The Saint For Every Man: St. Joseph

You should have thoughts about St. Joseph tomorrow, his feast day. Let your meditation turn towards this humble saint as the Patron of a Happy Death.

Why has the Church selected St. Joseph as the Patron of a Happy Death? Because his was a happy death. No death could be more blessed than dying in the arms of Jesus and Mary, and that was the happiness granted St. Joseph. You should say a prayer every night on retiring to St. Joseph for a happy death. Memorize those in the Notre Dame Prayer Book, p. 35:

Jesus, Mary and Joseph, I give you my heart and my soul.
Jesus, Mary and Joseph, assist me in my last agony.
Jesus, Mary and Joseph, may I breathe forth my soul in peace with you.
(Indulgence of 7 yrs. for each invocation.)

There is a painting of the death of St. Joseph in the Church. It is above the side altar on the epistle side a little to the rear of the main altar. You will see it if you look up as you walk down the right side aisle toward the altar. Death can be sweet. And it will be if one goes through his death in meditation many times before the actuality.

Did The Dance Interfere . . .

With your Lenten practice of assisting at Mass and receiving Holy Communion daily? Some students fasted from food and drink after midnight. It was possible for all to have done likewise. Be less solicitous about your body and what the crowd does. Drop your human respect and build up your Christian courage.

The Finals Tomorrow Night.

Good fights. Good entertainment. And all for a good cause: the support of the work of the Notre Dame men, priests and brothers, and Holy Cross sisters, laboring for Our Lord in Bengal, India.

There's a double feature about putting your cash on the line for this show - you get a full evening of recreation along with merit in heaven for your charity. Bring your roommate. Make him loosen up.

Stations of Cross.
