

ACCENT: 'Glass Menagerie'

VIEWPOINT: Impetus of Jackson ticket

Back to basics

Windy and much colder today with a chance of sprinkles this afternoon. High in the upper 40s.

The Observer

VOL. XXI, NO. 122

THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1988

the independent newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

Mock Convention Results

660 total delegates

Dukakis

384*

Simon

268*

Gore

lost 4th vote by 61 delegates

Jackson

lost 3rd vote by 24 delegates

Cuomo

lost 2nd vote by 1 delegate

* total delegates
in final vote

CHRIS DONNELLY/The Observer

Dukakis sweeps votes on fifth ballot of convention

By MARK MCLAUGHLIN
News Editor

Amid shouts and screams, wheeling and dealing, and some hard-fought campaigning, Gov. Michael Dukakis was declared the presidential nominee at the Mock Convention last night.

Dukakis' campaign won the final vote by a count of 364 delegates to 268 for runner-up Paul Simon out of a total of 660 available delegates.

The voting process consisted of a multiple runoff vote, with one candidate being eliminated after every vote. The "draft (Gov. Mario) Cuomo" campaign suffered defeat after the second ballot, Rev. Jesse Jackson survived until the third ballot, and Sen. Albert Gore was eliminated on the fourth ballot.

Since the convention rules planned for more than five candidates, the first vote did not eliminate any candidates on the ballot, said Steve Claeys, rules committee chairman.

Mark Bettencourt, mock campaign manager for the Dukakis campaign, said he was "very pleased with the way it turned out. I'd like to congratulate every one of the other campaigns."

"We didn't really expect this much of a fight," Bettencourt added. In the four roll call votes before the final vote, Dukakis had a much narrower lead over Simon.

"I'd like to thank the 'Graceland coalition,'" said Simon mock campaign manager Bill Smith after the final vote. The "Graceland coalition" ran a highly visible campaign, sporting bright red buttons and bowties of every description. "We tried to be as serious as we could, while still

see VOTE, page 6

Senator speaks live via satellite at MNC

By PATRICK O'CONNOR
Staff Reporter

Indiana Senator Dan Quayle spoke live via satellite from Washington D.C. about the major issues facing presidential candidates in 1988 at the Mock National Convention Wednesday evening.

The Republican senator, in his twenty minute speech to Notre Dame's mock delegates and spectators, primarily addressed the topics of national security and the ineffectiveness of the Indiana primary in determining presidential candidates.

Quayle cited what he believes to be the four major components of the national security dilemma: Afghanistan, the INF agreement, SDI, and Nicaragua.

Quayle said the removal of Soviet troops from Afghanistan would be a "very historic achievement," because it would mark the first reversal of Soviet expansion since the institution of communism in the Soviet Union in 1917.

The INF Agreement "must be addressed by the next president," said Quayle, who supports the agreement because "it has more good things about it than it does on the downside." As positive aspects of the treaty, Quayle cited the proposed decrease in the number of nuclear weapons and the increase in inspections allowed by both the United States and the Soviet Union. On the downside, he mentioned the decrease of the nuclear threat in Europe as providing less of a deterrent for conventional war.

Thirdly, Quayle said he

see QUAYLE, page 5

Convention promotes political awareness

By GINA CAMARENA
News Staff

Speeches, rallies and enthusiasm marked the third night of the Mock Convention as delegates continued efforts to choose a Democratic presidential nominee.

Although the primary objective is to select a nominee, the delegates agreed the convention itself is invaluable in generating political awareness among students.

Half of the 600 delegates expected have actually participated, said Press Secretary Brian McCarthy, but added this is "really good" considering "people signed up not knowing what was involved."

"People are interested and want to know the process of the presidential convention," McCarthy said. The students involved take the event seriously, said McCarthy, but added, "It's a fun seriousness with a sense of humor."

Mary Gaeta and Carol Hutton, both delegates from Maryland, agree that the convention has made them more politically aware of world issues and the nominating process in general. "I don't know enough about what's going on in the world today -- it forces you to become aware of the issues," said Gaeta.

Gaeta said she also felt the emotional debates about abortion and capital punishment were a positive reflection of how "people this age feel responsible for such issues."

Hutton agreed that although she "didn't know much about the process itself" until she became involved, she "has learned a lot about the issues facing the candidates and facing the nation in general."

The convention, especially with the debates, said Hutton, "makes you think about your own views and whether they are consistent."

Delegates Missy Irving and Alex Deichak had different reasons for their involvement.

see DELEGATE, page 6

Soviets accused of faking troop withdrawal

Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Soviets, on the verge of signing an agreement calling for their withdrawal from Afghanistan, sent large numbers of trucks across the border this week and some administration sources said they contained up to 15,000 fresh combat soldiers.

At the same time, Soviet armored units already in Afghanistan moved south from Kabul to relieve the beleaguered city of Gardez, according to intelligence sources.

Analysts who monitor the

see TROOPS, page 4

The Observer / Suzanne Poch

Enthusiastic members of the "Graceland Coalition" sport the trademark bow tie of their chosen candidate, Paul Simon, at last night's Mock Convention. Story above.

In Brief

Trapped in a bird cage for nearly 12 hours, an 85-year-old woman escaped without injury. The New Albany women, Clara Blankenburg, who shares her home with about 30 pets slipped and fell backward into the upturned 4-by-4 foot cage about 1 a.m. Tuesday but refused treatment from the Health Department. Her animals, which include cats, dogs, birds and at least one opossum were left on the premises by the rescuers pending an inspection by state health officials. -Associated Press

Of Interest

Mock Convention coverage will continue today at 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. on 640 WVFI-AM. Live reports will also be given throughout the night. -The Observer

The Campus Perspectives talkshow will feature a special edition today of guests from the Mock Convention from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. on WVFI-AM 640. Host Lynsey Strand will take questions at 239-6400. -The Observer

Student Art Forum will meet today at 5 p.m. at the Snite Museum of Art to elect officers for 1988-89. -The Observer

A forum to discuss opinions and ask questions regarding the Residentiability and Alcohol task force reports will be held today at 6:30 p.m. at Lewis Hall for Carroll, Holy Cross and Lewis; and at 9 p.m. at Flanner. -The Observer

Senior class "Backpack to Briefcase" lectures continue today from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Montgomery Theatre of LaFortune Student Center. Topics include "Investments" by Jim Stone of the CM Financial Group and "Insurance" by John Lloyd of the Lloyd Insurance Agency. -The Observer

All economics majors and faculty are invited to a free pizza dinner today at 7 p.m. in the Dooley Room of LaFortune Student Center. -The Observer

Peace With Justice Week continues today with a multi-media presentation called "People to People," which documents the journey of 31 citizens of Seattle, Wash. to the Soviet Union to deliver a petition for peace with 42,000 signatures. Aldon and Betsy Bell, who were part of the trip, will present it at 7 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns. -The Observer

Brown Bag Seminars continue with "Journalism during the Transition to Democracy in Brazil" by Carlos Eduardo Lins da Silva of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars. The event will take place Friday at noon in 105 Law School. -The Observer

An international conference titled "Gospel Traditions in the Second Century: Origins, Rescensions, Texts and Transmissions" will be convened April 15 through 17 at the Center for Continuing Education. Eight scholars of international reputation from England, the Netherlands, Belgium, Germany, Canada, and the U.S. will address questions concerning the earliest form of the Christian gospels. For more information call 239-6691. -The Observer

Notre Dame Accounting Association is sponsoring a trip to Crowe Chizek, one of the nation's fastest growing accounting firms, Monday, April 18, from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sign up at the Accounting office. -The Observer

Peace Corps Overseas Undergraduate Internship applications are available at the Center for Social Concerns, the Peace Institute and Room 101 O'Shaughnessy Hall. Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors who are American citizens are eligible; candidates should have demonstrated interest in community service and potential to live and work overseas. Fall, spring or summer placements are possible. For more information call 239-5142. -The Observer

The Observer

Design Editor.....	Lisa Tugman	Accent Copy Editor.....	Michelle Berninger
Design Assistant.....	Kim Evans	Accent Layout.....	Rachel O'Hara
Typesetters.....	Mike Buc	Typist.....	Lynsey Strand
	Smed-Dog Laboe		Jenn Conlon
News Editor.....	Cathy Stacy	ND Day Editor.....	Jim Winkler
Copy Editor.....	Erin Lynch	SMC Day Editor.....	Joanne Grillo
Sports Copy Editor.....	DC	Photographer.....	Sue Poch
Viewpoint Copy Editor.....	Brian Broderick

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $40 per year ($25 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

A love once flipped for is never forgotten

Wednesday, April 6, started out like any other day.

I came back from my morning classes, read the Chicago Tribune in my room, then went across the hall to read a friend's copy of USA Today.

Sifting through the 257 or so stories USA Today finds room to fit on a single page, one stuck right out at me.

Using their incomparable investigative journalistic skills, USA Today reporters asked 1984 gold medal winner Mary Lou Retton if she had a steady boyfriend. And Mary Lou replied that she was indeed seeing someone in Texas.

Wednesday, April 6, marked the end of my adolescence.

I should have seen it coming eventually. After all, it was almost four years since I had developed a terminal crush on Mary Lou by watching the 1984 Summer Olympics on television. But the sudden ending of it all in a USA Today story (she could at least have sent a Dear John letter, for crying out loud) made me immediately begin reminiscing about my last innocent adolescent infatuation.

It began when I watched the Olympics on television that year. I had read some pre-Games publicity about some 4'9" pixie from Fairmont, W.Va., who was the USA's top hope in the gymnastics competition at Los Angeles. But when I actually saw her, I was spellbound.

I was attached to the set for the remainder of the week, cheering her on as she garnered perfect scores in the floor exercises and vault, becoming the first American to win a gold medal in the women's all-around competition.

During the next week, I picked up copies of Time, Newsweek, Sports Illustrated and People, all of which had Mary Lou pictured on the cover. The magazines still are collecting dust on my bookshelves. Okay, maybe I've kept them from getting too dusty.

Now it was time to start defending the latest object of my affections from the inevitable criticism.

She's too short. Heck, I'm only 5'6". Mary Lou is just the right height for me. She has fat thighs. She's got powerful thighs. She's so fat. She weighs only 92 lbs. I looked it up in a Sports Illustrated article.

This one-way romance reached its utopian heights a couple of weeks after the Olympics. My family was in Orlando, and the Olympic medal-winners were touring Walt Disney World for a day. I saw Mary Lou, surrounded by a mob of people, heading for Fantasyland (I'm not searching for a pun; she really was going to Fantasyland, walking toward It's A Small World).

I immediately ran as fast as I could, and before I knew it, I was side by side with the woman of my dreams (Well, actually there was a security guard between us, but let's not get technical).

Steve Megargee

Assistant Sports Editor

Mary Lou turned to her right and handed me an American flag that she was holding. Okay, what really happened was that she said, "Does anybody want this flag?" a friend of mine ended up getting the flag, and I grabbed the flag from my friend. But why get into sordid details?

I spent the rest of the day clutching that flag with all my might. Catastrophe almost struck when I was riding Pirates of the Caribbean, and water somehow got on the flagpole, but I reassured myself that the water did not land on the part of the flagpole that Mary Lou had touched.

This Mary Lou infatuation lasted a little while longer. I collected magazine advertisements that had my dreamgirl endorsing Energizer batteries, Wheaties, Pony shoes and Vidal Sasson.

But I never went overboard. I didn't boycott the Duracell corporation. I didn't wake up early and sit through the Smurfs on weekends, so I could watch Mary Lou's Saturday morning exercise programs. (Actually, those came out a couple of years after the Olympics, and by that time the Smurfs seemed in better shape than Mary Lou.)

So my crush on Mary Lou had just about worn out by the time I heard the terrible news last week. But it still caused me to reflect on those old adolescent crushes of my pre-college days.

I wonder what Kristy McNichol has been up to lately.

Crank tunes for Cash!!!

Are you interested?

Theodore's D.J. applications for the '88-'89 school year are now available in the Office of Student Activities, 3rd floor LaFortune. They must be turned in by April 20.

Hijackers stubborn, talks deadlocked

Associated Press

ALGIERS, Algeria - An Algerian official said Wednesday that Kuwait's "intransigence" had created a deadlock in negotiations with Shiite Moslem hijackers for the release of 32 hostages on a Kuwaiti jumbo jet.

Food and water were taken in the afternoon to the blue-and-white Boeing 747, which the hijackers call the "plane of martyrdom." It baked under the North African sun on an isolated patch of tarmac at Houari Boumedienne airport.

A delegation from Kuwait arrived Wednesday afternoon to help in efforts to free the remaining hostages and the plane, which was hijacked April 5 on a flight from Bangkok to Kuwait with 112 people aboard.

It spent three days on the ground in Mashhad, Iran, flew to Cyprus on Friday and arrived here early Wednesday.

The six to eight gunmen, who have killed two passengers, demand that Kuwait free 17 pro-Iranian extremists convicted in the 1983 bombings of the U.S. and French embassies there. The hostages included three members of the Kuwaiti royal family.

Sheik Nawaf al-Ahmed al-Sabah, Kuwait's defense minister, affirmed Wednesday his country's "unwavering and principled stance of rejecting blackmail," the Persian Gulf sheikdom's official news agency KUNA reported. "We would not change our attitude."

A ranking Algerian official told The Associated Press privately: "If they merely wanted to restate their known position, there was no need for them to send their high-level delegation to Algiers." He said "the intransigence" of Kuwait had stalled negotiations.

His remarks appeared to confirm unofficial reports that Algeria was pressing Kuwait for more flexibility.

The jet left Larnaca, Cyprus, early Wednesday after 12 more hostages were released. They arrived Wednesday night in Kuwait and were met by the interior minister, Sheik Salem Sabah al-Sabah.

On the same Boeing 727 to Kuwait were the bodies of the two slain passengers, their coffins draped in the red, black, green and white Kuwaiti flag.

Fifty-seven other hostages were freed at Mashhad, a city in northeastern Iran. Passengers released Tuesday said one gunman boarded the plane at Massad and the hijackers got a new supply of weapons there.

The Observer / Suzanne Poch

Speak up

A mock Secret Service agent keeps the convention in control via communication with his cohorts in crime prevention. Agents at the Mock Convention are responsible for enforcing the two minute time limit for speakers and escorting unruly delegates out.

Woman has abortion against court order, faces charges

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS - An 18-year-old Terre Haute woman has undergone an abortion in violation of a court order to prevent her from terminating her pregnancy, the woman's attorneys said Wednesday.

