By The Clock.

It may help you to realize your opportunities in the Sorin chapel to show the time table of distributions of Holy Communion. Yesterday was only an average day. The distributions were as follows:

5:54	7:03	8:00	9:03	10:00	11:01
6:14	7:07	8:11	9:06	10:04
6:45	7:17	8:22	9:08	10:07
6:50	7:28	8:24	9:18	10:23
6:55	7:32	8:33	9:21	10:27
	7:36	8:37	9:35	10:37
	7:40	8:43	9:48	10:41
	7:43	8:48	9:51	10:53
	7:48	8:50	9:54	10:56
	7:50	8:52	9:58	10:58
	7:52	8:54		10:59
	7:54	8:56
	7:57	8:59

Yesterday's figure in the Sorin chapel was 207. Monday it was 205. Last Tuesday it was 274; the week before it was 263. Calls ended much earlier than usual yesterday.

If you are curious about another set of statistics you can figure on this: eight genuflections are necessary for each distribution of Holy Communion. And yet they say that priests lead a sedentary life!

Help Wanted.

Help is needed in addressing the Religious Survey. No pay is given for this work; it is one of the opportunities afforded you to do a little spiritual charity. Several volunteers have been at work already, but more are needed -- a couple a day for the next few weeks. When you have an hour free and wish to do something to spread the Faith, drop in. You will get your reward in heaven.

"Somebody Swiped My Cap."

If you want to see how much truth there is in that oft-repeated assertion, drop in on the Lost and Found Department of Brother Alphonsus. It contains enough collegiate hats and caps to equip a sailors' pawn shop. And books! It's a budding library. Besides, there are slickers and sheepskins, notebooks, pencils, and whatnot. It brings to mind the inscription found in a book left in the church a few years ago, which called down all kinds of maledictions on the hand of the man who would swipe the book, and added that these strange anathemas were called for because two previous copies of the same book had been stolen. If you have lost something, call on Bro. Alphonsus. If he hasn't it he has something just as good or better.

Prayers.

Raymond Connors, of Carroll Hall, requests prayers for his brother, who is critically ill and was to undergo an operation last night; Bill Pluchel for his grandmother, who died recently. There are two requests for prayers for conversions, and one for a return to the Faith. A young lady employed at a State Reformatory for Girls requests prayers for the girls under her charge, and wants Catholic literature for their instruction; contributions for this literature may be left at the rack.

Prom Medals.

Make your request early; the supply is somewhat limited.
