COMMENT

"Autres temps, etc."

This year the ALUMNUS changes its custom a bit. October's bright blue weather witnesses the lily-gilded first edition of the 1931-1932 volume.

It comes late. We had planned it for October 1.

You might just as well know now that for the next several months everything may suffer the same fate.

Notre Dame, and Notre Dame men, have one thing uppermost in mind—the Memorial to Knute K. Rockne.

Alumni are playing such an important part that the Alumni Office has naturally been drawn into the whirlpool of activities surrounding the progress of the Memorial. Rightly so.

We cannot, and will not of course, neglect fundamentals, nor should you. The ALUMNUS will appear monthly. We will accept your dues and Living Endowment checks. Class letters will go out. Clubs will meet.

Our only note here is that the time and talents of the Alumni Office are limited (Hear, hear!).

What you want, ask for. No one hopes more fervently than do we that all requests can be fulfilled, immediately and adequately.

Rock could never use the man who used alibis. Certainly the Rockne Memorial ought not to be so employed.

So we won't say "No" to anything, but we may have to say "Just a minute please."

There are so many good men and true of our own N.D. persuasion similarly engaged in their communities with the promotion of this project that understanding will be universal.

It's a new ALUMNUS year. May it be a happy one.

Send in news. Send in clippings of our alumni who are getting places, and believe me they are! Send in ideas for or against the magazine. It is your publication—of, by and for the alumni of Notre Dame.

This magazine purports to be the mirror of Notre Dame and her alumni. The University has doubled its physical plant and the Association has doubled its personnel since the ALUMNUS first went to press.

You might read very carefully the letter of President Hayes in this issue, in conjunction with the foregoing paragraph.

It involves a suggestion we hope may never be carried out, but it is a suggestion based on the cold facts from Walter Duncan's office.

Million Dollar Memorial to Rockne Progresses

Alumni Among Leaders in National Project to Commemorate the Late Director of Athletics. Response Is Very Encouraging

Permanent programs and established policies at Notre Dame are pursuing the even, if rapid, tenor of their ways.

Meantime, all agencies of the University have been placed at the disposal of the Rockne Memorial Association for the immediate realization of the great objective for which that organization was formed.

Announcement was made at Commencement by the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., of the Association and its purpose. Immediately upon the close of school, plans were studied and action decided upon.

The Memorial is national. Its opportunities for remembering Rock are open alike to Notre Dame men and that great host of friends he made beyond the campus.

To facilitate progress, Notre Dame immediately offered a site for the Memorial building and in addition has underwritten the rather considerable expense of providing a national organization which will give to Rockne's friends everywhere an equal opportunity to participate in this Memorial.

The Alumni Association, already organized nationally, and certainly as strong a group of Rockne admirers as his vivid career could gather, has been looked to as a most convenient source of aid.

The Rockne Memorial Association, Inc., is headed by the following officers: Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., honorary president; A. R. Erskine, president and general chairman; George F. Getz, chairman of special gifts; Frank E. Hering, chairman of publicity; Francis H. Hayes, president of the Alumni Association, chairman of organization; J. Arthur Haley, treasurer and chairman of lists; Rev. M. A. Mulcaire, C.S.C., chairman of speakers; Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of ways and means; James E. Armstrong, secretary.

An executive committee supplements the officers, as follows: George M. Anson, Edward J. Doyle, Robert C. Graham, John D. Hertz, Edward N. Hurley, Byron V. Kanaley, C. Roy McCanna, John H. Neeson, Thomas F. O'Neil, James J. Phelan and Will Rogers.

National sponsors of the Memorial who have expressed their appreciation of the Memorial and the man to whom it is to be erected, are Alfred

This truly memorial foyer is another of the decorative concepts of Carroll and Dean.

E. Smith, Richard E. Byrd and Owen D. Young.

In the divisional organization that has been utilized to divide work and responsibility, alumni are in even greater proportion.

Timothy P. Galvin, '16, is in charge of the Indiana division; James H. Brennan, '20, president of the N. D. Club of Chicago, is division chairman for Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota; Dan R. E. Shouvin, '14, has Ohio; Charles E. "Gus" Dorais, '14, is in charge in Michigan; John H. Neeson, '03, will handle Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia; Hugh O'Donnell, '94, and Joe Byrne Jr., '15, Newark, are chairmen of the New York and New Jersey divisions; Joseph A. Gartland Jr., '27, is chairman of New England's group; Charles M. Bryan, '97, has Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee; Charles Bachman, '15, will organize Florida, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi; Dr. D. M. Nigro, '14, is in charge of the Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas division; James D. Barry, '97, is handling organization in Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona; Edward P. "Slip" Madigan, '20, is working in Northern California and Henry I. Dockweiler, '12, in Southern California, while James M. Phelan has Washington and Oregon to complete the Pacific divisions.

The objective is a short working period for the organization, during which the maximum results will be obtained through thorough preparation, beginning November 5 and lasting about one month.

Several special features have been arranged to promote this aim.

Dinner meetings to mark the formal opening of the intensive campaign period will be held by workers throughout the country on Thursday evening, November 5. There is a possibility of arranging a national radio hook up so that all Notre Dame Alumni may have an opportunity to listen in and learn what is going on.

"Rockne Day" will be observed in honor of Knute K. Rockne throughout the country on Saturday, November 14, according to plans now being made by the National Coaches Association in cooperation with the Rockne Memorial Association.

John T. (Chick) Meehan, president of the Coaches Association and football coach at New York University, is taking active charge of the participation of the Coaches Association in observing "Rockne Day." The celebration will be held in connection with the nation-wide campaign.

A. R. Erskine, general chairman of the national executive committee directing the fund-raising campaign, has received assurance from Meehan that every member of the Coaches Association will be urged to cooperate in the national plan of honoring Rockne during the height of the football season.

The coaches have endorsed suggestions that there be a Rockne Memorial service between the halves at every football game on November 14, and that spectators at all games on that day be given opportunity to contribute to the Rockne Memorial Fund.

The plan of giving spectators at games opportunity to make gifts to the fund was originated at the Southern California-St. Mary's game in Los Angeles, Saturday, September 26.

"When plans for the Rockne Memorial campaign were being formulated," Chairman Erskine said recently in commenting upon the proposal to observe 'Rockne Day,' "various suggestions were made to the effect that colleges might wish to assist in the fund-raising activities by charging a larger sum than usual for admission tickets and contributing the difference. Our executive committee vetoed these suggestions on the grounds that such methods of fund raising might be construed as coercive. It was felt that contributions to the Rockne Memorial Field House Fund should be made entirely on a free-will basis. For this reason, we heartily endorse the splendid efforts that have been made by authorities at the Southern California-St. Mary's game and which will be adopted at the games to be played on 'Rockne Day.'

"It seems to me to be particularly fitting that 'Rockne Day' will be observed at the intensive period during the current football season, when the memory of that great man is more vivid than ever in the minds of all lovers of clean sportsmanship."

The Field House itself is pictured in a set of designs submitted by Maurice Carroll, '19, and Chester Dean, Kansas City. Several views by the architects are reproduced in this issue. As announced at Commencement, Mr. Carroll has offered to do the architectural work considerably below the usual cost.

The Rockne Memorial Field House as at present proposed will be built on the old Cartier athletic field where Rockne molded some of the greatest football teams of the day. It will occupy a plot on a four foot terrace close to the Notre Dame Stadium.

Rugged in outline and strong in mass, the Rockne Field House of Messrs. Carroll and Dean has been designed in a modification of the English Gothic. Exterior walls of Indiana limestone laid up in random ashlar will be broken by three massive stone arches of the entrance. In length 350 feet and 275 feet wide, the building will rise fifty-six feet above its site.

On the first floor of the two-story structure will be a Memorial Foyer and Trophy Hall; the Monogram Club Room which will contain mementoes of the Monogram Club and of Rockne; offices of the Athletic Association; twenty-two handball and squash courts; and rooms for wrestling, boxing and other forms of indoor sports.

The second floor will include four standard size basket-ball courts, marked to allow eight practice courts; an apparatus gymnasium; a corrective exercise gymnasium; and medical examination rooms.

The west wing of the building will contain a swimming pool, 35 feet by 75 feet, designed for intercollegiate races.

In line with Rockne's known desires, the Field House is planned to provide athletic and recreational facilities for the undergraduate body as a whole rather than members of varsity teams, officers of the Rockne Memorial Association have pointed out. In the Field House, every member of the student body will have the opportunity to enjoy recreation and exercise in basketball, handball, squash, gymnasium apparatus work, wrestling, boxing swimming and other forms of sport. In effect, the Rockne Field House is designed as an all-sports building for the specific benefit of every student.

A fund of $650,000 is required for construction, and $350,000 will be sought for endowment of the Field House.

Professor Edits Magazine

Notre Dame alumni with literary interests will learn with pleasure of the recent progress made by the well known magazine "The Midland," the editor of which is Professor John T. Frederick of the Department of English. Since his coming to Notre Dame a year ago from Iowa State University, Professor Frederick has moved "The Midland" publication office to Chicago, and has changed it from a bi-monthly to a monthly magazine, at the same time increasing its size and broadening its field. The short stories of "The Midland" have become nationally famous, and have lately been accorded a very high place by the critics. In O'Brien's "Best Short Stories" for the current year one of the features is a "Midland" story by Reverend Leo L. Ward, C.S.C., who is a regular contributor to the magazine.

Medalist Visits N. D.

Jack J. Spalding, Atlanta, Ga., attorney and winner of the Laetare medal in 1928, was a visitor on the Notre Dame campus September 8 for the first time since he won the high Catholic honor.

Mr. Spalding spent several hours visiting with the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of Notre Dame, and the Rev. Matthew Walsh, C.S.C., president emeritus. Mr. Spalding is widely known throughout the south for his fine work in Catholic charities. He was decorated Knight of St. Gregory by Pope Benedict in 1927 and served as president of the Atlanta Bar association in 1929.

This is the Main Entrance of the Proposed Memorial, as designed by Architects Carroll and Dean.

RELIGIOUS PAGE » » » »

John F. O'Hara, C.S.C.
Prefect of Religion

At the foot of this page you will find the answers of the alumni to one of the questions asked in the Religious Survey of the alumni. You will observe that sixty percent of the 630 who returned questionnaires had active suggestions, some of them more than one, regarding what the University can do in the way of spiritual education of the alumni. The vote suggests that something be done immediately to satisfy this demand, and the editor's response to it is the introduction of a Religious Page as a regular feature of the ALUMNUS.

The questionnaire has furnished abundant material for this page, but the editor solicits an expression of your further wishes in this matter. A whole issue of the ALUMNUS could be devoted to answering questions propounded by the graduates through the medium of the Survey; but there may be topics more timely than some of those already proposed, and the editor will be glad to have your suggestions on them.

Comment upon the proposals offered through the medium of the questionnaire, as set forth on this page, will be welcomed by some.

1. Last year the University administration offered to mail the daily Religious Bulletin, without charge, to all alumni who ask for it. Some two hundred availed themselves of this offer, which is repeated this year.

2. Six of the nine Religious Surveys of the students have been mailed to the alumni, and it is the intention of the University to continue to send them these annual reports. They will be noticed in the ALUMNUS as they appear, and any alumnus who fails to receive his copy may inform this office and have another sent to him.

3. It is quite likely that there will be further surveys of the alumni, since the response to the first one was so gratifying. In fact, a supplementary survey, to be reported with the one last spring, is now in the mail.

4. The Prefect of Religion will mail both pamphlets and lists of pamphlets to all graduates who ask for them. The daily Bulletin from time to time lists current pamphlets of exceptional merit or unusual importance.

5. The daily Bulletin will "keep you posted" on religious activity at Notre Dame, and this page will attempt to do the same in a more condensed way.

6. The proposal to encourage Communion breakfasts for local clubs has our hearty approval, and the editor would be glad to hear from John Hurley on the plan followed by the Notre Dame Club of Toledo in organizing such meetings. (Ed. NOTE: See Toledo Club news.)

7. The sectional retreats, inaugurated by the Notre Dame Club of New Jersey, and followed successfully by a few other local clubs, will probably follow the establishment of Communion breakfasts (especially if political speeches are barred from these spiritual gatherings).

8. Many of the alumni, especially those of recent years, send word to the University when prayers are especially needed for some intention. These requests are announced in the Religious Bulletin.

9. The fellow who wants a "purple prayer book" will receive one if he will send his name and address to the Prefect of Religion.

Two hundred and fifty-one had no suggestions to offer, and forty-nine felt that Notre Dame is doing all she can for them. Among the miscellaneous suggestions were the following: Be gentle, kind, and tolerant; be impartial with the alumni; spread the practice of frequent Communion elsewhere; suggest special novenas and devotions; educate our sons well; sponsor a wider distribution of Catholic thought on public questions; continue to send out good missionaries; establish an A-1 Catholic weekly; encourage frequent visits to school; give the privilege of using books from the University library; have a spiritual society for alumni; "send me a purple prayer book."

Open Letter From President Hayes

25 N. Dearborn Street,
Chicago, Illinois

FELLOW ALUMNI:

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for having been honored with the position of President of the Notre Dame Alumni Association. The work of your Association has grown in such tremendous proportions that your President could devote his entire time to your organization and still fall short of really fulfilling the obligations of his office. It is the more necessary, therefore, that we have the cooperation and support of all of our members.

The only income of your Association is from the payment of dues, and out of the proceeds of these dues the Secretary and his office force are the only ones who receive any compensation. Like all associations of this character, our members are more or less negligent in regard to sending checks in payment of their dues.

In order that you may understand how important it is that you pay your dues, I just want to call the item of the ALUMNUS to your attention. This is probably one of the finest Alumni publications in the country. I know exactly how each of you feels when you receive it in your mail—you drop everything else and read it. The cost of this publication is about $5,500.00 per year. Naturally, if our finances are not kept up this will in necessity be the first expense which we will be forced to curtail. This, of course, is the last thing in the world that we want to do, and even though we are all experiencing difficult times in our personal finances, I feel sure that in some way we can afford $5.00 for our dues and keep our organization functioning during this period of depression.

To date this year the payment of dues has been much slower than in preceding years. It has been suggested that we use the method of the very best clubs in the country which post the names of their members on a prominent bulletin board when they are delinquent in the payment of dues. In other words, that we devote a page or two of the ALUMNUS for the publication of the names of those members who have failed to pay their dues. This, of course, would be a very radical departure from Notre Dame customs and we have no intention of adopting the same. I might call to the attention of each of you that you probably get more real satisfaction and pleasure out of your membership in the Alumni Association and your contact with Notre Dame than any club or society in which you hold membership.

I have taken the liberty of addressing you in this manner because of the fact that prior to my election to office I had absolutely no knowledge of the financial position of our association, and believing that this is probably the status of the large majority of our members, I thought it advisable to call some of these facts to your attention. Now if you are one of the ones who has not paid his dues for this year, kindly write out your check and forward the same today.

Earnestly seeking your good will and cooperation for the continued publication of the ALUMNUS and the success of our Association, I am

Very truly yours,

Francis H. Hayes, '14, President.

Alumni Notre Dame Shares With The World

No. 1—In the Congregation of Holy Cross

REV. CHARLES L. O'DONNELL, C.S.C.
President of Notre Dame

If Father Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., '06, were not President of the University, he would still be so outstanding an alumnus that he must appear in recognitions such as this. Coming from Kokomo, Indiana, Hoosierdom need do no more to balance the scales of fortune that placed Notre Dame within its bounds. Academic brilliance was early evident, coupled with efficient management, exemplified in the editorship of the first of the long and honored series of "Domes," the University's year book. His talent in poetry made him Class Poet and the vicissitudes of subsequent priestly duties, including teaching, a chaplaincy in the World War with overseas duties, and the exacting work of the Provincial of the Congregation for the United States, have not dimmed his ability in the field of poetry. He has published several outstanding volumes of his poems, is a contributor to Catholic magazines as opportunity now permits, and was honored with the presidency of the Catholic Poetry Society when that group was organized last year. His three years as President of Notre Dame have brought him distinction in the educational and business world that comes to few men. Alumni are too familiar with Father O'Donnell's interest in alumni affairs to repeat even their appreciation here.

The Congregation of Holy Cross was founded in Le Mans, France. Its advent in America under Father Sorin was distinctly French. This University of Notre Dame was decidedly French in its inspiration. That an Irish boy from West Division High School in Chicago could come here, study in these environs, graduate with the Class of '07 after a career brilliant with the Celtic talents of tongue and pen, follow the studies of the seminary and so impress his fellow members of the Congregation that within twenty years, while still a young man, they should elevate him to the Superrior General's position in the Order, its highest rank, is eloquent tribute to his priestly attributes. That he has served this office well, with its far posts in India, in France, in Canada and in the four corners of the United States is only an expected justification of their judgment. Nor have the world interests of the Father General been permitted to interfere with his interest in Notre Dame as his Alma Mater. His interest in the Association and his knowledge of its activities are exemplary.