The attorneys sent a notice of the abortion to the Indiana Supreme Court one day after asking the high court Tuesday for an immediate review of a Vigo Circuit Court injunction to prohibit an abortion.

Attorneys for both the woman and her 24-year-old boyfriend, who sought the injunction, said they still want the Supreme Court to make a decision on the issues raised by the case. Because the case involves a paternity action, neither the woman nor man has been identified by name in court records.

"Faced with the decision of continuing with an unwanted pregnancy and with violating a court order, she made the decision she felt was right," said the notice signed by Richard Waples, an Indiana Civil Liberties Union attorney who represented the unmarried woman.

"She arrived at the decision to terminate her pregnancy after consultation with her family and her physician," the statement said. "She did what she had to do to protect both her physical and emotional health."

James Bopp, who represents the man who claims to be the father of the fetus, said the Terre Haute man "is absolutely devastated that his child has been taken from him."

Bopp said he and his client haven't thought about whether they would want Vigo Circuit Court Judge Robert Brown to issue a contempt citation against the woman for violating Brown's injunction. Brown issued a permanent injunction on Monday.

However, in a brief filed with the Supreme Court, Bopp argued that a violation of the injunction should be punishable by a contempt of court citation.

Waples told the court that he wants it to review the case because of the issues involved, the precedent set by Brown's injunction and potential sanctions against the woman.

"Fathers have rights in particular cases. All we said in this case is we want those rights to be balanced" against the rights of the mother, Bopp said.

Real Estate Analyst Program

Let Our High-Powered Program Be A Prelude To Your MBA!

Want some rock solid investment real estate experience before proceeding with your graduate education? Then consider this great opportunity with THE PRUDENTIAL, the nation's largest owner of income producing real estate.

We're looking for enthusiastic, intelligent BA's and BS's (who are already planning to attend a top business school in 1990) for two year stints in our real estate analyst program. To qualify, you'll need a B+ or better undergraduate GPA and the skills required for complex mathematical real estate modeling and financial evaluation assignments.

Not only do these positions provide outstanding on-the-job training and experience, they offer very attractive starting salaries with comprehensive benefits.

To apply, send your resume (including GPA) to:

The Prudential Realty Group
Detroit Realty Group Office
2000 Town Center, Suite 2280
Southfield, Michigan 48075
Attention: Analyst Program

The Prudential
Realty Group

Allied Shipping

Let us pack and ship your electronic equipment, stereo, etc. direct to your home by UPS - Emery.

219-277-7616
Hours: 9-6 Mon-Fri
University Commons
SR 23 & Hickory
Western Union Available

U • S • C

FOR THANKSGIVING

PACKAGE INCLUDES:

- Round Trip Air Fare
- 4 Nights in the Anaheim Marriott
- Transportation to and from the game and a ticket to the game
- N.D. parties at the hotel
- etc.

TOTAL COST:

$400.00 estimated
$150.00 deposit up-front on the 18th

SIGN-UPS:

MONDAY, APRIL 18
Student Union Board Office
Haggar Student Center SMC
6:00 - 8:00 P.M.

*Final payments will be due when we return in the Fall.

OPTIONAL ACTIVITIES:

(may require additional funds)

- Disneyland
- San Diego's Sea World
- Universal Studios
- Hollywood Movie Star's Homes
- 6 Flags Magic Mountain
- etc.

Braking away

Coasting past the construction site of Knott and Siegfried Halls, this gent takes time out to enjoy a warm and sunny day. With the weather Mother Nature has been spinning out lately, it's no wonder.

The Observer / Suzanne Poch

U.S. merchants join Soviets to market capitalist products

Associated Press

MOSCOW - Seven major U.S. companies said Wednesday they've joined forces with the Soviets to produce everything from crackers to computer disks in a consortium that will market capitalist products in a socialist economy.

In addition, U.S. industrialist Armand Hammett announced a joint venture under which he will build two plastics factories in the Ukraine.

U.S. Commerce Secretary C. William Verity and a group of about 400 American business leaders are in Moscow this week for meetings with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev and other officials about the possibility of expanding trade between the superpowers.

Several agreements have been announced already, and the businessmen say the climate for broader cooperation has warmed considerably in recent months.

James Giffen, president of the new American Trade Consortium involving the seven companies, said this week's activity could lead to an unprecedented volume of U.S.-Soviet trade.

Giffen, who also is president of the Mercator Corp., attributed the trade successes to "the improved political atmosphere" following Soviet Communist Party General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev's visit to the United States in December.

Both governments began campaigning for expansion of commercial ties after the Washington summit, the businessmen said.

The Soviets are actively seeking joint business projects with capitalist countries to help improve the quantity and quality of consumer goods and to earn convertible foreign currencies to pay for grain and other imports.

Troops

continued from page 1

fighting disagreed over whether the trucks which moved across the border contained troops. One source, speaking on condition of anonymity, said they apparently were empty and intended for use in a Soviet withdrawal.

Another source said the trucks were believed to contain elite combat units to replace engineering and other support troops that are thought likely to be among the first to be pulled out.

The activity was reported the day before the Soviets were expected to sign as guarantors of a United Nations agreement on the withdrawal of the Red Army from Afghanistan.

The Soviet units headed for Gardez, 80 miles south of Kabul and 60 miles from the Pakistani border, consisted of an undetermined number of soldiers and 420 vehicles, including T-72 tanks, armored personnel carriers and mobile rocket launchers, said one administration source.

Mujahedeen guerrillas recently cut the road to Gardez, where a Soviet special forces, or spetsnaz, regiment is garrisoned, said one source.

The advancing column and the spetsnaz regiment are also expected to attack stockpiles of guerrilla armaments.

Correction

Because of editing errors, the following information was incorrectly reported in Wednesday's Observer article about the Hall Presidents' Council.

St. Edward's Hall Rector Father Gene Gorski was one of two finalists for Rector of the Year. His name was inadvertently omitted. The winner of the award was Father George Rozum of Alumni Hall. His name was misspelled in the article. In addition, the rector of Sorin Hall is Mr. Joseph McKenna.

How to make a hit.

The American Express® Card is a hit virtually anywhere you shop, from Los Angeles to London. Whether you're buying books, baseball tickets or brunch. So during college and after, it's the perfect way to pay for just about everything you'll want.

How to get the Card now.

College is the first sign of success. And because we believe in your potential, we've made it easier for students of this school to get the American Express Card right now—even without a job or a credit history. So whether you're an underclassman, senior or grad student, look into our automatic approval offers. For details pick up an application on campus. Or call 1-800-THE-CARD and ask for a student application.

The American Express Card. Don't Leave School Without It.™

SMC poetry reading features Levertov

Special to The Observer

Poet Denise Levertov, acclaimed for more than two decades for her modest and moving verse, will present a reading today at 8 p.m. in Carroll Auditorium on the Saint Mary's College campus.

Praised by fellow poet and critic Kenneth Rexroth as "the most subtly skillful poet of her generation," Levertov has numerous volumes of verse, essays, broadsides and limited editions to her credit since the first American publication of her work in 1948. Her collection "The Freeing of the Dust," published by New Directions Press, won the Lenore Marshall Poetry Prize in 1976.

with the work and traditions of the Black Mountain school, Walt Whitman and William Carlos Williams. She has also been noted for the beauty and sensuality of her nature poems, her haunting poems on grief, love of friends and friendship and for her condemnation of war and assaults against nature.

Her recent collection, "Breathing the Water" (New Directions), draws upon themes of spirituality and warns of the failure to respond to the beauty of the real world.

Through her forceful and passionate presentation of urban lives, Levertov has been most frequently associated

The Observer / Suzanne Poch

Alive and kicking

Under sunny skies, Brandon, left, and his Big Brother get some kicks out of a soccer ball. Many Notre Dame students participate in the Big Brothers-Big Sisters program and adopt South Bend youths as token siblings.

$6.3M Loftus Sports Center dedicated this month

Special to The Observer

Notre Dame will dedicate Loftus Sports Center April 23. The $6.3 million indoor sports center is 614 feet by 210 feet and contains the Haggar Fitness Complex and Meyo Field. Alumni benefactors involved are John Loftus of St. Charles, Ill., chief executive officer of JRL investments; the Haggar family of Dallas, who own the Haggar Apparel Company, and Raymond Meyo, president and chief executive officer of Telxon Corp. in Akron, Ohio.

The building, designed by Ellerbe Becket Architects in Minneapolis, opened for full use last November. In addition to the Haggar and Meyo facilities, it contains men's and women's locker rooms, a first aid station, a 154-seat auditorium, and four large conference rooms that can be subdivided into nine rooms.

The Haggar Fitness Complex is an 8,000-square-foot area for free weight and exercise machine activity in which about 100 persons could work out simultaneously. Computers generate individualized exercise programs and monitor performance.

Meyo field is a 100-yard Astroturf field, surrounded by a six-lane track, one-fifth of a mile measured on the inside lane. The Mondo Track, a surface used in the Olympics and Pan American Games, has a long straightaway end wide turns which lend themselves to fast times. There are field markings for football, lacrosse and soccer, and a netting system that can accommodate batting cages and practicing golfers. It is used for exercise and recreation by students, faculty and staff as well as by varsity and club sports teams. Other activities include rehabilitation exercise for heart attack victims and ROTC drill.

tour of the building, a luncheon in the Notre Dame Stadium press box prior to the spring Blue-Gold football game, a Mass in the facility and a reception and dinner in the Hesburgh Library.

The building is the latest in an expansion of athletic and recreational facilities at Notre Dame which since 1985 has seen the addition of Rolfs Aquatic Center with its olympic-size pool.

AN TOSTAL - S.U.B.

Sign Ups:

Where: 3rd Floor LaFortune Armstrong Room

When: Thursday, April 14 7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

Friday, April 15 3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

FOR WEEKLONG EVENTS:

Kisser--100 men, 100 women

Scavenger Hunt--teams of 3 (unlimited)

Tuesday, April 19:

Golf Tourney--18 teams of 2 each

Wednesday, April 20:

- 1) Airband Competition--15 group limit
- 2) Slam Dunk--20 people for 9'3" (unlimited for 10')

Thursday, April 21:

Bike Race (unlimited)

Saturday, April 23:

- 1) Mud pillow fights--12 men 12 women
- 2) Mud Wheelbarrow Race--40 teams of 2

Woman suffocates; troops kill three Arabs

Associated Press

JERUSALEM - Troops killed three Arab guerrillas trying to enter Israel from Lebanon on Wednesday and a 70-year-old Palestinian woman was suffocated by tear gas soldiers tossed into her home, according to army and other reports.

Two Palestinians were reported wounded by gunfire and 51 injured by rubber bullets, tear gas and beatings in a battle between Palestinians and Israeli soldiers in the Gaza Strip.

At least 144 Palestinians have died in the rebellion that began Dec. 8 in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip, according to U.N. figures. An Israeli soldier and a 15-year-old Jewish settler also have been killed.

Arabs attacked Arab merchants who defied Palestine Liberation Organization orders to close, firebombing the shop of a Jerusalem moneychanger and setting stalls ablaze in the Bethlehem produce market, police and witnesses reported. An Arab passerby was reported injured by the firebomb.

Soldiers clashed for a second day in Gaza with Arabs protesting the deportation of eight Palestinians to Lebanon on Monday.

Quayle

continued from page 1

hoped "the next president will pursue SDI" as a means to peace by limiting the threat of offensive weapons through the deployment of defensive weapons.

Furthermore, Quayle said he has "always been supportive of the Democratic resistance in Nicaragua" because of the threat posed by the intended spread of communism beyond the borders of Nicaragua. He said the way to avoid another "Viet Nam" is to "do the right thing now" by providing aid for the Democratic resistance in Nicaragua.

As for the Indiana primary, Quayle suggested that it "needs to be more relevant in the political process."

"By the time the Democrats get to Indiana, over 70 percent of the delegates will be selected," said Quayle who would like to see the primary moved forward.

Quayle's live speech was the first of its kind at a Notre Dame convention, said Brian McCarthy, press secretary for the convention. McCarthy said the operation required the installation of a special teleconference line and the use of a satellite dish. Much of the work in providing Quayle's live speech was done by The Young Republicans organization at Notre Dame, said McCarthy.

The choice of speakers, according to McCarthy, was limited to those who were available. "A lot of Senators were asked," said McCarthy, but because of the abundance of work going on in the Senate around Easter, "Quayle was the only one who accepted."

The Observer / Suzanne Poch

Climbing Jacob's ladder

A construction worker gets up into his work in the new chapel in Siegfried next to the Hesburgh Library. The new dorms, Knott and Siegfried, are slated to open in September for the fall semester.

Vote

continued from page 1

having a good time," added Smith.

Cuomo, while not an official Democratic candidate, had support from many delegates. "He's the only person with national appeal," said Marg Clarkson, Ohio delegate. "He's the only person who can beat Bush." Cuomo came in last on the second ballot, only one delegate behind Jackson.

Rich Coglianese, leader of the "draft Cuomo" campaign, immediately threw his support to Gore after the loss. "He's the closest in line to Cuomo's policies, and he needs support," said Coglianese during the two-minute speech allotted losing campaign managers.

After Cuomo's loss, state chairmen and delegates tried to convert Cuomo supporters. Colleen Prentice, Ohio delegation chairman and a Cuomo supporter, was immediately surrounded by supporters of other candidates after the announcement of Cuomo's loss. "I'll do what our entire delegation wants me to do," Prentice said after the lobbying efforts.

"Things are changing every minute," said Jackson mock campaign manager John Farley. He proved himself right as his third place candidate fell to fourth and out of the race in the next roll call. The Cuomo delegates appeared to split between the Dukakis, Simon, and Gore camps, while Jackson actually lost votes.

Farley asked Jackson supporters to vote for Simon after the loss. "Jackson and Simon are the two most liberal candidates," said Farley. "They stand for what America needs. It's important to keep psychological unity, and these two candidates agree on a lot of issues," he added.

The fourth ballot saw Gore's campaign lose by 61 delegates to Simon, with Dukakis in front by 12 delegates. Many delegates expected the endorsement of Mary LaSata, Gore's mock campaign manager, to boost Dukakis or Simon to victory.

LaSata said in her concession speech, however, that "both are excellent candidates. Both have sane policies. I don't want to underhand either campaign." Although she said later that "most of my delegates probably want Dukakis," LaSata said she could not endorse one candidate over the other. The second ballot saw some controversy involving the New York delegation. Convention rules allowed a state to vote all of its delegates on a percentage basis if only some of the state's delegates were present.

