UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION NUMBER

A Statement to the Alumni on the New University of Notre Dame Foundation

Office of the President
Notre Dame, Indiana

TO NOTRE DAME MEN EVERYWHERE:

The most encouraging feature of the new University of Notre Dame Foundation to me is that we do not have to sell it to Notre Dame alumni.

You already have a phase of the Foundation well established, in the Annual Alumni Fund.

Our problem, or better, perhaps, our project—since we know we will have your fullest cooperation—is to advance the Notre Dame Foundation through our alumni.

As I told you at the Alumni Banquet in June, I am not asking you to give, but to get.

We have been pleased and encouraged with the history of the Alumni Fund. Naturally, we anticipate that as our program clarifies and our needs are outlined we will continue to receive the increasing gifts from increasing numbers of alumni that already mark the progress of the Fund.

But in the scope and the urgency of our needs, our total alumni potential would be inadequate.

So we turn by nature and by logic to our friends. Happily, we believe that our friends are more numerous and more generous than our needs—substantial as those are.

The problem of the University, then, and one which we enlist your aid in solving, is simply to translate the needs of Notre Dame to the friends of Notre Dame. We know our needs. We do not know many of our friends. You know them. They live in every community in this country. They are, as you are, in all walks of life.

Like yourselves, some can give a little each year. Some may be able to give substantially each year. And some may be interested in the major projects in our immediate future.

We will not be excessive in our demands, nor are we asking you to embarrass yourselves. This is a long-range, persistent program of the "infiltration" of Notre Dame needs. Many of you may be asked to participate in the direct work of the Foundation Committees in the local area. And as you ride to work with your neighbor, as your office friends ask you about the prospects for the team, as friends inquire about ways of entering their sons, as your organizations emphasize the need for responsible leadership and higher education, all of you will find many easy and logical openings for outlining the program of Notre Dame as the Foundation, and the ALUMNUS will bring it to you.

Over the years, by accrual—of understanding of our needs, of individual gifts, and of number of gifts—we confidently look forward to sufficient return to permit Notre Dame to weave its pattern of progress; to develop the University we all want Notre Dame to be; to produce the Notre Dame that will always have, as it has now, a sound record of achievement, a high and unswerving purpose, a prestige which it shares with all who are numbered as its friends.

Notre Dame Foundation.

University of Notre Dame Foundation Formed

A Report to the Alumni on the Historical Step Taken by the University on July 25-26, Through the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors; Father Cavanaugh is Foundation Head

by HARRY G. HOGAN, '04,

President of the Alumni Association and Chairman of the Board of Governors of the University of Notre Dame Foundation

The University of Notre Dame is sharing the same problems of progress faced by all of the major colleges and universities of this country. It is inevitable logic that the same appeals for the aid of friends and alumni which are emanating from these schools should ultimately have to come from Notre Dame.

The Alumni Fund was the prompt recognition by alumni that the appeal from Notre Dame was deserving. The success of the Fund is a basic factor in the new Foundation. First, it inspired the University to continue its plans for progress. And second, it provides the essential basis for extending the appeal beyond the alumni limits into the vast field of friends.

Alumni Fund Inspiration

The 1947 Fund, the Fifth Alumni Fund, is already 78% higher in number of contributors than the 1946 Fund, as of August 1, and the amount contributed is exceeding last year's total in the same calendar period by 59%. The announcement of the Foundation program at Commencement was followed by a strong upturn in subscriptions. Many early contributors are adding to the original in the face of the new expanded program. As a result, the University is imbued with the confidence to embark on the larger, coordinated program of the Foundation.

The Alumni Fund will continue to be the basic agency of the Foundation, which is in effect only the expansion of the Alumni Fund appeal into broader and deeper alumni channels, and beyond those channels into the friends of Notre Dame whose legions are found in every part of this country, and far beyond its borders.

Progress Satisfactory

The progress in the promotion of the plans announced for the program of service to The University of Our Lady at Commencement time has been so highly satisfactory as to be an inspiration to the administration of the University and to the leadership of your Association.

This significant venture revolves about a unanimity of thought and of action which must be spiritual in concept and practical in plan. Your individual and collective judgment must be reflected in this unanimity through which success is to be achieved.

FOUNDATION COMMITTEE INCLUDES CLUB LEADER

By agreement of the University of Notre Dame Foundation staff committee, and the Organization Committee of the Board of Governors, the city committees that have been called variously "public relations" or "Notre Dame" or "city committees," will henceforth be officially designated as "The University of Notre Dame Foundation Committee of —."

And the president of the Local Alumni Club will be an ex officio member of the local Foundation Committee during his term of office. This effects the close tie and reflects the keen interest between the Clubs and their presidents and the program of the Foundation.

The Foundation which we now offer has had the prayerful consideration of the Reverend Father Cavanaugh and his administrative staff, the Alumni Association Board Executives and several of the local members of the Board of Lay Trustees.

A Crusade for Greater Benefits to Notre Dame

It is the desire of all the elements of University interest represented in this new movement that there be a leisurely, long range, thoughtful and dignified permanent organization and effort, but that there be an immediate and increasingly keen perception of the needs of the University as viewed in the light of its opportunities for service. Consequently, all of the ordinary captions related to University campaigns have been obviated; this is not the "Development Program" of an Illinois Institute of Technology; not a "Fulfillment Fund" of a Loyola University; not a "Progress Plan" for a Williams College; not an "Endowment Campaign" or a "Building Fund Campaign."

Rather, this is to be the orderly accrual to the University of Notre Dame of a broadening constituency interest through annual sustaining gifts which many alumni and friends now give; of funds to provide the physical facilities needed to carry out programs of study and research; and of further amounts to assure the highest quality of instruction in a competitive field generally lacking in the spiritual bases which are the very heart of Catholic higher education.

A New Respect for Notre Dame

It is our belief that the movement in which we are entering must bear an attraction beyond mere novelty or glamour and that it must be so designated as to command a new respect for the broad purposes of Notre Dame. It must be inclusive in its inception so that every worthwhile interest developed toward the University may find a proper repository. It must be so protective in its nature as to insure the use of every gift to the wishes of the donor when such gift has been approved by University administration. It must be so challenging in its inception as to bring new levels of sights in the giving of alumni and of friends to the quality education which prevails at Notre Dame.

It is our judgment that the best vehicle through which these objectives may be promoted and consummated is the establishment of "THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION." Broadly stated, the objectives of the FOUNDATION are "to further the opportunities of the University of Notre Dame in inculcating the concepts of morally responsible leadership through Catholic education" and "to help in achieving this objective through modernization and expansion of physical plant; through greater concentration of pure and applied research; through creation of endowment and continuing sustaining income to assure the highest standards of instruction and Catholic educational environment."

The UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION is being administered through the constituted authorities of the University with Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., as director, and by the Board of Governors of which Harry G. Hogan, '04, is chairman, James E. Armstrong, '25, vice-chairman.

A General Plan of Operation

It has been determined by the University that this new program use the "ready-made" organization of the Alumni Association and its back-log of interest toward the University for program implementation. This decision has met with ready and willing response.

It is not conceived, however, that the Alumni Association, per se, be listed as the fountain-head of direction for the movement. Rather, the UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION is a distinct (and separate) structure through which the Alumni Association and the Public Relations Department—both working with the University—function, even though presently the inspiration, personnel and the general program comes largely from the Alumni Association.

Co-Ordinated Program

It is sensed that there has been an acute need at the University for a coordination of activities and information in the whole scheme of public relations. Consequently, it is agreed that the University, the Public Relations Department and the Alumni Association, together with various other elements on the campus such as special programs of giving to individual causes, be channelled through the FOUNDATION. This central channelling and this cooperation and co-ordination bring a unity of direction in activities which strengthens each of the component parts and does nothing to diminish the efficacy of any present activity. It is noted now that there was no central source of information which showed the financial support of any one individual to the University: The Alumni records and gifts to the Association were in one file; gifts to special funds in the last fifteen or twenty years were listed at another place; the gifts received through the Public Relations Department were separately controlled; subscriptions made directly to the Administration were in other files; and many gifts of equipment or "in kind" to various departments were not recorded except in letter files or other impermanent listings within the departments. Consequently, any approach to a prospect to build interest or financial support lacked those basic elements to definitely compliment him on whatever he might have done heretofore for the University. The new structure

CITY CHAIRMEN ARE ALREADY IN ACTION

With the announcement that B. J. Voll and E. M. Morris will head the Foundation Committee in South Bend; with Frank Walker as City Chairman in New York and Joseph M. Byrne in Newark; with Walter Stuhldreher organizing his committee functions in Indianapolis; with the activity of the Fort Wayne Foundation Committee under Thomas McKiernan a matter of record and accomplishment already; with Frank Howland heading the Foundation program in Memphis; with C. W. Bader heading the program in Gary; and with the Executive Committee Governors pledged to set up Foundation Committees in the immediate future, under City Chairman appointed by Father Cavanaugh. September will find Chicago, New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Dallas, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Portland, and most of the nation's major cities organized for the long-range survey and the permanent approach to the Foundation's program.

of the UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION is developing central files of information to eliminate these inadequacies.

It is a clearing house through which the right hand will know constantly what the left hand is doing in all matters of public relations where the immediate or remote objective is the securing of financial support.

Local Clubs Vital Agents

In the general plan of operation the fine values of loyalty already existing in local groups of alumni throughout the country will be capitalized. While direction will come from a central source, the basic activity of the FOUNDATION will be on a local level. Consequently, it is planned that there be a University of Notre Dame Foundation Committee established as soon as possible in each of the important areas of alumni concentration with the local Club president as ex officio member during his term of office, and eventually that all strategic cities of the country will have these Local Committees to advance public relations at this community level. It is assumed that each Committee will be directed by a chairman selected for his interest, his abilities and his willingness to devote reasonable time to this appealing proposition. His selection will be made by the President of the University with the approval of the State Governor and after consultation with leadership and membership of the local Notre Dame Club.

It is expected that the chairman of the Local Committee for the FOUNDATION will surround himself with five or more able men and that this total committee then will have specific functions. Many of these functions will be in conjunction with the activities of the local Notre Dame Club and others will be beyond those ordinary activities.

Local Committees Outlined

It is believed that the general program of the Local Committee will;

- (1) plan for greater participation and higher averages of giving by Alumni to effect an increasing annual sustaining contribution to the FOUNDATION;
- (2) build up a prospect list of individuals and corporations outside alumni circles (Catholic and non-Catholic) and assist in their education to an interest in Notre Dame and to a basis of annual support;
- (3) make careful analysis of both the alumni and non-alumni lists with a view to determining certain special prospects for particular cultivation;
- (4) carry out this special cultivation by bringing the prospects to the campus or the campus to the prospects and by judicious continuous dissemination of proper and individualized information;
- (5) secure eventually those gifts of major amount which will bring to Notre Dame the resources to make it comparable with the other great educational institutions of the country in financial backing.

Basic Policies

Of course this is a long-range program. The techniques of maintaining interest in a project lacking the intensification of the usual single objective will be worked out by the FOUNDATION staff and through the suggestions of the local committees. Undoubtedly there will be peak periods of interest and of activity such as tax-deduction thinking at the year-end; Alumni giving in the early months; tie-in with and encouragement of Notre Dame Club activities in season; announcement of unusual research achievements whenever they may occur; and other events of special moment on the campus or in the general field of higher education and the specific field of Catholic education.

In the total outline of the FOUNDATION activities there will be a listing of certain specific needs at the University so that attention may be directed to these needs. There will be no reason why individual and specific interest cannot be catered to even to the establishment of certain Trusts within the FOUNDATION itself.

No Sacrifice of Progress

It obviously is impossible to comprehend every detail of operation and every matter of policy at this stage of planning. For those of us who have accepted responsibility, there must be a certain faith that the total program has great merit and that its integration with all things that now are good upon the campus will eventuate. We must believe that there will be a strengthening of every constructive activity and department related to this total picture and that there will be no sacrifices of component interest which are vital to the University. We must look to the achievement of certain objectives within a relatively short time but always must keep our eyes trained to the Notre Dame of the future and to the building of an interest and a loyalty which transcend athletics or academics or material or physical features and rise to the heights of real spiritual dominance.

The total significance of this whole proposition is so challenging as to be almost overwhelming. Its effectuation will depend largely upon a spiritual determination that this whole movement is to be a purposeful and beneficial crusade for Notre Dame.

Professional Guidance

In a desire to inaugurate this program under the very best auspices and under the most favorable conditions, your leadership evidence of their interest and understanding of our situation in that they have collaborated in presenting this outline to you.

The Bureau is favorably known to many of us through its many satisfactory associations in related activities. As you have learned, it has had wide experience in all fields and in all types of fund-raising work. It presently is affiliated with more than a dozen colleges and universities in their public relations programs.

It was the judgment of the University and of my associates who have given liberally of time and counsel that the American City Bureau be retained. Our objective must be the acquisition, development and training of a competent staff to work efficiently in campus headquarters and understandingly in the field to enhance the prestige of the University.

We suggest that this investment in individual and cumulative experience is one which will be an insurance against mistakes which we ourselves might make in our zeal and will be the foundation for orderly progress over a long period of years in one of the most important projects ever to confront our University. The Bureau will be a campus counselling guide, and will not engage in field work in the Cities.

Specific and Immediate Operations

It is indicated that those of us charged with the responsibility of executive direction within the Board of State Governors proceed to the opportunity of establishing the Local Committees of THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION.

The selection of a chairman for the Local Committee of THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION in New York or Chicago or any other city or town must be a studied and a deliberate one. This selection will be a major task and must be approached with the same thoughtful zeal as has characterized our every action to this time. The chairman must carry a deep conviction into his work of organization.

We hope that many of the chairmen may be selected and their Committees recruited within the next few weeks and certainly not later than the early months of the fall. By the time that these Committees have been built there should be information at hand to direct their activities in addition to that material already assembled.

At the moment, there is being compiled an Alumni Directory which will serve effectively as a work sheet. It is arranged geographically and alphabetically by cities and towns; further, it will reflect pertinent points to make it a valuable resource for the Committee. It should be available for distribution not later than early September. In addition to information in a preliminary manual there will be other facts as to previous sources of giving and, of course, local Notre Dame Clubs will have information at hand and activities in the making. The Clubs already have been alerted to the new program. Their related activities will be coordinated in policy and planning with the FOUNDATION Committee in a manner determined by each Club through its President as a Committee member.

It is the sincere desire of your chairman that the program may be properly inaugurated by the fall months when visitors crowd the campus and when national interest prevails in the affairs of Notre Dame.

We are fully conscious that interest in this total project can be maintained only through campus staff and proper field direction. To achieve this purpose, I am willing—and others similarly motivated stand ready,—to give the cause the necessary time and attention to advance its objectives. Of course we have within the Administration of the University and within our various departments the capable men willing and able to direct field activities and ready to cooperate in effectuating a headquarters staff to continue this broadened and permanent work.

Summary

The visions of service of the UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME to the cause of Christian leadership have been given to us by the Administration of the University of Our Lady and the challenge to make that vision a reality has found acceptance under the leadership of the Alumni Association.

We believe that objectives best can be

FOUNDATION METHODS UNIQUE: OBJECTIVES SHARED WIDELY

The nation-wide organization of local Foundation Committees, of volunteer alumni and friends, to effect a permanent, long-range program of both annual and general support of the University of Notre Dame, and to bring Notre Dame into every community in the country more closely and familiarly with its many-faceted contributions to America, is a new and unique venture.

Notre Dame's financial needs however, and the program from the approach of meeting them, is generally shared.

Notre Dame's costs have risen 49% since 1941. The national educational rise in similar costs is reported at 52%.

As a result, a survey indicates that 76% of our private and denominational colleges are either planning or conducting financial campaigns, for a total of almost $1,500,000,000. Many public institutions are similarly planning or engaged.

Most of the campaigning is stressing the base of annual giving, which the Foundation program projects. It has been the history of alumni funds that widespread campaigning among college alumni is not competitive in a handicapping sense, but that it is stimulating to general response.

Similarly, it is important to know that Notre Dame is not only not out of step with current educational programs, but is moving well ahead of them in its planning.

achieved through the UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION.

It is our conviction that the total of all public relations in the University can be channeled to great degree through this one new structure and that the sum total of that unified appeal of the FOUNDATION will be greater and more persuasive than the separate appeals of its prior component parts.

We are convinced that the direction of the FOUNDATION must be at the University but that its activities must be on a local level through Local Committees to be appointed by the President of the University and to work in harmony with local Notre Dame Clubs and other friendly factors.

It is our judgment that professional counsel is a very sound and a very necessary investment in this period of planning and organization and we have retained such counsel.

It is our hope that the alumni and the Alumni Clubs will be so imbued with the spirit of this movement as to be inspired to immediate action in the development of local FOUNDATION committees within their respective communities.

MEDIAEVAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Three scholarships for advanced study and research in the Mediaeval Institute of the University of Notre Dame during the 1947-48 scholastic year, have been announced by the Very Rev. Gerald B. Phelan, Director of the Institute.

The scholarships have been awarded to: Bernard Gendreau of Sarnia, Ontario, Canada; Sylvester Theisen of Cold Springs, Minn.; and Patrick McInnis of St. Peter's Bay, Prince Edward Island, Canada.

These scholarships will be awarded only to students who have received the equivalent of a Bachelor of Arts degree and who have had adequate university training in Latin, English, French or German, Philosophy and History.

Mr. Gendreau is a graduate of College Bourget, Rigand, Quebec, Canada, and has done three years of graduate work at the University of Montreal. Mr. Theisen is a graduate of St. John's University, Collegeville, Minn., while Mr. McInnis was graduated from St. Dunstan's College, Charlottetown, P.E.I., Canada.

