The Notre Dame ALUMNUS

SEPTEMBER • OCTOBER, 1950

What a Million Dollars Could Do

If, by relieving overcrowded laboratories, and providing an outstanding staff with adequate research facilities and teaching aids, Notre Dame could bring to successful conclusion even one of the major projects in RH Factor discoveries; Anti-Malarial Drugs; Radiation Chemistry; Physical Properties of Rubber and Plastics; Mathematics for the New Fields of Science — how the contribution of the needed funds would be multiplied in actual value! (See page 10).

Nearly Five Thousand . . .

Students Overflow Campus

With an enrollment that again approached the five-thousand mark and again means doubled-up quarters on the campus and many students residing off-campus, the University opened its new schoolyear on Sept. 15, after carrying on registration for the three days preceding.

As the ALUMNUS went to press, the final figures on registration were not available. It was certain that there were at least 4,850 students in the University, and probably about 4,900. In keeping with the trend of recent years, a considerable number of these were in the Graduate School. Approximately a third of the present students are veterans of World War II, as contrasted with the 50 per cent who were veterans a year ago and the 74 per cent who were veterans in September, 1946. A large graduating class in January, 1950, will further reduce the current veteran enrollment.

Utilizing the simplified and coordinated procedure of a year ago, supervised by Rev. Howard Kenna, C.S.C., vice-president in charge of academic affairs, and his assistant, Rev. James E. Norton, C.S.C., the registration for 1949-50 was carried on in the Drill Hall. International Business Machines equipment, now widely used by the University for various academic needs and business needs, facilitated the work of the scores of faculty members and others who assisted Father Kenna and Father Norton on Sept. 12, 13 and 14. All students had identification pictures taken as a part of the registration program.

New students—some 1,300—registered on Monday, Sept. 12, and then devoted much of Tuesday and Wednesday to tests given under the direction of Edward R. Quinn, '28, head of the Guidance and Testing Department. Six tests were given: for scholastic aptitude, for achievement in English, social science, natural science and mathematics, and for religious placement. Results of these tests will later be made known individually to the students who took them and the same results are available for the study of faculty members concerned with them. In the Department of Religion the students are "sectioned" according to results of the religious placement test, which is, it is important to note, the work of Rev. William F. Cunningham, C.S.C., director of the faculty, and long a nationally-recognized expert in educational matters.

In the same battery of tests a year ago, the incoming Notre Dame students achieved a ranking 14 points above the national average for the same tests in many colleges.

The orientation program for the freshmen, conducted a year ago by the Blue Circle and the Young Christian Students, was successfully re-emphasized this year. Guides at the transportation terminals in South Bend, information desks on the campus, tours of the campus for freshmen and their families and a Washington Hall program complete with talks and movies, formed a part of the introduction period. Orientation week was completed on Saturday afternoon with a cheer-learning session in the gym, preceding a varsity football scrimmage in the stadium.

An innovation this year was the new plan for the student missions. In other years, the missions for the student body were each conducted for almost a week at the beginning of the schoolyear. This year, the freshman mission began on Wednesday evening, Sept. 14, even before the opening of classes on Thursday morning, Sept. 15, and continued on Sept. 15 and 16. The mission for sophomores was Sept. 18, 19 and 20, and that for juniors, seniors and graduate students on Sept. 21, 22 and 23.

Thirty-three new members are part of the Notre Dame faculty for the present year according to Father Kenna's announcement.

New additions and their latest previous teaching affiliations include Jack D. Alexander, (N. D., '47) who received a master's degree this year from the Harvard Business school, Cambridge, Mass., instructor in business administration; Marshall W. Baldwin, New York university, New York city, associate professor of history; Edward J. Blakely, Jr., University of Denver, Denver, Colo., instructor in accounting; William M. Burke, Georgian Court college, Lakewood, N. J., associate professor of English; Edward J. Cronin, (N. D., '38) St. Thomas Military academy, St. Paul, Minn., assistant professor of English; Vincent P. DeSantis, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., associate professor of history.

Also Jerome A. Fallon, Holt High school, Holt, Mich., instructor in speech; John P. Fandel, Jr., who received a master's degree from Yale university, New Haven, Conn., this year, instructor in English; John J. Glanville, (M.A., N. D., '47) Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies in Toronto, Quebec, Canada, instructor in philosophy; Vincent P. Goddard, who for two years has been a teaching fellow at Notre Dame, instructor in aeronautical engineering; William J. Grupp, Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., instructor in modern languages; Rev. Philip L. Hanley, O.P., (M.A., N. D., '49), who for the last year has been a teaching fellow at Notre Dame, instructor in religion; Murlin T. Howerton, Texas A. & M, College Station, Texas, professor of chemical engineering.

Also Robert L. Livezey, director of biology at Sam Houston State college, Austin, Texas, assistant professor of biology; Bernard S. Lement, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., assistant professor of metallurgy; John P. Marshall, former research associate at Notre Dame, instructor in physics; Charles F. McGinnis, Boston college, Boston, Mass., instructor in English.

Also Herbert Melton, (N. D., '43), former teaching fellow at Notre Dame, instructor in accounting; Rev. Francis D. Nealy, O.P., (M.A., N. D., '48), former teaching fellow at Notre Dame, instructor in religion.

Matthew R. O'Rourke, Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J., instructor in English; Arthur W. Phillips, (N. D., '39), Massachusetts Institute of Technology, assistant research professor of bacteriology; William G. Philp, University of Oklahoma, Norman, assistant professor of business administration; Raymond J. Runkle, University of Illinois, Champaign, instructor in physical education; Edward W. Sybil, Jr., University of Iowa, Iowa City, assistant professor of biology; Richard L. Kilmer, (N.D., '43), former member of the Notre Dame faculty, instructor in history.

Also John H. O'Neill, formerly with the Western Electric company, assistant professor of education; Robert F. Chipak, Pennsylvania State college, State College, Pa., instructor in mechanical engineering; John W. Riner, (M.S., N. D., '49), former teaching fellow at Notre Dame, instructor in mathematics; James C. Smith, Jr., St. Louis university, St. Louis, Mo., instructor in mathematics; and Lawrence F. Robinson, National College of Education, Evanston, Ill., assistant professor of education; Robert Riordan (N. D., '45), former vice-consul to Angola in Africa and to New Zealand, instructor in marketing; Otto Seder, University of Dornstadt, Germany and later practicing architect, assistant professor of architecture.

Capt. Thomas F. Conley, Jr., USN, holder of the Navy Cross and the Silver Star for service in the Pacific during World War II, has taken command of the naval Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University, and is a member of the faculty.

Captain Conley succeeds Capt. Anthony L. Danis, USN. The latter is now commanding officer of the Naval Recruiting Station in Norfolk, Va.

The new Notre Dame naval commandant, a native of Bridgeport, Conn., is the former commander of the Fleet Training Group at Pearl Harbor. Most of his 20-year naval career has been spent aboard destroyers, and during the last war he participated in every major invasion in the Pacific Theatre. During one of his infrequent shore assignments, he earned a master's degree in Engineering at the University of California in 1939.

At the outbreak of World War II, Capt. Conley was commander of the USS Barney. In December, 1942, he took command of the USS Ringgold, on which he served in the Pacific until September, 1944. From that time until he assumed his last post at Pearl Harbor he was commander of training operations and chief of staff of the Training Command of the Pacific Fleet.

Also gone from the University this year is Professor Jack R. Miller who served last year on the faculty of the College of Law. Mr. Miller has returned to his home town, Sioux City, Ia., to establish a law partnership under the name of Rawlings and Miller.

One of the main experiences of a student at Notre Dame should be to become better acquainted with God, according to Rev.

John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., president, who gave the sermon at the solemn Mass marking the solemn opening of the school year on Sunday, Sept. 18.

Father Cavanaugh told students that the "position of God in the thought and action of the world is now, at best, dubious and precarious.

"A considerable group of thinkers, many of them in our large educational institutions, declare flatly that there is no God, that assent to His existence and to His influence in the world is based on a mere superstitious assumption," Father Cavanaugh declared. "This group we have come to know as the rabid, militant, positive atheists, who in this country, in Russia, and Europe, and Asia, are trying to establish a total educational system, a body politic, a so-called system of morality, and a whole way of life that utterly excludes God.

"Perhaps you are more aware of the kind of atheist who professes a God who doesn't and cannot exist . . . Or you may know that much larger class of practical atheists who profess to believe in the traditional God of Judaism and Christianity, so long as He is isolated from the classroom and laboratory and market-place, and from the city hall. These, with their lips, sometimes pay worship to God on Sunday morning, but find their everyday life no different from that of the pagans who profess no God at all."

The Notre Dame president told the students that "you have come to Notre Dame for a definite purpose." He said: "you have come to Notre Dame to develop your mind, in a christian environment, to learn to read and think and to communicate with the great minds of the past and present, as they express themselves in theology and philosophy, in mathematics and the physical and social sciences, in literature and history."

Father Hesburgh

(It could be soundly argued that the most significant development at Notre Dame in recent years is the development in the Department of Religion. Knowing of the intense interest of alumni in such progress, the ALUMNUS asked Father Hesburgh to tell them briefly about it. As head of the Department of Religion, he is leading the way to the new heights.—Ed.)

When the general public asks why you send your son to a Catholic college when state schools are supposedly less expensive, you normally answer that you want the youngster to learn something beyond Chemistry, Accounting or Thermodynamics as such. You want him to get a Catholic philosophy of life, a complete mental and moral training. In a word, you want religion to be an integral part of his education for life. You remember from your own days here that there are two agencies at Notre Dame which have been specifically organized to promote this religious training. The Prefects of Religion aim to inspire and guide Notre Dame students along the practical lines of masculine religious living. On the other hand, the Department of Religion is established to impart the basic religious truths that are the necessary intellectual foundation for a mature Catholic life.

Everyone expects Notre Dame men to be not only good practicing Catholics, but intelligent, maturely formed Catholics. Last year, a group of professors from the Department of Religion asked themselves: what do we expect to accomplish by giving Notre Dame men 216 class hours of religion? The answers went something like this: the finished product should know why he is a Catholic; how his religion affects his life's work, his future family life, his business, his relationship to his community; the place of the Church in the modern world, specifically in relation to burning questions like Church and State, Education, Management and Labor, Politics, Racial Tensions, Catholic Action and the Liturgical Movement.

That is a large order. None of the men would agree that we are filling it at the moment. But we are on the way. A glance at our present personnel, program, and projects will indicate how far we have gone, and how far we have yet to go.

There was a day when the men who taught religion at Notre Dame had a variety of other teaching duties. Religion-teaching might very easily become a side issue. That day is gone. Every man on our staff today is teaching only one subject that is his major preoccupation, namely, religion. A great proportion of those on our permanent staff have had special preparation for their task. Seven have doctorates in Theology and others are in the process of obtaining them. Others are studying religious education. The plan calls for every permanent member of the Religion Department to have a special degree for this work. Our men have been and are being trained at the Gregorian University in Rome, the Institute Catholique in Paris, Laval University in Quebec, and Catholic University in Washington. Until a sufficient number of Holy Cross priests are adequately trained, we have enlisted the help of other orders: Dominicans, Franciscans, Passionists, Marists and Precious Blood Fathers, together with some specially qualified diocesan priests. Our normal staff at present is 25 priests teaching some 3,200 students. Next year it will be about 30 priests teaching close to 4,000 students. We expect it to level off at that number and to become more stable as more Holy Cross priests receive their doctorates.

The program has undergone some changes since you were here. There are now six semesters of religion. In the freshmen year we teach the Life of Christ and Christian Morals. In the sophomore year, Apologetics and the first part of Catholic Dogma, the truths of the Faith. In the junior year, the courses comprise the second part of Catholic Dogma and the Sacramental Life of the Church. The whole teaching staff is divided into three parts to specialize in the teaching of one of these three years. Each individual group of professors meets twice a month to discuss the progress of the course and the latest techniques in teaching it. To unify the curriculum, we have begun to produce our own religion textbooks. By February of 1950, four of the six basic textbooks will be in print. The books on Morals and Dogma are now being released for use in other Catholic colleges after their trial here during the past two years. All the students within each particular course follow the same syllabus and take the same departmental exam at the end of the semester. There are also special outside reading assignments in the best Catholic books available in connection with the various courses. Special writing assignments test the students' ability to apply the basic theological principles to modern problems.

There are some other new developments that can be classified under the heading of projects. Two summers ago, we initiated a graduate course in religion. There has been a great demand of late for a course in theology for the layman. We thought that this four-summer-semester course would answer that need. At least, it offers advanced training along theological lines that is available to the layman practically nowhere else in the world. Along the same lines, there has been a graduate liturgical program organized during the summer semester for the past two summers. This program drew world-famous professors from Europe last summer and has achieved a unique position in Catholic educational circles.

Three further projects are being initiated during the current schoolyear. First, there is a Marriage Institute to be conducted during eight weeks of the fall and spring semesters for seniors and married students. We hope that this will be a permanent and timely service to all Notre Dame students of the future. Secondly, there is a projected series of faculty lectures, three each semester on pertinent theological questions of the day, such as, Theology and Science, Church and State, Church and Education. Some of these lectures will be delivered by specialists in our own department, others by top-flight theologians from other parts of the country. Lastly, and this should be of special interest to all of you, we are preparing a selected Catholic Reading List, to be sent to all the Notre Dame alumni. This should insure a continuance of the training begun here.

One student complained last year: what do you want to do, ordain me? Seriously, a seminarian is trained along theological lines to do special work for Christ and His Church. But the clergy do not have a monopoly on this work. If any group of laymen should be intelligent and apostolic in their Catholic life, it should be Notre Dame men. We want to do as much as we can to provide that training for your sons.

We sincerely believe that you send them here to be trained thoroughly in religion, as well as in the arts and natural sciences. If we did not try to be just as progressive in religious training as in the arts and sciences, there would be no point in your sending your sons here. We are trying, so don't be too impatient with Junior if he turns in a low score for Physics and History and Religion. There is some truth when he moans: "Things are really getting rough out here!"

Rectors and Prefects Named

Rectors and prefects in the residence halls are as follows for the 1949-50 school year:

Alumni Hall: rector, Rev. Charles Carey, c.s.c.; prefects, Rev. Thomas Brennan, c.s.c., Rev. Francis Butler, c.s.c., Rev. Joseph Kehoe, c.s.c., Rev. James Norton, c.s.c., and Rev. Augustine Peverada, c.s.c. Badin Hall: rector, Rev. Bernard Furstoss, c.s.c.; prefects, Rev. Thomas McDonagh, c.s.c., and Brother Robert Horton, c.s.c.

Sons of Alumni Swell New Class

Ninety-two alumni are represented on the campus this year by sons who are first-year Notre Dame students.

According to figures supplied early in September by Rev. Louis J. Thornton, c.s.c., registrar, and subject to revision at the conclusion of registration, the class of 1926 with 11 fathers represented tops the 1949 list of alumni fathers. The class of 1925, with 10, and 1927, with nine, follow close behind.

Two sets of twins headline the incoming alumni sons. Harry F. Kelly, '17, Lansing, Mich., brought his twin sons, Harry F., Jr., and Brian J., to the campus on Sept. 12 and Walter J. Stuhldreher, '22, Indianapolis, did likewise with his twins, Walter F. and William D. Paul R. Farmer, '30, South Bend, also had two sons entering this September, Paul R., Jr., and William D.

1911—Edmond J. Quinn, Rockville Center, N. Y.

1912—Donnelly P. McDonald, Fort Wayne, Ind.

1913—John T. Burns (deceased), Kalamazoo, Mich.

1914—Morrison A. Conway, Portland, Ore.; Ray T. Miller, Cleveland, O.

1915—Raymond J. Kelly, Detroit, Mich.; Edward F. Riely, Minonk, Ill.

1916—Joseph H. Miller, Rochester, N. Y.

1917—Robert J. Burns, Kenmore, N. Y.; Richard D. Daley, Erie, Pa.; Harry F. Kelly, Lansing, Mich. (twin sons entered); Raymond A. Schaub, Highland, Ind.

1919—Emmett J. Kelly, Detroit, Mich.; Richard M. White, Tulsa, Okla.

1920—Lamont A. McLoughlin, Asbury Park, N. J.; Francis D. Watson, Lafayette, Ind.

1921—David V. Hayes, Manchester, Conn.; James H. Huxford, Skaneateles, N. Y.; Wilfred J. Riley, Detroit, Mich.; Eugene J. Shanahan, Clyde, O.; Frank C. Toepf, South Bend, Ind.

1922—James F. Fogarty, Anderson, Ind.; A. T. Krug, Chillicothe, O.; Thomas S. McCabe, Chicago, Ill.; Harold T. Oesau, Stratford, Conn.; A. A. Scott, Los Angeles, Calif.; Walter J. Stuhldreher, Indianapolis, Ind. (twin sons entered).

1923—Paul H. Castner, St. Paul, Minn.; J. Roy Dee, Mt. Carmel, Ill.; Louis A. DeSmet, Chicago, Ill.; Leland Lyness, Fessenden, N. D.

1924—Edward G. Cantwell, Columbus, Ohio.; Norman N. Feltes, (deceased) Winnetka, Ill.; William F. Gallagan, Westfield, N. J.; John F. Gotuaco, Manila, P. I.; Raymond F. Kohin, Bethesda, Md.; Harold L. Londo, Green Bay, Wis.; James I. Smith, Jr., Circleville, O.; John N. Stanton, Gary, Ind.

1925—Edward L. Ahlering, Highland, Ind.; Herman G. Centlivre, Fort Wayne, Ind.; James C. Chisholm, Erie, Pa.; William L. Clemens, Santa Monica, Calif.; August L. Fipp, Rome City, Ind.; Irving H. Lammers, Detroit, Mich.; John E. Lightner, Irvington, N. J.; George E. Ludwig, Grand Rapids, Mich.; William E. Merriman, Rochester, N. Y.; A. J. Porta, South Bend, Ind.

1930—Paul R. Farmer, South Bend, Ind., (two sons entering); Francis A. Fink, Huntington, Ind.; Albert J. Gebert, Wichita, Kans.; Henry E. Hinskamp, Plainfield, N. J.; Mark B. McCabe, Riverhead, N. Y.; Donald D. Sullivan, Northampton, Mass.

1931—Lawrence H. Baldinger, South Bend, Ind.; Paul J. Cushing, Piedmont, Calif.; Frank C. Wachsmith, New York City, N. Y.

The UNIVERSITY TODAY

By EDWARD A. FISCHER, '37

TOO MANY PEOPLE believe that education begins and ends in school, said Dr. Mortimer J. Adler at the summer Commencement.

Dr. Adler, professor of the Philosophy of Law at the University of Chicago, was principal speaker at the exercises at which Notre Dame awarded 202 bachelor degrees and 53 graduate degrees.

"Education only begins in school," said Dr. Adler. "It can never end there in any sense of the word. Education should lead to wisdom, and wisdom cannot be attained at the age of a college graduate. Wisdom is the result of a lifetime of learning.

"When adult education begins, it goes on throughout the whole of life. One cannot cease adult education without also ceasing to live."

Dr. Adler admonished the graduates to "let no inferior science draw you from philosophy, nor no inferior philosophy draw you from theology."

During the baccalaureate sermon, delivered at a solemn high Mass, Rev. Bernard Mullahy, C.S.C., told the graduates that "modern universities have become more and more like factories.

"In the speculative order science has overthrown wisdom. In the practical order, not prudence but art, technological art, is the ideal. From the union of science and technological art, which is, of course, something very good in itself, has finally issued atomic fission. But it has become a frightful monster, because we are without the wisdom to give us the right order which is the basis of peace, and without prudence to direct us in the proper use of the power we have created."

THE UNIVERSITY was represented in July by Rev. William F. Cunningham, C.S.C., director of the faculty, at the International Educational Congress, in Santander, Spain.

The congress marked the 300th anniversary of the canonization of the Spanish educator, St. Joseph Calasanz.

In a paper, "The Educational System of a Democracy," Father Cunningham presented an ideal educational system not yet realized in any country, but towards which he said, all countries with democratic aspirations should work.

ALL PERIODICALS AND BOOKS published at Notre Dame will get administrative and editorial attention from a new department headed by Dale Francis. The University of Notre Dame Press, which has just published the first four volumes in a religion-for-laymen series, will also be a part of the new publications department organization.

Mr. Francis, a graduate of Bluffton College, was a newspaperman in Troy, Lima, and Dayton, O., before the war. While in the army he founded and edited an army newspaper in Big Spring, Tex., and later wrote for "Stars and Stripes" and the "20th Air Force Bomb Rack" overseas.

After the war he rejoined the staff of the DAYTON HERALD, and later went to North Carolina where he was the first executive secretary of the North Carolina Catholic Laymen's Association, and where he founded and edited the diocesan weekly, THE NORTH CAROLINA CATHOLIC.

He came to Notre Dame in '48, where he did graduate work in political science and was on the staff of the Department of Public Information. He is a member of the board of directors of the Catholic Broadcasters Association, a member of the executive committee of the board of directors of the Aquinas Library and Book Store in South Bend, and is a contributor to national magazines.

FIFTY-EIGHT YOUNG MEN received the habit of the Brothers of Holy Cross at the novitiate at Rolling Prairie, Ind., and 16 Brothers made their final profession in Sacred Heart Church on the campus.

Thirty-two seminarians and four lay brothers of the priests of the Congregation of Holy Cross received their habits in another ceremony at the Sacred Heart Novitiate on Miami Road, South Bend.

A VETVILLE FAMILY of four, the L. L. Petersens, sailed for Sweden where Mr. Petersen will do research for his doctorate in political science. He will spend a year in research on cooperatives with funds supplied by the Bishop O'Hara grant for graduate students at the University of Notre Dame.

THE CROSS atop the Sacred Heart church gleams more brightly in the sun since an application of gold leaf was applied a few weeks ago. The 10-foot cross was lowered the 225 feet to the ground for the regilding process.

THE JACKPOT QUESTION being asked by the College of Commerce: "How well are our recent graduates doing in the business world?"

Dean James E. McCarthy is sending out questionnaires to business firms employing Notre Dame commerce graduates. He asks that employers grade the N.D. graduates on the following qualities: sense of responsibility (20 percent); employer loyalty (20 percent); business imagination (15 percent); organization ability (10 percent); ambition (10 percent), and ability to initiate (10 percent).

THE NATURAL LAW INSTITUTE at Notre Dame will serve as a model for a similar institute in Cologne, Germany, according to a letter Dean Clarence E. Manion received from the Catholic University Association of North-Rhine-Westphalia.

The institute at Notre Dame, unique in modern times, is held here annually to increase the emphasis of the Natural Law as the basis of life, liberty, and all other human rights.

NEW PRESIDENT of the Catholic Broadcasters Association is the Rev. Patrick Peyton, C.S.C., founder of the Family Rosary Crusade and director of "The Family Theater" over the Mutual Broadcasting System. The association held its second annual meeting here in late July.

FOUR HUNDRED SISTERS and 50 priests and brothers attended the third annual Sisters' Vocational Institute here in July.

PROF. DONALD ATTWATER, of Blackfriars School, England, said while teaching here this summer that too little attention has been paid to the fate of Catholics of the Eastern Rite in publicity given the cases of Cardinal Mindszenty and Archbishops Stepinac and Beran.

He pointed out that Catholics in formerly-Polish Ukraine (now in USSR) and in Rumania number 4,000,000 and 1,500,000 respectively.

"All of their bishops are in prison, their institutions dispersed and destroyed, and the lower clergy and lay people are being cajoled and bludgeoned into repudiating unity with the Holy See and recognizing the separated Orthodox Church," said Professor Attwater.

PROF. WILLIAM H. BENNETT was among the 1,200 scholars who convened at Stanford University for the meeting of the Modern Language Association of America. He delivered a paper, "Ultra-violet Ray Photography of a Gothic Palimpsest: Skeireins, Leaves I, II, V, VII."

MORE THAN 1,500 men gathered on the campus for a week-end in mid-August to attend the 27th annual laymen's retreat.

Guidance and Testing Department Assists Students In Planning For The Future

THIS fall Notre Dame's Guidance and Testing Department enters into its fifth year of providing a specialized service to all incoming students at the University's expense.

Established in 1945, the department was originally started at the suggestion of Rev. Howard Kenna, C.S.C. During the first two years, activities were supervised by Rev. John J. Lane, C.S.C. After Father Lane's transfer to King's College, Edward R. Quinn, Notre Dame '28, assumed charge and has been Head for the past two years.

In the beginning only veterans had access to Guidance and Testing services but later this procedure was modified to include all students attending the University of Notre Dame.

Freshmen are privileged to undergo certain tests for guidance and placement purposes. These test records are valuable sources of information to faculty members, the student being examined, and to prospective employers. Particularly, executives are most anxious to see test records of potential job applicants.

Besides group testing of incoming first-year men, the department administers "exams" for the Law School Admission Test (quarterly), the Medical School Admission Test (semi-annually), and the Navy Aptitude Tests once each year, and does individual counseling and testing throughout the year.

Individual testing, such as is pictured on these pages, is especially beneficial to students who have encountered scholastic difficulties—primarily because of not knowing their true aptitudes and abilities. The counselor can be very helpful in suggesting methods to overcome various weaknesses.

Even the above-average student—one who has attained excellent scholastic grades—can gain new insight into his potentialities, his vocational or career interests. Usually tests are given in small, private booths under the supervision of an experienced counselor. Silence reigns supreme during the examining period.

As occupational placement is the natural means to an end of a well-conceived guidance program, the department has been very helpful in cooperating with students seeking employment.

Tests, which are shown here, may be the deciding factors in enabling students to choose, wisely, their career.

Vocational interests are a vital part of the objective test record. Here, two students start their testing programs by recording their interests on a pin-punch test.

Student is scheduled for a preliminary interview by Miss Komives, secretary. After being assigned to a counselor, he is subjected to various testing and guidance procedures.

The student inventories personality factors affecting educational and vocational choices with this card-sorting test.

Mr. Quinn, head of the Guidance and Testing Department administers the Wechsler-Bellevue Intelligence Scale to a student in obtaining an accurate analysis of general intelligence.

Tweezer Dexterity test is scored well above average by potential doctors, dentists and others using small instruments.

Mr. Willemin, assistant to department head, administers group achievement test via a carefully timed paper and pencil method.

Both the right and left hands are tested in sampling psychomotor reaction with the Purdue Pegboard of Manipulative Dexterity.

Colored blocks test student's mechanical ability and muscular coordination.

The Miles Vision Test is undertaken by this student in determining ocular control.

Bi-dimensional spatial relations test measures aptitudes possessed by architects, artists and engineers.

Student is informed, during final interview, of results attained in guidance and testing methods.

Notre Dame Books

THE NOTRE DAME STORY, by Francis Wallace, '23, (Rinehart, New York: $2.75)

One of the phenomena in the development of Notre Dame is that no matter how familiar you are with the Notre Dame Story, there is always a thrill in its repetition, always the temptation to tell it.

Frank Wallace, in yielding to this temptation, has done the University his usual good service of a clear-cut, interesting and very constructive narrative, into which is of course woven the ever-fresh personality of Knute Rockne and the teams with which he conquered the football world.

But Frank Wallace, in the deeper channels of his present post as president of Notre Dame's alumni, and in the analyses of the passing years, has gone beyond Rockne and the Saturday significance of Notre Dame, and in a pleasing informative fashion which in no way detracts from the color of his characters has woven into this story the past and the purpose of Notre Dame—both of which, as all Notre Dame men know, mould the men who mould the Notre Dame Story.

The new volume will make interesting reading for every alumnus—it makes interesting and valuable reading for the non-alumnus.

MASCOT MIKE, by Leila Rostiser (Dunne Press, Louisville: $1).

This is a book for small children, but a most pleasing and colorful one. It is the first of a proposed series on popular college mascots. The author has told the story of Clashmore Mike, II, and his colorful career, climaxed by the visit of the Army Mule to the Notre Dame stadium. Frequent illustration is also unusually good for an inexpensive volume. Any children with Notre Dame contacts will find the book one of multiple enjoyment. It can be ordered through the Notre Dame Book Store.

THE CROSS AGAINST THE SKY, by Sister M. Immaculate, C.S.C. (Fides Press, South Bend: $1.50).

Released in the nation's Catholic book stores on Sept. 25 was a colorful new children's volume telling the rich story of Father Basil Moreau, founder of the Congregation of Holy Cross, and one of the great apostles of the nineteenth century.

Written by Sister Mary Immaculate, c.s.c., professor of medieval literature at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, the book contains 132 pages of delightful story, and four-color illustrations by Sister Rose Ellen, c.s.c., of St. Mary's, and Miss Dorothy Young, a commercial artist of South Bend.

The story appears under the title, The Cross Against the Sky, and is to be used as a supplementary reader in the Holy Cross grammar schools throughout the year. The book has a regular hard binding and retails for $1.50. It is being published by Fides Publishers, of South Bend, a non-profit corporation formed by a group of Notre Dame alumni.

Recently Fides published The Presence of Mary, by Francis Charnot, S.J., in a translation by Sister Mary Agnese Prendergast, of the Sisters of Providence, who received her M.A. at Notre Dame in 1946. This book, by a well-known French Catholic Action chaplain, explains Our Lady's role in the lay apostolate, and is available in most Catholic book shops. In a cloth edition retails for $2.50, and for $1.50 in a paper covered edition.

Foundation Progress Keyed by Alumni

The Science Building project for 1949, to be successful, requires an additional $1,000,000 by December 31 (as this is written on September 8).

Offhand it looks discouraging. Especially when it is accompanied by the fact that alumni participation is 5,110 donors for 1949 as against the 1948 higher figure on the same date of 6,014.

BUT—on this date our total giving record is double that of the same date in either 1948 or 1947.

AND—the alumni average gift for 1949 is almost double that of 1948; $39.22 for 1949 as against $21.76 in 1948 and $16.38 in 1947.

AND—the University and the Foundation Office are well aware and deeply appreciative of the alumni efforts in the Foundation field organization, which is reflecting itself in substantial increase of non-alumni participation.

In 1948, the total number of non-alumni contributors was 691. At this writing, 591 non-alumni have already contributed, and their contributions total $185,245.21 as against the 1948 figure on the same date of only $55,796.10.

NEEDED—GIVE and GET

In the light of the above, two projects are obviously in the hands of alumni if the ensuing quarter is to see the successful completion of this urgent first step in the Foundation program (and if the present ratio of gifts is preserved, success will result):

1. Contributions, in any amount, from the 66 percent of our alumni who have not yet contributed. (Dartmouth has already reported a 64 percent participation this year. You remember we were national champions in this field in 1947.) If you can't send the larger gift you hope or hoped to send, drop a dollar or two in the mail to boost the participation figure. This is not only encouraging to all alumni, but is the most powerful argument in the solicitation of outside giving.

2. Interest someone else in making a gift. If each alumnus would undertake to secure just one non-alumni gift, the multiplication of our friends contributing would be astonishing. The Foundation has sent to all non-contributing alumni suggestions for possible contacts in this connection.

PATTERN SOUND

Our Foundation program is sound. Evidence from many and divergent fund-raising efforts indicates that our aims and our methods are right.

The purpose is indisputable. Every "pattern for education" which appears—and the crisis in education in America brings them out frequently—emphasizes that Notre Dame has the broad approach to sound education on the basis of moral responsibility which is now being recommended for American education generally.

With your interest and effort, the Foundation program for Notre Dame will succeed.

Lead in Relief Campaign

Notre Dame, with a student contribution of $26,181, led America's Catholic colleges for the second straight year in raising funds for the Student Relief Campaign, sponsored by the National Federation of Catholic College students. Last year Notre Dame students submitted $31,275 to the campaign.

The total raised throughout the country, for physical, spiritual, and intellectual relief of fellow students in war-devastated countries, amounted to $386,901, with 174 American Catholic colleges participating. Relief materials purchased with the proceeds are now being distributed to students in need in 11 foreign countries.

Campus personnel for the 1948-49 relief drive were Jack Dempsey of Philadelphia, chairman, Leo J. Condon of Dayton, O., publicity chairman, and John Moorhead, of Atlantic City, N. J., carnival chairman. The amount was raised on the campus through sponsorship of football victory dances, door-to-door canvasses, clothing drives, and an all-campus carnival, which featured two automobiles as grand prizes.

Following Notre Dame in total contributions were the University of Detroit, $19,000, and DePaul University of Chicago, $8,300.

Father Lauck Honors

A piece of sculpture by Rev. Anthony J. Lauck, C.S.C., '42, was in August purchased by the Committee on Selection, Fairmount Park Art Association, Philadelphia Museum of Art. Called "St. John Beside the Cross" and done in black walnut, the piece will eventually be placed in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, but is now on exhibit in the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

Father Lauck's work was one of seven purchased by the Fairmount Park Art Association from the Third Sculpture International, conducted in Philadelphia from May 15 to Sept. 11. (See ALUMNUS, July-August, 1949). Of the seven (out of a total of 253 entries in the International) four were done by American sculptors and three by Europeans. Purchases were made from a fund of $20,000 allocated by the association for the purpose.

Father Lauck sailed for Rome on Sept. 15 and will spend six months in the art centers of Europe.

Alumni Golf Tournament

The Alumni Office ticker tape has finally caught up on the latest quotations and can now report the winning scores registered for the highly successful golf tournament conducted as part of the Alumni Reunion last June.

Dan Sheedy, '39, with a score of 76, took the trophy for low gross. Other winners were: Gene Mayl, '24, blind bogey (74); Tom Bremer, '44, high gross (136); Lew Crego, '34, most strokes on one hole (12); Bob Phelan, '23, least number of putts (27); Harry Lavery, '44, highest number of strokes on any nine holes, (72); Hugh McManigal, '29, strongest throwing arm out of the sand traps; Rev. Louis Thornton, C.S.C., '29, most cheating on 18 holes without being caught.

Hugh Burns, '39, head trainer in the Athletic Department, was the general chairman for the alumni golf tournament this year and has promised a repeat performance for the 1950 reunion. Improvements, embellishments and innovations will make the tournament even better, and certainly bigger, on June 9 and 10, Mr. Burns declares. If any alumnus, particularly a member of a 1950 reunion class, wishes to provide a tournament prize—well, Mr. Burns readily offers his arm for twisting.

Two hundred forty eight participated in the 1949 reunion tournament. That number, it can safely be predicted, will be up to 400 next June.

Hoosier History by Band

The history of Indiana will be portrayed by the Notre Dame Band during the half-times of the four home football games of 1949. Each game will feature a different chapter of Indiana history and the season's production is entitled "Our Hoosier Heritage." Directed for the eighth year by H. Lee Hope, the band of 103 members had to get off to a fast start in order to be ready for the Indiana game on Sept. 24.

Prominent in the ceremonies at Cedar Point were, from the left, Ed Krause, Jack Elder, Bill Cerney, Gus Dorais, Don Miller, Chet Grant, Jack Cannon, Walter Miller and Stan Cofall.

At Cedar Point on Lake Erie . . . .

Rockne Plaque Is Dedicated

The beach at Cedar Point, on Lake Erie in Ohio, where during the summer of 1913 the late Knute K. Rockne along with Charles E. (Gus) Dorais developed the forward pass, was marked with a bronze plaque on Sept. 1 by the Notre Dame Club of Cleveland.