New York delegation chairman Brian Holst announced his delegation's vote as "41 for Jackson, one for Simon, and one for Gore." Because New York had only seven delegates present, the Mock Convention committee ruled that each delegate had to take seven votes to make up New York's 49 delegates.

Dukakis: Gore needs the facts

Associated Press

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Democratic presidential candidate Michael Dukakis said Wednesday that rival Albert Gore "ought to get his facts straight" after Gore touched off a campaign clash about the use of nuclear weapons in Europe.

President Reagan, his vice president on the campaign trail and talking tough about drugs, stepped into the political arena himself, saying politicians don't criticize Jesse Jackson for fear of being labeled racist.

"I have to believe that a great many of us would find ourselves in great disagreement with the policies that he is proposing, and would perhaps be more vocal about them, if it wasn't for concern that that'd be misinterpreted into some kind of a racial attack," Reagan said.

Gore stirred a new foreign policy controversy in the final week of the New York primary campaign after Dukakis told the New York Daily News "we reserve the right to use nuclear force" in the event of a Soviet invasion of Europe "when there appears to be no other alternative." He added, "I don't think that's going to happen."

Gore, battling for survival in the three-candidate race for the Democratic presidential nomination, quickly jumped on the Massachusetts governor and said he had "made a significant mistake in saying that he would launch a nuclear strike against the Soviet Union under ... specific circumstances." However, Dukakis never used the word "strike."

At a news conference in Boston, Dukakis said Gore "ought to get his facts straight."

Delegate

continued from page 1

Irving said she is "very interested in politics" and thought the Mock Convention would expose her to the type of atmosphere she hopes to partake in the future. She also feels the event promotes political awareness. "It's a great idea," said Irving, because "Notre Dame is a politically apathetic campus."

Deichak, however, said he became involved as a delegate for the experience, knowing he "will never go to a real one." The most important aspect for Deichak is the platform, which was composed entirely by Notre Dame students and gives a "strict reflection of the students."

"This is not a Democratic convention," Deichak said, but "a political party for Notre Dame." He said he felt that in creating the platform, "good arguments were given" to indecisive views on issues.

As delegates, many of the students are experiencing a new facet they never knew would be so interesting. "I am now more familiar with the intricacies of the convention," said California delegate Bo Balesh, adding the event is "awesome and a great learning process for students."

Chairman of the New Mexico delegation Phil Lucero said the convention "gives people insights into politics" and the "procedures people don't know about."

Ohio delegate Lisa Orchen said she enjoys the excitement the event generates. "All your friends are here," said Orchen, making it a "unique event to be involved in." Colleen Prentice, chairman of the Ohio delegation, agreed, saying, "it's fun to rally and carry signs."

Utah delegate Ken Bonacci said he is "not really involved in politics," but is "having a good time." Bonacci said at first he thought the event would be "a stuffy affair," but it has proven "to be a lot of fun."

Michigan delegate Peter Stenger remarked that a convention representing both the Republican and Democratic platforms "would have given an even more interesting perspective." Stenger, nonetheless, enjoys the opportunity to "hear others' views and debates in an exciting manner."

Most of the delegates were disappointed, however, with the low turnout of student participation. "I wish more students would have participated since they indicated that they would," said Bill Fitzgerald, chairman of the Minnesota delegation.

Fitzgerald said if "people were forewarned about the responsibilities," they might have been more sincere in their decision to participate.

Pennsylvania Chairperson Matt Bradley said, "there were a lot less than there should be." The amount of time required might have proved "a bigger commitment than was expected," he said.

Utah delegate DeeAnn Boelbeier agreed the event was demanding on students' time, but added, "It is a good chance for people to get politically involved."

IF YOU ARE GRADUATING
MAY 1988...

IF YOU HAVE OBTAINED
STUDENT LOANS...

It will be necessary for you to attend
(federal regulation) one of two exit interviews:
April 19, 1988 7:00 to 9:00 PM

April 21, 1988 7:00 to 9:00 PM

at

Montgomery Theater, LaFortune Student Center

ND AVE APTS.

SPECIAL SUMMER RATES AVAILABLE
also renting for Fall

2 Bedrooms completely furnished

CALL 234-6647

Protected by Pinkerton Security Agency

Pac & Ship
109 Dixieway North
STUDENTS

Let us send your goods home. We'll supply the boxes, pack and seal them for you!

BRING IN THIS COUPON AND SAVE 50c

SUMMER
STORAGE

Pac & Ship
This Coupon Good For 50¢ OFF

SUMMER
STORAGE

used BOOKS FRAMES PERIODICALS

SALE

wednesday and thursday
April 13-14 10am-3pm

O'Shaughnessy Great Hall

THE SNITE MUSEUM OF ART
UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME

Jackson campaign transcends color

"What does Jesse Jackson want?" This seemed to be the question that emblazoned virtually every headline across the country. Following the Michigan caucuses, however, that question was aptly rephrased to "Can Jesse win?" From the beginning, Jackson simply demanded that his candidacy be afforded the same degree of seriousness and respect as that of his Democratic and Republican rivals. Now armed with the title of Democratic front-runner, Jackson has ultimately changed the dynamics of American politics. Race is certainly a considerable factor in the 1988 election; however, the Achilles' heel for Jackson's campaign will be his controversial political background and his lack of traditional government experience. Win or lose, he has demonstrated that America will soon be ready for a black president in the White House.

Lisa Boykin

in through the out door

On Thursday, Apr. 8, I read with great concern Bill Sammon's article entitled "Jackson demeans Democratic Party." Notwithstanding my personal views regarding Jesse Jackson's presidential campaign, it is evident that Sammon makes several problematic statements about minority group politics and the American democratic process.

Sammon comments that Jackson has received "monolithic support from the black community, simply because he is black." This is a gross oversimplification. To assert that Jackson's success in the black community is derived solely by virtue of his color is to neglect the issues at hand and to debase the integrity of the black electorate. It is evident from Jackson's commanding Michigan victory that his campaign extends beyond the traditional color lines. For example, he garnered 70 percent of the vote in Michigan's "thumb" region which has only two percent blacks. Obviously, Jackson's broad base of support is not necessarily limited to minorities and ethnic, working-class whites for he seems to have attracted a plurality of the Democratic electorate. Jesse Jackson's message has such a massive appeal because Ronald Reagan's legacy of "voodoo" economic policy has not only served to triple the national debt and exasperate the plight of the lower class but it has also clutched at the purse strings of America's working middle class.

Furthermore, Sammon argues that the Democratic Party should not "allow Jackson to be a significant power broker" and that "it would be inexcusable for the Democratic Party to force his kindergarten politics on the entire nation." Sammon even goes so far as to describe Jackson as a "rabble-rouser"—a term I find offensive and inappropriate. What Sammon fails to perceive is that the people have entrusted authority in Jackson with their ballots. His political strength was not given to him by the party—he earned it. Therefore, statements such as "Jackson doesn't deserve the political success he has enjoyed" are moot. With regard to oratory skills, Jackson clearly stands head and shoulders above his Democratic and Republican rivals. I doubt that there is enough caffeine in the world to sustain interest in a Dukakis v. Bush campaign.

Although it has been argued that Jackson's presence has threatened the party's chances for the presidency, I would assert that he has bolstered the party by registering several million new voters which incidentally helped the Democrats to regain control over the House. What will ultimately secure the White House for the Democrats, though, is the eventual surfacing of reports detailing the involvement of George Bush and his cronies in the Iran-Scam.

A common misnomer that Sammon falls prey to is to characterize minority politics as "radical". It is an interesting historical note that when formerly oppressed groups in American society have organized to demand the rights that were supposedly guaranteed to them by the Constitution, they were deemed as "radical". One only needs to recollect that Martin Luther King, Jr.'s philosophy of racial equality was hailed as such during the 1960's because it posed a potential threat to the status quo of segregated white America. Jesse Jackson is no more the "bearer of black politics" than Al Gore is the bearer of white politics. Jackson just happens to be the only black in the national political limelight, and his controversial political undertakings should not be viewed as the standard norm for minority politics.

This country's political and economic climate is ready for a charismatic leader who espouses a more equitable redistribution of economic resources. Whether or not Jackson will be that candidate has yet to be determined. However, he has clearly influenced his party's political agenda and has forced this nation to re-examine such issues as economic injustice and the war on drugs. In fact, Jackson's stance on various issues has been incorporated into the Democratic platform. If Jackson legitimately edges out Mike Dukakis with the most popular votes and number of delegates come July, he rightfully deserves a place on the Democratic ticket as the presidential nominee. The political reality is that we live in a democratic society. The individual with the most votes is the one who wins. To deny Jackson this position in some smoke-filled convention room in Atlanta would destroy the party's unity and ultimately tear at the moral fabric of the United States.

Although it is too soon to predict the outcome of this presidential race, recent Gallup polls have revealed that if Jackson were to go up against Bush in November, Bush would capture 57 percent of the vote to Jackson's 33 percent. If Dukakis were the nominee, the Massachusetts governor would defeat George Bush 49 percent to 45 percent. More surprisingly, though, the polls reveal that if Bush were to face a Dukakis/Jackson ticket, the Democratic party would seize a 48 percent victory over Bush's 43 percent. These figures clearly illustrate that Jackson has reshaped the dynamics of American politics. Although Jackson's name may not appear on the Democratic ticket, he has obviously paved the way for future minority presidential candidates and has carved out a significant role for the minority and economically disadvantaged electorate.

An understanding of the 1988 presidential run for the White House can only be grasped if one has reckoned with the dimensions of minority group politics in this country. To underestimate the growing power and influence of the minority polity or to apply a different set of standards in evaluating minority candidates is to do an injustice to the system and the ideals of the government it represents. Jesse Jackson's campaign will be savored for many years to come because, by challenging the system, he has demonstrated that America will soon be ready "to rise up and live out its creed so that one day individuals will be judged on the context of their character and not by the color of their skin."

Lisa Boykin is a senior government and philosophy major and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

Doonesbury

HE WANTS CREDIT FOR BEING HIS OWN MAN, BUT HE'S AFRAID OF ALIENATING THOSE WHO VOTE FOR HIM PRECISELY BECAUSE HE'S REAGAN'S MAN! NO WONDER THE WIMP LABEL STICKS!

Garry Trudeau

Quote of the Day

"Whenever you are angry, be assured that it is not only a present evil, but that you have increased a habit."

Epictetus

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief Chris Murphy
Managing Editor Chris Donnelly
News Editor Regis Coccia
News Editor Mark McLaughlin
Viewpoint Editor Matt Slaughter
Sports Editor Marty Strasen
Accent Editor Beth Healy
Saint Mary's Editor Sandy Cerimele
Photo Editor Michael Moran

Operations Board

Business Manager John Oxrider
Advertising Design Manager Molly Killen
Advertising Manager Linda Goldschmidt
Production Manager Bernadette Shilts
Systems Manager Mark Ridgeway
Controller Todd Hardiman
Graphic Arts Manager Marga Bruns

Founded November 3, 1966

Fencing teams guided by expertise of Auriol

The Observer/Rob Regovich

Auriol concentrates on improvement for the future.

JIM SEIDEL
accent writer

Much of Notre Dame's fencing success can be attributed to Yves Auriol, the women's head coach and men's assistant coach. Since his arrival at Notre Dame in 1986, Auriol has led the women to undefeated seasons and an NCAA Championship, while helping the men achieve similar success. State and was a physical education instructor at Portland Community College before coming to Notre Dame. He is married, has a ten-year-old son, and enjoys different sports, including tennis and soccer, as hobbies.

Auriol gives credit to the men's coach Mike DeCicco for this season's great success. According to Auriol, the team's record of 27-1, a second place finish in the NCAA Championship, and the selection of three players as All-Americans, came from, "Notre Dame's fine reputation which attracts solid athletes year after year."

In the next month, Auriol will know how next year's recruits look, and he is already optimistic. "My favorite part of coaching involves watching fencers develop and reach their potential," Auriol said. "I enjoy teaching all three weapons: the sabre, epee, and the foil, and helping the men and women progress." He added that coaching is primarily the same in North America as in Europe, but there is a greater number of experienced fencers overseas. Auriol sights the two coasts as hot spots for American fencing, and notes that in recent years, the Boston area has produced several female standouts. "I never look back at success, though. If you do that too much, you endanger your future. I always look forward to see how I can improve," said the coach.

The transition that Auriol makes from college coach to Auriol has served as coach of the United States Olympic Fencing Team for the last ten years, and will be in Seoul for the Games this summer. Auriol has also coached the American entries in the 1978 World Championships, the 1976-79 World Junior Championships, and the 1977 World University Games.

A native of France, Auriol holds a masters degree from the Institute National du Sport in Paris. An all-around athlete, he was a professional rugby player as well as an excellent fencer. "Rugby was always my number one," said Auriol, "but you can't play it forever." Upon moving to the United States in 1972, he settled in Portland, Oregon, and formed the Salle Auriol Fencing Club which provided private instruction to aspiring students.

According to Auriol, his greatest accomplishment as a coach occurred when four fencers were selected by the Olympic team. From 1975 to 1985, Auriol coordinated the fencing program at Portland Olympic coach each year is "not difficult and proves to be most interesting." Though collegiate fencers are seldom older than 22, Olympians may be as old as 35. "There is no set peak age for a fencer," Auriol said. "The new training practices have lengthened the careers of many competitors." Even with the longevity, Auriol admitted that it is difficult for American fencers to excel in the Olympics. "The European nations are still the favorites," he said, "but who knows. One night, one match, anything can happen so I am optimistic."

As coach of the 1980 Olympic team that boycotted the Moscow Games, Auriol remembers the disappointment of the athletes. "They sent us to China instead," he said, "but it was not the Olympics. The spirit was not there." The Los Angeles Games were different, however, and were made even sweeter by the boycott of 1980. "The spirit in 1984 was so high. The feeling of entering the Coliseum in the opening ceremony was so special, so unique. As we marched around, it seemed as if the whole track was filled by the U.S. team. I look forward to this year."

Notre Dame seems to have good reason to look forward as well. In Auriol, the fencing program has a gentleman with a prolific record who is loved and admired by player and peer alike.

Oh, those things spring brings!

MARIA JUKIC
accent writer

Ah, spring... With the mention of the word comes images of sunny days, cool breezes, and bodies on the quads of Notre Dame. For the Notre Dame community, which has been imprisoned in the bleak cold of the South Bend winter, spring is an awakening of sorts. New life is everywhere. New leaves on the trees to new attitudes of the students.

"Spring just makes you happier in general," said one student. Another added, "I don't mind getting up in the morning as much when the sun is out. I just want to be outside."

