

The Observer

VOL. XVI, NO. 122

the independent student newspaper serving notre dame and saint ma y's

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 31, 1982

The south dining hall employees are taking part in a survey of food waste at Notre Dame. All leftovers from lunch will be collected and a final tally will be made at the end of the week. (photo by Rudy Perez)

Mexico students criticize allotted funds

By ED KONRADY
News Staff

Twelve students in the Notre Dame — Mexico Foreign Study Program wrote a letter claiming that they are facing an immediate financial crisis caused by the devaluation of the Mexican peso, due to improper management of the Notre Dame Foreign Studies Program.

The letter was mailed to Mike Berrigan, the brother of one of the students, who delivered copies of the letter to Professor Charles Parnell, director of the foreign studies program, Fr. David Tyson, director of sophomores, and The Observer.

In the letter, the students wrote, "...we receive a bi-weekly allowance for food. All of the money we receive from our director, Sra. Manuela Santacruz de Leon, is in pesos, even though our parents paid Notre Dame in dollars. ... Through no fault of our own, we are now getting a little more than half of what we were at the beginning of the year, and it is now extremely difficult to exist on the present stipend."

In a circular to prospective students, Notre Dame agrees to pay for the student's tuition, housing, food, transportation to and from the country, and transportation to and from their Mexican residence and the Universidad Anahuac.

Parnell claims that he has been aware of the devaluation of the peso, and in correspondence with Sra. Leon, has taken action on the problem by twice increasing the students' allowances.

Also, Parnell said that he had not heard any direct word on the problem from the students. "The students are fully aware which office has responsibility for them. Yet, I have not had the courtesy of a direct letter."

The main question the students ask in the letter is "why was and currently is our money kept in pesos, when every Mexican knows the instability of their currency?"

The letter says that "Senora Leon answered our queries by stating that she was instructed by Notre Dame to drop her dollar account here because it was too complicated, with all the conversions from dollars to pesos, to be worth the trouble of maintaining it."

"Can it possibly be that because of a few more entries in a bookkeeper's ledger, the security, not to mention the health, of a dozen students has been jeopardized?"

Parnell would not officially comment on why the dollar account was not kept, but did say that "the students don't have any idea how complicated it is to keep these records."

The allowance is not given out in dollars, Parnell says, because of the possibility of Mexico putting a halt to the exchange of money — which could leave the students without money — and the "temptation" of the black market.

After Berrigan had confronted Parnell with his brother's letter, Berrigan commented that Parnell was unresponsive to the letter, and had called the students "bastards".

Parnell told The Observer that he didn't remember calling the students "bastards", but if he did, he was referring to the tone of the letter.

Berrigan acknowledged that the students "are probably not starving," but that they feel that Parnell is a "senile, old incompetent" who "only cares about Angers or Innsbruck (foreign studies programs)."

The issue, said Berrigan, is that "the students don't feel they are getting their $8000 worth."

Israeli ambassador

Rafael promotes Mideast peace

By SONYA STINSON
Staff Reporter

The resolution of Middle East conflict will depend upon resisting Soviet influence, reducing the arms build-up, and strengthening the peace between Israel and Egypt, former Israeli Ambassador Gideon Rafael said in a lecture last night in the Library Auditorium.

Rafael said that Soviet military involvement in the Middle East is a threat to stability and that the United States should enact a clear policy to reduce that threat.

The answer to Soviet expansion is more American military presence, Rafael said. "What we need is not more shady arms deals, but more visible American punch," he declared.

The ambassador said that the Palestinian Liberation Organization is under the "remote control" of Moscow through its purchase of arms from the Soviet Union.

Rafael charged that the PLO does not truly represent Palestinian interests. Its leader, Yassar Arafat, is "trusted by none, despised by many, and feared by quite a few," Rafael said. "Arafat can be as much a partner for peace as Kadafi can be a candidate for the Nobel Peace Prize," he stated.

The arms race is an enormous

See RAFAEL, page 4

New occupants named for WNDU building

By VIC SCIULLI
Night News Editor

The Observer has learned that the Center For Experiential Learning and Voluntary Services will occupy the WNDU building after the present facility is evacuated by its present occupants.

The final decision on the issue is pending a meeting to be held today.

Changes in the building are to include a new auditorium where the present newsroom is located, and a coffee shop. Architects have been chosen for the project. The present volunteer services, located in LaFortune, will become class office space.

Progress on the new WNDU building is reportedly going well and a completion date has been targeted for May.

The move to the new building will occur in phases. FM studio and broadcasting facilities are currently operating in the new building. Henry Kevorkian, Director of Telecommunications at WNDU, hopes to have AM facilities operating at the new building shortly.

Adjusting well

Handicapped overcome problems

By CHRIS FRASER
News Staff

Remember how slippery the sidewalks of Notre Dame were this winter? The piles of snow and patches of ice made walking to class a somewhat treacherous task.

WEDNESDAY FOCUS

Or think of a professor you had who spoke with an accent or even one who wrote on the board with illegible handwriting. Many a student has been known to complain about such a teacher.

Situations like these, which become bothersome to some students, are magnified 100 times for handicapped students here at Notre Dame.

Working with various handicaps, these students are perhaps most notable for their ability to stay in the mainstream of life here at Notre Dame — both academically and socially.

To help alleviate the problems of the handicapped Notre Dame maintains an Office of Handicapped Student Affairs, directed by Sister Evelyn Booms, C.S.C.

This Office serves as an information center for the handicapped students, aiding them in the practical necessities of college life and informing them about various programs and scholarships which are available.

The Committee for the Handicapped, headed by professor Stephen Rogers, also represents the handicapped in various places around campus.

Sister Evelyn notes that most handicapped people are "fiercely independent" and adjust to the rigors of college life rather well.

Specific difficulties encountered by handicapped students are often resolved by the individuals themselves, who demonstrate the independence observed by Sister Evelyn.

Second-year law student Bryan Graham, handicapped with two artificial arms, is a good example of a student who has adjusted to the demands of school while functioning independently. Bryan suggests that the biggest problem for handicapped people here at Notre Dame is "getting from place to place" on our somewhat widespread campus.

Walking long distances between buildings with a heavy load of books can become a daily challenge for the handicapped.

Students with visual handicaps or hearing difficulties might also find communication to be an obstacle. In this case, every class and every assignment is filled with additional problems on top of the normal workload, which often becomes overbearing to any student. Therefore, the independence achieved by Bryan Graham and others is an accomplishment of notable significance.

On a different plane, a larger problem for handicapped people may be the ignorance of the average person. "People are afraid," Graham points out, and their attitudes are often based on insufficient and inaccurate information.

"Educating people" is the key to eliminating social barriers in

See FOCUS, page 4

By The Observer and The Associated Press

Framed by purple mountains and a brilliant blue sky, America's space shuttle sliced through the desert breezes of White Sands, N.M. yesterday to crown its longest, toughest and most ambitious test flight. Three down, one to go and Columbia flies for hire. Weight on wheels came at 9:05 a.m. MST on an unfamiliar runway, 22 hours past due. The landing ended an eight-day mission that demonstrated Columbia's versatility and stamina in space. The weather was as kind to astronauts Jack R. Lousma and C. Gordon Fullerton as it was inhospitable the day before. Skies were relatively calm — a stiff headwind instead of the cantankerous sandstorm that made a return Monday impossible. "Everybody in America started breathing again when you made that landing," President Reagan told the pilots in a telephone call. "Our thoughts and prayers have been with you every second that you've been up there." At a runway ceremony, a beaming Lousma said: "I couldn't say it was a good flight, because it was a great spectacular flight from where we sat. We had eight days of a great time and a great spacecraft." — AP

The House yesterday launched a debate on nuclear arms control, pitting proponents of an immediate U.S.-Soviet freeze on atomic weapons against supporters of President Reagan's longer-term approach toward mutual arms reduction. To reject an immediate halt to nuclear arms proliferation "is to give up on the concept of reduction as well," said Rep. Jim Leach, R-Iowa, one of the prime sponsors of the debate. "The desire to maintain a freeze and to make it work would be an important new pressure to secure new reductions." But the president — and supporters of a rival congressional resolution — say an immediate freeze would lock the United States into a position of nuclear inferiority. Sponsors of the debate, led by an arms-control caucus known as Members of Congress for Peace Through Law, said they hoped the series of speeches would be likened to the first real congressional debate on the Vietnam War, which occurred in October 1969. — AP

The right-wing National Conciliation Party, ousted 2 years ago in the coup that installed El Salvador's ruling junta, emerged yesterday as kingmaker in postelection maneuvering by six parties to form a new government. A national Conciliation leader said one thing was certain — moderate Jose Napoleon Duarte, president of the civilian-military junta, would have to go. Duarte's Christian Democrats won the most votes in Sunday's assembly elections but fell short of a majority. Meanwhile, the Salvadoran military scored a new success in its war against leftist guerrillas, retaking the eastern city of Usulután in heavy fighting. Fifteen soldiers, more than 100 guerrillas and an undetermined number of civilians were reported killed in the four-day battle for the nation's fourth largest city. The U.S. government, which before the election solidly backed the centrist Christian Democrats, appeared Tuesday to be moving cautiously closer to the five other parties. Those parties, all right-wing, seemed to hold the upper hand after Sunday's voting. — AP

Weak steam generator tubes in 40 commercial nuclear units are "virtually impossible" to fix and are causing higher operating costs and radiation exposure for plant personnel, according to a Nuclear Regulatory Commission staff report. The report, dated February 1982, says the tube problem in clear units also is responsible for about 23 percent of nuclear plant shutdowns that are unrelated to scheduled refueling. The report raises the possibility — characterized as an "extremely low probability" — that tube ruptures in more than one generator at a plant could cause inadequate cooling of the radioactive core, which could lead to melting of the uranium fuel. Tubes are used only in pressurized water reactors, or PWRs, which have from two to four steam generators with 3,000 to 15,000 tubes each. Another NRC study based on 1981 data reported tube degradation in 27 of the 47 licensed PWRs, but the new report states the confirmed number is now "at least 40." — AP

