Notre Dame's New President

NOTRE DAME'S new president, the Reverend Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., Ph.D., was elected to succeed the Reverend Matthew Walsh, C.S.C., Ph.D., as President of the University, by the Provincial Chapter of the Congregation of Holy Cross, which met at Notre Dame this summer. The announcement of Father O'Donnell's election was made on July thirteenth.

Father O'Donnell is well known to the present generation of students and alumni. He entered Holy Cross Seminary at Notre Dame in the fall of 1899, and was graduated with honors from the University in 1906. It will be recalled that even at that early time Father O'Donnell's literary talent had attracted attention. He was Editor-in-Chief of the first Dome. After four years spent at the Catholic University, in Washington, he was graduated there in 1910, receiving the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. He was ordained to the priesthood the same year and returned to Notre Dame where he took up his duties as Prefect and Professor of English. After two years in Corby Hall he was made Associate Editor of The Ave Maria, transferring his residence to the Presbytery, while he continued to teach in the Department of English. In 1917 he was one of the six members of the Faculty commissioned as chaplains in the World War. For five months Father O'Donnell served at the front, in France, in the Forty-second Division, as Chaplain of the 117th Regiment of Engineers. He was transferred to the 332nd Infantry and served with them nine months in Italy.

Returning to Notre Dame at the end of the war he resumed his duties as Professor and Associate Editor of The Ave Maria. One year later he was elected Provincial-Superior of the Congregation of Holy Cross in the United States, succeeding the Very Reverend Andrew Morrissey, C.S.C., who was at that time promoted to the position of Coadjutor - Superior General. At the end of his term of six years as Provincial, in 1926, Father O'Donnell was elected First Assistant Superior General. This position he relinquished to accept the Presidency of the University.

Father O'Donnell is best known as a poet. In 1916 he published The Dead Musician and Other Poems. In 1922 Cloister and Other Poems appeared. Both of these books received considerable attention in the literary reviews. In the spring of this year Longmans, Green and Company announced for publication this fall The Rime of the Rood and Other Poems. Father O'Donnell was co-editor of Notre Dame Verse in 1917.

THE NOTRE DAME ALUMNUS

A magazine which seeks to unify Notre Dame spirit among Notre Dame alumni; to keep alive the friendliness and democracy of the campus when campus days are gone; to acquaint Notre Dame alumni with the development of the University, and the broader development of the principles of Catholic education; to organize alumni activity so that it may better and in a greater measure attain its ends; to live in print as Notre Dame men live always, "For God, for Country, and for Notre Dame."

Impressions of Notre Dame

BY PROF. CHARLES PHILLIPS

(Of the Arts and Letters College)

(Editor's Note:—Notre Dame is beginning another year. Many things are new—students, teachers, and buildings. But over the whole picture that is Notre Dame there abides a spirit that is perennial and that settles upon the strangest stranger. Professor Charles Phillips, a comparative newcomer, has caught this spirit and expressed it so beautifully in the following article, which appeared in the Dome of '28, that the Editor has received many requests from Notre Dame men to reprint it. At the opening of another year, it seems most fitting to bring this beautiful description of the perennial Notre Dame to the men who have loved her through the years.)

There is a great deal to be said about the earliest traditions of Notre Dame. That which I am privileged to say here is best put in the form of personal impressions.

It will be a long day before I forget the first hours I spent at Notre Dame, my first Sunday here, my first glimpse of the interior of our beautiful University Church. Where was I? Not in the ordinary American Catholic church! No; but in something quite different, something that strangely and most satisfyingly likened present with the past, the America of my own tradition with the Europe which I had grown to know. I was transported—I seemed to be literally transported—to another world. And it was a familiar world, the richly colored, mellow toned world of old Gothic fanes; a world, an atmosphere, at once restful and inspiring. High groined ceilings swept their graceful shadows above me from column to column. Nave and transept opened up lofty vistas before me. Around me and over me glowed the softly stained light of gem-like windows and the storied coloring of richly frescoed walls and ceilings. Central, for every worshipping eye to see, rose a golden-pinnacled altar—not jammed against the back wall as if it had been almost crowded out, but separately and singly erected, the heart and core of the temple, with spacious sanctuary, carved oak choir stalls, raised levels, the dignity of ascending steps. And beyond, as if pillared with rainbow light, the garnet and violet shadows of a spacious apse that gave forth a vision, literally a vision—Our Lady, advancing, her feet upon a cloud, her arms not so much clasping but offering her Child; and over her crowned head the greater crown, as it were, of her supreme apotheosis, floating in what seemed the dim lustrous air of Heaven itself. A slanting shaft of Tyrian purple sunlight struck across that vision, as if picking out a royal way for that regal Madonna.

Now this is neither a fanciful nor an exaggerated picture. It is the impression of that first memorable hour of mine at Notre Dame, put into as simple words as I can command. The point is, as I have already said—I was transported. I was somewhere else besides in prosaic Indiana. I was in a place not alone made beautiful with holiness, but likewise made holy with beauty. And, again, it was a familiar place. I had been often there before; I felt at home. I was in Catholic France.

I was in Notre Dame, yes; but I was in Notre Dame de Paris. Nowhere else had I seen the crowned Madonna rise to the vision, stand, and advance as this Madonna; nowhere else except in Paris. The picture, the effect, was complete. The vaulted ceilings, the spanning arches, the vistas in shadows and half lights, the whole scene, was a sort of restoration of the Church as a place of worship according to the manner and tradition of old world Christianity, of France "the Eldest Daughter of the Church."

It is not a matter of copying or of imitation, this atmosphere of the "Mother" Notre Dame here in our American Notre Dame. So far as that is concerned, our church is neither a copy nor an imitation of the great Paris Cathedral. No, it is more than a mere physical resemblance; it is a matter of atmosphere. This whole place is pure French. No one who knows Catholic France would need to be told that our Notre Dame was dreamed of, inspired by, built by, a man who loved his "ancient mother," Notre Dame.

And it is not the Church alone. Walk over from the lake and look up at Sorin Hall as it stands in its slight eminence among the trees—and you are in the land of Norman towers. It is more than an American college hall that you see; it is some old chateau of the French countryside; some antique family house that has given its sons to that other Notre Dame that has stood like a rock in the midst of age-old tempests of revolution and desecration. Deep slanting roofs and Norman towers, it is France all over, this Sorin Hall, sheltered under the cross-tipped spire of the Gothic church.

Or take the path that winds toward the Grotto—and you are at Lourdes, kneeling with little Bernadette and looking up into the benign face of the Blessed Virgin. Look from the Grotto, then, up toward the Church. The mansards of the Presbytery; the roofs of Corby; the long low-running spire of the Church itself;—what does it all make a picture of? Of Catholic France again; the clustered roofs of some old French cathedral town gathered around the Gothic mother. Or, still keeping the church in view, approach it from the rear—and you are coming along the rue du Cloître or turning to cross the Quai de l'Archeveché towards the Pont de l'Archeveché, looking straight up at the noble apse of Notre Dame. You can almost see the flight of the angels, those marvelous life-like bronzes that mount the roof toward the feather-stone pinnacle of the Lady Chapel.

Wherever I turned, those first days at Notre Dame, it was the same; and the illusion has never worn off. It grows, and with it the consciousness of a tradition, a presence, that has stamped itself on this singularly beautiful place of ours. Science Hall with its severe formality of facade and its chimneys, is a provincial mairie. The old Engineering Building is as French as the pavillions of that famous market place so musically called the Halles Centrales. And of what was Father Sorin, son of Notre Dame de Paris and Father of Notre Dame du lac—of what was he thinking when the domed Administration Building was planned? Was it of the Pantheon, the ancient Church of Ste. Genevieve, whose nobly swelling dome dominates the whole region around the Luxembourg Gardens, with the antique cloisters of Cluny and lovely old St. Germain de Pres nearby? Or was it the College de France, across the street from the Sorbonne? Did the golden dome of the Invalids inspire him? He knew them all and loved them all. Surely, they helped to shape his dream of the golden dome of Notre Dame! And who that has visited the Shrine of Ste. Genevieve can see the side altar of Our Lady in the University Church without recalling the golden reliquary of the Patroness of Paris. And who that knows his Paris can hear the deep-toned bell of our church filling the air with sonorous music and not feel himself in France again, in Catholic France;—standing on the Petit Pont, perhaps, looking over the Ile de la Cite, and listening to the rich bronze music that rolls out from the spire of old Notre Dame?

Paris has long been called the Central City of the world; and the centre and heart and core of Paris is Notre Dame. And what does Notre Dame signify? Something like eight centuries have passed since the foundation stones of that great shrine of Our Lady, that ancient house of Christian worship, were laid. They were laid over the stones of a pagan temple of Lutetia, the Roman Paris; and that Roman temple stood on the site of a Gaulish temple of some forgotten god. There, then, over the ruins of vanished heathen shrines Notre Dame de Paris rose up, to lift the Cross of Christ above the ruins of a worn out paganism; a living and vivifying heart of eternal faith rising over a dead past; the centre of national worship, the fountain source of the first learning that was in time to make Paris the intellectual heart of Europe. That is what Notre Dame de Paris means. Not all the onslaughts of old rationalism, of old materialism, of new paganism and newer heathenisms, have been able to destroy that centre of Christian worship. Though they might violate it, not even the cohorts of Hate, storming its inner sanctuary, setting up a shameless naked woman in the niche of Our Lady, could destroy it. Nothing has been able to destroy it, because it houses the Living God, the Son of Mary.

So also, according to the vision of its founders our Notre Dame shall be, more and more, as the years pass, a centre of Christian culture in America. The tradition of Notre Dame is clearly and sharply defined: it is the tradition of Culture, of Faith, the tradition of Catholic France, the tradition of the ancient Notre Dame. Its evidence is on every side of us; and, better still, we breathe the very air of it.

As a matter of fact, we breathe hereabout the very air that some of the greatest of the French founders of America breathed—the voyageurs, the adventurers, the missionaries of long ago, when the best blood of the old world was contributing to the making of the first America. Here LaSalle and his troopers came blazing the trail through the wilderness. Here Denonville made his grants. Here Allouez laid the cornerstone of Christianity in the West. Go to the old Log Chapel back of the little yellow brick house that was the first University of Notre Dame and ponder there the story of that Allouez; the story of

THE MAIN BUILDING, WITH ITS GOLDEN DOME

Badin, the first priest to be ordained in the United States; the story of Petit and of de Seille. You are on soil that was once as French as the ground under Notre Dame de Paris. These are all French names, the names of men who spent their lives that the glory of the Notre Dame they loved might shine over the New World with the light of faith. Stand by the rock-built monument where Father Sorin and his companions stood, to found our Notre Dame, and still you are on old French soil; you are in the very heart of the French America of the Indian prairies. You are, in fact, within but a mile or two of where LaSalle forded the St. Joseph river; where Father Rebourde, as the story is told in Father Hennepin's diary, blazed a cedar tree to mark the way for whatever French adventurers might follow him. And that cedar tree is nearer still, preserved in the museum of the Northern Indiana Historical Society at South Bend, mute witness of the courage of hearts that first beat in the shadow of Notre Dame. And mark this strange coincidence: according to scientific judgment, that tree is some eight hundred years of age—the same age as the Notre Dame from which we take our name. When we call the roll of those early days—LaSalle, Hennepin, Rebourde, Allouez, La Hailandiere—France speaks in every syllable. The very ground that we call our campus was deeded to us by that La Hailandiere who was Bishop of Vincennes. Vincennes—Terre Haute—Gibault—it is such names as these, names linked forever with all that the name of Notre Dame means, that rim our horizon. And if we con the dates of our history, every one of them once more echoes France: 1679,—and we stand with LaSalle under the Council Tree—and it still stands, in Highland Park; 1690, and we see Father Aveneau establishing his mission at Fort St. Joseph; 1694, Denonville makes his grant, and makes it in the name of the King of France, 1686, most illustrious of all—Allouez builds his chapel, the furthest outpost and the first centre of Catholicity in the West, set up where the Red Man once prayed to his unknown gods, and set up by the selfsame Faith that built Notre Dame where pagan Roman and heathen Gaul had worshipped. From that date, whether we reckon forward or backward, we still remain within the radius of French Tradition. The lineage of that tradition is unbroken, from Sorin back through Badin and Allouez—to France; from Sorin back to Moreau—to France. France—the very stones speak the name; France, Catholic France, Notre Dame!

Also, and by grace of that same fact, our Notre Dame is American, if there be any such thing as American. It is as American as Plymouth Rock, if historic foundations and deathless traditions count for anything. No one will deny that they do. Nor is all this a matter of bare historical facts alone. Over and above the facts, there is the spirit of the facts to be reckoned with, the French spirit, the French inspiration, as it acted on the minds and in the hearts of the founders of Notre Dame. Why did they come here? France sent them; and France sent them here. Can we imagine this Notre Dame of ours in Massachusetts? That was not the soil for it. This was. This was once French soil. The stamp of France is on it forever. The air we breathe is impregnated with the breath of the soul of France. And the soul of France is that Notre Dame whose name her sons perpetuated here in the Notre Dame of America.

Once, in Notre Dame de Paris, I saw a memorable sight—all the Cardinals of France, all the Bishops, scores of priests, thousands of people, gathered around the Shrine of Our Lady to celebrate the coming of peace. The great organ thundered; the vaulted shadows trembled with the choral of hundreds of voices; silver trumpets blew a blast of heart-piercing, rejoicing music; and over all, twined together on every pillar, the Tricolor and the Stars and Stripes floated in the shaken air. France and America worshipped together—and my American heart stood still in the thrilling beauty of it all.