And outside is where Notre Dame students flock when the warm weather hits. "Spring seems to affect people in physiological ways because of the extended daylight," said Ursula Williams, a language professor. "You are waking up earlier, staying up later, and being more active. The physical activity level is much higher."

Groups of students abandon dorm rooms and invade the outdoors to practice their own form of sun-worshipping. Sunbathers offer their very bodies to the whims of the sun. Athletes (or pseudo-athletes) defy the heat to shoot hoops, toss a football, or just frolic in the sun. Die-hard joggers thrive in the rejuvenated scenery.

Leisure activity seems to be the rule, not the exception, for students during the spring. But what about school? "Spring makes your attitude on life in general better, but it tends to make your schoolwork worse," said one student.

Students in spring seem to have so many options besides schoolwork. Their decisions are obvious. "Students are more easily distracted in class when the weather gets nicer," said Williams. "There is more daydreaming and looking out the windows."

Why is this so?

"Because spring means it's almost summer, and summer means fun," said a student.

"Spring makes everything seem easier, like there's nothing you can't do," added another.

"The sun and nice weather make it hard to be inside and studying. There's so much more to do," said a third.

Spring tends to put things in perspective. It makes people happier in general. "Everybody has a lovely, whimsical look on their faces," observed Professor Harvey Bender. "Life is once again evident at Notre Dame. There is great promise for the world and the future. All is refreshing and neat."

It seems to be a general consensus that spring, somehow, changes people's attitudes for the better. A smile appears more often than not, and people seem happier. Life is worth living once again. Welcome spring!

TENNESSEE WILLIAMS'

The Glass MENAGERIE

MARY ANN GRIFFIN
accent writer

Wednesday evening brought the successful opening of Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" by the Notre Dame/Saint Mary's Theatre at O'Laughlin Auditorium. The play, set in the 1930's, unfolds the dismal story of a mother, her son, and her crippled daughter, entrapped in lives of frustrated ambitions. In the production's beginning, the actors seem somewhat rushed and disjointed, but as they settle into their roles, the action flows smoothly.

The story line is easy to follow. Abandoned by their husband/father, the family relies upon Tom to provide for them. Tom resents this parasitic situation, and the tensions culminate on the evening when Tom brings home a "gentleman caller" for his sister, Laura.

As Tom Michael Grant successfully executes his duties as both narrator and son, the audience undoubtedly captures his internal struggle between fulfilling his dreams and taking care of his family. Claudia Wilson also performs well as the disabled daughter, Laura. Wilson gains the audience's pity as she portrays Laura's immobilizing self-consciousness and timidity.

Daniel Gore brightens the production with his appearance as Jim, the gentleman caller. Most noteworthy, Jane Anne Riedford treats the audience to an outstanding performance as the mother, Amanda. She dives into her role as a melodramatic woman, whose perceptions are clouded by reminiscences of and desire for a stable but vigorous, colorful life for her children and herself. The nuances of Riedford's voice and gestures wonderfully mold the character.

Despite a few slow moments, the performers essentially interact smoothly and naturally on a well-designed set. "The Glass Menagerie" deserves applause as worthwhile entertainment.

The Observer/Rob Regovich

Students perform on opening night of "The Glass Menagerie".

Sports Briefs

Daimon Sweet, a 6'5" guard from Beaumont, Tx., has signed to play for the Notre Dame basketball team next season. Sweet becomes the fifth member of this year's Irish recruiting class. -Associated Press

Bookstore XVII is looking for referees. Anyone interested is asked to attend a meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Keenan basement. If you can not make the meeting or have any questions, call Jeff at 1551. -The Observer

The ND Pom Pon squad will hold tryouts for next year's squad beginning on Sunday. The first instructional clinic will be held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sunday at the Rockne gym. All NDSMC women interested in being part of the squad are encouraged to attend. Any questions should be directed to Erica Hinkle at 283-2493 or Melissa Howe at 284-5099. -The Observer

The women's rugby team is looking for someone to help coach the team. Anyone interested who has playing or coaching experience should call Lauren at x3560 or Kathy at x4067. -The Observer

The NDSMC Equestrian club will hold a year-end meeting and picnic on Sunday at 2 p.m. at Leanne's. To nominate club officers for next year, call Steve Hayes. Call Theresa at x2805 for more information. -The Observer

The Innertube Water Polo tournament is taking any applications for teams who did not sign up during the regular registration period. Call Barb at 289-5920. -The Observer

Classifieds

NOTICES

TYPING AVAILABLE
287-4082

ADOPTION: Loving couple, physician and psychologist, deeply wishes to adopt newborn. Welcoming warm family, love, opportunities! Expenses paid. Legal, confidential. Call Ellie and Alan collect 212-724-7942

Professors and grad-students: Pandora's will buy your books. Call 233-2342 to make an appointment. 10-5:30 7 days/week

Wordprocessing-Typing
272-8827

CALL 237-1949 FOR YOUR WORDPROCESSING NEEDS.

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE.
CALL MRS. COKER, 233-7009

MADMACS MADMACS MADMACS
Look for more PD software, System Software updates, speakers like Guy Kawasaki from ACIUS, and much more... (Re)organizational meeting coming soon for next year. The ROM Warrior returns

LOST/FOUND

CORONA KEYCHAIN & KEYS LOST AT SENIOR BAR OR BRIDGET'S I THINK. PLEASE CALL PATTY AT 283-2807 IF FOUND!!!!!!

BLUE NOTRE DAME WALLET LOST ON NOTRE DAME AVENUE. I LOST MY IDS. IF FOUND PLEASE CALL MARY CLARE AT 283-2758 THANKS!

LOST A steelblue (blackish) and gold bead bracelet somewhere between the ROTC and Aerospace and Engineering buildings about two weeks ago. It was a gift from my boyfriend and has extreme sentimental value. If found PLEASE have a heart and call 283-2660. REWARD.

Found: one Marriage and Family text and one beginning Italian text near Juniper and Howard Sts. over Easter break. Call Kathy 277-2944

FOUND-65 Gloves/Mittens at Lost and Found-Also many Glove and Mitten Pairs. Scarfs Too!! Claim today. 110 LaFortune Hall

FOUND: High School Class Ring (girl's) in Rockne Memorial Locker room. Call 239-6321.

LOST: BLUE ID HOLDER WITH CALIFORNIA DRIVER'S LICENSE AND DETEX LOST ON MARCH 25 AT CHIPS IF FOUND PLEASE CALL X2691

LOST A RED 3-RING BINDER. I left it in room 101 of Hurley last Tuesday (4/5/88) after my 1:15 class. If you picked it up, please call Angie at 283-4096. It has everything from all of my classes in it and it is vital to my passing my finals!!!!!! Thanks help! lost a brown wallet with initials FJD, contained ID, driver's licence, and photos. It was lost somewhere between North dining hall and the Engineering library. Please call Francis at 283-1723 or return to 704 Grace Hall if found. REWARD!!!!!!

FOR SALE

IBM PCXT Model 086
10Mb disk. 360K floppy. 640K RAM and Quadram CGA color monitor. $1,600 price includes DOS 2.1, documentation, AST SuperPak utilities and SideKick. DOS 3.2, Notebook II, PFS:File, LOGO and other software packages also available. For more information, call Mike Krager at 239-7248 weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

FOR SALE: A pair of Nordica ski boots, size 8. Call Jenn at 2975.

Rnlt Alliance 83-5spd, 4dr air, new ex-h&butt, clean, good cond-1900best off-Dave3349

TYPEWRITER/WORD PROCESSOR
For Sale
LOTS OF GOODIES
If interested, please call Amy x1263

WINDSURFER FOR SALE Fanatic Cat w/ Mistral Sail 368cm race board Call Ron 287-7736

FOR RENT

2 BEDROOM 2 BATH APARTMENT FOR SUMMER SUBLEASE. NEW COMPLEX POOL $500 FURNISHED. CALL 271 0764 EVENINGS.

2 EFFICIENCY APTS UTILITIES PAID 288-0955

FURNISHED HOUSE SAFE NEIGHBORHOOD 288-0955/255-3684

Summer Rental; 2 Bd., $172/mo. per person; Located at Ironwood and Edison; call 271-0559.

7 BEDROOM FURNISHED HOME NEAR CAMPUS. ALARM SYSTEM. SUMMER OR FALL 272-6306

NICE HOME FURNISHED CLOSE TO ND FOR NEXT SCHOOL YEAR 6838889

NICE ROOM TO SUBLEASE FOR THE SUMMER JUNE-AUGUST 31 KITCHEN, BATHROOM, LIVING ROOM, TV, ETC $125. CALL 288-7929, VOLKER

Great Location near campus. Large brick home. Room for 6 students. 2 baths. Ready for Fall occupancy. $660/mo. plus utilities. 232-2366.

Room for 4 students. Near campus. Ready for Fall occupancy. $440/mo. plus utilities. 232-2366.

3 BD. HOUSE, CLOSE TO CAMPUS FOR FALL '88. CALL 289-8539.

GREAT STUDIO SUBLET!! Spacious, wall-to-wall carpeting, new kitchen. Available May 15. Perfect for grad. student or prof. Quiet location, w/ laundry facilities, etc. Call 289-7709

STUDIO APARTMENT TURTLE CREEK $339/MONTH CALL 277-4842

WANTED

SUMMER CAMP POSITIONS
Counselors, 21 plus, Coed, sleepaway camp, Massachusetts Berkshires, WSI, arts & crafts, tennis, all land and water sports, gymnastics, drama, piano/play for shows, judo, photography, dance, computers, nature, wilderness, model rocketry, guitar, radio, video, archery, yearbook, woodworking, RN and typist. Write: Camp Emerson, 5 Brassie Rd, Eastchester, NY 10707 or call 914-779-9406.

PLEASE SELL ME GRADUATION TICKETS. $$$BUCKS INVOLVED$$$! CALL MARC AT 288-7105

ROOMMATE WANTED
Summer only, male to share Campus-view two bedroom, $200/mo., includes air; Call Dorine at 272-1441. Drug users not tolerated.

RIDE NEEDED TO MIAMI OF OHIO THIS WEEKEND. PLEASE CALL KAREN 1312

ROOMMATE(S) NEEDED
Senior returning for grad school is looking for roommates for off-campus apartment or house. Call Todd x1788.

Can I borrow someone's basketball? Please? See Dean Rm. 339

FOR SALE

IBER PCXT Model 086
10Mb disk. 360K floppy. 640K RAM and Quadram CGA color monitor. $1,600 price includes DOS 2.1, documentation, AST SuperPak utilities and SideKick. DOS 3.2, Notebook II, PFS:File, LOGO and other software packages also available. For more information, call Mike Krager at 239-7248 weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

FOR SALE: A pair of Nordica ski boots, size 8. Call Jenn at 2975.

Rnlt Alliance 83-5spd, 4dr air, new ex-h&butt, clean, good cond-1900best off-Dave3349

TYPEWRITER/WORD PROCESSOR
For Sale
LOTS OF GOODIES
If interested, please call Amy x1263

WINDSURFER FOR SALE Fanatic Cat w/ Mistral Sail 368cm race board Call Ron 287-7736

81 VOLKSWAGEN SCIROCO 5 SPEED STICK, SUN ROOF, STEREO, NEW TIRES & PAD, 36000 MILES EXCELLENT CONDITION, $ 2150, CALL JIN 272/8538

TICKETS

I NEED ONE TICKET FOR GRADUATION. WILL PAY. CALL 3257 ASK FOR BRIAN

I DESPERATELY NEED 6 GRADUATION TICKETS! I WILL PAY BIG $$ FOR THEM. CALL TIM 4000 IF YOU HAVE EXTRA TICKETS.

NEED 1 OR 2 GRAD TICKETS. $$$ CALL STEVE 277-8932

Have extra senior formal bid, want to go? Chris 4006 call after 11 p.m

WE NEED 1 OR 2 GRAD TIX. CALL KAREN 2879, OR ERIC 232-1399 TODAY!

PERSONALS

OAR HOUSE: COLD BEER & LIQUOR, CARRY OUT TO 3 A.M. U.S. 31 N., ONE BLOCK SOUTH OF HOLIDAY INN.

COED BICYCLE TOURS-COLORADO ROCKIES 1988. WHITEWATER RAFTING, JEEPING, VAN SUPPORT, COLLEGE CYCLE TOURS. (313) 357-1370.

Students: Sell your unwanted class books for $$ at Pandora's Books. 808 Howard off ND Ave. 10-5:30, 7 days/week 233-2342

SPRING BREAK-OUT SALE! Apr. 15-17 Used Books 50-90% off. New books 30% off. Pandora's Books, 808 Howard off ND Ave. 10-5:30 7 days/week. 233-2342

ATTENTION 88 GRADUATES 1st Source Bank will finance your car purchase. For more information call Ellen Santa or Jeff Corey at 236-2200

Bertles Imports BMW/MAZDA/VW ALL JETTAS at invoice PH. 272-8504 Ends and interviews Throughout the evening.

Have an opinion on The Task Force Reports?? We want you on The Campus Perspectives talkshow Thursday, April 21 From 10 to 11 p.m. On WVFI-AM 640 Please leave your name and number in the News Director's mailbox in the WVFI office By Tuesday, April 19, 5 p.m.

Hey Manor: Whatta ya say we get Ferris future job back and can Spector's future.

THANK YOU ST JUDE

KAREN VUONO and JULIE PALAMARO-Pick up any more middle aged businessmen lately?

Congrats to the 5 INEBRIATED LOONS...etc. BEAST, TEAM CAPTAIN MUGSY, HIGH SCORER (3) FLEX, 40% (2 OF 5) DUKE, 9% (2 OF 22) JOE BANANA, SWING MAN

CRUISE TO THE TUNE OF $6-$10HR. Can you make $12,000/yr. delivering for Domino's Pizze? You bet! Now hiring. 1835 South Bend Avenue $3.75/hr with bonus at hire. 277-2151.

GINGER AND MARIANNE: OK, OK WE'LL GIVE YOU OUR TIES, BUT PLEASE KEEP YOUR HANDS OFF MY RUBBER CHICKEN. GILLIGAN (AND THE SKIPPER)

To the luckiest man: Thanks for everything. I appreciate you being there in good times and bad. Good luck on your test. I expect a 4.0 this semester. Let's rock Senior Formal. I LOVE YOU! From the luckiest woman

Hey Dudes OF THE GROOVE!
I love your COOL sounds and amazing equipment
I sure hope we can work together more often!
GIVE ME A CALL ANY TIME (even if you just need a mover)
MJR --sound guy

Congratulations Uncle Brian

Allante
How can you handle the suspense?

