

HOME FROM COLLEGE

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. Copyright, 1925, by The Chicago Tribune

And Now Deflate!

We've heard it all before, and we know it all by heart. You were a lion with the ladies and a bear-cat in your home. This is school! Examinations are so close that you can feel their hot breath; the Essay class meets this afternoon; the first skirmishes in Accounting begin next Monday.

The best way to deflate is to go to confession. Tomorrow is the feast of the three Kings who brought good gifts to the Divine Infant in Bethlehem.