Now, every June, when our graduates march slowly up the aisle, here in our Notre Dame, carrying Old Glory to the altar to be blessed, that feeling surges through me again. Commingled and fused into one emotion, all that our Notre Dame means, all that the ancient Notre Dame of Paris means, comes over me: centre of the best that man's mind and heart can conceive: centre of worship, centre of learning, centre of patriotism; and at that moment I say, as I say often other times, "Thank God for our traditions!" Thank God for these traditions of Notre Dame, that make our University Church, our campus, our school, the home we live in during our college years, and all its environment, American in the highest and truest sense; historically American, because it is founded in the bed-rock of our country's beginnings; spiritually American, because it was conceived and born of spiritual adventure—that basic force from which American life has sprung—the same force which animated and sustained the souls of those who built the first Notre Dame on the banks of the Seine nearly a thousand years ago.

ALUMNI BOARD MEETS

In accordance with the expression at the June meeting of the Association the Alumni Board met in Chicago July 7th at the call of President Don Hamilton to discuss the appointment of a committee to map out a definite program for the Association. President Hamilton, Director William Draper and Treasurer Walter Duncan, in addition to the Alumni Secretary, were present. Following a thorough discussion, which had been preceded by correspondence on the subject, the Board passed the following motion:

"That the President of the Association appoint a committee to look into the needs of the Association with respect to effecting a closer co-operation between the members of the Association and the University, and that the committee also devise the means of meeting these needs, and that the committee appointed by the President have full power to do whatever necessary to reach the desired ends, a report to be made to the President within thirty days after appointment.

Following the discussion and the passage of the above motion, President Hamilton appointed Frank H. Hayes, '14, a member of the trust department of the Union Bank of Chicago, as chairman of the new committee. Mr. Hayes has made a thorough study of alumni programs in some of the larger schools and is expected to make a most efficient chairman of the committee.

Later in the summer President Hamilton announced the following committee to act under the chairmanship of Mr. Hayes: G. A. Farabaugh, '04, South Bend; Bernard Voll, '17, South Bend; Francis O'Shaughnessy, '00, Chicago; T. P. Galvin, '16, Hammond, Ind.; Frank X. Cull, '08, Cleveland; Walter M. Daly, '04, Portland Ore;

Joseph A. Menger, '25, San Antonio; Ambrose O'Connell, '07, New York City; Chester D. Freeze, '12, Milwaukee; Joseph J. Collins, '11, Detroit, Mich.; Fred L. Steers, '11, Chicago, and E. C. McHugh, '13, Cincinnati, O.

A meeting of the central group of this committee, attended by Chairman Hayes, Frank O'Shaughnessy, Ed McHugh and Bernard Voll, and the Alumni Secretary, was held at the Oliver Hotel on August 10. Details of a plan for bringing the University and the Alumni Association into a closer and more active union were presented by Chairman Hayes and discussed. The members of the committee met with Very Revs. James Burns, C.S.C., Provincial, and Charles L. O'Donnell, President, the following morning. The plans are being studied by both the members of the Committee and the University with the hope of placing them in operation during the Fall.

CAPACITY ENROLLMENT

The University began its eighty-seventh year on September 13 with a capacity enrollment, 2600 students, a limit established two years ago and dictated by the limited housing and teaching facilities of the school. The freshmen number 900.

Approximately nineteen hundred students are living on the campus, while seven hundred are living down town, including a good number of resident students of South Bend. The freshmen off-campus students have been segregated on the "near East side" while the juniors and sophomores are allowed a little wider range and only the seniors are permitted to cross the river for West side residence. The segregation facilitates the work of the off-campus office.

Summer Developments are Outstanding

The three months since the June issue of the ALUMNUS have witnessed greater changes in Notre Dame and the Congregation of Holy Cross in the United States than any corresponding period. Space is all too brief, here, to record them in any detail.

Canon law dictated the retirement of the Rev. Matthew J. Walsh, C.S.C., president of the University during the past six years, years that witnessed the greatest growth Notre Dame had ever experienced.

Fire took serious toll of the building facilities of the University on June 29 when it destroyed the entire upper story of the Engineering building. Perhaps the most regrettable feature of the fire was the loss of personal records of Professors Caparo and Benitz, the accumulation of years, and invaluable. A temporary roof has been constructed over the first floor of the building. Other engineering class-rooms have been temporarily located in the basement of Badin Hall and the old Carroll Hall gym.

The outstanding development that affects the Congregation is the acquisition of the famous St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn. The Order has placed a most brilliant staff of executives at the head of the northern institution, retaining the faculty of secular clergy and laymen for the most part. The Rev. Matthew Schumacher, C.S.C., former president of St. Edward's, a philosopher and educator of national reputation, is the new president of St. Thomas. Rev. William Bolger, C.S.C., outstanding authority on economic, social and political sciences, for years the head of this department at Notre Dame, nationally known debater and coach of debating at Notre Dame, is vice-president. Rev. James Gallagan, C.S.C., former prefect of discipline at Notre Dame, for many years a rector of residence halls at the University, is director of student welfare in the new institution. Rev. Joseph J. Boyle, C.S.C., former member of the Mission Band, nationally famed for his development of the Laymen's Retreat at Notre Dame, is director of religious activities; Rev. William Cunningham, C.S.C., prominent educator, will head the department of education; Brother Tobias, C.S.C., who had been in New Orleans, is also at St. Thomas. Several Notre Dame graduates have been added as instructors.

St. Thomas' was founded by Archbishop Ireland in 1885. It has been a diocesan institution, conducted by diocesan priests. The College is fully accredited by the North Central Association. The college offers liberal arts, pre-med work, and law. St. Thomas Military Academy is the high school department. The Most Rev. Austin Dowling, D.D., Archbishop of St. Paul, is chairman of the Board of Trustees. The enrollment is approximately one thousand students.

Joseph O'Hara and a delegation of Twin City alumni joined the faculty of St. Thomas on Aug. 28 in a welcome to the new administrators.

Notre Dame Changes.

Besides Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., who succeeds Father Walsh as president of Notre Dame (biographical sketch frontispiece) many other members of the Order and lay members of the faculty have been affected by changes.

Rev. Michael Mulcaire, C.S.C., Ph.D., '17, who has been in the economics department at Notre Dame since 1923, succeeds Rev. P. J. Carroll, C.S.C., Litt.D., as vice-president. Father Carroll will remain at Notre Dame teaching and writing.

Martin J. McCue, dean of the College of Engineering, has been granted a year's leave of absence because of the death of his brother, leaving an estate that demands the presence of Dean McCue as executor. Rev. Thomas Steiner, C.S.C., C.E. '99, assistant dean, will act as dean of the College during Dean McCue's absence.

Rev. William A. Carey, C.S.C., remains as registrar. Rev. Emiel DeWulf, C.S.C., continues as director of studies. Mrs. Mary M. Beyer continues as secretary.

Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., remains as prefect of discipline. Rev. George Albertson, C.S.C., continues as dean of the College of Science in the absence of Rev. Francis Wenninger, C.S.C., who will remain in Europe for another year of study.

Rev. Walter Lavin, C.S.C., succeeds Father Gallagan as rector of Sorin Hall. Rev. Dominic O'Malley, C.S.C., remains as rector of Corby Hall. Rev. James Stack, C.S.C., returns to Walsh Hall and Rev. Patrick Haggerty, C.S.C., to Morrissey. Rev. John Ryan, C.S.C., will continue as rector of Lyons Hall and Rev. John Margraf, C.S.C., in Howard Hall. Rev. Vincent Mooney, C.S.C., goes from Freshman to Sophomore Hall, being succeeded in Freshman Hall by Rev. George Holderith, C.S.C., who was registrar at St. Edward's last year. Brother Alphonsus, C.S.C., continues as rector of Brownson Hall. Brother Maurilius, C.S.C., will be rector of Carroll Hall. Off-Campus students will be under Rev. J. Alan Heiser, C.S.C., and Rev. Philip Beaghan, C.S.C.

Dean Thomas Konop remains in the College of Law, Dean James E. McCarthy in the College of Commerce and Rev. Charles Miltner, C.S.C., will continue as dean of the College of Arts and Letters. Paul Byrne, '13, continues as chief librarian.

Rev. Kerndt Healy, C.S.C., assistant editor of the Ave Maria last year, is Master of Novices. Rev. James McDonald, C.S.C., has been granted two years' leave of absence to do graduate work at Oxford.

Rev. Richard J. Collentine, C.S.C., succeeds Rev. James French, C.S.C., as head of the Mission Band. Father French will remain on Mission work.

Other Changes.

The election of Rev. Charles O'Donnell to the presidency left the assistant superior generalship vacant. This vacancy was filled by the election of Rev. Thomas Irving, C.S.C., assistant Provincial and superior of Moreau Seminary. Rev. Eugene Burke, C.S.C., former president of Columbia, Portland, was elected assistant Provincial. Father Burke will teach in the Department of Philosophy. The Department of Philosophy was also augmented by the appointment of Rev. Leo R. Ward, C.S.C., who received his Doctorate in Philosophy from the Catholic University in June.

Among the younger priests—Rev. Joseph Hart, C.S.C., will join the Mission Band at Notre Dame, Rev. Raymond Pieper, C.S.C., will join the faculty of St. Edward's. Rev.

Leo Flood, C.S.C., is assistant pastor at St. Patrick's, South Bend. Rev. Thomas Kelley, C.S.C., has returned to Washington for advanced study. Rev. Leo L. Ward succeeds Father Kerndt Healy on the Ave Maria. Rev. Paul Doherty, C.S.C., will join the Notre Dame faculty. Father Frank Cavanaugh, who received his Doctorate in Philosophy at the Catholic University of America last June, is also to be stationed at Notre Dame this year.

Columbia University Changes.

Rev. Louis Kelly, C.S.C., was elected by the Provincial Chapter to succeed Rev. Joseph N. Donahue, C.S.C., (since deceased), as president of Columbia. Father Kelly was formerly at Holy Cross College, Washington, D. C., teaching last year at Notre Dame. Rev. Thomas Lahey, C.S.C., Ph.D., at Notre Dame since 1919, becomes vice-president of Columbia. Rev. John Farley, C.S.C., director of off-campus students at Notre Dame last year, returns to Columbia this year as rector of Christie Hall. Rev. Patrick McBride, C.S.C., former registrar of the University, is a member of the faculty at Columbia this year, as is Rev. Matthew Coyle, C.S.C., who received his M. A. at Yale in June.

St. Edward's.

Rev. Joseph Burke, C.S.C., returns to St. Edward's as president for a second term. Rev. Bernard Malloy, C.S.C., will head a group of Mission priests working from St. Edward's.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ OF SPECIAL INTEREST ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Archie Ward, '16-'19, four years in the sports department of the Chicago Tribune, first as its Sunday pup editor, moved up, during the summer, to become assistant to Don Maxwell. Archie was formerly a sporting editor in Rockford and handled publicity when he was at Notre Dame. The Trib, house organ for its big brother, says you don't know Archie until you know his dominant characteristics—profound hero worship of Sammy Mandell and Al Smith.

Of special interest and beauty was the ordination on June 24th of the following alumni as priests of Holy Cross: Revs. Philip S. Moore, John W. Kane, Charles A. McAllister, Leo F. Flood, Henry J. Bolger, Paul D. Doherty, Lawrence L. Graner, George J. Baldwin, Raymond A. Pieper, Thomas A. Kelly, Joseph E. Hart, and Dominic D'Rozario. Father D'Rozario is a native of India and returned to his native land to join the Holy Cross Mission priests there. Rt. Rev. George J. Finnigan, C.S.C., D.D., Bishop of Helena, Mont., ordained the new members of the Congregation.

Paging, Cummings of Notre Dame, football captain in 1909, present home Chicago, father in the hardware business. This was the story that cost Rev. Dana J. Duggan, treasurer of Niagara University twenty-five dollars, loaned in charity. Father Duggan writes that the story was the smoothest he has ever heard and offers an extra five to "Cummings" to come back and repeat it. As Harry Miller was captain of the football team in 1908-9 and Cap Edwards in 1909-10 they don't fit into Father Duggan's story.

It is now Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles Thiele. The title was conferred along with his investiture as Papal Chamberlain on the observance of his Ruby Jubilee in the priesthood. Monsignor Thiele is one of the oldest Notre Dame alumni and is active in Fort Wayne alumni events.

Joe Breig, special student and former editor of the Scholastic, member of the Scribblers, is about to have other distinction thrust upon him. Joe, who spent last year in New York City, is said to be the author of two novels to be published soon—"The Devil Knows His Ladies" and "Wickedness Preferred." What Joe's experiences at Notre Dame contributed to these books is problematical, but his success in publishing two books at such an early age is indication of literary ability bordering on genius.

Brother Gilbert, C.S.C., Holy Cross College, New Orleans, La., would like very much to secure a Jan. 1925 issue of the ALUMNUS, containing his article upon "The Brothers of Holy Cross."

Joseph L. Rafter, former teacher at the University, lecturer at Penn State, and president of the Alumni Association of Villa Nova college, was a visitor on the campus during the summer. Mr. Rafter is located in the Brooks Bldg., Scranton. He was returning from his first trip to the Pacific Coast.

The papers were filled during the summer with pictures of No-ta-ye-po-wa-she-in. This, for the unenlightened, is none other than Rt. Rev. George J. Finnigan, C.S.C., D.D., who was made "Chief Holy Word" by the Montana Blackfeet last April. The induction into the tribe followed his confinement of 351 Indian children.

J. P. McEvoy's "Show Girl," his newest novel, which appeared serially in Liberty, is creating a great deal of favorable comment and has been accepted for filming by First National, in addition to its creation as a musical comedy. Mr. McEvoy is in Hollywood writing a sequel to "Show Girl" it is reported. Lester Grady, '27, who was secretary to Mr. McEvoy for the past year, is in the musical comedy business, production end, in New York.

