

Jack Spillane, R. I. P.

The fifth tragedy, the swiftest of all our visitations this year, came yesterday afternoon when Jack Spillane, a Senior, passed into eternity without a moment's notice. For the past week he had been suffering from scarlet fever, but nothing in his condition gave cause for grave alarm; his fever was comparatively low at noon yesterday; at three o'clock, when the Sister visited him, he was laughing; when she returned fifteen minutes later he was dead. Father Connor, summoned from the Community House immediately, gave him conditional absolution and Extreme Unction.

A Mass for the repose of his soul will be sung at 6:30 tomorrow morning. In the meantime, please fill in your offerings for the repose of his soul:

Masses to be heard

Communions to be offered

Rosaries

Visits to the Blessed Sacrament

Visits to the Grotto

Way of the Cross

Other Prayers

--James Brown asks prayers for his aunt, recently deceased, and for his mother, --J. who is ill. Wm. Rigney has been detained at home since the holidays by an attack who of typhoid fever. A. G. Krause asks prayers for his sick grandfather. Francis of typhoid fever. A. G. Krause asks prayers for his sick grandfather. Francis Dukette, of the Class of 1902, died recently at his home in Mendon, Michigan.