Israeli Arabs staged marches and strikes Tuesday to commemorate six Arabs killed by Israeli soldiers in 1976, and to protest the government's tough policy in the occupied West Bank. Police said at least 38 Arabs were arrested in three violent incidents in Israel. A wave of disturbances continued for the 12th day in the West Bank. Though most of the demonstrations in Israel were peaceful, Israelis were shocked to see Arab citizens flourishing four banned Palestinian flags at a march in Sakhne in northern Galilee. In the occupied West Bank, the military command said two soldiers were hurt when their vehicle was stoned by Palestinian youths at the Qalandia refugee camp on the northern outskirts of Jerusalem. A hand grenade was thrown in a busy street on the Jewish side of Jerusalem, but no injuries were reported. Demonstrations were also reported in Arab East Jerusalem. — AP

The first drug to ease suffering from genital herpes should be available in drugstores in 30 days, following its approval Tuesday by the Food and Drug Administration. Up to 20 million Americans are afflicted with genital herpes, a painful venereal disease that, unlike syphilis and gonorrhea, cannot be cured. Dr. Arthur Hull Hayes Jr., the FDA commissioner, said the new prescription drug, acyclovir ointment, "is not a cure for herpes virus infections," but is "a step forward" in treatment. Genital herpes is caused by a highly contagious virus that usually is transmitted during sexual intercourse. It causes genital sores that blister and form ulcers. The sores heal but may recur for unknown reasons, and doctors tell people to refrain from sex while they have active infections. The FDA said the ointment will reduce virus growth and shorten the healing time for sores in patients with initial infections. In tests, it also significantly decreased the pain in men, but not in women. — AP

Partly sunny and continued windy Wednesday. Near steady temperatures in low to mid 50s. Clear and cool Wednesday night. Low in mid to upper 30s. Sunny and mild Thursday. High in upper 50s. — AP

The Shuttle Shuffle

One of the most widely-utilized links between the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's campuses — the shuttle system — is also a link that is very often taken for granted. Few people realize the financial burden of the system, and fewer yet stop to consider what the ND-SMC community would be like without the shuttle.

The shuttle was started in the late 1960s. Mary Anne O'Donnell, director of student activities at Saint Mary's, explained the original purpose of the shuttle was "to provide the opportunity for co-exchange of students. The evening runs were later added for social purposes. Ideally, the colleges were to pay for the daily costs while the evening fares covered the rest."

Jason Lindower, controller and business manager at Saint Mary's explained that the financial burden of the shuttle system is equally shared between the two schools. "Each year we negotiate the rate of the system with Transpo. Each month we receive a statement of the daily costs with the fares deducted," he said. The remainder of the cost is split between Notre Dame and Saint Mary's.

O'Donnell said there have been very few complaints this year. My feedback is that this is the best working system we've ever had," she said.

Regardless of the lack of complaints, the shuttle system is not flawless. Administrators readily admit that collecting the fares is a definite problem. Few of the drivers make an effort to enforce the night and weekend fares. Mason estimates the sum of last year's fares at $13,000.

This very factor threatened the existence of the shuttle in 1977. The operating costs for the previous year had been placed at $75-90,000. Transpo agreed to a $25,000 subsidy from each school, but because of the failure of students to pay the fare, Transpo sustained a $21,000 loss. Consequently, Transpo demanded a 24 percent increase from each school. Notre Dame was not willing to pay the increase and the evening/weekend shuttle was nearly terminated. It was only through a combined administration/student effort urging students to "pay up" that the night/weekend shuttle was retained.

Regardless of this conflict, no steps have been taken to insure the collection of fares. Students should be allowed the option of purchasing shuttle passes, designed either for a specific number of rides or for an entire semester. Shuttle passes would be much more convenient and significantly increase revenue. Allowing students a discount on these passes would also encourage sales.

Another problem concerns the off-campus runs to University Village, and to the Campus View and Notre Dame apartments. These off-campus runs began in January of 1979. An administration survey that same year found that 58 percent of students at Notre Dame apartments, and 84 percent at Campus View never used

Margaret Fosmoe

SMC Executive Editor

Inside Wednesday

the shuttle.

This general lack of interest, particularly by Campus View residents, seems sufficient reason for ND and SMC to reevaluate the need for an off-campus shuttle. Often the off-campus run turns out to be nothing more than a thirty-minute tour of suburban Notre Dame, without a single resident getting on or off the shuttle. At the same time, the shuttle is interrupted from its primary task of providing transportation between the two campuses.

Lindower says ending the off-campus runs is "an option at any point." It is time for a new survey to determine whether student use justifies continuing the off-campus runs. The shuttle schedule is interrupted several times each evening to provide for these runs. Such a survey would determine whether the off-campus route should continue. The vast majority of off-campus residents have their own means of transportation, or they would not have moved off-campus in the first place. If one or more of the off-campus runs were cancelled, the shuttle could better fulfill its primary task of transportation between the campuses.

Some students complain of a lack of shuttle schedules. The library for instance, has no posted schedule. Permanent protected schedules, such as at the Circle, could be placed in the library lobby and at the various outdoor bus shelters. In addition, wallet-size copies of the schedule should be available. Smaller copies would not cost any more than the larger copies presently distributed. The entire cost could be obviated by selling advertisement space on the back of the schedule.

Students from both schools say the shuttle could be better scheduled to coordinate with the daily class schedule. Later weekend and evening shuttles should also be considered. In addition, Saturday and Sunday service should begin before noon.

Problems aside, both Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students seem to be satisfied with the present shuttle system. One point that several seniors noted was a general improvement of attitude on the part of the shuttle drivers over the past few years.

Many students seem to view the system in an ambiguous light — taking it for granted when the shuttle is on time, and protesting loudly when it is not. What needs to be understood is that the shuttle is a necessary luxury which, while improvements are possible, should not be taken for granted. The positive factors of the system greatly outweigh its inconveniences, and the shuttle does fulfill its primary task of providing the major link between Notre Dame and Saint Mary's.

transpo

Jason Mason

The Observer

Design Editor.....Gregory Swiercz
Design Assistant.....Joe Flowers
Typesetters.....Jim MacLennan
Tom MacLennan
Night News Editor.....Michele Dietz
Copy Editor.....Diane Dir t kers
Features Layout.....Tari & Joe
Editorials Layout.....Tim Neely
Sports Copy Editor.....Chris Needles
Typists.....Laura Degnan
Mike Ortman
ND Day Editor.....Joe Muscimici
SMC Day Editor.....Toni Rutherford
Ad Design.....John & Bob
Photographer.....Rudy Perez
Guest Appearances.....Friendly Rabbit
Birthday Turtle
Lightning 'n Thunder
Orty
Marilyn (but she was doing ads)
Jazz Festival Peeps
Sleep do

The Observer (USPS 598 920) is published Monday through Friday and on home football Saturdays, except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $25 per year ($15 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.
The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Second class postage paid at Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Notre Dame, Saint Mary's
Dance Theatre presents

OUR SPRING CONCERT

With guest musicians
The Brady Stalker String Duo
Original Score by Roger Briggs
APRIL 2 3 at 8pm APRIL 4 at 2:30pm
MAY 13 14 at 8pm
O'Laughlin Auditorium

Opening night patrons will receive one complimentary ticket for each regularly purchased ticket

For information call 284-4176

Women's Opportunity Week Reynolds outlines Ministry role

By MIKE LEPRE
Staff Reporter

An individual's ability to deal with grief and to acknowledge the needs of a troubled person are essential for success in the field of ministry, according to Mrs. Pat Reynolds, last night's speaker for Saint Mary's Women's Opportunity Week.

Mrs. Pat Reynolds

Reynolds, a 1955 graduate of Saint Mary's College, stressed that, "if we are going to survive in the computerized world that we live in, we'd better get more in touch with ourselves and each other." Reynolds also felt that friends must learn to "relate to each other in their joy or to touch their pain."

Reynolds, calling upon her experience as chaplain at Glenbrook Hospital, emphasized the complexity of ministry. Recalling events from her past, she admitted, "I was scared to death at first," but conceded, "once I had learned what pain was, I realized that you could walk through fire and come out whole."

Designated "Woman of the Year" by the Notre Dame Club of Chicago in 1978, Reynolds currently teaches courses in relationship at Marillac High School, a girls school in Northfield, Illinois. As the mother of six, she feels that her family life experiences benefit her role at Glenbrook.

While Reynolds admitted that the idea of ministry can be defined in many ways, she adheres to the philosophy that "ministry involves presence." Reynolds said, "Words can often mess a person up, and therefore just staying close to a person in need is more healing."

Mrs. Reynolds says she has learned that a healer must "fully do as he has to walk the whole road of pain with a person." Confrontations with the spouse of a person who has recently died have led Reynolds to conclude that "honesty and truth" are essential in preventing denial of death.

"If we are going to live with the hassles of life, ministry cannot be left to the ordained," said Reynolds. "At some point we are all going to have to do it." Although Reynolds believes that this is possible, she also concluded that many people in our country "are not dealing properly with grief."

The job of ministry, especially when dealing with a life and death situation, is not an easy one, according to Reynolds. She warns that people must be able to tell a patient, "I feel what you feel" and tell themselves, "I can still remain objective."

Reynolds advises her fellow ministers that when the work of ministry becomes hard to bear they should remember that "we can take the hurt if we walk with the Lord."

Although yesterday's high winds and driving rains discouraged many from outdoor activities, this wind surfer took advantage of the gusts. (photo by Rudy Perez)

ERA advocate stresses unequal opportunities

By CINDY COLDIRON
Staff Reporter

Stating that "the ERA is over because very few people worked to get it," Jane Trahey, well-known columnist, author, and president of Trahey Advertising, spoke last night in Lemans Stableton Lounge as part of the Saint Mary's Women's Opportunity Week.