REV. EUGENE BURKE, C.S.C.
Editor of the "Ave Maria"

Thirty-six thousand people are weekly the recipients of the accumulated genius of this member of the Class of 1906, who, as a student, in the campus publications and organizations, gave evidence of these talents which time confirms. Father Gene Burke, as Editor of the Ave Maria, one of the oldest and most widely read and respected Catholic magazines, undertook an unenviable task. The saintly Father Hudson, confrere of the Catholic literary geniuses of half a century, relinquished a post last year after fifty-two years of service, which demanded a man of talent, and a man of taste. Father Burke's selection was indeed an honor. His work during the year has proved it a selection of wisdom as well. The Ave Maria flourishes. Founded by Father Sorin, dedicated, as were all his acts, to Our Lady, the Ave Maria is published at Notre Dame and is closely allied to, though completely separated from, Notre Dame. It is most fitting that an alumnus of Notre Dame should be carrying on this particular mission.

(It may be explanatory of a phase of Notre Dame's great debating history that the three men above were on the same debating team in 1905. Ed.)

(This is the first of a news series. Three alumni in another field will be selected for the November issue. Ed.)

Constitution Committee Submits New Set-Up

The ALUMNUS reprints herewith a revised Constitution and a supplementary set of By-Laws, pursuant to a motion passed at the last Annual Meeting, as follows: "Resolved, that the newly elected president is authorized and directed, to appoint by July 11, 1931, a committee of three to draft such additions and amendments to the Constitution of the Alumni Association of the University of Notre Dame as will provide for the recommendations of the Board of Directors submitted at this Meeting. Such additions and amendments after receiving the approval of the Board of Directors of the Association, shall be published in the October and November, 1931, issues of the ALUMNUS. Ballots with return post-cards shall be mailed all members of the Association not later than December 1, 1931. The poll shall close February 15, 1932, and if a two-thirds majority of the vote cast favors the additions and amendments, they shall be in force and effect immediately, and the officers of the Alumni Association shall see that their provisions are complied with."

The primary changes are:

1. Reducing the Constitution to fundamentals.
2. Shifting the details of the Association to By-Laws so that the rapid changes that are now occurring can be facilitated to the best advantage of the Association.
3. Combining the Secretary's and Treasurer's jobs to relieve the present situation in which a non-paid officer is asked to assume a very concrete annual task. (The new officer to be properly bonded and provision made for regular accounting.)
4. Dividing the Association into districts, under district representatives, to provide a more effective contact between the alumni and the Association.

CONSTITUTION OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME

ARTICLE I. Name

SECTION 1. The name of this organization shall be the Alumni Association of the University of Notre Dame.

ARTICLE II. Objects

SECTION 1. The object of this Association shall be to foster a spirit of loyalty and fraternity among the graduates and former students of Notre Dame; to establish more effective relations between the University and the Alumni Association.

ARTICLE III. Membership

SECTION 1. The Association shall consist of active, honorary and associate members.

SECTION 2. The active membership shall consist of the following:

(a) Alumni of the University of Notre Dame. The term "alumni" shall embrace those holding the degree given in course by the University for bachelor, master, or doctor.

(b) Former matriculates whose entering Class shall have been graduated and who, upon application to and approval by the Board of Directors shall be acceptable to membership.

SECTION 3. The honorary membership shall consist of the following:

(a) All who receive from the University of Notre Dame degrees Honoris Causa.

(b) Those friends and benefactors of the University of Notre Dame whose services the Association may desire to recognize and who shall be nominated and elected by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 4. Associate membership shall consist of the faculty of the University of Notre Dame, not otherwise eligible to membership, who, upon election by the Board of Directors shall enjoy all the privileges of active membership.

Provided, however, the qualifications for membership shall not apply to those who are members of the Alumni Association of the University of Notre Dame at the time of the adoption of this Constitution.

ARTICLE IV. Officers

SECTION 1. The affairs of this Association shall be managed, conducted and controlled by a Board of Directors consisting of a President, first Vice-President, second Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer and six Directors.

SECTION 2. The retiring President of the Association shall become ex officio a Director for one year next succeeding the expiration of his term of office as President. All of the elected members of the Board of Directors as constituted under the Constitution of 1925 shall continue in office as Directors until their respective terms of office expire. At the annual election of the Association to be held in the Spring of 1932 and each succeeding year thereafter one Director shall be elected to hold office for four years until his successor has been duly elected and qualified. Each graduating Class of the University beginning with the Class of 1932 shall elect a member of the Class as Director of the Association for a term of one year and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified.

SECTION 3. No one shall be eligible to hold the office of President, first Vice-President and second Vice-President unless he shall have received a degree given in course by the University of Notre Dame of bachelor, master or doctor. Any member of the Association in good standing is eligible for any office in the Association except as hereinbefore provided.

SECTION 4. Any vacancies occurring in the Board of Directors shall be filled at the next annual election of the Association.

SECTION 5. Annual elections shall be held in the Spring each year in such manner as the By-laws shall provide.

SECTION 6. The Board of Directors shall meet annually immediately before the annual meeting of the Association or at any time at the call of the President or by a petition signed by any three members of the said Board.

SECTION 7. The President and any two members of the Board shall constitute a quorum, otherwise four members of the Board shall be necessary for a quorum.

ARTICLE V. The Fiscal Year

The official year of the Association which shall govern the terms of the officers and the fiscal affairs of the Association shall be from the date of the annual meeting to the date of the next annual meeting.

ARTICLE VI. By-Laws

By-laws not inconsistent with this Constitution embodying additional provisions for the government of the Association and for the purpose of carrying out all provisions of this Constitution shall be adopted and may be amended from time to time by a vote of two-thirds of the members present or voting at any annual meeting of the Association or by special mailed ballot, provided further that notice shall be given of the change or amendment in the official publication of the Organization at least thirty days prior to said vote. Provided further that the By-laws appended to this Constitution shall go into effect contemporaneously therewith and shall be and remain in full force and effect subject to amendment as hereinbefore provided.

ARTICLE VII. Amendments

SECTION 1. Amendments to this Constitution may be proposed

(a) By a petition signed by at least ten members and filed with the Secretary on or before April 30; or

(b) By a resolution of the Board of Directors filed with the Secretary on or before April 30; and shall thereupon be printed in the ALUMNUS, if and when published, before the annual meeting, and shall be submitted to the members upon, and as part of, the printed ballot be mailed to the members on or before May 20. The vote thereof shall be canvassed and certified by the tellers as provided for the election of officers.

SECTION 2. An affirmative vote for the addition of such an amendment by two-thirds of the total legal votes cast at such election shall render such amendment effective from the time of the announcement of such result, if not otherwise provided in such amendment. If it does not receive two-thirds vote, it shall stand rejected.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I. Duties and Powers of Officers

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all meetings of the Association and the Board, and to perform all the usual duties of that office.

SECTION 2. The first Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President in case of the latter's absence or disability.

SECTION 3. The second Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President and the first Vice-President in case of the absence or the disability of both and in addition shall have charge of, and preside at the annual meeting of, the Officers of the Districts.

SECTION 4. It shall be the duty of the Secretary-Treasurer to keep an alphabetical list of all the alumni together with brief biographical notes pertaining to the same: to act as necrologist, rendering an annual report as such necrologist, as prescribed by the Board of Directors; to act as a general agent of the Association under the control of the Board of Directors and to this end he shall have the general welfare in charge: to aid in the formation of local alumni clubs; to act as editor of the official alumni magazine, the Notre Dame Alumnus; to collect membership dues; to keep the seal and accounts of the Association; to receive all money belonging to the Association or funds held in trust by it; to inform each member of the Association concerning delinquencies in the payment of dues. He shall perform such other duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe and shall receive such compensation as the Board of Directors may determine. The Secretary-Treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful discharge of these duties, in such amount as the Board of Directors shall determine and with such sureties as they may approve. He shall render a true and accurate statement of the funds of the Association at the annual meeting. His accounts shall be audited annually by an auditor appointed by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 5. The Board of Directors shall have control and management of the affairs of the Association in conformity with this Constitution and the By-laws.

SECTION 6. Term of office. Every officer of this Association whose tenure of office is not herein otherwise specifically fixed for a longer term shall hold his office from his election until the next annual meeting of this Association and until his successor is elected.

ARTICLE II. Meetings

SECTION 1. The annual meeting of this Association shall be held at the University of Notre Dame, in the State of Indiana, upon a day and hour to be fixed by the Secretary of this Association with the approval of the President of the University of Notre Dame, provided, however, that such day must be one of the days during which the annual Commencement exercises of the University of Notre Dame are in progress.

SECTION 2. Special meetings of the Association may be held at any time at the call of a majority of the Directors fixing the time and place of such a meeting.

ARTICLE III. Election of Officers

SECTION 1. At the annual meeting but not later than November 1 following the incoming President shall appoint two nominating committees of three members each who have not held an office for a year.

Nominations for all officers except Secretary-Treasurer and the Director representing the graduating Class shall be made by these Committees. The Secretary-Treasurer shall be elected by the Board of Directors.

The names and addresses of the members of these committees shall be published in every edition of the Notre Dame Alumnus issued after November 1 of that year and until January 20 following with a request for suggestions from the membership at large.

SECTION 2. These two committees shall confer separately, but each shall apprise the other upon its conclusions upon the nomination for President on or before January 20. The two committees are required to make different nominations for President, otherwise shall not be restricted against duplication of nominations. On or before February 28 both committees shall report their nominations to the President and to the Secretary; and from thence forward, the Secretary shall cause such nominations to be published in the Alumnus continuously until the annual meeting without reference as to which committee made the nominations.

SECTION 3. Any twenty-five members, not more than ten of whom reside in any one county may by petition addressed to the Secretary, make other nominations, providing this is done by filing same with the Secretary not later than March 1. Such nominations shall also be published in the Alumnus after they are received, as in the preceding section required.

SECTION 4. The names of all persons nominated shall be placed by the Secretary on a printed ballot, in alphabetical order, without distinction as to method of nomination, and one ballot, together with an envelope marked "Ballot" with lines for the signature and address of the voter, shall be mailed, on or before May 20 to each member entitled to vote.

This Ballot, when marked shall be sealed in such envelope marked "Ballot" upon which the voting member shall endorse his signature and last mail address, and mailed back to the Secretary of this Association or to the Association itself, at Notre Dame, Indiana; or such ballot so enclosed in a sealed envelope, and duly endorsed, may be delivered in person to the Secretary. But no such ballot shall be received or counted unless the same is delivered, as above provided, by mail or in person, at or before the actual meeting, that is, the actual opening and convening of the annual meeting, and before the ballots are delivered to the tellers as herein provided. The Secretary, or some representative for him, shall be in attendance at the annual meeting at least thirty minutes before the convening of the same in order to receive any ballots tendered to him.

SECTION 5. The Secretary shall record, in alphabetical order, the names, with addresses, of all members whose ballot has been received; and shall see that no member deposits with him more than one sealed ballot; and immediately upon the opening or convening of the annual meeting (at which time the polls close), he shall deliver all such ballot envelopes, unopened, together with the list of those who voted, to the tellers theretofore appointed by the President.

SECTION 6. No ballot shall be received or counted unless it is enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked "Ballot", with the name and address of the voting member clearly endorsed thereon, and delivered to the Secretary before the polls close.

SECTION 7. The President shall, either at any time before or immediately upon the convening of the annual meeting, appoint three tellers, who shall open the ballots and canvass the vote, and certify the result thereof forthwith to the membership in annual meeting assembled; and the ballots and list shall thereupon be returned to the Secretary, who shall preserve them for one week, at which time he may destroy them unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Directors. In canvassing the vote, one teller shall open the envelope, and deliver the folded ballot therefrom to the second teller, and the envelope to the third teller, who shall destroy the envelope, and so on. When they are all opened, the votes shall be counted.

SECTION 8. A plurality of the votes cast shall elect.

ARTICLE IV.

DISTRICT GOVERNORS

SECTION 1. For the purpose of more efficient administration of the business and affairs of the Association, the Board of Directors shall divide the territory in which the members of the Association reside into districts. The President shall, from time to time, as directed by the Board of Directors promulgate a list of the districts together with their respective boundaries and no changes or additions shall be made in the districts or boundaries thereof except by a majority of the vote of the Board of Directors.

At the election of the Association to be held in the Spring of 1932 there shall be elected from each of the districts as provided a District Governor and a Lieutenant District Governor who shall hold office for one year. At the expiration of his term of office the Lieutenant District Governor shall become District Governor and shall hold said office for one year. At every annual election after 1932, there shall be elected from each of the districts as aforesaid a Lieutenant Governor who shall hold office for one year and on the expiration of his term of office shall ipso facto become Governor of said district for a term of one year.

THE ELECTION OF DISTRICT GOVERNOR AND LIEUTENANT DISTRICT GOVERNOR

The District Governor and Lieutenant District Governor shall be nominated and elected in the same manner as provided for the election of other officers of the Association except that the nominating committees for said officers shall be composed of the members of said Association residing in the said district and shall be elected by members of the Association residing in the said district. In the event any district nominating committee fails or neglects to select a nominee for office of District Governor or Lieutenant District Governor within the time as provided by the By-laws of the Association, then the Board of Directors shall nominate from the membership of such district a member of the said district for the said office, or offices as the case may be.

SECTION 2. DISTRICT GOVERNOR'S DUTIES

The District Governor shall, under the general supervision of the Board of Directors of the Association be charged with the duty of furthering the objects of the Association in the district from which he is elected; to supervise and organize new alumni clubs in his district; to promote effective cordial relations between the local alumni clubs in his district and between said local alumni clubs and the University.

LIEUTENANT DISTRICT GOVERNOR'S DUTIES

The Lieutenant District Governor shall perform the duties of the District Governor in case of the latter's absence or disability.

SECTION 3. MEETINGS

The District Governor and Lieutenant District Governor shall meet annually immediately before the annual meeting of the Association at the University, or any time at the call of the President or by a petition signed by any six of said District Governors or by a petition signed by any three members of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE V. Dues

SECTION 1. Every active associate member (except he be a member of a religious order) shall pay annually in advance to the Secretary of this Association such dues as may be fixed by the Board of Directors. The Board shall also determine the portion thereof that shall be designated as the subscription price for the Notre Dame Alumnus.

SECTION 2. The Board of Directors shall have the right at any time, by resolution, to take any reasonable and appropriate action as to members delinquent in their dues and as to the retention of their names on the subscription list of the Alumnus; but such action shall not take effect as to any member until he has had at least thirty days' notice thereof.

ARTICLE VI. Expenses

SECTION 1. All authorized expenses and obligations incurred by the Association, its office, and its officers, shall be paid by the Treasurer from the funds of this Association.

ARTICLE VII. Order of Business

SECTION 1. The order of business at any meeting of this Association may be fixed by By-laws or by Resolutions of the Board of Directors, except as herein otherwise provided or required.

SECTION 2. The admission to membership of any new members at any annual meeting of this Association shall be deferred until after the election of officers is completed, and the result announced; and the new officers shall assume their respective offices from and at the time of the induction of the new members.

SECTION 3. Ten votes shall constitute a quorum at any meeting.

SECTION 4. Rules of Order. Roberts' Rules of Order shall be the parliamentary authority at all meetings of the Association.

SECTION 5. Whatever publication or notice is called for in the Notre Dame Alumnus hereunder, like publication or notice may be effected, with like validity, by mailing such statements or notices, in printed form, to any and all members who would be entitled to receive the Notre Dame Alumnus.

ARTICLE VIII. Amendments

SECTION 1. These By-laws, or any of them, may be amended, changed, added to, or repealed by a vote of two-thirds of those present and entitled to vote, at any meeting duly called, notified and held for that purpose.

Few Changes In Province's Triennial Chapter

There were few changes of significance though many of interest to alumni in the Triennial Chapter of the United States Province of the Congregation of Holy Cross, held at Notre Dame during the summer.

The administration at Notre Dame was returned for its second term of three years.

Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, '16, prominent in alumni activities, was made president of St. Edward's. Rev. Francis Boland, C.S.C., '18, coach of the debating teams last year, was made vice-president at the Texas institution.

Rev. Joseph H. Burke, '04, formerly president of St. Edward's, was made principal of the St. Thomas Military Academy, St. Paul, succeeding Rev. Vincent Mooney, '16, who was assigned to a professorship at St. Edward's.

Rev. Thomas Irving, '04, formerly head of Moreau seminary, is once more on the faculty of the College of Science. He is succeeded at Moreau by Rev. James Connerton, '20, whose success with the Moreau Choir won national recognition in the broadcast of the Rockne funeral.

