took the first set from the top-seeded McEnroe, winning a tiebreaker 12-10. The smooth-stroking Krishnan kept McEnroe at bay with perfectly placed ground strokes and a delicate touch at the net.

The two traded service breaks in the ninth and 10th games of the second set before McEnroe squeezed out a 7-4 tiebreaker, winning the final two points on Krish-

See McENROE, page 8

A team player

Belden leads specialty squads

By KELLY SULLIVAN Sports Writer

Tony Belden has always owned the reputation as a team player. So it came as no surprise to those who know him best - his coaches and his teammates - that the big senior was voted specialty teams captain for Notre Dame's 1981 season.

"He's a team man all the way," praises Coach Joe Yonto, who tutored Belden on defense. "He's enthusiastic, hard working and unselfish. And he's accepted every position change that's come his

Belden's list of position switches is almost as long as the winters in his hometown of Crystal, Minn. He has been shuffled from offense to defense, from fullback to linebacker, back to fullback, again to linebacker and then over to defensive end. And he doesn't pretend to have enjoyed

"I guess the biggest disappointment in my career has been not being able to spend four years at one position," offers Belden. "For a while thought the coaches were on Planet Zoom-Zoom," he laughs. "It got to be a joke among the guys -I'd go out to practice and everyone would ask me where I was playing that day.'

As if bouncing around the depth chart wasn't bad enough, Tony's career has been interrupted by injury, too - a broken wrist and a damaged knee. But few heard Tony complain, and fewer saw him give

"I never quit anything in my life," he states. "I just tried not to dwell on all the problems I encountered."

Belden's resiliency impressed his peers and his opponents. A ferocious tackler, the 6-2, 230 pounder has been a solid backup at linebacker and end, sometimes despite cumbersome casts and crutches. And under Notre Dame's new wholesale substitution policy, he's finally found a home on the defensive line's But Belden's biggest left side. mark has been made with the specialty units, and although his contributions may have been more obvious had he excelled in one particular position, a glamourless career with the suicide squad hasn't bothered Tony, who insists he's never taken headlines too seriously

"I just enjoy playing football, and the specialty teams are an important aspect of every game," he explains. I've been a part of them for four years, and I know the kicking game can turn things around immediate-

Yonto, too, believes the value of the special units shouldn't go unnoticed, so the position of a squad captain was reinstated after a three vear absence.

"There was just a feeling among all the coaches that it would be great to identify those squads and give them a leader, and it's appropriate that Tony was picked," offers Yonto. "He has a tremendously positive attitude about teamwork. sacrifices everything for the good of the other players.'

On Saturday, Belden will march to midfield, flanked by co-captains Bob Crable and Phil Carter, for the opening coin toss. "If someone would have told me that when I was them," he beams. And that experience will more than make up for any frustration that's touched his

"You see the Dome, the lakes...it doesn't take long to fall in love with this place. No matter what's happened," he proclaims, "I wouldn't want to be any other place on Saturday than Notre Dame Stadium."

IRISH ITEMS: Over 5000 LSU fans are coming north for Saturday's game . . . Coach Gerry Faust is dressing 120 players for the game, the most ever for a Notre Dame home game. Only Rob McGarry, Tim Tripp, and Tom Doerger will not suit . Tailback Phil Carter will see action Saturday, even though Greg Bell will start in the tailback spot. Carter has been sidelined most of the practices because of strained ligaments... Wingback John Mosley is questionable for the game. He has not practiced since being in last Saturday's sidelined scrimmage with a pulled thigh muscle . . . For the first time in history an LSU road game will be televised back to Bator-Rouge on local TV this weekend . . . The audio portion of that telecast will be provided by the LSU Football Radio Network, which consists of over 50 stations . . . The Tigers will arrive in South Bend at approximately 4:00 p.m. tomorrow, and will workout immediately upon arrival ... mer Irish coaches Ara Parseghian and Dan Devine have been at several practices and scrimmages this Members of Notre Dame's 1943 National Championship team, as well as players from Notre Dame's unbeaten teams of 1946-49 will hold a kid, I would never have believed a reunion at the game this weekend.

Sailors relax, enjoy life

A certain AMF-Voit commercial emphasizes a point on the definition and art of relaxation.

While one may think that he is relaxing with a good brisk sit within the confines of four walls with the boobtube blaring away, he doesn't realize that true relaxation could stem from participation in recreational

Senior Jerry Daus, president of the Notre Dame Sailing Club, along with at least 120 other members of the club realize the distinction quite well.

There is an idea of being when you go out sailing on a quiet, peaceful afternoon with the sun shining down on you and the wind blowing behind you," explains Daus. "It's really relaxing and it can relieve so many of the tensions that you can build up so easily. better than just sitting around in a room for an hour."

While Daus' praises of the sport make him sound like a co-producer of a Christopher Cross album, his feelings obviously are shared widely around the campus as student participation in sailing makes it one of the most popular activities on campus.

Basically, the popularity is derived for two reasons the first often being overlooked.

There is absolutely no experience necessary for joining the club," points out Daus. "We had about 30 people alone on Activities Night who thought you had to have at least some background on sailing. We have a fine novice program which will provide the ex-

A second reason for it's popularity is because the program is one of the more laid-back operations at the

"There is no committment that a person has to make once he joins the club," says Daus. "It's what the person wants to get out of the club that matters. We're mostly out to relax and have some fun at St. Joseph Lake. On Wednesdays and Thursdays we'll run some races, but it's not a requirement to take part in them.

The races usually take 15 minutes, and are run all-day on Saturdays and half-days on Sunday - obviously forthe"gung-ho's" of sailing as Daus says.

We have about 10 or 15 people who really compete hard," he concludes, "but this is something that most anyone can definetly enjoy on their own free time."

And that's what relaxation is all about.

'The only thing you have to do to join the club is to pay a $25 fee. The great part though is that for the rest of the year you can check out a sail-boat at our lake without charge since you're a member. In contrast, someone else may have to pay $30 for just an hour to go

One should not get the impression, however, that competition is minimal.

With a past that produced some all-Americans and Top 10 national rankings, a tradition has been built where the Irish have been regarded as one of the better teams from the Midwest region — a trait that often leads to demanding schedules.

Last weekend's showing at Yale for instance resulted in a disappointing 14th place finish out of the 18 teams that competed.

'The result really wasn't that disappointing since we competed against some of the top schools in the nation that had lots of all-Americans," maintains Daus. "We have some regattas coming up now (every weekend for the rest of the semester) in which we're pretty optomistic about doing quite well."

Among them is the one which the club will host September 19-20 at Eagle Lake in Michigan, one of the largest regattas in the Midwest.

The regattas themselves consist of only four or six of the members from the team competing in the two divisions of the race. A skipper and the crew make up the people who race the boat, with the crew usually being a Notre Dame's A-Division representative consists of the fine senior duo of Skipper (and race crew captain) Phil Reynolds and crew Carol Silva, while the B-Division alternates sophomores J.B. Kuppe and Chris Hussey along with Daus. Other top performers include senior Skipper Jay Kiley, and two outstanding freshman, Bob Hannon and Tom Fink, who have competed in National Amateur Sailing Regattas.

Sailing!

Two sailors enjoy a relaxing day on St. Joseph's Lake. The Notre Dame Sailing Club has earned a national reputation for its fine performances in regattas around the country, but boasts a strong novice program as well. See related story at left. (photo by John Macor)