

The Archives
of
The University of Notre Dame

607 Hesburgh Library
Notre Dame, IN 46556
574-631-6448

archives@nd.edu

Notre Dame Archives: Alumnus

The Notre Dame ALUMNUS

Vol. 23

DECEMBER, 1945

No. 6

Lay Trustees' Edition

The Alumni Association dedicates this issue to the Associate Board of Lay Trustees of the University on the occasion of the Board's twenty-fifth anniversary.

Alumni Religious Bulletin

By REV. JOHN P. LYNCH, C.S.C., '25

Note: The guest writer of the "Alumni Religious Bulletin" this month, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., '38, Chaplain, Notre Dame Veterans' Club, wishes to thank Father Lynch, C.S.C., for his kindness in suggesting this article, which we have discussed on various occasions these past months.

VETERANS ON THE MARCH

The Veterans are on the march again. This time it is the march back. Back to home and work and school. Back to all those little things they dreamed about during the dark days of the past few years.

But everything isn't rosy. The Veterans come back to some mighty unpleasant things too. There is the general uncertainty in international politics as to the peace so hard fought for, the unrest and violence characterizing labor and race relations, courts crammed with more divorce cases than any civilized country has ever seen.

ANOTHER PROBLEM?

Many people have been wondering what the Vets would do about it, whether they too will be another problem. Some popular articles would have us believe that the majority of the Vets are psycho cases to be handled only with the finished skill of a tried psychologist.

Obviously, a young man does not go into the tremendous machine of war, turn at high speed under abnormal tension for several months or years, and return to civilian life exactly the same as he left. But we miss the point if we take it for granted that he is coming back worse. He is coming back with some needs, but the needs are negligible as compared with the new potentialities he has acquired to take on a difficult job and see it through. He does not want to be coddled. Yet he does want to be given a decent break, and a chance to prove himself.

The local picture here at Notre Dame is a case in point. Here the Vets are given an initial break that you have experienced—a quite peaceful atmosphere that breathes of God, a sympathetic corps of men who are available and helpful in the many individual problems incidental to a new way of life. Given that initial break, the Vets are carrying on by themselves. They have banded into a club, to do the job together, in peace as in war, with that same spirit of sacrifice and comradeship so typical of life in the Service.

VETS ANSWER A VET NEED

A group of them who sparked the Vets Club last semester came back from their short vacation a day early to help their new, incoming buddies. Sizing up their own difficulties on arriving here, they procured hundreds of campus maps and printed simple directions for registration on the back of them. Information booths were set up and manned by Vets at the main entrance and administration building during registration.

A super smoker was planned and executed by the old Vets a few nights later. It had everything—a real Notre Dame welcome by the powers-that-be, a challenge to Vets by Vets to carry on the best of the Notre Dame spirit now that they are a part of Notre Dame, entertainment by the school band, a film showing this year's Notre Dame-Navy thriller, and a round of refreshments that exhausted the small but willing treasury of the Vets Club. 575 Vets were on hand for the smoker. They felt welcome too, because the old Vets had written a letter to them while they were still at home, awaiting the D-Day of registration.

VETS AT WORK

The new Vets have risen to the occasion too. Already they have sensed the need for a revival of the pre-war Notre Dame round of activities. Their first thought is for the boys who were here and won't be coming back. That calls for an all-out monthly Mass and Communion for deceased Notre Dame Vets, with a word of sympathy to their folks back home at Christmas.

Then there are these post-war problems too—politics, labor, race, family, education. Many of the faculty are well posted on the right answers, so the Vets are arranging discussion groups to get the word, and later to pass the word around by campus Town Hall meetings.

New Guinea, Iceland and all those other outposts where the boys lived and fought these past years were not especially noted for their social life. So now they dicker with the Palais Royale, the girls at St. Mary's, the school swing band, and there you have it. The Vets club is sponsoring dances for the school. Plays and minstrels are in the offing too.

In their spare time, the Vets are taking a hand in reactivating the old familiar intra-mural sports program. It does not take long to get the feel of a basketball again, and it is more pleasant to the touch than the controls of a bomber.

GIVE THEM A BREAK

All this illustrates our opening point. Give the returning Vets an initial break and they will surprise you with their eagerness to pitch in and help.

Badin Hall (veteran of wars) has practically all Vets. When they found that an unpainted floor was delaying the opening of our Chapel, they swarmed down Saturday afternoon and painted the floor themselves. The job would have been a credit to the Seabees! The benches had not yet arrived Monday morning, but they all came down for Mass any way, knelt on the bare floor, and flocked to Communion in such numbers that only four hosts were left in the ciborium consecrated that morning.

You never met a more mature, cheery—yes, even studious group of men. They have come back to start college at 23, or 25, or 28, and they mean business. One boy's father was killed in an accident last week, and without a word from us, they raised a huge spiritual bouquet, and wired flowers. They surprise you every day with gems like this that never appeared in the scandal sheets: "Do you like this picture of Our Lady, Father? We had it tacked up in our Flying Fort. The ship was named after her; we called it the 'Queen of Queens.'"

YOURS FOR THE ASKING: REAL LEADERS

Maybe Notre Dame inspires them more than other places would, but even much of what they are doing here would not have been done if there had not been an organized, intelligently planned attempt to make them feel at home, and to give them something to do.

To get back to you, every alumni club and parish group has things to be done, things urgently necessary, that can well use the enthusiasm and initiative of these returning Vets. We submit the opinion that they are yours for the asking, if you can surmount the inevitable inertia that grips them after the completion of the great task they have been pursuing East and West.

If you can welcome them, help them get started those first few weeks after discharge, make them feel and be part of a good organization, outline to them the task that lies ahead, well, if you do this all you will need from then on is the breaks, for the sky is the limit. And that is the way it should be. For they have given some of the best years of their lives, faced death in a thousand forms, to achieve something worth living for as well as worth dying for. Now is the time to live. Help them make that something real, and they will make it real for you too.

The Notre Dame Alumnus

This magazine is published bi-monthly by the University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Indiana. Entered as second class matter October 1, 1939, at the Postoffice, Notre Dame, Indiana, under the act of August 24, 1912. Member of the American Alumni Council and of the National Catholic Alumni Federation.

James E. Armstrong, '25, Editor; William R. Dooley, '26, Managing Editor

Vol. 23

DECEMBER, 1945

No. 6

University Observes Trustees' Anniversary

Convocation in Washington Hall on Nov. 16 includes Address by Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen; Bishop John F. O'Hara Presides; Commemorative Silver Plaques Presented to Board Members.

With impressive and significant ceremonies, Notre Dame commemorated on Nov. 16 the Silver Jubilee of the foundation of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees.

Families of the present Board members attended the special convocation in Washington Hall on the evening of the 16th which paid tribute to the illustrious history and personnel of this group which has contributed greatly to the expansion of the University in the last quarter century. Commemorative silver plaques were presented to Board members.

A series of events during the day, including the regular semi-annual meeting of the Board, was climaxed by the convocation. Right Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, LL.D., was the principal speaker for the occasion. Speaking generally in the field of Catholic education and the value of those who have supported it, Monsignor Sheen said that in the teachings of the Church through religious schools lies the only hope of world peace.

"Our darkness today," said Monsignor

Sheen, "is not because there are no stars; it is rather because men have lost the capacity to see them. The world boasts that it knows its own mind, but it does not know its own heart. It went to war to prevent appeasement, and not by out-appeasing Munich will it find peace, but by strong affirmation of those freedoms which our Declaration of Independence states are rooted in God."

Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., D.D., bishop of Buffalo, former president of Notre Dame, presided at the convocation. In one of his typical brief and analytical talks he said that he felt that the work of the Board of Trustees during the years had been justified for its members in the manner in which the Notre Dame men of these years had kept faith with the principles of the University in the great crises they had been through, outstandingly in the record of World War II.

The trustees at their meeting of Nov. 16. Left to right, first row: Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C.; George W. Strake, C. Roy McCanna, John Moody, Rev. Thomas A. Steiner, C.S.C., Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C.; Peter C. Reilly, Joseph P. Kennedy, Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, Frank C. Walker, Ernest M. Morris.

Rear row: William J. Broderick, comptroller of the University; Brother Albinus, C.S.C., treasurer of the University; Thomas H. Beacom, Jr., Joseph A. LaFortune, John P. Murphy, Bernard J. Voll, Edward J. Doyle, William J. Corbett, John C. Tully, Walter Duncan, Terence B. Cosgrove.

Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of the University, opened the speaking program. Father O'Donnell said:

"This special convocation is a very happy occasion for the family of Notre Dame, because it gives us an opportunity to acknowledge publicly our deep gratitude and appreciation to the loyal members of our Associate Board of Lay Trustees.

"Tonight our thoughts naturally turn to a truly priestly priest and finished scholar, the beloved Father James A. Burns, of blessed memory. A man of vision, a man of courage, a man of faith, Father Burns left an indelible impression on his Alma Mater as her tenth president. Before taking office in 1919, he had served since 1900 as president and superior of Holy Cross College at the Catholic University in Washington. While there he earned the coveted doctor's degree in course. He helped form the National Catholic Education Association, and became its first vice president. He manifested a warm interest in the policies of the Catholic University, and was a tower of strength to succeeding administrations. And, aside from supervising the training of several hundred priests of Holy Cross and influencing their lives, he wrote three books which to this day are considered classic in the field of Catholic education.

"So when the beloved Father John Cavanaugh resigned after 14 very fruitful and extraordinary years as president, he was succeeded by his friend and schoolmate, Father Burns. With his rich background in educational affairs that he had acquired in Washington, Father Burns envisioned Notre Dame not only as a college, but as a great Catholic university. He set about immediately to reorganize the academic regimen in accordance with progressive standards. To this end, he saw to the establishment of a Committee on Graduate Study, which was later to become a division of the University.

"But if this division were to prosper, then it was imperative that it have financial endowment. Accordingly, Father Burns laid plans for a campaign with a goal of one million dollars. The campaign was a success. He then gave his attention to the serious problem of administering the fund. Thus we have the beginning of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees, a distinguished group of business and professional men, legally incorporated, who were to have jurisdiction in the administering of the endowment portfolio. And it is this devoted group that the University collectively honors tonight. And while we honor the living, we are also mindful of the noble souls of the departed trustees now at rest with the Master.

"Father Burns' vision and courage brought into existence our Board of Lay Trustees, and the Board itself has more than justified such vision and courage. Since 1920 it has met regularly and conducted its affairs quietly and efficiently, without fanfare or worldly adulation. The record speaks for itself. From the initial million, gentlemen, you have seen the portfolio, because of handsome gifts and your own prudent administration, increase almost fivefold. Little wonder that my predecessors who are here tonight, Bishop O'Hara and Father Matthew Walsh, join me in telling you that Notre Dame has been singularly blessed in having such a loyal group of trustees.

"Some of you belong to us in an intimate way. You received your education here and have grown to man's estate reflecting glory on Notre Dame. The others—the non-alumni who have come to love this old school as their very own—are shining exemplars of brilliant success achieved in the truly American way. All of you have this in common: with the administration, faculty, alumni, and students you have aided materially in bringing to the University national and international acclaim as one of America's outstanding institutions of learning.

"As you leave this campus tonight with the trustees' award especially designed for the occasion, may I tell you that you go forth with a benediction from the family of Notre Dame who will always remember you and your dear ones in our prayers for what you have truly meant to us: faithful and devoted custodians of one of Notre Dame's precious stewardships."

The history of the Board has had particular significance for alumni. Founded by a great alumnus-president, the late Rev. James A. Burns, C.S.C., great Catholic educator, the Board has been from the start one-half alumni in its membership, and has brought to the progress of the University in its most critical years the counsel of its outstanding alumni.

Under Rev. Matthew Walsh, Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, Rev. John F. O'Hara, and Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, with the many and expanding problems of their administrations and the crises of economic depressions and world war, the Board of Lay Trustees has long since proved its value. From its members, close to the problems of Notre Dame and most understanding of her opportunities, have come the major bequests and benefactions so vital to the continuation of progress.

That is why, for alumni, it was most fitting that the spokesman for the Board should be Byron V. Kanaley, '04, for 12 years its chairman, (succeeded at this meeting by the former vice-president of the Board, Peter C. Reilly, Indianapolis). And in the very succinct and competent address of the former chairman, also former president of the Alumni Association, lies the material concerning the Board of the most immediate significance to all alumni.

"I know that I speak for all the Lay Trustees of the University when I tell Father O'Donnell that we are grateful

Joseph P. Kennedy awaits plaque. Behind him, Joseph L. La Fortune, J. J. O'Brien, John C. Tully and Bernard J. Voll.

Byron V. Kanaley, '04, the retiring Board president indeed for this gracious recognition of what he has been pleased to describe as our services to Notre Dame. And I know I convey the feelings of the Board when I say that individually and as a group we deeply appreciate the opportunity we have had to aid in the progress of a University which has grown so surely and steadily in academic stature and which has so much to contribute to life in these United States.

"We are fortunate tonight to have with us two former presidents of the University, Bishop O'Hara and Father Walsh, who were very great administrators indeed, and their successor Father O'Donnell, whose sure hand has guided the University through the unprecedented crisis of this war-time period.

"The word trust is a simple word but there is none that implies more of moral strength, of faith, of solemn purpose than this word. No more can be said of any man, or any institution, than 'they were faithful to their trust.'

"The history of this University is the beautiful and stirring story of the carrying out of a sacred trust.

"It seems a long time ago, as indeed it is a long time ago as the time of men is measured, it's a century and three years ago this very month, that a trust was created on a bitterly cold November morning, on the shores of yonder lake a few hundred yards from where we are now gathered, a trust in which a few humble Brothers of Holy Cross, and a priest of Holy Cross, Father Sorin, undertook to found here an institution of Christian education dedicated to Our Lady. We know, and the world knows, how faithfully that trust has been carried out.

"Another trust, the Silver Anniversary which we are commemorating tonight, was undertaken a quarter of a century ago. At that time Notre Dame was rich in tradition and scholarship and leadership but comparatively poor in material resources.

"The president at that time, Rev. Dr. James A. Burns, instituted an endowment program, and founded the Lay Board of Trustees in 1920 to administer permanent funds of the University. Thus was created a trust relationship between the University and the Board of Lay Trustees. In these 25 years 46 men, including the present incumbents, have held membership among the Lay Trustees. Some have been alumni and some non-alumni, as the by-laws provide.

"The first president of the Board was Mr. William P. Breen of the class of '77. Mr. Breen because of ill health served less than a year, and was succeeded by Mr. Albert R. Erskine who served from 1921 to the time of his death in 1933. Those two administrations cover the early and formative, and some of the most important years of the Board. Policies were formed and standards set which in the main, with changes here and there caused by altered times, have been closely adhered to.

"The best evidence of the wise policies of the Board is, that during and after the severe depression years, and now, the quality, and value per dollar, of the assets of the Board, compared most favorably with those of any fiduciary institution in America.

"The Board has been faithful to that trust in thought and word and deed through a quarter of a century. Its members, without a single exception, through all those years, have given without thought of reward, unstintedly and unreservedly of time and energy and thought, and most important of all, of devotion.

"In the last decade the funds entrusted to its care have increased over four-fold. Ten years ago the funds were a little over a million dollars. Today, they are over four millions. This is not taking account of the largest single gift announced by the University in its history, made recently by Mr. Reilly, a member of our Board, or of other gifts made recently. This growth has been made possible very largely by the generous gifts of men devoted to the ideals this University stands for.

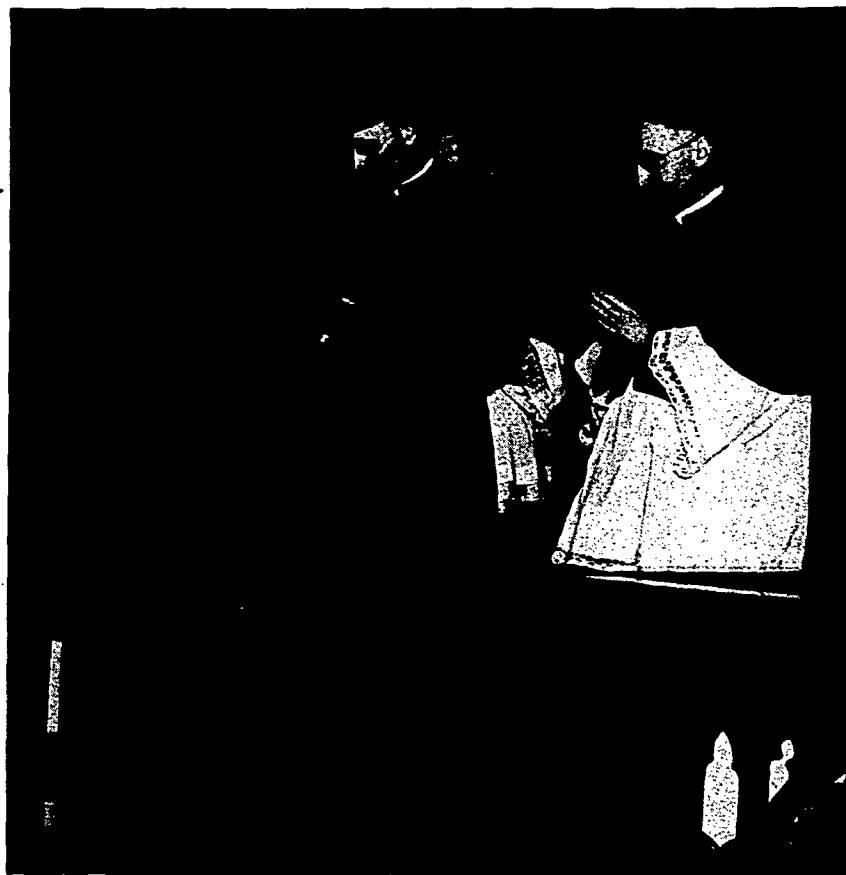

"Very serious financial problems lie ahead for Notre Dame, as for all private institutions of higher learning. Notre Dame has many important needs to be met in scholarships, in buildings, in equipment, in teaching endowments, in laboratories, in rehabilitation. We believe that ways and means will be found somehow to meet those urgent needs of this University which is growing in strength of scholarship, in Christian leadership, growing in an ever lengthening line of young men graduated in the ideals of Christian culture.

"Our country needs these young men as never before. Never in the history of Christian times have we looked out on so sorry a world; upon so much confusion, distrust, hatred and despair; nation arrayed against nation; class against class; labor against capital.

"Our country needs these young men who are taught here that a nation that has lost its spiritual roots is a dying civilization, and that there is nothing

The newly elected Vice-President of the Board, E. M. Morris, '06, receives plaque. Behind him is William J. Corbett.

Bishop John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., D.D., going through sanctuary gate in Sacred Heart Church, which he made famous, accompanied by Revs. William J. Doherty, C.S.C., right, and J. Howard Kenna, C.S.C.

that can revive it but a return to Him who is the Way, the Truth and the Life. And He who rules over all may place that Stone which the builders have rejected at the head of the corner, so that peace and hope and new life and ambition may come again to our people, and to all the peoples of the earth who all too long have sitten in darkness and the shadow of death.

"For in God's good time, and His own good way, He may turn over this topsyturvy world, with man's feet planted firmly upon the earth, but with his face lifted once more to the stars. And when that time shall come, it will surely come largely through the influence of the young generation of America, a part of which leaves each year from the doors of this University.

"To that work, for God and Country, Notre Dame is dedicated as a sacred trust. The Board of Lay Trustees has faith that means will be found for the University of Our Lady to carry out that trust."

Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., served as general chairman of the anniversary program. A reception in the University parlors followed the convocation.

On Saturday, members of the Board and their families were guests of Father O'Donnell at the Northwestern game in Evanston.

Almost buried in the more social aspects of the week-end was the election of new officers, with Mr. Peter C. Reilly of Indianapolis becoming president of the Board, Mr. E. M. Morris, '06, South Bend, vice-president, and Mr. Thomas H. Beacom, '20, Chicago, treasurer.

In the following list of members of the Board who served from time to time since its foundation, alumni will find a record of unselfish service of men, half of them fellow-alumni, whose leadership is reflected in the constant progress of Notre Dame:

George M. Anson, '95, Merrill, Wis., 1931-1940
Thomas H. Beacom, Jr., '20, Winnetka, Ill., 44-
Wm. P. Breen, '77, Ft. Wayne, Ind., 1920-1930
Joseph M. Byrne, '79, Newark, N. J., 1920-1924
James D. Callery, '73, Pittsburgh, Pa., 1920-1925
Matthew J. Carney, New York City, 1931-1941
Warren A. Cartier, '87, Ludington, Mich., 1920-34
William J. Corbett, Chicago, Ill., 1941-
Terence B. Cosgrove, '06, Los Angeles, Cal., 1941-
John F. Cushing, '06, Chicago, Ill., 1929-1935
Edward J. Doyle, Chicago, Ill., 1931-
Walter Duncan, '12, LaSalle, Ill., 1941-
Albert Russel Erskine, South Bend, Ind., 1921-33
Charles T. Fisher, Detroit, Mich., 1941-
Fred J. Fisher, Detroit, Mich., 1925-1941
Frank E. Hering, '98, South Bend, Ind., 1927-43
Edward N. Hurley, Chicago, Ill., 1920-1933

FINAL MIDSHIPMEN CLASS

Vice-Admiral Aubrey W. Fitch, USN, superintendent of the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., was the principal speaker as the 11th and last class of midshipmen, numbering 940, was graduated on Nov. 2 from the U.S. Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School at Notre Dame.

The graduation of the final class brought to more than 10,000 the number of naval officers who had been trained in the school since it was opened in April, 1942.

Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., president, also spoke at the graduation ceremonies, as did Capt. J. Richard Barry, USN, commandant of the school. Rev. Charles Tupper Baillie, D.D., of the First Presbyterian Church, South Bend, offered the invocation and Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., vice-president of the University, gave the benediction. The midshipmen's band and choir supplied the music.

With the closing of the local midshipmen's school, three of the four residence halls occupied by midshipmen, Lyons, Morrissey and Howard, have been taken over by the group of naval trainees now of the University—NROTC's, V-12's and V-5's (all University students). Badin, the fourth hall occupied by midshipmen, is now used by civilians, largely at present by returned veterans.

Most of the officers and "ship's company" who taught in and administered the affairs of the midshipmen's school have left the campus. On Dec. 1, Captain Barry officially marked the closing of the school by turning over to the University, represented by Father O'Donnell, the midshipmen colors, which will be permanently kept in the University library.

John W. Johnson, Kokomo, Ind., 1920-1922
Byron V. Kanaley, '04, Chicago, Ill., 1925-
Joseph P. Kennedy, New York City, 1941-
Joseph A. LaFortune, '18, Tulsa, Okla., 1941-
Angus D. McDonald, '00, N. Y.-Frisco, 1923-41
Constantine E. McGuire, Wash., D. C., 1939-
C. Roy McCanna, Burlington, Wis., 1931-
Clement C. Mitchell, '02, Chicago, 1920-25; 31-33
John Moody, New York City, 1936-
Ernest M. Morris, '06, South Bend, Ind., 1939-
Samuel T. Murdock, '86, I'd'polis, Ind., 1920-21
Daniel P. Murphy, '95, Rockaway, N. J., 1925-31
John P. Murphy, '12, Cleveland, O., 1933-
John H. Neeson, '03, Philadelphia, Pa., 1936-45
George L. O'Brien, '93, South Bend, Ind., 1941-43
John J. O'Brien, South Bend, Ind., 1941-
Miles W. O'Brien, South Bend, Ind., 1922-1936
I. A. O'Shaughnessy, St. Paul, Minn., 1943-
Max Pam, Chicago, Ill., 1923-1925
James J. Phelan, Boston, Mass., 1926-1934
William C. Potter, New York City, 1934-
Peter C. Reilly, Indianapolis, Ind., 1934-
Francis J. Reitz, Evansville, Ind., 1920-1930
Solon O. Richardson, Toledo, O., 1920-1927
Grattan T. Stanford, '04, New York City, 1935-
George W. Strake, Houston, Texas, 1944-
John C. Tully, '11, LaGrange, Ill., 1942-
Bernard J. Voll, '17, South Bend, Ind., 1943-
Frank C. Walker, '09, N. Y.-Washington, 1931-

P. C. Reilly Gives Million to Notre Dame

Largest Single Gift to the University; Income from Endowment to be Used Only in Field of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering; Donor Member of Trustee Board Since 1934.

The gift of one million dollars to the University by Peter C. Reilly, president of the Reilly Tar and Chemical Corp., Indianapolis, was announced on Oct. 15 by Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of the University.

This contribution, largest single gift in the history of the University, is to be known as the P. C. Reilly Science Fund. It is to be an endowment, and Mr. Reilly has specified that the income from the endowment be used only in the field of chemistry and chemical engineering, in the following manner:

(a) One (1) annual fellowship of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) awarded to the outstanding lay member of the graduating class in chemistry or chemical engineering departments of the University of Notre Dame. (b) Four (4) annual graduate non-teaching fellowships in chemistry or chemical engineering of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) each for graduates of chemistry or chemical engineering from Notre Dame or schools other than Notre Dame. (c) Five Thousand ($5,000.00) annually as an honorarium to an outstanding chemist or chemical engineer for a one-semester series of lectures at the University.

At the end of eight years, the number of annual graduate non-teaching fellowships shall be increased as the income from the fund increases. In the fifteenth year of the fund, the income from the accumulated capital fund shall be divided equally, fifty percent to be used for fellowships and lectures and fifty percent to be added to the capital fund.

The terms of the gift further provide that when the capital fund reaches five million dollars, the University shall have full use of the income, unqualified, except that it be used in the field of chemistry and other sciences.

Mr. Reilly, a member of Notre Dame's Board of Lay Trustees since 1934, has long been a pioneer in the development of coal-tar products. He has sought to increase the prestige of America in the field of science, particularly chemical engineering, to a position where it will no longer be secondary to Europe. It is Mr. Reilly's hope that his gift will enable Notre Dame to take its place among the leaders of the world in chemistry.

In making the contribution, Mr. Reilly stated: "I make this contribution to Notre Dame because of the University's announced determination to continue its aggressive advances in the field of chemistry, and because it seems clear to me that the science of chemistry is to play an ever more dominant role in the progress of our civilization.

Peter C. Reilly

"The University's scientific accomplishments in chemical research under men like Father Nieuwland have already been internationally acclaimed and I think that, through this newly-organized, progressive effort, Notre Dame's work in chemistry may well move ahead of that produced in the leading institutions of Europe."

In accepting the gift in the name of the University, Father O'Donnell made the following statement: "The benefaction of Mr. Peter C. Reilly of Indianapolis, for 11 years an esteemed member of our Associated Board of Lay Trustees, is the largest single gift that the University of Notre Dame has ever announced. Because of its wise and far-reaching terms, it is also one of the most pleasing and acceptable gifts.

"The new Peter C. Reilly Science Foundation affords marvelous opportunities for gifted young students of chemistry here at Notre Dame and in other American universities who want to go on for advanced work.

"A student of De LaSalle Academy of Providence, R. I., Mr. Reilly is a product of Catholic education and of the American system of free enterprise, and exemplifies in his life certain important characteristics of the true scientist. Through initiative, unswerving honesty of purpose, and intelligent hard work, he himself rose to success, and with true vision he has provided important aid and incentive to young chemists of merit in this day and for years to come. The perpetual memorial he has established at Notre Dame is intended to produce great chemists, men of firm character and ingenious learning, who will advance the science itself and contribute wisely and richly to the society in which they must play a leading part."

Mr. Reilly, after attending De LaSalle Academy, became associated in 1886 with the Mica Roofing Co. in New York City. This firm, which was one of the original coal-tar distillers in the United States, was succeeded by the Western Chemical Co. in Indianapolis and Mr. Reilly was sent to Indianapolis to manage the business.

He opened his own business in Indianapolis in 1900 under the name of the Western Chemical Co., which was subsequently known as the Republic Creosoting Co., of which Mr. Reilly was president. In 1932 he purchased the International Combustion Tar and Chemical Co., which maintained plants in five different states and which now are a part of the Reilly Tar and Chemical Corp. This corporation is one of the two leading producers of coal-tar products in America with 15 plants from coast to coast.

Among the inventions developed by Mr. Reilly is a process for the complete distillation of tar. This method is of especial economic value since in the first part of distillation known products are produced and in the second part of the distillation new and valuable materials are made available.

Mr. Reilly was awarded an honorary LL.D. degree at Notre Dame on June 4,

1939. He serves as director of the Real Silk Hosiery Mills, the Indiana National Bank, the Union Trust Co. of Indianapolis, the Indianapolis Power & Light Co., the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, Butler University and the Hoosier Salon Patrons Association. He is a member of the State Advisory Council of the Indiana University Medical Center, the Indiana Advisory Public Health Council, and is serving his 11th term as president and director of the Christamore Society. Mr. Reilly is married and is the father of five children.

Martin J. Gillen Foundation Announced

University is Residuary Legatee in Gillen Will; Benefaction is Now in Excess of $1,000,000; Wide Latitude in Use of Money Is Allowed N. D. Administration.

The Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of the University, on Nov. 23 announced the Notre Dame-Martin J. Gillen foundation for educational and scientific purposes.

Father O'Donnell, in announcing that the administration of the estate of Martin J. Gillen has been completed, issued the following statement:

"The University of Notre Dame lost a distinguished friend, honorary alumnus, and benefactor, when Martin J. Gillen, lawyer-economist, died on Sept. 22, 1943, in the beautiful surroundings of Land O'Lakes, Wis., which through his generosity had already become the property of the University. Under the terms of his Will, the University also became residuary legatee of his other holdings.

"Through his experience as a lawyer, and also because of his knowledge of university operations, Mr. Gillen knew that an institution of higher learning can anticipate its problems only within rather indefinite limits. As a lawyer, he also knew instances of benefactions which, because of the restrictions placed upon them, failed in the long run to meet either the intentions of the donor or the changing needs of the benefactor.

"Mr. Gillen exercised excellent judgment and foresight in leaving the University a wide latitude in its use of his gift. He expressed certain preferences in the disposition of his estate, and the University will honor them. In the main, however, his handsome benefaction, which is now in excess of $1,000,000, is an unrestricted gift to be used at the discretion of succeeding administrations to further the best interests of Notre Dame."

Mr. Gillen had a rich background of legal practice which he broadened with business administration and an intensive study of economics. In 1915 he drew up a plan for industrial mobilization which served as a basis for the War Industries Board, and in 1917 he outlined a plan for state and municipal mobilization for war. As a result, he was called to Washington as a dollar-a-year man in World War I. While there, Mr. Gillen served with distinction as a member of the U.S.

Martin J. Gillen

Shipping Board and helped to liquidate four billion dollars worth of contracts that were outstanding at the termination of the war. Another of his great contributions to economics was his "international balance sheet" between the United States and the world, drawn up in 1922. He also helped evolve a method for gathering farm data which is still in use.

In conferences with the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., then president of the University, and the late Father James A. Burns, C.S.C., president from 1919 to 1922, Mr. Gillen indicated that because of scientific exploration already made on the Land O'Lakes property, the tract of some 6,000 acres which was acquired by the University through his generosity, should be made available by the University as a scientific preserve for use by scientists of other universities. In these same conferences, the eventual establishment of a boy's summer school and camp was evolved. To achieve these purposes the University has set up, under the laws of Michigan, the Notre Dame-Martin J. Gillen Foundation, the primary purposes of which are to further educational and scientific pursuits.

When the Bureau of Economic Research was established at Notre Dame, Mr. Gillen subscribed fully to its aims. He felt that telling the public economic truths in clearly understandable terms was the best antidote for the specious and sometimes fantastic theories advanced by certain students in the field. In his will, after making specific bequests for religious and charitable purposes, he left a substantial sum to be used by the University as an endowment for the Bureau and for other University purposes to be determined by the administration.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEETS

The new Industrial Committee, the organization of which was announced in the October ALUMNUS, met on the campus on Oct. 26-27. The committee was created to assure an understanding between the University and industry with regard to the school's contribution to the future industrial development of the nation.

The two-day session included two tours of the University, with particular reference to the laboratories, two business meetings, two luncheons and a dinner and attendance at the Iowa-Notre Dame football game.

Vocational Chairmen Offer Help to Vets

Service Is Not Confined to Job Assistance; Suggestions, Based on Experience in Alumni Office, Are Offered to Job Seekers, Especially to Those not Technically Skilled.

Twenty-five club vocational chairmen and their committees, covering most of the Notre Dame "population centers" throughout the country, are now at work in the Alumni Association program—especially designed to assist the returning Notre Dame veterans of this war.

And each Notre Dame veteran who needs any sort of aid is urged to communicate with the club vocational chairmen in his home territory. (The Alumni Office at Notre Dame will be happy to advise as to procedure in the case of a veteran who is not in, or close to, a territory covered by a club vocational chairman.)

As this program has developed, several points needing emphasis have arisen. Here are some:

1. The program is not designed to cover employment only. It takes in educational advice, housing advice, veterans' benefits advice—anything that the vet wants to know about. (No, of course not—the vocational chairman won't know all the answers right off, but he'll be happy to try to find them for you, making particular use of Notre Dame "contacts.")

2. Except in rare, very rare, cases, the vocational chairman can't lay a job in the lap of a veteran, for obvious reasons. The objective of the vocational chairman has to be: to help a veteran help himself. And this the v. c. will gladly do.

3. In the nature of things some classifications of returning job-hunting veterans are more in demand than others. Right now, the strong demand is for technically-trained men—engineers, accountants, chemists, physicists, and the like. It's just a fact—unfortunate, if you will—that men in the non-technical classifications have a generally tougher time finding jobs. Yes, there are non-technical jobs to be had: it just takes some more time, more planning, more leg work, more interviews to get them. Which makes point No. 4 particularly important.

4. Non-technical men especially can advance their cause tremendously, job-wise, by making up their minds, in advance, as far as they possibly can, on two matters: (a) what kind of work they want to do and feel really qualified to do; (b) where, in general, they want to work.

As to No. 4(a): One of the toughest things in modern employment work is to help a man who is pretty much willing to "do anything." Modern business is set up on a specialized basis. Recognizing this fact, the job seeker should, if necessary, read widely, talk with qualified advisors, take vocational tests — and, of course, pray always—in order to find out his own vocational strong points. His job-seeking path will be made immeasurably smoother if he does this.

As to No. 4(b): In general, an interview is an absolute essential of any job-seeking procedure. This means, generally, that a man must look for a job within a territory where he is readily available for interviews. To say that he will work "anywhere in the U. S. A.," for instance, puts a man in far too broad a field.

5. Innumerable non-technical men are thinking of employment in terms of "personnel work." In that connection, just this caution: personnel work in modern business is far from being as simple and glamorous as it sometimes appears. Most businesses will not take inexperienced men directly into their personnel departments. At least they require that those vitally interested in personnel get right down into the plant or store for a period of what-our-problems-are and how-we-do-it training. Then, if everything clicks, personnel work is a possibility. Remember too—there are relatively few personnel jobs.

All of which isn't, I hope, discouraging to the returning vets. I've been in and around this employment business for a good many years now and I'm hoping that some of the suggestions here, based upon my experience, past and present, will be of value to the returning veterans and will help them adjust themselves faster and more effectively.

As I've said—and everybody connected with the Alumni Association program is in complete agreement—helping the returning Notre Dame veterans is what we most want to do and it's what we're trying, with everything we have, to do most advantageously.

Again, write either to a vocational chairman or to Dooley, if you need help.

Frank A. Milbauer, '25, New Jersey Club, and Vincent DeCoursey, '39, Kansas City Club, are additional vocational chairmen since the October ALUMNUS appeared. The complete list of chairmen is now as follows:

Berrien County, Mich.: Maurice A. Weber, '25, Peoples State Bank Bldg., St. Joseph.
Buffalo: Joseph F. Ryan, '39, 50 Frontenac Avenue.
Chicago: Edward F. O'Toole, '25, 10 S. La Salle St., Room 807 (Miss Jane Cahill in charge of club's permanent office at this address.)
Cincinnati: Richard W. Scallan, 3612 Victory Lane.
Cleveland: Clayton G. Leroux, '27, Assistant Personnel Director, Monarch Aluminum Manufacturing Co., 9301 Detroit Ave.
Delaware: J. Fendall Froning, '37, 416 Geddes St., Wilmington.
Detroit: Henry F. Clark, '30, 324 Washington Square Bldg., Royal Oak, Mich.
Fort Wayne: Harry C. Hogan, '04, President, Dime Trust and Savings Bank.
Indianapolis: Fred L. Mahaffey, '17, President, Consolidated Finance Co., 350 Consolidated Bldg.
Kansas City: Vincent DeCoursey, '39, DeCoursey Creamery Co., 642 Northrup Ave., Kansas City, Kans.
Kentucky: Joseph F. Donaldson, '23, Director of Safety, City Hall, Louisville.
Los Angeles: Paul F. Glass, '40, 8418 Loyola Blvd.
Milwaukee: Edward J. Rogers, '17, President, Layne-Northwest Co., 709 N. 11th St.
New Jersey: Frank A. Milbauer, '25, Essex Engraving Co., 44 Branford Place, Newark.
New York City: John T. Balfe, '20, 60 E. 42nd St.
Northern California: Keene Fitzpatrick, '13, 155 Montgomery St., San Francisco.
Oklahoma: Robert M. Siegfried, '37, 305 National Bank of Tulsa Bldg., Tulsa.
Philadelphia: Harold E. Duke, '30, Manager, Wayne Pump Co., 4030 N. Broad St.
Portland, Ore.: William C. Schmitt, '10, President, Schmitt Steel Company, 2407 N. W. 28th Ave.
Rhode Island & Southeastern Mass.: J. Clement Grimes, 384 River Ave., Providence.
St. Joseph Valley, Ind.: Judge J. Elmer Peak, '12, Court House, South Bend.
St. Louis: Robert T. Hellrung, '30, Manager, St. Louis Medical Credit Bureau, Humboldt Medical Bldg., 306 N. Grand Blvd.
Twin Cities, Minn.: Louis J. Regan, '29, Personnel Director, Sears Roebuck & Co., Minneapolis.
Washington, D. C.: Bernard E. Loshbough, '29, 5610 Colorado Ave., N. W.
Western Penn.: John F. McMahon, '23, Managing Director, Industrial Hygiene Foundation, Inc., Mellon Institute, 4400 Fifth Ave., Pittsburgh.

—W. R. D.

Prof. Cooney Succumbs Suddenly

Head of Journalism Department for 30 years was "Liberal Education in Person"

On Monday morning, Oct. 15, as quietly as he had lived, and as significantly, Professor John Michael Cooney, for 30 years head of Notre Dame's department of journalism, died in his home.

He would assign this article for objective writing. It is just another assignment that we can't handle. For unless you studied under Professor Cooney you wouldn't know what to say. And if you studied under him, you couldn't be objective.

John Michael Cooney was liberal education in person, liberal education in its finest sense. He had adequate special knowledge to be educator, editor, author, poet, and other learned professional identities. But all were submerged in his contacts by that feeling of depth and scope that in a less kindly man would have been frightening. He came closest in my experience to some intimation of the meaning of the psalm on the depth of the riches of the wisdom and of the knowledge of God. It was because he knew so much that he constantly humbled his intellect, and maintained a magnificent curiosity that embarrassed while it educated much younger authorities.

It is almost futile to encompass the work and the influences of Professor Cooney. Quiet, inconspicuous, working with the less spectacular tools of the mind, many Notre Dame men, even, came and went without experiencing the stimulus of his acquaintance.

But journalism, as he taught it, was so perfect an example of liberal education as the new pioneers rediscover it elsewhere, and his influence was so great on the stream of men who passed through his classes, that there will be effects of his teaching far more profound than any he would have named, far more profound than the average University course could hope.

The wealth of tribute that came from men in high places who had shared his talents already bears this evidence. His philosophy, his humor, his high Christian integrity, his appreciation of classics, his devotion to truth and to accuracy, were scattered like seeds through his students. Professor Cooney would be among the first to claim that some must fall on fertile ground.