Football stars of other years were prominent in the crowd of 400 which attended the ceremonies surrounding the dedication of the plaque. Among these were Athletic Director Edward W. (Moose) Krause, Don Miller of the Four Horsemen, who was general chairman of the dedication, Gus Dorais, Alumni Director Jack Elder, Bill Cerney, Chet Grant, Jack Cannon, Walter Miller and Stan Cofall.

The inscription on the plaque reads: "To Knute Rockne—In grateful memory of the man whose standards of fair play are an immortal inspiration to the youth of America and whose many contributions to the great sport of football will never be forgotten. He developed the forward pass on this strip of beach."

Rev. Michael L. Moriarty of Cleveland gave the plaque-dedication address, setting out Rockne as the "go-giver." Gus Dorais recalled incidents of the 1913 summer at Cedar Point and of the 1913 Army-Notre Dame game. Ed Krause, representing the University, emphasized the contribution made by Rockne to youth, and Don Miller dwelt on Rockne, the psychologist.

Robert Stack, president of the Notre Dame Club of Cleveland, presided at the ceremonies. Rev. Edward Seward, chaplain of the Cleveland Club, offered the opening prayer and Rt. Rev. Msgr. Maurice F. Griffin, '04, also of Cleveland, gave the benediction.

The Notre Dame Club of Sandusky sponsored a dinner for a hundred guests in the Breakers Hotel, Cedar Point, immediately after the dedication. The hotel featured a display of pictures and clippings to commemorate Rockne's life.

This is the plaque which the Cleveland Club dedicated at Cedar Point in Ohio.

"A Real Notre Dame Man" . . .

Tommy Sexton Joins Toledo Club

By M. R. KOPF, '48

They dubbed him Tommy "Notre Dame" Sexton at Warm Springs, Georgia, and it was a nickname well taken. Young Tommy, who has been paralyzed with polio for the past five years, is known to many a Notre Dame man, if not personally then through the pages of the ALUMNUS and many other publications.

Just before Tommy returned from a seven months' stay at the Warm Springs Foundation to his home in Toledo he received a letter from John R. Malone, president of the Notre Dame Club of Toledo, making him an honorary member of the club in recognition of intense loyalty to Notre Dame and broad interest in her activities.

This was just another step in a series of achievements that have linked Tommy to Notre Dame ever closer over the past years. He has been an Irish fan as long as he can remember, but his interest was quickened after a bed-side visit from head football coach, Frank Leahy, in 1946, at the time of his eighteenth birthday. Since then he has received visits from countless other Notre Dame men. Tommy has scrapbooks full of Notre Dame lore.

One of the latest tributes paid this smiling patron of Our Lady's school was a 150-mile special trip made by H. Lee Hope and the Notre Dame Band last Easter. The band traveled from Atlanta to Warm Springs to play for Tommy and the more than 150 other Warm Springs' patients — but especially for Tommy.

One of his closest friends at the Foundation, Tommy reported, was Jack Joyce, '41, who was recently afflicted with polio and who has since returned to his home in Spartanburg, S. C.

Tommy will be staying in a Toledo hospital now but plans to be home every weekend to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Sexton, 2627 Meadow Wood Drive, and to watch the Notre Dame football games on the television set.

Next January Tommy goes back to Warm Springs for a "reevaluation." At that time his signs of progress and his braces will be carefully checked by the Foundation staff. Some new types of mechanical aids may be developed for Tommy and perhaps, as in the past, Tommy may be the author of some of these improvements himself. During his last stay in Georgia, he discovered several helpful semi-automatic feeding devices.

In the meantime Tommy is faithfully practicing his exercises — and praying — and, as ever, smiling. It is no wonder that in giving him formal notice of his election to the N.D. Club of Toledo, John Malone wrote, "The Notre Dame Alumni in the Toledo area, in recognition of your intense loyalty to Notre Dame and your broad interest in her activities, have elected to make you an honorary member of the Notre Dame Club of Toledo. As a member of the Club you will be included in the official directory and will be invited to participate in all Club activities when it is possible for you to do so.

"The Toledo Alumni also want to express their admiration for your genuine Catholicity and cheerful spirit, and most importantly for the truly Christian courage you have displayed during these past five years of illness. Most certainly, you merit the distinction of being called a real Notre Dame Man, for your life is a magnificent example of that which Notre Dame is striving to develop in America's young men through her educational and religious programs.

"We realize that our help must be of a spiritual nature and are therefore requesting that the Toledo alumni, as well as Notre Dame men throughout the country, direct a special prayer to Notre Dame, Our Lady, that She may see fit to procure for you a speedy and complete recovery."

Dedicate Yearbook to Alumni

The ALUMNUS is happy to note with gratitude the dedication of the 1949 Dome, fortieth volume in the series which began in 1906, when the late Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, c.s.c., former president of the University, was the first editor-in-chief. The dedication for this year reads:

"Because the success of any University depends upon them, and because they have contributed so much in so many ways to the well-being of the student and the school, we dedicate this fortieth volume of the Dome to the alumni of the University of Notre Dame, those thousands of men from all over the world who have gone before us to make the world a better place in which to live. Whatever their station in life may be, they have taken the name of Our Lady with them, and they have carefully laid the groundwork for our success in life. With this dedication we send a prayer asking God to bless them and keep them; we thank them for contributing so much to the University of which we have had the opportunity of becoming a part."

Richard D. Cullen, '50, Kearney, Nebr., was editor-in-chief of the 1949 Dome, Robert J. Savage, '51, Streator, Ill., was managing editor and Robert Surkamp, '49, St. Louis, was business manager.

Chet Grant on Football

"Under the Hat with Chet Grant" is a new football information service provided for alumni and other friends of Notre Dame by Chet Grant, '21, former assistant coach at Notre Dame and onetime sports editor of the late South Bend News-Times. Out of his football background as Notre Dame player in 1916, 1920 and 1921, coach for seven years under Elmer Layden, and writer, Chet is supplying 12 letters per football season to his readers. For a sample copy and other pertinent information, address D. C. Grant, 221 Tonti Ave., South Bend, Ind.

Tommy Sexton is made an honorary member of the Notre Dame Club of Toledo. From the left, standing: Leo B. English, '35, President John R. Malone, '42, M. Robert Kopf, '48, James J. Malone, '44, and Karl M. Syring, '35.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

The Irish of Notre Dame are at it again. The Tripuckas, Fischers, Wendells, Walshs, et al., are gone, but not the Harts, Martins, Sitkos, Gays and the rest of their 1949 counterparts. And the net result at this writing is that Coach Frank Leahy's football teams now have gone 29 consecutive games without defeat.

Nearly 54,000 fans sat in on the Blue and Gold season-opener, many of them there to see what effect the loss of so many grid greats would be on this year's edition of the Fighting Irish. They saw a scrapping, but young, Indiana University eleven scare the daylight out of heavily favored Notre Dame in the first half, only to tire badly as the Irishbacks went marching by in the second half.

Notre Dame beat Indiana, 49 to 6, but not without a struggle. Indiana's sophomores wilted in the second half, after the Irish held only a 16 to 6 margin at the intermission. What would have happened had the Leahymen been playing a more seasoned opponent is problematical. But the Hoosier contest did provide material for conjecture. Let's throw a few up for grabs:

Co-Capt. Leon Hart is going to be on nearly everyone's All-American team this year. Perhaps, as Alumni Association President Francis Wallace wrote in a pre-season story in Collier's, he may rank as the "Line-man of the Year." At any rate, Indiana's ball carriers shied away from Hart's end all afternoon.

The other co-captain, Jim Martin, probably will continue to be the most underrated member of the Notre Dame team. Martin, converted this year to left tackle from his regular left end post, has taken to his new position well. Martin should prove to be a tower of strength on the left side of the Irish line.

It looks now, barring injury to either, as though Bill Wightkin and Bill Flynn will divide the Irish left end duties. Although neither is as rugged as Hart, both are former monogram winners and play an aggressive brand of ball.

It may be a long time before another pair of guards appear on the scene who will make Notre Dame fans forget Marty Wendell and Bill Fischer of last year's ball club. If many injuries turn up at this position, guard could be the weak link of the Irish team. One such injury did plague the guards through pre-season drills and the Indiana game, as Frank "Rodney" Johnson was sidelined with a leg injury. Sophomore Paul Burns, Bob Lally and Fred Wallner shouldered most of the guard burdens against the Hoosiers. Whether they will hold up against more rugged opposition remains to be seen.

Perhaps the outstanding lineman on the field in the Indiana game was a sophomore named Bob Toneff. Toneff, 235-pound husky, was underneath almost every defensive play while he was in the game. And on three different occasions he blocked Indiana punts, one resulting in a safety, while the other two set up Irish touchdowns. Remember the name of Toneff. Before three years are up, he could go down in the books as one of Notre Dame's all-time greats.

The center position is well taken care of in the Irish lineup, barring injury. Walt Grothaus and Gerry Groom, the latter one of the best in the nation in a line-backer capacity, probably will see most action in the center of the line. Behind this pair is sophomore talent, lacking in experience.

The big question in the Notre Dame backfield is "How will Bob Williams come through as the No. 1 Irish quarterback?" The answer, at least on the basis of the Indiana game, is that Williams calls a good game from his quarterback position, but still needs improvement in his passing game. Bob has a tendency to "lead" his receiver a little too much, but this could be corrected as the season progresses. One must remember that the Indiana game was the first for Williams as a starter.

Even Coach Frank Leahy admits that the remainder of the Irish backfield leaves little to be desired. Emil "Six Yard" Sitko, switched to fullback this year from his regular right half position, continues to be the Irish back who can pick up those needed four, five, or six needed yards in a tight spot.

BASKETBALL

Renewal of three old-time series will feature a strong twenty-four game schedule for the 1949-50 Notre Dame basketball team, according to an announcement by Edward W. (Moose) Krause, Irish athletic director and head basketball coach.

Opponents who will return to the Notre Dame hardwood schedule include Creighton, back after a lapse since 1927; Loyola of Chicago, last met in 1925; and John Carroll, who last played Notre Dame in 1940.

Feature of the nine-game home schedule will be a visit on Jan. 23 of the powerful Kentucky Wildcats, last year's national champions. St. Louis University's high-flying Billikens also will play in the Irish baliwik on Feb. 11.

Three holdovers from last year's varsity squad are expected to form the nucleus for the current Notre Dame basketball team. They are guard Kevin O'Shea, of San Francisco; center John Foley, of Worcester, Mass.; and forward Marty O'Connor, of Kewanee, Ill. Coach Krause will badly feel the loss through graduation of such veteran stalwarts as guard Paul Gordon, and forwards Leo Barnhorst and Jimmy O'Halloran.

The complete schedule follows:

- Dec. 8—Creighton at Notre Dame.
- Dec. 13—Wisconsin at Madison.
- Dec. 17—Northwestern at Chicago stadium.
- Dec. 19—Iowa at Notre Dame.
- Dec. 29—Indiana at Indianapolis.
- Dec. 30—Purdue at Indianapolis.
- Jan. 4—Butler at Notre Dame.
- Jan. 7—Michigan State at East Lansing.
- Jan. 11—DePaul at Notre Dame.
- Jan. 13—John Carroll at Cleveland.
- Jan. 14—Canisius at Buffalo, N. Y.
- Jan. 18—Michigan State at Notre Dame.
- Jan. 23—Kentucky at Notre Dame.
- Jan. 28—Northwestern at Chicago stadium.
- Jan. 31—Butler at Indianapolis.
- Feb. 4—Marquette at Notre Dame.
- Feb. 7—Loyola U. at Chicago stadium.
- Feb. 11—St. Louis at St. Louis.
- Feb. 14—Loyola at Notre Dame.
- Feb. 18—DePaul at Chicago stadium.
- Feb. 23—St. Louis at Notre Dame.
- Feb. 25—U. S. Naval Acad. at Annapolis.
- Feb. 27—New York U. at New York.
- Mar. 4—Marquette at Milwaukee, Wis.

Shannon View Mike I, new Notre Dame mascot, meets Jim Martin, co-captain and tackle of the 1949 team. The dog, third of the Irish terrier mascots since 1935, is the gift of James McGarraghy, Chicago businessman and Notre Dame enthusiast. Clashmore Mike I served from 1935 until his death in 1945. Clashmore Mike II, also the gift of Jim McGarraghy, joined the team in 1945 but disappeared on the eve of the Navy-Notre Dame game last fall.

ALUMNI CLUBS

Baltimore

The club and the University have reason to feel equally proud of the appointment of HAL WILLIAMS, '38, as foreign correspondent for the Baltimore "Sun" in Germany. It will be Hal's job to report "on the scene" developments of Germany's political and social recovery. Hal was formerly editor of the "Sunday Sun" photogravure magazine.

Also leaving Baltimore for a short time is LOU O'SHEA who is in New York as a member of the staff of one of the large pharmaceutical houses. Lou was formerly assistant sales manager of the Emerson Drug Company, Baltimore.

The wheels are once again being set in motion to show Baltimore another gala weekend for the Navy-Notre Dame Game. Plans for the Rally at the Emerson Hotel, team and club headquarters, Friday, Oct. 28 are in the hands of a committee headed by ED SPORL. Assisting Ed will be FRANK HOCHREITER, radio, press, and television; FELIX MELLODY, decorations; BRICE SMITH, reservations; FRANK O'CONNELL, Rally tickets; GIL PENDERGAST, game tickets. As in previous years the notables of sport, radio, and press will be present.

Saturday, after the game, there will be a Victory Cocktail Party in the ballroom of the Emerson Hotel. Heading the committee in charge of this event is JIM MURRAY.

Boston

There have been some major changes down at Stonehill College at North Easton. REV. FRANCIS J. BOLAND, C.S.C., has become the new president while REV. LEO F. FLOOD, C.S.C., joins him as vice-president. We wish to extend congratulations together with the heartiest welcome of the Boston Club to the new officials of the college. We were very pleased to learn that we would not be losing the REV. GEORGE F. BENAGLIA, C.S.C. Father Benaglia's many good friends in the Boston area will be glad to know that he is continuing at North

Easton devoting his entire time to conducting the Seminary.

AL BIRMINGHAM missed the 25-year reunion of his class at school due to illness but we understand that he is on the road to recovery now. We were also glad to hear that JIM DOOLEY, one of our strongest supporters, is also a convalescent after having been seriously ill.

Many of the members are familiar with the fact that JOHN BRESNAHAN was doing all he could to assist Mr. TAYLOR, the blind veteran who graduated from Notre Dame last year. John has been successful in having Mr. Taylor join the State Bureau dealing with the blind. The energy and industry that Taylor has displayed so far should be a great asset to the State Bureau.

We thought a Notre Dame community would begin to develop in Newtonville when President MORAN moved out two doors from JOHN HERBERT. Now John Herbert becomes a land owner in Needham where he and the bank have bought a new home.

JACK NYE DUFFEY.

Buffalo

Top Notre Dame recent activity in the Buffalo area is reported by the new Wives Club of Notre Dame alumni of Buffalo. MRS. EDWARD T. FLANIGAN is president of the feminine group, which in the summer had two meetings, a square dance and a family picnic. From the proceeds of the dance, the wives sent $18.75 to the Notre Dame Foundation for the purchase of a savings bond.

Cleveland

The annual picnic was held at Gilmour Academy on Sunday, July 24. The event was a big success. Coffee, pop, 30 cases of beer, and everything else disappeared. A fine job was done by ED MURRAY, chairman, VIC GULYASSY and others who helped.

The annual Golf Party was held at Sleepy Hollow

Country Club on Aug. 19. An enjoyable round of golf was followed by dinner. CREIGHTON MILLER was chairman. Thirty prizes were awarded and the winner of the trophy for the lowest round of golf was LARRY KRAL.

The Scholarship Award for the coming school year was made by the committee to CHARLES NOLL, a recent graduate of Benedictine High School. CLAYTON LEROUX, chairman, THOMAS F. BYRNE, BOB DOWD, and JOE BREIG deserve a note of thanks. The club looks forward to great things from the winner.

At a recent meeting of club officers at Rohr's Restaurant, FRANK PAYNE was appointed permanent corresponding secretary of the club.

The annual Summer Dance was held Aug. 27 at Manakiki Country Club. RAY T. MILLER, JR., BOB LALLY and DICK MAIER comprised the committee, assisted by Mrs. Pat Canny and Bob Dowd.

WILLIAM H. GRIFFY.

Central New York

JIM HUXFORD played host to about thirty club members at the Skaneateles Country Club. Jim copped the hole in one prize and the secret score, while BILL KELLEY (Paul W., JR.) '42, on leave from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, won honors for low gross. Roast beef dinner was on the agenda and all had a very enjoyable swim in beautiful Skaneateles Lake after the golf game. Everyone was elated over the elevation of REV. THEODORE H. HESBURGH, C.S.C., Syracuse resident, to the office of executive vice-president and a letter expressing wishes for success was dispatched from Skaneateles.

In the additions to family dept.: BOB GAFFNEY, '49, and wife, Kay,—a girl. Congratulations! Same to TOM SNYDER on graduation from Syracuse College of Medicine.

JACK McAULIFFE, DAN KELLEY, BOB McAULIFFE, LEO KELLEY, GEORGE KINNEY, and JACK TERRY attended the second annual golf-dinner of the Central New York Catholic Intercollegiate Alumni Association at the Syracuse Yacht and Country Club. Plans were made for a fall Communion Breakfast. Representatives from 12 Catholic Colleges attended. John Terry was elected treasurer of the unit.

The wives of alumni in Buffalo, N. Y., have formed a wives' club, conducted two meetings, named a president and sponsored a square dance and a family picnic. Above you'll find the delightful evidence of the picnic. The group plans increased activities.

A reminder to all club members to turn their ticket stubs and returns in by Nov. 3. The drawing will be held at the Liederkranz Club in Syracuse with the officers and board of directors present.

BOB McAULIFFE is running this ticket activity, assisted by PHIL KELLY, '50. JACK MULDERIG is giving a lot of help too. JIM WHITE, captain of the New York football Giants, was the feature at a kick-off luncheon on Aug. 24 when books were distributed.

JOHN H. TERRY.

Detroit

The club had its annual golf party on July 21 at Bonnie Brook Golf Club. TOM SHEEHAN was chairman, assisted by DAN HENRY on publicity, MARV MARTIN for prizes and BERT BAUR for general council. Seventy five were present.

We were pleased to have as our guests FATHER ROBERT H. SWEENEY and BOB CAHILL from Notre Dame, and FATHER JOHN DUPUIS who is teaching philosophy at King's College, and who during the summer helped out at St. Theresa's Parish in Detroit. The luck of the Irish was with Father Sweeney and Bob Cahill because they both walked away with prizes. Marv Martin shot a 72 which kept him happy all evening.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation by our club of a check for $500 to the Notre Dame Foundation for the new Science Building.

Our annual football trip will be to Notre Dame on October 15 for the Tulane game, and we expect to have 1,000 with us from Detroit that day. LOUIS P. MALONE is chairman of the football trip.

MAL KNAUS.

Fort Wayne

The summer news of the club centered around the annual summer party that was held out at ED WESNER'S farm. A gratifying turnout of around 75 attended and all joined in the fun. The old grads including ROBERT GORDON, FRED SCHOPPMAN, ED BAKER and JIM FOOEY showed their talents in a softball game. They were battling against the slants of REV. STANLEY MANOSKI who claims membership in the club by virtue of attending summer school at Notre Dame. DICK SCHEELE and BOB KEARNEY were the general chairmen for the event and did a splendid job.

BARNEY BANNON, a former South Bend stalwart, is now working at the Great Lakes Distributing Co., Fort Wayne division, and has become an active member of our club.

ED DISSER has been named general chairman of the Fort Wayne Horse Show which is run off for charity.

ED. HOCH became the proud father of a bouncing baby boy. Ed has two girls.

The next event is a bazaar to be held in the fall at the William S. O'Rourke estate.

BYRON HAYES.

Ft. Smith, Arkansas

RAYMOND A. MARRE, '37, is president of the newly-organized Notre Dame club in Ft. Smith, with DUVAL JOHNSTON, '37, as vice-president, DAVID JOHNSTON, '43, as secretary and HUGH CORRELL, '38, as treasurer.

The small but dynamic group got off to a whirlwind start on Aug. 3 when FRANK LEAHY, head football coach at Notre Dame, John Barnhill, head coach of the University of Arkansas, and BERNIE WITUCKI, of the football staff at the University of Tulsa, traveled from a coaching clinic at Hot Springs, Ark., to attend a buffet-smoker and party sponsored by the club for an overflow crowd. All three spoke, with Leahy and Barnhill answering many questions from the floor. President Marre presided.

Greater Miami

The club welcomed 40 NROTC students from Notre Dame to its meeting on July 13. In Miami on the U.S.S. Cabot for two days, they reached the Downtown Club in time to join the session.

Sixty-one alumni, wives and children attended the club picnic at Crandon Park on July 24. Alumni present for the highly successful event included: JULES BERCIK, GEORGE BRAUTIGAM, JERRY HOLLAND, HERB NADEAU, FRED JONES, BILL NAGENGAST, FARIS COWART, I. I. PROBST, FRED PIOWATY, BERNARD GOOD, JERRY OUELETTE, PETE SHEEHAN, TOM CARROLL, HOWARD KORTH, ROBERT MOSHER, and BILL McSHANE.

On Aug. 3 plans were made for the disposal of a RCA television set, with half the profits to go to the Foundation and half to the club. The credit for the project goes to WALTER ROWLANDS. Plans were also made for the television reception of Notre Dame games at club football parties this fall. I. I. Probst is in charge.

Faris Cowart had a part in "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," staged by the Coral Gables Club.

FRED JONES.

Kansas City

Mr. and Mrs. FRANK E. DUGAN, JR., were killed in an automobile accident near Princeton, Ill., on July 2. Frank was a member of the class of '44. His wife was the former Elizabeth Cole, a sister of WILLIAM N. COLE of the class of '35.

Coach Frank Leahy helped launch the new Ft. Smith, Ark., club when, on Aug. 3 he spoke at a club gathering. From the left are: Leahy, Raymond Marre, president of the club, and Coach John Barnhill of the University of Arkansas. Bernie Witucki, a coach at the University of Tulsa, was another speaker.

She was also a cousin of JOHN, GEORGE, and JOSEPH COLE, all alumni of Notre Dame. The couple were survived by two daughters. In addition Frank is survived by his parents, one brother, and four sisters; and Elizabeth is survived by her mother and brother.

The club held its annual picnic on Aug. 6. The alumni indulged in horseshoe pitching and baseball, while their wives and friends played croquet and talked. The only casualty of the evening (except the usual sore muscles) occurred when JOE STEWART was bitten by a donkey while playing center field. The following were present: ED McGRATH, DR. D. M. NIGRO, GERRY SMITH, JOE STEWART, JIM HIGGINS, NORMAN BOWES, BILL COLE, BILL MURRAY, BOB PENDERGAST, DR. JIM DOWNEY, ED REARDON, BARNEY QUIRK, GENE MURRAY, TOM REARDON, DR. AL NIGRO, BILL DUNN, BILL McLEESE, FRANK GRIMALDI, FRANK TOYNE, JIM CLEMENS, BERNARD FINUCANE, JOE VANDYKE, EDDIE O'CONNOR, DAVE CROOKS, LARRY LYNCH, MARTIN SILADY, and JOE STEWART, JR.

BOB PENDERGAST.

La Crosse, Wisconsin

AUGUST M. GRAMS, '28, is president of the club, JOSEPH W. MURPHY is vice-president, and DAVID F. HYDE, '40, is secretary-treasurer. The club has this year given $50 to the Notre Dame Foundation.

Michigan City

The second annual "Irish Greens Party" was held at the Long Beach Country Club on July 27. Two hundred and nineteen attended, including Vice-President REV. JOHN H. MURPHY, C.S.C., Athletic Director MOOSE KRAUSE and the coaching staff, GEORGE CONNOR of the Chicago Bears and ELMER ANGSMAN of the Chicago Cardinals. Chairman was HUGHIE BURNS.

Eighty-one prizes were distributed by President FRANCIS FEDDER. Secretary JOHN DONNELLY reports no one injured and no one lost on course. The club plans to accommodate three hundred at its golf party next year.

The club is sponsoring a trip from Michigan City to the Purdue game in West Lafayette on Oct. 1. Proceeds will go to the Notre Dame Foundation.

Monongahela Valley (Pa.)

Three meetings since last publication: Devlin's, Mary Mount and George Martinet's. The club has provided baseball trophies for the winners and runners up of the Mon Valley Catholic Youth League and presented them at the league banquet held in Charleroi.

JIM RUSSELL, Donora high coach, was selected head coach of one of the all-star teams playing under the Dapper Dan auspices at Forbes Field, Aug. 23. DR. MATT WARD and LOU APONE are entertaining the club members and their family at Apone's farm, Sept. 18. (Annual corn roast).

The club will hold a day of recollection for members and guests at Mary Mount late in October. A definite campaign is to be launched to aid the Foundation by chairman DEAN. PALUSO, BLACK, APONE, WARD, ROLMAN, MONTGOMERY, DEVLIN and WELSH are on football ticket committee to aid the Foundation fund.

New Jersey

The club has its program set up for the year as follows: Sept. 7, Freshman Welcome; Oct. 24, Football Rally and Raffle; Dec. 11, Universal Notre Dame Communion Sunday; a winter meeting in February; April 17, Universal Notre Dame Night; club election in May; and a picnic in June.

CLARK REYNOLDS, treasurer, sent all members a club financial report on Aug. 30, showing a cash balance as of Aug. 1 of $485.28.

New York City

A Golf Day was held Aug. 23 at the Leewood Country Club, Tuckahoe and, although attendance was small, enthusiasm was high for making this a regular event in future summer programs. RAY BUSHEY had the best score. FRANK CONFORTI, JACK HOYT, and TOM LANTRY are to be congratulated for their fine job in promoting the affair.

An innovation for the club was the Pre-School Dance and Reception to be held Sept. 9 in the Hotel Commodore as a means of welcoming the freshmen and other undergraduates before the fall term began. President MURRAY of the Met Club gave the freshmen a "briefing" on campus life. Music was by FRANK WALTHER, '25, and his orchestra.

Plans for the rail trip to the Navy game in Baltimore are developing and will be announced to the membership shortly. CHARLES McCAULEY is chairman.

TIERNEY O'ROURKE is adding a new note to the North Carolina game weekend by announcing a Reception to be held Nov. 12, after the game, from 5 to 7:30 in the Ninth Floor Lounge of the New York Athletic Club. It is felt this reception will fill a long felt need for an activity after the game. Admission will be $1.00, including tax, at the door or by writing JOHN A. HOYT, JR., Room 620, 342 Madison Avenue, New York.

Tierney and MARTIN CALLAGY, chairmen of the Rally on Nov. 11 at the Biltmore, announce completion of their plans. Entertainment will be under the sponsorship of Ed Sullivan, famed columnist and television MC, and music by Frank Walther. Admission is $6 per person, including tax, and tickets may be obtained from Jack Hoyt at the address given above.

BOB HAMILTON announces the start of his annual Trust Fund Drive which will culminate with the announcement of North Carolina game ticket winners on Nov. 9 at the Hotel Biltmore. With the game already sold out it seems likely that the drive will be a big success because it offers an opportunity for at least a chance at a pair of tickets. Bob also announced the selection of two more scholarship winners who will begin at school in September.

The report of club activities in the May-June issue of the ALUMNUS failed to state that the Glee Club concert was independently sponsored by a group of club members led by JOHN BALFE and LARRY MADIGAN.

Northern California

As soon as we received word of RALPH HAVILAND'S death, we made arrangements for the recitation of the Rosary at his wake, and at Mrs. Haviland's request, we arranged for six pallbearers. Many members appeared for the recitation of the rosary as well as for the Mass the next day. The pallbearers were: BILL DALY, PAUL CUSHING, KEENE FITZPATRICK, BILL YORE, GEORGE THOMAS, and DON ALLEN. In addition to this, we arranged to have a Mass said for Ralph.

On June 23 we had another meeting of the club in San Francisco. There was a large turnout and it proved to be a very successful evening. Honored guests included PAT O'DEA, former coach at Notre Dame in 1900-01; JIM WASSON, '13, and PAUL SMITHERS, '15.

Pat O'Dea was particularly entertaining as he modestly told of the early days of football when the kicking played such an important role. In his own inimitable style he told how he nonchalantly stepped back and drop-kicked the ball, or as he said, "pasted it through the uprights" some 57 yards away. Or another time, on an attempted run when he was rushed by the opponents, he again nonchalantly "pasted it through the uprights," this time only some 50 yards away.

Jim Wasson and Paul Smithers, both early track stars for the University, told of their experiences and what enjoyment they received while at Notre Dame. It was Jim Wasson's son who took the enclosed photographs.

SLIP MADIGAN served as master of ceremonies and did an excellent job. The arrangements for the meeting were very ably handled by BILL DALY, our vice-president; PAUL CUSHING; DICK FUITTE; and KEENE FITZPATRICK.

The present students at Notre Dame who come from this area were also very well represented. JACK NEUMAYR was accompanied by his father, Dr. George Neumayr, and BOB HUNTER was accompanied by his father, Bob Hunter, who proved an angel in assisting for the projection of the football highlights of the 1948 season. All the members who attended were very greatly impressed with the movies and asked that I express their appreciation for the University's sending the movies to us.

DON ALLEN.

North Florida

The club held the regular monthly meeting at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Jacksonville at the Officers' Club. It was well attended by all the club members and their wives. There was a cocktail party, dinner and entertainment after the dinner. A soft shoe dance put on by FRED RAHAIM and ED DURKIN with Mrs. Durkin at the piano was a knockout. HARRY FROMME sang.

The following officers were elected: president, JOHN F. LANAHAN; vice-president, NED FISHWICK; secretary and treasurer, GEORGE P. COYLE. Board of directors: LESTER FOLEY, TED TWOMEY and ED DURKIN.

GEO. P. COYLE.

Oregon

With the Pendleton Round-Up getting under way about the time the ALUMNUS goes to press, let's round-up some of the local gang and find out what they are doing. We have corralled only about half the herd, but the rest will be in before the winter.

Fitting it is that DR. WILLIAM A. SHEA, '02, should lead the parade, vigorous and respected leader in his profession that he is. Judge FRANK J. LONERGAN, '04, recently toastmastered the opening luncheon of the national K. of C. convention here in the City of Roses. DOM CALICRATE, '08, carries the ball in public relations for the Foster & Kleiser outdoor advertising company (paid adv.) with all the class he quarterbacked the 1937 varsity. Foundation Governor BILL SCHMITT, '10, is a local steel man. Associated with him is EUGENE R. SCHMITT, '26.

GEORGE W. PHILBROOK, '12, is a leading sports figure and gets his bread as a special agent for Travelers Insurance. Looking in on us occasionally from across the Columbia River, BILL CLEAVER, '14, is title officer and v-p. of an abstract outfit. Partner in one of Oregon's best known road-building outfits is MORRISON A. CONWAY, '14, of Cascade Construction. Recovered from a recent minor operation, HUGH V. LACEY, '16, is back at his v-p. desk at Phil Grossmayer Co.,—(yes, insurance again!). REV. FRANCIS P. GOODALL, C.S.C., '20, has just left us for parish work in South Bend. Father Goodall was always a gracious host at University of Portland along with REV. THEODORE J. MEHLING, C.S.C., whose reappointment as president we hail. Father MEHLING has made an outstanding record in his first term as leader of the fastest growing school in Oregon. "The Oregonian" recently editorialized on his contributions to education in this state.

AR. BUINE, '21, is local manager for F. Matern Mfg. Co., dealers in x-ray and electrical medical equipment. JIM CULLIGAN, also of '21, is treasurer of University of Portland. Jim should need some new bookkeeping machines with the expansion going on. CHARLIE HIRSCHBUHL, '22, is set to squire the second of his daughters altarward this month. Pleasant diversion from his duties as president of Monarch Forge & Machinery Co. KARL J. BARR, '23, came up the fifty miles from Salem for U.N.D. Night and brought a couple of friends. Hope to see him again next month, if he can get away from the booming building game. He heads a heating equipment company.

ALBERT M. (Duke) HODLER, '23, is sparking our finance committee and putting the treasury back on its feet. IVAN C. SHARP, also '23, claims to be retired but seems to be very active doing it. L. B. (BARNEY) MACNAB recently took in a partner in a new insurance venture. NORB KAVANAUGH, '26, continues a leading light legally despite severe physical handicaps. Just around the corner from him, DR. RALPH M. PRAG, '26, carries on his huge surgical practice. Ralph is grooming his son, John, for the 1955 fullback job.

THOMAS D. McMAHON, '27, is a barrister of note. ARNOLD B. (Pete) PETERSCHMIDT, '27, is dean of the College of Business Ad. at the University of Portland and our office can vouch for a couple of his products. PHIL BERTHIAUME, '28, should be passed over in silence, despite his outstanding record as regional manager of Bankers Life, because he was chief conspirator in giving me this job as scribe. But even an Irishman gets winded and we'll sign off for now. See you at Seattle. Thar's gold in them thar hills! Come on, you Irish!

TOM MAGEE.

At the K. of C. convention held in Portland, Aug. 15-18, I contacted some of the Notre Dame boys—among the group present were: DR. D. P. NOLAN, '23, of St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Pa.; JOHN ROCAP, '34, of Indianapolis; J. CONROY SCOGGINS, '24, Houston, who was elected a supreme director; and ROBERT E. SULLIVAN, '40, delegate from Indiana and a law professor at Notre Dame.

Bob Sullivan came over to the house and we got the "dope" on the new Law Association now formed. PETE SANDROCK.

Pittsburgh

GENE COYNE and CARL LINK were well rewarded for their efforts when the annual golf outing and dinner turned out to be one of the best parties the club has had in a long time. It was held on July 11 at the Butler Country Club. Forty members and guests played golf. Low net score was turned in by Bob Drum and low gross score by Arnold Palmer of Wake Forest. Other winners were ED FAY, D. Palmer, JACK MURRIN, JACK SHEEDY, W. Turner, BILL ROCKENSTEIN, BILL SCHNEIDER, JACK MCGOVERN, DON FITZPATRICK, BUCK McARDLE, BILL O'BRIEN, Joe McDonough, LARRY O'TOOLE, GENE COYNE, JACK MCSORLEY, BOB WILSON, FATHER VINCE BRENNAN, Ed Kiely, and T. Trainor. Golf balls were awarded as prizes.

Steak and chicken dinners were served to an augmented crowd of 70 members and guests. TIGHE E. WOODS, national housing boss, and Athletic Director ED KRAUSE were special guests.

More than 200 attended the club's Family Picnic at the Lodge in North Park on Aug. 4. It was an all-day affair. Athletic events, contests, games and dancing were all provided for at the Lodge itself, and golf, tennis, and swimming were available elsewhere in the park. From all reports every one had a wonderful time at this affair, the first of its kind for the Club, at least within recent years. Comment indicated that all would like to see it repeated every year.

Notre Dame T-shirts were given free to all youngsters up to 14 years. Candy and peanuts were also provided free as well as all the soft drinks that could be consumed. Delicious picnic dinners were served to adults and children continuously from 4 to 7 P.M. Ice cold beer was available throughout the day. Awards were made to the boys and girls for winning races and games, and ten magnificent door prizes were distributed to the holders of lucky numbers, including an electric toaster, iron, waffle iron, radio, carving set, etc. The evening was climaxed with the grand drawing of the $1,000 prize.