IN MEMORIAM: TWO GIFTS

The University has received a check in the amount of $969.76 establishing the Joseph W. Whelan, '27, Student Loan Memorial Fund. The late Major Whelan, long a resident of Grantwood, N. J., died in May, 1945, at Mercy Hospital, Denver, Colo., after a long illness. He was 39.

Major Whelan became ill while serving with the Army in North Africa and was returned to this country about a year prior to his death. Commissioned a captain in the Judge Advocate General's Department, he entered service in September, 1942.

Shortly after initiation of the Whelan Memorial Fund, the University received a gift of $2,000 from the Frank R. Huisking Foundations, Inc., in memory of Frank, '37, from Huntington, L. I., N. Y. This gift is to be applied to the Economic Research Fund.

A.C.S. LUNCHEON

Frank J. Sowa of the Sowa Chemical Co., New York, has completed arrangements with the American Chemical Society for a Notre Dame group luncheon to be held on Wednesday, Sept. 10, 1947, during the A.C.S. convention in New York City.

Frank asks that the Notre Dame men attending the get-together pick up their tickets when they register.

Local Clubs and the New Foundation

By ROBERT T. HELLRUNG, '30

Vice-President of the Alumni Association

The development of the Notre Dame Foundation is proving a stimulus to a closer relationship between the local Alumni Clubs, the University and the entire Alumni Association.

Many Clubs have already set the stage for the establishment of the Foundation's Notre Dame Committee in the Club city.

The Council of Local Alumni Clubs held in November, 1946, set up a rich pattern for Club programs. This was a meeting of local Club Presidents from all over the country. It encompassed the spiritual, the intellectual, the cultural, the social, the fraternal, and the financial.

One of the Committees approved for all Club organizations was the Committee on Publicity and Public Relations.

This Committee, already established in some of the Clubs, has become the first Committee operating under the new Foundation.

The Foundation itself is an outgrowth in part of the Local Club Council. The proposed services from the University to the Clubs emphasized the fact that Notre Dame is increasingly pressed to render to alumni and students the proper services that would not only train responsible leadership on the campus, but follow its establishment among alumni and refresh them with continuous contact.

For example, the detachment of priests from campus duties, to serve as visitors to the Clubs, to prepare reading lists, to preside at Club Retreats, Communion Breakfasts, etc., calls for more facilities, more manpower on the campus.

The return of alumni groups, class groups, and club groups for visits to the campus for retreats, as well as business or professional symposia, will necessitate such improvements as the proposed Union Building, increased dining facilities and the Memorial Chapel.

Constant contact and stimulus of publications from the campus embodying religious, intellectual and cultural material for alumni relies upon improved facilities for research, writing, printing, mailing, and polling—all activities that are demanding of plant and personnel.

Such recommendations for the Clubs as increased moving pictures of the various phases of campus life, faculty speakers and preparatory school visitations, make demands for increased release of manpower at the University and increased budget provision for these services.

Just as the Foundation will serve as a means to implement the Club programs faster than any implementation previously outlined, so the State Governor is an expeditor, and the City Committee an accelerator, of the general Club program.

The first obvious need of the Foundation is to go beyond the Clubs, into the alumni in non-Club areas, and then beyond the alumni in all areas to non-alumni who are essential to the numbers and total amount implicit in the Foundation's objectives.

In the enlistment of the type of non-alumnus who will be interested in Notre Dame and in Notre Dame's program, the Local Club has already pioneered in enough places to prove the values. It is from this local circle of friends that there comes the increase of enrollment of sons whose fathers are friends of Notre Dame. Among these men, many of them leaders in business and industry, the Club Placement Committee finds ready employers of Notre Dame men.

They are the men whose names are usually prominent in the Club Scholarship activities.

The Foundation will increase the circle of friends of Notre Dame. It will stimulate alumni participation in the development of the University. As the University reflects from these combined groups the realization of its opportunities and the maintaining of its leadership, the local Clubs and all the members of the Alumni will enjoy a deep satisfaction and strongly reflected prestige.

The new Foundation program has brought an imminent promise of the University's ability to give the Clubs richer contacts that will stimulate local Club programs.

And in turn there is no channel more readily adapted to the success of the Foundation's program than the existing Clubs, particularly the programs of public relations already in effect in some of the Clubs.

The meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association in September, and the meeting of the Second Annual Council of Local Alumni Clubs (the Club Presidents) in November, will clarify even more the advantages that lie in the integration of the Clubs and the Foundation.

The Public Relations expansion phase of the Foundation gives the Alumni Association and the Local Clubs a clear-cut program of pursuing the broad objectives in the spiritual, intellectual, cultural and fraternal fields as well as a real purpose for coordinating all activities.

PROFESSORS TO BIKINI

Two chemistry professors from Notre Dame, Dr. William H. Hamill, '30, and Dr. Russell R. Williams, Jr., were appointed special consultants to the United States Navy in atomic research studies made this summer at Bikini atoll, site of the 1946 atomic bomb tests.

They were included in a small group of scientists who conducted a survey of conditions at Bikini for the Office of Naval Research, Washington, D. C. The scientific survey lasted six weeks, and was intended to determine conditions on the atoll one year after the bomb experiments.

Both Dr. Hamill and Dr. Williams were concerned in their investigations with the radio-chemical effects on the atmosphere, particularly radioactivity.

Dr. Hamill is a native of Oswego, N. Y., and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Notre Dame in 1930, and his M.A. in 1931. He received his doctor's degree from Columbia University in 1936. He formerly taught at Fordham University in New York City, and has been a member of the faculty at Notre Dame since 1938.

Born in Orchard Park, N. Y., Dr. Williams was awarded his Bachelor of Arts degree by the University of Buffalo, Buffalo, N. Y., in 1941, and his doctorate by Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., in 1944. He was associated with the atomic bomb project at Oak Ridge, Tenn., for two years, then joined the faculty at Notre Dame in August, 1946.

Two other Notre Dame scientists, Dr. Bernard Waldman, professor of Physics, and Dr. Milton Burton, professor of Chemistry, have acted as special United States observers in previous atomic bomb tests in the Pacific area. Dr. Waldman was one of four scientists who witnessed the bombing of Hiroshima in 1945, while Dr. Burton participated in the Bikini experiments last year.

Foundation Advocates Home Meeting

Experiences in Fort Wayne and Elsewhere Indicate Advantages in Family Spirit of Notre Dame Alumni and Friends as Fostered in Homes

(Ed. Note: One of the early trends in the Foundation is the family spirit that prevails between Notre Dame, its alumni, and its friends. This is most in evidence in the association of friends in home environment. The letter from Father Cavanaugh to Harry Hogan which follows is so much more than just a note of thanks that we reprint it as part of a guide to procedure for Governor and City Chairman.

As a matter of fact, a City Committeeman has already passed along the observation that when he broached the subject of giving to Notre Dame to a good prospect in his office, he was met with the reserve and the inherent refusal that is common to men whose desks are crossed daily by various appeals of varying merit. "The next time," he added in his report, "I'll talk to him in my home or in his."

In almost every community there are alumni and friends who could foster the contacts of the Foundation program substantially by the donation of the facilities of their homes, their yards, their farms, their Clubs. This is an important point for all involved to keep in mind.)

Office of the President
Notre Dame, Indiana
July 3, 1947

Mr. Harry G. Hogan
Office of the President
Dime Trust and Savings Bank
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

DEAR HARRY:

The meeting on Monday evening in your home was to me both revealing and pleasant.

You and I have discussed the new program in much detail in recent months, and I have been impressed from the outset by your theories, as you know. I felt that the University had much to gain, and that our alumni enthusiasm under your leadership would respond generously to the effort.

But the meeting in your home with the Fort Wayne City Committee proved beyond doubt that the program can be readily translated into the minds of the men in whose hands the plan will essentially rest.

Mr. Berghoff's contribution to the field of thinking along the lines of bequests was as sound and refreshing as was his friendship for Notre Dame. Mr. Nill reflected the same generous interest, both of them proving your point that Notre Dame's friends are many outside our immediate alumni.

The ready adaptation of Tom McKiernan and Donnelly McDonald, both alumni of long-standing loyalty and activity, was just as encouraging although not unexpected.

I feel that Fort Wayne, in spite of your position and ability, is not a unique city in the field we are entering. South Bend, for example, with leadership like that of Mr. Voll and Mr. Morris (who were very much impressed by the Fort Wayne picture) will hold its place as the first and most liberal community friend of Notre Dame.

One thing which impressed me and which I hope will be frequent as we make contacts across the country was the atmosphere provided by your home. I felt that it mellowed the contacts of the various men present. It emphasized the fellowship of Notre Dame. And it took away from the project any of the commercial element of drive or campaign meeting that too often prevails in hotel or auditorium environments. We certainly don't want to impose on alumni or their wives, but wherever convenient I know that the Governors and the City Chairmen will find the small group meeting greatly enhanced by the home background.

Let me thank you again for the stimulating "Exhibit A" in the possibilities of the extension of our Public Relations work through the Alumni Association and its community Committees.

Yours sincerely,

(Rev.) JOHN J. CAVANAUGH, C.S.C.

In Memory of Father Hugh O'Donnell

When Father Hugh O'Donnell died on June 12, letters and telegrams by the hundred came to the University from all parts of the country. Expressing sympathy, these messages also indicate vividly the high esteem and warm affection in which the wartime president of Notre Dame was held. They accord due recognition to the accomplishments of a man who gave practically all his adult days to the service of Notre Dame.

"(Father O'Donnell)" . . . A pious priest, an eloquent orator, a distinguished administrator, and a great moral force have been taken from us, but his influence for good survives in the host of men whose minds and hearts he touched with his fire."
"CHICAGO TRIBUNE," (editorial)

"The university marches ahead on a blue print of progress in which Father O'Donnell's handiwork is

STATEMENT OF FATHER JOHN CAVANAUGH

Father O'Donnell died nobly as he lived. He sensed, an hour or so in advance, the approach of death, called in his brother priests and spent his last moments on earth mentally repeating the prayers provided for the dying by his Congregation and his Church. Four months before, he had taken from his Provincial word of his incurable disease with complete resignation; in fact, his first action after hearing that he had cancer of the pancreas was to go with Father Steiner and Father Walsh to the Infirmary Chapel and there, at the Communion rail, to make an act of humble and complete resignation.

The disruption in his plans, which, at fifty-two, included immediately a trip to South America and Europe, the suffering and nausea that he endured, he bore gladly. His own reaction to these miseries he expressed in these words: "If I who have preached for thirty years resignation to God's Will should now falter, what a piker I would be!" Father O'Donnell suffered and died nobly.

He lived nobly. He was a model of temperance in his use of this world's comforts. He was unfailingly charitable in his speech and in his dealings with others. He conceived at Ordination the highest ideal of the priesthood and strove prayerfully every minute of his life to live up to that ideal. Sometimes he may have given the impression of attempting to be a "grand" character; he succeeded notably in being a grand character—an alter Christus, another Christ.

As President of the University for six and one-half most difficult years—in anticipation of war, while the war went on, and in the first stages of the post-war readjustment—he distinguished himself by manifesting excellent judgment, foresight, and unusual administrative tact and ability. His high rank among the presidents of the University can not be questioned. I shall always remember him, however, after six and one-half intimate and pleasant years, as one of the most exemplary priests and dearest friends with whom a human being could be associated. The universal sorrow, when Father O'Donnell died, among the faculty, students, alumni, and friends of Notre Dame was proof that his rare priestly character had not been underestimated. Anyone who knew him realizes that through seeking first the Kingdom of God, he not only lived nobly and won acclaim in this world, but bought an imperishable mansion for the eternity he has so lately entered, and which he shall so long enjoy.

Letter from Voss, Norway

By ARTHUR L. DENCHFELD, JR., '28

This is the "letter from Voss" that I promised you in my postcard from Oslo. We arrived yesterday at nineteen o'clock (or seven o'clock by a South Bend watch!) and took the lovely room reserved for us at Fleisher's Hotel. From our hotel veranda we can look across beautiful Vangsvann Lake to the backdrop of snow-capped mountains, one of them, Grasida, being some 1,300 meters high. The township proper of Voss only contains some 3,500 hard-working souls, while another few thousand populate the nearby valleys and outlying district. We looked up Johannes Rokne, whose father, George, now deceased, was Knute Rockne's brother. Johannes, who speaks fluent English—as do many Norwegians—told us of the hardships during the five years when the people of Norway, as in other occupied countries, were held as virtual prisoners for some five years.

The people of Voss were prepared for no great resistance in April 1, 1940; although they knew that the Germans were capable of occupying their land, they didn't for a moment suppose that they were to be subjected to bombing and strafing. On April 23, 24, and 25, 1940, the German planes flew over the center of Voss and bombed practically all the central part of the town, sparing only the old town church built in 1270. The reason, as given later by a German Luftwaffe officer to Johannes Rokne, was the Germans were informed that some 20,000 Norwegian troops were quartered in Voss, which information was erroneous. Only nine of the villagers were killed during the three day's bombing due, fortunately, to signals given by a siren alarm. Johannes put his wife and all he could grab in his old Ford and headed for the mountain roadways nearby, where he witnessed his town being blown up by incendiary bombs. The house of George Rokne, on the present site of Johannes' hardware business, was also blown up and that is the house where Knute Rockne was born.

I told Johannes Rokne, who has been to the U.S.A. and left there in 1935, of the Rockne Memorial Gymnasium at the University, and he knew nothing of this new building on our campus. I told him that you would send him some photographs of the campus and of the Rockne Memorial Gym in exchange for which he will try to send you some photos of the house where Rockne was born, taken before the bombing. Old photos and pictures are hard to find because the photographer's shop, as also the family albums of all the villagers, were burned in the bombing. The Germans thought at first that the Allied invasion would take place in Norway and, consequently, had many fortifications built all along the coast. Near Voss the Germans built an air strip and planted two wooden decoy planes thereon so the British would waste their bombs. This airstrip cost the Norwegians some seven million kroner (350,000 dollars at present rates).

Johannes is the nearest kin of Knute Rockne in Norway, since Rock's parents and family all settled in or around Chicago. One of the sisters, the youngest is still working in the Byllesby Engineering Company, in the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank Bldg., at LaSalle and Jackson, Chicago, while the other two sisters are married. Johannes has three brothers, Berger, Olav, and Knute, all living.

Johannes says that Rockne put a "c" before the "k" so that the proper pronunciation of the name might be conserved. He added a "c" also when he visited the U.S.A. Johannes is a great admirer of the United States, as are all his brothers, and his father, George, before him.

Across the beautiful Lake Vangsvann, high up in the hills, is Knute Rockne's father's farm. Knute Rockne's father was also named Knute. Johannes is going to take us up to this hillside farm in a few minutes, just before we catch the train for Bergen. I promised you a letter from Voss, and here it is. Johannes wants me to say "hello" to you and all the Notre Dame men everywhere; maybe he'll visit the U.S.A. again sometime in the future.

Kindest regards,
A. Denchfield

O'Donnell Memorial Dedicated

Present at the dedication of the Father O'Donnell memorial were, left to right, Alva Andis, Kiwanis Club president; Mrs. Agnes Carey, Kokomo, Ind., sister of Father O'Donnell; Mayor Loren W. Eikenberry of Greenfield; and Father Charles Carey, C.S.C., nephew of Father O'Donnell and the principal speaker.

Residents of Greenfield, Ind., assembled on June 25 for the dedication of a granite boulder bearing a bronze plaque memorializing the late Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., '06, Greenfield native and eleventh president of the University of Notre Dame.

The memorial was presented by the Greenfield Kiwanis club and was accepted for the city by Mayor L. W. Eikenberry. The Rev. Charles Carey, C.S.C., a member of the University faculty and a nephew of Father O'Donnell, gave the principal address.

Father Carey spoke of Father O'Donnell's contributions to Notre Dame:

"Notre Dame's eminence in education and leadership in sports are both contributions of Father O'Donnell's era and reign as president. He was a firm believer in a well-rounded curriculum. On this plaque Greenfield's residents can read and remember with pride the achievements of one of their most illustrious sons."

Football Tickets, 1947 Style

Three Games Sellouts in Early August; Demand Strong for Others

As this is written (on Aug. 21), three Notre Dame football games are sellouts: Army (as though you didn't know), Navy and Northwestern. The sale for other games has been strong and it's probable that additional sellouts will be announced before this issue of the ALUMNUS reaches its readers.

Judging from correspondence in the Alumni Office and in the Ticket Office, the regulations covering football ticket preference for 1947 have, in general, been well understood. And the cooperation of alumni has been admirable. First printed in the February, 1947, ALUMNUS, these regulations were repeated in the April ALUMNUS, and then in May each member of the Alumni Association was mailed a copy of them.

To sum up briefly: (1) Alumni in good standing (apparently an unpopular way of saying contributors to the Fifth Fund) as of June 15 were eligible for ticket preference; (2) alumni preference blanks for all games were mailed late in June only to alumni in good standing as of June 15; (3) the alumni preference sale opened on July 1 and closed on July 25, thus giving alumni the opportunity to purchase tickets prior to and exclusive of the general public sale; (4) late in July general public blanks for all games except Army were mailed to all members of the Alumni Association, and the general public sale for all games, except Army, opened on Aug. 1; (5) there was no sale of Army tickets to the general public; (6) 14,000 Army tickets were available to alumni in good standing, with a limit of two tickets per alumnus.

In what we thought was a liberal estimate on the basis of last year's figures, we estimated early last spring that 7,000 alumni would be in good standing by the June 15 deadline. Instead, 8,307 (including the religious) were in good standing by this date. The result you can imagine—the alumni quota of 14,000 Army tickets at two tickets per person was quickly taken up, and it was necessary in some cases to return Army orders and checks.

One other point: it should apparently be emphasized that the term "in good standing" as ordinarily used serves only to designate those who had by June 15 contributed to the Fifth Annual Fund in keeping with the regulations as published. (Religious, and honorary degree holders, are automatically "in good standing" according to the constitution of the Alumni Association.) There is no other meaning, intended or implied, in the term.