Hon. Edward J. Fogarty, former mayor of South Bend and warden of the Indiana State penitentiary at Michigan City, now the superintendent of Cook County jail, came in for much praise as the result of an investigation of the institution by a citizens committee. The praise was given for the efficient manner in which Superintendent Fogarty has dealt with the problem of overcrowding. The new jail will be ready for occupancy by Nov. 1, the account stated. (It is probably a mystery to the non-Chicagoans how any new jail can overcome the overcrowded conditions unless Justice is blinder than she is supposed to be.) Not a prisoner has escaped since Superintendent Fogarty took charge in Sept., 1926. The average daily population has increased several hundred since the change in administration but the cost per individual prisoner has been materially reduced. Superintendent Fogarty was secured through the efforts of a citizens committee and his work has won him a great deal of praise from the people of Chicago.

Hon. Edward N. Hurley, LL.D., Laetare Medallist, has been in Europe during the past summer in connection with the proposed World's Fair for Chicago in 1933. Mr. Hurley is endeavoring to interest the countries of Europe in the Fair and his international reputation as chairman of the United States shipping board during the War should stand him in good stead on this mission.

William F. Montavon, '98, has been writing a number of interesting and important articles for the National Catholic Welfare Conference. Mr. Montavon has become an outstanding authority for the N.C.W.C. on economic, political and legislative subjects.

LAY RETREAT SUCCESS

The annual Laymen's Retreat, held this year August 9-12, attracted more than a thousand Catholic men from the Middle West for three days of religious service at the University. Chicago, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, Toledo and smaller Indiana communities contributed large groups to the Retreat. A special feature of the Retreat was the fact that it marked the close of the years of development of the project by Rev. Joseph Boyle, C.S.C., who will be at the College of St. Thomas during the coming year. It is understood, however, that Father Boyle will continue his participation in the actual Retreat.

A number of Notre Dame alumni were represented in the various groups.

The Sisters of Charity of Nazareth

Vacation Schools—Diocese of Louisville, Kentucky.

In addition to work in the mountain Missions, the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, Kentucky, undertook this summer vacation schools in Payneville and in Andyville, Meade County, Kentucky. One hundred and thirty-five children received religious instructions every day from eight-thirty in the morning until three-thirty in the afternoon and on July first, twenty-nine children received Holy Communion for the first time.

Lacking suitable space elsewhere, two Sisters conducted classes in the church at Payneville, and two others gave instructions in the public school house at Andyville. The Sisters' labors among these almost destitute people were highly appreciated by the kindhearted country folk.

First Diocesan Retreat for Women in Kentucky.

Nazareth considered herself privileged to extend a welcome to the First Retreat for Women in Kentucky. The Parent-Teachers Association of Louisville sponsored the movement which received the approbation and blessing of the Right Reverend Bishop

John A. Floersh of the diocese. Father Eugene, C. P., of Louisville, Ky., conducted the exercises for three days, beginning August 23rd and closing August 26th with the Papal Benediction.

New School Openings.

The Sisters of Charity will take charge of the new Diocesan Catholic Colored High School which will open September fourth in the old St. Mary's School, Louisville. For many years the Sisters of Charity have had charge of St. Augustine's Parochial School for colored children. The children from this school and from St. Peter Claver's will be admitted to the new Diocesan High School. The school is under the supervision of the Right Reverend Bishop Floersh and a board composed of priests appointed by him.

The children of the public school district of Balltown will have for their teachers this September two Nazareth Sisters who hold State certificates. Balltown is located about two miles from St. Thomas which is of special interest to the Nazareth community as it is the cradle of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth. The first school was opened here in 1814.

THE ALUMNI CLUBS

CONNECTICUT VALLEY

Saturday evening, August 18, the Notre Dame men of the Connecticut Valley, past present and future, met at the Bond Hotel in Hartford. About sixty-five alumni, students, and prospective students, attended the affair. The report from Dan Halpin, secretary of the Notre Dame student group from the Valley, was most encouraging.

Father Frederick McKeon, C.S.C., chaplain of the Connecticut student group on the campus, was one of the speakers. Thomas Shea, president of the campus group, John Cianci, chairman and treasurer, and Dan Halpin were other speakers from the student group. James A. Curry, the Curry brothers in fact, were on the job. Tom Curry acted as toastmaster. "Peaches" Granfield was prevented at the last minute from attending. Joe Norton, '27, was a visitor at the affair. Men came from points as far as Stamford, Conn., and Lee, Mass. The 1932 men enjoyed it immensely. A big Christmas dance on Dec. 29 will reunite the groups again, and the summer outing is practically established as an annual event.

NEW YORK CITY

The weekly luncheon of the Club is held on Thursday at the Interfraternity Club, 22 E. 38th St. From 12 till 2, visitors will be able to find some of the gang there. The New York Club is particularly desirous of getting acquainted with the new men in New York. Write Joseph P. Burke, 200 Municipal Bldg., Brooklyn.

BUFFALO

The summer picnic of the N.D. Club of Buffalo, Sunday, July 9, at Lime Lake, was a great success. Fifty N. D. men and their families showed up. The Fitzgeralds from Olean, Bill Neville from Batavia, Vince Brown and his brother, from Batavia also, Hank Burns from Tonawanda, "and even Doc Burns didn't forget entirely." The summer brought quite a few tourists to Buffalo—J. A. Bartley, Bert Burson, en route to Canada (at least Bartley) among them. Bill Feeley, vice-president of the Great Lakes Dredge & Dock Co., is said to have spent the summer traveling on the lakes. Biff Lee, Ed Lutz and Paul Hoefler wore down the Buffalo golf courses.

NEW JERSEY

Eddie Duggan dropped a brief but appreciated letter into the office—ordering five bound volumes of the ALUMNUS to teach the people of New Jersey the great truths and traditions of N. D.

JOLIET

Brother Lawrence Joseph, F.S.C., and Bill Bossingham were over from Joliet during the summer and promise activity. Francis Dunne, one of N. D.'s boosters there, was also in. Harold Carey's publicity for the outfit has been confined this summer to the Herald-News.

AKRON

Frank Steel dropped in a good report of the Akron summer. Nick Engler was elected president of the Club at a banquet at Long Lake Tavern, May 26. Bernard Ley was elected vice-president and Charley McGuckin, secretary-treasurer. Paul Sagstetter is connected with the General Tire & Rubber. Lewis Gough, '27, is with the American-Akron Tire Co. McGuckin is with the Central Savings & Trust, Akron. Charley Springer was back in Bellaire for the summer. Ed Raub of Youngstown was with the Walsh Lumber company of Cuyahoga Falls, married. Bill Helmkamp has moved into new quarters on W. Market St., specializing in architecture. Frank says that a goodly Akron delegation will be on hand for the Navy game.

FORT WAYNE

The Notre Dame Club of Fort Wayne lost a most valuable member through the death of Joseph M. Haley, one of its founders. The Editor attended Mr. Haley's funeral and met a number of alumni in Fort Wayne. C. Byron Hayes, who wired news of Mr. Haley's death to the Office, was called out of town and had just returned when the Editor called. He has been combining a campaign for judge with his law practice and was pretty busy. The Editor stopped at the Catholic Community Center. Les Logan was seeing a wedding party through, and was only viewed from long distance, but Harry Flannery and Cliff Ward say that Les and his wife and baby are coming along just fine. Cliff still fills the Sentinel with hot news and golf talk, having presented Mr. Hoover in his brightest light for the Indiana Republicans for several months preceding the primaries. Harry handles publicity for the Center. Joe Greeling, Boy Guidance grad, is doing boys' work at the Center and going big. Frank Hogan was rushing to court but stopped for a chat.

INTERMOUNTAIN

Ray Brady dropped a note from the arid country. Ray, the Editor was told, escaped Salt Lake City during a part of the summer for a tour in the great Northwest.

DETROIT

Joe Collins and the Detroit Club have probably crossed the Editor off the list. Two requests involving praiseworthy activities on the part of the Club have met the Editor at times when he was powerless to act. His job is not the yes-man's job it ought to be, unfortunately.

AREQUIPA, PERU

The following is of interest, from Ezequiel Rey de Castro: "...for the same reason I was unable to gather the local Notre Dame men on April 23rd. On that day I was far away in the interior of the country, many miles from any town, but, nevertheless, I remembered my dear old University and with a cup of fine "Pisco" in my hand, I gave a great cheer for my alma mater and drank the wonderful liquor thinking of all my school friends, happier than I in that moment but not as fortunate..."

CLEVELAND

Fred A. Joyce, secretary of the Cleveland Club, writes that he keeps an up-to-date file of the N. D. men in Cleveland and that any visitors can get their man by stopping in at the Allerton Club where Fred is assistant manager. The weekly luncheons of the Club are held at the Allerton.

NEW YORK

The New York Club has set up headquarters at the Hotel Vanderbilt, Park Ave., at 34th St. Ambrose O'Connell, chairman of the football committee, sends the following news:

Coach Rockne and the Football Squad will be the guests of the New York Alumni at the Vanderbilt following the Army game, November 10.

Bishop Finnigan of Helena and the officers of the National Notre Dame Alumni Association are expected to attend.

Mayor Walker and other notables will be invited.

"Rock" will make a short talk. The occasion will not be given over to speech making, however, and following the dinner, which is to be served about six, there will be general dancing.

Reservations may now be made for this event. Tickets are $6.00 a person.

The Club will distribute no football tickets this year. The University hereafter will conduct the exclusive sale of all football tickets at Notre Dame.

If you wish to get tickets for a friend, write us at once for an application blank. These blanks will be honored at Notre Dame while the tickets last. Please do not call in person or telephone for blanks. Write and we will forward the same so long as our limited supply holds out.

ROCHESTER

The president of the Rochester Club, Royal Bosshard, '17, has been transferred to California. Ray Mead succeeded him as president and the Club is carrying on the same pace that Royal set. The officers of the Club and a few of the members gave Royal a farewell dinner at the Odenbach. Quite a gang from Rochester drove down to Cornell for the N.D.-Cornell baseball game, last June after school was out.

POULTRY EXPERTS VISIT

The Notre Dame poultry farm, under the supervision of Prof. James Hayward, M.S., '28, formed an interesting visit for the Indiana State Poultry tour during the summer. The tour was under the direction of Purdue University. Five hundred poultry raisers were in the party. The Notre Dame farm has a number of the latest methods in poultry raising in use and has been unusually successful.

Georgia Tech Atlanta		Oct. 20

(Ed. Note: Knute Rockne's statement at a coaches' luncheon on his return from Europe that he "is free from worry this year because he expects to lose every game" doesn't sound like the following article by John Rickord, '27, who is handling publicity at the University this year, and who wrote sports for the South Bend News-Times last year—unless you know Rock. Nevertheless, with Wisconsin the second game, and Navy the third, not to mention a reputedly formidable dark horse outfit for the opening, there isn't an awful lot to go Pollyanna over.)

Regardless of the fact that nine of his eleven 1927 first string players are among the missing this fall, Coach K. K. Rockne will turn out another strong gridiron aggregation at Notre Dame. During the spring practice session, his reserves came through in good shape, and several freshmen showed stuff that will make them contenders for positions on the varsity squad during the present season.

Indications are that the line will be fairly heavy, while the backfield will be somewhat light. As usual, however, what the backs lack in weight they will make up for in speed. Jack Chevigney, John Niemiec, Fred Collins and Jim Brady, the leading candidates for regular ball lugging jobs, have plenty of speed and drive, and all, excepting Brady, have been on the varsity squad for the past two years. Brady, diminutive quarter, won his monogram last year when but a sophomore, and promises to develop into a great field general with more experience. Chevigney and Niemiec are halfbacks who already are nationally known because of their work during the 1927 campaign, and Collins is a fullback who should be one of the leading line plungers in the game this fall.

Every member of last year's regular backfield was graduated last year. The flashy Christy Flanagan, Bucky Dahman, his running mate, Elmer Wynne, fullback, and Charlie Riley, quarter, will be replaced by the men above mentioned, or by others who may display more stuff than the favorites. On the line, Captain Fred Miller, left tackle, and George Leppig, right guard, are the only regulars back. Among the missing are ex-captain Johnny Smith, all-American guard last year; and Ike Voedisch and Chile Walsh, a strong pair of wingmen.

The developing of new ends and strengthening of the right tackle position are Rocknes' biggest tasks this fall. Four of his five ends who received monograms last year have not returned, Johnny Colerick being the sole survivor. Colerick and Manfred Vezie are leading candidates for the berths. Both are big and strong. Colerick shines offensively, while Vezie is stronger on defense. Tom Murphy, Eddie Collins, John O'Brien, Vik and Conley are other applicants who are practically certain of being on the varsity squad. All in all, the ends are a promising lot, and if they come through with the goods, the line will be ready to do its share of the work.

At right tackle, Dick Donoghue, John Doarn and Jack McGrath are fighting it out for the regular job. Doarn is the most experienced man and may land the job in the end, but both his competitors are able men and will give him a battle. McGrath won his letter last year, as did Doarn; Donoghue broke into only a few games.

Captain Miller is sure of his job at left tackle, and should make a bid for all-American honors if he continues to play as he did during the last two campaigns.

Leppig will be back at right guard, with Jack Cannon, who won his monogram as a sophomore last year, the leading candidate for left guard. John Law, and Gus Bondi also monogram men, are other outstanding candidates for guard jobs. Bill Jones, Hewit and Locke will make strong bids for the third string positions.

Tim Moynihan, a monogram man, is the class of the centers. Joe Nash, a member of the reserves last year, and Frank Leahy, a sophomore, are Tim's chief opponents. Leahy looks like a comer, and may win the second string job from Nash.