Quoting statistics which state there are 43 million working women today, Trahey said that often the identical job for a woman does not pay the same wages as that of a man. It is a myth, Trahey said, that a woman should get less money because her job is easier. She referred to a recent survey which ranked a secretary's job as second most stressful.

"Television," said Trahey, "is the greatest enemy of women because of the stereotyping portrayed and of the large differences in the power of the images shown on T.V." Only 2/ of all women shown on television were professionals compared with 90/ of all men, stated Trahey.

Trahey said that the "Reagan administration is taking away more of women's rights every day." Saying that the only place in the United States government that treats women as equal is the Internal Revenue Service, Trahey urged the young women of today to reflect on the fact that since they are not treated as equal citizens, they should not have to pay equal taxes.

Trahey also advocated that "the answer to freedom for any woman is to get into business for herself," and that the women of today will have to come to grips with the current images of women in their own field.

MEETING FOR ALL THOSE (INCLUDING ALTERNATES) THAT SIGNED UP FOR KISSER
Wed., March 31
7 PM
LaFortune Little Theater
Attendance is mandatory!
NO EXCEPTIONS!!!!

The Knights of the Castle
For the Total Look on a Styled Hair Cut, Shampoo, Blow Dry & Condition
Reg. $15.00
Now $10.00 complete
(with coupon)
54533 Terrace Lane, South Bend
(Across from Martin's on St. Rd. 23)
TUES., WED. 8:30-5:30
THURS., FRI. 8:30-2:30-SAT. 8:30-5:30
272-0312-277-1691
we are only minutes from campus

Applications for 1982-83
SENIOR BAR
BARTENDERS will be available Wed. 3/31, Thurs. 4/1, and Fri. 4/2 in the Student Activities Office, first floor, LaFortune.
Must be returned by 5:00 PM Fri. 4/2.

April 1- Thurs.- 6-8 p.m.
Haggar Hall Auditorium
Guest from Illinois Univ. will share experiences with equipment and legality of drinking, driving, and student involvement.

COLLEGIATE JAZZ FESTIVAL
Notre Dame Stepan Center
Friday, April 2 7:30 p.m.-1:00 a.m.
Saturday, April 3 12:30 p.m.-5:00 p.m. 6:30 p.m.-1:00 a.m.
- 15 College Bands -
Tickets: All Sessions Pass $7.50 N.D./St. Mary's Students $8.50 General Public
Individual Tickets Fri. $5.00, Sat. aft. $2.50, Sat. eve. $4.50
Judges: Billy Taylor, Charlie Haden, Frank Foster, Nat Adderley, Shelly Manne, Dan Morgenstern
Tickets available at LaFortune or call 239-5283 for information

COLLEGE GRADS WITH
MATH/SCIENCE BACKGROUND
MAKE THE MOVE FROM COMMONPLACE TO THE SPACE AGE

Want to move your career from back burner to leading edge without losing job security? The Air Force has a way, if you already hold a college degree in math or science, to launch your career in:

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING
AERONAUTICAL ENGINEERING
ASTRONAUTICAL ENGINEERING

Through an 18-month program at either the Air Force Institute of Technology at Dayton, Ohio, or at a major engineering university, you'll complete your engineering degree requirements and use your skills in development research in the technology of tomorrow. And you'll not only get your fast start toward new career frontiers, but receive such benefits as 30 days paid vacation a year and complete medical and dental care.

While you're learning, you'll be paid up to $17,000 per year, plus your tuition, book costs and fees. The time to act is now, since openings in this program are limited. If you're qualified and under age 34....Contact:

SSgt. Marty Lazar at 219-233-4747
Call Collect

AIM HIGH...AIR FORCE...

Members of the University Community are Invited to Participate in

A LENTEN PENANCE SERVICE

Wed. Eve March 31
10pm

SACRED HEART CHURCH

SMC plans commencement

SUSAN O'HARA
News Staff

Announcements for Saint Mary's commencement will be distributed tomorrow, thus beginning Saint Mary's schedule of commencement activities, according to Carol Griffin, junior chairperson for the 1982 graduation.

This year's graduation will be held May 15, with the theme "Celebrating the Arts," in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of O'Laughlin Auditorium.

Graduation festivities begin April 25, with a reception for seniors to be held at the home of President John Duggan. The traditional Junior/Senior dinner will be held in late April, with an Alumnae/Senior Mass and Brunch to take place on Saturday, May 1.

The annual honors convocation is scheduled for May 3. This ceremony includes the traditional hooding, followed by the procession and convocation. Ticket distribution dates for the convocation will be announced.

The Notre Dame/Saint Mary's Spring Dance Concert will be presented. Commencement weekend, May 13 and 14, in O'Laughlin Auditorium.

Also during that weekend, senior nursing majors will participate in the annual pinning ceremony, to take place Friday, May 14 in the Church of Loretto. Tours of the new Cushwa-Leighton library will also be available.

A Baccalaureate Mass, preceded by a procession, is scheduled for 4:00 p.m., immediately followed by a dinner in the dining hall.

A cocktail party at the Century Center will be held from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. for all seniors, their parents and guests. Tickets will be sold for six dollars.

Saturday, May 15 will begin with breakfast in the dining hall, followed by the much-anticipated commencement ceremonies at 10:30 a.m.

After the commencement, there will be brunch and additional tours of the Cushwa-Leighton Library, celebrating the library's completion and signifying the end of graduation for Saint Mary's class of 1981-82.

... Focus

continued from page 1

... Rafael

Graham's view and he has taken an active role in eliminating the unconscious prejudices of people. "People are friendly and willing to help," says Graham, but often they do not always consider the problems of the handicapped.

It is Graham's belief that apprehension is reduced through education and it has become a goal in his life to teach this to people.

The Office of Handicapped Student Affairs "should be emphasized in order to make the handicapped students aware of the help they can receive," Graham said.

continued from page 1

threat to peace in the Middle East, Rafael said. "The arms race is spurred by regional rivalry and unbridled competition between industrialized nations who barter arms for oil," he stated.

Rafael commented that the arms build-up puts a great psychological and economic burden on Israel. Israel is the leader in per capita military spending, followed by the U.S. and the Soviet Union, he said.

Rafael hailed the three-year-old peace treaty between Egypt and Israel as the most important event for Israel since the Yom Kippur War.

There is reason for hope that the present Egyptian president will continue to strengthen and expand the peaceful relations between the two countries, he said.

Zilch.

If you're a senior and have the promise of a $10,000 career-oriented job, do you know what's stopping you from getting the American Express® Card?

You guessed it.

Nothing.

Because American Express believes in your future. But more than that. We believe in you now. And we're proving it.

A $10,000 job promise. That's it. No strings. No gimmicks. And this offer is even good for 12 months after you graduate.

But why do you need the American Express Card now?

First of all, it's a good way to begin to establish your credit history. And you know that's important.

Of course, the Card is also good for travel, restaurants, and shopping for things like a new stereo or furniture. And because the Card is recognized and welcomed worldwide, so are you.

So call for a Special Student Application or look for one at your college bookstore or on campus bulletin boards.

The American Express Card. Don't leave school without it.™

Call today for an application:
800-528-8000.

© American Express Company, 1981

LOVERBOY

With Special Guest

FRIDAY, APRIL 16
8 pm ACC — Notre Dame Univ.
South Bend, Indiana
Tickets $9 and 10. Reserved Seats.

Tickets available at: A.C.C. Box office, Robertson's in South Bend and Concord Mall, Elkhart Truth, First Source Bank (main office), St. Joseph Bank (main office), and Suspended Chord in Elkhart

Produced by Contemporary with Sunshine

Another El Salvador article

Recently many articles and editorials have been devoted to the situation in El Salvador. The issue certainly demands attention. But like many observers, I have found it difficult to keep up with the bombardment of material.

Michael Molinelli

Everyday, someone with proclaimed expertise will publish his verified evidence and logical reasoning. In these articles, the issues seem uncharacteristically lucid; the choices seem blatantly obvious.

The articles appear to be written as if after reading them, all right thinking people will know which banner to march behind. Yet, when I finish reading them I see more clearly the frayed edges of the banner.

There are many groups and many views. The most clearly visible to us are the local groups who have voiced their opinions. Some march, others write letters and articles, and others protested Fr. Hesburgh's involvement in the committee sent down to observe the election.

They claimed that the election was unjust. If it was, having such respected people as Fr. Hesburgh verify it could only help the protesters' cause.

There's much concern about the military aid the Russians are supplying the Cubans who are supplying the Nicaraguans who are supplying the leftists.

The Reagan Administration has even accused the Soviet Union of being an outside power interfering in the politics of a smaller nation in order to promote their own interests... sort of like what the U.S. is doing.

The leftists have proclaimed themselves to be the voice of the people. Their claim seems somewhat premature when one looks at the election results.

Not counting those who purposely invalidated their ballot (as the leftists requested), 60 percent of the voting population ignored their cries and went to the polls according to The New York Times.

That's a good percentage, considering that in the U.S., we can barely pull that response if there is some rain on election day. One wonders how low our turn out would be if we had to dodge bullets.

Then there's the military, which has never claimed to be the voice of the people. According to the picture painted by the media, the army seems to be a rather tight corps of soldiers which is not afraid of using ruthless and cruel methods to protect its interests.

What I find amazing is that there has never been a denial of this. Those who feel they can defend such actions claim that in those Central American countries such violence is necessary and even customary.

No one has said they were justified. The government (or actually the political end of the provisional coalition junta) seems to have one great problem. No one listens to them.

They seem interested in land reform and setting up a democracy but no one seems interested in working with them.

The leftists certainly aren't cooperative. The military ignores their moderate view. Even the U.S. disregarded Duarte's pleas for economic aid and instead sent more helicopters.

Which brings us to the people. They've had enough self-proclaimed spokesmen, so I won't try to speak for them. My guess is that they want unusual things — like peace and food.

As a believer in democracy, I can't help but feel that they've expressed their feelings in the recent elections.

Here's hoping that their rising coalition government can give them what they want. I wish them luck.