We appreciate the fact that for substantial reasons some alumni did not or could not contribute to the Fund by June 15. Others "just forgot." All of these are still good Notre Dame alumni. Please understand that. It's just that, in offering ticket preference to alumni, (a great many colleges don't attempt it), it's necessary to utilize some yardstick of measurement, some mechanics by means of which the limited number of preferred tickets can be allotted equitably. The plan we have is the best one we can think of under the conditions as they exist. Suggestions from alumni for practical improvement would be sincerely welcomed.

Thanks for your cooperation all around. We'll be seeing you this fall.

APPLICATIONS FOR 1946

Applications for enrollment at Notre Dame in September, 1948, are now being received according to an announcement of Rev. Louis J. Thornton, C.S.C., registrar. Those interested in entering the University at that time can procure the necessary bulletins and application forms by writing to Father Thornton. Early action is advised.

No beginning students will be accepted for the semester starting in February, 1948, Father Thornton said. He explained that the capacity enrollment in September, 1947, straining all the facilities of the University to the utmost, makes necessary this ruling.

VAN WALLACE TO LOURDES

Making his long-awaited pilgrimage to Lourdes in France, David Van Wallace, '27, Mt. Clemens, Mich., was to sail from New York City on Aug. 27 accompanied by his mother and his cousin. Aboard the ship with him was his new, specially-equipped station wagon presented to him on Aug. 8 through the efforts of the Notre Dame Club of Detroit to replace the travel-worn car given by the club which Van had used for years.

Enroute to New York, Van, who has been paralyzed since a diving accident in 1924, stopped for a short time in Buffalo, N. Y., and overnight in Rochester and Albany. In each place, and in New York City, where he spent several days, he was welcomed by members of the local Notre Dame club.

With the assistance of funds raised by the Detroit Club and the University of Detroit High School alumni, Van was about to sail for Lourdes when World War II broke out. The money originally raised for the trip was retained in a trust fund and is being used now.

AAF UNIT ESTABLISHED

An Army Air Forces Reserve Officers Training Corps unit is being established at the University it was announced recently by the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., president.

Father Cavanaugh revealed that Notre Dame officials had accepted an offer by AAF Headquarters to set up an Air ROTC at the University to train Air Corps administrative reserve officers. Notre Dame has had a Naval ROTC since 1941.

Two crack Army fliers, Lt. Col. Leonard W. Palmer, Gwinn, Mich., and Major Arthur Small, Durant, Okla., and an AAF administrative officer, Capt. Thomas J. Hardy, Logansport, Ind., have been assigned to Notre Dame and are currently organizing the ROTC unit so that it will be ready to enroll qualified students when the University opens in September. The three officers will be assisted by four non-commissioned officers who have been transferred to Notre Dame from other Air ROTC units.

The student quota for the Notre Dame Air ROTC has not yet been established, but indications are that it will start with around 100 students in the Basic Course. In addition, World-War II veterans with at least two years' left in the University will be eligible to enroll in the Advanced Course. Graduates of the Advanced Course will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve, and may apply for extended active duty.

No pilot training will be given. The entire ROTC course will consist of an average of four hours per week during the scholastic year for four years. Standard ROTC instruction will be given in the Basic Course, which will last two years. The first year of the Advanced Course will consist of general instruction in communications, navigation, aircraft maintenance, administration, personnel management, armament and other subjects. During the second year specialized instruction will be given in one of the above.

More than one-third of the 10,000 Notre Dame alumni and students who served in the United States Armed Forces in World War II were in the Air Forces.

For God, Country, Notre Dame in Glory Everlasting

The Alumni Office has just learned that ROBERT E. FOX, ex '44, Chicago, was killed in a plane crash on May 28, 1945, near Hutchinson, Kans. Twelve other officers were also killed when two Liberator bombers collided in mid-air. Bob was one of the pilots.

Bob, who was a student at Notre Dame from September, 1940 to February, 1941, is survived by his mother, two sisters and a brother.

Graduation Climaxes Summer on Campus

Catholic Action Sessions and Liturgical Program Are Features of First Postwar Summer School Attended by 1,743; History Symposium Is Conducted and Flight Demonstration Program Initiated.

Over two hundred received degrees at graduation exercises in Washington Hall on Aug. 12, marking the formal end of Notre Dame's first postwar summer session. The graduates heard Rev. John H. Murphy, vice-president of the University, as commencement speaker.

The total enrollment of the term was 1,743. Of these 1,250 were undergraduates and 493 graduate students. Sisters, representing more than 25 religious communities, comprised nearly one-fourth of the enrollment.

A former Chicago attorney who later became a professed Sister, had the distinction of being the only Sister appointed to teach during the summer school at the University of Notre Dame. She was Sister Mary Ligouri, B.V.M., '32. She taught a course in Social Problems.

Study Catholic Action

Students attending the summer session were given an opportunity to extend their understanding of the nature, purposes and means of specialized Catholic Action at a weekend program of Catholic Action study held on the campus July 12 and 13.

Rev. Bernard Mullahy, C.S.C., Catholic Action chaplain at St. Mary's College, opened the two-day program with a talk on "Catholic Action: the Twentieth Century Apostolate." Rev. Raymond Cour, C.S.C., also a Catholic Action chaplain at St. Mary's, spoke on the "Apostolate of Like by Like."

The July 12 sessions also featured a Catholic Action Workshop in various groups. Discussion in the Young Christian Workers section was led by James Cunningham, '44, publicity director of the Young Christian Workers in South Bend, and Miss Catherine O'Connor, leader of Young Christian Workers in South Bend. The Young Christian Workers were divided into two groups, the college section being led by Robert Reynolds of Notre Dame, Miss Mary Kain of St. Mary's and Miss Patricia Ollivier of Mary Manse College, Toledo, O. The high school group was led by George McDonnell, of Loyola University, Chicago.

The program concluded on July 13 with special masses in Sacred Heart Church. Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C., moderator of Catholic Action at Notre Dame, and the Rev. Charles Sheedy, C.S.C., Catholic Action chaplain on the campus, delivered the sermons.

The University was host on Aug 4-8 to the fifth annual Catholic Action Study Week for priests. The week featured lectures by such world-renowned Catholic Actionists as Patrick Keegan, England's national YCW president. Mr. Keegan led a discussion on "The Personal Apostolate."

The program included talks by Msgr. Reynold Hillenbrand, of Chicago, on "Social Problems of Today;" Rev. John Fitzsimons, Liverpool, England, and a faculty member at Notre Dame, on "Papal Teaching Concerning Catholic Action;" and the Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C., Catholic Action Moderator at Notre Dame, on "The Theology of Catholic Action."

Specialized forms of Catholic Action were spotlighted when discussion centered around the Young Christian Workers, the Young Christian Students, and the Young Christian Farmers. The latter's role was reviewed by Msgr. Luigi Ligutti, director of the National Rural Life Conference.

Rev. William Ferree, S.M., of Dayton, O., discussed "The Institutional Apostolate," and Rev. Raban Hathorn, O.S.B., of St. Meinrad's Abbey, St. Meinrad's Ind., told of "The Liturgy and Catholic Action." Arrangements for the study week were handled by Father Putz of the Notre Dame faculty.

A history symposium, sponsored by the Teacher's History Club of the University, was conducted on the campus, July 11 and

12. The symposium acted as a reorganization meeting of the club whose operations were suspended during the war. The Teacher's History Club is composed primarily of present and past students of the Department of History at Notre Dame and their friends who are engaged in the teaching of history in high schools.

New Liturgical Program

As the summer session came to a close the success of the new liturgical program under the direction of Rev. Michael A. Mathis, C.S.C., became more apparent. Dom Thomas Aquinas Michels, O.S.B., of St. Paul's Priory, Keyport, N. J., delivered a series of lectures on the History of the Sacred Liturgy according to the Latin Rite from Christian antiquity up to and including the modern liturgical movement. Seven other series of lectures were given by lecturers of national importance: Dom Godfrey Diekmann, O.S.B.; Dr. Willis D. Nutting, of Notre Dame; Rev. H. A. Reinhold; Very Rev. Msgr. R. Hillenbrand; Rév. Bernard Laukemper; Dom Bede Scholz, O.S.B.; Dom Damasus Winzen, O.S.B., and the Rev. Gerald Ellard, S.J.

Another unique program instituted during the summer session is the engineering flight demonstration program which is designed to supplement theoretical principles of aerodynamics and airplane dynamics taught in the classroom with actual flying experience.

The program, believed to be the only one of its kind in colleges and universities in the United States, is designed to provide each of the advanced aeronautical engineering students enrolled in the course with eight hours of flight demonstration.

Lt. Col. Francis X. Bradley, A.C. Reserve, '39, instructor in mathematics at the University, was appointed by Prof. F. N. M. Brown, head of the department of Aeronautical Engineering, to provide instruction in flight demonstration in the air.

Meanwhile, many other Notre Dame students were taking advantage of the summer school at Mexico City, Mexico. The session, sponsored by Notre Dame as a contribution toward better inter-American understanding, ran from June 23 to Aug. 22. Prof. Walter M. Langford, head of the department of Modern Languages at Notre Dame, served as director of the summer session in Mexico.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

The Madison Products Co., 3005 Detroit Ave., Toledo 10, Ohio, through John A. Hurst, '38, manager, is seeking dealers in several communities for its mothproofing products and service. Required to make only a nominal investment, the service dealer, or franchise holder, is offered the opportunity of building up his own profitable business within a short time. Franchises are now open in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia and Kentucky, and will later be open in other states.

The company is also seeking sales supervisors for some areas. Such supervisors are responsible, not only for the sale of mothproofing products, but also for the sale of additional company products.

Those interested can get additional information by writing to John Hurst.

Gilmour Academy Begins Second Year

Members of the Notre Dame Club of Cleveland and their families gathered at Gilmour Academy on July 26 for a family picnic. A few of those in attendance are lined up here alongside the new school bus. As you can see, all ages were represented.

A year ago the Alumnus carried an article on Gilmour Academy, Cleveland's new residential preparatory school for boys, operated by the Brothers of Holy Cross. I represented the Brothers in the negotiations for the purchase of the beautiful Drury estate which was to become Gilmour Academy and have been closely connected with the school since it opened. I have always been conscious of Cleveland's wealth of educational and cultural opportunities and I was pleased when Gilmour began to tap this cultural wealth.

My personal pride in Gilmour was refreshed again when I read the school's aims which were recently released by Brother Theophane Schmitt, C.S.C., headmaster. Quite naturally the overall aim of the school is teaching Christian thinking. But I was impressed by the supreme effort and means used to accomplish this goal.

The Brothers have chosen to complement the traditional courses of science, mathematics, English, languages, social studies with forums for study of cultural arts. This feature is best pointed out in their own statement of aims—"In the Freshman and Sophomore years a course called 'Cultural Arts' begins with a basic explanation of the meaning of culture, and then the growth of architecture, painting, sculpturing, landscaping, and home decoration is studied and evaluated in the light of the principles of real culture and the Catholic principles of art.

"The Sophomore year is complemented by the philosophy of music. In this course the basic elements of art are applied to the study of the important forms of vocal and instrumental music: folk music, the chant, polyphony, overture, the tone poem, and the ballet. The theory of the 'Cultural Arts' course is supplemented by visits to the Cleveland Museum of Art, attendance at the Metropolitan Opera, and the Cleveland Symphony.

"The philosophy of democracy enriches the third year. This forum brings to light the Christian foundations of American democracy. The Declaration of Independence and the Constitution are analyzed. Also the student learns the relationship between his democracy and tolerance, voting, military service, universal education, and diplomacy.

"The fourth year has forums on literary criticism where reviews and discussions of books, ideas, and the theater develop the analytical habit of mind, enabling the student to make a choice on the grounds of principle.

"These four forums, designed to integrate the entire curriculum, assure the students the tools for analysis and fair judgment of people, ideas, politics, cultural arts, books, the theater, and new cults."

Gilmour Academy is living up to its best hopes. It is filling a long needed want in our Cleveland community life. A Catholic school with the finest of Christian and American ideals. I am most pleased to have this opportunity to congratulate the good Brothers who are operating the school and to tell our alumni how proud they may be over this venture in the work of God and our Country.

OUTDOOR ADVERTISING SCHOOL

Through the Outdoor Advertising Foundation at Notre Dame, important steps are being taken to "harmonize" outdoor advertising with newspaper, magazine and radio advertising, according to Dean James E. McCarthy of the Notre Dame College of Commerce.

Dean McCarthy made this statement in June at the close of a special Outdoor Advertising School at Notre Dame which had as its faculty many top-ranking advertising experts. The school was attended by nearly 100 plant operators and employees of many outdoor advertising firms in the United States.

This June, for the first time because of previous wartime conditions, Dean McCarthy revealed, twenty Notre Dame graduates were absorbed into individual outdoor advertising companies or into the Outdoor Advertising association, which is seeking to improve professional, technical and other standards in the industry.

Dean McCarthy also said that, at the request of the outdoor advertising industry itself, working through the Notre Dame Outdoor Advertising Foundation, the College of Science and the College of Engineering at the University of Notre Dame are conducting important research for that industry.

FOOTBALL

Coach Frank Leahy will welcome back 39 monogram men early in September when the Irish footballers start drills for the season opener against Pittsburgh on Oct. 4.

Seeking to go last year's record of eight wins and a tie with Army, the team will be well stocked with veteran performers in nearly every position. Only at guard is there any visible shortage of depth.

At the guard posts, Notre Dame will keenly feel the loss of All-American and captain John Mastrangelo, Fred Rovai, Tom Potter and Vince Scott. Returning for the 1947 season, however, will be such notables as Bill Fischer, Marty Wendell, Joe Signaigo, and John Connor. Joe Yonto, a fullback on last year's aggregation, has been switched to a guard for the forthcoming campaign.

Coach Leahy's team is flanked with good material at the ends. Returning are Jim Martin, regular last year; Leon Hart, who showed up especially well late in the 1946 season; Bill Wightkin, Frank Kosikowski, Doug Waybright and Bill Leonard, who was a regular on the 1945 Irish eleven.

A slight question mark looms in the tackle spots, since at this writing it is not certain whether or not Ziggy Czarobski, who held down a regular tackle berth last year, will return to school, and Jack Fallon is bothered with a bad knee. Others who will be on hand for the opening of practice, however, include All-American and Captain-elect George Connor, George Sullivan, Gus Cifelli, Ralph McGehee and Gaspar Urban.

At center, Notre Dame fans have little to worry about, since the regular Irish pivot man in 1946, George Strohmeier, heads a list of five top-flight centers. Closely pressing Strohmeier are Bill Walsh, Walt Grot-haus, Bill Vangen and Art Statuto.

The loss of George Ratterman, who signed during the summer, to play professional football with the Buffalo Bills, will be sorely felt by Coach Leahy as he had counted on Ratterman as an able replacement for Johnny Lujack at quarterback. As it now stands, Lujack will be followed by Frank Tripucka, who stood out as a passer in the Old Timers-Varsity game last spring; Bill Brown, Gerry Begley and Bill Haywood.

The Leahymen should have an outstanding running attack with such jackrabbit halfbacks available as Emil Sitko, Terry Brennan, Bill Gompers, Bob Livingstone, Mike Swistowicz, Coy McGee, Ernie Zalejski, Jimmy Brennan and Fred Earley all of whom gained prominence last season.

At fullback, the Irish will be minus Jim

Mello, last year's regular, but will be able to counter with John Panelli, Floyd Simmons, and Corwin Clatt. Mike Swistowicz, aforementioned as a halfback, also may be used at fullback during the season.

Fans who watch the Notre Dame team during the 1947 season may expect to see one deviation from last year's Irish style. It is expected that Johnny Lujack, in addition to filling the air with his noted passing attack, also will do a little ball-carrying on his own behalf. Lujack experimented in the running department during the Old Timers-Varsity tilt and the result was little short of sensational.

Until shortly before the Irish begin practice, Coach Leahy will be busy coaching the College All-Stars for their game with the Chicago Bears to be played in Soldiers Field, Chicago, on Aug. 22. Coach Leahy was named to serve as head coach of the All-Stars.

TENNIS

The powerful Notre Dame tennis team, undefeated during regular season play and victorious in the Central Collegiate Conference meet, showed up well in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament held in Los Angeles but not quite well enough to capture either team or individual titles.

William and Mary College, also undefeated during the 1947 season, for the second consecutive year won the team title in the national meet as they placed three men in the quarter-finals. And it was Gardner Larned, William and Mary ace, who defeated the only remaining Notre Dame man in the quarter-finals of individual play, Captain Jimmy Evert, 6-3, 7-5.

The Irish doubles combination of Jimmy and Jerry Evert advanced to the semi-finals before losing. In other singles play, Notre Dame's Bob David lost in first round competition, but Charles Samson, Bill Tully and Jerry Evert went in to second round play before dropping out.

Before the national tourney, Jimmy Evert won the Illinois state tennis championship in singles competition, and the Irish captain teamed with his brother Jerry to cop the Illini doubles crown. In the Oklahoma state meet in Oklahoma City, the Evert brothers played exceptionally well before bowing to nationally-known Ted Schroeder and Don Turo of Tulane in the doubles finals, 12-10, 7-5, 6-3.

Upsets in singles play featured the West-ern Junior and Boys' 1947 tennis championships held July 21 to 26 at Notre Dame, as top-seeded entrants in both divisions fell by the wayside in singles competition.

