

Notre Dame needs men. Pray for vocations and keep in mind your own.

University of Notre Dame
Religious Bulletin
May 19, 1952

Deceased: James C. Daley;
brother-in-law of F.J. Behe.
10 special intentions.

It Is Later Than You Think!

GLAD YOU TOLD US!

This has been a fairly good year, after a fashion--dull, for the most part, but not without its exciting moments. . . It was a year of readjustments for some. . . Many solid foundations were laid. . . Prodigal sons returned to their father's house, but not all. . . But when one gets right down to it, it is no simple job to form consciences. . . Those whose task it is must be satisfied with only partial success,

There is one lesson that a Notre Dame student should take away from this school for the shaping of his life. That lesson is this; there is just one kind of Christianity for all men, for layman as well as religious and priest: "This is the will of God, your sanctification." And the will of God is your sanctification. . . There is nothing inferior or second-rate about the Christianity of the laity: to them, as to all, are addressed the words: "But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a purchased people; that you may declare His virtues who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light."

Whether you never again set foot on this campus, or whether you have one foot already in the grave. . . these words of Pius XII--take them with you, ponder them: "For Christ alone is the Cornerstone on which man and society can find stability and salvation. On this Cornerstone the Church is built. . . On the other hand, any other building which has not been founded solidly on the teaching of Christ rests on shifting sands, and is destined to perish. . ."