It would be most difficult to be more effective than was Rev. Thomas Lahey, C.S.C., long an acquaintance and admirer of Professor Cooney's gentle genius, in his eulogy:

"The greater thou art, the more humble thyself in all things, and thou shalt find grace before God." ECCLESIASTICUS, Chapter 3, Verse 20.

"... It is because we are here this morning to say our last farewells to one who loved the hidden side of his work rather than any of the human honors which went along with it that I want to pay tribute to that rare quality in his character.

Professor John M. Cooney

"Professor Cooney was well prepared by talent and education to exert more than the ordinary influence in life. As newspaper editor, as professor, as college president, as dean of a School of Journalism, and in various executive capacities both on and off the campus he might have accumulated many of those emoluments which the world values so much—but he never bothered himself about those things—even when they came to him. There were other things that he valued more—people, for instance, particularly the people with whom he lived and worked.

"Not once in his life, I suppose, did Professor Cooney ever give any indication of considering himself the least bit better than the lowliest of those with whom he came into contact. As a professor, he seldom lectured in the classroom. As a dean, he seldom issued a command. As a companion, he seldom raised his voice above the tone of conversation. He didn't have to do any of those things or to use any of those tricks that most of us use at times to bolster up our personalities. The genuineness of Professor Cooney's love for his fellowmen broke through that natural reserve which all of us have—and won an immediate answering love in return.

"As a consequence his students always respected him; they never feared him. And the regard which they had in their student days not only survived the withering influence of time but blossomed into even greater love as the experience of the years brought a greater and greater realization of how much he had actually given them. The sincerity of that appreciation is evident from the number of famous correspondents and newspaper editors who look back through the acclaim which is now theirs to give full credit for their success to the professor who taught them so much when he did not seem to be teaching them at all.

"That, my dear friends, is the twin test of the truly great teacher—that he can teach without appearing to do so and that his influence follows his students and stays with them through the years in their various activities of life. That, to a man who makes teaching his profession, is worth more than wealth and honors or maybe some dubious mention in a history book. It is what Professor Cooney strove for in his life. It is what he accomplished by being simple and sincere; and by loving people rather than things.

"I know from long personal acquaintance with his students that many eyes have looked through those kindly spectacles of his and have got a new vision of life, that many hearts have caught the kindness of his heart and carried that kindness into the lives of others. I know that he made the days of his students brighter, happier, holier by his mellowness—and God will not forget him for that. As one last mark of appreciation therefore, let us who are the heirs of his fine Christian gentlemanliness—and most of us are—let us do this morning what he would want us to do, let us pray God to look lightly upon our old friend's imperfections; and let us resolve too that

(Continued on Page 43)

FOR GOD, COUNTRY, NOTRE DAME IN GLORY EVERLASTING

Bernie Ferry

Jack Haffner

Capt. Martin S. McGinnis, '39, Memphis, Tenn., formerly reported missing in action, was in July, 1945, officially declared dead. He had failed to return from a raid over Mannheim, Germany, on Jan. 13, 1945.

After his graduation, Marty went into business as contractor for Small Better Homes in Memphis. On Feb. 17, 1941, he enlisted and in December, 1941, received his commission. Originally in the Sixth Cavalry, he later transferred to an armored unit and finally, at his own request, was assigned to the Eighth Air Force as his overseas duty and had made 18 missions successfully.

Lt. Bernard J. Ferry, '41, Baltimore, was killed on Sept. 10 in Germany when his plane crashed into a mountain in bad weather en route to Munich to transport prisoners of war. He had served in the European theatre of operations for 15 months, participating in four campaigns.

Bernie enlisted in the Air Corps in July, 1941, and went overseas in July, 1944, serving in England, France, Belgium and Germany. He is survived by his mother and a brother.

Sgt. John C. Haffner, '41, Oak Park, Ill., formerly reported missing in action, has been declared killed as of April 27, 1945, when the B-24 liberator on which he was flight engineer crashed into the Adriatic Sea.

Jack had been overseas since February, 1945, with the 15th Air Force, and held the Air Medal with one cluster. A wife and two small daughters living in Indianapolis survive him, as well as his parents and a sister.

Lt. Eugene R. Killoren, ex. '45, Appleton, Wis., formerly reported missing over Germany since Oct. 2, 1944, has been officially declared dead. A navigator on a B-17, Gene has been overseas since May, 1944. He is survived by his parents and a brother.

A member of the Third Bombardment division, Eighth Air Force, cited by the president for its now historic England-Africa shuttle bombing of Nazi Messerschmitt aircraft plants at Regensburg, Germany, in August of 1943, Gene was awarded the Air Medal with two leaf clusters.

T/Sgt. Edward V. Ankli, ex. '46, Benton Harbor, Mich., missing since his first bombing mission over Berlin in October, 1944, has been officially listed as killed in action. He is survived by his parents and his grandmother.

Ed entered service in June, 1943, after attending the University for one year. He was a crewman on a B-17.

Gene Killoren

Bill Brezenski

Pvt. William A. Brezenski, ex. '46, Detroit, missing since Jan. 30, 1945, has been officially declared dead. Bill was killed in action in the Black Mountains of the Vosges terrain in France. His division, the 28th, took Colmar three days later. He was awarded the Purple Heart posthumously.

Bill entered the service when he was a third year chemical engineering student at Notre Dame in July, 1944. He left for overseas in December, 1944. Surviving him are his parents and a brother.

The ALUMNUS has so far received only incomplete information regarding the following Notre Dame men who died in the service of their country: Lt. William Katz, AAF, ex. '45, of Teaneck, N. J., and Pfc. Charles Leckie, ex. '47, Minneapolis, who was killed in action on Okinawa on July 17, 1945.

Deaths Already Reported

(This section contains additional information about Notre Dame men whose deaths in the armed forces were reported in earlier issues of the ALUMNUS).

John Hughes

Carlo Marinello

Lt. Cmdr. John M. Hughes, '31, Jacksonville, Fla., was killed in a Navy plane crash 16 miles northeast of Kingland, Ga., on Sept. 28, while en route to the Jacksonville Naval Air Station. He was security officer on the Naval Air Operational Training Command staff at Jacksonville.

Before entering the service in July, 1941, John was associated with the Foley Lumber Co., Jacksonville. He is survived by his wife, a year-old son, John Michael, his parents, a brother and a sister.

Major Carlo J. Marinello, ex. '37, Buffalo, N. Y., died on Dec. 31, 1944, of wounds received on Leyte. He is survived by his parents, two sisters and three brothers.

Carlo was graduated from the University of Buffalo School of Medicine in June, 1939, and was appointed an interne at the Edward J. Meyer Memorial Hospital, Buffalo. He later served as assistant resident in pathology in the same hospital.

A reserve officer in the medical corps, Carlo was called to active duty in October, 1940. He made two tours of overseas duty. It was while he was on his second tour, in the 67th day of combat, that he was wounded critically as he served as commanding officer of the 52nd Portable Surgical Hospital, assigned to the initial wave in the invasion of Leyte.

Lt. John W. Smith, ex. '41, West Winfield, N. Y., lost his life near Greenville, S. C., when his bomber crashed on Jan. 29, 1944. John leaves his wife, a son, a daughter, his parents and three sisters.

He had been in service about a year,

John Smith

Bob Schoe

and received his commission and wings in November, 1943. Before entering the service, John was employed by the Remington Arms Co., in Bridgeport, Conn.

Lt. Robert E. Schoo, ex. '43, Louisville, was killed in a B-29 crash at El Paso, Texas, on Aug. 5.

Bob entered the Army Air Forces in February, 1943, after a time in defense work at the Goodyear Engineering Corp. He received his training at Santa Ana, Calif., Spartansburg, S. C., and Williams Field, Ariz. He was commissioned in September, 1944, and was scheduled to leave for the Pacific area at the time of his death. He was one of seven killed when the B-29 crashed on a routine training flight.

KENNEDY RESIGNS

J. Walter Kennedy, Notre Dame's publicity director since July, 1943, resigned in November his position to become vice-president of the Scholastic Sports Institute, Ltd., of New York City. He signed a two-year contract and will assume his new duties on Dec. 15, with offices in New York.

The newly-organized Scholastic Sports Institute is headed by G. Herbert McCracken, for many years head football coach at Lafayette College, and at present vice-president of Scholastic Publications. The Institute will offer a new and authoritative service to those responsible for maintaining high standards in interscholastic athletics.

Walt is a native of Stamford, Conn., where he received his early education. He was graduated from Notre Dame with a degree in journalism. After a two-year term as athletic director and football coach at St. Basil's preparatory school in Connecticut, he became associated with the Macmillan Publishing company of New York City, and was special representative for the firm in educational and promotional work for five years.

During these years Walt also was closely associated with athletics as a football official, and was for four years the president of the Stamford, Conn., baseball league. He and his wife have two children.

When the ALUMNUS went to press, the University had not appointed a new publicity director.

ON ATOMIC COMMITTEE

Dr. Karl Menger, head of the Department of Mathematics, has been invited to join the National Working Committee on Atomic Energy. The committee is headed by Dr. Howard Shapley of Harvard University.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNI

BYRON V. KANALEY, '04, Chicago, for 12 years chairman of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees of the University, is the president of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America for the current year.

A graduate of the Harvard Law School as well as of Notre Dame, Mr. Kanaley is president of Cooper, Kanaley & Co., Chicago. He has been a member of the MBA since 1925 and was first elected to the organization's board of governors in 1929. He was one of the organizers and was first president of the Chicago MBA, serving three terms.

In a life devoted to Notre Dame interests, Mr. Kanaley has found the time to be a member of the executive committee and finance committee of several local charities, including the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago, Illinois Association for the Crippled and the F. J. Lewis Fund for the Tuberculosis Poor.

BYRON V. KANALEY, '04

He is a past president of the Winnetka [Chicago suburb] Community Chest, director of the Chicago Community Chest, former treasurer of the Chicago Real Estate Board and former president of the Chicago Realty Club. He is a regional director of the Committee for Economic Development.

Mr. and Mrs. Kanaley are the parents of Byron V. Kanaley, Jr., '42, and of three daughters, one of whom is the wife of Fred C. Miller, '29. John B. Kanaley, '09, is a brother.

LINUS C. GLOTZBACH, '23

LINUS C. GLOTZBACH, '23, has since July, 1945, been executive assistant to the president of the Northwest Airlines, St. Paul, Minn.

As assistant to the president and director of personnel, Linus joined Northwest Airlines in September, 1942, at a time when the company operated not only its own commercial airline but was also undertaking several major war projects for the Army Air Forces. He organized the company's personnel department and directed the staffing of all its war projects, as the company personnel was expanded from an approximate pre-war 1,000 to more than 10,000 at the peak.

An attorney in New Ulm, Minn., from his graduation until he joined Northwest Airlines, Linus served successively during the depression of the '30s as district, state and regional director of the WPA. In July, 1942, he was appointed regional director of the Federal Works Agency.

Linus and his wife are the parents of 14-year-old George L. Glotzbach.

IS HELPING VETERANS

Benjamin G. Dubois, South Bend, professor of French on leave for service in the armed forces, began on Oct. 22 his duties as chief service officer of the South Bend referral center for veterans. As a reserve officer, he was called into active service in July, 1941. Serving in the adjutant general's department he was assigned to the Caribbean defense command with headquarters in Panama and later to Washington, D. C. When he left the Army recently he was a lieutenant colonel.

Engineering Dean, Chemistry Head Named

Karl E. Schoenherr Heads Engineering; Was Naval Architect Associated with Dr. Albert Zahm, '83; Dr. Charles C. Price, formerly of Illinois, Appointed in Chemistry.

The appointment of a new dean of engineering and a new head of the department of chemistry was announced in October by Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of the University. The appointments became effective with the start of the new semester on Nov. 5.

Karl E. Schoenherr, former naval architect at the D. W. Taylor Model Basin, Carderock, Md., is the new dean of the college of engineering.

Dean Schoenherr succeeds Col. D. C. Jackson, who resigned when he entered the service in 1942. Raymond J. Schubmehl, '21, who was acting dean of the college of engineering after Col. Jackson entered the service, remains as professor of civil engineering.

Dr. Charles C. Price, research assistant at the University of Illinois, was named head of the department of chemistry. Dr. Price succeeds Dr. Andrew J. Boyle, '28, who will remain in the department of chemistry.

The new dean, who was born in Karlsruhe, Germany, and received his primary and secondary education in Durlach, Germany, was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, received a M.A. degree at George Washington University, and a doctorate in mechanical engineering at Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. Schoenherr joined the staff of the U. S. Model Basin as junior engineer and advanced to the position of naval architect. He was ultimately in charge of the section dealing with resistance and propulsion at the new D. W. Taylor Model Basin. For 12 years he maintained a private practice as propeller designer and powering specialist. There are about one million tons of American shipping equipped with propellers of his design.

Dean Schoenherr, formerly with Dr. Albert Zahm, '83, former Notre Dame professor, now in the Guggenheim Chair of Aeronautics in the Library of Congress in Washington, in many recent experiments, is the author of several important articles. Among them are sections of "Resistance and Propulsion" and "Rudders and Steering of Ships," in "Principles of Naval Architecture," published by the S.N.A. and M.E., and three important papers read before this organization in 1931-32 and 1934 dealing with resistance and propulsion of ships. He has made contributions to the discussion of many other papers and many Model Basin reports.

Col. Jackson, whom Mr. Schoenherr succeeds, had been dean of the college of engineering at Notre Dame since 1939, prior to his entry into the service.

Dean Karl E. Schoenherr

The appointment of Dr. Schoenherr represents the first step in postwar plans designed to strengthen the University. These plans call for the rebuilding and strengthening of departments throughout the five colleges, which were necessarily weakened during the war by the absence of faculty members and the dearth of students, as well as the development of graduate programs of teaching and research in the Arts and Letters and Science divisions of the Graduate School. The introduction of graduate work into more fields of engineering is also contemplated.

In engineering, the Notre Dame tradition goes back to men like Dr. Zahm. In more recent times, the Department of Metallurgy was one of the first at Notre Dame to offer work leading to the doctor's degree. Its laboratories rate high among those of American universities. Work in them has heretofore been largely concentrated in the field of physical metallurgy, but work in other fields will be included in the future. Plans for development of advanced study and research in other fields of engineering are still in the formative stage.

The new chemistry head received his bachelor's degree from Swarthmore in 1934 with high honors and his doctorate from Harvard in 1936. While at Harvard, Dr. Price held a university fellowship and worked under Prof. Louis F. Fieser.

Immediately after his graduation from Harvard, Dr. Price joined the faculty of the University of Illinois as research assistant to professor Roger Adams. For the past nine years he has conducted extensive research in the field of high polymer chemistry in which he has attained distinction. During the war his time was devoted largely to direction of research projects for the National Defense Research Committee, the Chemical Warfare Service and the Committee on Medical Research.

In the summer of this year, Dr. Price was associated with the High Polymer Research Bureau of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, and he has recently become chairman-elect of the Gibson Island Polymer conference in 1947. He is member of the American Chemical Society and of several honor societies, including the Phi Beta Kappa. He has served as consultant to the Hercules Powder Co., the Socony-Vacuum Co., Eli Lilly and Co. and the Coca-Cola Co.

Notre Dame has been traditionally strong in the natural sciences and, in accordance with this tradition, the departments of the science division loom large in the plans for the future. Since the days of Father Julius Nieuwland, C.S.C., and his pioneering work into the field of acetylene chemistry, the University has had a widely recognized department of chemistry.

Research in acetylene chemistry will be continued and programs in high polymer chemistry and in radiation chemistry, an approach to the solution of problems in chemistry which received great impetus during the war, will be added. A number of other ranking younger chemists have been invited to join the chemistry staff.

Several other outstanding men were added to the faculty as the winter semester opened.

Vito A. Girone assumed his duties as instructor in architecture. Mr. Girone, just discharged from the Army, was an engineer in the engineer office of the Alaskan Department where he was in charge of the real property account study. He has been recommended for the Legion of Merit.

Prior to entering the service, he had graduated from the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts in 1932, studied for two years at the Atelier Newark, studied in the New York University school of architecture and won a scholarship to Harvard University in national architectural competition. He studied at the Ecole Americaine, Fontainebleau, France, in 1937, and then returned to this country to complete his Beaux Arts training. He won the medal for interior design in Beaux Arts.

Dr. Leo Camp, former instructor at St. Mary's College, Calif., has joined the Notre Dame faculty as instructor in English. Mr. Camp received his Ph.D. degree at the University of Washington and continued postgraduate work at Laval University, Canada.

Dr. Walter La Roy Wilkins, former professor of education at Notre Dame, has returned from service and will assume duties in the department of education and in the University counseling service. He was active in clinical psychology at the separation center in San Diego, Calif.

Capt. Daniel C. O'Grady, teacher of philosophy from 1926 until he joined the Army in 1942, has rejoined the philosophy faculty. He is devoting part of his time to the counseling division of the University, where he will aid the returning veterans particularly. Like Dr. Wilkins, Dr. O'Grady was in charge of important psychological work in the Army. Prof. Dominick Napolitano was returned by the Navy to the Physical Education Department.

Also returned to the faculty are Prof. Stanley S. Sessler, head of the Art Department, from the Army, and Prof. Alden E. Davis, head of the Business Ad-

2,855 Students In Current Term

591 Are Returned Veterans and 808 Are Naval Trainees

A total of 2,855 students were enrolled for the winter semester, which began on Nov. 5.

That enrollment, marking the high point since the inauguration of the accelerated wartime program, included 2,047 civilian students, 702 trainees in the NROTC, 56 naval V-12 trainees, and 50 V-5 trainees. The naval trainees now on the Notre Dame campus are an integral part of the University and attend regular University classes. The Naval Reserve Midshipmen School closed its doors with the graduating of its 11th and final class on Nov. 2.

Various colleges at the University showed a marked increase, with 800 in the College of Arts and Letters, follow-ministration Department, from the Navy, as well as Dr. Edward A. Coomes, of the Physics Department, who as a civilian had been outstanding in governmental research.

Louis F. Budenz, former managing editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper in New York City, is for the present teaching both in the Economics Department and the Journalism Department. Mr. Budenz' return to the Catholic Church, the conversion of his wife and three daughters to Catholicity and his severing of his ties with the Communist movement were given nationwide publicity in October.

Francis X. Bradley, former student in mathematics at N.D., has been discharged from the Navy where he was a lieutenant commander and is serving as a graduate assistant in the department of mathematics.

Dr. Rufus Isaacs has been added to the faculty as an assistant professor of mathematics. He attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology and received his Ph.D. at Columbia University. He was employed at United Aircraft Corporation before coming to Notre Dame.

Meanwhile, Prof. Frank N. M. Brown, head of the department of aeronautical engineering at Notre Dame has been granted a leave of absence to participate in government research at the Johns Hopkins Laboratory of Applied Physics at Silver Springs, Md.

ed closely by the College of Commerce with 765 students. With 75 students, the College of Law doubled its enrollment.

The Office of Veteran Affairs at the University recorded 591 veterans enrolled. Of the veterans, 105 of last semester's 114 have returned and 486 were newcomers. The enrollment of veterans rose rapidly in October as the discharge rate was speeded up in the armed forces. Since many of the veterans are married, the University is faced with a serious off-campus housing problem, a solution to which is being sought as this is written. One proposal favorably considered is that temporary houses be moved into adjacent South Bend from former industrial sites in the Middle West. South Bend municipal authorities and Notre Dame authorities are cooperating in trying to work out a housing program on this basis.

A total of 708 freshmen, 232 sophomores, and 674 junior and senior civilian students were housed on the Notre Dame campus.

Rev. George I. Smith, O.P., associate professor of civil engineering, was the chief speaker as the University conducted on October 24 the Fall Convocation for the conferring of degrees. Father Smith's subject was "The Code of Living." He has been a Notre Dame faculty member since 1941.

Fifty-eight degrees were awarded at this convocation, 17 of them by the Graduate School. Fifteen bachelor of science degrees were awarded to former science students, currently in medical or dental schools, who had completed the requirements for their Notre Dame degrees.

SPEAKS IN DETROIT

Rev. William F. Cunningham, C.S.C., professor of education, addressed the Michigan Catholic College Association at Marygrove College, Detroit, on Nov. 14 on "College Education in a Democracy."

On Dec. 1, Father Cunningham reported on the questionnaire on "Provision for Higher and Lower Ranking Students in College" before the Indiana Conference on Higher Education in the Columbia Club, Indianapolis.

Third Annual Alumni Fund

Contributions September 1, 1945, to November 1, 1945

As in the previous Alumni Funds, the alumni contributions represent alumni gifts direct to the University, through the Alumni Association, or through the Director of Public Relations.

Before 1900

Ruffing, Charles E., '87..... $25.00
Weaver, Dr. W. Burnett, '97..... 25.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $50.00 22

No. in Classes % Contrib. 656.00 170 .130

1900 to 1905

Ferstel, William G., '00..... $90.00
Berkley, Frederick J., '10..... 10.00
McGee, George A., '01..... 10.00
Coquillard, Alexis, '03..... 20.00
Loneragan, Frank J., '04..... 25.00
Stanford, Grattan T., '04..... 250.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $405.00 26

No. in Classes % Contrib. $2,372.00 106 .245

1906 to 1910

Feeley, William P., '06..... $100.00
O'Brien, Rev. William C., '06..... 10.00
Shea, John F., '06..... 25.00
Cunningham, James V., '07..... 25.00
Caparo, J. A., '08..... 50.00
Cull, Frank X., '08..... 25.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $235.00 27

No. in Classes % Contrib. $775.00 140 .193

1910

Nagelson, Lou M..... $10.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $10.00 7

No. in Classes % Contrib. $5,210.00 27 .259

1911

Glynn, Edward J..... $250.00

Murphy, Joseph B..... 25.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $275.00 17

No. in Classes % Contrib. $823.00 67 .254

1912

Griesedieck, William A..... $25.00

Wrape, Alba H..... 10.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $35.00 10

No. in Classes % Contrib. $2,765.00 44 .227

1913

O'Connell, John F..... $100.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $100.00 19

No. in Classes % Contrib. $1,185.00 62 .306

1914

Clay, Amos K..... $10.00

Gushurst, Fred. W..... 20.00

McCarthy, John V..... 20.00

Smith, Joseph F..... 10.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $60.00 20

No. in Classes % Contrib. $772.00 67 .239

1915

Mee, Sim..... $50.00

Roach, Robert L..... 50.00

Rohan, Howard J..... 200.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $300.00 16

No. in Class % Contrib. $643.00 67 .239

1916

Odern, James F..... $100.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $100.00 17

No. in Class % Contrib. $448.00 71 .240

1917

McMahon, James T..... $5.00

McNichols, Austin A..... 100.00

Rudolph, Simon R..... 25.00

Shanahan, George W..... 25.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $155.00 23

No. in Class % Contrib. $1,780.00 108 .213

1918

Andres, William J..... $25.00

Andrews, Francis A..... 25.00

Lemmer, John A..... 25.00

Williams, Rev. Charles J..... 23.60

Grand Total No. Contrib. $98.60 24

No. in Class % Contrib. $1,560.00 61 .393

1919

Grant, D. C..... $10.00

King, Francis C..... 50.00

Lennanne, Charles R..... 25.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $85.00 20

No. in Class % Contrib. $150.00 48 .417

1920

Gleason, John F..... $10.00

Jewell, Everett A..... 3.00

Leslie, Humphrey L..... 10.00

Mulholland, Clement B..... 5.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $28.00 21

No. in Class % Contrib. $348.00 83 .257

1921

Duncan, Archibald M..... $25.00

Foley, Harold S..... 333.00

Gorrilla, Dr. L. Vincent..... 10.00

Meagher, Edmund J..... 10.00

Sheen, Dr. Thomas N..... 50.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $428.00 24

No. in Class % Contrib. $773.00 94 .255

1922

Connelly, Francis W..... $5.00

Hirschbuhl, Charles J..... 100.00

Huguenard, Aaron H..... 75.00

Keeney, Arthur C..... 5.00

McCabe, Thomas S..... 10.00

Manion, Clarence E..... 50.00

Oesau, Dr. Harold T..... 10.00

Pfeiffer, Edw. H..... 10.00

Weinrich, Arthur C..... 20.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $285.00 40

No. in Class % Contrib. $892.00 150 .266

1923

Castner, Paul H..... $25.00

Kiley, Hon. Roger J..... 100.00

Lieb, Thomas J..... 10.00

McDermitt, Francis F..... 5.00

Melody, Felix J..... 5.00

Neff, Cyril W..... 5.00

O'Grady, George J..... 10.00

Randall, Thomas G..... 5.00

Riley, E. Clark..... 10.00

Shea, W. E..... 25.00

Weis, Dr. Matthew W..... 100.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $300.00 33

No. in Class % Contrib. $965.00 182 .181

1924

Buell, D. Patrick..... $50.00

Foley, Lester W..... 433.00

Kasper, Dr. Kevin A..... 10.00

Lindemann, Edward G..... 5.00

Meehan, James R..... 25.00

Novesky, Walter G..... 25.00

Rader, Walter R..... 10.00

Welch, Capt. William H..... 10.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $568.00 52

No. in Class % Contrib. $1,514.00 208 .250

1925

Corboy, Stephen C..... $25.00

Driscoll, George F..... 10.00

Foos, Albert E..... 10.00

Heger, Ralph F..... 25.00

Holland, Gerald J..... 10.00

Jones, J. Willard..... 15.00

Kaiser, Clarence J..... 10.00

O'Neil, Daniel J..... 5.00

Rodighero, Rudolph G..... 5.00

Sobatski, Raymond J..... 10.00

Steel, Frank E..... 20.00

Traynor, John P..... 5.00

Wolf, Lester J..... 5.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $155.00 83

No. in Class % Contrib. $1,490.00 289 .287

1926

Adams, John Q..... $25.00

Cantwell, Lt. Leo J..... 5.00

Coughlin, Rev. Bernard J..... 15.00

Goulet, Vincent L..... 15.00

McGinley, Gerald J..... 50.00

Mooney, Charles A., Jr..... 10.00

O'Malley, Vincent D..... 25.00

Sheridan, Lt. Thomas W..... 5.00

Swartz, Forest J..... 5.00

Vellie, Alton C..... 5.00

Wingenter, Bernard K..... 10.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $170.00 62

No. in Class % Contrib. $2,035.00 326 .190

1927

Contlin, John R..... $10.00

Della Maria, Joseph P..... 5.00

Dohogne, T. F..... 5.00

Dunn, Robert C. (St. Louis

Club Scholarship)..... 500.00

Galone, Capt. Andrew N..... 20.00

Kenny, Thomas F..... 10.00

Lechowick, Stanley J..... 5.00

McCoy, Julius C..... 25.00

McDermott, Michael P..... 10.00

McNellis, John F..... 10.00

O'Connor, Thomas E..... 50.00

Ryan, Rev. Harry..... 10.00

Stephan, Robert D..... 10.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $670.00 71

No. in Class % Contrib. $1,673.00 318 .223

1928

Considine, John P..... $50.00

Grams, August M..... 100.00

Grant, Hon. Robert A..... 10.00

Haven, Clarence B..... 5.00

Herbert, John R..... 10.00

Kelly, Frank J..... 5.00

Murphy, John P..... 10.00

Murphy, John R..... 5.00

Pluchel, William H..... 10.00

Wingenter, John J..... 10.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $215.00 78

No. in Class % Contrib. $1,160.50 414 .188

1929

Brown, William E..... $10.00

Burke, John F. P..... 10.00

Canty, Thomas G..... 10.00

Fortier, Willard C..... 25.00

Hoff, Rev. Norbert C..... 100.00

Mariano, Sgt. Jos. A., Jr. (Deceased)..... 25.00

O'Connor, Gerald P..... 25.00

Rourke, John T..... 10.00

Schimberg, Hubert A..... 10.00

Shen, Thomas C..... 5.00

Sullivan, Lt. John B..... 5.00

Trotter, Maj. Robert M..... 25.00

Winchester, Rev. Otis S..... 10.00

Wood, Jesse R..... 100.00

Zappone, Francis L..... 2.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $372.00 69

No. in Class % Contrib. $1,417.00 318 .214

1930

Cannon, Daniel F..... $5.00

Clark, Henry J..... 10.00

DeLany, Frederick T..... 5.00

Derby, Charles Y..... 10.00

Fink, Francis A..... 25.00

Finnegan, Lt. J. Francis..... 5.00

Folks, T. John, Jr..... 5.00

Goggins, Patrick J., Jr..... 5.00

Holmes, Robert A..... 5.00

Malloy, James A..... 10.00

Martzel, Victor J..... 5.00

Morrison, Charles G..... 5.00

Reaume, William J..... 5.00

Rigley, Sgt. Robert L..... 4.00

Rohr, Charles E., Jr..... 100.00

Smith, Howard J..... 5.00

Sullivan, James W..... 10.00

Grand Total No. Contrib. $219.00 65

No. in Class % Contrib. $987.00 444 .146

1931

Bergen, Arthur C..... $5.00

Boyle, Austin L..... 10.00

Brieger, Earl W..... 5.00

Cassady, William J., Jr..... 100.00

Chawgo, William B.	5.00
Cook, Leo K.	10.00
Dittoe, Francis R.	5.00
Fedder, Francis G.	25.00
Fishleigh, Kenneth J.	5.00
Flannery, Francis E.	10.00
Gies, Noel M.	5.00
Kane, Arthur J.	10.00
Kuhn, John J.	5.00
Kuhn, Robert J.	20.00
McIntyre, John E.	25.00
McKenna, Robert L.	5.00
Mulreany, Albert A.	25.00
Oakes, Thomas E., Jr.	10.00
Anonymous	50.00
Saunders, John F.	100.00
Seifert, James H.	10.00
Seward, Sgt. Francis E.	10.00
Teders, Lt. Michael V.	10.00
Terre, Wilbert L.	10.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,666.50	96
No. in Class	% Contrib.
426	.225

1932

Archart, George A.	$5.00
Brennan, Rev. Vincent P.	25.00
Conway, John E.	10.00
Gonciarz, Joseph F.	5.00
Lyons, William T.	5.00
Murnane, D. Frank, Jr.	5.00
O'Neil, Vincent D.	2.00
Quigley, Charles M.	15.00
Rohlf, Louis R.	10.00
Schiavone, Lt. Leo V.	5.00
Sullivan, Richard T.	10.00
Watson, Clinton H.	5.00
Whalen, Robert J.	5.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,448.00	87
No. in Class	% Contrib.
532	.164

1933

Beahm, E. W.	$5.00
Byrne, Robert J.	5.00
Cavanaugh, Eugene L.	5.00
Cogley, Lt. Cmdr. E. A., Jr.	5.00
Danehy, Dr. James P.	5.00
Devlin, James C.	10.00
Foley, Milton J.	334.00
Frank, Lt. Carlos H.	5.00
Hughen, Thomas A.	10.00
Laughna, Frederick J.	15.00
Lee, Maurice W.	10.00
McGee, Francis S.	5.00
Malcolm, James A.	10.00
Myers, Herbert G.	10.00
Neal, Adrian D.	10.00
Proctor, Robert E., Jr.	5.00
Ryan, John J.	20.00
Sexton, Thomas W.	25.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,192.00	80
No. in Class	% Contrib.
422	.190

1934

Carey, Thomas E.	$25.00
Cole, George W.	100.00
Coyne, Sgt. Gilbert H.	10.00
Crowe, Leo J.	10.00
Hayes, John J.	5.00
Henry, John J.	5.00
Kazmierczak, Bronislaus J.	10.00
Lewis, Clyde A.	10.00
McLaughlin, John J.	10.00
Masterson, John A.	2.00
Moran, Lt. Edward M.	5.00

Motsett, William J.	10.00
Panella, Alfred J.	5.00
Umphrey, Thomas J.	10.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,138.00	98
No. in Class	% Contrib.
426	.230

1935

Colleran, James P., Jr.	$25.00
Erdle, Frederick J.	50.00
Glenn, James J.	10.00
Henneberger, Robert L.	15.00
Kaley, Joseph J.	10.00
Kelly, Lt. Francis	2.00
Logan, Lt. John H., Jr.	5.00
Matthews, John J.	5.00
Montgomery, Charles R.	10.00

Morris, Charles S.	5.00
Oakes, Ramond W.	10.00
O'Brien, Bernard M.	10.00
O'Brien, Eugene L.	25.00
O'Connor, William J.	5.00
Proctor, Thomas G.	10.00
Purcell, Philip J., Jr.	10.00
Rowan, Lt. Edward J.	5.00
Sheedy, Ens. Michael M., Jr.	1.00
Tylutki, Lt. Walter R.	5.00
Welsh, Clifford H.	5.00
Wiggins, Cyril A.	25.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,147.00	94
No. in Class	% Contrib.
452	.209

1936

Cannon, Ens. George W., Jr.	$100.00
Chrisman, John A.	25.00
Darey, Lt. William J.	5.00
Dempsey, John J., Jr.	10.00
Devine, Sgt. Robert B.	5.00
Dunn, Thomas F.	5.00
Fisher, Lt. Patrick J.	10.00
Hellmuth, Lt. Andrew L.	10.00
Hopkins, John W.	2.00
Ireland, George M.	2.00
Lounsberry, Lt. Eugene P.	10.00
Malloy, Lt. Patrick H.	25.00
Schwein, Irwin F.	25.00
Sibr, Lawrence F.	5.00
Tofuri, Paschal A.	3.00
Varraveto, Dominick J.	20.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,501.95	79
No. in Class	% Contrib.
443	.179

1937

Bates, Dr. George N.	$5.00
Cackley, John N.	20.00
Carroll, Capt. Francis A.	5.00
English, Rev. Joseph R., M.M.	5.00
Fehlig, Louis C.	5.00
Fischer, Capt. Edward W.	10.00
Fitzpatrick, Lt. John J., Jr.	20.00
Gregory, Capt. Arthur C.	10.00
Johnen, Lt. Peter J.	5.00
Murphy, Vincent I.	5.00
Nienaber, Lt. Walter J.	3.00
Nolan, Ens. James J.	10.00
Pojman, Henry F.	10.00
Reilly, Bernard F.	2.00
Schafer, Lt. A. Maurice	100.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$967.00	84
No. in Class	% Contrib.
472	.178

1938

Battaglia, Joseph A.	$5.00
Bodie, Lt. Robert J.	25.00
Borzilleri, Maj. Samuel C.	20.00
Brower, Lt. Floyd E.	5.00
Dreiling, J. Alvin	6.00
Fitzpatrick, Lt. George F.	10.00
Freedy, John I.	10.00
Hardart, Lt. Thomas R.	35.00
Hutchinson, Thomas E.	5.00
Longstreth, Raymond E.	5.00
Anonymous	50.00
Mullen, Lt. Robert J.	10.00
Mullen, Robert V.	2.00
Robinson, William H.	1.00
Scherer, Otto E.	10.00
Schmitz, Pfc. John G.	5.00
Scott, Maj. John A.	10.00
Stewart, Lawrence C.	25.00
Tallman, Clifford P.	10.00
Zerbst, Lt. John R.	25.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,316.00	97
No. in Class	% Contrib.
565	.172

1939

Ahern, William F., Jr.	$5.00
Anderson, Pvt. Arthur F.	10.00
Burkholder, Sgt. Marion R.	3.00
Carroll, Lt. E. Joseph	10.00
Coffey, Lt. James J.	5.00
Costello, J. William	5.00
DeCoteau, Roland F.	6.00
Dreiling, Cpl. Virgil T.	6.00
Foye, Lt. Thomas P.	5.00
Frericks, Ens. Theodore P.	15.00
Gutowski, John Z.	10.00
Hildebrandt, Sgt. Hugo J.	5.00

Kennedy, Lt. Thomas L.	10.00
Kiefer, Alfred O.	5.00
LeRoy, Bernard F.	2.00
McDonagh, Ens. H. F., Jr.	10.00
Maloney, Maj. Philip J.	25.00
Raaf, Lt. James J.	10.00
Rice, Gregory	10.00
Rizzi, Lt. A. Joseph	10.00
Schramm, Robert F.	25.00
Schwartzel, Capt. Gerard A.	25.00
Sisk, Sgt. Frederick E.	3.00
Slack, Edmund J.	10.00
Tille, Dr. Raymond J.	5.00
Weber, Pfc. John H.	10.00
Wheeler, Lt. John B.	10.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,511.00	142
No. in Class	% Contrib.
606	.234

1940

Barrett, Capt. James E.	$5.00
Biagi, Lt. Francis W.	5.00
Bourke, Norman F.	5.00
Cleary, Lt. William F.	25.00
Cobb, Charles L.	20.00
Doyle, Lt. Edward D.	10.00
Donohue, John H., Jr.	9.80
Dowd, Capt. Henry R.	10.00
Eilers, Lt. Bernard J.	10.00
Ernst, Francis J.	10.00
Facteau, Capt. Leo G.	10.00
Finneran, Lt. John C.	10.00
Geary, Lt. Cornelius E., Jr.	10.00
Gibbons, Capt. James J.	5.00
Guindon, Francis X.	10.00
Hannan, Lt. D. Edgar, Jr.	5.00
Howard, Robert I.	5.00
Hushek, W/O Daniel J.	15.00
Joyce, Sgt. William L.	5.00
Kelleher, Lt. John C.	5.00
McCanna, Lt. Charles B.	50.00
McKenna, Lt. William S.	25.00
McMorrow, Capt. George J.	10.00
Mooney, Pfc. Alan B.	25.00
Morrison, Paul M.	10.00
Mulqueen, Maj. Joseph H.	5.00
Norris, Harry L.	5.00
O'Donnell, Edward J.	3.00
O'Hare, Lt. William G., Jr.	10.00
Paterno, Dr. Charles F.	5.00
Peterson, Leroy E.	10.00
Pinelli, Lt. Roy W.	10.00
Rothacker, Robert A.	10.00
Ryan, Maj. Joseph A.	5.00
Ryan, W/O Vincent J.	5.00
Saeger, Gerald W.	5.00
Sandmaier, Lt. Phillip J., Jr.	10.00
Smith, Lt. Terence J.	10.00
Toyne, Lt. Francis W.	10.00
Worley, Lt. Lloyd F.	5.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,892.80	165
No. in Class	% Contrib.
695	.237

1941

Boyle, Capt. Robert W.	$10.00
Broussard, Joseph E.	5.00
Buenger, Cpl. William E.	25.00
Connor, Thomas H.	5.00
Corey, Edgar A.	10.00
Daly, Lt. William T.	10.00
Del Zoppo, Lt. Albert J.	10.00
Dowd, W/O Robert E.	4.00
Edmonds, Millard J.	6.00
Essick, Capt. James H.	10.00
Gerra, Lt. Ralph A.	5.00
Hengel, Edward D.	5.00
Hughes, Henry G.	5.00
Kegelmayer, Carl J.	10.00
Kelleher, Capt. Edwin W.	10.00
Kerrigan, Lt. J. Richard	10.00
Lopardo, Lt. Fiorenzo V.	10.00
McCanna, Pfc. P. R., M.D.	50.00
McGrath, W/O James H.	25.00
McNamee, John H.	10.00
MacCarry, Noel J.	1.00
Miholick, Lt. Matthew J., Jr.	10.00
Millenbach, Mathew K.	10.00
Moran, Robert E.	10.00
Mulligan, Lt. Patrick J.	5.00
Neenan, Joseph T.	10.00
O'Connell, Lt. Francis A.	5.00
O'Dea, Lt. John F.	25.00
Odenbach, Robert C.	25.00
Pinelli, Lt. Ralph R.	10.00
Porawski, Thaddeus S.	10.00
Powers, Capt. David I.	5.00
Schaffner, Irwin J.	5.00
Specca, John M.	5.00
Stefanik, Lt. Ervin A.	50.00
Stine, Charles E.	10.00
Van Swall, Hawley E.	5.00

Westhoff, Lt. Herbert A.	5.00
--------------------------	------

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$2,474.55	180
No. in Class	% Contrib.
688	.262

