

Not Tunney.

The rumor that Gene Tunney had matriculated at Notre Dame for this year is without foundation. That guy with the cut over his eye seen walking about the campus is Arthur Denchfield.

The Scene Shifts to the Hall Chapel.

Holy Communion in the basement chapel yesterday were 120 below the figure for the same day last year. Yesterday's figure was 210; last year it was 330. A proportionate drop has been observed each day since school opened. This is the first noticeable effect of seven o'clock breakfast on the spiritual life of the students.

This means that the hall chapels will be called upon to take care of many of the communicants who formerly used the basement chapel mornings. It will be a splendid thing if it forms a center of devotion to the Blessed Sacrament in each hall. The privilege of having the Blessed Sacrament under the roof with you is a remarkable one, and it gives obligations. Daily Communion in the hall chapel will remind you of these.

The earlier rising required for Holy Communion will not be a great burden for those who love Our Lord; and the greater sacrifice will give additional benefit. God is good.

The accommodations of the Sorin Hall chapel will continue, of course; off-campus students especially are invited to make use of the opportunity there furnished of confession and Holy Communion all morning long.

Lost and Found.

A meal ticket has been found. Ever so many fountain pens have been lost; so has a bunch of keys. Lost and found articles should be reported to the throne in the Brownson study hall, where there is always someone in attendance. "Finders is keepers" holds only when the loser cannot be found after diligent search has been made.

Don't Swipe the Bulletin.

This is the monthly notice that extra copies of the Bulletin may be had free on application to the Prefect of Religion, Room 141, Sorin Hall. Don't remove the copy from the bulletin board - some poor fellow who needs it might come along later.

Ember Days.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Ember Days, days of fast and abstinence from meat.

Prayers.

Professor Kervick, head of the Department of Architecture, lost his mother during the summer. Your prayers are requested for the repose of her soul.

Help! Help!

For the past three years it has been customary for volunteer workers to attend to the clerical needs of the Prefect of Religion. The University could pay for the work, but there should be at least one opportunity afforded for students to perform corporal and spiritual works of mercy in more or less organized fashion. Workers are needed now for addressing and mailing. Apply at 141 Sorin.