I suppose that now the election is over and the subject seems to be exhausted columnists will turn to other vitally important things like the baseball season. I hope the fickle media won't turn its back entirely on El Salvador. If they could keep us informed without boring us, perhaps we could be motivated to constructive action; otherwise, it's just another good cause button on an already crowded lapel.

Some political types (going from left to right): an extreme leftist, a leftist, a moderate, a rightist, and an extreme rightist.

©1982 M. Molinelli

Michael Molinelli

How to start stopping

The bomb is suddenly on magazine covers and on people's minds. It has entered the mainstream of concern. What Father Berrigan was saying yesterday, Father Hesburgh is saying today. Even Billy Graham has come out against the bomb. Millions march in Europe, thousands here. The Book-of-the-Month Club is offering Jonathan Schell's book on the bomb at cost, as a public service.

Garry Wills

Why all the fuss? Why now? Well, in part we owe it to Ronald Reagan. Having a bellicose dummy in the White House gives some people pause. On the other hand, Ronald Reagan's presence there delights many people, who like to see one of their own kind succeed. So we cannot give Mr. Reagan full credit.

Part of the explanation is sheer passage of time. Evidence accumulates. We now know that the bomb's effects are more serious and long-lasting than we had ever imagined in the era of the Bikini tests. And there are converging concerns — over the accidents and the waste disposal problems connected with nuclear energy, and over the general ecological endangerment brought about by modern technology. We are aware, now, of the effects of non-nuclear chemical wastes, "acid rain" and pollution as well. After Mount St. Helens' eruption, fine ash blew across our entire continent, and many people had to consider the effects if that ash had been radioactive. Atomic weapons, used in any number, would disrupt long-term life systems, entirely aside from the immediate blast and radiation. We are more afraid of the bomb now because we know more.

We are also facing the fact that many smaller nations are on the verge of acquiring their own bomb. The Israeli raid on Iraq may have exaggerated the time schedule for development of the Arab bomb. But no one can doubt that such a development is in the offing.

'... in part, we owe it to Ronald Reagan...'

Students of ethics have questioned the morality of retaliation on which deterrence is based. Doctors and physicists have deepened earlier doubts that a nuclear war is winnable. Theologians are toughening their prohibition on any use of the bomb.

So, many converging streams of study, thought, activism, and analysis have led to the movement that has just reached its breakthrough into broad visibility. This is not a sentimental fad, an overnight sensation.

But that is not to say that the movement will succeed. The odds against it are crushing. Even those saying "Stop" say that everyone must stop together, and that is not going to happen. Someone has to stop first, and no nation wants to do that. Reciprocity and verification are demanded, which plunges us back into the technicalities of the SALT talks. Mutual challenge on the fine points breeds distrust, not trust.

The only freeze that has a chance is precisely the one that is called unrealistic — a unilateral one, one that does not depend on trust of others but on the testing of oneself. Partly we are afraid to live by our own moral insights rather than the shared commonplaces of power. Partly we are too self-indulgent to expand or conventional forces in realistic terms — which is the price of giving up our illusions about nuclear "protection" of ourselves and others. The way to start the stopping is, first and foremost, simply to stop. All the moral and intellectual energy will be wasted unless we recognize the first realistic move must be unilateral. Till we face that fact, we are just fooling ourselves.

P.O. Box Q

Serve the entire community

Dear Editor:

Is the Observer really a student newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's as it claims to be? I have come to the conclusion that it is not. What the Observer appears to be is either a biased publication, or a newspaper with inefficient reporters who do an injustice to their readers.

Specifically, I am referring to Jim Kinney's "Inside Interhall" column of March 30. When first glancing at the format of the column one might think that the column will give a rundown of most of the interhall sports results, however, that is totally untrue. Zahm's victories are the only men's games mentioned. Under the "Men's Baseball" subheading, the Zahm-Flanner game is the only game mentioned. What about all the other baseball games that were played this past weekend? There were not even any scores! Then, under the subheading, "Men's Softball," Zahm's victory over St. Ed's is the only contest mentioned. If Mr. Kinney is truly going to write about Interhall Athletics then he should try to include as many of the results as possible, so that concerned readers can see an overview of how all the halls are faring in competition.

Brian Bartkowiak
Freshman Year of Studies

NOTE: On several occasions since the inception of "Inside Interhall," The Observer has printed requests for interhall competitors to contact either this office or the NVA office with results and highlights. Mr. Kinney does not purport to having attended every interhall event. No one can. We continue to encourage you to submit such information.

Minority speaks for majority

Dear Editor

I am responding to the article "Demonstrators Protest Hesburgh Participation" (March 25) and in particular to a statement made in this article, "They also want to show the South Bend community that the Notre Dame campus doesn't want Hesburgh to use Notre Dame's name to legitimize a hypocritical election." Since when does a group of 25 demonstrators consisting mainly of graduate students and professors have the right to claim that they speak for the ND Community. I was under the impression that the Notre Dame Campus consisted primarily of undergraduate students. It disturbs me when such a small, unrepresentative group tries to speak in the name of a much larger majority. I feel like someone is trying to shove words in my mouth.

Kevin Benner
College of Engineering

The Observer

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions and letters are the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief.....Michael Monk
Managing Editor.....Ryan Ver Berkmoes
Executive News Editor.....Kelli Flint
SMC News Editor.....Margaret Fosmoe
Sports Editor.....Chris Needles
Editorials Editor.....Paul McGinn
Features Editor.....Tari Brown
Photo Editor.....Rachel Blouin

Department Managers

Business Manager.....Tony Aiello
Controller.....Eric Schulz
Advertising Manager.....Chris Owen
Production Manager.....Maura Murphy
Circulation Manager.....Ray Inglin
Systems Manager.....Bruce Oakley

Founded November 3, 1966

Life is a Cabaret on stage

*What good is sitting alone in your room?
Life isn't that long a stay.
Life is a Cabaret, old chum,
Come to the Cabaret!*

The invitation — and the message — of the hit Broadway musical Cabaret is alive at Notre Dame this spring.

Ed McNally

With opening night at Washington Hall just two weeks away, the Cabaret cast is engaged in final rehearsals under the direction of senior Jeff Mousseau.

Mousseau, rated by one colleague as "one of the most gifted student directors to come through Notre Dame in years," has high hopes for the Notre Dame Student Players production.

"Cabaret is a show that affirms life," he says, "And yet there's a lot more to it than what appears on the surface. It's a fun show, but it's also ironic and decadent."

In February, Mousseau was faced with the challenge of casting the show from the 250-some students who auditioned at both campuses. Along with Producer Ed McNally, Choreographer Colleen Quinn and Vocal Director Anita Ramker, Mousseau selected 35 students to bring the musical to life.

The cast, says Mousseau, "has wonderful energy and enthusiasm. The Cabaret Girls are sexy and exotic. The romantic leads are naturals."

The romantic leads, Sally Bowles and Cliff Bradshaw, are played by freshman sensation Ora Jones and Student Players veteran, Mike Kelly, who also played the title character in last spring's smash sellout, Pippin.

Kelly is glad that the production is being staged in the intimate and classic confines of Washington Hall. "There the audience is directly involved in the show," he says, "there's no real distinction between the performing audience in the stage Cabaret and the audience in the theater itself."

The other leading player is the Cabaret emcee, played by Holy Cross sophomore and Off-off-Broadway veteran Frank Gabriele. He says he is impressed with "the quality of talent in the cast" and the six Cabaret dancers in particular. "They are good dancers, good movers and good looking."

In other major roles, Raul Aportela is cast as the comical and engaging Jewish merchant, Herr Schultz, Bridget Dolan as his intended, Fraulein Schneider, Doon Wintz as Ernst Ludwig, the Nazi smuggler and Betsy Quinn as the sexy and worldly, Fraulein Kost.

Cabaret will be performed April 15-18 in Washington Hall. Tickets go on sale Monday (April 5) at the N.D. Student Union box office and the St. Mary's programming office. All tickets will be for reserved seats, meaning that the earlier the tickets are bought, the better the seats will be.

St. Ed's returns with Sly Fox

The community of St. Ed's Hall returns to the Notre Dame theatre scene this weekend in a production of Larry Gelbart's Sly Fox, with performances tomorrow, Friday and Saturday night in Washington Hall.

Joe Musumeci

Last year the dorm did not produce their annual dramatic effort because of the problems caused by the burning of St. Ed's and the displacement of the residents, but this year they're back with style and a show that promises to be as entertaining as their offerings of past years.

Sly Fox is an adaptation, engineered by Gelbart, author of M.A.S.H., from Ben Johnson's Restoration play, Volpone. Gelbart replaced Johnson's setting with that of San Francisco during the "gay nineties." The plot concerns Foxwell Sly, and his efforts to live up to his name in dealings with those around him — in particular three characters who decide to try and outfox the fox. Fox, it seems, is dying, and three friends offer him all the pleasures at their disposal in an effort to get him to make one of them heir to his considerable wealth. The play is a raucous, bawdy, study of the resulting deceptions and confusion, combining the traditions of the Restoration theatre and the wild atmosphere of San Fran at the turn of the century.

Fr. Mario Pedi, the rector of St. Ed's, is directing the show; Pedi studied theatre at Stanford and worked with Lee Strasberg in New York, and he has directed several shows for St. Ed's, including One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest and Sticks and Bones.

Pedi believes that the most important aspect of hall presentations such as St. Ed's performances and "The Keenan Revue" is that they provide an opportunity for the members of the hall to work together on "a project"; something "to bring people closer together..." Pedi remarked that most of the students working on the project have little theatre experience, but he doesn't "push them" because they are all volunteers. As long as he feels that the students are working together and are having a good time, he says, the whole project is serving its purpose.