Rev. Dominic O'Malley, '03, rector of Corby Hall for nine years, is now Superior of the Community House, Notre Dame. Rev. William McNamara, '17, is Superior of the Holy Cross Seminary.

Rev. Leo L. Ward, '20, after a year at Oxford University, England, is on the faculty of the College of Arts and Letters at Notre Dame.

Rev. Joseph Muckenthaler, '23, and Rev. Thomas Brennan, '23, who had been at Columbia U., Portland, are on the Notre Dame faculty this year.

Rev. James Kline, '22, is at the University of California, pursuing studies in astronomy. Rev. John Cavanaugh, '23, ordained this summer, is in Europe for advanced study.

Rev. George Fischer, '23, who was assistant pastor of St. Patrick's, South Bend, returns to Notre Dame as a professor.

Father John Farley, '02, remains a rector of Sorin Hall; Rev. John Ryan, '06, in Lyons; Rev. James Stack, '13, in Morrissey; Rev. James Ryan, '20, in Walsh; Rev. F. M. Gassensmith, '17, in Batin; Brother Aidan in Brownson and Brother Maurilius in Carroll.

Rev. Frank Cavanaugh, '23, succeeds Father O'Malley in Corby; Rev.

George Holderith, '18, succeeds Rev. John Margraf, '15, in Howard, Father Margraf going to Columbia U. in Portland; Rev. Henry Bolger, '24, takes the reins in Sophomore Hall, which has been re-christened Freshman Hall, while Rev. William Hayes Molony, '07, becomes the rector of old Freshman Hall, which is now designated The Annex. Rev. Alan Heiser, '13, is rector of St. Edward's Hall, and Rev. Leo Heiser, '02, is Off-Campus Rector.

In the new residence halls, Rev. Raymond Clancy, '29, is rector of the beautiful new Alumni Hall, and Rev. Patrick Haggerty, '16, the rector of its new neighbor, Dillon Hall.

Around And About The Campus

By JOHN A. KIENER, '32

CAPITAL CHANGES

Many were the remarks, "I feel worse than a freshman," during the registration days. The reason: several new systems, four new buildings, and a general amount of disorder caused by the combination of both. The new Edward N. Hurley College of Commerce building opened to classes the first day, but competition between the various professors and construction men was exceptionally keen. In most cases the nerves of the profs gave out under the raucous rat-a-ta-tat of drills, air hammers, and other noise-making implements.

The John F. Cushing Engineering building will not be ready until sometime in December. The brick-work is nearly all in place at present but there will remain much interior-finishing. The laboratories are expected to be opened to classes before the actual completion, however.

BAD BREAKS

Students who shipped their trunks in care of Dillon or Alumni halls were disappointed on arriving, inasmuch as both halls still needed much interior work. Alumni opened a few days ago, however, with Dillon expected to open its doors to some men of the class of 1935 within the next week. Students of the two halls were taken care of in South Bend homes.

IMPOSTOR BUSY

Word comes from Portland, Ore., that a magazine solicitor, giving his name as William Barry, and posing as a Notre Dame student, has been soliciting Notre Dame men in that area. How these chaps can always find Notre Dame men ready to part with money when the honest, if less polished, appeals of the Editor go unanswered is one of the less sweet mysteries of this alumni life. However, here's the warning.

THE SCHOLASTIC

Number one of the above magazine appeared Friday the 25th under the careful guidance and editorship of Neil C. Hurley. In it, as usual, we find many interesting sidelights on campus happenings. Henry B. Asman, a senior in the science school, succeeds this campus trotter as managing editor of the Scholastic. The public relations department had a vacancy which is now partly filled by "yours truly."

BADIN BOOKSTORE

Another of the changes to add to the general confusion was the removal of the bookstore from "next to the Alumni office" to the south wing of Badin basement. Service while you waited, but not quite as long as before, seemed to be in evidence.

FROSH FERVOR

"There are three kinds of education . . . that of the mind, that of the body, and that of the heart . . . and Notre Dame exists mainly for the purpose of education of the heart." Thus did Father Murch welcome 800 fiery freshmen in their initial convocation. Captain Tommy Yarr asked them for spiritual aid; Herbert Giorgio outlined the work of the S.A.C., of which he is chairman this year. Gene Connelly, senior class prexy, also said hello.

BAND CAPERS

Something which resembled the turnout for football uniforms confronted Professor Joseph J. Casasanta when he asked for candidates for the band. One hundred and twenty-five men reported but this number will be pared down to 85-odd for the regular band. First appearance was made at the Rockne memorial game, vying with the Culver military outfit which came up for the tilt.

AND LUCKY BREAKS

At nine o'clock on September 15th, the following bulleting from the Rev. Raymond Murch, C.S.C., prefect of discipline, was posted: "The first hundred seniors to apply will receive permission to eat in the cafeteria." So reluctant were the seniors that the line soon grew to huge proportions and the quota of lucky ones was filled within a half-hour. With the students of Dillon and Alumni eating breakfast and supper in the cafeteria also, the line-up has somewhat resembled a bread-line in any city. But, as the seniors sigh, experience gained now is well worth standing for.

FUNNY FELLOW

Giving the poor downtrodden and bewildered frosh a respite from the annual hubbub, Funny Fellow Robert Gorman, new editor of the Juggler, intends to discard the usual issue devoted to the incoming itinerants. King Football will also be allowed to feel insulted for he also will not receive special attention. Instead Bob will place an "Autumn" number in the hands of his eager readers. "That peculiar atmosphere of the campus in fall-time will dominate the book. Honor to the freshmen, the largest class, and to football, the largest sport, will be added to the magazine," says Gorman.

ROCKNE RECORDS

Through the co-operation of Paul Castner, '23, the Notre Dame bookstore now has for alumni a limited number of phonograph records of a talk on "Pep" delivered by Knute K. Rockne. While the talk was given for commercial use, it is strictly a football talk, in Rock's inimitable style. The cost, wrapped and mailed, is one dollar. Any profits accruing from the sale will go to the Rockne estate.

How "THE SPIRIT OF NOTRE DAME" Was Made

The Story Behind the Film Which Was Made as a Memorial
To The Late Knute K. Rockne

Back of every great moving picture there is usually as interesting a story as that which is told on the screen.

Back in 1930, Christy Walsh had obtained Knute Rockne's consent to make a moving picture in which he was to play an actual role on the screen. The various elements which were to go into this feature had been incorporated into a contract. This contract was to be signed on a certain day. In order to keep that engagement, Knute Rockne took off on the airplane trip which proved fatal.

Naturally, the plans for the picture were all awry, but out of the pieces Christy Walsh, Carl Laemmle, Jr., and the president of the University of Notre Dame created something which was even more significant than the picture in which Rockne was to star. This something was a picture in which those who admired him most could create a memorial to the expert coach, the human athletic director, the peerless leader of men and the ideal of the football world. This something is "The Spirit of Notre Dame."

Naturally, Father O'Donnell and the Notre Dame authorities required a supervisory hand in the making of the picture. It was agreed that the script should be approved by them in every particular, that a representative of the University be on the set at Universal City all the time, and that the Notre Dame authorities approve the final cut of the picture before one single foot of it could be printed. Every one of these conditions has been strictly adhered to. A writer, Dale Van Every, was sent to Notre Dame. He lived the life of a student for three weeks; he drank in the atmosphere of the place, he heard the tales of athletic prowess of former football giants; he absorbed the local traditions. From all of these he wove his story and took it back to Universal City to whip it into shape with Richard Schayer, Universal Story Editor.

A group of the players in "The Spirit of Notre Dame," featuring Lew Ayres and a number of former Notre Dame athletes. The above picture was filmed in Hollywood and is a replica of the Dining Halls on the campus.

To Christy Walsh fell the lot of enlisting the football squad of former heroes. It includes Frank Carideo, twice All-American quarterback, The Four Horsemen,—Miller, Layden, Crowley and Stuhldreher,—Adam Walsh, captain of the Four Horsemen team, Bucky O'Connor, hero of the Southern California game last year, Captain John Law, Moon Mullins, Art McManmon, Al Howard and John O'Brien. They met in Chicago and went to Universal City in a special train which Mrs. Rockne and one of her sons joined at the last moment. For three weeks, the football stars, under the direction of Russel Mack, who has made splendid football pictures before, went through the old formations and the new technique of the talking picture.

Great good fortune, devotion to their leader and inspiration of a revered institution hovered over "The Spirit of Notre Dame." It is no wonder that it is a tremendously entertaining picture. It is no wonder that it has all of the qualities of truth and actuality which will appeal to every one who has been to college.

As "The Spirit of Notre Dame" opens, it discloses Knute Rockne walking up and down before the Notre Dame team, giving them their last word of advice. This is what he said:

"Now, the success of any team, men, is based on team play. This has been shown all the year. Sacrifice—unselfish sacrifice. These fellows they say are pretty good, but I think we're better and I think if we can get ourselves keyed up to a point where we're confident of that, why—the results will take care of themselves.

All right now—on the kick-off, if we receive, you men drop back and receive and block long in true Notre Dame style.

If we kick off, where the rest of these teams walk—let's run down fast, just as fast as you can run—and then we go on defense. On defense, I want the center in and out of that line according to the situation. Use your old heads and I want you guards charging through as far as you can go on every play.

Let's put the play right over every time. And the tackles—I want you to go in—a yard and a half and then set yourselves.

Spread you feet—squat down low and—be ready with your hands and elbows so you won't be sideswiped and I want the ends in there fast—on every play—every play, but under control. And you men in the back field there, I want you to analyze before you move. If you throw a forward pass—a forward pass—wait till you see the ball in the air and then go and get it! And when we get it, boys, that's when we go on offense.

That's when we go to 'em. And don't forget we're to pick on one tackle they've got that's weak. We're going inside of 'em—we're going outside of 'em—and when we get 'em on the run, we're going to keep 'em on the run and we're not going to pass—unless their secondary comes up too close. And we aren't going to stop until we go over that goal line. And don't forget, men—today's the day we're going to win! They can't lick us! I want you men to go in there and fight, fight, fight, fight! What do you say, men?"

Building Program One of The Seven Wonders

The million-and-a-half dollar building projects now being polished off or under construction by the University of Notre Dame have attracted the admiring comments of visitors from these United States—and Notre Dame has them. More than 17,000 persons registered at the Stadium from July 20 to September 10.

The $200,000 College of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, the gift of Edward N. Hurley, LL.D. '18, is in use at present, though much of its decorative nature remains to be added. It is located immediately west of Chemistry Hall on the same side of the old Dorr Road.

Alumni and Dillon Halls are to be occupied as this edition leaves the press. These $850,000 dormitories mark another great step, and a beautiful one, in the efforts of the University to house all students on the campus. Some 500 boys can be accommodated in the new halls. The quarters of the Prefect of Religion are likewise provided for in the new hall. One of the chapels, St. Olaf's, has been planned in memory of Knute Rockne.

The $300,000 College of Engineering building being built through the generosity of John F. Cushing, '06, is rapidly assuming imposing proportions. It is hoped that it will be ready for use for the second semester. The building is situated on the South side of the old Dorr Road, facing the new Commerce Building and adjacent to the College of Law Building, completed a year ago.

And back by the old ice-house (the University now has electric refrigeration) a project of no little cost and importance, but lacking the academic possibilities of the above mentioned, goes merrily on to the joy of the real engineers—a $200,000 power house.

That all of these projects are assets is evidenced by those in whose hands lay the planning. Graham, Anderson, Probst & White of Chicago are architects of the Hurley College of Commerce; Maginnis and Walsh, Boston, largely through Wendell Phillips, '12, have done the residence halls; Francis W. Kervick, head of the Department of Architecture at Notre Dame, is the architect of the College of Engineering. Albert Kahn has designed the power house. Ralph Sollitt and Sons were awarded the four academic and residence buildings; Thomas Hickey is the contractor for the power house.

The program has furnished employment for a number of months to several hundred men from the South Bend area, no little item in the brighter side of the local slice of the current industrial embarrassment.

As this issue goes to press, there is just enough dirt and scaffolding about the finished buildings and just enough lack of development in the newly begun to discourage the Editor and the Photographer from elaborating. But the next issue, out November 1 if all goes well, or goes at all, will contain a rather full account of the new Notre Dame, with illustrations, etc.

President to Broadcast

The Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of the University of Notre Dame, will be the speaker on the Catholic section of the "Church of the Air" broadcast November 8th over the facilities of the Columbia Broadcasting Company from the Chicago studios. The time will be 1:30 to 2:00 p. m.

The subject of Father O'Donnell's talk will be "Religion in College Life."

The opening and closing musical numbers will be furnished by the University Choir of 35 picked voices under the direction of Rev. James Connerton, C.S.C. This is the same choir which was featured in the broadcast of the late Knute K. Rockne's funeral last spring.

EDITORIAL

LUCKY ALUMNI OF NOTRE DAME

As dreary and futile an hour as a person could spend has just been mine with the current issue of what is considered, traditionally, to be a good magazine.

This month, at least, it is primarily an expression of the frustration which is seizing upon those who have departed from The Way.

The leading article is by a former college president who repeats age-old fallacies and enlists more recent error to attack the Catholic Church.

His arguments, basically, were more wearisome than depressing. But the desperation with which he quoted—without quotation—from older complaints; the crude exaggerations with which he sought to make points in themselves vague; the obvious selfishness and conceit cloaked so transparently under the editorial "We" or the abused "Science"; these must have left even his professed admirers with a sense of futility.

If this man speaks as the prophet of his cult—and few, of his beliefs, have been more honored—then his cult is indeed in stress.

A 1931 Yale graduate, whom charity mantles with the more sympathetic cloak of youth, digs from its oft-violated grave the argument against higher education for the masses, and attempts to breathe into its cadaver the pulsing vitality of Yale '31.

Herein, as with the older men, a selfish and conceited viewpoint lies like a drowned man, visible under the shallow sea of generalities with which it is covered.

Both writers have missed, in their introspective lives, the real values held out to them. Both have had opportunities, even the younger, which must have been lost if we are to judge from these expressions.

A short novel occupied a rather large percentage of space in the issue.

No matter what circumstances might surround a person in fact, it would seem that in fiction something of the ideals, something of the imagination, of the humor, that differentiates the human reactions from those of the animal, might find portrayal.

Not in the case of the author of this bit!

It might just as well have been a story of the great apes of Africa as of the foreign officialdom of that continent.

All those intangible, spiritual attributes that are man's apparently escaped the comprehension of this writer. The story thus degenerated to clay, and animal instincts.

The ALUMNUS has no intention of being, and no desire to be, a Religious Bulletin. That field is adequately covered, including the alumni fortunately, by the able Father John F. O'Hara. Many of the things of the alumni world have no immediate religious significance.

But the Editor, who meets perhaps as many Notre Dame men and as broad a cross-section of them as anyone, has definite ideas on the advantages of a Notre Dame education, aside from its academic, social or religious ramifications.

If a man has really been a Notre Dame man, he gains an overtone of pleasant confidence that never leaves him. This is the point that occurs to me immediately upon the conclusion of these so-called realistic and pseudo-psychological writings.

Notre Dame men have succeeded in their professions to high places. And Notre Dame men have failed. Some have joined the Congregation. Others have gone far afield. Many have joined in all the activities of the alumni. A few have been difficult of access, physically or in spirit.

Almost without exceptions, Notre Dame alumni are hard critics.

Therein lies my happy point.

Those magazine criticisms of life, of institutions, had only ego as their norm.

In any criticism emanating from a real Notre Dame man, Catholic or not, graduate or the man who achieved only a partial course, the extremes of egoism,—uncertainty and conceit,—are noticeably absent.

There is in the expressions of Notre Dame alumni that confidence, previously mentioned, that comes with the knowledge that the opinion of the individual is supported by established authorities and recognized laws.

Notre Dame men weigh their values with the tested scales of centuries.

Theirs is not the stubborn bulwark of an embattled self against which the accepted weapons of the mind are futile.

Argument is in the essence of the true Notre Dame man. But what a pleasure it is to argue with him.

If you are a victim of the depression, if your professional income is uncollectible, if your business has dropped to rock bottom, you Notre Dame men are still essentially sound.

Notre Dame is rounding out a great building program, one of the few in the country today. It is not inflation. It is not sudden fortune. It is not pride or ambition. It is the result of careful years of planning, years of proceeding along those lines that the men in whose hands her destinies lie know to be straight.

"Tu es Petrus."

The fortitude that comes through the Catholic Church to the Catholic schools and thence to the alumni of those schools is a treasure indeed in an era when this particular virtue is most sorely tried of all.

Congratulations to you upon being a Notre Dame man.

