New Mass Schedule Palm Sunday.

Masses next Sunday will be at:

| 6:00 | 6:45 | 7:30 | 8:15 |

There will be no sermon at any of these Masses.   Be in the church when Mass starts!

Breakfast, at 7:30.

For The Next To Die.

The 6:45 Mass Sunday will be offered for the next one of us to die. Unite in that intention at both your Mass and Holy Communion. You may be the one we will all be praying for.

Your Prayers Are Asked.

At the request of the Most Reverend Bishop of Fort Wayne, ushers will distribute Sunday at all the Masses small holy cards containing an indulgenced prayer for the success of the National Eucharistic Congress to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, next September 23, 24, 25, and 26.

Put the card in your missal or prayer book. Join frequently with the faithful throughout the country in praying that, through the success of the coming Eucharistic Congress, the knowledge and love of the Blessed Sacrament may be increased in all Catholic people.

"Notre Dame."

In the "Old Castle Garden" magazine for December, 1934, appeared this beautiful poem on Notre Dame. Keep it. You will like it more and more as the years go by. Patrick MacDonough ('03), one of the most talented men who ever received a degree from Notre Dame, wrote it:

Pines in the twilight gleaming,
    Surpliced in Christmas snow;
Gracious our Mother Mary,
    Campus and halls aglow;
Guests of my idle dreaming,
    Lads of the long ago.

Listen--and you can hear them,
    Bravely their bugles blew;
Memory brings us near them,
    Lads of the long ago.

Night and the stars returning,
    The Angelus calling low;
Here did they oft foregather,
    Here did their valor grow;
Scholar and priest and soldier,
    Lads of the long ago.

Look--and they pass before us,
    Theirs is a gallant show;
Greetings in loving chorus,
    Lads of the long ago.
