

The President's Feast Day.

Thursday, Sept. 22, is the feast of St. Matthew, the patron of the President of the University. Old students who have known Father Walsh will be glad to remember him in Holy Communion tomorrow morning, and Freshmen will do well to imitate the example of the upperclassmen.

Obituary.

Prayers are requested for the repose of the souls of: ^{Archie} Antonio Gomez, a Mexican student, accidentally killed on his way to Notre Dame; a relative of Cyril Birbeck; William O'Rourke, of the class of 1921; Charles Haggerty, '12; Edmund Watters, '17; Sister Innocenza and Sister Gertrude, of the Sisters of Holy Cross.

The Sick.

Four students ask prayer for relatives who are sick.

Servers.

Several servers are needed for Masses at different hours, from 5:00 till 7:00 every morning.

The Weather.

Thermometer and barometer have worked against a good start this year. Since Sunday ~~and~~ the number of Communion has been less than last year. Monday was cold; Tuesday and Wednesday mornings were damp. Try to rise above the weather.

Athletic Notes.

The first team of the varsity has already reported in the basement chapel.

Hear Mass.

When you enter the basement chapel, look around for the Mass that is beginning and remain for the whole Mass if you can.

The Pamphlet.

Send copies of the pamphlet, * "Intimate Experiences with ~~RM~~ Frequent Communion" Back to your pastor and your old school.