Frank Carrideo, a sophomore, is doped to support Brady at calling signals. He's big and strong, and a triple-threat man. Jim Bray, Billy Dew, Jack Elder, Moon Mullens, Mountroy and Jack Reilly are all promising halfbacks, and Dan Shay and Covington, the latter a sophomore, are two fullbacks who can step in whenever Collins is not in the lineup.

With this squad, Rockne will tackle another tough schedule, with the Navy, Army and Southern California games outstanding. The Irish will be in for strong tussles when they clash with any one of this trio, and the prospects for victories over all three are not too bright.

RECORD SUMMER SCHOOL

The 1928 summer session closed Tuesday night, August 17, with the conferring of 112 degrees by the Very Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., the new president. Two Doctor's, 39 Master's and 71 Bachelor's degrees were awarded. Five hundred and twenty Sisters attended summer school, thirty-five receiving degrees.

"Scholarship and Culture" was the subject of the commencement address, delivered by the Rev. P. J. Carroll, C.S.C., Litt. D., former vice-president. Preceding the exercises, Father O'Donnell, assisted by Rev. Michael Mulcaire, C.S.C., vice-president, and Rev. Emiel De Wulf, C.S.C. director of studies, officiated at Benediction in Sacred Heart Church.

A "president's party," a dinner given by the University to the summer school students, was held the night preceding commencement in the University Dining Halls.

THE ALUMNI

DEATHS

JOSEPH M. HALEY, LL.B., '99, vice-president of the Association in 1918, trustee in 1919, and a director for the three years preceding his death, died in Fort Wayne on Friday, August 17. He had been ill nine months. Mr. Haley was one of Notre Dame's most loyal alumni, a strong factor in the development of the national Association and the Fort Wayne Club. The following memorial resolution, passed by the Allen County Bar Association, of which Mr. Haley had been a valued member, gives the details of Mr. Haley's life.

"Divine Providence, on August 17, 1928, removed from our midst Joseph Maurice Haley, a highly esteemed member of the Allen County Bar Association.

"Mr. Haley was born on September 6, 1876, in West Newton, Pa., the only son of Joseph A. Haley, and wife, who removed to Fort Wayne in October, 1882, since which time the deceased has been a continuous resident of Fort Wayne. He attended the Brothers' parochial school in Fort Wayne until graduation therefrom, and then matriculated at the University of Notre Dame, where he remained for a four years' course, graduating in 1899. At once he was admitted to the bar, and was associated with the firm of Bell & Doughman for one year, thereafter following the practice of law alone until his death. He was a member of both the Indiana State and the American Bar Associations.

"On August 21, 1911, he married Mabel Marie Evans who, with their only son, Robert Joseph Haley, survives. His father, Joseph A. Haley, a well known resident of Fort Wayne, died several years ago, but his mother, Mrs. Anna Haley, is living and in excellent health.

"Mr. Haley was deeply interested in the activities of his Alma Mater, and for four years past has been a member of the Alumni Board of the University.

"Mr. Haley was a gentleman of the highest calibre, liked by all who knew him; a lawyer of many-sided ability; a husband of unusual fondness and fidelity, a father instinct with parental love, and a devoted son, in addition to being a citizen always alive to the good and welfare of the community.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the Allen County Bar Association, realizing the loss from its membership of an excellent, well-bred lawyer of integrity and moral fibre, and further deploring the loss of a citizen of unblemished character, an exemplary father, husband, and son, desires to extend its heartfelt sympathy and condolence to his mother, his widow, and his son, in this their great bereavement."

Hon. John W. Eggeman, '00, is president of the Allen County Bar Association. Members of the Association acted as pallbearers, among whom was Frank M. Hogan. Hon. William P. Breen was a member of the memorial committee of the Association.

Very Rev. James A. Burns, Provincial of the Congregation of Holy Cross, attended the funeral of Mr. Haley, as did also James E. Armstrong, Alumni Secretary.

Another prominent alumnus was lost in REV. JOSEPH N. DONAHUE, C.S.C., Litt.B., '14, who died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Friday, July 27, after a three-weeks illness with peritonitis.

Father Donahue, former president of Columbia University, Portland, Ore., died in the city of his birth, South Bend, after a brilliant career.

Born Feb. 26, 1889, in South Bend, Father Donahue entered the University of Notre Dame at an early age. He was ordained into the priesthood at Notre Dame in June, 1916. From 1916 to 1920 he attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass., where he took a specialized course.

In 1920 he returned to Notre Dame, where for two years he was a professor in physics. He received his appointment to Columbia university in 1925 and left here to take up his position as one of the leading executives in Catholic education in the country.

Father Donahue served his full three years term in the presidency but ill health prevented his being available for the office for a second term. He returned to his residence at 513 N. St. Louis boulevard, 11 months ago.

The funeral was held in Sacred Heart church, Notre Dame. Th. Rev. Eugene Burke, C.S.C., recently appointed assistant provincial at Notre Dame and formerly associated with the late Father Donahue at Columbia university, as vice-president, acted as celebrant. The Rev. Thomas Burke, C.S.C., and the Rev. Walter A. Lavin, C.S.C., also officials of the university at the time Father Donahue was president and who recently returned from Portland, served as deacon and sub-deacon, respectively. Following the services the body was consigned to the grave in Community cemetery, Notre Dame.

He is survived by two brothers, Thomas E. and John W. Donahue, of South Bend, and a sister, Mrs. M. A. Wharfield, of Toledo, O.

The ALUMNUS regrets exceedingly to report the death on Sunday, September 9, of PATRICK T. O'SULLIVAN, one of the oldest alumni of the University and one of the most active and loyal. Mr. O'Sullivan was a student at Notre Dame from '70 to '74. He was elected a member of the Association in 1911 and has always been active in the affairs of the national organization and the Chicago Club.

Mr. O'Sullivan is the father of CLIFFORD O'SULLIVAN, '20, a lawyer in Port Huron, Mich., and nine other children. He is also survived by his widow, residing at 2500 E. 74th St., Chicago. Mr. O'Sullivan was down for Commencement in June and with MARK FOOTE, HENRY NEWMARK and DR. BERTELING formed as active a group as there was on the campus. He was a member of the A. O. H. and the K. of C. Funeral services were held in Chicago and he was buried in Valparaiso, Ind. REVS. M. J. WALSH, C.S.C., and EDWARD FINNEGAN, C.S.C. attended the funeral from the University.

MAX HOUSER, LL.B. '25, varsity football man in '23 and '24, was drowned at Mission Beach, California, Saturday, August 5, in a heroic attempt to save the life of Miss Virginia Moynohan, his fiancée. Houser was unable to swim. Houser came to Notre Dame from Lafayette University, and played end on the Notre Dame team for two years. He had coached since his graduation, and was employed last year at the San Diego Army and Navy Academy. Life guards were unable to revive Houser after working for more than an hour.

Word was received recently from the family of STANLEY F. RYCHOWSKI, LL.B. '27, that he died on March 27, of tumor of the brain.

Word comes from C. C. Fitzgerald that LT. COL. JOHN B. MURPHY, C.E. '96, died last December at the Presidio in San Francisco. Col. Murphy was a brother of Col. Pierce Murphy, '94, whose death on May 25, was noted in the June ALUMNUS.

The RT. REV. MSGR. COUNT FRANCIS BICKERSTAFFE-DREW, LL.D., '17, died in Salisbury, England, on July 4, aged seventy.

He was ordained a priest in 1884 and served as chaplain in the British army for more than thirty years. He served in the European War in 1914-15, and was mentioned in dispatches. He was assistant principal Catholic chaplain in 1918. He was made a Chamberlain by Pope Leo XIII in 1891 and by Pius X in 1903, was a member of the Pontifical Chamber of Malta and was a knight of the sacred military order of the Holy Sepulchre and a count in 1909. He held honorary degrees from the University of Notre Dame and Marquette University.

Monsignor Bickerstaffe-Drew was the widely read novelist "John Ayscough," the only one of the group of distinguished priest-novelists of recent years, which included Robert Hugh Benson, Canon Sheehan and William Barry, to use a nom-de-plume. . . . Of his long series of novels, which began with "Rosemary" and ended with "Marignita" probably the best known are "San Celestino" and "Gracechurch."

Monsignor Bickerstaffe Drew, despite his 70 years, was far from an honorary or titular chaplain in the great war. Dr. Arthur A. Martin in his "A Surgeon in Khaki" gives a striking picture of the aristocratic, many-titled prelate during the Battle of the Somme, carrying straw and making pillows and beds for the wounded, removing boots and cutting off bloody coats and trousers while shells exploded around him.

He exposed himself with such apparent recklessness that the men of the ambulance regarded his preservation as a miracle and gathered up bits of shell that fell near him as sacred souvenirs. For his services in the war the priest-novelist was made a commander of the Order of the British Empire, received the Mons. Viitory and General Service medals. Besides being mentioned twice in service dispatches he was cited in a special dispatch by the Secretary of War.

According to returned copies of the ALUMNUS, June 25, HON. JUDSON HARMON, who received an LL.D. in 1911, is dead.

A number of deaths that indirectly are of interest and regret to the alumni of the University have occurred during the summer.

Col. William J. Hoynes and Martin J. McCue, two of the oldest and most venerated of Notre Dame's alumni, lost brothers during the summer. Dean McCue's brother's death necessitated the Dean's presence in Rockford, Ill., and he has been granted a year's leave of absence from the College of Engineering to enable him to execute his brother's estate.

John Hoynes, Chicago, brother of the Colonel, was seventy-five years old. His death leaves Col. Hoynes the only surviving member of the family. Col. Hoynes' brother, until his death, was superintendent of the government printing office in Chicago.

The Congregation lost an old faithful member and many alumni lost a good friend when death claimed BROTHER HUGH, C.S.C., for many years a favorite and well-known figure about the campus "with his hoss." For the past ten years he has spent most of his time at St. Joseph farm. Brother Hugh died June 25 from the results of injuries sustained in a runaway several weeks before. His funeral was held the following Monday.

The University lost a generous benefactor in the sudden death on Friday, July 27, of W. J. BURKE, Portsmouth, Ohio, donor of the new 18-hole golf course which is being constructed on the campus. Mr. Burke was apparently in excellent health and was talking to Victor Labedz, '26, only a half hour before his death. The work on the golf course will be carried out as Mr. Burke had planned, and already the beautiful 130-acre tract is beginning to reflect the beauty of his vision and to stand out as a memorial to his generosity and interest in Notre Dame. Mr. Burke is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter.

The many friends of Edgar "Rip" Miller, '25, will sympathize with him on the death of his father, which occurred in Canton, O., Tuesday, August 7.

Word has been received by the Alumni Office of the death of FRANCIS MORANCY McKEE, Versailles, Ky., which occurred in an automobile accident April 25th, last. Mr. McKee received a Litt. B. in 1894.

JAMES W. CAMPER, 92 years of age, died September 4 at his home in South Bend. He was one of the first white men to be born in South Bend, and is said to have been the oldest living Notre Dame man in the city. He retired ten years ago, having been interested in business in South Bend until that time.

BIRTHS

MICHAEL ARTHUR NEEDHAM III arrived in San Antonio, Texas, July 12. As usual among these '25 offsprings, distinction has come to him young. He was christened on July 21 by His Grace Archbishop Arthur J. Drossaerts, D.D., and none other than JOSEPH A. MENDER was the proud godfather. Mike is doing as well as can be expected, and promises that young Mike will be a Notre Dame man.

Here, at last, is the secret of securing fifty-yard line seats—copyright 1928 by the Editor. Call the Athletic Office and ask for HERB JONES, '27. Say, "Herb, that daughter of yours (Jane Ann, born July 15) is the greatest kid," and out will come the reserved seats.

Mr. and Mrs. VINCENT J. BROWN, '23, announce the arrival of Vincent Joseph, Jr., on August 29 at Buffalo, N. Y.

DENIS JOHN PATRICK O'NEILL, nine pounds of O'Neill with two l's, was born on Friday the 13th of June. His father Denis O'Neill, '26, is with the N. E. A. in Cleveland (Newspaper Enterprise, lest someone hook him up with the National Education). His grand-father, Hon. William P. O'Neill, '06, former lieutenant-governor of Indiana, is practicing law in South Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. HENRY DILLON, '26, are the parents of a boy born on June 3rd. Henry was with the general laboratory of the Inland Steel Co., Indiana Harbor, Ind., at last report.

Mr. and Mrs. M. EDWARD FLEMING, South Bend, are the parents of a 7½ pound boy, born Saturday, August 18.

Mr. and Mrs. FRED KEENAN, Toledo, are parents of a 7½ pound daughter, born on August 29. Fred and his hotel system allow for lots of expansion that the ordinary father couldn't consider.

MARRIAGES

(The toll this summer was heavy. The Editor has probably missed, in all of these Class Notes, events of importance. The ones appended are the ones that have been sent in.)

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Simonich have announced the marriage of their daughter Mary Frances to CLARENCE J. KENNEDY, B.S., '05, and M.S. '07. The marriage took place July 9 in St. Raymond's Church, Joliet, Ill.

Miss Catherine Bowen, Chicago, and JOHN A. MULDOON JR., at N. D. from '10 to '15, were married at St. Clement's Church on July 25th. They are at home at 3750 Sheridan Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Socorro Diaz have announced the marriage of their daughter, Esther Cochran to EARL JAMES CLARK, '18, which took place on June 17 in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Nancy Bard, Little Rock, Ark., and LAWRENCE V. GORRILLA, '21, Ironwood, Mich., were married July 12 in Little Rock. After a honeymoon in the Southwest they returned to Little Rock where the groom is a senior in the Medical School of the University of Arkansas.