SPRING RUNS * * * * This Saturday at 11:00 * * * * Sign up at NVA * * *

RIGHT TO LIFE NEEDS YOU
Applications for all officer positions accepted until Friday
Pick up, return to TIM MARCHESI-132 KEENAN or KATHLEEN ZASSICK-341 REGINA N, SMC Questions? call 271-0841

ATTENTION ND AND SMC CHICKS
Next time you see a Domer on the Men's Volleyball Team give him a hug and wish him good luck at Bowling Green.

Tired of the NDSMC social life?
Can't find an exciting date?
Play the AN TOSTAL Dating Game!
Pick up applications in the An Tostal office, 3-5 Thurs-Fri.

Coming soon...
Gidget Goes To Chicago and stays with a VERMIN!

Interested in reffing BOOKSTORE?
Meet in Keenan Basement Thurs. at 8PM
Questions-Jeff x1551

KATHLEEN BOCK is the special girl of the day. Happy 22!

THE GRIND THE GRIND WED-13-CENTCANSMON-18-BRIDGETTES-ES-CLOSE-80CENTBIG DRAFTS

The Great Escape of '88 will have to end at 2 am due to a misunderstanding with the office of student activities. We regret the inconvenience.

FEDERAL, STATE & CIVIL SERVICE
Jobs $18.4 to $69,891. Immediate openings! call JOB LINE 1-518-459-3611 Ext. F 784, 24hr.

COKE IS IT

FOR SALE: A pair of Nordica ski boots, size 8. Call Jenn at 2975.

SENIOR FORMAL TICKET FOR SALE 4
My date was killed by terrorists, so he can't go... Will take Best Offer, Call Diane 271-0205

SUMMER STORAGE 2727599 or B. MILLER PO 665 ND IN

THANK YOU ST. JUDE, FOR ANSWERING MY PRAYERS.

JUST SAY UNOC.
ugly nan on campus...

WANTED: female ROOMMATE. North Chicago Subs, beginning in Aug. Call Mary Kay, 13023 or 2999

ROOMMATES WANTED FOR OFF-CAMPUS NEXT YEAR... 2 NEEDED FOR CAMPUS VIEW (spot reserved) or 1 for ND APTS. Call Jim 2035 or Kevin 2033.

GREAT HUNGER CLEANUP VOLUNTEERS
Remember to collect donations. First prize: United Limo ticket, $45 value. Many other prizes. Try to get at least $30. THANKS SATURDAY, APRIL 16

WORK THIS SUMMER ON HILTON HEAD IS. WANTED 2 ROOMMATES TO SHARE CONDO CALL ANNE 284-4314

ND MOVERS NEEDED FOR NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION AT SAINT MARY'S
WANTED ALL GUYS INTERESTED IN COMING BACK EARLY TO HELP MOVE IN NEW STUDENTS. CHANCE TO MEET NEW PEOPLE. WILL HAVE TO BE BACK ON WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1988. FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT CATHY BURKE AT 284-5051

Things are getting UGLY
Vote UMOC

Vote UMOC
Vote UMOC
La Fortune Info Booth
MON-FRI 7-9

PERK, GOOD LUCK IN VA!!!!!!

THANK YOU ST JUDE

Mike P. What a great picture of you in the paper the other day! What a stud! I Take me to your SYR, you hunk!!!! Secret Admirer

MOD QUAD MOVIE NIGHT
WATCH MOVIES ON THE QUAD
FRIDAY APRIL 15

FREE MOVIESFREE MOVIES
THIS FRIDAY OUTSIDE ON MOD QUAD
HELP CELEBRATE PEPW WEEK

BE A PART OF THE BEST WEEK ON MOD QUAD
JOIN THE PASQUERILLAS' FOR SPIRIT WEEK COME SEE MOVIES 8:30 FRIDAY ON THE QUAD

HII I'M JENNIFER CONLON
And I need a date for this weekend. Give me a call at 2975.

Omar - You are wanted.

Can I eat?
I don't know, give it a try.

CONGRATULATIONS IRISH MARAUDERS DRILL TEAM!!!!
Way to kick butt and take names at the Purdue Drill Meet! You worked long and hard for it, and you deserved everything you got! It was about time things went your way - you were long overdue, and couldn't be happier for you! I just wanted to say I'm proud of you! You'll never know how much I would rather have been with you at the meet than where I was that week-end. GREAT JOB! Kevin

CELESTE FREIND
Is TWENTY-TUTTI-ONE today!!

Matthew Scanlon: Happy B-day to the best STUD and brother around!!! You made my freshman year so much easier... Love ya lots!!! little sister Sue

Dear Nini and Steph, instead of flowers you get a personal! Thanks for Friday night. I hope we didn't yawn too much because we really had fun. Love, J & M

CEDRIC FIGARO
CEDRIC FIGARO
CEDRIC FIGARO
CEDRIC FIGARO
CEDRIC FIGARO
FOR UMOC

HE'S REALLY UGLY, GUYS!!

NDSMC EQUESTRIAN TEAM-OFF TO A GREAT START. CONGRATS PAUL KELLY! GOOD LUCK SATURDAY!

open ultimate frisbee saturday noon stephan

To whoever stole the red backpack from outside the third floor weightroom at the Rock Wed a.m.: You can keep the money. Please just give everything else to someone who can get it back to me. Those things are very important. 349 Morrissey

Call and find out-FROM ONE OF THE FEW GIRLS IN ENGINEERING

KISSER IS HERE!
KISSER IS HERE!
KISSER IS HERE!

Object of the game: to obtain the most 'kissing contracts' Strategy: kiss your opponents before they kiss you! Prizes for most 'strategic' KISSERS!!!
Sign ups Thurs. 7-9 and Fri. 3-5 in the An Tostal Office.

STORE YOUR STUFF THIS SUMMER AT STORE-MORE MINI-WAREHOUSE!
Lowest rate. 24 hour electronic protection. Call 654-3636.

Just in case you missed the announcement on Monday Scott Bearby is engaged! Be sure to congratulate him if you see him!

The Observer Notre Dame office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertising from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Haggar College Center, accepts classifieds from 12:30 p.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per five characters per day.

NOTRE DAME POM PON SQUAD TRYOUTS: FIRST CLINIC 4/17 11-2 ROCK GYM FIRST CUTS 4/18 6-9 ACC PIT SECOND CLINIC 4/19 8-11 ACC GYM 4 SECOND CUTS 4/20 6-9 ACC PIT ALL TRYOUTS ARE OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. ANYONE INTERESTED IN TRYING OUT IS WELCOME. MORE INFO? ERICA 2493 OR MELISSA 284-5099

Found: Two pastel bras hanging in the fourth floor bathroom of Cavanaugh. If they are yours, please come and claim them. We suspect they have great sentimental value.
-Two nice guys (ugly man sweat, ugly man sweat...)

Vote UMOC
Vote UMOC

La Fortune Info Booth
MON-FRI 7-9

PERK, GOOD LUCK IN VA!!!!!!

THANK YOU ST JUDE

Mike P. What a great picture of you in the paper the other day! What a stud! I Take me to your SYR, you hunk!!!! Secret Admirer

MOD QUAD MOVIE NIGHT
WATCH MOVIES ON THE QUAD
FRIDAY APRIL 15

FREE MOVIESFREE MOVIES
THIS FRIDAY OUTSIDE ON MOD QUAD
HELP CELEBRATE PEPW WEEK

BE A PART OF THE BEST WEEK ON MOD QUAD
JOIN THE PASQUERILLAS' FOR SPIRIT WEEK COME SEE MOVIES 8:30 FRIDAY ON THE QUAD

HII I'M JENNIFER CONLON
And I need a date for this weekend. Give me a call at 2975.

Omar - You are wanted.

Can I eat?
I don't know, give it a try.

CONGRATULATIONS IRISH MARAUDERS DRILL TEAM!!!!
Way to kick butt and take names at the Purdue Drill Meet! You worked long and hard for it, and you deserved everything you got! It was about time things went your way - you were long overdue, and couldn't be happier for you! I just wanted to say I'm proud of you! You'll never know how much I would rather have been with you at the meet than where I was that week-end. GREAT JOB! Kevin

CELESTE FREIND
Is TWENTY-TUTTI-ONE today!!

Matthew Scanlon: Happy B-day to the best STUD and brother around!!! You made my freshman year so much easier... Love ya lots!!! little sister Sue

Dear Nini and Steph, instead of flowers you get a personal! Thanks for Friday night. I hope we didn't yawn too much because we really had fun. Love, J & M

CEDRIC FIGARO
CEDRIC FIGARO
CEDRIC FIGARO
CEDRIC FIGARO
CEDRIC FIGARO
FOR UMOC

HE'S REALLY UGLY, GUYS!!

NDSMC EQUESTRIAN TEAM-OFF TO A GREAT START. CONGRATS PAUL KELLY! GOOD LUCK SATURDAY!

open ultimate frisbee saturday noon stephan

To whoever stole the red backpack from outside the third floor weightroom at the Rock Wed a.m.: You can keep the money. Please just give everything else to someone who can get it back to me. Those things are very important. 349 Morrissey

Call and find out-FROM ONE OF THE FEW GIRLS IN ENGINEERING

KISSER IS HERE!
KISSER IS HERE!
KISSER IS HERE!

Object of the game: to obtain the most 'kissing contracts' Strategy: kiss your opponents before they kiss you! Prizes for most 'strategic' KISSERS!!!
Sign ups Thurs. 7-9 and Fri. 3-5 in the An Tostal Office.

STORE YOUR STUFF THIS SUMMER AT STORE-MORE MINI-WAREHOUSE!
Lowest rate. 24 hour electronic protection. Call 654-3636.

Just in case you missed the announcement on Monday Scott Bearby is engaged! Be sure to congratulate him if you see him!

THE GREAT ESCAPE OF 88
THE GREAT ESCAPE OF 88
FRIDAY 6am to 2pm

6:00 DEADHORSE
6:45 YOUTH IN ASIA
7:30 ELIXER (PURDUE)
8:15 CATHOLICS IN BAD STANDING
9:05 SGT. FRIDAY (PROFESSIONAL)
10:20 MATERIAL ISSUE (IN WVFI'S TOP TEN)
11:35 the GROOVE
12:45 TOXIC GYPSY (PURDUE)
1:15 ZETO & THE HEAT-ONS

ALL PROCEEDS TO BENEFIT CYSTIC FIBROSIS
FREE ICE CREAM SANDWICHES FOR THE FIRST 200 TO ENTER

PLUS PRIZES AND A ROTATING DOOR POLICY OUT OF CONTROL

RAQUEL Y TICO, FELIZ ANNERSARIO SIETE MESES ES UN LARGO TIEMPO! J.A.

DAVE GULLOTT
DAVE GULLOTT
DAVE GULLOTT
HIII THANKS!! AND YOU ARE MAN ENOUGH FOR ME ANY DAY!!!

KNOW SOMEONE SPECIAL? SEND ROSES SPECIALLY PRICED NOW! SUZANNE'S FLORAL 18061 STATE ROAD 23 277-2870

MOD QUAD MOVIE NIGHT
MOD QUAD MOVIE NIGHT
THIS FRIDAY APRIL 15

MOVIES ON THE MOD QUAD FRIDAY APRIL 15 TH COME ONE, COME ALL FREE FREE FREE FREE

WHERE WERE YOU WHEN THE LIGHTS WENT OUT? AT THE MOD QUAD MOVIE NIGHT!!!

COME TO THE MOD QUAD MOVIE NIGHT HOT SPOT ON CAMPUS -FRIDAY NIGHT YOU CAN'T POSSIBLY HAVE ANYTHING BETTER TO DO

INTERESTED IN SUBLETTING EFFICIENCY OR 1 BEDROOM APMT. FROM MAY 15 TO AUG 15. WILL PAY $200-$300. CALL CATHY AT 2588.

Are you familiar with the term ROADKILL?

nan sauer for UMOC...

To everyone who called, visited, sent TVs, roses, etc. while I had chicken pox, THANKS A MILLION! I love ya'll, JULIE.

DO YOU LISTEN TO SUNNY 101 LUNCHTIME GOLD?
If you would like to have Jack Reichert broadcast live from the Fieldhouse Mall before the end of April, call him at 236-1015 and tell him!!!

Prince Charming: You don't have to bring my smile back if you don't want to. Just seeing you does that! -Cinderella P.S. Why not on the side?

KISSER IS HERE!
KISSER IS HERE!
KISSER IS HERE!

Object of the game: to obtain the most 'kissing contracts' Strategy: kiss your opponents before they kiss you! Prizes for most 'strategic' KISSERS!!!
Sign ups Thurs. 7-9 and Fri. 3-5 in the An Tostal Office.

STORE YOUR STUFF THIS SUMMER AT STORE-MORE MINI-WAREHOUSE!
Lowest rate. 24 hour electronic protection. Call 654-3636.

Just in case you missed the announcement on Monday Scott Bearby is engaged! Be sure to congratulate him if you see him!

Junior attackman John Olmstead maneuvers against Lake Forest in Wednesday night's 11-7 Irish win. Olmstead leads the Irish in scoring with 28 goals and 15 assists. Pete LaFleur has the detail of Notre Dame's ninth victory on page 16.

The Observer / Brian McDonald

Lyle seeks 3rd straight win

Associated Press

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. - Greg Norman once referred to the newly-crowned Masters champion, an easy-going and low key man, as "Sleepy Sandy."

"Ol' Sleepy Sandy has the potential to accomplish almost anything he wants," Norman said after Lyle won the 1985 British Open.

"I think I have the sleep out of my eyes now," Lyle said on the eve of his quest of a rare, third consecutive victory, in the $700,000 Heritage Classic. And, with eyes wide open, Lyle likes what he sees in a review of recent action.

Last week, the husky Scot became the first British subject qualified to wear the green jacket of a Masters champion. His triumph at Augusta, Ga., was his third of the season and made him the first man in three years to win consecutive titles on the American tour.

"I don't think I can play much better than I have in the last few weeks," Lyle said.

This week, he is attempting to become the first man since Gary Player in 1978 to win three in a row.

And, depending on his schedule for the rest of the season, he has a couple of major accomplishments within reach.

He leads with $591,821 in earnings and has a shot at becoming the first man to win $1 million in a single season on the American tour.

In addition, he is by a wide margin the leader in the Player of the Year standings.