The club is particularly grateful to REGIS LAVELLE, NEIL GALONE, and Gene Coyne who were chiefly responsible for the successful picnic. Special bouquets for hard and effective work should go to JOE DIMATTEO, JOE PAPA, DON MARTIN, BERNIE LYNCH, BOB HAGAN, BILL MARGARRALL, LARRY ENRIGHT, ED McHUGH, LARRY O'TOOLE, JACK MONTEVERDE, BOB KVATSAK, BOB CHAMBERLAIN and GEORGE KINGSLEY.

Several prominent guests were among those present, including FATHER RILEY, assistant editor of "The Catholic Boy."

About two weeks before the picnic a telephone check was made on the club list to promote interest in the picnic and, secondarily, to correct addresses. A word of thanks for a long evening of telephoning should be extended to the teams of Neil Galone and JOHN REARDON, Regis Lavelle and Don Martin, JOHN BRILEY and Jack Monteverde, Gene Coyne and Bob Fulton.—BOB FULTON

Quad Cities

The club held a family picnic at Springbrook Sportsman's Club, DeWitt, Ia., on June 25. The picnic was well attended by 109—including members, their wives, and children, and present students and their families. Those in charge of the picnic were RALPH CORYN, JERRY ARNOLD and RALPH EHR.

Twenty-two wives of Quad City Notre Dame Club members met for luncheon on July 27 at Bogaert's Harms Hotel, Rock Island, Ill. The hostesses were Mesdames EDMUND MEAGHER and FRANCIS T. MCGUIRE, both of Rock Island.

The wives expect to meet once a month for luncheon. Mesdames D. J. HICKEY, III, Davenport, CAMIEL BRACKE, Moline, and JAMES GALLIGAN, Rock Island, were named city chairmen. Those who were not in attendance and who are interested should get in touch with their city chairman.

Mrs. Coryn and Mrs. Bracke, both of Moline, will be hostesses at the next meeting Aug. 31 at the LeClaire Hotel, Moline.

RALPH J. EHR.

The Pittsburgh club with a highly successful golf party and an equally successful family picnic set a fast summer pace. Here is part of the crowd which participated in the golfing festivities.

Rock River Valley (Illinois)

The club's annual stag picnic was held at JOE BITTORF'S lodge, Sterling, Ill., on Aug. 21. The Notre Dame film, "Highlights of the 1948 Football Season", was shown and assorted prizes were distributed, among them an all-expense trip to the Washington-N.D. game in Seattle. Trap shooting, rifle target shooting, softball, horseshoes and speedboat rides on the Rock River were just a few of the added attractions. Seventy-five were present from Sterling, Dixon, Rochelle, Freeport, Rockford, DeKalb, Amboy, Oregon, Ashton and Mendota.

At the picnic plans were discussed to continue the Rock River Valley Notre Dame scholarship each year.

JOHN H. CAHILL.

San Diego

Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated by the club on April 25. We had two 15-minute broadcasts over two local radio stations. Participants were in addition to myself UGO ROSSI, JACK McCLAREN, WALTER STEFFAN, JAMES E. BARRETT, FRED LOWER, EMMETT McCABE and FRED STEBBINS. The theme of the broadcasts was the scientific achievements at Notre Dame and both programs were keyed to the scripts furnished us from school.

In the evening the club held a dinner at the U. S. Grant Hotel. The honored guest and principal speaker was Very Rev. Joseph L. Gallagher, O.S.S.-A.M., president and principal of St. Augustine's High School. The balance of the program consisted of entertainment by a local magician and the showing of color movies of the Notre Dame-Southern California Game. A contribution of $100 to St. Augustine's High School was voted.

I very modestly report that I was honored with being presented the scroll naming me as the outstanding Notre Dame man of the year in the club. I consider this a great honor and the award will be one of my most treasured items of life. The election of officers for the year 1949-1950 was held and all officers were elected to continue for a second term.

On Aug. 11, the club had a combined business meeting and dinner at the newly constructed Admiral Kidd Officer's Club in San Diego. A committee was appointed to make plans for a family picnic held Aug. 28. It was also unanimously decided that the club would make a contribution of $10 to the Van Wallace film fund.

W. ALBERT STEWART.

St. Louis

The club of St. Louis, which now numbers nearly three hundred members, has not been too active during the summer months. President, JOHN J.

GRIFFIN, JR., Vice President, JAMES J. O'NEAL, Treasurer, THOMAS J. TREACY, and Secretary, J. WARREN HELLRUNG, have been busy however planning for the coming fall.

Members assembled on May 25 to pay final respects to DR. THOMAS R. KENNEDY, '17, who passed away on May 23. Notre Dame and those who knew Dr. Kennedy shall miss him.

The annual St. Louis Notre Dame picnic was held on July 24 and Chairman HENRY L. DAHM, JR., reports that it exceeded in attendance all previous picnics. This was due in part to the fact that trained counselors were hired to take care of the children for the entire day. Mom and Dad had fun.

DR. B. D. COUGHLIN, chairman of the Football Trips Committee, announces that the club will sponsor two football trips this fall; the Southern California game at Notre Dame, on Nov. 26, and the Southern Methodist game, at Dallas, on Dec. 3. Response to date has been excellent. Profits go to the St. Louis Club scholarship fund.

Plans are still under way by our regular Foundation Committee (JOSEPH B. McGLYNN, DR. COUGHLIN and WALTER GEORGE) to donate whatever time is required to successfully follow through on the University's program to erect a new Science Building. St. Louis will more than do its share.

WARREN HELLRUNG.

Wabash Valley

BILL RUNGE, secretary, sends word that the club will have a smoker and alumni get-together on Friday evening, Oct. 7, starting at 8 o'clock. That's the day before the Purdue-Notre Dame game in West Lafayette. All alumni and their friends are invited.

Washington, D. C.

The club is making plans for the big Navy game Rally to be held in Washington in the Washington Hotel, the evening before the Notre Dame-Navy

The club in Washington, D. C., had its annual retreat on June 17-18-19 at Holy Cross College. Leo Mulqueen, was the retreat chairman. Rev. Philip C. Kelly, C.S.C., was the retreat master and Rev. Bernard E. Ransing, C.S.C., superior of Holy Cross College, was the generous host.

Front Row: Father Ransing, Bill Kavanaugh, '27, Pat Gorman, '40, Leo Mulqueen, '17, J. Harvey Daly, '28, Bill Karl, '31, Harry Kirk, '13, Father Kelly.

Second Row: Paul Tully, '39, Bob Mullen, '37, Bill Cour, Tom Flynn, '35, George Haithcock, '39, Francis Andary, '32, Dick Rozier.

Third Row: Joe Fitzmaurice, '36, John Anderson, '31, Victor Mersch, '19, Bill Jones, '28, Val Deale, '39, Carl Julian, '46, Dan Culhane, '23, Jack McDevitt.

Fourth Row: Bob Frederickes, Myles Quail, Sr., John Kenkle, '33, T. H. Sheehan, Joe Hennessey, '39. Larry Moore, '29, wasn't present when the picture was taken.

game in Baltimore. WALT SHORT is chairman in charge.

Plans are also made for the club traveling together to the North Carolina game in New York City.

Our club's friendly luncheons continue every Tuesday at the Touchdown Club in Washington, D. C. under the management of EDWARD FENLON, '41. This has been a very successful project.

Weekend hotel reservations are available for folks of the Washington area who plan to make a long weekend of the North Carolina-Notre Dame game weekend in New York. Those interested in New York reservations may contact the Notre Dame club headquarters in Washington.

President PAT GORMAN, '40, has made the following appointments for some of the programs on the Washington, D. C. club calendar for this year: the Housing Expediter appointment goes to ED FENLON; chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee is FRANK NOEL, '30; J. HARVEY DALY, '28, is the placement chairman; DON STOCKING, '48, is chairman of the Notre Dame-North Carolina football game trip.

JACK BARBER, '36, treasurer of our local newspaper, "The Times-Herald," has just recently purchased a home. President PAT GORMAN was recently elected the Washington delegate for the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. FATHER FRED DIGBY, '39, received his Master's degree at Catholic University and is starting his work as executive director of the Associated Catholic Charities in New Orleans. ED CONROY, '30, of San Antonio, was in town for a visit; he is now advisor to the mayor of Alamo City. EUGENE COYLE, '31, is with the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

REV. DANIEL KIRK, son of HARRY KIRK, '13, was ordained a priest in the Benedictine Order. MATT MERKLE, '39, recently vacationed in the state of Washington. DAVE SLATTERY, '48, sports writer for the "Daily News" recently rapped out a base hit off Lefty Grove during a recent newspaper exhibition game.

GEORGE HOWARD, '38, became the father of a little girl on June 2. STAN LITIZZETTE, '42, and DON MCGINLEY, '42, are in Washington studying law. BOB FLYNN, '42, is a practicing dentist in Washington. JAMES P. O'LAUGHLIN, '42, is a captain in the Marines with the Judge Advocate General.

The club had its annual retreat on June 17, 18 and 19, 1949, under the chairmanship of LEO MULQUEEN, with FATHER RANSING and his seminarians, Holy Cross College, handling all facilities beautifully. Twenty-seven Washington, D. C., men were there. They are most indebted to the retreatmaster, FATHER KELLY, C.S.C., for the fine work he did. Interest in this retreat has grown each year and we expect 35 percent of the club members to be present for the next retreat.

Luncheon for Lawyers in St. Louis

Left to right are: Joseph B. McGlynn, '12, Archbishop Ritter, Robert J. Callahan, '48, of St. Louis who arranged the luncheon, Dean Manion and Professor Sullivan.

The first annual luncheon of the Notre Dame Law Association was held as a part of the proceedings of the American Bar Association convention in St. Louis on Sept. 7. Notre Dame lawyers from all parts of the United States were in attendance and heard short addresses by Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis; Robert E. Sullivan, executive secretary of the association and professor of law in the University; and Clarence Manion, dean of the Law School. Guests in addition to Archbishop Ritter included Luke Hart, supreme advocate of the Knights of Columbus; John Griffin, president of the Notre Dame Club of St. Louis, and Robert Hellrung, former vice-president of the Alumni Association.

MISSION NEEDS MISSAL

Father John J. Hennessy, C.S.C., '02, a veteran Holy Cross missionary, writes that his mission in Dacca, East Bengal, Pakistan, is much in need of a new modern missal.

"The old one," Father Hennessy writes, "is pretty well held together, but it's very old and has too many pasted-in Masses."

If any alumnus wishes to send a missal to Father Hennessy, the Alumni Office will be glad to clear details. Father Hennessy arrived in Dacca on Washington's Birthday in 1907 and has been in the United States only twice since then, in 1925 and 1932.

Mr. and Mrs. FRANK LEAHY, '31, a son, their sixth child, Aug. 31.

Deaths

REV. CASIMIR SZTUCZKO, C.S.C., 82 years old, who for 36 years was pastor of Holy Trinity Church in Chicago, died on Aug. 12 in Chicago. Born in Miroslaw, Poland, Father Sztuczko came to the United States as a boy, joined the Congregation of Holy Cross and was ordained at Notre Dame in 1891. Two years after his ordination he went to Chicago as pastor of Holy Trinity parish. Under his guidance a church, grade school, high school (taught by the Holy Cross brothers), rectory and faculty house were all built.

Father Sztuczko was buried in the Community cemetery at Notre Dame on Aug. 16, following the funeral Mass in Chicago. Rev. Thomas A. Seiner, C.S.C., provincial, officiated at the graveside services.

DANIEL A. YOUNGERMAN, South Road, a student at Notre Dame in 1889-90, died on July 18 after an illness of six weeks. His survivors include his wife, a son, Daniel J., '35, and a sister.

DEZERA E. "ZEKE" CARTIER, '92, Ludington, Mich., fullback on early Notre Dame football teams, died in Ludington on Aug. 9 at the age of 79. His survivors include five daughters and four sons, as well as a brother Charles E. Cartier, who is a member of the Alumni Association staff, and a sister, Mrs. W. S. Taylor, Seattle, Wash. Two of the sons, George E., '23, and Alfred E., '27, are alumni.

Himself one of eight children, Mr. Cartier was one of four brothers to be Notre Dame students. The others, all now deceased, were Warren A., '87, for whom Cartier Field is named, William E., '89, and George R., '90.

Mr. Cartier first played fullback on the team of 1889 and was a star in the first Northwestern-Notre Dame game of that year, when Notre Dame won, 9-0. His dropkick from 35 yards out gave the Irish a 5-0 lead. A later touchdown, scored by Ed Condy, eventually Mr. Cartier's brother-in-law, boosted the lead to 9-0.

Mr. Cartier played also on the teams of 1890 and 1891 before receiving his B.S. degree in 1892.

RUSSELL J. BURNS, ex-17, Chicago, died on June 26. His only immediate surviving relative is a sister, Mrs. John Garvey.

The July-August ALUMNUS carried brief word of the death of Harold R. Delaney, '18, Dallas, Texas. Later information received in the Alumni Office tells that Mr. Delaney died in his sleep on July 1. He had earlier experienced some heart trouble, but was apparently in good health just prior to his death. He is survived by his wife.

HENRY W. FRITZ, '21, St. Petersburg, Fla., died on July 12, according to brief word received in the Alumni Office.

DR. STANLEY W. INSLEY, '21, Detroit, one of the country's leading allergy specialists, died on Aug. 9 from cancer of the pancreas. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Stanley J. and David, both Notre Dame students, and two daughters, Mrs. Robert J. Hammel and Barbara.

A medical graduate of Wayne University, Dr. Insley was secretary of the Wayne County Medical Society in 1929 and its president in 1945. He was editor of the "Detroit Medical News" in 1943 and a director of the Michigan Medical Service.

Dr. Insley was also a past president of the Michigan Allergy Society and served as a professor of clinical medicine at Wayne University.

Knowing his fate following an operation four months before his death, Dr. Insley calmly and cheerfully accepted God's will. He sold his home, arranged his professional and business affairs and, before he entered Providence Hospital on June 18, spent most of his time with his wife and children. His life and his death became an inspiration to those near him.

JOHN EDWARD MAHONEY, '22, Enid, Okla., died on June 23 in Mercy Hospital, Oklahoma City, where for several months he had been receiving treatment for a heart condition. Surviving him are a brother and two sisters, all of Enid.

Along with his brothers, Mr. Mahoney was in the sand and gravel business and in the real estate and investment business in Enid. He was a past president of the local Rotary Club and a fourth degree Knight of Columbus.

THOMAS J. BLACKWELL, JR., '33, Indianapolis attorney, died on Aug. 22 following an illness of 12 weeks. He is survived by wife, two sons and two daughters and by his father, his brother, John, '31, and two sisters.

A graduate of Indiana Law School, Mr. Blackwell was attorney for the town of Speedway from 1939 on and was personal attorney for Al Feeney, '13, now mayor of Indianapolis, when the latter was sheriff of Marion County for two terms. An officer in the Navy for two years in World War II, Mr. Blackwell had since been a member of the law firm of Gardner and Blackwell.

FRANCIS E. BUCKLEY, ex-42, was killed in an accident in Midland, Texas, on May 11. He is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter, and by his mother, two brothers and a sister.

Employed as personnel director for the Jones and Laughlin Supply Co., Eunice, N. Mex., Mr. Buckley was visiting with a friend in Midland, Texas, at the time of the accident which caused his death. Long a resident of Saranac Lake, N. Y., he was a member of the freshman football squad at Notre Dame and was known to many on the campus as the "barefoot runner." He served with the Seabees in World War II.

FRANK E. DUGAN, JR., '44, of Kansas City, and his wife, Elizabeth Cole Dugan, sister of William N. Cole, '35, were both killed on July 2 in an automobile crash near Lamoille, Ill. They are survived by two young daughters. Mr. Dugan is also survived by his parents, four sisters and a brother and Mrs. Dugan by her mother and her brother.

Following service in World War II, Mr. Dugan became owner of the Westport Glass and Paint Co., in Kansas City. He and his wife were on a vacation trip when the fatal accident occurred.

The Alumni Office has only recently learned that JOHN J. NOWAK, JR., '45, Chicago, died on July 31, 1945, five weeks after his graduation from Notre Dame.

ENSIGN VINCENT A. DOLAN, B.N.S. '46, died on July 26 in the Naval Hospital, St. Albans, L. I., N. Y., following an operation for a brain tumor. He had been ill for five and a half months.

After receiving his degree from Notre Dame in 1946, Ensign Dolan spent two years at Massachusetts Institute of Technology under the Navy and was awarded there his bachelor of science in electrical engineering in February, 1948. He was then assigned to the U.S.S. Fresno as electronics officer and was aboard this ship when he was taken ill on Feb. 10, 1949.

Ensign Dolan is survived by his wife, his parents and his sister.

Two Laetare medalists died in August. WILLIAM G. BRUCE, 93, nationally known head of the Bruce Publishing Co., Milwaukee, died on Aug. 13, and DR. IRVIN ABELL, 72, noted Louisville surgeon and former president of the American Medical Association, died on Aug. 28. Mr. Bruce received the Laetare Medal in 1947 and Dr. Abell in 1938.

JOHN L. O'BRIEN, '49, of Chicago, widely known on the campus during his student days as a projectionist and film man for the Athletic Department, died in Chicago on Aug. 23, less than three months after his graduation. He had undergone an operation for a kidney infection and was apparently recovering from that when, a short time later, he died suddenly from a cerebral hemorrhage.

John is survived by his father and by his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cummins, 1717 Catalpa St., Chicago, with whom he made his home.

The ALUMNUS extends sincere sympathy to WILLIAM R. BELL, '25, on the death of his mother; to JAMES A. CARRICO, '32, on the death of his father; to JEROME J. CROWLEY, ex-01, on the death of his wife and JEROME J. CROWLEY, JR., '31, and PATRICK F. CROWLEY, '33, on the death of their mother; to FRANK X. FALLON, JR., '33, WILLIAM H., '37 and JOHN J., '48, on the death of their mother; to REV. LEO F. FLOOD, C.S.C., '24, on the death of his father; to HAROLD

A. GOTTSACKER, '39, on the death of his wife; to JOSEPH E. HANRATTY, '34, on the death of his father; to LOUIS H. HANSMAN, '36, on the death of his father; to REV. CORNELIUS J. LASKOWSKI, C.S.C., '33 on the death of his mother; to THOMAS J. LIEB, '23, on the death of his mother; to BERT L. METZGER, '31, and WALTER J. METZGER, '25, on the death of their father; to REV. REGIS O'NEIL, C.S.C., '31, on the death of his mother; to FRANK J. PENDERGAST, '27, JOHN F., JR., '35, and THOMAS M., '37, on the death of their father.

Personals

Before 1900

HENRY KICK, postmaster of East Portal, Colo., on July 15 made his first visit to the campus since 1891. He was a Notre Dame student in 1890-91.

1900-1904

BOB PROCTOR, '04, reports that his nephew, Jerry Smith, from Huntington, Ind., is entering Notre Dame to study law. He plans on joining Bob's law firm after completing his training.

1905-1909

ERNEST M. MORRIS, '06, South Bend, was appointed chairman of the big firms division for the 1949 Community Chest campaign.

REV. WENDELL P. CORCORAN, C.S.C., '07, former pastor of St. Patrick's Church, South Bend, was honored at a reception on Aug. 7 at the Bronze-wood room of the Hotel LaSalle. Father Corcoran is the new provincial procurator at Notre Dame.

1910

Rev. Michael L. Moriarty, St. Catherine's Church, 3443 E. 93rd St., Cleveland, 4, O.

From FATHER MIKE MORIARTY:

CLAUDE SORG and I represented the 1910-ers at the reunion. The new departure in separating the Alumni Reunion from the Commencement exercises so favorably impressed me that I sent out the June program to many of the members of the class.

Obviously the time is shortening and next June will soon be with us or without us. We are hopeful for a full count when the notable "Fortieth" is posted.

STEVE HERR remembered us with a card from Yellowstone Park and BILL SCHMITT forwarded a welcome postal souvenir on the occasion of a California trip.

Father ED MISCH has spent a couple of months in Cleveland serving as chaplain at the renowned Gilmour Academy.

Announcement that the Holy Cross Brothers are staffing a new high school faculty in Cleveland suggests the possibility of some other Notre Dame priest coming on as chaplain.

Spending a few days on the campus during the summer school gave me an opportunity to enjoy a visit with Father MIKE MATHIS who has become a great leader in the church liturgy program. His course this summer was well received and well attended.

Some several weeks ago MARTIN "RED" MILLER of du Pont counsel and Mrs. Miller attended Sunday Mass at St. Catherine's. Red, a long-time Cleveland, still looks good in Cleveland.

We have some "movies" of Father Misch golfing in the Cleveland Notre Dame Club tournament. Occasionally Sam Snead misses 'em too.

We shall continue to talk about the coming reunion and in the event I can nurse along my arches and arteries I shall hope to visit the campus a few times—let's say in the capacity of a committee on arrangements.

1911

Fred L. Steers, 105 S. LaSalle St. Chicago, 3, Ill.

From FRED STEERS:

WILLIAM R. (BILLY) RYAN, has removed himself from the environs of Cleveland and now holds forth at 2039 Midvale Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

CLEMENS L. ULATOWSKI, Clemens "Uli", the noisy catcher circa 1908 to 1911, is now a gentleman farmer somewhere in Michigan.

ALBERT M. "RED" KELLY has retired from the International Harvester Co. and is now taking it easy at Zephyr Hills, Fla., where he may be found just sitting on the porch.

EUGENE "GENE" CONNELLY has retired from the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. and is traveling about looking for an appropriate place to take it easy.

Just received a reminder from the Alumni Office that 1911 has not been using its quota of printer's ink. You can help by reporting on yourself and other members of our class you have contacted lately. Any information will be interesting. It has been a long time since graduation and all of us would like to know what the other fellows are doing and where they are located. Most anything is news to those who have not heard of you for a long time. Just drop your class secretary a line! Come 1951 we'll be celebrating the 40th anniversary of our graduation. FATHER MIKE MORIARTY and the ancients of 1910 have that spot next June.

This group at the Alumni Banquet on June 11, spans the years (despite the sign) from 1900 to 1910. From the left: Father M. L. Moriarty, '10, William G. Ferstel, '00, Daniel J. O'Connor, '05, William D. Jamieson, '05, and Claude A. Sorg, '10.

231 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill.

The Chicago Hornets of the All-America Football Conference have signed GUS DORAIS, Wabash, Ind., as head scout and talent scout.

From IRA HURLEY:

Mrs. Hurley and I were at Notre Dame on Aug. 12 at which time our son, ROBERT received his A.B. degree. I talked with Mrs. WALTER CLEMENTS on the telephone to check up on Walter's illness. He was then still in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, O., following an operation but is now at home at 623 Park Ave., South Bend. He would, of course, appreciate hearing from any members of the class who may find time to drop him a line.

I had a postcard shortly after the Alumni Reunion from SIM FLANAGAN telling me of Walter's illness.

On July 26, at about 11:30 forenoon, upon returning to my office, I found a telephone message to call Colonel Hoynes at the LaSalle Hotel. Upon calling the Colonel, I found that it was none other than RONALD O'NEILL. Ronald was in Chicago to address some meeting of advertising executives and, after he had performed this distressing chore, we met informally in his room at the LaSalle for a couple of hours before his train left for Detroit.

While in South Bend last weekend, I had the pleasure of visiting with TOM CURRY'S son, Tom.

I would appreciate it very much if those members of the class who have arranged to attend football games this fall would drop me a postcard and let me know what games they are going to attend.

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

Dr. John F. Delph

DR. JOHN F. DELPH, '16, on June 16 became president of the medical staff of Passavant Memorial Hospital in Chicago. He is head of the hospital's department of otolaryngology.

The new chief of staff is an associate professor of otolaryngology at Northwestern University Medical School, where he has been a member of the faculty since 1924. He became a member of Passavant's attending staff in 1929.

Dr. Delph was a student of the internationally famous laryngologist, Dr. Chevelier Jackson of the University of Pennsylvania, and is a member of the editor board of Surgery, Gynecology, and Obstetrics and is a past president of the Chicago Laryngological Society.

He is a diplomate of the American Board of Otolaryngology, a Fellow of the American Medical Association, and is a member of the American Bronchoscopic Society, the Chicago Medical Society, the Institute of Medicine of Chicago, the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, the Society of Medical History of Chicago, the American Laryngology, Rhinology and Otolaryngology Society, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

our file is 44 Central Ave., Dayton 6, O.

Our friend, STEVE CARMODY, of Carlinville, Ill., was incapacitated for some time last spring due to illness. We are happy to say that Steve is now improving, but still has to take things a bit easy.

The Doctor DAN SEXTONS of St. Louis and Clayton, Mo., spent some time in the East during July, Doctor Dan attending the American Medical Association meetings in Atlantic City, and the balance of the family visiting relatives on the Hudson. The Sextons spent August at Macatawa near Holland, Mich.

This is the season of the year when we look to the men of '22 who are getting football teams in shape for the coming season. May good fortune attend the hard labors of Dr. EDDIE ANDERSON at Iowa University; HUNK ANDERSON'S Chicago

Bear's; BUCK SHAW'S 49'ers of San Francisco; and EARL WALSH'S St. Ambrose Academy, Dubuque, Iowa.

Dr. HENRY ATKINSON of Green Bay, Wis., too, is getting his Green Bay Packers in shape for the season, but the good doctor is using bandages and liniments to do it. Of course, Doc Atkinson knows a thing or two about football having seen service on Father PAT HAGGERTY'S, Corby Hall Red Raiders of World War I. The Doc accompanies The Green Bay Packers team on all of their road trips. Doc and Mrs. Atkinson, who are keenly interested in all branches of sports, recently went out sailing on Green Bay. It is reported the wind snubbed them, and the Atkinsons and party had to hitch-hike back to shore.

We earnestly solicit news of all 1922 men. Just a few words on a post card will give much pleasure to your fellow classmates.

JIM FOREN announces the opening of his new office at 701 Penobscot Bldg., Detroit. Jim is in the real estate business specializing in commercial and industrial properties.

LOU MOORE of the Geneva Steel Co., Geneva, Utah, reports last winter to be the worst since he arrived in Utah. Two of the three Moore daughters, Curly and Kathy, are now married. Bobby is still at home advising Dad that he ought to reduce. Lou and wife Kay expect to see the Southern Methodist game in Dallas this fall. The Moores reside in Provo, Utah.

FATHER JOE McALLISTER, C.S.C., who succeeded Father Wendell Corcoran, C.S.C., as pastor of St. Patrick's Church in South Bend, assumed his new duties on September 1.

ARCH WARD was elected first president of the Chicago Press club, a new organization with headquarters in the Sheraton hotel in Chicago.

1924

Rev. Thomas A. Kelly, C.S.C.,
Cavanaugh Hall, Notre Dame, Ind.

From FATHER KELLY:

After the exciting and pleasant days of our Silver Jubilee, the Class of '24 has been quiescent, as has been your class secretary. Besides, we took up enough space in the last ALUMNUS to give the most fastidious reader enough information to hold him awhile.

However, some letters have come in, in praise of the idea of detaching the Reunions from Commencement, the complete dedication of the facilities of the University to the alumni, and the joy of the reunions themselves.

JERRY FOX, the mayor of Chilton, Wis., wants us to get together annually. FRED MANCUSO of Kansas City, Mo. wants more frequent reunions. HUGH BLUNT of Brockton, Mass. wants to make the 30th an even greater reunion than the 25th. TOM HODGSON of Minneapolis, over whom the 25 years have passed most lightly, DON SULLIVAN of Indianapolis and CONROY SCOGGINS of Houston, Texas, have also written in, expressing their delight with the reunion.

None of the men of '24 now stationed at Notre Dame have been changed: FATHER BOLGER is still head of the Department of Physics and prefecting in Farley, FATHER MOORE is still dean of the Graduate School, though he gave up the headship of the Department of Philosophy, FATHER BALDWIN is still teaching Physics and living in Corby, your secretary is still head of the Department of Classics and prefecting in Cavanaugh Hall.

But, to keep the '24 column going, your secretary must have pertinent news of our classmates, so here's the first appeal. How about stopping in to see me when you're here for a game(s) this fall? Another, more detailed appeal will reach you later in the fall. We are always glad to get information of and from any of our classmates so please tell us all about it. Keep '24 in the ALUMNUS!

RAY KOHIN, his wife and son, Roger, visited the campus on Aug. 30 on their way to LaSalle, Ill., for a vacation. Roger is entering Notre Dame this fall as a freshman. Ray and his wife live in Bethesda, Md., while Ray works for the government in Washington, D. C.

ED MILLER is back in the states again with a civilian status. He is connected with the G. I. Sellers and Sons Company in Elwood, Ind.

BILL SHEEHAN, president of the Sheehan Tire Service, Inc., has purchased the Forster residence property at 215 N. Lafayette Blvd. in South Bend. The future use of the property has not been determined.

AL CASTELLINI, Cincinnati, has been made a Chevalier de l'Ordre de la Couronne by His Royal Highness the Prince Regent of Belgium, in recognition of service rendered to Belgium in his capacity as honorary consul in Cincinnati. Al has been honorary Belgium consul in Cincinnati since May 15, 1935.

1925

John P. Hurley, The Toledo Parlor Furniture Co., Toledo, O.

From JOHN HURLEY:

Next June 9, 10 and 11, are the big dates for our 25th Reunion, and things are beginning to shape up with ten (10) months to go.

After a visit and some correspondence with JIM ARMSTRONG and others, we thought it best to have a strong South Bend group. We are fortunate in having, not only a big group, but a fine one from the standpoint of ability and representation. This should give us a bang-up local operation.

Here's the line-up! BILL CERNEY will be chairman of an Executive Committee. Bill will be assisted by GEORGE DRISCOLL, CLARENCE HARDING, GEORGE KOCH, ALBERT MCGANN, CLIFFORD POTTS and WILLIAM VOOR, plus a few others Cerney may need. The entire group of thirty (30) '25-ers living in South Bend and Mishawaka will be designated as the Reunion Committee.

Outside contacts will be made by ADAM WALSH, who will write the monogram men, and there will be single chairmen in New York, JOHN BARTLEY; Chicago, LEO POWERS; Cleveland, DON MILLER; Detroit, ED POLHAUS; Connecticut, BILL SCHOMBERG; Fort Wayne, HERMAN CENT-LIVRE; and the West Coast will be taken care of by EUSTACE CULLINAN. As mentioned before, GEORGE BISCHOFF will contact the '25-ers in Indianapolis and HENRY WURZER the fellows in the tall-corn state of Iowa.

Jim Armstrong will act in an ex-officio capacity and Bill Cerney will get plenty of help and advice from veteran Jim, who has had his "finger" in exactly 25 of these 25-year reunions.

Jim will prepare, very soon, a list of the deceased members of the class who can't come back, to be circulated for prayers and Masses during the ENTIRE Reunion year. Start now and say a few Hail Marys for those fellows who can't do anything about reaching that 75 percent quota next June.

The July-August ALUMNUS has, as this is written, been in the hands of the class a short time and we have heard from a few of the boys we haven't heard from in a quarter of a century—it isn't too early to make your reservation because, if we say YOU will be there, a few more of your pals will be on deck. Let's have some news.

BILL SCHOMBERG, who is an architect in Westport, Conn., writes: "1925 Alumni Reunion! You asked for volunteers—how about my neck of the woods—Southern Connecticut? Glad to do my bit! While you're about it—make my reservation for June and let me hear from you."

Thanks, Bill. You will be hearing from us and you have the honor of making the first reservation.

R. Conroy Scoggins

R. CONROY SCOGGINS, '24, Houston, who for three years was state deputy of the Knights of Columbus in Texas, was elected a member of the Supreme Board of the K. of C. at the supreme convention in Portland, Ore., in August. Mr. Scoggins is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association.

You fellows in that area let Bartley and Schomberg know and tell us a little about yourselves.

This from ADAM WALSH: "Dear Strongheart Hurley: You are addressed in the above manner simply because you will have to have a strong heart to withstand the shock of hearing from me after all these many years.

"This being our year of the 25th reunion prompted me to write to our always genial and now efficient secretary. It seems to me that if each of us will pitch in and help a little you will not be burdened with all the work. With this thought in mind, I have written to Jim Armstrong for a list of names and addresses of the remaining monogram football men of our class. If I will not be out of order, I will start the campaign of bombarding them with letters now urging their presence next June. You know as well as I that one letter from you, or from Jim, will not do the trick. If enough of us, in our different little groups with which we were closely associated when at Notre Dame, write a personal note of appeal, we may be able to break that attendance record. We can try, anyway, and they can never rule you out for trying.

"We have two boys—Adam, Jr., almost 24, and a college graduate as well as married. Russell, 22½, and now in college after a long stretch in the service. Both were in the service over three years. Then comes the ninth inning rally, or second wind, Stella Catherine, who will be three in September and is the boss of the ranch, make no mistake about that. All are well and praying that the old man may once again have a better football team than the 'wolves.'

"If I keep rambling, the shock I have given you may become sustained and I have enough red ink to remove from that ledger already, when my number comes up on that final board.

"Do not hesitate to call upon me if I can assist in any way in the reunion preparations. Don't try to overload me now; I am getting old just like you. I will gladly help a bit if I can and you need me.

"Good luck and best wishes to you and yours, Always, As ever, Adam Walsh, Coach of Football, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine."

Thanks a million, Adam—your suggestion of each of us contacting our own group will assure a splendid attendance on those dates—June 9, 10 and 11, 1950!

John J. Ryan, 1415 W. Thome Ave., Chicago 26, Ill.

From JOHN RYAN:

After many years of faithful service as class secretary, VIC LEMMER has asked to be relieved. Not because the duties were too heavy but because Vic felt that the class could be served better by someone nearer (geographically) to the campus. Hence, the new name at the top of this column as suggested by BILL DOOLEY.

Thanks from all of us, Vic, for a job well done. Your successor will strive to do as well.

But the job as the class secretary does depend on all of you. I will be your representative to the editors of the ALUMNUS. If enough of you send me enough material on yourselves and our classmates, you can make my job a tough one. Tough, because I'll have to talk Bill Dooley into using all of it; and while Bill has a responsibility to all of the classes you all know that his heart is with '26. So that won't be too much to worry about.

The worry will be to get the material in. The class roster will be available to me before this issue reaches you and prior to each succeeding issue, 25 of you will receive a card from me. That means you're elected to let the rest of us know what you have been doing since June, 1926. You don't have to wait for the card!

There are about 250 of us left and about 10 issues of the ALUMNUS to come out before June, 1951, so we'll cover the class before that 25th Reunion. Say a prayer for those who have gone to the Final Reunion.

Get the material to me so I can send it on to Bill Dooley. Remember the theme of the '26 class notes will be "100 percent reunion in '51."

EDDIE DUGGAN, who, incidentally, has a son as a freshman at Notre Dame this year, is general chairman of five committees of 140 members who are undertaking a wide program for expansion of club activities in the Newark Athletic Club in New Jersey. The campaign is neither membership nor financial in nature—the club has 1,200 members and a substantial bank balance—but simply an effort to recreate the interest and activity of an earlier day in the club. As part of the new plan, various alumni groups will be offered facilities and secretarial and mailing service in the club building.

Other '26 men had sons entering this year. In this group are BERT DUNNE, San Mateo, Calif.; ROME FELDPAUSCH, Hastings, Mich. (an older son is also at Notre Dame); DOC GELSON, Summit, N. J.; PAUL HARRINGTON, Mountsides, N. J.; CHARLIE MASON, Indianapolis; the late MAURICE McNULTY, Indianapolis; JIM RONAN, Chicago; DR. HAROLD CAREY, Lancaster, Wis.; FRED FERGUSON, Lorain, O.; and TOM FITZGERALD, Brooklyn, N. Y.