PERCE CONNELLY and CLETUS LYNCH were in South Bend for the ceremony. Paul and his wife left for a trip through Canada and will be at home in Penn Yan after Sept. 15.

Word has reached Notre Dame of the marriage of RICHARD "RED" SMITH, '27, former captain of the baseball team. Red has been one of the leading hitters with Montreal this season.

Miss Evelyn Ann Boll and LEO J. MCGARTY, '22, both of Milwaukee, were married by REV. JAMES GALLAGAN, C.S.C., in the Log Chapel at N. D., on June 11. Leo is with the Milwaukee Journal.

Miss Claire Anita Reilly and AUGUST DESCH, '23, were married June 16 in St. Aloysius' Church, Caldwell, N. J.

MARTIN HOGAN BRENNAN, '23, Chicago, and Miss Geraldine Imelda Ryan, also of Chicago, were married August 4th in Chicago.

Miss Della Adair Wilkowske, Faribault, Minn., and THOMAS JOHN LIEB, B.S., '23, and M.A. '26, were married on Tuesday, June 19. Tom and Mrs. Lieb spent their summer at Camp Rockne, where he is director, and will be at home after October 1, in Madison, where Tom is preparing a line for Wisconsin to stop Rock's backfield on the 6th.

WALTER MCINTYRE, '23, was married August 21, but there again details are lacking. This is one magazine that gives the groom the breaks, anyhow.

Miss Marie Rhodes, Culver, Ind., and GENE FITZGERALD, at N. D. in '19 and '20, were married in Los Angeles on July 7. The couple have been at home in Mishawaka, Ind., since August 1.

JOHN J. DORE, '24, Toledo, and FRANK MCGINNIS, a classmate, Cleveland, are both falling by the wayside on Sept. 8. John is marrying Miss Loretta Lahey of Cleveland, while Frank is marrying Miss Margaret Coyle of Toledo—interurban romance. The two couples will live within two blocks of each other in Toledo after the honeymoon. John was married in the Log Chapel, Frank in Toledo.

Following are the '25 weddings, lucky girls!

Miss Geenvieve Aquin Lang, Lawrenceburg, Ind., became the bride of RALPH F. HEGER in the Log Chapel on July 28. C. A. LANG, a student at N. D. and brother of the bride was best man. Miss Gertrude Heger, sister of the groom, acting as the bride's attendant. REV. GEORGE ALBERTSON performed the ceremony.

JOSEPH SCALISE was married on Aug. 21 in St. Thomas' Church, Cleveland, to Miss Mildred Co-viello of Cleveland. AL FOOS, a classmate was best man.

It seems that matrimony has also claimed FRANK CELEBREEZZE, Cleveland, but the breezes from the lake haven't carried any further dope.

The newspapers during the summer carried "soup-and-fish" pictures of HARRY STUHLBREHER and his bride, formerly Miss Mary McEnrey, who were married in Germantown, Pa., June 14. ED. HUNSINGER and DON MILLER were attendants of Harry.

Miss Mildred Johnson and JOHN W. HILLENBRAND, both of Batesville, Ind., were married with impressive ceremonies in St. Louis' Church, Batesville, August 18. After a short honeymoon in the East they set sail on August 25 for Bremen, Germany, and expect to tour the continent before returning to Batesville. John is with his father and brothers in the Hillenbrand Industries in Batesville and has bought a beautiful home there.

Miss Ellen Meagher, Chicago, became the bride of GERALD TIMMINS, '26, Montreal, in an impressive wedding in the Log Chapel September 1. REV. JOHN F. O'HARA officiated. After a six months honeymoon in Europe Jerry and his bride will return to Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Ormond have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ellen Elizabeth, to JAMES FRANCIS DWYER, '26, on Saturday, August 11th, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Beatrice Elizabeth Boyce, Escanaba, formerly a St. Mary's student, was married to VICTOR F. LEMMER, '26, Escanaba, on Wednesday, June 27. REV. M. A. MULCAIRE, C.S.C., vice-president of Notre Dame officiated. JOHN LEMMER, '18, Vic's only brother, was best man. The romance, so the Escanaba paper tells us, began when Vic used to cross the road on Sunday afternoons or wait downtown on Wednesdays. The couple left on a motor trip through the East and will be at home after Sept 15 at Marenco, Mich.

ROBERT F. CAREY, '26, was married in Chicago on August 29 to Miss Anne Lyons of Chicago.

Mrs. Martha Berney, Bartlesville, Oklahoma, has announced the marriage of her daughter, Dorothy Katherine, to JOHN B. LENIHAN, '26, which took place on May 3.

JOSEPH SEXTON, Indianapolis, was married to Miss Mary Therese Welch, of Indianapolis, on June 20 in Our Lady of Lourdes Church. Joe has been making a name for himself as coach of Catholic Central high school's football team there.

V. HILTON FALL, '27, was on the campus August 8. He is in Hammond, Ind., 303 Citizens Natl.

Bank Bldg., and was supposed to be married about the middle of August in Hammond, but details were not corralled.

—O—
Another wedding without even the customary details seems to have involved JERRY RHODES, '27, Louisville.

—O—
Miss Ruth Margaret Hoffmann, Chicago, and JOSEPH F. O'DONNELL, Chicago, were married on June 16 at St. Philip Neri's Church.

—O—
Miss Betty Holland and HAROLD J. CASEY, '27, were married in St. Patrick's Church, South Bend, Saturday, Sept. 1. The bride is a South Bend girl and the groom is from Mason City, Iowa.

—O—
Mr. and Mrs. Lou Miller, Sioux City, Iowa, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Marguerite, to JOHN WHEELER RICKORD, '28, also of Sioux City, which took place August 25 in St. Joseph's Church in Sioux City. Mr. and Mrs. Rickord took a honeymoon trip to Minneapolis, Minn., following which the groom returned to Notre Dame where he will continue his studies in the College of Law and handle the University publicity.

ENGAGEMENTS

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Kuboske, South Bend, of the engagement of their daughter, Catherine, to CHARLES E. MASON, '26, of Kokomo, Ind. Miss Kuboske is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy. October 4 has been set as the date of the wedding.

PERSONAL

Before 1880

Mark Foote, 501 City Hall, Chicago
Secretary.

HON. WILLIAM P. BREEN, '77, Fort Wayne, was a member of the Allen County Bar Association Committee that drafted resolutions of sympathy for Joseph M. Haley, '99, a Director of the Alumni Association at the time of his death. Mr. Breen was also at Mr. Haley's funeral. Friends will sympathize with him in the recent serious illness of Mrs. Breen.

1880-1885

Prof. Robt. M. Anderson, Stevens Inst. of Tech.
Hoboken, N. J., Secretary.

PROF. ANDERSON'S name appears on the list of Notre Dame men who are members of the new Western Universities Club in New York City. But the Editor presumes that the Professor has been enjoying a summer respite from the technicalities of his work.

1886

Michael O. Burns, 338 S. 2nd St., Hamilton, O.
Secretary.

REV. JAMES SOLON, De Kalb, Ill., wrote to the Rev. DANIEL HUDSON, editor of the Ave Maria; this summer, enclosing a check for dues, which was all the information the Editor received.

1887

Hon. Warren A. Cartier, Ludington, Mich.
Secretary.

MR. CARTIER wanted to resign his job as secretary of the Class, but if he doesn't have anything to do to worry him, he will be turning his attention to Michigan, so write him so many items that he will have to retire to handle them.

1888

John L. Heineman, Connorsville, Ind.
Secretary.

MR. HEINEMAN was on the campus once or twice during the summer, and with the return of his two sons, Charles and George, he will probably be even a more frequent visitor. Send him a few notes so he will be able to gladden the Editor's heart when he drops in, as he so thoughtfully does.

VERY REV. JAMES A. BURNS, Provincial of the Congregation for the U. S., and an outstanding educator, was again honored by re-election to the vice-presidency of the National Catholic Educational Association at their summer meeting in Chicago. Prof. Charles Phillips of the University faculty read an excellent paper at the same meeting.

Hon. James V. O'Donnell, 420 Reaper Block, Chicago
Secretary.

Boland Burke, '28, son of PATRICK E. BURKE, received a trip to Europe as a graduation gift from his father.

1890-1893

Louis P. Chute, 7 University Ave., Minneapolis
Secretary.

The Oregon papers were filled for several weeks after the appointment of Hon. NICHOLAS J. SINNOTT to the Federal Court of Claims in Washington, with eulogies of the Oregon jurist. The Editor received a number of such clippings in a very thoughtful letter from C. C. FITZGERALD, '94. The National Parks Association, through Rep. Crampton of Michigan, placed on the Congressional Record a testimonial to Judge Sinnott's fine work as chairman of the House committee on public lands. The place occupied by Judge Sinnott is a life-time position, carrying a $12,500 annual salary.

ERNEST F. DU BRUL, who has five degrees from Notre Dame after his name, beginning with a Litt.B. in '92 and ending with an A.M. in '95, was the author of a booklet, "Unintentional Falsification of Accounts"—published May 15 by the National Association of Cost Accountants. Mr. Du Brul is general manager of the National Machine Tool Builders' Association, Cincinnati. In the same month he also had an article, "Some Common Delusions Concerning Depreciation" in Mechanical Engineering.

Hugh A. O'Donnell, The New York Times, N. Y.
City, Secretary.

The Class Secretary had a thrilling airplane trip to Washington which the Editor is going to try to squeeze into this issue. If you don't find it this month look for it in October, because it is told in inimitable O'Donnell style and is very much worth printing.

1895

Eustace Cullinan, Sr., 860 Phelan Bldg.
Secretary.

FRANK WOLF DAVIS, Constantine manufacturer and valuable correspondent, has sent in a Charleston, W. Va., paper containing in large headlines the re-nomination by unanimous vote of HON. ARTHUR P. HUDSON as the Republican candidate for judge of the Circuit court. "Judge Hudson accepted the nomination and in doing so he declared that he realized the responsibilities of the office. It took less than half an hour to nominate Judge Hudson. His was the only name placed in nomination, and a motion to make the nomination unanimous was greeted with stormy applause and no dissenting vote. Judge Hudson was elected judge of the thirteenth judicial district eight years ago.

The Class Secretary, a Republican, finds himself in the interesting situation of having his son, EUSTACE JR., '25, a candidate for the California assembly on the Democratic ticket. Young Cullinan has the backing of both parties and seems a certain victor in the elections.

William P. Burns, 327 Willard Ave., Michigan City, Ind., Secretary.

The Secretary has been on the campus several times this summer in the interests of Ginn & Co. and to combine the pleasure of a visit with his brother, VERY REV. JAMES BURNS, C.S.C. Mr. Burns has asked to be relieved of this Secretarial work. He is away from home a great deal and feels that some other member of the Class could fulfill the duties more satisfactorily. Nominations are in order.

Joseph V. Sullivan, 2650 Lake View Drive, Chicago
Secretary.

A letter from CHARLES M. BRYAN, C. of C. Bldg., Memphis, Tenn., former president of the Association, '13-'14, enclosed a check for dues and complained about last year's experience when the Alumni Office returned a second check for dues which had been asked in error. Mr. Bryan suggests that such second checks, no matter how the mistake, be charged as fines for failing to appear Homecoming week, etc.

1898

F. Henry Wurzer, Buhl Bldg., Detroit
Secretary.

FRANK E. HERING delivered the keynote address at the annual convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles this summer. Mr. Hering is editor of The Eagles Magazine and has long been associated with the progressive policies of the order. Gov. Vic Donahey of Ohio attended the Columbus convention as a veteran member of the order. J. ELMER PEAK, '12, South Bend, also attended the convention. Many Notre Dame men have been closely associated with the Eagles.

Dr. Joseph F. Duane, 418 Jefferson Bldg., Peoria, Ill., Secretary.

The Class will rejoice over the placing of REV. MATTHEW SCHUMACHER, C.S.C., at the head of St. Thomas College, St. Paul; the school just taken over by the Congregation. Father Schumacher's ability as an educator and as an executive assure the Order of excellent representation in the new project.

1900

Francis O'Shaughnessy, 10 S. LaSalle St., Chicago
Secretary.

The Class Secretary was down during the summer to attend a meeting of the Committee appointed by Pres. Don Hamilton to formulate an Alumni Program. Mr. O'Shaughnessy also has a son who will enter Brownson Hall this Fall.

1901

Joseph J. Sullivan, 160 N. LaSalle St. Chicago
Secretary.

The President of the Notre Dame Club of Chicago has been busy all summer getting his committees organized and working for the early and heavy Fall. The Navy game will give the whole Chicago outfit, including Pres. Sullivan, a real workout.

GEORGE A. MCGEE, Minot, N. D., stopped at Notre Dame this summer on his way to West Point to visit his son, John Hugh, who was at Notre Dame in '26-'27.

M. J. DONAHOE, '01, drove in with his family during the summer. Mr. Donahoe has charge of the purchasing for the Illinois State Hospital at Jacksonville, Ill. There are 3,600 patients at the institution and everything used, food, clothing, tools, building material, etc., has to be purchased for three months ahead. Which gives a meager idea of Mr. Donahoe's job.

Peter P. McElligott, 320 W. 23rd St., N. Y. City
Secretary.

REV. LEO HEISER, C.S.C., was on the campus this summer, having come up from Texas to visit his family in South Bend.

The "Notre Dame Hymn" written by FRANCIS C. SCHWAB continues to be an integral part of Commencement exercises at the University, both in June and at the close of the summer session.

Francis P. Burke, 904 Trust Co. Bldg., Milwaukee
Secretary.

With the retirement of FATHER WALSH from the presidency of the University, his classmates seem to have retired also, as far as news items are concerned.