In the boys' division, after John Sahra-tian, of Detroit, had upset second-seeded Hamilton Richardson, of Baton Rouge, La., top-seeded Richard Holroyd, of Del Ray Beach, Fla., lost to Conrad Woods, unseeded entrant from Los Angeles. In the finals of the boys' singles division, two unseeded competitors battled in an all-Los Angeles encounter. Robert Perry was crowned the boys' champion after defeating Conrad Woods, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

Competition ran true to form in the boys' doubles division, when the highly-favored combination of Holroyd and Richardson swept to the championship by defeating the No. 2 team of Fred Hagist, of Hollister, Calif., and Whitney Reed, of Alameda, Calif., 6-2, 6-4, in the finals.

The top upsetter among the juniors proved to be Tony Trabert, 16-year old Ohio Interscholastic champion from Cincinnati. In the quarter-final round the fifth-seeded Trabert disposed of fourth-seeded Sidney Schwartz, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the following day ousted top-seeded Herbert (Buddy) Behrens, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Trabert won the junior title by rallying to beat third-seeded Alex Hetzcek, who had beaten second-seeded Dick Mouldous, of New Orleans, 9-7, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Behrens and Mouldous copped the junior doubles title by eliminating Schwartz and McDonald Mathey, of Princeton, N. J., 7-5, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4.

GOLF

The Irish golfers were off their game in the NCAA golf tourney at Ann Arbor. Notre Dame, coached by the Rev. George Holderith, C.S.C., finished well down the list in team play, but Dick Seidell, captain-elect of the Irish linksmen, posted a 157 to keep pace with the leaders in first round play before losing out.

ALL-STAR GAME

Frank Leahy, director of athletics and head football coach, was the head coach of the College All-Stars who played against the Chicago Bears in Chicago on Aug. 22. Two of Frank's assistants were Ed Krause, Notre Dame line coach, and Marchy Schwartz, head coach at Stanford. The game was sponsored by the Chicago Tribune through Arch Ward, '21, sports editor, and his department.

ALUMNI CLUBS

Akron

At the evening banquet meeting on Universal Notre Dame Night, at the University Club of Akron, the following officers for 1947 were elected: PAUL A. BERTSCH, president; HUGH M. COLOPY, vice-president; JOHN M. KELLY, secretary; and ROBERT KOLB, treasurer.

Monthly luncheon meetings are informally conducted at Kraker's Old Heidelberg Restaurant in the Student Prince Room, on the first Tuesday of each month.

A summer dance sponsored by the Club was held at Seiberling Country Club on Aug. 1, with WILLIAM AHERN as chairman of the dance committee and Mrs. THEODORE A. LEY as chairman of the ladies. The proceeds of this dance will be applied to the scholarship fund. JOHN KELLY

Baltimore

On June 27 the club held a meeting at the Gunther Community House, Baltimore. Socially and from a business standpoint, the affair was most successful. More than sixty members and their wives attended, and nineteen guests of the club were on hand.

The next get-together was to be a club picnic in August.

Central New York

President "ZEKE" MOONEY called the balls and strikes, at a gala event held June 12 at the Cavalry Club, near Dewitt, N. Y. The affair was attended by over 30 N. D. men and students. Starting at three, the horseshoe-pitching contest, the baseball game and associated activities consumed the afternoon until a delicious buffet dinner was served. DUKE KINNEY, recently returned from Florida, gave an instruction period on how to sneak in and out of Sorin Hall to ROBERT TAYLOR and ROBERT GAFFNEY, of next year's graduating class. BILL GATE and JUSTIN CORCORAN told of the Alumni Reunion at Notre Dame, and plans for the pilgrimage to the Notre Dame-Army game were discussed. JACK MAULIFFE, chairman, JUSTIN CORCORAN and E. W. KENEFACE did a fine job arranging the June Reunion.

At the meeting, the members present signed a letter which was to be sent to the family of the late FATHER HUGH O'DONNELL, C.S.C. A Mass of requiem was offered by REV. FRANK HARRISON, Notre Dame grad, at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Syracuse. The Mass was attended by thirty of the club members, who traveled from distances up to fifty miles. The Mass was arranged by REV. JOHN HARRISON, chaplain of the local unit.

PAUL TIERNEY, '43, is now associated with the Associates Discount Corp. and drives several hundred miles each week in his new Plymouth. BILL KELLEY, '42, attended his fifth reunion at Notre Dame and also made an inspection trip of the Studebaker plant. VINCE BROWN, who hasn't missed a meeting in several years, is moving to Buffalo. JOHN H. TERRY

Chicago

JAMES KANE, '44, chairman of the Luncheon Committee, has had a good showing at each of the three monthly luncheons. The May luncheon, featuring JAMES H. CROWLEY, executive and head coach of the Chicago Rockets, was a capacity-plus affair. The second luncheon, also well attended, featured another alumnus, JOSEPH C. REPINE, '34, one of the directors of the Cook County Juvenile Detention Home. The July gathering enjoyed an entertaining talk by Leslie O'Connor, business manager of the Chicago White Sox. Many outstanding persons are slated for the fall and winter monthly luncheons.

Congratulations were in line for JOHN BUCKLEY, '38, who was chairman of this year's Golf Tournament. The tournament, held at Acacia Country Club, was very well attended and all present were

Cleveland

On the 12th of May at a meeting at Chuck Rohr's Restaurant, HUGH M. O'NEILL was unanimously elected president of the club. This, along with serving as governor of the Notre Dame alumni of Ohio, will keep Hugh mighty busy for the next year. JOHN M. COLEMAN, FRANK J. McGRODER, JR. and WILLIAM C. MULLIGAN were elected to assist HUGH in the offices of vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively. Father OTIS WINCHESTER was appointed chaplain and NORMAN J. McLEOD, honorary president.

At a meeting at the Shaker Country Club on the 26th of May the newly elected officers, along with their predecessors, THOMAS C. BYRNE, EDWARD H. SCHROETER, FRANCIS M. PAYNE, JR. and THOMAS E. ENRIGHT, appointed THOMAS F. BYRNE, JOHN J. COLLINS, GEORGE J. KOZAK, EUGENE W. OBERST, and DENNIS J. O'NEILL to the board of directors.

A newly created advisory committee of 35 members met at the home of HUGH O'NEILL on the 7th of July where the events of the coming year were discussed and agreed upon. It was a most successful meeting with spirit and enthusiasm running second only to perfect attendance.

The annual family picnic was held on July 26 at our own Gilmour Academy, thanks to the generosity of BROTHER THEOPHANE and members of the Holy Cross Congregation. BOB COLEMAN was chairman. General chairman BILL EGGERS and publicity chairman CHUCK RUSS, undergraduates at Notre Dame, announced their plans for the student summer dance to the officers, directors, and advisors of the club, and extended a personal invitation to all alumni on July 7 at HUGH O'NEILL'S. The dance is to be held at the Lake Shore Country Club on Aug. 23. CHUCK KANE, publicity chairman of the alumni club, has worked out many plans with students to assure a gala evening.

LARRY KRALL and BILL VAN ROOY are co-chairmen for the golf party at Pine Ridge Country Club on Aug. 28. There will be golf and swimming from noon on, with prizes and dinner following in the evening. The alumni are invited to bring their fathers and/or sons for this annual get-together that has proven so popular in the past.

Elaborate plans, including a Friday night football rally, are being formulated for the Navy-Notre Dame week-end in Cleveland. The club wants to take this early opportunity to extend an invitation to all alumni clubs to join us that week-end. Circle the date on the calendar now and plan to meet us Friday night, Oct. 31. TOM C. BYRNE is handling the official football program and can be contacted at the Terminal Tower, Cleveland.

Father John Cavanaugh receives from Walt Nienaber, president of the Cincinnati Club, a check for two thousand dollars representing the first payment on the club's scholarship fund at the University. The club will add to the fund from year to year and ultimately the money will provide for a Notre Dame scholarship to be awarded in the Cincinnati area. In the picture, left to right, are other members of the club: Jerry Hohman, Bill Middendorf, Bob Burke and Bert Schloemer.

Connecticut Valley

Newly elected officers of the club, to serve for the year 1947-48 are: FLOYD RICHARDS, president; JIM FLAHERTY and BILL REID, vice-presidents; DON FOSKETT, secretary; and TIM MURPHY, treasurer. The Board of Governors consists of: TOM CURRY, BILL HURLEY, JOHN CIANCI, JOHN ROBINSON, and RAY SNYDER.

The June meeting was highlighted by the presence of ANGELO BERTELLI and MILT PIEPUL. Bert and Milt provided the club members with a most enjoyable evening. Football, of course, was the principal topic of discussion. A great many of the outstanding Notre Dame football games of a few years ago were replayed, with vigorous participation by members of the local "Monday Morning Quarterback's Association." Bertelli also told some of his interesting experiences in professional football.

JOHN ROBINSON, newly-appointed alumni governor for Connecticut, outlined for the club members the objectives of the Alumni Association under the new set-up, and explained what his functions, as governor for this area, would be.

A great deal of interest is already developing among the brethren with reference to the Notre Dame-Army game, and it is expected that a goodly delegation of Nutmeggers will be present at kickoff time next Nov. 8. DON FOSKETT

Dayton

Nearly a hundred persons were on hand for the chicken-in-the-rough party staged by the club on June 7. Plenty of chicken, beer, a good quartet and the best crowd in local club history were the component parts. BILL HOYNE and DICK POHL put in many hours preparing for the party. The telephone committee worked exceptionally well, bringing out some old faces who had long been absent.

Dallas

The club sponsored an address by DEAN MANION before the Dallas Bar Association, June 14. Dean Manion's subject was "Morals and the Law." There were many members of the Dallas Club and more than two hundred attorneys present for this lecture.

The Dean was graciously received, and made an excellent impression on all who heard him. Following the address, several prominent attorneys warmly congratulated Dean Manion, made him promise to return soon.

The club honored Dean Manion and Dean Potts of the Southern Methodist University Law School with a luncheon in the Melrose Hotel. It was a most successful afternoon, and everyone remained until the many improvements at Notre Dame had been thoroughly discussed.

The visits of FATHER SWEENEY and DEAN MANION have accomplished a great deal in changing certain attitudes of people in this section of the country. We hope that such visits will be more frequent.

Our next club activity will be either a barbecue, or a combination summer supper and dance on the "Bonnie Barge" on White Rock Lake. GEORGE BECKER, chairman of the entertainment committee, is making arrangements to charter the barge for an evening the latter part of August.

The members of the Dallas Club contributed 100 per cent this year to the 15th Annual Fund. This shall be our goal next year, and the next.

WALTER L. FLEMING

Detroit

VAN WALLACE is finally going to Lourdes. The sailing date is set for Aug. 23. The Notre Dame Club of Detroit is giving Van a new car to take with him, and we are busy raising additional funds for his expenses. Spark plug for this affair is JIM FOREN and contributions are pouring in every day.

We had a golf tournament July 1, at Meadowbrook Country Club in Detroit at which we had a fine turn out of 75. TOMMY SHEEHAN and MARV MARTIN were co-chairmen and, under the watchful eye of vice-president Bert Baur, they handled the details in first class shape.

On Aug. 2, JOHN ANHUT was host for a picnic at his farm for the club of Detroit and the Detroit Club of Notre Dame. MAL KNAUS

The club held its first meeting, after a lapse of a number of years, April 14, at the St. Andrews Country Club. The meeting, of course, was held in celebration of the Universal Night.

There were forty members present from this area which includes all between Aurora on the south, Crystal Lake on the north and Sycamore on the west and Wheaton on the east. After a very fine dinner our president, DR. PHIL HEMMING, called the meeting to order. A board of directors was appointed and consisted of the following men: CLARENCE RUDDY, of Aurora, CHARLES CASE, of Wheaton, PAUL FUNK, of Elgin, VERNON KNOX, of Crystal Lake, and LEN FRETTE, of Aurora, the member at large.

Our president appointed the following to the Events Committee: WILLIAM CHAWGO, of Aurora, ROLAND SCHLAEGER, of Elgin, VERNON KNOX, of Crystal Lake, and CHARLES CASE, of Wheaton.

President Hemming next reported on the week-end spent at the University last fall when the plans of the school and the alumni were discussed. The report was well received and all agreed that there should be a closer endeavor of activity between the two.

After the meeting a movie, sent to us by the Public Relations department at school, was shown by ED PHALAN

The club had a meeting of the officers, directors and Program Committee members June 25, at DR. PHIL HEMMING'S home in Elgin to arrange for a summer golf outing and stag dinner, to be held in August. Present students are being invited. BILL CHAWGO

The club started the summer social season with its annual formal dance at Westlake Terrace on June 19. Some three hundred couples attended the dance; it had all the atmosphere of the old school proms, complete with leather bound programs and brought back memories of dances at the Palais Royale years ago.

Alumni of the Kentucky Club attend their first annual retreat in May at the Abbey of Gethsemani. Front row (left to right): Jim Costello, Father Maurice, Dr. Charles Moran, E. P. Moran. Second row: Jim Carrico, Bernie Bowling. Third row: Paul Tafel, Jr., John Bannon, John Dant. Fourth row: Frank Bloemer, Jr., Jack McKenna, Bill Woerner. Fifth row: Carl Ratterman, Jim Casper, Walt Kenney. Sixth row: Dr. N. Casper, Otto Milet, Jessie Doll.

The next function on the summer agenda was the annual golf tournament at the Highland Golf and Country Club on Aug. 9, followed by a steak dinner. ED CUNNINGHAM was general chairman.

The club is running special trains to several of the games next fall. More information later.

Kentucky

The observance of Universal Notre Dame Night in April brought to a close one of the most successful years in the long history of the Kentucky Club. Under the able leadership of our past president, TOM BULLEIT, a great number of activities were accomplished, highlighted by two Communion Breakfasts, the annual stag outing, club trips to the Purdue and Northwestern games, a dance in co-ordination with the Kentucky-Notre Dame basketball game, and resumption of our bowling league.

The bowling season was brought to a close with the team championship going to Dillon Hall. The members comprising the victorious team were: Captain BILL MORROW, JIM CARRICO, LARRY ANBREV, JOE BUCKLER, JIM MEAGHER, PAUL TAFEL, and OTTO MILETI. Lyons, Sorin, and St. Edward's followed the leader in that order. In the tournaments following league play CHARLES MARGUET copped the singles title and CHARLEY MORROW and PAT GREENE won the doubles. The bowling league was one of the most successful club activities of the year because it succeeded in getting out old members who had been very inactive and also in finding new ones.

Our new president, BILL WOERNER, is wasting no time in keeping our club a very active one. We had our first annual week-end retreat at the Abbey of Gethsemani, the last week of May. On June 8 we held our quarterly Communion Breakfast at St. Mary Magdalen Church which was well attended by both alumni and students.

To keep in closer contact with the student club at Notre Dame, JACK McKENNA was appointed liaison officer to coordinate wherever possible the activities of both clubs. It was with this coordination in mind that a summer dance was held on June 20 at the Richmond Club. A capacity crowd of 150 couples attended.

BILL BOSLER, founder and first president of the Kentucky club, is very ill and needs the prayers of all his friends. Bill is without a doubt our most active and loyal member and one of Notre Dame's most ardent alumni. We deeply hope that his Notre Dame friends will not forget him when he needs them most. OTTO J. MILETI

Milwaukee

Highlight of Club activity for August was the annual dinner dance at the North Shore Country Club, Aug. 2.

The Laetare Medal awarded for 1947 will be presented to William George Bruce, outstanding Catholic layman, at a testimonial dinner on Sept. 9 at the Hotel Schroeder. The dinner is sponsored by the club, under the direction of CHARLES O'NEILL. Several Catholic organizations and civic groups have requested that they be permitted to participate in honoring Mr. Bruce.

REV. JOHN CAVANAUGH, C.S.C., president of Notre Dame, has been a regular visitor to Milwaukee. He and ROBERT HAMILTON, alumni governor for Wisconsin, recently conferred with TOM DIXON and CHARLES O'NEILL and officers of the Bruce Publishing Co. concerning plans for the presentation of the Laetare Medal. Father Cavanaugh was also an inspiring speaker at a recent convention of Young Republicans here.

During the past year the club has been happy to receive several members transferred from other cities. Among these men are CLIFFORD BUCKLEY, '41, JOHN LINNEHAN, '40, ED HUFF, '40, JOHN STAUBER, '42, HAROLD LANGTON, '38, FLOYD SULLIVAN, '40, and HENRY GARVEY, '40.

JOHN CLAUDER, former club president, is conducting the annual football ticket activity.

Evening meetings on the first Tuesday of each month are now being held at the Knights of Columbus Club. Our thanks to the Knights for giving us a regular meeting place. At the last meeting, members heard an interesting presentation of labor problems by John Kluwin, labor mediator and outstanding attorney.

Luncheon meetings at the Maryland Hotel every Thursday are being attended by many of the alumni.

BEN DE LA HUNT surprised us recently by telling us that he is leaving to study theology in the Seattle diocese in preparation for Holy Orders.

Participation of alumni in community activities, often recommended by the Alumni Association, was recently exemplified by CHARLES O'NEILL who served as spokesman for the Catholic laymen at a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Teen-Agers. The group discussed "Bridges Between Groups Who Differ." Other speakers were a Jewish rabbi and a Presbyterian minister. NEAL J. GLEASON

Bishop Francis J. Haas of Grand Rapids and Rev. Francis P. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., dean of the College of Arts and Letters, were the chief guests at the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner sponsored by the Grand Rapids Club on April 14. Both are shown at the head table.

The Notre Dame Club of Eastern Kansas met in Leavenworth, Kans., to observe Universal Notre Dame Night on April 14. Dan Foley, '23, who sent along this picture of the group, said that the club was planning a picnic at the Joe O'Bryan ranch at Hiattville, Kans.

The revived club had a dinner-meeting of officers and directors on May 19 in the Olympic Club. Numerous questions with regard to membership, tenure of office of the officers, dues, and club funds were discussed and decisions made. The group voted that SLIP MADIGAN should be empowered as a committee of one to select his own organization to conduct a tour to the U.S.C.-N.D. game in Los Angeles, on Dec. 6.

