Bits Out Of Life.

A G.I. with the occupation forces in Germany writes this interesting paragraph in a letter to a priest on the campus: "In victory or defeat N.D. is still the sidewalk man's team. About a month ago while walking along a street here in Germany on a Sunday morning, a Kraut bicyclist pulled up along side of us. We ignored him, as we expected his inquiry would be for a cigarette or gum. But he awakened our interest sharply with: 'How did Notre Dame come out against Illinois?'"

The football team represents Notre Dame, and so do you. Give good example when you are home. Spend a few evenings with your folks. Give the kid brother and sister a break. If they still get into your hair, control yourself, and thus show them that you learned patience at school. People judge your school by what you do. Give Our Lady, Notre Dame, reason to be proud of you during the vacation.

The mail also brought this paragraph. "A few days ago I had a letter from one of our missionary Sisters in which she related this incident. After telling her little Indians what Christmas is, she made this suggestion: "Now let each one make a nice crib for the Infant Jesus; your prayers and acts of obedience will be the straw for it." The youngsters took this suggestion very seriously. But one of them apparently thought this was not enough. Several days later, to the Sister's surprise, his father brought a load of real straw to the Mission." This story illustrates what Our Blessed Lord wants us to do - go all out with our charity, to be good, and to do good in a material way when the opportunity offers itself. This is the spirit of Christmas. Try to recatch that spirit next Tuesday.
