Notre Dame on the Air!

The famed Notre Dame Band and Glee Club . . . on the Columbia Network from coast to coast! Broadcast originated by WSBT! The Inter-Hall Talent Contest . . . every Hall producing a radio show . . . broadcast by WSBT! St. Edward's is the 1936 winner! Day after day, through the whole school year, you can hear a Notre Dame student announcer saying: "From our studio in the John F. Cushing Hall of Engineering, located on the Campus of the University of Notre Dame, we bring you"

Educational—

Sixteen series of weekly 15-minute broadcasts, educational in purpose, planned, prepared and produced by interested students. A series of weekly broadcasts by faculty members. The full scope of Notre Dame instruction presented to the radio audience under the direction of Father Eugene Burke, C.S.C.

Ecclesiastical—

The most impressive ceremonies of the year broadcast in their entirety from the Church of the Sacred Heart. Special religious events of the University likewise broadcast.

Sports—

The only station which broadcasts every Notre Dame Football Game regardless of where it is played. All sports are on the air . . . basketball, baseball, track!

Year Begins With Restricted Enrollment

Many Students Forced to Live Off-Campus Temporarily
As Registration Reaches Highest Point in Several Years;
Rectors and Prefects Named; Cavanaugh Hall Opened

With an enrollment approximating 2,950, the largest since 1931-32, the University opened its 95th academic year on September 17, after registration on the two previous days.

Because residence accommodations on the campus had been exhausted enrollment was officially halted in mid-August so that a minimum group of new students would be required to reside off-campus. The present group of off-campus new students numbers some 100, but these are being moved to the campus just as fast as the necessary arrangements can be made. University officials planned to have no new students off-campus longer than a month with the exception, of course, of those who regularly live near the University.

The 1936-37 year was officially opened on Sunday, September 20, with solemn Mass, following an academic procession. Father John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., president, preached at this Mass (and at all the other student Masses on that Sunday). Father Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., vice-president, was celebrant of the Mass, Father J. Leonard Carrico, C.S.C., director of studies, was deacon, and Father Charles Miltner, C.S.C., dean of the College of Arts and Letters, was subdeacon. Frather Francis J. Wenninger, C.S.C., dean of the College of Science, was master of ceremonies.

Of large interest, to returning students and new students alike, was the new Cavanaugh Hall for Freshmen erected next to Washington Hall, partially on the site of the old Brownson-Carroll gym. This hall was, of course, named for the late Father John W. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., former president of the University and, will on that account, have the particular affection of large numbers of alumni. Construction work on the hall was completed just in time to permit occupation by the Freshmen assigned there.

Rectors and Prefects Appointed

Father Henry Bolger, C.S.C., has been named first rector of Cavanaugh Hall, with Father Stanislaus Lisewski, C.S.C., Father James Trahey and Father Maurice Rigley, C.S.C., as prefects.

Other rectors and prefects have been appointed for the year as follows:

Sorin: Father John Farley, C.S.C., rector; Father Charles Doremus, C.S.C., and Father Edwin Schneider, S.S., prefects.

Walsh: Father George Marr, C.S.C., rector; Father Raymond Murray, C.S.C., and Father Cornelius Hooyboer, C.S.C., prefects.

Alumni: Father Henry Glueckert, C.S.C., rector; Father James Stack,

C.S.C., and Father Howard Kenna, C.S.C., prefects.

Dillon: Father Francis Cavanaugh, C.S.C., rector; Father Norbert Hoff, Father Robert Woodward, C.S.C., Father Edward Keller, C.S.C., Father William McNamara, C.S.C., and Professor Thomas Madden, prefects.

Howard: Father Peter Forrestal, C.S.C., rector; Father J. T. Purtill, S.S.E., Father Joseph Corcoran, C.S.C., Father Charles Over, and Professor John Whitman, prefects.

Morrissey: Father George Holderith, C.S.C., rector; Father James McDonald, C.S.C., Father Philip Moore, C.S.C., and Professor Francis O'Malley, prefects.

Lyons Hall: Father Thomas Kelley, C.S.C., rector; Rev. John Kelley, C.S.C., Father John Reynolds, C.S.C., and Father John Reddington, C.S.C., prefects.

Badin: Father Joseph Muckenthaler, C.S.C., rector; Father Joseph Luttman, C.S.C., and Henry Hickey, prefects.

St. Edward's: Father Leo Gorman, C.S.C., rector; Father James Kline, C.S.C., and Father Bernard McAvoy, C.S.C., prefects.

Freshman: Father John P. O'Connell, C.S.C., rector; Father John Molter, C.S.C., prefect.

Carroll: Brother Maurilius, C.S.C.,

Distinguished Scholars Join Faculty

W.W. Turner, '16, Teaching Architecture; Many Holy Cross Priests Return

William W. Turner, '16, teacher of drawing in Central High School in South Bend for the past 15 years, has joined the staff of the Department of Architecture at Notre Dame as one of a group of 40 new men who have been added to the faculty of the University for the present school year.

After finishing at Notre Dame in 1916, Mr. Turner did graduate work at the Catholic University, Washington, D.C., and at the University of Pennsylvania and later studied in France. He is the author of several texts on mechanical drawing and architectural drawing.

Dr. Arthur Haas, formerly of the University of Vienna, Austria, internationally known lecturer and author of standard texts in the field of theoretical physics, is a new member of the staff of the Department of Physics. During the past school year Doctor Haas was a guest professor at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me.

Another noted addition to the faculty is Arnold Lunn, the outstanding English author, lecturer and apologist, who is one of the staff of the new graduate Department of Apologetics, just formed to train Catholic writers.

Father Miltner Returns

Father Charles C. Miltner, C.S.C., has returned to his position as dean of the College of Arts and Letters after a year of study and research at the University of Louvain, Belgium. Also returning from Louvain is Father Leo R. Ward, C.S.C., as associate professor of philosophy. Father Leo L. Ward, C.S.C., head of the department of English, replaces Father Eugene P. Burke, C.S.C., who will devote his time to radio and writing.

The faculty of the department of aeronautical engineering has been augmented by Professor John Allen MacLean, from the University of North Carolina. Additional courses in the department of metallurgy, including aeronautical courses, have necessitated an addition to this staff. Dr. Carl F. Floe, of the State College of Washington, formerly of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is filling this post. Equipment and facilities in metallurgy have been expanded during the summer.

Dr. Kenneth N. Campbell, formerly of the University of Chicago, research worker at the University of Illinois and instructor at Pennsylvania State college, has joined the chemistry staff. Others added to the chemistry and chemical engineering staff as graduate assistants include six Notre Dame graduates: Arthur A. Baum, Edward A. Bried, Marcelus J. Geerts, Alfred J. Kolka, James F. McKenna and Frederick C. Weber; also Patrick A. McCusker, for the past six years professor of chemistry at St. Edward's university, Texas, Charles J. O'Boyle, of St. Joseph's college, Philadelphia, Pa., and Robert J. Thomas, of Lowell Textile institute, Massachusetts.

New Radio Course

Courses in radio script written under the direction of Richard T. Sullivan, will be an innovation among Catholic universities. Mr. Sullivan, a Notre Dame graduate of 1931, who has done considerable literary and radio writing during the last five years, is a member of the English staff.

Professor John P. Turley has returned from a year's study in Italy to resume teaching in the Department of Classics. Professor Willis D. Nutting, of the College of St. Teresa, Winona, Minnesota, is assigned to the Department of History and Professor Daniel Pedtke, also from St. Teresa's, has joined the Department of Music.

A chair of Polish language and classics is occupied at Notre Dame this year by Father Stanislaus F. Lisewski, C.S.C., recently returned from two years' study at Jagiellonski university, Krakow, Poland.

Six members of the Congregation of Holy Cross have been assigned as new instructors in religion. They are Rev. Joseph J. Corcoran, C.S.C., Rev. Thomas P. Jones, C.S.C., Rev. Edgar J. Misch, C.S.C., Rev. Joseph S. McGrath, C.S.C., Rev. John M. Dupuis, C.S.C., and Rev. Paul E. Fryberger, C.S.C.

Other appointments include Rev. George F. Brown, C.S.C., German; Rev. T. Francis Butler, C.S.C., history; Rev. Edward L. Heston, C.S.C., and Rev. Bernard L. McAvoy, C.S.C., philosophy; Rev. J. Howard Kenna, C.S.C., mathematics; Rev. James E. Kline, C.S.C., astronomy; Rev. Joseph Luttman, C.S.C., and Rev. John A. Molter, C.S.C., biology.

As graduate assistants, Arthur J. Gartland has joined the staff in economics; Victor G. Reiling, physics; Philip A. Walker, physical education. Professor Edmund A. Smith assumes an instructorship in marketing in the college of commerce.

Vogt in Charge of Research

Succeeds late Father Julius Nieuwland

Professor Richard Rockhill Vogt, '15, member of the Notre Dame faculty since 1916, has succeeded the late Rev. Julius A. Nieuwland, C.S.C., as director of organic research at the University.

The work of Doctor Vogt will consist in coordinating research work in the department or organic chemistry, and in furthering the projects which he and Father Nieuwland had under way at the time of the latter's death in Washington on June 11.

Professor Vogt was associated with Father Nieuwland in the study of the chemistry of acetylene, which resulted in the development of synthetic rubber. He was the co-author with Father Nieuwland of a monograph on acetylene which is now ready for publication by the American Chemical society.

In addition to his studies and laboratory work at Notre Dame, Doctor Vogt spent a year in research as a fellow of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours corporation at Wilmington, Delaware, and is a consultant for that company.

Research in the department of chemistry will continue along the same lines of investigation which have, since 1920, culminated in more than 100 published papers, and the principal practical result of which was the commercial development of modern synthetic rubber, "Duprene," for which Father Nieuwland received four medals and many other scientific recognitions.

Doctor Vogt was born in South Bend, May 16, 1891. He received his degree as bachelor of science in chemistry in 1915, and his master's degree a year later. The degree of doctor of philosophy in chemistry was conferred on him in 1920, and during the Commencement exercises in June he was awarded the $500 University prize for the most outstanding work of a faculty member during the year.

LAY RETREAT

Many alumni, several of them from distant points, came to the campus to attend the 18th annual Lay Retreat conducted from August 6 to 9, inclusive, under the direction of Father Patrick Dolan, C.S.C., superior of the Mission Band. Father John Delaunay, C.S.C., and Father William A. Bolger, C.S.C., addressed the various gatherings. Father Bolger discussed some of the moral aspects of present-day economic problems.

Association President Pays Visit to Pope

Arthur J. Hughes, '11, In Rome, Pledges Support of Alumni of Notre Dame to Constructive Church Program in War Against Subversive Forces.

Arthur J. Hughes, Ph.B. '11, LL.B. '17, president of the Alumni Association, sailed for Italy on September 6, to lay before His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, a program of the Association for combatting those agencies undermining Church, state and home.

President Hughes, before leaving for New York, received the approbation of His Eminence, George Cardinal Mundelein, Archbishop of Chicago, in a private audience attended by the Reverend John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., president of the University.

In commenting on the mission, Father O'Hara said:

"Mr. Hughes will pledge our allegiance in the fight for conventional institutions of society without which no group can hope for existence as a social unit. I speak of the four necessities—the home, education, the rights of private property and the rights of the State. All Catholics can insure the continuance of those blessings, as we know them in the United States, by leading the kind of life for which the Holy Father pleads."

President Hughes feels strongly that those who have enjoyed the advantages of Catholic education, particularly in our Catholic colleges, have an obligation of leadership in the fight of Catholic Action against those forces working throughout the world against fundamentals for which Catholicism is the champion.

Alumni of Notre Dame, spread as they are through the United States, and the other countries of the world, form a natural network for the co-ordination of a program of this nature. They are endowed by natural and acquired tendencies and knowledge to lead in this increasingly clear conflict between constituted authority and anarchy, between Christianity and atheism.

Recent weeks have proved the vital interest of the Pope in this struggle. Rising from a sick bed, he has hurled the age-old yet ever modern pronouncements of the Church against these forces, particularly those embodied in communism.

Those who have enjoyed the clear, practical presentation of the principles of the Church at Notre Dame, particularly under the religious program as instituted by the present president of the University, Father O'Hara, recognize in their training the finest type of endowment for this mission.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR J. HUGHES

It is with this thought that Father O'Hara and President Hughes conceived the present pilgrimage.

The cause is dear to the Holy Father. It is vital to the continuation of all those things that we cherish as Americans, as well as Catholics.

The movement solicits the spiritual support of every alumnus, but it is equally a challenge to his intellectual powers. It is an opportunity for the exercise of his rights and duties as a citizen.

No movement in modern alumni organization presents the scope and significance of this project which the Notre Dame Association, under President Hughes, and backed by the University, has launched.

The five addresses just delivered by Father John F. O'Hara, C.S.C. for the Catholic Hour on NBC will be published in a single pamphlet and may be procured from the National Council of Catholic Men, Washington, D.C. Since the addresses were on the general subject, "The Catholic Church and Youth," the pamphlet should be of wide interest to alumni, and, through them, to countless other persons.

The practical program will hinge to some extent on the results of President Hughes' visit with the Holy Father. Certainly a first step will be the determination of the subversive forces actually under the enemy banners. These will vary from locality to locality and country to country.

As a primary step, anticipating the return of the president, each Club is urged to select a committee of leading members to launch this survey of the Club area. As evidence of specific aggression of these anti-social forces is collected, practical plans for their frustration can be developed under the leadership of the alumni.

The eyes of the Catholic world are on this movement, the first of its kind to be undertaken officially by an alumni association. Naturally, many Catholic organizations are pursuing through their several channels the same fight for the preservation of our principles. But few contain the uniformly excellent intellectual training and spiritual reinforcement that is the privilege of those who have a Catholic college background.

By the same token, the obligation to utilize this advantage is greater, and the results should be proportionately significant.

