

Don't Leave Our Lord Lonely.

A rare parish Benediction may offer you the only opportunity you will ever have after leaving here to see Our Blessed Lord exposed on the altar. Today the sanctuary is open to you for a stirring visit with Him. Don't leave Him lonely, as the three Apostles did when He went through His Agony. Put on a cassock and surplice, spend half an hour or an hour in adoration. It will do your soul good.

Register for the Congress.

Students who register in advance will have places reserved for them at the Pontifical Mass on Soldiers' Field during the Eucharistic Congress. The following members of the Chicago Club will take the names of those who intend to be present:

Sorin Hall	John McMullen
Walsh	Wm. Dowdall
Badin	Jos. Dellamaria
Corby	Bob Rigney
Sophomore	Matt Cullen
Freshman	Walter Burgess
Howard	Frank McAdams
Brownson	John Corcoran
Carroll	Mark Kirwin

Off-campus students may register with Father Mooney or with the Prefect of Religion. It costs nothing to register, and the reservations at the Mass are free. Register at once. The members of the committee do not intend to spend their lives at Notre Dame waiting for you to make up your mind.

First Come, First Served.

Medals, pamphlets, beads, books, chains, are going fast. The pamphlet rack is not a store. Everything is free. Help yourself. Don't delay, or there will be nothing left when you get around. Nothing more will be ordered this year. You are welcome to what is in stock.

Tragedy Upon Tragedy.

Four thousand people were killed in a cyclone and tidal wave in Burma, in the mission territory of Bengal, according to press reports yesterday. The latest mail from Bishop Legrand states that three nuns died of cholera in the space of twenty-four hours, and the plague was spreading rapidly among the natives.

A student left five dollars for the Bengal Mission yesterday. This is the first donation that has come in for some time. Leave a bit of change before you go. It will have God's blessing on it, and it will be multiplied in the hands of the self-sacrificing missionaries. You will know when you get to heaven how much good it has done.

Finish the Sorin Chapel.

Students in Sorin Hall have contributed $138 for the new altar. An appeal to the off-campus students brought $9.50 for another altar for the chapel. You can't get much of an altar for $9.50. Students who have made use of the accommodations offered in this chapel for late sleepers are invited to make up the difference needed to put this chapel in first class condition for the fall. (One student's contribution took the form of excellent carpenter-work: he constructed a new top for the vestment case.)
