Disloyalty.

"Maybe I feel so strongly on this subject because I live in New York where we constantly witness spectacles of disloyalty. For instance, that series of meetings of the disloyal at the Waldorf-Astoria, Carnegie Hall and Madison Square Garden, when propagandists for alien haters of our country sought to defame us under the guise of peace, has already passed into the oblivion of forgotten events.

"The trial of the 12 communists (11, they call it, because William Z. Foster has been separated) every day discloses in sworn testimony the machinery for teaching disloyalty to our children, for undermining the existence of our country. The very tactics of the lawyers for the communists, who take advantage of Judge Medina's wariness in preventing a postponement for this long delayed trial to make a circus of a courtroom, are designed to bring our judicial processes into disrepute.

"We are still to witness the distressing Alger Hiss trial, which will involve disclosures of a nature to bring shudders, even as of a major defeat in war, to the American people. And then there is to be the Judith Coplon trial, which will open the eyes of American parents to what is done to their children in our major universities."

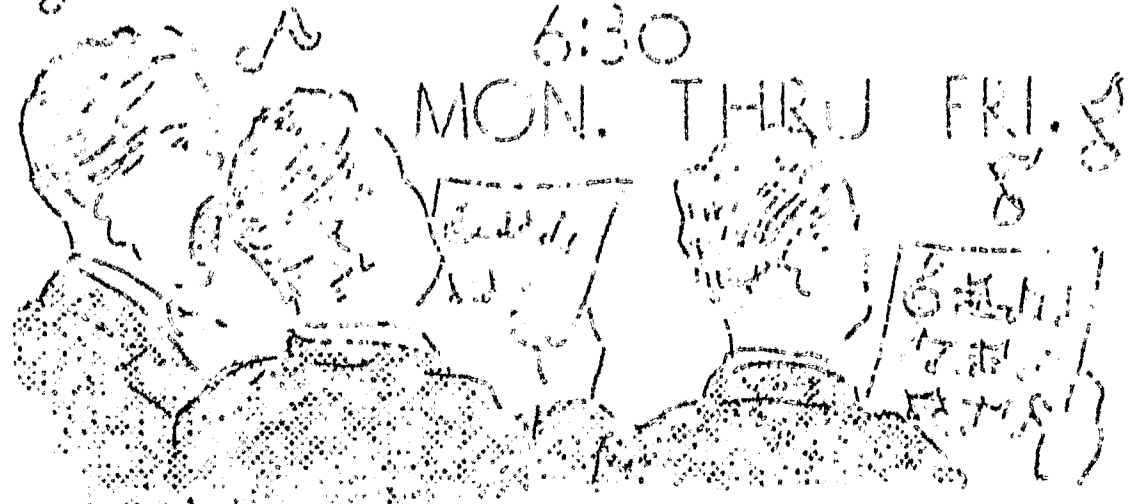

"On May 1, we shall witness a parade here of those who once marched with banners emblazoning the slogan, 'The Yanks Are Not Coming.' and who, in another year, when this country was faced by an enemy in Europe and an enemy in Asia, and we were arming not only our own troops but those of our allies, and sending $11,000,000,000 of aid to Soviet Russia, demanded a 'second front' before we were ready.

"This year the May 1 parade will attack the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic pact, will stimulate hatred between Negro and white citizens, will demand the dismissal of the 12 communists being tried in the federal court. Above all, they will carry banners and they will shout slogans demanding 'peace', by which they mean the subordination of the policy and will of this country to Soviet Russia."

These excerpts from a recent article by George Sokolsky, the columnist, and Notre Dame Commencement speaker last June, are presented to you with the hope that you will be aroused to counteract the communist influence in the world. How? By the method given to us by the Mother of God when she appeared at Fatima. The three major requests of Our Lady of Fatima are: 1. The performance of acts of sacrifice, especially those involved in the carrying out of duty; 2. Meditation on the Rosary; 3. The consecration of each individual to her Immaculate Heart.

The communists will rally on May 1. So will Catholics--to pray for Russia. You can show your loyalty to Our Blessed Lady by participating in the opening of May Devotions in Sacred Heart Church next Sunday evening at 7:00 P.M. Father William Robinson, CSC, will speak.