NEW CHARITY ORGANIZATION

Professor Eugene J. Payton, '23, is president and Professor Raymond A. Hoyer, M.A., '24, of the University faculty, is general secretary of the new Vincentian Service Bureau, a Catholic charity organization in South Bend. Luke Kelly, '35, formerly of Albany, New York, is supervisor of the Bureau. Mr. Hoyer will retain his connection with the University while devoting part of his time to the Bureau.

On the board of directors of the new group are the following Notre Dame men: Paul Butler, William E. Voor, Joseph W. Nyikos, Dillon J. Patterson, Professor Eugene Payton, Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., and Bernard J. Voll. Professor Earl Langwell, of the University faculty, is likewise a director. Joseph F. Donahue was one of those most active in forming the Bureau.

Directors of the Vincentian Bureau were guests of the University at a dinner organization meeting on September 14.

Mrs. William P. Breen Dies

Wife of Beloved Alumnus Receives
Tributes of Thousands Befriended;
Estate Is Benefit To Notre Dame

Mrs. Odelia Phillips Breen, Fort Wayne, Indiana, wife of the late William P. Breen, '77, died on August 12. Mrs. Breen was also the sister of the late Frank Phillips, former student, and benefactor.

Mrs. Breen's life, as was that of her husband, was filled with a record of charity and contribution to civic and cultural life. In her death, as in his, this contribution was perpetuated by generous bequests. Her monuments are many—in the churches, schools, orphanages and homes, but especially in the hearts, of those she loved and whose causes she championed.

Notre Dame, as announced at the time of the death of William P. Breen, April 21, 1930, receives a most generous bequest, which was left to the University, contingent on the death of Mrs. Breen. The bequest, amounting to an estimated $200,000, was to establish, with $50,000 of it, the Martin J. Regan,

C.S.C., chair of public speaking, in memory of one of the earlier members of the Congregation of Holy Cross, for many years prefect of discipline at the University. The remaining funds were designated to establish chairs in the College of Law.

Similarly, at the death of Mrs. Breen's brother, Mr. Phillips, a most generous bequest to the Congregation of Holy Cross at Notre Dame, estimated at some $400,000, was announced. These funds, too, were to be held in trust until the death of Mrs. Breen, who enjoyed the income from them for her extensive program of philanthropy.

By the terms of Mr. Phillip's will, the bequest to Notre Dame is to be placed in the hands of the Board of Lay Trustees of the institution and invested as the funds in their hands are invested, and to be known as "The Thomas E. Walsh, Daniel E.

New Courses Are Offered

R. T. Sullivan, '31,
Directs Script-Writing

The introduction of courses in radio script-writing, new courses in aeronautical engineering and the enlargement of the Departments of Metallurgy and Physics are among the extensions this year in the programs of study offered on the campus.

Richard T. Sullivan, '31, will direct the new course in radio script-writing as a member of the faculty of the Department of English. An English "star" in his student days, Dick has done much radio writing since his graduation. His addition to the faculty will materially aid the campus radio set-up which has been so extensively developed in the past two years.

The facilities for radio broadcasting were first made available for the University in December, 1934, with the establishment by the South Bend Tribune of a campus studio in the John F. Cushing Hall of Engineering. The Tribune owns and operates both South Bend broadcasting stations, WSBT and WFAM.

It was largely an experimental project at the outset, based upon the theory that students and radio listeners alike would share in the fruits of student participation in radio programs. Success of the project and its great popularity among both the students and the listeners of the WSBT-WFAM territory have proved the theory to be sound.

The major advantage undoubtedly lies in the encouragement and development of special talents among undergraduates. Opportunity to take part in actual broadcasts has proved effective in stimulating interest in public speaking, music, dramatic production and allied subjects.

This was demonstrated in unique manner last May when a campus talent contest was conducted among residence halls, each producing a 15-minute program which was broadcast. The Tribune awarded a plaque to St. Edward's hall, winner of the contest.

The campus studio also affords to a considerable number of interested students practical experience in radio work under conditions identical with major broadcasting studios. When WSBT-WFAM programs first originated at the University they necessarily were handled by staff technicians and announcers. Gradually

Greater Notre Dame Program Progresses

Infirmary, Cavanaugh Hall, Biology Building, Corby Addition, Landscaping, Road Construction, Add to and Beautify Campus for Incoming Undergraduates.

Once upon a time, alumni returning to their alma mater, after years away, would peer about and exclaim, "Well, well, the old place has changed some."

Today, at Notre Dame, the sophomores, junior and seniors who left the campus in June, come back to the campus in September and the S.A.C. has to provide pamphlets with maps of the grounds.

Cavanaugh Hall, the beautiful residential hall, housing 196 freshmen, located just East of Washington Hall, on the site of the old Carroll gymnasium, is ready for occupancy, with Rev. Henry Bolger, C.S.C., '24, rector.

The Biology Building, situated on the Eastern part of the campus, near the old Minim track and football field, and near the new heating plant, is rapidly rising to imposing proportions. The cornerstone was laid June 6, during the 1936 Commencement activities, with an address by the Hon. Francis P. Garvan, head of the Chemical Foundation. The building was designed under the supervision of the members of the faculty of the biology department, and is expected to facilitate greatly many significant experiments now being conducted in the College of Science under the direction of Rev. Francis J. Wenninger, C.S.C., '11, Dean, and Prof. J. A. Reyniers, '30.

Infirmary Opened

The new Infirmary, on the site of the old heating plant, just North of St. Edward's Hall, was opened just before school was out last June, but adds to the beautiful and active atmosphere of the East campus. Changes in the road leading to the rear of the Main Building, now carry traffic to the East of the Infirmary. The grounds about the building, like those about all of the new buildings, have been landscaped.

Work on Corby Hall, which is being remodelled for residence facilities for the priests who are faculty members, and who, for the most part, have lived in the Main Building, is nearing completion. Work has been held up temporarily, as this is written, by a dispute among the union labor involved in the construction over a problem of jurisdiction, but the building should be ready for occupancy this Fall. Remodelling includes kitchen and dining room facilities and a recreation room.

A concrete pavement is being laid extending from Notre Dame Avenue, south of Alumni and Dillon residence halls, to the rear of the University Dining Halls, to facilitate truck and general traffic to the Dining Halls.

Extensive repairs were made necessary during the Summer on the roof of Chemistry Hall.

Sorin Hall was altered by a major program including re-decoration of the chapel, re-wiring of the entire hall, and painting and plastering work in the rooms.

Many Sidewalks Laid

A system of sidewalks has been laid, providing a walk from the entrance of the campus to the rear of the Dining Halls, (also South of Alumni and Dillon,) with a walk through the court between the two halls joining the plaza system.

The plaza, extending from the Western campus in front of Lyons, Morrissey and Howard, Eastward to Cartier Field, between the two rows of new buildings—the Postoffice and Commerce on the North side, the Dining Halls, Dillon, Alumni, Law and Engineering on the South side—has been developed during the Summer. In spite of the withering heat, it retained its Commencement foothold, and has become one of the impressive beauty spots of the University.

Alumni have been interested in seeing the sign THOMAS HICKEY, Inc., Contractor, marking both the Infirmary and the new Biology building. Tom was at one time, when a boy, a printer in the Ave Maria, and later attended Notre Dame. He has been in the contracting business in South Bend for a number of years. One of the less conspicuous, but important jobs he has handled at Notre Dame, in addition to the new set-up, is the modern St. Michael's Laundry Building, adjoining the Grotto and Convect.

Construction Aids Workers

Cavanaugh Hall was handled by Sollitt and Sons, whose work on the majority of the new buildings in the Greater Notre Dame of the last ten years has become familiar to alumni.

Another interesting alumni angle in the new picture is the designing of the Biology Building, the Infirmary and Cavanaugh Hall by the Boston architectural firm of Maginnis and Walsh. Mr. Maginnis received the Laetare Medal in 1924. Also active in the design and construction work, paying frequent visits to Notre Dame to supervise progress, is Wendell Phillips, B.Arch. '12.

A great deal of the work on the building program has, through the efforts of the University and the agency of the general contractors, been handled by local sub-contractors. Local building trades and labor, especially during these years of depression, have found in the extensive building program of the University their greatest source of employment.

Construction Progresses on the New Biology Building near the old Minim Playground. The Heating Plant Stack Is in the Background.

Neeson New Lay Trustee by Special Ballot

Tom Murphy Becomes '36 Class Secretary; Joe Waldron, '36 Director for Year; Lieut. Governors Strengthen District Organization by Fine Personnel

John H. Neeson, C.E. '03, city engineer of Philadelphia, former president of the Alumni Association, founder of Universal Notre Dame Night and one of the best known alumni, was elected by the recent special ballot to the Board of Lay Trustees of the University as a representative of the Alumni Association.

The election of the new Trustee was also the occasion for the election by ballot of lieutenant-governors for the 22 districts of the association, and for the election of a Class Secretary and a representative on the Alumni Board by the Class of 1936.

Thomas Murphy, Newport, Rhode Island, president last year of the Student Activities Council, and a former class president, was elected class secretary, and will be responsible for the column of 1936 news in the ALUMNUS and other class contacts.

Joseph Waldron, Trenton, New Jersey, brings to the Board of Directors a valuable member succeeding the splendid 1935 Director, Thomas Proctor. Joe has not only the always valuable viewpoint of the immediate graduate, but through family and geography possesses an alumni background which, like that of his immediate predecessor, will contribute much to the work of the Board.

The election of John Neeson brings to the Lay Trustees a representative who possesses to a marked degree the confidence and friendship of the alumni he represents. His contacts with Notre Dame have been many and close. The graduation of a son, John H. Jr., with the Class of 1935, was one of the high spots of this continuing contact. Many times in the East Notre Dame has found in the new trustee an able and willing representative.

As city engineer of the great City of Philadelphia, John Neeson has achieved a distinction that raised him to the highest position in his profession. His work has been the object of national and international attention in the solving of the problems of metropolitan growth.

As president of the Alumni Association in 1923-4, he was the inspiring leader of the first Universal Notre Dame Night, an event of such historical significance to the Association that John Neeson's name grows annually more familiar and beloved as the Night becomes a world feature of the Association's program and an occasion to which increasing thousands of Notre Dame men and their friends look forward.

He joins a distinguished group of alumni on a Board which, in a comparatively few years, has, by unselfish and untiring service, won a high place in the hearts and in the traditions of Notre Dame.

As happens so many times in elections requiring two nominations for a single post, Notre Dame could not have lost, in this election of a lay trustee. Walter Duncan, '12, LaSalle, Illinois, banker, for many years treasurer of the Association, proved a popular as well as an able and thoroughly qualified nominee. Nothing is so completely convincing in proving the increased stability of the Association as this available material among the members for a position of the significance implied in election to the Lay Trustee.

About the lieutenant-governors, space does not permit, in this issue, a detailed account. But in every instance, their election was merited by a background of active service to the Association and to Notre Dame:

Fred Steers, '11, Writes of Olympics

Secretary - Treas. Central Ass'n. of the A.A.U., Manager of the U. S. Women's Teams in Berlin Games, President N. D. Monogram Association, Gives Views.

(Fred Steers, LL.B. '11, Chicago attorney, Notre Dame track star, director of the Alumni Association, Governor of District II of the Association, Chicago, has been active in the A.A.U. for many years. He accompanied the Olympic team to Berlin this summer as a member of the Olympic Committee and manager of the women's teams. Opinions expressed in the following interesting article are of course personal, and not those of the ALUMNUS or the Alumni Association. Ed.)

Asked to write something with "a personal slant" on the 1936 Olympics, I hesitate to do so after learning upon my return how thoroughly dishonest our American press was in handling the situation during our absence. I was and am amazed at the "freedom" exercised by the press generally in libeling the American Olympic Committee, the team and everything associated with the movement. Many viewpoints expressed in printed articles disclose that they were not only untruthful, but lacked the decency we like to believe is an attribute of American life.

Best Olympic Team

Because it refused to be used as a political pawn and sacrifice the ambition of athletes of the United States, the American Olympic Committee was confronted from the start with a campaign of opposition and abuse which knew no rules or restrictions. We don't subscribe to the rules in any country in which our team competes and if we had to find a country thoroughly agreeable for each Olympiad, I fear we could not even compete in America. The team was assembled and financed in spite of such interference. It was the best team not only athletically, but personally to represent the U. S. A. in any Olympiad.

The team left on the Steamship Manhattan on July 15 and eight days later arrived in Berlin, where it was given a friendly and rousing reception by hundreds of thousands of people lining the streets from the "Stadtbahnhof" to the City Hall and from the City Hall to the Village. Flags and decorations were in abundance. Unter den Linden was the best decorated area I have ever had the pleasure to witness. It was a gorgeous sea of color, but not gaudy. Each decoration seemed to have its place as a part of the whole.

The Olympic Village could not be improved upon. The houses were situated in an enclosure of 400 acres, which abounded in trees, flowers, paved walks and spacious lawns. There were halls where entertainment was provided, a post office, a bank and stores to take care of the ordinary wants of the athletes. Each house was named after a German city and contained from eighteen to twenty rooms, each room designed to house two men. Everything was thoroughly modern and met the hearty approval of the American boys, which is tantamount to a seal of perfection.

Chicago Steaks Provided

The meals were served in a central dining hall with rooms assigned to each nation, where food prepared as nearly as possible to the cuisine of the respective nations was provided. The principal items of diet of the American team were imported from America. The Chicago steaks kept the boys feeling at home around the waist. The preparation and service was under the supervision of the North German Lloyd line.

The stadia far excelled those provided for any previous Olympiad in beauty as well as athletic feasibility. Each day the several events filled them to capacity. We don't know what crowds are in America and the Germans don't know how to handle them. Once one was inside a stadium, he could go where he pleased. It was sort of an honor system.

Time meant nothing. In some locations vehicular traffic was allowed to proceed fifteen minutes in one direction, then fifteen minutes in another.

The games were well conducted. America took the lion's share of honors in those branches of sport commonly participated in by Americans. In my opinion the best individual athlete of the games was Jesse Owens; the greatest individual performance, the 1500 meters run and won by Lovelock of New Zealand and the most impressive showing by any country, the winning of all three places in the decathlon by Morris, Clark and Parker of the U. S. A.