Robert Proctor, Monger Bldg., Elkhart, Ind.
Secretary.

The Class Secretary himself is in Wisconsin dodging hay fever, his office reports.

A letter to the REV. C. L. O'DONNELL, C. S.C., the new President, from HON. E. E. L. HAMMER contains several interesting notes. Judge Hammer had intended stopping at Notre Dame for Commencement on his way to the Democratic convention, but Fordham University conferred an LL.D. upon him at its commencement exercises and his presence there kept him from coming out this way.

Word from FATHER CAVANAUGH states that REV. MAURICE FRANCIS GRIFFIN, founder and pastor of the important parish of St. Edward's Youngstown, O., has been promoted to St. Philomena's Church, Cleveland, succeeding the Vicar-General as pastor there. Another Notre Dame boy, Father John Maloney, of the Cleveland diocese, succeeds Father Griffin in Youngstown.

1905

Daniel J. O'Connor, 10 S. LaSalle St., Chicago
Secretary.

The Class Secretary, relieved of his close connections with the Association as President and Director, did give a lot of valuable counsel at the summer meeting of the Board in Chicago, but since then has been swallowed up in the rush of Chicago Real Estate.

1906

Thomas A. Lally, 811-13 Paulsen Bldg., Spokane, Wash., Secretary.

Distinction has rained upon the Class of '06 this summer. FATHER CHARLES O'DONNELL is president of the University; FATHER GENE BURKE is on the Ave Maria staff and assistant to the Provincial; FATHER JIM GALLAGAN has gone to St. Thomas as director of student welfare; HON. WILLIAM P. O'NEILL has become a grandfather; FATHER CHARLES DOREMUS has been enjoying French where it originated; and there were others that escaped accurate enough details to note.

1907

T. Paul McGannon, Bar Bldg., 36 W. 44th St.,
N. Y. City, Secretary.

What with CLARENCE KENNEDY getting married and FATHER WILL BOLGER going to St. Thomas as vice-president, the summer has not been without activities for '07. DENIS E. LANNAN, Winner, S. Dak., visited the Office this summer with his two children.

Even as the Editor wrote these notes, VERY REV. JAMES W. DONAHUE, C.S.C., Superior-General of the Congregation of Holy Cross, called for the Class Secretary's address, commenting that the Bar Building has an unfortunate connotation.

Frank X. Cull, Bulkley Bldg., Cleveland,
Secretary.

THOMAS R. WOULFE is located at a new address, the Ogden National Bank, but still sticks to Chicago.

FOREST FLETCHER and Mrs. Fletcher were visitors in the Office the first part of August.

PAUL R. MARTIN is traveling about in Northern Canada if his plans at the close of the Ravinia season materialized.

John B. Kanaley, 29 La Salle St., Chicago
Secretary.

The Class Secretary as president of the Olympia Fields country club in Chicago, has probably been a very popular man this summer with visiting alumni.

PETE VAUGHAN headed a list of coaches who trained ten Indiana high school football teams at Tippecanoe Lake the last week in August. The goal post crasher was very popular with the boys.

1910

Rev. M. L. Moriarty, 527 Beall Ave., Wooster, O.
Secretary.

FATHER MIKE has not been his usual informative self, due, the Editor understands, to the construction of a new school for his parish in Wooster. He did not teach during the summer session here, as was his wont, and was missed by a number of his friends about the summer campus.

1911

Fred L. Steers, First Natl. Bank Bldg., Chicago
Secretary.

The Class Secretary has been enjoying a tour of Europe during the summer and will probably have plenty of good dope when he gets back and settled, but to date, silence.

JOHN C. TULLY, eminent manufacturer, president of the Bremer-Tully Mfg. Co., makers of radios, was elected treasurer of the Radio Manufacturing Association at the annual June meeting of that organization. Mr. Tully, who is one of the founders of the RMA, and who is now entering his seventh year of radio manufacturing, is enthusiastic about the patent pooling agreement in the association, a movement which will bring the radio to many of the small town areas which are now largely without it.

Edmund H. Savord, Box 135, Sandusky, O.
Secretary.

Familiar footsteps echoed on the campus for several days around the middle of July when GEORGE PHILBROOK, former football star and track champion, was a visitor. George put the shot 46 feet at the A.A.U. meet in 1912, when 46 feet was about as far as it was being put. HOWARD "CAP" EDWARDS and K. K. ROCKNE, former teammates of the visitor, took pretty good care of him. George coached last year at Whittier College, California.

This 1912 outfit seems to have a corner on the presidency of the Association, but as long as the presidents are so good, who cares about that? DON HAMILTON has taken hold of affairs with a bang and the year is going to bring about revolutionary changes in Alumni work. JOHN MURPHY, last year's president and a Director, is busy with the Van Swearingen interests in his new office in the Terminal Tower Building, Cleveland, which, the Editor understands, was financed through John's astute negotiations.

James R. Devitt, 921 Engineers Bldg., Cleveland, O.
Secretary.

Of interest to the friends of CLYDE BROUSSARD is the news that the 12000 acre Broussard ranch located southwest of Beaumont, is being divided into 160 acre dairy, poultry, and diversified farms. The development of this section of south-eastern Texas has been so rapid that they are not at present able to supply their own demand for poultry, eggs and dairy products.

"BUD" BRUCE, recently made General Sales Manager of Balder Electric Co. has moved his offices to 200 E. Illinois St. in Chicago. He will see you at the Navy game.

"CHUCK" CROWLEY again returns to Columbia as head coach, he has fair prospects for a team and can be depended on to turn out a team that will give a good account of itself in every game of its hard schedule.

HARRY J. KIRK continues his very able work as Chief Highway Director of Ohio. Harry has been connected with this department for several years and has had a very prominent part in the highway development of Ohio.

Springfield, Mass., entrusted the nomination of Al Smith to BILL GRANFIELD and when the old boy was not convening in Houston he was doing even better with play-mates from Notre Dame. For complete details see GEORGE DELANA.

REV. FRANCIS O'CONNELL is now located at Cory, Pa. He has completely recovered from a nervous breakdown brought on by the worries incidental to the financing of a Pennsylvania mining parish.

TOM O'NEIL, after a stage of bad health has again resumed his official duties with The General Tire Co. at Akron, O.

All '13 men will be interested in the news of the marriage of GEORGE DELANA. He spent the summer of 1927 under the trusty wing of "Peaches" Granfield and the influence of the patriarch bore fruit at some later date in the marriage of the prodigal George. The explanation, neither necessary nor truthful, might still be possible.

RICHARD V. BLAKE has moved his law offices from Jamaica, N. Y. to 956-66th St., Brooklyn, according to a letter to the Office, enclosing a check for dues "so that 1913 will be 100 per cent."

JAMES WASSON, who used to win track meets single handed, is leading an unusually clean life with the Palmolive-Peet Company in Berkeley, Calif., having transferred there from Milwaukee sometime before July.

Whatever the public may think of the actual liberation of George Remus, the legal process which brought it about was one of the brilliant performances of recent years. In this performance a Notre Dame graduate played a leading part—FRANK W. DURBIN of Lima. When news of his release reached the hospital, Remus was working on the farm. He rushed in and packed his things. Durbin was called and drove out after his client. Remus refused to wait for a train and Durbin drove him to Cincinnati, where the so-called "ex-bootleg king" announced he would make him home.

ED McHUGH who ended a three-year term as Director of the Association in June has been enrolled for further duty as a member of the Alumni Program Committee and took valuable time out to attend the first meeting of the Committee in South Bend Aug. 10. Ed had a most enviable record for attendance as a member of the Board of Directors, never letting time or trouble interfere with his service to the Association.

Frank H. Hayes, 25 N. Dearborn St.
Secretary.

The Class Secretary was appointed chairman of the Alumni Program Committee in June and has since been making an intensive study of the means of carrying out the many plans that have occupied his attention and the attention of the University authorities and the Association officers for several years. The rapid development of the committee work reflects Mr. Hayes grasp of the situation and his executive ability.

A recent communication from HERMAN O'HARA states he is now located at 718 S. 18th St., Newark, N. J. O'Hara states that he sees his classmate JOE FARRELL, who lives at Harrisburg, Pa., every few weeks and that everything is going fine with the General Electric and will while Joe stays in charge.

WALTER L. CLEMENTS, South Bend, and DEE NEWNING were the class representatives at the Democratic convention in Houston. They say "PEACHES" GRANFIELD of Springfield, Mass., was among those present.

Articles of incorporation for the North American College of Hotel Training were filed recently in Indianapolis. The College is to be located at Fort Wayne and FRANK M. HOGAN was listed as one of the incorporators. Probably will teach hand-shaking and rate-raising, although the Editor's experience is that hotel managers have these qualities naturally (with apologies to FRANK SWEENEY, FRED KEENAN, FRED JOYCE, etc.)

HON. MICHAEL F. GIRTEN, elected in '14, has moved his offices to 642-46 Builders Bldg., 228 N. La Salle St., Chicago.

FRANK CANNING dropped a note accompanying a check for dues to get in under the "preferred" limit of Aug. 1. "Fine footwear" at Oxnard, Calif.

WILLIAM McALLEN, alias "SCOTCH," Sorin Hall 1910-11, was the signature of a letter received here asking for dope on football tickets. The writer is half of the Watson-McAllen Company, insurance, 305 Pacific-Southwest Bldg., Pasadena, Calif. He adds, "I wish to thank you for past courtesies and assure you that on the day of the big game (So. Cal.) I'll have about a score of Pasadena American Legionnaires (officially the best post in the world) on hand to sing the Hike Song and commit such other noises as may tend toward victory."

1915

James E. Sanford, 8212 Kenwood Ave., Chicago, Ill.
Secretary.

The Class Secretary has received an inspiring letter from one of its members, BROTHER WALTER, C.S.C., who is devoting his life to the service of God in the jungles of Bengal, India. He writes: "How different is life here in the jungles. And I am really in the jungles,—forty miles from the nearest railroad, and fully thirty miles from the nearest public road where vehicles travel. There is absolutely nothing that rolls on wheels, not even the tiresome bullock cart, for miles around here (with the sole exception of our wheelbarrow.) The reason is simple; there are no roads and roads are not practicable in a country that is but a net-work of rivers, and under flood water five to eight feet deep from June to October. Boats are our only means of travel; and our country boats, crude wabbling affairs, rowed or poled by half-naked villagers make the enormous speed of a mile or a mile and a half per hour, unless favorable winds come to the rescue and fill the patched piece of sail that every boatman carries with him in the hope that the wind may do part of the work. A trip to Dacca, the episcopal city, forty miles away, often takes twenty-four or even twenty-eight hours."

Brother Walter goes on to say that they have "an enrollment of 620 boys, coming from eighteen or twenty neighboring villages," and mentions other heroic missionaries of Holy Cross laboring there, among them FATHERS GOODALL, WYSS and SWITALSKI and BROTHERS SEVERIN and BEDE. Members of our Class who were fortunate enough to have had Brother Walter as a friend should write to him. The address is Holy Cross High School, Bandura Hashnabad P. O., Dacca Dist., Bengal.

The Secretary recently ran across our old friend HAROLD MADDEN, LL.B., '15. We neglected to get Harold's address but learned that he is running a successful match business in Cincinnati and is associated in business with his old friend of N. D. days, JOE PEURUNG.

Men of 1915 have before them a real example of courage and Notre Dame fighting spirit in the person of JOE PLISKA. In spite of physical handicaps due to his War service Joe never misses a Notre Dame gathering whether it is in Chicago or at Notre Dame. We are all pulling for him to win his battle for health.

Judging from reports that reach us LARRY LA JOIE continues to forge ahead and is now one of Detroit's leading attorneys.

DR. JOHN CULLIGAN is practicing medicine with officers at 718 Lowry Bldg., St. Paul, Minn.

Any 1915 men who find themselves in the vicinity of St. Paul, Minn., will find it a pleasant and profitable experience to visit our old friends Rev. Matthew Schumacher, C.S.C.; Rev. William Bolger, C.S.C., Rev. Joseph Boyle, C.S.C. and Rev. James Gallagan, C.S.C., who have been given the task of making another Notre Dame at St. Thomas College.

TIM GALVIN sent in the following interesting item about a '15 man:

EMMETT G. LENIHAN is a candidate for Attorney General of the State of Washington in the Republican primaries, which are to be held on Sept. 11. Lenihan has been practicing law in Seattle for about two years and has been very successful. He attracted considerable attention during the recent city campaign and was one of the chief backers of a successful mayoralty candidate. As a result he is being backed in the State primaries by the Republican organization of Seattle as well as the Governor of Washington. Emmett was a debater at N. D. when Tim was setting the colleges on fire with his speaking.

MAURICE T. ANDREWS, who was at N. D. from '11 to '15, is now connected with the Elizabeth Daily Journal, Elizabeth, N. J., having left the Staten Islander, where he spent some time as sports editor.

Timothy P. Galvin, 708 First Trust Bldg., Hammond Ind., Secretary.

The Alumni Office was startled, delighted, almost unbelieving not long since to receive a check for sixty-five dollars ($65) from EDWARD N. MARCUS, public accountant, 604 Boyer Bldg., Detroit. Ed sent it in for back dues from the time of graduation until June 1929. The Editor has no ulterior motive in citing this generosity and loyalty, still—

REV. J. HUGH O'DONNELL has just returned from a much-needed vacation, to resume his duties as Prefect of Discipline. The "flu" almost got Father Hugh shortly after Commencement and it has taken a careful summer to get him out of the attack.

John U. Riley, 244 Washington St., Boston, Mass. Secretary.

