

Are you ready for some football?
Rivals Stanford and Keenan head off Sunday afternoon. Sports takes a look at each team's chances.
page 22

Fall into the new season
Scene previews the new Fall television line-up, including shows like Felicity, Friends and ER.
page 12-13

Friday
SEPTEMBER 24,
1999

THE OBSERVER

The Independent Newspaper Serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

VOL XXXIII NO. 23

HTTP://OBSERVER.ND.EDU

Patents 'mark' University image

KEVIN DALUM/The Observer photo illustration

University logos are strictly monitored by the General Counsel. The Counsel regulates use of Notre Dame's signature logos in merchandising purposes, such as the hats pictured above.

University grants use of the Notre Dame logo through selective process

By NOREEN GILLESPIE
Saint Mary's Editor

Notre Dame's attempt to preserve its image sends a message to potential offenders: Hands off.

Regulating legal use of its logos doesn't just make the University look good; it also protects its exclusive rights to Notre Dame images.

The University has about two dozen trademark rights on symbols, including the interlocking 'ND,' the leprechaun mascot, the University seal.

Protecting trademarks is a responsibility that must be enforced vigorously, said Bill Hoye, assistant vice president for the General Counsel's office.

"If the trademarks are not vigorously enforced, they can slip into the public domain and we can lose our rights to them," Hoye said.

Notre Dame trademarks are most widely used on apparel, which pushes the University to enforce trademark rights in national and international settings.

"It's a global business, especially in apparel," Hoye said. "We are taking giant steps to register these trademarks around the world."

Watchdogs

Walt Disney and Coca-Cola are famous for enforcing their trademark rights, and Notre Dame doesn't want to be different, Hoye said.

Notre Dame investigates any suspicious use of trademarked images. The University receives direct reports to the General Counsel and reports from other universities and organizations looking out for their own rights.

While the University will not disclose the revenue generated from trademarks, said Carol Kaesebier, vice president of the General Counsel's office.

Kaesebier said money earned from trademarks is put toward financial aid.

One reason Notre Dame enforces trademarks is to prevent outside companies from making a profit with an unauthorized Notre Dame image.

"There is value for pirates who infringe the marks," Hoye said. "Also, when you have companies like adidas and Champion who pay royalties to use the trademarks and hear that there are other companies doing the same thing without paying that royalty, they are upset."

Another motivation is keeping the University's

see PATENTS/page 4

Martial arts injury claims officer's life

By TIM LOGAN
News Editor

South Bend Police Cpl. Randy Moore died Wednesday, losing his struggle to recover from a broken neck suffered in an accident Sept. 6.

Moore died at Saint Joseph's Regional Medical Center, where he had been since falling while practicing flips in a Mishawaka martial arts studio. He was 33.

The officer is survived by two daughters, ages 6 and 8, and his wife, Amy, who is four months pregnant.

The accident happened while Moore, a brown belt with four years experience, fell on his head or shoulder while practicing martial arts two weeks ago. He was off duty when the accident occurred.

The officer was paralyzed from the mid-chest down and had trouble breathing in recent days. He was on a ventilator in the hospital's Intensive Care Unit, but was able to talk with visitors, including his wife, family and many police officers.

Doctors performed a two-hour operation on Moore in order to relieve pressure on his spinal cord. He had also recently begun taking the experimental drug, Sygen, to ease the paralysis.

Moore was a member of the Bicycle Patrol and the Special Weapons and Tactics Team (SWAT) of the South Bend Police. He joined the force in 1992, and had served with the St. Joseph County Police Department for approximately two years before that.

"He was an outstanding police officer," said Capt. Gary Horvath, police department spokesman. "He knew what he had to do and went out and did it."

Visitation will be from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday at Kaniewski Funeral Home, 3545 N. Bendix Drive in South Bend.

The funeral will be 11 a.m. Monday at First Presbyterian Church, 333 West Colfax Avenue in South Bend.

The burial location has not yet been decided.

Donations can be made to the Moore family through any First Source Bank in the area.

TIM LOGAN/The Observer

The flag outside the South Bend Police Department flies at half-staff, honoring Randy Moore.

INSIDE COLUMN

Quiz Me

Earlier this week, I conceived an idea for today's Inside Column. Actually, a couple of my friends thought of it and had asked me to post it up in here. Now this may seem a bit silly, and it is silly, but please take this seriously, OK?

C. R. "Teo" Teodoro

Illustrations editor

The following is a Cosmo-style quiz that was designed by three beautiful ladies to determine if you are the right kind of guy whom they would like to go out with. Please keep in mind that this test is designed by my female friends, not me. Please check off all the traits that apply to you and add up the total points for each trait to find your final score. The result of your score is displayed below.

- ◆ Has a great sense of humor (3 pts)
- ◆ Low-key and flexible (3 pts)
- ◆ Devoted (3 pts)
- ◆ Kind-hearted (3 pts)
- ◆ Clean (2 pts)
- ◆ Not vain (2 pts)
- ◆ No tragic flaws whatsoever, such as anything that could abruptly end a relationship (3 pts)
- ◆ Must not care too much about money / be generous (2 pts)
- ◆ Spontaneous and creative (2 pts)
- ◆ No Mono-brow (1 pt)
- ◆ No back hair (2 pts)
- ◆ Nice shoulders (2 pts)
- ◆ Must have a relatively bigger waist than me (2 pts)
- ◆ Taller than me (2 pts)
- ◆ Doesn't get gross food at the dining halls (1 pt)
- ◆ No domers / doesn't wear too much ND clothing (2 pts)
- ◆ Able to start a conversation / must have something to report on the phone (2 pts)
- ◆ No business majors / sellouts (2 pts)
- ◆ Would not "hook up" on the side (3 pts)
- ◆ Willing to like my friends / my friends must love you (3 pts)
- ◆ Loves animals (2 pts)
- ◆ Willing to accompany me anywhere (1 pt)
- ◆ Domesticated (2 pts)
- ◆ Intelligent (3 pts)
- ◆ Willing to listen to all my music (1 pt)
- ◆ Does not care about boob size (3 pts)

If your score is 40-60 points, then you qualify most of the requirements to go out with the young beautiful women who developed this test. Please send your results and name to me and I will forward the results to the judges/ladies who will then decide whom they will go out with.

This is no joke. If you do make the cut, then you will be given the opportunity to go out with the judges. Since there are three judges, we prefer that a group of three friends send in applications at one time. All inquiries and results can be sent to spiderteo@yahoo.com.

This quiz has been designed by anonymous individuals who are simply looking for the right guy, or have fun trying. Teo does not accept any responsibility of any consequences that would occur from taking this quiz. However, knowing the beautiful ladies in question, the risk is well worth it.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

TODAY'S STAFF

News	Scene
Christine Kraly	Mike Vanegas
Matthew Smith	Graphics
Kyle Andrews	Joe Mueller
Sports	Production
Noah Amstadter	Rachel Protzmen
Viewpoint	Lab Tech
Colleen Gaughan	Angela Campos

The Observer (USPS 599 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

THIS WEEK IN NOTRE DAME, SAINT MARY'S HISTORY

Hesburgh busted

Friday, Sept. 27, 1974

When University president Father Theodore Hesburgh parked his unassuming Mustang in front of the administration building steps, he wasn't aware the watchful eyes of the security department rest for no one. A ticket was issued for illegal parking and was placed under his windshield wiper.

Huddle's prices lower in survey

Tuesday, Sept. 24, 1974

Contrary to rumors, the increased prices on cookies and crackers at the Huddle are keeping up with local and national rate hikes. Raising prices was necessary for the Huddle to stay competitive. Fig Newton packs now cost 83 cents, Chips Ahoy bags ring in at $1.07 and Triscuts have risen to 73 cents a box.

OUTSIDE THE DOME

Compiled from U-Wire reports

College begins for 15-year-old Baylor student

WACO, Texas

Haseeb Akuly, 15, is the youngest student at Baylor.

The Arlington freshman graduated from the Texas Christian Academy in just three years. Akuly said school officials at his high school were the first to recommend graduating early.

The young freshman also skipped the sixth grade and began grammar school at an "early age."

Although Akuly had given a lot of attention to completing his pre-collegiate career quicker than most do, he said he is anxious to begin achieving some of his goals at the collegiate level.

Entering the medical field has been a long-time goal for Akuly, and he said Baylor's reputation helped make his decision to come here easy.

"I heard that it [Baylor] had a good

"It's been a goal of mine because one of my biggest priorities is serving and pleasing God, and this is a way I could enjoy doing that."

Haseeb Akuly
15-year-old college student pre-med reputation, and I was looking to stay in state," he said.

Studying to achieve his goal of becoming a doctor is extremely important to Akuly.

"It's been a goal of mine because one of my biggest priorities is serving and pleasing God, and this is a way I could enjoy doing that," he said.

While many students may find that entering college presents a number of changes in life, Akuly said he feels his adjustment to college life isn't significantly different from anyone else's.

"It feels weird sometimes, but it's not hard to get along with people in my classes," he said. "Most people don't know my age and I don't usually tell people unless they ask."

Akuly said adjusting to college life has been only as difficult as leaving behind his classmates from high school. Akuly had friends both in the junior class he entered high school with and the senior class he graduated with last spring.

During his high school years, Akuly participated in the science fair, and was a member of the National Honor Society and played a variety of defensive positions for his high school's football team.

Underground burglars are caught

LAS CRUCES, N.M.

Five men are still awaiting trial after allegedly burglarizing several New Mexico State University buildings by way of an underground tunnel system on campus. Former NMSU student David Burgess, 18, along with Las Cruces residents Rick Sarracino, 21; Joseph Washburn, 19; and Peter Gonzalez, 20, have been charged with several counts of burglary, said Lt. Dominic King of the NMSU Police Department. They were arrested on March 27 by NMSU police and are suspected of stealing several computers, televisions and other electronic items from dorms, baseball fields, and the sports complex, King said. The suspects allegedly entered the buildings through a system of underground tunnels. According to King, the suspects broke into the tunnels on several different occasions. The tunnels run about two and a half miles underground and connect several of the buildings on campus. They were built about 40 years ago and are used for delivering thermal utilities such as high pressure steam and boiled water, said Ben Woods, vice president for facilities.

Rankings affect Cornell enrollment

ITHACA, N.Y.

U.S. News & World Report College rankings do significantly affect the number and quality of applications for the next year's freshman class, according to a Cornell University professor. "Although people used to discount [the rankings], enough students and parents focus on them that when rankings go up, good things happen for the school and vice versa," said ILR prof. Robert Ehrenberg, coauthor of a new report titled, "The Impact of U.S. News & World Report college rankings on admissions outcomes and pricing policies at selective private institutions." He said that although 80 percent of college applicants go to their local universities and colleges, "it's in the top 50, where colleges are ranked [ordinally] where people are neurotic about it. It's that population of high achievement kids to whom this data matters significantly," Ehrenberg continued. The study was the first of its kind to provide "empirical analysis of the impact of these rankings on applications, admissions, and enrollment decisions, as well as on institutions' pricing policies," according to its abstract.

LOCAL WEATHER

5 Day South Bend Forecast
AccuWeather® forecast for daytime conditions and high temperatures

		H	L
Friday		66	53
Saturday		74	48
Sunday		79	58
Monday		78	57
Tuesday		72	55

NATIONAL WEATHER

The AccuWeather® forecast for noon, Friday, Sept. 24.
Lines separate high temperature zones for the day

© 1999 AccuWeather, Inc.
Pressure: High, Low
Fronts: COLD, WARM, STATIONARY
Weather icons: High, Low, Showers, Rain, T-storms, Flurries, Snow, Ice, Sunny, Pt. Cloudy, Cloudy

Atlanta	80 52	Fredonia	67 54	Pittsburgh	69 52
Boston	76 58	Kansas City	81 56	San Antonio	90 55
Buffalo	65 54	Los Angeles	79 63	San Francisco	76 58
Chicago	66 50	New Orleans	83 56	Seattle	62 49
Dallas	89 62	New York	78 60	Washington	80 56

SOA hits moral nerve of campus Pax Christi

By MATT BUNDA
News Writer

Emotions tend to flare on both sides of any debate, and the case of the controversial School of Americas (SOA) is no exception.

Brendan Egan, a member of Notre Dame's Pax Christi student organization, virulently calls for the school to be closed.

"If the American public knew the truth about this school, they would be horrified," Egan said.

But Egan's calls went unanswered earlier this week when Congress voted to continue funding SOA at its current level despite a House majority's vote to reduce the school's budget by $2 million.

SOA, a military in Fort Benning, Ga., trains young Latin American men — often soldiers in their home countries — in the ways of democracy. However, in the last 20 years, many of the school's graduates have been implicated in murder, dictatorship and oppression. Father Roy Bourgeois said in a recent lecture at Notre Dame.

Recent reports of the school's activities reveal counter-insurgency training and education in torture tactics. Bourgeois said. Investigation of graduates has exposed their participation in acts of genocide and other atrocities.

Soldiers took these methods of guerilla warfare back to Latin American dictatorial regimes, Bourgeois said. Manuel Noriega, former drug-runner and dictator of Panama, graduated from the school.

SOA admits to having taught counter-insurgency tactics in the past, but assumes no responsibility for the actions of its students after graduation, Bourgeois said.

"If the American public knew the truth about this school, they would be horrified."

Brendan Egan
Pax Christi member

After this week's Senate vote, SOA opponents criticized the government's support of what they perceive as a dangerous institution. Some are pleased, however, that the issue was presented on Capitol Hill and do not see the continuation of SOA funding as a large setback.

"A vote passed at all is a victory," said Sheila McCarthy, a member of Pax Christi.

Opponents of the school said they believe the American public will not stand for blatant human-rights violations if awareness continues to rise.

"We are not going away.

We're going to keep coming back to Washington and to the main gate of Fort Benning in greater and greater numbers every year until that school is shut down," Bourgeois said.

Supporters of closing SOA continue to question why the school remains open if information about the its terrorist lessons are public.

One factor is the United States government, which admits there have been some questionable training practices in the past, but holds to the Cold War concept of spreading democracy throughout the world, Bourgeois explained.

The military contends that it is training soldiers to spread democracy through peaceful means in their home countries, thus increasing wealth and prosperity and bettering the lives of the citizens of the country, he said.

Egan says the school remains open for three primary reasons. One of the most important reasons is military pride.

"The military does not want to be told what to do, ever," he said.

Another reason is that the school keeps the United States' hand in Latin American government and rule, and graduates of the school act as puppets for the U.S., protecting U.S. economic and governmental interests, Egan said.

Finally, graduates of the school provide an influx of money into the United States by purchasing arms from U.S. weapons contractors, and spending their own money in the U.S. — money they gain through dictatorial rule of their home countries and drug running, Egan explained.

Opposing and denouncing these claim are groups like SOA Watch, founded by Bourgeois. Notre Dame's Pax Christi group is organizing a trip to the annual protest at Fort Benning in November.

Mahowald: 'Philosophy changes us'

By SARAH RYKOWSKI
News Writer

Philosophy is a part of everyone's life, said Dr. Mary Mahowald, a medical ethicist and obstetrics and gynecology professor at the University of Chicago, in her lecture Thursday.

Mahowald's speech, "Women in the Philosophical Landscape," highlighted the presence of philosophy in today's society, especially regarding women's roles.

"I am a feminist and an egalitarian," she said. "Justice is a basic ethical principle, and gen-

"Philosophy changes us and it changes the world."

Dr. Mary Mahowald medical ethicist, professor der justice is a subset of justice."

Philosophy is meant to be provocative and thought-evoking, she said.

"Philosophical questions are intended to be disturbing," she explained. "They are not intended to make people happy. It is precisely those kinds of questions I need to raise and ask."

The key to understanding philosophy, she said, is in understanding its language. "Ordinary words really do have a lot of different meanings to different people. To avoid misunderstandings, ask, 'What did you mean by that?'"

Mahowald said the importance of philosophy are its effects on communication. "The two essential tasks of philosophy are to clarify concepts and analyze arguments.

"Aristotle defined philosophy as the study of all things in and to their final end," she said. "Philosophy changes us and it changes the world."

Mahowald graduated from Saint Francis College in Brooklyn, N.Y., and got her Ph.D. at Marquette University. Her book, "Genes, Women, Equality," is due out next week.

The lecture was held in Haggar College Center at Saint Mary's and was part of a series begun last year and designed to present women from a wide range of backgrounds in philosophy.

nd.edu/~ethics

Spencer Nunley
Former Vice President Bayer Corp.

speaking Tuesday, September 28
7:30 PM
Jordan Auditorium Coba

HPC

Fun-For-Free Week

Friday, Sept. 24

Event	Location	Special
Putt-putt	Putt-putt & Games	1 free round/couple
Dinner	Stude's Lounge	1 free appetizer or dessert/couple
Dinner	Papa Vino's	1 free appetizer or dessert/couple
SUB Movie-Entrapment	Cushing Auditorium	$2 admission
Movie	Movies 14	$4 movies all night

Saturday, Sept. 25

Event	Location	Special
Dinner	Yesterday's	1 free dessert/couple
Dinner	Papa Vino's	1 free appetizer or dessert/couple
SUB Movie-Entrapment	Cushing Auditorium	$2 admission
Movie	Movies 14	$4 movies all night

Sunday, Sept. 26

Event	Location	Special
Dinner	Papa Vino's	1 free appetizer or dessert/couple

Must be a COUPLE and Present Student ID to Receive Specials!!