ATHLETICS

Notre Dame Football Prospects

By Joseph S. Petritz

Director of Sports Publicity

The question of what Notre Dame will do without its beloved Knute Rockne is best answered, perhaps, in the statement of his successor on the coaching field, Heartley W. (Hunk) Anderson, who says that Notre Dame will have a "strong team and a successful season."

Anderson, the genial Scotch-Irish assistant to Rockne for seven of the nine years after his brilliant playing career in 1919, 1920, and 1921, is confident but not over-confident. He does not predict a national championship for Notre Dame. He says that his team, hard hit by graduation of almost the entire 1930 backfield, will lose some games, but that the season as a whole will probably be successful.

One of the games Notre Dame is very likely to lose, says Anderson, is the Northwestern battle for charity at Soldier Field, Chicago, Oct. 10. Dick Hanley of Northwestern has back one of the strongest teams in Wildcat history and "Hunk" is sincere in his statement that "it is almost impossible to have our squad ready in the short time between the opening of practice and that game. 'But,' he adds, 'we'll give them a good fight and it won't be lack of spirit that will cost us the game.'"

Anderson's greatest problem is the replacing of sixteen lettermen lost by graduation and six prospects for this year's team who are not returning to school for various reasons.

Gone are Frank Carideo, Marty Brill, Larry Mullins, Paul (Bucky) O'Connor, Clarence Kaplan, Al Howard and Joe Savoldi who made history on the gridiron during the past two seasons. In the line, graduation took Frank Leahy and Dick Donoghue, tackles; Captain Tom Conley, George Vlk, and John O'Brien, some of the finest ends ever to play for Rockne; little Bert Metzger and Tom Kassis, guards.

The only returning varsity back is Marchy Schwartz, all-American left halfback, who should rise to new heights this year with sufficient support from his mates. This position is reinforced by the return of Mike Koken of the second team and Frank LaBorne, a sensation with the freshman team.

But the other three backfield positions are without hope or any Brills, Mullinses, Carideos, Savoldis, and O'Connors. Who will take Frank Carideo's place? The burden will probably fall on the shoulders of Charles Jaskwich, shock troop quarterback from last year who ran call signals, pass, kick, and block. Emmett Murphy, an unknown reserve last year, showed flashes of greatness in spring practice and may be with the second team. Should injury overtake either of these two, Notre Dame will be against the wall.

Anderson is depending largely on the efforts of Jack Chevigny, backfield coach for the past two years, to bring him a fullback and a right half. Five fullbacks and four right halfbacks have been lost to the team. Mullins, Savoldi, Howard, O'Connor, and Staab are missing at the plunging position. Staab, fourth string man last year, was being counted upon to carry the burden this year, but he lost forty pounds during a summer illness and will not be able to play.

At right half Brill and Kaplan were graduated, the former an Al-American. O'Connor, who also played right half, will not be back, and James Larkin, a great freshman prospect is not returning to school.

Fullback will be taken care of by Nick Lukats, late '30 find, and Steve Banas, according to present prospects. Lukats and Banas were made over from left halfbacks while Hanley who rushed into battle in the last four games last year after the withdrawal of Jumpin' Joe Savoldi is not in school.

Lukats was injured before the opening of the season and will not be able to play for another three weeks. George Melinkovich, left half, and Bernie Leahy, right half, have been moved into this position to understudy Banas.

It's hard to tell what will happen at right half. Carl Cronin, a quarterback from last year; Joe Sheeketski, fourth string "work horse" from 1930; Ray Brancheau, a reserve, is the only men available. Both have fair capabilities but neither has had the necessary experience for Notre Dame varsity ball.

Coming to the line, Anderson finds his hopes for a great forward wall are dwindling. Right end, already weakened by the loss of Conley and Vlk was dealt a crushing blow when it was discovered that Moriarity and Phil Krause were not returning to school. This leaves Dick Mahoney, the only returning letterman, to carry on. And it looks at this writing like he'll have to do the job alone.

Anderson, a great guard on the undefeated teams of 1919 and 1920 and the Western championship squad of 1921, has a reputation as a builder of guards. He replaced Jack Cannon and Johnny Law last year with Kassis and Metzger. He thought he was all set this year until he found that Bob Terlaak, his heaviest bet for a first string berth at right guard, will not be back.

Bill Pierce, a monogram winner at guard last season, and Nurdy Hoffman who was made over from a tackle, will bear the brunt at right guard, but Terlaak will be missed.

Right tackle is secure in the capable hands (and mammoth forearms) of Joe Kurth, sophomore sensation last year, and George Kozak, freshman star. The left side of the line and center will also be well taken care of with a wealth of returning veterans and likely looking sophomores.

Captain Tommy Yarr will lead the team from center and should have a great year. His supporting cast includes John Rogers and Tom Gorman naugh, and Ed Agnew of the reserves, and Ben Alexander of the frosh squad. "The trouble is," according to "Hunk" Anderson, "that you can play only one center at a time. I'd like to have a game sometime with just centers playing, but they don't do much good on the bench."

James Harriss and Norman Greeney, both lettermen, will handle left guard, and Anderson has some good reserves on hand should anything happen to these two. Left tackle rests with Al Culver, "the most underrated player of the 1930 season," in the words of one scribe, and Ed Krause of the frosh squad.

Ed Kosky and Paul Host of last year's team are back at left end augmented by Leonard Bice and Frank Canale of the reserves and frosh squads, respectively.

Looking at the schedule, we find that Anderson has sufficient reason to be wary in his predictions. It is a typical Rockne man-killer, another "impossible" string of games week after week against the best the nation has to offer.

October 10 the team goes into action at Soldier Field, some four weeks after the opening of practice, against the Purple team everyone is picking to win the Big Ten championship and possibly national honors. This game will be the turning point of the season for Notre Dame. A victory, which seems out of the question, may inspire the team to win the rest of its games. A defeat may ruin the season.

It's one game, though, that the team will be out to win for "Rock," and every man on the team will give every ounce of fight in his system to bring home a victory.

Drake the following week at Notre Dame stadium will be tough, but Notre Dame should win. Indiana, Northwestern, and Drake all play hard clean ball and by Oct. 24 when Pittsburgh plays at Notre Dame, the team will undoubtedly be well battered. Last year Drake put five men on the injured list, slowing them up for the last three battles with Northwestern, Army, and Southern California.

Pittsburgh also promises to have a great team, although they're not saying much down in the smoky city. Only two regulars and four other lettermen were graduated and Coach Jock Sutherland should have a team equal to or better than his national championship contenders of 1929. Last year, Notre Dame won easily, 35 to 19, because Rockne had the team keyed to its highest pitch. This year it will be harder to convince the members of the Irish squad that Pitt will be "big, and strong, and tough," as Rockne described them. The game will be played at Notre Dame.

Oct. 31 finds Notre Dame against another "new" Carnegie Tech eleven at Pittsburgh. In 1926, Carnegie robbed the Irish of a national title by winning, 19 to 0. In 1928 they broke 25 years of Cartier held tradition with a 27 to 7 massacre. Both times Judge Wally Steffen had green teams. Last year Notre Dame won, 21 to 6, from a team which boasted eight veterans from 1928—and the answer is that dressing room talks lose their edge after a few repetitions and it's harder to steam up a veteran team than a sophomore squad. They're already talking about having Tech's "most spirited team" at the Skibo training camp.

Pennsylvania, which is minus only six lettermen from last year, invades Notre Dame stadium the next week, Nov. 7. The athletic reorganization at Penn should result in a much better team this year and Anderson can never hope to have his team at the peak they reached in winning from Penn last year. Notre Dame should win, but at a closer margin than last season's 60 to 20 debacle.

Playing Navy at Baltimore Nov. 14, Notre Dame will meet for the first time in history, the Notre Dame system. Edgar (Rip) Miller, of the Four Horsemen team of 1924, is now head coach at Navy, replacing Bill Ingram, who is at California, and he has installed the Rockne style of play. Christy Flanagan of the 1926 team and Johnny O'Brien of last year's squad are helping him. Strangely enough, Anderson will have to map an entire new defense to stop the same plays he will be using himself that day.

Howard Jones will bring his strong Southern California team to Notre Dame stadium, November 21 for what promises to be one of the classics of the season. A capacity crowd is expected although there are still plenty of good tickets available for the game. The U.S.C.-Notre Dame rivalry has grown into one of the football "naturals" of the season and past performance means little when these two teams meet. It took all of Rockne's genius to map a defense for Jones's tricky attack and Anderson will have a real test when the coast giants play at Notre Dame.

The season closes the following Saturday, Nov. 28, at New York for Notre Dame when Major Ralph Sasse will get a chance to avenge Notre Dame's 7 to 6 victory over Army in 1930. Sasse has rapidly built up a reputation in the East, and writers all along the seaboard are picking Army to show the way to the rest of the teams in that section this year. But this is another game where past records may be ignored.

Only one thing seems to be certain in connection with the annual Cadet-Irish classic. In the words of Rockne himself, "when Army wins, there is never any doubt about the outcome; when Notre Dame wins, it's a close game." The game, the last on the card, is already sold out, thus setting some sort of a record for hanging up the S.R.O. sign before the employees of Col. Jake Ruppert have moved into their winter quarters.

ALUMNI CLUBS

BOSTON

"Dear Jimmie:

I am writing you the following account of the latest meeting of the Boston Alumni Group as material, perhaps, for the first Fall issue of the ALUMNUS.

On June 13th the Notre Dame Club of Boston elected officers for the current year at a dinner held at the Boston Yacht Club. It was by far the most well attended gathering, fifty being present. These are the new officers, Honorary President, James J. Phelan; President, Joseph A. Gartland, Jr., '17; Vice-President, Jack Saunders, '31; Secretary-Treasurer, Maurice "Paddy" Cohen, '27.

The evening's entertainment was in part afforded by Bill Murray Company, Comedians. I say in part always making reservation for scheduled entertainment of members. An excellent turkey dinner was served in the usual fine way by the Club to the liking of all . . . Except for City Councilor, Joe McGrath, who represented His Honor, the Mayor, the speakers were from within the Club membership.

For the first time the older grads were attracted to the gathering and all displayed much enthusiasm. The following list to the best of my recollection is a complete attendance roster:

Father James Donovan, Chaplain; Charlie Bain, Charley Burke, Paddy Cohen, Len Collins, Eddie Collins, Charlie Colten, Ted Coyle, Charley Crowley, (Rock's teammate); Red Crowley, (linesman with Gipp); Jerry Crowley, Joe Desmond, (who was largely responsible for the success of the dinner); Jim Dooley, guard with Gipp, who handled the toastmaster's job in fine fashion; Red Donovan, Pete Dwyer, old time grid star and until recently line coach at Syracuse and who was until recently summing at Hingham, Mass.; Dick Dunn, Jim Etherington, Joe Gargan, Frank Heron, Andy Kane, "Smoky" Kelleher, "Doc" Lynch, Luke Kelly, '12, football captain; Hughie McCafferty, Leo McCauley, Chick Maguire, George McCarthy, Andrew Mulreany, Bernie Murphy, Tommie Murphy, Tommie Qualters, "Doc" Sharry, Jim Skahan, Jack Witters, Joe Condon, Joe Sullivan, Jack Culhane, Jerry Teevens, Jim Webb, John Hanley, Harry Rockett, Jack Saunders, Art McManmon, Jim Murray, Jarlath Slattery, Eddie Rhatigan and Jim Seccareccio. Ted Rourke of the Commerce faculty in '23 and '24, attended.

That is all for our June meeting; may we have many more like it.

Best regards, Jim, to you and the boys.

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Gartland, Jr.

BUFFALO

Gordon Bennett sent in a short account of the Club's activities under date of July 29. Gordon says:

"Paul Hoefler has told you, probably, about our last official party which was in the form of a stag picnic over the river at Sherston, Ontario. (Ed's note; tsk, tsk). We had about twenty present, and they spent the day in horseshoe tossing, swimming, soft-ball, just plain chinning, and a little "gamboling." Lots of lunch . . . and a good time was had by all."

CALUMET REGION

At the Spring meeting of the Calumet-Notre Dame Club, the following new officers were elected:

Luther M. Swygert, '27, Hammond, President; Bill Voss, '23, Harvey, Ill., Vice-President; Pat Maloney, Crown Point, Ind., Secretary; Hugh Carroll, '16, Indiana Harbor, Ind., Treasurer.

As a courtesy to the students from the Calumet Region who are attending Notre Dame this year, the Club entertained with an annual dinner meeting late in August at Vogel's fish house in Hammond. About thirty-five Notre Dame men from Hammond, East Chicago, Indiana Harbor, Whiting, Gary and several other Chicago suburbs in Cook county attended the meeting.

Ye Editor was the principal speaker (loud applause) and principal fish-eater of the evening. (Mr. Vogel has our vote for election to the Hall of Fame. Such food!) Tim Galvin, Jack Chevigny, Junior Football coach at Notre Dame, and Ike Lower all delivered splendid addresses. We are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to attending another of the Calumet Club's meetings soon.

CHICAGO CLUB

The Notre Dame Alumni of Chicago and their friends will celebrate victory after the Northwestern-Notre Dame game at Soldier Field, Saturday, October 10th, at a dance that will be held by the Notre Dame Club of Chicago, at the Congress Hotel.

Music will be by Orloff's Kings in the Gold Room, and by Bernie Cummins and his Biltmore Hotel Orchestra in the Balloon Room, and it is expected that a large number will attend the affair as the Northwestern game will be the occasion of the Notre Dame football team's only appearance in Chicago this Fall.

Reservations for the dance may be sent direct to the Congress Hotel, c-o The Notre Dame Club of Chicago. James H. Brennan is President of the Notre Dame Club of Chicago, and John T. Houlihan is Chairman of the Committee in Charge of Arrangements for this dance.

DUBUQUE

C. I. Krajewski, of Dubuque, together with several other alumni, has been endeavoring to organize a Notre Dame Club of Dubuque. We are looking forward to listing the definite organization in the next issue of the ALUMNUS. Notre Dame men in the vicinity are urged to get in communication with Mr. Krajewski at 321 Bank & Insurance Bldg., Dubuque, Iowa, or to write to this Office. Let's get going!

ELYRIA

"Doc" Guth writes from Elyria: "Am still interested in organizing a local alumni club and will try again to stimulate interest so that by Fall we may have an organization." This under date of July 27. The Alumni Office hopes that the Elyria alumni are organized as this goes to press.

INDIANAPOLIS

The Notre Dame Club of Indianapolis held their second annual golf tournament, July 16, at the Speedway Golf Course. The trophy for first place was awarded to James Corbett, '16, at the dinner which followed the tournament. "Bob" Kirby, '28, (former drum major of the Notre Dame Band) and "Jack" Davis, '29, were in charge of the affair, and incidentally won second and third place, respectively. First prize in the blind par handicap was taken by John Rocap, '29. Others who were awarded prizes were William F. Fox, '19, Joseph Sexton, '26, and Lawrence Sexton, '32. Joseph P. McNamara, '29, was presented with a "Tea Hammer." Michael Dufficy, '26, received a Divot Fork to use in replacing the divots he scattered around the course, and Harry Scott, '16, carried away a spade to assist him through his future rounds of the sand traps.

For the benefit of those members of the club who are unable to attend the monthly noon luncheons of the club, a dinner at 6:30 P. M. at the Indianapolis Athletic Club will be held in place of the noon luncheon every fourth month.

KENTUCKY

The ALUMNUS extends sincere sympathy to the Notre Dame Club of Kentucky on the loss of Ed Bohmer, '27, Secretary of the Club. Ed died in Louisville this past summer after a short illness. A complete account of his death appears under The Alumni section in this magazine.

LOUISIANA-MISSISSIPPI

Cyp Spurl reports that some more "big men from the South" are again at Notre Dame this year. Cyp says: "Had the pleasure about a week and a half ago of seeing my kid brother, cousin, Jules de la Vergne and Tom Daigle off to Notre Dame. Just a week prior I saw Marchie Schwartz off, so you can see from the foregoing that we will be well represented again this year at the old institution.

"Needless to say we are again looking forward to another big year for Marchie, and hope that Daigle, a former prep star from here, will take up where he leaves off.

"Had the pleasure of having a nice visit from Big John McMullen this past summer. Also had a very interesting letter from "Toad" Shiffer, '26, and I must say that "Toad" has certainly kept track of the old Sophomore Hall gang in his vicinity.

"Our next Club get-together will no doubt be some time during the football season. Boland Burke has received his law diploma from Yale, and has again joined us. He will take the January Bar and have no doubt that he will maneuver it.

"Had the pleasure of seeing Judge Blache. He tells me he contemplates on moving to Houston, Texas."

MILWAUKEE

The Notre Dame Club of Milwaukee is setting a good fast pace for the other clubs. According to the announcements received by the Alumni Office this Summer the alumni in Milwaukee have been enjoying a series of varied entertainments provided by the Club.