NORB ENGELS, professor of English at Notre Dame, is a hundred dollars wealthier as the result of writing a humorous poem about a house-painting bee. The poem will appear in "Popular Home," a domestic magazine.

Quoth the professor, long a contributor of essays and poems to magazines, "The usual payment for poetry is purely spiritual. However, I have no objection whatsoever to the present arrangement."

Joseph M. Boland, Radio Station WSBT, South Bend, Ind.

HERB JONES was appointed an associate by the Thomas E. McCarthy Insurance Agency in South Bend. Herb will be associated with the McCarthy agency on a part-time basis.

SISTER M. AGNES ALMA, O.P., Mt. St. Mary's, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., M.A. '27, was a visitor at the Vocational Conference on the campus this summer, her first visit in more than 20 years. Sister Agnes Alma was one of the pioneers in the active Alumnae Club of summer school graduates.

Louis F. Buckley,
4700 W. Adams St., Chicago 44, Ill.

From LOU BUCKLEY:

BILL CRONIN, writing from 1600 Broadway, New York 19, gives us this fine report on the New York gang:

"I have been in touch with many of the members of our class here in New York. I had lunch with ADRIAN LOPEZ recently. He has a successful publishing business here, looks fit enough to make the team, and has the same spirit and affection for Notre Dame we used to see on the campus, despite the fact he hasn't been there since graduation. Incidentally, I understand he is doing some fine work for the Notre Dame Foundation.

"During the last six months I have seen or talked to JOHN ANTUS and AL TAYLOR, both of the Department of Justice; BERNIE GARBBER and STEVE SHERRY, money-raisers; BILL (TURK) KELLY, Board of Ed High School professor; EDWIN F. BRENNAN, HOWARD OCHS and JOE KISSLING. Whenever I feel moody I call JACK LAVELLE for the latest Broadway gag. I haven't seen JIM CONMEY for about a year, nor JACK MULLEN since last February, but I know they are both around town complaining about taxes, which is the current test of affluence. I had occasion to talk to three of our class engineers about an important matter recently, JOE REPETTI, FRANK DUQUETTE and FRANK KANE. I don't know whether it's the lift which the North Carolina game has given the New York alumni, but they all sound like a crowd of enthusiastic freshmen with memories.

"BUD CALLAGY is busy arranging for the Nov. 11 entertainment of the visiting V.I.P. (Incidentally, you might remind any members of the class planning to come to the North Carolina game and who want to attend the N. Y. Club Rally at the Hotel Biltmore the night before to send in their reservations immediately. Write: JOHN A. HOYT, Room 620, 342 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y., for reservations. Price, $6.00 per person. This is not a plug. It is a small room and the Rally will quickly sell out.

"I see and talk to GEORGE CRONGEYER often. He is one of the most capable and successful insurance men in Metropolitan Life, and I suggest he is just as thorough as ever. As of this date he has seen South Pacific three times. BOB HAMILTON just bought a beautiful new home at Manhasset, L. I. He and I get together occasionally between his trips to Florida for Pan American. I am always after him to bring back GEORGE COURY. I need the gin rummy money, but Hamilton keeps Coury in Florida all for himself.

"I saw JACK WINGERTER's handsome countenance in the 'N. Y. Herald Tribune' yesterday, stating that he has received another promotion to V.P. of his company, Transfilm. Send congratulations to Jack for the class and tell him to lay off that 'Wall Street Journal.' Hamilton and Conmey and yours truly went broke reading that sheet 20 years ago.

"I see DR. JOHN E. FRANKLIN very often. John is a successful New York City pediatrician and the best. He has three grand boys at St. Ignatius Loyola, all heading for Notre Dame.

"My son, Vaughn, finished Iona Prep last June and he is accepted and registered in engineering at Notre Dame for next month. We now have one other boy and three girls.

"In every issue of your column, Lou, I hope you will remind the Class to support the drive for the New Science Building. My son's counting on using that building!"

Bill tells me I am living in his old neighborhood on the west side in Chicago and that I will find his initials carved on every newsstand between St. Mel's and Resurrection.

I am glad to add BILL CRONIN's name to that of the late FRANK O'TOOLE and FRANK DONOVAN who have sons at Notre Dame. How about a note from other '28 men with sons at Notre Dame? I would also like a report on daughters in college. My daughter, Paula, is a freshman at Loyola University here in Chicago this year.

It was great to have a note from my old next door neighbor in old Freshman Hall 25 years ago, MIKE HOGAN. Mike, who is with the Medical

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

Bernard J. Bird

BERNARD J. BIRD, '28, was on July 5 appointed city treasurer of Buffalo, N. Y., after serving since Jan. 1, 1946, as deputy treasurer.

Upon his graduation from Notre Dame in 1928, Mr. Bird became a member of the teaching staff of St. Joseph's Collegiate Institute, Buffalo's Christian Brothers' high school. After several years of teaching he was appointed an Erie County probation officer and subsequently took graduate courses in education and social work. He served successfully in the Probation Department for 13 years, until he was named deputy city treasurer by Mayor Bernard J. Dowd.

Giving generously of his time to youth, Mr. Bird has also been particularly active as a speaker for both the Catholic Charities and the Holy Name Society in the diocese of Buffalo, of which Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., former president of Notre Dame, is bishop. And for the past eight years he has taught courses in criminology, general sociology, juvenile delinquency, crime prevention and child welfare in the evening college of Canisius College, Buffalo.

Mr. Bird is Buffalo city chairman for the Notre Dame Foundation and an active member of the Notre Dame Club of Buffalo.

Arts Supply Corporation, 220 West Berry Street, Fort Wayne 2, writes as follows:

"We have any number of alumni dropping in here as we happen to be next door to the Elks. FRANK MCCARTHY, formerly of Indianapolis who moved here some time back, drops in frequently. ART MILLER, '28, has his office down the street. BILL PLUGHILL, an old pharmacy student now with T.W.A., drops in at regular intervals. CHARLIE (PINKY) MULLANEY called me when he was in town. He is with Walgreen's as merchandise manager with offices in Chicago. I used to see WILLARD WAGNER very often during the war and just afterwards, but have not seen him for quite some time. Ft. Wayne has a very good and also most active club. Do you ever hear anything from PAUL FRY of Dixon, Ill.?"

Mike has six children, two girls and four boys. He lost a little girl in March.

GEORGE KELLEY wrote from Youngstown, Ohio where he is assistant managing editor of "The Youngstown Vindicator." The only other '28-ers from Youngstown was CHET RICE who is now in Cleveland. George mentioned that his correspondence with '28 men is scant—even JOHN RICKORD, his roommate, charges that George owes him at least two letters. John is in Chicago with Armour's. George, unfortunately, lost his only child ten years ago.

I had a letter from MIKE RICKS, who is with the firm of Stuart, Deval, Branigin, Ball & Ricks, 801 Lafayette Life Building, Lafayette, Ind. Mike said he still has fond memories of our 20-year class reunion and is looking forward to one in 1953. BOB MOHLMAN and Mike are the only '28 men in Lafayette. Mike mentioned that in taking his twin boys to the Notre Dame Boys Camp in Michigan this summer, he visited the campus and had a nice visit with FATHER CONDON, who is now 81. Mike, by the way, has four boys and a girl.

JOHN BUSCHEMEYER wrote from Louisville, Ky., where he is administrator at the Louisville General Hospital. I was glad to hear that John has completely recovered from bursitis which kept him from attending our reunion last year. John reports that he visited TOM TRAUGHER recently in Clarksville where Tom is practicing law. Tom has one son and John has two girls and a boy. Tom and John expect to get back for several of the games this year.

My card to LARRY CULLINEY requesting news reached him on vacation with his wife, son and daughter. Larry is with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in Rutland, Vt. Larry mentioned that he visited JOHN MITIGUY in Burlington, Vt., where he met ART MITIGUY and his wife and daughter. Usually, while enroute to or from Long Island, Larry detours through Mt. Kisco, N. Y. to visit with the numerous GARBBER clan. He reports that Bernie has enough boys to keep the name Garber on the Notre Dame roster for many years, that is, some years hence. Larry plans to attend the N.D.-North Carolina game and looks forward to greeting in addition to GARBBER, BILL CRONIN, BOB HAMILTON, JOHN McMAHON, JIM CONMEY, JACK LAVELLE and OLLIE SCHELL, all old members of the "Legion," '28 and '29 vintage, and a host of old friends of the N. Y. Club. Larry footnotes the term "Legion" as a "cryptic McMahon term."

JOHN (DOC) FORGE, who went to work with me in 1928 for Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., is still with them in Des Moines, Ia. He covers southern Minnesota, one county in Wisconsin and seven in Illinois on truck tires for Goodyear. Doc has the distinction of being the first grandfather in the '28 class. Congratulations, Doc. Let me know if there are any other '28 men who should be added to my one man list of distinguished grandfathers. Doc mentioned that he spent an evening recently at the home of CHARLES CASEY, '26, in Mason City where LARRY MASON, '29, joined them. Doc lost his wife in 1945 and he remarried in 1947.

CHRISTIE FLANAGAN reports from Port Arthur, Texas, that PAT CANNY was in Texas recently. Christie mentioned how much he enjoyed seeing the gang at the 20-year reunion and he praised JOE MORRISSEY's pictures very highly. According to the Christie Flanagan & Co. letterhead, Christie keeps busy as a ship and forwarding agent and a custom house broker.

CYP SPORL, insurance broker and average adjuster, writes from New Orleans, that the DE LA VERGNES, NOLTYS, BURKES and SPORL all plan on attending the Tulane game. I hope to see you, Cyp, at that game.

J. HARVEY DALY was vacationing in Nova Scotia when my card reached him. Harvey is personnel and public relations director with the Great Food Department Stores in Washington, D. C. He was married on June 29, 1949, at Great Neck, Long Island, to Joan Aiken Masterson. The best man was JAMES F. CURRY, '29, and one of the ushers was another '29-er, THOMAS LANTRY. Harvey's home address is 7300 Forest Road, Kent Village, Hyattsville, Md. This is the first marriage I have had an opportunity to report in years. How about some of our bachelors, such as MARTY RYAN and JOE KINNEARY, giving me a chance to report marriages more regularly. Who are some of the other bachelors in the class?

I regret to report that as of this writing on Aug. 10, ED McKEOWN is still in bed as the result of his automobile accident of last November. He hopes to be up on crutches after Sept. 1. If you haven't already done so, drop him a note at Dune Acres, Chesterton, Ind.

My sincere thanks to BILL CRONIN, MIKE HOGAN, GEORGE KELLEY, MIKE RICKS, JOHN BUSCHEMEYER, LARRY CULLINEY, DOC FORGE, CHRISTIE FLANNAGAN, CYP SPORL and HARVEY DALEY for another newsy column. I would have been in a bad spot this time if these fellows had not come through with news (after my prompting by a postcard reminder) as I just got out a letter to all class secretaries at the suggestion of the Alumni Board to encourage some news of every class in each issue of the ALUMNUS. I appreciate the cooperation the '28 men have given me and hope none of you will fail to respond when I call upon you for news.

I hope to see some of you during the year as I am to participate on a panel on health insurance before Te Deum groups in Evansville, Ind., Owensboro and Lexington, Ky., Peoria and LaSalle, Ill., and Appleton, Wis. I am also teaching a graduate class at night at Loyola University. This week I am speaking before a Teachers Institute at Mundelein College and before a group of foreign students at Chicago University. I mention this to remind you that I don't have much spare time after my regular work at the Federal Security Agency regional office to spend on news-gathering for this column. Why not surprise me by sending in some news without a reminder? Surely you will pick up some news items at the games this fall to pass along to me.

I had another letter from GEORGE KELLEY after completing the column. He said that JOHN IGOE stopped to see him on a business trip even though the "Youngstown Vindicator" doesn't buy steel. George reports that John looks very good and shows little or no trace of his ordeal which I reported in the last issue. John's newest daughter was born early in July. CHET RICE and his wife were her Godparents.

JOHN CULLINAN has been elevated from common pleas judge to superior court judge by Governor Bowles of Connecticut.

JACK MULLEN has joined the advertising firm of Sullivan, Stauffer, Colwell and Bayles, Inc. with offices at 437 Fifth Ave., New York City, 16. The president of the firm, Ray Sullivan, is FRANK LEAHY'S brother-in-law.

Don J. Plunkett, Biology Department,
Notre Dame, Ind.

From DON PLUNKETT:

A number of letters, cards and wires have arrived since the 20-year reunion in Dillon Hall and here is a summary of the news items.

From REV. ROBERT SWEENEY, C.S.C., who until Aug. 1 was executive assistant to the president: "I wish to express my most sincere thanks for the generous benefaction of $140.44 which the class of '29 has just made to the University and assure you of the lasting appreciation of all the members of the Notre Dame Foundation.

"With such loyal alumni as yourself and the other members of your class staunchly supporting the University with moral and financial aid, the future of Notre Dame looms strong and secure in the eyes of all of us who are so vitally interested. I am confident that you, too, share a feeling of gratification in the knowledge that you are helping to train and educate the future leaders of our country.

"I ask God to bless you and the class of '29 for your generous gift to the University and for the encouragement that you have given us in our endeavor to secure the necessary funds for the new Science Center.

"I have told Father Cavanaugh about this act of generosity on the part of your class. Will you accept this as an expression of thanks from him as well as me?"

From HUGH McMANIGAL: "On the way home from the reunion I stopped in Cleveland and had dinner at CHUCK ROHR'S. Chuck was feeling good and looking about the same. Had dinner there

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

William E. Mahin

WILLIAM E. MAHIN, '28, chairman of metals research at Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, has been named director of research. Mr. Mahin heads a group of 411 scientists, engineers, and technicians who are at present working on 125 active research projects for industrial and government sponsors. It is the largest of the Foundation's three divisions.

For ten years previous to his joining the Research Foundation in 1947 Mr. Mahin was in charge of metallurgical engineering for the Westinghouse Electric Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa. Earlier he was in charge of metallurgical research for the Vanadium Corporation of America.

After receiving his B.S. degree in metallurgy at Notre Dame in 1928, Mr. Mahin in 1933 received his M.S. in metallurgical engineering from Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh. He holds patents in the use of silica flour and binder for porous molds, modification of furnace to provide bright-hardening of tool steel, and composition of tool steel. He has written various papers on nitriding, classification of graphite in gray iron, and heat treatment of stainless steel and is a member of the American Society for Testing Materials, American Society for Metals, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, Institute of Metals, British Iron and Steel Institute, and American Foundrymen's Society.

Mr. Mahin lives in LaGrange, Ill., with his wife, two sons and a daughter. He is the son of Dr. E. G. Mahin who recently retired as head of the Department of Metallurgy at Notre Dame.

with FRANK ANDREWS, '27, and BILL BYRNE, '28. Bill was taking time out from his job of selling to be temporary foundry superintendent for Basic Aluminum.

"Later that evening we went out to Cathedral Latin High School and attended the 25-Year Class Reunion. Of course, I knew a lot of these fellows and was very glad to see them all again. Some of them you probably know. PIERCE O'CONNOR, '28, GEORGE SMYTHE, '28, GEORGE McMONAGLE, '28, JOEY GAVIN'S brother, Dr. Jim, and a bunch of other boys whose names escape me right now.

"Earlier the same day I had spent considerable time with JIM DUBBS, '06, who was my boss and who is now vice-president and manager of the Cleveland division of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Co. KARL MALTERSTECK, '29, sat in with us for a while. Karl is now division engineer at Cleveland for the same company.

"I spent several hours in Cincinnati with JOE DAUTREMONT, '29, and his wife, Judy, who came down to Cincinnati from Springfield for the occasion. Naturally, I told him of the good time that we had had and showed him the pictures that were taken of the groups at the class smoker in the Oliver. I believe he had wired you that he would be unable to make it.

"From there an uneventful flight to Miami and the six days I was gone were certainly packed full of good times and reminiscences."

From GAYLORD HASS: "JIM O'CONNOR, LARRY MOORE and myself left South Bend by air Monday afternoon after the reunion. We arrived in Washington, D. C. without incident or 'flat tires.'

"LARRY MOORE made the retreat of the N. D. Club of Washington held June 11-12 and arranged by FATHER BERNARD RANSING, '31. Larry's newest venture in film-making for the Navy submariners will take him to Navy Underwater Sound Laboratory at New London, Conn.

"LIEUT. COL. JIM O'CONNOR of the Air Force at Bolling Field, D. C., states that BOB SCHULZE toured the eastern seaboard during the summer to recuperate from the 20-year class reunion.

"JOE McNAMARA (Lieut. Col.) was in Washington during July for training duty with the ordnance branch of the Army in the Pentagon. I had lunch with him June 21. Business prevented Joe from attending reunion even though he had made all the plans. Joe is assistant general counsel for Bridgeport Brass Company in Bridgeport, Conn. Incidentally, I am signal officer of the Headquarters Military District of Washington of the Army, located in the Pentagon.

"We would be very happy to see you or any of the '29 fellows in Washington at any time."

From MARK WONDERLIN: "The first week in August the Wonderlins are going to be at the Lake Shore Hotel at Clear Lake, Ia. LARRY MASON is bringing his wife over for an evening and, in Larry's words, 'we will impress upon the girls what a fine and upstanding place Dillon Hall was during the reunion.' I saw JOE WHALEN recently and he was wearing that contagious reunion smile."

From DR. GEORGE J. McDONNELL by wire: "One week after the reunion on June 19 my fifth daughter Janene was born. We are still waiting for a boy. Best regards to the '29 classmates."

EXCERPTS FROM THE POST- REUNION MAIL . . .

JOHN DORGAN (attorney-at-law, Chicago) "enjoyed the smoothly run reunion weekend so much."

BILL DOOLEY (Alumni Office, Notre Dame) "that march of the '29-ers into the Dining Hall Saturday night was top flight."

NORB BERGHOFF (Wayne Equipment, Fort Wayne) "a pleasure to see the '29-ers over the reunion week and sorry that I was unable to stay for the entire ceremony."

BILL KREIG (Bushmann, Kreig, DeVault & Alexander, Indianapolis) "enjoyed a pleasant and successful 20-year reunion."

BOB McVety (Remington Rand, N. Y.) "so sorry I had to break away and return to New York Saturday evening."

MICKEY McMAHON (North American Co., New Orleans) "had an excellent time, but the long plane ride home was not exactly a picnic. Sign me up for the 25th."

FRED WAGNER (insurance and bonds, Tiffin, O.) "enjoyable weekend with so many planned festivities."

1930

Harold E. Duke, 4030 N. Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ED CONROY, of San Antonio, was in Washington, D. C., for a visit this past summer. Ed, formerly with the Bureau of Ordnance in Washington, is advisor on administration to the mayor of San Antonio.

At a July meeting of the Lions club in Hotel Mishawaka, DR. HENRY HINTON of the Chemistry Department gave a talk on the latest discoveries in science and their evolution through research.

CLARENCE KOZAK was seriously injured in an auto accident near his home in Mansfield, O., in mid-summer. Through the prayers of his many friends on and off the campus, Kozy is now on the road to recovery.

HAROLD STEINBACHER has been appointed circuit judge of Calhoun County, Michigan, and until Dec. 31, 1949, occupies temporary offices at 126 Capital Avenue, NE, Battle Creek, Mich.

DAN CANNON and BERNIE CONROY, general chairmen of the 20-year reunion on June 9, 10 and 11, 1950, are laboring early and late to produce a weekend that will outrank even the super-successful 1929 reunion weekend of joyful memory.

Toward that end they have just appointed as local chairman for the event: DEVERE PLUNKETT, history prof at Notre Dame and brother of DON PLUNKETT who carried the local burden so happily for 1929 last June. Don has promised to pass along to his brother all of the tricks of the reunion business. And Devere, with a lot of aid from other '30 men in the South Bend area, will add a few of his own.

Bernie Conroy sums up in the following piece all that has been done so far—and it's a great deal—to put the reunion together and make it tick!

DAN CANNON, FATHER RAY TOTTEN, and myself got together at Dan's home in Columbus this summer and discussed plans for our 20-year reunion at the University next June. Dan plans to send out three or four letters to all the members of the class during the course of the year and we also decided to appoint state chairmen, whose duties will be to contact the class members in their own states. We find that there are many many address changes and a great deal of the success of this reunion will depend upon the personal contacts that these state chairmen will be able to make. In some states the chairman will find it advisable to designate other class members as city or local area chairmen. The response so far to our request for help in getting the reunion organized has been very fine and we have set our goal to exceed the 121 graduates of the class of 1929, who took part in their twentieth reunion last June.

Father Ray Totten is very happily located as assistant pastor at the Holy Rosary Rectory, 1651 E. Main St., Columbus. He has agreed to act as treasurer for the reunion. DOUG DALEY reports from California that he will look after things in Los Angeles and will be on hand for the reunion; JOHN REDGATE will organize Connecticut; JOE FAY of Lyndalia, Wilmington, Del., is chairman of that state; JERRY HOLLAND checks in from Florida; CHUCK LENNON and TOM PURCELL have the job of covering Illinois; FRANK FINK, the editor of "Our Sunday Visitor," and JOHN ROGAP, that lawyer from Indianapolis who gets around quite a bit as state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, should do a good job in Indiana; DAN WELCHONS, the insurance man from Hutchinson, Kans., will be on hand; our representative in Kentucky will be DR. JOHN FORSEE of Louisville; from Louisiana JACK NOWERY reports that VIC MARTZELL and TED RYAN have already promised to attend with him; DINNY SHAY says he will be on hand but he is unable to find another classmate in the state of Maine. Dinny is now located at Bowdoin College.

DAN SULLIVAN has things under control in Baltimore, Md., and JOHN V. MORAN is on the job in Boston; Michigan will be under the leadership of BILL REAUME of Grosse Pointe Farms and JOHN CONLIN of Monroe; in Minnesota our chairman will be FRANK AMATO of St. Paul; BILL MILLER of Mississippi hopes to make the Tulane game this fall as well as the reunion; GENE KILLOREN, attorney-at-law in St. Louis, has promised to contact everyone in Missouri; from Montana we had a nice note from FATHER RUSSELL SCHEIDLER of St. John's parish in Fairfield; DR. FRANK HAND will represent New Hampshire.

TOM KENNEALLY and JOE ABBOTT will be the promoters from New Jersey; in New York the organizers will be CON CAREY and Personnel Director TIM O'ROURKE; GUS BONDI, district manager of Norwood, O., branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., writes that he will be glad to work with AL SHIPACASSE, who is still located in Cleveland; JOE MOONEY will look after things in Oklahoma; from Pennsylvania we will have LEO CARNEY from Erie and HARRY FRANCIS from the Philadelphia section; LEO McALOON, that slim funeral director from Pawtucket, R. I., says that he expects to drag his few pounds away from his five little Indians long enough to take in the reunion. We wonder if anyone will be able to challenge Leo's claim to the heavyweight title?

BILL SHERMAN reports from Knoxville, Tenn., that he has already notified his family of his plans to attend the reunion. He has also been talking things over with BILL SULLIVAN and LOU HEITGER; JOHN BITTER has agreed to try to cover the state of Texas and search out any members of the class of 1930. John is working with White Uvalde Mines at San Antonio. PAT CONWAY is located at Arlington, Va., and will help from there; PAT GOGGIN of Seattle, Wash., suggests that DAN CANNON be assigned to work out a plan whereby the 1930 members who are fathers of four or more children will be provided with a round trip and all expenses paid to the reunion.

TOMMY McDUGAL and TOM FROST will be co-chairmen of Wisconsin. Tom is looking after the Frost Farm Stores, Inc., with headquarters in Madison. He writes that KARL BRENNAN is now located in Rockford, Ill., with the W. T. Grant Company. DR. WALTER McFARLANE, whose new address is 201 Professional Bldg., Macon, Ga., will try to locate some other '30 men in his state.

In addition to the state chairmen, we are taking a graduate in each of the different colleges to represent their classmates and help to develop something interesting for the reunion. BOB EGGEMAN, of Fort Wayne, is going to represent the lawyers;

JERRY PARKER, who is with the American Air Lines in New York City, will be chairman for the College of Arts and Letters; and JOHN GOLDEN will work with the Commerce men.

JACK FLYNN writes that he is no longer located in Arizona but that after almost four years in the Army, has settled at Seattle, Wash. He is operating the Fourth & Pike Clinical Laboratory in that city and attends the functions of the Notre Dame Club of Western Washington. MILTON FOX has promised that he will be on hand for the reunion. He is located with the Peter Fox Brewing Company on West Monroe St. in Chicago.

DR. BOB JACKSON reports from the State University of Iowa that he doubts very much that he will be able to attend the reunion since he expects to present a paper at the International Pediatric Congress in Zurich, Switzerland, next July. He says that he sees DICK O'TOOLE and BOB ZEIS at medical meetings.

In a letter from ED FEEHERY he stated that he runs into TOM PURCELL, BILL MCCARTHY and HARRY O'ROURKE in Chicago. Ed's hair is starting to turn gray but he didn't say whether it was the rush of business or the worries of trying to raise his four children that is causing it.

1931

Walter F. Philipp, 4 Pickwick Lane, Newton Square, Pa.

EUGENE COYLE is now associated with the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington, D. C.

JOE ROBINSON was promoted to personnel manager of the New Departure plant, in Sandusky, O. His home address is 1118 Fifth Street, Sandusky. He had been with New Departure plant in Bristol, Conn.

1932

James K. Collins, 17 Triangle Ave., Dayton 9, O.

TOM BATH was appointed chairman of the advanced gifts division for the fall campaign in the Community Chest drive in South Bend. Tom, an insurance man, is the former Indiana secretary of state.

These are some of the Notre Dame men who are working in the Chicago area for the Allstate Insurance Co. Seated, from left are: Robert E. Gorman, '32, advertising manager, John T. Moran, '30, claim manager, and Alvin G. Kolski, '31, assistant claim manager. Standing are: Edward J. Hunter, '42, underwriter, John M. O'Rourke, '43, preparation division, and William F. Rupp, '33, assistant general counsel.

Joseph D. A. McCabe,
Rosary College, River Forest, Ill.

From JOE McCABE:

Dear '33-ers: During the next few weeks the under-written underwriter of this here column intends to send out a broadside of postcards in the hope of getting a few names to sprinkle through the continuity. It's a mail-order SOS, lads—f'evens sake WRITE, before LOUIS BUCKLEY lowers the boom on us '33-ers. Judging from the response they get here for the Rosary College "Alumnae News," maybe I ought to write your wives . . . perhaps they'd blow the whistle on you!

Dropped into MAURY LEE'S office a little while back and will testify without subpoena that everything seems to be going well for him. He deposed that the last he had heard all was well with FRANK MATABOWSKI, ED VYZRAL, KITTY GORMAN, JIM LARKIN, DON WISE and JOE KIRINCICH.

Saw FRANK McGEE while loop-strolling, and he gives a favorable report. Bumped into TOM CONLEY (not physically, fortunately for me) and he looks in the pink, and reports that somebody reads this effort—Tom said that after I mentioned his name in this space a while back he heard from a friend he hadn't been in touch with since graduation. PAT and JERRY CROWLEY'S mother died recently—your prayers will be appreciated—and a great number of N.D.'s turned out for her funeral, including TOM SEXTON, ED STEPHAN, AL STEPAN, and others. FATHER CAVANAUGH, Notre Dame president, said the funeral Mass.

Your class scribe visited the old campus a few weeks ago, and had pleasurable chats with FATHER JOHN WILSON (Hack, to we-knew-him-whenners), FATHER "CHICK" SHEEDY, TOM STRITCH and FRANK O'MALLEY, as well as The Foundation and ALUMNUS—JIM ARMSTRONG and BILL DOOLEY. You'll never believe it, but it was actually cool down there. Good thing, as yours sincerely is not the young thing he was when he ran up mileage touring those grounds in '33. You'll hear different views from more authoritative sources, but the scattering of summer-schooling footballers we saw down there looked capable of winning a game or two.

Met TOM MURPHY, formerly of Newport, R. I., the other day. He was in Chicago on business, said he has moved to Buffalo, and is with Armour's, as he has been since graduation. Looked like a testimonial to the good red meat they sell, too. (See—I'll even give your employer a plug, for free! Drop a line, and charge the stamp to business expense.)

The Mrs. and our two—me too—picnicked with BOB GORMAN, his wife Ellen and their three on a Wilmette beach one of those hot July days. No ants, though.

OCTOBER DEVOTION—Any month is good, but October would be particularly timely for beginning the First Saturday devotion in honor of the Blessed Mother. That's the devotion suggested to commemorate Her appearance at Fatima, remember—attend Mass, receive Communion, and say the Rosary on the first Saturday of five successive months. You can get started right in October, too—because the first Saturday is No. 1 day . . . Oct. 1. As graduates of Her school, let's get in line—help avert the "terrible catastrophe." She warned the world was coming if Her words were unheeded. Don't let non-Catholic propagandists fool you—devotion to His Blessed Mother is the best way to honor Christ. See you at the rail Oct. 1!

R. I. P. Your prayers are earnestly requested for the repose of the soul of classmate: TOM BLACKWELL of Indianapolis. Tom is survived by his wife and four children—they'll need our prayers, too. Don't forget Tom and his loved ones, fellows . . . we never know whose turn it is next, and it would be mighty comforting, if we see that number coming up, to feel that the rest of the '33s would be in there praying. It's a good idea to try to remember our deceased classmates in our daily prayers.

CLEVE CAREY, former retail sales promotion manager of the Rexall Drug Co., has been appointed advertising and sales promotion manager with headquarters in Los Angeles.

Cleve, who joined Rexall in 1946 as associate retail advertising manager, will direct the company's sales promotion, advertising, publicity, package design, and two national network radio shows for 10,000 Rexall stores and 400 company-owned retail outlets.

A Notre Dame man, Clyde A. Lewis, '34, Plattsburg, N. Y., is the new commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was elected at the annual VFW national convention in Miami in August, where President Harry S. Truman was the top speaker.

Mr. Lewis, right, is shown above with his Notre Dame classmate, Mayor E. Spencer Walton of Mishawaka, who is the junior state vice-commander of the VFW in Indiana. The picture was taken as the two Notre Dame alumni attended the state VFW convention in Indianapolis earlier in the summer.

Mr. Lewis received his law degree at Harvard in 1939. He enlisted in the Army Air Forces in 1942, rose to the rank of major and participated in 36 bombing missions over Europe. He was elected junior vice commander-in-chief of the VFW in 1947 and was advanced from that post to his present rank.

Before serving four years in the army, Cleve was assistant to the advertising manager of the J. C. Penney Co., New York City, and prior to that was advertising manager of the B. R. Baker Co., Cleveland.

JOE SWITZER, St. Louis, was the tournament medalist and also shot the lowest qualifying round in the St. Louis district section of the National Amateur golf tournament. Joe later participated in the South Bend Country Club Invitation tournament, which was won by TOM SHEEHAN, Detroit, and his partner, Ed Flowers.

FATHER MAURICE POWERS, C.S.C., writes from Kyushu, the southernmost island of Japan, where he is stationed as deputy chief of the theatre and divisional chaplain. Father Powers is very near the Hiroshima district and Nagasaki.

"After seeing both cities several times, one becomes an immediate advocate of atomic control," he says.

Mrs. Frank Nattier, alumna of St. Mary's, writes from Manila that she and her husband have met several Notre Dame men and among them: EDUARDO ROXAS and his wife. She also reports that ENRIQUE "Mike" BRIAS lives two houses down from their place. Mike, says Mrs. Nattier, "is married to a very lovely girl, Tessie, and they just had a lovely little girl, Marie Teresa, whom they will call Tessa."

Chicago 28, Ill.

From ED MANSFIELD:

Class secretaries ARE compensated!

That part of the job wasn't mentioned when those "ja" votes for a new secretary were counted by CAHILL with his stock-splitting technique '34 reunion night. That self-protective gesture, with each vote counting for four, prevented the stadium-sellout salesman from getting the secretaryship himself as a lifetime gift from 122 reunioners buoyant with gratitude for his reunion chairman-craft.

The compensation? Really a deal: you don't have to answer your mail. You just print paragraphs from '34 friends in the ALUMNUS, add your own comment—and your letters are answered!

Actually, the biggest bounce comes from glad words from the scattered, such as JOHN "RED" EDWARD TOBIN, the prototype of the Sherman tank, and JAMES "SCHOLASTIC, '34, '35" FITZPATRICK.

We have some added notes on the reunion, but let's catch up on Tobin, the Janesville Terror, an adopted '34 guy popular enough to have three classes claim him.

Red writes from 106 Lansing St., Madison, Wis., where he heads the contact section of the VA. Our reunion notice caught him with an address not used for eight years, so he faces toward the post office at sundown each day. Red's writin' reads:

"Since having that address, I have crossed and re-crossed the equator, had tea and crumpets with the Aussies, fished with the Fuzzy-Wuzzies of New Guinea, and shed my sympathy on the natives of Manila. Came out of the conflict with some malaria, which is now part of my personal medical history, apparently.

"It was certainly good to hear from you. Have thought about you and my friends from Notre Dame many times. Attended a meeting of the South Central Wisconsin Notre Dame club last month, and enjoyed it very much. Renewed some friendships that were becoming musty with the passage of time.

"Sorry I couldn't make the reunion. At the time, I was on active military duty, keeping my commission alive. On July 4 came down with lobar pneumonia and have been convalescing since my release from the hospital. Am now as sound as our 1937 dollar.

"Give my hello to any ND men you might run across."

(Now, here's how you answer mail, trickily, on ALUMNUS rates: Now hear this, Red, your plan to see the White Sox is approved, so name the day and I'll meet you—on a weekend, that is).

Now for Jim Fitzpatrick, who turned his back on Olney, Ill., for the Hotel Daunou, 6 rue Daunou, Paris. A reunion come-ye-back appeal reached him over yonder, so he, too, faces the post office at sundown. Ex-Scholasticman, ex-Sorin-submariner, Jim writes from Paris in very clear English for an expatriate:

"After Pearl Harbor I went into the Air Corps as a private and wound up as a first lieutenant in military government in Japan four years and eight months later. I spent a year in Glendale, came to Europe, studied in Lausanne for three months, Paris for eight, Dublin for eight. I just received my diploma in library training from the National University of Ireland and am now back in Paris as librarian for the ECA.

"At the last ND banquet in L.A. I attended, I sat next to LOU HRUBY, LAURIE VEJAR, ROMEO ALLARD, and BEN ALEXANDER were at that banquet, and DICK MULLEN from Sioux Falls. Have had flashes of news of JIM KEARNS, and as a "Time" reader, I see TIGHE WOODS' name and face in print. I wrote him up as "Man of the Week" my last assignment with the "Scholastic" my junior year. Two years ago I stopped in Canton and saw GEORGE P. MALONEY.

"I'm particularly interested in TOM DAVID and that teller of tales—the poor man's Somerset Maugham—BILL O'TOOLE. Tell the boys I'm single, content but not smug, and fighting the good fight for a place in the sun."

(I now answer another letter, saving transworld postage: Dear Jim: I told the boys—Edward. P.S.—

better order a red '34 cap so you and BUD VITT and HAROLD RHODDY can reunion along the Rue de la Pay and Pay and Pay. We renamed that street in days when the finance office figured base pay at 50 francs for a buck.)