The first country to have the honor of having its flag hoisted on the Olympic victory staff was Germany through the efforts of a blond miss named Tillie Fleischer, who won the "speer wurf" or javelin throw. She proudly gave the Nazi salute, while the band played and the crowd sang "Deutschland über alles" and "Die Fahne Hoch"—two national anthems, one for old Germany and one for new Germany, we were told.

Three Places in High Jump

We had hoped the U. S. A. would have this honor, but the high jump competition was prolonged by jump offs. To even things, however, we took the first three places in this event and saw the stars and stripes occupy the three flagstaves of honor for the first time. "The Star Spangled Banner" was played and across the field came the words of the anthem sung by some American visitors—faint in comparison with the mighty volume of the German voices, but appealing nevertheless.

The German people were very friendly and seemed pleased to help at all times. They seemed a much different people than when I visited Germany eight years ago. The facilities for and the encouragement of physical exercise have made them thinner, healthier and more alert. The women especially have changed, being much thinner and possessed of school girl complexions. "Make-up" is almost unknown in Germany. The government encourages physical exercises of all kinds. The excellent showing of Germany in the games is attributed to that fact.

The German people appeared to be well clothed, well fed and well housed. Public and private buildings were in a good state of repair. Business seemed to be good and the cities and villages clean. The apparent prosperity was, of course, stimulated and somewhat false, in that the government was spending huge sums in public works.

I could find no one who had personally seen any excesses alleged to have been committed in the earlier days of the present reich. Jews had been denied the right of franchise. However, they were still doing business, but could not fly the Nazi flag over their establishments. At present people were attending to their affairs without molestation, churches and synagogues were open and peace and contentment seemed to reign throughout the land.

CAMPUS NOTES

BY JOHN J. LECHNER, '37

THE CURTAIN RISES

A record enrollment of 2,958 students, many additions to the faculty, a new residence hall, Cavanaugh, completed, work on the new Biology building progressing rapidly, Corby hall changed from a student residence hall to a faculty building for priests, the "Campus Beautiful" program moving into the byways since work on the central portions of the campus have been finished—all these physical phenomena indicate that Notre Dame is under way for another scholastic year. The freshman class, largest in years, has overflowed campus facilities with the result that some 100 of them are stationed off-campus. This year's freshman class seems to be business minded since a proportionally larger group than ever before have registered for Commerce.

WE ARE SEVEN

In one of the issues of last year we were privileged to announce that one of the local newspapers, the South Bend Tribune had published a page of the most "eligible" Leap Year bachelors in South Bend. In this group of "Most Eligible" Notre Dame garnered seven places. Prominent in company which included Paul Fenlon, assistant dean of the College of Arts and Letters, and Professor T. Bowyer Campbell of the Department of History, Alden Davis of the College of Commerce, Bob McAuliffe, assistant prefect of discipline, George Sands, '10, Francis Jones, '29, and Norm Hartzer, '29, stood the name of Clarence "Pat" Manion, professor of Law and state and national servant of the people. But no longer can the valiant little band look to Pat for moral support when the jasmine odor of romance comes to their nostrils for bachelor Pat just "ain't no more." He went and married a beautiful gal from South Bend. Who'll be next? Keep your eye on this page. We can't be muzzled!

COURTSHIP CUSTOMS

Notre Dame annually has a large quota of foreign students. With this year being no exception, let's have Alfonso Uribe, a sophomore in chemical engineering from Manizales, Colombia, carry the ball for a few lines of type and explain differences in social activities as contrasted between here and in Colombia. Take it away, Alfonso. . . .

"In this country if you have met a girl and wish a date with her you call her up, and if she likes you well enough she 'goes out' with you. In my country it is not so simple. If you have been introduced to the girl it is necessary to have a female relative, usually a sister or a cousin, extend the invitation. If accepted the female relative accompanies as a chaperon. If there is no opportunity to obtain an introduction to a young lady you wish to escort, the process is even more involved. When you see her on the street with her chaperon you follow at a respectable distance. After you have followed for a considerable length of time and if you are acceptable to the young lady she will give you a glance over her shoulder. It is then permissible to go in the evenings and stand before her home. When she opens her window and converses with you the battle is half won, since now you may call on her at her home."

Alfonso estimates that the shadowing activities he mentioned will cover a period of a month on the average. And they call the Latins an impulsive people!

BRIEFS

The Stack twins, Edwin and Edward, students from South Bend, who were selected as national twin champions in 1933, emerged from retirement to compete in the National Twin's convention at Fort Wayne, Indiana, but they didn't win again. . . . Lloyd Martz evened matters for Notre Dame by garnering the Michigan Junior open golf championship. . . . He played 82 holes of match play in even par which should be good news for the golf team since he is eligible for three years of competition. . . . St. Mary's also has a record enrollment this year (350 students). . . . One of the features of their annual Freshman week was a conducted tour of the Notre Dame campus. . . . Among distinguished visitors during the Summer was the Most Rev. Richard Downey, D.D., Ph.D., archbishop of Liverpool, England. . . . He expressed amazement at the expansion of Catholic educational facilities in this country. . . . One of Poland's most distinguished surgeons, Dr. Francis Zytowski, of Posen, also toured the campus. . . . Dr. Zytowski has been in this country since May, his purpose being to study U. S. hospitalization methods. . . .

MORE BRIEFS

The Scholastic, campus news organ, made its first appearance of the year. . . . It is edited by Paul Foley, Grosse Pointe, Michigan, with Cy Stroker, of Waterbury, Connecticut, serving as managing editor. . . . Scrip, the literary quarterly, will be piloted by Philip Welsh, Anderson, Indiana. . . . The task of compiling the history of the school year in the 1937 Dome will be handled by Tom Radigan, Gary, Indiana. . . . Tom Hutchinson, Arts and Letters, from Goshen, Indiana, spent a hectic summer with the department of agriculture battling the various insects which each Summer plague the farmer of his locality. . . .

STILL MORE

The green, white, and orange flag of the Irish Free State flew officially in Indiana for the first time when Desmond Fitzgerald, for many years minister of foreign affairs and minister of defense in his country, who was a visiting professor in political science here this past Summer, visited Culver Military academy at Culver, Indiana. . . . Mr. Fitzgerald was accompanied by Bob Riordan, University registrar and Jack Sheehan, '37. . . . Joe Pawlowski, a sophomore majoring in music from South Bend and glee club soloist, has the promise of a Hollywood audition by United Artist's film officials. . . . On his way to spend a few weeks in Mexico City, Pawlowski stopped in Tucson, Arizona. . . . Learning that a film company was on location there, Joe wangled introductions to Jesse Lasky, film producer, and Nino Martini, Ida Lupino, and Leo Carrillo, screen players, and persuaded them to listen to his voice. . . . They might have heard Joe through "Sylvia" through sheer politeness, but the kid must have something for he ran through "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" and a few bits from "Pagliacci" and still kept his audience. . . . Lasky promised him a screen test should he ever care to take one. . . . On the first day of school the increased enrollment caused Brother Philbert in the candy store to miscalculate the milk needs of the incoming baby boys. . . . He ran out of milk at two o'clock in the afternoon. . . . Joe Ruetz, star sophomore guard on last year's football squad took the hard way to enjoy his vacation. . . . In company with Louis Miller, a student seminarian at the University, Joe traversed 175 miles of the celebrated Salmon river country in Idaho. . . . The trip took 21 days on foot over mountains, through deserts and forests. . . . The Salmon river district is noted as being one of the most inaccessible areas in the United States. . . . In the opinion of Miss Florence King, new physical education director at St. Mary's, believes that every girl should learn to tap dance.

ATHLETICS » » »

BY JOSEPH S. PETRITZ, '32
Director of Athletic Publicity

Your Notre Dame team of 1936 will be characterized by less experience than you usually find in a Notre Dame team, and just as much fight as you find even in the greatest Notre Dame teams.

Coach Elmer Layden has more than 180 willing young men out there, each staunch in the opinion that he should be the regular at his position. And therein lies the chief hope for a successful season.

Competition for positions all along the line is so keen that not a man on the tentative varsity which Layden has lined up for scrimmage purposes is relaxing for one moment. Layden has done a great job of restoring morale in his two years on the campus, and it is doubtful whether a Notre Dame squad had more spirit than the present group.

Captain Smith Resigns

Captain Bill Smith characterized this spirit recently by his voluntary retirement from the captaincy just a few hours after learning that he would be unable to play because of illness. Honored with the captaincy although he had been unable to play last season, he said, "The team needs a captain down there on the field, not on the bench. My conscience wouldn't let me keep the job, knowing I couldn't play."

Two hours later Johnny Lautar was elected to the post. Before his election he had told this department, "The fine thing about this team is that it hasn't any stars. Everyone is fighting for his job, and there's a great spirit." Less than two hours after his election, he rose to the occasion by capturing a fumble in the end zone for the varsity's winning touchdown in an intra-squad scrimmage.

The beauty of last year's team was that it didn't have stars. Bill Shakespeare, Wayne Millner, Andy Pilney, Mike Layden, Fred Carideo, Don Elser, Marty Peters, Dick Pfefferle, and the others may have become stars before the season was over. But they were not stars when it opened, and it was their great fighting spirit that made possible victories over Pitt, Ohio State, and Southern California and the tie with Army.

When they were graduated along with enough other lettermen to bring the total to 19, a lot of household names passed out of the Notre Dame picture.

Maybe some new ones will develop out of Layden's inexperienced 1936 squad, names that will mean something to every fan as he listens to the Saturday broadcasts and reads his Sunday morning paper. The chances are, though, that Notre Dame will be known more as a great fighting team, one that will make mistakes a-plenty in early games, but fewer as it goes along—a team that will not be depressed by its mistakes and bad breaks, but will keep right on coming back for more.

HEAD MAN LAYDEN
What's the Answer?

And that's about all you could ask for, isn't it?

On paper, the Fighting Irish of 1936 stand to lose at least five of their nine games—which doesn't mean that the other four will be easy. They'll have to fight for the rest.

But eight of the nine schools on the schedule are admitting openly, in one of the football's most peculiar phenomena, that they will be stronger than last year. The other, Wisconsin, is not too pessimistic, even though Harry Stuhldreher is trying to teach the Notre Dame system to a bunch of boys who never played it before, and despite the fact that the leftovers from a weak 1935 team have been decimated by ineligibility. Wisconsin expects to have some of that Four Horsemen spirit under Stuhldreher.

Opposing Prospects

Last year Northwestern defeated Notre Dame, and the Wildcats are much stronger this season, a real Big-Ten title threat. Last year Army tied the Irish. Official reports from West Point are to the effect that the Cadets will be as strong as last year, and will have more and better reserves. Pitt dropped a 9 to 6 game, its only defeat of 1935, to the Irish, and Jock Sutherland, with negligible graduation losses to worry about, says, "We ought to be better this year. We've had more experience."

Ohio State gave Notre Dame's varsity all it could handle last year, and if it hadn't been for those gallant shock troops and Mr. Andy Pilney, we hate to think of what the consequences could have been. The Buckeyes will have to do a little patching, and they may lose their early October game to Pitt. But Columbus experts say they'll be stronger than ever by Oct. 31.

Southern California has ten regulars back from the team that dropped a 20 to 13 game last year, almost overcoming a 14 to 13 lead in the closing minutes. But "it is not unlikely that seven or eight Sophomores will break into the starting lineup," says U. S. C. press releases.

As for the rest of the schedule, Judge Wally Steffen is again active at Carnegie Tech, with plenty of returning power from last year, and the best Sophomore crop Tech has had for years. He's staying right at Tech until the Notre Dame game has passed into history, and the Tartans are openly predicting a victory.

Schedule Means Battle

Navy, which used three full teams and some spares against Notre Dame last year at Baltimore, lost only 13 lettermen from this group. They lost, 14 to 0, last year on Pilney's passing. They expect the greatest team in their history.

Wisconsin has plenty of heft, a willing spirit, and a great coach, as you all know. Don't sell the Badgers too short. Knowing they are not going to burn up the conference this year, they'll shoot the works at the Irish.

Washington U. of St. Louis has never been on Notre Dame's schedule, and not too much can be figured on a basis of performances in past seasons. But last year they were strong enough to tie for the Missouri Valley conference title while losing only to such teams as Illinois, Duquesne, and Southern Methodist. Coach Jimmy Conzelman has nine two-year lettermen on his husky team, headed by Bob Hudgens, far and away the best halfback in the Valley league.

So when we say the Irish stand to lose five, we mean they'll have to battle for the rest. We haven't a doubt in the world that they'll upset the dope in at least one game and possibly two, for that's just Notre Dame tradition. Last year's team was one of the weakest "on paper" teams you ever saw, but that didn't count on the field.

The opener with Tech is likely to prove more crucial than we can realize at this writing. If the Irish can make their mistakes, if the Sophomores can get the jitters, forget everything they've been taught, and still outfight, outplay, and defeat

New 1936 Captain.

1 Tech, you can depend on a thrilling season. Maybe Layden won't be able to substitute as freely as he'd like in this game and the subsequent games with Washington and Wisconsin. Maybe, because of injuries to regulars, less experienced men will have to start cold before capacity crowds against Pitt, Ohio State, Navy, Army, and possibly Northwestern and Southern California.

The present varsity lineup contains eight Seniors and three Juniors. Several, however, just barely made letters last year, only three of them have two letters each, and two others have no monograms at all.

Personnel Prospects

Joe O'Neill, Senior left end, who will probably do the team's kicking, got a letter last year, but Wayne Millner led the team in minutes played—and he was a left end. O'Neill's understudy at present is Lenny Skoglund of Chicago.

Bill Steinkemper, Chicago Senior left tackle, with two monograms, was ranked third last season and saw but little action. His competitors are Denny Emanuel, Junior, who played with the "B" team in 1935, and Joe Beinor, Sophomore.

Captain Johnny Lautar will handle the left guard post. He is another two-year letterman, and the only 1935 regular in the lineup. Under him is Jim (Pepper) Martin, varsity right guard last season.