ATTENTION!
HOUSEKEEPING & CUSTODIAL PERSONNEL
FEMCO JANITORIAL TRADE SHOW, SEPTEMBER 30
JACC CONCOURSE, GATE #1, 9AM - 3PM

★ Talk to the Manufacturers★ ★ Hands-On Operation of the Newest Equipment★

- SEMINARS -
10:45 a.m. Human Resources Expert, Kenneth Dempsey:
How to Hire, Motivate & Keep Good People
12:45 p.m. Notre Dame Basketball Coach, Matt Doherty: Teamwork & How to Stay Motivated

- LUNCH PROVIDED -
RSVP @ 1-800-678-2362 by September 23

Patents

continued from page 1

image preserved as one that is respectable and portrayed in positive terms.

A case surfaced last winter involving a young woman who included the Notre Dame logo among nude pictures on her Web site.

"Lucki," the name used by the woman who claimed to be a Notre Dame student, was issued a "cease and desist" letter after the General Counsel learned of the Web site. The counsel stated last December that the letter "informs them that we know they're using our trademark and [orders] them to remove the trademark."

The logo was promptly removed from the site.

"The University doesn't want anything embarrassing or disgraceful to the University," Kaesebier said.

After the letter is issued, the General Counsel decides if legal action will ensue based on the violator's response and nature of the infringement.

"Federal and state law gives us the right to file suit and collect triple damages including our attorney fees, and the cost to incur the case," Hoyo said.

Stopping trademark infringement is not, however, done to make a financial profit, General Counsel officials said.

"Our goal is to get them to stop, not collect money from them," Kaesebier said.

Stamp of Approval

Recognizing Notre Dame apparel isn't a difficult task, thanks to a unique symbol that clearly distinguishes legal apparel from the rest.

A unique hang tag featuring the Golden Dome which certifies all legal Notre Dame apparel serves as the stamp of approval for manufacturers who have permission to use the logo.

Not many potential manufacturers and outside groups easily attain permission.

"We only grant a limited number of licenses," Kaesebier said. Part of that may be due to the large numbers of applications that the trademark and licensing committee receives.

"We grant a very small number, maybe one or two of those requests," Kaesebier said. "[The trademarks and licensing committee] meet almost monthly."

Manufacturers and outside groups must submit an application to the licensing department detailing what the product is, where it is manufactured, expected product revenues, marketing techniques and stores in which it will be sold.

The application is then returned with samples of other products the company has manufactured, before it is presented to the trademark and licensing committee.

The committee then evaluates the application and determines if the use is legitimate, Kaesebier said.

"The additional thing we'll ask as we go forward is where [the product] is manufactured," she said.

Details concerning manufacturing is a crucial part of determining legitimacy, because Notre Dame has committed to becoming a leader in stopping sweatshop manufacturing of University apparel.

While only two requests are granted per month, it is far easier for students to attain permission than outside vendors, Kaesebier said.

Although student permission is easier to attain, student violations also lead the on-campus reports of infringement.

Because a large portion of student infringement violations are reported during football season, the University obtains a temporary restraining order for the season. It gives University Security the authority to seize unlicensed products sold on football weekends.

The seized products are sent to a shredding machine on campus and turned into rags.

The practice is also frequent among visitors attempting to make a personal profit off the trademarks. Student offenders are reported to student activities and residence life.

"When we see them being sold, we investigate," Kaesebier said. University students are allowed to sell individual products in dorms, but elsewhere it is considered illegal.

Student violations are handled on a case-to-case basis, said Joe Cassidy, director of student activities.

"When a group is reported, the first thing we look at is if it was a mistake or intentional," he said. "We try not to penalize a group based on the poor decision of one or two people."

Holding on

Failure to protect Notre Dame's rights could mean losing them.

Hoyo cited a University of Wisconsin case where the institution failed to protect its logos and lost exclusive rights to them.

Hoyo added that Notre Dame's main goal is to protect the University's rights to its image.

"Federal laws and state laws are set up to give the trademark holder the legal rights to protect these marks," he said. "Our primary reason for protecting trademarks is so that we do not lose those rights."

Kaesebier agreed.

"[We hold and prosecute the trademarks] to protect our image, our rights to our trademarks," she said. "If you don't protect them, you can lose your rights."

"If you don't protect them [trademarks], you can lose your rights."

Carol Kaesebier
vice president,
General Counsel office

Martini's

SUPER MARKETS

2081 South Bend Ave.
(219) 272-6922
South Bend, IN

Store Hours
6am-12am

- Frozen Foods
- Groceries
- Deli
- Bakery
- Side Door Grill
- Cappuccino Bar
- Salad Bar

Come Check Us Out!

Just Minutes From Campus!

You can... Count on us!

Any Martini's Kitchen Fresh Product

Valuable Coupon #698

$100 OFF

Limit One Coupon Valid At: 2081 South Bend Ave. Expires: 09-23-99

got news? 1-5323.

Grand Opening

of the

Intercultural Center

All are invited to attend!!

When: Friday, September 24, 1999
Where: 2nd Floor of LaFortune
Time: Noon - 1:30 pm

The ceremony begins at noon with an official ribbon cutting and blessing.

Sponsored by the Office of Multicultural Student Affairs and the Office of International Student Affairs

WorldNation

Friday, September 24, 1999

COMPILED FROM THE OBSERVER WIRE SERVICES.

page 5

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

Blind man commits robbery

MUSKEGON, Mich.

A blind man is accused of robbing two stores while carrying his white cane. Leon Grigsby Martin, 33, of Muskegon Heights, was arraigned Wednesday on an armed robbery charge. Police said they believe the suspect had two accomplices when robbing the Roosevelt Park Rite-Aid store Tuesday and the Meijer store in Norton Shores on Wednesday. The holdups got a $20 bill from the drugstore and $320 from Meijer, police said. When arrested, Martin admitted he had been smoking crack that night with a man and a woman and told police he had been forced to commit the robberies. Investigators said they do not believe he was forced to commit the robberies, since he was alone several times during the thefts and could have asked for help.

Transplants help muscle diseases

BOSTON

Bone marrow transplants could bring strength to patients with muscular dystrophy and other muscle-wasting diseases, researchers said. Researchers at Children's Hospital who infused muscular dystrophy-weakened mice with bone marrow cells taken from healthy mice found that the cells generated healthy muscle cells. Those healthy cells then traveled through the blood stream and to some extent restored the mice's ravaged skeletal muscles, according to lead researchers Richard Mulligan and Louis Kunkel of Children's Hospital and Harvard Medical School. The findings are important because adults may have a reservoir of these cells in their bodies that have the potential to generate other types of cells, said Emanuela Gussoni, a biologist in Kunkel's lab and lead author of the paper in Thursday's issue of the journal Nature.

Russian explosives are a hoax

MOSCOW

The discovery of what looked like powerful explosives set to blow up a 12-story apartment building in western Russia prompted a frantic evacuation of residents today, but security officials said later the set-up may have been a prank. Russia has been terrified by a series of apartment building bombings that have killed some 300 people in Moscow and two other Russian cities this month. The blasts have been blamed on Islamic militants from breakaway Chechnya, who have twice invaded the neighboring region of Dagestan in southern Russia since the beginning of August. In the wake of the bombings, most Russians have been watchful for any unusual activity, and authorities have urged people to report any unattended bags or other suspicious objects.

YUGOSLAVIA

Protestors rally against Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic in Belgrade on Sept. 23. The meeting was organized by the opposition coalition Alliance for Change. AFP Photo

Serbs urged to protest Milosevic

Associated Press

BELGRADE

Opposition leaders on Thursday urged more people to join street protests demanding the ouster of President Slobodan Milosevic after the relatively poor turnout throughout Serbia raised doubts about the effectiveness of their strategy.

As thousands marched for the third consecutive day, a prominent opposition leader warned that failure by peaceful demonstrators to force the Yugoslav leader from office would perpetuate his rule.

"If we don't succeed the worst will happen — Milosevic will rule for decades more," said Zoran Djindjic, whose Democratic Party is a member of the opposition coalition Alliance for Change spearheading rallies against Milosevic.

"Belgraders yet have to realize that Milosevic's regime took away our freedom, our future — if that is not reason enough to prevail on the streets, what is?" Djindjic asked as he addressed a crowd of up to 2,000 assembled on a downtown square.

"We have only two or three months left. I am calling on those who still don't see what is going on to rise," Djindjic said.

Afterward, the crowd grew to 5,000 as people marched through the downtown area, booing, whistling and chanting "Go, Slobodan, Go" and "Thieves, thieves, resign." Traffic police scrambled to clear cars ahead of the marchers.

Earlier, Vladan Batic, another opposition leader, said that despite the low turnout — the first day of protests had drawn only 10,000 to 15,000 of Belgrade's two million populace — the opposition was pleased with the popular response and expected the demonstrations to grow in coming days.

Similar rallies are being held daily since Tuesday in some 20 other cities and towns in Serbia. On Thursday, about 5,000 opposition supporters turned up in Nis and Novi Sad respectively, Serbia's second and third largest cities.

State-run media were quick to dismiss the rallies as a "total debacle."

"It was evident today in Belgrade that the Alliance for Change, regardless of the enormous support from their Western sponsors, cannot win residents of Serbia to [support] their treacherous policies," a commentary carried by the state-run Tanjug news agency read. "Djindjic and his followers are desperate for a formula to attract more protesters."

The state media accused the protesters of violence, saying the marchers had damaged two vehicles in the traffic confusion they caused. Independent reporters saw the cars had actually charged at the coming demonstrators.

As if dispelling doubts on whether the movement can succeed and clutching the opposition's pamphlet "Change," 25-year-old Belgrade student Ceca Ilic said she gives the protests at least two to three months to topple the regime.

"I'll be here every day," said Milan Aksic, 65, a marching prisoner. "A person without faith has no future."

Council calls nations to fight terrorism

Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS

Responding to a spate of bombings in Russia and increasing terrorism around the world, the five permanent members of the U.N. Security Council called Thursday for greater global cooperation to stem the violent attacks.

The veto-wielding council members — the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China — also urged nations not to give in to the demands of kidnap-

"We consider it vital to strengthen, under the auspices of the United Nations, international cooperation to fight terrorism in all its forms," the foreign ministers said in a statement released Thursday after a luncheon with U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan.

The five ministers strongly rejected attempts by any nation to go outside the legal framework in fighting terrorism.

International cooperation "must be firmly based on the principles of the U.N. Charter and norms of international law, including respect for human rights," the statement said.

The ministers said nations "need to oppose concessions to terrorist demands and to deny hostage-takers any benefit from their acts."

They also agreed that those providing safe-haven to terrorists should be held accountable for their violent actions.

Of the five permanent members of the Council, the United States and Russia have both experienced recent acts of terrorism.

A series of bomb blasts blamed on Islamic separatists have killed over 300 people in Russia in recent weeks.

Last year's bombings of U.S. embassies in Tanzania and Kenya killed 259 people. The United States has demanded that the alleged mastermind of the attack, Osama bin Laden, be handed over by Afghanistan, where he is currently believed to be sheltered.

The Security Council ministers also expressed the hope that a draft convention on the suppression of nuclear terrorism could be completed before the end of the year.

Market Watch: 9/23

DOW	AMEX:	Up 902
JONES	777.50
-205.48	-4.95	Same 477
↓	Nasdaq:	Down 2185
	2749.83
	-108.33
	NYSE
	590.98
	-10.18
	S&P 500:
10,318.59	1280.41
	-30.10
	Composite Volume:
	874,006,165

VOLUME LEADERS

COMPANY	TICKER	% CHANGE	$ CHANGE	PRICE
INTEL CORP	INTC	-6.42	-5.3125	36.793
DELL COMPUTER	DELL	-6.45	-3.0625	36.256
MICROSOFT CORP	MSFT	-5.07	-4.8725	35.484
RITE AID CORP	RAC	-14.29	-2.0000	23.004
AMERICA ONLINE	AOL	-3.85	-3.5000	22.689
GLOBAL CROSSING	GBLX	+2.81	+0.6850	22.076
CISCO SYSTEM	CSCO	-3.97	-2.8700	19.361
YAHOO INC	YHOO	-3.20	-5.7500	16.542
CYBERGOLD INC	CGLD	+33.33	+1.0000	14.822
AMAZON.COM INC	AMZN	-5.68	-3.7500	14.428

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

BETSY STOREY/The Observer

Business representatives speak at "Measuring and Managing Ethical Risk: How Investing in Ethics Adds Value," a business conference taking place today from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in McKenna Hall.

Lanzalaco: Death penalty is wrong

By NELLIE WILLIAMS
News Writer

Capital punishment fails to understand the humanity of people it affects, said Father Joe Lanzalaco, a death row chaplain for the state prison in Michigan City in his lecture Thursday.

"The death penalty brings out the worst in human beings," said Lanzalaco, a Vietnam veteran has been a priest for 12 years.

"[I'm] not someone who read a book once and said the death penalty was wrong," Lanzalaco said, stressing that he has experienced violence and knows what it can do to people.

"We sometimes have a need to lash out or get some kind of revenge, and maybe sometimes we don't have the nerve to do it, so we pay someone else to do it [the death penalty]."

"The death penalty brings out the worst in human beings."

Father Joe Lanzalaco
death row chaplain

The section designated as death row is chilling, Lanzalaco said.

"[The men are] just waiting for their sentence; to be acquitted or put to death," he said.

"I see a human face on men I know that got executed ... until you know what you're doing, that these men have lives and souls, you can't make a decision on the death penalty."

Lanzalaco also discussed the growth of church services at his ward.

When he first went to the Michigan City prison as a chaplain, only eight or 10 men from the group of 1,700 inmates celebrated Mass. Over time, though, the group grew to 70.

Lanzalaco said that society shouldn't identify a person by the worst thing he or she has done. Inmates are human beings, he said, and though they may have done a terrible thing, "not one of their deaths have brought their victims back to life."

Instead, their executions have only helped the state to create the same kind of criminal behavior.

"I think killing anybody is wrong," he said. "[I] take my message from Christ — Love your neighbor as yourself."

He also noted racial implications behind the death penalty. Since 1966, six men have been executed in Indiana, three white and three African American.

The difference, however, is that all the white men pulled their appeals and wanted to be executed. The black men were fighting their appeals when they were executed.

CORRECTION

A review of "For Love of the Game" in Thursday's Observer was attributed to Mike McMorrow. It should have been attributed to Jillian DePaul.

The Observer regrets the error.

Turtle Creek

Apartments

Parking By Permit Only

Friday 4:00 p.m. to
Sunday 6:00 p.m.

Towing By
Mark's Towing
1505 W. Sample
South Bend, IN 46619

HAPPY 21st BIRTHDAY MOLLY!
IT' ABOUT #@&* TIME!

we love you!
Meghan, Sara, Kelly, Kathy, Amy, & Nancy

Specials At
Eddy St. Grille
50¢ off
Mini-Tips or Chicken Wings
525 North Eddy

Artia Salon
HAIR MODELS NEEDED
For Monday's Training Program by Licensed Professionals
Call for Information
289-5080

SAVE $1.00
ON ANY LARGE FRUIT
SMOOTHIE!

"A HEALTHY MEAL IN ITSELF"

I Can't Believe It's Yogurt!

CAMPUS SHOPPES
1837 SO. BEND AVE.
(JUST EAST OF ND)
COUPON EXPIRES 10/31/99

Making a difference has always been a matter of applying yourself. Here's where to apply.

PEACE CORPS
The toughest job you'll ever love.

How far are you willing to go to make a difference?

UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME
Information Meeting
Sunday, September 26, 4:00 - 6:00 p.m.
LaFortune Hall, Montgomery Theater

Interviews
Monday, September 27 • Tuesday, September 28
8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m., Career Services, Flanner Hall

Contact us at www.peacecorps.gov or 1-800-424-8580.

NOTRE DAME APARTMENTS

Now Leasing!

- ✿ 4 Blocks from Campus
- ✿ Large 2-Bedrooms for under $500.00!
- ✿ Pre-Leasing for Fall 2000!

"The Best Value In Off Campus Living"

Professionally Managed by Real Estate Management Corp.
234-9923

Tell us how you feel. Use Observer Viewpoint.

Moynihan supports Bradley in presidential race

Associated Press

NEW YORK

New York's most prominent Democrat, Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, endorsed Bill Bradley for president Thursday, saying Vice President Al Gore "can't be elected."

The 72-year-old senator, known for his quirky intellectual style, quoted Woodrow Wilson as saying the presidency required candidates "from among wise and prudent athletes, a small class."

Bradley

Bradley was a Rhodes scholar and a player on two NBA championship teams with the New York Knicks.

"I've seen this particular athlete, wise and prudent, work in the U.S. Senate for 18 years," Moynihan said. "He is a man with heart and courage and stamina."

Asked why he wasn't supporting the vice president, the Democratic front-runner, Moynihan replied: "Nothing is the matter with Gore, but he can't be elected."

At Gore's campaign headquarters, communications director Kiki Moore suggested Moynihan's imprimatur would make little difference: "I'm sure President Bob Kerrey appreciated [Moynihan's] support in 1992."

But opinions varied. "At this point in time, it makes a difference because Moynihan is a venerated figure within the Democratic Party," said Democratic consultant George Arzt. "But over the long term, it usually doesn't translate into votes."

"An endorsement from Moynihan in this state has got to be a great day for the Bradley campaign," said Robert McClure, senior associate dean of Syracuse University's Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs. "Bradley is pitching himself as exactly the kind of intellectual, moderate progressive that Senator Moynihan has always been seen as."