Stop by Theodore's this Sunday for some great deals!

open 12-6
Serving all you can eat
Hot Dogs and Chili Dogs only $2.00!!
so eat, relax, and enjoy

Fans

continued from page 16

He doesn't know the score but does know that the Seahawks convert 41 percent of fourth-and-five situations in away games. He can't tell you who is on top in the AL East, but he does know Mike Pagliarulo is hitting .244 with two out and runners in scoring position in the last three innings of a game.

Stat Man keeps the Elias Baseball Analyst on his desk and subscribes only to USA Today. He is the annoying person who buys the baseball scorecard for a quarter and actually keeps score-throughout the entire game.

At the stadium on that Saturday afternoon, you will be forced to listen to one of these types. And one of them will be forced to listen to you. Maybe stadiums should assign seating by the type of fan and keep everyone happy, especially all the irrational, irresponsible monsters that normal people transform into at the start of the game.

Former pitcher has no regrets

Associated Press

SANTA MONICA, Calif. - J.R. Richard, one of baseball's most respected and feared pitchers until a stroke at age 30 ended his career, harbors neither bitterness nor regret over what happened.

"Everything has worked out for the best, that was the plan God had for me," said Richard, whose story will be the subject of a movie. "The main thing is I'm healthy and doing fine. I'm very content."

A lot of people thought Richard was healthy and doing fine while pitching for the Houston Astros in the summer of 1980. But the 6-9 right-hander wasn't, and he knew it.

"I knew I didn't feel right," he said. "Pitching against the Cubs in the middle of June, my arm started hurting in the third inning. The doctor with the team didn't diagnose the problem, he put ice on my arm."

Things got worse, even though he was the starting pitcher for the National League in the All-Star Game on July 8, where two scoreless innings earned him a victory in his only All-Star appearance.

Richard was examined several times, and an arteriogram revealed an arterial blockage in his right arm on July 25, but the neck arteries were said to be normal and no surgery was recommended.

"I went to the hospital, I was diagnosed as a head case," he recalled. Some people also called him a malingerer, despite his record.

In 1976, Richard was 20-15 with a 2.75 earned run average and 214 strikeouts. In 1977, he was 18-12 with a 2.97 ERA and 214 strikeouts. In 1978, he was 18-11 with a 3.11 ERA and a big-league leading 303 strikeouts. And in 1979, he was 18-13 with a 2.71 ERA and, again, a big-league leading 313 strikeouts.

On July 30, 1980, he was 10-4 with a 1.89 ERA with 119 strikeouts in 114 innings.

That was the date it happened.

"I was on the field, tossing balls back and forth. All of a sudden, I felt a loud ringing in my left ear. I just laid down on the (Astrodome) floor. I remember the ambulance coming to pick me up. Then I passed out," Richard said.

He had suffered a stroke, caused, he said, by a blood clot.

correction

The Observer incorrectly reported yesterday that Sean Brown and Joe Masman were the first roommates to play against each other in Bookstore Basketball this year.

The first meeting of roommates occurred in the first round when Michael Paul and Chris Fillio of Jolly Green Giant and the Four Sprouts took on Dan Fahey of Still Spank and the Monkeys.

For Something Completely Different

presents
Monty Python's

GRAHAM CHAPMAN

Sun., April 24
7 30 p.m.

O'Laughlin
Auditorium
Saint Mary's College

Tickets Now on Sale

O'Laughlin Auditorium Box Office
Ticket Stub LaFortune Hall Notre Dame
Century Center Box Office

All Seats Reserved $10/5 Students

Visa MasterCard Orders and Information 284 4626

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

YOUR FIRST STEP TOWARD SUCCESS IS THE ONE YOU COULD TAKE THIS SUMMER.

Army ROTC Camp Challenge. It's exciting and it may be your last opportunity to graduate with an Army Officer's commission.

ARMY ROTC

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Scholarships this Summer

Call Capt. Warrick 239-6264

Summer STORAGE RESERVATION

CALL NOW 683-1959

- VERY CLOSE TO CAMPUS
- APPROX 2½ MILES NORTH US 31-33
- GATES OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY

Master Mini Warehouses

P.O. BOX 100 NILES, MICHIGAN 49120

"BEST LITTLE STORE-HOUSE IN MICHIANA"

And the beat goes on

Bookstore Tournament

Wednesday's Results

Stepan 1
5 Slamma Jammies over Fire Digger by 8
Who's Next vs. Sly & the Family Stone by 12
Bulch & the Boxcars over IKE by 16
Minahoonies over Look Who Bought the Myth by 6

Stepan 2
Censored over The Watul by 9
Put the Power... over Disgruntled Rastafarians by 14
SCB Club over The Maccabees by 9
Men on Men over A Pilot & 4 Guys 25 to 22

Stepan 5
Do you Know Anything... over Look for Us... by 9
The Team That Couldn't Think over Bayliss' Boys by 5
Put it in the Hole over 4 Men & a Red Headed... by 12
4 Brothers & a Sweet J over Dan Jansen, Debi Thomas by 9

Stepan 6
Uncle Fester & the Chiefs over Shaggy & the Mystery Machine by 7
Whubus & his 4 Friends over Blair's Cousin by 8
The Grounds Keepers over Kernsey Likes Little Boys by 8
The Ministers of Pain over We Don't Need a Center 29 to 27
Carver High over Dukes of Slam by 8

Bookstore 9
Tofu's Last Gig over Long on the Yen by 10
Corporate Raiders over Kernels by 6
Brace Yourselves over Reverse Peristalsis by 16
Chip's Bar over Flipper and the Undertows by 16

Bookstore 10

Malicious Prosecution over Lions of the Tribe of Judah by 13
The Tors over LSP by 2
Top Guns over The Linebacker Lingerie Show by 8
Tookey Masters over Several Species of... by 8

Lyons 11
Return of the Fugitive Guys over 5 Guys Who Follow Triangle... by 13
Jimmy Swaggart, Jim Bakker & 3 other... over Double Hems by 8
Somfaw's Return over Fat's Runnin'
Somfaw's Return over Fat's Runnin' Otters by 5

Lyons 12
Orange Blossom Special over We're Pathetic so you... by 15
5 Guys and no Girls: the ND... over The Michigan Connection by 11
Las Mis and the Return of the Smurfs over Jolly Green Giant by 5
OB's Pub over The 4 Horsemen... by 8

Thursday's Games

Stepan 1
4:00 - Mind the Gap vs. The Explosive Package and Boomer
4:45 - Check the Ice vs. LA Law
5:30 - Digger Phelps: A season... vs. We B Bricklayers
6:15 - Man In a Canoe Overboard vs. Wally and Julie

Stepan 2
4:00 - A Smic Chick, A Doormat vs. Son of 211
4:45 - Conjunction Junction vs. Pop a Shot
5:30 - Hardies House Tiki vs. I'll Play. No I Won't
6:15 - Michael, Cool J... vs. Pump up the Volume

Stepan 5

4:00 - Kinkoids vs. Plugs Players
4:45 - Air Doggers vs. D3T2
5:30 - Yo... What Up? vs. 5 Guys Who Sing
6:15 - No Blood, No Foul vs. Lou's 2 QB's

Stepan 6

4:00 - The MBA's vs. The Skirts
4:45 - Johnny Wad's Last Shot vs. Kiss of Death Tongue
5:30 - Hans, Frans, and 3 other vs. 5 Guys With A Surburban
6:15 - Rich, Dan, and 3 Other vs. Red Death and the Jammin Provost

Bookstore 9

4:00 - Hahn's Funeral Home vs. 3 Bimbos and the Horses
4:45 - Stony Island Ave. vs. Emotionally Exhausted...
5:30 - All the Presidents Men II vs. 6 Guys that Can't Add
6:15 - La Carne Caliente vs. Ferrence & 4 Other...

Bookstore 10

4:00 - Murph & the Magic Tones vs. The new tumbleweeds
4:45 - AF ROTC... vs. Tequila White Lightning
5:30 - Debi Gibson vs. Surf's Up
6:15 - Dantley, Lemievix... vs. 5 Guys Who Can Kick...
Lyons 11
4:00 - SOS vs. Still Friends of Chris Nanai
4:45 - Tank & the Fun Boys vs. Boihers
5:30 - A Bad Dude, A Cool Buzz... vs. Met the Semo
6:15 - Adwork's All-Stars vs. Off the Glass

Lyons 12

4:00 - Spidey's Netters vs. The Citizens
4:45 - Swaggart, Reagan & 3 Other Guys... vs. Dogged by the Steering Comm...
5:30 - Red Red Wine vs. Forfeit
6:15 - Yikes, I'm Sitting in my... vs. Larvae: Boon or Bane

Tofu

continued from page 16

"Four of us have played together all four years," said Zadell, "so we pretty much know what the other guys are doing on the court. We didn't play so well in the last round but today it all seemed to click. We've got a shot at it all, but right now we're just looking at Malicious Prosecution, who we play Monday. Their five tough players and we can't look past them."

Malicious Prosecution was led by Joe Sternberg's five points as they set up Monday's game against Tofu with a 21-8 slaying of Lions of the Tribe of Judah.

Mike Osborne scored seven points for Top Guns in their 21-13 unveiling of the Linebacker Lingerie Show. Top Guns is made up of four law school students and Tim Crawford, a member of last year's New Order team which reached the Final Eight. Former Irish basketball captain Tom Sluby, who played with the Dallas Mavericks and served as a graduate assistant to Coach Digger Phelps this winter, will join the team late next week.

Corporate Raiders, who reached the Final Eight last year before losing to eventual champion 'Da Brothers of Manhood in the quarterfinals, advanced with a hard-fought 21-15 win over Kernels. The Kernels kept put an early scare into the Raiders by erasing a 6-1 deficit with four straight hoops. After Peter Witte of the Kernels hit a 18-footer to make the score 6-5, Corporate Raiders raced to an 11-6 halftime lead and eventual six-point win. Michael Smith, who left the Irish basketball team this season after not following prescribed knee rehabilitation procedures, led all scorers with seven points.

Butch and the Boxcars used a balanced scoring attack to hike IKE out of the tournament, 21-4. Greg Thomas paced the scoring with 6-of-7 shooting as the Boxcars broke open the fast break in the second half to put the game out of reach.

John Sheehan led Put It In The Hole with ten pints in their 21-9 scalping of 4 Men and A Red-Headed Stepchild while Uncle Fester and The Chiefs shaved Shaggy and the Mystery Machine, 21-14. Chip's Bar tossed Flipper and the Undertoads with a 21-5 win, and Orange Blossom Special reassured We're Pathetic So You Better Not Lose, 21-6.

In other action, 5 Slamma Jamma ousted Fire Digger, 21-13, Who's Next advanced past Sly and The Family Stone, 21-9, 4 Brothers and A Sweet J slipped by Dan Jansen, Debi Thomas and 3 Other People Who Fell Under Pressure, 21-12, The Groundskeepers buried Kernsey Likes Little Boys, 21-13 and Carver High sliced up the Dukes of Slam, 21-13.

Spring runs set for weekend

By JOHN GREEN
Sports Writer

One of the traditional Notre Dame rites of spring will be on display this Saturday with the running of the NVA-sponsored Irish Spring Runs.

Over 150 Domers participated in the Spring Runs last year, and NVA manager Matthew Haney expects an even bigger turnout this year.

"We have had some beautiful spring weather, and I think that there is a lot of enthusiasm on campus for the Spring Runs," said Haney.

The race is divided into two categories—a three-mile race and a six-mile race. Trophies will be awarded to the top two male and the top two female finishers in the undergraduate, graduate and faculty-staff divisions in both the three and six mile races, for a total of 24 trophies to be distributed in all.

The scenic Irish Spring Runs will begin west of Stepan Center at 11 a.m. on Saturday, and the course will include a trek along the golf course and by the lakes. Participants can pay a $4.00 registration fee at the NVA offices until Friday, or $5.00 at the race on the day of the event.

By HEATHER ATKINSON
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's tennis team bounced back from a temporary losing streak Tuesday, taking a tough road match from Illinois-Chicago Tuesday.

The duo of Sarah Mayer and Mary Turk turned in outstanding performances again coming from behind to win. Down 5-0 in the first set they rallied to defeat their opponents 7-6, 6-2.

"These were pretty routine matches with everyone winning very handily," said Laverie, "This one got us turned around on a positive track for this weekend which will be long. All but one of our starting line up were back for this game which made a considerable difference."

On March 30 the Belles were defeated by Hope College 6-3, but pulled together to win a close 5-4 contest over Kalamazoo College on March 31.

The weekend of April 8-9 Saint Mary's suffered some bad losses in tournament competition held in Evansville. The Belles, Evansville, Western Kentucky and Transylvania University were the four teams involved in the contest.

Because of injuries, three of the top six players were unable to play for Saint Mary's. This put the Belles at a considerable disadvantage and put a lot of pressure on players who had not gotten much playing time so far this year.

"I didn't doubt their level of playing ability, but the experience level of the girls was low," said Head Coach Deb Laverie.

Coming out of the tourney 0-3, Saint Mary's lost close matches. The Belles were defeated by Transylvania 5-4, Western Kentucky 5-4 and Evansville 6-3.

"I was extremely pleased with the showing of the girls who traveled and with the way that they played," said Laverie.

Mayer, a freshman, had one of the most outstanding performances of the weekend. Mayer won all three of her singles matches with a great comeback in the third set of her third game. Down 5-0 in the third she come back to win the match 6-4, 6-1, 7-5.

Mayer teamed up with Turk for the number two doubles team defeating Evansville, a former conference champion, 7-5, 6-4.

Three girls, who turned in acknowledgeable performances were Michelle Chaney, Mary Kate Coyle and Teri Pattillo.

"We put some girls into the line up who had practically no playing experience and they really came through in a bind," said Laverie.

ironwood ND '61
wine and spirits

Domestic and imported wines beers liquors
(219) 272-7144

1725 North Ironwood Dr. South Bend, IN 46635

BUY ANY PACKAGE AND GET EXTRA TANNING FREE

WITH THIS COUPON

CALL 272-7653 FOR DETAILS

Fun Tan

UNIVERSITY COMMONS ST. RD. 23
★ SANITIZED TANNING BOOTHS AND BEDS

Playing Thursday night at Theodore's - 9:30 p.m.

Meet the only guy who changes his identity more often than his underwear.

CHEVY CHASE
Fletch

PG

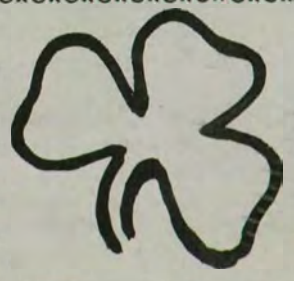

A UNIVERSAL PICTURE

Free Admission

SATURDAY 11 AM.

