

Religious Bulletin

October 5, 1929

Late Sleepers Sundays.

Those who wish to receive Holy Communion Sundays without attending the 7:00 Mass and without missing their dining hall breakfast have provisions made for their wants. Fr. Doherty remains in Sorin Hall Chapel from 7:15 till 8:15 for confessions and Holy Communion. This offers campus students an opportunity for a later , and permits them to attend the High Mass without serious inconvenience. It also permits off-campus students to receive Holy Communion, get breakfast, and then return for the 8:00 Mass. Those who wish to pay for their breakfast or go without it have their opportunity for confession and Holy Communion at the High Mass, of course.

For Father Albertson.

The number of Holy Communions received at the 6:30 Mass in the church yesterday (for Father Albertson) was the largest ever received in the church on a First Friday. Incomplete returns from the hall chapels indicate that the total number of Communions was approximately the same as last year on the same day -- 1890.

St. Edward's Hall.

The chapel in St. Edward's Hall has its formal opening as a college chapel today. In the days of the Minims, now of happy memory, it was the scene of great devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. The men of this year in St. Edward's Hall have an opportunity to give it even a greater aureole of sanctity than it had before. It is a beautiful devotional chapel; let us hope that it will be appreciated as it should be.

Five Hundred And Twenty On Probation.

If memory serves us aright., that was the number of students who were put into the torture class in November last year -- and that's a lot of students.

You have your chance now to keep out of that group on the next examinations. The good God who gave you your intellect will help you to use it if you ask for help. To encourage you to this, we will begin tomorrow a

Novena For Studies.

During the next nine days offer Holy Communion for success in studies, and recite the Litany of the Blessed Virgin for the same intention. But remember you are asking God and the Blessed Virgin to help you, not to take your place. Study on your part is essential; cooperate with the gifts and graces God gives you.

Crucifixes.

A gross of crucifixes arrived the other day. These have been blessed and placed at the pamphlet rack for distribution. Hang a crucifix on your wall, and let the rest of the decorative scheme of your room harmonize with this symbol of your Redemption.

Who Wrote This Letter?

A former student writes for a favor and forgets to sign his name. His letter is on the stationery of the West Berkeley (California) Branch of the American Trust Company. Can any Californiac tell us who he is so that his request may be granted?

Prayers.

Eddie Fallon, '26, of Brooklyn, has wired that his father died Wednesday. Four special intentions. -- Offer the Rosary at 12:30 today for the team.