Comptroller Carl McCall, a Gore backer, said the endorsement "makes a good story today. In terms of impact over the long run, it means very little."

Bradley acknowledged his difficult course.

"I know we are up against a party establishment that has a lot of entrenched power," he said. "But this will ultimately be decided by the people themselves."

Moynihan is the third senator to endorse Bradley, joining Paul Wellstone of Minnesota and Bob Kerrey of Nebraska. Bradley served three terms as a New Jersey senator, working with Moynihan — who was first elected in 1976 — on the Senate Finance Committee.

Gore has been endorsed by more than 100 members of Congress, including 10 of the 19 Democrats from New York.

The state's other senator, Democrat Charles Schumer, has not made a formal endorsement.

National polls show Gore leads Bradley, but recent surveys in New Hampshire and New York have shown a tight race between the two Democrats.

New York is one of 14 states to pick presidential nominees on March 7.

"We have to win this primary on March 7," Moynihan said. "We'll be proud of ourselves for having been here early. We can do it."

"He is a man with heart and courage and stamina."

Daniel Patrick Moynihan
New York senator, D.

Moynihan also backed first lady

Hillary Rodham Clinton, a Gore supporter, to replace him as senator when he retires at the end of 2000.

Asked about the conflict of supporting Mrs. Clinton but not Gore, Moynihan said simply: "I think she can be elected senator."

Mrs. Clinton would not comment on whether Moynihan's endorsement of Bradley was awkward for her, saying only that she strongly supports Gore but is grateful for Moynihan's backing for her own aspirations.

Like SportsCenter With Staples.

ESPN The Magazine —
A convenient, portable version of the excitement and attitude of ESPN.

Special $13 Discount Student Rate!
Use attached coupon or call
1-888-335-ESPN

STUDENT SAVINGS Certificate
Please send me ESPN The Magazine at the special student rate of 26 issues for $13. (Wow, that's only 50 cents an issue!)

Payment Enclosed
 Bill Me

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Mall to: ESPN The Magazine
P.O. Box 37328
Boone, IA 50037-0328 S9JBMA

CINEMARK THEATRES

MOVIES 14
MISHAWAKA

EDISON @ HICKORY 254-8885

All Shows Before 6 PM $4.00
$4.00 Student/Children/Seniors
$6.50 Adult
Stereo Surround Sound in all Theatres

American Pie	R
12:55 3:10 5:25 7:40 10:05
Bowling	PG-13
12:55 3:15 5:35 7:55 10:10
Double Jeopardy	R
1:05 4:10 7:15 9:45
2:10 5:00 8:00 10:30
Deep Blue Sea	R
7:05 9:40
For Love of the Game	PG13
12:50 3:50 7:00 9:55
1:35 4:35 7:40 10:35	ss
In Too Deep	R
2:00 4:30
Jakob the Liar	PG-13
1:40 4:20 7:00 9:50
Star Wars Eps 1	PG
1:30 4:15 7:00 9:50
Stigmata	R
1:10 3:35 7:05 9:35	ss
2:05 4:45 7:45 10:15	ss
Stir of Echoes	R
12:45 3:00 5:15 7:35 10:10
The 13th Warrior	R
12:50 3:05 5:30 7:50 10:15
The Haunting	PG-13
1:00 4:00 7:10 10:00

TODAY'S TIMES ONLY FOUR DAY ADVANCE TICKET SALES
HANDICAP ACCESSIBLE NO PASSES - NO SUPERSAVERS

Mrs. Sandra Tito & the late Dr. William A. Tito (Riverside, Ill.) announce the engagement of their daughter, Michelle Barbara Tito, to Robert John Kuehn III, son of Col. (ret.) & Mrs. Robert J. Kuehn, Jr. (Huntsville, Ala.). Michelle is a biology Phd. candidate at the University of Notre Dame, where she also had her undergrad experience. John, the future groom, graduated magna cum laude from his Notre Dame undergrad studies and is now completing his last year at Notre Dame's School of Law. A late Sept. 2000 wedding day is set. They plan to remain in South Bend close to Notre Dame where Michelle will complete her Phd. and John will practice law with Barnes & Thornburg, a locally prestigious firm. They will be married in Sacred Heart Basilica on Notre Dame's campus.

Class of 2002

Sophomore Class Mass and Dinner

Sunday, September 26th

Mass: 4:30 pm at the Grotto

Rain Location: Lewis Hall Chapel

Dinner: 5:30 pm - 7:30 pm in the LaFortune Ballroom

Only $2 for Subs, Chips, Pretzels, and Drinks

Task force will probe Justice Department

Associated Press

WASHINGTON
Senate Republicans on Thursday created a task force to investigate how President Clinton's Justice Department handled inquiries into the Waco standoff, campaign finance abuses and nuclear espionage.

A key Democrat scoffed, questioning the Republicans' motives and saying he wouldn't participate.

Senate Majority Leader Trent Lott said the task force would be chaired by Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., and would focus on "what in the world is happening at the Justice Department? Why is there no justice at the Justice Department?"

Lott said the five-member task force would be bipartisan with two more Republicans and two Democrats in addition to Specter. But only one other Republican member, Sen. Charles Grassley of Iowa, was present at Thursday's announcement and no Democrats attended.

"This is a Republican task force. No Democrats have been involved," said Sen. Patrick Leahy of Vermont, the senior Democrat on the Judiciary Committee. "I don't intend to be part of a Republican-organized, partisan investigation."

Specter already has moved forward on his probe. He confirmed he had talked with Charles LaBella about leading the panel's investigation. LaBella is a former Justice Department prosecutor who publicly disagreed with Attorney General Janet Reno's decision to not have an outside, independent counsel investigate fund-raising abuses by the Clinton-Gore campaign in the 1996 election.

"There are a great, great many questions which are left unanswered," Specter, said. "Things just aren't right," agreed Grassley.

Specter said that at the request of former Sen. John Danforth he will hold off for 30 days before talking to witnesses of the government's siege of the Branch Davidian compound.

Renowned Danforth to head an independent investigation of the government's use of force during the 1993 standoff in Waco. The siege ended in a fire and the deaths of about 80 Davidians.

In a letter to the Judiciary Committee last week, Danforth complained that Specter's investigators already had interviewed witnesses.

"There are a great, great many questions which are left unanswered."

Arlen Specter
senator, Pa.

George C. Scott dies at 71

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES

George C. Scott, the forbidding-looking, gravel-voiced actor who turned in an Oscar-winning performance as the profane and patriotic Gen. George S. Patton, and then declined the honor, has died at 71.

Scott died Wednesday of a ruptured abdominal aortic aneurysm at his home 40 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

With his imperious presence, curled lip, animated eyebrows and the broken-nose profile of a Roman consul, Scott seemed born to play the role of the legendary World War II general in "Patton" in 1970.

But his memorable roles also included Gen. Buck Turgidson, the fatuous blowhard in Stanley Kubrick's "Dr. Strangelove"; and the dedicated doctor surrounded by incompetence in "The Hospital."

"He made every actor proud to say that they were in the same profession," said actor

"He made every actor proud to say they were in the same profession."

Jack Lemmon
actor

Jack Lemmon.

Scott dismissed moviemaking as tedious and said he only made films for the money. "I have to work in the theater to stay sane," he once said. "You can attack the stage fresh every night."

He made his Broadway debut in "Comes a Day" in 1958, quickly earning his first of four Tony nominations. The others were for "The Andersonville Trial" in 1959, "Uncle Vanya" in 1974 and "Death of a Salesman" in 1975.

He also won three Emmys — the most recent last year as a supporting actor in a remake of "12 Angry Men" — and was nominated for four Oscars.

It was the award he wouldn't accept, the Oscar for "Patton," that cemented his reputation as a Hollywood outsider.

He had been nominated for "Anatomy of a Murder" in 1959 and said nothing about it. But then he tried to decline the nomination for "The Hustler" in 1962, calling the Academy Awards a meaningless popularity contest.

When he was nominated for "Patton," he again tried to drop out, dismissing the awards as a "meat parade."

"Oh my God!" Oscar presenter Goldie Hawn exclaimed that night. "The winner is George C. Scott!" As the film collected seven Academy Awards, Scott spent the evening watching hockey.

Despite his very public snub, Scott was nominated the following year for "The Hospital." He didn't win.

In private life, Scott was a bellicose drinker whose nose was broken five times in four barroom brawls and one mugging. He was married five times — twice to the same woman, actress Colleen Dewhurst.

fire-up your creative juices
(and win a cool ten grand!)

Prometheus, the Greek god of fire and friend of mankind, had secret knowledge about the future, gave fire as a gift to mankind, and according to mythology, fashioned man out of clay. You can do a little fashioning of your own, and have it pay off in a big way, by taking part in Samsung's Prometheus Creativity & Design Contest. • All you have to do is design the shell of a 35mm compact camera, in the form of a rendering (please no clay), which can be manufactured by Samsung, and included in their future product line. • In addition to the Grand Prize of a $10,000 scholarship, a Second Place winner will receive a $7,500 scholarship, and a Third Place winner will receive a $5,000 scholarship. Best of all, the three winners will get an all expenses paid trip to South Korea to meet with Samsung's design executives. • So let those creative juices flow, and show us your best idea! • For more information, please contact Paul Down, Associate Professor, Dept. of Art, Art History and Design, University of Notre Dame.

PROMETHEUS
award for creativity in design

SAMSUNG
Samsung Opto-Electronics America, Inc. • 40 Seaview Drive, Secaucus, NJ 07094 • www.simplyamazing.com

WELCOME

Allstate
You're in good hands.

NAME: Account Agent: John Davenport, Agent.

Allstate Insurance Company
Address: Near Notre Dame Campus, 1930 East Edison
Town: South Bend, Indiana 46617
Phone: (219) 289-1993

"Consider this an open invitation to discuss your insurance needs in my new office."

Being in good hands is the only place to be."

FRANK
LLOYD
WRIGHT

AND COLLEAGUES
INDIANA WORKS

EXHIBIT

NOW OPEN thru OCTOBER 24

John G. Blank Center For The Arts
312 East 8th Street
Michigan City, Indiana

FOR THE FIRST TIME EVER the Indiana works of famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright and his colleagues are showcased at an important exhibit.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL:
877-FLW-1999

Produced in cooperation with the Tourism Development Division, Indiana Department of Commerce.

Forum honors Wall, dedicates memorial

Associated Press

ARLINGTON, Va. — The Freedom Forum marked the coming 10th anniversary of the fall of the Berlin Wall by dedicating a 32-foot-wide section of it, along with an original guard tower, outside its journalism museum Thursday.

The section outside the Newseum is the largest on display outside Germany, said the Freedom Forum.

At the ceremony, former Secretary of State James Baker remembered rushing from a luncheon with then-Philippine President Corazon Aquino on Nov. 9, 1989, after he heard the borders between East and West Germany had been opened.

"By the time I arrived at the White House to discuss our response with President Bush, CNN was already broadcasting those unforgettable images of young Germans literally chipping away at the Wall," he said.

The watchtower in the exhibition, topped by a searching light, originally was less than a mile from "Checkpoint Charlie," the famous crossing between East and West Berlin. It was one of 300 guard towers standing along the Wall.

"To really understand what was going on in Germany, it is important to know that the wall ... was a painful daily reality for the people of Berlin and Germany as a whole," said German Ambassador Jurgen Chrobog. The exhibit

"can only give an idea of how oppressive and disturbing this division was."

The exhibition will be part of Freedom Park outside the Newseum, along with items such as the jail door of the cell where Martin Luther King Jr. was held in custody in 1963 and a replica of the Goddess of Democracy, made by plaster and paper by the students on the Tiananmen Square in Beijing during the democracy movement in 1989.

The Newseum will hold a series of programs and exhibitions about the fall of Berlin Wall.

"To really understand what was going on in Germany, it is important to know that the wall ... was a painful daily reality for the people of Berlin and Germany as a whole."

Jurgen Chrobog
German Ambassador

*The Keough Institute for Irish Studies
Would like to invite everyone to attend a lecture...*

Brian Dooley

"BLACK & GREEN: CIVIL RIGHTS IN IRELAND AND AMERICA"

Monday, September 27, 1999

4:00 p.m.

118 DeBartolo Hall

Brian Dooley has been Director of Communications for Ralph Nader's consumer organization Public Citizen since 1996. Before that, he was Head of Press at Amnesty International in London, where he worked for five years. At Amnesty, he ran the organization's media program and helped open Amnesty's first office in Northern Ireland. He has also worked as a foreign correspondent for the BBC in West Africa, and is author of Robert Kennedy: The Final Years (Edinburgh University Press 1995; St. Martin's Press, New York 1996) and Black and Green: The Fight for Civil Rights in Northern Ireland and Black America (Pluto, London & Chicago 1998). He writes regularly for the American, Irish and British press on American and Irish political issues.

VIEWPOINT

THE OBSERVER

page 10

Friday, September 24, 1999

THE OBSERVER

The Independent, Daily Newspaper Serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556
024 South Dining Hall, Notre Dame, IN 46556

EDITOR IN CHIEF
Michelle Krupa

MANAGING EDITOR M. Shannon Ryan BUSINESS MANAGER David Rogero

ASST. MANAGING EDITOR
Laura Petelle

NEWS EDITOR: Tim Logan
VIEWPOINT EDITOR: Colleen Gaughen
SPORTS EDITOR: Brian Kessler
SCENE EDITOR: Michael Vanegas
SAINT MARY'S EDITOR: Noreen Gillespie
PHOTO EDITOR: Kevin Dalum

ADVERTISING MANAGER: Bryan Lutz
AD DESIGN MANAGER: Bret Huelat
SYSTEMS ADMINISTRATOR: Michael Revers
WEB ADMINISTRATOR: Erik Kushro
CONTROLLER: Timothy Lane
GRAPHICS EDITOR: Joe Mueller

CONTACT US

OFFICE MANAGER/GENERAL INFO.....631-7471
FAX.....631-6927
ADVERTISING.....631-6900/8840
observer@darwin.cc.nd.edu
EDITOR IN CHIEF.....631-4542
MANAGING EDITOR/ASST. ME.....631-4541
BUSINESS OFFICE.....631-5313
NEWS.....631-5323
observer.obsnews.1@nd.edu
VIEWPOINT.....631-5303
observer.viewpoint.1@nd.edu
SPORTS.....631-4543
observer.sports.1@nd.edu SCENE.....631-4540
observer.scene.1@nd.edu
SAINT MARY'S.....631-4324 observer.smc.1@nd.edu
PHOTO.....631-8767
SYSTEMS/WEB ADMINISTRATORS.....631-8839

THE OBSERVER ONLINE

Visit our Web site at <http://observer.nd.edu> for daily updates of campus news, sports, features and opinion columns, as well as cartoons, reviews and breaking news from the Associated Press.

SURF TO:

weather for up-to-the minute forecasts

advertise for policies and rates of print ads

archives to search for articles published after August 1999 movies/music for weekly student reviews online features for special campus coverage about The Observer to meet the editors and staff

POLICIES

The Observer is the independent, daily newspaper published in print and online by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. Editorial content is not governed by policies of the administration of either institution. Acting as publisher of The Observer, the administration of the University of Notre Dame du Lac prohibits the advertisement of alcohol and The Observer's acceptance of advertisements from specified types of groups.

The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editor in Chief, Managing Editor, Assistant Managing Editor and department editors. Commentaries, letters and columns present the views of the authors and not necessarily those of The Observer. Viewpoint space is available to all readers. The free expression of all opinions through letters is encouraged.

Questions regarding Observer policies should be directed to Editor in Chief Michelle Krupa.

America's strength is in its diversity

St. Matthew's Cathedral, the seat of the Archbishop of Washington, is my neighborhood church where I serve as a lector twice a month. Last Sunday, as I sat next to my fellow lector after communion, I could not help but think how we are the epitome of the odd couple. I am what television commentator John McLaughlin chides as a "Cafeteria Catholic," often ignoring Church dogma in favor of selective bits and pieces of my faith. My partner, on the other hand, accepts every Church teaching and is a conservative political activist who has appeared on ABC's nationally broadcasted program "Politically Incorrect."

Gary J. Caruso

Capitol Comments

Our director of lectors scheduled us together this year because we "balance each other out" and "cannot intimidate each other." I often wonder if that assignment was in part political expediency or a comment on our behaviors while in church. I arrive at the cathedral in a jovial mood and crack jokes before Mass with the priests and other servers. In contrast, she isolates herself in a corner of the sacristy reading scripture and meditating.

While both of us are perfectionists who strive to perform flawlessly during Mass, she becomes disturbed over small issues, like a server diverting from the prescribed procession route. At times I leave church upset and frustrated because my partner tries to force me to carry a song booklet during the procession or scolds me for not appreciating the readings as much as she does. I, in turn, frustrate her with my attitude and frequent response citing my "Cafeteria Catholic" leanings.

Our relationship and interaction, strained as it is at times, helps me appreciate diversity in our society. The intense frustration I feel after many Masses tempers my tendency towards intolerance. For a split second last Sunday during Mass, my mind raced in an attempt to logically translate these inconsistencies. Rather than analyze my dilemma, I drifted to Notre Dame.

Thirty years ago when I was a freshman, Richard Nixon was president and only a handful of students were conservative Republicans. Most students were opposed to the Vietnam war. A majority of students were Democrats. While the Notre Dame student body was predominately Catholic, politically it was more diverse than it is today. The Supreme Court's decision in Roe v. Wade would for a time push many Notre Dame Catholics to the conservative side of the political spectrum. That is, until the birth of us "Cafeteria Catholics."