The switch of Martin to left guard, leaves Joe Kuharich in the number one spot at right guard. He is a Junior (monogram man) from South Bend. Under him is Elmer Zenner, a Senior monogram winner.

Right tackle is taken care of by Art Cronin and Frank Kopczak, both Seniors and monogram winners last year. They saw lots of action.

Right end is in the hands of Joe Zwiers, Junior, who won a monogram under Marty Peters last season.

Backfield Replacements

Quarterback is wide open, with no monogram men available. Andy Puplis, a Junior, has the inside track. Bill Bruno and Chuck O'Reilly are on his heels, the former a Senior, the latter a Junior. Joe Ruetz, star left guard of the shock troop cast, is trying to learn to play the position, having started September 10.

Bob Wilke, last year's third left half back and a monogram Senior, is holding forth in this all-important position. Under him are two inexperienced Juniors, Jack McCarthy and Bill Horan.

Vic Wojcihowski, shock troop monogram right halfback last year and now a Senior, is understudied by Joe Gleason, Junior monogram man and Bunny McCormick, a flashy little Junior.

Larry Danbom and Steve Miller, who alternated with the second and third teams last year, under Fred Carideo and Don Elser, are both monogram Seniors, and Layden is not worried about this spot.

More about the Sophomores later—if they produce.

Meanwhile J. Arthur Haley is wearing a worried smile. The Army game is sold out at this end, with Army's half of the tickets to Yankee stadium going fast. By the time you read this, the Ohio State game will probably be sold out.

The demand for Northwestern and Carnegie Tech pasteboards is unprecedented for home games. The season ticket sale doubled last year's. The enrollment is larger and that will pad the home crowds.

Pitt, Navy and Southern California are writing enthusiastic letters to Mr. Haley, so he's very happy, very weary, and very worried about where all those 50-yard line seats have disappeared to already. Please don't undergraduates were trained as announcers, monitors and directors. At present the students have complete charge of all programs with faculty advisers and the WSBT-WFAM staff acting only in a supervisory capacity.

If operation of the WSBT-WFAM studio at Notre Dame has proved of great educational value to undergraduates it likewise has been appraised of considerable benefit to the many thousands of persons within a 75-mile radius who have enjoyed the programs.

In a sense the project is serving as an extension school for countless listeners through educational features which make up part of the program. Faculty members regularly present papers on literature and the arts, history, and scientific subjects. Some idea of the scope of the work may be gleaned from the titles of 10 new programs which were begun last February when the campus studio activity was enlarged. The titles are "The Readers' Spotlight," "Headline Personalities," "Music Appreciation," "The Speech We Use," "Stories of the Classics," "You're the Defendant," "The Athlete," "Stories of Great Lives," "Hoosier History," and "Science at Work."

Before last February the studio programs were on the air in seven weekly 15-minute periods. With the addition of these 10 features the time now has been extended to 17 weekly programs, representing an important portion of the total broadcast time allotted to WSBT and WFAM.

The radio station is of interest to alumni especially because of the contacts with the University made possible for alumni living in the South Bend Tribune territory. This is true also of St. Mary's college alumni of the territory since a weekly program is presented from the campus studio each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock under auspices of St. Mary's college, with her students participating.

JOBS

There is an indication of increasing employment opportunities.

Ex-President Bernard J. Voll promoted this activity of the Association, and Arthur J. Hughes, present president, is anxious to preserve the progress made.

To this end, will all Notre Dame men desiring employment or change of employment for professional advancement send in to the Alumni Office the following data:

Name, home address and telephone number, degree from Notre Dame or other educational qualifications, statement briefly of experience to date, type of job desired, location preferred, and any specific data that might affect employment.

Several openings for registered druggists were reported in the Summer just past. Those qualified and interested should write to the Alumni Office.

A large communication company is interested in having the records of several recent graduates with a view to employing them in sales work. The Alumni Office will be glad to furnish more detailed information to those interested. Commerce and A.B. graduates preferred in this case.

Recent graduates in the South Bend area are offered opportunities in the business machine field. Information in the Alumni Office.

Brownson: Brother Justin, C.S.C., rector; Brother Severin, C.S.C., Brother Pius, C.S.C., and Brother Berchmans, C.S.C., prefects.

Father James Trahey, C.S.C., has been appointed as an additional assistant to Father Francis Boland, C.S.C., prefect of discipline. Robert McAuliffe is the other assistant. Father Boland is head of the Department of Politics, in addition to his duties in the office of discipline.

TABB MONUMENT COMPLETED

Work has been completed on a monument to the memory of the Rev. John Banister Tabb, soldier-priest poet of the Civil War, at his birthplace in Amelia county, Virginia.

The project was under supervision of "The Forest" Memorial association, organized by members of the Notre Dame faculty, and construction of the monument was directed by Professor Francis W. Kervick, head of the University's Department of Architecture.

Land for the monument was donated by Ephraim Anderson, who now holds title to the one-time Tabb estate, and it is being landscaped by the Amelia County Garden society.

The esteem in which Father Tabb is still held, almost 30 years after his death, is proof of the high place he occupied in the world of poetry. The memorial association was formed in April of this year and the monument erected through the subscriptions of friends in all sections of the country. Dr. John M. Cooney, head of the Department of Journalism and a former pupil of Father Tabb, is president of the association to perpetuate his memory.

ask him for any because he doesn't know where they are!

Bill Cerney is driving his "B" team in preparation of a stiff four-game schedule. The opener, September 27, brought his boys into action against Ed Hunsinger's Niagara University varsity at Niagara Falls. The Irish won, 25 to 12, last year. The rest of the schedule consists of games with "B" teams of the following schools:

Oct. 17—Illinois at Champaign
Nov. 7—Purdue at Notre Dame
Nov. 14—Illinois at Notre Dame

Eugene O'Toole, '20, 321-325 State St., St. Joseph, President; Frank A. Deitle, '26, Napier Ave., Benton Harbor, Secretary.

Desmond Fitzgerald and Shane Leslie, members of the Summer School faculty in the University, were the guests and chief speakers at the club dinner at Higman Park Villa on Lake Michigan on July 9. Both of them offered high tribute to Notre Dame and to Notre Dame's mission in education.

Also present from the University faculty as special guests were Father Norbert Hoff and Professors William Roemer, Earl Langwell, Louis Buckley, Norbert Engels, Maurice Pettit, Robert Riordan, J. Mel O'Rourke and George Donovan. The last named two were special members of the Summer School staff. Other guests included Father J. Francis Murphy of Watervliet, Michigan, W. Worth Bean, Jr., Frank Hildebrand, Nicholas Lahr, and Doctor McDermott, of the Twin Cities, and Mayor John Ames, of Niles.

At the invitation of Father Murphy the club had a dinner-meeting for the election of officers in St. Joseph's Church, Watervliet on July 24. Gene O'Toole, St. Joseph, was elected president to succeed Professor Bill Downey; Tommy Grimes, Niles, to succeed Gene O'Toole as vice-president; Bill Desenberg, Buchanan, to succeed Allen Johnson, Niles, as treasurer; and Frank Deitle, Benton Harbor, to succeed Malcolm Hatfield, St. Joseph, as secretary.

Guests at the gathering included Father Murphy, Father George P. Horkan, of Niles, Marshall Grathwohl, Niles, and Harvey Holbrook and J. J. Miller, of Benton Harbor.

Following the suggestions made at our last meeting in Watervliet, the Program Committee has worked out a tentative schedule of activities for the club year.

Keeping in mind that the meetings should not be too frequent so as to become burdensome, and yet should be often enough to keep up the interest of the club, the committee submits the following for consideration:

October 6—stag dinner at Quin Waters' farm between Niles and Buchanan; November—Fall Dance at Four Flags Hotel in Niles; December—Regular meeting, probably preceded by a supper or a fish fry; January—Dinner Dance; February—Regular meeting; March, April, May—Universal Notre Dame Night and Spring Dance.

The details for the various meetings will be worked out as the time approaches.

Billed as "Positively the Last Bargain of This Here Depression," the Farewell Stag Party, honoring the returning campus men, was planned by the Buffalo Club for September 8 in Jimmy Doyle's.

The club is arranging an excursion to the campus for the Ohio State game, leaving Friday morning, October 30, arriving in South Bend Friday evening and, on the return trip, leaving South Bend Sunday noon and reaching Buffalo at 10:50 Sunday night. All the excursionists will thus have the benefit of a full week-end on the campus. And the rates are astonishingly low.

Notices reaching the ALUMNUS indicate that the Clevelanders took enough time out from their big Exposition to have at least two parties in the past Summer. One was the annual golf tournament on July 23 at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club. This was in the nature of a farewell to Harry Miller of the Notre Dame Millers, who was moving to Wilmington, Delaware to be in the duPont headquarters. Dinner and the awarding of prizes followed the full day of golf.

The following took reservations for the golf party: Larry Kral, Bill Van Rooy, Don Miller, Pat Canny, Gay Haas and Joe Gavin.

The second Cleveland party was held at Leisy's on August 19. There was also food for those that wanted it. This gathering was a farewell for Paul Castner, vice-president of the club, who was returning to South Bend to work. Louie Stetler was the chairman in charge and Bill Butler, Jim Callahan, Jim Devitt, Dick Mahoney and Bill Van Rooy were on the committee with Louie.

DETROIT

John J. Norton, '24, 1025 Forest Ave., President; Edward R. McMahon, ex. '30, 2291 LaMotte Ave., Secretary.

Notre Dame alumni and the auto industry are both booming in Detroit, with odds on the Club for permanent progress.

August 23, a Communion Sunday for alumni, undergraduates, and prospective students, was held in the beautiful St. Aloysius Church in downtown Detroit. Through the courtesy of Monsignor Doyle, Chancellor of the diocese and pastor of the church, Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., '16, vice-president of the University, celebrated the Mass.

A breakfast followed at the Fort Shelby Hotel, at which Father O'Donnell and James E. Armstrong, alumni secretary, were guests of the club.

Featuring the meeting were plans for a series of lectures in Detroit throughout the coming winter, under the auspices of the club, presenting as lecturers regular and visiting members of the faculty of the University. Alfred C. Ryan, '20, former alumni secretary, was appointed chairman of this project.

Edward Crowe, '16, was chairman of the Communion breakfast. More than 50 attended the event, which, considering the vacation period, was a fine representation. A similar event for alumni only is planned for the coming months, when the undergraduates are on the campus.

The Indianapolis Club, with Chief Steerer Charlie Mason at the helm, has its annual golf party on August 11. Reports brought in since then by trustworthy scouts indicate that the event was a large success—as usual. One of the chief prizes—or maybe the chief prize—was a dues-paid card in the Alumni Association for 1936-37, presented by Leroy Keach. (Look closely, ladies and gentlemen, and watch the Editors show anger.)

Prexy Mason reported on a recent visit to the campus that the club was planning a dance for a Friday night in October in the Columbia Club. Seems as how the date was to be October 9, but be sure to check on that.

KENTUCKY

Raymond Pfeiffer, '32, 3032 Lexington Rd.,

Jr., ex. '32, 2114 W. Market St., Louisville, Secretary.

August 12, 1936.

Sixty-one members attended a special meeting July 20 in the Brown Hotel. Everyone, in an enthusiastic mood, showed an interest and were happy that the club is being revived. We voted to change the name of the Club to the "Notre Dame Club of Greater Louisville."

For the future we plan an excursion to the Ohio State-ND game; stag party in the Fall; Christmas dance; and a February Ball.

After adjournment refreshments were served.

John B. Ratterman, Jr.

The newly christened "Notre Dame Club of Greater Louisville" has made its debut and the parents are very proud. Most important of all it is doing better than nicely, as many a wet nurse would say. Since its birth, July 20, 1936, after Ray Pfeiffer, '32, was picked to be the father, progress has been the by-word. Although Ray has only one kid to look after he is busier than Papa Dionne himself.

In strict seriousness, Jim, you can tell the other clubs to "watch Louisville." Enthusiasm breeds more enthusiasm, they say, so if this is true there's no telling where we will stop.

Two large meetings have already been held in the Brown Hotel Derby Room where the attendance each time was in excess of 60.

Unlike many other clubs we never have any trouble about the "dues" question. This, you see, is because we don't have any dues. Until the club makes a revenue from some of its future activities a generous friend has provided a working capital. We have never had to use it.

The real big item of the moment is the Football Special to the Ohio State game. Inquiries for the tickets are heavy and we expect to be soon sold out. Arrangements with the railroad company are completed. We leave Louisville Friday night, October 30, for South Bend, and return Sunday following at 1:00 p.m. While in South Bend we have the privilege of using the Pullmans instead of going to a hotel.

During the Fall season we plan to promote a stag party and a Christmas dance. Later in February when N.D. plays Kentucky State in basketball in Louisville there will be a huge Ball for the public after the game.

Consideration is also being given to the possibilities of a concert in Louisville by the Notre Dame Glee Club when they tour this part of the south.

Rather than make this an endless message I'm . . . Knock! Knock! Who's there? . . . Atwell . . . Atwell be all today—so I'm sending this off today together with my check for Alumni dues.

LOS ANGELES

Eugene M. Kennedy, '22, Bank of America,
7th & Spring St., President; Douglas Daley,
'30, 781 Ceres Ave., Secretary.

You may have received the information which I am about to give you from Doug Daley, but since he hasn't mentioned it to me and I haven't talked to him for several months and since Fall is upon us and I am leaving Saturday for a two weeks vacation, I thought I had better write you myself—something I should have done five or six months ago.

At Universal Notre Dame night last Spring the following named fellows were elected as officers of our local club for the current fiscal year:

President—Eugene M. Kennedy, '22; Vice-President—Judge Thomas J. McKeon, '90; Secretary—Douglas Daley, '30; Treasurer—Edward Cunningham, '28.

I am sorry to say that the club has been inactive since Universal Notre Dame Night.

The following are the only news item that occur to me at the moment:

A son was born on June 3 to my brother Larry and his wife—named Terence Patrick.

A daughter was born a week or so ago to Judge A. A. Scott and his wife.