Notice the change of address. The Class Secretary has taken another step onwards and upwards, viz: "The O'Malley Adv. & Selling Company of Boston has been incorporated with a capital of $50,000. Though on the surface, this business change involves merely the incorporation of an agency of long standing, the new concern represents in fact a consolidation of three distinct advertising organizations and a general expansion of the O'Malley Agency.... The newly incorporated company has absorbed the personnel and taken over the accounts of John Urban Riley Inc., and Mr. Riley has become vice-president and production manager of the new organization. Mr. Riley is an experienced advertising man, and has handled a variety of active accounts. He is a graduate of Notre Dame University, served overseas, returned with the rank of Captain, and is a member of the Crosscup-Pishon Post of the American Legion, made up of Boston advertising men. John was a visitor at the Alumni Office this summer.

1918

John A. Lemmer, 309 S. Seventh St., Escanaba, Mich., Secretary.

John and his charming wife were again at Notre Dame during the summer when he taught several courses here. His last official act reported was acting as best man to his young brother who didn't wait long to follow John's example.

A telegram from FRANK L. CULLINAN from Tulsa announced that a new move had caused Frank to lose his ticket application blanks. He is located at 17 E. 18th St., Tulsa.

REV. MATTHEW A. COYLE, C.S.C., received his M.A. at Yale last June and will teach at Columbia U., Portland, Ore., next year.

Clarence Bader, 650 Pierce St., Gary, Ind. Secretary.

The only news from '19 is that "Chick" will continue trying to get dope from you elusive members of the outfit. Slip him at least one encouraging note a month. He's pretty down about it all. The life of Class Secretary is a hell of a one anyhow. All work and no pay.

The Editor's only contribution is that REV. DOM GREGORY GERRER, LL.D. '19, is doing a mighty fine job of retouching Gregori's famous Columbian frescoes in the hall of the Main Bldg. Isabella looks ten year's younger and Columbus has lost the utter despair that time and the fingers of tourists, despite Brother Albeus, had given him.

Vincent Fagan, Notre Dame Secretary.

VINCE has been off in the East, accompanied by VINCE ENGELS, and hasn't been heard from at press time.

CHARLEY GRIMES is doing a fine job as THE GRIMES COMPANY, publishers, in the National Press Bldg. Washington.

LEO HASSENAUER, associated with Donald Richberg in the practice of law, has moved to the 32nd floor of 333 N. Michigan Ave., one of Chicago's new skyscrapers.

THOMAS H. BEACOM, Jr., has a new address, the Wheeler Kelly Hagny Trust Co., Wichita, Kas.

AL RYAN is conducting a school for branch managers for the Universal Credit Corp., 154 Bagley Ave., Detroit, and seems to like the job fine.

Alden J. Cusick, 1940 Curtis Ave., Denver, Colo. Secretary.

The Secretary received an interesting letter recently from LUCIEN LOCKE, who wrote: "Occasionally I see one of the boys from school. ART WEINRICH was out the other evening (Lucien is in Chicago, by the way, with Erwin, Wasey & Co., Advertising) and JIM CLANCY is practicing medicine in Hammond.... I expect to go to California on business in about six weeks, but I doubt if my itinerary will take me to Denver...."

Here's the talented WALTER O'KEEFE: Walter O'Keefe has made a name for himself on Broadway in the small period of 18 months. First writing that popular hit, "Since Henry Made a Lady Out of Lizzie," he went into Barney Gallant's night club in Greenwich Village, where he sang his own songs. Here he was spotted by theatrical managers who signed him up to write the score for a new musical show, which will be produced this coming season. A well-known recording company has him under contract for records. He was next scheduled to go uptown to Helen Morgan's place to entertain, but due to the recent raid, that work was canceled. But that doesn't matter—he has arrived.

FRANK E. COUGHLIN, a delegate from the South Bend lodge of Elks to the State convention, was elected third vice-president of the state organization at the closing business session.

MORRIE STARRETT writes that his real estate business is keeping him busy but that he will be on deck for the Southern Cal. game, and possibly the Navy. He says that the Western Washington alumni, headed by NED COCHRANE, assisted at the funeral of MAX HOUSER, former athlete, who lost his life by drowning this summer.

Frank Blasius Jr., 24 W. Main St., Logan, O. Secretary.

JIM FOREN and his brother, Father Foren, stopped for a moment on the campus last month on their way to Milwaukee, where Father Foren is stationed.

AL SCOTT has opened law offices Suite 607 Bank of Italy Bldg., Fresno, Calif.

John Montague, 1448 Albion Ave., Chicago Secretary.

Let's hear from the following '23 men within the next month:

CORNELIUS ALT. Chem. E.

ARTHUR J. ANGERMEIER, Ph.B. in Com.

EDWARD J. BAKER, C.E.

K. NORBERT BARDZIL, Ph.B.

HENRY F. BARNHART, Ph.B. in For. Com.

KARL BARR, Ph.B.

JAMES BELL, Ph.B.

VICTOR BLANCO, M.E.

JEROME D. BLIEVERNICHT, LL.B.

JAMES S. BRADBURY, LL.B.

At the 1923 Class Dinner in June it was decided that the best way to keep this column alive and interesting would be to start through the Dome and pick out the men in alphabetical order, print their names, and in a following issue print all the (printable) information received without making known the source. Watch for your name or the names of your friends because we don't want to go to press with a blank after anybody's name.

The June ALUMNUS in listing the '23 men who returned to Commencement included only those who registered at the Alumni Office. A check-up shows that by Sunday noon there were between 85 and 90 men of the 1923 Class back at Notre Dame.

Under the Marriage heading are found the names of GUS DESCH and MARTY BRENNAN. Gas has his office in Philadelphia and the new home in Germantown. Marty is located in Chicago preparing to make straight the path of the Chicago River, thus opening to business miles of waste land near the heart of the city.

Rumor has it that LEO McCARTY was married at Notre Dame the second week of June. Let's have this dope, Mac.

There was a big stir in the larger marts of trade in Chicago around the first of July when it became known that LAUERMAN Bros. Co., importers, jobbers and retailers, of Marinette, Wis., bought out the department store in Menominee, Mich. This institution is about the fifth great store to come under the Lauerman control. HANK must be working night and day to bring all this about but still he is, we hear, going to take time off to get married very soon.

The "racket" came close to the '23 men in Chicago when racketeers entered the GOULD garage, owned by Eddie's father, on N. Clark St., killed one employee and wounded another. Eddie has recently moved his florist shop from the store adjoining the garage to 1313 W. Randolph St. It is alleged that the men who did the shooting were the ones who, the night before, had shot a detective just outside the garage, and who came to kill a negro employee at the garage who had witnessed the shooting. The negro escaped with a wound, but a co-worker who came to his assistance was killed. The suspected gunmen have been arrested.

KENNETH KRIPPENE has announced a new connection, representing Chase Love, financing and investments, 120 S. La Salle St., Chicago.

KEVIN CURRAN was on the campus last month. He had recently enjoyed a trip to Australia. He is a junior in the medical college at St. Louis U.

PAUL CASTNER was the J. A. and ALEXIS COQUILLARD trophy for best net score in a 36-hole handicap tournament at Coquillard course Sept. 4.

'24 column and the Editor knows that he will welcome this informal announcement of a change to someone more conveniently located. As to who that someone will be, nominations are in order.

HARVEY BROWN received his M.D. at St. Louis U. in June, after four years of study and coaching there. No dope on Harve's plans was forthcoming.

JIM HAYES wrote recently from the midst of a stack of publicity glorifying Fifth Avenue, asking for a Scribbler pin to replace a lost original. He announced the opening of a "Recovery of Friendship" campaign to get back the gang that his job lost for him. Jim promises to be here in 1929 for the Reunion. Go thou, and do likewise.

A letter from 1000 Park Blvd., Baton Rouge, La., let's out the dope that CHARLEY ROBRECHT is with the Research Division of the Standard Oil Co. of La., and likes it. Charley says that PHIL BYRNE, former chem teacher at N. D., happens to be the boss of his section, which leaves him not entirely alone. Incidentally, Charley added, Byrne is going big with the company.

LEO HERINGER is out in Davenport, Ia., with the Prillaman-Adler Corp., JOE ADLER'S outfit. The address is 320 E. 4th St.

The Editor has both seen and heard from HARRY FLANNERY. Flan is going fine with the Fort Wayne Builders' Supply Co., handling publicity for the Catholic Community Center on the off hours. Harry's letter related a fine trip. He was in New York, saw Jim Hayes, Charley De Barry and Ted Berkery, who are living together. In Albany, he saw JERRY LYONS, going big in the newspaper game and turning down big offers right and left. Harry is about the only living Notre Dame man who missed seeing HUGH O'DONNELL while in N. Y., but Hugh was out when Harry was in. The trip East was part of an auto trip which Harry took with THOMAS A. HAYES, '16, Fort Wayne, and the mothers of the two. They visited Washington, New York, up the Hudson by night line, Albany, Plattsburg, Saratoga, Lake George, Lake Champlain, Rousse's Point, where a rum smuggler was killed not long ago, Lacolle, Quebec, L'Assomption, Champlain, where Tom Hayes lost his French barette, St. Anne de Beaupre, St. Anne de la Perade, Cap de la Madeleine, Montreal, Prescott, Ogdensburg, Alexandria Bay, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland, and all way stations.—Harry's description.

CHARLEY BUTTERWORTH, according to a news despatch in June, was to open an engagement in August in "Good Boy" a piece by Oscar Hammerstein II, Otto Harbach, Henry Myers, Bert Kalmar, Harry Ruby and Herbert Stothart. Charley was eligible for a big revue, the story adds, but passed it up for straight musical comedy. Reports of "Good Boy" have not yet reached this province.

Among our youthful celebrities is the '24 Class Baby. TOMMY AHEARN, the Texas wizard, etc. None of which is coming to Tom, except that he was the youngest member of his Class. Tom is hitting awfully well for an early bird writing scenarios for Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation in Hollywood. Tom went to Yale, Prof. Baker's school. It is too bad space doesn't allow a full report here. Briefly, Tom was good and is one of four of Baker's students in Hollywood on a six months trial. If they make good they get a five-year contract. The fact that Tommy is out there is a good sign. He sent in a lot of good dope, not for publication, and as space is scarce this issue, he wins.

Local boy makes good—J. HOWARD HALEY, formerly of Chillicothe, O., now of the firm of Gerber & Haley, South Bend, was the subject of the following item in a recent paper—Gerber & Haley, building contractor's have been awarded the contract for the new $100,000 St. Peter's Parochial school, Chillicothe, O.

HENRY FANNAN, Rockford journalist, was a visitor at the office last month, before the big rush in Rockford journalism took place when the Rockford Flyers were walking back.

John W. Scallan, 703 Pullman Bldg., 79 W. Adams St., Chicago, Secretary.

The journalists of '25 will greet with pleasure the receipt of a letter from Messrs. JOHN SHOWEL and JOHN MULLEN, two of the comets that swept brightly, but too briefly, across the journalistic horizon. John Showel is, in a modest way, he says, in the publishing business. John Mullen is doing very nicely as the educational director of an investment banking association. John's address—both of them—is at 6250 Winthrop Ave., Chicago.

A mix-up over football applicatoinis brought a letter from the reticent CHARLEY MOUCH. Charley was on vacation at Conway, Mich., resting from the cares of putting Sandusky on wheels (Chevrolet.) Charley said he expected to see "BUTCH" HAECKER Labor Day. Butch, the Editor gathers from Damn Rumor, is now in Grand Rapids, Mich., with the same outfit however.

THE HON. EUSTACE CULLINAN JR.—maybe not yet, but it won't be long. Eustace Jr. has practically sewed up the two major parties for his election as Assemblyman from the 25th district in California, all in the few months since his graduation from the Stanford law school. And, at that, he was at N. D. on a vacation in the earlier part of the summer. Mayor Rolph of San Francisco issued a pamphlet supporting him. Eustace Jr. is running on the Democratic ticket. Eustace Sr. is a prominent Republican. Maybe these rumors of political astuteness in the Class were not without their foundation.

BILL DIELMANN and JOE MENDER have both entertained the San Antonio N. D. outfit, most of whom are '25ers, during the summer. Dielmann, Menger, Hess, Needham (see births), Tynan, Hagerly, Esch, and E. M. Rowley, father of ED ROWLEY, who was killed while a student here.

DON AIGNER says he was sorry not to have gotten out for Commencement. Don is with the General Outdoor Advertising Co. in Buffalo. He lives at 30 Ashland Ave. HERM CENTLIVRE, he says, stops in to see him frequently, on trips out of Detroit for the Campbell-Ewald agency.

Had a note from PETE DUPAY, still with Frederick J. Schwarz, and still living at Basking Ridge, N. J.

A letter from STEVE CORBOY indicates that he is working in connection with the Chicago World's Fair Centennial Celebration.

Communicatoin with JOHN ANTHONY BARTLEY establishes the fact that he and New York are on good terms, in spite of the fact that he is living in close quarters with DAN O'NEIL, JOHN LYNCH, et al.

Believe it or not, the summer brought, besides Junetime and roses, a letter from EDDIE LYONS, erstwhile paradox of poetry and bolshevism, who is self-confessed service manager for the Duplex Truck Co., Lansing, Mich. Eddie says he never hears from anyone probably because he never writes. BOB RINK, he adds, comes over every two months, but each time his stay is shorter. Lyons says he would like to get to Grand Rapids and plans on hitting Detroit and South Bend before the summer is over.

JOHNNY WEIBEL writes that he is going back to Vanderbilt to finish up his course in medicine. He coached last year at Duquesne. This summer he has been in Erie, relishing, he adds, the balmy breezes after the smoke and hills of Pittsburgh. Johnny wrote that TOM BARBER, '24, was hitting the law in Erie (with Senator Kitts), and that JERRY HAYES, '26, has been selling Benziger's entire output to the citizens of Erie. DON AIGNER, GEORGE SPENCER and ROY PAULI, he added, were all in Erie for a wedding, but he didn't say more.