I agree with former New York Governor Mario Cuomo's position on abortion. Elected Catholic officials should decide the abortion issue using their own consciences. If they want to represent their constituencies which may have a majority of citizens who support abortion, they should be free from Church interference to influence their consciences ... unless the Vatican is the political district being represented.

To me, the Church abdicated its ability to lobby within the political system almost two decades ago when the pope decreed that none of the religious in the Church could hold public office. That internal policy decision made the Church dependent upon its lay followers who are elected to public office. That decision also single-handedly decreased the Church's political influence, politically split its members and led to the evolution of the so-called "Cafeteria Catholics."

I oppose school prayer and school vouchers, which absolutely infuriates my lector partner. As a product of the public school system, I attended second grade the year before the Supreme Court banned prayer in school. My Protestant teacher forced the entire class to recite the Lord's Prayer using "debtors" and "debtors" instead of my Catholic faith's "trespass" and "trespasses," which for this seven-year-old was almost devastating. I would tightly close my eyes and attempt to tune out the words by repeatedly whispering "trespasses, trespasses."

As a result of experiencing that forced recitation for an entire year, I emphatically support the separation of church and state. In my opinion, as a formerly oppressed youth, I believe in absolute freedom of religion — regardless of the weirdest of beliefs. More importantly, I believe that no public funds should be used to further any religious education.

Granted, diversity within a religion is a bit more complex of an issue than diversity within a society. Permitting a "live and let live" philosophy in society is strictly a tolerance issue. Ignoring certain teachings, such as birth control or the interpretations of a religious hierarchy, becomes an issue of heresy in an atmosphere of right and wrong. Given the Catholic Church's history that includes the crusades and corrupt popes, maybe debate within our faith is better than blind acceptance. I will have to pose that question to my lector partner next Sunday and see which one of us is frustrated after Mass.

Gary J. Caruso, Notre Dame '73, is currently serving in President Clinton's administration as a congressional and public affairs director and worked at the U.S. House of Representatives for 17 years. His column appears every other Friday, and his Internet address is Hotline@aol.com.

The views expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

DILBERT

SCOTT ADAMS

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"It's impossible to study on an empty stomach."

Garfield comic strip

The Drive for Secular Prestige

Suppose an aggressive lawyer uncovered a descendant of Clashmore Mike. Years ago, Mike, an Irish terrier, was the mascot of the Notre Dame football team. His replacement by a series of capering leprechauns was unfair.

Mike was treated like a dog. But he could do nothing about it. The last Mike has long since gone to the big stadium in the sky. But now his heirs may be able to seek redress.

They can claim that Mike was a person and that he was illegally fired because of speciesism B discrimination against persons of other species, as racism is discrimination against persons of other races. They could find support for that view at Harvard, Princeton and other "great" universities.

Harvard, Georgetown and Northwestern University law schools are offering courses on animal rights this fall. Adjunct professor Steven Wise, who will teach the Harvard course, has compared the "legal thinghood of chimpanzees" to "the abomination of human slavery." Citing "scientific evidence of the true nature of such nonhuman animals as chimpanzees," Wise argues that "it is arbitrary and a breach of the fundamental principle of equality to deny [chimpanzees] these rights merely because they are not human beings."

Princeton is further ahead. The new DeCamp Professor of Bioethics at the University Center for Human Values is Peter Singer, the Australian critic of "speciesism" and father of the animal rights movement. Singer thinks that any "rational and self-conscious being" is a person. In his view chimpanzees are persons, as are apes, whales, dolphins, dogs, cats, pigs, seals and bears. Some human beings, however, including "newborn infants and some mental defectives," are not persons. "So it seems," concludes Singer, "that killing, say, a chimpanzee, is worse than the killing of a gravely defective human who is not a person." Singer thinks that chickens might be persons, in which case the greatest mass murderer in history was not Adolf Hitler but Colonel Sanders. "Six million people died in concentration camps," said Ingrid Newkirk of People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals in 1986, "but six billion broiler chickens will die this year in slaughterhouses." In his book, Practical Ethics, which he assigns for his Princeton course, Singer said, "Killing a disabled infant is not morally equivalent to killing a person. Very often it is not wrong at all. When the death of a disabled infant will lead to the birth of another infant with better prospects of a happy life, the total amount of happiness will be greater if the disabled infant is killed. The loss of happy life for the first infant is outweighed by the gain of a happier life for the second." Singer is featured at a prestigious Sept. 25 conference at the Association of the Bar of the City of New York on "The Legal Status of Non-Human Animals."

According to Catholic teaching, man has a serious duty to God, but not to the animals, to make a right use of animals without being cruel or inflicting needless pain. The move to confer legal rights on animals themselves, however, is based on a denial of the special nature of the human person. Singer says that "we can no longer base our ethics on the idea that human beings are a special form of creation, made in the image of God, singled out from all other animals, and alone possessing an immortal soul." He treats "ethics as entirely independent of religion." The secularist and relativist premises on which he operates and which he carries to their logical conclusion, have decisively influenced American academics and jurisprudence for most of this century. That culture has lost sight of the human person as a unique creation of body and spirit in the image and likeness of God. "[W]hen the sense of God is lost," said John Paul II, "there is also a tendency to lose the sense of man, of his dignity and his life." Singer is the poster boy of that pagan culture of death.

The intellectual and moral bankruptcy implicit in the advocacy of animal rights ought to cause our leaders to ponder the wisdom of using those "great" secular universities as models for Notre Dame. The traditional mission of Notre Dame was primarily undergraduate education in the Catholic tradition, with graduate studies and research playing an important but complementary role. In 1978, however, Notre Dame began to define itself as a "research university." The objective was admission to the club of the monied and prestigious universities.

"We think we're capable of operating in the same world as the Ivys, Stanford, Vanderbilt, Duke, Southern Cal and Northwestern," said Notre Dame's president, Father Malloy, at the 1993 meeting of the trustees at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Manalapan, Fla.

I do not intend to minimize the importance of research, especially in the sciences. And our leaders act entirely in what they see as the best interest of Notre Dame. But what results from their effort to, pardon the expression, "ape" the Ivy League, is the devaluation of undergraduate education and the imposition of unconscionable loan burdens on non-wealthy students to finance the drive for research prestige. In 1978-79, Notre Dame tuition, room and board totaled $5,180. Adjusted for the Consumer Price Index, that total for 1999-2000 would be $13,650. In 1999-2000, the figure increased 5.47 percent over the previous year, almost double the inflation rate, for a total of $27,600, more than twice, in real money, what students paid in 1978-79. In terms of teaching and of variety and accessibility of courses, no one can reasonably claim that the quality of undergraduate education at Notre Dame is more than twice what it was two decades ago. Notre Dame makes a commendable effort to provide financial aid. As estimated for 1999-2000, 2,500 students will receive University aid, with the average aid at $9,200, reducing their average bill to $18,400. But for non-wealthy students, the primary form of financial aid remains the student loan.

The drive for secular prestige has affected Notre Dame in various ways. The endowment has taken on a life of its own, with only marginal impact on student costs. And subject to release of this year's figure, 1986-87 was the last year in which a majority of newly hired faculty was Catholic. The campus, like the "great" universities, is now crowded with monuments to the ability of our striving leaders to raise and spend money. The renovated Main Building is one example. Another is the upscale new bookstore, which remains open for 11 hours on Sunday in testimony to the relative emphasis placed on the maximization of profit and the observance of the Lord's Day. In these and other ways, Notre Dame is paying a price for its drive to be counted among the "great" universities.

These comments are prompted by conversations with law students whose career and family options are constricted by loans in the $100-150,000 range. It is no consolation that this burden results from the effort of our leaders, perhaps in a working out of the old Catholic inferiority complex, to emulate institutions where it is seriously in question whether there is an intrinsic difference between a chicken and a philosophy professor. Clashmore Mike, who did not go to any of those places, knew the difference.

Professor Rice is on the law school faculty. His column appears every other Friday.

The views expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily

Charles Rice

Right or Wrong?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The dysfunctional Notre Dame Family

As I read Thursday's Observer, I could not help noticing two pieces that exemplify the craziness and hypocrisy of some of the people at this University. On page one there was an update on the current GALA/Observer controversy and how the response from the president was unsatisfactory (what a surprise) and pathetic (another stunner).

Then, on page 19, we have Campus Considerations asking the question "What are we building here?" and inspiring students to become involved in a service project over fall break to help some poor people in Appalachia fix up their houses and schools and other nice things, sort of a little contribution towards the salvation of the world. What a contrast between the two stories, and all taking place within the same "Notre Dame Family." What indeed are we building here?

How can we inspire students to do the little stuff when the University as a whole is failing so miserably with this issue? Gay, straight, black, white, we are all children of God and we should embrace our brothers and sisters, all of them. Come on people, do you honestly think that if Jesus were walking around today he would approve of such conduct?

Here is my plug for a fall break service project. Start voicing some disapproval for the way the University is treating GALA, get mad about this.

THIS is social injustice. Contact the group and find out how you can assist them in their current dispute. And Monk, here is your fall service project: Please allow The Observer to print the GALA mission statement — you know, that inflammatory propaganda that will probably, upon release, make us all have to go to confession. Yeah, right. Until we get past this abominable behavior towards GALA, we are nothing more than a dysfunctional family. And all you folks going to Appalachia, good for you! Don't, however, pat yourselves too hard on the back. Your work is not yet over.

Julie Wilberding, Ph.D.

Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry
September 23, 1999

A few suggestions for an alumnus

I would like to respond to the letter printed in Viewpoint on Wednesday, written by our "expert college campus and student body critic" alumnus, Mark Ellsworth. There are a few things I want him to know.

He complains that our sidewalks overwhelm him. I want to tell him about the city streets that run through almost all of the college campuses I visited back in my home state.

He thinks the location of the bookstore is too distant for geographic singularity. I want to tell him about the bookstores of some schools that were built in different zip codes. The University is building too much, too fast, right big guy? I want to tell him about other universities that ran out of space decades ago but don't have the funds to construct any new buildings anyway.

Can't find his way around campus because he can't see the Dome? I want to tell him that some universities have buildings so high his upturned nose would bleed!

The student body shouldn't care or feel powerfully about OUR team? I want to tell him about other schools' student bodies. Specifically the ones that have "lightened up" so much, they MIGHT show up at halftime for their games.

And according to him, we allow any high school graduate with shoulder pads to play on our squad. Well, I want to remind him of a former Heisman candidate who was, once upon a time, supposed to play for our team. But we didn't allow him to. If he's having trouble remembering this individual, he should ask that "buddy" of his. The two of them might have hung out together in their well utilized spare time and talked about our school's standards.

I want to tell you about a gentleman who lives upstairs from me. The one who excels at computer engineering, manners, common courtesy and playing tight end on weekends during the fall. All with more pride than you should ever have. (Note: I live ON campus.)

Geek, Mark. Your buddy was just "doing what regular adults do across the United States." Shame on law-abiding Bill Kirk! I want to remind you, although it might be fun for you and/or your hippie friends, smoking pot is still illegal in the United States — unless, of course, a doctor has prescribed it to you for your inability to see. These are just a few of the things I want to tell you.

Despite my criticism, I urge you to come back for a visit — MANY years from now. Oh, and Mr. Ellsworth? Please don't stay around here for any more extra days. Instead, be sure you stay home an extra day to pull your head out of the clouds before you come back.

Ryan LaMonica

Junior
Dillon Hall

September 22, 1999

Fall TV is chip off

By TRICIA McHALE
Scene Writer

Television is about money. All major networks have an agenda, used to entice viewers by whatever means necessary, so that they can be exposed to eight to 20 minutes of commercials during which they are persuaded to buy a variety of products.

It is particularly important to note this fact because it is the money of the youth of America that these manufacturers want. The 18- to 49-year old demographic is the most influential in the marketplace. Because of this, networks stick to what works, what has made them money in the past. They will not make sudden changes to the lineups.

This season is no exception, for this is the year of spin-offs and rip-offs. If one night the question arises, "I think I've seen this one," know there are no real mistakes being made by you, the viewer.

The popularity of such shows as "Felicity," "Dawson's Creek" and "Party of Five" among younger audiences has helped spawn an entire lineup of teen angst dramas. Similarly, "Ally McBeal"-inspired programs, complete with voice-overs and various imagined scenarios, have been reproduced, the only difference being the names and number of characters.

If a new television show premiering this fall does not fit into one of these classifications, then it is less of a testament to the integrity of the creator than it is to the poor taste of network executives for adding it to the schedule. These category-less shows are generic sitcoms or family dramas with very little substance which most likely will not reach mid-season. The following is a breakdown of these at times monotonous, though partially entertaining shows.

Sunday

New Programs: Fresh from his multiple-E Emmy wins, David Kelley has developed a new crime-comedy hour entitled "Snoops" (ABC). The show follows a group of women who take an unconventional approach to private investigation in a '90s update of "Charlie's Angels."

Opposite the show is the new romantic drama "Jack and Jill" on the WB network. Two 20-somethings struggle to find themselves and each other in this fatalistic tale set in New York City. The young cast includes Simon Rex, the former MTV VJ making a transition into acting as he plays a neighborhood bartender and friend.

In another new drama set in New York, NBC makes an attempt to capitalize on the success of "ER" by introducing "The Third Watch" by the same producers. The new drama follows the lives of paramedics, firefighters and police officers and their civil service on the streets of the Big Apple.

Returning Programs: Fox's Sunday-night lineup will not change this fall due to the success they have had with it in the past. The three animated series "King of the Hill," "The Simpsons" and "Futurama" will precede the popular science fiction drama "The X-Files." However, the sci-fi drama will not premiere until Nov. 7, after the World Series.

This has been Fox's tactic for the last several seasons, and it has proven successful with more and more loyal viewers returning later in the season. This year's season opener will continue with the apparent discovery of an alien spaceship in Africa by Agent Scully and the mysterious mental illness of Agent Mulder that befell him late last year.

The WB hopes to create a powerhouse on Sunday nights by situating "Felicity" right before the new "Jack and Jill." The season opener will answer the question, "Who did Felicity choose, Ben or Noel?"

"The Practice" will also return to ABC, putting two David Kelley dramas — the other being "Snoops" — back to back.

Monday

New Programs: Among the new programming offered Monday are several spin-offs of already popular shows that have established a solid audience. Networks want to extend their viewership by removing the popular characters and giving them shows of their own.

"Law and Order: Special Victims Unit" (NBC) will deal with the more brutal cases of its predecessor. "The Parkers" (WB) will focus on Moesha's (of "Moesha") eccentric friend and her mother as they simultaneously enroll in college, while "Time of Your Life" (Fox) will find Jennifer Love Hewitt in New York searching for her biological father after her split from the Salingers of "Party of Five."

Other shows making an appearance Monday are a "7th Heaven"-type family drama entitled "Safe Harbor" (WB) and "Grownups" (UPN), a sitcom whose only "appealing" factor is the intrigue of seeing a grown-up Jaleel White (Urkel of "Family Matters") act in a normal role with normal fitting clothes.

"Ladies Man" (CBS) debuts as a weak-premised comedy about a man who lives with an extended family of females. "Family Law" (CBS), a legal drama about a divorcee who attempts to reclaim her practice from her ex-husband and ex-partner, will also premiere Monday.

Returning Programs: Once again, many of the same faces, however made-over they may be, will return. Among them, "Suddenly Susan" (NBC) with Brooke Shields and an entirely new premise and "Veronica's Closet" (NBC) with a blond Kirstie Alley. "Ally McBeal" will also return to Fox as she struggles with her inner demons and short skirts.

Tuesday

New Programs: A random array of programming will call Tuesday home, for the time being anyway. "Once and Again" (ABC), a series about single parents who meet, fall in love and pursue a relationship despite interference from friends and family, will premiere.

"Shasta McNasty" (UPN) is a

Katie Holmes, who plays Joey in "Dawson's Creek," returns to the WB on Wednesday nights.

Photo courtesy of the WB

last season's block

new buddy comedy set in Venice Beach, while "The Strip" (UPN), another cop-turned-security-consultant show, will follow the adventures of one man in Las Vegas as he works for a casino owner.

"Judging Amy" (CBS) is a drama about a single career-mom who moves back in with her family in New England. Their dysfunction and her new job will be the focus of the plot. Sound familiar? Think "Providence," but three days earlier. "The Mike O'Malley Show" (NBC) will also premiere Tuesday evening, exploring the misadventures of a man shaken by the marriage of his best friend and the return of an ex-girlfriend.

Finally, "Angel" (WB), the popular character from "Buffy, the Vampire Slayer," will move to L.A., along with another ex-cast member, Cordelia, now a struggling actress, to fight evil in the backstreets of Hollywood.

Returning Programs: A dozen sitcoms and dramas will be returning for the popular night of programming. Among them are "Just Shoot Me," "Spin City," "3rd Rock from the Sun" and "Buffy," sans Angel and Cordelia, as explained above. "Party of Five" also moves to Tuesday.

Wednesday

New Programs: It has been described as "The X-Files" meets "My So-Called Life." "Roswell" (WB) will add the ever-popular teen angst component to the science fiction genre to create something completely original. In the first episode, Max, along with his sister and friend, are discovered to be orphaned aliens from the alleged 1947 Roswell crash. His new friend Liz, as well as the rest of the townsfolk, become suspicious as various oddities begin to unfold.

Other dramas airing on Wednesday are "The West Wing" (NBC), about a noble and his equally dedicated staff, and "Get Real" (Fox) an hour-long comedy-drama taking the old timeslot and basic concept of "Party of Five," but funnier and with parents.