SPONSORED BY NVA

THE IRISH SPRING RUNS

Baseball roundup

Yankees keep rolling

Associated Press

TORONTO - Richard Dotson pitched four-hit ball for eight-plus innings and Dave Winfield's RBI single keyed a five-run first inning Wednesday night, leading the New York Yankees over the Toronto Blue Jays 5-1.

Dotson, 2-0, took a two-hitter into the ninth inning but left after yielding a pair of leadoff singles. Reliever Dave Righetti finished, allowing an RBI single to pinch-hitter Pat Borders.

Rickey Henderson opened the game with a single against Dave Stieb, 0-2, and stole second. Willie Randolph followed with a bunt single and Mike Pagliarulo hit a one-out, RBI double. Claudell Washington then beat out a squeeze bunt for another run.

Winfield, Don Slaught and Bobby Meacham hit run-scoring singles. Winfield is 15-for-29 this season.

Indians 6, Twins 3

CLEVELAND - Ron Kittle hit a two-run homer and had an RBI single that sparked a four-run rally in the eighth inning Wednesday night as the Cleveland Indians beat the Minnesota Twins 6-3.

Mel Hall followed with an RBI single and Brook Jacoby hit a two-run double but was out trying for a triple.

Jeff Dedmon pitched 2 2-3 scoreless innings for the victory. Juan Berenguer, 0-2, who relieved Bert Blyleven to start the eighth with a 3-2 lead, took the loss.

Royals 9, Orioles 3

BALTIMORE - Danny Tartabull drove in four runs with a pair of doubles and a pair of singles as the Kansas City Royals extended Baltimore's season-opening losing streak to eight games by defeating the Orioles 9-3 Wednesday night.

Red Sox 6, Brewers 3

BOSTON - Ellis Burks beat out a bunt to keep Boston's four-run fifth inning alive, then hit a two-run homer in the eighth as the Red Sox beat Milwaukee 6-3 Wednesday for the Brewers' fifth straight loss.

Cards 4, Cubs 3

ST. LOUIS - Bob Horner hit a bases-loaded sacrifice fly to the warning track in the seventh inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday.

Horner was 4-for-4 in the Cardinals' 7-5 victory over Chicago Tuesday night and had received an intentional walk with two outs and a man on second in the first inning.

Danny Cox, 1-1, scattered eight hits over eight innings for the victory. Todd Worrell got the final two outs in relief of Steve Peters for his third save.

Giants 5, Reds 4

SAN FRANCISCO - Will Clark's solo home run with two outs in the bottom of the 11th inning gave San Francisco a 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday and snapped the Giants' three-game losing streak.

Astros 4, Braves 0

ATLANTA - Jim Deshaies, who had shoulder surgery last October, pitched a two-hitter and Alan Ashby hit a home run as the Houston Astros beat Atlanta 4-0 Wednesday to send the winless Braves to their eighth straight defeat.

Atlanta is one loss shy of the National League modern mark of nine from the start of the season shared by four teams. All eight Atlanta losses have been at home.

AP Photo

Dave Winfield hasn't had much to grimace about so far this season as he and his Yankee teammates have bolted to a 7-1 record, including last night's 5-1 victory over the Blue Jays. Wednesday's highlights appear at left.

Ex-Bear Payton involved in shooting; one injured

Associated Press

SCHAUMBURG, Ill. - Former Chicago Bears running back Walter Payton was involved in the accidental shooting of the manager of Payton's suburban Chicago restaurant Wednesday, police said.

The victim, identified as Elmer Hutson, was shot about 3 p.m. when a third man handed the gun to Payton, 33, and the weapon discharged, Schaumburg Police Chief Kenneth Alley said at a news conference.

Payton was questioned and released and no charges are expected, Alley said. Police also questioned Payton's wife Connie and four other employees who all "corroborate the same story," the chief said.

The third man involved was not identified.

"Walter was on the telephone sitting beside the desk," Alley said, "and placed the telephone back on the receiver and turned back, and the gun went off striking Mr. Hutson in the left leg just below the knee."

Hutson, 28, of Hoffman Estates was taken from Studebaker's restaurant to Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights where he was in stable condition, said Gail Hillery, nursing supervisor.

"The patient is not in a life-threatening situation," she said.

Payton has an unlisted telephone number and could not be reached immediately for comment.

The gun, a French-made, 9mm semiautomatic pistol, was registered to Payton, who had the proper owner-identification and registration, Alley said. Police didn't know why the gun was loaded, but Alley said it held eight rounds and had five left after the single shot was fired.

The weapon had been at the restaurant for several days, Alley said, adding he didn't know why. He said Payton was taking the gun home.

The gun was an older model that Payton had bought recently, but Alley said he was uncertain whether it was an antique. Police planned to have the gun tested at Payton's request to determine whether it malfunctioned and how, the chief added.

The shooting occurred in the restaurant's office, Alley said. An ambulance was called to the restaurant at 3:13 p.m. said Schaumburg Fire Capt. John Fields.

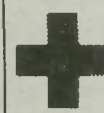

Payton, who retired from the Bears at the end of the past season as the leading rusher in National Football League history, is a part owner of Studebaker's, according to WMAQ-TV.

The Bears' No. 34, nicknamed "Sweetness," retired from pro football in January after 13 years and after accumulating 16,726 yards.

Last year Payton, one of the most financially successful pro football players, announced he hopes to become principal owner of an NFL franchise. He held exploratory talks with NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle, who said many owners would "love to see a former great player own a franchise."

Both played down the timing of the pitch, made during a push for more minorities in the upper levels in sports. Payton said he raised the possibility before, "but people didn't take me seriously."

Payton, born in Columbia, Miss., started high school in a segregated school system, shifting to Columbia High when it was integrated. He didn't take up football until the 11th grade.

 American Red Cross
Be a volunteer.

The Center of Social Concerns
presents:

Thursday, April 14th

Aldon & Betsy Bell

"People to People." A multi-media presentation about 31 citizens of Seattle, WA who traveled to Seattle's sister city in the Soviet Union to deliver a message of peace: 42,000 signatures from the people of the Puget Sound region on 3,000 letters pledging to work to prevent nuclear war.

7:30 P.M. at the Center for Social Concerns

THE 1989 DOME

is now accepting applications for the following positions:

Academics Editor	Sports Editor
Assistant Academics Editor	Assistant Sports Editor
Copy Editor	Extracurricular Editor
Assistant Copy Editor	Assistant Extracurricular Editor
Events Editor	Business Manager
Assistant Events Editor	Photographers
Assistant Hall Life Editor
Assistant Seniors Editor

Applications can be picked up in the Office of Student Activities on the 3rd floor of LaFortune. They must be returned no later than 12:00 p.m. on Monday, April 18.

ND golf team looks to Kepler

By CHRIS FILLIO
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame golf team will travel this weekend to the land of the legendary Golden Bear in an attempt to stake its claim as one of the up and coming schools in the Midwest. After an excellent finish at the Purdue Spring Invitational, the Irish golfers will seek to continue their hot play.

The Kepler Intercollegiate is a 54-hole tournament held annually at the Scarlet Course in Columbus, Ohio. The host and favored team from Ohio State will feature Gary Nicklaus, son of the legendary Jack Nicklaus. The elder Nicklaus also attended OSU and helped design the Scarlet Course, which is considered one of the best collegiate courses in the Midwest.

"Over the years, we've had some success there," said Irish head coach Noel O'Sullivan, "but generally speaking it's been our nemesis. Year after year we have one or two magnificent rounds, but very seldom three magnificent rounds."

However, this could be the year for the Irish to break that jinx. Junior Pat Mohan currently leads the Irish with a 75.9 stroke average. Senior captain Dick Connelly is providing the necessary leadership and boasts past success at the Kepler. Last year Connelly finished 15th out of a field of 120 with a final score of 229, including best score for the third and final round at 72. Connelly presently has a 77.5 stroke average.

"This year, I feel that it may be the right time for a change," said O'Sullivan. "I am looking forward, as is the team, to three consistent rounds. Along with the success of Dick Connelly, both Doug Giorgio and Pat Mohan are coming along like gangbusters."

The starting five for the Irish Gold Squad will be rounded out with freshmen Paul Nolte, who also finished highly at Purdue, and Pat Kusek, a four-letter man out of Longmont, Colo.

The Irish team is a relatively young one and has served to provide a unique cohesiveness for the players. Coach O'Sullivan has experimented with several variations in his starting team. Sophomore Bobby Kloska has also proven his ability to play on the collegiate level. The Elkhart native comes off an excellent freshman year and is presently vying for a chance to prove himself as a member of the Gold Squad.

"We're feeling good," stated O'Sullivan. "We have quiet optimism. It's more than just hope, but it's not overconfidence. The team is glad to be under a little pressure. We're shooting for high placement as well as a proud performance in the tournament. We have the youth, experience, desire and attitude. All we have to do now is to go out and do it."

The competition for the tournament will include teams from the Big Ten and Mid American Conference, as well as all the major independents. The top contenders will be Ohio State, Illinois and Kent State. The team from Ball State will be expected to surprise everyone once again, as they consistently have. "The Ball State team will come out firing, with their flashy red plaid pants and all that."

Bruce "Tiger" McCourt and the rest of the Irish soccer team will be in action Thursday when they compete in the Golden Boot match against Indiana. Proceeds from the game will go toward the U.S. Olympic Committee in the state of Indiana. Pete Gegen previews the game in his story below.

ND, IU get rematch

Teams to meet in 'Golden Boot' charity scrimmage

By PETE GEGEN
Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS - Thanks to a certain soccer match last fall and a group of promoters' actions this spring, tonight's Notre Dame-Indiana soccer scrimmage has turned into more than just a scrimmage.

It is being touted as the Golden Boot soccer match, a game pitting state rivals in a charity match for the U.S. Olympic Committee in the state of Indiana.

The organizers couldn't have picked a better time to benefit from this rivalry.

Indiana is still smarting from its 4-3 overtime upset loss at Notre Dame in the fall. It marked only the third time in 15 years a team has scored four goals against the Hoosiers, and the Irish did it a man short, coming from behind twice.

After that game Indiana won 16 straight and claimed the top ranking in the coaches poll until eventual national champion Clemson beat IU in the tournament. Despite the team's success, time has not healed the wound inflicted by the Irish.

"We'll be playing to win,"

said Yeagely of the scrimmage. "We haven't forgotten that loss."

The revenge factor alone is worth the $5 admission price at IUPUI-Indianapolis track and field stadium.

"This is a big game for Indiana," says Irish head coach Dennis Grace. "Yeagely knows our recruiting was helped by the IU win."

Let's not forget this match is just a scrimmage, and both teams are trying to evaluate talent for the coming fall season.

"We're going to do what's best for Notre Dame soccer," said Head Coach Dennis Grace. "We're going to play new people and try new things. I don't want to get blown out 5-0, but there are some things we have to accomplish."

For this scrimmage Notre Dame's 18-man roster will be missing wingback Tom Connaghan, who has a shoulder injury, and wingback Alex Kratz, who has chosen this spring not to play soccer. Also missing from last fall's starting lineup is senior captain Steve Lowney.

Indiana loses a few more seniors for this match, three of whom started against Notre Dame--keeper Bruce Killough, midfielder Simon Kanter and wingback David Eise. More importantly the Hoosiers will play without midfielder Ken Godat and stopper Marc Behringer, both of whom were injured in indoor play earlier this semester.

Indiana had a very successful indoor season, winning the St. Louis Budweiser Invitational and losing in a shootout in the championship match of the Northwestern Invitational. In those same two tournaments Notre Dame placed fourth at Northwestern and failed to move out of the preliminary bracket at St. Louis.

Happy 20th
Birthday
Molly
"Our Cat's Meow!"

Love,
Sunshine, Dad
and Mary

MOCK CONVENTION

TONIGHT

Final Night

VICE PRESIDENTIAL nominations & balloting

ACCEPTANCE SPEECH
By PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE

ADWORKS

Positions open for the Multicultural Executive Council (MEC)

Applications available in the Student Activities Office - 3rd Floor, LaFortune - due
April 19, 1988 by 4:30 PM.

Interviews April 21st, 1988.

Be an integral part of the Multicultural Experience.

Luggage Truck Service

To New Jersey

New Jersey Club

Loading Times

Stegan Courts.....Thurs 5/6 6-7 pm
Bookstore.....Fri 5/6 10-12 pm
Stegan Courts.....Fri 5/6 1-3 pm
St. Mary's.....Fri 5/6 4:30-5:30 pm

Unloading at Morris Plains and Lincroft (CBA) Sunday 5/8
Question? Call x4073 or x4076

Wildcats blank Irish 5-0

By SCOTT BRUTOCALO
Sports Writer

Complacency and good opposition pitching were two factors that effectively shut down the Irish baseball team yesterday. Despite the home field advantage and recent success, Notre Dame fell to Northwestern 5-0.

The Irish were carrying a 20-14 record coming into the game, winning 14 of their last 19 contests. Wednesday, they were unable to get anything started.

"We weren't mentally ready to play," said first-year coach Pat Murphy. "We have to play consistently every day, but we weren't mentally ready today. We played our worst game of the season."

Part of the reason for the poor offensive performance of the team was the Northwestern pitching. Starter Tony Ariola blanked the Irish for six innings, allowing only five hits.

In the final three innings, Notre Dame managed only three singles off three Northwestern relievers.

"You have days like this," said Murphy. "You have to wipe them off and keep going. We lapsed mentally because we've won 20 games, but we can't start thinking that way if we want to win."

This is the 18th-straight loss to Big Ten powers for the Irish.

The last time Notre Dame defeated a Big Ten team was a 22-4 romp against Northwestern in 1986.

Most of the damage against the Irish occurred in the first inning against senior starter Kevin Chenail. After allowing a leadoff walk to Todd Frese and a single to Tim Buhe, Chenail gave up a three-run homer to outfielder Bob Brucato.

When the very next batter, Bob Beacon, doubled, Chenail was replaced. Mike Harmon got the call, and although Beacon came around to score on a ground ball and a fielder's choice, Harmon pitched extremely well.

Harmon pitched seven innings and allowed only one earned run. He gave up five hits and no walks, and picked off three baserunners.

"I came in with the attitude basically to hold them right where they were and stop their momentum," said Harmon. "I felt confident with all three of my pitches, and was able to get ahead on the count. I felt strong."