GUS SCOLARO dropped a brief note from the Mid-West Co., Cedar Rapids, Ia.

IZ PROBST was coaxed into a greeting from the Okaw Dairy Co., New Athens, Ill., extending an invitation to the Editor to visit there if St. Louis ever calls, New Athens being thus subtly located.

ED LAKNER was in Cleveland during the summer, after a year at Michigan.

BEN KESTING wrote that among other things his family was increasing every day in weight, "which will undoubtedly result in a damn good pair of tackles in a few years."

Had a nice long letter from JOE FITZPATRICK. Joe says he sees a lot of the fellows down in Miami, but that none of them stay long, mostly just business trips. Joe says he likes Miami, his chief reason for being there. Joe says just when conditions begin to get on his nerves he makes a hole in par, draws a good hand at bridge or gets a little raise, and the Florida sun shines again.

TOM GOSS has been transferred out to Harrisburg, Pa., Riverside Manor Apts. Tom wanted to hear from PAUL SAGSTETTER or HAROLD WATSON, not a bad idea.

JOE BURKE has been getting a workout as Secretary of the N. D. Club of New York, but has had a little respite this summer.

BILL HURLEY, who was in Cleveland for some time, has been moved to Knoxville, Tenn., by the General Motors Acceptance Corp. With SPIKE McADAMS transferred to N. Y., rumor also has it that TOOLLEN and SOMMER are considering delivering another blow to Cleveland.

JOHN K. MUSSIO, M.A., '25, has been made an instructor in English at St. Xavier's college, Cincinnati, where he received his A.B.

The Rohrbach Motor Co., Cape Girardeau, Mo., is dispensing Oldmobile sixes under the capable supervision of GEORGE ROHRBACH. George says he hasn't located any N. D. boys around there but hopes to.

SIXTY-FIFTH YEAR OF BUSINESS

TOM LOFTUS is now at 617 75th St., Brooklyn, but must have had writer's cramp beyond this meager information.

LEO J. POWERS is with the Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Co., 804 Park Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

ED HUNSINGER, according to recent newspaper notice, is to remain at Villa Nova with HARRY STUHLBREHER in spite of attractive offers, including the head line coaching job at Dartmouth.

ART McMULLEN broke silence not long ago but worked too much on the theory that money talks. It is a wonderful "hello" or "good-bye" but it doesn't give a hell of a lot of detail, to put it in the Corby style to which McMullen had become accustomed.

JOHN QUIGLEY dropped a note from Box 1000, Seminole, Okla. John is still with the Sinclair company and enjoying his work. He hopes to make one game at N. D. this Fall.

A little '25 group gathered at the Editor's home during the summer, reminiscent of Prof. Cooney's classes—BOB HOWLAND, who is married and living in St. Louis, writing advertising for the Missouri Pacific; TOM COMAN, who is also married and writing politics, primarily, for the South Bend News-Times; JERRY HOLLAND, who is not married, and who is state editor of the News-Times; and the Editor of this excellent periodical,—all, you see, retaining a hold, however slight, upon a profession that Dr. Cooney labored so long to impart. Mrs. Howland, Mrs. Coman, Thomas Coman III, Jerry's lady friend and the dubious hostess completed the gathering. Old age had sobered the group. Great changes. Even Howland confessed that he was really working for a living. But a good time was had by all. Holland, by the way, left Sept. 8 for sunny California, to visit his mother in San Diego.

THE CLASS OF 1925 WILL REUNITE IN JUNE, 1930.

Gerald Weldon Hayes, 3117 Washington Blvd., Sta., D., Chicago, Secretary.

Jerry has been representing Benziger's in the East all summer and is probably running over with dope, but no word from the traveling salesman. Write him and give him the devil.

LARRY KEEFE, according to a letter from DAN O'NEIL, 25, is now with the Public Service Corp., makers of Lily Cups. He left the Western Union last Spring. DAN O'NEILL, '26, who stopped in the office this summer with TOM SHERIDAN, has left the G-E at Schenectady to come to Paterson, N. J., to work for the Public Service Electric and Gas Co., as lighting representative. FRED FORHAN has joined HOWARD BENITZ, '25, TOM SHERIDAN and JOE ENGESSER in building up the N. Y. Tel. Co. ED HARGAN is now with the Central Union Trust Co. as an income tax specialist.

CHARLEY MASON, besides becoming engaged, has been appointed district plant superintendent of the Indiana Bell Tel. Co. at Kokomo. He has 19 counties and 61 men in his jurisdiction.

MIKE MURRAY spent the summer with a northern lumbering firm, in Wisconsin.

STEVE PIETROWICZ is rumored to be engaged. Whether or no, he was down to pick up some details on JERRY TIMMINS' wedding.

SIDNEY EDER received his LL.B. in June and has been admitted to the St. Joseph Co. Bar. He has opened offices at 205 Indiana Trust Bldg. Sid has been playing in orchestras and over WSBT in addition to working on his Blackstone.

WILLIAM J. MOORE wrote, after a long silence, that he is figuring on attending the Navy game. Bill, it turns out, is editing the Catholic Columbian, in Columbus, O., having been there since February. Before that he was with JIM HAYES, '24, in the Fifth Ave. Association.

A year and a half in the rather active lower Rio Grande region of Texas and over the border in Mexico have ended for COYNE HATTEN and he is back as secretary of the Home Land & Loan Co., Webb City, Mo.

FRANK KLEIN is with the Daily Journal outfit in Peoria. BILL DOOLEY, erstwhile native of Peoria, now publicly utilizing the N. Ind. Pub. Serv. Co., had been in Peoria just before Frank wrote. Frank sends his regards to the '26ers he knew.

JACK SCANLON passed the New Mexico bar exams in January and has opened law offices in Springer, N. Mex.

BOB ANDREWS, '26, benedict, is living at 13304 First Ave., Cleveland, a corrected address announces.

TONY RONAS sent in his dues during the summer from an imposing letterhead of the Roxas family, doing business at 719 Echague, Manila, P. I.

Edmund De Clercq, 7212 Circle Ave., Forest Park, Ill. Secretary.

The Class Secretary is still with the Fleischmann Co., but the Editor didn't get much of a rise out of him.

TOM CONROY has been transferred from the Pittsburgh plant to the Edgewater, N. J., offices of the Aluminum Co.

LAWRENCE "DINK" HENNESSY is in the insurance game in Vicksburg.

ED BRODERICK is in the law business in Newark. JACK HICKOK is with a power company at Great Falls, Mont.

JOE MAXWELL and HORACE SPILLER, at last reports, were connected with the Standard Adjusting Association of Philadelphia.

HARRY RYAN stopped at Notre Dame the week before school opened on his way to Kenrick Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo.

A letter from HERBERT BRAUN says that he landed with the Barber-Greene Co. in Aurora soon after graduation, with a title of designing engineer. The company makes coal handling machines, loaders, conveyors, excavators, etc. Herb says the work is O. K.

BILL KAVANAUGH writes from Dayton, O., that he will probably make a game or two up here this Fall. Bill is afraid he won't know the campus with its uniformed police force, 18-hole golf course, etc. He will, though.

The August 19 edition of the Philadelphia Record says: HUGH McCAFFERY, Notre Dame's contribution to swimming circles in this district, added the Middle Atlantic 100-yard free style title to his rapidly growing bunch of titular honors. McCaffery's feat in capturing the century was the outstanding event of the day, which bristled with close and keen competition in every event. The former Notre Dame star already holds the 220-yard and the half-mile free style outdoor crowns, and this makes his third title win, besides many individual feats in open competition.—It seems that Mac is getting along swimmingly.

JOHN HALPIN, former mimeograph expert, wrote from 5527 Wayne Ave., Chicago, that he, his brother DICK, and JIM CANIZARO, '28, are living together and going O. K. Dick is with the Commonwealth Edison Co. Jim is with Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, architects. John is cost accountant with the International Harvester Tractor Company.

Had a nice letter from BERNIE ABROTT and DAN MOORE, who have been working for the Combined Locks Paper Co., Appleton, Wis., this summer. Dan said that their addresses are always subject to the sheriff's notice but that Bernie can usually be reached in California and himself in Oak Park.

TOM McKIERNAN has joined the bond department of Old National Bank, Fort Wayne, his home town. He was formerly with the bond department of the Chicago Trust Co.

Ogallala, Nebraska, which sounds like a Sioux war-cry, is coming to life under the legal influence of JERRY MCGINLEY, who has hooked up with the firm of Halligan, Beatty, Halligan & Maupin.

L. WILLIAM FURY dropped a welcome line from his "summer home" the William Carey Camp, James-port, L. I. (This is not the present Registrar.) Bill said he would be back in New York when it cooled off.

BOB HENNES sent in the brief word that JACK CAROLLO, NORM STEYSKAL and himself received their M.Ss. from M.I.T. in June. Steyskal was supervising construction of concrete pavements in Silver City, N. M., and Bob was with the research division of the engineering department of Detroit.

JOHN WALLACE passed the Illinois bar exam with a high average. DAN HARVEY also passed the exam, but Dan's publicity man wasn't as informative as Wallace's.

BILL CLARK JR., Toledo, wrote in to get his address straightened out so that Rock would know where to send the 50-yard ducats.

Had a note from JERRY LE STRANGE from the International Business Machines Corp., Albany, asking for the dope on Army tickets.

EUGENE "SCRAPIRON" YOUNG is a full-fledged Wisconsin barrister.

1928

Louis J. Buckley, Jefferson Hotel, Peoria, Ill. Secretary.

HOWARD PHALIN, class vice-president and Grand Knight last year, is sales manager of the Buffalo territory for the Midland Press and resides at 44 Orchard Place, Buffalo, N. Y.

JOE GRIFFIN, class treasurer, will take law at De Paul U., Chicago.

J. R. MURPHY is connected with the Midland Press and is at present located in the Buffalo Territory and resides at 44 Orchard Place, Buffalo, N. Y.

BILL KIRWAN is with the Montgomery Ward Retail store organization and is located in Keokuk, Iowa, residing at 320 N. Eighth.

JOE LANGTON is connected with the Commercial Trust & Savings Bank at Peoria and resides at 200 Hiller Place.

JOHN ANTUS, who has been attending Notre Dame Law School this summer, is now at the Yale University, College of Law.

JIM ALLEN has been attending Notre Dame Law School this summer and is back again this fall to finish law here.

HOWARD PHALIN, Indiana State delegate, together with J. R. MURPHY and ED McKEOWN attended the K. of C. Convention at Cleveland, Aug. 20th, so we can feel assured that Notre Dame Council was well represented by 1928 fellows.

JOHN HERBERT is attending the First National Bank's school of Banking in New York City.

LOUIS BUCKLEY, class secretary, is connected with the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., and is located in their branch territory office at Peoria, Ill., residing at the Jefferson Hotel.

BERNARD P. WOOD is reported to have passed the New Mexico bar exams with highest average. He has been appointed assistant district attorney, first judicial district, under John Kenney.

STEVE WOZNAK is reported to have successfully negotiated the Ohio bar exams.

DICK ELPERS attended the Indiana Literary Field Day at Culver, Aug. 4, where his play, "Prize Money," won twenty-five of that very thing. A number of Notre Dame men and friends of the University were present.

YOUNG ED WALSH, "Little Moose", has been hitting the top in early major league games, showing the hard-hitting and veteran Yanks as good a brand of pitching as they usually run across, and apparently cinching a job for himself with the rejuvenated White Sox. Ed spent a couple of days between games on the campus and seems to fit into the Big Time with all the coolness of his famous dad.

DEAN KONOP of the Law School has received word that several '28 men have been admitted to the bar. ED MCGUIRE, LES HEGELE, JOHN WALLACE, DICK QUINLAN, and BILL DAILY, high honor man for the Class, passed the Illinois bar exams.

ART ZIMMERMAN sent in five bucks to put him on the right side of the Alumni ledger for the year. He seems to be finding enough to do and plenty of company in Chicago.

JOHN McMAHON wrote from Towanda, Pa., where he was correspondent for his home town paper (Sayre, Pa.), that he likes the work fine, and that Towanda is a bustling town of about 5,000, big enough to interest the Sayre circulation manager.

LEO R. MCINTYRE, another outstanding journalist of '28, and editor of the snappiest and bulkiest, and latest issued, Santa Maria in the local Council's history, has been wandering around this summer waiting for Hearst or Howard to resign. Mac is in the little town of Bethlehem, Pa.

Two post cards from Paris—not the usual Paris post cards, let it be hastily added—were received in the Office this summer. One was from BO BURKE, who returned to New Orleans via the old country. The other was from BURT TOEPP, who found one of the three men from N. D. supposed to live in Paris,—a good average.

BILL O'HARA, the Connecticut Yankee, wrote from New London, closing with "work calls" but he didn't say whose, or what.

Dues were received from the father of DAN BRADLEY. Bradley pere stated that Dan was in Amsterdam at the Olympic games.

A long and interesting letter arrived during the summer from WALTER LAYNE, last year's Juggler editor, who has transferred his humor to L'je, and is living in New York City, Apt. 1B, 456 Riverside Drive, in case anything funny happens. Walt, from the report of other New Yorkers, is getting along fine.

CONRAD OCHOA visited the Office Sept. 8 on his way to New York after a summer in his native Mexico. He was twenty-five pounds heavier than when he finished JOE CASASANTA'S training in the Glee Club. He brought his two sisters from Mexico to attend school and was intending to enroll them at St. Mary's.