New Jersey

At the Board meeting May 26, DAN O'NEILL was named chairman. Several suggestions were forwarded to increase attendance at general meetings of the club. It was proposed that the president appoint a program director and name at the next meeting the chairmen for all activities throughout the coming club year. An activities schedule will be prepared and distributed. Dues were also discussed.

RAY GEIGER, newly-appointed alumni governor for New Jersey, reported on the national alumni association's gubernatorial system.

PETE QUINN, who had been appointed to investigate the possibility of running a special train of alumni to the Army game, reported that on the basis of a survey he had made the prospects were good that sufficient eligible Jersey alumni would be interested to fill a train.

In accordance with the new policy of selecting all events chairmen at the beginning of the club year, the membership approved the following nominations of President Melinkovich: TOM HOGAN, Freshman Welcome; PETE QUINN, Raffle; BILL SMALL, New Year's Eve Dance; JIM FAGAN, Communion Breakfast; FRANK McDERMITT, Universal Notre Dame Night; and TOBEY KRAMER, Day at the Shore (1948).

At a meeting of the Board of Directors on June 25, TOM HOGAN, chairman of the Freshman Welcome, outlined tentative plans for the affair, which will probably be held Sept. 11. Local alumni, speakers from the University and members of the Class of '47 will be asked to attend. The affair will also be the occasion for welcoming new alumni, who have already been invited to participate in the club's activities.

On George's suggestion, the club will have a month's mind Mass said for Father O'Donnell on the campus.

Letters from HARRY HOGAN and JIM ARMSTRONG in answer to a request from the club for a clarification of University club relations and the new gubernatorial system were read and received a favorable response. Invitations have been issued to both to speak at a fall meeting.

BILL CARTER, '47, in his capacity as program director, was invited to talk over plans for the coming club year with the Board of Directors at its July 28 meeting.

BILL SMALL, is selecting his committee and making arrangements for the New Year's Eve Ball, which is expected to be the club's outstanding social event of the year. RUSS JANDOLI

New York City

We had a very pleasant visit on "President's Night" with FATHER CAVANAUGH, and at the same time announcement was made to the effect that our Trust Fund had made two rather substantial donations to the University.

We were all grieved to learn of the death of FATHER O'DONNELL. In addition to sending a resolution to the University, the Board of Governors arranged to have a memorial Mass said for Father O'Donnell at St. Patrick's Cathedral on July 12.

Two important things have happened with respect to both of the vice-presidents of the Club. ED BECKMAN very proudly announced that as of September his son will enter Notre Dame as a freshman. He is very proud of this and it is interesting to note that this is the third generation Beckman to attend Notre Dame. Ed graduated in 1916 and his father before him was a student at Notre Dame.

This photograph, taken June 12 in Providence, R. I., shows Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., president of the University, being congratulated by John J. McLaughlin, president of the Notre Dame Club of Rhode Island and Southeastern Massachusetts, after receiving an honorary degree and delivering the Commencement address at Providence College. Shown are: (left to right) Hon. John O. Pastore, governor of Rhode Island, John McLaughlin, Father Cavanaugh, Judge Robert E. Quinn, associate justice, Superior Court and former governor of Rhode Island, and Congressman John E. Fogarty.

MARTIN CALLAGY, who is also a vice-president of the Club, and who was for several years a Domestic Relations Court judge in New York, has just been named chief counsel for the Legal Aid Society of New York.

Under chairmanship of COLMAN O'SHAUGHNESSY, aided and abetted by BOB HAMILTON representing the Trust Fund Committee, the club and the Trust Fund Committee will run a joint trip to South Bend for the Army game. Arrangements have been made for Pullman car sleeping accommodations through to South Bend, with permission to sidetrack the cars and use them as hotel accommodations for the week-end, the train leaving New York Friday afternoon and returning Sunday evening. According to Colman the big rush is on for reservations.

As usual, the Trust Fund Committee will have an activity for the scholarship fund and its other related charitable activities, which will be conducted under the guidance of BOB HAMILTON and his able committee. JOHN HOYT, JR.

RESOLUTION, SPECIAL MEETING, BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF NOTRE DAME CLUB OF NEW YORK

Whereas, the Board of Governors of the Notre Dame Club of New York has noted with profound regret the death of The Reverend J. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., former President of the University of Notre Dame, on June 12, 1947, and

Whereas, Father O'Donnell was associated with Notre Dame and the Congregation of Holy Cross for over thirty-five years, as a student at the University, as a Professor, as Vice-President and as President, and,

Whereas, he guided Notre Dame through the war years and shaped the University life to conform with National defense demands, and

Whereas, he was, along with other members of the Congregation, instrumental in establishing a Naval Training Program at the University during World War II, and

The Board of Governors of the Notre Dame Club of New York submits the foregoing memorial to the family of the late Reverend J. Hugh O'Donnell, to the Trustees of Notre Dame, to the Faculty, to the students and to the Congregation of Holy Cross and offers the following resolution:

"RESOLVED, That a copy of such memorial be included in the record of the proceedings of the Board of Governors of the Notre Dame Club of New York and that a copy of same, under the Seal of the Notre Dame Club of New York be sent to Father O'Donnell's Family, to the Superior General of the Holy Cross Congregation, to the Trustees of the University and to the President of Notre Dame."

BISHOP O'HARA, C.S.C. recently visited the city, attending the consecration ceremonies of Bishop Cody. At the same time, FATHER GERALD PHELAN, director of the Mediaeval Institute at Notre Dame, was guest lecturer at St. Louis University for a period of six days. A send-off dinner was arranged for Father Phelan by club president FRED WEBER and JOE MCGLYNN. Those in attendance included Rev. Patrick J. O'Holloran, S.J., president of St. Louis University, DICK MUCKERMAN, DR. BERT COUGHLIN, DR. DAN SEXTON, JIM HILL, FRANK ROTH, BILL RILEY, FRED McNEILL, and JACK GRIFFIN. After the dinner, DICK MUCKERMAN, president of the St. Louis Browns, entertained the group in his newly constructed private box at Sportman's Park.

During the first week in July, BOB HELLRUNG arranged for a requiem Mass to be said at the new Cathedral for the late REV. HUGH O'DONNELL, C.S.C.

The annual Club picnic was scheduled for July 27 at CORLEY'S farm . . . a beautiful place that includes pool, tennis courts, ball field and plenty of green lawn space. FRANK POLLNOW was top-kick of the entire affair, assisted by ROLAND DAMES, MARTY HUGHES, DR. BERT COUGHLIN and ED OLSEWSKI. The GRIESEDECK BROS., ED, BOB, and BILL, took care of the liquid refreshments, naturally! And former prexy, AL RAVARINO, supplied his favorite dish—spaghetti. JIM O'NEAL

The new directors elected for the term 1947-1950 were: DR. ROBERT BRYAN, '38, THOMAS HICKEY, JR., '35, JAMES LAHEY, '38, and FRANCIS MESSICK, '30. JAMES LAHEY was elected to serve the remaining term of the late ROBERT FITZSIMMONS, '33.

On June 24, the club held its annual golf party at the South Bend Country Club. The program was in charge of JACK MOULDER, and a great deal of credit is given to Jack and his able assistants for a fine program and an exceptionally good time.

An afternoon of golf was followed by a delicious chicken dinner. After the dinner, JOHN MCINTYRE, new president, outlined the job ahead for the club in 1947-1948. FATHER JOHN H. MURPHY, C.S.C., vice-president and Capt. A. L. Danis, commanding the NROTC unit at Notre Dame, both gave brief talks.

Following the dinner program golf prizes were distributed to the good golfers present and several clubs carried home an award for sincere effort. This was followed by some excellent moving pictures of the National P. G. A. Tournament. The movies were splendid from a technical standpoint, but everyone agreed that they could not compare to the interesting exhibition put on by club members during the afternoon. FRAN MESSICK

Tri-State

The first summer outing of 1947 for club members was held at the Princeton Country Club, Princeton, Ind., on June 26, with FRANCIS HENNEBERGER club president, acting as chairman, and ART MILLER as co-chairman. A golf tournament was held for which prizes were awarded to SONNY SANDERSON, Jasper, Ind., and LYLE MILLER, of Vincennes, Ind., for high and low scores respectively. Fifty attended. Following the tournament a dinner party was held.

This meeting, in addition to being the first summer outing, was also the first meeting of the board of directors of the newly formed corporation, named the Tri-State Notre Dame Club. Directors present at this first meeting were the following: EDWARD E. MATTHEWS, BERNARD WITUCKI, RALPH F. HEGER, FRANCIS J. HENNEBERGER, BERNARD UNDERRINGER, LYLE E. MILLER, and WILLIAM BRADBURY.

FRANCIS HENNEBERGER acted as chairman of the meeting, and EDWARD E. MATTHEWS as secretary. The following were elected as officers: FRANCIS HENNEBERGER, president; BERNARD WITUCKI, vice-president; EDWARD E. MATTHEWS, secretary; and BERNARD UNDERRINGER, treasurer. WILLIAM T. FITZGERALD was requested to prepare a set of by-laws appropriate for the corporation.

The following committees and their chairmen were appointed: Membership, BOB LAMEY; Finance, BERNARD UNDERRINGER; Religion and Citizenship, JIM McQUAID; Job counseling, RUDY STURM; Preparatory school contacting, JOE O'KANE; and Publicity and public relations, PETE THOLE.

The highlight of the evening was a speech by the Honorable WILLIAM T. FITZGERALD, attorney of Evansville. Mr. Fitzgerald discussed the past successful athletic season and outlined Notre Dame's prospects for 1947.

Plans were tentatively formulated for the next meeting of the club in Jasper, Ind., during September.

Any Notre Dame men, students, ex-students, or alumni who reside in the tri-state area and are not members of the club are urged to contact EDWARD

The second annual retreat of the club was held at Holy Cross College, from June 27-29. REV. HAROLD W. RILEY, C.S.C., of the North Easton, Mass., Mission Band was retreat master.

On both Saturday and Sunday the retreatants attended a Mass for the repose of the soul of FATHER HUGH O'DONNELL, C.S.C.

Fifteen members of the club attended this function and it was the unanimous opinion that FATHER RILEY did a wonderful job. FATHER RANSING, the club's chaplain and the superior of Holy Cross College, was a most generous, hard-working host. The priests, Brothers, Seminarians and Nuns provided the spiritual inspiration and hospitality so truly a mark of the Congregation of Holy Cross.

The attendance at this function showed 100 per cent increase over the previous year, and it is expected that this most worthy activity will become the outstanding event of the club's calendar year in the years to come.

About sixty couples attended the summer dance and cocktail party given by the club on June 13 in the Carlton Hotel. JOHN KENKEL, chairman of the committee, assisted by HAL RODDY, MILES QUAIL, JR., ROBERT SCHELLENBERG, and WILLIAM SYRING, was highly commended for his part in putting on one of the most enjoyable events in club history. Ten members of the campus club were present with their dates.

ROBERT W. CAVANAUGH was elected chairman of the Board of Governors of the club, at a regular meeting of the Board.

IN MEMORY OF FR. O'DONNELL

"A great man has passed away and you and we have lost a true friend. Will you be kind enough to express to Father O'Donnell's relatives our deepest sympathy."

MR. and MRS. I. A. O'SHAUGHNESSY

"I felt impelled to make a few remarks on the floor of the House and, in connection with those remarks, I inserted the story of his life that appeared in Friday's South Bend 'Tribune.' I said at that time that in the passing of Father O'Donnell we have lost one of the truly great men of our times and at a time when we can ill afford to lose them. A copy of the 'Record' is coming under separate cover."

(Congressman) ROBERT A. GRANT

"I convey to you and to your associates, and to the University, my deepest sympathy in the death of Father Hugh O'Donnell. I did not know that Congressman Bob Grant intended to speak and insert some information in the 'Record' or I should have liked to add to his remarks at the time they were placed in the 'Congressional Record.'"

(Congressman) JOSEPH P. O'HARA

"The death of Father O'Donnell which brought to a close a life-time of active service for others in God may well be looked upon as the key which will open the treasures of the Divine Heart of Jesus since it is especially significant that He chose this month to call His faithful servant to Himself."

MOTHER MARY TERESA, SERVANT OF MARY

"I have known most of the presidents of our great University. All of them were fine men of high character and excellence in education and in religious fervor. Father O'Donnell was outstanding among them. The splendid work he did in building the University to greater standing and to increased usefulness in service always will be a golden page in the history of this remarkable American educational institution. That the work he promoted will continue and grow in value and influence is assured and is the most appropriate memorial with which his memory can be honored."

F. A. MILLER, President and editor,
SOUTH BEND "TRIBUNE"

"I have just learned of the passing of the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell yesterday, 12 June 1947. I extend to you, Father O'Donnell's friends and associates, and the alumni of the University of Notre Dame my deep and abiding sympathy."

"Father O'Donnell was loved and highly respected by all who were privileged to know him. His life of unselfish service and devotion will long remain an inspiration. I join with his relatives, host of friends, and admirers throughout America in mourning his loss. He was truly a great man."

FLEET ADMIRAL C. W. NIMITZ

"Returning last Saturday from the meeting of American Medical Association, I learned with deep regret of the death of Father J. Hugh O'Donnell. He has had a distinguished career and his death represents not only a loss to your University and to your Congregation, but to the cause of Catholic education."

DR. IRVIN ABELL

"We are having masses said here and the entire group is offering their prayers for the repose of his soul."

MARK MOONEY, President,
N. D. CLUB, CENTRAL N. Y.

"It was a tremendous shock to all the members of the Cincinnati Notre Dame Alumni Club to learn of the death of Father O'Donnell. We know that his passing is a great loss to the university and we know that he will be greatly missed by all of his fine and loyal friends."

J. WALTER NIENABER, President

"Father O'Donnell was always an inspiration to me, as I know he was to you all. His passing will no doubt leave a feeling of deep emptiness in Notre Dame, where he was such an inspiring figure for so long."

JOHN MOODY

"The passing of Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell is indeed a great loss to his many friends. He was an educator whose life inspired thousands of students in their academic pursuits. He was outstanding not only in his chosen field but also in the activities of our nation."

"Father O'Donnell was a true patriot and a courageous leader. His memory will remain as a guide to future generations, and those of us in the FBI who knew and loved him are deeply grieved in the personal loss we have sustained."

J. EDGAR HOOVER

"In these turbulent days in the life of our country and the world we can ill afford to lose such spiritual leaders as was Father O'Donnell. His contribution to the civic and spiritual life of each community and each individual with whom he came in contact will long be remembered. No more fitting heritage could be imagined than the host of young men who were fortunate to have come under his leadership and guidance during the period of his identification with Notre Dame University."

WILLIAM E. JENNER, U. S. SENATOR

"Father O'Donnell has left us as great a living monument expressive of his life work as any mortal. He should be proud in death. The University stands as a continuously living and breathing achievement."

PAUL MALLON

"Our prayers have been offered for the speedy repose of his precious soul; may Almighty God be pleased to raise up in his place another such luminary in the field of Catholic education to point the way for educators and lead the present and future generations of youth on and upward to their true destiny."

MOTHER M. IRENAEUS,
President Mt. Mercy College, (Pittsburgh)

"As one who had the privilege of knowing him through official association and through a personal friendship which I cherish, may I express to you and to the officialdom of the University of Notre Dame my deep sympathy, and appreciation of his services to humanity."

A. J. JANATA, Assistant to the President, University of Illinois

"My deepest sympathy to the family of Father O'Donnell and to all of his friends at Notre Dame. The world has lost, much too early, a man who has contributed so magnificently to educational and religious thought. He will be missed by all."

EDGAR KOBAK, President
Mutual Broadcasting System

"I wish to take this method of expressing to you and to Notre Dame University my sympathy and regret at the passing of this very able man. It was my privilege to have met and worked with Father O'Donnell on several occasions. He was one of the ablest and most delightful men it has been my privilege to come in contact with."

Deaths

Rev. DENNIS A. O'SHEA, C.S.C., '10, died June 29 in the Community Infirmary, Notre Dame, after a prolonged illness.

Father O'Shea was born in Chicago, on Oct. 3, 1886, and was ordained at Notre Dame on June 26, 1914. He had been engaged in parish and chaplaincy work since his ordination. His last assignment prior to his illness was as chaplain at Villa Anthony Old Peoples Home, Comstock, Mich.

Funeral services were conducted in Sacred Heart Church on the campus with Rev. Patrick Haggerty, C.S.C., as celebrant. Surviving are a brother and sister.

JOSEPH F. REBILLOT, '91, Canton, O., "dean" of the Notre Dame graduates of Stark County, died on June 10, at the age of 76.

Dr. ROLLAND A. CASE, ex '93, Cleveland, O., one of the early American pioneers in physiotherapy, died May 23, in his home.

gave his life in a futile attempt to save his three-year-old daughter who had toppled from a rowboat while fishing in the lake.

The tragedy struck while Paul was on his vacation. He was rowing ashore in the early evening when his daughter fell out of the boat. He plunged into the water after her and brought her to the surface. Then both disappeared according to his 10-year-old son, also a companion on the fishing trip.

Paul was born in Tiffin on Aug. 1, 1900. After receiving his mechanical engineering degree from Notre Dame, he went to work in Philadelphia. Only recently he returned to Tiffin.

Despite the tuberculosis which finally claimed him, he remained an active member of the Notre Dame Club of Los Angeles, and ran an automobile agency from his bed. His flaming, joyful spirit was an inspiration to all who knew him.

Among the very large number of people who participated in the rosary recitation for Mike, fifty were members of the Notre Dame Club of Los Angeles. Twenty-five members of the Club were at the funeral Mass in St. Paul's Church and four members were pallbearers: Tom Ashe, '31, president; Bill Sidenfaden, '29; Tom Foye, '39, and Bob Huether, '39.

Personals

1890-99 Rev. John A. MacNamara, St. Joseph Mineral Baths, Mt. Clemens, Mich.