Returning Programs: Returning series include "The Drew Carey Show" (ABC), "Beverly Hills, 90210" (Fox), "Law and Order" (NBC) and "Dawson's Creek" (WB). In the latter, the kids continue to struggle with "typical problems facing typical teens."

Thursday

New Programs: In an attempt to steal away the rapidly diminishing audience of Must-See T.V., rival networks are introducing some unconventional programs to their lineups. "Action" (Fox), the most unique new show of the season, follows a cut-throat movie producer and cynically examines the politics of Hollywood. The raw style of the series has already raised some controversy and may backfire on the network if the public cannot relate to the satirical look at the entertainment industry.

"WWF Smackdown!" on UPN will explore the vicious rivalries of the World Wrestling Federation on network television.

"Manchester Prep" (Fox), "Wasteland" (ABC) and "Popular" (WB), all of which are centered around a group of young acquaintances, are three more attempts to lure audiences away from the traditional Thursday-night staple, "Friends."

However, NBC, in a relatively futile effort to restore power to its lineup, is adding another sitcom, "Stark Raving Mad," between "Frasier" and "ER." The show stars Neil Patrick Harris of "Doogie Howser, M.D." fame as the editor of an eccentric horror-writer.

Returning Programs: These include the usual suspects: "Friends," "Jesse," "Frasier" and "ER," on NBC, and "Chicago Hope" on CBS. In the season opener of "Friends," the cliff-hanger that ended with the Monica/Chandler and Rachel/Ross weddings will supposedly be resolved.

Friday

New Programs: This is the second most difficult night to program, after Saturday, because traditionally it is not a popular night to watch television. However, the networks are attempting it regardless.

"Now and Again," (CBS) about the mind of a family man being relocated into the bio-engineered body of a would-be superhero, is another science fiction-inspired show that will most likely find its audience among the those who take the time to comprehend its involved concept.

The same can be said for "Harsh Realm" (Fox), from the creator of "The X-Files," a series about a young soldier who is trapped in a virtual reality game during an experimental trial.

Two other shows, "Mission Hill," (WB) another look at young friends but this time with animation, and "Love and Money" (CBS), about a socialite who falls for a blue-collar superintendent, will air Friday night. "Odd Man Out" is the latest addition to ABC's TGIF arsenal, though surprisingly it does not star the Olsen twins. On NBC, "Cold Feet" deals with three couples at various stages of a relationship, while "The Badlands" (Fox) follows a 19-year old cop who faces the harshness of reality on the streets of Philadelphia.

Returning Programs: The rest of Friday evening is filled with various sitcoms, specials and newsmagazines like "20/20" (ABC) and "Dateline" (NBC), which tend to get the highest overall ratings.

Saturday

New Programs: It is practically suicide to program anything on a Saturday night. Only NBC feels confident enough about "Freaks and Geeks," a comedy-drama about the outcasts in a 1980 Michigan high school, to premiere it here.

Returning Programs: Saturday night is the one night of the week where the programming is geared toward older audiences with shows like "Early Edition," "Walker, Texas Ranger" (both on CBS) and "Profiler" (NBC), all of which beat last year's odds and made it back for another season. The return of these programs demonstrates that ultimately, it is up to you, the viewer, to determine which of this year's hopefuls will be back in the fall of 2000.

Photo courtesy of UPN

Photo courtesy of Fox

"The Simpsons" returns to Fox with its season premiere this Sunday.

BOOK REVIEW

Fantasy creates child cult phenomenon

By LAURA PETELLE
Assistant Managing Editor

Do you remember the first book that made you believe in something that you knew couldn't be true? Do you remember feeling the backs of closets, hoping that maybe, just maybe, you'd find Narnia this time? Do you remember lying awake on dark and stormy nights, just certain that Mrs. Whatsit was lurking outside? Do you remember looking at rabbit holes, wondering what would happen if you fell down them?

Well, get ready to be convinced that there's a platform 9 3/4 at King's Cross station in London: Welcome to the wonderful world of Harry Potter.

Who is Harry Potter? You'd have to live in bubble to have missed this one. He's been on the cover of Time, he's holding three spots on the New York Times bestseller list and he's one of the most-talked about men in the country right now.

Well, who is Harry Potter? Harry Potter is your ordinary 13-year-old, except he's a third-year student at the Hogwarts School of Wizardry. He's the main character in the best-selling books by J.K. Rowling, books which are written for young adult audiences, the 9- to 12-year-old range.

"Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban"

out of five shamrocks

Author: J.K. Rowling

But these aren't easy reads. At 300-plus pages each, they're hefty books. The language doesn't talk down. They're written in the best traditions of children's fantastical literature, like C.S. Lewis's Chronicles of Narnia, Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland and Madeline L'Engle's A Wrinkle in Time.

Rowling's books follow the same idea — an absolutely ordinary child is suddenly whisked away into a magical world where adventure abounds.

Harry Potter is an orphan who is forced by his Muggle (non-magical) uncle and aunt, Vernon and Petunia Dursley, to sleep in a cupboard under the staircase. Little does Harry know that his parents were not actually killed in a car accident and that the lightning-bolt shaped scar on his forehead was not from that same accident — in actuality, Harry's wizard parents were killed by Lord Voldemort, an evil wizard so powerful he's called "He-Who-Must-Not-Be-Named" because wizards fear to speak his name. After killing Harry's parents, Voldemort turned on Harry but was unable to kill him. The distinctive scar is a result of that confrontation, where somehow baby Harry broke Voldemort's power, sending him into hiding.

Harry wakes up on his 11th birthday to find a delivery from a magical owl. Before he knows it, Harry is whisked off to Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, where he is something of a celebrity pupil, having defeated Lord Voldemort while just a baby. The only way to get to Hogwarts is to board a train at the invisible platform 9 3/4 at King's Cross station in London. At Hogwarts, Harry enters a whole new world where he needs a wand for class and takes classes such as "Potions" with the odious Professor Snape and "Defense Against the Dark Arts," where no professor lasts more than a year.

Harry is sorted by the Sorting Hat into Gryffindor, a dorm whose resident ghost is Nearly-Headless Nick. Harry learns to play quidditch, a sport which involves seven wizards mounted on flying brooms and four balls of varying sizes. Quidditch is to Hogwarts what football is to Notre Dame, and Harry's talent at the position of seeker earns him a certain amount of respect in Hogwarts.

In the latest installment in the series, "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban," Harry is about to begin his third year at Hogwarts with his good friends Ron Weasley, the sixth of seven wizard children in a poor family, and Hermione Granger, the brilliant, Muggle-born know-it-all.

This year, Harry, Ron and Hermione get to start taking elective subjects like Divination, Arithmancy and Muggle Studies, in addition to the ongoing core classes like Potions and Defense Against the Dark Arts.

But Harry's year gets off to an inauspicious start. He spends summers at home with the Dursleys, and at the end of the summer, Aunt Marge comes to visit. Harry promises Uncle Vernon that he'll behave (the Dursleys refuse to allow any magic in their house), but when Marge begins to attack Harry's dead parents, Harry loses his temper and casts a swelling spell, then runs away from the Dursleys.

Terrified that he's going to be expelled for breaking the Decree for the Restriction of Underage Wizardry (especially after that flying car incident of the previous year), Harry is rescued from the streets of Little Winging by the Knight Bus, emergency transport for stranded witches and wizards.

When Cornelius Fudge, the Minister of Magic, finally catches up with Harry in Diagon Alley (a magical street in London), he doesn't expel Harry but rather seems glad to see him. As Harry later finds out, Sirius Black, a hardened wizard criminal and minion of Lord Voldemort, had escaped from Azkaban fortress, the wizard prison, and is after Harry. Harry is hurried off to Hogwarts and the watchful eye of the headmaster, Professor Albus Dumbledore. Black is so dangerous that Hogwarts is being guarded by dementors, the legendary guardians of Azkaban, who are a danger not only to Black but to the students at Hogwarts as well.

As the story goes on and becomes more complex, Harry discovers that it was Sirius Black, his father's best friend, who betrayed his parents to Voldemort. Meanwhile, Gryffindor is desperate to win the quidditch cup from Slytherin (another dorm), Harry is secretly learning to cast a patronus to protect himself from the dementors, and Hagrid, the kindly groundskeeper who befriended Harry, is trying to save a hippogriff from death. Also, Ron's pet rat, Scabbers, is looking less and less healthy, a fact which Ron blames on Hermione and her new cat.

Harry, Ron and Hermione decide to take on Sirius Black themselves, when suddenly everything they thought they knew is ripped out from under their feet, and it's up to Harry and Hermione (Ron having been knocked out cold) to save two innocent lives.

Sound complicated? It is. But it's also engrossing.

Rowling's own story is passing into legend. She was divorced, unemployed and living on public assistance in Edinburgh with her infant daughter when she began writing "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone" — the first book in the series — in a café during her daughter's naps. She received a grant from the Scottish Arts Council to finish the book, then sold it to Bloomsbury in the U.K. and Scholastic Books in the U.S. "Sorcerer's stone" has since won a few awards and the book rights have been sold in 11 countries.

The books themselves fly off the shelves. "Azkaban" was released at 3:45 p.m. in the U.K. because of fears that students would skip school to get the book. In less than two weeks after its July 8 release in Britain, "Azkaban" went through 10 printings and sold 270,000 copies.

In the U.S., many fans went to amazon.co.uk and paid the overseas shipping rate to get the book before its U.S. release date of Sept. 8. The next book will be released in Britain and the U.S. simultaneously, in part because Scholastic lost sales to Bloomsbury when U.S. customers resorted to the Internet to buy the book early.

If you haven't read a Harry Potter book yet, you're not just missing out on a great read but a cultural phenomenon. This reviewer must confess that she ripped the first two out of her 10-year-old brother's hands and read them both in one sitting, and that she went out and bought the third one on its release date, then stayed up far too late reading it and was tired and cranky in class the next day. She must also confess that she almost cried at the ending of the third one because it was so nice for Harry.

And if you're still not a convert, listen to Michael, the aforementioned 10-year-old brother of this reviewer: "Harry Potter is awesome."

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Belle's homer leads Orioles in split with A's

Associated Press

BALTIMORE
Albert Belle hit four doubles and Derrick May homered in a five-run fourth inning as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Oakland Athletics 12-4 Thursday night to gain a split of their doubleheader.

In the opener, Miguel Tejada hit the last of Oakland's four home runs, a tiebreaking shot in the eighth inning, and the A's ended the Orioles' 13-game winning streak with a 9-6 victory.

Matt Stairs and Randy Velarde homered in the nightcap for the A's, who moved within 4 1/2 games of Boston in the AL wild-card race. Toronto beat the Red Sox 7-5.

Stairs, Ben Grieve and Mike Macfarlane homered in the opener for Oakland.

T.J. Mathews (0-4) worked 1 2/3 innings for Oakland and Jason Istringhausen got three outs for his seventh save.

Oakland's Brett Laxton, recalled from Triple-A Vancouver before the game, allowed three earned runs and seven hits in 4 2/3 innings.

Baltimore starter Sidney Ponson gave up six runs on 10 hits in 4 2/3 innings.

Blue Jays 7, Red Sox 5

Tony Batista hit a two-run double in the ninth inning as the Toronto Blue Jays rallied from a one-run deficit to beat the Boston Red Sox.

Nomar Garciaparra hit a two-run homer, then outran a double-play relay to drive in another run in the seventh inning and give Boston a 6-5 lead.

But Rod Beck (0-1) came on to start the ninth for the Red Sox and gave up two singles before Batista doubled to right-center, scoring Homer Bush and Willie Greene.

Brian McRae added an RBI groundout to make it 7-5 and make a winner of David Wells (15-10).

The Red Sox took a 4-2 lead with a pair of two-run homers in the fourth. Jason Varitek led off with a single to tie it before Garciaparra homered, then Mike Stanley singled and scored on Butch Huskey's homer.

Tigers 7, Indians 5

Tony Clark and Juan Encarnacion each had two RBIs to help the Detroit Tigers beat Cleveland and earn a split of their four-game series with the Indians.

Roberto Alomar, Travis Fryman, Wil Cordero and Jim Thome homered for the Indians.

Charles Nagy (17-10), seeking a career-best 18th win, gave up six runs on 10 hits with four walks and four strikeouts in five-plus innings. It was Nagy's first loss in five decisions.

Blair (3-11), making his sixth start, gave up four runs on six hits with four walks and six strikeouts in 6 1-3 innings to win his second game this month.

Todd Jones allowed Thome's 33rd homer leading off the ninth, but got the final three outs to earn his 26th save in 31 opportunities.

The Indians, who clinched the AL Central title on Sept. 8, jumped on Blair for two runs in the first as Kenny Lofton started the game with a double and scored on Alomar's 24th homer, a shot into the second deck in left.

Fryman, who hadn't homered since June 1, made it 3-0 with a two-out solo shot in the second.

Detroit closed to 3-1 in the third when Clark singled home

Deivi Cruz, who had doubled. It was the Tigers' first earned run since Monday.

The Tigers took a 5-3 lead with a four-run fifth. Brad Ausmus doubled and scored on Clark's RBI single. After a two-out walk to Damion Easley, Encarnacion hit a two-run double and Gabe Kapler's RBI single scored Encarnacion.

Cruz doubled again in the sixth and scored on Luis Polonia's double for a 6-3 lead, and David Riske relieved Nagy.

Cordero cut it to 6-4 with his ninth homer leading off the seventh.

But Kamera Bartee hit a pinch-hit triple in the eighth and scored on Polonia's sacrifice fly to make it 7-4.

Yankees 5, White Sox 2

Roger Clemens won consecutive starts for the first time in nearly three months and Tino Martinez hit a two-run homer as the New York Yankees clinched no worse than a tie for a playoff berth with a win Thursday night over the Chicago White Sox.

The Yankees, who have won eight of nine since a four-game losing streak, need one more win or an Oakland loss to make the postseason for the fifth straight year.

Mariano Rivera pitched the ninth for his 43rd save in 47 chances. Rivera has not allowed a run in his last 24 appearances (25 2-3 innings) and has converted 20 straight save opportunities.

The Yankees jumped out to a 4-0 lead against Jim Parque (9-14), who lost his eighth straight decision. Parque allowed four runs and seven hits in five innings and hasn't won in 13 starts since July 7 against Kansas City.

Jeter doubled with one out in the first and scored on Williams' single. Paul O'Neill added an RBI single in the second and Martinez hit his 26th homer in the third.

The White Sox scored two in the fifth on RBI singles by Brian Simmons and Greg Norton to make it 4-2. With runners on second and third and one out, Clemens came back to strike out Ray Durham and Darrin Jackson.

Scott Brosius, starting for the first time since leaving the Yankees on Sept. 13 for his father's funeral, went 2-for-3 with an RBI single in the seventh.

CLASSIFIEDS

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 024 South Dining Hall. Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The charge is 3 cents per character per day, including all spaces. The Observer reserves the right to edit all classifieds for content without issuing refunds.

NOTICES

SKYDIVE!!
Try the ULTIMATE RUSH
Training students for over 30 years
1 hour North of South Bend
Call for class times
GREAT LAKES SKYDIVERS
1-800-351-6617

THE COPY SHOP
LaFortune Student Center
PHONE 631-COPY
www.CopyShopND.com
Store Hours
Mon-Thur: 7:30am-Midnight
Fri: 7:30am-7:00pm
Sat: Noon-6:00pm
Sun: Noon-Midnight

WANTED

STUDENT OPENINGS
5-30 hrs./week. Flex. around classes. Scholarships avail.
www.workforstudents.com/IN 282-2357

Spring Break '00
Cancun, Mazatlan or Jamaica
From $399
Reps wanted! Sell 15 and travel free!
LOWEST PRICES GUARANTEED!!!
Info: Call 1-800-446-8355
www.sunbreaks.com

DON'T WORK THIS SCHOOL YEAR!
$1200 TO $2000 THIS MONTH. Part time 4 to 6 hours per week. Call 24 hrs (219) 239-6709

Help wanted at 4 Michiana locations. Great pay, flex. hrs. No Sundays. Apply in person or send resume to:
FRULLATI CAFE/UP MALL
6501 N. GRAPE RD. #576
MISHAWAKA, IN 46545

SPORTS CLUBS & STUDENT GROUPS -
Earn $1000-2000 with easy CIS Fund event. No sales required. Fund Raiser days are filling up, so call today. Contact Joe @ 1-888-522-4350.

Loving ND-SMC couple wishes to adopt. Will provide a lifetime of laughter, love, devotion and opportunities. 800-484-4699 code 0019

FREE TRIPS AND CASH!!!
SPRING BREAK
2000StudentCity.com is looking for Highly Motivated Students to promote Spring Break 2000!
Organize a small group and travel FREE!! Top campus reps can earn a Free Trip & over $10,000! Choose Cancun, Jamaica or Nassau!
Book Trips On-Line.
Log In and win FREE stuff.
Sign Up Now On Line!
www.StudentCity.com or 800/293-1443

Love animals?
Landlord won't let you have a pet? Get your animal fix by volunteering at Pet Refuge. The refuge is looking for volunteers to help feed and care for dogs and cats. Call 256-0886 for more information.

2 Babysitters (preferably friends) for evening of Oct. 8 and during day of Oct. 9 (during ASU game) for 3 year old and 9 mo. old. Must have some experience and be energetic. Good pay. Call Linda at 937-294-4857.