1942

Baader, Lt. William C.	$25.00
Bagley, David C.	10.00
Bauer, Lt. John L., Jr.	25.00
Burkart, James A.	10.00
Cavalero, Howard G.	20.00
Clapham, Charles F.	2.00
Gronin, Lt. John P.	5.00
Devine, Eugene J., Jr.	5.00
Frick, Lt. James E.	10.00
Gadek, Dr. Raymond J.	5.00
Glaser, Dr. Edward J.	5.00
Hackett, Ens. Edward F.	5.00
Haller, Lt. Edward H.	25.00
Hecht, Lt. Robert E.	10.00
Henault, Ens. Maurice G.	100.00
(Deceased)
Hickey, Lt. Lawrence F.	10.00
Judge, Dr. Dom Joseph	5.00
Kearney, Lt. Charles M.	5.00
Kelley, Ens. Lawrence J.	5.00
Kenedy, Thomas B.	25.00
Lajoie, Richard J.	20.00
Leising, Lt. James W.	5.00
Lillis, Paul B.	5.00
Link, Urban E.	5.00
Morris, Capt. John F.	5.00
Murphy, Sgt. William J.	5.00
O'Brien, Lt. James J.	10.00
O'Dowd, Frank E., Jr.	10.00
Pollnow, Francis J., Jr.	15.00
Reilly, John A.	5.00
Rock, Lt. Martin J.	10.00
Scanlon, Sgt. William E.	10.00
Sheedy, Kenneth J.	1.00
Spohr, Joseph C.	10.00
Sullivan, Miss Nora R.	2.00
Tobin, Lt. Charles A.	10.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,897.20	163
No. in Class	% Contrib.
512	.318

1943

Atkins, Ens. Thomas L.	$25.00
Atwater, Lt. Julian G.	5.00
Brock, Lt. James E.	5.00
Carver, Sgt. Robert B.	10.00
Clemens, William M., Jr.	20.00
Conforti, Lt. Francis J.	10.00
Degenhart, Lt. Robert W.	5.00
Doerr, Pvt. John H.	10.00
Doutel, Sgt. Frederick C.	5.00
Dunn, John H.	10.00
Earley, William J.	20.00
Faggen, Lt. Joseph E.	10.00
Fehlig, Lt. Eugene A.	2.00
Gibbons, Sgt. Joseph W.	5.00
Goeken, Joseph V.	25.00
Grady, Walter T.	10.00
Haas, Sgt. Joseph F.	5.00
Heiser, Ens. Carl R.	25.00
Herzog, Ens. William L.	10.00
Kotz, Donald H.	2.50
Kuipers, Robert W.	5.00
Lambert, Lt. Walter C.	10.00
Leonard, Sgt. Paul T.	10.00
Loes, Ens. Philip A.	10.00
McGowan, Ens. William A.	25.00
Martine, Jay B.	10.00
Murphy, Charles H.	10.00
Murray, Stanford E.	5.00
Nenno, Robert P.	15.00
Padesky, Ens. Robert C.	10.00
Falenschar, Robert E.	5.00
Perry, Thomas W.	3.00
Shriwise, Wayne A.	20.00
Spagnuolo, Sgt. Louis J.	10.00
Timmerman, Lt. Robert T.	25.00
Tracy, Lt. Joseph A.	10.00
Waelndner, William J.	5.00
Wilson, Lt. Waldo W.	10.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,988.00	183
No. in Class	% Contrib.
323	.567

1944

Brunetti, Sgt. Benito E.	$10.00
Casey, Daniel F., Jr.	5.00
Carney, Eugene M.	5.00
Colianni, Orville O.	25.00
Dempsey, Raymond J.	3.00
Dratz, Ens. Richard A.	5.00
Gallagher, Ens. James E.	10.00

Chigliotti, Ens. Edward E.	25.00
Griffin, John A.	5.00
Healy, William M., Jr.	5.00
Keelan, Ens. Edward J.	10.00
Kelly, Lt. James R.	20.00
Kerrigan, Thomas E.	5.00
Kinney, George R.	2.00
Lardie, Lt. Leo J.	10.00
Larson, Ens. Oscar P. A.	10.00
Leary, Pvt. Warren D.	10.00
McAuliffe, Robert D.	5.00
McAloon, John B.	25.00
Mann, Lt. John F.	15.00
Martina, Ens. Robert J.	10.00
Myers, Philip F.	5.00
Patterson, Charles J.	5.00
Quinn, Stephen R.	10.00
Seghers, Ens. Charles E.	10.00
Stumpf, Ens. Francis J.	15.00
Thomas, James C.	5.00
	$270.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$1,717.00	160
No. in Class	% Contrib.
253	.632

1945

Bresnahan, John C.	$5.00
Cahill, Sgt. James E.	5.00
Castle, William E.	5.00
Deegan, Sgt. John F.	10.00
Imelde, Sister M.	1.00
Jennings, Emmitt M.	10.00
Kent, Francis J.	5.00
Lesmez, Alvaro V.	5.00
Lulli, Enrique R.	5.00
Manzo, Michael B.	2.00
Martin, Richard N.	1.00
Murphy, George D.	5.00
O'Connell, Cpl. Richard E.	7.50
Roberto, Sister Mary, RSM	1.00
Romaine, Sister M., SSJ	1.00
Ryan, Harry J.	3.00
Schaeffer, James W.	5.00
Treacy, John C.	25.00
Vatter, Joseph R.	7.00
Winnifred, Sister Mary, RSM.	1.00

Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$109.50	59

1946

Edwards, Arthur M.	$10.00
Lacey, Pfc. Hugh B.	10.00
	$20.00
Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$814.00	13

1947

Palladino, Robert F.	$10.00
	$10.00
Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$25.00	1

1948

Schmitt, John R.	$1.00
	$1.00
Grand Total	No. Contrib.
$6.00	2

Subscribers

Burnell, Very Rev. Vincent R. (O.P.)	$10.00
Notre Dame Club of St. Louis, Mo.	1,500.00
Rapp, William A.	2.00
Tracy, Gerald B.	10.00
Grand Total	$1,522.00
No. Contrib.	20

RECAPITULATION

Total this period	$11,513.40
Last previous total, less charges	$46,918.27
Grand total to date	$58,431.67
Total in Classes	10,680
Total No. Contributors	2,701
Per Cent. Contributors	.253
Average Contribution	$21.63

ADDITIONAL SERVICE MEN*

Key to letter with each name: A—Army; N—Navy; M—Marines; MM—Merchant Marine.

A

Alvarez, John M., Ens., ex. '47, Wilmington, Del., N.; Antignani, Ernest A., Pvt., ex. '47, Bridgeport, Conn., A.; Archer, Arthur, E., Ens., ex. '47, Maywood, Ill., N.; Archer, John A., Ewing, Neb., N.; Archer, John J., Ens., ex. '47, N. Y. C., N.; Armlil, Richard W., Detroit, N.; Austin, Carl R., Lowell, Mass., N.; Aymen, Robert, Detroit, N.

B

Bacchus, Wilfred A., Alexandria, Minn., N.; Baes, William J., St. Louis, Mo., N.; Balaban, James A., ex. '47, Brookfield, Ill., discharged, A.; Balbierz, Richard A., Ens., Buffalo, N. Y., N.; Banworth, Cletus S., Lt. (sg), '27, Elizabeth, Ill., N.; Barch, Richard A., Ens., ex. '47, Natrona, Pa., N.; Barr, Lawrence J., Chicago, N.; Barry, John R., Lt. ex. '42, Newton, Mass., N.; Beauchamp, Ray L., Ens., Marquette, Mich., N.; Beaulieu, Theodore C., Broussard, La., M.M.; Bedient, Lemoyne E., Warren, Ore., N.; Beilfuss, Harry R., Red Wing, Minn., N.; Belretz, Charles N., Sgt., '27, Kingston, Pa., discharged, A.; Bilger, William R., Bellevue, Ky., N.; Birx, Henry L., Linthicum Heights, Md.

Bodoh, Robert E., Ens., ex. '47, Marshfield, Wis., N.; Bogdziewicz, Michael, Jersey City, N. J., M.M.; Bonner, William J., Evanston, Ill., N.; Bonnot, John T., Pvt. Canton, O., A.; Boothby, George S., Abington, Mass., N.; Braun, James W., Ens., '45, Athens, Wis., N.; Brauweller, Jean R., Ens., ex. '47, Chicago, N.; Bresnahan, John C., A/S, '45, Lawrence, Mass., N.; Brink, Leonard C., Ens., Fosston, Minn., N.; Brocato, Joseph V., Merigold, Miss., N.; Broscha, Nell J., Ens., ex. '47, Hudson, S. D., N.; Broun, LeRoy R., Ens., '45, Los Angeles, Calif., N.; Brown, Edward S., Ens., ex. '47, Lawrenceville, Ill., N.; Bruno, Fred C., Red Bank, N. J., A.; Bryant, John R., Gibson City, Ill., N.

Buckley, Brian J., Ens., Chicago, N.; Burke, James E., Ens., ex. '47, Cincinnati, O., N.; Burke, John F., Ens., Lombard, Ill., N.; Burleigh, Calvin H., Biddeford, Me., Discharged,

* Increasing names and decreasing available space combined to make necessary a condensation in this section of the "Alumnus," with the result that you see here in the 238 names listed. It should be recalled that a name is used only once in "Additional Service Men," when the Alumni Office first hears that the man is in service.

Many of the men listed here are former V-12 students in the University. Since their status as alumni remains to be defined, a class year for each of them has been omitted.

A.; Burns, Richard F., Pvt., ex. '46, Beloit, Wis., A.; Bushert, Craig V., Ens., ex. '47, Bethany, Ill., N.

C

Cahill, John J., Ens., ex. '47, Albany, N. Y., N.; Caldwell, Joseph M., Pvt., Beaufort, S. C., A.; Callan, Leo D., Florence, N. Y., N.; Campbell, Harrison S., Ens., ex. '47, Lincoln, Neb., N.; Cannava, Anthony L., Medford, Mass., N.; Cannon, George W., Ens., '36, North Muskegon, Mich., N.; Caplan, David R., Ens., Peoria, Ill., N.; Carey, Matthew G., Ens., ex. '47, Rapid City, S. D., N.; Carey, Robert J., Ens., Knox, Ind., N.; Carmola, Anthony A., Dover, O., N.; Carsington, Wilburn A., Vanceburg, Ky., N.; Cartwright, Charles C., Ens., ex. '47, Indianapolis, Ind., N.; Cassidy, Edward W., Jeffersonville, Ind., N.; Cassidy, John J., Pvt., ex. '47, Norfolk, Va., A.

Castle, William E., '45, Lockport, N. Y., N.; Cathcart, John W., Jr., Harrisburg, Ill., N.; Cattle, Jules J., Ens., ex. '46, Philadelphia, Pa., N.; Cavanaugh, William T., Pvt., Bonner Springs, Kans., A.; Champlin, Robert E., Ens., Ames, Ia., N.; Chapin, Roger L., Fremont, Ind., N.; Cirillo, William J., Brooklyn, N. Y., N.; Clark, Joseph C., Ens., Pontiac, Mich., N.; Clark, William M., Ens., ex. '47, Ernest, Pa., N.

Coffey, James J., Lt., '39, Springfield, Mass., A.; Colver, Robert W., Mishawaka, Ind., N.; Comstock, William H., Ens., Springfield, Ill., N.; Conlon, James C., Ens., Union Mills, Ind., N.; Connell, Robert E., Pvt., Houston, Tex., A.; Connors, James J., Patchogue, New York, N.; Corblitt, John E., Ens., Bloomington, Ill., N.; Corrigan, John T., 1st Lt., '35, Wauwatosa, Wis., A.; Costa, Joseph S., Spring Valley, Ill., A.; Cowan, John W., Ens., Nashville, Tenn., N.; Cox, Robert D., '45, River Forest, Ill., N.

Craney, Marion J., Indianapolis, inactive duty, N.; Cronin, Mark A., Ens., ex. '46, Chicago, N.; Crowe, Timothy J., Ens., ex. '46, Chicago, N.; Crowell, Donald J., Pvt., Cincinnati, O., A.; Crowley, John F., 2nd Lt., ex. '44, Elkhart, Ind., M.; Crowley, John R., Ens., ex. '45, Hingham, Mass., N.; Cutt, Michael J., Ens., ex. '46, Tonawanda, N. Y., N.; Cutter, Robert F., Ens., ex. '47, Aurora, Ind., N.

D

Daley, Donald L., ex. '47, Porterville, Calif., N.; Damewood, Kelsie J., Coburg, Ia., N.; Davidson, Ivan S., Chicago, N.; Davis, Francis J., ex. '47, San Diego, Calif., N.; Davis, Harlan W., Litchfield, Ill., N.; Deming, James R., Henderson, Tenn., N.; Dempsey, Raymond J., A/S, '44, Joliet, Ill., N.; DePauw, Ben M., Lake Forest, Ill., N.

Dickman, Donald E., Muskogee, Okla., N.; Diebolt, William E., Detroit, N.; Dillon, William R., 1st Lt., '36, Crafton, Pa., A.; Discher, Duaine M., Ens., Wausau, Wis., N.; Doerr, John H., Pvt., '43, Buffalo, N. Y., A.; Dolby, Bruce

A., Huntington, Ind., N.; Dowd, Edward J., Lt., ex. '45, Louisville, Ky., A.; Drennan, John P., Maywood, Ill., A.; Dues, Joseph J., Ens., Minster, O., N.; Duffy, Richard J., Salem, Mass., N.; Dvorscek, John, Ens., ex. '47, Chicago, Ill., N.; Dwyer, John T., St. Louis, Mo., N.

E

Edwards, Arthur M., Rt 3/c, ex. '46, Montclair, N. J., N.; Eich, Leonard H., Stockton, Ill., N.; Eilers, Carl J., Deadwood, S. D., N.; Elderkin, Charles J., Valley Stream, N. Y., N.; Emblom, William J., Ens., Seattle, Wash., N.; Endress, Frank T., Pvt., Evansville, Ind., A.; English, Leo B., Ens., '35, Toledo, O., N.; Evenson, Donald R., Cpl., ex. '46, Beloit, Wis.,

F

Fair, Arthur B., Jr., Natick, Mass., N.; Fauser, Donald L., Ens., Bucyrus, O., N.; Federer, Frank X., Lt., '32, Weehawken, N. J., A.; Fisher, Francis J., Keystone, Ind., N.; Fitzgerald, Arthur J., Ridgefield Park, N. J., A.; Fitzgerald, Raymond M., Westfield, Mass., N.; Fitzpatrick, Robert E., Brooklyn, N. Y., N.; Flood, Thomas R., Ens., ex. '47, Chicago, N.; Flynn, Edward E., Bridgeport, Conn., Discharged; Fox, Robert C., Pvt., Bucks County, Pa., A.; Francoeur, Adrien P., '40, Nashua, N. H., N.; Fredrickson, Byron S., Wauwatosa, Wis., N.; Freeman, Foster R., ex. '47, Lincoln, Neb., N.; Friday, William A., Ens., ex. '47, West Point, Miss., N.

Frye, Herbert J., S/Sgt., ex. '40, Cresline, O., Discharged, A.; Fuertges, F. William, Pvt. Bradford, Ill., A.; Furey, John J., Pfc., Medford, Mass., A.; Fuss, Arthur E., Ens., Floral Park, L. I., N. Y., N.

G

Gadek, Raymond J., Lt., '42, Raritan Township, N. J.; Gardner, Joseph F., Mt. Clemens, Mich., N.; Garry, Robert F., Terre Haute, Ind., N.; Gately, Leonard E., ex. '47, New Orleans, La., N.; Gellner, Lawrence W., Ens., ex. '47, Harrisburg, Pa., N.; George, John B., Pfc., ex. '45, Beloit, Wis., A.; Gibson, Jay E., 2nd Lt., '43, Mishawaka, Ind., A.; Gilbert, Edwin M., Glendale, Calif., N.; Giralidi, Arthur, Ens., ex. '47, Winters, Calif., Released from active duty, N.; Gish, Charles W., ex. '47, Delphi, Ind., N.

Glass, Nell M., Ens., ex. '47, Chicago, Ill., N.; Glenn, Earl F., Wheaton, Ill., Pvt., Discharged from service, A.; Gobel, Carl F., Ens., North Sacramento, Calif., N.; Goheen, Harry B., Pvt., Huntington, W. Va., A.; Gonwa, George J., '47, Chicago, Ill., N.; Goodman, Harold F., East Chicago, Ind., N.; Gorman, Richard F., Chicago, N.; Graham, Edward A., Pvt., '41, Sharon, Pa., A.; Greathhead, Arthur S., San Jose, Calif., Discharged; Greco, William R., Berwyn, Md., N.; Green, Timothy M., 2nd Lt., ex. '45, Hubbard, Neb., A.; Gross, Lawrence T., Lt. (jg), '34, Pleasantville, N. Y., N.; Grosscup, Benjamin C., 2nd Lt., Seattle, Wash., M.; Groves, John L., Flint, Mich., N.

Gunn, Edwin N., Chicago, Ill., N.; Gutowski, John F., Pvt., ex. '47, Gary, Ind., A.

H

Haesler, Joseph J., ex. '46, Upper Montclair, N. J., N.; Hanler, John J., North Platte, Neb., N.; Hall, Robert W., Ens., ex. '47, Kokomo, Ind., N.; Halpin, William G., Pvt., Brooklyn, N. Y., A.; Hannan, Emmett D., Paducah, Ky., N.; Hanses, Edward H., Chicago, Ill., N.; Hanson, Alfred O., Ens., Clark, S. D., N.; Harman, Paul L., Pvt., Toledo, O., A.; Harrington, John H., Findlay, O., A.; Harris, Robert C., Ironwood, Mich., N.; Harshberger, Floyd W., Minot, N. D., N.

Heberer, Charles W., Birmingham, Mich., N.; Hendershott, Calvin L., Ens., Orwell, O., N.; Hengel, Edward D., Lt., '41, Union, N. Y., A.; Hennessey, Thomas W., Lawrenceville, Ill., N.; Hennings, Harvey A., Rhinelander, Wis., N.; Hessert, William R., Pvt., Larchmont, N. Y., A.; Heyvaert, John C., ex. '46, South Bend, Ind., Discharged, N.

Higgins, Dennis C., Spokane, Wash., A.; Hill, James J., S 2/c, '42, Superior, Wis., N.; Hogue, John L., Ens., ex. '46, Russell, Kan., N.; Hohler, Richard C., ex. '46, Sandusky, O., N.; Holthouse, James A., Ens., ex. '46, Decatur, Ind., N.; Holtman, Gregory A., Cincinnati, O., N.; Hoy, Robert J., Ann Arbor, Mich., N.; Hudson, Robert F., Toledo, O., N.; Hufnagel, Louis J., Richmond, Ind., N.; Hull, Owen R., Weston, Mo., N.; Huntoon, Daniel A., Medford, Mass., N.; Hurley, James E., Pvt., Westfield, N. J., A.; Hutchins, Francis H., Milford, Mich., N.

I

Illiff, Robert E., Montclair, N. J., N.

J

Jehring, Robert B., Ens., '41, Muscatine, Ia., N.

K

Kaley, Joseph J., Lt., '35, Milton, N. Y., Discharged, M.; Kaltenbach, Joseph C., 1st Lt., '41, Wheeling, W. Va., A.; Katz, William, Lt., ex. '45, Teaneck, N. J., Deceased, A.; Kegelmayer, Carl J., '41, Columbus, O.; Kelly, Cyril J., Lt., ex. '45, Crystal Lake, N. D., N.

Kennedy, Joseph D., Pfc., ex. '45, Norton, Kans., A.; Kennedy, Thomas L., Lt., '39, Hazleton, Pa., N.; Kerns, Arthur V., S 2/c, '36, Saginaw, Mich., N.; Kerns, Cyril B., '39, Saginaw, Mich., Discharged, N.; Kerns, Edward A., Sgt., '34, Saginaw, Mich., A.; Klein, Daniel L., Lt. (jg), '43, Huntington, W. Va., N.

L

Long, Charles W., Sgt., '31, Auburn, N. Y., A.

M

McMahon, James D., Cpl., Anaconda, Mont., A.; Miller, William E., 1st Lt., '35, Lockport, N. Y., A.; Moore, Norbert P., '42, Bolivar, N. Y., N.; Morrison, Charles G., Ph.M., ex. '30, Cleveland, O., N.

N

Neffinger, Norbert A., Lt. (jg), ex. '45, Hampden, Mass., N.

O

O'Connell, Richard E., Cpl., '41, Marshall, Minn., A.; O'Loughlin, Howard E., Cpl., ex. '45, Billings, Mont., A.; O'Rourke, James S., Cpl., ex. '44, Billings, Mont., A.

P

Persons, George F., ex. '47, Elyria, O., N.; Pettilo, Joseph J., Pfc., ex. '47, Ashbury Park, N. J., Killed in Action, M.; Podesta, Eugene J., Memphis, Tenn., N.; Prendergast, John G., '30, Baltimore, Md., N.

R

Rock, Martin J., Lt., '42, Roberts, Ill., A.; Rohrer, John A., Lt., ex. '45, Niagara Falls, N. Y., A.; Rutz, Donald P., Berwyn, Ill., N.

S

Sanders, Edward J., A/S, ex. '47, Omaha, Neb., N.; Sanderson, Raymond J., Sgt., Minneapolis, Minn., M.; Sauerwein, Albert W., Pfc., Buffalo, N. Y., A.; Schmitt, John R., Houston, Tex., A.; Shotwell, John W., Lt. (jg), ex. '43, Fargo, N. D., N.; Shriwise, Clare F., Jetmore, Kans., N.; Shriwise, Wayne A., Ens., '43, Hollywood, Calif., N.; Smith, Terence J., 1st Lt., '40, New Orleans, La., A.; Smith, William B., ex. '45, Reisterstown, Md., N.; Snarski, Eugene M., Pvt., North Chicago, Ind., A.; Squires, Rollin L., Lincoln, Neb., N.; Sutter, Laurence J., Pvt., Akron, O., A.

T

Tehan, Harold F., Sgt., ex. '45, Rock Falls, Ill., A.; Tille, Raymond J., 1st Lt., '39, Mt. Vernon, O., A.

U

Unverzagt, Paul F., Pfc., ex. '44, Evansville, Ind., A.

W

Weber, John H., Pfc., '39, Galesburg, Ill., A.; Willenbrink, Robert H., Louisville, Ky., N.; Wolf, Robert N., Sgt., ex. '44, Chicago, A.

Y

Yeiser, John T., Lt. (jg), '33, Paducah, Ky., N.

Z

Zenner, Walter F., Holyoke, Mass., N.

LAETARE MEDAL

A tribute to the outstanding diplomatic service of Gardiner Howland Shaw, recipient of the Laetare Medal for 1945, was paid by Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., president, on Oct. 21, in a citation read at the presentation ceremonies in St. Patrick's Cathedral in Washington, D. C.

Father O'Donnell praised the exploits of Mr. Shaw "beyond the call of duty" and lauded his high achievement in the fields of diplomacy and charity. Mr. Shaw is a former Assistant Secretary of State.

"The transactions of the Department of State," declared the Notre Dame president, "are for the most part, and necessarily, shrouded in secrecy; yet they involve the most sacred principles of international justice and national honor. We live in an age when false theories of the nature of man and of the state have drained international morality of so much of its ancient force and vitality; an age when mankind has urgent need of statesmen who will uphold the principle of human rights though the heavens fall. There are pretty well defined rules of war, at least on paper. . . . But when the brazen dialectic of the battlefield has brought the issues of war to a decision, and men set down to decide the problems of peace, it is difficult to find a common philosophy and morality as a basis for their deliberations."

"We are very sure, sir," said Father

O'Donnell, "both from your life and from your public utterances, that in your office as counselor in the affairs of state, you were ever guided by those fundamental Christian principles which are the only hope and basis for lasting peace among nations; and as far as you were able to influence the action of government, it was always toward a recognition of and respect for those same Christian principles. It is for this that we point to you as a noble example of public servant. . . ."

Lauding the work of Mr. Shaw for the delinquent boy, Father O'Donnell emphasized that "you have always made it clear in your teaching and practice that the driving force behind all successful social work is a recognition of the spiritual value of the individual which flows from the Heart of Christ who went about doing good."

Most Rev. John M. McNamara, DD., V.G., Auxiliary Bishop of Baltimore and Washington, presided at the ceremonies and presented the medal to Mr. Shaw. Very Rev. Lawrence J. Sheehan, D.C., pastor of St. Patrick's Cathedral, served as master of ceremonies.

The presentation was followed by a reception in the Carlton Hotel, sponsored by the Notre Dame Club of Washington, D. C. (See club news, this issue.)

TESTIFIES BEFORE COMMITTEE

Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., president, on Oct. 19, appeared before a senatorial committee in Washington, D. C., to testify in behalf of the Magnusson bill on legislation for a national research foundation.

Father O'Donnell testified as a member of the Committee on Science and the Public Welfare of the Office of Scientific Research and Development (See October, 1945, ALUMNUS).

Father O'Donnell pointed out in his testimony that, while the Magnusson bill may suggest a departure from the traditional relationship of American universities to the government, changing times of necessity bring corresponding changes in methods.

"Even in the instance of the legislation which you are now considering," he said, "I declare categorically that I support the measure for one reason, and one reason only. In view of what is happening in the world, I believe that it is necessary for the national defense. If it were not for this consideration, I would oppose unalterably government assistance."

ATHLETICS

By Raymond J. Donovan, '42

BULLETIN

Notre Dame lost to Great Lakes, 39-7, in the final game of the season for both teams, giving the Irish a gratifying 1945 record of seven won, two lost and one tied. As of Dec. 1, Great Lakes was one of the country's greatest teams. Notre Dame on the other hand showed the results of a rugged campaign and, particularly, of the five straight games "on the road," starting with Navy and Army. Even the deep desire of the squad to win for Hugh Devore in his last game as Notre Dame's head coach could not provide enough impetus for a victory.

FOOTBALL

Students, alumni, fans and sports writers are still singing the praises of Coach Hugh Devore and the 1945 Fighting Irish who displayed one of the most remarkable flares of spirit in Notre Dame athletic history to finish the season among the top elevens in the nation.

Hughie started the season with one of the biggest question-mark teams in the Midwest. Seasoned with a few veterans such as guards Fred Rovai and John Mastrangelo, end Bob Skoglund, quarterback and captain Frank Dancewicz, tackle Pete Berezney and half-back Elmer Angsman, Devore and his assistants were forced to rely principally upon untested freshmen. And based upon the outstanding record of 7 wins, 1 loss and 1 tie entering the Great Lakes game, his freshmen and veterans alike came through in a manner which could only be hoped for.

Phil Colella, freshman naval dischargee who was playing in his first collegiate game at left halfback for the Irish, broke off tackle on the first play of the game against a favored Illinois team for a 76-yard touchdown gallop. Stanley Krivik, discharged AAF pilot, calmly drop-kicked the extra point and that was all the Irish needed for a 7 to 0 victory. The Notre Dame forward wall displayed tremendous courage as they outcharged the Illini and held for downs on three different goal line stands, one within inches of the promised land.

Again the following week, the Devoremen journeyed south to Atlanta no better than an even bet against a promising Georgia Tech razzle-dazzle attack. The Engineers tallied first and led, 7 to 0, early in the initial period, but that was all in the way of scoring for the southerners. Notre Dame opened with an aerial attack by Frank Dancewicz and at the end of the tilt were using third and fourth stringers to win going away, 40 to 7.

Coach Tuss McLaughry brought a weak Dartmouth eleven into Notre Dame Stadium and the Irish trotted every physically-sound member of the squad into the tussle in an attempt to hold down the score. Phil Colella took a pass from Dancewicz on the opening play of the game for a touchdown, and from this point it was strictly no contest. Final score: Notre Dame, 64; Dartmouth 0.

Pittsburgh's Panthers, upset the week before the Notre Dame game by Michigan State, dug in with determination in an effort to turn back the Irish, and battled the Blue and Gold on nearly even terms during the first half. Notre Dame was forced to capitalize on a fumble and an intercepted pass to maintain a 12 to 2 advantage. The second half was a different story; both the passing and running attacks of the Irish began to function with utter effectiveness and the Notre Dame machine rolled into a 39 to 2 lead before Pitt tallied on a desperation pass in the closing seconds to make the final count 39 to 9.

It wasn't a very happy homecoming for Notre Dame alumnus and former basketball coach Clem Crowe, '26, as he led a youthful Iowa eleven against the Irish. Coach Devore vainly tried to spare Crowe's Hawkeyes; he even had the Irish punting on third down and using only three elementary plays in the second half. But the Hawks just didn't have it and took a 56 to 0 pasting.

Notre Dame, at this point rated No. 2 in the nation behind mighty Army, placed a five game winning streak on the block against potent Navy in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium. The Irish line turned in their best performance of the season and for better than three quarters the Notre Dame eleven still boasted a perfect record. Frank Ruggerio, though he suffered a badly cut chin, early in the first period, drove over for a touchdown in the initial quarter to give Notre Dame a 6 to 0 lead. Stan Krivik's dropkick for the extra point was blocked. This margin held up until late in the fourth quarter, when a pass from Dancewicz to Skoglund was intercepted by the Middies' Clyde Scott who dashed down the sidelines for a Navy touchdown to knot the count. Navy's try for the point was wide.

With less than two minutes remaining in the ball game, George Ratterman tossed a tremendous pass to freshman

1945 N D FOOTBALL RECORD

Notre Dame 7, Illinois 0
 Notre Dame 40, Georgia Tech 7
 Notre Dame 34, Dartmouth 0
 Notre Dame 39, Pittsburgh 9
 Notre Dame 56, Iowa 0
 Notre Dame 6, Navy 6
 Army 48, Notre Dame 0
 Notre Dame 34, Northwestern 7
 Notre Dame 32, Tulane 6
 Great Lakes 39, Notre Dame 7

Won 7; lost 2; tied 1. Total points: 255; opponents' total points 122.

The students, left, greet the team, right, as it returns from the 48-0 defeat by Army.

Bill Leonard who was pulled down from behind on the Navy 15. On the next play, Dancewicz dropped back and threw a perfect pass to Colella in the corner for what many observers thought was a touchdown. The officials ruled, however, that Navy's Tony Minisi had thrown Colella out of bounds before the ball crossed the goal line, and, although it was obvious that Phil's feet were across into pay dirt, the Irish had been deprived of a winning score. The Navy line stiffened and Dancewicz was inches short of a touchdown on a line buck. Terry Brennan was stopped on the final play of the game through center and Notre Dame had to be satisfied with a deadlock.

History repeated itself in Yankee Stadium as undefeated Notre Dame and equally unblemished Army met to decide national supremacy. Very early in the game, Elmer Angsman fumbled and Army recovered, deep in Irish territory. Davis promptly circled end for the first score of the game. Notre Dame stiffened at this point and for the remainder of the quarter actually had the Cadets on the defensive deep in their own territory. Blanchard and Davis, Army's touchdown twins, were not to be throttled, however, and the West Point power and reserve strength began to tell as the Cadets scored almost at will in the second half to win, 48 to 0.

A vastly improved Northwestern eleven was unfortunate in catching the Devoremen on the rebound and what was expected to be a nip and tuck affair turned into a virtual rout. The Wildcats marched all over Dyche Stadium in the first quarter, but twice the Irish line stiffened inside the 20 yard line. From this point on, with Chicagoan Elmer Angsman playing his greatest game of the year, Notre Dame was not to be denied. The Irish gained a 27 to 0 lead before Northwestern scored and Notre Dame forged to the sixth win of the season, 34 to 7.

Monk Simon's Tulane Green Wave had played "hot-and-cold" ball all season long and, although they were noted for their upset wins, the southerners were no match for the Irish as the two teams met before the largest crowd ever to see a regularly scheduled football game in the South. Notre Dame was at full strength for the first time since the Navy game. Tulane led at the half, 6-0, but Notre Dame's all-around strength made the second half a runaway.

BASKETBALL

Elmer Ripley, on leave of absence from Georgetown University, made his debut as Notre Dame's new head basketball coach when the Irish opened their season, playing Camp Atterbury. Ripley was named head coach when Clem Crowe, '26, left to accept the position as head football coach at Iowa University.

The Irish entered the 1945-46 campaign with a veteran-studded quintet, including all five starters from the 1944-45 season. In addition, Leo Klier, All-American forward during the 1943-44 season, was discharged from the Navy and has returned to school.

The starting lineup for the initial game was expected to include Vince Boryla, who shattered all individual scoring marks last season and who recently resigned from the U. S. Naval Academy, at center; George Ratterman and Klier at forwards; and Billy Hassett and Johnny Dee at guards. Frank Gilhooley, a regular last year, also will see plenty of action, as will Joe Sobek, who recently returned from the service.

The team will play 10 games at home and 12 on the road, including three in Chicago Stadium.

The schedule follows:

Dec.	8	Atterbury	Here
	11	Chanute Field	Here
	15	Wisconsin	Here
	19	St. Louis	Here
	22	Purdue	Here
Jan.	2	Purdue	There
	5	DePaul	Here
	11	Great Lakes	There
	14	St. Louis	There
	18	Great Lakes	Chicago Stadium
	22	Marquette	Here
	26	Kentucky	There
	31	Michigan State	Here
Feb.	2	Northwestern	Chicago Stadium
	7	Canisius College	There
	9	N. Y. U.	There
	13	Iowa Pre-Flight	Here
	16	Marquette	There
	20	Michigan State	There
	23	DePaul	Chicago Stadium
	26	Northwestern	Here
Mar.	2	Detroit	There

Colella takes a 47-yard pass from Dancewicz in the Illinois game.

ALUMNI CLUBS

Central New York

Henry T. Hickey, '38, 308 Cayuga St., Syracuse, Pres.; Hawley E. Van Swall, '41, 1202 Harrison St., Syracuse, Sec.

The Central New York Club met on Nov. 2 at the University Club of Syracuse for lunch and to listen to the Navy game.

Four of the boys home from service and discharged who were to attend: Jack McAuliffe, '39, Tom Walker, '39, Robert Cox, '41, and Babe Putnam, '41. Also expected were: Dan Williams, '31, Johnny Nyikos, '27, Mark Moon-ey, '27, Leo Kelley, '21, Bill Byrne, '36, Fred DeLany, '30, Vincent Brown, '23, Rev. John Harrison, '41, and Rev. Frank Harrison, '33.

Bob Cox, '41, and I were at the Dartmouth Club smoker previous to the Syracuse-Dartmouth game. Milt Piepul, '41, invited us and it certainly was good to see him. He looks fine and is doing a wonderful job as assistant coach of Dartmouth. All the Dartmouth alumni told me he was extremely well liked by all fellow players, coaches and student body.

Hawley Van Swall.

Central Ohio

Louis C. Murphy, '33, 2357 Livingston Ave., Columbus, Pres.; Daniel F. Cannon, '30, 8 East Broad St., Columbus, Sec.

At the Seneca Hotel, Columbus, we had a farewell luncheon for Lt. Col. Robert B. Rior-dan, '24, about to leave Ft. Hayes for service in the Pacific. Those present besides Col. Rior-dan, were Lt. John S. Mortimer, Ray J. Eichenlaub, John R. Murphy, Joseph E. Ryan, Leon J. Weichel, Tom J. Sheehan, Bud Murphy, Phil Prendergast, Rev. Otis Winchester, Rev. George Belting, Bernard Conroy and Karl Muttersteck. A proposed club scholarship was discussed.

Jack Hanlon was released from the Army at Drew Field, Fla., and is now in Columbus at 1824 Wilson Ave. Ray Eichenlaub's son, a former German prisoner of war, has returned. Harry Nestor's son was in Burma and was apparently to be there for some time.

To any alumni in Columbus, or passing through, we extend an invitation to attend our luncheon at the Seneca Hotel every Monday.

Dan Cannon

Chicago

John W. Dorgan, '29, 10 S. La Salle St., Pres.; Thomas S. McCabe, '22, 11 S. La Salle St., Sec.

Tom Byrne, '28, of Cleveland, president of the Alumni Association, was a recent visitor to the Chicago club offices. Bill Ginder, '31, president of the Western Pennsylvania Club, also stopped in when he was in the city.

The following Notre Dame servicemen have returned to civilian life in the Chicago area: Ed Slack, '40, Jack Segerson, '44, John Fender-gast, '35, Tom Liston, '40, Carl Quinn, '40, John Lucas, '41, Paul Rice, '39, Jim Lauerman, '41, John Kiple, '34, John Monaco, '38, Albert Del Zoppo, '41, Dick Mizerski, '40, Vince Giesler, '40, Lawrence Petroschius, '41, Joe Dorgan, '37, Vince Ducey, '28, Joe McCabe, '30, Arnold Maes, '39, Paul Kelley, '39, Harry McDonagh, '39, Frank O'Dowd, '42, Herb Clark, '43, Merv Bagen, '42, and Frank Downs, '31.

Please advise the club of any Notre Dame veterans in hospitals in the Chicago area. The club has been privileged to meet Bob O'Callag-han of Ironwood, Mich., now at Hines Hospital. The club arranged to have Bob attend a game of the recent World Series and also to attend the Northwestern-Notre Dame football game.

Delaware

J. Fendall Froning, '37, 416 Geddes St., Wilmington, Pres.; John E. Reith, '41, 1015 Park Place, Wilmington, Sec.

The club is expanding its activities lately in keeping with recent requests from the Univer-sity. A committee has been appointed to handle job applications by returning Notre Dame serv-icemen. A committee for "Religion and Citi-zenship," headed by Tom Degman, has been formed to study means of increasing the Cath-olic Action of the club members.

Plans for the Universal Notre Dame Com-munion Sunday, Dec. 8, are under way, with Bob Thomas in charge. Russ Kurtz and Joe McIntosh have put their athletic talents to work and are now coaching a Catholic boys high school in Jersey—expect to send some talent to Notre Dame soon (too late for the Army game). The next meeting will be held at the duPont Country Club at Penns Grove, N. J., to accommodate the "other side of the track" club members.

Walt Cordes and wife were in town the week-end of Nov. 3, down from Gracelli in New Jersey. Report is that Wil Anzilotti will be back in town soon—and right after buying a home in Louisville.

John E. Reith

Detroit

Norman J. Fredericks, '35, 1486 Gratiot Ave., Pres.; John T. Annas, '35, 16514 La Salle, Sec.

The football trip to Cleveland on the D & C boats was a tremendous success. We had one boat with only alumni as passengers and we had to charter another boat to take care of the overflow crowd and the friends of Notre Dame in Detroit.

John T. Annas

Fort Wayne

Paul Sagstetter, '25, 203 W. Sherwood Terrace, Pres.; Paul De Wald, ex. '39, 932 W. Berry St., Sec.

Harry G. Hogan, '04, the vocational chair-man for the club as well as the nationally known chairman of the Veterans Aid Com-mission of Ft. Wayne, addressed the club at its luncheon meeting on Oct. 15 on various aspects of assistance for returning veterans.

The following club committees were an-nounced by President Sagstetter:

Robert Eggeman, chairman assisted by: Maurice DeWald, Frank Hogan, Art Miller, Norb Schenkel, and Bernard Kearns.

Religion and Citizenship—Herman Centlivre, chairman assisted by: Paul Venderly, Harry Humbrecht, Frank McCarthy, Gerald Morsches, Paul Schrantz, and Ed Sullivan.

Veterans' Aid Committee—Harry Hogan, chairman assisted by: Donnelly McDonald, Leslie Logan, Henry Hasley, John Carton, Thomas McKiernan, Louis Woodka, Louis F.

Niezer, Fred Schoppman, Dr. J. L. Wyatt, III, John Williams, and Paul DeWald.

Sick committee—Paul Venderly, chairman assisted by: Tom Hoylan, and Joseph Madden.

Publicity Committee—Phil Nicur, chairman: Paul DeWald.

At a meeting on Oct. 30, the Catholic pastors of the city met at luncheon with a Notre Dame group to discuss further the part of local Notre Dame alumni in aiding returning veterans. William R. Dooley, assistant alumni secretary, who is in charge of the Notre Dame vocational program nationally, outlined the veterans' work which he is directing, and each of the pastors spoke briefly. President Sagstetter presided and Mr. Hogan was the toastmaster.