Father Gene Burke and Father Hope from the University stopped here between trains on September 9 but I missed seeing them, for which I am very sorry; it being a bank holiday, Leo Ward tried to get me at home but I did not arrive home until too late.

Franklyn E. Miller, of the law class of 1922, is now associated with me in the Trust Department of our bank. In this connection it might also be of interest to some of the older boys to know that Steve Gavin, son of Stephen A. Gavin, an old student of the class of '06, who was elected to the Alumni Association in 1925, is employed in the Trust Department of our bank, which, in case you don't know—is Bank of America, the fourth largest bank in the United States. (not an adv.)

I am planning on going North on my vacation and may stop off to see some of the old gang, such as Buck Shaw at Santa Clara, Gene Murphy of Portland, E. Morris Starrett at Port Townsend, Washington, Jimmy Phelan at the University of Washington at Seattle, and Eddie Cochran, at Seattle. Time may not permit looking up all of these boys but I shall report to you on my return. I am driving to San Francisco, will put my car aboard and sail from there to Vancouver and after driving around the Northwest, will drive home along the coast.

Gene Kennedy.

July 31, 1936

I have promised you for sometime a letter covering the planned activities for the Notre Dame Club for the coming year.

We expect to have a club newspaper this year to come out four times. In succeeding years we expect to make it a monthly affair. I will send you a copy when it first comes out, at the end of this month or the first of September.

The meetings are going to be snappy affairs and we intend to have a speaker or an added attraction at each meeting. We are going to have door prizes consisting of a ticket to a dance or some other function at each meeting.

We are going to write a letter to each parish in our diocese and offer to have speakers come from the Notre Dame Alumni Association to speak before any of their parish organizations on the subject of Notre Dame religious life and any kindred topic. We hope, in this way to extend the Notre Dame name before an even larger number of people than before. We intend to speak at high schools if the occasion presents itself.

To our already large number of activities we are going to add a Communion Breakfast, similar to that held by the Metropolitan Club on, or near, the anniversary of Rockne's death.

We expect to make enough money to pay off our box seat final payment and establish firmly a real scholarship fund.

The freshman welcome which we are to have at our first affair will, we think, be one of the best ever held, as the committee is working hard and our plans are moving forward very rapidly.

We intend writing special welcome letters to the new alumni just entering our organization so that they will feel at home when they come out to our first and succeeding meets.

We are going to revise our mailing list considerably to make each Notre Dame man in our territory a real Notre Dame alumnus and a member of the New Jersey Club.

We intend employing the aid of a publicity director so that none of our activities go unheralded.

Here's hoping that the above plans sound good to you and thanking you for whatever help you will give us the coming year, I am,

Ray Geiger.

The official publication of the New Jersey Club made its first appearance in early September, as Ray indicated in his letter. A five-page mimeographed organ, the paper is a corking good job which is bound to aid immensely in the further building-up of an already top-notch club. The featured stories on Page 1 concern the combined retreat of the Jersey boys and the New York club at Morristown, New Jersey on September 11-14 and the Freshman Welcome Party at the Essex House, Newark, on September 9. Sal Bontempo Newark, and Dan O'Neill, East Orange, were in charge of the Retreat arrangements, and Tommy Farrell and John McGrath were in charge of the Freshman party as co-chairman, together with Francis Joseph, Charles Krancke, James Fagan, James Donnelly, John Driscoll, James Costello and Julius Rocca of the alumni, and Francis Reilly, Joseph Moore, Joseph Quinn and Bill Sharpe of the present New Jersey students.

Officially, this is supposed to be a secretary's version on current events in the New Jersey Club.

More power to Ray Geiger—he makes life easy for a secretary who wants to take life easy. All I really need to do is give the attendance figures for September. So long as you agree here are those figures with the least numbers of side comments: FRESHMAN WELCOME PARTY

Speakers: Father Boland, Joe Byrne, Bob Phelan, Tom Farrell, Ray Geiger, and Joe Quinn (Campus Club Pres.)

Attendance: 30 Freshmen, 120 students, alumni, and fathers of Freshmen.

Comment: Largest and most successful F W P.

TENTH ANNUAL RETREAT

Attendance: 56.

Comment: Largest Retreat thanks mainly to the New York Club under the leadership of Bill Daunt and Hugh O'Donnell, co-promoters.

This secretary's report is completed. My next letter to you will contain news on Dan O'Neill, Traynor, Larry Keefe, and I are scheduled to go to New London for a visit next week-end.

Dan O'Neill.

NEW YORK CITY

J. Norbert Gelson, Jr., '26, 1201 Troy Ave., Brooklyn, President; Warren S. Fogel, '30, 70 Wall St., Secretary.

The New York club announced in July the selection of Vincent A. Doyle, 1059 East Second Street, Brooklyn, as the 1936 winner of its four-year scholarship. A graduate of Brooklyn Prep, Vince expected to enter the University in September. W. C. Goodwine, 516 West 162nd Street, a graduate of St. Agnes' High School, Manhattan, was the scholarship committee's second selection.

The selection committee was composed of George MacDonald, Edward V. Killeen, George N. Shuster, Hugh O'Donnell and Charles A. Gorman. Acting very ably as the scholarship committee of the club for the past two years have been Ed Tighe, Jim Dwyer, Dan O'Neill and John Balfe.

Charles Hennessy, Rockville Centre, who received the club scholarship in 1935, completed his first year at the University with an average of 94 per cent.

Joining again with the New Jersey groups the New York club had its annual retreat from September 11 to September 14 in the Loyola House of Retreats, Morristown, New Jersey, under the spiritual direction of Father Herman I. Storck, S.J. On the Retreat Committee for the New York Club were William A. Daunt, chairman; Hugh O'Donnell, Andrew A. Shiebler, Henry R. Frey, Ed Tighe and Doc Gelson. Once again this most laudable effort drew numerous attendants from both states, according to all available reports.

As you may expect, the club is getting back into active work after the usual summer vacation period. September activities began with a luncheon to Arthur Hughes, national alumni president, given by our local president, Doc Gelson, just before Mr. Hughes sailed for Italy and his audience with the Pope concerning the Alumni Association's fight on Communism. Plans were outlined at that time concerning the steps to be taken in this modern day crusade.

Upon Mr. Hughes' return in October, the club will hold a dinner meeting on October 8, with him as the principal speaker. A large attendance is naturally expected since we are to be honored by the visit of the alumni president.

The annual Retreat given by the club in conjunction with the New Jersey club, was held in Morristown, New Jersey, over the week-end of September 11 and turned out to be a spiritual and numerical success. Co-chairmen Bill Daunt and Hugh O'Donnell led some 31 members of the club down to Father Storck's place and proved themselves able shepherds, for a number in an all-time high for New York attendance at a Retreat.

As usual, the club will run its special train to the Navy game at Baltimore on November 7 and hold its annual Army game dinner dance following the game on November 14, the the Hotel Pennsylvania. More details on these events will follow later.

The picnicking Peorians had their second successful outing of the Summer on Sunday, August 30, on the farm of the generous and enthusiastic Dr. C. V. Ward, a loyal Notre Dame rooter. The Managing Editor, being in nearby Kewanee, Illinois for the week-end, was able to join with about 75 club members and guests in enjoying the afternoon—and the food and "stuff" that went with it. A ball game of uncertain proportions and uncertain score finished the day—and the Managing Editor. ("We wuz robbed!")

In charge of the picnic were Bob Rainey, as chairman, and Joe Langton, Bob Ward, Bill Motsett and Vince Rickey. The officers of the club joined with them in welcoming the guests.

PHOENIX, ARIZONA

E. J. Hilkert, '22, 402 Title & Trust Bldg., Phoenix, President.

August 12, 1936

This will be my last official duty as secretary of the Notre Dame Club of Phoenix. We as individuals and as a club have been actively engaged in securing new students to be entered at Notre Dame, and we are happy to announce that at least three boys from Phoenix will enter Notre Dame this Fall.

I would also like to announce to our alumni that E. J. Hilkert, '22, our president, has just recently been appointed to the State Board of Accountancy, an appointment that lasts for the next five years, by the Governor of Arizona.

Sam B. Locken is now connected with Rex Graynor and Company. Representing various lines of electrical appliances, and air conditioning units.

We have recently received a letter from Thomas Julian Malay, '26. Tom is now located at Madera, California, P. O. Box 276.

I was indeed surprised to learn that I was elected district governor of the 19th District, particularly when I shall not be near the district. Can I ask that some other worthy person in the district be appointed to fill the vacancy. I will be temporarily located at 1380 Van Buren Street, Gary, Indiana.

Plans are being made for smokers the night before each of the home games. These activities met with a great response last year. It is hoped that alumni will plan on being in South Bend the Friday nights before the games to attend. Everyone is anxious to hear Elmer Layden's gloomy predictions which are counteracted by the forecasts of visiting coaches and newspaper men who give away all pre-game secrets. The smokers will be held at the Jefferson Plaza (K. of C. Building). Two tickets for the following day's game will be given as the door prize at each smoker. The co-chairmen of the committees for these outstanding events are: October 2, Carnegie Tech Smoker, Dave Campbell, '29, and Giles Cain, '21; October 9, Washington U. Al McCormack, according to W. W., is in the South Bend vicinity. I think he is located in the never-to-be-forgotten village of Mishawaka.

Ted Griffin has been showing the southern tier how to play tennis this summer. Joe Checchia likes the game, too.

Tommy Giordano is now Dr. Thomas Giordano. He received his M.D. from the University of Rome. Last July he was given a fine testimonial dinner at the Arlington hotel. Tom has returned to Italy, where he will study surgery for one year.

Francis J. Toomey comes to Bingo occasionally for week-ends. He is busy doing social work in New York City.

Pat Quirk of Cortland likes our city, too. It's exceptionally nice in the vicinity of St. Paul's parish. Jim and Bill Hogan are back at their teaching. Ed is beginning his junior year at N.D. They lost a very wonderful mother this past August. May her soul rest in peace!

Stew Osborne is still with the gasoline company here. He and Joe Hunt should take a little time out, before next Spring, and give their softball team a little coaching.

Expected a visit from Ted Gabreski this summer but he couldn't make it. He is now beginning his third year at Jefferson Med.

July 18, 1936

George Uhlmeyer, president of the Tri-Cities Notre Dame Club, appointed the writer to report to you the activities of our Club so that they may be set out in the ALUMNUS.

About eight months ago we started the practice of the club meeting for luncheon every third Friday at the Fort Armstrong Hotel in Rock Island, Illinois. No doubt you know that Joe Whalen, '29, is manager of the Fort Armstrong Hotel for the Hoffman Hotels Corporation. Believe you me, Joe is doing a wonderful job with the hotel.

In our monthly luncheon meetings we have had very good attendance, usually anywhere from 12 to 25. At these meetings we just eat and talk about anything and everything so that the getting-together means that the fellows get to see each other more often and a finer spirit of cooperation and activity for the group is created. For this activity we have our president to thank. He has also spurred the club on to other activities.

George Uhlmeyer did such a good job as president that it was unanimously decided by the nominating committee that he should be nominated for a second term, and the group, following the recommendation of the nominating committee, named him as president for second term. Other officers of the club now are Hayes Murphy, vice-president, Elmer Besten, secretary, and the writer, treasurer. Believe it or not we have a little money in the treasury.

Come another issue and with it come a mess of my split infinitives dangling participles and misplaced modifiers. But it seems that nothing can be done, so here they come!

During the past summer I contacted quite a few of the boys in and around Magarrall's Flop—I mean Chop House. This is what I heard and saw:

Add local boy makes good—much better than any of us other local boys: From the Sports Chatterbox column of Jess Carver, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph sport writer: "Personal nomination for Pittsburgh's best dressed lad—Fritz Wilson—He knows exactly what to wear and how to wear it."

Congratulations to you, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie O'Brien. The gang wishes them every future married happiness.

Dr. Bob McDonald is back home from the Children's Hospital, Cincinnati, Ohio. He's a "pediatrist," sir, and is now permanently established here to take care of all local alumni children, and otherwise, he hopes.

Dick O'Toole also carries the same label, but he's still pediatrising in Cleveland. O'Toole wears glasses now, or rather he did until he attended a local wedding while home on vacation. But let him tell you the story.

Don Martin is in the insurance business with his father now after working in Indiana for more than a year. Brother Pinkey had all his upper tusks yanked and in a blindfold test can name the type, ingredients, and brand of any soup on the market.

During the off season Joe Bach has been doubling in brass—or is it gold, Joe?—and selling beer for his pro football boss, Art Rooney.

Ed and Bill Conley are with Firestone up in Johnstown, Pennsylvania. It's nice that the Conley boys are in the jumbo balloon tube business seeing as how there was a pretty big flood there one time.

John Ryan continues one of the consistent alumni hereabouts.

Friday, October 23. Luncheon for Visiting Alumni at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Elbow Bending Party Friday Night, October 23.

Alumni Headquarters, 712 Smithfield Street. Fritz Wilson in Charge.

Distribution of Box Tickets for Games at South Bend to be Made at the Luncheons each Thursday of the Week Preceding each Home Game.

It's said that the newspaper racket gets in the blood of those participating in it but two ex-newsmen who have escaped this are John McMahon and Dick O'Donnell. John quit the Associated Press to take an executive assistant's job at the Mellon Institute. He'll do well, too. Dick O'Donnell quit his reporting job on the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph to go to Harrisburg and take a WPA publicity post.

Vin Sweeney was the father of a baby girl August 30.

Chuck O'Toole hoped it would be a boy in July and it was—but it was a boy in August.

Lee Schneider has called his third papoose, John Francis. Lee howls that Leo Jr. and Bernice were never reported. But now they are! (Now will you name number four Bill, Lee?)

Jim Dodson is a neighbor of Chick Davies, Duquesne University's famous basketball coach and side kick in sport with our own head football coach, Johnny Smith. So don't try to baffle Dodson on any technicalities of the floor sport because he'll probably know the answers—or refer you to Chick.

I came home from the class reunion with Jim Dillon, '35, who is now going to Pitt Law School.

