Please Help the Blind!

A single-file procession of all the blind in the United States would reach from South Bend to Elkhart. Most of this blindness has been caused by sins of impurity -- not on the part of the blind, but on the part of their fathers or mothers -- or both. Respect the rights of the unborn.

Pray for Sinners.

Your prayers during adoration today may obtain for some poor sinner the grace to make a good confession. Be generous.

Sheep.

If human respect bothers you, the quickest way to get rid of it is to make the Way of the Cross frequently. This public act of devotion overcomes pride, and the meditation on the mysteries will show you how Our Lord valued the human soul.

How to Grow Wise.

Do you know Brother Columba? He retired from the cobbler's shop to the Community House a few years ago. In many circles he is the most widely-known man at Notre Dame. For years he promoted devotion to the Sacred Heart, and then he began to obtain miraculous cures through that devotion. Hundreds of people have been cured through his intercession.

You will learn more wisdom in an hour's talk with brother Columba than in a hundred years with H.L. Menken or Conde Nast, because Brother Columba knows that our Lord meant what he said: "What will it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his own soul?"

Have Your Throat Blessed Tomorrow.

St. Blase was an ~~American~~ bishop, who was beheaded for the faith. While he was in prison, scores of sick persons were brought to him to be cured. Among them was a boy who had a thorn lodged in his throat, physicians had been unable to help him, and he was in a dying condition. The saint blessed his throat and he was cured.