The following Notre Dame men were named to participate in the General Council which will coordinate the aid to veterans in the Cath-olic parishes: Henry Hasley, chairman; John Carton, Donnelly P. McDonald, Paul De Wald, Louis Woodka, Fred Schoppman and John Williams.

Kentucky

Marion Heffernan, '28, 1830 Frankfort Ave., Louisville, Pres.; Eugene J. Steuerle, '23, Kentucky Home Life Bldg., Louisville, Sec.

At our October meeting we were pleased to have with us again S/Sgt. John Bannon, '32, who had served three and a half years with the army. At the same meeting Lt. Bill Woer-ner, '38, also dropped in for his first meeting after serving four years in the Army Air Corps. We are all glad to see our old friends and trust that we shall soon have our full member-ship once again.

Bill Bosler has again been kind enough to contact the University of Kentucky and has secured for the club a block of tickets for the Kentucky-N. D. game in Louisville, Jan. 26.

At our dinner meeting of Dec. 13, Jim Arm-strong, alumni secretary, will be the guest of the club and the principal speaker. We have also invited to this meeting the heads of the three local high schools, together with several representatives of the respective graduating classes.

M. J. Heffernan

Milwaukee

Edward J. Rogers, '25, 709 N. 11th St., Pres.; Roderick E. Sullivan, '24, 4432 N. Woodruff Ave., Sec.

The club held a luncheon at the Miller Inn to listen to the broadcast of the Army-Notre Dame game. There were 22 present, 21 of whom were alumni and one, an Army man, who was the only one who had anything to cheer about. There were several new faces present, which is gratifying as some of them had responded to our request to make their presence in Milwaukee known to the officers. We know that our mailing list is still incom-plete and we hope that others will send in their names to the secretary so that they can be notified of future activities of the club.

The luncheon was ably chairmanned by Harold Watson, a very busy man. Indeed, Harold, in addition to teaching a course in Public Speak-ing at one of the local high school's evening Opportunity Schools for adults, is very active in his parish Holy-Name Society. He also has been making speeches at the various plants in this area in connection with the present War Bond campaign.

The following were among those present: Eddie Rogers, Dad Pearson, Bill Brown, Frank Holdampf, John B. Nichols, Tom Hoene, Joe Slattery, Dr. John Dundon, John Clauder, Charlie O'Neill, John Burke, Tom Dixon, Harold Watson, Rod Sullivan, Doucette, Casper, Beery, Leroy, Mr. Walburg from West Point and a few late comers whose names I did not get.

On Sept. 17, the officers met at Eddie Rogers' home to study the results of the questionnaire mailed to the club members during the summer. The responses showed a preference for dinner meetings and dinner dances and plans have been made to hold these events during the coming months, a chairman being appointed for each event.

Dr. John Dundon and Bill Brown are taking a course in Philosophy at the Notre Dame Convent here.

Gene Galdabini, Harold Watson and myself bowl on different teams in the same Holy Name league, so we see each other nearly every Friday night. Rod Sullivan

New York City

James F. Dwyer, '26, 49 Wall St., Pres.;
John A. Hoyt, Jr., '33, 8 Whitehall Rd.,
Tuckahoe, Westchester Co., N. Y., Sec.

On Nov. 7, the Board of Governors had as its guest at a dinner meeting J. Arthur Haley, director of public relations for the University, and the board was complimented by Mr. Haley on the part that it was playing in alumni circles. He pointed out that our annual Reunion and Rally preceding the Army game had received favorable comments all over the country.

Directly after, the club held its monthly meeting at its headquarters in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Guest at this meeting was Col. Joe Tierney, who represents General Bradley in the Veterans Administration in New York. Colonel Tierney talked on the needs of the veterans and offered his personal services towards helping the veterans of the club obtain employment and other veterans' aids.

The club at this meeting distributed ten tickets for the Army game, the proceeds to be used in connection with the club's placement bureau and other related activities. Fifty additional tickets were distributed by lot among about 60 service men present.

On Nov. 9, the annual Reunion and Rally was held at the Waldorf-Astoria. Preceding the Rally, the Board of Governors held a reception for distinguished friends and benefactors of the University. Father Hugh O'Donnell, president, was present.

The Rally itself drew approximately two thousand people from all over the country. They crowded all the ballrooms of the Waldorf, and the party was topped off by entertainment supplied by Ed Sullivan, famous New York columnist. Through the efforts of Lt. Cmdr. Bernie Donoghue, we had as one of our guest speakers, Cmdr. O'Callahan, chaplain of the ill-fated aircraft carrier, U.S.S. Franklin. Cmdr. O'Callahan was given a tremendous ovation.

The success of the Rally was largely due to the efforts and hard work of Tierney, O'Rourke and J. Harvey Daly, co-chairmen. They began preparations for this party in July and worked all through the fall.

Placement activities as for years past, are being carried on for the club by John T. Balfie, 60 E. 42nd St. The ticket distribution activity of this year, so well directed by Bob Hamilton, will aid immensely in providing a financial basis for the placement program. Notre Dame veterans and other Notre Dame men in need of employment aid are invited to see John.

John A. Hoyt, Jr.

Pacific Ocean Area

Ens. Thomas W. Fallon, '42, Pres.; Cpl. Wib Marshall, Sec.

On Aug. 12 about 45 of us Notre Dammers and our guests went to Sacred Hearts Academy for Solemn High Mass, breakfast and Benediction. Mass was celebrated in the Academy chapel by Father Martin Forhan (diocese of Springfield, Mass.), with the chaplain of the academy as deacon, and Father Albert Roy (Duluth, Minn.) sub-deacon. In attendance also were about 50 of the Sisters.

After Mass we were served breakfast in the refectory, at which Father Roy was the principal speaker, taking as his topic "Peace."

After breakfast we took a time for relaxation and for taking colored movies of the group. At about 1 p.m. we gathered at the chapel to begin a procession to accompany the Blessed Sacrament to the grotto for Benediction. On the way out we sang several hymns to the Blessed Virgin, and during Benediction we recited the Litany of the Blessed Virgin and sang "O Sanctissima" and other hymns.

After returning to the chapel—and while entering—we sang "On this Day, O Beautiful Mother," and concluded with "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name" and "The Star Spangled Banner." We then left for Bachelor Hall in Sacred Heart Parish where we held our regular monthly meeting.

At the September meeting we decided to have a picnic on Sept. 30. It will be an all day affair and will be at the C.Y.O. beach house at Haleaha, Oahu.

Willoughby M. Marshall

Saginaw Valley

Thomas F. Van Aarle, '21, Standard Oil Co., Saginaw, Pres.

I just had a call from Jack Zuber's wife. He is of the class of '31, and now a lieutenant (senior grade) in the Navy. She told me that he would be putting in at Norfolk, Va., and should be there for a few days. The three Kerns boys, Ed, Art and Cy are in the armed forces, with Cy expecting to be released soon. Joe Friske is, as you know, a captain in the Army Air Force.

Herb Schnettler, whom some of the old-timers will know, is busy with his "kraut plant" at this time of the year. I see Tom Van Aarle every once in a while. Harold Lappin and I get together for a game of cribbage as often as possible. When I don't see Joe Hart, I am able to keep track of him through his excellent sports column in the diocesan Catholic paper. Larry Strable is busy with his lumber business and I drop in for a chat with him now and then. Bob Witelger is out of the army and back at his old job with the United States Graphite Co.

Bill Hurley

St. Louis

Louis C. Fehl'g, '37, 7571 Buckingham Dr., Clayton, Mo., Pres.; Fred McNeill, '36, 8100 W. Florissant, Sec.

The fall activities of the club have been numerous and the participation good. Many members have become more active and things are really happening.

Our most energetic program of late was our annual scholarship activity. Chairman Jim Hill, '35, divided the club into the Gold, the Blue and the Green teams, which were led by Frank Tully '39, Paul Arnold, '38, and Frank Amato, '30, respectively. Each of these teams was broken into four squads, and the competition was keen among the 12 groups. The person lucky on Nov. 13 got two all-expense trips to Chicago for the Northwestern game.

The club sponsored a trip for some 150 members and their friends up to Chicago for that game. Al Ravarino '35, handled it and he deserves a "big hand" because it was a lot of work.

The board of directors, at its meeting, Oct. 5, inaugurated a committee to help returning veterans. Bob Heilung, '30, has taken on the responsibility of this work and everyone knows Bob will do a fine job. He is being assisted by Charles Giomi, '23, Francis Roth, '29, and Joe McGlynn, '12.

We are pleased to say that some of our boys are being released from service. Bill Cronk, Richard Karr, Gregg Keegan, Jack O'Neil, James O'Neal, Jack Sullivan, Leo J. Lewis, Dr. Bill White, and Gene Fehlig are all back in "civies" and before long we expect many more to be released. Dr. Bernard Crowley was home for a few days. He expects to be released from the Navy before the first of the year.

We lost one of our most active members and finest fellows recently when Jerome Arnold, '24, our last year's president, moved to Davenport, Ia., where he will take charge of the Lincoln National Life Insurance office in that area. We all hate to lose Jerry, but a universal wish of good luck from the St. Louis Club goes with him. The Tri-Cities area is getting a real Notre Dame man.

At our last general meeting a number of the students who are enrolled in Notre Dame attended and were the guests of the club. It is the intention of this club to have a closer relationship with the students.

Father William J. Ryan, S.J., our spiritual director, has been in St. John's Hospital, but latest reports are that he is out and is improving.

We'd like to mention our roster and give credit to its author, Frank X. Amato because it has proved so successful. Frank compiled the booklet about eight months ago and it has been very beneficial to all of the members. It contains the name, class, business and home address as well as phone numbers of everyone. It has done a lot to help to tie our club together. It will be revised annually but it is an established fact as far as the St. Louis Club is concerned.

We were pleased to note in the last "Alumnus" that Doc Gorrilla has given us a "plug" out on the West Coast. Doc has moved to California and established in the San Fernando Valley.

Fred S. McNeill

Washington, D. C.

Arthur J. Bergman, Pres.; Joseph L. Borda, Room 11-A, Senate Office Bldg., Sec.

The first meeting of the year was held on Sept. 19, at the Carlton Hotel. The principal speaker of the evening, Rip Miller of the Navy coaching staff, gave an interesting talk on the prospects of this year's Navy team and the wholesome rivalry between the Naval Academy, West Point and Notre Dame. Chairman Dutch Bergman, introduced the following members and guests: Senator Edward P. Carville, Bernie Voll, Coach Degroot of the Washington Redskins, Wayne Millner and Johnny Adams of the Redskins, and Judge Ambrose O'Connell.

On Oct. 11, a luncheon of the Board of Governors was held at the Carlton Hotel with Father John Cavanaugh, C.S.C., vice-president, as guest. Problems of mutual interest to the University and the local club were discussed.

On Oct. 22, a reception was held at the Carlton Hotel in honor of the recipient of the Laetare Medal for 1945, the Honorable G. Howland Shaw. This reception, which was held immediately following the presentation of the medal, was attended by Mr. Shaw; the president of the University, Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C.; the newly appointed dean of the College of Engineering, Dr. Karl Schoenherr; I. A. O'Shaughnessy, trustee of the University; Judge O'Connell, Senator Carville, Congressman Joseph O'Hara, Congressman Bob Grant and about 100 other club members and friends.

The club has outlined an attractive program for the year and invites all alumni resident in Washington who are not already on the mailing list to submit their names to the vice-president, George C. Howard, Jr., at 255 Fifteenth Street, N.W.

A large gathering of club members and friends met at the Carlton Hotel on Saturday, Nov. 3, 1945, to listen to the Notre Dame-Navy game. Door prizes were awarded to those attending. Judging from the response to this party, it is planned to hold similar parties throughout the year. Msgr. Sheehy, ex-Navy commander, who made such a great record in the service, was present. Judge Curran, U.S. District Attorney for the District of Columbia, Judge O'Connell and other prominent members of the local alumni club were present.

Joseph L. Borda

Western Pennsylvania

William H. H. Ginder, Jr., '31, 168 Broadway Dr., Pittsburgh 10, R. D. 6, Pres.; Rudy Crnkovic, '34, 820 E Ohio St., Pittsburgh 12, Sec.

The club's annual smoker held at the Royal York Hotel on the eve of the Pitt game attracted more than 200 alumni and friends. Coaches Hughie Devore, Jake Kline, Ken Stille and Joe Sheketsk and rival coach Clark Shaughnessy put in an appearance. Jim Armstrong, alumni secretary, had a reunion with local '25ers.

George Martinet, Charlie Montgomery and Ed Dean, were the Monongahela delegation while Sam Reed and Paul Puglia came in from Waynesburg.

The affair was a complete success, thanks to Fritz Wilson and Frank O'Donnell. And a bow to Bill Suehr and Dr. Dick O'Toole who ably managed the extra curricular activity.

John Patterson, '41, recently discharged from the Army, is back at the "Pittsburgh Press" as assistant editor. John Hickey, '31, John Pavlick, '34, Vince Burke, '33 and Ed Kasper, '33, are among others who are wearing new civvies.

Dr. J. Vick O'Brien, '98, recently retired as head of the music department at Carnegie Tech to devote full time to private instruction.

Bob Hartman returned from Washington where he had been connected with the Chemical Division of the WPB. Paul Baxter and Charlie (Pinky) Martin, are preparing for the auto-buying rush.

Dr. E. A. Dineen, '35, and Dr. George W. Katter, '41, now practicing in Pittsburgh, have been attending the club affairs this season.

Rudy Crnkovic

Members of the Pittsburgh Advertising Club are singing the praises of Dean James E. McCarthy, of the College of Commerce, who recently addressed a luncheon meeting at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Dean McCarthy's address, which was as timely as it was interesting, traced the causes of labor disputes stemming from a lack of understanding basic economics. The dean has been asked to return to Pittsburgh next month to speak before a meeting of the Builders' Exchange.

General Hershey, selective service director, was the principal speaker at the annual convention of the Industrial Hygiene Foundation, Mellon Institute. The excellent program was prepared by the untiring John F. McMahon, '28, executive director of the Foundation.

Dr. Leo O'Donnell, '17, and Fritz Wilson, '28, have been among the constant Notre Dame football fans this season having seen the Dartmouth, Pittsburgh, Army and Navy games.

Bill Sixsmith, '38, and Paul McArdle, '39, have also joined the new civilian ranks after Army discharges.

Jim Devlin, '33, reports a new baby and a new job in the order named. Item 1 is Juliet, Jim's second child. Item 2 is the position of credit manager of the Ohringer Furniture Store, McKeesport. Jim recently moved from Mountsview, W. Va., where he had managed a branch of the Lincoln Loan Co.

John Monteverde, '38, recently discharged as a lieutenant in the tanks corps, is general chairman of the Christmas Dance to be held Dec. 28 at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association. John is also gaining experience in preparing baby formulas for John, Jr., who put in his appearance last month.

The Club extends its deepest sympathies to Navy Lt. Ed. O'Brien, '34, whose wife died last month. Mrs. O'Brien, an alumna of St. Mary's of Notre Dame, is also survived by three children. Ed is stationed at Washington at present and is awaiting his discharge. Rudy Crnkovic

Western Washington

Robert I. Pigott, '32, 1114-21st Ave., N., Seattle, Pres.; Charles F. Osborn, Jr., '38, Bogle, Bogle and Gates, 603 Central Bldg., Seattle, Sec.

The club held its annual meeting on April 9, 1945, at the Washington Athletic Club, Seattle. President, Lt. Leo J. Cummings, U.S. N.R., presided with Charles F. Osborn, as secretary. In addition to the officers, those present included Edward M. Tobin, employed at the Boeing Aircraft Co., Edward L. Coghnan, attorney at Kent, Wash., Dr. Clarence W. Shannon, Joseph E. Horrigan, Harry A. Abel, Robert I. Pigott, N. M. Gies, W. H. Tierney, Lt. Fred P. Zietlow, Paul Beaudoin, Lt. Larry Danbom, George Britten, and Jack Lehman. Those heard from but unable to attend were Morris E. Starrett of Port Townsend, John F. Boespflug, Phil Hosterman, Frank J. McHugh, G. L. Nyere, John P. English, and Louis Dhoore.

At the conclusion of the meeting Bob Pigott was elected president and Charles F. Osborn was re-elected secretary.

Charles F. Osborn

LOUISIANA PREMIER

The premier of Notre Dame's football series in New Orleans was a gala weekend and indicative of big things ahead (even though I did come home with flu).

On Friday noon, in the St. Charles Hotel, I met with a small but representative group of alumni from Louisiana, Tennessee and Oklahoma, and plans were made for what looked like a better program in 1947. The announcement of the return game in 1946 simply speeds up the proposed coordination of the clubs in the South.

A visit to Sacred Heart Church, to Holy Cross College, a Tulane dinner, the N.D. Club cocktail party after the game, a testimonial dinner to Fred Digby, a long-awaited visit to the home of Patrick, '88, and Bolan, '28, Burke, together with a very welcome sight-seeing tour with Bill Johnston, '44, and a few side-trips to spots of interest really jammed a long-term program into a hospitable two days.

Charley de la Vergne and his nucleus of alumni are planning now with returning alumni from the service and the cooperation of the Holy Cross priests and Brothers, to stage a full-scale celebration in November, 1946.—J. E. A.

HENNION APPOINTMENT

George F. Hennion, '32, associate professor of chemistry and chemical engineering, has been appointed the first incumbent of the Julius A. Nieuwland professorship of chemistry.

The new professorship was founded by Father J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., president, and the council of Notre Dame in tribute to Julius A. Nieuwland, C.S.C., who became world famous in the field of chemistry.

Father Nieuwland, who died in 1936, came into prominence in World War I for his valuable contributions to the deadly military Lewisite gas. His best-known work was in connection with acetylene, leading to the invention of synthetic rubber known as Duprene and Neoprene. He also was prominent in the field of botany and it was announced recently that Dr. Theodor K. Just, former head of the Department of Biology at Notre Dame, had been appointed as the first incumbent of the Julius A. Nieuwland research professorship in botany.

Dr. Hennion came to Notre Dame in 1928 as a freshman student in chemical engineering and during his student days served as a student assistant to Father Nieuwland in the Department of Chemistry. He received a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering at Notre Dame in 1932, a master of science in chemical engineering in 1933 and a doctor of philosophy in 1935. During the period from 1932 to 1935, Dr. Hennion served as a graduate assistant in the Department of Chemistry and continued as assistant to Father Nieuwland. As an assistant he aided Father Nieuwland in research which led to the development of synthetic rubber. He accompanied the scientist to Akron, Ohio, on Nov. 2, 1931, when it was announced before the rubber section of the American Chemical Society that rubber had been prepared from Father Nieuwland's compound.

Since the death of Father Nieuwland, Dr. Hennion has carried on in chemistry of acetylene research and has conducted extensive research in synthetic organic chemistry. He has had numerous articles published, mostly in the fields of acetylene derivatives and reactions with boron fluoride.

In 1935, Dr. Hennion was appointed as instructor in chemistry and from 1938 to 1941 served as an associate professor of chemistry at the University. Since 1941 he has been an associate professor and also director of organic chemical research.

THE ALUMNI

Engagements

Miss Pearl Marie McGuire and William A. Walsh, Jr., '36.

Miss Dorita Louise Kirby and Lt. Kenneth F. Behn, USNR, '41.

Mrs. Shirley W. D'Andrea and John A. Janso, ex. '42.

Miss Carolyn Margaret Corcoran and Sgt. Richard C. Creevy, '43.

Miss Anne Frances Redmond and Dr. John E. Flynn, ex. '43.

Miss Irene Michaels and Francis C. Anderson, II, ex. '46.

Miss Mary Patricia McCormick and Robert J. Cunningham, ex. '47.

Marriages

Miss Lelia Nancy O'Brien and Lt. Cmdr. Norman J. Hartzler, USNR, '29, Los Angeles, Oct. 20.

Miss Jeanne Franklin Roberts and Dr. John B. Phillips, '37, New York City.

Miss Patricia Myers and Major John A. Scott, USMCR, '38, South Bend, Dec. 1.

Miss Angela Courter and Lt. (jg) James J. Raaf, USNR, '39, Notre Dame, Oct. 20. Jim's brother, Lt. (jg) Robert H. Raaf, USNR, '42, was the best man.

Lt. Ruth Evelyn Gaudig, USNR, and Lt. Patrick J. Brennan, USNR, '40, Notre Dame, Oct. 4. Joseph T. Pawlowski, '41, was the best man.

Miss Antoinette Cecilia Pfeiffer and Lt. Philip J. Sandmaier, Jr., '40, Indianapolis, Oct. 6.

Miss Errol Jean MacAdam, USNR, and Lt. William D. Gagan, Jr., USMCR, '41, Wailuku, Maui, T. H., Sept. 1.

Miss Loretta Maria Gorka and Ens. Edward J. Tomcik, Jr., USNR, '41, Notre Dame, Nov. 3.

Miss Bette M. O'Connell and Capt. Arthur J. Humby, AAF, '41, Hartford, Conn., July 10.

Miss Marion Louise Waldron and Lt. James B. Lancaster, '41, Macon, Ga., Oct. 27.

Miss Ruth A. Tierney and Joseph T. Neenan, '41, Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 6.

Miss Vivian O'Neill (daughter of the late Thomas F. O'Neill, '13, and sister of Thomas F. O'Neill, Jr., ex. '47.) and Lt. Charles M. Bransfield, USNR, ex. '41, Nov. 15, Rye, N. Y.

Miss Eleanor B. Barany and Thomas M. Gilroy, ex. '42, South Bend, Nov. 17.

Miss Florence Blackburn and Richard E. McHugh, '42, Manhattan, Ill., Aug. 25.

Miss Jane Antonello and Edward B. Dunigan, Jr., '43, Oak Park, Nov. 3.

Miss Mary Saggau, sister of Robert J. Saggau, '41, and Ens. George O. Hays, '43, Denison, Ia., Nov. 3.

Miss Frances Patricia Parish and Lt. (jg) Edward N. Murray, '43.

Miss Evelyn Marie Cressy and Cpl. Robert J. Firth, '44, Notre Dame, Sept. 17.

Miss Floy Gates Terstegge and Lt. (jg) James L. Meagher, USNR, '44.

Miss Rosemary Quinn and Charles J. Rogers, ex. '44, River Forest, Ill., Oct. 27.

Miss Elizabeth Kamm and Ens. Noel F. Digby, USNR, ex. '45.

Miss Marjorie Meuleman and 2nd Lt. Thomas R. Manuszak, ex. '45, South Bend, Nov. 3.

Miss Suzanne Iekel and Lt. (jg) William A. Carroll, Jr., ex. '46, Chevy Chase, Md., Oct. 24.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Clem F. Crowe, '26, announce the birth of a son, their tenth child, on Oct. 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Barnett, '29, announce the birth of Mary Ann, Oct. 18.

Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Hobart P. Shean, '31, announce the birth of Timothy Joseph, Sept. 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Sullivan, '31, announce the birth of Robert James, Sept. 8.

Lt. and Mrs. James K. Collins, USNR, '32, announce the birth of Molly Laurence, Nov. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Hechinger, '32, announce the birth of Lynda Jayne, Sept. 20.

Major and Mrs. Raymond J. Naber, '33, announce the birth of Mary Carole, Nov. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Snite, Jr., '33, announce the birth of a daughter, Sept. 29, their third child and third daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. O'Hara, '35, announce the birth of Kerry Leigh, Oct. 6.

Capt. and Mrs. Patrick J. Fisher, '36, announce the birth of Patrick James, Jr., Sept. 21.

Lt. and Mrs. John E. Kelley, '37, announce the birth of Elaine Marie, Oct. 20.

Lt. and Mrs. William J. Sharp, USNR, '37, announce the birth of William J., Jr., Oct. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Sullivan, '39, announce the birth of Kathleen Marie, Oct. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bertany, '40, announce the birth of Thomas Robert, Oct. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Dolan, '40, announce the birth of Jane Maureen, Sept. 17.

Lt. and Mrs. Francis B. Kennedy, '41, announce the birth of Janice Adair, Sept. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Pavetio, '41, announce the birth of Gerald Eugene, Jr., Oct. 3.

Ens. and Mrs. Bernard F. Brehl, '42, announce the birth of Robert Joseph, Oct. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Canale, '42, announce the birth of Daniel Doyle, Jr., Nov. 1.

Ens. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Gempel, '43, announce the birth of Kayleen Marie, Oct. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Marcini, '43, announce the birth of Joseph Roger, Sept. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Parchem, '44, announce the birth of Johanna Marie, Oct. 23.

Ens. and Mrs. Edward J. Schaaf, ex. '45, announce the birth of Mark Joseph, Nov. 16.

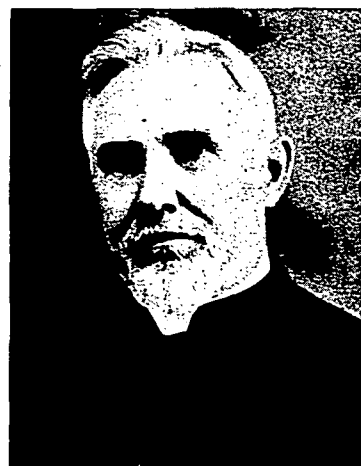

Deaths

The Most Reverend Timothy J. Crowley, C.S.C., D.D., '02, Bishop of Dacca, Bengal, India, died in the hospital in Calcutta on Oct. 2, according to information sent by the Rev.

Christopher Brooks, C.S.C., '12, acting religious superior of the Holy Cross missionaries in the Dacca Mission.

Under direction of U. S. Army doctors, located with Army aviation groups encamped near the episcopal city of Dacca in northeastern Bengal. His Excellency, Bishop Crowley, was persuaded to submit to an operation in late September. His condition disclosed to the doctors a past history of crucial suffering and a hopeless prognosis. The good Bishop never rallied from the operation and remained in coma almost all the time. When His Grace, Archbishop Spellman, of New York City, was in Calcutta and called at the bedside of the dying Bishop, there was a marked effort on Bishop Crowley's part to enter into the conversation. But the end was near, and he could go no further.

The Most Reverend Timothy J. Crowley, C.S.C., born in Kilmallock, County Limerick, Ireland, 65 years ago, received his preliminary training in the Congregation of Holy Cross at one of the houses of the Congregation in Bishop Crowley, C.S.C.

France. He made his novitiate in the United States, was graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1902 and was ordained to the priesthood in 1906. The same year he received his Ph.D., with major in English, from Catholic University, Washington, D. C. After one year in the classroom at the University of Notre Dame, the popular, young professor offered himself for work on the Foreign Missions of the Congregation of Holy Cross in Bengal, India. Going out to Bengal in the summer of 1907, Father Crowley labored unceasingly and tirelessly through 38 years for the extension of the Church in Bengal and Burma.

In 1916 Father Crowley was named vicar-general of the diocese of Dacca and in 1923 he was appointed superior of the Religious of Holy Cross in the missions. In 1927, when the diocese of Chittagong was separated from Dacca and entrusted to the Canadian Missioners of Holy Cross, Father Crowley was named co-adjutor bishop of Dacca with right of succession. He was consecrated titular bishop of Epiphania on May 1, 1927, and succeeded to the residential see of Dacca on Dec. 12, 1929, when Rome accepted the resignation of The Most Reverend Joseph Legrand, C.S.C., D.D.

As superior of the Religious of Holy Cross in the missions and later as bishop, The Most Reverend Timothy J. Crowley, C.S.C., D. D., displayed such a fatherly solicitude for the missionaries in his care that he drew from all a close affection and complete confidence. He knew the roughness of the road and, asking no consideration for himself, he was continually smoothing the path for others. As missionary there was no one in the mission whose zeal and self-sacrifice out-did his own. Even in the early years of his episcopacy, when held to his desk throughout the week by official tasks, interviews and correspondence, he would invariably be found at the week-end setting out for some jungle station. In later years when health and increasing burdens of office prevented these week-end visitations, the good bishop never turned down an invitation to be present even at the most distant outposts of the mission when there was a confirmation class to be attended or an Eucharistic Procession to be conducted.

His Excellency was a prolific writer and handled most of his heavy correspondence without the aid of a secretary right up to the end. More than once he was seen at his desk, head drooped on the unfinished letter and pen still lightly held in hand, as human nature could be driven no further and fatigue had claimed respite in sleep.

It will take years to get accustomed to thinking of Dacca Mission without Bishop Crowley. His spirit, however, will live on in the minds and hearts of the missionary priests, Brothers, Sisters, and Catechists who worked under his direction. As time dulls the pain of parting, missionary work in Dacca territory will go on in his memory, a fitting monument in the hearts of men. He was a man of God.

—(Rev.) Francis P. Goodall, C.S.C.

According to a note received from his sister, John T. Cullen, class of 1877, died on Dec. 11, 1944, in Lafayette, Ind.

Joseph P. Shiels, '00, Chicago, died in Chicago in September, according to word received in the Alumni Office from Father Matthew Walsh, C.S.C.

As was briefly made known in the October "Alumnus," John L. Corley, '02, Chesterfield, Mo., died Sept. 13 of heart disease. Mr. Corley was one of the oldest members of the Notre Dame Club of St. Louis and one of its most active. For many years, he was host at the club's annual summer picnic.

Mr. Corley was manager of the National Indemnity Exchange, a reciprocal automobile insurance exchange, and head of one of the most prominent Catholic families in the St. Louis area. He is survived by his widow, three daughters and five sons. Paul F. Koprowski, '31, M.A., '33, of Winona, Minn., is his son-in-law.

Dr. James P. Boylan, ex. '17, died in St. Clare's Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. Boylan was born in Brooklyn 50 years ago and attended the universities of Notre Dame, Colorado and Columbia. He was director of gynecology and attending obstetrician at St. Clare's Hospital.

Dr. Boylan also was assistant gynecologist at Vanderbilt Clinic, associate obstetrician at the out-patient department, New York Polyclinic Hospital, assistant clinical professor of obstetrics and gynecology at New York Medical College and assistant gynecologist at the House of Detention for Women. His mother and two sisters survive him.

Patrick M. O'Meara, '02-'09, architect of Catholic institutions throughout the midwest, died Oct. 26 of a respiratory ailment. Mr. O'Meara was 55 years old and lived in University City, Mo., suburb of St. Louis.

Senior member of the firm of P. M. O'Meara and Associates, St. Louis, which maintained offices in Detroit and Minneapolis, he specialized in designing schools, seminaries and hospitals for Catholic religious orders. Mr. O'Meara's work in St. Louis included the Mother House and School of Nursing of St. Mary's Hospital, the buildings at Villa Duchesne, the Carmelite Convent, St. Louis University Gymnasium and DePaul Hospital, for which his firm was awarded a Chamber of Commerce certificate of merit in 1932.

Harry V. Crumley, '03, Cincinnati, Ohio, who died on Aug. 27. Mr. Crumley was a brother of Rev. Thomas A. Crumley, C.S.C., '96.

Surviving Mr. O'Meara are his widow, two daughters and a son.

The "Alumnus" extends sincere sympathy to Judge J. Elmer Peak, '12, on the death of his mother; to Hugh Devore, '34, on the death of his mother; to Edward J. O'Brien, Jr., '34, on the death of his wife; to James J. O'Brien, '34, on the death of his father; to Andrew J. McMahon, '35, on the death of his father; to Henry Dewes, '44, on the death of his father.

PERSONALS

1910 REV. MICHAEL L. MORIARTY, 8215 St. Clair Ave., Cleveland, O.

Bill Schmitt, Portland, Ore., made his annual pilgrimage to the Midwest and East to look over the current football situation. In South Bend, Bill was the guest, as usual, of Jap Lawton and his family. At other points he saw Freddie Steers, Bill Kelleher, Father Mike Moriarty, Frank Cull, Harry Miller and the Scanlons (of Brooklyn), among others, and was in touch with Frank Walker of New York City and Ulric J. "Foot" Ruell of Holyoke, Mass. At the latest report, Bill was wavering between taking in the Tulane game and heading back at once for the Northwest.

1912 B. J. KAISER, 324 Fourth St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

A recent report from Lexington, Va., conveys the unfortunate word that Forrest Fletcher

ARE YOU OUT?

So that it can keep its records up-to-date and provide news for the "Alumnus," the Alumni Office would like to know about all alumni discharges from the armed forces. Will you, or some one in your family, oblige?

continues in ill health. He and his wife reside in their home on a corner of the Washington and Lee campus.

1917 B. J. VOLL, 206 E. Tutt St., South Bend, Ind.

The Dartmouth game drew among many other visitors Eddie Rogers, president of the Milwaukee Club, and Mrs. Rogers.

1919 CLARENCE W. BADER, 921 Broadway, Gary, Ind.

The class secretary, Chick Bader, is out of the Navy and back at the old stand in Gary. He was one of the multitude who were in at the sad event of Nov. 10 in N. Y. C.

1921 DAN W. DUFFY, 1600 Terminal Tower, Cleveland, Ohio.

From Dan Duffy came a clipping regarding Joe Brandy's son, Joe, Jr., who played some good football as quarterback on the Ogdensburg, (N. Y.) Free Academy football team this fall. Dan was in N. Y. C., for the Army game on Nov. 10.

14. Cmdr. Callix Miller, South Bend, has just added the extra half stripe to his collection. Callix is now stationed at Great Lakes, near Chicago.

1922 GERALD ASHE, 19 Dorking Road, Rochester, N. Y.

From Kid Ashe:

Our sympathies are directed to Jimmy Jones of Rochester, N. Y., in the recent death of his mother.

It is refreshing to note the constant loyalty to the University and to the class of 1922 of former athletes who never fail to respond to appeals for assistance. These men are not in the athletic limelight, today, but their past deeds in athletics are not forgotten, and their firm loyalty is inspiring, and worthy of special mention. The names of some of these men, together with the branch of sport in which they participated, are as follows:

Danny Coughlin, football and track; Jim Dooley, football; 14. Cmdr. John Kelley, track; Bob Phelan, football and track; Chet Wynne, football and track.

Perchance, you may be wondering about the present doings and whereabouts of these men. Here is our latest information: Danny Coughlin is editor of the "Waseca Herald," Waseca, Minn. Jim Dooley is in North Andover, Mass. 14. Cmdr. Kelley was aboard the Escort Carrier "U.S.S. Croatan" in the recent fleet review in New York City. Bob Phelan is in the insurance business, and lives in Denville, N. J. Chet Wynne has law offices at 10 South La Salle St., Chicago. Lawyer Jerry Dixon has joint offices with Chet.

Morgan Shedy of Carnegie-Illinois Steel, Detroit division, attended the Illinois game at Notre Dame. Paul Fiohl of Chicago also was in attendance.

We are saving ample space for news of our Dubuque, Ia., representatives—Clarence Zwack, Joe and A. Rhombert, also, Ralph Coryn of Moline, Ill.

The class of '22 ranks No. 14 in percentage of contributors to the Third Annual Alumni Fund.

Bernie McCaffery resigned, effective Dec. 31, his life appointment as South Bend postmaster to devote all his time to the McCaffery Company of which he is secretary-treasurer. The company wholesales electrical equipment within a radius of 65 miles of South Bend. Bernie has been postmaster since May, 1936.

Ray Black, an engineer for the West Penn Power Company, Connellsville, Pa., was one of the 2,000 at the Army game Rally on Nov. 9.

Eddie Anderson, recently discharged from the Army medical corps with the rank of major, returned to his home in Iowa City, but took no part in the coaching of the Iowa U. team this year. He will resume as head coach again next year.

1923 PAUL H. CASTNER, 26 Hoyt Ave., New Canaan, Conn.

A former Jap prisoner, Father John E. Duffy, promoted to lieutenant colonel, is/was in Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., and Major Fred Baechner, South Bend, medical corps, is stationed at Billings General Hospital, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

"Lt. Col. Jack Flynn, who was in Tokyo in September in charge of public safety for General MacArthur's military government staff, was flown to Korea early in October to set up a FBI patterned after that in the United States. He and his staff are billeted in a former Geisha House whose luxuries exceed even those of the Corby subway."—From a letter by John Montague, Chicago.

1924 J. F. HAYES, 393 - 7th Ave., Room 1515, New York City.

Charlie Molz, formerly of the Navy, is back in the editorial department of the "Detroit News."

1925 JOHN P. HURLEY, 2085 Brookdale Rd., Toledo, O.

John Hurley, the sec., is, you will note, back at the old stand, having generously served a long stretch with the Red Cross in Virginia.

Lt. Cmdr. Bill Cerney placed on the Navy's inactive list at Seattle, Wash., has returned to his home in South Bend with his wife and six children, who have been with him in Seattle since early summer.

Joe Shelly, assistant vice president of the Chicago Title and Trust Co., was appointed vice-chairman of the Victory Loan for Chicago and Cook County.

Prof. George Driscoll of the University is associate editor of "Kalends," published by the Engineers Club of the St. Joseph Valley.

Rip Miller, Navy line coach, has been selected as head coach of the Baltimore, Md., All-America pro team.

1926 VICTOR F. LEMMER, Box 661, Ironwood, Mich.

When he wrote Vic Lemmer on Oct. 17, Lt. Cmdr. Jay Masenich, USNR, New York City, expected to be out of the Navy by Dec. 1, or thereabouts. He was due for a leave of nearly 60 days and expected to take a vacation before going back to work.

Paul Johnson, lately of Detroit, is now with the Kingston Products Corp. in Indianapolis.

Cmdr. Frank Bon, the senior prexy, was nothing less than flag secretary to the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet when he wrote late in September. Frank's home address is 1818 Evans Ave., Cheyenne, Wyo.

All the '26ers, especially, were jubilant when Clem Crowe's Iowa team came through on Nov. 17 to take Minnesota by one point in the fourth quarter. Clem and his assistants, Bud Boeringer and Chuck Jaskwich, were of course downcast following the 56-0 Iowa defeat at Notre Dame on Oct. 27, and brother Ed Crowe from Detroit joined in at the gloom session in the dressing room after the game. But everybody, everywhere, agreed all through the season that Clem and his helpers had done the best possible job with the extremely limited material at their disposal.

And then, as if to clear away the gloom at once, the tenth Crowe child, a son, was born on the Monday following the Iowa-N. D. game. That gives Mary and Clem six sons and four daughters.

Father Keith Roche, Toluca, Ill., and Jim Ronan, Chicago, were on the campus together for the Dartmouth game. Jim said that Capt. Tom Leahy, an Army doctor, had recently been discharged and was back at his practice in Chicago. Likewise, according to later reports, Lt. Cmdr. Jim Stack, discharged from the Navy, is again practicing in Chicago, and Major Jerry Hayes, is again presiding over New Jersey babies, after extensive army medical service. Tom Sheridan is also "out" and back with the telephone company in Brooklyn.

Seen at the Army Rally in N.Y.C. on Nov. 9 (in addition to Hayes): Jim Dwyer, president of the club, Bert Coughlin, Ed Fallon, Doc Gelson, Tommy Farrell, Tom Ferguson, Dutch O'Day, Harold Robertson, Father Joe Toomey and Vic Yawman. Present for the Army game: Denny O'Neill, D'Arcy advertising executive from Cleveland, and his son, Denny Jr., a junior at Georgetown Prep.

At a party following the Navy game in Cleveland, Chuck Mooney (insurance man and member of the Cleveland Board of Education), Ed Lynch (soft drink business, Cincinnati), Denny O'Neill and the Managing Ed held a too-brief '26 session. And Gerry Morsches and the M.E. chatted briefly over the luncheon table in Ft. Wayne on Oct. 30.

Father Howard Kenna, C.S.C., director of studies, was one of the University's busiest administrative heads as the registration zoomed to about 2,800 for the term which began Nov. 5.

Ray Durst continues in the limelight as vice-president of and a partner in The Hallcrafters Co., Chicago, one of the world's leading manufacturers of radio communications equipment. Ray's company is building a new plant in Chicago to handle its vast peacetime business. During the war, the company supplied much of the electronics equipment used by the armed forces. Some of that equipment is still hush-hush.