Chicagoland notes: JOHN R. O'HANLON, of Washington, Dee Cee, engineer, tennis captain, ex-army major, called the Mansfield place while the secretary was road-running in search of Crown Zellerbach paper customers. And PAUL ANTHONY MURPHY MANOSKI joined Mr. and Mrs. M at a Sox-Cleveland double feature at the Comiskey summer theater. PAMM was on his annual pilgrimage to County Kennedy, once known as New Hampton, Ia., but re-dubbed with the advent of Kevin, Kathleen, and Michael, progeny of WILLIAM BUNK JOSEPH KENNEDY, barrister.

'34 kitchen scullions will remember a '35 key man on the dish-rackers' team, PETE HEARDEN of Green Bay. Red says: "Good to read your coverage on the class of '34 and find they are still trusting you with the records, if not the cash. I have been down among the Hoosier alumni for almost two years. (Pete left Chicago for 428 Architects Building, UARCO business forms, Indianapolis.)

JOE HANRATTY, Lakewood, O., wrote BOB CAHILL to explain his absence from the reunion. Joe lost his dad at that time and we know the class joins in this belated note of sympathy.

Did you notice that NICK LUKATS became national VP of the Monogram Club? Nick is still west. Know Red Tobin would like to get in touch with him.

Word from another part of the west announced the engagement of GENE BLISH of Denver and Miss Susan Monti of St. Louis.

Three last notes on the reunion, and we'll turn all eyes to '34: CHICK MARRA reported TOM DALTON'S surprised gratitude for the television set presented by the class for Tom's use at bedside in Kingsbridge Veterans Hospital, Bronx, N. Y. There is an address for the 500-plus letter writers on the class roster to use right now.

Note two: for those of you who don't read the fine print, the class gave $203.76 to the Science Center fund, and nice words of thanks went to Chairman Cahill from Father JOHN J. CAVANAUGH, C.S.C., and from JIM ARMSTRONG of the Foundation command post.

Note three, and well: Chairman Cahill rocked back in his chair often in late June, the better to read some 14 letters expressing pleasure over the reunion razzle-dazzle. The pen-in-hand people were RAY TROY, JIM COLE (Community Elevator Co., Hillview, Ill.), JIM O'BRIEN (Western Massachusetts Supply, Pittsfield), RALPH ELSE, J. J. "THE RED" FORREST (New England man for Dumore Co. of Racine, the Hamiltons' firm), Father SEBASTIAN (JACK) EGAN, O.F.M., of Denver, MIKE FOX, VINCE REISHMAN of Charleston. AL SMITH, CHARLEY QUINN, PAUL MANOSKI, TOM OAKES, and EDDIE O'BRIEN.

These gentlemen below either made reservations for a reunion junket and got side-tracked, or wrote to explain their absences:

TONY ANZLOVAR: Mercast Corporation of New York, in Cleveland laboratory.

Dr. JOHN BIRCH: an MD in Onarga, Ill., who just lost a five-year-old son prior to the reunion.

GEORGE BRUNO: teaching in St. Louis, and held at home because of a recent family addition; called to relay his reunion regards.

JOHNNY BRUST: of Brust and Brust, architects, Milwaukee.

Father AUGUSTINE CIMA, O.S.B.: from St. Bede's, Peru, Ill.—"Success and happiness to all of you. I am a religious and therefore can only be present in spirit."

JOE CLARK: on a navy tour from Washington just at reunion time.

JOHN CONLEY: as assistant to the president of McCormick & Co. of Baltimore, sailed to Europe with the head man for two months.

CLYDE CRAIN: detained in Detroit by the imminence of a family addition.

JIM CURRAN: sold his daily newspaper, now in printing at York, Nebr.; was a navy man at the Jap war trials.

DAVE DALRYMPLE: boning for the bar in June in New York.

Rev. SEBASTIAN (JACK) EGAN, O.F.M.: Franciscan missionary missioning out of Denver.

ED FARLEY: not back to the campus in 12 years; Ridgewood, N. J.; three children.

HUGH FITZGERALD: New York, three children—no more news, Hugh.

BILL FROMM: in Chicago; business took him elsewhere June 10.

TED GABRESKI: another MD; in Atlantic City for the AMA session reunion weekend.

JIM GILFOIL: a six-child daddy; Tallulah, La.

JIM GRIFFIN: lawyer of Rome (New York, that is); local Elks head man.

ED HALLAUER: wife just over serious operation, so unable to leave Chicago (class hopes she's fine, Ed).

BOB HALPIN: Bethany Airways, Inc., Bethany, Conn.

CHARLIE HECKELMANN: a new baby due, and a new house to occupy kept novel-writing Charlie around Glendale, L. I. (He was given a good blow in a recent ALUMNUS for his writing; one journalist who made it stick!)

W. G. HOCKBERGER: wrote from Billings, Mont., to report a 10-year absence from the campus; three children.

ART HOENE: did Hockberger four better by staying away 14 years to date. (Portland, Ore., no wonder!)

FRANK HONERKAMP Co.: plywood, plastics, Bronx.

BILL HUISKING: a New York meeting kept him there instead of here.

LES JANDOLI: tried to be in two places that weekend, couldn't; lives in Newark.

BOB KELLEY: Los Angeles Convention and Visitors Bureau.

FRANK LA BORNE: brother married June 11, so he was around Westbury, L. I., when we gathered at Dillon.

EDMUND LAMB: I do believe, from the letter-head, that he's in the lamb business in Michigan, N. D.

NICK LUKATS: the versatile Nick, one of the unsung ND backs of his day, thanks to five losses in '33 that obscured his dexterity, wrote from Albuquerque that he would be roamin' the coast June 10.

FRANK MAHAR: one of the away-for-15-years men, missed again because of business.

VINCE MAUREN: W. B. Barber Co., petroleum, Minneapolis.

J. B. MCANULTY: general manager, Wells Fargo, New York.

ED J. MCCARTHY: from Chicago, a last-minute reunion cancellation.

AL MONACELLI: was refreshing for the bar after a 13-year layoff in New York.

Rev. WILLIAM MONAGHAN, C.S.C.: wrote from the bishop's house, Dacca, East Pakistan; in India since '34 except for a trip home in '47; (if we adopt a missionary abroad as a class, here's a name); relayed regards to Father ED MURRAY.

JOHN J. O'CONNOR: Hogue Mercantile Co. (nut products), Kansas City, Mo., in Dallas on our big weekend. (Lovely wife, four children, and a most hospitable home, all who visit there will testify—Sec.)

RUSS RICKUS: with Zarnitz Bros. wholesale grocery, Wheeling.

BILL REILLY: "The Sign" magazine, Union City, N. J.

RALPH ROGERS: 4,000 round-trip miles away in Sacramento; reported five children, and was really doleful about inability to attend; marked up for '39 on his card.

CLIFF SAUSVILLE: engineering department, Balantine Brewery, Newark, N. J.

GEORGE SHIELDS: Keeler Brass Co., Grand

Lew Crego leads the way as 1934 people slash into their groceries at the reunion party in the Oliver on June 10. Back of Lew are: John Alt, Leo Brugger, Red Hagan, Ed Fisher and Charlie Quinn.

Rapids, Mich.: ill the reunion weekend; should have tried Dr. Cahill's herb medicine in Dillon sub.

JOE SIMON: wishes the boys well from Jersey City, N. J.

BYRON "CAPPY" SMITH: Tulsa; was all set until the last minute.

HAROLD "MINNIE" SPORL: very doleful letter about non-arrival; then a phone call to explain why; C. A. Spurl Co., insurance brokers, New Orleans.

FRANCIS "BUD" VITT: had to leave Washington for Paris, Austria, and Italy, but ordered reunion caps for his two boys (bet he wore one in Paris); relayed regards to Gene Holland and his Chicago associates.

Another traveler: BILL McCORMICK just left Brazil after three years.

NORM DUKE received the Master of Laws degree from George Washington University, Washington, D. C., at the commencement on June 1. HARRY ROSS, '46, received a Bachelor of Laws degree at the same time.

VIN McALOON is in Europe for the Third Order of St. Francis.

Another (?) '34 man getting national headlines is CLYDE LEWIS, Plattsburg, N. Y., and now national commander of the VFW. Clyde trained for the post as national vice-commander, and the busy tearing around that job demanded blocked him from the June reunion of fond memory.

He was set to get to the Friday night Oliver party, but unmatchable airline schedules to Louisiana and other lush landing places kept him away.

Clyde was a major in the military organization that chased A. Hitler into a Berlin molehill, and has obviously done a workmanlike job with his postwar assignment. Proof: he's CO of the outfit! He and President Truman had a talk in Washington soon after the election (Clyde's, not Harry's), and that led to the national wire story that the President leaned toward laughing Communism to death and not toward legislating against it.

Franklyn C. Hochreiter, 1327 Pentwood Rd., Baltimore 12, Md.

From HOCH:

Here we are again, gang, and this time we can make up for our last time to press when we produced nothing.

First of all, we announce the co-chairmen of the 1950 reunion. They are BILL RYAN and PAT LYNCH, both of whom live in South Bend—about each of them, more later. In the meantime, we want all of the '35ers to know that plans for the 15-year reunion are in good hands. Bill and Pat will be in contact with the Alumni Office, and together we shall all attempt to give you a bang-up weekend.

Now to the mail and the visits during recent weeks. First, TOM PROCTOR wrote a short note early in June and commented that BEN BEYER "owes me a letter, so he should not seek information about me from you."

A July 8 letter arrived from ED SIMPSON, with Illinois Bell Telephone Company, Evanston, Ill. He has an interesting request which we are quite willing to share in—this from Ed after 14 years:

"After GEORGE DEMETRIO'S recent missile I feel justified in defending myself. First, I must assure you that when George said I was the big shot at the local telephone company he forgot to dot the i. (I dare you to print it!) My job is with 'Ma Bell,' however, and my handle is district service engineer; me, a Commerce graduate! One of my assistants is a pre-med, so I can't feel too badly.

"Dorothy and I had BERNIE O'BRIEN and JOHNNY MALLOY and their families out to the house a short time ago. Bernie is coaching football and several minor sports at Hirsch High School in Chicago. He does some teaching on the side. Johnny Malloy is still with U. S. Fidelity and Guarantee in Chicago. I believe he's an underwriter.

"I have been 'beating the drum' for the last few months for Father ED BAUER, C.S.C., (Class of

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

Judge Thomas J. Meagher

THOMAS J. MEAGHER, '36, as of Jan. 1, 1949, is judge of the Children's Court in Rochester, N. Y. And on Universal Notre Dame Night this year he was named by the Notre Dame Club of Rochester as the Notre Dame man of the year in his area and received the club's official scroll in recognition of the honor.

After finishing at Notre Dame in 1936, Judge Meagher received his LL.B. from Syracuse University College of Law in 1940. Licensed in 1941 to practice law in New York state, he is at present senior member of the law firm of Claus & Meagher in Rochester. He is a member of numerous organizations and chairman of the Catholic Speaker's Bureau.

'37) in an effort to help him raise some funds for his little colored mission down in South Austin, Texas. He is doing a marvelous job according to recent reports, but is plagued with lack of funds to carry on. He is too modest and shy to really 'put the bite' on some of his fellow alumni and I have been helping him along those lines.

"Attached are copies of two letters from Father Ed. They give you an idea of the scope of his activities and what he is trying to accomplish. HOCH, this may be somewhat unorthodox, but could you in any way help to publicize Father Ed's work in such a manner that might stimulate some small contribution from our class? I will really appreciate anything you can do that might help him.

"I get quite a kick out of reading our class column and feel relieved at finally getting around to write you—after all it only took 14 years."

Thanks a million, Ed. I hope ED BAUER will realize something from this notice. You may correspond with Father Ed at Holy Family Church, 618 West Johanna St., Austin, Texas. How about some help?

Another "lost soul" wrote on the same day as ED SIMPSON, but this guy is in Tyler, Texas. That's right, he is MITCH SALEH. Says Mitch in part:

"Since returning to Texas after four years in the Navy, I've been living here in the old home town. As you already know, I took the big step (after all these years) some 13 months ago and was married in Slidell, La., to the former Adele Haddad. Note:

no regrets, this should have happened to me 10 years ago. I'm associated with an uncle in the field of real estate and oil properties. A far cry from my experience in electrical engineering during the pre-war years, but now things are much more satisfactory in many respects.

"I seldom see any of the old gang down this way, and since my last report, I've seen only RAY KEATING and TOM STANDISH again, down in Houston. They're both doing very well, especially in a family way. A few months ago, the Keatings were blessed with twins, making a total of four on the Keating roster. That tied the Standish score, but not to be outdone, I understand the Standishes are expecting No. 5 in the not too distant future."

It's been a long time, Mitch, and your letter came as a welcome surprise. Hope you got the tickets!

We want to offer the felicitations of the class to JIM CORRIGAN, now, Rev. James Corrigan, S.J. Jim was ordained to the priesthood on June 14. His first Solemn Mass was celebrated on June 19 in St. Bernard's Church, Wauwatosa, Wis.

Another '35er from whom we have heard nothing since that fatal June day in 1935, dropped us a card. He is ED CALDWELL. Thanks a million, Ed, for your offer of service. We may have to call on you. But in any event, we look forward to seeing you at the Reunion Days, Ed—

"It has been a long time since we lived across from each other in St. Edward's Hall. Naturally, I am married and have two lovely children, boy Jeffrey six, girl Robin 8 months. Spent four years in the Navy, came out a LCDR. I am coaching at John Adams High School in Cleveland, where I have been since graduating. I have some swell assistants and we have been lucky. If ever you and the family are anywhere near Cleveland (we live in Brecksville, O., 10 miles out) be sure you pay us a call. We have a nice place on four acres of land. Needless to say, the kids love it.

"I wanted to say that I will be at the reunion in 1950 and hope to see some of the old gang around. If there is any job I can lend a hand to I shall be only too glad to help. At present I have command of a naval battalion here in Cleveland, so I have the facilities for mimeographing or other odd jobs.

We had an announcement from ART CONRAD out there in Chicago. It seems that Art has turned tables on his former chief, in the National Physicians Committee. Art was associate director there, with a Mr. Pratt as director. Now, out comes the National Institute of Professional Services with Art down as president and Mr. Pratt as "policies counsel."

The Institute is open for business at 75 Wacker Drive. It is a "corporation offering public policy counsel." We quote from the prospectus:

"Business, commerce and the professions in this country are face to face with the necessity of meeting realistically the creeping encroachments of Collectivist doctrine and deeds. The meaning of these subversions must be understood and must be countered—IF the independence of the professions is to be maintained and our Freedom of Enterprise System is to be preserved.

"A preponderant majority of all men must be reconvinced of the advantages of the American Way over all others. There must be a rededication to the principles which, in essence, are America. This is a war of survival.

"The National Institute of Professional Services offers top-ranking personnel with proven effectiveness in operation in this and in other vital fields of endeavor."

And now to our visitors—ED BRIED, who, incidentally, took his Ph.D. at Notre Dame in 1938, blew into town early in August. Ed is in technical service of the Naval Stores Department of the Hercules Powder Company at Wilmington, Del.

During the war, Ed was in chemical research, but recently he turned to sales with the country as his territory. Married with four children, Ed is a prosperous credit to our class.

Over the lunch table Ed told us of the doings of a number of our gang, so here goes:

NORB TOUSSAINT is Director of Research for the Ditto Corporation in Chicago.

CHARLIE HILL is a surgeon in Washington, D. C. GEORGE HILL, his brother, is a chemical engineer with the Du Pont Corporation in La Porte, Texas.

LOUIS ALAMAN is with Worthington Pump and Machinery Corp., as the general manager of the Mexico division office in Mexico City. Lou is coming to the Baltimore office in December.

CARLOS DE LANDERO is a government engineer in or near Mexico City. JACK WALTERS is doing engineering with the Universal Oil Co. in Chicago. JOHN VERBANC is with the rubber division of the Jackson Laboratories in Wilmington, Del.

ART KRANZFELDER is a research chemist with the Lilly Corporation in Indianapolis. JERRY DOYLE is with the Beaumont Rice Co. as sales manager down in Beaumont, Texas. JIM SEYMOUR is with the Hooker-Electro Chemical Corp. in Niagara Falls, N. Y.

RALPH GAUTHIER was with a paper company in New York City the last time he was heard from.

And then we had a surprise phone call the other evening from BILL RYAN. Bill was in Baltimore to supervise the taking over of a local finance company by his own corporation—Associates Investment Co. of South Bend.

Bill has been with Associates since graduation. He has moved from the accounting department through several steps and has now come out as assistant secretary. Among his duties is the supervision of the company's auditors traveling the country. Bill is married and has two children. As you read above, he will be co-chairman of our reunion with PAT LYNCH.

PAT (or, if you prefer, Joe) LYNCH has joined the staff of the O'Brien Corp. of South Bend during the past year. Pat has several daughters.

JOHN RYAN, Bill's brother, has three children, is living in Downers Grove, outside Chicago. He is selling for a spring company in the "windy city."

RAY MARGRETT is branch manager of the White Plains office of Associates Investment Company.

NORB HART is at home in Muncie, Ind., and in the insurance business. Norb has three boys.

That's it, gang—keep the dope coming!

1937

Frank J. Reilly, 1651 Metropolitan Ave., New York City 62, N. Y.

FATHER JOE ENGLISH has been named director of the Maryknoll House at 121 East 39th Street, New York City. Father Joe served as assistant director of the house until last year, when he was assigned to the Maryknoll House in New Bedford, Mass.

ALBERT McALOON, according to his brother, LEO, '30, is in charge of displaced persons in Frankfurt, Germany.

1938

HAL WILLIAMS, the able and hard-working secretary of the class since 1938, left on Aug. 5 for Germany where for a year he will be a foreign correspondent for his paper, the "Baltimore Sun." Hal left his wife and child with his wife's family in Frederick, Md., since he will be traveling a great deal abroad, covering the Russian situation, German politics and the Army of Occupation.

Just before he sailed, Hal submitted his resignation as class secretary, and the Alumni Office, with the deepest reluctance, accepted it. How much Hal has done for his class and for Notre Dame generally those of us in the Alumni Office perhaps know better than anybody else. That is why we are so grateful to him. The best wishes of the University and the Alumni Association are with him in his assignment in Europe, an assignment which is, certainly, a well-merited recognition by his employer of his ability and devotion.

JOHN O'CONNOR has been appointed a member of the Indianapolis Rent Advisory Board. John is a member of the law firm of Ruckelshaus, Reilly, Rhetts and O'Connor.

Word comes from FATHER JEROME BOYLE, C.S.C., that PAUL LOCHER, who had been study-

SPOTLIGHT ALUMNUS

Rev. Frederick J. Digby

REV. FREDERICK J. DIGBY, '39, was in July named executive director of the Associated Catholic Charities in the archdiocese of New Orleans.

Graduated from Notre Dame in 1939 at the age of 19, Father Digby worked in the advertising department of the New Orleans Item and did public relations work for station WWL, New Orleans, before he entered Notre Dame Seminary, New Orleans, to study for the priesthood.

After Father Digby was ordained on St. Patrick's Day, 1945, he was assigned to his home parish, St. Rita's in New Orleans, as assistant pastor. Transferred in a few months to the parish of St. Leo the Great, he was in 1947 sent by Archbishop Rummel to Catholic University, Washington, D. C., for graduate work in Social Service. He received his master's degree there in June of this year.

Noel F. Digby, '48, is a brother of Father Digby. Their father, also Fred Digby, is general manager of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association, sponsor of the Sugar Bowl sports activities.

ing at the Sorbonne in Paris for three years, received his doctorate in history this summer. Paul had his master's from Harvard and spent two years at the U. S. Embassy in Turkey. Modern European history is his special field along with international relations. Father Boyle also received his doctorate at the Sorbonne and is now a member of the Notre Dame faculty.

BROTHER HILARION, C.S.C., formerly director of St. Charles' boys' home, Milwaukee, is the new director of Boysville at Clinton, Mich.

JOE CALLAHAN writes in a letter to HAL WILLIAMS:

"I was married in the Log Chapel on the University campus on Easter Sunday last (April 17, 1949). The young lady concerned is—or was—Mary Hall of Jackson Heights, Long Island, N. Y. FATHER FRANK CAVANAUGH officiated and our attendants were classmate CHARLIE CALLAHAN (no relative) and his lovely wife, Betty.

We were married at a Mass and then departed to the Coffee Shop at the Oliver for a quiet breakfast.

"The University went out of its way to make us feel welcome and Charlie Callahan and his wife were out of this world in their kindness.

"We finished up with a trip to Florida and are presently settled down to something resembling routine.

"I'm now a member of the New York City Police Department—by way of bringing you up to date.

"Incidentally, please accept my congratulations for that brother of yours. He's done very well for himself and at our last club meeting here in New York FRANK LEAHY gave him a great send-off."

A postscript on the same letter: "I see RIGGIE DiBRIENZA (a doctor in Brooklyn), CAS VANCE, DUFFY DOLAN and VIC MERCADO quite regularly. Rig has two boys, Cas Vance two girls. We have fairly regular get-togethers."

JACK ZERBST stopped in at the Alumni Office in early September for a welcome chat. On a three-month leave from his duties as managing director of the Union Carbide and Carbon subsidiary in Brazil, Jack, with his wife and child, was expecting to sail for South America toward the end of September. His address—and he'd really very much like to hear from you—is Union Carbide do Brasil, Rua Silveira Mota 621, Sao Paulo, Brazil.

1939

From VINCE DE COURSEY:

Again a rather bleak review of news of 1939 goings-on. No current letters and only a few chance bits of information. A new Labor Day resolution (under the whip of Mr. DOOLEY) to write a few of the faithful each month and demand news might prove to be the end of the drought of news items.

Did discover a few unimportant facts in a long-ago letter from JIM TANSEY, from 95 Wilson Street, Norwood, Mass., which was a long way to take a wife who hailed from the personally well-remembered town of Waterville, Kans. Jim, before the war was with the K. of C., but has since reformed and is now with the Glidden Co. in the Boston territory.

Had, early in May, an anguished letter from FRED SIMON out in the wilds around Waco, Texas, bemoaning the absence of tickets to the N.D.-Southern Methodist game (a complaint that is not confined to Waco, nor to Texas). This game really ought to be played one-half in something like the Coliseum in Los Angeles and the second-half in Franklin Field—and at that there would probably be screaming. As a purely personal thing, if you know of a couple of available ducats, let us hear about it. Fred could, I know, use 'em to good advantage. And if he can't, I can.

Had a phone call one Saturday from BILL RICKE, who is now with the Plumb Tool Co., covering a lot of Texas out of Houston, and a loyal booster he is. Hope we get together in Dallas; his sales meetings prevented it in Kansas City.

Have little to report from Kansas City, other than the tragic death of FRANK DUGAN, '44, and his wife in an auto accident. Frank was TOM REARDON'S brother-in-law, and his death, with his wife, was a tremendous shock to all of us.

Now for this business of class news. If you know of something, drop us a line—we need more pertinent news of the boys and if you don't write it—there isn't any chance of its getting presented to the ALUMNUS. And if you get a postal card, hold it as a solemn duty to answer (only for Lord's sake, don't wait for the card if you feel the urge to set pen to paper). That way we'll have a representative bi-monthly summary of what's happening.

FRANCIS X. "TIM" BRADLEY, who received his law degree (J.D.) in June and his M.S. (mathematics) in August, is at Yale for graduate work in law. With his wife and three children he is residing in New Haven. Tim was a graduate assistant in math at Notre Dame while he was doing his law work.

JOHN F. GREENE, armorer gunner on the ill-fated "Manuwa" in World War II, was buried on July 19 in Punchbowl cemetery in Honolulu. Frank

M. Greene, his father, traveled from Fort Worth, Texas, to see his son given full military honors. Carnation leis and other island flowers were laid on the caskets of the war dead.

ED BEINOR was credited with saving a man from drowning in the Kankakee river in Illinois on July 3. Ed dove into the river and pulled Norman McKenzie of Chicago 15 yards to shore. Ed is now a grocery store manager in Kankakee and has a cabin nearby.

DICK GARAB has been appointed Studebaker district manager with headquarters in South Bend. He lives at 914 Van Buren St., South Bend.

CAPT. LARRY SUTTON of the Army Air Force was at Notre Dame on Aug. 26, the happy possessor of a Ph.D. from the University of Geneva in Switzerland. Larry got his master's degree at Notre Dame in 1940, then entered the Air Force in 1942, and flew with the Eighth Air Force on 62 missions. Separated from the service in 1946, he reentered it in 1947 and was assigned to do graduate work in political science at the University of Geneva. He spent two years there and is now assigned to Air Force headquarters in Washington, D. C.

TOM BOSSORT in June received his master's degree in business administration from Indiana University.

John W. Patterson, Jr.
5530 Darlington Rd., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Secretary JOHN PATTERSON of the Pittsburgh Press writes:

"I have promised this before—but shall do so again with firm purpose. I'm going to dig up some news for that 1941 column!

"You will understand why the complete lack of news for the past few months (though you may say 'what about before that') when I tell you that I have made no less than six out-of-town trips for the paper in that time. And when one returns from those junkets there's always an extra pile of work to tackle.

"Anyway, I shall do better."

1943

John L. Wiggins.

From JACK WIGGINS:

Both ED HANRAHAN and JACK TALLETT supplied me with information that FATHER BOB PELTON had recently celebrated his First Mass in Evanston, Ill. Father Pelton is a member of the Congregation. Tallett also tells me that PETE MORITZ is now engaged.

JACK BARRY, attorney with Popenhusen, Johnston, Thompson & Raymond, told of BOB WALSH, who recently made a trip to Chicago in the interests of St. Benedict's College in Atchison, Kans. Bob is director of athletics, and has as his assistant AL "WHITEY" LEE, '41. St. Benedict's was the scene of many a struggle with the old Notre Dame "B" teams. ED KOPSHEVER was the hero of the last game of the series in 1941.

Elsewhere in sports, LOU RYMKUS is gunning for a repeat All-Conference berth of the All-America Pro Football League team. Lou is a tackle on Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns. In the rival circuit, BOB DOVE has reported to the Chicago Cardinals, and FRED "THE DIPPER" EVANS to the Chicago Bears.

Ran into BILL KEYES, '41, on the main stem in Columbus, O., and he says that GEORGE HAYES has remained in the Navy and is stationed in his hometown of Cleveland. Also, that CHUCK KANE was working for the Ford Motor Company in Cleveland.

HOWARD MARLOW, recently elevated from staff assistant to Works Auditor at Wisconsin Steel Works, says that another Notre Damer, JOHN TREACY, '42, had been given a leave of absence from the Works to tour Austria on a government mission. John is an accountant on an advisory committee checking and suggesting rehabilitation methods for the Austrian steel industry. BOB KING is selling steel and rubber industrial matting. ED BOURKE was married last Easter season and is now in the East pursuing his aeronautical engineering.

LEE RAYMOND is with the David A. Noyes Company, Chicago brokers. BILL RILEY is selling lithography for the Riley Printing Company, Chicago.

SAM MCQUAID was married in Duluth, Minn., to Anna Rose Faith on July 5. Congratulations, Sam! And congratulations to the JERRY GAINERS on their announcement of the birth of Mary Elizabeth on July 13.

Quite a number of the class will be making the trip to South Bend this fall to see the home games, so we would like to suggest that after the game we all meet outside Gate 14. We'll be on hand with pad and pencil to take notes of the whereabouts and doings of the Class of '43.

DON'T FORGET! MEET AT GATE 14 AFTER THE HOME FOOTBALL GAMES!

TOM COONEY is with the FBI in Los Angeles. His home address is 825 Grevelia, South Pasadena. REX ELLIS and he see each other occasionally.

JACK BENNETT is practising medicine with his father in Burlington, Wis., and plans to begin a residency in radiology in Philadelphia next July. His brother, JIM, ex-'47, is now interning at Milwaukee County Hospital.

RAY QUINN is working for General Motors in Dayton, O., in the Labor Relations Department. He recently passed his Ohio Bar exam.

HARRY WRIGHT has begun his first year at the University of Portland as head coach after three years as head coach at Aquinas Institute in Rochester, N. Y. NEIL GREEN, who was with Harry at Aquinas, joined his coaching staff at Portland. FLOYD SIMMONS, '48, is still another assistant coach from Notre Dame.

BILL TRACY is back in New York working with the FBI. His home address is 3062 Decatur Ave., Bronx, 67. His brother JOE is connected with the law firm of Hogan and Kelleher in New York.

1944

William F. Talbot

From BILL TALBOT:

On the train back to New York following the Reunion, JOHN KILBRIDE was thinking about the gaiety and camaraderie of the week-end, when the question entered his mind: if reunions are such exciting affairs, why wait another five years for the next one? Then John went a step further and suggested that we might get together over the week-end of the North Carolina game in New York (Nov. 11-13).

Pursuing this idea, we sent identical letters to all the members of the class of '44, living in the metropolitan area, to sound them out. It was suggested that we hold a post-game cocktail party at some reputable club or cafe from 5 to 8 p. m.; reasoning that, since the three-hour period between the end of the game and dinner seems to be always spent waving pennants and drinking in some overcrowded bar anyway, it might be a sensible suggestion for the men of '44 to get together and do their celebrating in the same place.

Despite the fact that our letter caught everyone in the midst of vacation time, there were nine responses out of 38, and all of them favorable. TED TOOLE was the first to answer with his endorsement. He added an interesting post script, saying that he and his brother, JOHN, '46, have started an industrial distributorship and are working night and day to make it click. JIM CROWLEY also came through with an answer. Jim is presently working as a freight agent for the Moore-McCormack Lines, with a shingle at 5 Broadway, N.Y.C. BILL ROGERS was also enthusiastic, and came through with several fine suggestions. Ditto JIM FINNERAN and MIKE MALLOY. The latter added: "BOB CARPENTER and his wife are coming down from Fall River and I'll drag them along."

BILL SCHROEDER and PHIL HOLZBERGER were delighted with the idea, though there is little chance for either to attend. Bill has moved to Miami, Fla.; while Phil, after having spent three months at Fort Bragg, N. C., is now a captain in the Medical Corps at Fitzsimons G. H., Denver, Colo. You can catch him at this address until April, when he leaves the Army and joins the staff of the American Hospital in Paris, France. "BLACK JOHN" MURPHY also hoped the affair would be a success. He and Aggie have moved to 127-07 Rockaway Blvd., So. Ozone Park 20, N. Y., but will probably be living in Wantagh, L. I., when November rolls around.

So there the matter rests. The question now is whether or not those out-of-towners who are making the game trip would care to attend such an affair. Those interested, including those in the metropolitan area, should let me know immediately so that proper arrangements can be made. They will be kept posted on the event by mail.

Those of the class of '44 who have tried but who have not been able to secure theater tickets, or night club or hotel reservations may, if the need is urgent, send their requests to this address. Here they will be screened and passed on for action to a fraternal committee headed by JIM CROWLEY and BILL ROGERS. It is hoped that no one will besiege us with reckless requests, for the committee was designed to lend a hand only to those who desperately need assistance, and possibly to serve as a model for other groups in other football towns (Dallas, Baltimore, etc.) Always list several alternate choices, and please do not ask for tickets to "South Pacific." It is sold out through March.

Still with a thought to reunions, ORLANDO BONICELLI announces that he and his wife will make the trip down to South Bend for the Southern California game, and that he will keep his eyes peeled for any of the old gang.

FRANCIS MICHAEL ("MIKE") CASEY, when last heard from, was at Chapel Hill on a Rockefeller Fellowship as a jack-of-all-trades in the drama department. Mike has written two fine plays which have just been published with praise by Samuel French Inc., N. Y. They are titled "John Shanahan, Me Boy" and "Dearie, Ye're a Dreamer." They are 35 cents a copy and may be secured through the class secretary.

ED MEAGHER, another literary fellow, has for some time been with the avant-garde Catholic magazine, "Commonweal" as assistant editor. That address is 386 Fourth Ave., N. Y. Ed recently had a pleasant reunion with PAUL CARR when the latter came to the big city to consult an advertising firm.

JACK WOELFLE is another A.B. fellow interested in advertising. Jack has been trying to crash the agencies as a copywriter since the war ended. He was told to go out and get sales experience. Jack did. He broke all existing records as an insurance salesman, and then set new highs as a hotel supplies salesman. But still no copywriter job. He has since moved to Levittown, N. Y. where his luck may change.

JIMMIE EVERT, '45, who beat Wayne Sabin in the second round of the World Professional Tennis Tournament, went on to lose to Bobby Riggs, the eventual champion. The first set of that match was a 12-10 heartbreaker. Jimmie was pro at the Shenock Shore Club, on Long Island Sound, Rye, N. Y., during most of the summer. He is now at the Fort Lauderdale (Fla.) Tennis Club and at the Pinecrest School of the same city.

There was a slight mistake in this column's announcement, in the last issue, that JIM O'DEA had been elected to Congress. We sent him a special delivery letter which was returned with all sorts of notations. Actually, it was the Massachusetts House to which Jim was elected. You can reach him there until 1950, then you might try Washington again.

At the meeting of the New York club in late June, FRANK LEAHY exhibited a movie of campus life and gave a spirited and frankly exciting speech on the coming season. Listening in were LARRY SCHATZLEIN, GEORGE SULLIVAN, "BLACK JOHN" MURPHY, and BOB MCCOY, among others.

To clear up a few odds and ends still hanging over from the reunion, it ought to be reported that JIM CUNNINGHAM was shy $106.30 on expenses when the accounting was made. A few more appeals reduced this amount, but not entirely. In case you forgot to divvy up at the time, you can still reach Jim at 325 Lincoln Way West, South Bend.

A slight indiscretion on the part of the secretary resulted in the omission of the names and antics of JOHN KILBRIDE, JERRY COLEMAN, TOM FERRARI, and JACK KELLEY from the reunion report. May it now be added that they were present and took a hale and hearty part in the proceedings.

And now it can be told. This column was, for five years, written by a very generous and cordial guy named JOHN LYNCH. He was so reticent about his own achievements and so submerged his personality when he composed his column, that too few had any notion of the accomplishments he was quietly making in his own private life. It was not long after the end of the war that John descended on New York and out-smarted the smoothies by landing a prize job as a publicity director for a popular Broadway musical. He now holds a fellowship at Stanford University. Between periods there, John has married and has been able to achieve great critical success with his writing. His story, "The Burden," was first published in the "Atlantic Monthly," and subsequently reprinted in both of America's prize short story collections, "The Best American Short Stories of 1948," and "The O. Henry Memorial Award Prize Stories of 1947." In the winter issue of "The Pacific Spectator," this year, his short story "The Surgeon" appeared. And now you can look for another one called "The Gentleman's Visit," which will appear in "The Catholic World" in the October or November issue. He is at present deep at work on a new novel and, if space permits, we would like to quote his remarks on the progress:

"Wrote a 10-page chapter to begin, wrote two later chapters, threw away the first chapter, wrote a new first chapter, salvaged part of the thrown-away one and made a prologue of it, wrote a third chapter, threw away the prologue and wrote new prologue. Now have a 1-page prologue; scene-setting first chapter; 8 pages; 2nd chapter, 3 pages; 3rd chapter, 7 pages; 4th chapter, 3 pages; later chapter, 8 pages; much later chapter, 12 pages. And a whole lot of notes, dialogue, partial scenes, links, endings, beginnings, transitions, etc., to work from. The title is, simply, 'The Mountain.'" Keep your eye on this one!

