

University of Notre Dame Religious Bulletin

May 17, 1932

WHO IS IT?

Perhaps it's the student who doesn't believe in making a Novena before exams

Or maybe the Catholic who hasn't made his Easter Duty

Or the chiseler who ignores his obligation of restitution

Or the prospective graduate looking for a job

Or the student who cribs his way through college

Or the student who knows what the alumni say about mixed marriage but thinks his case is "different"

Or the student who comes to Notre Dame and bucks its religious life

Or the sinner who refuses to give up an occasion of sin

Or the poor wretch who will not use the Sacraments and spiritual advice to help him break up sinful habits

But, personally, we think it is an excellent picture of the Catholic who takes a good look at the accident death rate and goes on living in mortal sin.

God has been good to us this year—very good. Only one student has died—a non-Catholic and an exceptionally good young man, we learn from those who knew him. A year ago this time we thought we were safely through the year—but within the next three weeks three students were called to God. Are you ready to go? If you are wearing a ball and chain, get it off!!! Tonight!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Father Carroll will preach at the May Devotions Wednesday evening, 7:00 and 7:45. Father Carroll is associate editor of the Ave Maria and author of several books on Irish life.

Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday are Ember Days.

Prayers are requested by George Rategan, an alumnus, for his mother, who died a few days ago, and by Leonard Donoghue for a deceased friend. Three special intentions.
