Novena for Exams starts Thursday. Make it in honor of Sacred Heart.

Tonight -- 7:00 P.M. -- Church
Rosary and Benediction
Those suffering and dying ask us.

We Won't Fail Them -- Daily Adoration.

Will you make one half-hour period of Adoration before the Blessed Sacrament in the Church? We have presumed that you want to make this your part in the prayer at the time of invasion. We have presumed, also, that you will volunteer for the same periods of Adoration you took during May. The Adoration will start Thursday, the feast of Corpus Christi, and will continue for nine days, ending on the feast of the Sacred Heart. Incidentally, this can be part of your prayer for success in your examinations.

The boys in the invasion expect us to pray, all of us. They are making tremendous sacrifices - many are dying, don't forget; they can expect us to make sacrifices too. Our sacrifice must be the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. In this hour of need, no one can afford to miss the opportunity of offering the merits of Christ for all the persons involved. Remember the anxiety of mothers whose boys are overseas.

Corpus Christi Mass Sunday 8:15

The celebration of Corpus Christi has been transferred to Sunday to enable the students and faculty to participate in the ceremonies. After the 8:15 A.M. Solemn Mass there will be a procession of the Blessed Sacrament around the Quadrangle of the campus, with Benediction given four different times on the way, on the steps of Walsh and Science Halls, on the porch of the Main Building and in the Church. Everyone owes gratitude to Christ for the graces and blessings He has bestowed on them through the Eucharist. Participation in the ceremonies will be a manifestation of your appreciation. There will be no 9:00 A.M. Mass Sunday.

The Church has made this pronouncement about Corpus Christi. "It is most just that certain holidays should be appointed, whereon all Christians should, with special and unusual demonstrations, evince their gratitude and mindfulness towards their common Lord and Redeemer, for this so unspeakable and truly divine favor, in which is represented His victory and triumph over death.

Carry Your Cross.

"Once there was a man who was a Christ hater. He began by refusing to have a cross in his home, and around his wife's neck. As time went on he grew more bitter and he destroyed all crosses by the roadside. Finally in the height of his frenzy he climbed the steeple of his parish church and tore down the cross. Then one summer evening as he was walking along the lane that led to his home, the chirpings of a bird caught his ear. He looked up just as the bird was flying away from its perch and saw that the little creature was made in the form of a cross. Hatred came into his heart. The branch on which the bird had rested was made in the form of a cross...He looked into the mirror and saw his body made in the form of a cross... He broke his furniture because it was made of crosses; he burnt his house because it was made of crosses. They found him in the river." Such is the parable of those who hate the cross.