From FATHER MAC:

"I'm sorry I haven't news from the gay '90s, but that's to be expected at this time of the summer. I was delighted to get the message from the old timers who attended reunion and Commencement and I appreciate it very deeply. While I couldn't be on the old campus physically I was there in spirit, you may be sure."

1915 James E. Sanford, 501 Cherry St. Winnetka, Ill.

From JIM SANFORD:

"In addition to FATHER DOLAN and FATHER HEALY members of the class who attended the funeral of FATHER HUGH O'DONNELL were RAY EICHENLAUB, JOE FARRELL and JIM SANFORD."

1917 B. J. Voll, 206 E. Tutt St., South Bend, Ind.

BERNIE VOLL recently heard from MATT TRUELLE, who gives his address as 720 E. McDowell Rd., Phoenix, Ariz. Matt said he has been down in Arizona for three years and likes the climate very much. He had intended to come back for the reunion last May but his office was filled with all kinds of architectural work, so much so that it has prevented him from even getting a vacation this year.

1920 Leo B. Ward, 458 Spring St., Los Angeles 13, Calif.

From LEO WARD:

FATHER FRANK GOODALL spent several days in Los Angeles visiting relatives, during which time several members of the class of 1920, as well as other Notre Dame alumni, had the pleasure of visiting with him. We had him for luncheon at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, others present being OSCAR SIDENFADEN, ED McMAHON, GENE KENNEDY, CLARENCE DERRICK, TOM ASHE, president of the Los Angeles Notre Dame Club, LARRY OTT, Lay Trustee T. B. COSGROVE, BILL COOK and GENE CALHOUN, secretary of the Club. It was on short notice and such fellow classmates as CHUCK McIVER, now with Pittsburg Steel, could not be present because of previous appointments out of the city. And JIM GLYNN who had expected to be present, also had to go to Mexico on business for his firm, Anchor-Hocking Glass Co.

FATHER GOODALL, now vice-president of Portland University, and GENE KENNEDY related stories about their experiences in India, Gene's, of course, being with the Army Troop Transport Service and Father Goodall's being in connection with the Bengal Missions at Dacca. Father Goodall had seen FATHER TOM TOBIN in Portland before coming to Los Angeles and told us about the death of ELLIE MOORE. Father Tobin flew to Sturgis, Mich., to preach the funeral sermon. Father Goodall was present in South Bend for the consecration of BISHOP GRANER and had returned to Portland and was on his way back for the ordination of the several Holy Cross priests.

1923 Paul H. Castner, 1305 W. Arlington Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

From PAUL CASTNER:

I had a most pleasant surprise last week in a telephone call from DICK NASH. He was in the Twin Cities with Mrs. Nash and came to my home for a 'chin-fest.' Dick looked fine, but complained that he couldn't eat everything he ate as a freshman in 1919.

I got up-to-date on Commencement and we talked over plans for the 25-year reunion next year: I don't know the official source of authority I may have in appointing committees for the reunion but in absence of any rules against it, I hereby appoint DICK NASH, JOHN MONTAGNE and ED GOULD as a committee of three to start a campaign to get as many as possible back next year. They have some valuable data given to them by KID ASHE, secretary of the '22 class who brought together a record turnout for their 25th reunion this year.

So you have the green light Dick, John and Ed—you'll all be hearing from them soon. Any class members in Chicago or passing through there get in touch with them. Dick is in the contracting business, John helps Col. McCormick run the "Chicago Tribune," and Ed is Chicago's leading florist.

In getting some of my notes up-to-date, I wish to report a nice visit the Castner's had with the JOE NYIKOS. Joe lives in South Bend, where he is one of the leading legal lights. It seems to me that Joe should head-up a working committee in South Bend for the reunion. Will the committee of three from Chicago contact Joe in South Bend?

Another recent pleasant surprise came in the form of a letter from BILL VOSS. He is sales manager for Scully-Jones and Co. His address is 1901 S. Rockwell St., Chicago. Bill got to Commencement this year after an absence of several years due to the war. Bill's oldest daughter will be a junior at St. Catherine's College, St. Paul, this fall. Jackie, his second daughter, starts as a freshman at Marquette this fall and Bill, his son, is a sophomore in high school. Bill, Sr., reports that Bill, Jr., is as tall as he is, a left-hander and a ball player destined for the major leagues.

Bill talks about SPIKE FLINN and I leading with our chins, "qualifying the Sea Bees as panty waists." Then he goes on to make this statement "To the best of my knowledge HENRY BARNHART and JACK NORTON are the only eligible bachelors left from the class of '23." Maybe RED SHEA may be interested in checking up on Bill's rules of eligibility?"

Through the grapevine I learn that ED KREIMER was a Grandpa before GEORGE PATTERSON by a few months. Even though Ed lives in South Bend, it's harder to get news from him than it was to get a hundred from BROTHER CYPRIAN in accounting. JOE NYIKOS, one of your assignments is to get Grandpa Kreimer to commencement next year.

Let's hear from some of the rest of you and start making plans for the reunion."

REV. FRED MANN, a Redemptorist from Wichita, Kans., conducted a Cana Conference in South Bend on Aug. 3. Father Mann spent two years at Notre Dame with the class of '23.

1924

JAMES KEVIN SULLIVAN, 13-year old son of RED SULLIVAN, Milwaukee, recently was released from the Isolation Hospital, fully recovered from polio. He had no crippling or other bad effects, and the Sullivans are of course humbly grateful.

1925 John P. Hurley, The Toledo Parlor Furniture Co., Toledo, O.

JIM McQUERN, 1423 21st St., Canton, O., recently wrote that he was sorry he couldn't get back for the May reunion. He says that he has been employed by the Government for the past 14 years and is at present with the Internal Revenue Bureau at Canton.

BILL CERNEY, South Bend, is an industrial representative for the Huntington Laboratories, Huntington, Ind.

AL MUELLER was recently advanced to the coast of eastern divisional sales manager for Nuodex Products Co., Elizabeth, N. J. He is living in Hillside, N. J., with his family, after seven years in Cleveland. He was formerly sales manager of the North East Central region for Nuodex. Prior to joining the Nuodex Co. in 1940. Al covered the midwestern and southwestern states for five years for Jones-Dabney Co., selling grinding liquids and synthetic resins to the paint industry. Before that he was employed by Lilly Varnish Co., Indianapolis, where he was in charge of industrial sales.

At the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Studebaker Corp., A. J. PORTA South Bend, was promoted from assistant comptroller to comptroller.

1926 Victor F. Lemmer, Box 661, Ironwood, Mich.

ART HALEY, director of public relations at the University since 1940, has been named governor for the state of Indiana of the new Notre Dame Foundation.

LARRY GRODEN toured the Philippine Islands and then went to Boston, Philadelphia and New York via Honolulu and the Panama Canal.

At the member-guest golf tournament held at Montclair Golf Club, (N. J.) CHARLIE TOTTEN and JOHN ADAMS, two former Notre Dame golf captains, gained victories in the second round before being eliminated. Charlie headed the 1928 Irish golf team.

Various national writers have given WALT TROHAN credit for "ghosting" the Jim Farley series in "Colliers" magazine. Walter is head of the "Chicago Tribune" Washington Bureau.

From TOM FARRELL: "... A little news—EDDIE BURKE, '26, is starting in the automobile—Mercury and Lincoln—business in Perth Amboy. Hope there is still some gravy for him. Speaking of Perth Amboy—JIM SILVER is around this section but no one seems to bump into him or hear anything from him. DR. GERALD HAYES dieted during Lent—losing twelve pounds, seven during intensive application during Holy Week. He claims it wasn't worth it and doesn't intend to do it again."

1927 Joseph M. Boland, Radio Station WSBT, South Bend, Ind.

From JOE BOLAND:

Pickin's have been slim since Commencement . . . and, we're in a mid-summer slump for news. A few items—new and old—would be:

RAY MCCLORY has been named an assistant U. S. District Attorney in Chicago.

JOHN WALLACE, EDDIE McLAUGHLIN and HARRY O'BOYLE got together for a three-way reunion in Chicago recently . . . and confirmed the fact with a ringside-table picture taken at Barney's Market Club showing the three shaking hands. O'Boyle is with Chevrolet, in Des Moines, 107 E. Fifth St.

FRANK MCCURRIE, who couldn't make Commencement because of illness, was named Cook County public defender some time ago—a fact you have all probably heard by now, but is inserted here in case you hadn't!

RED HEARDEN is at Two Rivers, Wis., helping JIMMY CROWLEY prepare the Chicago Rockets for the All-American Conference football season. Red will begin coaching his own St. Norbert College team, at West De Pere, Wis., in September.

And, to correct a bit of wrong information heretofore released, JOE MAXWELL is with the Philco Company, in Philadelphia: doing an excellent job in personnel-work.

Those are the all-too-brief notes at this mid-summer writing. I might add that there isn't a hotel room to be had in South Bend or Mishawaka for the Army game; the Oliver, with 400 rooms, has had over 3,500 requests for them! So—if you're planning to see that game, better adjust your plans accordingly! Tickets for it, of course, won't be obtainable except through regular channels. But—I'm sure you'll have yours—so, we'll be looking for you then!

FRANCIS W. LEARY is with the Humble Pipe Line Co. in Alice, Tex., where he is assistant superintendent.

Attorney AL DOYLE, Mishawaka, Ind., democratic city chairman since 1936, resigned recently to devote more time to his law practice.

1928 Louis F. Buckley, Social Security Administration, Rm. 400, 1100 Chester St., Cleveland 14, O.

From LOU BUCKLEY:

I stopped off in Rochelle, Ill., in June to see Vince Carney and his family. Vince was very busy in his clothing store the day before Father's day but took out enough time to introduce me to his wife and children as well as to talk over old times. Vince recently visited CONNIE OCHOA in Mexico. He also mentioned that he met BILL KIRWAN recently in Chicago. Bill has a furniture store in Iowa City, Ia.

Recently I stopped in a very attractive new restaurant on Lincoln Way West, Mishawaka, Ind., and found the proprietor to be BURT TOEPP. Too bad the place isn't large enough to take care of the '28 twenty year reunion group next June.

It may be a bit early to speak of the 20-year reunion in 1948, moreover, save your money for a trip to Notre Dame. The dates are June 4, 5, and 6. I am making plans for getting out announcements to promote attendance. Included in this will be a copy of the '28 class roster for each member, providing I get some additional encouragement from you fellows. I am also considering a questionnaire to be used as a basis for preparing a short history of the class of '28 similar to that published in "Life" magazine for June 16, 1947 on the Princeton class of '32. Let me have your reaction to these proposals.

From BILL MURPHY:

"Your requests for some information on 'Ye Olde 1928's' comes at an inopportune time since my right arm has been in a sling. I am unable to write with it. However my sister is pinch hitting for me.

"It was good to get back to the campus for Commencement and to see you, JOE MORRISSEY, ED McKEOWN, and the other '28's. It was my first trip back since 1941. But I can assure you I would have been there more often had not Uncle Sam taken up most of my time.

"I know MARTY RYAN and I looked forward to see the old crowd when we were stationed at Bradley Field, Conn. Sure hope our reunion next year will bring out a good crowd. If there is anything I can do to help the secretary in making the reunion a successful one don't hesitate to write me.

"Haven't seen too many of the '28's lately. However, at the last Chicago Club Luncheon I sat with TOM JOHNSON, and JOHN LYONS, who really belong to the '28's but graduated from Law in '29.

"Tom put in a long siege in Uncle Sam's service and is now associated with one of the leading Chicago law firms. Johnny is also upholding the '28's reputation.

"At the same luncheon I saw VERNON KNOX, who was in from McHenry. He tells me his brother BOB is back in architecture after defending the eastern seaboard with the Navy during the war.

"I see in the papers where BERNARD (MURPHY) KORZEN, BILL KEARNEY's room-mate, was made attorney of the Board of Election Commissioners. So now Chicago can be assured of good clean elections. FRANK HOGAN of our class gets his name in the papers as alderman of the Sixth Ward. Have lunch occasionally with JERRY Le STRANGE of the class of '27.

"I think it would be a good idea to ask the fellows to send in suggestions on making our reunion the largest ever held at Notre Dame.

"Here is an idea: Do you think it would be possible to have all our classmates who have joined the priesthood back for the reunion? We ought to prevail on the Holy Cross Fathers to let FATHER ANDY MULRANEY come back for Commencement."

JOHN McMAHON was elected to the Board of the Industrial Hygiene Foundation, Pittsburgh, of which he is managing director.

JUDGE JOHN T. CULLINAN, Bridgeport, Conn., has been appointed Connecticut's chairman of the 1948 March of Dimes.

From ELMER WYNNE:
"It has been quite a time since my last appearance on the campus; and although I was desirous of being there at the last Commencement, there were too many urgent problems to settle for the Company in their labor management affairs. I hope to get back next year for the big '28, 20-year reunion."

Elmer is with Labor Negotiating Service, a division of Safeway Stores, Inc., Denver.

Ed a native of Lancaster, O., received the award "in recognition of his efforts as a reporter in clearing the late Bertram M. Campbell, falsely imprisoned as a forger."

1929 James E. Nowory, P. O. Box 1545, Shreveport, La.

From DICK NOWERY:

The following information comes from TOM JONES, Boise, Idaho:

"Since my graduation from school I have been practicing law in Boise and, like the rest of the Notre Dame lawyers, have been engaged in numerous activities of civic and political nature, and while I am doing these things, my family is growing older. My oldest son is ready for college.

"I think it would probably be of more interest to you to tell you something about the other alumni in Idaho. JOE NETTLETON, who is one of our classmates, is one of the most successful raisers of livestock in Idaho. He has a very large hacienda at Murphy, and is at the present time on the Tax Commission of the State of Idaho.

"JIM BRADY is publisher and owner of one of the foremost newspapers in Idaho, the Idaho Falls "Post-Register." PAUL KOHOUT, '25, is an executive officer of the Idaho Securities Life, a large insurance association here. MIKE and FRANK NEITZEL are the owners of and operators of a chain of grocery stores and are also engaged in a finance business. JOHN MALONEY is manager and executive officer of a cleaning and dyeing establishment here in Boise.

"MARION LLOYD HARBERT was killed in a pole line accident while out with his construction company erecting a high tension power line. He is survived by his wife and three children, who reside in Boise.

"I have been appointed on the Board of Governors, and represent Idaho in the Alumni Association, and in about six months I will be able to give you considerable information."

BILL GRONIN, Oakland, Calif., writes:

"Allow me to congratulate you on your success in getting some news into the personal column for the class of 1929. I was beginning to wonder about the boys and if we were dying a slow death.

"I recently attended the Universal Notre Dame Night meeting of the Northern California Club and renewed many acquaintances. WILLIAM T. BYRNE, '29er, was president of the meeting and we hashed over old times.

"During my three years in the Navy I did run into JOHN NASH, a major at the Pentagon in Washington. FRANK LEAHY who was stationed at St. Mary's Preflight, and even saw my old roommate, JOE SCALES, in Chicago. Joe is working for the Chicago Sanitation Department.

"I am now living in Oakland, and working for Frigidaire Sales Corp. I would enjoy hearing from any of the old '29ers who go through. We are just across the Bay from San Francisco. Say hello to Cyp, Pinky, and any of the rest for me."

From MICKEY McMAHON, New Orleans:

"I got my April 'Alumnus' and read where you had heard from HOWARD DOLL and that he had told you I was being transferred to New Orleans. I came down here the last of February and am now in the process of attempting to get a house.

"I will be delighted to see you in New Orleans, where you can locate me for the time being at 818 Whitney Bldg. and in about thirty days at 624 Gravier St."

The class of '29, I know, will hear with deep regret the fact that CHARLES W. "BILL" HEINEMAN of Connerville, Ind., and THOMAS "TOMMY" RYAN, Rushville, Ind., lost their dads recently. Please remember them in the usual way.

The responses to my appeal for letters from you guys are getting better—keep up the good work and write me. So long until next month, and, remember, the Twentieth Anniversary is only two years away. Let's all make it.

1932 James K. Collins, 17 Triangle Ave., Dayton 9, O.

CHUCK JASKWHICH has signed as backfield coach for the Buffalo Bills of the All-American conference. JOHN NEUBAUER will finish law school this fall.

FATHER MAURICE POWERS, C.S.C., who recently used his knockout punch to help capture two young German burglars at his home in the Chaplain's office in Berlin, Germany, writes:

"JUSTIN KELLEY, '44, is the head of the Metal Section in the Economic Division of the Military Government in Berlin. JOHN TOKICH, '46, works in the Chemical Metal Section. JOHN WILSON, '46, and TOM TADROSS, '46, were both sent over on special assignments for the Military Government. PAUL KEMPER, '41, and PAUL WEBER, '42, are connected with headquarters and the AG section. All are doing excellent work and in true Notre Dame spirit.

"As for myself, I am busy with the routine administrative work as senior chaplain in Berlin. Recently I was elected chaplain for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post at Berlin, as well as chaplain for the newly founded American Legion. At the gala opening of the new American Legion Berlin Post former Governor Dwight Griswold of Nebraska, now President Truman's appointee as head of the Greek Mission, installed the officers."

1934 Joseph R. Glennon, Jr., Commercial Solvents Corp., 17 E. 42nd St., New York City 17.

FATHER SEBASTIAN EGAN, O.F.M. (otherwise, JACK) tells BOB CAHILL, '32, on June 19, about his recent life:

"... The Great Schism from the working ranks took place in 1939. The best that McCarthy's Foreign Commerce could produce was a trip to Brooklyn every day. So, why not join the Army. Anyway, after testing my orthodoxy, the powers decided to risk a play on God's Providence. The next six years were apportioned between Callicoon, N. Y.; Paterson, N. J.; and Washington, D.C. Within that framework they tried to fill the head with some Latin, then a year behind the walls of the Novitiate, and the final four years of Theology... the philosophy course at school saved me two years of examining the world's great thoughts. The climax took place two years ago at the lovely Franciscan Monastery in Washington with Ordination from the Apostolic Delegate.