HEAVENLY HAM
Immediately Openings for Energetic Individuals.
Store Work Hours: M-F 7:30 to 5:30 Sat: 8:00 to 2:30
No Sundays
Will schedule work around classes. Apply at 2307 Edison.
288-4267

FOR RENT

ROOMS FOR RENT IN PRIVATE HOME FOR ND-SMC EVENTS. VERY CLOSE TO CAMPUS.
243-0658.

HOMES CLOSE TO CAMPUS
http://mmmrentals.homepage.com/232-2595

THAT PRETTY PLACE,
Bed and Breakfast Inn has space available for football/parent weekends.
5 Rooms with private baths, $80-$115, Middlebury, 30 miles from campus. Toll Road Exit #107, 1-800-418-9487.

LOADED 6 Bdrm '00-01 yr.
273-0482 / 234-3831

BED 'N BREAKFAST REGISTRY
219-291-7153

3-bdrm duplex, remodeled, 503 Eddy, 1 mi. from campus. Appliances, W/D. 273-8332.
5 bedroom house prime location 105 Marquette Ave Available now 232-6964

FOR SALE

Spring Break Specials! Bahamas Party Cruise 5 Days $279! Includes Meals! Awesome Beaches, Nightlife! Cancun & Jamaica 7 Nights From $399! Florida $129/springbreaktravel.com 1-800-678-6386

FOR SALE
N.D. FOOTBALL TIX
CALL 271-9412

FOR SALE
N.D. FOOTBALL TIX
CALL 271-9412

LAKEFRONT BY OWNER. 3 bdrm. ranch, lg den, 2 car gar., full basement, 3 seas. porch, deck, most ev. new, much more. 15 mi. from campus. 616-663-6308.

Phone Cards, 669 min/$20
243-9361 or 258-4805

MAC 520 LAPTOP Y2K COMP. SELDOM USED $375. APPLE STYLE-WRITER PRINTER $75.
287-7928

Ordinary looking sunglasses with unique feature: Built in, undetectable, "REAR VIEW MIRRORS"! View everything behind you without anyone knowing you can. Bicyclist, Beach Combers, Kool Dudes, send: $1175
To: J.R.T. P.O. Box 1066
Laurel, MD 20725

PRO-SPORT 5 POSITION SLANT BENCH Like New
$30.00
Call Craig @ 246-1410

TICKETS

Wanted: 2 ND vs. USC GA tix. Call Autumn @ 284-5024.

I need tickets for USC or Arizona State. Call Joel @ 4-3246.

WANTED NOTRE DAME FOOTBALL TICKETS
271-1526

SELL & BUY GA FOOTBALL TICKETS
277-6619

WANTED - ND football tix.
AM - 232-2378
PM - 288-2726

ND football tix for sale.
AM - 232-2378
PM - 288-2726

I NEED GA TIXS ALL HOME GAMES. 2726551

BUYING and SELLING N D FOOTBALL TICKETS.
GREAT PRICES. CALL 289-8048

N.D. FOOTBALL TICKETS BUY/SELL/TRADE ALL GAMES

ALL LOCATIONS 271-9330

!!NO STUDENT TICKETS!! TICKETMART INC.
www.ndtickets.com

FOR SALE
N.D. FOOTBALL TICKETS
CALL 271-9412

SPRING BREAK 2000 "THE MILLENIUM"

BIG IRISH CATHOLIC FAMILY NEEDED 16 G.A. TIX FOR USC GAME! CALL DAVE @ 773-281-7690 OR 610-971-2295 WITH ANY TIX THANKS.

WANTED: USC TIX 247-1659

Need tix for Navy. Buy/trade. Call 251-0001 - Andy.

NEED: Oklahoma tickets for family.
x2795-John

Need 3 USC tickets
Please call Tom 634-1440

Need 1 Oklahoma & 1 Navy GA.
Call 4-2535

NEED TWO GA TIX TO BC GAME FOR PARENTS CALL KATIE AT 4-1422

WANTED! 2 pairs of tix and Joyce/Stadium parking pass for ASU. Call Alex Boyle @ 800-221-7676 M-F 9-5

NEED 8 OKLAHOMA TIX sets of 4 or more wanted
TOP $ Paid
Colin x1627

Need 4 Okla GAs
Eric 243-3347

Need Oklahoma and ASU GAs.
Call Michelle: 631-4542 or 233-9037.

FOR SALE ND FOOTBALL TICKETS. Navy $55 each, ASU $65 each, BCU $60 each. Call 289-8048.

PERSONAL

GRANDMOTHER WILL BABYSIT IN HER HOME.
233-2704

Struggling with self-esteem? Frustrated with the opposite sex? Can't understand your roommate? Having trouble relaxing? Embarrassed about your family and their behavior? Feeling alone as a graduate student and wishing you had more support? IF ANY OF THESE QUESTIONS RING A BELL WITH YOU—CONSIDER JOINING A GROUP! The University Counseling Center is currently screening individuals with a variety of interpersonal concerns to join small, confidential groups as a way to learn about themselves and support others. Please call us at 631-7336 to get more information.

Quality Copies, Quickly!

We're open early, late, & weekends.
THE COPY SHOP
LaFortune Student Center
Phone 631-COPY

Quality Copies, Quickly!

SOPHOMORE CLASS MASS AND DINNER!!

Sunday, Sept. 26th
Mass at 4:30pm at the Grotto (Rain Location: Lewis Hall Chapel)
Dinner 5:30pm-7:30pm in LaFortune Ballroom
Dinner is $2 and includes Subway, Soda, and more!!

HAPPY 21ST KELLEY OLIVATO E formerly Mary, Heather, and other false names! Have a blast. Love, Rockin' Sorority.

Hippity-hop, hippity-hop. I'm off to campus media!

Hey Jennie, Thanks for being my Omamma. I know you hate it when I call you that. I promise to stop. OK, mamma? Oops. Old habits are hard to break.

Hi, my name is Daisy and I look sweet upon a seat of a bicycle built for two. How bout it?

I don't care if it's not a stylish marriage. Who needs a carriage these days, anyway? Just me, you and the tandem.

Budget wants pepper so he can get fat and run like someone from the Monty pythons movies. If he gets too fat to run, he can always hop on a tandem or start screaming Bloody Mary!
There, I just incorporated every joke from this year, Mama!

If only I had thought of something clever to say about Gootblatt. Shucks!

Ali — I miss Jersey! I feel like I'm as far from my home and as Calif.

Rie: sorry, I scared you on the phone!

This is a shout out to The Observer's homgirl! None other than Laura P-telle. We miss you! Your photo behind me is just not the same.
Maybe because you usually aren't posing in such a way while reading pages.

So, Christine: If Brad Pitt walked in right now... yes or no?

Who are we kidding? YES!

Becky, have fun tonight... prepare for the TOGA!!!

Kelly, your present is in the mail, but you'll never guess what it is? somebody's a tease, huh?

Ladies of 243, I miss you guys, love christine.

Dylan's back in college. No doesn't it feel great to be spending your days doing the same as the great Dylan McKay. Peace Out.

INTERHALL FOOTBALL

Lewis, Walsh to fight for first victory in 1999

By STEVE DILLENBURGER
Sports Writer

Lewis and Walsh will battle and try to correct first game sputters at 1 p.m. Sunday at McGlinn Field.

The two returning playoff teams ended last year's regular season with a combined record of 9-3; this year they are both winless.

Lewis was shutout by PE in its first game, 18-0, losing in every way possible: offensively, defensively and on special teams.

This game, however, Lewis will face a less challenging Walsh team which lost its opener in a heart-breaker to Lyons. Both the Chick and Wild Women offenses hope to improve on disappointing shutouts.

Because this game's winner will be back in the playoff hunt, these two teams should step up their play for this important match-up.

Pasquerilla East vs. Welsh

The Pyros and the Whirlwind meet in the early game at noon on Sunday. This will be a very intriguing game because both teams opened with impressive shutout victories.

The Pyros crushed Lewis 18-0 and Welsh shocked PW, 16-0. This game will show whether the Welsh team is for real. The Whirlwind will face an imposing Pyro defense which limited Lewis to only one first down. Their defense will also be tested by the offense, which features quarterback PE's Elizabeth Plummer.

PE has gone 18-1 in their last 19 games and are the front runners to take home their third-consecutive championship. Welsh's opening win against PW will concern the Pyros, and their offense with quarterback Stef Eden should give the outstanding Pyro defense some troubles.

The winner of this game will put itself in the driver's seat of the Blue League.

Lyons vs. Pasquerilla West

When Lyons and PW face off at 2 p.m. Sunday, it will be a match-up of teams with reversed fortunes from last year.

The Lions had a disappointing season last year in which they fell one game short of making the playoffs. However, they quickly put the memories of last year behind them, beating Walsh to start their season.

Katie Yanez and a very talented wide receiving core lead the Lions on offense, while a stingy defense should prove to be just as great a challenge to the Weasels as the Welsh defense.

The Purple Weasels, who went 6-0 during the regular season last year, found their opener to be a rude awakening to the '99 season as they were beat 16-0 by Welsh Family.

Andi Will, PW's quarterback, will try to bring together the Weasel offense, as PW's defense will need to tighten up if they hope to stop the Whirlwind.

Happy 21st Birthday TH, our "Rudy."
Keep living your dreams!!!

Love,
Mom, Dad, K.,
Grandma and Grandpa

Williamsburg On The Lake
302 Village Dr. • Mishawaka, IN 46545

Free Gas, Heat

Pets	Grad Students	Students	Blinds
Welcome	$20.00 a month disc.	Move-In Special	Provided

Call for Details
256-0237
TDD 1-800-326-9193 #719

Don't Pass Up This Opportunity

Abstract

God is a family, and discovering the familial nature of God is a key to unlocking the Bible. Also, with this observation, one may come to appreciate more deeply the spiritual meanings of human families, sex, chastity, oaths, and sacraments.

an evening with

Scott Hahn

Associate Professor of Theology and Scripture
Franciscan University of Steubenville

Hesburgh Library Auditorium

Friday, September 24

7:00PM

7:05PM

8:30PM

Introduction by the Most Rev. Daniel Jenky, Diocese of Fort Wayne/South Bend

"The Mystery of the Family"

"Sex, Lies, and Sacraments"

Offered in cooperation with: Children of Mary, Holy Cross Priests and Brothers Vocations Office, St. Thomas More Society, Schubmehl-Prein Chair Endowment, Advocates for the Faith (an unofficial group of Notre Dame students and faculty).

INTERHALL FOOTBALL

Breen-Phillips shuts out Badin

By STEVE DILLENBURGER
Sports Writer

The Breen-Phillips Babes showed Badin why they are the favorites to win the Gold Division.

BP's dynamic offense and solid defense boggled Badin in a lopsided 18-0 BP victory.

The Babes got on the board early as Karen Swanson ran one into the end zone in the opening minutes of the game.

Later in the first half, senior quarterback Jenny Choi scorched the Badin defense by hitting wide receiver Erin West down the sideline for the game's second score. This touchdown closed out the first half and took the Babes into halftime with a 12-0 lead.

Badin's offense began the second half and drove down the field to pull within one touchdown.

Choi ended this scoring drought by calling her own number as she scored on a keeper in the game's last minute.

"The offense finally picked up," West said after the game. The Babe Express moves to 2-0 as Badin falls to 0-1.

Cavanaugh vs. Pangborn

The Cavanaugh Chaos offense overpowered the Pangborn Phoxes in the first half, but it was the Chaos' second-half defense that earned them a 13-7 win.

After the teams went scoreless for the first part the first half, the action picked up. After a great play action fake by Cavanaugh's Mandy Reimer, the quarterback looked up and saw Megan Myers streaking down the sideline at least 20 yards away from any Phox. Myers caught a nice pass from Reimer and put six on the board.

"This is the first time playing flag football," Myers said, "and Mandy's throw was perfect."

Melissa Marchotte added the conversion to make the game 7-0.

The game then got even wilder. Pangborn had the ball deep in their own territory when the Chaos defense intercepted. Pangborn followed with a pick off only to see Cavanaugh intercept another pass.

Reimer hit Katie Burdick for the second Chaos score to put Cavanaugh up 13-0.

Pangborn's offense came to life in the second half. On its first possession Tia Vonil caught a screen pass and took it 50 yards into the end zone.

Casey McCluskey tacked on the conversion, bringing Pangborn within six, 13-7.

Farley vs. McGlenn

The late game of Wednesday night went down to the wire as Farley came away with a 7-0 victory.

The game was decided with five minutes left as Farley put together a drive to win the game.

The defenses dominated and the teams were unable to break the goal line. The half included an interception by Shamrock Lori Mergler.

Farley took possession with less than 10 minutes to play and marched down the field. With five minutes left, it went up 7-0.

McGlenn started a drive to attempt to tie the game and when it picked up a critical fourth down and five a win seemed possible.

Four straight incomplete passes, however, gave the ball and the game to Farley.

"We played awesome," Farley's Elizabeth Brown said.

azLearning.com

online learning solutions from a to z™

Study in your dorm via the Web. Teacher assisted classes utilizing real test questions.

Get Ready for the GMAT or LSAT !!!

- Online classes begin in October
- Enroll at www.azlearning.com
- Be your competitive best!!!

<http://www.azlearning.com/irish.html>

email: info@azlearning.com

Dance Party

ALL AGES WELCOME!!

Alumni-Senior Club
Saturday, September 25, 1999
9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

Free Drinks!
Free Wings and More!

Brought to you by the Student Activities Office.

Destined For Greatness!!

Happy 21st Birthday, Kelly Folks!

*We love you!
Mom, Dad,
Shannon,
Jenny and Bobby*

See What's New at Campus View!!

WE'VE REMODELED!

272-1441

1801 Irish Way

Call Now

Luxury Suites

www.nd.edu/~sub

$2

At Cushing Auditorium

Thursday @ 1030pm
September 23

Friday and Saturday @ 8pm & 1030pm

go

Soccer

continued from page 24

come up with five goals — a record low for any team in Irish men's soccer history. Erich Braun, who scored the game-winner against Boston College and the goal in the loss to Connecticut, has been the only repeat scorer for the Irish all season.

"The team's a little too excited," said forward Rafael Garcia. "It's just a matter of time before we explode. We definitely have some scorers on the team. Once we explode and start getting some more goals, we'll stay on top."

Staying on top this weekend is important. Head coach Mike Berticelli, in his 10th season with the Irish, is just one win away from reaching 100 wins. A victory this weekend would make him the second coach in Irish men's soccer history to accomplish the feat.

To put Berticelli over the century mark, the Irish will have to post wins against Saint Mary's and San Diego. Saint Mary's, a West Coast Conference team, has struggled this season. At 1-6-0, the Gaels have had trouble both offensively and defensively.

Opponents have scored multiple goals against the Gaels while holding the offense scoreless.

The Irish and the Gaels have taken the field against each other only one other time, and the Irish came out on last year with a 1-0 win in California.

The real test for the Irish this weekend will be against nationally ranked San Diego.

Holding the 16th spot in the country, the Toreros have had a stellar season to date. With a 6-0-0 record, they've breezed through the first half of this season's schedule.

The Irish will need to get past a stingy Torero backfield anchored by sophomore defender Eric Van Demen. While Notre Dame, has outshot its opponents in all but two games this season, the squad will need to capitalize on every opportunity to come out on top against the Toreros.

"Getting into an offensive rhythm takes time," said freshman midfielder Paul Rodriguez. "As an offensive player, all you can do is keep plugging away and being persistent in the attack — and then things will begin to happen."

On offense, Torero play-makers senior Brian O'Connor and sophomore Mike Pischerchio lead the San Diego squad front and could pose a big threat to Irish goalkeeper Gerick Short.

Even with two losses this season, Short has held his own against opponents. Tending goal for all 587 minutes of play this year, Short has recorded three shutouts and amassed 21 saves and a .840 save percentage. His play in goal has been critical for many close Irish wins this season.

This is the first meeting between the Irish and the Toreros.

The Saint Mary's tournament marks the last road trip for the Irish until mid-October.

"The team's a little too excited. It's just a matter of time before we explode. We definitely have some scorers on this team."

Rafael Garcia
Irish forward

VOLLEYBALL

Leffers ready to hit West Coast

By MATT OLIVA
Sports Writer

On a two-stop trip west this weekend, the Notre Dame women's volleyball team will attempt to carry last weekend's successful match-up with Miami (Ohio) and improve on its 5-2 record.

Tonight, Notre Dame will play Wyoming before moving on to Colorado State for a Saturday night match. The two matches will be the final preparation for Notre Dame before its Big East season opener against West Virginia on Oct. 1.

The Wyoming Cowgirls (5-6) return more than half of their starters from a team that went 16-14 in 1998. They are led by junior middle blocker Melody Frieauf, who is averaging 3.77 kills per game as well as a team best .397 hitting average.

Colorado State is currently ranked 17th in the nation, providing a test for the Irish. The Rams are off to a perfect start with a 10-0 record, led by outside hitter Catie Vagneur, who is averaging 3.91 kills and more than two digs per game. The Rams also have two other players with more than three kills per game.

"We are going to see stronger teams this weekend," said Irish junior outside hitter Christi Girton. "We have to keep building on our performance against from this past weekend."

The Irish have been getting quality performances from all members of their team. While Notre Dame is still stressing a team effort, several players have made major individual contributions so far.

Senior captain Mary Leffers is ranked second nationally in blocks per game. Her 1.90 mark has helped Notre Dame to its 18th-place rank in team blocking statistics with 3.1 blocks per game. Leffers was first in the Big East in blocks and hitting percentage (.360) in overall games when the Big East released its conference statistics Monday.