On July 7 members of the Club were guests of Chauncey Yockey, '01, at a luncheon at the famous Elks Club. The President of the Alumni Association and the Alumni Secretary were invited to attend. To his regret, business made it impossible for the Secretary to enjoy the party, but Frank Hayes, the President, was there and reported to the head man in the Alumni Office that the affair was a success. At this time Chet Freeze was appointed Chairman of the Living Endowment Committee in Milwaukee.

And on July 18 the Club sponsored a Stag outing at the William Enders Hotel on Lake Nagawicka. Baseball, horseshoes, golf, bathing, eats and drinks were provided by the Committee in charge for the entertainment of the members. According to Freeman Fitzgerald and Bill Coakley, Vice-Presidents, the Bulls intended to outdo the Bears in attendance and all contests.

On August 3rd, the Antlers Hotel, Milwaukee, was the scene of the crime. The Club met for a luncheon at 12:15 P. M. Eddie Rogers, '14, furnished the attendance prize. A home talent program was a feature of the meeting.

You say you're not satisfied . . . you say you want more. Well, get a load of this. On September 9 the Club met at the Antlers, Milwaukee for a luncheon meeting with the ten undergraduate students and the seventeen brand new students from Milwaukee, Racine and West Bend as guests of honor. Included among the honor guests were sons of Frank Burke, Tom O'Meara and John Pick. "Doc" Watt furnished the attendance prize.

According to a recent announcement Dudley Pearson has invited the Club to a stag party at his home. No details of this affair have been received by the Alumni Office.

NEW JERSEY

"The New Jersey gang has started off on another voyage and from the fine beginning made we should have a wonderful year. On Sept. 9, the alumni were hosts to the freshmen from New Jersey who are now enrolled at the University. We had as guests 30 freshmen, and this swelled the attendance to some 60 counting the speakers, guests and old standbys among the alumni.

"James Silver, who was Chairman of the affair acted as toastmaster, and introduced the brilliant array of speakers, headed by Simon P. Northrup, Vice-President of the Fidelity Union Trust and Mortgage Company, and a Yale man; John E. Toolen, former prosecutor from Middlesex County, and a Cornell graduate; Frank E. Roan, a N.D. man of '08, now general counsel for the Commercial Casualty Co.; Rev. Herman J. Storck, the genial retreat master of Loyola House of Retreats at Morristown; John Law, one of our own, and Captain of the famous 1929 team of fond memory; Marty Brill, one of the satellites of the past two seasons; and our old standby, Joe Byrne.

"The remarks, most of which were addressed to the prospective students, were very amusing in parts, but withal to the point and if the youngsters only absorbed half of the good advice, Notre Dame need have no fear of the calibre of students the Garden State sends her.

"Joe Byrne led a band of stalwarts up to the beautiful estate at Morristown for the annual week-end retreat of the Club, and many a Corby and Sorin "sub" scene was re-acted. This was incidentally our third annual affair to Loyola, and Father Storck finds that the spiritual side of Notre Dame has never been neglected, even among the blase alumni.

"Our next meeting is scheduled for October 5 and should be well attended, if the efforts of our new "prexy," Bill Carter, are rewarded. This really is our first business meeting of the year, and if Bill is the parliamentarian he indicated in his acceptance speech I should have some real news for you next month.

Joe Nulty"

(Secretary)

NEW YORK

Rumor has it that the New York Club enjoyed a swimming party on September 3, at the New York Athletic Club.

And then from Dan Cannon, of the Columbus Ohio Cannons, comes this to whet out appetite for more news concerning our alumni in the big town.

"The New York Club is rather active. We had a very fine dinner Thursday. Walsh and Brill were there and put over a fine speech." Dan neglects to say just what Thursday this occurred. Dan, by the way, is rooming with Bernie Conroy, the '30 Class Secretary.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, September 15—ECHOES FROM THE GOLDEN GATE: This initiates a column retailing the news of this chapter and will live as long as we get stuff to write about . . . Intended to hold gigantic meeting end of September. That was before we previewed pictures sent us . . . Those seminarians will never bother Adolphe Menjou. At least Hollywood couldn't use them in the FRONT PAGE . . . Is football still played at Notre Dame? And are pictures of the games ever shot? If so, we would like to see some of them. We liked the seminarians all right, but they're not good box office.

THEY TELL US: That Patrick J. Dunne, son of Bert Dunne, '26, aged four months, was seen in Golden Gate Park, Sunday, swinging a bat . . . Observers report he is a left-handed hitter and looks bad on curve balls . . . We saw Eustace Cullinan, Jr.; '25, hurrying from his law office the other day. He's a member of the Legion of the Condemned now. Married? Of course . . . Ran into Keene Fitzpartick, '12, this morning. He just knocked over another account for the Chicago Tribune. He had a 72% lineage increase last year. He's the fair-haired boy with that organization, represents them on the Coast. He lives in a swell shack down the country; has a dog, a moving picture camera, two daughters; and he still looks like a collar ad. He also rides a horse and plays golf. A rather swanky fellow . . . We understand that Bernie Abbrott is down at Hollywood working on a picture. He brought his megaphone with him . . . Chanced to see Al Antone—sorry—Doctor Albert Antone, '27, (by way of St. Louis U. '31) at St. Mary's Hospital. How does that lad keep that bandbox look? . . . Dr. Antone will practise in Los Angeles. He'll starve to death. There's too many dead ones there. (This column is out for blood. Duck, Los Angeles!) (This is Northern California yodelling.)

That's the way a column gets talked about. Anytime a guy quibbles and gets fancy with diplomatic English, he loses his punch . . . Clipper Smith, '21, Santa Clara coach, has cried so hard about his team's prospects this year that he has been challenged by the Home for the Aged. Buck Shaw, '21, his assistant, is crying with him. They lost nine players. Some were de-necked by the faculty . . . (word de-necked, copyrighted; differs from be-necked, of course. Clipper has lots of athletes who are artistic be-neckers.)

Slip Madigan, '21, St. Mary's coach, is keeping the publicity fires burning . . . A very smart gent, is Slip . . . He's on the air, writes a column now and then, and coaches in his spare moments. He has Vince McNally, '27, with him. Vince looks after the backfield, they say . . . Slip and Vince should have a fine year. They play U.S.C. in the opener . . . Oh yes, a private collection will be taken up at the U.S.C.—St. Mary's game for the Rockne Memorial. Idea suggested by U.S.C. Nice gesture, Trojans! . . . Phillip Kelly, Berkeley, entering this year's freshman class . . . writes like an angel. He will represent Northern California in a literary way for the next four years. No, we can't send any athletes. They need them out here.

Mark Kreutzer, '24, is with the Pacific Shipper, as of yore. He is doing very well. He pays the club's bills. (Yes, often with his own money. But we'll reimburse him. That's a handy word, reimburse. It is high-toned, yet does not tie you down like a promissory note.)

Harry Burt, '12, is with Motor News automotive trade organ. He is also the big driveshaft in the American Legion Junior Baseball setup . . . The Northern California Club memorial to Knute Rockne off the press next week . . . We saved it for the fall, keyed the theme and art for this time of the year . . . Bob McDonald, '28, practising law in Oakland . . . Billy Yore, '28, still very active in many things . . . Eddie Freitas, '28, vice-president of a San Rafael dairy.

Tony Gorman, '22, runs a soap works, still cuts corners in his car, is just as fat and saucy as ever . . . The voice of Modesto, Steve Gavin, comes to us now and then . . . Breen McDonald, '22, is doing very well . . . We are planning three meetings for the fall, a dinner dance, a golf tournament—and two picture shows if we get the material from Mr. James Armstrong . . . John McInnis, '22, still holds forth on Montgomery street, the Wall Street of the West . . . Dr. J. M. Toner, grad of the early '90's, occupies a very important position in the state administration . . . That's all for this month.

PEORIA

Albert Gury, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer of the Peoria Club donates this for the Column:

"In response to your call for news for the ALUMNUS, the Peoria Club held a very enthusiastic picnic supper on September 3. The Club being invited as guests to the farm of Dr. Clarence Ward of Peoria. This was attended by twenty-eight members of the Club and students returning to Notre Dame.

"Among the guests was the manager of the Publix Theatres of Peoria who is sponsoring the great plans being made for the Club when the picture "The Spirit of Notre Dame" is shown here.

"The Club is again going to meet at its monthly luncheon, and is going to perform some spiritual help for the team in order that they may "carry on for Rockne."

Albert Gury, Jr.,
704 W. Wilcox Ave.
Peoria, Ill.

PHILADELPHIA

Harry Francis, Jr., Secretary of the Philadelphia Club, sent in a note recently to the effect that the Philadelphia alumni had called off all meetings until September. Harry says he is working and also playing ball daily so that he doesn't have many spare moments. Ain't that something! If the Republicans read this they will be using it as campaign material.

Anyway, we are waiting for some real Club notes from the Quaker City soon.

SYRACUSE AND CENTRAL N. Y.

E. C. Schonlau, Syracuse Club correspondent, says in a recent letter to tehe Office, that Club activities have been very slow during the past summer, due, in part to vacations and illness. Leo Kelly, one of the Club's star golfers was ill with scarlet fever. We trust that members of the Club will get together some of these days and keep things moving along.

SOUTHWESTERN TEXAS

Joe Menger, one of the leading lights of the Texas alumni, and President of the Club, underwent a serious operation recently, according to Father O'Hara's Religious Bulletin. Joe usually keeps us informed on the alumni activities in and around San Antonio. Our Club Notes will be mighty puny unless someone gives Joe a tonic or a secretary.

TIFFIN

Fred Wagner, Secretary of the Tiffin Club writes:

Club activities, especially in a small community, have been decidedly inactive here during the Summer months. However, within a few months we anticipate a bit of action around here, and when news of any kind is forthcoming, you may be sure that we shall relay it to you and to the ALUMNUS."

TRIPLE CITIES

The Notre Dame Club of Binghamton is now known as the Notre Dame Club of the Triple Cities.

Members of the Club enjoyed a dinner at the Arlington Hotel, Binghamton, N. Y., on September 3. The meeting was attended by a number of graduates of Notre Dame and undergraduates. Resolutions were passed in re the death of Knute K. Rockne and James Farrell, (a brother of the famous ball player, Eddie Farrel, a present member of the New York Yankees, who died in this city recently.)

John O'Loughlin, Secretary of the Club, assures us that the Club expects to hold another meeting and dinner during the Christmas holidays. By this time the Notre Dame men in the Binghamton vicinity will be organized and ready for action.

WESTERN WASHINGTON

Morrie Starrett threatens to cut the throats of those in the Office unless the change in Club officers is listed in the forthcoming ALUMNUS. We offer our humble apologies for neglecting to make this important change in the June issue. Anyway, here they are: Dr. Clarence Shannon, President; John Carmody, Vice-President; E. Morris Starrett, Secretary-Treasurer.

Morrie tells us that he may have a tough job getting back to N. D. this year for the football season. We, at Notre Dame, hope that Morrie will come strolling into the Alumni Office some of these days. He brings us luck.

TOLEDO

The Toledo Club held its first meeting of the season September 13 in the breakfast room of the University Club, where a nice crowd turned out according to Ray Tillman, Secretary of the Club. Ray gives us some vital statistics which appear under the Births, Marriages, Engagements, in this issue.

Last December the Notre Dame Club of Toledo decided to meet on the first Sunday of every month at a communion breakfast. Special pews are set aside for us at the new cathedral. The cathedral is centrally located for the majority of our members. After the fellows attend eighty-three Mass and Holy Communion in a body we hold our meeting in the grill room of the University Club which is only a few blocks from the church.

The idea has worked out fine. Although making an early Mass means some sacrifice on the part of the fellows, such as, breaking up a full day of golf or making arrangements with the wife so that they "can stag it," our numbers increased as the months passed, and by June we had seventy-five percent of our active members attending our meetings. This is a much larger percentage than we had ever had in the past even though our meetings had been fewer in number.

We decided not to have meetings during July and August but this Fall we expect even larger numbers because the boys will want to come together to talk over "the football situation." Seeing this same group of men going to the Sacraments regularly has created some favorable comments from the parishioners and it proves to them that the Notre Dame man is a frequent communicant years after he has left the portals of his alma mater.

WHEELING, W. VA.

Dear Jim:

I'm writing to you to inform you of the activities sponsored by the Wheeling Alumni group. During the summer months two very successful dances were held in conjunction with the Wheeling Club of Notre Dame. They were quite successful both socially and financially.

The first one was held in the early part of July at the Hawaiian Gardens in Wheeling. The second one took place out at Belmont Hills Country Club on our side of the river. Socially speaking, they couldn't have been any better. These affairs were strictly invitational, and the crowds couldn't have been nicer if they had been hand-picked. The success of these dances, I believe, insures their being held annually. And, of course, we are going to plan for a Christmas affair, if everything goes all right.

There will certainly be a mob to go up to Pittsburgh for the Tech game the last day of October. Shekeetski and Harris, playing with the Varsity this year, have got this part of the country plenty steamed up again, especially Bellaire.

Personally, I'm planning on going to see the Northwestern game in Chicago, and if I can make the necessary arrangements so that I can get away, I'll be there.

Our monthly dinner meetings will start again the first part of next month.

Here's hoping the team can hang up another clean slate next December for this year, in honor of Rock's memory and Hunk.

Sincerely,
The Sec-Treas. of the N. D. Club
of Wheeling,
George Sargus.

WABASH VALLEY

NOBLE KIZER, '25, was elected president of the recently re-organized Wabash Valley Club with Peter Vogt as Secretary-Treasurer.

The Club is planning on doing a number of worthwhile things this year and we trust that the alumni in the Wabash Valley territory will get together and promote a strong organization.

THE ALUMNI

Births

To Mr. and Mrs. EMORY TOTH, '23, August 2, a boy. This is the second son in the Toth family.

Eddie Fallon writes from New York to tell us that "RED" (FRANCIS J.) CONROY, '26, has a young son who has been called Philip William. He arrived June 23 and tipped the scales at nine pounds.

The Registrar at Notre Dame is seeing to it that Notre Dame will have plenty of students eighteen years from now . . . and so cinch his job. John Patrick Riordan, whose proud papa is Registrar ROBERT RIORDAN, was born September 7. This makes Notre Dame three, St. Mary's one.

Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES J. ROBRECHT, '24, announce the arrival of Rosalie Jean on June 27.

Edward J. Ryan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD J. RYAN, '25, was born June 22 and at last reports was doing fine.

On a recent visit to the Alumni Office, Mr. and Mrs. RAY TILLMAN, '25, informed the Secretary that Ray Jr., arrived June 26. The Tillmans have two little daughters.

Viva the Class of '25! The GERRY MILLERS have twins! Tom and Gerry were born on July 1, just in time to give Gerry a chance to celebrate a glorious Fourth of July. The Miller Brothers tradition waxes.

Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD G. BYRNES, '25, announce the birth of a daughter, Kathryn Louise, June 16. They live at 560 S. Negley ave., No. 20, Dover Gables, Pittsburgh, Pa.

K. of C. Boy Welfare Director, J. WM. McGOWAN, '25, has added an assistant to his staff in the Wabash Building: it's a boy, nine pounds, and everything is all set for him on the Notre Dame team 1949.

Now is the time to ask ARTHUR HALEY, '26, for those fifty yard line tickets for the Army game. Art is wearing the big smile these days, probably because a daughter, Patricia Ann, arrived at the J. ARTHUR HALEYS on Sunday, September 27. Patricia Ann has two brothers, John and George Haley.

JIM RONAN, '26, adds this paragraph to a recent letter: "On July 21, James Ronan III, made his appearance. The little guy is getting along fine, as is his doting mother."

Mr. and Mrs. JOSEPH MURPHY, '27, La Crosse, Wisconsin, announce the birth of a daughter on June 12. They have one son.

Robert Page Rust is the son of Mr. and Mrs. OSKAR D. RUST, '29. He arrived on August 20 and weighs seven pounds, thirteen ounces.

The Painless Operation

An advertisement
written for TIME by Miss Catherine P. Harris,
Junior League of Boston.

... High up under the dome of Boston's Massachusetts General Hospital, far removed from the wards so that the screams of sufferers under the knife will not horrify the ward patients, is the Hospital's famed operating amphitheatre. Many a medical student dreads the operations he is privileged to watch, frequently faints. But one day last week Dr. John C. Warren, Boston surgeon, led a group of surgeons and students (class of 1847) up the long stairs, eager, hurrying.

For there beckoned an interesting experiment—surgery without pain. Dr. William Thomas Green Morton, 27-year old Boston dentist, thought it possible, had experimented to that end with ether, a volatile, pungent chemical compound capable of producing insensibility. He had tried it on animals, on himself, then on his patients while extracting the roots of decayed teeth. Finally he had obtained permission from Dr. Warren to let him test his drug before an audience. One Gilbert Abbott, with a tumor on his neck, was to be the first trial.