With the graduation of Larry the "Clan O'Toole" has now turned out six Notre Dame graduates. Count 'em: Jim, Chuck, John, Dick, Bill and Larry. An unique record, partner, an unique record. Bob is still in school and he better continue the tradition or, well, six against one is a pretty tough battle royal.

Joe O'Rourke has found a niche for his Sociology Major title. He's now in the office of the state's Mother's Pension Bureau.

"Biceps" (and you should see them) Billy Lord has the kind of smile you wish would be around oftener.

Dick Donahoe is doing well with the transportation division of the A. & P. here.

Jerry Arnold: An Indiana Hoosier who has done well midst the Pennsylvania Dutch strain through the insurance route.

Duke Kingsley is peddling stock on the local mart.

Those who have been swallowed by the good earth: Larry Smith, Carl Link and Charley Spinelli.

Bob Fulton is doubling in dubbloons for a gold refinery here.

Bill Magarrall.

New Clubs Are Formed

Groups Organized in Middle West and New Jersey

Two new Notre Dame clubs were formed within the Summer just past. One was the club which is centered about Evansville, Indiana, and takes in the boys in southwestern Indiana, southeastern Illinois and northwestern Kentucky. The following were elected officers of the new club at the organization in Evansville on August 12: F. Wendell Lensing, president; Harold D. Casey, vice-president; Ralph F. Heger, secretary; and Tom Hartnett, treasurer. Those who reside within the new club's area, and didn't receive word of the first get-together, are asked to make their presence known to the officers at once. Many activities are in prospect.

TRI-STATE

F. Wendell Lensing, '30, 601 Bayard Park, Evansville, Ind., President; Ralph F. Heger, '25, 111 Washington Ave., Dept. D., Evansville, Ind., Secretary.

The second new club was the Notre Dame Club of

CENTRAL NEW JERSEY

Anthony V. Ceres, '28, Perth Amboy Nat'l Bank Bldg., Perth Amboy, President; John Lisicki, '31, 292 Hall Ave., Perth Amboy, Secretary.

made up of the boys who were too far distant from the center of operations of the original New Jersey group. The new club was set up with the co-operation of the fine club now headed by Ray Geiger of Newark and with the assistance of District Governor Kernan Wingerter.

The first officers of the Central New Jersey Club are Anthony V. Ceres, president; Albert G. Waters, Jr., vice-president; James Silver, treasurer, and John Lisicki, secretary.

Hudson, and John W. Cavanaugh Endowment."

One-half of the income from this shall be used for the education of priests of the Order of Holy Cross and the other half for the education of poor deserving boys in the University as selected by it.

In the wills of both Mr. Phillips and Mr. Breen there is evident not only that unselfish but happy perpetuation of the memory of the donors, but their generous determination to immortalize those splendid men whose great contributions to the Church and education are too often lost.

Deaths

(The Summer took heavy toll. Space prevents extensive reports of details of the following deaths. In most instances, achievement has written its own eloquent epitaph in the minds and hearts of fellow alumni.)

Notre Dame lost a brilliant honorary alumnus and former teacher of many of the priests of Holy Cross, and the Church lost one of its great figures, in the death on July 10 of Most Rev. William H. Turner, D.D., LL.D. '26, Bishop of Buffalo. Many alumni studied from his scholarly History of Philosophy. Many of the priests of the Congregation studied in his classes at Catholic University.

Dr. Francis J. Quinlan, Laetare Medalist in 1906, famous authority on eye, ear, nose and throat, died July 27, in Amawalk, N. Y., at the age of 83. For many years he was associated with St. Vincent's Hospital in New York City.

The same day saw the death of Rt. Rev. Msgr. William J. Kerby, LL.D. '12, nationally known sociologist and for 39 years a faculty member of Catholic University, where he taught many of the Notre Dame priests who have reflected much of his scholarship in this field.

The members of the Congregation generally were shocked on July 3 by the drowning of two seminarians at the Holy Cross summer camp, Oakland, Maryland. Alfred J. Schreiber, C.S.C., M.A. '32, and Francis J. Rdzok, C.S.C., A.B. '35, were victims of an accident when the boat in which they were rowing capsized. Funeral services were held in Sacred Heart Church on the University campus.

Two priests of the Holy Cross Order, not graduates of the University, died during the summer. The first was Rev. Moses McGarry, the oldest member of the Congregation. Father McGarry was ordained in Montreal in 1875. For 34 years he was at St. Laurent college, and then became assistant superior general of the Order, retiring from that post in 1926.

The second member of the Congregation to die was Rev. Angus MacDonald. Father MacDonald, 54 years old, was on the mission band of the Congregation for 20 years and was more recently an instructor at St. Edward's University.

Brother Paschal, C.S.C., 84 years old, a Brother of the Congregation since 1907, died June 18.

Frank J. Weisenburger, 78, died in Chicago on June 16. Mr. Weisenburger was graduated from Notre Dame in 1875. He served the first Mass of the late Rev. Daniel Hudson, C.S.C. He was father-in-law of Edward L. Figel, '11.

Gustave A. Schnull, student at Notre Dame in the '80s, prominent wholesale grocer of Indianapolis, died there Monday, June 22.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. James H. Black, Class of 1889, former chancellor of the archdiocese of Portland, Oregon, died there June 4, after a lingering illness of several years. Monsignor Black, while studying for the priesthood, taught at St. Edward's University in Austin, and was ordained at Mt. Angel College, Oregon, in 1893. He had been prominent in the Portland archdiocese for 25 years.

Rev. Joseph J. Boyle, C.S.C., Litt.-B. '08, died Friday, July 3, at the home of relatives in Mason City, Iowa. Father Boyle, who was president of the University of Portland, had been ill for a year. He is known to thousands of alumni and non-alumni for his great work in the Holy Cross mission band from 1912 to 1928, particularly in the Notre Dame Lay Retreat. He was a member of the faculty of the College of St. Thomas until 1933, going to Portland in 1934. Father Boyle was buried from Sacred Heart Church, Notre Dame.

Vern Janowski, a graduate pharmacist of 1912, who received his Ph.C. the following year, was killed in a fall down the stairs of a newly completed store at 1301 W. Washington St., South Bend, June 22. Vern was a World War veteran and a charter member of South Bend Post 50.

W. Ray Cartier, M.E. '13, outstanding leader in Ludington, Michigan, son of the late Warren A. Cartier, '87, died suddenly in Ludington on July 16. Mr. Cartier was secretary-treasurer of the Electric Taper & Equipment Company. He is survived by his mother, his wife, and three children, and two brothers, Vincent and Morgan.

The ALUMNUS has just been informed of the death of Rev. Leo J. Jones, M.M., A.B. '18. Father Jones had just recently returned to China after a visit of almost a year in this country. Details were lacking, but in the troubled conditions of the China missions, some fears are expressed that he had been martyred. His address was Pingnam, Kwangsi, South China.

Louis J. Vennet, '27, son of Frank H. Vennet, '77, was killed in an automobile accident near Ashtabula, Ohio, on June 30. Mr. Vennet was living in Cleveland, where he was an insurance broker. He was buried in South Bend. His car struck an electric locomotive.

Martin J. O'Phelan, M.A. Boy Guidance '29, died July 21 in Port Jervis, New York, as the result of an operation. He was assistant to the executive secretary of the New York Catholic Youth Association.

John T. O'Neill, '30, died in Masena, New York, his home, on July 31, after only a few hours illness caused by peritonitis.

Richard J. McIntyre, B.S. Pharm. '31, was killed in an automobile accident near Decatur, Illinois, on July 7. He had been working in Gary but was in Illinois planning a business change. He had worked in South Bend and Mishawaka pharmacies prior to the early part of this year.

George Thomas Coady, B.S. in E.E. '33, died on July 10 in Charleston, West Virginia, the result of peritonitis following an appendectomy. He was manager of the gas department of the Union Carbide Company, a position just assigned him as a promotion two weeks before his death.

Francis Lavengood, B. Arch., '34, died in South Bend on August 26. He was a popular student, being an organist and pianist of talent, in addition to a pleasing personality and professional skill in his chosen field.

The ALUMNUS extends sincere sympathy to: Bob Rogers, '35, upon the death of his father; William Murphy, ex. '30, upon the death of his father; Erwin J. LeBlanc, '26, upon the death of his father; William Hogan, '32, and James Hogan, '34, upon the death of their mother; Brother Mel, C.S.C., '31, upon the death of his brother, Tom McGannon, burned in the explosion at Purdue University; Joseph F. Gargan, '17, upon the death of his wife.

1911 Secretary: Fred Steers, 1666 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Fred Steers, secretary-treasurer of the Central A.A.U. for the past 11 years, was recently elected to succeed himself in the same posts.

Father Charles Miltner, just returned from a year's study and travel in Europe, addressed the South Bend Rotary Club on September 2 on "Conditions in Europe." His talk was broadcast by WSBT, of South Bend.

Two suggestions adopted at the 25-year re-union last June and presented to Father O'Hara, president of the University, by Pedro de Landero, local chairmn of the re-union, have been carried out. One was that the new residence hall be named Cavanaugh Hall in honor of the late beloved president—and it was so named. The other was that the first Mass in the new hall be said for Brother Leopold, since the hall was being erected on the site of the Brother's famous store. The first Masses in the chapel of Cavanaugh Hall were said by Father O'Hara for Brother Leopold and Father Cavanaugh.

1916 Secretary: Timothy P. Galvin, First Trust Bldg., Hammond, Ind.

Father Vince Mooney, formerly director of Catholic Youth Organization activities in the South Bend deanery, has been transferred by Bishop John F. Noll to hold a similar post in the Fort Wayne deanery.

Lou Kiefer, of Terre Haute, Indiana, with his father toured Europe this Summer. He had an enjoyable visit with Pat Harlan in Paris.

Just too late for the June issue of the ALUMNUS Tim Galvin sent the following piece of welcome news:

Thomas A. Hayes, LL.B. '16, has been serving for more than a year as special agent of the Intelligence Unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. He is attached to the Chicago division and has served both in Milwaukee and in Detroit. While in Milwaukee he contacted Bill Redden, Freeman Fitzgerald and Tom Kelly, all of whom are old friends of the 1912-1916 days at Notre Dame.

Tom Hayes is now stationed in Detroit where his home address is 12040 Kilbourne Avenue. His office is Room 630, Federal Building. Tom attended the recent Universal Notre Dame celebration in Detroit and there met many of his old Notre Dame acquaintances. He has recently contacted John T. (Tim) Callahan, who was a Freshman at Notre Dame about 1914, and who afterwards became a famous All-American center at Yale. Tim is now chief attorney for the Securities and Exchange commission, with headquarters in Washington. Those who remember him and his marvelous agility as a freshman center at Notre Dame will be startled to learn that Tim now weighs 284 pounds.

The proudest boast of Hayes is that his son, Tommy, can beat and other three-year-old in the world singing the "Victory March."

1917 Secretary: Edward J. McOsker, 104 S. Union St., Elgin, Ill.

Appearing in the South Bend News-Times and in other papers is the comic strip, "Rube Appleberry," which is the product of Paul Fogarty and his associate, Al Demaree.

'17 men received with particular acclaim the news that Father Michael Early, C.S.C., had been chosen as president of the University of Portland (formerly Columbia) in July. He will succeed the popular and able Father Joseph Boyle, C.S.C., who died earlier in the same month after a lingering illness. Father Early had been vice-president of Portland in Father Boyle's administration. Previously he had served in Notre Dame and at St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Just before leaving with his family for a vacation at the Texas Centennial celebration and in Mexico Danny Hilgartner wrote that Bernie Voll, Duke Riley and he were already at work on plans for the twentieth reunion of the class next June.

Danny wrote: "Bernie has promised to get out all of the seventeeners in South Bend and on the campus among the faculty and community, and I have guaranteed to bring back all classmates who reside in Chicago—for a starter."

He added: "Young Danny returns to Mount Carmel as a Junior this year . . ." and went on to say that Danny, Jr. is planning to be a freshman in Aeronautical Engineering at Notre Dame two years hence. Time marches on!

Dr. Leo O'Donnell very kindly sent from Pittsburgh in July a letter written on March 11, 1896 by Dr. Jerome Green, famous figure at Notre Dame in the development of wireless telegraphy, to the Pittsburgh Reduction Company. The letter was given to Doctor O'Donnell by one of the staff of the Aluminum Company of America. It concerned a sheet of aluminum, could easily be figured as an important part of Doctor Green's experiments.

One of the sensations of the registration days in mid-September was the receipt of an application for admission to the University in 1952. It came from young—very young—Mr. Leo D. O'Donnell, of Pittsburgh.

1918 Secretary: John A. Lemmer, 1110—8th Ave., S., Escanaba, Mich.

Dan Morrissey, as president of the Laymen's Retreat Movement, was one of the leading figures in the sixth national conference of the Movement held in the Palmer House, Chicago, in June. Joseph Scott of Los Angeles was among the famous figures, both clerical and lay, who addressed the Conference.

1919 Secretary: Clarence Bader, 650 Pierce Street, Gary, Indiana.

Danny Hilgartner, '17, reports that Charles J. McCauley, is now resident manager of One Fifth Avenue, "a very swanky apartment building in New York City."

1920 Secretary: Leo B. Ward, 1012 Black Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

For the fourth consecutive year Al Slaggett has been appointed to the committee on legal ethics and professional conduct of the Detroit Bar Association. He is also again representing the city of Ludington, Michigan, in radio discussions of the 1936-37 Pere Marquette Pageant to be staged in Ludington.

1921 Secretary: Dan W. Duffy, 1600 Terminal Tower, Cleveland, Ohio.

1922 Secretary: Gerald Ashe, Buffalo Athletic Club, Buffalo, New York.

Aaron Huguenard is one the newly-elected members of the board of managers of the Indiana state bar association.