The "South Bend Tribune" reports that George Farage, South Bend attorney, went pheasant-hunting in South Dakota of late, but came back without a single pheaz.

1927 JOSEPH M. BOLAND, Radio Station WBSB, South Bend, Ind.

From Joe Boland:

Top news of the month concerns your former class secretary, Ed De Clercq. . . who did such a good job in these columns that I'm willing to start a movement to have him re-elected, now that he's out of the Army. Ed served with the Quartermaster Corps, as a sergeant, and now has his eye on a field director's job with the American Red Cross. At-the moment, he's back in South Bend with the family.

Jack Lavelle, who has snatched the "round man" title from Jimmy Dykes and your scrivener, spent the week before the Army game on the campus—aiding the football coaching staff. Jack has scouted Army for Notre Dame the past several years. . . mixing it in with scouting for the New York Giants pro eleven; and intermingling both with his full-time job as director of the New York City C.Y.O. Jack is fast developing a national reputation as a raconteur and after-dinner speaker—which may account for that "round man" title! He left 'em in the aisles at Cleveland, before the Navy-N. D. game, where he acted as m. c. for both the Touchdown Club luncheon and the alumni rally before the game.

Tom Byrne, in the flesh, took time-out from his national alumni duties to properly welcome the team and visiting firemen at Cleveland; and Batavia, N. Y., was represented there when Casey, of the campus trucking-firm of Casey and Neville, checked-in for the game. For all I know, the whole class of '27 was there, too—hidden somewhere in the 82,000 who attended.

Saw Fritz Wilson, still looking as though he could hold down first-base, at Pittsburgh—but only for a moment. And, when Iowa came to South Bend for their game, Art "Bud" Boeringer came along with Clem Crowe and Chuck Jaskwich. . . all three coaching the Hawkeyes this year. Bud now makes his home at Park Rapids, Minn. . . although wife and one child are currently at Iowa City, keeping the family together through the football season. Bud, like Fritz Wilson, has retained that streamlined figure. . . got a little snow on the roof, though!

Visiting the campus for the Dartmouth game was W. W. "Red" Smith, who is with the "New York Herald-Tribune" in sports. Al Lenhard is sales promotion manager with the American Foundry Equipment Company in Mishawaka and a note from Don Schl tells us he's with Remington Rand in New York.

Major Neil Galone, Sharpsville, Pa., recently was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious achievement as operating results officer of Signal Section, Allied Force Hqtrs., MTO. He has received the Italian Government decoration of Order of the Crown of Italy, Knight Officer's degree, recently presented to him by Prince Umberto, Lieutenant General of the Realm, at ceremonies held at the Royal Palace in Rome. Before entering the service, Neil was employed in the accounting department of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Major Bill Kavanaugh received his discharge and is working for the American Cynamid and Chemical Corp. in Washington, D. C.

The following are excerpts from an article in the LaCross, Wis., "Tribune" of Oct. 26:

"Major John W. Roach, Madison, Wis., the man who cracked the greatest murder mystery in the Pacific and who set up the new Manila police department so that it has 'cleaned up' excessive vice conditions in the Philippines capital, was discharged at Camp McCoy's separation center.

"A veteran of the New Guinea, Leyte and Luzon campaigns (he received a bronze arrowhead for the landing at Lingayen gulf) he admits to seeing more action around the Manila area than he wants to see for the rest of his life. Roach was the first man onto the beach at Lingayen. Then a captain in the transportation corps, he advanced 2,000 yards and dug in. For a solid week, he recalls, the Japs peppered his party with mortar and shell fire. Of his experience at Lingayen, he adds:

"I was supposed to have landed with the third wave, so you can imagine how I felt when I found myself all alone on the beach. No artillery support or aerial assistance. I was all alone. Whew!"

"Roach went into Manila as assistant area commander and helped clean up the capital's

SIXTH CHRISTMAS OVERSEAS

Cpl. Charles H. Guinon, '26, of the Canadian Army will this year be spending his sixth Christmas overseas. With all propriety, Chuck can lay strong claim to being the Notre Dame man with the longest service record in World War II—"the first in and the last out," he says.

A veteran of much of the war's heaviest combat, in Africa, Italy and elsewhere, Chuck, then in Holland, expected when he wrote in late October that he would be back on this side of the ocean by late January or early February, 1946.

crime wave. His diligence and experience routed out the capital's crooked mayor, Dr. Nicanor Santos, and his thieving police assistants. Two of the special investigators under Roach—the brothers de Leon, Renato and Manuel—were kidnaped and slain, Roach recalls, and this famed case led to the dismemberment of Santos' crooked empire.

"In tracking down the murders, Roach used all the methods known to police officials (and some new ones he invented) and succeeded in clearing up murders of 15 officials and sentencing nine of the defendants to life terms and six others to shorter jail sentences. Roach's array of evidence was so complete that seven of the defendants changed their pleas from 'not guilty' to 'guilty.' Despite the fact that his star witness had been kidnaped, he successfully pushed through conviction of the criminals and wiped out much of Manila's black market and illegal criminal trafficking.

"During the investigation, Maj. Roach's life was threatened several times. Nineteen persons were jailed for conspiring against his life. Roach's knowledge of police work found him called upon to reorganize the Manila police department. He set up a table of organization and, according to recent reports, the task is almost completed.

"Of the Philippine campaign—in fact the whole Pacific battle—he states it was the plain GI's who won the war—not the generals. He declares:

"God bless our GI's. The American youth's initiative and intelligence paved the way for victory. The GI's really won the war—not the generals."

"He amassed 105 points during his Army service, he reveals, and adds it is little more than what he chalked up as a halfback for Notre Dame during the years 1924-25-26, when the Irish won national championships with the Four Horsemen and Seven Mules. He adds:

"Just to show you how old I'm getting, it was about 20 years ago next month that I was playing in the Rose Bowl."

John and his wife and three children are living in Madison, Wis.

1928 LOUIS F. BUCKLEY, 617 Lincolnway West, Mishawaka, Ind.

From Bernie Garber:

So Buckley is teaching economics in Biarritz . . . but what is he learning in France? Give full story, Lou, your rank and everything.

Prof. Cooney's death is saddening news. . . . "the beautiful spirit of John Cooney" . . . a gentleman mourned. His "journalists" will always remember his philosophic advice.

A recent letter from George Scheuer said: "I'd like to tell about a visit Jerry (Holland, '25, "Detroit News") and I had with the late Dr. Cooney at N. D. this summer.

"After a visit to the Log Chapel we looked in the windows of Dr. Cooney's office and saw no one. Had half expected to see him there—eating his lunch. So we went on up into the Library. Happened to look into the North (Periodical) Room and there at a table, with a hand cupped over his brow, sat the 'Doc.'

"We walked over and sat down opposite him before he looked up. He recognized us immediately, although it had been a long time since either of us had been back. The table at which he sat was just about where I first saw him when I made out my class cards back in 1924.

"We spoke of various people and events in Journalism classes—including coffee-making at a Brandywine creek picnic. After lunch in the dining hall cafeteria the 'Doc' headed for downtown while Jerry and I continued our tour of the campus. Seeing him had made the visit a real homecoming for both of us.

"My news of 1923 alumni," Scheuer writes, is limited to those I hear from through the 'Ex-News-Times' which I send to anybody who shows the slightest interest in the present doings of old South Bend 'News-Times' people. Late last summer my wife and I visited Earl J. Dardas and his wife at their home and photo studio in Titusville, Pa. They operate a portrait studio in the winter and collect oil industry pictures in the summer for a picture service Earl is planning. Also saw Earl's brother Raymond (ex. N. D.) an oil engineer. He lives in Titusville and works in Oil City.

"A '28er whose address I had been seeking for several years finally turned up here in Chicago. He is Robert Capesius, and lives at 2138 Warner Ave. So Bob, who once wrote a bowling column for the 'News-Times' is again a reader of the 'Ex-N-T' and probably, the 'Alumnus.' Bob's third son was born Oct. 8. He has four children, the three boys and a girl. We plan to get our gang together sometime soon. [Ed. note—Geo. S. has three sons.]

"Talked to John Rickord of Armour & Co. here sometime ago but the Rickords were in the middle of a housecleaning or redecorating, so we cut it short. Also hear from George Kelley of the 'Youngstown Vindicator.' [He's acting managing editor—Ed.]

"I'm still in the feature department at the 'Chicago Sun.' Last summer I was appointed a governor of the Aviation Writers Association, a national organization. My area covers Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota." [George lives at 1329 1/2 Touhy Ave., Chicago 26.]

Gene Farrell, according to my Jersey spy, is managing editor of the "Newark Star-Ledger," and Russ Riley, back from military service, is again commissioner of public safety, City of Orange.

Larry Culliney, now with the Rutland Savings Bank, writes from 8 Crescent St., Rutland, Vt., that Joe Radigan, '30, is recently back from the wars and into law practice, and that Joe (Francis) Cannon is in Schenectady with GE. Larry has one son and a daughter, Patricia, born the proper day in 1945.

Dick Parrish, according to last word long, long ago, was a staff sergeant and far out in the Pacific, with little time to write "news" about himself. Dave Gibson was last heard from at 1222 East Cameta Drive, San Gabriel, Calif., to which I'll send Christmas greetings and promise of a letter.

Dick Greene (Muncie, Ind., journalist) ex. '28, had an interesting article in "The Sign," a few months ago. Used to see Dick and wife in N. Y. occasionally. This excellent Catholic magazine also had an article by Jack Lavelle and story by Harry Sylvester in November issue. Dull-witted radioesters are missing good bet in Jack. At Army game rally at Waldorf, going up in crowded elevator, I found Jack a good man to be in front of.

When Ollie Schell (ex-Navy) '29 and I met Bill Dooley at Rally, Bill was thinking of this space but didn't ask for copy. Also at Rally was Ed Brennan, back from New England but still in textile business. Ed has four daughters. Also saw Howard Oakes and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Topping, Bill Cronin (back in N. Y. and living in Scarsdale), Bob Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. John Antus. The Antus family—two sons who look like John except for hair—now live at 440 Riverside Drive, N.Y.C. John has removed himself from the N. Y. office of alien property custodian, but he will have news for the next "Alumnus."

Unrecognized, I gave Pat Canny subway directions out of Penn station (wonder how he liked that game in Staten Island?) and waved to Mr. and Mrs. Herb McCabe entering Gate Three at the Stadium. I believe it was Father Lou Thornton, C.S.C., now of New Orleans (still expected for dinner at the Garbers), who told me Herb is with Guaranty Trust in New York.

Bob Hamilton dozed a few seats back of me in the Stadium. Two years of Army and Democrat tactics are wearying. Didn't see John McMahon at the game but maybe his two sons were playing in Pittsburgh that day. I join Mac in asking where's Ed Mcweeney?

From Bill Kearney:

I received a command performance request from Lou Buckley to give you some information on the class of 1928. A few days before I received Lou's letter, I saw Bill Jones, '28, in Washington, and Bill told me of Lou's travels around the world. Bill looked fine and we had dinner at his house in Chevy Chase where his very charming wife and daughter, Barbara, entertained us with eats and drinks. Bill is still running the most serious part of the Federal Government; but in the very near future expects to return to the private practice of law.

A few days ago I met Bill Dailey, '28, in court. He is still attorney for, I believe, the Employers' Insurance Company of Wisconsin. He told me that he was getting too old for trial work but he looked as young as when a senior lawyer he sported his cane on the campus.

We see Bill Leahy quite frequently. He is the western sales manager for American Die-casts Co. and makes his headquarters in Chicago. His two children are both boys. His old roommate, Carrol Finckley, was transferred rather recently from Ft. Sheridan to Ft. Riley, Kans. When last seen, Carrol was a first Lieutenant.

Dick Phelan tells me that Jim Shocknessy, who came to Chicago as a captain a year or longer ago to do Air Force termination work, left as a major to go to Ann Arbor to the Judge Advocate General's School. Dick also saw Bob Knox at the Illinois-Notre Dame Game. Bob was carrying six coco-colas and five hot dogs and suggested that he and Dick shake hands. He is out of the Navy and is located somewhere in Michigan, but Dick said his hands were too full to be able to talk at length.

We have seen Tom Walsh several times but not recently. Dick and I had lunch with him but it was rather unsatisfactory as far as information was concerned. We were sure that Tom was connected in some way with the Army since his headquarters were in the restricted areas of the Chicago Civic Opera Building, but he was in civilian clothes. Unquestionably he was doing some secret brain work for the Army.

Howard Phelan is still in the Navy and recently was transferred from Corpus Christi, Texas to San Diego. Chet Rice is with the O.P.A., having headquarters in Cleveland. He is in charge of building construction and materials for five states. The last time we saw Chet in Chicago he looked fine, although a short time ago the ceiling in his living room suddenly fell on his wife's head. I am sure this had nothing to do with any of the O.P.A. ceilings.

Frank Creedon is still singing his way through life in and about Riverside, Ill., one of our beautiful suburbs. Ray Mulligan is still in the Navy and has seen a great deal of active service. I saw Eddie Rafter a few days ago in Chicago. He was proudly wearing his service pin but I did not get a chance to ask Eddie what his situation was. He looked exactly the same as when at Notre Dame.

Connie Ochoa was in Chicago and environs for about 10 weeks last winter. He finally left after several false starts by air for Mexico City in December and we have heard not a single word of his whereabouts since. However, this is the season when Connie makes his annual short vacation jaunt to Chicago so I would not be at all surprised to hear that he was in Chicago today or tomorrow.

We saw Vince Dacey some time ago. He was, as usual—looking fine in his navy officer uniform. Dick Phelan's brother-in-law, Paul Tobin, has been extremely busy with his medical practice in Elgin. Their second child, a boy, was born on Aug. 20, which happened to be Dick's birthday. I am sure that is the only way Dick remembered that last fact.

We see John Igoe rather frequently. John bought a house on the south side of Chicago and, apparently, expects to stay here. He is with Pittsburgh Steel and when last heard, had three children. Jack Wingerter was in Chicago some weeks ago and Igoe, Jack, Phelan and I had lunch. At that time Jack was in Chicago with "Time" and "Life" magazines after doing quite a stretch with the O.W.I. in Africa. We understand that Jack was re-assigned to the New York office a short time back.

I have two pieces of very recent news, one concerning John Cavanaugh, who is back as a partner in his old law firm of McDermott, Will and Emery. John was General Hammond's executive aide in charge of the Chicago Ordinance District until ill-health boosted him out of the Army. He has three daughters, the last of whom was born Nov. 9. John's success in the law business is keeping apace with his success in the family life.

My wife called me this morning to tell me that Bert Korzen was retired from the Army last Saturday and would soon be back in Chicago. The Army shortened my old roommate's last name and also his income. He spent two years in the service doing executive work as a private junior grade, but when released from the service was a Lieutenant in, of all things, medical administration. Bert's wife has been in Tacoma, Wash., with him for the last six months.

Dick Phelan and I have been practicing law together for the last six months. He is just as difficult to get along with as he was at Notre Dame; but I bear up with his peculiarities because of his charming wife and three fine boys. The two older boys are big enough and tough enough to be on the Notre Dame team at the present time and the youngsters are well on the way to the same fame.

Some time ago I saw Ed McCormick who told me that he was in Chicago but I did not get the information from him as to his connections. I know that he is not married and he promised to call me for luncheon some day but so far I have not heard from Eddie.

While in Washington, I visited my brother, Jim, who was in the class of 1931. He left the Coast Guard in June and is now practicing law in Washington with the firm of Sullivan, Bernard and Shea. Ray Drymalski of the class of '29, is back in Chicago to his old elective position as city treasurer, having been discharged from the Navy after one and one-half years service in O.S.S.

I hope this will help relieve Lou's burdens as far as the class of '28 column is concerned. I promise in the near future to give you any information that might come my way about any of the boys from our class.

From Lou Buckley: (on Sept. 23), Academic Division, Commerce Section, Biarritz American University, 6857 Overhead Detachment, APO 772, c/o P. M., N. Y. C.:

"The most enjoyable part of the trip was the airplane ride from Washington, D. C., with stops in Newfoundland and Iceland. We came on a large Army transport plane, C-54, which was as comfortable as a Pullman. We made the trip in 23 hours.

"They are just finishing up the first term of two months here now so I will not be assigned classes until Oct. 29 when the next two-month term opens. There are 16 days between terms during which the 4,000 students return to their units and new ones come in. The University is arranging for me to return to Paris next week to represent them at the International Labor Conference opening there Sept. 27.

"The chaplain here tells me that about 1,000 of the 4,000 students are Catholics. He said that Guthrie McClintic, the Broadway director who is in the speech department, and I are the only Catholics on the faculty. We are organizing a Newman Club and expect to conduct a tour to Lourdes soon. It is only two hours from here.

From Father Jim McShane, S.J.:

"John M. Carroll was separated from active duty Oct. 6, 1945 after 29 months with the Navy—21 overseas. He spent all of his time outside the states as the executive office of the 12th N. Cont. Regiment (10 months in Milne Bay, New Guinea and 9 and one half months in the Philippines, Leyte, Samar,) as lieutenant commander.

"Coming home, I met Lt. F. X. James O'Brien, ex. '22, who spent two years at Notre Dame. He was communications officer on the U.S.S. Copahu, a CVE (converted victory plane carrier). In Frisco I met a familiar face wearing two stripes and much 'fruit salad'—it turned out to be Bob Brennan, '29, of the famous Walsh Hall quartet of Zimmerman, Murphy, Brannon and Brennan, etc. He told me Joe Brannon was a lieutenant commander in the supply corps, doing a swell job at Mare Island.

"I understand Roscoe Bonjean, '29; USNR, is about to be separated. John Troy, ex. '30, is again a civilian. I met a Father Hebert in Toclohan just about a year ago—nephew of Father Pete Hebert of N. D.

"Carroll is in Weaver Manufacturing Company in Springfield, Ill. John, Jr., follows in his father's cleats at Camplon High; he's the oldest of four children."

From Lt. Cmdr. Howard Phalin (in the Pacific) to Lou Buckley:

"I certainly feel that you are due an apology from me. I had promised to send you some news for the 1928 column. My intentions were good, but when I got back to my base at Corpus Christi, I found orders awaiting me for immediate shipment overseas. I got on my way. In the interim the war was ended and I am out where it does not seem it will be too easy to get transportation home in a hurry. However, my heart is still set on spending Christmas in my own home. Let us hope so. After three years of this life, I am ready to start crying uncle.

"Regretted very much that you and I did not get to see each other in person. Had a wonderful evening with John Frederick at the Washington Statler.

"The August 'Alumnus' reached me today. Though it is a couple of months late, I have read it from cover to cover. Don't think I have ever missed one in the seventeen years since graduation."

Gus Grams of LaCrosse, Wis., was here for the Dartmouth game with Lt. Jim Brady, '29, and his wife; the Brady's were in from Columbus, O.

Returning on the transport S. S. Marine Devil, in mid-Atlantic in September 1945, were, left to right, Father Joe Barry, C.S.C., '29, Army chaplain, Lt. Bob Le Menso, '43, Lt. Paul Rice, USNR, '39, and Lt. Don Mihan, '31.

1929 MAJOR JOSEPH P. McNAMARA, 1314 N. Court House Rd., Arlington, Va.

Father Joe Barry, C.S.C., was an interesting and welcome visitor in October, with his tales of 511 days of combat. Father, a captain with the 45th division, 157th regiment, went overseas in early June of 1943 and marched through Sicily, Salerno, Anzio, Southern France to Germany, and on his chest there are six battle stars enhanced with the Bronze Star and the Silver Star. He says that Notre Dame boys griped about Army training discipline (as they griped about training and discipline at Notre Dame) but appreciated it later in combat.

It was announced through a communiqué from the National Capital Housing Authority in Washington that Bernie Losbough has been appointed deputy in charge of operations. Under his supervision are the Technical Office which designs new developments, the Tenant and Community Relations Office which determines the eligibility of applicants for low-rent and for war housing, the Management Offices which operate the properties managed by NCHA, and the Central Maintenance Office. Bernie had been with the National Public Housing Conference in Washington.

Honorably discharged from the Navy, Francis Jones returned to the law firm of Jones, Obenchain & Butler in South Bend. He had been on leave of absence from the firm since January, 1944, when he entered the service. He was connected with the public relations office of the naval hospital at Great Lakes, Ill.

The following is from George Brautigam, Calumet Bldg., Miami, executive director of the Florida division of the National War fund:

"Had lunch yesterday with Lt. David Fields and Lt. Tom Mahon, '28, both in Navy and stationed here. Tom plans to make Miami his future abode. Dave is going back to Washington (points permitting). It was at this luncheon that I promised this letter—so I only get one-third of the credit.

"The writer is happy to report one son, five, and two daughters, three and 15 months. You might send prospective list to St. Mary's."

George is eager to reestablish a Notre Dame Club in Florida. Prospective members are invited to get in touch with him since his work takes him all over the state.

1930 HAROLD E. DUKE, 4030 N. Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

From Harold Duke:

Leo McAloon finally came through with the doings up Rhode Island way with the following: "I have three sons and two daughters, all good Rhode Island reds and potential students for Notre Dame and St. Mary's. Still at work with my father in the funeral business, which seems to agree with me as I gain an additional 10 pounds each and every year. I am also connected with the Racing Administration in the state of Rhode Island, serving as one of the judges at Pascoag track and as an inspector at Narragansett track.

"John Brown, '31, who was in our class and halls from Central Falls, is now stationed in Washington where he is carrying on his architectural abilities for the government. Gene Mahoney writes now and then from Jamestown, N. Y. He has a four-year old daughter and a one-year old son and, according to Gene, they are quite a pair of youngsters.

"Last fall I talked to Howie Smith who is doing quite a job of coaching at Pelham, N. Y. Every Christmas I receive a card from Louis Heltger, Bedford, Ind., and he usually keeps me posted on the doings of Oonle Donovan. Talked to Backy O'Connor some time back while he was in Providence awaiting a Liberty Ship to which he was assigned."

Thanks, Mac, but please don't wait so long to write again.

Ed Sweeney wrote recently that he had abandoned the army uniform and gone back to Utica and was again engaged in the accounting business, this time with the government. This leaves yours truly the lone Thirty in the city of Brotherly Love.

The annual Rally preceding the Army game in New York always brings out a large number of Thirties, and this year no exception. First to be met was Frank Kersjes who, like your scribe, was engaged, in getting one of those little pasteboards so necessary for entry. Suffice to say, with Frank working on the problem we both got in. Chuck Rohr and Lou Stettler, perennial attendants to the Rally, were met next and both promised to let us hear from them through this column soon. Bud Broeker, with Bethlehem Steel, seemed to be enjoying the proceedings and we made a date for the next time I am in Bethlehem.

Warren Fogel, former prexy of the New York Club, had a ringside table and helped steer me around to Larry Cronin. Lt. Cmdr. Dick Donoghue couldn't be missed, what with the size of him and his smile, from clear across the hall and, while I was rushing over to greet Dick, Ed Ellsworth appeared suddenly to block my way. Ed is just as dapper as ever and, from the extensive travel he does, should make a real newsy contribution one of these days—at least he promised.

Chet Ashman and Dick Bloom appeared suddenly to swell the group of Thirties and, while we were going over the relative appearances of today as compared to yesteryear, George Winkler showed up as did Jim Rizer, now a captain in the Army. As our readers can well expect, the class of Thirty days were well gone over. Later on Tom Lantry made his yearly showing. But, not to stop with the Rally, the next day who should be standing in the lobby of the Commodore but Clarence Kozak, nattily dressed and appearing as though he is doing all right with the world of business.

Phm. 3/c Charlie Morrison, Cleveland, wrote the first of October that he was on leave and expected to be discharged, having chalked up 31 months overseas duty with the Navy in the Pacific.

Tim Toomey writes "... Since my departure from New York, I have been at the so-called 'home of the atomic bomb.' (Oak Ridge, Tenn.). My company was the insurance carrier for several of the prime contractors and my capacity was that of insurance claims manager."

John Nanovic is with the Arthur Kudner advertising agency in N. Y. C. Lt. Cmdr. Ted Twomey received his Navy discharge at the Norman, Okla., naval air base in early Oct., and joined his wife and child in Columbia, S. C.

Lt. Cmdr. Frank Corbett, Ft. Wayne, Ind., received his promotion in Boston. He spent 29 months overseas on a transport in the south Pacific and has been in service about five years.

Bill Sherman, founder and first president of the Commerce Forum, spoke to the Forum at Notre Dame on Oct. 15. Bill lives in Cincinnati and works for the Addressograph Multigraph organization, with radio as a sideline.

1931 JOHN F. SAUNDERS, Saunders Importing Co., 83 Fruit Produce Exchange, Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, Mass.

Jack Saunders, as temporary secretary for the class, has had fairly good luck in his attempts to contact all the old '31ers. With only a small amount of persuasion, he has received the following self-reports.

Ray Disco—Wrote from the offices of War Relief Services—National Catholic Welfare Conference, New York. He said that he had our two letters and would give us his available information on alumni members: Ed O'Connor, '32, has been the executive assistant of Ray's organization since it started in 1943; Leo Clarke, '32, who is married and has three children, is living in Atlantic City, where he is the resident F.B.I. agent; John Givoda, '29, who is working with the Prisoner of War section of the American Red Cross and who lives in Washington, D. C., is also married and has three children; Al Roche, '31, from whom we heard recently, is in New York carrying on a study in one of the local probation departments in connection with his work as probation examiner for the New York State Division of Probation.

Ray occasionally runs into Frank Wachmuth, '31, who is married and lives in Jackson Heights. Francis is connected with a law firm in New York. Ray also hears occasionally from Frank D'Muhale, who when last heard from, was married and had four children. Frank is engaged in probation work in Willamantic, Conn. As for Ray himself, he has been director of the Prisoner of War and Displaced Persons work of the War Relief Services since the organization started in 1943. He said both Ed O'Connor and he escaped the plane crash that killed 11 employees in their building. Ed being slightly delayed that morning, and Ray having departed on his vacation the previous evening.

Lew O'Shea—who is with The Emerson Drug Company of Baltimore City, wrote that if his memory served him correctly, Jack Saunders had the title of "Scoop" during the pleasant year of 1931, and so he passed on his fund of information to class members. He told us that he had the pleasure of visiting with Fran Beaupre and his charming wife in Detroit, where Fran is well established with an outstanding tool and die company. Tom O'Mealia, who left school after his sophomore year to study dentistry at Georgetown, has been in the Navy for the past couple of years and recently was sent to Pearl Harbor, where he is now stationed. Jack Saunders is looking forward to getting together with Lew in Baltimore soon.

Dan Egan—wrote from the Bureau of Yards and Docks, Navy Department, that the reason he did not respond to the first appeal for news of '31ers was that he had very little news to report. However, we think he was mistaken, for he passed on to us the following: Jim O'Brien is now a lieutenant with the Navy—he has been assigned as a ship superintendent in the Navy Yard at Pearl Harbor for the past 18 months. Val Martin is in the Army Signal Corps and should be returning from France soon, if he has not already done so. Val was married a couple of years ago and is now the father of a year-old youngster. Dan himself is now a civilian engineer with the Bureau of Yards and Docks in Chicago. Said he has not been able to slip away to any football games as yet this year, but claimed that nothing was going to keep him from seeing the Northwestern game in Evanston.

Frank Reilly—wrote from Dorchester, Mass., that he is on terminal leave from the Navy. He has been a lieutenant and did 19 months overseas. He ran into a few N. D. boys in that area, including Lt. Cmdr. Reggie McNamara and Congressman Bob Grant. At the time he wrote, Frank and his wife were getting ready to move into a Dorchester apartment, and Frank admitted that they were lucky people to have found it. Frank and his brother Jack (N. D. '42) are planning to join the University Club in Boston and will take "the temporary secretary" on at a few games of squash.

John Weibler—our letter of Sept 10 reached John just before his ship left Manila for Sasebo, Japan, and he said that he sincerely trusts and hopes that he will be able to take in our Fifteenth Reunion. John remarked that regardless of the size of the world, one bumps into N. D. men in all parts, although the last time he saw any one from the Class of '31, was when Bob Balfie (a lieutenant, the same as John) and he parted ways in Miami Beach, Fla., Bob going to a cruiser, and John to a transport division flag staff. Prior to that, Bob and John saw quite a bit of each other while attending Communications School at Harvard University. Although he declined to relate any of his experiences, John hasn't been back to the States once since he boarded ship, and some of the places he has visited are Pearl Harbor, Eniwetok, Saipan, Guam, Okinawa, Ulithi, Manila, Subic Bay, Lingayen Gulf and Japan. Right now John says he is anxious to get back home to "the little woman" and his son. Said he so far has 40 points—not enough to permit him to hang his uniform up in moth balls and don a civilian suit.

Hoby Sheena—wrote that he had our two fervent pleas for news, but in that he didn't have any to offer concerning other members of the class, he had been slow about responding. Hoby is still in the Navy, now stationed in Norfolk, Va., at the Naval Aviation Supply Depot. When in Bermuda, he saw a lot of Tom Ashe—Tom was as handsome and happy as ever, and tried hard to sell Hoby a bill of goods on California. Hoby left there before Tom did, and though he tried to keep in touch with Tom, he hasn't been able to do so. Hoby has enough points for discharge and expects to be released shortly. He has a new baby boy who he claims is going to be a slick little quarterback. In that Hoby was wondering about Tom Ashe's whereabouts, etc., we are very happy to be able to report the following:

Tom Ashe—Joe Lanerman really "went to bat" for us in obtaining news on Tom's whereabouts, and we now know that Tom (Lieut. Thomas R. Ashe, U.S.S. "St. Louis" CL 49, F.P.O. San Francisco) wrote Joe from Shanghai on the Whang Poo River. Tom was aboard the "St. Louis" and had been all through the Southern Pacific, making stops principally at the Philippines and at Okinawa, and while in Manila, he visited with Lt. Frank Liddy. Just when Tom will be back is uncertain, although he is hopeful that he will be home and discharged by Christmas.

Larry Halter—wrote from Toledo that when you think back to June, 1931, "tempus sure fugits," and many things have happened since those good old days in Walsh and Sorin Halls. After 12 years with Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. and nine years of happy married life, Larry finds himself in Toledo, Ohio, with a family of four boys, aged eight, five and a half, two and a half, and one year, and if he says so himself, they are a healthy gang. Larry told us that Jerry Hall is in the Navy (formerly with Ohio Oil Company, Findlay) and Larry is anxiously awaiting his return so that he can look Jerry up. Larry was also wondering if any of the Class of '31 are now located in Toledo, so we are going to send him a list of the fellows who are in that vicinity, and maybe they can have a preliminary reunion. Larry also promised to be on hand for the Fifteenth Reunion and is looking forward to renewing some old acquaintances.

Ken Tokalka—reports from Fond du Lac, Wis., where he has his headquarters for the 13 counties in which—to borrow Ken's vernacular—he "peddles pills to the drug stores, hospitals and doctors." Ken had the opportunity to drive down to South Bend over Labor Day, and he claims that our Alma Mater has undergone quite a change since he last saw it. He went swimming in the lake back of the power plant by the old ice house and found the water as cool and clear as ever. Ken says he felt like an old man among the V-12 Navy men who were then stationed at the school. He promised to be on hand for our Fifteenth Reunion and is looking forward to a get-together with all the fellows.

Noel Gies—wrote from Seattle, Wash., that our letter made him feel "Oh so old" by mentioning the Fifteenth Reunion, but he will certainly, God willing, be on hand for the occasion. Noel has been having a busy time of it, what with working at Boeing Aircraft Co. during the war years and in his "spare time" operating five "victory busses" from two housing projects to the Boeing factory. Noel and Bob Pigott get together occasionally, but he has seen little of other N. D.ers.

Bob Kendall—now makes his home in Globe, Ariz., is married and has two children. Before the war Bob had his own life insurance agency, but has little time to devote to it now. When told that his eyes would keep him out of the Air Corps for which he wished to volunteer, Bob turned to other patriotic endeavors and was appointed state director for the War Manpower Commission. Bob recalled that as a coincidence he has now seen the last teams play in their last games coached by Rockne, Jones and Layden.

Ray Connors—Our letter chased Ray from Washington to New York, where he is now located with United Air Lines. Since arriving there early last summer, Ray has been too busy to look up many of our classmates, but with the winter season coming on, he hopes to be able to join the New York Club in some of its activities. He has, however, seen Dick Connelly, who is with Young & Rubicam advertising agency and works along lines similar to Ray's own.

John Kuhn—An Army sergeant in the Information Branch at Staten Island, wrote that he expected to receive his discharge shortly and return to Poughkeepsie to his wife and jewelry business. John is also associated with the New York State Tax Commission and does free-lance work in the radio game as announcer, narrator, commentator and producer of radio plays. John remarked that he hoped to get news in the next "Alumnus" on Walt Cahill, Bill Leahy, Frank Holland, Phil Angsten and others.

Phil Konop—Phil's wife was kind enough to post us on Phil's doings. At the time she wrote us, Phil was on Okinawa, waiting to see whether his ship would be repaired or decommissioned. Mrs. Konop sent along a newspaper clipping that told us better than anything else could what Phil has been doing. The title of the article was, "Terre Haute Navy Man Rides Out the Typhoon Which Hit Saipan," and there followed the story of that headline-making typhoon we've all read about, as told by someone who really had to battle it. Phil's comments on the episode were, "Those 36 hours of my life will always be a terrible memory, for truly, the gates of hell were open before us; but a strong little ship and 35 brave men refused to accept the opening. They rode the waves, trusting in God to still the waters and in their own strength, until our prayers were answered." We all hope Phil will be with us at our Reunion.

Bob Baskerville—During the war Bob has spent most of his time teaching Radio for the Army, either in Chicago or at Trux Field, Madison, Wis. Bob expected to be discharged soon and return to his former position with the American Can Co. He assures us that he will really be present at our Fifteenth Get-Together.

Charlie Cushwa—wrote from Youngstown, O., where he recently celebrated his fourteenth anniversary with The Commercial Shearing & Stamping Co. of which Charlie is vice-president, secretary and assistant treasurer. He is very happily married to Margaret Hall, a former St. Mary's girl, and they have two children. Charlie rarely runs into a classmate, but he extended a cordial invitation to any of the old N. D.ers who may be in the Youngstown vicinity.

Myron Hershfield—reports that he is still in the "old home town" of Goshen, Ind. He sent along an interesting newspaper clipping on Nick Bohling and also relayed the sad news on Frank McGreal's death. Myron has often wondered what became of the one and only James T. Doyle of the "Windy City," and requested that we run an ad in the "Lost and Found Column."

Jim Griffin—like Walt Cahill, Jim is with the Board of Education in Chicago—Jim is coordinator of safety. From Walt we found out what an excellent job Jim is doing in that capacity; and Jim's letter to us is full of the highest of praise for the work Walt is doing as paymaster, responsible for about fifteen thousand employees. Jim also tells of occasionally running into Alderman Nick Bohling.

Jim Cornford—is in the Sales Department of the Central Steel & Wire Co. of Chicago, and tells us that since leaving Notre Dame he has acquired four dependents—a wife, two boys and a girl. Although Jim was unable to make our Tenth Reunion, he promises to be there for our Fifteenth.

Jim Gallagher—wrote from overseas. He has had 20 months of overseas duty with the Navy, nine in England, and the balance in Africa. In England Jim met several N. D.ers, including Dr. Kearns, Dr. Smith and Joe Palmer. In Africa he recognized an officer as P. G. McGill ('29) of Superior, Wis. Jim's only complaint was that Navy life had forced him to miss the last two Army-Notre Dame games, but he was determined to make this one. He now has enough points for discharge, and is waiting only for transportation.

Rollie Poutin—wrote from South Bend, where he is connected with Studebaker's Automotive. Rollie reports that Jim Renitz is soon to be discharged from the Army; Chet Frankowiak is back in the fur business in Fort Wayne, having been with Studebaker Aviation during the war; and Rollie also sent along the story on the sad death of Leon "Red" Reyniers, and said that he had recently seen Luke Brandon—had a swell visit with him. Luke is back with Bendix after having spent a year in the Army. We don't know how Rollie manages to come up with all this interesting data, but he also told us that he had come across a clipping which stated that Larry "Moon" Mullins had signed to coach at Santa Clara University as head man. Prior to the war, Buck Shaw (N. D. man) was coach there. Larry is married to John Bergan's sister, and they have six youngsters.

Clarence Durbin—received our letter at the Navy Department in Washington and decided to give us his two cents' worth. He went to the Pacific in November of '42 with the Sea Bee's and returned in September of '44. Saw a lot of Father Pat Duffy, '31, and they were both at Emirau in the spring of '44. Has been in Washington since the first of this year. Clarence sees John J. Brown (his old N. D. roommate) every few days. He expected to leave the service within a week and return to his Provost Ave., Detroit, address.

Maurice Goodeve—is definitely a booster for Calgary, Alberta. He has for the last 14 years been employed in a local trust company there and is now in the Estates Department. Maurice is not married yet, and claims that the future is most indefinite in that respect. He wishes that some of his American friends would visit him up there in Alberta and convince themselves that the weather there is not all ice and snow. Had to forego our Tenth Reunion, due to wartime travel restrictions to the U. S., but is certainly going to try to make it in June of '46.

Jim Rorke—(now Captain James H. Rorke, 01166169, Det. E5, Co. D, 2nd MG Regt., A. P.O. 758, c/o Postmaster New York) has been with the Military Government in Wiesbaden, Germany, ever since the invasion, making the long trek across northern France into Germany. Jim says his work is interesting and absorbing, and since he must endure exile, life is not unpleasant in that charming town, world-famed for its health spa and delightful homes. Jim's duties are intimately concerned with problems of supply, notably clothing, gasoline, coal and building materials. Although he can't count on it, Jim hopes to be with us in June.

Joe Deeb—is United States Attorney for the Western District of Michigan, Grand Rapids. Joe wrote that he expected to make the Dartmouth game and might be able to get Bob Massey over from Detroit.

Maurice Regan—is a captain in the Medical Corps, and our letter reached him at the Sioux City Army Air Base. He has covered a lot of territory in the last three years, and though he says he has met thousands of people, he has seen nobody from the Class of '31. Maurice left his medical practice in September of '42 to enlist. He has been at Pendleton, Ore.—the Flight Surgeons School at Randolph Field—Santa Ana, Calif.—Spokane, Wash.—Peterson Field, Colo.—and Pyote, Texas (which he says is a gasoline stop on U. S. 80). Was base flight surgeon there before going to Sioux City to join a B-29 overseas group. V-J Day changed those plans, and he is now uncertain as to what he'll do, although he figures he has a good chance of being in the Army of Occupation, since he never married and so hasn't many discharge points. Like all the M. D's, Maurice is anxious to get home and back into private practice, and we surely do hope he'll be able to get together with us at the Reunion.

Jerry Crowley—answered our letter from South Bend, where he is with the O'Brien Varnish Company. He passed on to us the information that an ex-classmate of ours, Dean Sutton, is now living in Paris—at the Hotel Astor, Rue D'Astorg.

Jim McQuaid—has gotten the upper hand over an unfortunate accident that several years ago forced him to give up his teaching and coaching. He now manages a unique news service in Vincennes, Ind., where he and his wife, Marie, make their home. Jim wrote that he and his wife enjoyed a four-day visit to South Bend last summer, and he spent a lot of time on the campus and meeting all his old friends. Jim is keeping June of '46 open for the big get-together.

Mike Teders—wrote that our letter caught up with him at the Ulithi Islands in the South Pacific, where his ship, S.S. "Harvard Victory," has been since V-J Day awaiting orders. He has been in Armed Guard duty for three years and has been in all the theatres of the war. Right now he is anxiously awaiting orders to start home to the States.

Earl Brieger—Tex, though an attorney-at-law in Pittsburgh, still favors Texas. He wrote that he went there last August to visit his folks, and ran into Louis Psencik and Bill Berning (both '32). Reporting on his fellow '31ers, Tex said Bill Magarrall is still in the restaurant business in Pittsburgh, and Smoky Coyne is still in the insurance business there. Tex also sees Dick O'Donnell, who has recently been in Washington helping to promote a fund for Georgetown University.