Kristy Kreher also was ranked fourth in hitting percentage, with a .336 average, and 10th in kills, with 3.42 per game. Malinda Goralski ranked fifth in both hitting percentage (.324) and blocks per game (1.05), while junior captain Denise Boylan was third in assists, averaging 11.76 per game.

The Irish will look for these players to continue to contribute as they prepare for their upcoming conference schedule.

ERASMUS BOOKS

- Used books bought and sold
- 25 Categories of Books
- 25,000 Hardback and Paperback books in stock
- Out-of-Print search service: $2.00
- Appraisals large and small

Open noon to six
Tuesday through Sunday
1027 E. Wayne
South Bend, IN 46617
(219) 232-8444

1999 Indiegrrr! Fall Tour

Coffee House Music

Tuesday, September 28
7:30 p.m.

For ticket information contact the Saint Mary's Box Office
284-4626

Saint Mary's College
MOREAU CENTER
FOR THE ARTS
NOTRE DAME, IN

cinema @ thesnite

"LIMBO" IS VITAL. PERSONAL FILMMAKING FROM A WORLD-CLASS PRACTITIONER OF THE ART. THIS IS ANOTHER ADVANCE FOR JOHN SAYLES."
Peter Travers, ROLLING STONE

OFFICIAL SELECTION
1999 CANNES FILM FESTIVAL

LIMBO

ACCLAIMED DIRECTOR JOHN SAYLES TAKES YOU TO THE HEART OF AMERICA'S LAST FRONTIER

www.sony.com

Fri. & Sat. 7:15 p.m. and 9:45 p.m.

presented by ND Film, Television, and Theatre
www.nd.edu/~cothweb

Coming Soon: Singin' in the Rain Mon. 7 p.m.

If our delicious, flame-broiled double cheeseburger were any bigger, we'd need to buy more ad space.

Nothing beats our big, juicy Double Cheeseburger. It's got the great taste of flame broiling and has 75% more beef than McDonald's Cheeseburger.

(Price and participation may vary.)
The Huddle - LaFortune Student Center

It just tastes better.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

ND to take on Big East rivals

Observer Staff Report

After a week spent refocusing and regrouping after its loss to Southern Methodist University on Sunday, the Notre Dame women's soccer team travels to New Jersey to take on Big East rivals Seton Hall and Rutgers.

Last year, Seton Hall dealt Notre Dame its second conference loss and first loss to an unranked team since 1990, when the Pirates topped the Irish 3-2 in overtime. Despite last year's loss, Notre Dame still leads the all-time series with Seton Hall, 3-1.

Seton Hall is led by one of the most dangerous offensive players in the country in senior forward Kelly Smith. Smith is the preseason Big East offensive player of the year. She led the NCAA in scoring in 1998 with two goals per game and 4.29 points per game. Smith scored the first goal in Pirates 1998 victory.

Senior forward Jenny Heft provided the Irish scoring in 1998's loss to the Hall. Heft scored both Irish goals. She added 26 more goals in 1998 to set an Irish record for goals in a season. Her 28 goals gave her 60 goals in her career. She has added two more goals in

JOHN DAILY/The Observer

Senior forward Iris Lancaster dribbles past a Butler defender in a recent game. The Irish take on Rutgers and Seton Hall this weekend.

1999 and is closing in on Monica Gerado's career record for goals at 78.

On Sunday, the Irish will meet the Scarlet Knights of Rutgers. Notre Dame defeated Rutgers 3-0 last year. Paced by Lindsey Jones' first career goal in the first minute of action, the Irish jumped out to an early 1-0 lead and never looked back en route to a 3-0 win. The Irish also got goals from Meotis Erikson and Jenny Streiffer.

Rutgers is led by goalkeeper Angel Hadaway who leads the Big East with a .45 goals against average. She has been instrumental in the Scarlet Knights 4-1 record. On Shannon, Rutgers is led by Shannone Nagle and Alyssa Radu. Each has scored three goals in the Knights' first five games.

Football

continued from page 24

ran out in the third quarter.

As the final quarter opened, the Irish finally got on the board. Pilney hit Frank Gaul for an 11-yard gain to the Buckeye 1-yard line. Steve Miller plunged across the goal line on the next play for the touchdown.

The Irish missed the extra point, however, and still trailed the Buckeyes 13-6.

The Irish still trailed by seven when they got the ball at their own 20-yard line with less than three minutes remaining in the game. Pilney quickly led the Irish into Buckeye territory with his slashing running style and into striking distance of the Ohio State end zone.

From the 33-yard line, Pilney dropped back to pass. He found Layden open in the end zone for a touchdown as the Buckeye lead fell to just one. The Irish once again missed the extra point, and it seemed as though the Buckeyes would escape with a 13-12 lead.

With 81,000 fans screaming, Layden called for an onside kick. Ohio State, however, recovered and it appeared that victory was in hand. With less than a minute left, the Buckeyes only had to refrain from fumbling to win the game.

With odds heavily stacked in the Buckeyes' favor, Pilney struck again. On first down, he hit Buckeye tailback Dick Beltz and forced him to cough up the football. Henry Pojman recovered for the Irish and the stage was set for a dramatic conclusion.

Pilney broke free for 30 yards on first down and got Notre Dame down to the OSU 19-yard line before he was forced out of bounds. That 30-yard scamper would be Pilney's last play of the day, however, as he tore cartilage in his knee and had to be carried from the field.

With Pilney on the sidelines, Irish All-American Bill Shakespeare took over passing duties for the Irish.

Shakespeare's first pass was nearly a tragedy. Beltz stepped in front of the pass and nearly made up for his earlier fumble by killing the Irish drive with an interception. Beltz, however, could not hang on and the ball fell to the turf.

On second down, Shakespeare dropped back to pass again. Shakespeare spotted Wayne Miller open in the end zone for the winning touchdown. The ensuing extra-point was again missed but victory was already in hand, 18-12.

The Irish followed their emotional victory over the Buckeyes with a 14-7 loss to the Wildcats of Northwestern the following Saturday, thus ending any hope for a national title.

When sportswriters voted on the best game of the first 50 years of the 20th century, however, the 1935 battle between the Irish and the Buckeyes was the overwhelming winner.

Leader/Manager.

Full-time college students or graduates.

$31K starting salary. Summer interns available.

U.S.M.C. Officer Programs.

Contact Lt. Simek at 765-743-8359.

INTERHALL FOOTBALL

Young, defensive teams to gain experience

By STEVE KEPPEL
Sports Writer

Two young, defensive teams will face off at 4 p.m. Sunday.

McGlenn (0-1-1) comes off a heartbreaking 7-0 loss to Farley and a tie with Pangborn last week. On the upside, their defense has only given up one touchdown, but their offense has failed to put any points on the board.

Badin (0-1) comes off a tough 18-point loss against undefeated Breen-Phillips.

"We need to work on defense," Badin quaterback Prissy Clements said. "We have a lot of young people."

Despite the inexperience, Clements has faith the team will be competitive, especially offensively.

"We completed more passes against BP than we did all last year," said Clements. "[McGlenn is] going to be good and our offense is going to have to step up."

Cavanaugh vs. Farley

The 5 p.m. game Sunday should be a hard fought battle between Cavanaugh and Farley.

Cavanaugh, a playoff team last season, comes off a disappointing opening-day loss to Howard. Farley has evened out its record, posting 1-1 after a loss to BP and a 7-0 win over McGlenn.

Farley's stifling defense has only given up one touchdown in two games and seems confident about the latest victory.

The Irish defense held McGlenn to no first downs for much of the game.

"Our defense is a cohesive unit and as well as the defense does well, we'll be in good shape," said defensive lineman Jennifer Ross.

On offense, Farley wide receivers Lindsey Kosinski and Mia Banas should make things happen. They both had solid games last week.

27th Annual

Pulliam Journalism Fellowships

Graduating college seniors are invited to apply for the 27th annual Pulliam Journalism Fellowships. We will grant 10-week summer internships to 20 journalism or liberal arts majors in the August 1999-June 2000 graduating classes.

Previous internship or part-time experience at a newspaper is desired, or other demonstration of writing and reporting ability. Those who go through the Fellowships often find new professional opportunities opening up at other newspapers during and after the program. Winners will receive a $5,500 stipend and will work at either The Indianapolis Star or The Arizona Republic. Opportunities for online training are available, along with reporting experience at our major metropolitan daily newspapers.

Early-admissions application postmark deadline is Nov. 15, 1999. By Dec. 15, 1999, up to five early-admissions winners will be notified. All other entries must be postmarked by March 1, 2000, and will be considered with remaining early-admissions applicants. Successful applicants will be notified on or before April 1, 2000, and will be asked to respond immediately with a letter of intent, at which time one-third of the cash grant will be mailed to the Fellow.

To request an application packet, visit our Web site, e-mail us or write:

Web site: www.starnews.com/pjf
E-mail: pulliam@starnews.com

Russell B. Pulliam
Pulliam Fellowships Director
Indianapolis Newspapers
P.O. Box 145
Indianapolis, IN 46206-0145

Planning to Study Abroad? Syracuse has your ticket!

SEE DR. ALEX MEDINA ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 27 FROM 4 - 5:30 PM IN ROOM 204,
DEBARTOLO HALL. WE CAN HELP YOU WITH YOUR PLANS TO STUDY ABROAD.

SYRACUSE STUDY ABROAD

119 Euclid Ave./Box D Syracuse, NY 13244
800 235 3472 suabroad@sy.edu
<http://sumweb.syr.edu/dipa>

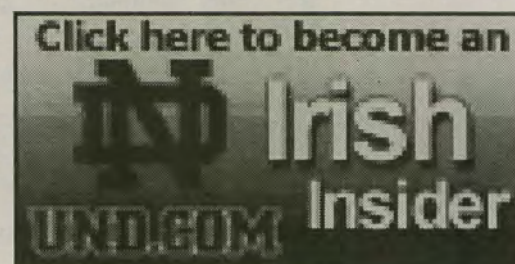

Irish Insider

Beginning in September, UND.com will offer a subscription service called the Irish Insider.

The Insider will feature:

- Bi-Weekly Bob Davie Column
- Game Analysis
- Player Diaries
- Previews
- Video Playbook from the Coach's Edge
- Exclusive Irish Features

Also included in the Insider Package:

- Weekly Ticket Giveaways for Football and Men's Basketball Games
- Big East Tournament Ticket Giveaways
- Bowl Game Ticket Giveaways
- Discounts and Coupons for the Notre Dame Online Store

Become an Irish Insider!!

Sign up to become an Irish Insider and receive a Notre Dame t-shirt!
The first 500 subscribers will receive a Notre Dame football yearbook!

Click here and get it all by becoming an Irish Insider.

INTERHALL FOOTBALL

Juggernauts prepare to contend with evil forces

By RACHEL BIBER
Sports Writer

The Juggernauts of Knott Hall will try to contend with evil forces of Zahm in their match-up Sunday.

"Zahm is known for their evil tendencies," said Mario Suarez, captain and quarterback of the Juggernauts, "and they definitely show it on the football field."

Both teams head into this weekend's game with 0-1 records and are looking to put one in the win column.

"I expect a good game," noted Zahm captain Mike Garko. "They have a good defense."

After a week of practice, the Zahmbies will not alter their approach for Sunday's game, Garko explained.

However, it seems last week's defeat has taken a toll on Knott. "We only had five guys at our last practice," said Suarez, "And we're struggling to recoup."

Suarez sees the "Red Swarm" defense as a definite threat, and is ready for the fierceness the dorm displays every year.

"Zahm is usually good, but we're looking to solidify our defense and move the ball consistently on offense," he said.

Siegfried vs. Fisher

The Ramblers of Siegfried hope to feed off their emotional high from last Sunday's 3-0 defeat over rival Knott Hall to secure a second win over 1-0 Fisher.

"The win got our team up," said Siegfried quarterback Rob

Plumby. "The attitude of our team is high."

Plumby noted that his offense could have contributed more in the battle against Knott, but is confident his team — offense and defense — will produce on Sunday.

"Knott was a big game," said Plumby, "and it was a hard-hitting game."

The Ramblers scoped out Fisher's play during last week's match-ups, and plans to adjust accordingly.

"We look to change up our defense to adjust to Fisher's tendencies," noted Plumby. "We adjusted our offense."

Fisher's captain Dean Korolis is confident the Green Wave will imitate last week's winning play.

"Our focus is to manage long consistent offensive drives, and play good defense again," he said. However, Korolis said he hopes to see his team unveil some surprises on Sunday and "show new looks" to secure a win and remain undefeated.

"They should be a good team, and we'll see how it goes on Sunday," Korolis said.

Hall.

"We are staying with what we did last week," said Sorin captain Fred Faber.

However, the team still seems to be celebrating last week's victory over Zahm, evidenced by low practice attendance.

"This week of practice has been terrible," noted Faber. "We've had less than half of the team for practices."

"This week's practice has been intense," said captain Nick Sciola, "and we're trying to stay focused."

Sciola hopes to erase the curse of bad showings in second games that has plagued his team in recent years. "We are usually bad after the first or second game," said Sciola. "We are keeping our mindset."

"We'll try to run the ball," Faber said. "Running defense is something we want to prove."

After a poor offensive show in last week's loss, Sciola knows his team has to improve in order to lock up a win.

"We need more production from the offense since we haven't scored yet," said Sciola. "We need to start right away against Sorin."

St. Ed's spirits are high despite a disheartening first-game loss, and they expect to stand as a threat to Sorin.

"Our morale is high," Sciola said, "and people are expecting victory."

Sorin vs. St. Ed's

Sorin's Screaming Otters hope to support another offensive show starring Greg "Hollywood" Carney and quarterback Luke Beuerlein this Sunday as they face off against 0-1 St. Edward's

University of Notre Dame Department of Music Guest Artist Series

Quink
A Dutch Vocal Cappella Ensemble

Sunday, September 26, 1999
8 pm, Hesburgh Library Auditorium

For more information please call 1-6201 or visit our web site at www.nd.edu/~music

Tickets: $3 Students, $6 Senior Citizens, $8 ND/SMC Community, $10 General Admission. Tickets available at the LaFortune Box Office or charge by phone 1-8128.

Embracing the season,

while indulging in the festivity of the harvest.

Sorins introduces dining in the true spirit of Notre Dame.

Presenting menus that compliment the fall season with the finest foods it has to offer. Be our guest at Sorins and celebrate a change in dining.

Visit us within The Morris Inn.

YOU JUST FOUND A DIAMOND IN A MOUNTAIN OF ROCKS.

Looking for a fun and rewarding PART-TIME job?

Omnipoint has the perfect position for you! A leader in the wireless industry, we are currently seeking part-time employees to help us expand our fast growing market.

PRODUCT SAMPLERS

10-15 Hours per week (Weekend hours required)
$10 per hour PLUS commissions!

If you enjoy meeting people - want to gain selling experience - want to learn more about the explosive telecommunications business AND want a FREE PCS Digital Phone, then OMNIPOINT wants to speak with you!

For immediate consideration, fax, e-mail or call today! Fax: 317-347-7024.

E-mail: bhatcher@omnipoint-pcs.com Ph: 317-347-7100. An EOE, we screen candidates for a drug-free work environment.

OMNIPOINT
WHERE PROMISING FUTURES ARE TAKING SHAPE.
www.omnipoint.com

Happy 21st Birthday Mags!

Follow your dream... to Club!

Love,
The Girls of 1637
tc and "the PKG"

Kerasotes Theatres FREE REFILL On Popcorn & Soft Drinks!
Movies with Magic • visit our website at www.kerasotes.com

SHOWPLACE 16
ALL STADIUM SEATING • ALL DIGITAL SOUND
Just West of Main St. on Chippewa • 299-6063 never a blocked view Students and Seniors $4.00 Anytime

$4.00 All Shows Before 6 pm • Advance Ticket Sales Available ♿

All Times for September 24-26		Sat. & Sun Matinees in [Brackets]
Jakob The Liar (PG-13) Digital	[1:10] 3:50 6:40 9:40	For Love of the Game (PG-13) Digital	[1:00] 4:00 7:00 10:00
Double Jeopardy (R) Digital	[2:00] 4:30 7:10 9:45	Runaway Bride (PG) Digital	[2:20] 5:20 7:45 10:20
Mumford (R) Digital	[2:50] 5:30 8:00 10:30	Bowfinger (PG-13) Digital	[3:10] 5:40 8:20 10:35
Blue Streak (PG-13) Digital	[1:45] 4:20 6:50 9:20	Stigmata (R) Digital	[3:00] 5:25 8:10 10:25
Sixth Sense (PG-13) Digital	[2:30] 5:00 7:30 10:10	Stir of Echoes (R) Digital	[2:45] 5:10 7:50 10:20
Deep Blue Sea (R) Digital	[*3:15] 5:35 8:15 10:40	Inspector Gadget (PG) Digital	[2:40] 4:50 7:05
Tarzan (G) Digital	(* no show on Sat. or Sun.)	The 13th Warrior (R) Digital	[1:30] 4:10 7:15 9:55
	1:30 3:40 Sat. and Sun only!	Thomas Crown Affair (R) Digital	[1:20] 4:10 7:15 9:55

SCOTTSDALE 6 ONLY $1.00 All Shows Before 6 pm Everyone • Everyday Scottsdale Mall • 299-6063 $1.50 All Evening Shows ♿

Star Wars Episode I: Phatom (PG)	[1:00] 4:00 7:00 9:50	The General's Daughter (R)	[1:20] 4:30 7:10 10:00
Tarzan (G)	[2:00] 4:20 6:40 8:50	Wild Wild West (PG-13)	[1:30] 4:50 7:20 9:45
Notting Hill (PG-13)	[1:10] 4:10 6:50 9:40	Big Daddy (PG-13)	[1:40] 4:40 7:30 9:35

INTERHALL FOOTBALL

Keenan, Stanford prepare for neighborhood rivalry

By KEVIN BERCHOU
Sports Writer

Interhall football will become "innerhall" football on Sunday.

