Don't Put Off Your Confession

There are only 7 days left between you and vacation or between you and the army or navy. Make your Christmas confession or your General Confession during the week end. Towards the end of next week, your thoughts will be centered on the exams, and you will forget your resolution to step into the confessional.

The Only Divorce Permitted In the Catholic Church.

Divorce yourself from Satan by a good confession. Don't wait and say you can make a good confession to some chaplain when you are in the Service and in danger. Not every group of men has a chaplain attached to it. And the chaplain may be elsewhere when you need him the most. Our Blessed Lord calls you tonight. You can find a priest in the following places tonight and every night.

The Prefects of Religion Will Bless Your Gifts.

The Three Prefects of Religion have special faculties to bless religious objects and to attach rich indulgences to rosaries and crucifixes. They will be glad to bless and indulgence Christmas gifts you are sending away. Don't wrap the objects for mailing until they have been blessed.

Prayers.

The father of Marchmont Schwartz died last week. You will remember Marchy as All-American halfback under Rockne and the present coach at Stanford. The Notre Dame priests who knew Mr. Schwartz noted his devotion towards his family and his zeal in urging and helping them be good Catholics. He was not a Catholic, yet he was particularly dutiful in helping his family fulfil their Sunday Mass obligation. May God reward him richly for carrying out his responsibilities with such love and thoroughness.

A Few Reminders.

1. Bring back books borrowed from the Library of the Prefects of Religion. Tuesday evening is the deadline.
2. Return books, clothing, sporting goods to the students from whom you borrowed them. Because the owner has forgotten their whereabouts is no excuse for claiming permanent possession of them.
