
Father Donahue's Conference Tonight.

The Very Reverend Superior General of the Congregation of Holy Cross, Father Donahue, will give a spiritual conference, the first of a winter series, in the church tonight at seven-thirty. All freshmen are requested to attend; upperclassmen are invited. This is a special grace God offers you; it may give you something that will save your soul if you drift after you leave school. If you come tonight you can determine whether or not you wish to attend the whole series.

Prayers.

Antonio Aldrete Rivas, a Mexican student of twenty years ago, died recently. Frank Logan was called home to Boston yesterday by the serious illness of his father. Fred Collins asks prayers for a relative recently deceased. Another student asks a remembrance for a friend who was killed in an auto accident a few days ago. Three special intentions are recommended.

A Word To The Team.

Go on now to Drake with a light heart. The boys here are behind you: their hearts are in the right place although their minds are a bit balmy at times. Their amateur theology doesn't seem to permit praying for a team, but there are nuns and grammar school kids all over the country who will help you; theology doesn't interfere with them. They love God and pray for their Blessed Mother's team. That's simple and direct. You'll get prayers. And then when you come back the fellows, in their boyish way, will rush out in the rain to greet you.

Thank For The Tin.

"Willard, N. Mexico, Nov. 5, 1927. - Dear Father: Words cannot express how glad I was to receive your kind letter with a donation of $100 for my new residence.

"Thanks to Almighty God the building is now under roof and I am in debt $600 or more, I have still to get in the laths and plastering on the partitions, the plumbing, heating and water plants, the second floor plastering inside and out, the doors and windows, the furniture, etc. I have no money for them.

"Yes, my dear Father, thank the students for me heartily for their offering. I will remember them daily in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Thank them a thousand times for their kind remembrance. -- Jules H. Molinie."

It is quite clear from this letter that if you want to do more for this poor missionary priest you can. The hundred dollars was completed by the offerings at the Mass on All Saints' Day, and this Mass left about seventy dollars to be applied to the fund for the Catechists' Home in New Mexico; the rest of the hundred for this second purpose was made up quickly by the Accounting students. Offerings since that time amount to sixteen dollars. This ought to buy a window.

Sorin Hall: Five-Thirty Till Noon.

It does not seem to be generally known that Holy Communion is distributed in the Sorin chapel at frequent intervals from 5:30 a.m. till noon. From 6:50 on the distribution is at about three-minute intervals. This suggests that those who wish to receive just before breakfast would do well to come to the Sorin chapel instead of the basement. The basement chapel must close at seven for the priest there to relieve the priests in Sorin who have not had breakfast. -- And it might be added that Holy Communion may be received after noon (and frequently is) by those who are fasting since midnight.