At 11 a.m. the last privileged student hurried into the amphitheatre. Experimentee Abbott, fidgeting on the operating-table, looked anxiously at the clock. Casual talk ceased, sudden silence prevailed as the minute-hand crawled past the hour, and Dr. Morton did not appear. "He and his anesthetic! Humbugs both, no doubt!" mumbled a doctor. It became five minutes past eleven, ten, then a quarter after. The patient stirred uneasily, Dr. Warren selected an instrument, advanced to the table—useless to delay proceedings any longer. As his knife poised for the incision, Dr. Morton, breathless, apologetic, rushed in. He held in one hand a curious globe-and-tube apparatus.

In eager concentration, tensely expectant, the waiting group of surgeons and students watched while the newcomer—a charlatan perhaps, a genius possibly—adjusted his peculiar inhaling apparatus to the patient's mouth and with tense composure administered his anesthetic. Veiled skepticism revealed itself when the patient reacted suddenly in wild exhilaration, but this exuberance subsided, relaxation took its place, then unconsciousness. Skepticism was routed, amazement paramount. Said Dentist Morton to Surgeon Warren: "Your patient is ready."

Dr. Warren began to operate, proceeded quickly, in five minutes had finished. From the patient came no cry of pain, no agony of distress, only slight movements, mumbled words as from one who stirs on the borderland of sleep....

"This, gentlemen," exclaimed Surgeon Warren, "is no humbug."

Awake, Gilbert Abbott said, "I felt no pain."

So, in part, had TIME been published in October, 1846, would TIME have reported the first public demonstration of ether as a surgical anesthetic. So, too, would TIME have reported how one Dr. Crawford Williamson Long, of Georgia, came forward later saying that he had used ether four years previous, had given it up as impractical.... So, too, would TIME have reported the bitter persecution that came to Dentist Morton when he patented his discovery as "Letheon"; the seizure of "Letheon" by the U. S. Government for its own uses; the claims of Dr. Charles T. Jackson, the Boston chemist from whom Dentist Morton had obtained his ether; the division of the Paris Academy of Medicine's 5,000 franc Monthyon Prize for 1852 between these two, with Morton proudly refusing his share; the long Congressional investigations resulting in nothing, and Dentist Morton's death in poverty in 1865.

Cultivated Americans, impatient with cheap sensationalism and windy bias, turn increasingly to publications edited in the historical spirit. These publications, fair-dealing, vigorously impartial, devote themselves to the public weal in the sense that they report what they see, serve no masters, fear no groups.

The Weekly Newsmagazine

YEARLY SUBSCRIPTION $5 : 205 EAST 42nd STREET, NEW YORK CITY : 15 CENTS AT ALL NEWSSTANDS

Ray Tillman, Secretary of the Toledo Club sent in a flock of Notes for the ALUMNUS. One of them was the news that PHIL TOMPKINS, '29, is the papa of an eight and one half pound baby girl. Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins are residents of Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. KARL F. JOHNSON, '29, are the parents of a son, born September 10. The baby has been named John William.

Mr. and Mrs. AL McGANN, o. s. '21; Elected '29, have a daughter, born September 27.

Deaths

The ALUMNUS regrets to announce the death of BASIL J. SOISSON, '13, who died July 11, at his home in Connellsville, Pa., following a two week's illness from a heart condition. Mr. Soisson had been critically ill last winter from pneumonia and after he recovered sufficiently to be out, he went to Florida. However, he never completely regained his health and his weakened condition brought on the heart attack, it was said.

Mr. Soisson was born in Connellsville in 1892, the son of the late William F. and Jennie Lang Soisson. He was a resident of Connellsville all his life. At the time of his death he was practicing law in the firm of McDonald, Cray & McDonald.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Cochran Soisson. There are no children. Besides his wife he is survived by nine brothers and sisters. Joseph Vincent and Leon J. are graduates of Notre Dame, the Classes of '26 and '13 respectively. Mr. Soisson was a member of the Pleasant Valley Country Club, Uniontown Country Club, the Duquesne Club of Pittsburgh, Notre Dame Alumni Association and the Knights of Columbus.

Interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery, Connellsville.

A letter sent to WILLIAM JOSEPH McGRATH, '20, Chicago, Ill., was returned to the Alumni Office with the notation "deceased." No details concerning the death of Mr. McGrath have been received by the Office.

NORBERT ENDRES, '26-27, was drowned July 5 in the Ohio river. Mr. Endres was a resident of Evansville, Ind., at the time of the tragedy. No further announcement has been sent to this office.

We regret very much to announce the untimely death of ED BOHMER, '27, of Louisville, Ky.

Mr. Bohmer died during the summer as the result of an operation for appendicitis. At the time of his death he was the very capable Secretary of the Notre Dame Club of Louisville.

The ALUMNUS wishes to extend the sympathy of the Alumni Association to the following: WILLIAM T. GILMARTIN, '96, who lost his son William during the Summer. He was to have entered Notre Dame this Fall; to VINCENT SCHUH, '25, whose mother died June 9th, and who lost his father July 15; to KARL JOHNSON, '29, whose grandmother died during the summer. We also wish to extend our sympathy to PROF. ROBERT L. GREENE, whose son Robert, Jr., was killed in an automobile accident during the summer, and to Prof. JOSEPH APODACA, '30, who lost his sister August 5.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Walker of Lowell, Mass., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen Gladys Walker, to Mr. JAMES F. HAYES, '24, of New York City.

Miss Walker is a graduate of Trinity College, Washington, D. C. Mr. Hayes is connected with the Fifth Avenue Association in New York City. He will receive congratulations in his offices in the Empire State Building, New York . . . (the world's largest office building.)

From Toledo comes this announcement to break the hearts of many a lass. ARTHUR SUDER, '26, is to be married in the Log Chapel at Notre Dame on October 10, to Miss Mildred Hager, who is also from Toledo.

And then in the same breath we are told that JOHN HURLEY, '25, President of the Toledo Club, and member of the greatest Class ever graduated, will take the plunge some time in the Spring, tra la la. The girl is Miss Marie Hahn of Cleveland.

And, believe it or not . . . here comes the announcement that JOHN KILKENNY, '25, is engaged to marry Miss Virginia Sturgis. The marriage will take place late in the Fall. The bride-to-be attended the University of Oregon, and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. John is associated with the firm of Raley & Warner, law firm, and was recently appointed city attorney of Pendleton, Oregon.

Marriages

Mrs. William Thomas Mooney announces the marriage of her daughter, Magdalen to PAUL CONAGHAN, '20, on Thursday, August 6, Hollywood, Calif.

JEROME DIXON, '22, of the Dixon Dixons was married to Miss Frances Kennedy, September 12 in Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon will make their home in Chicago.

MARK A. FOOTE, '21, was married to Miss Ann Orr on September 12, in Chicago. After October 1, Mr. and Mrs. Foote will be at home at 6437 Kimbark Ave., Chicago.

One of the summer weddings was that of Miss Margaret O'Brien, Albany, N. Y., and GERALD LYONS, '24, Rockville Center, Long Island, N. Y.

The Misses Catherine and Mary O'Brien, sisters of the bride, were her only attendants. Edmund Baxter of Scarsdale attended Mr. Lyons as best man, and the ushers were Thomas Ronan and JOHN McMAHON, '28, of New York City, RONALD McNAMEE, '24, of Ballston Spa, and B. Kenneth Webel of Albany.

A cablegram from Rome brought the congratulations of Pope Pius XI at the close of the nuptial Mass in St. Paul's Church, Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyons left immediately following a reception for 200 guests and will make their home in Rockville Center, where Mr. Lyons is now editor of the Nassau Daily Review. He was formerly city editor of the Albany Evening News.

Miss Edith N. Boersig of Indianapolis became the bride of GEORGE A. BISCHOFF, '25, Indianapolis, on August 24 at a private ceremony in the Sacred Heart Church, Notre Dame.

Rev. LEO GORMAN, C.S.C., was the celebrant. Mrs. Helen Russell, Indianapolis, sister of the bride, and Robert McKenna were the only attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Bischoff left immediately for a honeymoon trip to Mackinac and the Straits. They will be at home at 3333 Kenwood Ave., Indianapolis.

The ALUMNUS has received the announcement of the marriage of FRANCIS JAMES NAVARRE, o. s., '26, to the sister of GENE McKILLIP, '27. The wedding took place July 17 in the Log Chapel, Notre Dame. Rev. John Ryan, C.S.C., '06, was the celebrant.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kelly, announce the marriage of their daughter, Cecelia Catharine to WILLIAM WADE SULLIVAN, '26, on Thursday, July 2, at Emmetsburg, Iowa.

After August 15 Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will be at home in Algona, Iowa.

Miss Helen Byrider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Byrider, Cleveland Heights, became the bride of CHARLES A. MOONEY, '26, son of the late Congressman and Mrs. C. A. Mooney, Cleveland, at a ceremony Thursday, September 10, in the chapel of Our Lady of the Elms, Akron, Ohio, Msgr. Schreiber officiated. Fifty guests attended.

Miss Ann Ruth Byrider, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; William D. Mooney, brother of the groom, served as best man.

After the service a wedding breakfast was held at Portage Country Club for thirty-five guests. The couple left for a month's trip to the White Mountains, Lake Placid, N. Y., Montreal and Quebec, Canada. They are at home in Cleveland.

Mrs. Mooney is a graduate of Mt. Marie academy, Canton, Ohio, and the College of New Rochelle, New Rochelle, N. Y. Mr. Mooney attended the Western Reserve law school after his graduation from Notre Dame.

Miss Kathryn Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Walsh, of Chicago, became the bride of GERALD McDERMOTT, '26, of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDermott, of Cleveland, Ohio, at a ceremony performed in the Log Chapel at Notre Dame. Rev. Eligius Weir, of Joliet, Ill., read the service in the presence of twenty-five guests.

Miss Dorothy Walsh, sister of the bride and JOHN J. SWEENEY, '26, of Chicago were the attendants.

Immediately following the ceremony a breakfast was served in the Gold room of the Oliver hotel to twenty-five guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. McDermott left for Canada. After October 1 they will be at home at 1425 Farwell Avenue, Chicago.

Mrs. McDermott attended St. Mary's College for two years and received her degree in 1929 at Rosary College, River Forest, Ill.

The marriage of Miss Claudia E. Goetzing, South Bend, to MERILL JOHN VAN SLYKE of Rome, N. Y., took place in the Log Chapel, Notre Dame, July 7. Rev. WILLIAM LENNARTZ, C.S.C., '08, performed the ceremony in the presence of fifty guests.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the home of the bride's mother. After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Van Slyke will be at home at 1015 E. Miner St., South Bend.

HENRY E. HINSENKAMP, o. s. '26-28, Elected '31, was married to Miss Anna M. O'Keeffe, of Plainfield, N. J., on June 6. Mr. and Mrs. Hinsen-kamp are living at 318 W. Seventh St., Plainfield, N. J.

Prominent among the late summer weddings was that of Miss Martha Heidacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Heidacher, of Price Hill, and WILLIAM HILLENBRAND, '27, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hillenbrand, of Batesville, Ind., which was solemnized August 18 at St. William's Church.

Following the breakfast at Western Hills Country Club the bride and groom left for a European honeymoon of two months, and upon their return will make their home in Batesville.

Mrs. Hillenbrand is a graduate of Mount St. Joseph College.

OSCAR GARZA, '27, was married to Miss Leonor Lopez in the Cathedral of San Fernando, San Antonio, Texas, last June, according to an announcement received in the Alumni Office.

Miss Freda Wert, South Bend, became the bride of JOHN J. NYIKOS, '27, in the Log Chapel at Notre Dame on September 19. Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, South Bend, were the only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Nyikos will make their home in Brookville, Pa.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Irma B. Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George F. Thompson to DANIEL ALTON MOORE, '27, Oak Park. The wedding was solemnized Saturday, September 12 in the Ascension Church, Oak Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are making their home in Oak Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jonathan Bandy announce the marriage of their daughter, Corinne Ursula, to Doctor NICHOLAS ARTHUR WENNING, '27, on Wednesday, June 24.

The wedding took place in the Log Chapel, Notre Dame.

Dr. and Mrs. Wenning are at home at the following appropriate address: 3422 Love Circle, Nashville, Tenn.

FRANCIS J. O'BRIEN, '29, Harrisburg, Ill., now of 7 S. Mayfield Ave., Chicago, Ill., was married last January. Mrs. O'Brien was formerly from Galveston, Texas.

Miss Mary Catherine Hurle was married to ROBERT EDWIN BAN-NON, '28, on Tuesday, August 8, in St. Charles Borromeo's Church, Louisville, Ky., according to an announcement received in the Alumni Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGarry announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathryn Patricia to WILLIAM VINCENT O'HARA, '28, on September 21 in St. Mary's Star of the Sea Church, New London, Conn. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Mohican Hotel, New London.

Before her marriage August 4, Mrs. JOSEPH B. REEDY was Miss Helen DeClerq, South eBnd. The ceremony was performed in the Log Chapel, Notre Dame in the presence of the immediate families. Rev. PATRICK J. Carroll, C.S.C., '11, was the celebrant. Miss Gwen DeClerq and Richard McIntyre were the only attendants.

Following a wedding breakfast in the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Reedy left for a trip through northern Michigan. They are at home in Battle Creek, Michigan.

Mrs. Reedy was graduated from Morningside college, Sioux City, Ia., and St. Mary's College, Notre Dame in 1930. She is a member of the Kappa Zeti Chi sorority and Pi Kappa Delta National Honorary Forensic fraternity.

Mr. Reedy was graduated from Notre Dame in 1930, and is a member of the editorial staff of the Battle Creek Enquirer and News.

Miss Hildegards Kurdys of South Bend became the bride of EDWARD MEREDITH, '30, at a ceremony performed July 4, in St. Hedwige's Church in the presence of the immediate families.

Miss Helen Kurdys of this city and JAMES GREY of Oak Park were the attendants.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was served in the Oldenberg Inn after which Mr. and Mrs. Meredith left for a trip through the East. They are at home at 493 Laurel St., Elgin, Ill.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph hospital training school in 1926.

Miss June Hoene was married to ARTHUR EDWARD PETERSEN, '30, on Tuesday, September 1, in Duluth, Minn., home of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Petersen will make their home in Evanston, Ill., after October 1.

Dr. and Mrs. John Vinton Corke announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara Vinton to LAWRENCE DOUGLAS DALEY. The ceremony was performed on June 24 in Los Angeles, Calif.

The following items were extracted from the Class Notes for 1916.

"The 1916 Class Column has never carried an announcement that will be of greater interest to the members of the class than the announcement of the marriage of our Class President, EUGENE R. McBRIDE. The wedding occurred on June 10, 1931, at St. Joseph's Cathedral, Hartford, Connecticut. E. L. McBRIDE (N.D. 1904-08) brother of the groom, was best man. JAMES CURRY, LL.B. '14, and THOMAS CURRY, LL.B. '14, both of Hartford, and lifelong friends of the bride, were present at the wedding. The bride was Miss Florence Daly of Hartford, Connecticut. The groom vouches for the fact that she is a Notre Dame fan of long standing, and hence this can be said to be a real Notre Dame wedding. Reverend J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., Reverend E. Vincent Mooney, C.S.C., Rus Downey, Ray Humphreys, and other classmates of the groom, may send their congratulations to 821 Irvin Avenue, Pittsburgh, N. S., Pennsylvania. Gene is still in the advertising business and is connected with Albert P. Hill, Inc., of Pittsburgh. Incidentally, McBride now has two nephews on the campus, Richard and Thomas Mead, both of Seattle, Washington.

"Another member of the Class of 1916 joined the ranks of the happily married on June 30, 1931, when the wedding of Miss Maurine Catherine Kennedy and THOMAS A. HAYES, LL.B. '16, occurred at St. Francis' Church, Norton, Kansas. The Class Secretary had the pleasure of entertaining Tom only two weeks before the wedding, but was not favored with even an intimation that such an important event was so near at hand. C. BYRON HAYES, LL.B. '13, was present at the wedding. JAMES D. HAYES, LL.B. '17, will be remembered as another brother of the groom. Tom Hayes is manager of the Better Business of the City of Fort Wayne, and he and his bride are located in a new home at 1107 Westover Road, Fort Wayne, Indiana."

The Rev. LEO J. HEISER, C.S.C., Off-Campus Director of Notre Dame, celebrated his Silver Jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood at a solemn High Mass in St. Patrick's Church, South Bend recently. The Very Rev. Matthew Schumacher, C.S.C., president of St. Thomas college, St. Paul, Minn., who preached the sermon at Father Heiser's first Mass, gave the jubilee sermon.

