Card of Sympathy.

To a Mother who will not receive a Spiritual Bouquet for Mother's Day:

If your boy is selfish, you are to blame, for you always softened the blow for him: you wore your fingers to the bone to send him money; you lost sleep that he might sleep soundly; you stood between him and his father; you prayed your heart out to God for him, and then nullified the effect of your prayers by being too good to him. But you have our sympathy, for you erred by excessive love. And we will ask the boys whose mothers spanked them to pray for you, that God may comfort you next Sunday.

PRAYERS: The father of Fathers Joseph and Charles McAllister died yesterday. Jack DesNoyer's grandfather died Friday. Today is the anniversary of the death of August von Boecklin's father. A deceased friend, Anthony Kuharich's brother has pneumonia. Four special intentions.