Frank Dittos—is an attorney for the U. S. Department of Labor in Cleveland. He was married in 1933 and at present is the very proud father of two boys and one girl. Frank was a big help in forwarding news on fellow '31ers, and he reported the following: "Dolly Gannon is one of Cleveland's leading physicians; Al Grisanti is a member of the Cleveland Council and handling himself there with great skill and to the general satisfaction of his voting public; Larry Kral is a native Cleveland; Joe Gavin is a successful coach in a local high school league and his Holy Name team invariably enjoys a successful season. Tom Reed was in the claims department of an adjustment company in South Bend; Bill Dolan was sales manager for a large milling company in St. Louis; and Joe Dunne, of South Bend, was an officer with the Pacific Fleet, the last time Frank saw them.

Frank also says that he sees Joe Deeb, who is the same jovial character we knew in school; Charlie Miltner is an attorney in Cadillac, Mich., and does special work for Joe Deeb from time to time; Fat Cook is with the F.B.I. and stationed at Benton Harbor; Bill Desenberg is located in Buchanan, Mich., and has acquired both a family and a successful law practice. Like all of us, Frank hopes that hereafter the "Alumnus" will contain news of the many fellows of whom he thinks often, but from whom he has not heard for a long while.

Dave Rusk—has been with the Board of Education in Chicago since 1938 and at present is assigned at Austin High School there. Dave is coach of the junior basketball team and is also on the football coaching staff, so we imagine he must be kept more than busy.

Haskell Askew—writes that, though he is still a Southwesterner at heart, and has spent most of his time since graduation in Texas and Oklahoma, the Navy believes change is good for everyone and has kept him in the North and East since 1943. He is a Lieutenant with the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Chicago. The Navy has kept Haskell so busy that he has been unable to get away for a visit to Notre Dame or to see his old roommate, Joe Meitzler, at Danville.

Bob Balfo—Our letter to him in care of the "Post-Times" West Palm Beach, Fla., was acknowledged by his office staff, with the explanation that Bob is still a lieutenant in the Navy, although he may be released soon.

Walter DeBaene—now a tax consultant in Rochester, Mich., reports that he has had visits with Sid Crane (ex. '31) and Jim Sullivan ('30). Walt has not seen or heard from Bob Neydon, Fran or Russ Beaupre in a heck of a long time, but blames only himself, as he admits he has been rather negligent in attending the Detroit Club meetings. Walt is looking forward to returning to "the Only School" next June.

Art Kane—informs us that after spending eight years in Shreveport, La., as advertising manager of an electric utility company, he suddenly jumped up, shook out the burrs and headed back home where he went into the furniture and undertaking business in Baxter Springs, Kans. Which, says Art, should be awfully good if there was any merchandise available. Art says that he drives an ambulance and directs funerals, and his seven-year-old daughter handles public relations for the firm. Art says that he is living so far from "the base of operations," as far as Notre Dame is concerned, keeps him from coming in contact with many of the alumni.

Bart O'Shea—writes from Ilion, N. Y., where he is with the U. S. Internal Revenue, and is still single. Bart recalls that at our Tenth Reunion Al Grisanti uncovered nine bachelors, and Bart is wondering if the other eight are still holding out.

Bob Sosenheimer—Bob's report was really on the cheerful side. After 26 months with Troop Carrier Command, he had just arrived home with an honorable discharge. His celebration was a double one, for the date of his discharge was also the date of his fifth wedding anniversary, and Bob is mighty happy at being back in Fort Wayne with his wife and three-year-old daughter and five-months-old son. He has resumed his old position with the Merchants Supply Co. in Fort Wayne.

Walt Ridley—Our letter addressed to Walt in Philadelphia finally caught up with him in Oreland, Pa., and he claims it started him thinking back to Sorin Hall and about "King" Farley, Jim Murray, Jack Hughes, Bill Flahaven, Dick Lacy and a hundred other fellows who all made life worth living. Walt is married and has an 18-months-old daughter. He is in the construction business in Philadelphia, and says his firm is just getting back into stride building churches, schools, etc. Walt reports that he has recently seen Bishop O'Hara (whom Walt claims is still the grand guy he was in Sorin)—Dan Halpin (at a party at Dr. Ed Lyons' home)—Bill Cooney (back in Philadelphia after spending some time in Baltimore)—and Walt Phillip (just returned from the Pacific and obtaining his Navy discharge as a full lieutenant). Walt has also heard from John Dorschel, whom he says is married and has a two-year-old son.

Dick Giroux—sent along a line to acknowledge our letter and inform us of his new address. Dick has been discharged from the Army and now makes his home at 2800 Woodley Road, N. W., Washington, D. C. Though Dick's plans are indefinite so far, he expects to be in Washington for some time, and hopes to be in South Bend for our Class Reunion.

Ben Oakes—formerly a captain in the Air Corps, has notified us that he is once more a civilian and has returned to the Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc. offices in Kansas City, where Ben is senior staff assistant.

Bill McCarthy—writes from Kansas City, where he is an engineering executive assistant with the Kansas City Power & Light Company. Claims he spends part of his time making the rates more unintelligible and the rest on various engineering reports. Bill is still single, and as a reason he offers the explanation that "my chest and hair are both slipping and I have fewer chances each year, so in all probability I will remain a bachelor."

Ray Collins—writes from J. J. Collins' Sons, Inc. (Printers), Chicago, advising us to hold the press for a really hot news item—namely, that Jim Doyle has become engaged to Miss Kay Carmody. Ray also reported that Gill Seaman, father of three girls and a boy, recently bought and remodeled a home in Elmhurst, Ill., and that Gerry Desmond, father of four girls, is with the Warner Co., a wholesale drug outfit. As an aside, Ray informed us that his own family includes Patricia, 8, and Phillip, 6. Ray promises to be on hand for the Fifteen-Year Reunion, but claims that we all surely are getting old.

Albert Cowles—is a captain in the Army and presently stationed in Manila. His wife was good enough to send this information along to us, together with Al's latest address, which is: Capt. Albert Cowles, Sn. C—0-519820, 27th General Hospital, A.P.O. 238, C/o Postmaster, San Francisco.

Harry Kennedy—we think our letters did very well to contact Harry, for he has done more than a little travelling since he left school. He was in Argentina for six years, then in Venezuela and Colombia for four years. He arrived back in the States Oct. 9 and was all set to take in the Army game in New York. When we get Harry at the Reunion we'll have plenty of questions to ask him anent his extensive travels.

Harold Tuberty—wrote from the Naval Amphibious Base in Little Creek, Va., where he says he has been pretty busy trying to figure a way to get out of the Navy. Though he has been there for 18 months and it almost feels like home, Harold admits he is looking forward to getting out in January and returning to his law practice in Logansport, Ind. He won a football pool of $50 on the Notre Dame-Illinois game, and was looking forward to watching Notre Dame show Army how to run up the score (our score).

Jim Murphy—wrote from Middletown High School, Middletown, Conn., that aside from the natural tendency to procrastinate, he hasn't much in the way of N. D. news "out there in the sticks," for he rarely sees any alumni. Jim has been married for six years and has one son and one daughter. He has been teaching school since 1933 and is presently teaching chemistry and also coaching the rifle team, although he maintains that he couldn't hit the Rockne Stadium at ten feet.

Joe Boyland—is back in civvies after a year and a half of, as he says, "guarding the gold at Fort Knox—reducing some of the hills of Kentucky and also myself in the process." Joe has gone back to his old job as special agent for the New Amsterdam Casualty Company in Grand Rapids, Mich., and admits that the old territory looks mighty good again. Says he sees Joe Deeb once in a while, and that District Attorney Deeb isn't as fierce as the title might have you believe. Joe Boyland informs us that he has three children—a boy and two girls—and he says that Father Bourke Motsett would probably say, "that's a fair start."

Don MacDonald—wrote from Flint, Mich., that at five o'clock on Nov. 3 he still hadn't heard one single report on "Navy-Notre Dame," and he was something more than anxious. Don is still managing MacDonald & Company (Furniture) in Flint, and he had much interesting news to report on fellow Class of '31ers. For instance, Don said that Clarence ("Takle")

Tackens has been released from the Army after two and a half years of service, and Charlie Miltner, Cadillac, is now the proud father of four children—three boys and a girl. Don says his own family closely parallels Charlie Miltner's with a slight rearrangement of order and ages. Don's youngsters are also three boys and a girl. In remarking on our Reunion, Don said that Jim Pearson (a local attorney and former N. D. baseballer) will be a 20-year man in '46, Don's brother Bob (also an attorney and senator in the state legislature) will be a 10-year man in '46, and Don himself is looking forward to his Fifteenth Reunion in that year. Don also enclosed a newspaper clipping on Steve Roth, which told of Lieut. Roth's receiving the Bronze Star Medal in recognition of his being one of the Army's leading criminal investigators in the Mediterranean theatre. Incidentally, at the very end of his letter Don told us he had just received word of the 5-6 Navy score.

Art McManmon—"The Original Thin Man" is still general manager for Donnelly Advertising in Boston (Outdoor Advertising and Neon Work in the New England States). Art was married in 1942 to the former Maura Sullivan and they now have two fine youngsters—Tommy, Jr., aged two—and Maura, aged six months. Incidentally, "the temporary secretary" is the proud Godfather of two-year-old Arthur Thomas McManmon, Jr.

Dan Halpin—has kindly agreed to act as chairman of the eastern division for the reunion plans. Dan is with the Radio Corporation of America, and we found out that recently, in recognition of his contribution to the advancement of television, Dan was awarded a plaque by the American Television Society, of which he is past president. Dan still makes his home in Haddonfield, N. J., is married and the father of four children. He has fine plans for the Reunion—he intends to appoint a chairman for each state in his territory, and ask his cooperation in arranging to have as many of the boys as possible attend the reunion. Also, he hopes to get up some sort of little survey outline which can be used, indicating some of the things the boys would like to do, people they would like to see, and so forth, during the time they spend at South Bend.

Bert Maloney—is another who will help us with the Reunion Plans. Bert has agreed to handle the Southwest Division. He has been in Austin, Texas, (A. J. Maloney Company) since 1943 acting as Agent for the International Harvester Co., and he says that to date business has been fair, but due to the many conditions that war has brought about, his operations have been held up considerably.

Eddie Ryan—We are also very grateful to Eddie. He has consented to be our chairman of the Mid-West Division for Reunion plans, and his base of operations will be Chicago. Eddie and I rode down on the train together from Chicago to Cleveland for the Navy game. Eddie and the Mid-West Reunion leaders had a meeting at the Illinois Athletic Club, Chicago, on Oct. 30.

It's good to hear from all the Notre Dame men who are again becoming accustomed to civvies. Among the '31ers are Ben Oakes, who was here for the Dartmouth game and is now in Kansas City with the TWA. Ed O'Dea, who received his papers from the Army at Ft. Custer, Mich., and is living in Terre Haute, Ind.; and Dick Giroux of Washington, D. C.

Frank Kosky is health and phy-ed teacher at Mark Twain Junior High School in Yonkers, N. Y. Dr. Joe Harney completed a five week course in clinical psychology at Mason General Hospital in New York. Four years Charlie Long has been in the Army and, on Oct. 3, was still over in Italy. Father John Dupuis, C.S.C., was awarded the Bronze Star for his service with the Fourth Marine division in the Pacific as chaplain.

Dr. Art McGee writes. . . "At present I'm sweating out what I hope is my last experience in the Navy. Should be back home in Glens Falls, N. Y., early in the new year to continue the grooming of Tim (9) and Ned (8) for Notre Dame. Mary Elizabeth (6) is a prospect for the other side of the lakes.

JUST A POSTCARD

That's all it takes to tell us that you are out of the armed forces. With your cooperation in this regard, we'll be able to keep our Alumni Office records and our mailing list up-to-date. And the news about you ought to be in the "Alumnus."

"Have met many Notre Dame men in various parts of the Pacific. Among them was Lt. Francis Boland, who came aboard our ship to say Mass one Sunday in August. Met Lt. Hank Donnelly, '32, in Pearl Harbor, and my old roomie, Lt. Cmdr. Dan Shaughnessy, M.C., '30, at Saipan. A letter from Lt. Jim Rudolf says he's at Pearl Harbor now. John Wuertz, '42, is a brother division officer here aboard the McIntyre. He wants me to submit his gripe that he hasn't received a copy of the "Alumnus" in a year. We have no end of pleasure in our frequent discussions of things at Notre Dame.

"Here's to better things in the future. I'm hoping to see many people I know at the 15th year reunion next June."

Frank Leahy, as you have read elsewhere, is out of the Navy and back at Notre Dame as athletic director and head coach.

Jack Saunders wig-wags that he'd like to have addresses for the following '31 brethren: Brother Austin Arthur, F.S.C., Francis A. Beaupre, Austin L. Boyle, Francis J. Chambers, James J. Kearney, John J. O'Connor and Vincent G. Sullivan.

1932 LT. JAMES K. COLLINS, 1135 Manchester Ave., Norfolk, Va.

From Jim Collins:

The Army weekend rally and game were, as usual, like a small reunion, with a large number of '32 men on hand. It was the first such get-together for many since the start of the war, so the boys really went to work on it and took care of all loose ends in a hurry.

The rally, among whose patrons were Gene Connelly, Flo McCarthy and Lt. Cmdr. Red Jackson, was the first stop, and the first familiar face I saw was that of Dr. Roy Catzone. A little graver. Roy is otherwise unchanged, even to marital status. He is practicing in Merrill, Mich., and heading the field as the town's leading bachelor. He even talked me into giving him my room for the night, which shows that he is not slowing down from his old self.

Tom Magee, happily back from his fine service in the Army, is health education secretary for the Passaic County Tuberculosis and Health Ass'n at Paterson, N. J. He said that Tony Conti is home and out of the service after considerable duty in the Pacific with the Marines. Tony was on the invasion of Guam and remained there for some months after the capture.

Smoky Coyne was at the Rally with his lovely wife, as was Jack Jordan. Unfortunately, I saw each of them for only a few minutes.

Lt. Paul O'Toole is back from sea duty with the Armed Guard, and happily showing Harriet the sights again. Paul expects to be stationed at Great Lakes until he is released.

Gene Connelly is busily taking care of his two businesses. He said that Herb Giorgio is still in the Army but expects to be home soon. We had quite a discussion about plans for the 15-year reunion in 1947, and agreed that we should have a record turnout for that affair. He also promised to keep this column better informed about the men in the New York area, and that will certainly be appreciated.

Stan Czapski, Neil Hurley, Ben Salvaty and Lt. Jim Wardell were there with a few others from Chicago whom I did not see. Jim has been in the Navy for over three years and is stationed in the parking division of the Bureau of Ships.

I heard from Eli Shaheen (Abraham) that Gabe Moran is the father of a fine son, his first, born in October in Youngstown. Gabe has been transferred from Newfoundland to Orange, Texas, for work in a demobilization center. He hopes to be home for good by Christmas.

F/L John T. Biger, C.S.C., '33, chaplain of the R. C. A. F. in Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Don Ryan was promoted to lieutenant commander recently, and expects his release from the Navy on Nov. 30. He is still indefinite about future plans except that he will be back in the refrigeration business soon. He worked for Carrier Corp. for a number of years before going into the Navy.

Joe Kennedy has been released from the Navy and is back in New Haven with the USES. John Peroni has left Norfolk, and I heard he was out of the Navy although I did not see him just before he left.

Hoby Shean, '31, has been receiving double congratulations recently on the occasions of his first son being born and his being promoted to lieutenant commander. His son was born September 19 at the NOB Hospital in Norfolk.

Lt. Jack Finneran, '33, has been released from the Army after his fine record with the Paratroops. He was accompanied to the rally by Father McKee, C.S.C., who said that Al Seymour has a large potato farm in Malone, N. Y., and is doing very well. Father McKee was a prisoner of the Japs for three and one-half years and was one of the group rescued by Jack's paratroopers.

Lt. Charlie Morrison, '38, has been stationed in Norfolk since returning from two years sea duty, and expects to be out of the Navy and back in Richmond by Dec. 1.

From Ray Geiger, Sept. 25:

"Sunday was spent doing the honors of proxy godfathering Robert Eugene Gorman at his christening. With Bob, a Navy man, on one side and I, an Army representative, you can be sure he got the $64 deluxe job—and it was that complete with oil rub and salt bath. We arrived at the church a half hour early and Bob explained to the priest that we came early as it might be necessary to substitute the lad in the local football game for the last quarter. Joe Petritz's sister, a WAC Captain, was on hand later to drink his health and I hear Joe will be out here soon to help Bob and I do Frisco.

"Saturday night in the Patent Leather room of the St. Francis I bumped into Tom Feeley of our class who had just gotten in from Hawaii after five years as a civilian architect for the Navy. Hasn't changed a bit and we figured out a way to trap Pete Trollo and Jim Walder into joining us in New York for the Army game. I hope to be out of service about Oct. 25. [Ray was at Notre Dame in mid-November, on his way back to New Jersey. —Eds.]

Joe Petritz was public relations officer at St. Mary's Pre-Flight in California, but was expecting a discharge before too long.

John Conway's note of Oct. 23 says that he is stationed in Paris at Rainbow Corner, where he has been American Red Cross field director since February, 1945. And Henry Asman announced his return from service in the Army and the re-opening of his office in Louisville. His practice is limited to general surgery and proctology. Phil Dunleavy received his discharge in August and has returned to his profession as attorney in Albuquerque, N. M. Sgt. Frank Ernst, Chicago, was discharged from the Army in September.

Sal Bontempo has received a promotion to colonel at Wright Field, O., where he is now chief of the disposal section, which is responsible for the whole AAF disposal program including the transfer or salvage of all surplus and excess AAF material. Sal is also redistribution and salvage officer for the entire command.

Frank Graham is working for the Sinclair Refining Company at Grayslake, Ill., after receiving his discharge.

Effective Oct. 1, Clay Johnson was appointed general counsel of the fire insurance companies of the Royal-Liverpool Group, New York City. For most of 10 years Clay had been one of the important legal figures in the Reconstruction Finance Corp., serving as a director and officer of several of that corporation's most important subsidiaries. In November, 1941, Clay was appointed special assistant to Emil Schram, president of the New York Stock Exchange, but at the outbreak of the war in December, 1941, he was granted a leave of absence by the Exchange to return to his work on the R.F.C. rubber program. He had been there since then.

1933 LT. TIGHE WOODS, 7944 Ellis Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Father John T. Biger, C.S.C., station chaplain with the RCAF in Calgary, Alberta, has written a very welcome letter and enclosed a snapshot. Father writes "... Speaking as a chaplain, I can truthfully say that I am very pleased to have this opportunity of serving the boys and helping them in every way possible whether they are in scrapes or stumbling into the 'Lonesome Heart Club.' They have done a swell job all over the world and I can praise their 'guts,' using the Rocknean phrase. God bless them! Some have been hit hard, gotten bad breaks, been 'browed off,' fed up and disgruntled, but if they utilized these character forming tests, they have come out better men, a man's man."

Alex Wilson continues as athletic director at Loyola University, Chicago.

Joe Borda will soon leave Washington, D. C., after four years with Senator Byrd, to work for the National Association of Manufacturers in the Time-Life Building, N. Y. C.

From Lt. F. Granger Weil, USNR:

"Sorry I haven't communicated with you recently, but I have been busy the past 35 months with the Navy.

"After 20 months at sea, 15 of them in the South Pacific, and the past 15 months in Coronado, I am returning to Port Huron, Mich., to assist in editing 'The Times Herald,' daily newspaper.

"My home address, after today, will be: 4349 Gratiot avenue, Port Huron."

From S/Sgt. Jim Gerend, USMC, Pearl Harbor, Nov. 6:

"I am in my 21st month at this camp, which is two miles east of Pearl Harbor and six miles west of Honolulu. It is definitely a transient camp, a veritable pool from which personnel are shipped all over the Pacific. . . . Larry Sherman of Los Angeles, of the class of '32, was here with us for awhile until he went on to Guam; and Comiskey, of the class of '34, was also a classification man who later went to Pellulu. Presently the only Notre Dame man that I know of at this camp is John Yonakor who is playing football with the Fleet Marine Force team.

"While I have been out here it has been wonderful to meet many fellows from Notre Dame through the medium of the local Notre Dame club of Honolulu which meets once a month, presently at Sacred Heart Parish Hall. Some of the class of '33 I have seen are: Jerry Greer, Neil Ebert, Don Wise, Seton Staley, Bill Hanifin, Tom Behan, and Jack Kinney. Of the class of '32 there was Paul Dailey, Bob Lee, Frank Donalty, Charlie Hitzelberger and Jack Litcher. '34 was represented by Jack Buckley, Stan Rensberger and Ed Cosgrove. Bill Gottsacker and John O'Malley were the old stand-by's from the class of '36.

"My brother, Arthur, ex. '37, who is a captain in the Army is now in Korea. In July, 1943, he married Ens. Devota Zohlen, a Navy nurse, in Holy Name Church, Sheboygan, Wis. My brother, Walter, of the class of '39, married Louise Garavaglia of Detroit in St. John Berchmans Church, Detroit, in June, 1944. Wally is with the Detroit Ordnance District. My brother, Ray, ex. '35, holds down the fort at Sheboygan, Wis., as a funeral home manager. He is married and has one son."

1934 JOSEPH R. GLENNON, Jr., Commercial Solvents Corp., 17 E. 42nd St., New York City, 17.

From Joe Glennon:

The other day I had a pleasant surprise when my roommate Capt. Jack Dorsey dropped in after two years overseas in the Medical Corps. Jack specializes in plastic surgery and will commence practicing in New York City at an early date. He is married and has four children.

I met the following at the Notre Dame Rally the night before the Army game: Bill Powell of F.B.I. fame; Chick Mara, attorney for the Legal Aid Society; Bob Hughes, who is practicing law in Brooklyn; Bill McCormick, on his way to Buenos Aires for Sterling Drug; Bob Hamilton, on from Wisconsin; John Roche, from Staten Island; Frank McGarry, who is at present in Washington; Jack Devine, who announced that his brother Bob will be released from the Army after four years service; Vinnie O'Connor, fresh from two years in England; Red Forrest, just back from a trip to Canada; Tom Harrington and Clyde Lewis.

Tom Dalton, recently of the Navy, described the royal time given him by Major Ted Gabreski when he ran into him in India.

Frank Honerkamp sent in the following letter: "I have just returned from three years of duty in and near Norfolk. The last set of orders moved me from the Naval Aviation Supply Depot in Norfolk to the Naval Air Station, New York, which was not hard to take. I need four points and the Navy can't cut that too soon."

"George O'Brien passed through Norfolk. He has not changed and was looking for a long stay in the Pacific, which should be cut short since V-J Day came sooner than most people thought. He was on a Navy tanker. Had a letter from Bill Collins and he has just completed a year of duty at Pearl Harbor. He is the first lieutenant for one of the many air fields in that section. Bill has seen quite a few of the boys."

On the strength of four years in service and 130 points, Bob Halpin, New Haven, Conn., received his discharge from the Air Corps, where he was a first lieutenant, in August. 1st Lt. John Begley, Cleveland, O., is still with the war department in ordnance. 1st Cmdr. Bob Meyer, Jersey City, N. J., has his discharge. Bob Ward, postmaster in Chillicothe, Ill., and his wife took in the Illinois game.

From Capt. Bill McCormick, Oct. 22:

"Am in the process of getting discharged from Army at present and expect to be job-hunting again in a few days. I am now home enjoying all the comforts missed during four and one-half years of Army life, two of which were spent overseas. My children are now three (Nick) and two (Maureen) and are keeping the old man mighty busy.

"After going through the combat phases of the war with the 320th Infantry Regiment of the 35th division, I went into military government and served as governor of Coblenz, Buddingen and a few other German municipalities.

"Excuse me now but I'm going out and try to get some ducats (at least two) for the Army game. Haven't seen Notre Dame play for five years now, but this is it!"

1st. Bob Cahill who served nearly three years in the Navy—a year and a half of it in the Pacific—was placed on inactive duty and returned to his duties as Notre Dame's ticket manager for the last part of the football season. He was commissioned in Nov., 1942, and was sent to the Pacific in the late summer of 1943. He returned to this country late last winter, and eventually was assigned to duty at the Glenview, Ill., Naval Air Station where he was when he received his discharge.

Mrs. Ed Krause reported via the "South Bend Tribune" that she expects Ed home soon to be discharged from the Marines.

1st. Bernie Witucki has been transferred from the west coast to the Naval Air Station at Ottumwa, Ia. 1st. Nick Lukats, assistant professor of naval science and tactics, is also officer in charge of physical training of the NROTC program at Oregon State College.

From August von Boecklin:

"You may be interested in a few of your alumni out here. Joe Manley, '29, is with the Washington Door Co., and is the father of three fine children. William J. Ellis, class of '35, is my brother-in-law and is a captain in the U. S. Army. At the present time he is in Japan with the occupation forces. He went through the Civil Affairs School at Yale and is doing very well with the Japanese language.

"I am still with the Washington Manufacturing Co., and find my time pretty well occupied. Dickie is about three and one-half years old and I have hopes that some day he will see Notre Dame, unless his mother convinces him he should go to Creighton to get a medical degree, as she did."

1935 FRANKLYN C. HOCHREITER, 2118 Treasure St., New Orleans, La.

From Lacy Zenner, who writes from Lowry Field, Denver, Colo.:

"... After leaving Notre Dame I attended the University of Portland for three years, graduating there in 1939. My Army career has been in the States only. I became a B-29 gunner and was later grounded because of eyesight. I taught electricity in the course and later worked on the line as an electrician. At present I am chief projectionist at the post theatre."

John Walter is a chemical engineer with the Universal Oil Products, working out of London, England. And Joe Kaley writes that he is no longer in the Marines, where he was a first lieutenant.

Carl Behrnt of Rochester, N. Y., is head of the sales engineering department of Eastman Kodak.

1936 JOSEPH F. MANSFIELD, 34 Fifth St., Pelham, N. Y.

From Joe Mansfield:

The Army game week-end provided us with a bit more information than we've had to pass on in some time. New York was host to a goodly crowd of '36ers. We ran into several men at the Waldorf the night before the game and many more in the ever popular Penn Bar after the game.

Johnny Demand surprised us by popping into the office after better than two years in Europe. John fought across Africa and then went through the Sicilian campaign. He was transferred to England in time to catch the bulk of the V bomb sprinklings. At the moment he is on terminal leave and expects to get back into business here in New York after a long rest.

Andy McMahon and his charming bride, the former Helen Newman of Chicago and St. Mary's, were in town on their honeymoon. They spent a couple of days with us. Andy was in the army and saw service in France, Holland, Belgium and Germany. Now that he's a civilian again, Andy is back with his old firm of accountants in Providence, R. I.

Jerry Gillespie and Sheila were much in evidence at the Waldorf. Jerry is joining John Balfe's insurance firm when he sheds the uniform. At the Penn we had a few drinks with Jim Kirby and his wife, Peggy. Jim has been with the F.B.I. for several years and is planning to leave the bureau to return to his accounting business.

Bill Walsh of Yonkers and his fiancée were at the reunions at Waldorf and the Penn. Bill didn't disclose when the wedding bells will ring out but intimated that it will be in the not too distant future. Conale Byrnes, Mike Tackley, Lee Moorman, Joe Weiss, Howie Casack and Bill McVay were in a tight little group in the Penn.

We saw Roman Belmont in our wanderings too. He is looking well and reports things have been going very well for him since he left N. D. Ens. Joe McDonald and Mary of Providence were in town. Joe had just returned from the West Coast and expected to be out of uniform any day. He planned to go back into business with his dad.

Milt Peipal dropped by our table. Milt is backfield coach at Dartmouth. He still looks as though he could step onto the gridiron and play a pretty rugged brand of ball. Jim McDevitt and his wife were in town. Jim is back in accounting, and reports a charming addition to the household. Another visitor was John Kelly, '38. After several years overseas he is sporting a chest full of ribbons and decorations.

Jack Murphy and Elaine were in New York some time back. Jack is (or was) surgeon aboard the Savannah.

A few weeks ago we received a letter from Tokyo Bay written by George Milton. George had had some interesting experiences as skipper of a small boat in the amphibious forces.

Buddy Goldman was in New York on business but couldn't stay to catch the game. Bud was with a radio station in Texas but is now heading up the radio department for an agency in Baton Rouge, La.

We heard from roundabout sources that the former keeper of this pillar, John Moran, was heading back to New York via the Canal. John was based for some time at Guam. Now that Armed Guard crews are being relieved of duty, John stands a good chance of getting his discharge.

Tom Dunn, Springfield, Mass., is office manager with the Mack Truck Co. Frank Cane, M. A., '36, former NCCS acting executive director, has been appointed first executive director of the Los Angeles County Youth Committee. The newly organized committee, composed of 19 executives of Los Angeles County departments dealing with youth, and the Council of Social Agencies, will study problems affecting the various agencies, with a view of achieving greater coordination of their work.

Maj. Ed Theis, Philadelphia, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service in the quartermaster corps in Europe. Ed has been in the Army since before Pearl Harbor and his wife and two children are living temporarily in Evansville, Ind. Brother Bob Theis, ex. '46, was recently awarded the Bronze Star and the Air Medal for meritorious service in the Pacific theater.

From Manila way back in August Clark Fisher wrote:

"... We received the wonderful news last night that Japan is willing to capitulate and we all thank Almighty God that the end is now in sight. My present job is editor of this corps' newspaper and naturally I put in a very busy night of it, as you can imagine. Manila simply went wild. It means the end of disease, fighting, and probably the worst thing of all—separation from our loved ones. ... We've come all the way up, starting in New Guinea then the Netherland's East Indies operation where we saw some of Japan's air force and then on up here to the Philippines. It's been a long haul, almost 18 months overseas and three years in the Army for me."

Naval Lt. Bill Darcy sent in a note on Sept. 3, with his generous contribution:

"... Ever since the Japs finally came to their senses and surrendered, I've been living in a dream and envisioning myself back in life as a civilian. It almost seems too wonderful to be true to think that I'll soon be reunited with my family. Without taking into account points for sea duty, I'm still a little shy of the points necessary for discharge, but I'm in hopes that by the time we complete this voyage, the Navy will see fit to part company with my services."

And Bill Walsh writes:

"I received a pamphlet, 'What is a Dominican' from Jim Comeau, '37, yesterday and it had his picture in the habit of the order. As you probably know he is Brother Raphael and is nearing ordination at the Dominican House of Studies, River Forest, Ill. Ed Owens is a lieutenant, junior grade, in the Navy and was attached to the 10th Army on Okinawa."

Bill Gillespie has received his discharge and can be reached in Long Beach, N. Y.

Completing nearly five years of active military service, 1st Lt. Joe Schmidt of N. Y. C., was returned to inactive duty status and resumed his former position as advertising salesman for the "New York Sun."

Capt. Pat. Fisher wrote on Oct. 4, that his brother Jack, '40, was on his way home from the Philippines and that brother Paul, '43, had just arrived home from the ETO on a 45-day furlough. Later, all three were enjoying the Army Rally in N. Y. C., on Nov. 9. Pat, as you will read elsewhere, in this issue, is the very proud father of P. J., Jr., born Sept. 21.

1937 FRANK J. REILLY, MacNair-Dorland Co, 254 W. 31st St., New York City.

From Frank Reilly:

This is written the day after the Army game. I mention that because in his letter to me from Leyte Gulf, P. I., Lt. Joe Druecker, USNR, '37, asked me to do some "mighty strong praying and rooting for us (N. D.)" in the Army game, and I know he'll think I've let him down. Joe's letter is datelined U.S.S. LCI (L) 1084, c/o FPO, San Francisco, Sept. 23. He says:

"Noted in your last bit of gossip that Walt Nienaber is out in this area also, but it doesn't say where. Wonder if you could put me wise. Hope to be going back in the very near future—don't we all? but may be able to get together before we depart. Have run across quite a few boys from school out here. Fred Carideo is skipper on LSM 461 and was here about a month ago. Spent a day together. Barney English, '35, also spent a couple of days aboard. He is on an LCS. The one gentleman whom we all remember, Chaplain Francis J. Boland, C.S.C., is on APA 119 and has been in three or four times since I have been here. (He) has been able to spend a day or so aboard each time and (we) have had a great deal of pleasure talking about the times he used to spend keeping us on the straight and narrow."

Charlie Boyle, '35, is also in the same APA squadron and is on Commodore McGovern's staff. Charlie has been in about seven or eight invasions, if not more. (He) received the Silver Star at Attu. Joe McNally, '37, is out here and is on the ammunition ship—AE 15—U.S.S. Vesuvius—a good name for an ammunition ship. (We) get together a couple of days a week. Larry Danbom, '37, got out here and two weeks later was transferred to a carrier which returned to the States—some fellows have all the luck.

"Spent a few days in Manila. Tried to locate Mike Brias and a few others but it seemed that they were on a sugar plantation 80 miles south of Manila. Understand Lt. Comdr. Johnny Hoban is in Manila, but didn't know it at the time I was there. If you write to Joe Quinn extend my congratulations to him on the commission. The last time I saw Joe was in Casablanca in February 1943. He was No. 1 radar operator on a destroyer escort. Received a letter from Pat Carey and he informs me that he, Johnny O'Connor and Bob Loughery are sweating it out in Ulithi Atoll together.

I'll appreciate hearing from you on Walt's address, if you have it, and any other news you may have. It sure means a lot out here—swell place to go slowly nuts. [How about it '37ers, let's all try to write to Joe?]= F. J. R.

Speaking of the game, a number of the '37 boys were in town for the game and/or Reunion and Rally. Among those reported at the rally were: Bill McNally, of the Army and Capt. Ed Hoyt, now on terminal leave from the Army. Ed, I understand, is a neighbor of mine here in Parkchester in the Bronx, so naturally I look forward to seeing him. Bill Fallon, also on terminal leave from the Army, and Harry Pierce, who is living in New Rochelle, were at the rally, as were Mr. and Mrs. Don Hamming. Don and his wife were prisoners of the Japs for three years and were rescued from the Japs at the prison camp at Santo Tomas University in Manila the day before the Japs were set to execute them, as I get the story. Ed Neaher, of the F.B.I. and Mrs. Neaher; Father Joe English, M.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gillespie; Mike Scully, of the Army, and Bob Wilke of White Motor Co. were also among '37 people reported present and accounted for at the rally.

Coming back from Mass the other Sunday morning I met Mark Lonergan, who, as I've mentioned, is a neighbor of mine here in Parkchester. He is back in civilian clothes after serving with the Navy. Mark has gone back to his old job with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

ENGINEERS NEEDED

William J. O'Sullivan, '37, an employee at the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Langley Field, Va., has informed us that the Laboratory has immediate need for aeronautical, mechanical, electrical, civil, radio and other engineers for aeronautical research. Brochures giving a description of the work of the NACA are on file in the "Alumnus" office. For further details, contact Mr. T. Melvin Butler, Personnel Officer of the Laboratory.

Frank "Pinky" Carroll, an Army captain, is still at it, now serving at Fort Riley in Kansas, which makes it possible for him to commute almost daily back and forth between the fort and his in-laws, Al Schwartz's people, with whom Frank and the family are living at Salina, Kans. I talked to Frank's father the other day and he told me that two of Frank's other brothers are now out of service. He doesn't know when Frank will be out.

Ed Hackett, of '37, Milwaukee and the Army, was in New York briefly recently, but confined his visiting of some of our classmates to telephone calls, I believe.

I finally caught up with my predecessor on this job, Paul Foley, who is now out of the Office of War Information and is on the foreign staff of the Associated Press. Paul is working here in New York and living in nearby Hartsdale.

One of my pleasantest evenings in a long time was spent recently with my old N. D. roommate, Jack Hurley. Jack and I hadn't seen each other since around Army game in 1937 and so we had a lot to get caught up on. Jack looks much the same.

On Sept. 1, he took a position with the advertising department of General Electric Co., in Schenectady. Previous to that, Jack was a civilian employee at Sampson Naval Training Station for about three and a half years. He is married and expects to make his home in Schenectady. Jack corresponded for a while with both Dick Riley and Al Bride. However, he hasn't heard from Dick for some time, and Al is overseas, or was the last time Jack had heard. Jack thought he was going to be in Youngstown within a week or so after I saw him and was going to make a special point of looking up Dick Riley, about whom many wonder but few have heard. Dick was reportedly the city editor of the Youngstown "Vindicator," the last Jack had heard.

The mail during the month was unusually good with two letters and a postal card from Jerry Gillespie who was taking a short vacation with his wife at Split Rock Lodge, White Haven, elevation 2000 feet, Pa.

The final piece of mail for the month was an unusual letter from Lt. (jg) William P. McCarthy, USNR, otherwise known as "Boots," who was serving somewhere in China. Although the war had been over for about a week at the time Mac wrote, Aug. 23, he could not divulge his precise location in China. Mac, as you know, is an artist and had designed his own very decorative letter head with his name, some Chinese symbols, drawings of a Chinese idol and a young Chinese mother nursing a baby, and a very unmistakable portrait of himself. Here is his letter:

"The April issue of the Notre Dame 'Alumnus' just reached me a few days ago, and in my looking through this and previous issues, I have not noticed any news about N. D. men in China. I have been here in this strange and fascinating country for just about a year, and in all this time have come across only a few N. D. men. At one place where I was for a couple of months, I met Ensign Gillespie, class of '34, later I met Ens. Joe Keenan, ex. '34, of Chicago. At present, the commanding officer of the area where I now am . . . is Lt. Comdr. Robert Halperin, ex. '34, of Chicago.

"My travels in China have taken me from dining with the British ambassador and his wife (where I did an oil painting of their home) . . . to eating rice with coolies along a trail thousands of miles away from the first place mentioned, and in many a month unable to get to Mass. . . .

"In one N. D. 'Alumnus' issue there were a few words from my old roommate, Harrison J. Pierce, Jr., from Italy. I was sorry to hear of his brother's death. Did you know that Harry has a little son? I call him 'Tersus,'—not at all sure of the spelling—it's supposed to be Greek for third. My sympathy to the Hauking family for the loss of their son, Frank. Also through the 'Alumnus,' I read where James "Gypo" Nolan, an ensign in the Navy, admits that he is in the Southwest Pacific.

"I have executed a number of oil paintings in my free time of various subjects and am hoping to have a one man show when I get home. . . . My wife and I are celebrating our fourth wedding anniversary this month, with only a world between us. We have a cute little daughter, Patricia Jean, aged 2 plus."

John Cackley was discharged from the Army on July 25 at Paris to accept a position with the American Consulate in Marseille, where he is vice consul.

Capt. Charles Lemons, South Bend, who received his Army walking papers, is a public accountant and auditor with Haskins and Sells in Chicago. And former Lt. Tony Serge is a teacher at the Roanoke public schools in Virginia.

Capt. Bill Bailey, St. Louis, received the Silver Star Medal for the courage he displayed in rescuing a wounded infantryman under enemy fire on Luzon. He was overseas more than three years as a surgeon.

1938 HAROLD A. WILLIAMS, 4323 Marble Hall Rd., Baltimore, Md.

From Hal Williams:

Within the past few weeks I have received two swell letters that I know you will be interested in.

The first, from Redman Duggan who is a vice consul, stationed in the consulate at Durham, Natal, Union of South Africa.

"We—my wife and son—came across the Atlantic early in the winter when the subs were still going full blast. First we hit Lisbon, then went down the west coast of Africa, via the Azores, Madeira, the Canaries, Liberia, Angola and Capetown. But enough of travelogues. I learn indirectly from only a few of the boys. Mario Pierone is still practicing law in Muncie. Frank Larwood, when last heard from, was still with the Southern Pacific Railroad. I saw Bernie Feeney often while awaiting my orders in Washington. Also saw Val Deale and Paul Locher there—they are both in the Navy. Dan Quinlan is with the Army in the China theatre, doing psychiatric work.

"Where are Jack Solon, Jim Burgess, Bud Dark, Bill Cour, Tom Flynn, Jerry Kane, Tom Bohen, Denny Emanuel, and all the honorary members of the Sorin Porch Literary and Debating Society?"

