

Religious Bulletin
October 14, 1930

Classified.

Help Wanted.

We could find work for some four hundred private chaplains, to be assigned to the four hundred odd students who have not received the Sacraments since they reached the campus. Personal attention is what they crave, but, as they were told in a recent Bulletin, they can't have it for the present.

Business Opportunity.

Some seven hundred hot-water bottles are need to warm the feet of students who lost their religion as soon as the Mission ended. Statistics of daily Communion during the Mission and the two days following will show what this means:

Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat	Totals
1148	1497	1552	1548	1538	1533	1608	10424
1685	1709	1806	1807	1793	2007	1987	12794
1742	1329

There were enthusiasts who thought that on the First Friday of October all records for attendance at Holy Communion were broken. They were not. The 2007 of that day stands second to the 2019 on the day of the Army Game two years ago (when defeats by Wisconsin and Georgia Tech made the S.A.C. believe that prayer might help the team.)

Situations Wanted.

Thirty-one hundred and fifty devils are abroad on the campus, some of them with nothing to do (because their charges are doing the devil's work) and others begging for jobs. The devil promises to work for you in every conceivable capacity -- but the man who hires one discovers sooner or later that he is doing all the work. The only time a devil works is when he is out of a job.

Used Cars.

The junk heap is growing higher and higher. Chariots of glory are being discarded fast, and there are few new models. The number of Holy Communions Sunday was 1252. Have the spiritual ambitions engendered during the Mission all vanished? Do you want another Mission next week? Or are you waiting for a catastrophe to make you think.

Real Estate.

Six feet of earth is all your body gets in the end. Your soul is offered a choice between a tinsel road-house (with a pit on brinstone thrown in for good measure) and a mansion in Our Father's House.

Personal.

Dear I. Gotta Hach: Don't take for your duties the time that belongs to God. You don't have to leave the 7:00 Mass early to wait tables, because you have no business at that Mass. The following facilities are provided for you Sundays: 1. The 6:00 Mass is intended for you; 2. You may drop into the Sorin chapel and receive Holy Communion on your way to work (there is a priest there from 7:15 till 8:15) and then hear Mass at 9:00; You may miss Holy Communion if you prefer to do so, and hear Mass at 9:00. On week-days also you have frequent distribution of Holy Communion in the Sorin Hall and basement chapels; this convenience was started years ago, for the benefit of waiters.

Prayers.

Three special intentions.