PRESS-TIME BULLETIN

I just discovered that the local Notre Dame Club is sponsoring a Notre Dame party in the New York Athletic Club, 7th Ave. and 59th St., following the game. The obvious thing for us to do, therefore, is to celebrate the victory (it says here) with our fellow alumni. The '44 gang can of course have a corner by themselves. So I'll be seeing you right after the game on the ninth floor of the N.Y.A.C. A buck admission; spend what you want. Remember, too, the big Notre Dame party at the Biltmore Hotel on Friday night. Let me know that you'll be around for the weekend.

ED DRINKARD, who received an electrical engineering degree this summer, is now employed by the Studebaker Corp. in South Bend in the purchasing department. His address is 1224 E. Bronson Street, South Bend.

The body of GALAND V. FUNK, JR., Muncie, Ind., was returned for reburial on June 21. He lost his life in the Battle of the Bulge on Dec. 24, 1944.

JOE LANIGAN, who was connected with the printing firm of BERLINER and Lanigan in California and was later a graduate student in philosophy at Notre Dame, has joined the Carthusians in Spain and will henceforth live the hermit life of his order.

PAUL O'CONNELL recently received the degree of doctor of philosophy in biochemistry from the University of Rochester. Before leaving Rochester, Paul had a visit with JIM DOUGHERTY, '46, who is interning at Rochester General Hospital. Paul is now doing research at the University of Pittsburgh. He hears occasionally from DR. PHIL CLARKE who has left the Navy and is now doing residency in a San Francisco hospital. JOHN KUHN is working in Chicago, married and has one son as of last fall.

James W. Schaeffer,
7516 N. Hoyne, Chicago, Ill.

From JIM SCHAEFFER:

1950 will be the five-year reunion of the class of 1945. It's not too early to start making plans for our participation. Me thinks that suggestions from all members of the class are in order to determine what special activities are desired, and who among us is "willing" to work on an arrangement committee. Main objective of our plans might very well be to map out a program to encourage as many of us as possible to attend the reunion next year.

Let's have your suggestions now.

The mail this month brings announcement of the marriage of DR. OWEN DOYLE to Miss Cynthia Eusterman of Rochester, Minn., on June 25 at Rochester. And a son with the good Irish name of Kevin Declan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. David A.

Walsh on May 13. The Walshes reside at 7411 Piney Branch Road, Takoma Park, Md.

Last item in the rather sparse mail bag was an announcement of the ordination to the priesthood of D. FARLEY CURTIN, C.S.C., at Notre Dame on June 8. Father Curtin offered his first solemn Mass at St. Adrian's Church in Chicago.

DICK AMES received the degree of Master of Arts from the University of Minnesota on Aug. 25. A teacher of English at Notre Dame for the past couple of years, Dick will this year continue his graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania.

BERNIE GOTTA is regional group manager for the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. in Chicago with offices at 135 S. La Salle St., He recently moved from Texas.

BOB RIORDAN, former vice-consul to Angola, Africa, has joined the faculty at Notre Dame, where he will serve as an instructor in marketing. Bob served as vice-consul in Angola, Africa, from 1946 to 1948, and later as vice-consul in New Zealand.

ROCCO GERMANO, widely known as a student violinist in his Notre Dame days, is now a member of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

1946

John K. Stewart, Nolan Motor Co.,
Garden City, Kans.

From JACK STEWART:

After sending out about 20 letters on approximately the fifth of this month (August) I am blessed with the receipt of four replies. Here's the report:

FRANK RUGGIERO, former bouncing fullback, has been director of Athletics at St. Mary's High School in Rutherford, N. J., for the past three years. Married in his senior year at Notre Dame, Frank is now head coach (and possibly water-boy) for bouncing Lenny, his two-and-a-half year old son. "He's a big fella, and a future Notre Damer." Frank is entering the Orange School System this September as a teacher and football coach. Ex-roommate, BOB FINNEGAN can write to him at 148 Main Street, West Orange, N. J. Finnegan was last heard from as being a three-sport coach in Poolesville, Md.

VINCE MELI, was caught in Cupid's net before finishing Law School at Michigan. After a Miami honeymoon, he and his wife returned to Detroit where Vince is now selling F—ds. He hopes to set up his own Olds agency before he's "too old." Hope he gets back in the GM line. Vince's address is 1161 Berkshire, Grosse Pointe, Mich.

JACK TENGE writes from St. Louis that he has the nominal title of advertising manager in his father's company. I hope it's not writing commercial jingles. If he does, he goes off the list. Jack just returned from a Canadian vacation. His address is 722 So. Meramec Dr., Clayton 5, Mo.

CHRIS COCHRANE serves notice that he will take up housekeeping on the 17th of September. The bride-to-be is not known to me. One of his ushers will be PAUL RAGAN ('46). Chris is with a company in Toledo as a sales correspondent, and in his letter to me tried to sell me on his product.

MIKE MACK, Viola, Ill., received the degree of Master of Science in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Iowa on Aug. 10.

1947

From J. D. USINA:

In mid-August I attended BOB SNEE'S wedding reception at the Georgian Hotel in Evanston, Illinois. There were quite a few familiar faces. Among those present were HARRY GILLIGAN JR., DAVE CHAMPION, ED HANDLAN, and JIM McCOURT, all with their wives. JOHN CARON and ED BALL were also in attendance, plus other Notre Dame alumni whom I could not contact.

Ed Handlan reports that he is associated with the Gordon-Marshall Advertising Agency in St. Louis and is really sold on his work. Dave Champion said that he will be living in Cleveland in about thirty days or so after living in South Chicago for about two years.

JOHN TAPPE, now residing in Long Beach, Calif., recently completed two weeks training at Fort Lewis, Wash., with the Reserve Officer Corps.

DR. JOHN McCORMICK received his M.D. from the University of Illinois on June 17.

JACK ZILLY signed his pro football contract with the Los Angeles Rams and FRANK SZYMANSKI is with the Philadelphia Eagles.

JACK MAYO suffered a broken ankle while playing with the Phillies and was sent home for the later part of the season.

1948

Herman A. Zitt, Foundation Office,
Notre Dame, Ind.

From HERMAN ZITT:

Things have been a little quiet around the campus this summer with the exception of the June and August graduations, the Reunion, and the Irene Dunne presentation. Nevertheless, I did manage to see or hear from some of the old gang between two-weeks Navy duty in Boston and a trip to St. Louis (all with the family).

BILL RUSSELL, SAM SMITH and CHARLES TULLY passed through after receiving their Master's from Pitt. JACK ROUSSEAU was down from Detroit still looking as sharp as ever. JOE DUES spent several evenings at the house—Joe's businesses in Dayton and Minster, plus his other sidelines, keep him hopping and thriving. Joe now has two sons. He also informed me that TOM DUFFIELD was to be married in Detroit on Aug. 20. Tom is attending Law School at the U. of Detroit. JOHN DVORSCHEK, wife and two children are living in Chicago.

BOB MERZ and family are living in Tacoma. JOHN MAJOR is still living in Decatur, Ill. The BOB LYONS', parents of a son on June 7, are living in Chicago. ED BAILEY is working as a metallurgist at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington. They are expecting the stork again in August. The PAUL RIGALIS are still battling the housing problem in Los Angeles, having moved again (for the third time). DAVE SLATTERY is covering sports for the "News" in Washington. D. C. BEN SMITH is working in Milwaukee while his family is living at home. LARRY KELLY and family are now living in Stoughton, Mass.

The CRADDOCKS spent a weekend with the WEIBELS in Kenosha. Don Weibel is working for Firestone and according to reports is doing plenty of night work.

Returns on the '48 Class Fund for the Science Building are still coming in but there are still a few to be heard from before Dec. 31. More about that in the next issue.

JOHN DiGANN has opened a law office in the Odd Fellows building in South Bend. He, his wife and daughter reside at 1914 S. Catalpa Street.

Dr. JOE GARBARINI was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Tennessee on Mar. 25. DR. JOHN SULLIVAN of Fulton, N. Y., received his M.D. from Syracuse University on June 6. He is interning at Bishop De Goesbriand Hospital, Burlington, Vt.

JOE DeMURO is teaching at St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas. DAVE ARDITO is instructing in the Department of Architecture at Texas A & M College, College Station, Texas.

JOE DILLON is cochairman for the industry division of the 1950 Community Chest campaign in South Bend.

FRANK KAYSER has been appointed to the research staff of Massachusetts Institute of Technology under a fellowship awarded by Vanadium Alloys Steel Corp. for the study and research in tool steel.

CORWIN CLATT signed his 1949 contract with the Chicago Cardinals. ZIG CZAROBOSKI is again with the Chicago Hornets. WILLIAM "BUCKY" O'CONNOR filed suit against the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and Sports Editor ARCH WARD for

1949

Reports have MIKE CONLEY teaching and coaching at Mount Sacred Heart High school in San Antonio, Texas. BOB McDAVID was named graduate assistant in health and physical education at the University of Mississippi. JOHN McMAHON was appointed head basketball and track coach at Mt. St. Mary's college in Emmitsburg, Md. He will also help with baseball and handle football backfield candidates.

JACK FALLON began his new duties as assistant coach at Wayne University in Detroit. JIM MARCHELEWICZ is the first alumnus of Central Catholic high school in South Bend to become the school's head coach. JIM LEARY is back as head coach at South Bend Catholic High. TERRY BRENNAN, who chose a coaching career rather than professional football, is head coach at Mt. Carmel high school in Chicago. Terry is still considering law.

BOB KANE has joined the staff at the Stamford Research Laboratories of the American Cyanamid Company in Stamford, Conn.

CHARLES HANEY is with Voigt's (refrigerators) in Mishawaka, Ind.

JIM BUTZ is with the public relations staff of Wilson's Sporting Goods in Chicago and is the proud father of a daughter, Roberta.

GORMAN BROCK writes from Europe while taking an eight-week tour: "Paris is wonderful — though I like Rome better. While there I had an audience with the Pope." TOM DINGES has also spent the summer touring Europe before settling down to a job.

The class will be saddened by news of the death of JOHN L. O'BRIEN, widely known on the campus as the coaches' movie man. (See "Deaths," this issue.)

Mission Scruples

Every alumnus is the recipient of many appeals from Catholic missions, some of them conducted by the familiar C. S. C.

The Alumni Office from time to time gets expressions of concern that seem to stem from a conscience especially sensitive to these latter approaches.

Naturally, our feeling is that all of these causes are deserving. But all of us have to decide in any given year what deserving causes we can support and what deserving causes we must defer.

The experience of one of our former alumni directors may be helpful. Generous in everything, he told a mission priest friend one day that he was constantly being hurt because after giving $25 and $50 to a reasonable number of these appeals, he felt obligated to turn down others. The priest expressed surprise—

"The missions, to a large extent, live on the many one-dollar gifts. You are probably a major benefactor if you have been sending so much. Why don't you send the dollar most of them request, and multiply the number you support?"

This is one answer. Certainly no alumnus wants us to blackball completely the men who are fighting on the many fronts of religion and education. There are many prayers for you if you can give. There is no resentment if you can't.

General Romulo Will Speak at . . .

Natural Law Institute

Brigadier General Carlos P. Romulo, LL.D., '35, president of the General Assembly of the United Nations, will address the third annual Natural Law Institute to be held Dec 9 and 10 in the College of Law at Notre Dame.

General Romulo will speak on "The Natural Law and International Law" at the last session of the two-day Institute. Other speakers on the program include the Honorable Richard O'Sullivan, of London, England, former King's Counsel of Great Britain; Dr. Edward S. Corwin, retired Princeton University authority on constitutional problems; and Dr. Stephan Kuttner, noted canon law expert at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.

The United Nations president, a native of Manila, P. I., was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree by Notre Dame at the same convocation in which the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt received an honorary degree.

General Romulo was elected this fall on the first ballot as president of the fourth General Assembly of the United Nations meeting at Lake Success, N. Y. His election on the first ballot is a tribute never before paid any United Nations president.

A former Manila newspaper editor, General Romulo received the Pulitzer prize for Distinguished Correspondence in 1941. He has authored a number of well-known books, including four since the outbreak of World War II. The latter include "I Saw the Fall of the Philippines," "Mother America," "My Brother Americans" and "See the Philippines Rise."

The establishment and history of the Natural Law Institute will be commemorated by a bronze plaque to be unveiled at this year's Institute. Separate bronze tablets will be placed beneath the plaque to record the program, speakers, topics and sponsor of each of the Institute's annual sessions since its establishment in 1947, when it was sponsored by the Notre Dame Club of New York. The plaque is being presented to the Institute by Alvin A. Gould, Cincinnati, O., businessman, who sponsored the 1948 Institute and who also is sponsoring the 1949 sessions. It will be placed in the foyer of the Law Building.

A Natural Law Library, believed to be the only one of its kind in the world, will also be founded during this year's Institute. It will be known as the Alvin A. Gould Collection.

The Gould Collection will consist of a complete and representative group of books and materials on the Natural Law doctrine, and will be accessible to scholars and students of the Natural Law. A plaque commemorating the founding of the library will be placed on the door to the section of the Notre Dame law library where the books will be housed.

A total of 106 titles of volumes on the Natural Law already have been selected for the collection by a committee composed of speakers on the 1948 Natural Law Institute program. The committee consists of Prof. Maurice Lebel, of Laval University, Quebec; Dr. Ernst Levy, of the University of Washington Law School; Dr. Gordon Hall Gerould, of Princeton University; Dr. Heinrich A. Rommen, of the College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn.; and the Honorable Robert N. Wilkin, Federal District Judge, Cleveland, O.

RUNNING IN TWO SECTIONS

In effect, if not in practice, the November-December issue of the "Alumnus" is running in two sections—both "different." This is the first section, and it is made up, you will notice, of class news, mostly.

The second section, if the printer and the post office meet schedules, will greet you before Christmas. It is a special picture booklet published by the University. A copy of it is going to every alumnus, and to a lot of other people.

The "Alumnus" will of course return to its regular form with the January-February issue.

Additional Faculty Members

Through an oversight, the names of priests who joined the faculty for the present schoolyear were omitted from the September-October ALUMNUS. These priests are:

Rev. Charles C. Miltner, C.S.C., philosophy; Rev. Robert W. Woodward, C.S.C., philosophy; Rev. Regis H. Riter, C.S.C., philosophy; Rev. Philip H. Schaerf, C.S.C., English; Rev. William J. McAuliffe, C.S.C., liturgy; Rev. Robert S. Pelton, C.S.C., religion; Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C., religion; Rev. Paul B. Rankin, C.S.C., English; and Rev. Jerome J. Wilson, C.S.C., accounting.

Prof. Edward J. Cronin, '38, now a member of the English faculty at Notre Dame, taught for six years in the University of Minnesota, as well as for a year in St. Thomas Military Academy, St. Paul. The ALUMNUS in the September-October issue noted only the latter connection.

In a class note in the September-October issue, the ALUMNUS said that Rev. Jerome M. Boyle, C.S.C., '35, had received his doctorate in philosophy at the Sorbonne. Actually, Father Boyle received his doctorate in the Higher Institute of Philosophy in the University of Louvain, Belgium.

Fendrich Gift Received

John H. Fendrich, '84, president of H. Fendrich, Inc., Evansville, Ind., has presented a gift of $10,725 to the University to cover the cost of the Auxiliary Organic Research Laboratory in the proposed new Science Building at Notre Dame.

The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., president, in making the announcement of Mr. Fendrich's gift, said that the new laboratory made possible by Mr. Fendrich's generosity will be a memorial to the late Herrmann and Mary Reitz Fendrich, parents of the Evansville business executive. Mr. Fendrich attended Notre Dame from 1880 to 1884 and was personally acquainted with the Rev. Edward F. Sorin, C.S.C., founder and first president of Notre Dame.

Another important gift is that of $25,000 from the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for Cancer Research to support the germ-free research being conducted at Notre Dame in the Laboratories of Bacteriology under Prof. J. A. Reyniers.

Deaths

Raymond J. Eichenlaub, '15, Columbus, O., president of the Alumni Association in 1940-41 and one of the most widely known and popular of all

"Eich"

Notre Dame men, died of a heart attack in Columbus on Nov. 9. He had also suffered a severe heart attack two years before and at that time was confined to a Columbus hospital.

Recognized as one of the nation's and Notre Dame's outstanding football players of all time, "Eich" gained his greatest fame as the Notre Dame fullback in the first Notre Dame-Army game, played at West Point in 1913. There his crushing of the Army line, and the threat of it, made possible the sensational forward passing attack staged by Rockne and Dorais.

Of "Eich," Arthur Daley wrote in the "New York Times" on Nov. 16: "And what a fullback he was! He was good enough to be named on Walter Camp's second All-America team at a time when that patron saint of Yale football rarely bothered to look beyond the Big Three for candidates and practically never went digging down in the depths where Notre Dame was then located. So he must have been twice the performer he even was credited with being."

A notable weight man on the track team for three years, "Eich" won three track monograms, as well as four football monograms.

When his own playing days were over "Eich" continued in the football world, not only as an ardent Notre Dame fan, but also, until 1933, as an official in the Western Conference. His business was insurance and he operated his own insurance agency in Columbus for 30 years.

Engaged in innumerable activities, and with his own splendid family to care for, "Eich" always found time to give innumerable hours out of his days to the service to Notre Dame. Always a leading figure in his local Notre Dame club, he was its president for many years. One of the deeper joys of his life was the Ohio State-Notre Dame football series played in 1935 and 1936 and no man was happier than he when Notre Dame won both games, and particularly the ever-memorable game of 1935 in Columbus.

"Eich" is survived by his wife and five sons at 100 N. Stanwood Rd., Bexley, Columbus, O. The youngest son, Rupert (named for the late Rupert Mills, '15, "Eich's" Notre Dame roommate and close friend) is at present a sophomore at Notre Dame. The other sons are Raymond J., Thomas A., and Albert J., who also were students at Notre Dame, and Richard E.

Rev. Eugene P. Burke, C.S.C., professor of religion at Notre Dame, and a longtime friend of "Eich," was the official University representative at the funeral in Columbus.

Philip P. Paschel, of the class of 1889, San Francisco, Calif., died on March 3, 1949, after an illness of two months. Word of his death reached the University only recently.

A native of Council Bluffs, Ia., Mr. Paschel moved to San Francisco in 1900 and in 1910 became associated with the real estate firm of Baldwin and Howell, of which he became president in 1925. He was well known as one of the Bay Area's large tract developers and as an expert appraiser.

His survivors include his sister, Mrs. Hugh Gallagher, as well as a number of nephews and nieces.

Dr. William J. Johnson, of the class of 1890, a Philadelphia dentist for more than 50 years, died on Aug. 3. He was graduated from the Baltimore Medical College after attending Notre Dame. Dr. Johnson is survived by his wife.

William T. Flynn, Chicago, student at Notre Dame in the 1890's, died on Sept. 22. He is survived by a niece and four nephews. Mr. Flynn was a well-known realtor and investment broker on the northwest side of Chicago.

Thomas M. Healy, Fort Dodge, Ia., attorney and brother of Rev. Kerndt M. Healy, C.S.C., '15, died suddenly on Sept. 11, victim of a heart condition. Mr. Healy was a student at Notre Dame, in the "preps" and in the University, from 1912 until 1917. In July, 1918, at the time of World War I, he enlisted in the Army.

A lifelong resident of Fort Dodge, Mr. Healy was admitted to the bar there in 1921 and became associated with his father in the practice of law. Since his father's death in 1929, he had practiced alone.

Surviving Mr. Healy in addition to Father Healy are four sisters.

John F. Gleason, of the class of 1920, Shaker Heights, O., died of a heart attack on July 5. He is survived by his wife, two sons, his parents, two sisters and five brothers.

One of the best known insurance men in the Cleveland area, Mr. Gleason was a trustee of the Insurance Board of Cleveland and a director of many corporations. He was a fourth degree member of the Knights of Columbus.

Gyan C. Sharma, Ph.D., '27, died early in 1945, according to word recently received from the Tide Water Oil Co., Calcutta, India, where he was employed.

Linus C. Niemeyer, '29, Ottumwa, Ia., died suddenly on Aug. 25 following a heart attack in his room in the Mayer Hotel, Peoria, Ill.

Mr. Niemeyer was president of Niemeyer Bros., wholesale distributors of paper products and manufacturers of paper boxes. Surviving him are his wife, two sons and a daughter and his mother.

Carl L. Sabo, '39, Los Angeles, died there on Sept. 12 after a short illness following an appendectomy. Surviving him are his parents, two sisters and a brother.

Born in New Jersey, he resided in South Bend until three years ago, when he moved to Los Angeles.

James William Bellis, Oradell, N. J., a graduate student in the University and a resident in Vetville, died on Oct. 12 of polio.

Receiving his A.B. from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and his master's from Emory University, Emory, Ga., Mr. Bellis was working on his doctor's degree in chemistry at Notre Dame at the time of his death. Surviving him are his wife and young son, as well as his parents and two brothers.

The "Alumnus" extends sincere sympathy to Raymond J. Angates, '29, Philip J., '33, and Edward F., ex-34, on the death of their father; to Edwin A. Berkery, '27, on the death of his mother; to James H. Brennan, ex-20, on the death of his mother; to Robert E. Brooks, Jr., '43, on the death of his father; to Louis C. Collieran, '47, on the death of his infant son; to James C. Curran, '34, on the death of his wife; to John W. Davis, '32, and Delancy J., '37, on the death of their father; to Rev. William P. Evans, C.S.C., '41, on the death of his father; to Rev. Arthur J. Hope, C.S.C., '20, on the death of his brother; to Earle C. Hurley, '24, and James D., '24, on the death of their mother; to Daniel C. Leary, '48, on the death of his father; to Rev. Thomas McAvoy, C.S.C., '25, and Rev. Bernard L., C.S.C., '29, on the death of their aunt; to Varnum A. Parish, '08, on the death of his daughter; to Rev. Joseph M. Rick, C.S.C., '24, on the death of his father; to Rev. Chester J. Schneider, C.S.C., '43, on the death of his mother; to Frank Walerko, ex-47, on the death of his mother; to Rev. Jerome J. Wilson, C.S.C., '32, and Francis J., '28, on the death of their mother; to Adam J. Wolf, ex-39, and Robert N., ex-44, on the death of their mother; to Henry M. Woods, ex-52, on the death of his father.

Personals

1905 — 1909

While in Europe recently, Maximilian St. George, Chicago, ran across Pierre de Lunden who was at school in 1907 and thereabouts. His address is 72 Ave. de L'Armee, Brussels, Belgium.

1910

Rev. Michael L. Moriarty, St. Catherine's Church, 3443 E. 93rd St., Cleveland, 4, O.

From Father Mike:

Anticipating a nod from some part of the country and from some member of the class of 1910 we have delayed the sending of this little gem of secretarial work until the last moment. It is designed merely to keep the 1910 class in good order even if not good perspective.

The efforts of Vice-President Buckley have impressed me most favorably. Great credit is due him but in this particular instance the various techniques have failed to produce. Just try to fancy lack of production—in these days.

This does not in any way resemble a class letter, but assuming that several 1910 men read the ALUMNUS, it is obvious that a committee of one can institute impeachment proceedings and secure—perhaps—the more or less frantic efforts of a brand new secretary.

Strange enough we recently mailed Christmas cards to the membership. What to say? No response, and it is quite unthinkable to mention names in connection with my reaction because after all is said and done we might be sued for libel or closed for business.

On second thought—presuming on the existence of the first—that Christmas card idea was not so good. The boys—men now—might have considered it visionary, impractical, ideological and, in a sense, a waste of money for the missionary cards for which we paid coin of the realm.

Blithely hoping for credit in this new system of secretarial accounting and with best personal greetings to the head skipper and the staff,

Yours for the success of the 1950 reunion which could—indirectly—be a part of the Holy Year.

Fred L. Steers, 105 S. LaSalle St., Chicago 3, Ill.

Fred Steers has passed on to us a letter received from Ed Lister, Box 593, Blue Jay, Calif. Ed says in part: "Looking over the picture (in the 'Alumnus'), I see Father Moriarty, who was prefect when I was at Walsh Hall, also Claude Sorg. . . . So kindly remember me to them if they recall me."

"Should your footsteps ever be pointed out my way up here at Lake Arrowhead, a mile high in the skies, the latch is always off to you and anyone else we mutually are acquainted with."

Ira W. Hurley, 231 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill.

Clarence Derrick is now president of the Board of Public Works of Los Angeles, Calif. His address is Room 173, City Hall.

Charles Fahy is an alternate member of the United States Delegation to the United Nations General Assembly. He was once solicitor general of the United States and also served at one time as a member of the Petroleum Administrative Board and as general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board. He was also legal advisor and director of the legal division of the Military Government in Germany.

1915

James E. Sanford

From Jim Sanford:

We are starting to organize our committee for the 1915 35th reunion next June. The plan is to have groups in the Chicago and Notre Dame areas meet periodically and lay out a tentative program and submit it to the members of the class throughout the country. The committee at present consists of Al Kuhle, Norman Ranstead and L. D. Keeslar. This committee, with additional members, will meet and the class can expect more information after the plans are discussed.

Starting in this issue we will endeavor to bring class news as to the present activities of the members. Al Kuhle, Chicago regional representative of Federal Security Agency, Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance, is responsible for this operation in four states and supervises 600 people. In 1949 his regional unit will disburse $85,000,000.

Al's daughter, Kathleen, recently received her degree from St. Catherine's at St. Paul. She is now with the Armour Research Laboratories. Another daughter, Mary Ann, has just entered Clark College as a freshman. Al's home address is 117 S. Sunset Avenue, La Grange, Ill.

L. D. Keeslar retired some years ago after an active and successful career in the purchasing department of Peoples' Gas, Light and Coke Co. He has now joined an Illinois Utilities Service, where he is also carrying on successfully.

Norman Ranstead is on the engineering staff of Universal Oil Products Co. and has decided to be present next June.

Saw Bill Mooney of Indianapolis recently and we can count on him as a member of the national 1915 reunion committee. He will work with John McShane to round up our members in the Indiana region. John was the lone representative of our class at Notre Dame last June, so we are counting on him to be present for our anniversary party.

The secretary takes this opportunity to extend congratulations on behalf of the class to Louis F. Buckley, vice-president of the Alumni Association, who is in charge of class promotion. His enthusiasm and constructive suggestions helped to arouse this secretary and many others to a realization of the importance of more class notes and frequent communication with the members, particularly with a reunion in the offing.

An effort will be made to have Joseph Scott, prominent attorney of Los Angeles, talk to us at our class luncheon or some other gathering during the reunion.

As the class will remember, he delivered a stirring talk the day we received our diplomas. The theme, as I remember it, was "Swimming Against the Stream." Some of us might have learned something about this in the years since we listened to this silver-haired and silver-tongued orator. To hear him again will be an inspiration.

Be assured that between now and next June, you will hear from us frequently, and a letter will soon be in the mail, notifying the classmates as to the membership on the nation-wide committee to attain a 100 per cent attendance next June.

Mark your calendar now for reunion dates: June 9, 10 and 11, 1950.

Bill Mooney, president of Mooney-Mueller-Ward wholesale drug firm in Indianapolis, served as chairman of the finance committee in Butler University's recent drive for a new $750,000 College of Pharmacy building. Appropriate ceremonies were held on the site of the proposed building, with Bill digging the first spadeful of dirt. Bill is also a member of the Notre Dame Foundation Committee in Indianapolis.

Governor Chester Bowles of Connecticut announced that George Shuster, president of Hunter College, New York City, had accepted appointment to a six-year term as a member of the State Board of Education. George resides in Stamford, Conn.

The "News Bulletin" of the Institute of International Education carried an article in the October issue with the title "Education and Wisdom." It was another of George's many brilliant writing achievements.

Grover F. Miller, 612 Wisconsin Ave., Racine, Wis.

Joseph LaFortune, vice-president of the Warren Petroleum Co. in Tulsa, Okla., and a Lay Trustee of the University, has been named a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Gregory by His Holiness Pope Pius XII.

1917

Bernard J. Voll
206 E. Tutt St., South Bend, Ind.

John Cassidy, Peoria, Ill., is a member of the board of public welfare commissioners recently appointed by Governor Stevenson of Illinois to review administration of welfare institutions and services in the state.

1918

George E. Harbert, De Kalb County Abstract Co., Sycamore, Ill.

After many years of devoted duty to the class, John Lemmer in October asked to be relieved as class secretary. The Alumni Office reluctantly agreed to accept his resignation, expressing to him at the same time the gratitude of the University, the Alumni Association and the class for his magnificent help over wide spans of time.

George Harbert has generously taken over John's work as class secretary and George's first contribution of class news will appear in the next issue of the "Alumnus." Needless to say, you could help his cause immeasurably by tossing off a note in his direction to tell him, and your classmates, about your grandchildren and other people.

From John Lemmer:

Rev. Francis J. Boland, C.S.C., has been named president of Stonehill College in North Easton, Mass. The college, founded by the Congregation of Holy Cross last year, began its second year of operation in September and boasts of a 580-acre campus, a new science building and a growing student body. Father Boland takes over his new job with an invaluable career in education behind him.

After receiving his A.B. in 1918, he began a course of teaching and study that led to a Ph.D. at Catholic University, the vice-presidency of St. Edward's University in Austin, Texas, and a return to Notre Dame as prefect of discipline. Prior to the war, he was head of the Department of Political Science and dean of the College of Arts and Letters. In the early war years he was special advisor to the Navy on academic problems involved in the establishment of the NROTC at Notre Dame. He entered the service of his country as a navy chaplain in 1942 and his war record included participation in the initial assaults on Iwo Jima and Okinawa. He returned to Notre Dame after four years of service and resumed his duties as head of the Department of Political Science, a position which he filled until his appointment to the presidency of Stonehill this summer.

A native New Englander, Father Boland returns to home soil to assist in fulfilling a long standing dream of the Congregation—the development of a strong Catholic college, modeled on the pattern of Notre Dame, in New England.

1919

Peru Foundry Co., Peru, Ind

Magnificently responding to the "influence" exerted upon him at the class reunion last June, and to the invitation of the Alumni Association, Ted Rademaker has taken over as secretary of the class of 1919, succeeding Clarence W. Bader, resigned, better known nationally as Chick.

While welcoming Ted to the ranks of the class secretaries the Alumni Office thanks Chick for splendid aid. Ted's first news will be in the next issue of the "Alumnus."

Leo B. Ward, 458 Spring St.,
Los Angeles 3, Calif.

Thirty-year Class Reunion the week-end following Commencement, June 9, 10, and 11, 1950.

CLASS REUNION CHAIRMAN: Edward J. Meehan, South Bend Tribune, South Bend, Ind.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS: Rev. Arthur J. Hope, C.S.C., Rev. Francis P. Goodall, C.S.C., Vincent F. Fagan, Mishawaka, Ind., Michael Edward Doran, South Bend, Ind., William Francis Fox, Indianapolis, Ind., Harry A. Richwine, South Bend, Ind.

Religious, please arrange with your superiors to get out this week-end. Married men, get permission from your wives to attend. All others make such arrangements as may be required under your particular circumstances.

As plans develop you will be notified.

I spent the weekend of the Tulane game on the campus and was pleased to note that Michael Edward Doran, like Barnum and Bailey's Circus, is bigger and better than ever. Those of you who remember Mike as a tall, slim lad would never recognize him with all his estimated 240 pounds, fit and healthy looking.

I also saw Si Degree (the elder) with his son who is at least six inches taller than Si.

Bill Fox was present in the dressing room after the game, representing the "Indianapolis News." Other than his grey hair, Bill has not changed.

The St. Joe Valley Club had a smoker before the game at which was present Walter "Hick" Sweeney, the two-miler, still selling real estate and insurance and looking in condition to go two miles on short notice.

Father Frank Goodall, until recently was vice-president of Portland University, has been transferred back as pastor of Christ the King Church, just out of South Bend.

Vince Fagan was around and still appears to be the number one architect in Northern Indiana.

Father Art Hope is stationed at St. Joe Farm and, as the historian for the University, recently reissued his revised one-hundred year history of Notre Dame, now brought down to the beginning of Father John Cavanaugh's regime.

I recently saw Father Pat McGuire, now Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick McGuire, stationed at Salt Lake City and apparently thriving inasmuch as I am advised that he has the finest parish in the Salt Lake City diocese. Msgr. McGuire spends a few days in Los Angeles at rather frequent intervals.

I understand from Lyle Musmaker's brother that Lyle's latest efforts in the military service convinced him that it was time to settle down to a happy married life. He is now married and a parent. I forgot to inquire whether it was an heir or heiress to the Musmaker millions.

Bill Jones of the Alumni Board reports that the Hon. Joseph Patrick O'Hara, congressman from Minnesota, finds time away from his arduous duties representing his constituents to get in a golf game with various members of the Supreme Court, the Circuit Court of Appeal and other dignitaries in Washington.

A number of agreeable surprise visits and communications have been received in the past few months. Those of the class of 1920 will undoubtedly remember "Dog" White, now Mr. Richard M. White, o.s. 07-19, Pacific Coast manager of Frank's Manufacturing Co., well servicing and drilling units. Dog, or Dick as he is now known, advised that he has a son now attending Notre Dame. Since leaving Notre Dame he attended Tulane University and went in the oil well supply business, with offices in Houston, Texas, Tulsa, Okla., and now in Los Angeles.

I have had a number of communications from Morrie Starrett, Port Townsend, Wash., postmaster. Morrie was chairman in charge of entertainment for the weekend Notre Dame and Washington played in Seattle.

I also received a letter from Ed Dundon, practicing law in Iron Mountain, Mich.

George (Obie) O'Brien has been quite ill and had to give up theater management. He is now engaged in the stationery and printing business in Glendale, Calif., which business keeps him busy but does not have the long and confining hours of running theaters.

I also received a visit from Jim McCabe and Bill White. Jim, of course, lives in Los Angeles. Bill was visiting his son in Los Angeles. He returned to Ottawa, Ill., where he is a farmer, showing that the agricultural course at Notre Dame does produce results.

I also had visits from Conroy Scoggins of Houston, Texas, and Bill Jones, of Washington, D. C., both of whom are directors and members of the committee on revision of the constitution and by-laws of the Alumni Association.

Rev. Stanislaus Lisewski, C.S.C., was formally installed as pastor of Holy Trinity parish, Chicago, at a solemn high Mass on Nov. 6. A banquet honoring Father Lisewski was held the evening of Nov. 13.

Father Lisewski was born in Chicago and attended Holy Trinity grammar and high school there. Later he received his bachelor of arts degree from Notre Dame. After finishing college, he entered the novitiate of the Congregation of Holy Cross. After his novitiate year, he was sent to Rome, where he completed his philosophical and theological studies at Gregorian University. He returned from Rome a doctor of philosophical and theological science, and a priest.

In 1934 he went to Jagiello University, Cracow, Poland, after serving as curate at St. Casimir's church in South Bend. After his return to this country in 1936 he was professor of philosophy at the University of Notre Dame, and was president of St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas.

Father Lisewski succeeded at Holy Trinity parish the late Rev. Casimir Stuczko, C.S.C., who had been pastor there for 52 years.

1921

Dan W. Duffy, 1101 N.B.C.
Building, Cleveland 14, Ohio

Jim Huxford was a recent recipient of a golf trophy presented him at the wind-up dinner of the Skaneateles (N. Y.) Country Club. Jim, who downed his opponent on the 18th green in the senior flight of the club's tournament this summer, is the first to receive the new award. Jim's son, Dave, is married and has a daughter and is back at Notre Dame for his law work. Dave spent three years in the Marines.