Notre Dame plays host to MCC rival Detroit this weekend at home. With a doubleheader on Saturday and then again on Sunday at Jake Kline Field, Notre Dame's spot in the postseason MCC could be secured.

If Notre Dame splits with Detroit, the Irish would almost be assured of a bid to the MCC tourney. If they take three of four they would clinch a bid, and if they sweep both doubleheaders, the Irish would be virtually guaranteed to host the tournament.

As of now the Irish stand at 6-2 in MCC play. Dayton is second at 2-2 and Detroit hasn't played yet. The winner of the MCC tournament wins a bid to the NCAA tournament.

IRISH ITEMS—Kevin Chenail's start yesterday broke the record for most career starts by a Notre Dame pitcher at 33. Second baseman Mike Moshier suffered a sprained right wrist in the second inning yesterday on a stolen base play. His condition is stated as day-to-day. Steve Skupien replaced Moshier and went two-for-three.

The Observer / Suzanne Poch

The Irish hurlers had a tough day Wednesday as the Northwestern Wildcats broke out to an early lead and held on for a 5-0 shutout. Scott Brutocao has the story at left.

Bayliss, ND tennis land top recruit

By GEORGE TRAVERS
Sports Writer

Notre Dame tennis jumped into the forefront of college tennis on Wednesday when it received a letter of intent from the top tennis recruit in the country. David DiLucia, the 10th-ranked high school player in the country, will enroll as a freshman in the fall.

First year Irish coach Bob Bayliss is overjoyed at the prospect of coaching DiLucia, a native of Norristown, Pa.

Bob Bayliss

"This will be a signal to the country," Bayliss said. "Notre Dame will be a team to be reckoned with in the future. In terms of eligible college players, he is the prospect."

DiLucia has compiled some awesome statistics over the last few years. His most recent accomplishment was winning the Easter Bowl tournament in Florida. The Easter Bowl is the biggest junior tournament in the country.

Bayliss first met DiLucia at the National Junior Tournament in Kalamazoo, Mich., last August.

"That was a real flesh market, and I don't really get into that," said Bayliss. "I just told him where Notre Dame was going and why we might get there. He seemed interested."

DiLucia placed third in the New Hampshire indoor at Thanksgiving. That tournament featured the top 128 junior players in the country. It was then that Bayliss learned Notre Dame would be one the schools visited by DiLucia. DiLucia's signing was a move noticed around the country.

"Notre Dame is making a huge commitment to upgrade tennis," said former tennis great Arthur Ashe in Chicago last weekend. "Think of it, Notre Dame with all it's clout. That's the biggest news I've heard in months. This will upgrade not only Notre Dame tennis but all schools that play Notre Dame."

Bayliss feels there are a number of reasons why DiLucia chose Notre Dame. He is a member of the National Honors Society and academics are important to him. Notre Dame's difficult schedule was a factor.

"Two important reasons I would mention are the Eck and Dick Rosenthal," said Bayliss. "We couldn't even approach DiLucia without a center like the Eck. Dick Rosenthal sat down and answered any questions that David and his family had. These two factors demonstrated the school's commitment to the tennis program."

LAST YEAR 7,514 HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS STOPPED DRINKING AND DRIVING.

DON'T DRIVE DRUNK. OR RIDE WITH ANYONE WHO DOES.

Trustcorp
Bank

WIN A WORLDWIDE TRIP FOR TWO!

An entry in your name is made each time you use your ADVANTAGE/CIRRUS card at Trustcorp Bank's LaFortune 24 hour ADVANTAGE location.*

Plus — open an additional account and earn more entries!

Exclusive ND
Banking Benefits

TYPE OF ACCOUNT

NUMBER OF ADDITIONAL ENTRIES

Direct Deposit	25
Payroll Deduction	20
Consumer Choice Loan	15
FREE Checking (interest bearing)	10
Savings; Christmas Club; CD's	10
Prime Line or VISA Card	10
ADVANTAGE/CIRRUS Card	5

From APRIL 4, through MAY 7, 1988 — Drawing held MAY 9, 1988

GRAND PRIZE

Worldwide roundtrip airfare for two on any American Airlines route.
PLUS — $300 ADVANTAGE/CIRRUS cash!

FIRST PRIZE — Weekend package trip for 2 to downtown Chicago.

SECOND PRIZE — Schwinn™ 10 speed bike.

THIRD PRIZE — Golf clubs.

4 FOURTH PLACE WINNERS — Tennis Rackets

5 FIFTH PLACE WINNERS — 35mm Automatic Cameras

All airline and travel packages are provided by American Airlines and travelmore Ask Mr. Foster

LaFortune Banking Center 237-54ND

FULL SERVICE BANKING HOURS: Monday - Friday 10am - 7pm; Saturday 10am - 1pm

*All transactions except balance inquiries qualify. No purchase necessary. Official rules and entry blanks are available at LaFortune Banking Center office.

©1988 Trustcorp Bank, South Bend

MEMBER FDIC

Thursday

11 p.m.: WVFE-AM 640 News Team coverage of the Mock Convention, with in-depth reports and political commentary.

Turkey Broccoli Divan
Baked Meatloaf
Cheese Blintzes with Applesauce
Deli Bar

ACROSS

- DOWN
1 Mao --tung
2 Damage
3 Mishmash
4 Oscar de la —
5 Follower

© 1988 Tribune Media Services, Inc.
All Rights Reserved

04/14/88

04/14/88

- | | |
|-------------------|-----------------|
| 41 Earthquakes | 55 Styptic |
| 46 Singer | 56 Mural's |
| Cesare | place |
| 48 Crony | 57 Curare's kin |
| 51 Rainbow: pref. | 58 — breve |
| 53 More pleasant | 59 Beer need |
| 54 Points of | 60 Plane |
| convergence | 63 Ms West |

Bloom County

Calvin and Hobbes

Berke Breathed

The Far Side

The townsfolk all stopped and stared; they didn't know the tall stranger who rode calmly through their midst, but they did know the reign of terror had ended.

Gary Larson

THIS WEEK Monty Python Film Festival

Thursday,
April 14

Holy Grail

Friday,
April 15

AND NOW FOR SOMETHING COMPLETELY DIFFERENT

Saturday,
April 16

Life of Brian

Tickets $2.00

Shows at 8:00 and 10:00 p.m.

Catch Monty Python's Founder Graham Chapman at O'Laughlin Auditorium April 24th. Tickets available 3-5 PM Weekdays Basement of LaFortune

The Observer / Bob Jones

Bookstore action has gotten tougher as the field winds down to the round of 64. Brian O'Gara has Wednesday's highlights in his story at right.

Bookstore field bunches up as third round continues

By BRIAN O'GARA
Sports Writer

The teams get better and the games get tighter in Bookstore Basketball action, as the tournament field continues to narrow in anticipation of next week's battle of the final 64 teams.

Half of the third round games were played yesterday and the remaining 32 games in that round will be played today. Though the 666-team tournament doesn't stop for weather, it takes a break this weekend for the Senior Fornal and then resumes on Monday with the Round of 128.

Yesterday's last games at Stepan proved to be the longest, as The Ministers of Pain nipped We Don't Need A Center in a marathon 29-27 win, while Men on Men shot down A Pilot and 4 Guys Who Can't Fly, 25-23.

The Ministers of Pain, who may go bicep-to-bicep with Minnahoonies in the Round of 64 if both teams survive their next matchup, are typically a physical team but matched We Don't Need A Center jumper for jumper in the overtime to keep close and eventually secure the win.

"The Ministers of Pain is a power team," said point guard Andrew Higney. "I'm not sure we're into this overtime stuff and the endurance factor. I sure was glad to see Jim (Baugus) put in that last hoop to give us the win and end it."

Higney, Miles Hadlock and Rick Granger kept the Ministers in it with hot shooting hands in the overtime, compensating for the absence of center Tim Ryan with pinpoint outside shooting. Granger, who poured in 12 points, broke a 26-26 tie, then a 27-27 tie, with jumpers before before Baugus found himself and the ball open under the hoop to send his team into the next round.

Right next door, Men on Men set up their own match with Minnahoonies on Monday with their overtime win. Pete Hartweiger tallied 11 points and 14 rebounds for the winners.

The Minahoonies survived a scare from Look Who Bought The Myth, a team which gave up nearly 4 inches and 60 pounds per man to the team which eliminated them. Look Who Bought The Myth stayed close in the second half with a scrappy defense and accurate outside touch, but could not keep the rally going to stage the upset.

Minahoonies, who were led by Steve Antonelli (eight points) and Tom Gorman (seven), used their brawn not only to clear the lane for hoops but at times simply for their own enjoyment, and will need to keep their game rolling in the next round, which will be the first to include referees.

Tofu's Last Gig continued its run at the title with a 21-11 thrashing of Long On The Yen. Tofu looked on top of its game on both ends of the court and will be tough to handle if they continue to play that way. J.C. Trebus (9-of-14) and Bill Zadel (8-of-11) led all scorers.

see TOFU, page 11

Irish lax downs Lake Forest 11-7 in Krause opener

By PETE LaFLEUR
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame lacrosse team took a trip through the Twilight Zone in its game Wednesday with Lake Forest as the 11-7 victory seemed more like the game tape of the Irish's earlier 11-6 victory over the Foresters on April 1.

Senior tri-captain Tom Lanahan led the Irish from his middle position with three goals and two assists while junior attackman John Olmstead contributed a goal and an two assists as the team moved to 9-1 for the season. Senior goalie Matt McQuillan had 11 saves, coming up with nine in the first half.

The last time the two teams met the Irish led 9-1 toward the end of the third quarter. In that game Lake Forest threw a scare into Notre Dame by closing to within 10-6 with five minutes to play.

This time around the Irish had a big third quarter on their way to scoring nine goals in a row and led 11-2 with 13:29 left in the fourth quarter. But the Foresters came back against the Notre Dame reserves to pull within 11-7 at the 4:44 mark before the Irish starters re-entered the game to secure the win.

Notre Dame scored its five third-period goals on only seven shots and shot 44 percent for the game, significantly above its season average of 30 percent. What makes those stats even more impressive is the fact that seven of the goals came from the middies, who usually attempt tougher outside shots.

"We shot terribly as a team (1-for-20) in the second half against Kenyon's zone last week, and a lot of that has to do with the fact that the middies are not used to being the ones counted on to score," said Lanahan, who led the team in scoring for the second time this year.

"A good team shoots around 35 percent for a game and hopefully we're on that track now."

Just as the game followed the blueprint of the previous Irish-Foresters clash, this contest was true to form for Notre Dame in another way. For the fifth time this season, the Irish scored five goals or more in the third quarter to produce a comfortable lead.

According to Irish head coach Rich O'Leary, the third quarter is often the most crucial time in the game.

"In the third period the teams start equally and both can make significant adjustments and come out with confidence," O'Leary said. "The third quarter is when you can turn the game around and fortunately we've been successful in the third when we've had to be."

A key factor in the win was Notre Dame's ability to clear the ball up the field. The Irish cleared 14 of their final 15 attempts, in part due to a halftime adjustment that utilized the faster midfielders to bring the ball upfield.

Lake Forest coach Wayne Braxton said that his team could do little to thwart the virtually error-free Irish clears.

"We did everything we could to stop them but you can't do much when they keep catching the ball," Braxton said. "I think in one sequence they passed the ball nine times without a mistake. The bottom line is that they did what they had to do in key situations. Their top three guys on midfield (Lanahan and fellow tri-captains John McNicholas and Art Brady) played tough and if they lost the ball they scrapped and got it back."

A reader's guide to fan behavior

You stand in line, you buy a ticket, you head for the stadium on a Saturday afternoon, you find your allotted seat (or any other one that looks good) and you feel like a normal, rational, responsible human being.

But, at the opening pitch, the kick-off, the face-off or the opening tip, you become a different being. A fan. A monster.

Fan is short for fanatic. No one, once that game starts, is sane, and yes, we all can relate to certain types of fans.

We've all been seated near Loud Mouth. A formerly decent (currently armchair) athlete now sporting a tremendous beer belly, Loud Mouth is behind his team all they way but can't help but let the 6,000 people or so within the range of his voice that if he were out on the field, the game would be different.

Loud Mouth takes no prisoners. He hollers at the players, the coaches, the ball boys, the vendors, the officials, the trainers, the opposition, God and the women in short skirts, sparing no one and deleting no expletives.

"OKAY YOU (expletive), IF YOU DON'T WIN THIS (expletive) GAME AGAINST THE (expletive) LAKERS, I WILL NEVER AGAIN BUY ANOTHER (expletive) GREEN AND WHITE STUFFED LARRY BIRD DOLL."

If the game isn't close, Loud Mouth usually sits alone by the time the fourth quarter draws to an end. So he lets loose his wrath on all those he believes to be...

A Fair Weather fan, who does not cheer for a team unless they've already got a lock on first place. He is more concerned with beating the traffic than beating the Yankees, the Celtics, the Islanders or the Cowboys.

Theresa Kelly

Assistant Sports Editor

Fair Weather can't be anywhere but on the bandwagon, but doesn't realize that loyal fans have little toleration for him. Where do the Jets fans go when the Giants are winning? Where were the Giants' fans in 1987? Where are the Cardinal football fans now? When his team is in first, Fair Weather heads to the mall, buys a team T-shirt and is passionately behind the boys until they slump into second place.

At the opposite end of the sports spectrum is the Born Loser. This poor type of fan (90 percent of which are Cub fans) denies that the team is bad, pronounces them to be underachievers, victims of bad timing and always says, "it's a game of inches."

Born Loser is loyal, but sick. It could be next year, or next decade, whenever or never, Born Loser is eternally optimistic but always surprised when the team actually pulls out a victory. He is not surprised often.

Born Loser is strong, having suffered so much, but weak to the perils of success. A pennant race or sudden death is usually too much for Born Loser to watch.

The type of fan with the most rapidly growing population is Daddys' Girl. She was born on Super Bowl Sunday (another case of failed family planning) and no one has forgiven her for that. She teathed on styrofoam cups still dripping with Budweiser and wailed at her brother when he switched from the NFL Today to Wild Kingdom reruns. She is the son her father never had, even if she has a brother. Her friends play with Barbies, have tea parties and wear pink. She plays one-on-one, has Little League and wears Toughskins.

She grows up and leaves home and still calls her father to get the scores and standings. She gets a job and spends her money on season tickets to everything. She gets funny looks when she scrambles with the eight-year olds for Ozzie Virgil's autograph, but she won't forget to get one for her son.

Last, and least, we have the Stat Man, who is very trying, yet interesting to sit next to, at a game.

see FANS, page 10