"Right after the consequent First Mass and vacation I was sent to our place in New York. You may know or remember the place—St. Francis of Assisi on West 31st St. It is over by the Pennsylvania and may easily be recalled to your mind as the place that has the 2:30 A.M. Mass (for printers, of course). In fact, therein lies the story on how I chose the Franciscan life to others. When working in New York this Mass became quite a habit and it was through its influence that I learned about the Franciscans.

"I stayed there until last September when they put me on the Mission Band. This work as you probably know entails the giving of Missions, retreats, novenas, etc. In fact, the reason you did not have me anchoring you in New York last Fall (if you needed an anchor) was because I heard the Army game by short-wave while up in back-country, at a place called Sudbury, Ontario. I am 'supposed to have a 'perfectly wunnerful' verse, aptly suited for this work. It all began when a man named Reilly (am I right?) took JOE CASASANTA and his '50 Beautiful Girls 50' on an extended hay ride the summer of 1933. From that time on the populace said, 'You have a voice.' Anyway in all seriousness, that background, plus regular life, plenty of singing, and chanting the Office two hours every day made the task of preaching free from difficulties. And since September, I have been living the life of a salesman—out of suitcases. We are confined to the East and Canada with an occasional trip out of the United States, but that by invitation. And my clippings haven't blinded me yet. Strictly G. I. Joe.

"That briefly covers the last eight to ten years. Quite a transformation. But I have never regretted the change one bit. It is a far cry from the aspirations of many years ago. However, all that transpired during those years have fitted in to an excellent background, as you can well imagine. The education of Notre Dame didn't hurt a bit either. I could go on and gush all over the place about the life of a Friar, its simple outlook on life, and the greatest thing of all, to work for others. But then you would probably get roped into a week-end retreat."

WALTER KENNEDY, former sports publicity director at Notre Dame, recently signed a contract to broadcast 12 games for the Baltimore Colts of the All-America conference this fall. Ted Husing will give the play-by-play and Walt will handle the color and statistics.

By mistake, ANDY AUTH'S name was included in the June "Alumnus" as one of those from 1934 who gave his life in World War II. On the contrary, we are exceedingly happy to report, Andy is very much alive. He was in service during the war, but is now back in Washington, D.C., where he resides at 302 Fourth St., S.E. He is sales manager for Auth-Loffler, Inc.

1935 Franklyn C. Hochreiter, 1327 Pentwood Rd., Baltimore 12, Md.

From HOCH:

We come to press this time with FRANK HOLAHAN'S letter—a carbon of the original we lost. So now we can give you an accurate statement of Frank's new location. Says Frank, "I was given charge of our Altoona office more than a year ago, and had a great time finding a place to live, but we finally moved to the above address [521 Garber St., Hollidaysburg, Pa.] in February. We are just about settled with our two sons, Johnny, age 4, and Billy, age 8 months."

Incidentally, Frank's two sons were never noted in these columns or in the "Birth" column. We congratulate their proud parents.

Pulling out bits of Frank's letter he says, "Our annual trek to New York was even more successful last year than usual. (Army game). At our cocktail party in our room at the Roosevelt after the game we had TOM FLYNN, CAMILLE GRAVEL, NED ROWAN and RAY BRODERICK." Camille "brought several other Louisianans with him by plane, all without tickets, of course. We had a great time trying to help him out, but they all managed to get in the stadium."

"JIM HAMILTON... is a senior executive in the Dunmore Electric Co., Racine, Wis. . . . C. T. WILLIAMSEN is living at 759 Priority Rd., York, Pa., and represents the Eutectic Welding Alloys Co. of N. Y. as field engineer in this area."

Frank put a P.S. on the carbon telling us he had recently heard from PHIL JACOBS down Alexandria, La., way and he has set himself up in the insurance business since getting back in civies.

He mentioned that GRAVEL is adding to his four youngsters with number five this Fall.

Thanks a lot for coming through with the copy Frank, and for the additional info. Please keep copies of future letters—we may slip again some time but will try not to.

Since our last "chat" with you we had two unexpected visits. One evening in MAY ROY SCHOLZ gave us a ring from the Hopkins University Faculty Club and said he was bringing NED ROWAN over to see us. Ned is still a bachelor. On his way to officiate in an assistant's capacity at a Washington, D.C., wedding, he had stopped off to spend the night with the Scholz. Ned is practicing law in the home town in Pennsylvania and is active in the Naval Reserve Unit there.

About a month after Ned's visit we had a call at the office one morning from FRED BROOKMEYER, of Cleveland when we last saw him, but of Chicago since the week after graduation. Fred is back with the Maris Signal Light Co. as general sales manager and has the entire country to romp in. For you uninformed (like your scribe), the Maris Co. makes the revolving lights found on the front of diesel engines. He spent over four years in the Army, in the Army Airways Communication System working on radar. Fred came out to the house in the evening and the Scholz dropped in for another reunion.

Late in June we received a letter from Mary L. Sheahan who asked us to bring to you some very sad news about Wally who died on June 7. Because Mrs. Sheahan asked us to be her medium of communication, here is her letter.

"Would you please print in the next issue of the 'Alumnus' the very sad news of the death of my husband, WALTER F. SHEAHAN, class of '35. Wally passed away after an illness of only six days. His death came as a terrible shock to us.

"I know his classmates and many close friends will be stunned by this news, particularly ED LYNCH, ED CULLEN, TOM WELCH, BILL CASAZZA, CONNOR CRONIN and SID PETTINGELL.

"Wally will always be remembered as a great booster of his Alma Mater. With the help of God, I hope his little one-year old son, Walter, will be a student there some day, just as his daddy wanted him to be. Besides little Wally, Walter is sadly missed by Maralyn, his four-year-old daughter.

"It has been terribly hard for me to write this letter to you, but it is my only way of notifying all the boys Walter thought so much of."

We have already expressed the sympathy of the class to Wally's wife, but we suggest that all of you who were close to Wally drop a note to Mrs. Sheahan at 24 Chauncey Ave., Lowell, Mass.

We think that we neglected to announce ED LEJEUNE's son in our last trip to press. So here come felicitations on Timothy James, weighing in at 6 lbs., 6 oz. on March 31 this year. We are sorry it was delayed, Ed.

The other day we picked up the "Rutland Herald" (founded 1794) remembering that one "Duggan" CARBINE hailed from that Vermont metropolis. And there in banner lead we read "Justice Sherburne and Carbine Clash During Flood Damage Hearing." It seems that John Duggan Carbine was arguing a case before the Supreme Court of Vermont and the Justice found himself unable to agree with some of Duggan's oral material relating to "duties and liabilities of a dam owner."

Representing the Bellows Falls Hydro-Electric Co., Duggan was trying to save his client from a $17,000 flood damage suit brought by one of the natives. From the news account, it would seem that Duggan was throwing both the court and his legal opponent for a tailspin with his ultra modern legal reasoning, during which he contended that "a damn owner in the efficient operation of a legally constructed dam, may ruin another's property without incurring liability, since 'there can be no liability without fault.'"

More power to you Duggan! When do you become chairman of the Board?

That's it for this time, gang! Keep those letters rolling in!

JIM SHEILS has been appointed as deputy commissioner of investigation of the city of New York.

ED BRACKEN was appointed director of regional publicity for General Motors and was to report in Buffalo on July 8. Ed had been working in public relations in New York for some time previously and was a member of the Board of Governors of the Notre Dame club of New York.

1937 Frank J. Reilly, MacNair-Dorland Co., 254 W. 31st St., N. Y. C.

From FRANK J. REILLY:

One bit of news receiving only minor mention in the June issue of the "Alumnus" is the fact that the ED HOYT's became the proud parents of a son, James, on April 26. In attendance at the delivery of the baby, the Hoyt's first, was DR. PAUL MUELLER, one-time '37er, who is now connected with New York Hospital.

A letter from BERNARD J. KEFFLER carries the news of his marriage on June 7 to Miss Beatrice Cecilia Joliat. Bernie writes that his new address is 115 Walnut Ave., N.E., Canton 4, O. He's employed as a metallurgist and salesman for Republic Steel Corp., Massillon, O. GLEN T. DUBS of the class of 1935 was an usher at Bernie's wedding. Bernie and bride took a honeymoon trip to Quebec. On the way back they came through the New England States and stopped at Rochester, N. Y. to visit Mr. and Mrs. PAUL BARKER.

Two recent visitors to my office were BILL GOMPER, about whom I wrote in an earlier column, and JOE SCHILLING, now of E. F. Drew & Co., New York chemical specialties firm. Unfortunately, I was out of the office when both fellows called. Bill left a brief note to the effect that he had been in the neighborhood and stopped in. He also mentioned having seen LEN TOSE, '37, in Newark recently. Len was, and still is, I believe, in the trucking business. Bill promised to stop in again, which I hope very much he does. Like the birth of Ed Hoyt's son, I omitted mentioning in my last effort an earlier luncheon visit I had with Joe Schilling. At that time Joe had just taken the sales job with Drew and had dropped by for lunch and some dope on the subject of synthetic detergents, one of the products he sells and one of the things I'm familiar with through one of my firm's publications, "Soap and Sanitary Chemicals." Previously Joe and TOM HUGHES had joined in a manufacturers' representatives venture that the recession in retail-wholesale buying squashed. Joe and family, which includes three children, I believe, live on Park Ave., in East Orange, N. J.

JACK GILLESPIE called early in July to tell me that he was leaving New York and his former job with Carl Byoir Associates in publicity work to relocate in the public relations department of Merck & Co. in Rahway, N. J., which has the added advantage of being closer to the Gillespie manse. In addition to his other duties, Jack will write for the Merck "Review," the company's house organ. Another N. D. man at Merck is TOM TREACY, who finished a couple of classes before us. Before going over to Rahway, in fact shortly after I returned to New York from our tenth reunion, Jack, JERRY GILLESPIE, FATHER JOE ENGLISH, M.M., and I were guests of VINCE and Doris HARTNETT at a lovely luncheon in their Grammercy Park (N. Y.) apartment. Incidentally, Father Joe English told us at the luncheon that he is leaving New York shortly for Boston, where he will continue the "recruiting" work he has been doing so successfully for the past few years in and around New York. We will miss Joe very much and although we haven't seen him as often or for as long as we would have liked, the meetings we have had were very pleasant and inspiring. Vince Hartnett is carrying on his work with the "Christophers," although not on a full-time basis now, as I understand it.

I bumped into JUSTIN McCANN in the subway the other night going home from the office. Justin expressed his regret at not having been able to make the reunion, which conflicted with an important business meeting of publishers at Hot Springs, Va. He is living in Bronxville. Speaking of Justin, with whose name I somehow associate that of JOHN MARBACH, it seems to me John is now district attorney in White Plains, N. Y. I think I ran across that bit of news at the reunion.

PINKY CARROLL called me the other day. He reports his wife and family are now back from Kansas and are enjoying the best of health in their New Jersey home. Incidentally, Pink told me his mother and father celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on June 30. In addition to a son who is a priest, the Carroll's have six other sons, besides Pinky, all of whom are connected with their father's printing ink firm, and two daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll have 17 grandchildren and one great grandchild. Mr. Carroll is still active in the ink business.

In Baltimore, where my magazine is now printed, I recently got in touch with CY STROKER after much telephone maneuvering.

Cy is still in the steamship business, though no longer with the firm he worked for before the war and to whose Baltimore office he had been transferred from New York. He is with Waterman Steamship Co. in the O'Sullivan Building—Baltimore's skyscraper. Cy has been with Waterman for over a year. He was in service (with the Navy) from August, 1942 until February, 1946. Cy went into the Navy as an ensign. Following a month's training in foreign service in Washington, D.C., he was shipped to Iceland, where he spent about 14 months working under the port director. Following this he was returned to the States and Fort Schuyler for a two months training course.

The next chapter, and as far as Cy was concerned the most exciting one of the war, he was ordered to Solomon's, Md., where he learned he was to become an LCI skipper—after a ten week's course of intensive training. Upon the completion of this course he assembled his crew and went to Boston to pick up his ship which he then proceeded to take to the Pacific via the Panama Canal. He spent 18 months in the Pacific, during which time he ran across VINCE HARTNETT in Hawaii. Another memorable event was a visit to the Jap stronghold Yap Island in the Pacific. Cy's ship was the first non-Japanese ship to visit the island in 25 years. Watching the fleet steam out of Ulithi for the attack on Okinawa was another unforgettable incident of the war Cy relates with great relish. He makes his home at 5304 Gwynn Oak Ave., Baltimore.

Next time I make the trip to Baltimore I'm getting together with Cy and HAL WILLIAMS, '38, a fellow class secretary, and now editor of the Sunday supplement of the Baltimore "Sun." Another N. D. man in Baltimore with whom Cy is acquainted is a chap named CONNELLY of McCormick & Co.

We received a letter from FATHER BOB LOCHNER in Washington late in June stating that he is returning to N. D. with his M.A. from Catholic U. in Washington to resume teaching. Bob reports that in September he will occupy quarters in Corby Hall, which brings back some fond memories, since our '37 class as Juniors was the last to occupy that hallowed hall as a student residence hall. Bob, as you know, was working for his doctorate at Catholic U., but because one of the priests in his class, who had been teaching religion became ill, Bob had to return to Notre Dame to take up his teaching duties.

DR. JIM DOWNEY writes that he returned from the Pacific a year ago, where he was a flight surgeon. He took a post-graduate refresher course in Cook County hospital, Chicago, and at present is assistant chief surgeon of the Kansas City (Mo.) Southern Employers' Hospital Association.

VINCE MCCOOLA has been appointed assistant grid coach at Scranton University, Scranton, Pa.

ROLAND DECOTEAU writes that the St. Mary's Men's Club of Augusta, Me., really turned out to greet Coach FRANK LEAHY during his early summer visit to that city. CLEMENT CONSTANTINE, '44, and PAUL SCULLY, '41, joined Roland in welcoming Frank.

1938 Harold A. Williams, 4323 Marble Hall Rd., Baltimore, Md.

From HAL WILLIAMS:

Top hopes for this issue go to VIC MERCADO who covers the June reunion in his first contribution to these notes. Mr. Mercado:

"Those of our class whom I saw were JACK BUCKLEY, ED BRENNAN, CHARLIE CALLAHAN, TOM WEIGAND, CHARLEY 'BUD' KOLP, and ROCCO MONTEGNA. Surprisingly, those whom I didn't see, but tried unsuccessfully to reach were DON HICKEY, CHARLIE DUKE and JOHNNY PLOUFF. KOLP is in the real estate business in Canton, O., and doing fine. Bud says that his old sidekick, CHARLIE MORROW, is in business in his home town of Louisville. Buckley, Brennan and Montegna came down from Chicago. Jack is in either the building or real estate business. Ed is Chicago representative of "Sports Magazine," and one of their super salesmen. I believe he also writes articles for them. I saw Rocco for a few minutes in the Oliver. He is a lawyer and looks extremely well. Tom Weigand is an engineer. He told me that DICK SWISHER is in great shape and a proud pappy.

"At the New York club meetings I saw JOE CALLAHAN, CAS VANCE, CHARLIE METZGER, GENE VASLETT and RIGGIE DE BRIENZA. As for myself—I have been appointed assistant professor of English at the University of Puerto Rico." Vic's permanent address is 8642 Woodhaven Rd., Woodhaven, 21, New York.

Thanks, Vic, for the news and let's here from you when you get settled in Puerto Rico.

CHARLIE CALLAHAN, writing from the Department of Public Information at school, also sends a report on the reunion week-end. He saw, in addition to those mentioned by Mercado, DON FISHER who is an insurance man in the Bend. . . . BOB O'DONNELL, from Chicago, who is an engineer with a plumbing concern. . . . ED KAVANAUGH, now a professor in aeronautical engineering at school. . . . Charlie also mentions seeing JOE GLEASON, coach at De La Salle High School in Chicago, at the Old Timers game. . .

TOM and Twilla HUGHES announced the birth of a boy, Thomas Joseph, on May 18 at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, O. I might not have these facts right as the announcement came in the form of a crossword puzzle and I'm not very good with them. Tom, as you know, is a doctor. His address is 710 Napoleon Ave., Columbus, O.

DON HICKEY kicks through with three notes. He says, "JACK LEADBETTER has invited the South Bend '38 class to his house for dinner and we are really expecting something because he is always singing the praises of his wife's cooking. Saw JACK SCOTT in the bank. . . . The St. Joe Valley Club sponsored the annual golf tournament at the Chain-o-Lakes Country Club; JACK MOULDER was chairman of the affair. . . . I saw FRANK CROSIAR broadcasting the Women's State golf tournament this morning. . . . CHARLIE CALLAHAN had a throat operation in June . . . that's about all."

This is better than last month, but I think we can get more letters than this. How about some news, boys?

Noel continues: "I guess your last records of me have me an editor with the Associated Press Philadelphia bureau. I left the AP in Philly last October and took a trip to South America with my wife. We planned to stay there for a while but finally turned it into a three months visit to Peru. We did do some broadcasting for the U. S. Information Service in Lima, but spent most of our time wandering around gathering free-lance material which my wife has already succeeded in getting into print. We both live in New York and plan to settle down here for a while."

From TOM GRADY: "After graduation in '41, I went to work for Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp., Pittsburgh. The week of Pearl Harbor I was called to New York to work in chemical allocation. In October, 1942, I was called to active duty in the naval reserves. Served in armed guard in the north and south Atlantic and Mediterranean waters. Then served with the Army Transport service attached to the 5th and 7th Armies. Saw some action in the British Isles and Italian waters and was wounded at Anzio. Then I was sent to the Pacific, via Miami, and the Gulf and ended the war as a commanding officer of the AUS-6 in Japanese and North China waters. After 33 months at sea and over 47 in the Navy, I returned last August to Carbide in New York. I am now in the Chicago office."