Pedi also said he felt fortunate to have been allowed to have Washington Hall, since the schedule of events in the building is unusually heavy. The cast and crew of Sly Fox just moved into the hall on Monday and are working diligently to prepare yet another show between the ND/SMC Theatre's American Buffalo and the ND Student Players production of Cabaret. Despite the rushed schedule, preparations and rehearsals have all gone well and Pedi expressed appreciation for the cooperation

ST. EDWARD'S HALL

LARRY GELBART'S BAWDY FARCE

SLY FOX

APRIL 1, 2, & 3

8:00 PM

WASHINGTON HALL

ADMISSION: $1.00

BASED ON BEN JOHNSON'S

VOLPONE

TICKETS AVAILABLE FROM ST. EDWARD'S RESIDENTS OR AT THE DOOR.

of the ND/SMC Theatre Department in procuring set pieces and period costumes.

Sly Fox is a very well-written, funny play, and it is refreshing to see that St. Ed's is back on stage providing entertainment for the community in a relaxed atmosphere. The show will be opening at 8 p.m. each of the three nights and admission will be one dollar. At that price, it would be a shame to miss an evening of quality entertainment put together with a real concern not just of the audience, but for all the people involved.

LeRoux dilutes Louisiana sound

Le Roux, with their new album Last Safe Place, has joined the ranks of Styx, Journey and REO Speedwagon as another AOR (Adult-Oriented Radio) group who has diluted their style to become more popular with a larger audience.

Ed Konrady

Le Roux was originally founded by producer Leon Medica as the primary in-house rhythm section at Studio in the Country, a recording studio in Louisiana. They toured as the Jeff Pollard Band, with Medica on bass guitar, Pollard singing lead vocals and playing lead guitar, Rod Roddy also singing lead vocals and playing keyboards, David Peters playing the drums and Bobby Campo playing all horns, flute and various percussion instruments.

After their signing with Capitol Records in 1977, they added Tony Haseldon on guitar, changed their name to Louisiana's Le Roux and released their first album titled, uniquely enough, Louisiana's Le Roux. They later dropped the Louisiana from their name and released Keep the Fire Burnin' and Up.

Having no popular success with the first three albums, Capitol

Records dropped Le Roux, who then signed with RCA Records and released Last Safe Place. On this album, Medica has steered Le Roux on a pop/rock course, stripping away any Southern boogie or Creole influences they once had. While this improves some songs as "Midnight Summer Dream", written by Medica (which is reminiscent of Chicago's "Wishing You Were Here") and "Make Believe" by Rod Roddy, a tale of lost love with inspired lyrics like Love, can't you find your way back into her heart for me?/Stop this loneliness that's slowly drowning me/Like a sea that's washed away it's boundary, this approach can cause some problems.

Their use of rock cliches hides a lack of inspiration and helps gain wide public acceptance. A remake of Buffalo Springfield's "Rock and Roll Woman" shows a total lack of insight toward a new version of the song, preferring instead to mimic the original in a rather pathetic way. "Addicted", a banal exercise in the art of making AM radio fodder by Roddy, features adolescent lyrics (When you do what you do to me/The fever starts to burn/You've got the power/For your love I yearn) is barely made respectable by a catchy tune that will earn it AM airplay.

Getting a lot of playing time on FM stations are two songs, "Nobody Said

It Was Easy" and "You Know How Those Boys Are", both written by Tony Haseldon, featuring excellent melodies and fresh approaches toward two typical rock subjects, success and groupies.

The two most inspired songs are "The Last Safe Place On Earth", the title track, and "Long Distance Lover". The former, written by Jeff Pollard, has a Jim Steinman flavor with street-scene lyrics (Sirens ripping down the street/It's a steamy southern night/Melting in the heat/It's hard to breathe, a red hot summer/Lost in the crowd like one small number) and searing guitar work by Pollard. The song stands out from the rest of the album.

"Long Distance Lover", by Roddy, is a rocker about the joys and pains of a telephone romance (not unfamiliar to college students) done in an upbeat, catchy style highlighted by a Pollard guitar solo.

The other two songs on the album, "It Doesn't Matter" (Pollard/Roddy) and "Inspiration" (Medica/Roddy) are typical of the album — good tunes, banal lyrics.

Last Safe Place shows both the potential and the shortcomings of Le Roux. With their new label (RCA) heavily promoting them, and the releasing of their better songs, this could be the album that will make Le Roux a familiar name to record buyers.

“The circus comes to town”

Thursday Noon Live on South Quad. No, Gilda and the Coneheads won't be there. But an odd couple of mice named Felix and Oscar may be performing along with a phenomenal flea circus, a dog and clown show, an acrobatic artist, and much, much more.

Mary Ann Roemer

The Royal Lichtenstein 1/4 Ring Sidewalk Circus, a throwback to the traveling shows of medieval times, landed here last spring, sponsored by Campus Ministry, Student Union and the Center for Experiential Learning. The circus returns tomorrow on the quad near South Dining Hall. The witty quips, jabbing jibes, creative skits and ad libbed lines are all more than enough reason to skip the caf for a day and join the crowd outside.

Don't go expecting to remain an innocent ringside spectator. The playful clowns are like puckish court jesters of old — nothing is sacred. Last year, an Army officer in full military regalia was verbally enlisted into the ring with a volley shot in his direction about the defense budget. Everything from the dome to the administrative was lampooned. Folks were kept riveted to the lawn by the teasing advice given to anyone getting up to leave, such as, “Remember to flush.”

Though some of the remarks are scathing they usually hit their intended mark and the show is generally full of lighthearted, spontaneous, unique entertainment.

Before the circus folds up their tent once again this year, you will want to be one of those transported to a different and simpler era by the magic these wise fools spin so well. Even those not ordinarily enamored with whitefaced clowns and their entourage may be in for a refreshing and noncaloric treat this Thursday noon.

Trivia Quiz XXI

Last week's quiz answers will probably bring back memories of your AM-radio-listening days, as these were the top ten singles last week ten years ago. I named the artist; you had to name the song... and here they are:

Tim Neely

1. America — “A Horse with No Name”
2. Neil Young — “Heart of Gold”
3. Robert John — “The Lion Sleeps Tonight”
4. Donny Osmond — “Puppy Love”
5. Paul Simon — “Mother and Child Reunion”
6. Nilsson — “Without You”
7. Cher — “The Way of Love”
8. The Chakachas — “Jungle Fever”
9. Bread — “Everything I Own”
10. Joe Tex — “I Gotcha”

This week I am offering a quiz that I will call “Bookends.” Below I will describe ten singles or LPs that were “bookends” — in other words, it hit number one, allowed another song or album to take its place, and then knocked that record off the top. This happens more often than you may realize, as you shall see. I will mention the “sandwiched” record and then describe the one which both preceded and followed it to the top. Your mission, should you choose to accept it, is to name these “bookends.”

1. We'll start you off easy: For Those About to Rock We Salute You by AC/DC was preceded and followed at the top by an LP by a recently-trimmed band coming off a commercial and critical near-bomb. At the same time, the second single from this album was spending ten consecutive weeks at number two, an all-time chart record.

2. “I Feel Fine” by the Beatles; the third consecutive number one single by the most successful girl group of all time.

3. Rock of the Westies by Elton John (by the way, his second consecutive album which had debuted at the top); the most successful album of this group's career, which started in the psychedelic era and continues today, with a modernization in name.

4. Paradise Theater by Styx was actually club-sandwiched: it replaced an LP at the top, which then replaced Styx. Then Styx returned to the top for a second time, and was replaced by the same album again, recorded by an Illinois-based rock band, as is Styx.

5. “Fly, Robin, Fly” by Silver Convention; the second consecutive number one single by the biggest disco group before the Bee Gees did Saturday Night Fever, based in southern Florida.

6. “Respect” by Aretha Franklin; a single also recorded in Spanish and Italian for those markets, by a group which formed out of Joey Dee and the Starlites (of “Peppermint Twist” fame) and later dropped an age-qualifying word from their name.

7. “Brandy (You're a Fine Girl)” by Looking Glass; his first and biggest American hit, he had three more top-20 hits in the next year or so after this smash, but has not been heard from since the last, “Get Down” in 1973.

8. Simple Dreams by Linda Ronstadt; the first album to yield four hit singles, with all of them making the top ten.

9. “Too Much Heaven” by the Bee Gees; the only single, a disco smash, since the Hot 100 came into existence in November of 1955, that spent six weeks at number one — in three different segments.

10. Led Zepplin II; the biggest-selling album by the biggest-selling British group of all time. On its first editions not every track on the LP was listed on the label.

Oh, I don't know... just call me humble

“Anyone attracted to the rugged features of his handsome countenance might at first glance fail to observe the piercing intelligence of Andy Rooney's steel blue eyes.”

That's the way I'd like to have an article about me start. In the past year I've been interviewed 20 times by reporters and none of them has started a piece that way. The articles have been friendly and many of them well done, but no one who reads anything about himself is ever totally satisfied. Do they have to point out I'm often grumpy? Must the reporter point out that my clothes are unpressed? Is it necessary to say that I'm overweight and getting grey?

Andy Rooney

What follows are some guidelines for reporters who wish to interview me in the future. I'd like to have the report go more like this:

“Rooney, who wears his expensive but tasteful clothes with a casual grace that conceals his position as one of the style-setters in the men's fashion world, talked to this reporter in his hotel suite where he draped his taut, muscular frame over an easy chair.

“Considered by most critics to be the leading essayist in print and broadcasting, Andy was disarmingly diffident when this reporter compared his work with that of Mark Twain, Hemingway, Robert Benchley, E.B. White, Walter Lippmann and Art Buchwald.

“Shucks,” he said modestly as he dug his toe into the deep pile rug of the carpet in his penthouse suite, “I don't know about that.”

“Although it is not widely publicized,” this article about me would continue, if I had my way, “Andy Rooney might well be known as a modern-day Chippendale, were his mastery of the cabinetmaker's art not overshadowed by his genius with the English language.

“On the tennis court, Andy's serve has often been compared to that of Roscoe Tanner and he moves with a catlike quickness that belies his age. When playing with business associates like Mike Wallace, he often makes a game of it by using his left hand or by giving Mike the advantage of the doubles lines.

