Does This State Your Case?

The following commentary is taken from a questionnaire of an infrequent communicant. It is too good to hold 12 months for publication.

"There are a lot of things we do or rather a number of things we don't do, that we never think of. This little questionnaire has got me to thinking, and I see what a fool I am with myself. When I can't tell myself why I don't do certain things I'm surely fooling myself. More power to you and your work--and I hope---more sense to myself."

Note: If the author of this excellent bit of self-analysis will make himself known to the Prefect of Religion, he will be benefited both spiritually and materially. His talent should not be buried.

Obituary.

Prayers are requested for the repose of the soul of His Holiness Pope Benedict XV and the soul of Mrs. McAlister, mother of two students in Moreau Seminary.

The Sick.

Three students ask prayers for sick relatives. Students are also requested to pray that their school and their homes may be spared from contagious diseases. It is reported that "flu" is raging in Europe and has reached New York. Through prayer and sane hygienic precautions we may be spared this visitation.

Thanksgiving For Examinations.

The curve of daily Communions shows a decline from Wednesday to Saturday. Don't forget to thank the Holy Ghost.