1922

Rochester 7, N. Y.

From Kid Ashe:

God has summoned another 1922 man—John E. Mahoney of Enid, Okla., who died recently. Details of his death are not now available. At N.D., John was registered in Commerce. He was a mighty fine chap. All who knew him were much impressed with his character, his personality, and all valued his warm friendship. We of '22 extend our sympathy to a surviving brother—A. G. Mahoney, and to his sisters—the Misses Mary and Frances Mahoney.

Here is a letter from our good friend Charlie Hirschbuhl, grand mufli of the 1922 class for the Northwest territories:

"You are a very poor manager for not having arranged your duties so they would have carried you to Seattle for the Washington game on Oct. 1. You missed a grand game and a grand occasion, and I will try to put forth some of the highlights as I saw them.

"First and most important is the fact that Jerry Jones and wife Marion came to spend their vacation with us, arriving Sept. 27 from Dixon, and staying until Oct. 4. Pat (Mrs. Hirschbuhl) and I had a chance to show them a part of our country out here, went to the game in Seattle, and returned to Portland for a couple of days before they had to return home. You can well imagine how much we enjoyed their visit, which was altogether too short, but did allow time for some real visiting and fun.

"In Seattle we saw quite a few 'old-timers,' Duke Hodler, '23, Frank Lomergan, '04, Roge Kiley, '23, Bill Schmitt, '10, Hugh Lacey, '14, and John Kilkenney, '23. I had a dandy visit with Herb Jones and Bill Schmitt the night before the game, and were guests at another occasion of Hugh Lacey, and again with John O'Donnell, ex-24. We went to the Seattle alumni luncheon at the Edmond Meaney Hotel, from there in a bus to the game, and afterwards to the usual round of celebrations, etc. Others at the game were: Gene Murphy, '23, Natt MacDougall, '31, Ivan Sharp, '23, and many other Portlanders of later days.

"The weather during the visit of Jerry and Marion was near perfect, and were we glad! Right after they left conditions changed; the rains came and now Portland is back to normal. At Timberline Lodge, where we spent one night, there are now several feet of snow, although the ground was absolutely bare when we were there just two weeks ago. It was the grandest treat in the world to have the Jones' with us, and not since our reunion in '47 have I had so much news as Jerry was able to give me, regarding our former classmates, teachers, etc."

If you should happen to see a giant tackle (weight 268 pounds) playing on the Nevada football varsity team next season, chances are it will be Tommy Atkinson, son of Doctor Hank Atkinson of Green Bay, Wis. Tommy is now on the Nevada freshman squad.

Chet Grant, who is getting much favorable attention for his publication "Under the Hat"—a weekly letter on the Notre Dame football team for Notre Dame fans—paid Buck Shaw a fine compliment in his Oct. 4 issue. After mentioning an anecdote involving Buck in his playing days, Chet had this to say:

"... the same Buck Shaw who now coaches San Francisco 49ers—in his day an 185-pound gentleman and scholar and as fine a lineman as ever I've played with or watched play."

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Kearns of Terre Haute upon the occasion of their 20th wedding anniversary celebrated on Oct. 9. Also, to the Al Scotts of Los Angeles for their 20th anniversary on Oct. 28.

Joanne, daughter of the Charlie Hirschbuhls of Portland, Ore., was the bride of Bradley Quinn of Portland on Sept. 3. We congratulate the newlyweds, and extend our best wishes, also, we felicitate the bride's parents—Charlie and Pat.

D. Worth Clark of Idaho, former senator, announced recently that he will be a candidate for the Senate in 1950. He previously served one term in the Senate and two terms in the House.

Aaron Huguenard was recently toastmaster at a kickoff breakfast for the South Bend Community Chest campaign.

Earl "Curly" Lambeau resigned as head coach of the Green Bay Packers whom he had directed for the past 28 years. He'll work with them as vice-president and general manager.

James Metcalfe, who is famous for his "Portraits," presented in many papers, was in South Bend Oct. 3, 4 and 5 giving lectures to the South Bend Rotary club, St. Mary's College, Notre Dame journalism classes and the Eagle's lodge.

William A. A. Castellini is a trustee for the Robert Gould Research Foundation of Cincinnati. Bill is giving a lot of his time to promoting the Natural Law Institute at Notre Dame, sponsored by Mr. Gould.

Will you particularly in your Masses and prayers remember Jack Miles, '47, son of Frank, '22, who, as this is written, is still in an iron lung in St. Joseph's Hospital, South Bend, the victim of polio? Stricken early in September, Jack has been in critical condition ever since.

1923

Paul H. Castner, 1305 W. Arlington Ave.,
St. Paul, Minn.

Les Logan visited the campus Sept. 13. Three of his sons are all in school at Notre Dame now.

1924

Rev. Thomas A. Kelly, C.S.C.
Cavanaugh Hall, Notre Dame, Ind.

Again not much news of the class of '24, the response to appeals being meagre. First, however, the congratulations of the men of '24 go out to our classmate, R. Conroy Scoggins, on his election as a member of the Supreme Board of the Knights of Columbus for a term of three years, starting Sept. 1, 1949. Conroy, as a director of the Alumni Association, made a recent, albeit hurried, call on his Alma Mater the week of the N.D.-Tulane game, but had to rush off to Canada to a meeting of the Supreme Board of the K. of C.

Among other recent visitors to the campus was T. Cliff Noonan. Your secretary had the pleasure of a surprise meeting on the stairway of Cavanaugh Hall with Cliff and Mrs. Noonan, and the still further surprise that Cliff's son, Edward, resides in Cavanaugh. Another son, Tom, was also here; Tom is entering Maryknoll Seminary to prepare for the foreign missions. Cliff already has another son studying for the priesthood at Our Lady of the Lake Seminary, Mundelein, Ill.

John N. Stanton, Gary, now chief deputy prosecutor of Lake County, Indiana, has a son, John N., a sophomore, also resident of Cavanaugh and another son, James F., a freshman in Zahm.

John Gotuaco, now in the Philippines, has a son enrolled as a freshman at N.D. Did you see the son's picture in the ALUMNUS before this one?

News of other '24 sons here or '24 daughters at St. Mary's will be welcome. Your secretary hopes to complete the roster for the next issue. How about some help?

Bob Rink on Oct. 26 last lost his ten-year-old son, Michael, who died of head injuries sustained in a fall off his bicycle. The youngster was on his way to school for afternoon classes, when he lost control of his bicycle and fell in the path of an oncoming truck. The truck driver swerved and avoided hitting the fallen boy. Bob has the heartfelt sympathy of all his classmates in his sad bereavement.

Four days after our Commencement in 1924, Walter R. Rader, son of the founder of the Buckeye Clothing Store of Coshocton, O., lost his father; Walt took over the management of the store, which is now celebrating its fourteenth year of service to its community. The Buckeye Clothing Store has long been a great figure in the civic and athletic life of Coshocton and the congratulations of all his classmates go out to Walt on his successful management of a great enterprise.

Ben Ong's latest address is Paramount Motors Co., First Floor, 8 F Po Ai Road, Taipeh, Formosa, China.

Conroy Scoggins was honored at a dinner in Houston, Texas, in recognition of his election as a supreme director of the Knights of Columbus. He is the immediate past state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, having retired from that office on June 30 after serving three terms.

Frank Kelly, of the Department of Speech at Notre Dame, spoke at the postgraduate college of the American Legion in Indianapolis in October on "Public Speaking."

In the September issue of "The Houston Chronicle Magazine" there was a picture of Buck Hennes and an article entitled "He Remembers 'Rock'." Buck was "the first official trainer" at Notre Dame and is now a professor of government in the University of Houston.

1925

John P. Hurley, The Toledo Parlor Furniture Co., Toledo, O.

From John Hurley:

Twenty-five years is a long time, and the boys will have a lot of territory to cover at next June's reunion. In case you missed the list in the last ALUMNUS there are ten fathers who have sons as first-year students at the University. Edward Ahlering, Herman Centlivre, James Chisholm, William Clemens, August Fipp, Irving Lammers, John Lightner, George Ludwig, William Merriman and Armando Porta.

Bill Cerney will be a grandfather by June, and Elmer Layden is the father of a varsity player.

Jim Armstrong just received word that Bernie Livergood is in a hospital with a serious heart attack. Remember Bernie and the rest of your classmates in your prayers. This brings up a point that Jim and some of the boys I've talked to this past month thought was a good start for our reunion year.

Let every member of our class pin a dollar bill to a note about himself, his family, and any other information he may have on his fellow '25ers. These dollars will go into a fund for Masses for our deceased classmates, as well as the living ones. These Masses will start in November—as the '25ers in Toledo have already started the bills rolling. If you don't have time for the note send the "green note" anyway. The Mass stipends will go to the Bengal Mission priests.

Don Miller, our class president, sent this fine letter: "I was delighted to hear from you regarding our class reunion next June. You may rest assured that I shall do everything in my power to plan a successful reunion. In my opinion we had the finest class that ever graduated. I believe that the 1925 group accomplished more and had more spirit than almost any other class.

"... I have two of our classmates, Frank Steel and Jack Kane, on my staff in the United States Attorney's Office. ... We have six children—five daughters and the youngest, a boy, who is entered in the class of 1961.

"As you perhaps know, I worked along with Tom Clark in his juvenile delinquency program as chairman of the sports writers and broadcasters group through the country for the past four years. I was also elected national secretary of the United States Attorneys' Association and in 1948 was elected president.

"I received a call from Joe Bolland and he informed me that the Four Horsemen will meet in New York on Oct. 24, and will be on the "We, the People" program on Oct. 25. Our week-end reunion for the '24 team will be at the Southern California game."

In Bill Cerney's letter accepting the chairmanship of the executive committee he said the list of thirty in South Bend was certainly larger than he realized, and if all made the reunion, it will be 25 years since he will have seen many of them.

I recalled that there were half a dozen '25ers in Toledo and that I hadn't seen some of them in quite a while, so I gave them all a call. This plan seems to be a "painless" way of getting news, and after the "dollar for Masses" drive is over, I will call on someone in the big cities to contact the boys on the 'phone.

Ben Kesting's two sons are finished at Notre Dame. Jim, his younger one, graduated in architectural engineering last June. Ben is with the Comte Construction Co. He saw Paul Hartman in Pittsburgh this summer. Paul has one son and a daughter. He is still in his father's business, the Pittsburgh Empire Oil & Gas Products.

Paul Dooley couldn't talk on the 'phone and we had a "pad and pencil conversation" the last time I saw him, a few months ago. He had a serious operation on his vocal cord but he came through the ordeal in good shape. Paul has two boys ... Dick, eight, and John P., seven.

Ray Tillman has a married daughter, Kathleen; then Barbara, Lawrence, Sherry and baby Judy. Ray is assistant secretary of the Unitcast Corp., here in Toledo. Reunion week will be a "red letter" one for Ray. If you remember, Ray "jumped the gun" on the rest of us so he is celebrating his 25th wedding anniversary on June 8, and then comes our reunion the following day. He hopes to be in good shape for both!

T. Frank Murray is the manager of the Toledo Cartage Co. Frank's swell family ranges from Tom, 15; then Frank, Caroline, and Veronica, the youngest, is three and one-half.

Carl Schaffer is with Owen & Owen, patent attorneys. Carl's oldest, Ann, is attending Toledo University; then John, 16, and Mark, seven.

Your class "sec," John Hurley, is still in the furniture business with his brothers, and is proud of his two daughters, Moira, 15, and Patty, 13.

Don't forget to send the dollar—a check or a bill—for the Masses that will start in November, and continue (we hope) till our reunion Mass on June 10, 1950.

Wally Cyr has been appointed assistant trade sales manager for the Yale and Towne Manufacturing Co. Walt joined Yale and Towne in 1926 after he was graduated from Notre Dame. He resides at 17 Hillside Ave., Stamford, Conn.

The fall issue of the "Trailways Magazine" carried an article by Elmer Layden, entitled "Football."

At a recent meeting of the South Bend chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants, A. J. Porta gave a talk on "Accounting as a Tool of Management." He is comptroller of the Studebaker Corporation, and has a son at Notre Dame.

At a recent management conference meeting of the Calvert Distillers Corp., it was discovered that three Notre Dame men were there. John Roach is Calvert's director of trade relations; Joe Friel, '29, is assistant treasurer and assistant secretary; and Walt Houghton, '26, is advertising manager. A picture of these three will appear in a later issue of the "Alumnus."

Bill Hurley writes regarding the reunion:

"Just recently I had lunch with John Snakard in New York, and he too is planning on being present. I looked up Frank Howland in Detroit about a month ago, and had a very interesting gab-fest with him. He'll be there. I saw Dr. Frank Kowals the night before the Notre Dame-Michigan State game, and I believe he will be among the present. I ran into Jack Courtney at a Kiwanis meeting here a week ago, only to find he has been getting in town about every two weeks, and we hadn't seen each other in 25 years. He'll be there."

1926

John J. Ryan, 1415 W. Thome Ave., Chicago 26, Ill.

From John Ryan:

In the September-October issue of the ALUMNUS we reported that the class roster would be in your secretary's hands in time to get cards out to request some life histories. It did arrive and proved my estimate to be on the low side.

The class roster, which includes all who received degrees in 1926, plus elected members of the class, breaks down as follows: living, 298; dead, 37; missing, 26, or a total of 361. So it looks like the 25 I scheduled as contributing editors will have to be beyond the 30 (to which I changed when I got the roster) to 35 or 40 for each issue. Reason for the increase: so that we get everyone before the issue just ahead of our reunion in June, 1951. So fellows, when you get that card from me just remember I'm writing a stack of them, and come right back with your own writing.

Now for a report of progress: 30 cards went out—11 answers came back. And a telephone call from Mrs. Joe Rigali to say that Joe's letter was on the way (we'll get that in the next issue). That response (almost 40 per cent) is a pretty good start, but the other 19 fellows can disregard the deadline shown on the card and send their stories at their earliest opportunity. They will be used in the next issue.

But let's get to the stories:

Rollie Berry writes from Milwaukee on the letterhead of the Cramer-Krasselt Co. (advertising) that after a year with the late "South Bend News-Times" he moved into advertising with Studebaker, then to Chicago for five years and to Milwaukee and his present connection, where he is an account executive. To some the fall of '29 recalls "Black Friday" and the market crash but to Rollie it means the time of his marriage to Mary Watson of Mishawaka. Rollie reports their 12-year-old son, Bob, as a likely prospect for the football team of '56. His experience on a visit to the campus a year ago indicates a need for Seeing Eye dogs for returning "old" grads. Don't worry, Rollie, enough of us will need guides in '51 that the University will see the wisdom of providing them.

It looks like a little difficulty in the Dallas home of Bill Defferari ('22-'24) around Dec. 3—his 21-year-old son is a student at Southern Methodist. Bill writes that after he left N.D. he spent many years in the educational publishing field. Five years ago he went with Hiram Walker. (We should get him and Uncle John (Calvert's) Roach together—how many volunteer judges can we get?) Bill is now located in Dallas as the Walker Texas manager.

Many years ago Phil Donovan proved a friend in need when I got my signals mixed and failed to meet my gal (and still my gal) on her arrival for the Prom. So he comes through again in answer to my call. Phil writes from his country home at In-gomar, Pa. (and it's a lovely one, as I remember it) that he has returned to Recordah Corporation in Pittsburgh after four years in the Navy, most of which was in North Africa, England and on the Continent. But I'll bet he didn't serve in the "black gang," as he did on that summer cruise to the Orient.

"Bert Dunne Productions" is the letterhead carrying a very complete story of the old reporter's life. Most of you remember Bert standing up to the plate ready to take his cut at that ball. But I remember Bert for his reportorial duties. Get him to tell you the story of that Penn State trip. I still think they wouldn't have stopped the train up there in the Pennsylvania hills. Bert was at N.D. in October visiting his son, Patrick. He has four other children, two of whom should appear at N.D. in '56 and '63. Bert spent some years with Campbell-Ewald (advertising agency), then went into advertising and public relations work for three years and for the past five years has been producing motion pictures. Probably many of you have seen some of his work or read some of his books. Bert reports that he sees Ed Fallon and Jim Dwyer when he gets to New York and also sees Red Conroy in San Mateo. We'll be seeing you, Bert, in '51.

Father Isidore Fussnecker, O.S.B., who got his M.A. with us, writes from Florence, Ala., that he established Blessed Martin de Porres Church and has built a congregation for colored people in Florence. He sent a picture of his little church and another of his converts. If any of you want to help in his work, his address is 648 West College St., Florence, Ala.

Father William Green writes that he has been on the faculty of Lorain College at Dubuque, Ia., since 1930.

Bernie Hurley of Ponca, Nebr., says he hears from Gerry McGinley in Ogallala, Nebr., once in a while. He must have a pretty fair law practice for he planned to see the Southern California, Southern Methodist and one other game this fall. He'll have a son ready for N.D. in about four years. His two daughters, ages six and one, will wait a few years yet for their college education. And Bernie is another who says "will certainly plan to make the '51 reunion."

How Pete La Cava even found time to answer my card is more than I can figure. Listen to this: Member of St. Joseph Bar Association, justice of the peace in Mishawaka for 21 years, choir director, leader of family orchestra and quartette, proprietor of "Casa Maria" at Lake Wawasee, Ind., which is an outgrowth of private catering in his home, and father of four daughters and one son. He reports seeing Irving Hurwich, Art and George Farage in South Bend and Gene Brown and Alex Sievers in Elkhart.

Harold Neu reports from Des Moines that he has celebrated his 20th anniversary and that the municipal bond business—Ballard-Hassett Company—produces the groceries for his family which includes a 12-year-old daughter and a nine-year-old son. He expects to see the Southern California game. What about the reunion, Harold?

Brother Stanislaus Rusilowski, C.S.C., wrote a nice letter telling of his teaching work. For 18 years he was stationed at Holy Trinity High School in Chicago. For the past three years he has been at St. Anthony's High School in Long Beach, Calif.

Look back for a second at Pete LaCava's story. See that "justice of the peace." Here is one of his customers. Allen Travis reports that back in 1933 Pete put that "through the power invested in me by the State of Indiana I now pronounce you" stuff on him for life. As this is written, Allen is preparing to take the California Bar exam. He practiced for years in South Bend, Mishawaka and East Chicago, until the Army beckoned in 1942. After his service, which included 15 months in New Guinea, he did what so many guys in the Army said they were going to do—he settled in California (at 1334 14th Street, Santa Monica). Eddie Duggan and Harold Neu, please note address. Allen said he'd like to hear from you. He will try to be on hand in '51.

The members of the class for whom we have no current address are: Norbin Arehart, J. Cullen Brown, Lester J. Clarke, Dr. Fred R. Davis, Francis M. Esch, Dwight L. Field, Harold J. Gallagher, Edward J. Gebben, Linsung Hahn, Joseph P. Harvey, John W. Keelin, Harold J. Kiley, Gerard D. Left, John B. Lenihan, William D. Minter, Rev. P. Herman Mossman, O.S.B., Leon J. Pallanck, John E. Probst, William J. Regan, Emmett T. Rohwer, Manuel V. Sanchez, Joseph W. Tatham, Gerald L. Timmins, John H. Wagner, Maurice P. Welsh.

If anybody can give us a missing address, or even any clues as to how to get it, we'll be mighty grateful. Write to me or to Bill Dooley.

Well, fellows, there it is. I hope Bill Dooley loses his blue pencils and uses it all. Sorry I couldn't just send your letters on and say "Print in." For the rest of you who couldn't make the "deadline"—forget the date and send in the dope. It will go in the next issue.

"Remember '26—Prepare for '51."

Dan Kelly, South Bend, who has one of the largest collections of historical newspapers in the United States, had his papers on exhibit in the public schools in South Bend and Mishawaka from Oct. 1 to Oct. 8. Dan accompanied the display to the various schools and told about items of outstanding interest.

Rudy Goepfrich, South Bend, has been appointed chief engineer of the automotive brake department in the Bendix Aviation Corp. Rudy has been with Bendix since 1927 and headed the new brake development section from 1935 to 1943, when he became assistant chief engineer.

"Man Around the House," published by Prentice-Hall, New York, is Norb Engels' latest book. More about it later, after the Professor lets me read a copy. For the present, all I can say about it is that it concerns the simple business of making—yourself, that is—Chippendale chests, hurricane lamps and other such pieces of this and that—WRD.

1927

Joseph M. Boland, Radio Station WSBT,
South Bend, Ind.

From Joe Boland:

Somewhere the sun is shining . . . and somewhere secretaries are safe . . . but, with Lou Buckley on the prowl, these sections of the ALUMNUS have to come-through with readable material or we're likely to lose our franchise. So, brethren, check-in with the Sec. whenever possible—in person; by mail; dog-team; or carrier-pigeon. I'll accept anything but collect-wires!

Don Wilkins . . . now, a colonel in the Army Air Forces . . . showed-up on the campus for the Tulane-game week-end, in charge of the AAF headquarters detail handling the ABC broadcast of the game, which was aired in the interest of AAF recruiting. Don, air-and-chair-borne, not only likes his assignment . . . but it evidently likes him, because the job he's doing is a good one.

Regis Lavelle did the right thing: while in South Bend, he called me and left word that he was in town from his native Pittsburgh . . . even though we failed to get together (my fault) his name gets in here.

Ralph R. De Leo, sales manager for (hold your hats on this one, boys!) the Anne Alt Brassiere Co., Compton, Calif., was a station-caller after the Indiana game—he was en route to New York on business. Looks fine, feels better . . . said "hello" to everyone via this space.

Frank Pendergast's father died recently in Galesburg, Ill., . . . according to Lou Buckley, who belongs in the next room but who has just come in for a visit with this item, and a few more to follow.

Lou adds that Bill Coyne is with the legal division of the Atomic Energy Commission and living in Joliet, Ill. Buck spent an evening with Bill and Dr. Ed Mayer. The Coyne's have one boy.

Mike McDermott — who lives at 1895 Oakdell Drive, Menlo Park, Calif., got far enough off home-base to see the Washington-Notre Dame game in Seattle and we held-up the corner of the Olympic Hotel there for hours while we batted-out flies about '27 and adjacent years. Mike is west-coast representative for Hill-Rom Furniture . . . and, naturally, had "business" in Seattle the week-end of Oct. 1!

Mike passes on the word that Dave Hickey is living at Millbrae, Calif., working for the California Power and Light Co. and that Ray Sullivan is a native now of Manhattan Beach, one of Los Angeles' many suburbs. Pat Hemeny and Byrle Groeclose were somewhere in the throng at Seattle, both McDermott and Herb Jones agreed . . . because they had met, and talked: but I missed connections with both, sorry to say.

Ed De Clercq is now making his home once again in his native South Bend—after Chicago, Peoria, and war-time sojourns in the Army. Ed is planning to return to the wholesale-grocery field: his activity before the war. He's feeling swell . . . ready to roll once more, after a long siege of illness that followed his military service.

From the Alumni Office came word of the death in 1945 of Dr. Gyan Sharma, Ph.D., '27. Remember him in your prayers.

That's about "thirty" for now; but remember . . . Buckley's looking over that fence, inspecting the growth of pasture here . . . so keep that stuff coming in for proper plant production!

Art Bradley is recreation director at the Newark School, Newark, N. Y.

Elmer Marchino announced the opening of his law offices specializing in the law of taxation and related matters at 529 Circle Tower, Indianapolis 4. He lives at 125 East 51st St.

James Griffin Jay, 302 N. Alpine Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. writes the story for "Chip Grant" in the "Catholic Boy," published at Notre Dame. The Jays have three children: Bob, a Jesuit scholastic; Anne, a candidate for the Sisters of the Holy Cross, and Mike, aged 13.

Lyle Morency is with Knouse Foods at Peach Glenn, Pa.

Vic Lemmer, '26, writes that he took care of Tom "Red" Hearden and his St. Norbert football team while they stayed at an Ironwood, Mich., hotel for several nights. They played and beat Northland College (54-0) at Ashland, Wis. Red and his players attended Mass in a body and received Holy Communion. Red had his usual top team.

1928

4700 W. Adams St., Chicago 44, Ill.

From Lou Buckley:

I spent a very enjoyable evening with Father James Gallagan, C.S.C., recently in Watertown, Wis., where he is pastor of St. Bernard's Church. It was like old times getting up early to be present at his Mass. I was unable to give him any recent information on Ed McCauley. Ed, by the way, recently moved to 1058 Main St., Leicester, Mass. How about a report from you, Ed? Father Gallagan mentioned that Swede Schroeder has a son at St. Thomas College in St. Paul. The deceased members of the Class of 1928 are continuously remembered by Fr. Gallagan, and especially during the month of November.

A business trip to LaCrosse, Wis., gave me the opportunity to see Angie Grams and Joe Doyle. It seemed like only a few years ago when I saw a picture of Augie's four little daughters in "Life." When Augie informed me that one of his daughters is now in her second year of college at St. Mary's, I realized that the "Life" picture appeared some 12 years ago. I was sorry to hear that Augie's father died very recently. Augie has a feed mill in LaCrosse and a farm near the city. Although Augie is as modest as ever, I heard from a number of people in LaCrosse of the outstanding work he has done in religious, civic and Notre Dame fund and club affairs.

It was a pleasant surprise to meet Joe Doyle of Sparta, Wis., who was with us in Freshman hall, on the staff of the LaCrosse district office of the Wisconsin State Employment Service. Joe lives in Sparta and has three girls and two boys. Two of his daughters are in nurses' training. Joe inquired about Vince Carney and about the Evansville gang with whom he roomed in Freshman Hall.

I had an opportunity to talk to a number of the '28 men in Milwaukee recently. Art Slavin, who is married and with the Soil Conservation Service, mentioned that he saw Gus Jenkins recently in Milwaukee. Since Gus seems to travel more than most of us, I think he should give us a report for the next issue. Let's hear from you, Gus. Paul Brust and his brother have an architectural firm in Milwaukee. Paul has five children. I enjoyed having the opportunity of spending some time with Frank Holdampf who is doing structural engineering work in Milwaukee. Frank is married and has three children. He is quite active in K. of C. affairs and makes a number of trips throughout the country in K. of C. bowling tournaments. I was unable to reach Bill Brown, another Milwaukee '28er; however, I have seen Bill recently in Cleveland and Chicago at Catholic Economic Association meetings. Bill is in the legal department of Allis-Chalmers.

I met Jack Lavelle at the Chicago airport not long ago. He had been in this area attending some games. Jack tells me he has lost weight, which was not evident to me since I had not seen him in some time. He promised to send me some news soon. I understand from the N. Y. fellows that in addition to his C.Y.O. work in N. Y., Jack is kept busy as an after-dinner speaker and as a scout at games throughout the country.

A recent trip to New York did not allow time to see many of the fellows there. However, I did have an opportunity to see Bernie Garber and Steve Sherry. They are working together with the Corbin Co., 33 W. 60th St., N. Y. 23, in fund raising activities for Catholic organizations. Bernie mentioned that Dan Verrilli, who is in business in Morristown, N. J., stopped in to see him a short time ago. Steve Sherry, like Bernie, retains the youthful appearance of campus days. Steve was in service during the war and had taught in California prior to that time. I discussed plans for our 25-year reunion in 1953 with Bernie. I am hoping he will take over the job of promoting that reunion as he did so well in 1948.

Bill Murphy called me recently to let me know that Bill Cronin had been in Chicago to attend the funeral of his father-in-law while I was out of town. Bill Cronin previously had been at Notre Dame where his son, Vaughn, began this year as a freshman. Bill Murphy is in sales work for a chemical concern in Chicago. He is still single. Bill reports that Bill Armin is in public accounting work in Chicago.

Bill Jones and his wife and daughter stopped in Chicago on their way from California to Washington. Bill reported that my old Freshman Hall roommate, Joe Brannon, is now with Sears Roebuck Co. in Los Angeles, Calif. The address of Joe's store is 4550 W. Pico Blvd. Joe is married and has a family. He was in the Navy during the war.

I met Vince Ducey's brother in Chicago who told me that Vince is with the California State Employment Service in Sacramento, Calif. His address is 1421 - 16th St. there. Vince was in service during the war. It was good to get a report on Vince and I understand he is still single.

The other day I met Frank Meyer in the loop. Frank lives in Hammond, is married and has three daughters. I see Father Mark Fitzgerald, C.S.C., quite often, as he comes into Chicago to do research work on his Ph.D. thesis. He has completed his class work at Chicago University on his Ph.D. I met Ed Keenan at the Labor Day Mass at Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago. I understand that Joe Doran of Lafayette is now in Atlanta, Ga., with Sears Roebuck & Co.

Leo Walsh wrote from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he is a member of the law firm of Carmody, Geib, Walsh & Block. Leo married his St. Mary's girl friend of campus days, Mildred Ronan. They have three children, two boys and a girl. Leo has attended the annual Notre Dame Retreat for the past 12 years and has seen Henry Hasley and Spike McAdams at the retreats. By the way, Spike is very much in the news in Chicago these days as attorney for Preston Tucker in the case before the U. S. District Court here. Spike was a most successful campaign manager a year ago for Senator Paul Douglas.

Joe Horan reports from Fort Wayne where he is with the General Electric Co. Joe is married and has a 16-year-old son. Joe mentioned that he sees Frank McCarthy, who still looks fit enough to play on anybody's team, and Frank Metrailler, '29, who is with General Electric.

Father Andy Mulreany writes with his usual enthusiasm over his parish work at St. Mary's Church, 209 E. Tenth St., Austin, Texas. Father Andy feels like a real Texan, as he starts on his sixth year there. He visited his brother, Al, in Laurence this summer. Al is active in Notre Dame Foundation work there. Father Andy mentioned that he called Frank Creadon between trains in Chicago and that he heard from Fred Wagner of Tiffin, O. Andy reports that Brother Patrick, C.S.C., is on the staff at St. Edward's University. Keep up the good work. Father, and please continue to remember us in your prayers.

Vince Stace came through with a newsy letter from Dearborn, Mich. Vin is still with the Detroit Edison Co. as assistant purchasing agent. He spends a good share of his time placing their major construction projects. He sees Joe Simonin quite often in their construction engineering department and Art Scheberle who has rejoined that same department after being away for quite a few years. Vince was in the Air Force fighting the Battle of the Pentagon during the war years. He observed that his civil engineering gang will get a laugh to hear that his primary classification was finally listed as an "Electronics Officer." He was chief of the Guided Missiles Branch of the Research Development and Production Division of the Army Air Force.

Another Michigander from whom I have not had a report for some time, Dr. Guy L. Loranger, wrote from 250 Rayson St., Northville, Mich. I was sorry to hear that Guy has been quite ill during recent years, which accounts for his inability to attend the 20-year reunion. He was in New Guinea and the Philippines two years serving with the Fifth Field Hospital. Guy was married in 1935 and has six children, five girls and a boy.

I assigned Joe Morrissey the job of roving '28 reporter for the football games. Joe saw the following at the Indiana game, in addition to regulars Pat Canny and John Frederick: Bob Graham, George Coury, and Bert Korzen. Joe's coverage of the Purdue game included Frank Donovan, Vince Walsh, Bob Mohlman, Francis Meyer, Pat Canny and John Wallace. Joe noted that the little man from Indianapolis, Bob Kirby, was conspicuous by his absence. How about that, Bob?

Joe's report also mentioned that he talked to Marion Heffernan recently in Louisville. Marion is at the First National Bank there and is still single.

Fred Portner is with the Indianapolis Power and Light Co. in Indianapolis.

Former Congressman Bob Grant has joined the public relations firm of Grant, Ploeser, Dixon and Murphy with offices at 111 West Washington St., Chicago. Bob will remain in South Bend where he is also a member of the law firm of Voor, Jackson, Grant and McMichael.

Dr. Frank Ford is a resident surgeon at Cook County Hospital, Chicago.

Jim Shocknessy, Columbus, O., was named chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission by Governor Lausche. The Commission is organized to determine the location of the state's first super toll road.

F. X. James O'Brien is a securities specialist for the government and is located in Tokyo, Japan. His address is ESS/AC-GHQ, SCAP-APO No. 500, San Francisco, Calif.

George Coury visited the campus on Oct. 8 and delivered lectures to two sections of Father McDonagh's labor-management class in the Department of Economics. On Nov. 5 he delivered another lecture to the finance majors in the College of Commerce.

The body of Capt. Tom Ruckelsbaus, Indianapolis, Army Air Force officer who was killed in a plane crash in a mountainous area of India on a war-time flight, has been returned to Indiana. Memorial and burial services were held at the United States National Cemetery, New Albany, Ind.

The Purple Heart awarded to a Marine Corps hero, Lt. Col. Joseph P. McCaffrey, who was killed leading a Raider Battalion on Bougainville in 1943, was presented to his nine-year-old nephew and namesake, Joseph Patrick McCaffrey, son of the late Lt. Col. Hugh McCaffrey, who was also killed in the war. The ceremony was held on board the destroyer U.S.S. McCaffrey at Pier 26, Hudson River, New York City.

Don J. Plunkett, Biology Department, Notre Dame, Ind.

From Don Plunkett:

Here are some letters and news bits of interest to 1929.

Rev. Theo. J. Mehling, C.S.C., president of Portland University, writes: "I have just been reappointed for a second three-year term as president. Before being made president in 1946, I was dean of studies for eight years. The following members of the class of 1929 are on the faculty at Portland University: Rev. Regis H. Riter is head of the Philosophy Department. Rev. Cornelius Hooyboer is a member of the English Department. Rev. George L. Dum is teaching philosophy and is active in the School of Music. He also has charge of a very fine cultural series of lectures and concerts. Rev. John A. Molter is head of the Department of Biology. Rev. William Coughlan is head of the Department of Mathematics. Rev. John W. Scheberle is head of the Department of English."

Doc Dougherty writes: "My wife and I dropped in on James 'Red' Curry and family at Broad Lawn Harbor, Kings Point, Long Island, early in August. Red as you know is doing nicely in the real estate business. Red sees Jim O'Connor, Bill Cronin (N. Y.), and Jerry Crowley occasionally."

"We also visited with Tom Mahaffey and family. Tom is the father of three and is in business in N. Y. and lives at Scarsdale, N. Y. He sees John H. Flanagan, attorney of Newburgh, N. Y. Tom would like to hear from John Dorgan and Ralph Zimmerman."

"Saw Joe Timlin who is in advertising and lives in Scarsdale. Lou Bestin (Louisville) is now working for Revere Copper and Brass and living in Manaroneck, N. Y. John Polisky, John Niemiec and Paul O'Brien make the Ohio Valley Notre Dame Club meetings regularly. Bill Yaeger, brother of Lou and Jack, is president of the club. Francis Wallace, alumni president, also attends these gatherings."

"I missed Charley E. McDermott at the reunion in the group of steel plant metallurgists and operators including Walt Mulfur, Bill Johnson, Clyde Atchinson and myself. I would like to know the whereabouts of Phil Tompkins and John Patrick O'Connor."

Tony Kopecky (Lawndale National Bank, Chicago) writes: "My Corby Hall bunk-mate, Irv Corcoran, even though not present at the Oliver Hall party when we needed a piano player, is still the big noise at the Acme Furnace in Chicago. Air conditioning needs in July kept him from attending the reunion."