“Andrew is wonderful to live with,” says his wife, Marguerite. “He's always good-natured and a joy to have around the house. I can't recall an argument we've had in all the years of our marriage.”

“Rooney's four children, Ellen, Martha, Emily and Brian are all perfect, too.

“On the average day, Andy rises at 4:30 a.m. By 6 p.m., because of his unusual ability to read 600 words a minute, he has finished two newspapers and Time Magazine. His photographic memory enables him to store anything he has read for long periods of time, and it is partly this ability that makes it easy for him to turn out three interesting, accurate, informative and perceptive columns each week.

“Of his friend, Harry Reasoner says, ‘I only wish I could write as well as Andy does.’

“During our interview, Rooney got several telephone calls. William Buckley called to ask his advice on a point of grammar. There was a call from someone identified only as ‘Ron’ asking for advice on the economy. A third call came from E.F. Hutton asking Andy how he thought the stockmarket would behave in the days ahead.”

I'm going to clip this out of the newspaper now and carry it with me wherever I go. If a young reporter wishes to interview me, I'll show it to him, just to give him some idea how I think his report should read. There's no sense having reporters waste a lot of time getting the facts.

Copyright 1982, Chicago Tribune

Coming soon to a theater near you.

The Elevator

(...a true story.)

Rated R

'Phantom Pass'

Brown's mistake spelled defeat

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — It may well be remembered as the Phantom Pass. It will haunt Fred Brown, but it lifted the weight of 20 seasons without a national championship off the shoulders of North Carolina Coach Dean Smith.

Brown, a sophomore guard from Georgetown University who had committed three turnovers earlier in the game, was assigned to bring the ball downcourt with 15 seconds left in the NCAA basketball championship game Monday night. North Carolina led by one, 63-62, on a 16-foot jump shot by freshman guard Michael Jordan.

There was a dull roar from the crowd, announced at 61,612, in the Louisiana Superdome. Tar Heels fans, waving blue and white pom-poms, drew a last, deep breath and braced for Georgetown's final shot.

It never came. "I saw him (Brown) pick up the ball at the top of the key," North Carolina's James Worthy said. "He was going to throw to someone on the wings. I thought he'd try to lob it over me or throw it away from me."

Georgetown had a standard play for the situation, and Coach John Thompson, with the seconds ticking away, chose not to call timeout.

"If I had called timeout, I didn't know what defense Dean would have called, so what play I would have called would not have made any difference," Thompson said.

Eric "Sleepy" Floyd, Georgetown's All-America guard, was waiting near the baseline for the ball. His shooting arm, like a pump, was primed to go. He already had scored 18 points that night.

"I was cutting to the corner, and we had spread out their defense," Floyd said. "We had them at several disadvantages. There were several openings. We had confidence in every player out there that he could shoot the ball and make it."

But no one got that chance. Brown's pass went directly to Worthy on the right side of the key. There was no one else around.

... Corner

continued from page 12

became the first gymnast either for Notre Dame or Saint Mary's to ever crack the nine barrier as she scored a phenomenal 9.4 in the vault competition to place first. Not bad for someone who had been sick all week and even had troubles during warmups.

Dorenbusch, meanwhile, placed first in the rings on the strength of becoming the first Notre Dame gymnast ever to finish off a routine with a double somersault. Dorenbusch finished with a 6.8 score. Other first-place performances came from freshman Tim Sennet in the floor exercise (7.4), and senior Louis DeLeon in the pommel-horse (6.7). Juniors Randy Kelly and Ed Barrett had second-place finishes in the rings and parallel bars, respectively, as did Dorenbusch in the vault. Barrett and junior Scott Fortman had third place finishes in the respective events of the high bar and floor exercise.

For the women, freshman Cindy Salvino placed second in the floor exercise and third in the vault and uneven bars. Classmate Kathy Wolter had a second-place performance in the balance beam. McHugh and Salvino also had outstanding scores in the vault with scores of 8.8 and 8.7 as they placed second and third respectively. The team will travel to Purdue this Saturday to conclude the season.

WOMEN'S TRACK — The Notre Dame women's track team opened up its spring season at a nine-team meet this past Saturday at Purdue. Although the women wound up with no points in the meet, there were some top individual performances. Sophomore Rose Marie Luking had a personal best time of 5:48.8 in the mile run. Freshman Lorie Stuzik had a 6:08.2 time in the same event.

Junior Kathy Adams ran a 7.9 in the 60 meters with freshman Rosalind Woods finishing right behind with a 8.0 sprint. Sophomore Lisa Monti ran the 220-yard dash in :28.3. Freshman Mary Maher, in her first track meet, ran a 31.7 220-yard sprint. Freshman Mary Kennedy ran a 2:33 880-yard race to lead the club in the intermediate races.

Junior Evie Allmaras was the lone field competitor for the team. She threw the shotput 9.94 meters (about 33 feet). The 4 x 220 relay team of Woods, Adams, Maher and Monti finished with a 2:02.6 time.

The team will travel to Western Michigan this Saturday for its next meet.

... Selmer

continued from page 12

overnight. It's a business."

Selmer also is happy to be at Notre Dame, a kind of coaching zenith because it's "a national school — everybody's aware of Notre Dame football."

In coming to Notre Dame, Selmer rejoins linebacker coach George Kelly, whom he served with for seven years while at Nebraska.

A native of Minneapolis, Minn., Selmer has spent his first three months as an Irish assistant becoming acquainted with the players with whom he will be dealing. He calls those players "great people. They're helpful and very personable, and easy to get to know. They all seem very cooperative, and I've enjoyed working with them so far."

Selmer also praised his linemen for their intelligence, something they will need in the Selmer system.

"Generally, I feel a lineman should be able to play any position on the line," he says. "Naturally, the center position is a bit different because of the exchange, but the other two are similar. I'll make sure the kids learn the essentials of both the guard and tackle positions, and I hope this will help us as a football team.

"We're starting from scratch to find out what we have," he adds, "so my task right now is to find the five best players we have, and then the next five, and so on. In doing that, we're trying to utilize the strengths we think they have, and improve on what they already know."

"That's the purpose of spring ball. I think they're all very capable, but we don't want to remain at a kind of status quo. We want to get better, and I hope to make them better."

A somewhat anxious group of fans, both student and alumni, would like nothing more than to see him succeed.

IRISH ITEMS: Practice resumes today, weather permitting, for the Irish today at Cartier Field, beginning at 4 p.m. Students, as always, are welcome to attend by showing an ID.

IN April

You've gotta run.

Everybody's running in America's Love Run. You don't have to be an Olympic champion to join. Set a reasonable goal... then ask friends, neighbors, and business associates to pledge 5¢ or more to the Muscular Dystrophy Association for every mile you run. Run anywhere you'd like — and at any time.

Send in the registration form below along with your $3.50 tax deductible entry fee (check payable to MDA), and we'll send you an official T-Shirt, Sponsorship Form, Runner's Log, and complete instructions.

Registration Form

Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____ State _____ Zip _____
 Running Club Affiliation (if any) _____
 T-shirt Size (circle one) S M L XL AMERICA'S LOVE RUN

Return Registration with your $3.50 tax deductible entry fee (check payable to MDA) TO: 103 West Wayne Room 307 South Bend, IN 46601

America's Love Run<sup>SM</sup>
 To benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association

CORBY'S

WEDNESDAY NIGHT SPECIAL

OSCAR BABY JONES RHYTHM & BLUES

Id's required

Hours 2pm-3am

Holy Cross Fathers

Vocation Counseling

How do I know if I have a vocation to the priesthood?

What is the academic and formation program for becoming a priest?

What scholarships and financial aid are available for seminary training?

What are the various apostolic ministries of the Holy Cross priests?

How do I pray if I'm thinking of a vocation to the priesthood and I'm not sure?

For a personal, confidential interview with no obligation, please write or call the vocation director.

Rev. Andre Leveille, S.J.
 Box 541
 Notre Dame, Ind. 46556

For appointment call between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

phone: 219 239-6385

ENGINEERS:

REHRIG PACIFIC COMPANY

IS A FAST-GROWING NATIONWIDE MANUFACTURER OF PLASTIC SHIPPING CONTAINERS. WE OFFER CHALLENGING POSITIONS IN SIX LOCATIONS ACROSS THE COUNTRY. THESE POSITIONS LEAD DIRECTLY TO PLANT MANAGEMENT RESPONSIBILITIES.

SIGN UP NOW AT YOUR PLACEMENT OFFICE FOR A CAMPUS INTERVIEW ON MONDAY, APRIL 5, 1982.

FOOTBALL CONCESSION STANDS

Clubs, Organizations, Hall Governments have until Friday, April 16 to apply for a location for the 1982 football season. Notification of winners will be the following week. Applications are available in the Student Activities Office.

51st ANNIVERSARY
ROCKNE MEMORIAL MASS
& BREAKFAST
Sunday, April 4, 1982
MASS: 8:15 AM, South Dining Hall
BREAKFAST: 9:15 AM South Dining Hall
GUEST SPEAKER Coach Gerry Faust
SPECIAL GUESTS Members of the Rockne Family 1982 Football Tri-Captains:
Phil Carter, Dave Duerson, Mark Zavagnin

SPECIAL FEATURE
During breakfast there will be a screening of a recent Knute Rockne documentary film narrated by actor Cliff Robertson For additional information call the Alumni Office at (219) 239-6000, or Tom Kirschner
(in the evening) at 234-3790.

THE OBSERVER

NEEDS PHOTOGRAPHERS!

This is a paid position with many fringe benefits. Darkroom experience a must. Bring resume and samples of your work to the OBSERVER Office
(3rd floor LaFortune) by March 31.

ICELANDAIR INTRODUCES NEW BARGAIN FARES TO MORE OF EUROPE.

LUXEMBOURG $499 ROUNDRIP FROM CHICAGO	PARIS $581 ROUNDRIP FROM CHICAGO
ZURICH $599 ROUNDRIP FROM CHICAGO	FRANKFURT $557 ROUNDRIP FROM CHICAGO

All Apex Fares: April 1 - May 14, 1982, 7-90 day stay (7-60 days Luxembourg). Stopovers permitted in both directions. 14 day advance purchase required. Seats limited. Ask about our low cost Normal, Same Day, and Group fares, too.