1923 Secretary: Paul Castner, Edwards Homemobile Co., South Bend, Ind.

1924 Secretary: J. F. Hayes, Wm. F. Pedrick & Co., Emp. State Bldg., N.Y.C.

1925 Secretary: John W. Scallan, 79 E. Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

E. Bradley Bailey has joined the Benjamin Eshleman Company, Philadelphia advertising agency, in charge of the bureau of consumer-sales development. He had been with the F. Wallis Armstrong Company, Philadelphia and previously had spent several years in large chain-store management.

Russ Arndt is starting another season as the popular and able coach of the Mishawaka High School team. Just recently he was the speaker before the Lions Club in Mishawaka.

Readers of the American Magazine were pleased to note in the September issue the story, "Blocking Back," by Harry Stuhldreher, new coach at the University of Wisconsin. Harry's boys will meet Elmer's lads in the local arena on October 17.

The news of Joe Toolen's marriage to Miss Mary McGill, of LaPorte, Indiana, early last February came through on the underground not long ago. Howie Spencer was the best man. The Toolens are at home in Anderson, Indiana, according to the latest available reports.

Bill Voor has recently been elected grand knight of South Bend Council, Knights of Columbus. Eli Abraham, new district deputy of the K. of C., assisted with Bill's installation, and Paul Butler, in behalf of the attorneys affiliated with the council, presented Bill with a gavel. At the same meeting Ed Doran offered congratulations to Father Wendell Corcoran, C.S.C., upon the latter's appointment as state chaplain of the K. of C.

Walt Houppert is now state counsel of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, with headquarters in Indianapolis. He had been assistant regional counsel for the same corporation in Detroit.

1926 Secretary: Dr. Gerald W. Hayes, 86 Hawthorne Ave., East Orange, N.J.

Charlie Mason, president of the Indianapolis Notre Dame club, spent several days at the University in September supervising the installation of the telephone equipment in the new Cavanaugh Hall. He reported that Tom Sheridan, another '26 engineer, is also doing telephone work. Tom is with the telephone company in Brooklyn but fights his way out of the town to get back to New Jersey for the week-ends.

Still another '26er and another Jerseyite has been in Brooklyn. Ed Hargan has been attending the Brooklyn Law School, but is finished there and will take the New York bar exam this month, according to our New Jersey scout.

Joe Quinlan is another '26 man in the telephone business. Joe has just been promoted to be superintendent of the plant department in the South Bend district of the Indiana Bell. He is living in South Bend, of course, and is mighty happy to be back in the old stamping grounds after an absence of 10 years. Joe had been outstate division transmission engineer for the company since 1929, with headquarters in Indianapolis.

1927 Secretary: Edmund DeClerq, 8118 Ellis Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The Harvard Alumni Bulletin reported in June that 15 men, including six members of the police departments and five traffic experts from various parts of the United States and Canada would receive fellowships of $1,200 each for study during 1936-37 at the Harvard Bureau for Street Traffic Research. One of the 15 was Edward E. Kirwan, Louisville, Kentucky, senior engineer in charge of streets in Louisville. Congratulations to Ed!

On a vacation trip this Summer the Managing Editor met Bob Stephan on the boat from Washington, D. C. to Norfolk, Virginia. Bob is with the United States Gypsum Company. He is district credit manager, with offices in 30 Rockefeller Plaza, having been promoted recently from the Chicago offices of the same company.

Al Doyle, head of the Speech Department in the University, has been reappointed Democratic city chairman of Mishawaka by County Chairman Ed Doran.

Phil Doell has just been moved to Cleveland by General Electric. He says: "Since 1929 I've been located with the GE at the Pittsfield (Mass.) Works. I've just been sent out on the road as a technical representative handling Glyptal resins. I'm making my headquarters here in Cleveland but will be doing considerable traveling throughout Ohio and down into Kentucky and Tennessee. Brumleve and Rauber are in the office here, so I'll have pretty close contact with the Cleveland club." Phil's home address is 2192 McKinley Avenue, Lakewood.

1928 Secretary: Louis Buckley, 718 E. Corby St., South Bend, Ind.

Ed Duffy, in a letter from Essex Fells, New Jersey, reports that he sometimes sees Adrian Lopez, 203 Orange Road, Montclair, New Jersey; Jay Curtis, ex. '29, 3 Woodside Avenue, Cedar Grove, New Jersey; and Leo Hughes, ex. '29, 44 Clinton Avenue, Glen Ridge, New Jersey.

Tom Mahon has been promoted by Thompson & McKinnon and moved from Duluth to 131 Endicott Building, St. Paul. He writes:

Am staying at the K. of C. Club for the time being. Am rooming with Clem Powers, and D. D. Daly rooms next to us. Sort of a Notre Dame corner. See Ed Fahey occasionally and John not quite so often. Bumped into Gil Salmon at the club the other day. He is with Minnesota Mining & Mfg. Co. Louie Buckley was in town for a day or so last week. He was up in my room and between Louie, Powers and myself we had a great session.

Bob Hamilton was married to a good little Norwegian named Kathleen Marion Mulqueen last Saturday at St. Mary's Church of the Presentation, Jamaica, Long Island last Saturday. Outside of that I have little or no dope on the ex-N.D.'ers. Ray Mock is around town somewhere but I haven't run across him yet. Expect to see Danny Coughlin down at Waseca shortly. As soon as it gets cooler I will start calling on the small towns within a radius of 100 to 125 miles of the Twin Cities, calling on the banks and certain individuals and, no doubt, will bump into some of the alumni from time to time.

Jack Mullen has moved again—this time to the other end of the continent. He's still with the Benton and Bowles advertising agency but is in Los Angeles producing the radio show known as the Goose Creek Parson. His address is 8316 West Fourth Street, Los Angeles.

Joe Kinneary has opened law offices in 605 Traction Building, Cincinnati.

1929 Secretary: Joseph P. McNamara, 231 Wisconsin Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Carl Compton has been appointed as a teacher of art in Central Junior High School in South Bend. Following his A.B. from Notre Dame in 1929, Carl received his B.F.A. from the Art Institute in Chicago in 1934 and also studied art in Paris.

In unison with the local press we say that "tops in vacation honors, for the most interesting trip, perhaps, of any enjoyed by local travelers, goes to Francis Jones, son of Vitus G. Jones." Only we'd leave the "perhaps" out. The brilliant South Bend controversialist left the first of June for a world tour and expected to be back in time for the first football game. He was to see China, Japan, the Philippine Islands, India, Ethiopia, just to name a few choice spots, and return by way of Europe, as we recall it. One of his reports to the stay-at-homes revealed that "Peiping is a real Chinese city." And also "Mr. Jones made a trip to the famous Chinese wall."

John Donahue writes:

When I wrote you this last Spring I was finishing my third year of teaching at the West Allis Vocational School. But I'm back into the engineering field and located with the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. Our district office is in the Waldheim Bldg., Kansas City.

Fred Weiss, B.S.E.E., 1929, is temporarily stationed at Deepwater, Missouri, as resident engineer for the firm of E. T. Archer & Co., consulting engineers of this city. I met Fred and his fiancée at Mass last Sunday, after which we had a long talk and exchanged bits of information on all our friends at the University.

Henry Massman, Jr., B.S.C.E., 1928, of the Massman Construction Co. of this city, is at this writing enjoying a vacation in California. He'll have plenty of work to do when he returns, however, as his firm has been successful in securing several large government dam projects. One in particular is the two million dollar contract for a dam near Hannibal, Missouri.

On a recent trip, I stopped to see Moon Mullins in Atchison, Kansas, but, as he was out playing golf and my time was limited, I left my regards.

I was in Madison, Wisconsin this summer and saw Red Tom Hearden who was attending the summer session at the university. He's been very successful in his coaching at Racine, but has accepted an offer and will be in Green Bay this Fall. Bert Dunne, '26, of the Campbell-Ewald Advertising Agency, telephoned my home in Milwaukee on a recent trip through Chicago. Of course, I was here at the time and was certainly sorry to have missed him, but he's promised to see me on one of his frequent trips through Kansas City.

1930 Secretary: Bernard W. Conroy, 1109 Kenneth St., New Kensington, Pa.

John W. Gibbons, '30, former South Bend newspaper man, is now executive secretary of the South Bend Civic Safety Council.

Dr. Ralph V. August has opened an office for the practice of medicine at 125 East Broadway, Muskegon, Michigan. He is residing in the Strand Apartments, Muskegon Heights.

Gus Bondi, assistant manager of the South Bend district of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, has been promoted to the post of agency sales instructor for the states of Indiana and Ohio.

The Chicago press reports that Jack Elder took on a couple of his C.Y.O. boys in a 100-yard dash a while back—and beat them. "I won, but I could hear them coming," said Jack. The report that it took Jack two hours to recover hasn't been verified.

1931 Secretary: John Bergan, 828 E. Colfax Ave., South Bend, Ind.

Spike McAdams, "Chicago's youngest boxing referee," has just received his doctor's degree in law at Kent College.

Dr. William V. Gadek's address is the Margaret Hague Maternity Hospital, Clifton Place, Jersey City, New Jersey.

Art Kane is now handling advertising for the Southwestern Gas and Electric Company, with headquarters in Shreveport, Louisiana, after leaving Sear Roebuck. Art says:

"See Freddy Carmody every now and then down here in these parts. He is working for the United Gas Company now. Bumped into Dick Nowery the other day, too. He tells me that he is doing a little drilling for oil in Vivian, La. Incidentally, Dick is the proud papa of what is apparently a future N.D. fullback.

Joe Schroeder, of Minneapolis, has been named secretary and director of public relations for the Minnesota

Petroleum Industries. In his new job he will travel throughout the state and will undoubtedly be in touch with many N.D. men.

Father Bourke Motsett and Ralph Dalton couldn't make the class reunion last June, so they made a few re-unions of their own. Jim Doyle collected a crowd in Chicago to have a dinner at the Lake Shore Athletic Club. Present, besides Jim, were Don O'Toole, Paul O'Toole, Vince Ponc, Jerry Desmond, Frank Holland, Ben Oakes, Bill Leahy, Gil Seaman, Nick Bohling, Bill Redmond, Bob Pendergast and Eddie Ryan.

From Chicago the re-unioning duo went to Grand Rapids for a visit with Joe Boyland and John Pulte. They reported that both the Grand Rapids are doing well; Joe has a particular interest in a large hospital, besides his insurance business.

In Rochester, Michigan, the cleric and laymen had dinner in Walt DeBaene's home and enjoyed a pleasant evening with Walt, Bob Neydon, Russ Beaupre, De Baene and Mac Trombley.

On the return trip the travelers stopped on the campus and met lots of the "natives" here.

1932 Secretary: Herbert Giorgio, 9005 188th St., Hollis, L.I., New York.

Cletus "Jack" Lynn is engaged with Clarence Saunders in promoting a new store project. He's residing at 16 South Idlewild, Memphis.

Proudly we point to the fact that our Joe Petritz, sports editor of the ALUMNUS and athletic publicity director of the University, was elected vice-president of the American College Publicity Association at the Association's annual meeting in Boston this Summer. His election moved one sports editor to remark in print that the Association had done well to honor the man who, even in handling the toughest job of its kind in the country, is pre-eminent in ability and efficiency. The editors of the ALUMNUS, concur, second the motion and otherwise are in accord with them sentiments.

Father Vince Brennan, recently ordained for the Pittsburgh diocese, was one of the attendants at the annual Boy Leadership course conducted on the campus by the Knights of Columbus this Summer.

Dr. Jacob Rosewasser has opened his offices for the practice of medicine at 602 North Main Street in Mishawaka after finishing his internship at the Indiana University hospital.

A letter in the middle of August from Regis Kuhn said that he expected to start football practice at Central High School in Wheeling, West Virginia, on August 25. He was looking ahead to a 10-game schedule and plenty of tough competition for his team, as well as to seeing the Pitt-N.D. game in Pittsburgh on October 24 and to attending the five-year reunion of the '32 class next June.

Colman O'Shaughnessy to John Kiener. to Joe Petritz to the ALUMNUS! By that triple play the editors have a recent letter written by Colman, advertising manager of the Equitable Paper Bag Co., Brooklyn, New York, to John, of the Kiener Coal Company, Cleveland, and forwarded by John to ye Petritz, who switched it to the Alumni Office. Colman wants John to use paper bags for his coal.

1933 Secretary: Donald Wise, 110 Pleasant St., Joliet, Ill.

Jack Finneran wrote as follows on June 24:

Would you be kind enough to change my address to 2121 Cedar Ave., Bronx, N. Y. The change being due to a recent matrimonial venture on April 18 to Miss Marguerite Brennan at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Johnny Baldwin came in from Chicago to make sure that I had the very best available best man. For a while I thought that the fair colleens of N. Y. would not allow him to leave the city a bachelor, but he battled his way through the mass of damsels in Grand Central station.

Maurice Mulville, '33, came down for the wedding—in another year he'll have his coveted M.D. from Tufts Medical.

George Rohrs is still startling the financial district with his calling of every twin in a rather dull market.

Frank "Gunner" McGee is kept busy examining divers bank statements but manages to get up to the Yankee Stadium on Saturday afternoon. He is Billy Sullivan's most ardent rooter for the American League batting championship.

Chet Hoyt recently graduated from Fordham Law and is all set to take the N. Y. Bar in full stride.

I met Ed Sargus outside at Minsky's the other midnight but he claimed he was watching the revolving news items on the N. Y. Times building.

I hear from Don Wise quite frequently and he still is the tops for writing a letter that has more laughs than two dozen of our so-called comics. The Joliet appers ought to syndicate the young barrister's satirical philosophy—they'd make a fortune.

Neill "Soapy" Ebert visited me during February for a few days. He looked better than ever. After seeing a few pictures of his boy, Danny, he has just reason for being a proud pop. He promised to be back soon.

Johnny Baldwin was telling me that Charley Preston from Alaska has been having considerable trouble with an infected foot that kept him inactive for over a year. Let's hope it is all cleared up.

How about some of that class of '33 breaking down and letting us know what they're doing. Vejar ought to come in with a report from coast. Ted Feldman should account for Breen and Gargaro, besides himself. Roy McGovern has kept himself quite a stranger these past few years. Tighe Woods ought to favor us with some of his journalistic ability. I'd like to know Mark Donovan's whereabouts so that I could write to him. Ed Leroux and Marion Blake ought to report for the southwest. Jack O'Shaughnessy should cover Chicago in his expert fashion.