Redman suggests that his mail be sent c/o FA Mail Room, Department of State, Washington. Says that it comes by courier that way. Much faster. Thanks for the letter, Redman, and the best of luck.

And now a fine letter from Dorothea Langton, wife of Hal. She writes, "We have a new fullback for N. D. to keep our twins company. He was born Sept. 25, 1945 at Columbia Hospital in Washington. He weighed 8 pounds and we called him Robert Dennis. Hal was head coach at Lardon School for Boys here in Bethesda, Md. This September he received an offer from Marquette University High School in Milwaukee. I am joining him there after Thanksgiving and after we are settled you can be sure any N. D. alumni are always welcome."

Thanks, Dorothea. But watch those generous invitations, several hundred classmates might take you up on it.

While down at Ft. Meade I bumped into John Duff, '39, who recently returned from overseas — Middle East Theater — where he served for two and one half years in the Counter Intelligence Corps. He's a technical sergeant. He is being transferred to CIC, Fifth Service Command, where he will sweat out his discharge, due sometime before Christmas.

Also heard down here that Bill Miller ('35), formerly in Security Intelligence in Richmond, Va., graduated from Judge Advocate General's School at University of Michigan in May, 1945, as first lieutenant. He's now stationed in Nuremberg, Germany, working on the war trials.

Under latest point system revision I will not go overseas. Don't know what will happen to me—probably will sweat it out like everyone else in the Army. I've decided to keep my apartment, so you can get in touch with me at 4323 Marble Hall Road, Baltimore.

From Burnett C. Bauer, 1613 Richards Ave., LaPorte, Ind.:

John P. Donnelly's signature now appears on the football tickets over the title of Business Manager. It's nice to have a friend in such a weighty position.

A card from Marcellus "Celly" Ball's beautiful blonde wife, Lynette, tells me that Celly is still accounting at Bendix, South Bend, and is in charge of the Accounts Payable department. The Balls have three rugged and handsome sons.

Bill Armel unexpectedly walked into my office in the middle of the factory here the other day, hot on the trail of a paint sale. Bill, who used to sit next to me in classes too numerous to forget, looked well. He has twin four-year old daughters and a year-old baby girl at home in Evanston, Ill. Bill said that his old roomy, star footballer and wizard of the accounting classes, Len Skogland was also living in Evanston and was chief accountant (or was it treasurer? hope this prompts a note from Len) of the Scully-Jones Co. of Chicago.

I met Len and his mother at a football game last year. They had come down to see Bob play, and his mother told me how Notre Dame got another star named Skogland playing end. Bob, she said, had set his heart on going to Notre Dame and following his big brother Len's footsteps. The war came, however, and he was brokenhearted when he had to give up plans of entering N. D. and join the Navy. He had no more than joined up when behold, the Navy ordered him to Notre Dame for training.

Bill Armel also mentioned that he had run into Jack Anton in a small town in Wisconsin last summer. Jack was on a bank examining trip, was in full physical trim, and still definitely a bachelor. Bill said that 1st Lt. Frank O'Laughlin and wife intended to drive down to the Dartmouth game with the Armels. Frank has recently been assigned to Ft. Sheridan, north of Chicago.

Lt. Tom Bohen, writing from Luzon, said his battalion surgeon is Lt. Edward McLaughlin, '40. Tom's outfit—which incidentally was in Germany at the windup—is camped near Batangas cemetery where he found the grave of his former high school buddy, and my brother-in-law, Major Cletus Schommer, a graduate student at N. D. in 1938-1940. Tom said that the Filipinos are extremely grateful to the Americans for coming to their rescue, and had planted many beautiful shrubs and flowers around the cemetery and took wonderful care of it. Tom lacks only 3 points of returning to wife and son and daughter in St. Paul.

Don Fisher, ye old manager of tennis and lately captain in the 1st Armored Division, dropped in to see me last week at work and last night came out to the house for dinner and talk. Don, who spent four and one half years in khaki, was drafted almost before they pulled the last number out of the fish bowl in Washington. He went through the African and Italian campaigns with the tanks of the 5th Army. A year ago he was sent home to Ft. Knox, Ky., where he was an instructor up until his recent discharge. Don wants to know the whereabouts of Art Geise, John Plouff, Ralph Pope, and Johnny Head. So do I. How about a letter, you guys.

At the Iowa game I ran into Ray Longstreth and charming wife, from Zanesville, O., where Ray has a partnership in a charcoal plant. They had left their two children at home for this, Ray's first trip back to the campus since before Pearl Harbor. Ray said he had just seen Dick Gerl. I tried to find him later, but no luck. Ray would like to hear from or get the address of Tex Humphries, the motorcycle navigator.

In the stadium I met Father Grimm who said that Al Grimm, his brother, was praying out a discharge at Ft. Dix after three and one half years of G.I.-ing.

My family was very happy to have Gene Geisler, M.A., '41, wife, and three-year old daughter whom he had never seen before his return from Europe last month, spend the past week-end at our home. Gene was overseas three and one half years, mostly in North Africa. He edited several Army newspapers, one at Dakar called something in French and another at Cairo, Egypt, called "The Catholic Soldier." He was fortunate to have had an audience with His Holiness, Pius XII, who blessed a rosary and several medals for him while in Rome. Gene says one of the greatest thrills he received was hearing the Victory March played as his group marched away from their final formation. Gene, who was a fellow Apologetics graduate student with me, is going to be an instructor in English at Notre Dame starting this November semester, and is staying with us until he can find a place in South Bend.

Received a wedding announcement from Philadelphia stating that Mary Ellen McCann would become the bride of Joseph Baglinski, grad. Apologetics student, 1938-1940 at Our Lady of Victory church Nov. 10, 1945.

A letter from Otto Scherer happily startled me after several years silence from his precinct. I give you the more choice excerpts from a choice letter (Heading is 503 Conway Ave., Narbeth, Pa.).

"I have just completed a review of the October 'Alumnus' and thought your editing of the news of '38 well tempered, [thanks] not too corny, [?] and reflecting the effect of middle age. [!!] Do you realize we have been out of school seven years? Back in Sorin sub I felt that within seven years I would at least be a governor of a state, and owner of half the diamond mines in Africa. Needless to say I have fallen at least two notches below the objective.

"I am still working in Philly for Mr. Hoover, who has undoubtedly lost all track of me. Other agents have come and gone, but here I remain, to combat the hazards of City Hall pigeon-bombing and the sulphuric gases rising from the Delaware River.

"During my last two years here I have been comforted no end by the presence of fellow-agent, Ed Grogan, formerly of Badin Hall fame, and more recently the scourge of South Philadelphia hoodlums. Ed has shown considerable talent here, is very firm and persuasive and a past master of the 'once lightly, please' technique with reticent individuals.

"Many other N.D. men have passed through the office here. John Foley (I don't know the class, possibly '35) has been here some time. Charlie Stine, '41, came in from the New York office a few weeks ago. Stine and I have agreed (with each other) to attend the next meeting of the Philadelphia club; I have been intending to go to their meetings for three years now but have never made it.

"Have you heard anything about Charlie Beasley lately? [No] A couple of years ago I learned he was a major in the Marines and performed heroically early in the Pacific War. . . .

"Your comments regarding Joe Wehrle were interesting since I haven't heard from him for a long while.

"Agnes sends her regards to you and Helene, and the little ones. Our duplication is still singular (Mary Ann). . ."

Thanks, Otto, for a very enjoyable letter. By the way, Otto and I courted two St. Mary's teachers together—Otto had the car—who, happy to say, are our above mentioned wives. Otto is famous amongst other things, as the lad who always had the front seat at Washington hall. A vicious rumor also has it that he once failed to get a 100 in an accounting exam.

Julian Pleasants, valedictorian of '39, also grad. apologist, '39-'41, is in the Laboratories of Bacteriology, Notre Dame. I was his guest at the Iowa game.

Do you fellows want more news of the class? . . . well, drop a line to Swede (that's me) at 1613 Richards Ave., La Porte, Ind., and, if you don't think it is big enough, let me use my stretcher on it.—Certainly you've all heard of a news-stretcher? A couple of women on our party line back home in Good Thunder, Minn., invented it, I think. At least they had one of the earliest and hardest models, and showed me, often, how to use it.

Ray Meyer has been designated athletic director at DePaul University, Chicago, following the resignation of Tom Haggerty. Ray has been the highly successful basketball coach at DePaul for the past three years.

Major John Scott, USMCR, after whom "Scotty Square" within the Third Marine division base camp on Guam is named, will resume his duties with the South Bend city schools upon his discharge from the Marines. As the operations officer for the Third Marine division, Jack planned and made the assault landing on Guam with the regiment on July 21, 1944. He was wounded by a Japanese artillery shell on Aug. 6, 1944, and received the Purple Heart. He also was awarded the Bronze Star medal for "meritorious achievement" in the Guam campaign and recommended for the Legion of Merit. And for his services in the Bougainville campaign, he was awarded the commendation ribbon by Admiral William F. Halsey.

Gene Smith, Brooklyn, is with the Marine medical corps in Nagasaki, Japan. Gene left Camp LeJeune, N. C., on June 5. Prior to that he had been in Ireland and England. He wrote of the extensive damage the atomic bomb caused in Nagasaki and gave an interesting description of a solemn high Mass he had attended there, with two Polish Franciscans as celebrant and deacon and a Japanese priest as subdeacon, and with Japanese boys as servers and choir boys.

From Hal Williams (later):

During the past week I bumped into two Notre Dame boys at the Counter Intelligence Corps Center at Camp Holabird in Baltimore. The first one is Tom Flynn, '38, who is here awaiting discharge. Tom served on a CIC team with the 102nd Infantry, covering France, Belgium and Holland. Tom made it out to Cleveland for the Navy-Notre Dame game and there bumped into Pat Gorman, '39, who is still in the army, still stationed at Camp Lee, Va.

Robert J. Sullivan, '37, of Chicago, also is stationed at Holabird. Prior to the present assignment, Bob was stationed in the Sixth Service Command as a special agent. He is now assisting the special service officer, patching punctured ping pong balls.

A friend of mine from Baltimore, Charlie Kelly was in New York for the Army game. At the Penn Bar he bumped into Lt. Al Grimm who reported that in the immediate past he had seen or heard about Tex Haggur, Ed Brannigan, and Ed Wrape.

At a movie the other night I sat about 15 rows behind E. Bradley Bailey, vice-president of the Alumni Association. When the news-reel pictures of the Army-Notre Dame game were shown there several deep groans emanating from down front. I assume they came from Bailey.

1939 VINCENT W. DeCOURSEY, 1321 Georgia, Kansas City, Kans.

From Vince DeCoursey:

A very-much-in-evidence conscience has been putting the prong to me recently regarding a very long neglected duty, namely getting out this column. Said prong applied at the present moment finds me with no excuse handy—hence, a column.

Most of the stuff I have on hand, being of war-time vintage is blessedly antiquated. Most of the overseas letters are, I trust, now of memory and the mail from now on will bear stamps.

Have been getting ready for the past week for a big blow-out to welcome Tom Reardon, wife, and four little Reardons back from the wars. Expect him in the middle of November, Tom Higgins, lately of the Aleutians, and short a few points since he hasn't been married very long, is at Leavenworth, paying the boys off at the separation center there. My brother, Bill DeCoursey, who was the first to graduate in uniform, is now home, or was. He is at Wisconsin taking a few refresher courses in applied dairying, something they didn't teach in the air corps.

But for the letters. From James A. Johnson, then j.g. in the Medical Corps, married in June, '43, at the student's chapel, U. of Michigan. On an evacuation LST from Normandy, then Southern France. Missed contact with the Notre Dame Club of Italy. Back, introduced to daughter and at writing was cooling some rather warm heels at Portsmouth.

Once upon a time Tom O'Malley used to call me up on his way through from Chicago to somewhere else, and I hope to get another call before long. But the last thing was a letter, a long time ago, saying that he had just returned from his personal campaign with the 8th Air Force and was at Ellington Field, Texas, for a refresher course. Charlie, his brother, was with the A.T.C. somewhere around Saipan. Bob Carmody was with the Med. Ad. at a hospital in England.

Lately a letter from ex-roommate, Dick Anton, now engaged in hiring men to turn tanks into plows at Oliver in South Bend. Just the other day a nice letter from Maurice Leahy, home on leave from his station at Truxa Field, Madison, Wis., where he is a captain. Had to get back to Ohio to see his second (brother Paul Leahy, '38, has five). He thought it to be about a month before he was learning the why's and mostly the why-not's of civilian living again. Hoped to land in some personnel work after that.

Now a few personal words before ringing down the curtain. Bill Dooley and Jim Armstrong of the Alumni Association, have a grand idea in Alumni job placement and one that can be of great benefit to those who are finding out that breaking into employment ranks isn't as easy as it once was. Out here in Kansas City, I am standing ready to do anything I can to help out.

Bill O'Toole, '39, greets the famous Col. Frank Gabreski, '42, at the Stromberg-Carlson plant in Rochester, N. Y. (See '39 news.)

Right now Kansas City is in that paradoxical situation of most of the country; not enough help if you're running a place, and no jobs if you're looking for one. But that situation is due for a big change, shortly I trust. So if you think I might do some good, drop a line. The three boys still don't take up all the time in the day.

Cy Kerns, Saginaw, Mich., received his discharge the last of September and is working as assistant branch secretary at the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co.

1st Lt. Ray Tille of Mt. Vernon, O., is in the medical corps, stationed at Glennon General Hospital, Okmulgee, Okla. Lt. (jg) Bill Mullins returned to the states in time for his ship, the destroyer U.S.S. John Rodgers, to take part in Navy celebration in the States. Bill's wife and son, William, Jr., are living in New Rochelle, N. Y.

Frank Bradley is now a member of the staff of aeronautical engineering at the University, while doing graduate work in mathematics. He recently left the Air Transport Command as a lieutenant colonel.

Bill Donnelly is with the Press Associated (radio part of AP) in Indianapolis.

Motts Tonelli, who survived the Bataan death march and 42 months in Japanese prison camps, signed a contract to play football with the Chicago Cardinals. He is at home in Chicago.

Lt. Dick McKay, Dubuque, Ia., was graduated on Sept. 27 from the Army School of Military Neuropsychiatry at Mason General Hospital, Brentwood, N. Y. S/Sgt. Dick Higby is serving as ammunition shipping clerk, Ordnance Section, Headquarters, in Manila. Overseas since November, 1943, Dick has seen service in the Aleutians, Alaska, New Guinea and the Philippines. His brother, 1st Lt. Kenneth, received an honorable discharge from the Army.

From Bill O'Toole, of the Stromberg-Carlson Co., Rochester, N. Y.:

"Col. Francis S. Gabreski, who was a freshman when I was a senior, was the guest Oct. 29 of Stromberg-Carlson. Gabreski flew to Rochester to participate in the Victory Loan drive. He was asked first to visit Stromberg-Carlson, not in the nature of a pepper-upper so much as in the role of a great war hero congratulating our workers on what they had already done. You see, the company was the first industry in the entire United States to pass its quota in the Victory Loan and the people had reached that goal before Gabreski's visit.

"Col. Gabreski, a polished gentleman, made a splendid impression here and I was proud of him and of Notre Dame. He and I had a grand reunion, though that word is hardly correct as I did not know him on the campus.

"I am editing the house organ here, serving also as chief photographer. Last week I got the good news that I am to be moved up to sales publicity the first of the year. If you see Bob McAuliffe, one of the best friends I ever had, will you tell him?"

1940 CAPT. ROBERT G. SANFORD, 3934 N. Maryland Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

Some more discharges: Ted Jochems, now a medical student, Wichita, Kans.; Clyde Archer on the editorial staff of the "Parkersburg Sentinel," West Virginia; Norman Bourke, Waterville, N. Y., who dropped in the week-end of the Illinois game; Jim Shiely, St. Paul, Minn.; Dan Laughlin, an undertaker in Chicago.

Col. Jack Henebry was awarded the Legion of Merit medal for outstanding services in the southwest Pacific area while he was commander of the 3rd Attack Group, famous as the "Grim Reapers," a B-25 bombardment unit.

Jock had been decorated with the DFC with three clusters, Silver Star, DSC, Legion of Merit, Purple Heart and the Air Medal with three clusters. He is now in the United States and was at Notre Dame for at least one of the games this fall.

Bob Howard has returned to the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., Wheeling, W. Va. Bob held the rank of captain in the Army before his discharge.

"Of all the action I've seen, Okinawa was the toughest!" said Li. (Jr) Gerry Flynn of Rochester, N. Y. "We were playing in the Jap's back yard, and it wasn't fun," Gerry continued. He had completed two years of duty as recognition officer, public information officer and gunnery control officer aboard the aircraft carrier "Enterprise" which returned to the Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Wash., for battle damage repairs.

Vince Gurucharri visited the University late in September. He had an interesting tale to tell of guerrilla warfare in the Philippines. His son, Francis, was born the day Bataan fell, April 7. With the invasion of the Japanese, the family planned to escape to the hills but Mrs. Gurucharri, the daughter of Frank Lloyd, former University comptroller, was found to be an American citizen and was taken to a concentration camp with her four week-old son. Vince, having aided the American army, was placed under garrison jurisdiction. After nine months, Mrs. Gurucharri was released to live with her husband and the family continued their heroic work of aiding the guerillas.

For his part in helping to fly wounded from Okinawa under enemy fire, Li. Bill Tucker, of New Rochelle, N. Y., has been awarded the Navy Unit Commendation won by his squadron, VRE-L, the Naval Air Transport Service. Bill had been overseas 36 months and was scheduled to return to the U. S. soon for discharge. His wife and two sons are living in New Rochelle.

George Eichler has been promoted to major. He is serving with the quartermaster unit of the Eighth Army forces of occupation in Yokohama, Japan. George, whose home is in South Bend, enlisted in the service in June, 1942, and received his commission at Camp Lee, Va., in December, 1942. He has seen service in Australia, New Guinea, the Dutch East Indies, Leyte and Luzon. He practiced law in South Bend prior to his enlistment.

Ens. Bernie Swanser of Portland, Ore., took part in the Navy Day celebration aboard the destroyer U. S. John Rodgers which returned to the States from 21 months of action against the Japs. Before entering the Navy, Bernie was an agent for the FBI.

Li. (Jr) Joe Thesing, stationed at Great Lakes, Ill., got in time to see his alma mater win from Illinois. He reports that he will become assistant to Kitty Gorman, now a navy lieutenant on a carrier in the Pacific, when the '33 co-captain returns to Washington University, St. Louis, as head coach.

Rev. Richard Fallon was ordained by Archbishop Spellman on Dec. 1. Dick celebrated his first solemn Mass in Holy Family, New Rochelle, N. Y., on Dec. 2.

1941 JOHN W. PATTERSON, JR., 5530 Darlington Rd., Pittsburgh, Pa.

From Jack Patterson (on Oct. 2) who is back with the "Pittsburgh Press" as assistant promotion manager:

"The Long Voyage Home" has been completed and, except for a technical connection which will last until my terminal leave is ended, I am now out of the army. Released from the military it is now time for me to get back into the Notre Dame whirl. From now on I shall certainly do my best to keep the 1941 column of the "Alumnus" loaded with information about fellow graduates.

Of course I have to compete against the columns that have been contributed by my father for the past three years. He has done quite a job and I will be hard put to keep up the pace he has maintained.

My last two months overseas brought me into the same outfit as Li. Jack Boyce—an officer in Hq. Co. of the 16th Arm'd. Division. Jack graduated in '42 and was the first Notre Dame man I was with for any substantial length of time during all of my stay in the army. My last news of the 16th was that it was packing up to move to a staging area—probably at Le Havre—and from there to the States.

My only other Notre Dame contact since seeing Jack came when I bumped into Howie Essick and Mrs. Essick at Indiantown Gap. The Essick's and I were to have dinner together at the Gap but I got mixed up in a physical examination on the evening in question and couldn't make it. Since I was unable to explain this mishap in person, I hope this written apology will suffice.

Among the letters awaiting my arrival at home were one from Joe Stephen, a '41 Journalism major, and Dan Kelley, whose return address is the U.S.S. Mulphien out of San Francisco. There was also a wedding announcement involving William "Bill" Gagan, Jr. Bill married Miss Errol Jean MacAdam on Sept. 1. The ceremony was held in Hawaii.

Joe Stephen was married in 1942 to Frances McHenry, a graduate of Nebraska University. They have a little daughter which Joe has not seen—being at present on Attu in the Aleutians. Some more facts in Joe's own words—

"I have been on Attu since it was taken and had a small part in that operation. I was attached to a radar unit and spent a dull 20 months on a little outpost called Agattu. In June of this year I transferred to my present organization and started to work for Walt Kristoff, '41. It wasn't long before Walt (a captain) and I rounded up a few other fellows who were at school. They were Bill Platt, '42, John Head, '38, John Murphy, '44, John Fahey and a fellow named Fairlee. The latter two were drafted after their freshman year at school. Our chaplain, Father Fitzgerald, studied some at Notre Dame."

Joe heard rumors about Tom Trueman being in a Denver Hospital recuperating from injuries received in Italy; that Ralph Gerra is on Adak; that Lou Rieser is in Italy.

Joe inclosed a group picture of the Attu gang which I am sending along to the "Alumnus."

Dan Kelley's letter was dated Aug. 28 but I haven't been picking up any letters for well over a month. All my mail had to be re-addressed and sent home. But Dan has filled the letter with facts about a bunch of the '41 class and I'm sure all the information is still timely.

Two of Dan's shipmates are N. D. men. One is Joe Murphy, of '35; the other is John Riley, '44. Dan has run into a flock of N. D. people and has written all his experiences down better than I could, so I'll let him do the talking—

"One of my biggest surprises was meeting Bob Cox, '41, in Saipan in March upon our return from Iwo Jima. Bob had been there too, with the PSM's. Besides being a roomie of mine at N. D., I had stood up for Bob when he was married and was Godfather by proxy for his son, now nearly ten months old. So we duly celebrated each event all over again.

"Then in July, again at Saipan, I ran amuck of remnants of the 'Flying Irish' squadron including Bud Longo, '41, and Red Begley, '42. They are both flying with the Navy and otherwise haven't changed a bit. Oh yes, Red sports a mustache. The other boys from the squadron are pretty well disbursed by now, but we talked over Jim Tinny (now married to Katie Ann Schock of the South Bend Schock's), Jack Lucas, Frank Santos, Bob Saggau and all the others that went from our class to the Air Corps.

"Cap Jehring, '41, is on an LSM and we used to bump into each other frequently. Cap was Stores officer and I'm supply officer, so days in port found us scraping around the beach for anything we could get.

"Joe Patti, '41, is also on an LSM. Last I saw of him, he was heading for another trip to Okinawa. Marty Ingwersen is repair officer on a repair ship and did some fine work at Okinawa.

"I stayed with Ed Kelly, '42, a couple of nights and Ed is a fine host. He is flying C-46's with the Marines covering Iwo, Okinawa, Saipan, Guam, etc., and has just been made a captain. Ed was aboard ship one day for dinner and we discovered that his wife was formerly with our ship's doctor on duty when she was a navy nurse. More coincidences.

"I got together with Walt Desel, '41, several times while in the Solomons. Walt has been down there two years and is sure mighty anxious to get back. He is a Marine 1st lieutenant and with an ordnance company. Roger Foley, a '41, was also down there.

"Walt McNamara, '42, of Chicago was part of our Marine cargo for Okinawa. Father John Burke's ship was tied up near us recently, but not long enough for us to get over for a visit. Father Dupuis was on one of the ships of our squadron with the Marines at Iwo. Jack McAllister, '39, is now a major in Coast Army and went back to good old Syracuse after the Philippine and Okinawa campaigns.

"The rest of the boys from Syracuse are pretty well scattered with Howie Van Swall, '41, holding things down with two children. My cousin, Paul Kelly, '42, is with the Army Air Forces in California at present. Bob McDonough, ex. '41, is with the Army Signal Corps in Manila.

"Jim Clemens, '43, is on board ship with me. He was a big gun on the "Scholastic" staff during N. D. days."

Dan closes by mentioning that his uncle, Lee D. Kelley, '21, is rarin' to go next summer for his 25th and our 5th reunion. I know we're all looking forward to that and I hope that those who are still spotted in foreign countries will get home for the big event.

Now that I'm home again, I hope that some of the fellows who have been out of touch during the war will let me and the rest of the '41 class know how they're faring.

From Jack Patterson (later):

The smoker before the Pitt game produced some long-awaited reunions. There were so many people from so many classes that I won't attempt to mention them all. Lou Apone was the first person I ran into upon arrival.

A fellow-Pittsburgher, Eddie McHugh, has joined the multitude of ex-servicemen with the little gold button. Ed was overseas with the 2nd Arm'd Division, a top-notch tank outfit known as the "Hell-on-Wheels" gang. He came out a captain and wears the Purple Heart with cluster. He looks good—just about the same as he did in '41.

Vern Witkowski roared through Pittsburgh too quickly for me to see him. He was on his way to Detroit and expected to be in New York by Army game time. He is going to return to acting now that he is out of the Navy. In our phone conversation I didn't find out whether he'll do radio work or tread the boards. He did mention that Jack White is doing radio shows in New York—stage name is Jack Sylvester. Jack can be heard—a commercial—at 11:30 in the morning, Monday through Friday, in "A Woman's Story."

One tiny fact, gathered on the grapevine, is that Paul Vignas is now one of Cleveland's up and coming doctors. I'd like to hear more about him.

I see Jack Monteverde, quite often on my daily trip to lunch in town. He just got his discharge and is getting ready to settle down again.

Capt. George Meagher, M. C., '36, is stationed at Ft. Sheridan Hospital, Ill., where he performed an operation on a '41 boy, 1st Lt. Bob Stack, of Cleveland, who had returned from B-29 service in the Pacific. Bob visited the Alumni Office on Sept. 28.

Pvt. Ed Graham, Sheppard Field, Tex., received his new title and inductions papers on July 16, 1945.

It's a lot of action that Matt Byrnes saw with the Navy in the Pacific. Matt, a former lieutenant, senior grade, had six Jap planes to his credit and received the DFC three times and the Air Medal eight times. His wife and two little daughters were mighty proud to welcome him home. Matt is now selling for Brown & Bigelow (calendars, etc.) in Indianapolis.

1st Lt. Ervin Stefanik is in Hawaii with the AAF. His mother stopped at the Alumni Office on Oct. 19 to leave Erwin's generous contribution to the Alumni Fund.

South Bend's Bob Sweeney calls his air force service "post-grad work." He writes that he is again a civilian, as is Frank McGroder, East Cleveland, O.; Capt. John Campbell, Humboldt, Ia.; Lt. John Kelley, USNR, South Bend, and Erwin Mooney attending University of Chicago—graduate work.

1st Lt. Paul Puglia, on an inactive status, was here for the Dartmouth game. He can be reached in Waynesburg, Pa.

1st Lt. Joe Kallenbach of Wheeling, W. Va., is (or was) in Fletcher General Hospital, Cambridge, O.

Lt. Bob Osterman has been discharged by the Navy after three years' service, most of it with the Pacific fleet, and is now at his home in Detroit. Bob attended the Iowa game. Capt. John Richards has been discharged from the Marine Corps and is living with his wife and two children in Virginia. Matt Miholick, South Bend, is home, discharged.

Armand Lopez, is employed by Majestic Radio and Television, St. Charles, Ill., as assistant export manager. George Schieve, '42, is with the same company. Ed Larkin of Peoria, Ill., was promoted to lieutenant on an aircraft carrier in the Pacific. Ed piloted a torpedo bomber and won two Air Medals on his first tour of duty against the Japs.

1st Lt. Paul Schiappacasse, pilot in the AAF, is (or was) in Percy Jones Hospital Annex, Ft. Custer, Mich.

Milt Piepul, captain of the '40 team, walked into the stadium field on Oct. 13 in the role of an "enemy." He is serving his second year as backfield coach of the Dartmouth team, which made its first visit here to meet the Notre Dame team.

From John Aselage's letter of Oct. 29:

"Well, V-J Day all but wound up my job with Cleveland Ordnance, where I had worked for over four years. I had only to check final inventories, and odds and ends after that, and on Sept. 24, I began to work for the Internal Revenue Bureau. I am working in Lima, O., which is a part of the Toledo district."

Tom Curigan has been promoted to the rank of captain. He is stationed at the Detroit Regional Office of the ATSC as plant clearance officer.

Capt. Dick Dora, discharged, of Vincennes, Ind., dropped in the Alumni Office on Nov. 16 with tales of 40 months in Africa and France. Dick is to be married on Dec. 26, in Vincennes.

Gene Quinn is now with the Chicago Moulded Products Corp., 1021 N. Kolmar St., Chicago.

Joe Stephen, '41, sent this picture of a Notre Dame group on Attu. Left to right, standing, are Joe himself, Sgt. John Head, '38, Chaplain (Lt.) Fitzgerald and Ens. John Murphy, '44. Below are Capt. Walt Kristoff, '41, John Fahey and Pfc. Bill Platt, '42.

1942 CPL. WILLIAM E. SCANLON, Post Gymnasium, Ft. Sheridan, Ill.

From Scop Scanlon:

News about the Class of '42ers seems to be increasing a bit now that things are slowly but encouragingly reaching normal. Why even Bernie Crimmins is back at his familiar football! Bernie is alternating at right guard for the Green Bay Packers, league. Steve Bagarus continues to zoom in the limelight with the Washington Redskins.

From Roselle, N. J., comes this clipping from Mrs. B. P. Wojcik:

"The meritorious service unit plaque, awarded military personnel of the atomic bomb project, has been presented the four detachments at the project's northwest of Santa Fe, N. M. . . . Individual members of the detachments wear a gold wreath on the right sleeve of their uniforms as evidence of the award. They include Special Engineer detachment—Pvt. Bernard P. Wojcik."

Why, one day I looked at "Life," the Oct. 15 issue, and who was one of the smiling footballers of the current Notre Dame crop but Ed Stelmazek, once of our class.

On Oct. 29, Arch Ward in his Chicago "Tribune" column, carried this communique regarding "Ens. Ray Ebl . . . is on duty on the U.S.S. Takelma, in the Philippine area. He was on rescue duty during recent typhoons on Okinawa."

Probably the highest ranking military man of our class is Francis S. Gabreski, one of the nation's top air aces, who has just been upped to full colonel.

Steve Juzwik is halfback for the Fleet City Naval team, Shoemaker, Calif. Others on the team are: Buddy Young, Charley O'Rourke and Hippity Hopp. Wow, what a backfield!

Dated Nov. 8, and coming from Pearl Harbor, is this communique from Lt. (Jg) George Uhl, a recent promotee:

"After I finished sub school in New London, Conn., I had a leave, most of which I spent at home in New Washington, O., and in Cincinnati visiting my brother and sister. I then went to South Bend by train, stopped by to visit my brother there, and had only a few hours for a short visit at Notre Dame. Soon I flew from Chicago to San Francisco, stayed there about a day, and flew to Honolulu. Since then I have been stationed at the Sub Base at Pearl Harbor. The first day here I met John Donnelly, my old roomie of Walsh 405. He has been here for some time and is still here. He's connected with Submarine Ordnance.

I saw Tom Tearney here, but he's now on a sub which has gone back to the U. S. It looks like I'll be in the Navy at least six months yet and I may even go back to school again."

Here's a letter, coming directly from Tokyo Bay, and authored by John Lewis, Larry Hickey and Ed Mangelsdorf on Sept. 8:

(A) Lt. (Jg) John Lewis, USNR:

"My first two years in this outfit, as far as duty was concerned, were perfect—stateside in Nashville, Tenn., Hollywood, Fla., and Savannah, Ga. Was able to get leave to see Notre Dame beat the "Seahawks" in '42, and Northwestern in '43. Did some duty with Lt. Joe Dunne of the class of '31, and ran into him again in July '44 in Pearl Harbor when chasing this ship. Finally caught this ship in 'Frisco and out to Pearl Harbor again. While there met Father Boland, Jim Bratz, Mike Kelly, Bud Stenstrom, Bob Raaf and a few others. Jim Bratz was still complaining about someone stealing his shoes. From there to Ulithi with the ill fated carriers 'Franklin' and 'Hancock' and on to the bloody Okinawa campaign. Rested up at Leyte and had a meeting with Bob Miller of the carrier 'Essex,' from Indianapolis. Back out for the 'strikes' at the Japanese homeland and the pleasant reunion with Larry and Ed."

(B) Lt. Larry "Red" Hickey, USNR:

"After 34 months of Stateside duty in beautiful Jacksonville, Fla., I finally received sea-duty orders to the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Bataan. During this prolonged Utopia I met many members of '42, plus others. Everybody seemed to train at one time or another in Florida. Last member of '42 was Joe Gillespie and Jim Walsh, '43, who left Florida in June. As most of the other news is ancient I shall refrain from mentions of 1942-43-44-45. Enroute to the West Coast I had a small reunion in Chicago with Bill Hickey, Byron Kanaley and Jim McNulty—all of '42. Bill Hickey, now married, is a big steel vendor in South Chicago. Byron Kanaley in the investment business in Chicago, while Jim McNulty was reporting to Great Lakes after two years Pacific duty.

"In San Francisco I met Pacific returnee, Marine Capt. Joe Flynn and Jerry O'Dowd, law class '42. Plans for a get together next day were spoiled by my sudden departure for Pearl Harbor. The class of '42, beer and all, was well represented by D.E. skipper Lt. Don Hogan, '42, and Lt. (Jg) Wade Noda at P.H. I then left Pearl Harbor and caught my ship by way of Guam, Philippines, etc. First to greet me on board was Lt. Ed Mangelsdorf, ace fighter pilot with Air Group 49. He has an impressive number of decorations and missions over Japan. Still handshaking with Ed and several other friends, when John Lewis, ship's gunnery officer, joined the greeters for a few fast minutes. Ed, John and myself made the trip into Tokyo Bay with Admiral Halsey's Third Fleet, Carrier Group, Task Force 38. We never got ashore at Tokyo or Yokohama but we did get an excellent view of Tokyo close-up."

(C) Lt. Ed Mangelsdorf, USNR:

"Graduation, cadet training, pre-operational flying and 18 months of instructing bring us up to a year ago. Many of my Notre Dame-tinged incidents have been amply covered by our future Hollywood star, Stephen Gunning Graliker and others.

"Last September (44), Navy Bill Grady and I went through FOF training at Daytona Beach, Fla., where we renewed our friendships with people like D. F. O'Brien, Jack Barry and Larry Hickey. From Daytona we went to Chicago for a cold period of carrier check-outs on the U.S.S. Sable in ice packed Lake Michigan—word reached us after we left there that we missed seeing Bill Hickey, Walt Kelley, '43, and Stephen Gunning Graliker, who were all in town around Christmas and New Year's. However, I had a fine pre-Christmas dinner with my old roommate, Jack Sherer, and his wife, Mary Jane. On the west coast Navy Bill and I got split up (first time in two and three and four years of Naval service). He was assigned to VBF No. 87, and immediately shipped to Maui. I pulled down a set of orders to VF-49. We were able to see Stephen Gunning Gralliker again on the coast (he turns up everywhere generally on the reform platform but still cutting a wide fast and smooth swath in the social fields). Also saw George Saxon, who had even managed to get his PB2Y crew's trousers pegged.

"When we went to Oahu in March we were kept busy flying at Kaneohe and I only saw 'Navy Bill' twice; once on Maui and once in Oahu when he had come to inquire about putting in for the 'Regular' Navy. He ran across Tom Hennigan on Maui who was then in training for the Okinawa invasion.

"Air Group 49 was with Task Force 58 and 38 from May 2 up through the occupation of Japan. We saw it all, are officially credited with a lion's share of damage to the Imperial Air Force and are anxious to get home as soon as we can.

"Personally, I met Gill Prendergast, '30, and Dave Carpenter, '46, aboard the U.S.S. San Jacinto (our first carrier) and Larry Hickey and John Lewis aboard the U.S.S. Bataan. Hickey, I might mention, has taken over air pilot aboard this ship, Lewis is a gunnery officer. The enclosed picture of the three of us was taken in Tokyo Bay. If it turns out O.K., would appreciate your reproducing same for a future 'Alumnus.' 'Navy Bill' Grady who splashed a Kamikaze 'Jill' has gone regular Navy. We missed him in Tokyo—he's aboard the U.S.S. Ticonderoga. Have been looking for Jim O'Neal and his DE No. 262 ever since we came out last but no luck so far. The St. Louis gang is still intact, thank God. Frank Pollnow and Ed Griesedieck are working in St. Louis and J. A. Scherer, when last heard from, was in radio work for the Navy in Chicago.

"In conclusion, Scoop—the entire class owes you a vote of sincere thanks for the splendid work you've put in each month for our corner in the 'Alumnus.' Each one we've received has been abundant and interesting in its '42 news. Keep it up and while you're resting how about starting on a class address book for the new addresses we're bound to have when we leave the services."

And now it's time to turn the pages to the latest dope on the Lawyers, '42 version, as written by Mrs. Lora Lashbrook:

Jim Neu wrote from Australia a few days ago and expected to be sent home very soon. He was looking for a good location. James Lancaster was married recently in Georgia and is living there now. His bride is a resident of Georgia, we understand. The wedding picture in the South Bend papers is proof that Jim is still using very good judgment. Jim McGoldrick, after passing the New York bar exams, is making some plans to leave the government service and enter private practice in New York.

Roc Montegna was in for a visit on the day of the Iowa game. He was making some plans to practice law. He was just out of the Illinois Bar exams. John Specia wrote a nice letter from Harvard where he is working on his graduate degree in law. He would like to hear from any of his classmates in that area. Bill Syring ought to be getting home about now. The last word was from Inside Germany.

Capt. Al Cholis is now a civilian. He has been home about a month and his experiences are all the way from North Africa, through Italy, France, and finally into Germany, have not changed him in any way at all. He will practice law as soon as he has had enough vacation. John Verdonk, formerly Capt. Verdonk, is also a civilian now and is locating in Michigan where his wife and two children have lived during John's military service. He was in for a visit a short time ago. John Ward is practicing law in Chicago, where he is a member of the firm in which his father is a partner.

On the U. S. S. Bataan in Tokyo Bay on September 5 were three Notre Dame men of '42 in this group of six. Left to right, standing, are Lt. G. E. A. Holland, Lt. Ed Mangelsdorf, '42, and Lt. J. J. Sexton. Below are Lt. Larry "Red" Hickey, '42, Lt. J. A. Gibson and Lt. (jg) John Lewis, '42.

Merv Bagan was over for a short visit on registration day, Nov. 5, and is out of uniform also. He has had some offers to practice and will select one of them very soon. Pete Alonso applied to take the last Illinois bar exam but the examiner reports that he did not take it. We are waiting for some news from him now. He is on the S. S. Trade Wind in the Pacific. Lt. Joseph Barr, USMC, was discharged on Oct. 31, and is now at home in Wood River, Ill. Joe passed the recent Illinois bar exams and is now ready to settle down and support his wife. Jim Daner was also in for a visit. Jim is ready to practice also and expects to locate in Michigan.

Joe Lavery was to be admitted to the Connecticut bar and we assume he is now representing a select clientele in and around Bridgeport, Conn. Air Corps Lt. Graham McGowan is back in school; his discharge from the Army permitted him to enter for the November semester.

Leo Linck is still in the service. He recently was in New York learning the fine art of separating men from the military service but had not yet learned how to separate Leo from his uniform. Later I heard from some of the boys in St. Louis that he was back in the South, stationed in Texas I believe. If he stays in one place long enough for my letters to catch up we may have some news.

Tim Maher of Pittsburgh was here for a week-end visit on the occasion of the Iowa game, as the guest of Prof. Paul Fenelon. He was looking very fit and apparently enjoying the prosperity of a successful practice. It was Tim's first visit in a long time. Harry Murray was on the campus the week of Nov. 12. He is still working for the Board of Education in Chicago. Lt. Bob Simon, USMC, is expected home by the end of November according to news from his wife, Florence, in Ottawa, Ill. He has been stationed on Guam for several months. Lt. Bob Miller, USNR, is expected to be discharged from the Navy tomorrow (Nov. 17) and hopes to get to Notre Dame to start his law study on the 19th by special arrangement with the Director of Studies. Bob has been on duty on the carrier Essex.