ALSO LOW COST CONNECTING SERVICE TO NICE AND AMSTERDAM.
Icelandair to Luxembourg. Luxair or Crossair connecting service to other destinations.

- Confirmed reservation. ■ Free wine with dinner, cognac after.
- Bargain Stopover Tours of Iceland and Luxembourg. ■ Bargain car rentals. ■ Purchase tickets in U.S. ■ All fares subject to change and government approval.

See your travel agent or call 800/555-1212 for the toll free Icelandair number in your area.

ICELANDAIR
NOW MORE THAN EVER YOUR BEST VALUE TO EUROPE

... Briefs

continued from page 8

Chris Needles, the new Sports Editor of the Observer, will be the guest tonight on "Speaking of Sports" at midnight on WSND-AM 64, hosted by Dave Dziedzic and Will Hare. Listeners are invited to call in with their sports questions at 239-6400 or 239-7425. — The Observer

The ND Windsurfing Club will hold a very important meeting for all members on Wednesday, March 31, at 9 p.m. in the Grace Pit. A vote will be taken at this time to determine a merge with the sailing club. A small party will follow. — The Observer

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes will hold a meeting tonight at 9 o'clock in the Howard social space. All are invited to attend. — The Observer

The San Francisco Giants continued its cleaning house of its pitching staff yesterday by trading two more starting pitchers. Staff ace Vida Blue was traded to the Kansas City Royals for obscure pitchers Renie Martin, Atlee Hammaker and Craig Chamberlain. Blue was 8-6 with a 2.45 ERA last year, and was a three-time 20-game winner and a 1971 Cy Young Award winner. Then, the Giants shipped righthander Doyle Alexander to the Yankees for two minor leaguers. That means that the Giants, since last October, have traded its entire 1981 starting rotation. Pitchers Allen Ripley, Tom Griffin and Ed Whitson were dealt over the winter. — AP

HOCKEY

In this year's NHL playoff format, the top four teams in each division make the playoffs, regardless of overall league standing.

PRINCE OF WALES CONFERENCE

Adams Division

	W	L	T	GF	GA	Pts
x-Montreal	45	15	17	350	214	107
y-Boston	41	26	10	306	271	92
y-Buffalo	38	25	15	298	262	91
y-Quebec	31	30	16	337	333	78
Hartford	21	39	17	258	336	59

Patrick Division

x-N.Y. Islanders	53	15	9	374	237	115
y-N.Y. Rangers	38	26	13	304	295	89
y-Philadelphia	37	30	10	312	303	84
y-Pittsburgh	29	36	12	292	326	70
Washington	24	41	12	306	329	60

CLARENCE CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

Smythe Division

	W	L	T	GF	GA	Pts
x-Edmonton	46	17	15	408	291	107
y-Calgary	28	33	17	322	342	73
y-Vancouver	28	33	16	273	278	72
y-Los Angeles	24	38	15	307	349	63
Colorado	17	48	12	234	346	46

Norris Division

x-Minnesota	36	22	20	338	282	92
y-Winnipeg	33	30	14	314	323	80
y-St. Louis	31	39	8	308	340	70
y-Chicago	28	37	12	320	352	68
Toronto	20	42	16	293	367	56
Detroit	20	46	12	265	345	52

x-clinched division title
y-clinched playoff spot

Yesterday's Results

Buffalo 6, Quebec 4
Montreal 6, Hartford 4
Winnipeg 7, Minnesota 5
St. Louis 5, Toronto 3
Calgary 7, Los Angeles 5

SMC track places third in meet

The Saint Mary's track team placed third out of four teams yesterday in their season-opening meet hosted by the Belles.

First place was taken by defending Division III state champion Anderson College, with St. Joseph's of Division II placing second, the Belles (who compete in Division III) third and Goshen College fourth.

Impressive performances were turned in by several SMC athletes. Freshman Helen Calacci placed first in the discus, and fifth in the shotput and javelin. Fellow freshman Kelly O'Connor came in third in the high jump and second in the hurdles. Sophomore Cindy Short turned in the best accomplishment of the day, though, when she won the 800-meter race, defeating the defending state champion from Anderson in the process.

"All in all, it was a good performance for our first meet," said SMC Co-Coach Tim Dillon. "Hopefully, we'll improve in the coming weeks for our other meets."

The next meet for the Belles will take place on April 5 against Earlham College and Indiana Central University. — The Observer

Check out the OAKROOM CAFE
in South Dining Hall's Pay Cafe

For a late nite snack
Nightly Specials

Complete with a new jukebox

open Mon.-Thurs 9-12 am
Fri.-Sat. 9-2 am

Hofstra Law School
SUMMER SESSION 1982

	Courses	Credits
Summer Session 1 May 24 to July 2	Commercial Paper	2
	Conflict of Laws	3
	Criminal Procedure	4
	Debtor-Creditor	3
	Evidence	4
	Family Law	3
	Individual Income Tax	4
	Law and Medicine	3
	Remedies	3
	Secured Transactions	2
	Securities Regulation	3
Unfair Trade Practices	3
Summer Session 2 July 6 to Aug. 16	Business Organizations	4
	Corporate Tax	3
	Estate and Gift Tax	3
	International Law	2
	Law and Public Education	3
	Legislative Process	3
Tax Clinic	3
Products Liability	3

For Further Information Write or Call (516) 560-3636

 Hofstra School of Law
HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY, Hempstead, N.Y. 11550
Hofstra University is an equal educational opportunity institution.

Become an Army Officer

Would you like to put your degree to work upon graduation?

As an Army Officer, you'll develop your abilities to organize, lead, and motivate people - just the skills you need for private industry. You will find that an officer's job can be challenging, demanding, and very satisfying, for both men and women.

You'll begin after graduation with a 21-week training program, which includes Officer Candidate School. Once you successfully complete the training, you will become a second lieutenant.

You must be a U.S. citizen or have been lawfully admitted for permanent residence. You must also be between 19 and 29 years old.

For more information about becoming an Army Officer, contact

Captain George Burnett
Sherland Building, Room 420
105 E. Jefferson, South Bend
232-6250
Mon-Fri, 8a.m. - 6 pm
ARMY-BE ALL YOU CAN BE

Molarity

Michael Molinelli

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

Simon

Jeb Cashin

Campus

- — Career Planning Workshop, Joan McIntosh, ND, Administration Building Placement Bureau Rm. 222, Sponsored by Placement Bureau, 7:00 p.m. — Lecture, "A Christian Perspective of Abortion and Parenting, Tom Reid, Stapleton Lounge, SMC, Sponsored by ND/SMC Right to Life, 7:30 p.m. — Film, The Killing Ground, Rm. 351 Madeleva, SMC, Sponsored by SMC Psychology Department, free
- 8:00 p.m. — Lecture, Bette Anderson, SMC, Carroll Hall, Sponsored by Women's Opportunity Week Series,
- 8:00 p.m. — Lecture, "The Legal Aspects of Abortion", Dr. Charles Rice, ND, Stapleton Lounge, SMC, Sponsored by ND/SMC Right to Life,
- 8:30 p.m. — Meeting, First General Meeting of the Notre Dames Women's C, La Fortune Little Theatre,
- 9:00 p.m. — Prayers for Peace, SMC, SMC Clubhouse,
- 9:00 p.m. — Meeting, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Howard Hall Social Space,
- 10:00 p.m. — Penance Service for Lent, Sacred Heart Church, Sponsored by Campus Ministry,

T.V. Tonight

Wednesday, March 31

- 7:00 p.m. 16 MASH
- 22 CBS News
- 28 Joker's Wild
- 34 The MacNeil/Lehrer Report
- 7:30 p.m. 16 The Muppet Show
- 22 Family Feud
- 28 Tic Tac Dough
- 34 Straight Talk
- 8:00 p.m. 16 Real People
- 22 Herbie, The Love Bug
- 28 Greatest American Hero
- 34 Melody of a City: New Orleans
- 9:00 p.m. 16 Facts of Life
- 22 WKRP in Cincinnati
- 28 The Fall Guy
- 34 Middletown "The Big Game"
- 9:30 p.m. 16 Love Sidney
- 22 Baker's Dozen
- 10:00 p.m. 16 Quincy
- 22 Shannon
- 28 Cheryl Ladd...Scenes from a Special
- 34 Light in the West
- 11:00 p.m. 16 NewsCenter 16
- 22 Eyewitness News
- 28 Newswatch 28
- 34 The Dick Cavett Show
- 11:30 p.m. 16 The Tonight Show
- 22 CBS Movie: "Deathsport"
- 28 ABC News Nightline
- 34 Captioned ABC News
- 12:00 a.m. 28 Love Boat
- 12:30 p.m. 16 Late Night with David Letterman

The Daily Crossword

- ACROSS
- 1 Sounds of laughter
  - 6 Small weights: abbr.
  - 9 Singer Natalie
  - 13 That is
  - 14 Blow a horn
  - 15 Eye part
  - 16 Kitchen gadget
  - 17 Frog: Lat.
  - 18 Lairs
  - 19 Was too finicky
  - 22 Consumed
  - 23 Foreboding
  - 24 Alphabet sequence
  - 28 Altitudes: abbr.
  - 30 Fuel ship
  - 33 Under
  - 35 Starts
  - 37 Moon vehicle
  - 39 City in Belgium
  - 40 Sickness
  - 41 Wipe out
  - 43 Spanish queen
  - 44 Fable name
  - 46 Memos
  - 47 Lawn stuff
  - 49 Circuit

- 51 Greek letter
- 52 Dicks
- 54 Tennis need
- 56 Was too gullible
- 64 Greek garment
- 65 Warden
- 66 Architecture style
- 67 War god
- 68 Trampled
- 69 Vedict
- 70 Lahr or Parks
- 71 Observe
- 72 Attempted
- 20 Degree
- 21 Gotten up
- 24 Proficient
- 25 Person
- 26 Lucid
- 27 Pooch
- 29 Thread holder
- 31 Fill with joy
- 32 Adjust, as a clock
- 34 Cunning sneak
- 36 Enlarged
- 38 Tableland
- 42 Steal
- 45 Accompanies
- 48 Finally
- 50 Legume
- 53 Affirmed
- 55 Dickens' Oliver
- 56 Use a stiletto
- 57 Used
- 58 Ripening factor
- 59 Wild cry of old Greece
- 60 Particular time
- 61 Against
- 62 Calabrian cash
- 63 Organism modified by environment

Tuesday's Solution

© 1982 Tribune Company Syndicate, Inc. All Rights Reserved

3/31/82

3/31/82

Today in History

March 31, 1931
Bazaar, Kansas

Legendary Notre Dame football coach Knute Rockne is killed in a plane crash.