1904

Robert Proctor, Monger Bldg., Elkhart, Ind.

Classmates of Dr. LEO P. VANRIE will be pleased to know that King Albert of Belgium has conferred the Order of Leopold II upon Dr. Van Rie of Mishawaka, in recognition of his position among the Belgian-American population of St. Joseph county. The presentation was made at a banquet in the Hotel Mishawaka, September 26 by Dr. Cyriel Vermeren, Belgian consul at Chicago. The activity of Dr. VanRie in the development of the community, his helpfulness to members of the Belgian community and his patriotic services during the war were the basis for the honor.

1909

E. P. Cleary, P. O. Box 356, Momence, Ill.

Did you fellows of '09 know that your classmate SOPHUS NEBLE is a police judge in Omaha, Neb? Neither did we.

And did you know that PAUL R. MARTIN, until recently a resident of Chicago, is the new editor of the Indiana Catholic and Record, weekly Catholic paper in Indianapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are living in Indianapolis.

1910

Rev. M. L. Moriarty, 527 Beall Ave., Wooster, Ohio

Something new in the way of reporting Class Notes was used this month by the '10 Class Secretary. The following notes arrived from Wooster from Father Mike, and were sent a la Western Union . . . which bears out their cry "don't write, telegraph."

Jas Armstrong

Alumni Secretary Notre Dame Ind
Pascal Onesto, Wooster, enters

Notre Dame. Wooster almost ready to ask Club charter. Billy Ryan breezed in and out recently. Harry Miller has yielded his place at Atlantic City and has returned to work. Pat Walsh is designing more and more churches. The Secretary is prying open a new school. See you at Southern California pow-wow.

1911

Fred L. Steers, 1666 First Nat'l Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Now we have started!!

The first son of a member of the class of 1911 has registered at Notre Dame. Father, PETE DE LANDERO, now Honorable Professor Pedro A. de Landero. Son, Carlos, and he aspires to obtain an engineering degree like his father.

PAUL BARSALOUX, is waxing "fat" in the real estate business in Chicago, despite the depression.

Word has been received indirectly from JOHN J. BRESLIN. He is still pounding away at the law firm in his native city of Pittsburgh.

C. L. U. CLEMENS still shows his old time "pep." Some of the confusion he caused opposing pitchers when he presided behind the bat in his college days is now applied to opposing counsel in court rooms.

ARTHUR J. HUGHES, formerly Vice-President of the National Bank of the Republic of Chicago, is now engaged in taking care of a large and lucrative law practice in Chicago. His office is at 134 South LaSalle St.

JUSTIN J. "DUD" MOLONY is practicing law in his old home town, Crawfordsville, Indiana. At certain seasons he endeavors to deceive "his jealous mistress" by coaching basketball at Wabash, just to show he is accomplished in more than one line of endeavor.

JOHN TULLY, formerly the Tully of the Bremer-Tully Radio, has sold his interests in that business and is living on the fat while leisurely looking for more fields to conquer.

A letter from HENRY J. KUHLE, Jr., informs us that he intends to be one of the hundreds of alumni who will cheer Notre Dame to victory at the Northwestern game. He is looking forward to visiting Notre Dame on the same trip. This will be his first visit since 1913.

B. J. Kaiser, 324 Fourth Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

"Messrs. BENEDICT J. KAISER, Allan H. Neal and Alfred Damian Reid who have long been associated with the late Carlton Strong in the practice of architecture, announce the formation of a firm for the purpose

JOHN HANCOCK SERIES

If you are not here to see them through College

We have a plan which will make possible the completing of your children's education.

The new John Hancock Family Income Provision, which can be applied to old or new standard John Hancock Life or Endowment policies of $5000 or more, guarantees your family, if you are not here to see them through, an annual income of 12 percent of the amount of your life insurance until the children are of age. Then the full amount of the life insurance is paid to your estate or beneficiary.

This Family Income Provision is available under three plans: the 20-year plan, where the children are very young; the 15-year plan, where they are older and their period of dependency shorter; the 10-year plan, where the children have reached their "teens" and a still shorter period of family income will be needed.

Talk to a John Hancock representative or, if you prefer, write for our descriptive booklet, "Income for the Family," to assist you in selecting the plan which is best adapted to your family needs.

1914

Frank H. Hayes, Union Bank of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.

Captain F. P. MULCAHY piloted one of the marine corps amphibian planes dispatched to British Honduras from Nicaragua during the recent hurricane at Belize, according to a newspaper story in the Chicago Tribune.

1916

Timothy P. Galvin, 708 First Trust Bldg., Hammond, Ind.

WILLIAM E. BRADBURY, LL.B. '16, continues to distinguish himself in his home community of Robinson, Illinois, where Bill is practicing law. Bill was selected to deliver the principal address at the Memorial Day services held at Robinson this year, and the columns of the newspapers of his locality are most flattering in their praise of the splendid oratory which Bill exhibited on this occasion. Of course, this is no surprise to his classmates who recall the many contributions which Bill made to the oratory in Sorin Hall in the old days.

The old friends of A. A. (RED) McDONELL, will be pleased to know that he is located at 1411 Merchants Bank Building, St. Paul, Minnesota, and that he is kept quite busy looking after four children.

In spite of the fact that RAYMOND J. KELLY has two boys and two girls who have first claim on his attention, he finds a great deal of time to devote to the American Legion of Michigan, of which he was State Commander last year. Ray is practicing law in Detroit and is Secretary of the Detroit Bar Association. His office is located at 1307 Majestic Building, Detroit.

GROVER F. MILLER, staff photographer of the 1915 Dome, is located at 311 Alexander Street. "Stubby" regrets the fact that he does not often see many of his classmates, but he has been able to keep up contact with JAKE ECKEL, PHIL GOOLEY, JOE MILLER, FRED PRALATOWSKI, RAY McADAMS and TOM O'CONNOR.

GEORGE DEWALD McDONALD, LL.B. '16, Varsity Debater and Sorin Hall pole vaulter of other days, is now located at 162 North Citrus Avenue, Los Angeles. DeWald is engaged in business under the firm name of Hallenscheid & McDonald, wholesalers and distributors of bathroom accessories and hardware specialties. BREEN McDONALD of the class of '18, and a brother of DeWald, is located in the San Francisco office of the same firm.

Incidentally, DeWald is now the father of three children.

JOSEPH M. (MIKE) McGRATH, who will be remembered as one of the old Rochester crowd, is no longer a neighbor of the Class Secretary at Hammond. Mike is now located at 133½ Monterey Street, Terre Haute, Indiana, where he holds a responsible position as mechanical engineer for the Commercial Solvents Corporation.

ROBERT C. CARR, Ph. B., '16, A. M. '17, who will be remembered as one of the real students of the Class of 1916 is married and living at Ottawa, Illinois, where he is engaged in the practice of Law with offices in the Central Life Building.

C. I. KRAJEWSKI, has become one of the leading architects of Dubuque, Iowa. "Casey" is the proud father of three children and I know that he will read the account of Gene McBride's wedding with interest, because he wrote the Class Secretary some time ago asking for information concerning McBride.

J. A. McCARTHY, B.S. '16, is now a busy and prosperous doctor located at 607 East 119th Street, Whiting, Indiana. Jerry is doing some notable surgical work and is a member of the staff of St. Margaret's Hospital, Hammond, St. Catherine's Hospital, East Chicago, and the Methodist Hospital of Gary. Whiting is on the direct route from South Bend to Chicago, and Jerry will be happy to have his classmates call upon him so that he can display his two boys and prove to the visitors that they are both "Rockne-minded."

1917

John U. Riley, 244 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

JAMES D. HAYES has been appointed head attorney of the Administrator's Appeals Group, Solicitor's Office, Veterans' Administration in Washington, D. C.

1918

John A. Lemmer, 1110 Eighth Ave., Escanaba, Mich.

R. J. DUNN, has been promoted from assistant secretary in charge of the New England claim department of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company to second vice-president of the organization.

Here is a little dope for you that I got this summer while attending Teachers College, Columbia.

Father FRAN BOLAND, '18, did graduate work in Economics at Columbia this summer. He will be vice-president of St. Edward's College, Austin, Texas, the coming year.

JOSEPH L. RAFTER, a graduate of Notre Dame Law School, class of '30, and who taught at Notre Dame in 1920-21, received a degree in Public Law at Columbia University in June and was doing graduate work in law at Columbia.

1919

Clarence Bader, 650 Pierce St., Gary, Ind.

Classmates of MAURICE CARROLL, Kansas City, will be pleased to learn that the drawings of the proposed Field House used in connection with the Rockne Memorial campaign were prepared by Maurice Carroll who, according to an announcement by Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., President of Notre Dame, at Commencement time, offered to discount the usual architect's fees and do the work for cost. Mr. Carroll is associated with Chester Dean, Kansas City.

1922

Gerald Ashe, 1024 Monroe Ave., Rochester, N. Y.

WILFRED J. RILEY and WILLIAM A. A. CASTELLINI have opened publicity offices under the firm name of Riley-Castellini, in Room 166 Hotel Gibson, Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are prepared to handle complete publicity and promotion campaigns.

Wilfred Riley is former Editor-in-chief of The Billboard, international theatrical newspaper published in Cincinnati. Previous to coming to Cincinnati he was New York dramatic critic of The Billboard. Besides these positions he has served in various editorial capacities on the Associated Press, Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Boston Evening American and the South Bend Times.

William Castellini was formerly a reporter on the old Cincinnati Commercial Tribune and the South Bend News-Times. He will be remembered by classmates as the winner of the Gold Burse for Excellence in Journalism at his graduation from Notre Dame.

We are pleased to know that Hunk Anderson was released from Mayo Brothers' Hospital, Rochester, Minn., Aug. 6th, after a hard but successful battle with meningitis and appendicitis. Hunk has lots of real work ahead of him and we are with him, lose, draw, or no contest.

Of special interest to all our classmates is the wedding of Mr. Jerome Dixon to Miss Frances Kennedy which was held at Saint Brendan's Church, Los Angeles, Sept. 12th. Gene Kennedy, brother of the bride, served as best man for the groom. Formal notice of the marriage probably appears elsewhere in the ALUMNUS. May we offer congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dixon.

Lest we forget while offering congratulations, Chuck Foley and Steve Carmody have taken little or no stock in the depression and have assumed the title of husband. The Foleys live in Burns, Ore., and the Carmodys in Elmhurst, Ill.

In response to appeals from this department for information concerning some of our wayward members, an unconditional surrender was received from Kenn Nyhan. By the way, Kenn is Assistant Prosecutor of Lucas County, Ohio whose county seat is Toledo. Kenn says he will be more than pleased to welcome his old friends (unofficially, of course) at the Court House. At present Kenn is having a couple months vacation to recuperate from hay fever. What a life!

Vinc Hanrahan after having made a trip around the world and spending a year in Venezuela with the Standard Oil Co., has come to the conclusion that there are worse places than the home town of Buffalo. Vinc is associated with Biff Lee in the insurance business, Biff being Buffalo representative of the Phoenix Mutual Insurance Co.

Father George Fischer, C.S.C. is now assistant at Blessed Sacrament Church, Rochester. We mourn with George over the loss of his father who passed from this life last spring.

Doctor Dan Sexton of St. Louis recently completed a special five weeks course in diagnosis at a Brookline, Mass. hospital. After the completion of the course, Dan in company with his brother who is also a doctor, took a motor trip through New England and Quebec before returning home.

Father Bob Gallagher was recently commissioned chaplain with rank of first lieutenant in the Army Reserve Corps. Father Bob is still at St. Theresa's Church, Toledo. One of our reporters recently saw him and declared him to be in excellent condition despite added responsibilities.

We learn that Doc Hughes, who was Best Man at Chuck Foley's wedding, was a huge success.

Fred Dressel is in the hotel business in Columbus, Neb.

Bill Haskins enroute from Elkhart to New York City during June, made a brief stop in Rochester to renew acquaintances. Bill was accompanied by Mrs. Haskins and daughter Joan.

1923

Paul Castner, Studebaker Corp.,
South Bend, Ind.

Rev. JOHN JOSEPH CAVANAUGH, C.S.C., was ordained to the Priesthood on Wednesday, June 24, 1931 and said his first Solemn Mass Sunday, June 28 at ten o'clock at St. Paul's Church, Owosso, Michigan. John's classmates wish him many happy years in the service of his chosen profession. The '23 fellows who saw Father John at Commencement are glad to report that he is still the same old John. He is spending this year in Rome, Italy, and we are all following his career eagerly and will look forward to seeing him again at Notre Dame.

1924

James F. Hayes, 358 Fifth Ave.,
New York City

The Secretary sends in this:

"Dear Jim:

If your radio set is not strong you may not have heard about the enclosed. (Announcement of his engagement—listed elsewhere in this magazine.) They are shouting it from the rooftops here and, as Woolcott would say 'there is dancing in the streets . . .

"You can't say I haven't sent you at least one alumni note this year . . . "Put it on file for the new ALUMNUS. How are all your family? You great big example setter! (See Haley. Ed.)

Yours,

Jim Hayes."

This from the Chicago Herald-Examiner: "You'd better keep your eye on Charles Butterworth. He is destined to have a spectacular career in First National pictures. Mr. Butterworth's last picture that everybody on the First National lot is talking about him.

"He will now play the featured role in 'Merry Wives of Reno.' Robert Lord's story which he is directing."

TOM COOKE was seen on the streets of South Bend October 1, by one of the younger Professors whose last name is RYAN and whom the fellows call JOE.

Of course you know that VERNON RICKARD plays the part of a priest in the new picture "The Spirit of Notre Dame."

BERNIE "WINK" WINGERTER and TOMMY FARRELL are back according to our correspondent in the East.

1925

John W. Scallan, Pullman Bldg.,
79 E. Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

EDWARD J. RYAN writes that BOB HOWLAND and wife stopped in to see Ed last month. Bob has been promoted to first assistant advertising man for the Southern Pacific lines, and is being sent to Mexico this month by the road.

HERM CENTLIVRE sends in a long letter with some dope on some of the boys. After giving us the devil for not changing his address he settles down to some real serious Class noting.

"When I saw you two years ago this fall my headquarters were in New York. Time was so short that little opportunity was available to converse with many of the old boys. I saw JOHN BARTLEY and JIM HAYES once and JOE VERGARA and TIM MURPHY by chance. Tim was with his wife admiring show windows.

"One interesting compensation for travel last fall was my meeting with "LUKE" WALSH in the hills of Western Pennsylvania. The Chevrolet was running low on gas when I stopped near St. Mary's, Pa. "Luke" restored the tank to good level, told me a deer hunting (Ed's note: Note spelling) story, and after recalling some of the highlights of 'track' conditions, bade me good luck on my trip to Harrisburg.

"There I met TOMMY GOSS and PAT CANNY, former boxer who was battling a legal opponent of the Erie Railway. Goss, as I recall, is a representative for a Chicago firm dealing in textiles of some particular type that I have forgotten.

"JOHN BARR from Pittsburgh surprised us last spring by relaxing a few days in Detroit after a long trip through the South. Generally, or rather, it is uncommon to meet with a traveler who can rest more than a day or so when he knows that his command is to Go, is ever in his ears. The South, however, seems to teach people the importance of living in spite of all our hurry.

"O yes, met GENE OBERST in Richmond last October. He and I brought some springs for use on his line charging apparatus for his team—Washington and Lee. Now, I understand he is in Buffalo, which reminds me that I owe a number of letters to friends there, particularly PAUL HOEFFLER and EDDIE LUTZ.

"Jim, hope this recollection of travel activities does not slacken your efforts to guide subsequent alumni issues to my present address. Many thanks.

HERM CENTLIVRE
730 Whitmore Road, Apt. A 7
Detroit, Mich.

1926

Dr. Gerald W. Hayes, 38 N. 12th St.,
Newark, N. J.

W. WADE SULLIVAN even though he is a newlywed finds time to drop a note to the Office with some dirt on the boys. Wade says: 'Saw EDDIE BARRY when we were in Chicago and of course my cousin, JOHN P. SULLIVAN and TOM DONOVAN, but no one else.

"N. D. has certainly changed in the last few years. It was my first trip back since I was graduated Magna Cum Difficulty in '26 . . . Things are pretty tough out here in Iowa, but nothing to what it is in the cities. (Ed's note: And how the Alumni Secretary knows it.) We'll always have enough to eat and a place to sleep which is more than a lot of them have in the cities.

"Haven't got settled yet in our new house . . . will be a week or so and then I'll seem more married. The wife is a sister of ED KELLY of Emmetsburg who went to N. D. in '20 or '21.' We are sure that Wade's classmates send their congratulations and we hope he and Mrs. Sullivan will pay us another visit soon.