Lt. Bob Stewart, U.S.N.A.C., is now a civilian and is back in school finishing the work for his law degree. He brought his wife and baby daughter in for a visit this week. Major Bob Sullivan, U.S.A.A.F., will be discharged the first week in December. He is in school, however, on terminal leave and as soon as suitable housing can be found he will be joined by his wife and little Davey, who are now in Cleveland. Lt. Tom Tearney, U.S.N.R., was here this week showing the campus to Lt. Tiernan of the WAVES, and vice versa. Tom is as energetic as ever and expects a discharge in time to start school in March. He is on a submarine in the Pacific.

Lt. Jack Lawler, U.S.N.R., wrote this week to say he missed the California bar exams which he was scheduled to take on board his ship, the U.S.S. Cleveland, because the questions arrived too late. He has never told us why he is taking the California examinations, but we expect to hear about it soon from Jack in person. We have heard nothing at all from Fred Heever since the announcement of his wedding.

Bill Spangler wrote again from India, complaining about the lack of mail, and giving us some hope that he may be home by Christmas. He promises to see us as soon as possible after his arrival.

At Ft. Sheridan, where this writer is again stationed after a period of schooling, Army style, at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.; Lt. Francis J. O'Laughlin, '38, is on hand to greet returning army vets at Building 209. Any of you soldiers getting discharged at Ft. Sheridan remember that name. Nope, he's not Capt. Jim O'Laughlin, ex-roomie and currently of the Marine Corps.

Wearing new master sergeant's stripes is Bill Murphy. Last time out, the "Alumnus" called him a first sergeant—slight error. Murphy says he got to see Dan McNamara awhile back and that the latest word on Joe Nugent is that he went all the way from Germany to Manila—being on high seas at the time of V-J Day. He still went to the Philippines.

That brings us up to date on communications received. More are welcome.

DON'T Forget, IF IT'S NEWS, WRITE SCOOP.

Back in early October, 1st Lt. Jim Galt wrote from Wakeman Convalescent Hospital, Camp Atterbury, Ind., that his discharge should come through in three weeks. Dick Lajole, a civilian again, is living in Kansas City, Mo.

Best wishes to Lt. Gene Huttmacher whose wedding took place last Dec. 30. And to Lt. Joe Barr who was on campus for the Illinois game with his lovely bride.

We noted a column in the "Chicago Tribune" which tells about a painting of four Army aces, including Col. Frank Gabreski; the exhibit, "Paintings of the Army Air Forces" was on display in the Museum of Science in Chicago.

Ens. Gerry Oross, of the NATS in Oakland, Calif., was on the campus the week-end of the Dartmouth game.

Also here to see the Dartmouth game was Paul Neville of Ware, Mass., who received his discharge from service at the beginning of October. Paul was overseas 22 months in the ETO as an Army correspondent with the First Army in England, France, Belgium and Germany. Paul is back with the "South Bend Tribune."

Paul Lillis visited the campus in the beginning of November, following his recent discharge as a Navy lieutenant. He served more than two years in the Pacific as commander of a P-T boat, was wounded in action and decorated. Paul is now a sales engineer with Bakelite in N. Y. C.

D. J. Angelakas, E.E. teacher, left the University to take up graduate work at Harvard in the radiation laboratory. Lt. Tom Gesselbracht, who was stationed at Navy Yard, Mare Island, Calif., for two years as assistant estimating and planning superintendent for landing craft, is in Boston studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for a master's degree in marine engineering and naval architecture.

Former Lt. Frank O'Dowd, USNR, was awarded the Bronze Star medal before he received his discharge the last of October.

Lt. Bob Miller with the Purple Heart and five battle stars, was on leave from the U.S.S. Essex, aircraft carrier vessel No. 9. The Essex set a new fleet record as being continuously under way the longest of any aircraft carrier in combat operation. It was in operation 79 continuous days in support of the Okinawa campaign. Bob, whose home is in South Bend, is a veteran of 23 months of sea and foreign service duty.

T/Sgt. Charles Butterworth, South Bend, was home after being away more than six years, three of which were spent in Japanese prison camps. After his discharge he plans to study aeronautical engineering at the Boeing aviation school, Oakland, Calif.

T/5 Bob Beaumont was in Leghorn, Italy, serving with the 683rd Quartermaster Base Depot Company of the Fifth Army.

1943 LT. (Jr) EDWARD C. RONEY, 1723 Iroquois Ave., Detroit, Mich.

From Ed Roney:

A more or less unofficial group of the class of '43 gathered under the Golden Dome for the week-end of the Dartmouth game. These included President Jack Tallett, Pete Moritz, Brian McLaughlin, Bob LeMense, Tony Zagame, Jim Gallagher, Frank Haley, Fred Gore, Jack Edwards and Yours Truly.

All of us had lunch, saw the game and had dinner up in Niles together before dragging into the Oliver's Blarney Inn, so forbidden in other days. After the game, though, we strolled down to the Grotto where we all said some prayers and President Tallett lit a candle for those classmates we have lost in the war and another for those who were lucky enough to come back.

Jack Edwards and Jack Tallett were getting used to civilian clothes again having just been discharged a week or so before. Edwards had suddenly decided to come down Friday night and had jumped on a westbound train. Tony Zagame was down for the week-end but expected to return soon for Law school.

Fred Gore was on the way to Great Lakes at the end of his leave. He said there was still no word on when his wife would be able to return from Scotland. Bob LeMense and Frank Haley were on furlough from the Army, while Jim Gallagher was enjoying some Navy leave. Brian McLaughlin is now an MD and was enjoying a little leisure between internships.

Between the group of us, we managed to compile the following information about some of the rest of the class. I can't tell who said which about whom as I was taking notes as fast as I could, but med students come first on the list.

Matt Romeo and Ralph Onofrio are senior med students at St. Louis University. Pete Kirkpatrick, Bill Sheedy and Bill Ford are also there. Ralph Carabasi, Bill Terheyden and Bill O'Connell are about to finish up at Jefferson Med at Philadelphia. Louis LaJoie is doing likewise at Wayne in Detroit and George Roberdy's school escapes me at the moment. Jim Ford is interning at Deaconess Hospital in St. Louis, while Dick Miller is an intern at Cook County in Chicago.

The only new benedicts in the class seem to be Tom "Duff" Miller and Jim "Red" Girard. Tom married Ada Montanus, St. Mary's, '43, last June and at present is around Philadelphia. Jim's announcement arrived a couple of months after his marriage August 25 in Chicago to Dorothy Marie Graf.

Don Miller, who some months ago switched from deck duties to flight training, was last heard from at Pensacola. Tom Finucane is still out on the high seas somewhere, believed to be on a destroyer escort. Jack Leahy is working hard at a job in Port Huron, Mich., while Jim Madigan and Bob Kuipers are working in Chicago.

Germany was the scene of this meeting of, left to right, Bob Dunne, '44, Jack Don-niston, '45, and Bob Le Mense, '43.

Paul Pfeiffer was seen in June shuttling the Fifth Army from Naples to Casablanca as navigator in a Flying Fortress. Now, probably in the States somewhere. Paul Fisher is part of the famous Office of Strategic Services. Leigh Sullivan is at Ft. Sheridan, while Tony Girolami was last seen months ago at OCS at Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Bill Carroll should still be at Camp Fannin, Texas, and Jack Wiggins, back from among the missing, is up for discharge at Ft. Benning.

Dick Heiser was seen in September at Honolulu, a part of the Navy on the road to Japan, while Bob Terrence was already there. Tom Cosgrove is on the flag staff of Comcardiv 27 in the Pacific, while Bill Meyer is an MP on Okinawa and Jim Cahill was in the 37th division heading home. Leo Raymond's parents were at the game and gave his latest address as Yokahama in 8th Army H.Q. with hopes of returning soon.

Ted Burke's parents would welcome a word from any one who has seen him since July. They have had no word whatsoever of him since that time. I'll be glad to forward immediately any word that anyone might have.

Bob Sweeney was at Great Lakes demobilization school, as was John O'Malley. John is probably out on the Prisoner of War discharge rule, but Bob is still helping others get out. Jack Morrison had been down in Panama, but got out Oct. 16 at Great Lakes. Tom Connolly was also a student of demobilization methods and will help others get out for awhile.

Frank Haley was an Army Air Corps procurement Officer in Chicago, but expected to go overseas soon. Fred Gore was heading for demobilization school at Great Lakes and Joe Callahan the same at Harvard. Gail Fitch was reported heading for Norfolk for duties along the same lines.

Hal Hunter, the happily married lawyer, is now practicing in New Madrid, Mo. Charley Conger is head of priorities at International Standard Electric in New York. J. T. Rademaker is part of the cost department at Anaconda Wire and Cable in Marion, Ind.

Jim Gallagher is at present on the U.S.S. Bremerton, just returned from Rio and other points. Bill Stewart remains at Camp Springs, Md., and Bill Early is a civilian again, having just laid aside his double bars of the Army. Jack Hines was rescued from a German Prison camp in July and is now at Ft. Dix. He had 18 months as a German guest. Ed Smith is on AAF terminal leave and Jim Maher is working in Pittsburgh after leaving the Army.

Bill Dillon and George Blittner are in the Pacific, while Ed Holland is executive officer on the LST 540, and Mark Fowler is the skipper of the YMS 299, both in the Pacific. Art Keating just got back from overseas in October and remains in the Army. Ed Davis will be out of the Navy soon. Red Lonergan is reported back in Chicago, after a summer job out west.

Pat Grogan is out of the Army and attending law school somewhere in the East. That's about all the items we managed to collect that week-end. A couple of more week-ends like that could fill a couple of columns.

Ed Hickey, Jim Byrne and I got together, when they were both in town, and talked over old times. Ed was returning to the U.S.S. "President Adams" soon and Jim was finishing up a leave and heading for Great Lakes for reassignment.

Looked all over at the Notre Dame-Navy game for some of the class but failed to see any. Did see Bob Osterman and Dan Bradley of a couple of years previous though, plus a good but heartbreaking game.

How about some letters from those we have not heard from or about for so long?

Jack Edwards of Pittsburgh, Pa., is out of service and working in Pittsburgh. Jack took in the Dartmouth game. Fred Doutel, Mishawaka, came out of the AAF as of Oct. 12, and Lt. Howard Fahey of the Navy and Scarsdale, N. Y., is on inactive status.

Gilbert Gilhooly, a former corporal in the Army, was wounded in the abdomen during action in France. Gil spent nine months in hospitals before he received his discharge. He's now purchasing agent for Vimalert Co. Ltd. of Jersey City. Johnny Morrison has also received his discharge.

Sgt. Bob Townner has been discharged from the Army and is in South Bend on the "Tribune," awaiting the arrival of his wife, whom he married June 3, 1945, in London. Bob served with the 101st airborne division in the European theater for over two years. Wearer of the Bronze Star medal for meritorious achievement, he also has four battle stars representing Normandy, Ardennes, the Rhineland and central Europe. He has the Bronze arrowhead, awarded for being with the first wave in the invasion of Normandy. It was in this action that he received leg wounds and was hospitalized two and a half months in England. He was awarded the Purple Heart and rejoined his outfit.

Lon Rymkus, attached to the ship's company in the University's V-12 unit, was assisting in coaching the varsity line and in scouting.

Wearing eight battle stars for the campaigns from North Africa to Germany via Sicily, Italy, Corsica and France, S/Sgt. Bob Cosgrove, South Bend, returned to the University to continue his studies. Bob served as a crew chief with the 27th fighter group which was attached to the 12th and later the Ninth Army air forces.

Marine Lt. Bob Dove has been signed by the Chicago All-America conference team, to play in 1946.

1944 PFC. JOHN A. LYNCH, 15724 Grandville Rd., Detroit 23, Mich.

From Johnny Lynch:

While waiting for discharge papers to clear the proper channels we've sorted the mail. From out Luzon way, comes a letter from Lyle Joyce who was still in and out of the jungles as of Sept. 17:

"I'm now on Luzon—near Clark Field. . . . We're filling the Sixth Army with new blood for the occupation. Right now, we have about 6,500 men in our battalion alone and are daily shipping out hundreds. My inglorious but rather necessary task is being the big snort in the Bn. records section. Which means, simply, that I, with about 20 assistants, must take care of the 500 records, with hundreds leaving daily and thousands arriving weekly.

"Ed Cashman and Harry Yeates are presumably in Japan. That is, if they are still in the 28th Repl. Bn. That outfit was here for awhile, but I never saw either Ed or Harry during that time. [Yeates, soon to be discharged, was at Notre Dame recently. His father died a couple of months ago.—Ed.] As you undoubtedly know, Kelly Cook has gone off the end and taken unto himself a bride. Gerry Hogue is in Germany with the First Armored, which is scheduled for occupational duty. I presume he's sipping warm beer and quietly going crazy."

Gene Carney checked in Sept. 30:

"That was a nice writeup in the August 'Alumnus'. You really covered a lot of territory and a lot of fellows. As for myself, since graduation, I've been working for Remington Rand as a cost accountant and auditor, in their Johnson City, N. Y., plant. We made Hamilton Standard three-bladed propellers. It was really very interesting while it lasted—now we're working on terminations. From here I expect to be transferred to New York City and work out of that office as an accountant.

"Do you suppose you could find out or tell me where to find out the addresses of Ed Gallagher, Leo Burke, Tom Conerty and Dick Kelleher. It's been a long time since I heard from any of them and I guess I just lost track. I expect to get back to school for the Illinois game on the 29th, and I intend to see the Army game in New York."

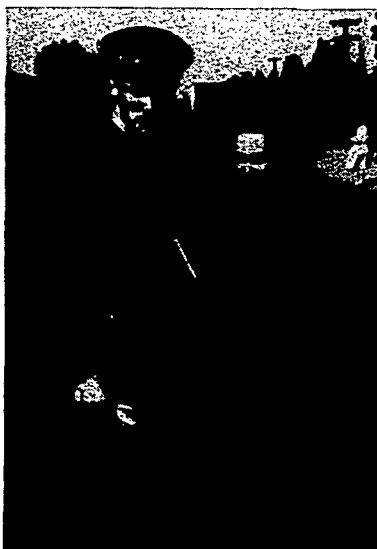

Two letters out of the Fatherland come from John Beyerle who is with the medical detachment of the 66th armored regiment of the 2nd Armored. The first is dated Sept. 16, Frankfurt, Germany.

"It's about time that I bent my elbow and contributed a bit of news. In fact, the last time that inspiration struck home was just about a year ago. At that time I had just made a . . . visit to Paris and it was a few days prior to my entrance into the 2nd Armored Division. . . . I have five battle stars and three were earned by the sweat of my brow, and I do mean sweat.

"I have had the darndest luck in my search for familiar faces from school—it's all been bad up to just recently. A couple of weeks ago I was headed for the French Riviera on a seven day furlough. Our group stopped at Maastricht, Holland, for the night, and whom should I meet at breakfast the next morning but Sgt. Tommie Fourny who used to room across the hall from me on the fourth floor of Lyons. Our meeting was quite accidental. Before breakfast I asked him if I hadn't seen him somewhere in the States. We couldn't settle on any location, so I let the matter drop. During breakfast he asked me what sort of a ring I was wearing, then flashed the Golden Dome on his finger in front of my startled eyes. We spent the entire morning roaming around town and discussing old times.

"Today I saw my first honest to goodness football game since I left school. Our regimental team challenged the 508th Paratroop Infantry to a game and today was the payoff. Well, the 508th is coached by T/Sgt. Donald Armour, '32, and his team displayed all the flash, coordination and scoring ability of a Notre Dame coached team. They breezed over us by a score of 52-7. After the game our team was the guest of the 508th and during supper I had the opportunity to talk with Armour. He told me that Jim Brutz's younger brother is with the 97th General Hospital stationed in Frankfurt. Hope to be able to see him one of these days.

"I was really surprised when I read about old Mox Rogers being in Austria and Italy. It's the first news I've had of him since he left school. Mox and I roomed together our freshman year in dear old Cavanaugh; also ended up on the fourth floor of Lyons. What ever happened to Bill Martin and the rest of the gang? Recently heard from Ensign Bob Martins who by this time has finished his studies in airborne radio at M.I.T. He said that he expected to be shipped out to the Pacific very shortly. The last I heard of Dan Tomcik was that after leaving England he moved back to the States and is now at the Grosse Ile, Mich., naval station. Would appreciate it if you could furnish me with the addresses of Mox Rogers and Fran Brinkman. Like to drop a line to my old Chi buddies."

Sgt. and Mrs. Herbert Clark on campus after the Iowa game. (See '44 class news.)

John's second letter is from Gelnhausen, Germany, Oct. 30.

"Wonder if I could ask another favor of you? Would you send Herb Clark's address? I'm sweating out getting home before Christmas. But looks as if my 64 points aren't going to carry me to the blessed shores by that time. However, I hope to be back in school very shortly. . . . Had a letter from Bob Martins the other day. He finished at M.I.T. in September, and after his furlough reported to the Naval Air Station at Gainesville, Ga. He says: 'I ran into Jack O'Connell, '44, down here. He is an RT2c and has been in the Navy for a year and a half. He is with one of the units that has been waiting for orders for three weeks.'"

Another correspondent of ours stationed in Germany is Jack Thornton. He is with the division service company of the 2nd Armored, and was at Bad Orb last Oct. 4. Up to that time he and Beyerle apparently hadn't met.

Here's Jack:

"I just finished reading the August issue of the alumni magazine and I felt, since I had run into quite a few of the boys, I'd write a line or two. First of all, 'way back in the winter of '44-'45 I had several visits with Jack Doyle, '44, and Jim Newman, '44. Both were working for the First Army Press Camp,

ARE YOU A CIVILIAN?

To members of the armed forces: when you finally leave the uniform behind or are about to do so, drop a card to the Alumni Office so that we can be sure of your current mailing address. The same card will make an interesting note for the "Alumnus."

and I happened to be on DS with PRO at the time. [For you laymen that means detached service with the public relations office.—J. L.] We got together quite a few times over some Belgian brew. I imagine both are in the States now.

"Later on, around February, the 5th Armored (my outfit in combat) moved to Holland. While there I met Bob Remberger, '43. He was in charge of a Rest Center for the 35th Infantry Division. He also must be in the States by now, if he had the points. Incidentally, I believe Jim Newman got a Purple Heart in the Bulge—the Krauts almost overran the Press Camp. Just a couple of weeks back I met Phil Foote, '44, and like at Notre Dame, he's in the band in this Division.

"Last week-end I took a trip down near Munich to see my old cohort, Jack Conker, '44. He's with the 9th Inf. now; was with the 65th Division. 'Coke' tells me his old roomie, Jim Platt, is a (jg) on a LST in the South Pacific. Jim's doing fine in the Navy—only thing wrong so far is that he gets seasick! My roommate, Jack Segerman, was a gunner on a B-17, got wounded over Heinkel, and is now a civilian. Perhaps 'Seg' will be sweating out the 'Cal' line again soon. [That's just where I met him after the Dartmouth game.—J. L.]

"It's very hard to hear that guys like McGinnis, Creevy, Barton and O'Rourke are gone, but swell to hear that guys like Mox Rogers, Tommy O'Connor, Jack Moran and Ray O'Connell all came through O.K. Whatever happened to Joe Rad and Bill Kenny, Bill Kempe and Ed Danigan, Joe Farmer and Jim Anten, John Anket, Grif Allen, Jim Burke, Vince Duncan, and so on and on and on?

"I expect to leave with this division for the States in November or early December—so perhaps one of these days I'll be seeing you. Give my 'hello' to everyone you see, and take it easy."

- Jack has already been sent some information about those numerous men of '44 whom he mentions, but we'll need volunteers to bring us up to date on everyone. Now is the time to write that letter.

'Whitley' Frierott gives his address as 2134 Abington Rd., Cleveland 6, and is currently occupied at the Dental School of Western Reserve University. He wrote Nov. 8.

"Meant to write for quite a while, but did not get the inspiration till I read the last copy of the 'Alumnus.' I left Notre Dame in Aug. 1943, took basic in Berkeley, Texas, and got my B.S. from Notre Dame while down there. Moved to Fitzsimmons General Hospital from there, and went through Dental Tech. school. Happened to be in class with Gene Cain, '43, from St. Louis. He is at St. Louis Dental School now. Karl Hoover, '44, took basic with me and while at Fitzsimmons in Denver he got a C.D.D. Met several Notre Dame boys while in Denver. Clem Constantine was in the same camp as well as several others I can't recall.

"Jim Crowley was then at Camp Hale and we had two nice visits in Denver before he shipped out. The Notre Dame Club of Denver contacted me twice and they seem to have a nice organization. . . . I attended the Navy game last Saturday and the boys showed up in true style. I noticed several '44 men there, but can't recall the names. I know some were engineering students at Notre Dame.

"Gigs' Giordano writes often and is cadre in Robinson, Ark. He was a POW quite a while and hopes for a discharge soon. Just heard from Jim Crowley. He is in Manila now. I hear that Jerry Brown returned to the States, but no word since then. He was in O.C.S. overseas, but dropped out on V-J Day.

"As for myself, I was discharged last year to attend dental school. I'm a sophomore now and slaving away. Joe Cassata, '45, is a senior here at Western Reserve Dental School with me. Glad to hear that Jack Weefle, Herb Clark, Bill Schroeder and the rest are O.K. But sorry to hear about those who were killed. Sure is hard to believe."

'Black John' Murphy has come across again, so here goes with a few notes from his letter of Sept. 11.

"Have two recent letters from Tom O'Connor, but it's mostly personal, so I won't pass it along. He does say that he met Tom O'Reilly up Switzerland way. O'R is a loole in the 34th Division after bouncing around replacement depots. Old Ernie Sedmayr was transferred out of O'Connor's outfit up to a G-4 section in USFA. I hear Mox Rogers and Ray O'Connell are up that way too.

"I hear you met Armiger 'Joe' Sommers while you were out at school. He is a good pal of Ed Dowling's and mine. Brother Meinrad sent me the August 'Alumnus,' and I was very glad to have it."

'Black John' was discharged Sept. 27. Just as we were getting copy together he brought us up to date with another letter. This time, Nov. 14.

"I got an appointment yesterday through Federal Civil Service and have a good job for now and when I finish up my last year at Notre Dame. Mr. John Balfe, '20, of the Metropolitan Club helped me by sending me to Col. Joe Tierney, '21, who gave me all the dope and much of his valuable time. Both are great guys and deserve more than my small 'blow.'"

"Heard from Bill McNamara, the 155-lb. champ in the 1942 Bengals and one grand pal. He's still in the Pacific Theatre. Tom O'Connor is still in Trieste—I really wish he'd get home. No word from Ernie Sedmayr in Austria. Mox Rogers is back from his voyage to Egypt.

"At the Army game rally at the Waldorf-Astoria I saw Creight Miller who's doing okay at Yale. Also there in civvies were Farrell Quinlan, Jack Kelly (now studying law at Columbia), Jack Sullivan, Joe Sommers, Nick Amato, Chuck Rogers and many more. They all looked great. Leo Lardie, Bill Rogers, Jack Veeneman (just married), Jack Hines, Frank King and a host of others were all over the place too."

One more item before we leave Murph. By the time most of you read this, he will be happily engaged to a sweet gal named Agnes. And that's all he would tell me.

The mailbag is empty now, except for a short note from Ben Mammina who is studying at the University of Indiana Law School. Ben sent along some pictures taken Oct. 27 on campus, after the Iowa game. And this:

"It sure was swell to see Herb Clark that week-end. He was reported missing in the last alumni news I received. . . . I got a letter from Buzz Hassett yesterday. He's working for a broadcasting station in Iowa and is really getting up in the world. Tom Halligan is working for his dad in Flint, Mich."

While on a 30-day furlough during October your columnist saw two of Notre Dame's home games, met a lot of old friends and picked up some bits of news that can be passed along right here. On campus for the Dartmouth game Oct. 13 were '44 men Bob MacDonnell, just released from the Air Force, Stratte Coorlas and his fiancée, Jack McCabe, just returned from duty with the 15th AAF, Herb Clark and his wife, Bill Snyder, Jim Hubbard, Hank Adam, in from Great Lakes NTS, Jack Segerson, Harry Lavery, still on the hospital circuit but looking okay, and Paul Larson, back from Navy duty at Corregidor. Bob Le Mense, '43, on his way to join the 45th Division at Camp Bowie, Texas, and Joe Conerty, '45, making the most of a short leave while his ship was in a Florida port, were also seen.

After the game the Blarney Room of the Oliver Hotel was the scene of some mild festivities well attended by Notre Dame men of recent years. Among those present at various times during the evening were: Tom Bremer, '44, studying law at Notre Dame, Ed Kavanaugh, '44, working for Ball Band in Mishawaka, Pete Moritz, '43, Bob McKee, '42, Jack Tallett, '43, Jack Edwards, '43, Fred Gore, '43, Byron Kanaley, '42, Dick Murphy,

Lt. Joe Patrucco, Ben Mammina, and Pic. John Lynch mugging for the camera after the Iowa game. (See '44 class news.)

'45, Tony Zagame, '42, Jim McNulty, '42, Ed Roney, '43, and Paul Puglia, '41. To complete the picture there were three belles of St. Mary's, class of '43: Jeanne Buddy, Alma Puglia, and Dolly Moore Neale.

Joe Lanigan was still on campus but getting ready to pull stakes and head for the West Coast on some business deal. Joe had the following bits to contribute: Mark McGrath started the September term at Holy Cross College, theological seminary, in Washington, D. C.; Sgt. Ed Meagher has returned from across and is or was stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C., with G-4 of 1st Army Hq.; S/Sgt. Andy McElroy has returned from overseas and is or was at Camp Wheeler, Ga.; Bob Meagher, '45, is in a GI school in England; J. H. Johnston, '45, is with the 101st Airborne in the occupation of Berlin; Jim Newman was last seen in Weimer, Germany, but was soon to come home; Lt. Bob Londergan was in Tank Destroyer School at Camp Hood, Texas, later awaiting shipment overseas; Nick Amato is at Columbia University taking his master's degree in history; Bob McBride, while on furlough in Lancaster, O., was coaching the local high school team; Bob Cullen is at Columbia studying English and philosophy; Air Force Lt. Larry Goebeler and his wife visited the campus in anticipation of his returning to classes in the near future; Howard Garrigan, after a trip to the South Pacific, has returned to study pre med; Vic Kimmel, after being caught in the revolution in Greece, is returning to Notre Dame to study law; Bob Witte studied radar at MIT, then went to Pearl Harbor; John Roscher finished in accounting at Notre Dame after his discharge from the service; Frank Carver is on the farm at Altoona, N. Y.; Dom Boetto is expected back in the law school; Vic De Simon is expected back also; George Sullivan is entering law school at Northwestern University; Art Ley is back and living in Sorin; Mike Frawley has been seen frequently on the campus.

For the Iowa game, Oct. 27, Dan Tomeik and Ed Sochalski drove down from Detroit. Dan is at the Grosse Ile Naval Station; Ed lives and works in Detroit. Ben Mammina and Lt. Joe Patrucco were there, as were Herb Clark and Bill Snyder once again. Jack McKoon, '46, was trying to blend his olive drab with the blue and gold of the student section in the stadium. Carl Coco, '43, whom we last saw in Rome, Italy, more than a year ago, was sweating out the Caf line.

And last, but not least by any means, there was Father Joe Barry, C.S.C., '29, a man's man, and the doughboy's real friend, who was spending a few days on campus before rejoining the 45th at Camp Bowie.

IF YOU'RE '44, LET'S WRITE A LETTER.

Lt. (Jg) Mandell Ziegler of South Bend is executive officer of an LST and stationed on Salpan. T/5 Bob McAnuliffe, Syracuse, N. Y., has been reported to be on Tinian.

Cpl. Walter "Mox" Rogers, chaplain's assistant for the 88th division, 349th Infantry, holds the combat infantry badge, Mediterranean theater ribbons and has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious work. Mox accompanied his chaplain on a trip to the Holy Land.

Lt. Orlando Bonicelli was pictured with a chafing young lady in the Nov. 11, "Chicago Tribune." The caption said that he was visiting friends at St. Catherine's in St. Paul, Minn., while on leave.

1st Lt. Angelo Bertelli returned to football wars this fall when he was transferred from Third Marine division to Pearl Harbor, where he played football with a Marine all-star eleven. Bert had been managing the Third Marine division baseball team, winner of 26 games against three defeats.

Otto Milet is an assistant research chemical engineer for U. S. Industrial Chemicals of Stamford, Conn.

John Parchem is now a member of the aeronautical engineering staff at Notre Dame. Lt. Dan Sullivan, Huntington Woods, Mich., reported to Norfolk, Va., to train for duties aboard a destroyer or similar type vessel. A veteran of 17 months aboard destroyers, Dan wears the American Area ribbon and the European-African-Middle Eastern Area ribbon with an combat star.

Bob Walton, M.E. of the "South Bend Trib.," met Lt. (Jg) Frank Crowley in a Guam hospital. Frank received compound fractures of his jaw last July when a giant wave broke over his destroyer and caught him and two other officers.

John Schroeter, Cleveland, O., has been promoted to first lieutenant as platoon officer in the military police headquarters, Tenth Corps on Mindanao. John has been overseas 14 months in New Guinea, Leyte and Mindanao Islands. His brother Lt. Ed, '40, is in the Navy.

Jim Casey is purveying blue skies, sunshine and real estate in Tucson, Ariz., and is residing on a dude ranch nearby. He stopped at Notre Dame recently, en route by car from Buffalo to Tucson.

1945 and Later

DAVID R. CONDON, "The Chicago Tribune," Chicago, Ill.

From Al Lesmez:

Well, it certainly is not nice being back at Sheppard Field, Texas—not after that wonderful furlough in New York and my visit to Notre Dame. The definite trend toward the civilian on the campus cannot be denied. By now only the NROTC and a few V-12 are left as civvies push into more and more of the decommissioned halls.

Publications' Office: It was a treat seeing and speaking with my old "boss," Father Charles Carey, C.S.C., who is now associate editor of "The Ave Maria" magazine. The advertising department of the "Scholastic" again boasts the very pretty "personality kid" herself, Marguerite Varga. Marguerite had been working for the Alumni Association for the past year. Brother Finbarr is still his hospitable self at "The Ave." So are Joe Guentert and the rest.

Alumni Association: Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Dooley looked well as ever, both beaming their familiar happy smiles at seeing one of the "family" return for a visit. [Thanks, pal. Must have been pay day in the Alumni Office.—Eds.]

Dept. of Aeronautical Engineering: No place feels so much like home at Notre Dame as the office and labs of the Aero. Dept. Mr. Frank Brown, Mr. Edward Kavanaugh, Mr. An Hu Shieh were all busy at work with papers to correct and exam schedules to meet, but we managed to spend a few minutes talking things over. At her usual place sat Miss Bette Black, secretary of the department, who always did such a nice job of typing up the "Burbles" for us. Bumped into Cliff Marks and Otto Chander, midshipmen, who graduated in June with me. Along with Joe Haggard and Bill Bevington, they were to receive their commissions as ensigns the next week. The department now boasts a new addition: a P-39 in the labs on the first floor of the Engineering Building.

Sorin Hall: Of course, I couldn't keep away from "Ye Olde Sorin Inn." I talked with Father Forrestal, C.S.C., and found out that Phil Martin is doing graduate work and some teaching at N. D.; Vince Cushing, who was married a few months ago, is back at N. D. taking some advanced work.

Miscellaneous: Good old Tommy Owen is still a busy-bee around the dining hall. "Ziggy" and "Cash" still dictate behind the counters. The Bookstore continues to be the busy spot of the campus, with Brothers Meinrad and Conan willing to give you a good bit of their time talking over old times. In short, it is nice to say that Notre Dame is still very much Notre Dame.

The mailman brings me letters regularly from my old roomie from Memphis, Tenn., Paul W. Smith, ex. '45. He is in the seventh semester of electrical engineering at Pennsylvania State College with the Army Specialized Training Program.

Paul's semester ends the first week of December and after that he is not sure just what the Army has in store for him. He plans to return to N. D. on getting his discharge.

Another roommate writes me from Japan. Cpl. Frederick "Godfrey" Bremer, ex. '45, who was one of the first to go in my freshman class. His last communique says:

"I just received your letter of Oct. 23 and I've moved again since you last heard from me. I've reached the end of the trail. Tokyo. I got here about a week after V-J day and what a time we've had. We came in armed to the teeth but nothing materialized. When we first got here, people would bow as we passed them on the street and when we got on a streetcar, they would get up and give us their seat. We work in the Radio Tokyo building where all their broadcasts originate and one really meets the so-called free-thinker here. The weather is rather fall weather. It feels good after being in the tropics for so long."

A buddy from my neighborhood, who was on the freshman track and cross-country team, Pfc. John A. Reilly, ex. '45, writes from Italy:

"I am still in Milan and living the life of Reilly the way it should be lived. I expect to leave for home in about a month or so and hope to be a civilian by the first of the year."

Pfc. Reilly was wounded in the fighting in Germany and later was transferred from his infantry outfit to headquarters of the Fifth Army.

Another of my roommates writes from the Philippines. Leon Larocque S 1/C, ex. '45, says he's hoping to receive his discharge soon and re-enter Notre Dame to take up his studies where they were interrupted:

"I am doing business with the USAFI concern lately, taking differential calculus. I thought it would be a good idea to get the jump on the math department at Notre Dame. I may be able to last a couple of extra months this way when I get back."

Pvt. George Despot, ex. '45, who many will remember as that Shreveport, La. journalist who was managing editor of the "Scholastic" a couple of semesters back, writes from camp Robinson, Ark., that he finally was able to find that Chicago Irishman, Pvt. George Briody, ex. '48, who is taking basic in that same camp.

Some day soon, if this discharge machine ever gears up, we may all meet once more at Notre Dame.

Johnny Bresnahan and Ed Sanders are both in the V-12 Unit at Creighton University School of Medicine. Jim Schaeffer started in the G. E. publicity department in Schenectady, N. Y., the first of November. Bob Morrissey and Bob Riordan, vice consuls, were enrolled in the foreign service officer's training school operated by the State Department in Washington, D. C., and Bob was later assigned to service in Africa. More later.

Bob O'Toole's niche is with the Hoover Company in Chicago. It was told through the public relations officer of the 31st division in the Philippines how Sgt. Bob Livingstone of Hammond, Ind., fought bravely and with valor as squadleader of the rifle company of his division. Bob came through his many many battle experiences without injury but on his last day of action discovered that there were three bullet holes in his trousers' leg!

Sgt. Norris Anderson, Marine Corps combat correspondent, wrote that five members of Notre Dame's 1943 national championship team were reunited at Pearl Harbor as Fleet Marine Force grid candidates. They were Lts. John Perko, Julie Rykovich, Gasper Urban, Angelo Bertelli, Joe Signigo and Sgt. John Yonakor.

Frank Linehan is an accountant with A. J. Eckert Co., Inc., of Albany, N. Y., and Tom Vail is working for Federal Telephone and Radio in New Jersey.

Ernie Kivisto, who was here as a Marine back in '43 and '44, received his discharge and returned to Marquette to get his degree. S/Sgt. Tom Matthews received the Bronze Star in Krumlov, Czechoslovakia.

T/Sgt. Jim Clark of Delphos, O., is taking a liberal arts course in Shrivensham American University in England. Winner of the Bronze Star, Jim belongs to the 94th Infantry Division, has been overseas 14 months and has four battle stars.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Anderson, parents of Ensign Rudy, delighted the M. E. of the "Alumnus" with a magnificent turkey dinner in their home in Brooklyn, on Nov. 11, the day after the Army game. Also present to work on the bird were Jim Cawley, '40, and his wife and young daughter. Jim, lately discharged from the Navy after long service in the Atlantic and Pacific, is Mrs. Anderson's brother.

PROF. COONEY SUCCUMBS

(Continued from Page 10)

we will try to follow Professor Cooney's apostleship by bringing the gentle touch of God's hand and the warmth of God's goodness into that too often barren part of His vineyard—our daily contact with our fellowmen.

"May his generous soul and the souls of all the faithful departed, in the Mercy of God rest in peace. Amen."

Briefly for the record, the biographical facts concerning Professor Cooney are these.

Professor Cooney was born in Louisville, Ky., Nov. 2, 1875. On June 14, 1906, he married the former Margaret Mattingly in St. Charles, Ky., and she survives with one daughter, Mrs. Daniel C. O'Grady, wife of a Notre Dame professor of philosophy.

Professor Cooney first attended St. Mary's college, Maryland, which conferred an A.B. degree on him and later, in 1896, an A.M. In 1917 at the University of Notre Dame he earned the degree of doctor of philosophy. He was teacher of English at St. Mary's college, Kentucky, from 1896 to 1898, again in 1900 and 1901 and finally from 1904 to 1906. In that year he became president of Columbia College in Kentucky, a post which he retained until moving to Notre Dame in September, 1911. He was one of the first presidents of the Lay Faculty club at the University, was associated with the South Bend Round Table and the Knights of Columbus.

They cannot, unfortunately, indicate, even, the real moral and philosophic stature of the simple citizen they describe.

Professor Cooney was buried in Highland Cemetery, South Bend, where many other headstones note lives devoted to Notre Dame. Pall-bearers were William A. A. Castellini, Walter Clements, Robert McAuliffe, John Sheehan, William Doolley and James Armstrong. Rev. Paul Russell, Louisville, said the requiem Mass. Many priests were present, including Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C.

Last Minute Suggestions for CHRISTMAS

WHY NOT an abiding gift with the flavor of the campus?

WHY NOT Notre Dame BOOKS for Notre Dame Men?

NOTRE DAME—100 YEARS
$4.00

COLLECTED POEMS OF
CHARLES L. O'DONNELL,
C. S. C. — $2.50

THE SET — $5.00

These books will be mailed, in an attractive box, with your Christmas Greetings enclosed. Direct all orders to:

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS Administration Building,
Notre Dame, Indiana

Notre Dame 1945 Varsity Football Squad

Left to Right—Bottom Row: Dick Debuono, John Glaab, Joe Gasparella, John Mastrangelo, Elmer Angsman, Peter Berezney, Phil Colella, Bob Skoglund, Capt. Frank Danciewicz, Marty Wendell, John Agnone, Fred Rovai, Ed Mieszkowski. 2nd Row: Bill Russell, Jim Kurzynske, Phil O'Connor, Walter Grothaus, Roger Cadieux, John Panelli, Tom Potter, Bill Fischer, Vince Scott, John Fallon, Dick Cronin, Leroy Pantera, Mike Bush. 3rd Row: Frank Tripucke, Matt Maryanski, Emil Slovak, Bill Flynn, Bill Walsh, Jim McGurk, Frank Ruggerio, Bruno Opela, Ed Stelmazek, Steve Oracko, Terry Brennan, Bill Gompers, Ed Fay, Bill Leonard. 4th Row: Dick Heman, Frank Copolla, Bill Zehler, Frank Johnson, Ernie Virok, Al D'Alanzo, Bob White, Tom Schreiber, Bill Michaels, Al Schmid, Bob McAuliffe. Top Row: John Graif (Mgr.), Ken Stilley, Jake Kline, Hugh Devore, Joe Sheeketski, Walter Ziemba, Harry Jacunski, Jimmy Molitor, Ted Rademacher (Mgrs.).

Who's Who in Hoosierdom

*All other states may have some team to which they point with pride,
From mountain peaks to rolling plains or where the breakers ride.
From Florida to Oregon, from Texas up to Maine,
From Michigan to Tennessee we hear the stout refrain.
They're spilling oratory for a winning football team,
But our Who's Who in Hoosierdom shows three teams known to fame.
Purdue and Indiana—and the bunch from Notre Dame;
So in this famous Hoosier state we'll make the rafters roar,
For Isbell, "Bo" McMillan, and for good old Hugh Devore.*

—Grantland Rice