TIME IS SHORT

Call Julian 3805 to enter the
The Junior Class Talent Show at the Nazz
TOMORROW NIGHT
9-?pm

IF YOU DON'T ACT, SING, DANCE.....
THEN COME BY AND WATCH THE FUN!!!

It's LUCKY Nite at

SENIOR BAR

Only 7 more WEDNESDAY
NITE DRAFT SPECIALS
this year - Don't Miss Them!

Tonight's Import Special:

BECKS

10:00-2:00

Selmer brings years of experience to ND

By MARK HANNUKSELA
Sports Writer

Carl Selmer has been coaching college football longer than most of his players have been alive.

His stops have included most every geographical region of North America: West — Wyoming; Midwest — Nebraska and Kansas State; North — Minnesota; Northwest — Vancouver, British Columbia; South — North Texas State; and Southeast — Miami (Florida).

Spring Football '82

He has seen a variety of changes in rules and equipment, not to mention individual talent, in his 35 years of coaching (nine in high school, 24 in college and one in Canada's professional league).

And through it all, the basic philosophies of coaching an offensive line have remained the same.

"We've gotta block 'em," he says. "We've got to protect the quarterback and open holes for the runners. The ideas and methods and maneuvers will change from time to time for various reasons, but the basic thought never changes."

In other words, there are no promises of new looks and exciting movements — only hopes of increased productivity.

"We'll emphasize aggressiveness, but we'll probably do about the same things that were done last year," says Selmer, 56, who comes to Notre Dame from British Columbia, where he coached the B.C. Lions of the CFL. "We're just going to try to improve on what they did do, and I hope they will be able to do that as they become more experienced."

Experience is one thing Selmer has to give to his troops. He wears on his left hand a symbol of what that experience can produce — a national championship ring.

Selmer was with Nebraska when the Cornhuskers captured back-to-back national titles in 1970 and '71, and wears a championship ring as a result.

Under then-head coach Bob Devaney, Selmer coached the line that triggered Nebraska's high-powered offense, an offense that was just as potent in 1972, even though the Huskers did not win another title. Nebraska did, however, cap off that season by rolling over Notre Dame, 40-6, in the 1973 Orange Bowl.

That was Devaney's final season as the Nebraska coach, and it ended a 16-year period that Devaney and Selmer spent together (the first five were at Wyoming).

That was also four jobs ago for Selmer, who has been either the offensive line coach or the offensive coordinator at every stop, with the exception of a two-year reign as Miami's head coach.

After last year's CFL stint, he's happy to be back in the college ranks, where, he says, "You have a little better relationship with the player. I enjoyed my year in Canada, but pro ball can be callous sometimes. In college, you watch players go through the system and graduate, but in pro ball, you can lose a player

See SELMER, page 9

Notre Dame's new offensive line coach Carl Selmer (right), a 35-year veteran of the coaching ranks, got right down to business at his first Irish practice on Saturday, putting his players through some grueling drills. See Mark Hannuksela feature at left. (Photo by Cheryl Ertelt).

Academic All-American

Krimm receives NCAA scholarship

By BILL MARQUARD
Sports Writer

Notre Dame senior John Krimm, a three year starter at defensive back for the Irish who owns a 3.7 grade-point average, was awarded a plaque yesterday commemorating his NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship.

The award was made by Fr. Edmund P. Joyce, CSC, the university's Executive Vice-President.

"This scholarship award is indicative of the kind of program we want to have here at Notre Dame — a program which combines academics and athletics," explained Joyce.

"It demonstrates our emphasis on 'student' in the term 'student-athlete,'" he continued.

"I am as proud of this award as I am of an Academic All-American."

The scholarships, which include a $2,000 stipend, are awarded annually to the nation's outstanding student-athletes. Twenty-two were awarded in football this season, and Krimm's award is the 21st awarded to a Notre Dame student-athlete. Only the Air Force Academy has more.

"I think this award really demonstrates that at Notre Dame one can enjoy the best of both worlds, academically and athletically," offered Krimm, a philosophy

Ohio, native. "Philosophy has given me the chance to develop skills valuable in critical thinking and evaluating.

John Krimm

"Skills such as these can be applied in any number of areas."

Krimm's award marks the fourth consecutive year that an Irish student-athlete has been honored. The previous three were Tom Gibbons (football, '81), Greg Meredith (hockey, '80) and Joe Restic (football, '79).

Interestingly, the last three football players, including Krimm, to receive an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship were all defensive backs.

'An award such as this is more important to me than a national championship...'

major.

"John is one of our finest examples of a student-athlete," added Mike DeCicco, the university's academic advisor for athletics. "An award such as this is more important to me than a national championship or any other athletic honor — it demonstrates to us that we really are achieving what we have set out to accomplish."

"In fact, the NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship is the Heisman trophy of scholar-athletes."

Although he seriously is considering professional football, Krimm's long-range plans are focused on law school. Having been accepted at Virginia, Duke, Notre Dame and Ohio State, he is leaning toward the first.

"I chose to pursue philosophy with the idea of furthering my education, either in an MBA or law program," explained the Columbus,

Rugby makes triumphant return

RUGBY — A crowd of close to 400 people was on hand last Saturday at the Stepan Center fields to witness the new beginning of Notre Dame rugby. And although Notre Dame lost the A, B and C matches to the South Side Irish from Chicago by respective scores of 16-4, 10-3 and 9-0, the enthusiasm of being able to compete once again was not lost on the players.

"We didn't expect to win," admits club president Nick Colarelli. "We just used this game as a warmup for the Purdue match this Saturday (also to be played at the Stepan fields). You have to realize that we are just a club sport, while the team we played has people who have been playing for 10 years."

Senior Danny Pearl had the lone score for Notre Dame in the "A" game. Classmate Marc Deflin stood out as the top performer among the backs while junior Mike Butler was cited for fine play for the scrums (linemen). Senior Joe Timmins' kick provided the only scoring for the team in the "B" match.

"There were only four guys on the 'B' squad who had previous experience in rugby," relates Colarelli. "The other 11 were new members. It is the same case with the 'C' team; they are all good athletes, it's just a matter of gaining some more experience in the matches."

"Otherwise everything was just great. The players were in good shape as they didn't become seriously tired and all, and the enthusiasm was super." The Purdue match this Saturday is slated to begin between 12 and 1 p.m.

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL — Heroic comebacks epitomize the incredible Notre Dame lore in athletics. In the opening game of a doubleheader against Saint Mary's last Saturday, the Notre Dame women's softball club became a part of that historic pantheon. Trailing 7-0 after three innings, and 8-1 going into the bottom of the 6th, the Irish looked like they were headed for certain defeat.

"It would have been pretty easy to quit," says student-assistant coach Bob Spahn. "We were making a lot of mistakes, plus the conditions with the strong wind and all really made it difficult enough to play, much less come back from a large deficit." But, hey, seven-run comebacks in the cold are fun and a snap compared to practicing and running in the dimly-lit ACC at midnight throughout the winter months (as the team members were subjected to).

A four-run 6th-inning made the score 8-5 going into the 7th and final inning, but after two of the first three

Louie Somogyi Sports Writer

Club Corner

Notre Dame women made outs in the final inning, hope seemed lost. Two more women reached base, however, to set up sophomore Laura Chagnon's clutch base-clearing double to put the game into extra innings and spur an eventual 9-8 triumph by Notre Dame.

Sophomore Jill Strenzel paced the hitting with a 3-for-5 effort at the plate. Strenzel, junior Laurie Barry and freshman Linda Kelleher each batted in a run for the Irish. Kelleher also was the winning pitcher as she gave up no earned runs and only five hits in 5 1/3 innings of relief.

In the second game, Saint Mary's, on the strength of a bases-loaded triple by Theresa McGinnis, took a 4-1 lead after two innings. The Irish rallied once again, though, to emerge as 6-4 victors. Notre Dame senior Cyndi Crennel earned the win as she helped limit Saint Mary's to four hits. Mary Bayless, her Saint Mary's counterpart, also tossed a four-hitter. Sophomore Molly Ryan scored three runs and hit a triple while freshman Mary Arn had two hits in three at bats to pace the Notre Dame offense.

GYMNASTICS — Led by the "McNificent" duo of senior Brian McLaughlin and sophomore Denise McHugh, the Notre Dame-Saint Mary's Gymnastics Club had its finest team meet of the year in trouncing Purdue. The men's team won by a score of 110.4-65.65 while the women won 61.1-50.2. McLaughlin and McHugh both placed first in the all-around competition. McLaughlin placed first in the vault with a 7.9 score, second in the floor exercise and high bar, and third in the pommel horse and parallel bars.

McHugh took first place in the floor exercise, uneven bars and balance beam with respective scores of 6.8, 6.1 and 5.2. She also placed second in the vault. A total of 15 men and eight women competed.

Freshmen Megan Zillig of Saint Mary's and Mike Dorenbusch were the stars of the meet, though. Zillig

See CORNER, page 9

INSIDE:

SMC track

--page 10

NCAA roundup

--page 9

Sportsbriefs

--page 8