

LISTEN TO TOWN MEETING
OF THE AIR THURS. 8:30
WORTHWHILE--EVERY WEEK.

University of Notre Dame
Religious Bulletin
January 26, 1939

DON'T FORGET TO OFFER
PRAYERS OF THANKS AF-TER THE EXAMINATIONS!

"BORED OF EDUCATION."

That's the impressive sign you read on the door at 152 Cavanaugh. Down the line on the rector's door is pasted another sign: "Where Pink Slips Are Born."

30,000,000 Nickels.

Chicago's subway faces still another problem: how to hang on to its fares. Interesting speculation: whether the telephone companies have collected 30,000,000 slugs?

Look What We Missed!

The paper says a South Bend student at Chicago U. sold $1,000 worth of garters for bowlegged men.

Aileen O'Brien

will be remembered by many of you. What this authority said on the Spanish War a short time ago in Washington Hall she writes in this week's Ave Maria.

"Facts About Franco's Bombings."

Miss O'Brien is a direct witness. She tells what the secular press never mentioned. She was right there. Your copy of this week's Ave is in one of the Prefect of Religion offices. Good way to lose one of your 30,000,000 nickels.

After Exams.

You'll be ringing the belles of Saint Mary's again.

What Do You Think?

"An Alabama psychologist's message that love interferes with scholastic work should be put into the 'we knew it all the time' file." - South Bend Tribune.

What's In A Name?

One of the Bulletin's newest readers is Francis Lone Bear of St. Stephen's, Wyo. He is prefect of the Jesuit Sodality.

PRAYERS: (seriously ill in N.Y.) Mother Julian, C.S.C., General of Holy Cross Sisters from France. (deceased) father of Matt Miller (2nd anniv.); "Jake" Purcell '27; John Conway, friend of Frank Aubrey; grandfather of Hank Engel (Dil.); grandmother of Don Hengel (McCr.). Ill, uncle of Ian (Al.) John (Zahn) and Joe (Cav.) Sheedy, 7 spec.ints.

The Extinguished Candle.

In this way a student who never knew Fr. Farley refers to him. "The Almighty saw fit to blow out a mighty flame.. a fire that had blazed forth a great trail on life's hard road. . Many shared the warmth of that flame, learned by the light of its glow how to 'take it' . . The writer will always cherish a great fondness for this Man of Notre Dame. He knew me not by name, but always gave me his cheery greeting and familiar wave."

"Progress and Religion."

We are glad to see that SHEED AND WARD have brought out Christopher Dawson's great work, PROGRESS AND RELIGION, in a cheap edition: fifty cents, paper bound, a dollar in cloth. This is like giving something away, and something very good. If you wish, you can borrow the book at the Prefect of Religion libraries.

In this work, just ten years old, Dawson first showed himself able to make a united and meaningful thing of the histories of all religions and cultures. What he wants and what he knows from history can be is a sacred ordering of all social relations, giving to the humblest human function all the consecration of religion. And he knows on the other hand that with population and wealth greatly concentrated it is hard to avoid secularization and mechanization of human life. We recommend every work of Dawson. This cheap edition is very well printed. (L.R.W.)

Kindly Correction From Dr. Gurian.

Recently the Bulletin quoted something about ex-President Benes of the Czechs. Professor Gurian's refutation of the statement may be summarized as follows: "It is a complete disregard of truth to say the Czechs are again permitted to practice their religion when in fact it had not been forbidden them by Benes. All during his presidency there was cordial cooperation with the Vatican."
