Welcome Home.

This sign hangs over the basement chapel -- not the Palace. It is intended for Freshmen as well as Seniors.

Park the Car.

Vacation is over. Park your car and your tea-gob. You are back among men, where your line won't carry you very far.

Callouses.

When showing the callouses on your hands, pull up your knickers and show the callouses on your knees. If you haven't any, you didn't carry the reputation of your school back to the home town.

Did You Notice the New Hall?

During the first nine days of May, the number of Communion s was 250 a day more than the preceeding year. The occasion was a Novena for funds to build a Sophomore Hall. Nine weeks ago it was started. The carpenters also made a Novena.

Answers to Correspondents.

J. G. -- Yes, they are painting the dome.

A. F. -- Up to the third Tuesday in July, he was engaged to three girls. No report since then.

J. B. -- Calvin Coolidge is the new President of the United States.

H. C. -- Vaseline is all right, -- but why not have it clipped and take a fresh start.

Information for Freshmen.

The basement chapel is located beneath the rear part of the church. It is the center of Notre Dame's famous devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. Read the pamphlet "Frequent Communion for Freshmen" and fall in line.

Confessions are heard almost continuously. You will find a priest in the basement chapel after supper until 7 o'clock, and from 6:00 till 8:15 in the morning. After 8:15 go to the Walsh Hall chapel. If there is no priest in the chapel, try room 207.

162,000.

That was the number of Communions last year. Notice the graph at the entrance to the basement chapel.