ED KELEHER is entering the public accounting field and in September will begin work with the Charles S. Rockey firm in Philadelphia. He will specialize in budgetary control work.

1942 William E. Scanlan, 213 N. Cuyler St., Oak Park, Ill.

CHARLIE NELSON, Plymouth, Ind., is working for National Cash Register Co., South Bend. JIM DIVER, formerly of Bridgeport, Ill., has been appointed United States probation officer for the Indianapolis area.

On June 14, BILL MEIER received his master of arts degree from the University of Minnesota.

A note from Eastern Airlines and ANDY McCAFFREY: "I have been tied up with finishing my studies at Columbia University. Within the last few days I have spoken with TONY MALONEY (he's back with the Navy) and TOM DELIA. Both asked to be remembered to everybody. JOHN POWERS was working with us at Eastern for a while, but now he is writing for an oil company."

Under "Deaths" in this issue, you'll read the story of Mike Shannon, '39, Los Angeles. Confined to his bed for years, Mike was still an unbeatable, inspiring person, cheerfully active in the Notre Dame Club of Los Angeles as well as in his own business, which he conducted by telephone. One of the high moments of his life was the Mass which Father Frank Gartland, C.S.C., offered in the Shannon home shortly before Mike died. Father Frank and Mike are shown here.

From NEAL GLEASON, Milwaukee: "Mrs. Gleason and I attended the June 28 wedding of Margaret Graner to EUGENE SCHUMAKER. Among the out-of-town alumni present were Mr. and Mrs. DAN STACK, '41; Mr. and Mrs. OTTO MOLLIDOR, Libertyville, Ill.; and BOB O'HARA, Chicago and NEIL McCARTY, Appleton, Wis. Dan is flying a Pennsylvania airliner out of Detroit; Otto is an accountant for Fansteel; O'Hara is a painting contractor and I believe McCarty said he was in law school at Harvard."

1943 Edward C. Roney, 1723 Iroquois Ave., Detroit, Mich.

From ED RONEY:

This is late, and from New York. Am here for six months of training toward being an account executive for the largest brokerage firm in the country, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane. The address is the Henry Hudson Hotel and all who find time to drop in for a bull session on old times will be more than welcomed. Hope to be able to get in touch with some of the fellows in the East, especially those around the New York area. Don't know all their correct addresses, so how about calling up?

Have managed to contact my old roommate of senior year, FRANK KING, who's now laying over on the bed thinking up much needed news for this column. He's going to start dictating in a little bit, but first let me pass on the only letter arriving since last issue. Old Steve Ensner, now of Evansville, Ind., came forth with the following:

"Returned from California in May, just missing the reunion. Am loafing the summer through in Indiana, and will probably stay here. Stumbled into ROG CUMMINGS at Wrigley Field on the way home. We talked about Notre Dame, Navy, etc., while the Cubs were rained out. Also saw our newly married FRED CHRISTMAN in Terre Haute. Fred is fine, fat, and forsaking the accounting field for his father's business. I say this as I know he won't write."

"My next planned northward move is the Army game. Any ideas prevalent concerning that weekend? Hotel get-together, etc?"

Thanks for the swell letter, Steve. There aren't any definite plans as yet for the Army week-end, but most of the gang seems to find its way down to the Hoffmann Hotel after the games. That's only a suggestion. Hope to see you there if I can get away from here. There's some question of the time off and the expense, from N. Y.

That's the end of the letters, so let's see what FRANK KING has been able to remember. BILL BENET owns a sporting goods store in Grand Rapids, Minn. HANK KANE is keeping the wheels of advertising moving for Kenyon & Eckhardt in New York. He plans to be married soon. JOHN MALLOY should have his master's degree in Engineering from Columbia by this time.

And that's the end of Frank's news. I've managed to pick up a little myself in the last couple of weeks here. Talked to TOM MALONEY over in Jersey City the other night. He contributed the following: PAUL TOLAND was married in late July in Paterson, N. J. NICK VILLAROSA and CHARLEY WADE are both doing fine and we all expect to get together soon. Tom himself is almost fully recovered from his serious illness of our senior year.

Saw BILL FISHER the other night and met his lovely wife Reggy, and a bouncing William Anthony, about six months. Bill hadn't seen anyone in some time but expected to soon.

News in Detroit as I left was about JIM BYRNE who was on the verge of selling his laundrette business for a fancy profit and ED HICKEY'S engagement to a perfectly wonderful girl, Ann Farley, daughter of the former postmaster-general. The wedding is to be in New York in late fall.

The above finishes up the news of this issue. How about dropping the column a line. We've had three straight enemy columns due to lack of letters and news now. Give that old right arm a limbering up.

And don't forget that we're trying to set a record this year with the Alumni Fund. Even though you may be late you got to remember the University needs your contribution. '43 hasn't had a bad year yet."

These five Notre Dame men work for Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis pharmaceutical house.

Front row, left, Frank Fox, '42, is doing stock correlation work in the Material Control Section of that company since his return from service with the Army. George Sauter, center back row, '38, also is serving in that division as an expediter. George rejoined the company after serving three years as a laboratory technician and as a chaplain's assistant in the Army. He married Helen Filcer of Indianapolis and they have two children, Patricia, age four, and Robert, four months.

Paul Deery, left back row, '42, began work in the Lilly Production Control office after his return from the Army as a first lieutenant. Working with Paul is Robert Kasberg, '43, right back row, Bob returned from naval service a lieutenant, to the Lilly Production Control office. Thomas Sweeney, '43, front row right, is working in the Research Department of the Lilly Company. He is a former Lt. (J.G.). Tom is married to Marjorie Kelly and they have one child, Thomas Edward Sweeney, age one.

WAYNE ZELLER is with D. E. Pedigo and Co., public accountants, Chicago. He is working in the South Bend and Elkhart areas.

FATHER KEVIN B. O'DOHERTY is assigned to Holy Saviour Parish, Westmont, N. J.

From BILL TRACY, who got his degree in Phy Ed last June: "Just a short note to let you know that I am getting along swell here in Kansas City, Mo., with my new post with the F.B.I. My brother, JOE, is still pounding the books at Columbia law school and Jerry is going to get married in October."

WALT HEIN, Ft. Wayne, Ind., says: "I am now married and have a daughter, Cathy Anne, who is 21 months old."

1944 John A. Lynch, 15724 Grandville Rd., Detroit 23, Mich.

From JOHN LYNCH:

The mailbag is very slim this month, but we can relay a congratulatory message from the president of the University, REV. JOHN J. CAVANAUGH, C. S. C. We hope, of course, that this will not tempt the Class of '44 to rest with their laurels, but will relight any fires that may be dimming.

"Through JIM ARMSTRONG I have just heard of the splendid cooperation the Class of 1944 has given to the annual Alumni Fund during the last three years, and I hasten my personal congratulations to you and the members of the entire class for what you have done. The participation of the Class of '44 in the 1946 Drive led all other Classes and this fact deserves the praise and gratitude of the entire administration of the University to the officers of the Class for their unceasing efforts and to the members of the Class for the generous share they have contributed.

"Although words are feeble to express appreciation, I want you all to know of the lasting gratitude of all here for what you have done and continue to do. In addition, I hope each and every one of the Class will feel many times rewarded in every way.

"May God ever bless you abundantly."

As you know, the Fifth Annual Fund is under way and will close Dec. 31. Our participation so far has been strong and we expect it will stay that way, spurred on by love, football tickets or whatever. If you have not checked in, try to do it soon.

A letter from HARRY YEATES of Kankakee has been on hand since June 6 and we can pick a little news from that.

"TOM O'CONNOR has taken a new 'position' (that's what he calls it) with Sears at their State Street store in Chicago in the advertising department. He's been with Butler Bros. now for six months and is definitely climbing up the ladder. His brother JACK, '47, is with Reynolds Metal in Chicago. I saw "The Iceman Cometh" with them several weeks ago.

"Had a brief note from ED CASHMAN last week. He's going back to summer school in several weeks and is home now doing absolutely nothing, I presume. Ran into MIKE CONWAY one day in the Palmer House lobby. He's in Law School some place in Chicago.

"No news of CHRIST HERRING, '45, for months. Believe he's with his father in the shoe business down Virginia way. Had a letter from JACK O'NEILL in January, written from Tufts, where he is finishing up his medico training. Jack is engaged . . . she's from Vermont . . . the only girl in the world, etc."

Just a couple of notes on weddings. As of July 26 JOHN VAN BENTEN of Indianapolis will be among the married ranks. This news comes from BILL BOSS, now of Camden and environs, who was trying to fit his RCA vacation so he could be on hand.

For the Miss Barbara Rempe—CHUCK PATTERSON wedding in Chicago, June 14, BEN PATTERSON '48, the groom's brother, was best man. JIM CUNNINGHAM was also in the wedding party.

When DUKE LEARY married Miss Pat Berigan in Omaha July 5, ART McGRATH went out from Notre Dame to be best man and yours truly went along for added support. The Duke fared all right and he and the wife stopped through Detroit, July 17, to pick up a car and have a free beer. They were on their way to Milwaukee where Duke will start as a reporter on the "Journal."

And that is the column for this month. Needless to say, we need letters. Just send them along any time, but the sooner the better.

Last June, NORM MUELLER received his master of science degree from Washington University, St. Louis. The same month DR. TOM MANGAN graduated with highest honors in medicine from St. Louis University.

For the information of NORB WLEKLINSKI, a lawyer in the Union National Bank Bldg., East Chicago, Ind., GERRY GAFFNEY'S address is 44 W. 175th St., Bronx, N. Y.

1945 James W. Schaeffer, P. O. Box 369, Schenectady, N. Y.

TED WEBER writes from Bridgeport, Conn., where he is doing publicity work for the General Electric Co. He informs us that the only Notre Dame man he has run into so far has been JIM GOWER. Ted and Jim have traveled to nearby New Haven and New York during spare time from office duties.

JIM MURPHY of "Meet the Missus" fame is attending the graduate radio school at Northwestern University. He is concentrating on radio script writing. On a recent visit to the Alumni Office he gave his address as Foster House, Northwestern University, Evanston.

HARRY WALTERS, of the class of '45, has been made a Harlan Fisk Stone scholar in Columbia Law School for the 1947-48 academic term. Two prior recipients of the award were CHARLES COLGAN, '39 and RALPH GERRA, '41.

OWEN DOYLE graduated from the Yale University school of medicine last June.

TOM NOLAN recently was separated from the naval service. He is planning on entering Northwestern University for graduate work in the fall.

1946

JACK STEWART, vacationing at Deauville, France, was to leave shortly for Moscow for a month's duty. He is stationed at the American Embassy in Paris.

1947 J. D. Usina, 219 S. Scott St., South Bend, 2. Ind.

Introducing the new secretary of the class, J. D. USINA:

As I start something new here for Notre Dame and BILL DOOLEY, I come to realize that graduation is just six weeks away. Seems more like six hundred. In a dramatic attempt to have some news of the class for this issue, I tried sending a few postcards out. Got a few results.

HARRY J. GILLIGAN, JR., of down Cincinnati way, says: "There isn't much Notre Dame news this way for the time being and little or none about the class of '47. DAVID J. CHAMPION, was married here on June 14 to Miss Gloria Mary Fullerton. JAMES HORN, ex. '46, was best man, F. J. GILLIGAN and I, plus help from WILLIAM FERRICK, '48, ushers. . . . ED MERSMAN, ex. '47, is to be married July 26. . . . Cincinnati Alumni Association is giving a picnic for the Class of 1947 and others up at N. D. . . . We missed you at Dave's wedding and it was quite a time. BOB SNEE, ED BALL, JOHN CARON, and HANK SLAMIN all came down for it. . . . [Note: Harry penned that news while flat on his back with a fever—some of you other gents might get good example from that.]

Have been seeing quite a bit of DON CLAEYS in South Bend. Occasionally run into HENRY HOOVER. A few weeks back met JACK McGRANE, in town for a few days. His constant companion was J. J. L. JOHNSTON who is back for some more work on his M.A. during the summer. Several nights ago had a good talk with BILL BERK, on his way home to Chicago after a few days in Bloomington. He is working with consulting engineers—I think the firm's name is Gately and Hanson in Chicago. Bill told me that he spent fifteen days at Quantico, Va., in Marine Corps refresher. Seems it was pretty good duty.

BILL GRANT writes from Erie in response to a plea for news:

"I'm afraid I can't do too much. The only fellows I've seen have been HERB DAIKER and JIM LEDWITH, who stopped for a little while on their way to N. Y.—they were 'thumbing' their way home.

"Maybe some news is that my day is set for joining the throngs of the married—Aug. 9, is the day and ED STROOT is going to be one of my ushers. You know Mary Agnes Culhane, the girl I'm going to marry, don't you? Ed is still up at Harvard and doing fine."

Met JACK KEARNEY on the sun deck at the Rockne Memorial the other day and asked for some news of the fellows from New York. Next day I found the latest news in the form of a full report letter from Jack. Jack, incidentally, with one degree already tucked away, is aiming to get an undergraduate degree in Electrical Engineering next June. During the regular sessions at Notre Dame he is teaching in his spare time. Here's what he had to say:

"I'll start with New York. TOM MULHERN is working for Allied Purchasing Co. which owns a string of department stores across the U. S. . . . BILL BRACKEN went on a Navy cruise for a month. . . . RUDY ANDERSON is doing part time work in the Patent Office in Washington and is studying patent law at night at Georgetown. . . . JOHN TOOLE receives his B.S. in Comm. at the end of the summer session and will work for his father in New York. . . . FRANK MARTIN, after getting out of the Navy, went to N.Y.U. and I think he is studying to be a doctor; in fact he might be an M. D. by now. . . . Outside the New Yorkers, the only ones I can think of are: JOHN JOHNSON who is teaching at St. Vincent's college in Penna. and doing graduate work at Notre Dame in the summer. . . . LOU STONE is going to school now and expects to get his degree come next June."

My old roommate, BOB GRIFFIN of Bridgeport, Conn., writes from a camp in New Hampshire that he will be returning to Law School in the fall. Griff writes the following:

"At BILL BRACKEN'S big party in Brooklyn were BOB CLARY, JACK NEARY, TOM MULHERN, HERB DAIKER, DAN O'DONNELL, BILL CLEMENCY, RODDY HAYDEN, plus their dates and a lot of others. BILL CLEMENCY is teaching in New York. . . . VINCE LAURITA will be teaching in Chicago. . . . JACK NEARY is going to Seton Hall. . . . BOB CLARY is with American Car and Foundry Co. . . ."

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for these two who are taking the big step, and also the many more whom we have missed hearing from.

Now that we have started a Class of 1947 column in the "Alumnus," all of you please drop me a line, a card—anything with something about you or members of the class. I need plenty of news and you fellows have really got it I'm sure. Please write it.

[J. D. modestly refrains from adding that he himself is employed by Mac Donald-Cook advertising agency in South Bend]

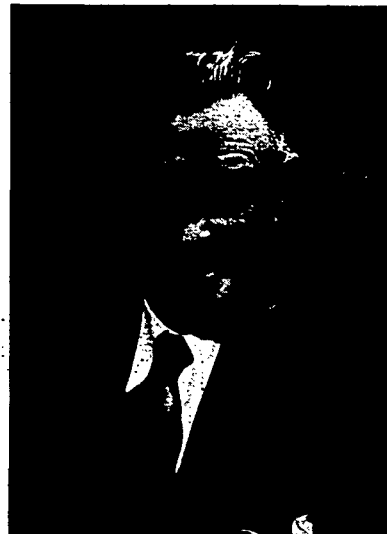

BILL MALONE, law graduate, is working for Miles Laboratories in Elkhart, Ind.

ERNEST DONATH expects to return to the University this September, following his separation from the service.

MILT PRESSON is taking the special pre-State Department exam. course at George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNI

MICHAEL D. FANNING, '08, postmaster of Los Angeles, was recently awarded the Blessed Martin de Porres Award for the Catholic layman who has contributed the most to Inter-Racial relations in the city of Los Angeles.

MICHAEL D. FANNING

The de Porres award, named for a Negro member of the Dominican Order whose canonization is pending, is made each year to the Catholic layman outstanding for his service. As head of one of the largest postal Postmaster Fanning was extolled for his fair employment practice in government service. As head of one of the largest postal areas in the United States, he installed a personnel policy of hiring and up-grading postal employees on the basis of ability and qualification alone.

Negro leaders in that community have widely praised Mr. Fanning for his policy which has resulted in equal opportunity for Negroes. Whereas previously only two Negroes held supervisory positions in Los Angeles, ten have been able to advance themselves to such posts in his administration.

Mr. Fanning, a member of St. Peter's parish in Los Angeles, is the second Notre Dame man to be postmaster in Los Angeles. The late P. P. O'Brien was also postmaster.

LAYMEN'S RETREAT

The Laymen's Retreat, conducted annually at Notre Dame before the war, was resumed Aug. 21-24, with an attendance of 1,500.

Over the Years... the UNIVERSITY of NOTRE DAME FOUNDATION is the "triple threat" of the new financial T - Formation.

1. By a program of annual giving — a short cut to the endowment income which can only come from a much greater endowment than Notre Dame now has.*
2. By stimulating through capital gifts and bequests the large gifts which will build up the endowment. (Annual giving, which provides an equivalent for the immediate year, obviously is not a substitute for the necessary security of capital endowment as an eventual asset of the University.)
3. By stimulating special gifts for special projects not possible from ordinary income — buildings, equipment, fellowships, etc.

TO ILLUSTRATE:

* Notre Dame's actual endowment is $4,033,974.42, of which only $1,192,231.20 is unrestricted.