The Rev. R A P H A E L MICHAEL MAHER was ordained to the Holy Priesthood on May 30, last, at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Colfax, Iowa. May he enjoy many years of success and happiness.

ALLEN M. FOLEY is one of the newer lawyers practicing in St. Joseph county, having been admitted recently in circuit court. Al has been operating an insurance adjustment bureau in the Union Trust Building, South Bend for four years.

A letter the latter part of July from ED HARGAN says that he is out of touch with the gang around Belleville, N. J. Ed says that TOM SHERIDAN, ex-roommate, is living in Brooklyn.

1927

Ed. DeClerq, 8126 Drexel Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

JOE O'DONNELL wants to know what will happen to the '27 Class Reunion if we don't get started pretty soon. Everybody plans on being at Notre Dame for the event and bringing another '27 fellow along. Then let the Reunion take care of itself.

PHILIP E. DOELL is in the paint and lacquer division of the Pittsfield Works of the General Electric Company. We hear he was married about a year ago.

A. A. PERSYN is still with the Associated Oil Company at Associated, Calif., and is still enjoying his work.

MAURICE "PAT" COHEN is teaching High School in Taunton, Mass.

BILL COYNE is looking at the world through ROSE colored glasses. Maybe that is why he spent the Summer in Chicago . . . well, most of the Summer anyway.

1928

Louis Buckley, Box 73,
Notre Dame, Ind.

Following is more of the famous '28 Chain Letter which has made Class Note history. The Editor regrets that space prevents him from publishing everything that this Class Secretary sends in, as promptly as it is reported to this Office.

GEORGE BYRNE was a visitor on the campus this summer and brought news concerning the '28 men in New York. George is with the New York Central and seems to be very prosperous. At least one would think so if one visited his room at the La-Salle while he was here. But then again he was in Canada just before he stopped here so that might account for his apparent prosperity. George gave me the following notes about the New York gang. LAYNE and CONMEY are still together. Walt is writing for the McFadden publications, and Jim is still in the bond game with Munns and Winslow. LARRY CULLINEY holds forth with the Guaranty Trust Co. ART FITZGERALD has finished Harvard School of Business Administration but has been unable to sever all his connections with Boston society. AL DUFFY is with the law firm of Rawe & Kramer. AL TAYLOR has finished Fordham Law and is in the office of Samuel Untermyer. VIC FISHER is in the engineering department of the N. Y. C. George referred to DON CORBETT as the democratic leader of Rochester. Don is practicing law there. JOHN STEWART, who left our class his last year for a blond and Columbia, is now married and a father. John is on the Journal American in Rochester. JIM HARTLEY is in Jersey City with the American Can Co. STAN GRINAGER and his wife and baby were here long enough so that Stan and myself talked over Freshman Hall days. Stan is located in Fergus Falls where he is connected with the Northwestern Woolen Co.

BOB CAPESIUS dropped a note from 3821 N. Damen Ave., Chicago, Ill., stating that J. D. MURPHY is located in Georgetown, Pa. Joe has been ill since graduation but is recuperating in the Pennsylvania mountains. Drop us a line once in a while Joe and remember we expect you to be all O. K. again in '33 when we will see you at our reunion.

JOE LANGTON has changed his location to Oak Park where he is with the Oakwood Tire Co., 544 Madison St. He is staying at the Oak Park Club Annex along with ED McSWEENEY, CHET McDONALD, JIM SOLON and TOM O'NEIL. I saw a few of the '28 fellows this summer. I found BOB KIRBY in Indianapolis. He is the same old Bob even though he is a married man, and undertaker. It is rather difficult to imagine Bob in either of these roles but there he was in both. Bob plans to be more active at our reunion in '33 than he was in Chicago two years ago, when 50 of us got together. Those of you who were there certainly must be looking forward to '33 after this information. Bob says that he sees JOHN DAVIS quite often. I saw HENRY HASLEY at the K. of C. Convention at French Lick Springs. Henry is still practicing law in Fort Wayne and is Grand Knights of Fort Wayne Council, K. of C. I visited VINCE WALSH in Monticello, Ill. Vince has a fine farm there which is under the supervision of the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture. TOM WALSH came to Vince's place from Macon, Ill., to say 'hello' and to relate his experiences teaching High School in Macon. Tom has a better sense of humor than ever, so you can imagine how entertaining his story must have been. I laughed almost as hard as I did when Sexton fell down stairs in Freshman Hall. I saw JOHN CARROLL in Springfield where he is in the contracting business. John surprised me with the news that he is the father of a baby boy.

I found HAYS MURPHY looking as fine as ever. He graduated from Northwestern Law School a year ago and is now in the prosecuting attorneys office in Rock Island.

JOE BRANNON holds forth at 162 E. Superior, Chicago. Joe is back with Sears Roebuck in the advertising department.

I spent some time in Rochelle, Ill., with VINCE CARNEY. Vince has sold his race horse coat now and has become a very conservative clothing dealer in Rochelle. I was in Dixon, Ill., long enough to say 'hello' to PAUL FREY. Paul surprised me the same as did John Carroll by informing me that he is a married man and also a proud papa. Paul is in the office of Dr. DAVE MURPHY, '25, taking care of the pharmacy department of his business. Paul informed me that RED LEAHY is in Chicago and that he is father of a little red head. On my return from my annual trip to Canada my wife stopped in Detroit to see GUY LORANGER. Yes, Guy used to visit Mishawaka during his college days. We found Guy just the same as ever. He is studying medicine in Detroit. He promised to be back for the reunion in '33. Two of the '28 fellows are on the campus this year to greet the '28 men who return. JOHN FREDERICK is back as assistant coach. Dr. ANDY BOYLE is back as instructor in the department of chemistry. BILL JONES, who had one year up on Father Sorin, as far as campus residence is concerned, is coaching at Mount St. Charles College in Helena, Montana.

Those of you who have the chain letters should return them by Nov. 1st., so I can continue them in the next issue of the ALUMNUS.

And, by the way, if you are back for a game remember that headquarters for the Class of '28 is at your Class Secretary's home at 718 E. Corby.

JOHN T. CULLINAN announces association with Mr. John A. Cornell for the general practice of Law in the Bridgeport-City Trust Bldg., Bridgeport, Conn.

WALT GAFF, ex '28, is Harbor Master for the Port of Fall River.

CHARLEY RILEY of Indianapolis is the Head Coach at the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, N. Mex.

MAURICE B. CONLEY has completed his course in the study of law at the Albany Law School, where he won honors in the debating team and also participated in a debate by radio with Union College, Schenectady.

TURK KELLY attended New York University this past Summer.

PAUL BRUST spent the summer in Europe. We received a card from him when he was in Scotland.

BARNEY ZIPPERER is associated with Guarnieri & McVicker, attorneys at law in Warren, Ohio. Barney says he manages to keep plenty busy but never too busy to think about Notre Dame and the old crowd. He would like to hear from some of the gang at his business address.

1929

Joseph P. McNamara, 231 Wisconsin St., Indianapolis, Ind.

With no letter from the Class Secretary, the medium in the Alumni Office takes pen in hand, so to speak, and jots down a few notes.

MARTIN O'PHELAN, former St. Thomas basketball star, has been appointed to a newly-created post of full-time manager of athletics at the Ascension club, Minneapolis. For the past two years O'Phelan has been in charge of the recreational center in Hamilton, Ohio.

HARLEY McDEVITT has just returned from Europe. (Ho hum! Rich people.)

BUD McMORROW writes from New York: "I don't see much of the Notre Dame boys around the big town, except for GEORGE CRONGEYER. He seems to be doing mighty well in the insurance business with JOHN BALFE, '20. One day last week I ran across JERRY PARKER, '30, trying to do a dirty job on Child's at 6th Avenue and 31st Street. Child's gives one all he can eat for sixty cents and Jerry was sure running a marathon. Give my regards to JOE McNAMARA when you see him."

ANDREW MULREANY and ARTHUR J. GALLAGHER, '30, are in the novitiate at Notre Dame.

JOHN V. HINKEL received a Master of Science degree at the School of Journalism of Columbia University in June.

TOM CAREY, of 60 Wall Street, New York City visited the Alumni Office in July. He was flying from Kansas City to Chicago or from Chicago to Kansas City, we forget which.

JAMES E. KEATING of Conneaut, Ohio was admitted to the bar of St. Joseph County recently. He has established offices with Hugh P. Dunahoo, insurance agent in the J.M.S. Bldg., South Bend.

FRANK HAVELICK, Jr., was graduated from the Air Corps Advanced Flying School in Kelly Field, Texas on June 26, 1931.

GEORGE BEAMER who has been with the firm of Jones and Obenchain, attorneys, has transferred to the law firm of Parker, Crabill, Crumpacker and May.

REYNOLDS SEITZ, former fourth floor Sorinite, has been doing tall things in his own quiet way at St. George High School, Chicago. Besides teaching English, he has also coached the debating and swimming teams. His squad of high-powered speakers won all of its nine debates in the Catholic high school league. As a reward for this clean sweep of the schedule, Seitz and his team were sent up to meet the best in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Winona, all in Minnesota. The St. George team conquered the Big Cities but faltered in the small town banked on the Mississippi. His swimming team finished in the Catholic High School league. St. George had the lead cinched, but two of its best water crawlers had to leave school just about the time the race got hot. Aside from inoculating the Notre Dame system of winning games, Seitz is also winning himself credits at Northwestern University towards a Master's degree, which he expects to receive at the end of the summer. This year he has been assigned to all the senior classes in English at St. George." FRANK SIUDZINSKI, now of the Chicago News, lately with the New York papers, gets the box of cigars from Seitz for all this blow.

1930

Bernard W. Conroy, 1038 Park Ave.
New York City

Bernie sends in some Class Notes from the Big Town this time. Here they are:

"First of all I want you to notice that I have wandered from the Pittsburgh District. I have been working for the Home Insurance Company of New York for the last few months. The work is very interesting and I intend to stay here for some time.

DAN CANNON, who is living here with me, is now connected with G.M.A.C. CHARLEY SULLIVAN and JOE CANNY are also working with General Motors.

"JACK CANNON, also known as "Big Boom" is continuing his Pre-Medical studies at Emory College in Atlanta. He is also line coach at Georgia Tech.

"JIM WALSH of Dallas dropped me a note from Cornell University where he attended the summer school. Jim studied law at Southern Methodist last winter. If he continues the studies our Class will soon boast of another lawyer.

"The other JIM WALSH of our Class is teaching at Brooklyn Prep in Brooklyn.

"LAURENCE COTTER of Buffalo was here for dinner the New York alumni held a couple of weeks ago.

"GEORGE WINKLER has been busy keeping the firm of John Winkler and Son going in Far Rockaway, Long Island.

"BOB MULHALL is seeking a Master's degree in English at Columbia University. His address this year is 1218 John Jay Hall.

"JIM RIZER of Towanda is with the McNamara Company of John Street, N. Y. C.

"JIM O'ROURKE is also in the Life Insurance business, but he is with the Equitable Life Insurance Co.

"LARRY CRONIN of Elmira has a position with the Lily-Tulip Cup Company here.

"The New York Evening Post is getting the latest news on sports in the Mid-West from their new correspondent Harry Sylvester. (Ed's Note: Harry is now at Notre Dame and paid the Alumni Office a visit today.)

"DENNY SHAY is helping JOHN LAW to turn out a strong eleven at Manhattan.

TOM KENNEALLY, who assisted Law last year, is now coaching at Rutgers.

ED ELLSWORTH, JERRY PARKER, and MIKE BISHKO are to be seen in the Wall Street district. Ellsworth is with Gortz and Company, while Parker is employed by Blythe and Co.

"I would like to hear from some of the fellows in the West and the Middle States.

"I hope the fellows are responding to BOB EGGEMAN'S plan for the Living Endowment.

"BILL DUNLEVY is an accountant for the A & P Company in Youngstown, Ohio.

"CHARLEY SCHWARTZ is working as a trader for the Continental & Commercial Bank in Chicago.

"JOHN REARDON has located in Lemont, Ill., with the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co.

So-long,

BERNIE CONROY.

FRANK DOAN, a boy who made good in the city, dropped into the Alumni Office the other day on his way to Lima, Ohio, for a brief visit. He is "sold" on New York and looks as prosperous as ever.

JAMES J. WALSH taught English in a Brooklyn High School while he was working for his Master's degree at Columbia University. Jim asks to be remembered to Joe McNamara and Louie Buckley.

WILLIAM DORE has been selected as secretary of the new state parole board, according to an announcement at the offices of Governor White, Columbus.

1931

John E. Boland, 1402 Linden, Scranton, Pa.

No letter from the Class Secretary! . . . O well, we're not so fussy about those things as long as we have some dope. Here are some gleanings which have been picked up during the Summer.

A letter from JOE GUADNOLA in July informs us that Joe was contemplating taking a course out in Los Angeles this winter before taking up any professional work. Joe says, rightly too that there is no end to study these days, but it's best to have one's course as complete as possible.

GARCHIN FRIEDMAN is associated with George A. Schock, lawyer in South Bend. He was admitted to the Bar May 5, 1931.

Of course you knew that BILL SULLIVAN was a rookie with the Chicago White Sox this season. He was under contract to go with the Sox several months before his graduation last June.

A letter from J. H. ZUBER says: "Just weighed the wolf at the door and find that he has lost twenty pounds, he's so mal-nourished. In that condition he's harmless, so I'm enclosing the five spot for my alumni dues I couldn't afford while said wolf was hearty and thriving. Hurrah for the depression!" If everybody looked at the depression this way the Alumni Association would be rich.

The following grads have passed the Illinois bar according to the good Dean. ROBERT DUFFY, FRANK DOWNS, JOHN MAHONEY, STANLEY NOWOTALSKI, ALVIN KOLSKI, of '31 and WILTON SHERMAN, '30.

RAY "SMITTY" SMITH writes from Henderson, Texas. Still the same ol' Smitty!

As I sit here and bang away at these Notes the fellows are coming back from the evening meal at the dining hall. They are following the N. D. band and are en route to the gym for a pep meeting before the opening game with Indiana Saturday. From the front porch we watched them file past with their red lights, singing the Victory March and the Hike song. And now, back at our desk, we can hear the cheers as the boys gather in the old gym.

This has nothing to do with the '31 Class Notes, except, perhaps, the thought that some of you fellows wouldn't mind being in the parade to-night . . . maybe I'm wrong. Anyway, why not come back for a visit some of these days, or if you can't do that, why not drop a line to the Alumni Secretary, Notre Dame. We are always interested to learn what the fellows are doing throughout the country and your classmates are interested, too. If you don't want to write about yourself, write about the other fellow. Keep the '31 column alive and brimming with Class Notes. Don't lose track of the gang!

NEW MEMBERS OF FACULTY

Two priests and 11 laymen have been appointed to the faculty of the University of Notre Dame for the scholastic year 1931-'32.

A further change in the faculty is the promotion of John A. Scannell as head of the physical education department succeeding James A. Masterson, who last year resigned to accept a similar position at St. Thomas college in Minnesota.

The Reverend Julian Sigmur, new instructor at Notre Dame in the department of philosophy, received his degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Munich in 1921 and his doctor of divinity degree from the University of Tübingen in 1931. He studied at the University of Berlin from 1922 to 1925 and the University of Hamburg in 1931.

The Reverend John F. Lohan, who received his A.B. degree from the National University of Ireland, will teach religion.

The department of history is augmented by the appointment of Thomas Bowyer Campbell, who is an alumnus of William and Mary college in Virginia and received a degree of bachelor of divinity from the Virginia Episcopalian seminary.

J. Donald Watson has been added to the commerce school faculty as instructor in finance. He received his

A.B. degree from Reed college in 1926 and his M.B.A. from Michigan in '31.

Two of the men added are to instruct classes in economic history. The first, Richard Bohan, received both his B.A. and his M.B.A. from the University of Washington. The second, Wesley C. Bender, completed his undergraduate work at Cornell university and received his M.B.A. from the University of Pittsburgh.

John P. Turley, who received his M.A. degree from the University of Minnesota, will teach Latin.

Foreign language instructors include Dr. Paul Menge, who will conduct classes in French and German, and Walter M. Langford, '30, instructor in Spanish, Menge, a doctor of philosophy, was a member of the summer session faculty at Notre Dame.

The other new instructors are Louis L. Hasley, who will teach English and who received his A. B. and M.A. degrees from Notre Dame; Elvin R. Handy, physical education instructor who completed work for both his A.B. and M.A. degrees at the University of Iowa; George Rohrbach, instructor in mechanical engineering and graduate of the University of Notre Dame with an M.E. degree in 1925, and Ronald Cox, in the department of elocution, an alumnus of Boston university with a A.B. degree, and holder of a professional degree from the Leland Powers School.