Stanford and Keenan players, residents of the same building, will square off for neighborhood bragging rights at 3 p.m.

Both teams enter Week 2 riding high, as each was able to knock off its respective opening opponent by identical 14-0 scores.

Keenan bested a very game Morissey Manor squad on the strength of a rock solid defense, led by senior star Doug Kraft who contributed two sacks and added a clutch fumble recovery that led to the winning score.

The Knights, however, are by no means one-dimensional.

They sport an opportune offense that is quick to capitalize off opponent's miscues. Freshman quarterback Billy Ellsworth overcame a shaky first half in last Sunday's opener, throwing a fourth-and-goal touchdown pass to senior wideout J.J. Frigge late in the fourth quarter to secure victory.

The passing attack is complemented by the sterling abilities of bruising tailback Nick Costanzo whose 13-yard scamper ended up being all that was necessary to best Morissey.

"Last week was a great confidence builder," said Keenan captain Herb Giorgio. "We're still a long way from where we need to be, but we're getting there."

Stanford comes into this week's showdown having shut down a formidable Keough team 14-0.

Like their opponents this week, the Griffins boast a dominant defense anchored by a strong front three.

Captain John Dickas, along with fellow defensive linemen Dave Hunt and Shamus Rohn lead a defense that limited Keough to just twelve yards of first half offense.

"Our 'D' is awesome," said Dickas. "We just keep attacking."

Stanford's potent offensive attack rounds out a solid team.

Boasting an all-star backfield consisting of fullback J.C. Perez and tailbacks Chris Heid and Curt Roberts, the Griffins showcase an I-formation and will aim to wear down the defense with repeated rush attempts.

Adding fuel to the fire is the fact that Keenan enters Week 2 action on an impressive 15-game winning streak, and is the two-time defending champion of interhall football.

The Knights are pressured to extend their mark, while the Griffins thirst to begin a streak.

"Keenan is the team to beat," said Stanford captain Dickas.

"We were impressed with their passing attack, but with our defense I think we're definitely capable of ending this winning streak."

Both teams are approaching the contest as if their seasons hang in the balance.

"This is the big one," said Giorgio. "We were probably lucky to beat them last year, and this time we want to play a better game."

"We take the Keenan game seriously no matter what," noted Dickas.

"It's one of the biggest rivalries on campus, and that streak of theirs definitely motivates us."

All signs point to this being an extremely hard-fought, close game. With both teams featuring dominant defensive units, an early score might be all that's needed to claim an entire year's worth of bragging rights.

JEFF HSU/The Observer

A Stanford running back lunges for a few extra yards in a recent game. Stanford faces rival Keenan Sunday afternoon.

VOLLEYBALL

Bill leads Belles to victory

By KATIE MCVOY
Sports Writer

The Belles' volleyball team defeated Olivet Wednesday, 3-1.

Saint Mary's took the first game, 15-11. That win gave them momentum for the rest of the match.

Although they dropped the second game, the Belles kept control.

"Overall, things went well," head coach Randa Shields said. "Although there were moments when we lost some of our focus, we still played well enough to win."

Saint Mary's took the third game, 15-4, and the fourth game, 15-9.

Leading the offense was Agnes Bill with 20 kills and 15 digs for the night. Helping Bill were Emily Nihill with 14 kills, Angie Meyer with 14 digs, Victoria Butcko with 2 aces and Suzanne Martin with 46 assists.

Jayne Ozbolt and Jolie LeBeau led the defense with 8 and 5 blocks, respectively.

Saint Mary's is now 1-0 in conference play and 6-5 overall for the season.

The Belles play a double-header, facing Alma College and Adrian College at home Saturday, starting at 1 p.m.

Domer Run '99
A Benefit for the Catherine Peachey Fund, Inc. for Breast Cancer Research

3 & 6 MILE RUNS, 2 MILE WALK AND PANCAKE BREAKFAST
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25
11:00 - STEPAN CENTER

T-SHIRTS TO ALL FINISHERS
REGISTER IN ADVANCE AT RECSPORTS
$6.00 IN ADVANCE AND $7.00 DAY OF RACE
DEADLINE FOR ADVANCE REGISTRATION IS 9/24/99 AT 5:00PM
STUDENT AND STAFF DIVISIONS

RecSports

ATTENTION
UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE STUDENTS WORLDWIDE

CAMPUSCAREERCENTER.COM

PURSUE JOB AND INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES THAT SPAN THE GLOBE

CampusCareerCenter.com
The world's largest campus job fair

CATERING

Distinctive Catering for any Occasion.
Your Office, Home or One of Our Unique Banquet Rooms.

Catering for Graduation Parties and Dances!!!

Call today and have one of our Event Coordinators help you plan your next event.

235 • 9985 UPPER DECK

FOURTH AND INCHES

TOM KEELEY

FOX TROT

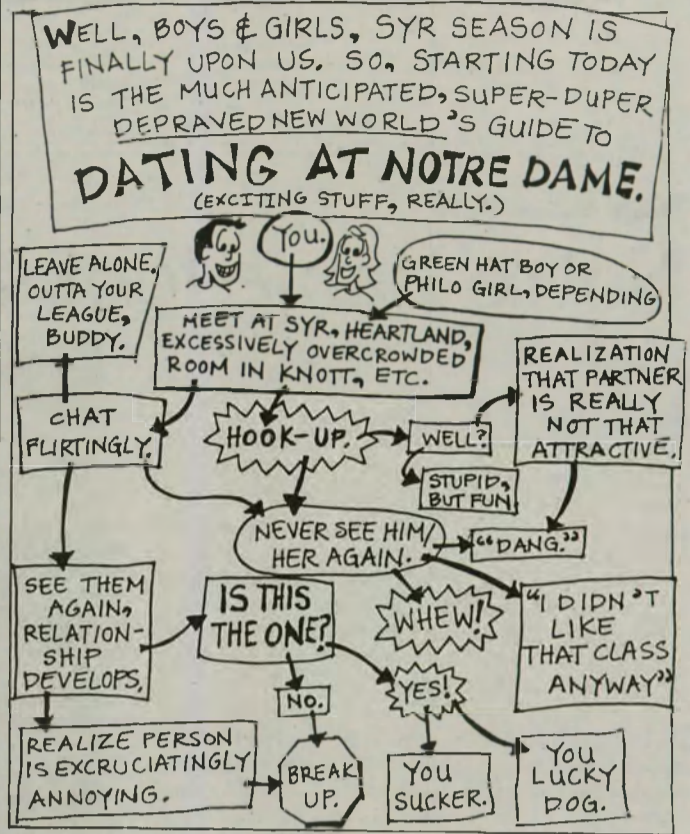

BILL AMEND

AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA

A DEPRAVED NEW WORLD

JEFF BEAM

beam.1@nd.edu

CROSSWORD

- ACROSS
- 1 Popular fund-raising event
 - 10 High-powered language?
 - 15 W.W. II British fighter plane
 - 16 Jazz composer Guaraldi
 - 17 Renounces
 - 18 Actress Susan
 - 19 One using a cat-o'-nine-tails
 - 20 Subs
 - 22 Tasseled cap
 - 23 Mellow-toned
 - 25 City
 - 26 Reduces gradually
 - 28 "Uh-uh"
 - 31 Shares
 - 35 Bristle: Prefix
 - 36 Big bill
 - 38 Extremists
 - 40 Percy — inventor of the microwave oven
 - 42 No less than
 - 43 — shanter
 - 45 Scratched (out)
 - 46 Cath. or Hind., e.g.
 - 47 Financial
 - 49 Miss
 - 51 Shoe sound
 - 53 E.R. technique
 - 56 Less forgiving
 - 59 Rogue
- DOWN
- 1 Refuse
 - 2 Declining currency
 - 3 Ball's partner
 - 4 Scandinavian god of fertility
 - 5 Clemson athlete
 - 6 Most alarming
 - 7 It's sometimes passed
 - 8 What a foul might result in
 - 9 — Bank
 - 10 Fade away
 - 11 Watches
 - 12 Like some gasolines
 - 13 Garbage pail, maybe
 - 14 Frame insert
 - 21 Fruit drink
 - 24 Tops
 - 27 Cheerless
 - 29 To — (exactly)
 - 30 Large number
 - 31 Industry magnate
 - 61 Skilled force
 - 62 Self-reliant
 - 64 "Doe, —" (song lyric)
 - 65 Deferral
 - 66 Versifiers
 - 67 Stay home, maybe

Puzzle by Rich Norris

- 32 River to the Ubangi
- 33 Lot to ask
- 34 Pavement caution
- 37 Ship's hdg.
- 39 Kind of club
- 41 Agile equine
- 44 Increase
- 48 Sheraton Hotels owner
- 50 Stuck
- 52 Small amount
- 53 Small part
- 54 Small wound
- 55 Uncertain
- 56 Sore point?
- 57 "Hooray for me!"
- 58 1957 Lancaster role
- 60 Fish also called "blue jack"
- 63 Maria lead-in

Answers to any three clues in this puzzle are available by touch-tone phone: 1-900-420-5656 (95¢ per minute). Annual subscriptions are available for the best of Sunday crosswords from the last 50 years: 1-888-7-ACROSS.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

HOROSCOPE

EUGENIA LAST

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DAY: Ben Vereen, David Lee Roth, Tanya Tucker, Richard Jaeckel

Happy Birthday: You'll be ready to take on the world, but before you do, think twice. You'll be tempted to overreach your bounds this year, and if you do you'll fall short of your goals. Don't let others lead you astray. You can't do everything for everyone else. This is a year to put your efforts into your own projects. Don't feel guilty; just do what's best for you. Your numbers: 9, 18, 27, 36, 45, 47

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Your enthusiasm will be your savior. Keep busy and you will spare yourself unnecessary confrontations. Coworkers may try to put words in your mouth. Control your temper and spare your reputation. ○○○○

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Be precise in your communications. Do not overload your plate. Your reputation will suffer if you don't live up to the commitments you have agreed to. ○○○

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You can spend money on yourself, but don't throw cash away on a risky investment. Doing things with children will be most rewarding. ○○○

CANCER (June 21-July 22): It's time to set a strict budget and stick to it. Personal financial problems may lead to losses if you haven't made arrangements to cut your overhead. Self-deception must be avoided. ○○○

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You can ask for favors. Be your charming self and you'll be surprised how many love interests you will entice. The limelight will be yours if you want it. ○○○○

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your options are expanding. Go after the career that appeals to you the most, not the one that pays the most. You need to like what you do in order to be happy. ○○

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Work on making yourself the best you can be. Watch your health. You will get run down if you have taken on too much or overindulged yourself. Changes in your home may not be to your liking. ○○○○○

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Look into ways of making life a little simpler for your older family members. You can take care of matters pertaining to your home with ease today. ○○○

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Do the best job possible and you will find that the problems will dissipate. Don't let emotions interfere with your work performance. Quitting will not be the answer. ○○○

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You should try to get out to the theater. You need a break and so does your emotional partner. Look into vacation spots that you'd both enjoy. ○○○

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Real estate deals can be quite profitable. Don't hesitate to make changes to your home. New products or appliances will help in more ways than you can imagine. ○○○○○

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Sign up for or start new courses today. You need a little stimulation. Look to what unique or creative subjects are being offered. You will develop new and lasting friendships through your studies. ○○

Birthdays: You are a proud little tyke and an extremely sensitive individual. You pick up on what others are thinking and you instinctively know how others feel about you. You must learn to look out for yourself at an early age in order to avoid the disappointment that can result when you depend on others.

(Need advice? Visit Eugenia on the Web at www.astradvice.com or www.eugenialast.com.)

© 1998 Universal Press Syndicate

Visit The Observer on the web at <http://observer.nd.edu/>

THE OBSERVER

Published Monday through Friday, The Observer is a vital source of information on people and events in the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's Community.

Join the more than 13,000 readers who have found The Observer an indispensable link to the two campuses. Please complete the accompanying form and mail it today to receive The Observer in your home.

Make checks payable to:
and mail to:

The Observer
P.O. Box Q
Notre Dame, IN 46556

- Enclosed is $85 for one academic year
- Enclosed is $45 for one semester

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

SPORTS

page 24

THE OBSERVER

Friday, September 24, 1999

Heading East
After a week of refocusing,
the Irish women's soccer team travels to the East Coast this weekend to take on Big East rivals Seton Hall and Rutgers.
page 19

MEN'S SOCCER

Notre Dame looks to kick road woes in California

By KERRY SMITH
Sports Writer

Road trips are tough for any team, but especially when it faces adversity along the way.

Such is the case for the Notre Dame men's soccer team, which begins its weekend at the Saint Mary's Tournament today against host Saint Mary's (Calif.) and finishes up against San Diego on Sunday.

The Irish's two games this weekend will close out a four-game away series that so far has not gone along with Irish plans.

Notre Dame traveled east last weekend for two important games against Big East rivals Seton Hall and Connecticut, but poor weather conditions forced the cancellation of the Seton Hall game.

They were able to match up with the Huskies, but couldn't come away with a win, as the Huskies handed them a 2-1 overtime loss.

"Away games add some extra stress to playing," said midfielder Alan Lyskawa. "You're away from a familiar environment and you have to play under different conditions and in a completely different setting."

The Irish look to regroup and put on a strong performance in California this weekend. Increased potency on offense will be critical for the squad if Notre Dame plans to walk away with a pair of wins.

With a 3-2-1 record, the Irish have struggled trying to put the ball in the net. The team has been concentrating on its attack in practice, hoping to score more goals when it counts.

"Not scoring many goals has a lot to do with young players who aren't as composed around the net as others might be," said Lyskawa. "Getting everyone involved in the game is a big step and hopefully the goals will start to come."

"One reason [for not scoring many goals] is that at the beginning of the season we focused a lot on defense in practice. Now the coaches have shifted gears a little — we've been concentrating on making scoring opportunities and finishing our plays," Lyskawa said.

In six games, Notre Dame has only managed

see SOCCER/page 18

Irish freshman forward Erich Braun moves the ball past the defender in a recent game against Cleveland State. The men's soccer team takes on Saint Mary's and San Diego this weekend.

KEVIN DALUM/The Observer

FOOTBALL HISTORY

1935 Irish spoil season for famed Buckeyes

Editor's note: Notre Dame's journey to achieve designation as the 20th century's greatest college football team is marked by 10 milestones, one each decade since 1990. The Observer examines these moments in a 10-part series that appear on Fridays.

By MIKE CONNOLLY
Associate Sports Editor

Four years after Knute Rockne's death and more than a decade after the Four Horsemen galloped down the gridiron, former Horseman and head coach Elmer Layden led his 5-0 Irish squad into Buckeye Stadium to take on top-ranked Ohio State.

They left with one of the most dramatic victories in Notre Dame history.

The Buckeyes rode on an offense that featured nearly 300 different plays from seven formations into the showdown with the Irish. Many sports-writers had already penciled in Ohio State as their choice for the 1935 national champion and gave Notre Dame little chance of winning on the road.

The first half seemed to fulfill the expectations.

"I had never seen a Notre Dame offense so completely stopped," writer Francis Wallace said. "When the Irish passed, the ball was intercepted and converted into a touchdown. It was difficult to get a running play started against the hard-charging Ohio State line. It was even hard to get a punt away."

Ohio State looked exactly like a top-ranked undefeated squad in the first half as they completely dominated Notre Dame. The scoring began early in the first quarter for the Buckeyes.

Frank Antenucci stepped in front of Irish halfback Mike Layden's pass and then lateraled the ball to Arthur Boucher. Boucher returned the ball 70 yards for an early first-quarter touchdown and a 7-0 Buckeye lead.

An Irish turnover at the close of the first quarter led to another Buckeye touchdown. Stanley Pincura intercepted a pass near midfield and sparked the Ohio State scoring drive. The Buckeyes utilized a lateral attack to move to the Irish 15 in six plays. Joe Williams then broke through the Irish line and stretched the Buckeye lead to 13. The extra point was no good and Ohio State led 13-0 heading into halftime.

There was no "Win One For The Gipper" talk at halftime or any great strategy changes. Layden merely encouraged his team to "win this half for themselves." Layden's halftime speech may not go down with any of Rockne's for its poetry or elegance, but it did its job as a different Irish squad emerged from the locker room.

The third quarter did not see Notre Dame put a touchdown on the board, but the Irish offense moved the ball better and the defense held the Buckeye attack in check. The second half also saw Irish halfback Andy Pilney take over the game.

After Notre Dame pinned Ohio State deep within its own territory, the Buckeyes were forced to punt. The punt was short, however, and Pilney returned the kick to the Buckeye 12-yard line as time

see FOOTBALL/page 19

SPORTS
AT A GLANCE

vs. Oklahoma
October 2, 1:30 p.m.

at Seton Hall
Today, 1 p.m.

at St. Mary's Tournament
Moraga, California
Friday-Sunday

Volleyball
at Wyoming
Today, 7 p.m.

Saint Mary's Volleyball
vs. Alma College
Saturday, 1 p.m.

Saint Mary's Golf
at Hope College
Sunday, 1 p.m.