

Religious Bulletin.

Feb. 1, 1923.

Sheep.

Catholics will never have lay leadership in this country until they out-grow a lot of moss-back conventionalities and cultivate courage. And courage-- fortitude -- is a gift of the Holy Ghost. It is a spiritual force: it needs spiritual food. Daily Communion gives fortitude. Some of the brainiest Catholics in the United States lack the courage of their convictions because they have not cultivated the spiritual talents God gave them.

First Friday Program.

5:45 -- Blessing of candles.

6:20 -- Mass (Students attend).

7:00 A.M. -- 7:00 P.M. Exposition and Adoration.

7:30 P.M. -- Benediction.

Confessions tonight and tomorrow morning -- but go tonight if possible.
Holy Communion until 8:15 in the Walsh Hall Chapel.

Buy a Bulletin, Mister?

Many requests are received for old copies of the Bulletin for wall paper. A priest in South Carolina has sent in a subscription. If enough students are interested to permit economical printing, the Bulletin will be mimeographed to sell for one cent a copy, or twenty-five cents a month. Place your name in the box at the pamphlet rack if you want the Daily Bulletin delivered to you.

A Feast Day.

Sunday will be the feast-day of the Superior-General of the Congregation of Holy Cross, Fr. Francais. On Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the students are requested to remember him in Holy Communion. Fr. Francais has been a priest fifty-one years and Superior-General thirty years. He has prayed for you fifty-one years: pray for him the next three days.

The Advantage of Adversity.

A flunk, like any other adversity, is a grace from God if it is used to right advantage. You know what Job said: "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away. As it hath pleased the Lord so is it done. Blessed be the name of the Lord." -- Job. 1: 21.

Notes and Remarks.

Achitophel has chosen to represent Sorin Hall at the First Friday Adoration. Fine! He can make an hour of reparation for corridor profanity.

January Communions.

The total was 17,714, a daily average of 656, as compared with 14,827 and 593 last year. Subtracting Freshman Hall this year the average was 609.