As for yours truly I am working as a trader for C. J. Devine & Co., specialists in U. S. government securities.

Richard Grimm, C.S.C. (B.S. E.E., '33), assisted by a group of other seminarians from Holy Cross College, Washington, D. C., on July 23 saved Eugene S. Leggett, 10 years old, from drowning in Deep Creek Lake, near Deer Park, Maryland, where the seminarians have a summer camp. Young Mr. Leggett, son of Eugene S. Leggett, of the National Emergency Council, and two companions were out on the lake in a sailboat when a storm blew up. Seeing the sailboat overturn, the seminarians put out in their own boat and Dick dove into the water to save young Leggett. The other boys were rescued without difficulty.

After receiving his Ph.D. at Notre Dame this year, Tom Dorris is teaching chemistry at Manhattan College in New York City.

1934 Secretary: James Moscow, 2320 N. Lawndale Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Paul Manoski, who is on the staff of Our Sunday Visitor in Huntington, Indiana, was on the campus for the K. of C. Boy Leadership course in the past Summer.

Hugh Fitzgerald, of Brooklyn, is taking an active part in the organization and operation of the First Voters League, "a non-partisan organization of young people who will vote for the first time this Fall." It is planned to make the organization national in scope.

Writing in regarding his alumnus, Bill McCormick said that he had recently taken over the job of national advertising manager of the Syracuse Herald in Syracuse, New York. He had been in Utica, New York.

Ed Vyzral and his partner, Paul Dolenak, have recently opened new law offices in Chicago,—at 2002 West 51st Street.

Howard Flannery, according to his letter of July 2, has charge of the Ocean Beach office of the Long Island Lighting Company. Howard reported that his old roommate, Maurice Rigante, is running Maurie's mother's grocery store in Plainfield, New Jersey and that Frank Honerkamp is busy in his father's ply-wood business.

Dave Feferman is acting educational adviser at Camp Los Prietos, a C.C.C. camp near Santa Barbara, California. Dave expects to have the camp's football team competing this Fall against the team from the East Side Social Center in Santa Barbara, which is in charge of Frank Cane, a boy guidance graduate of Notre Dame.

Our Eastern office reports that Charlie Quinn is running his own oil business at 86 Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, Long Island, New York, and doing well. (See "Engagements" in this issue.) He resides at 187 Harrison Avenue, Mineola.

Andy Janis, according to recent word, is in the accounting division of the Philco Radio & Television Corporation in Detroit and is attending the University of Detroit night school.

1935 Secretary: F. C. Hochreiter, Box 81, Notre Dame, Indiana.

The Hoch crashes through for the 1936-37 year. As a starter he says:

Yep, we're back at the center of activity again, right on the campus. Our "big town" sojourn proved enlightening and gala, but, the charm of the Mid-West was too great. And, really, 'it's great to be back."

During the summer months we worked in the office of a milling concern in Buffalo. Our noon hours were often occupied with class correspondence, and, as a result our desk was finally cleared of all dilatory answers. We are ready to start the year with a bang.

As we write our things are not entirely unpacked, but, we recall but two letters throughout the hot days. One was from John Higgins. He was considering discontinuing his work at Dickenson and transferring to either Georgetown or some other Dixie institution.

Cliff (J. C.) Dudley finally broke down and wrote us just before our trip West. Cliff says that Dudley Dairy of Paducah is progressing, notwithstanding the treachery of the recent drought. He further informed us that Gene Witchger had spent some time with him during the summer.

At the moment we are living off-campus with Tom Proctor. The reason is two-fold: (1) Shortage of rooms at the University; (2) Tom's three-month persistence that we "bunk" with him.

We learned from Jim Armstrong, upon our arrival, that Bob Rogers has left Columbia law school to take care of his father's hotel in Rockaway. The class of '35 extends its sincere condolences to Bob on the death of his father last July.

John Brennan has returned to Notre Dame from Michigan. He has changed his professional outlook from the law and is now taking up work in the College of Science.

It comes to our attention that Frank Sinnott has been considering leaving Fordham and studying his legal texts elsewhere. No confirmation on this has come through.

While talking about lawyers, we hear, through our agencies, that John Cavanaugh has released his hold upon Michigan and is at the present moment hunting up another center of learning to continue his professional work.

Over the week-end of September 20 several of the '35ers were on the campus. Barney English was the victim of our queries in the caf and George Melinkovich took his grilling in Dillon Chapel vestibule. George is living in Chicago at the Harrison and working for the city. Art Carey was also seen on the campus.

On registration day we found two of the "Dapper Dans" of the class standing at the foot of the "great white stairs" of the Main Building. Both Bus Breen and John Allen were administering to the Freshman needs of their brothers who were getting established on the "right foot." Bus said he was returning to Northwestern.

Louis Grosso is still holding the fort at Columbia. He put in many torrid hours at Summer School but came out unscathed.

Bill Schmidt's bridge up at Rouses Point, New York seems to be taking shape and we understand that the "electrical-civil" engineer will soon be returning to the Island. Our "wires" tell us that Bill has a special reason for wanting to get back to New York.

All of which brings us to the glad tidings we have on Jerry Cushing. His engagement has been announced. (Our felicitations, Jerry.) M.I.T. will see Jerry again this Fall.

And so we come to the end of our "overture-chatter." We again implore you to get the pen and paper out so that we may know what you are doing. Let's try to keep the column as big as it was last year. It can be if the cooperation continues as it has started. How about it?

Walt Toussaint has recently changed his address from State College, Pennsylvania to Pittsburgh, P.O. Drawer 2038. Walt is now in the research department of the Gulf Research and Development Company.

Nick Vairo is learning the printing business with the Cuneo Press in Chicago, one of the biggest in the country, and reports good progress to date. Nick and his wife are now residing at 4736 North Malden Avenue, Chicago.

Bill Toumey, of the New York Daily News staff, and a feminine co-worker, Frances Kilkenny, constituted themselves as a couple of human guinea pigs this Summer to test the wearability of "shlongs" (a combination of shorts and long pants) in Yonkers, where there was an anti-shorts ordinance. They had a lot of fun with the police and wrote several features. And Doctor Cooney just adored those pictures of Bill in "shlongs."

Earl Spencer Walton, of Mishawaka, and Art Sandusky, South Bend, passed the Indiana bar exams in July and were admitted to practice on September 1.

Jordon Hargrove is with Kenyon & Eckhardt, Inc., advertising agency in New York. He writes: "Jim McDevitt, '35, has been working on Fisher's Island, off the end of Long Island, all summer and I expect to see him back in town again. Sigmund Sluska, who was in Poland last year on a scholarship came home in July, only to return again to Poland in August for further study at the University of Warsaw."

Frank Holahan had a lot of '35 dope when he wrote some time ago from Philadelphia. He said:

I was placed some time ago as assistant national bank examiner in the Third Federal Reserve District, which includes Pennsylvania, lower New Jersey, and Delaware.

I have met several of the N. D. boys in the past few weeks in my ramblings. Jim Coll and Andy Dinneen are attending Jefferson Medical School here in Philadelphia. Ray Broderick and Jack Matthews are both at Penn Law School. Ned Rowan is attending Georgetown Law School, but seems inclined to go to Penn in the Fall. I met him when getting on a train in Washington a few weeks ago, and saw a lot of him while working in Wilkes-Barre and Scranton during the past five weeks. I had lunch with Walt Brown in Hazleton, Pennsylvania, a few days ago. He is still among the unemployed, and informs me that Ray Margrett is in the same position. I see Phil Heinle once in a while when he can get away from his books at Stevens Tech where he is taking engineering. All of the above are lads of '35.

John J. "Gunner" McGrath, famed for his marksmanship and '35 captain of the Notre Dame rifle team, visited the campus on his way home to Sedalia, Missouri. He reported that while engaged in a rifle meet in the East he was approached by an emissary of one of the warring Spanish factions and offered $25 a day and expenses as a sniper.

Ray Bambenek, Winona, Minnesota, who begins his second year at Harvard Law school, also stopped over for a day while on his way East.

From devious sources come devious notes on the activities of the '36 men. A compilation of these shows that:

Francis Joyce is working for the duPont Rayon Company, in Buffalo, New York, and John Norton is with the Stecher Lithographer Company, in Rochester, New York.

John Gorman is with the Ball Band plant in Mishawaka, and Harold Stine is working for duPont in Flint, Michigan.

J. Dennis Swords is working on a construction-installation job at the Chicago plant of the General Chemical Company, and Ray Herrly is helping building Panda Briquets in Minneapolis.

Johnny Moran, erstwhile Scholastic editor, has turned G-man and is a deputy collector of internal revenue in New York City. He gets around a lot and should produce plenty of news for the ALUMNUS.

Joe Prendergast, managing editor of the Scholastic last year, was a councillor at Camp Hodgkins, Haydenville, Massachusetts, this Summer but was on the verge of a newspaper job in early September.

Spots Manning is with the International Harvester Company, in Dubuque, Iowa, according to Prendergast's information.

Johnny Michuta is director of athletics in West Bend High School, West Bend, Wisconsin, a Milwaukee suburb.

Wayne Millner has signed with the Boston Redskins for the 1936 season, and Ken Stilley is head coach in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Summer Brings Many Alumni Visitors

Lay Retreat and Registration Help To Swell Number On Campus

The University in general and the Alumni Office staff in particular were glad to welcome an unusually large number of alumni to the campus in the Summer just past. These included (with apologies to those that the local Winchells didn't spot):

Slip Madigan, '20, St. Mary's California, with his family; Frank Van Allen, '34, with his wife on their honeymoon; Martin Wider, '31, Detroit; Jerry Holland, '25, Detroit; William Byrne, '29, San Francisco; Joe Wilk, '31, Adams, Massachusetts, with his wife on their honeymoon.

Ed Ryan, '27, and Joe O'Donnell, '27, Chicago; Father Bourke Motsett, '31, Canton, Illinois, and Ralph Dalton, '31, Bloomington, Illinois; Bill Darrow, '32, and Leo McLaughlin, '32, New York City; Virgil Fagan, '25, Oak Park, Illinois; Jerry Arnold, '24, Pittsburgh, with his wife.

Richard C. Miller, '24, New York City, with Jim Meehan, '24, South Bend; Art Becvar, '33, Cleveland; Tom Quigley, '29, Shenandoah, Pennsylvania; Julius Danch, '25, Gary, Indiana; John Carbine, '35, Rutland, Vermont; Forest Swartz, '26, and Bill Burkhardt, '35, Akron, Ohio; Richard W. Giroux, '31, Muskegon Heights, Michigan; Gene Blish, '34, Denver.

Tony Ceres, '28, Perth Amboy, New Jersey; John Campbell, '26, Albany, New York; Al Diebold, '27, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Ed Cosgrove, '34, with Father Vince Brennan, '32, Pittsburgh; Gerry Le Strange, '27, New Rochelle, New York, with his cousin, Tom, who is now a Freshman; Jim Wade, '33, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Harold Klein, '26, Des Moines, Iowa, with his wife; Ed McClarnon, '28, Detroit.

The Lay Retreat, from August 6 to 9, brought the following, among many other alumni: John Bergan, '31, South Bend; Louis Bruggner, '23, South Bend; Paul Butler, '27, South Bend; Jim Digan, '29, Logansport, Indiana; Francis Dunn, el. '22, Joliet, Illinois; Stephen B. Fleming, '93, Fort Wayne, Indiana; Norman Hartzer, '29, South Bend; Elbert Mahon-el, '26, Indianapolis; Leo McIntyre, '28, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania; Ed. McKeown, '28, Chicago; Joseph Moran, '30, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Joe Nyikos, '23, South Bend; Dan O'Connor, '05, Chicago; Bill O'Malley, '31, Chicago; Joe Sexton, '26, Indianapolis; George Thomas, '27, Willoughby, Ohio; Bernie Voll, '17, South Bend; Bill Voor, '25, South Bend; John Wallace, '27, Calumet City, Illinois.

Registration days, September 15 and 16, saw another large group of alumni on the campus with sons, nephews, brothers, friends. Some of these were Bill Kelleher, '15, Lorain, Ohio, whose two boys are Freshmen this year; Dan Shouvin, '14, Springfield, Ohio, whose son is a Freshman also; Billy Ryan, '10, Cleveland, whose son is a Sophomore; Frank J. Butler, ex. '94, and Bob Butler, '34, Cleveland, to enter the last of a long line of Notre Dame Butlers; Tom Cannon, '33, Muncie, Indiana, with his Freshman brother; Fred Mancuso, ex. '24, Kansas City, Missouri; Father Keith Roche, '26, Havana, Illinois; Bill Reisert, ex. '29, Louisville.

Bell Telephone Company in Indianapolis and Henry Pojman, Bill Shakespeare and Wally Fromhart are assistant freshman coaches at Notre Dame.

Marty Peters is head coach at St. Teresa's High School in Decatur, Illinois, and George Wentworth is coaching at Mexico High School in Mexico, Maine.

Butch Pfefferle and Don Elser, together with Layden, Peters, Shakespeare, Millner and Fromhart were on the squad selected for the All-Star game in Chicago on September 1. And, of course, the other Layden was one of the assistant coaches for the All-Star squad.

Ted Prekowitz is in the Law School and president of the Villagers. He was recently elected president of the Catholic Youth Organization central council in St. Joseph county.

Hugh Wall is in Washington, D.C., in the law offices of Frank J. Albus in the Earle Building.

Ed Epler is with the Gary, Indiana, works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation as an apprentice metallurgist.

Editor Emeritus Moran had dinner not long ago with Bud Goldman and Frank Murray. Bud is doing some free lance radio writing for New York stations and Frank is going to medical school at Cornell. Moran reported that Lin Phoebeus is selling insurance in good old Cumberland, Maryland.

Norman L. Johnson, '36, is working for the South Bend Tribune as night police reporter.