"Bill Dowdall invited me to see Niagara Falls on my 'second honeymoon,' so I may take him up on this in the near future. Saw Fred How at the I.A.C. here in Chicago some time ago. Fred can be reached at 4911 West Washington Blvd. I would like to hear from Bill Donelan of Colorado Springs." (Bill is with the Manufacturer's Services Co. and has a son enrolled at Notre Dame.)

Saw Larry Stander on the campus recently. He is using some special laboratory equipment developed by Elmo Moyer, E.E. '29, who for the past year has been doing research and teaching at R.P.I. Larry has been counselor for the active Notre Dame branch of A.I.E.E. Recently Larry was elected to office in the Catholic Forum, South Bend. Francis Jones is a charter member and past governor of the Forum. He or Larry would be glad to acquaint interested readers of the ALUMNUS with this Catholic activity."

We regret to inform you of the death of Linus C. Niemeyer, '29, who died Aug. 25. He is survived by Mrs. Linus C. Niemeyer who lives at 222 S. Market St., Ottumwa, Ia. The class of 1929 extends our sincerest sympathies to Mrs. Niemeyer and had a month's mind celebrated on Linus' anniversary.

Mickey McMahon writes: "I was extremely pleased that so many of our class could attend the reunion and I only hope that even more will be able to be back five years from now. The picture I have including Walt Mulflur, Larry Moore, Bob McVety, Father Otis Winchester, Don Schettig, John Cushman, Hank Burns and Doc Dougherty, while not a photographer's dream, is one I hope can be used as a pattern for taking a duplicate of this group at our 25th reunion."

Rev. Bernard McAvoy, C.S.C., writes that he celebrated the reunion Masses for deceased members of our class during the early part of August.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Bertsch on the arrival of a son, Robert Louis, born July 29.

Twenty-five Masses have been celebrated by priests of our class for deceased members of 1929. If you wish to increase this number let me know.

MIDSEMERESTER REPORTS

Green Stores in St. Paul, Minn. The Kricks have four children: Stuart, Edward Jr., Antoinette and Carolyn. Ed is on the board of directors, Twin Cities N. D. Club.

An ultra-modern $12,500,000 expansion program has recently been completed by the Miller Brewing Co., Milwaukee, Wis., under the direction of Fred Miller, president. The dedication was celebrated in the presence of state and city notables, as well as representatives from other Milwaukee breweries.

Hugh McManigal, Miami, Fla., was here over the Tulane weekend. Hugh has two daughters, both married, and is the proud grandfather of one grandchild, with another grandchild due momentarily.

Paul Bartholomew and Fred Baer, '33, took part in a panel discussion sponsored by the St. Joseph County League of Women Voters, South Bend, at its first general meeting of the season. Paul's topic was "Tools of Town Government" and Fred discussed local forms of government. Paul teaches political science at Notre Dame and Fred is city attorney in South Bend.

Murray Glasgow, president of the Glasgow Brewing Co., Inc., Norfolk, Va., recently entertained about 80 members of the crew of HMS Glasgow in the tap room of the brewery—it was "Glasgow Day" in Glasgow.

Harold E. Duke, 4030 N. Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Louis Hasley was honored at a meet-the-author party in the Aquinas Library and Book Shop in South Bend. Her new book, "Reproachfully Yours," has just come off the presses and is the first collection of her articles to appear in book form. It is published by Sheed & Ward.

Dan Cannon reports both by letter and by word of mouth (he and the managing editor had two quick conferences in New York on Nov. 11 and 12) that plans for the 1930 reunion next June are progressing admirably. Dan expects, as this is written, to be up for the Southern Cal game on Nov. 26 and will at that time get together with Devere Plunkett, local class chairman, and the Alumni Office staff to do more planning. The heavy firing on arrangements and mailings will of course start after the first of the year.

But remember now—the dates are June 9, 10 and 11. Round up your best pals and be sure they'll be here with you for that weekend.

Walt Langford, head of the Department of Modern Languages at the University, was guest speaker at a Knights of Columbus Communion Breakfast in Connersville, Ind.

Fred Schoppman was elected president of St. Mary's alumni at the annual picnic of the organization in Fort Wayne, Ind. (Ed's note: We're not referring to St. Mary's College, Notre Dame.)

Ed Conroy, San Antonio, Texas, is executive vice-president of the Planning Board of San Antonio, Texas, and Bexar County and as director of the Bureau of Governmental Research, which is an activity supported by the Planning Board to conduct research in problems of local government.

1931

Walter F. Philipp, 4 Pickwick Lane, Newton Square, Pa.

Rev. Thomas J. Culhane, C.S.C., pastor of St. Helen's Church, Georgetown, Texas, has been unanimously chosen a director of the newly formed Georgetown Community Welfare Association. Purpose of the association is to co-ordinate all relief organizations in the city so that there will be no duplication of charity. Father Culhane was also selected as a director of the newly formed Williamson County Tuberculosis Society.

The "Chicago Tribune" carried a picture with the caption, "Sons get football tips from famous dads." Bert Metzger and Hank Bruder, former Northwestern back, were giving Bert, Jr., and Hank, Jr., some valuable tips.

1932

From Jim Collins:

Bill Walts reports from behind the Cashier's desk of the Ohio-Merchants Trust Co. of Massillon in a manner that touched me deeply. He wrote:

"My heart went out to you and the '32ers when I read your terrific 'four-line' account of the old men in our class in the Sept.-Oct. issue of the ALUMNUS. The obituary did not show it, but I guess that old writing spirit has died. Otherwise they are all alive and kicking."

"You have probably heard that the N.D. Glee Club (of happy memory) gave a splendid performance in Canton under the auspices of the Canton Club during Holy Week last April. One of our own Massillon boys, Dick Blaumeiser, performed as soloist. The concert was well received but next time we hope to have the choice of a better date.

"My job at the bank is still taking the majority of my time what with auditing, comptrolling and purchasing. Next week I hope to renew acquaintances with several '32 fellows as I am flying to Philadelphia to the national convention of the bank auditors and comptrollers. I am also president of the Holy Name Society here and recently organized a Catholic Action committee."

Bart O'Hara brought me up to date on his activities with a fine letter. After taking his law degree at Catholic University, he returned to Denver and has been practising law there since. He was public administrator for several years, until 1943, when he became assistant U. S. district attorney. In 1947 he resigned that to concentrate on private practice.

Bart is married and has five little red-heads, three boys—Bartley, Daniel and Thomas, and two girls—Halley and Kearin.

He writes that John Humphries is with Travelers Insurance, married and has four lovely children, one boy and three girls. Bart and John see each other almost daily. Bart further wrote,

"Tex Simmons, who still lives in Dallas, gets up to Denver during the summer. We always have a splendid visit. Tex is married and at the last session had four children. His wife is a very charming Texas girl and we always enjoy the visit.

"Phil Dunleavy was stationed here during the war and when it was over he set up a law office in Albuquerque, New Mex. He is now deputy attorney general of New Mexico with offices in Santa Fe. He is married and had two children at the last reading.

"Bill Vaughn lives in Denver now, married a Denver girl, and has four children. He has a uniform business for nurses, chefs, etc., and I see him at the N.D. club meetings regularly.

"I am going to the S.M.U. game in Dallas and will see Tex, and I hope many others, there. I have not been able to get to any of the reunions but I hope to get to the next one." Bart's home address is 2065 Fairfax St., Denver 7, Colo.

Lieut Bob Lee is the legal officer on the staff of the Chief of Naval Air Training, and is living at 210 Payne Road, Warrington, Fla. He wrote in part,

"I hit my 40th birthday last month, and it is hard to believe that all of us are getting to be old timers. Our twin daughters are 13 now and in the eighth grade.

"Things are going along pretty well for me in the Navy, and the work is very interesting. I expect to get a promotion soon which will be quite welcome. I travel around some on the job, getting to Washington, Chicago, Memphis and Corpus Christi regularly.

"I helped entertain the NROTC boys from N.D. when they were here this summer, and we also took in the N.D. Band concert when the boys were here around Easter. Outside of that, I've had very little contact with N.D. people—and, as you can imagine, I read every word in the ALUMNUS for news.

"When I last saw my brother Maury in June, he and his fine family were in good health, and things were going fine for him in the law business.

"Sorry I have not more news for you but I just found out that I am the only N.D. alumnus in northwest Florida. You might print that and maybe someone will pop up around here to prove it is not true."

Ernie Hechinger, from his office with the Central Architectural Iron Works, 4227 N. Knox Ave., Chicago, gives a fine report as follows:

"Frankly, news regarding fellows in our class is about as scarce as corn picker orders. For your information, I am purchasing agent of the above concern and also the Farm-Rite Implement Co. of Chicago, and we are in the farm implement business. Only I regret to advise that business at this writing is very, very slow.

"I recently had a phone call from Barney Bernhardt. He reports everything is fine and dandy in Sturgeon Bay, and is looking for four tickets to the Northwestern-Wisconsin game. No doubt, I'll see him over that week-end.

"I might also report that Bud Dyniewicz is going great guns with the Deep Rock Oil Co. and has recently been appointed their general advertising manager. I am also in correspondence with Benny Salvaty and Dick Roney, both of whom report business conditions very favorable, and I might also add that each has recently announced the arrival of his fourth child."

Thank you, gentlemen, for those fine letters. Maybe the idea will finally catch on and I shall hear from someone else before another issue goes to press.

Congratulations to Bill Hall—he is the first member of the class to have a son enter the University as a student, according to all the information I have.

Col. C. D. Jones has been transferred to Headquarters, Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Texas.

The Alumni Office is without the present address of several members of the class, and this information is desired. Anyone knowing the address of any of the following is asked to send it to the Alumni Office. They are, Louie Brennan, Bob Briggs, Jim Carmody, William Cronk, George Cullinan, Frank Emerick, Tom Finnegan, Larry Fischer, Bill Fitzgerald, Tom Gately, Bob Gerhart, Bill Glass (Law), Bob Hartman, Arthur Hotel (Law), Gerry Hodges, Morris Hull, Marty Kennedy, Jim Koons, John La-Dame, Bill Langenbahn, Don McManus, Frank Maas, Myles Mullen, Maurice Neville, Louis Orgera (MA), Mike Papas, Tom Rossie, John Rush, Bill Ryan, Richert Schneider, George Seelinger, Rabbi Maurice Stiskin, Doroteo Sumabat (MA), Jim Williams, Willie Willigan, and Aziz El-Araj. Mail has been returned unclaimed from each of the above.

Frank O'Malley, of the department of English in the University was one of the principal speakers at a luncheon discussion meeting of the Chicago Institute for Religious and Social Studies.

His Holiness Pope Pius XII conferred the papal honor of domestic prelate on Rt. Rev. Msgr. Loras T. Lane, according to an announcement by the Most Rev. Henry P. Rohlfman, archbishop of Dubuque, Ia. Monsignor Lane is vice-chancellor and defender of the matrimonial bond in the archdiocese.

1933

Rosary College, River Forest, Ill.

From Joe McCabe:

Dear '33s: Never saw such a group of bashful guys! Look, if you're too modest to write me about yourself, send a few words about the other ND's you know. (Then they may write about you, and we can fill this column with names instead of my type-writer's aimless prose.) I do have a few names this time for a change—not all '33s, of course, but in that neighborhood. The postcard program fell down, but I met a few people and heard about a few more. Here's hoping the next column will do better.

Introit: Thought I'd put the spiritual ahead of the factual this time—more as a reminder to myself than anyone else. November is the Poor Souls' month, and if you have the same trouble I used to have in remembering whose poor soul to remember, maybe you'd like to have a simple solution to the problem: offer all your prayers and intentions to our Blessed Mother and let her do the remembering. There's no one that can do it better! If you get yawned off at all these plugs for the poor souls, and wonder why the aitch they can't take care of themselves, I've re-phrased a well-known traffic safety slogan to read like this: "Pray carefully—the soul you save may be your own." Not good, but maybe true.

HEARSAY: Here's the result of a few chance meetings and conversations: Frank (Francis X.) Fallon has moved into a nice spot—litigation chief for one of the nation's big corporations . . . General Electric, I think. Spike McAdams and Bill Kirby are getting newspaper space out here in Chicago as representatives of Preston Tucker, the no-auto magnate.

Doing a swell job, too. This is no plug for the nation's biggest former nickel-a-copy magazine, but they did have a swell profile on Marchie Schwartz—a NDer makes tradition at Stanford. Good luck, Marchie—hope you beat 'em all, except the home team, of course. Speaking of Schwartz brings to mind Nordie Hoffman—who at last reports is still in Washington, representing the CIO. Talked with Tom (Kitty) Gorman shortly after the Tulane boffo. Kitty says he never saw any team anywhere explode the way this year's club did in the first quarter against the Suthners, sah. He expressed his regrets, in which we joined, that it had to happen to Andy Filney. But we were both consoled by the thought that it could have been worse—Andy could have been head coach!

Kitty is Chicago zone sales manager of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors . . . and is happy to be relieved of those Sunday morning blues connected with coaching jobs. Kitty has an eight-year-old daughter. Near him in Oak Park lives Martie Linskey, who is in the advertising department of Sears Roebuck Co. in Chicago. Martie and Mrs. L. have four children. (His wife is a Rosary College grad, by the way—Adv.)

Another NDer Kitty sees often is Joe Thesing, who is a district manager for Chevrolet in Kitty's zone. Norm Greeney met by chance in the Stevens Hotel not long ago, is associated with an industrial heavy equipment firm in Cleveland. Chatted with Neil Hurley—wanted to get his opinion on the new movie, "Come To The Stable," as I had heard Neil had just bought a horse. In common with a lot of other ChiAlumni, Neil's planning to attend the Iowa game.

Speaking of Chevrolet, Ben Salvaty just won one —7,000 contestants in a raffle, and they pull Ben's name! He's parking it outside his home in Alhambra, Calif. Ben is also a member in good standing in the New Baby club, as is Dick Roney. That makes four each for the Linskeys, Salvatys and Roneys. Dick is now eastern sales manager for the "Plant Production Directory," a Conover-Nast publication, and lives in Philadelphia. To wind the whole paragraph up, Ben is a West Coast representative of the Independent Pneumatic Tool Co.

Another representative of the same firm is Bill Shakespeare, who used to pass and punt as well as his namesake from Avon wrote plays. Bill recently returned from the Caribbean, and will soon head for the Middle East. Business . . . no Bowl games in either of those spots. Heard an interesting locker-room chuckle about Terry Dillon. Seems Terry went to White Sulphur Springs recently to play a few rounds with his good friend, Sam Snead. (That's not the giggle—I understand they ARE good friends.) Terry got there bags, baggage and extra tees—only to find Snead had left the day before. FORE!

Us residents of River Forest saw Fred Snite's new bus rolling away for the south recently—first time Fred has gone all the way to Florida in it. We were speaking of parents-of-four up yonder: here's a topper . . . Dr. Henry Asman, in Chicago to attend the American Surgeons' Convention, is a five-timer. Mrs. Asman gets her share of the credit for the quintet too, of course. Henry does his surgeoning in Louisville, Ky.

Jim Igoo is with Inland Lithographing Co. Jack Duffy ran a football special to the Purdue game from Long Beach, Ind. Ed Kelly is in the brokerage business in New York. Paul Host is with Wieboldt's stores in Chicago. "Goose" Gosselein is in the hotel business in Aurora, Ill. Clay Duerr lives in Hinsdale, Ill., and is with Sears Roebuck. When you mention Ray Fox, you may safely think of the Fox Brewing Co.—and also, now the Patrick Henry Brewing Co., which I understand Fox has bought.

Mea Culpa: After all my pleading for classmates to write me, I have to publicly confess the sin of overlooking a communication in the Vital Statistics department. Last Spring I got a notification from Cmdr. Bill Hawkes announcing the birth of Susan Marie. She's of age now to snub me coldly for such neglect, but I'll make this apology, anyway—to her and her parents, Helen and Bill. Worst part of it is, her birthday's the same as that of my younger daughter, Erin—Feb. 20!

Just got a letter from Bart O'Hara of Denver. He says he's going to be in Chicago in a few weeks—so perhaps the next column will have some news about Points West. Bart is lawyering in the Symes Building in Denver, if you're as anxious as we were to hear from him.

and is it true that Ed Rhatigan is now managing a large convalescents' home in New York? Heard something like that about Ed—and that it was a good spot. Heard also that John Maguire, of some years behind us, is glad to be back in Aurora, Ill., after spending some time in Lake Geneva . . . the country life is not for him, and he found business a little off up there. Pete Trolie is an architect, and Frank Prichacek is with Universal Wine & Liquor Co. Ed Ryan is with the insurance plan division of General Motors. 'N that's all for now, folks!

One last ave before the vale . . . hope youse guys who started saying the Rosary daily during October will keep it up November, December, and always. It's like taking vitamins . . . it doesn't take long, doesn't taste bad, and there's a lot of unseen good gained by it!

Theodore Buczynski, Chicago, is a substitute teacher in the Chicago public high schools, and is preparing to take the teacher examination in Polish for the same schools. Ted received his M.A. in Polish from DePaul University and an M.A. from the University of Chicago.

Ed Sargus, Bellaire, O., is now attending law school at Notre Dame and resides in South Bend with his wife and two-year-old child. They reside at 325 Lincoln Way West.

John McNamara, director of personnel and publications for the school city in South Bend, gave the first in a series of talks before the local Catholic Forum. His subject was "The Catholic Teacher in the Public School." The talks will stress the role of Catholics in different professions. Larry Stauder, '29, secretary of the Forum has announced that "The Catholic Home and the Delinquent Child" will be discussed by a panel of Tom Tearney, '42; Al Doyle, '27; Anthony Kuharich, '35, and Dr. Sherman Egan. Aaron Huguenard, '22, will discuss "The Catholic in the Legal Profession" and Rev. Michael Mathis, C.S.C., will end the series with a summary of the obligations and opportunities of the Catholic professional man.

1934

Chicago 26, Ill.

From Ed Mansfield:

"Mr. SRO of '49." Bob Cahill, knee-deep in thanks and threats this snake-pit period at the football ticket office, won't like to hear this, but it does appear that we'll have to bugle for another reunion at once. That's the only way we can bring in another stack of news notes from men of '34. Chairman Cahill, can you hear us behind that pile of mail?

Business at the mailbox has been bad since the last time page forms were locked gently around your obedient servant's prose. We are particularly anxious to hear from that part of the roster absent from the reunion and the mailbox.

Through such divers devices as the Indiana and Tulane games, a convention encounter, phone calls, a trip to Louisville, and a pair of news letters, the following words have been lined up for you this month:

The two games brought not one encounter with a man of '34. Maybe Iowa and USC will bring 'em out. Ed Stephan, '33, "Scholastic" editor of our time, was about the only first cousin of '34 to whom we gave the Father Farley salute.

A Louisville trip did allow a pleasant chat with Carl Zimmerer, a journalism graduate actually still doing business as such on 3-to-midnight hours. Carl is a ten-year veteran at the esteemed "Courier Journal," now resplendent in a plant that must be the finest in the land. He has a transferred South Bend wife and a two-year-old son, and reports that brothers Mark and Leo of earlier classes are with Kingston Products in Kokomo. Carl reported a minimum of activity with the fine N. D. Club of Kentucky because of his night hours, but he had good words for their good works—particularly their trips to N. D. games for Louisville orphans.

Phone calls failed to reach Bill Veeneman, former golf team member now heading the George Gould wholesale drug firm in Louisville. Bill's dad has been headlined frequently since the passing of Col. Matt Winn, Mr. Derby. Mr. Veeneman, Sr., is now chairman of the American Turf Association and its co-run Churchill Downs group, and was frequently quoted during the selection period leading to Bill Corum's new job in Derbytown.

At the first Bear-Cardinal game in Comiskey park, I almost bumped heads in the low Sox dug-out runway with Ray Morrissey of Delavan, Wis. He was looking for the Bear dressing room, and such a veteran Sorin porch playmaker would undoubtedly be loaded with x-and-o battle blueprints for guaranteed TD's.

Welcome copy came from County Kennedy, area surrounding New Hampton, Ia., was penned by William J. Kennedy, Bunk the Barrister. He warned all traveling law men that he would come a-dustin' into Dallas for the SMU round-up.

In the sports sections some few of you may read, you have no doubt seen that Jim Leonard has a "representative" team at Villanova, and that Hughie Devore is doing well against a tough lineup of St. Bonaventure foes.

A quick encounter with Jack Lacey didn't lead to any '34 news, but it did show that Jack is busy with insurance, very happy with his new family, and keeping the liches off his colonel's wings with air reserve flying.

The American Gas Association convention at the Palmer House led to pleasant tones from a voice long unheard. Owner of the voice: Stew Osborn, ex-New Yorker now in Shreveport with the Texas-Eastern Transmission Corp. (big pipe-liners). Sorin Stew is married, has one child, and has seen Frank Nary, Judge John Logan, Jack Hagen, and Jack Quirk in the recent past. Smiling Stew looks good, likes Shreveport, likes his job. He also liked his lunch—a birthday meal. On the somber side, he felt that many of the class would be saddened to hear that his brother, Phidell, died last year.

Dr. Robert Nachtwey, now on the Mayo staff, will undoubtedly hear from Stew's brother, one-year N. D. man now doctoring at Rochester, Minn. (Bob, how about news from medics Gannon, Gabreski, Murphy, Tobin? See the reunion story for Kenney's latest).

Osborn would like to play pen pal with Paul Kane, Johnny Carr, and Bill Mackey as a starter. He's at 216 Arthur Drive, Shreveport, La.

And now the Smiling Irishman! Last month, Jim Fitzpatrick was a big help with a fine letter from Paris (Seine et Oise, that is). Now another Fitz, Hugh Fitzgerald, brighten's the secretary's mail-less gloom with good copy from 2 Rector St., New York-New York. He reiterated his disappointment over missing reunion trips with Bill Sheils, Jim Reville, Harry Burchell.

The ex-Wrangler and suave debate master was last at Notre Dame in a popular type of blue and gold uniform in '44. He's now back with Couder Brothers law plant after four Navy years. From here on it's body-type by Fitz-Hugh:

"I had four full years in the Navy, from '42 to '46, and wound up in command of an LST in the Pacific. I remember meeting Dan Brick in Pearl Harbor in January, 1945. . . . John Montedonico at Iwo Jima (light commander in charge of the Moore, a destroyer escort) . . . .

"Back here I see Tom Dalton once in a while—although I'm ashamed to say not of late. You all know about his condition, I'm sure. Oh, yes, I used to see him, too, in the old days. We spent many happy hours together in Miami in 1943. I saw Bob Jaynes regularly in Miami while he was in training—but not a word since. Do you have any idea where he is? [We'd be glad to get an address for Bob; haven't had one for several years—Ed.]

"About those three children—I married a wonderful Florida girl in 1942. She and the first two waited out the latter part of the war with her folks in the land of sunshine. We have one boy, 5½, a candidate for the Wranglers if ever I saw one.

"I am all talked out. You are doing an excellent job in your column; the "Alumnus" is well worth while. (I couldn't break up a fine sentence like that—Sec.) If you know of any nice small communities that need a good lawyer, keep me in mind, will you? Crowds and commuting have lost their appeal—if they ever had any."

That is a helpful letter. See how it's done, chums?

George J. Blaine, Butler High School, Butler, N. J. . . . Emmett V. Conkling, 8421 Lock Raven Blvd., Towson, Md. . . . Thomas C. David, 126

Hudson, Pineville, La. . . . Russell J. Leonard, 37 Clonavor Terrace, West Orange, N. J. . . . Nicholas P. Lukats, 5406½ Franklin, Los Angeles. . . . John L. Ruppel, R No. 5 Box 465-D, Enchanta Vista, San Jose, Calif. . . . C. F. Sansville, 302 Meeken St., South Orange, N. J. . . . John E. Tobin, 106 Lansing St., Madison, Wis.

Don't forget to talk about yourself in writing to the ex-Sorin night watchman, now your message center chief. Where else can you write to 540 classmates for three cents? See you 'round.

Father Bernard Shanley moved from his post in Strool, S. D., to St. Patrick's Church in Lead, S. D. St. Pat's is the second largest parish in the diocese and has just recently opened a high school.

J. Albert Smith, vice-president, trust officer and a director of the Fidelity Trust Co., was appointed a member of the Indianapolis Redevelopment Commission. Al has three children.

Clyde Lewis was on the radio "Town Meeting of the Air" on Nov. 8. The subject of his talk was "Should Communism be Outlawed in the United States?" As national commander of the VFW, Clyde was in South Bend and at Notre Dame for the Indiana game weekend. A glimpse of him was also caught at the North Carolina game in New York.

Frank Reilly, '37 class secretary, reports recent contact with Dr. Paul Sartoretto of the W. A. Cleary Co., New York City. Frank and Paul work and reside in the same buildings.

Franklyn C. Hochreiter, 1327 Pentwood
Rd., Baltimore 12, Md.

The motor is humming, the wheels are moving! Bill Ryan and Joe (Pat) Lynch were out to the campus in mid-November for a general discussion of 1935 reunion plans. They're the boys, you'll recall, who are going to carry the local burden for you.

Bill and Joe went back to town pledged to get the reunion program all lined up, as to planning, that is, by the first of the year. Then, they'll start feeding you mailing pieces in early January. One of the first of these pieces will be a roster of the class, with current addresses, for everybody.

Hochreiter got sunk in a sea of gold braid at the time of the Navy game in Baltimore—he's president of the Baltimore N.D. Club, you'll remember—and hasn't been heard from since. But we guarantee that he'll be dredged back into action for the next issue of the "Alumnus." Meanwhile, carry on, especially by way of urging your special pals in the class to meet you at Notre Dame on June 9, 10 and 11, 1950.

Father Vincent Thilman, C.S.C., pastor of St. Augustine's parish, South Bend, was elected president of the Clergy Conference of the Midwest on Negro Welfare at the recent semi-annual meeting held at St. Edward's parish, Cleveland, O.

John T. LaForge, Jr., has just finished as president of the National Renderers' Association. He has been in the rendering business for 20 years, associated with his father in the John T. LaForge Co., Freeport, Ill. He is also a director of the National Hide Association and has been president and director from the fifth regional area of that association for the past several years.

R.F.D. 4, Greenwich, Conn.

Joe Schmidt is associated with the Greshoff Advertising Agency, Inc., 406 East 149th St., New York 55.

Jack Joyce, formerly of Chicago, now resides at 6754 Richard Ave., North College Hill, Cincinnati 31, O.

Joe McGrath is teaching in the University of Washington in Seattle while working for his doctorate.

Pete Nemeth has resigned as supervisor of the vocational rehabilitation area of the state department of education and has opened offices for the practice of law at 201 Tower Building, South Bend. He has two children.

Henry Pojman is personnel director for the Thor Corporation (electrical appliances), Chicago.

1937

Frank J. Reilly, 1651 Metropolitan Ave., New York City 62, N. Y.

From Frank J. Reilly:

Although mail has been non-existent of late—apparently the three cent stamp went out with gas rationing coupons—I have been lucky in seeing a few of the members of the class. They also passed on word of some of the others. Jack Gillespie of Westfield, N. J., for instance, has been by a few times. He brought tidings of himself and others of our classmates. Jack has just been appointed secretary of the United States Cuban Sugar Council, and is associated with Ivey Lee & T. J. Ross, New York publicity counsel. Jack had previously been with Merck & Co., Rahway, N. J., where he worked in the publicity department. Jack, as was mentioned earlier, lives with his wife and two daughters in their new home in Westfield, N. J.

Paul Biagione was recently spotted on one of this city's streets recently. Paul having been transferred from the Chicago office of Dancer, Fitzgerald, Sample to the New York headquarters of the firm. Paul thought the assignment was temporary but now finds he will be here permanently. He is reported to have bought a home in nearby Englewood, N. J. Paul is continuing his work as a copywriter—on one of the soap accounts, I believe.

Our Mr. Gillespie is also the source of some information on Paul Foley, another copywriter, or is it account executive by now? At any rate, the story has it that Paul, who is with MacManus, John and Adams, Detroit, is writing the copy for Cadillac advertising, which is a most likely place for a former "Scholastic" editor to wind up.

Another recent visitor was Jack Walsh, who makes his home in this hamlet. John Judge, who has been with the Better Business Bureau of New York since 1945, is living in Peter Cooper Village, New York, the abode of Vince Hartnett, among others. Jack is married and has a five-month-old daughter. He reports seeing Bill Foley, who commutes between his New York apartment and Washington job as counsel for the Small Business Committee of the House of Representatives. Another Washingtonian from the class of 1937 is Joe Loftus. According to Jack Walsh, Joe is teaching at Catholic University, where he received his Ph.D. Jack told me of attending Mass one morning at his parish church, the other two people present in the church being Vince Hartnett and Mark Lonergan, who works in the neighborhood.

Frank Carroll of printing ink fame recently was in South America on a business trip. He was to visit the cities of Cali and Bogota in Colombia, Lima, Peru, and Quito, Ecuador. The visit, I understand, was to last about a month. I haven't had a chance to speak to Pinky lately, but I presume he is still living in Hasbrouck Heights, N. J. I believe earlier in the year he visited Mrs. Carroll's home in Salina, Kans.

Father Joe English, about whose elevation to the Maryknoll House in New York, you read in the last issue, called the other day. He seems to be doing very well, the promotion being taken in Joe's calm, modest style.

Another of our classmates in the clergy, Father ~~Cronan F. Kelly, O.F.M.~~, whom you all remember as Bob Kelly of Pittsburgh, returned from his assignment in Rome earlier in the summer. We had a nice visit with him. He returned to Europe in mid-September, following an illness which had him confined to the hospital for about 10 days.

On my way home the other night I ran into Ed Hoyt, whom I see too little of, even though he is a neighbor. Ed and family: one boy, one girl, are moving to Fairlawn, N. J., fairly soon. He told me he was completing his thesis for his master's degree in business administration. Ed has been plugging away at night school pretty regularly since his return from service. His present work is with the export department of Vick Chemical Co.

Vince Hartnett continues to do his free lance writing, I hear and see. He's also added lecturing to his list of things to do, recently speaking in St. Louis, and scheduled to discuss "Reds in Radio" before one of the local councils of the Knights of Columbus. As I mentioned earlier Jack Walsh has put me kept to Vince's activities, since Jack and Vince are neighbors and see each other rather frequently.

Justin McCann is still in the trade publishing field, devoting most of his attention to the interests of "Home Furnishings Merchandising." I spoke with him on the telephone not too long ago. That lunch date we hope to have is still to materialize.

On a golf outing during September I ran into Bill Huisking, brother of Ed and the late Frank of our class. Ed's whereabouts are somewhat of a mystery to me, although occasionally I bump into him at drug, chemical or toilet goods affairs.

Members of the class for whom changes of address have been recorded recently include: Rev. William C. Kunsch, who switched from Chicago to Loras College, Dubuque, Ia.; Dr. Paul F. Mueller from 214 E. 45th St. to 4329 Park Ave., Indianapolis; Nicholas P. Romanko from Perth Amboy to 6 Rutgers St., New Brunswick, N. J.; and Cyril Stroker from Baltimore to Box 775, Salisbury, Md. Cy, incidentally, still continues with Waterman Steamship Co., New York, and is doing very well the grape vine has it. Dr. Paul Mueller, mentioned above, made a quiet departure from this city; the last I heard he was at New York Hospital. Maybe he will write and give us a full account of his present setup.

Jack Hurley called on me one day during the summer when I was on vacation or out of the office at some affair, which is the last word I've had on the boy. He's still with G.E. in Schenectady.

1938

Charles M. Callahan, Sports Publicity Department, Notre Dame, Ind.

With this issue, Charlie Callahan, publicitor extraordinary and super traveler, takes over as secretary for the Class of 1938 replacing Hal Williams, who is in Germany for the "Baltimore Sun." Taking a few minutes from his strenuous job of keeping the 1949 football team undefeated (up to now), Charlie says:

Three hours hence, according to the eminent William Dooley, managing editor of this sheet, will be the deadline for all material to go into this issue. Therefore, dear classmates, you can see that I'm no more ahead of myself than I was almost 15 years ago when I used to be 10 minutes late to morning classes and five minutes tardy to afternoon gatherings.

For this particular issue, I am merely going to write at random with the hope of getting enough copy to beat the deadline. By the time I have to write some jottings for the next issue, the 12-15 hour a day routine demanded of one trying to handle the chores of publicizing the Notre Dame football team will be over . . . and perhaps I can produce a creditable column. I say "perhaps." The rest is up to you fellows. If you have some news, of yourself and others of the '38 brigade, send it to me at the Sports Information Office, Notre Dame, Ind.

Meanwhile, we'll all say a prayer that the noted journalist, Harold A. Williams, Jr., does not stay too long on his assignment as foreign correspondent in Germany for the "Baltimore Sun." His wife, whom I saw in Baltimore at the time of the Navy game, joins in this wish.

You know, I'm really trying to be helpful to these Williams people . . . what between trying to take over this column for Hal and attempting to tell the nation's press about the quarterbacking genius of little brother Bobby.

Since it is doubtful if any other member of our class has had a younger brother achieve the fame of Bob Williams, I will take a couple of lines to tell you about him. And a quick description, understandable only to '38ers, would be to say that he's pretty much a carbon copy of Hal, except in physique and athletic ability. Bob has a bit of an edge in the latter two departments. It may be of interest to record Coach Frank Leahy's statement on Bob: "I wouldn't trade him for any college quarterback in America today." And remember that Hal's little brother has one more year of competition.

Jack Zerbst, on a three-month vacation from his position in Brazil with the Union Carbon and Carbide Corp., was a campus visitor this summer. He's married to a girl from Baltimore and they have one child. During the early part of the war, Jack was in the FBI and then finished up as a Navy officer.

Out on the west coast, I saw Charlie Osborne, a lawyer, Ed Tobin and Jerry Kane at the Washington game. Charlie was general chairman of a combined Notre Dame-Washington alumni dinner the night before the contest and did a wonderful job on arrangements. Jerry, secretary of the club, was a member of his committee.

Johnny O'Connor, Indianapolis, was one of, I imagine, many '38ers at the Purdue game in Lafayette, Ind. I mention John, now a prospering Indianapolis attorney, because I saw him.

The Sunday morning following the Tulane game, I saw Jim Carson, with the telephone company in Indianapolis, for a couple of minutes before grabbing a train to Chicago. While in Chicago that day I bumped into Eddie Brennan, the old infield aspirant on Jake Kline's ball team. Eddie is now an advertising salesman in Chicago. He's one of the few single men left. Brennan has a companion, however, in a fellow Chicagoan, Jack Anton. The Deacon is a bank vice-president and his office is in the Merchandise Mart. Since I'm talking about single men, I should mention Dr. Dan Monaghan, of Denver. I see Dr. Dan almost every weekend for he makes almost every game on the football schedule.

Tom Gorman, the old Badin Hall prefect, who is now another Chicagoan, was a visitor with his wife at the Tulane game. Dan Gibbs, ex-pole vaulter and ex-Holyoke, Colo. (but now Chicago), was at the Notre Dame Club of Michigan City, Ind., golf party this summer.

In New York, at the North Carolina game, I saw Bud Kolp and also Joe Callahan and his bride. Joe was married on the campus (Log Chapel) last spring with my wife and me as the attendants. I was very happy to help Joe along in taking the big step. He was very helpful to me during the years 1934-38. Some of you may recall that Joe was a "magna cum laude" student and it was my good fortune in those classes in which the seating was arranged alphabetically to be stationed beside him.

Many of you are knowledgeable of the fact that Leo Welch met an unfortunate death early in the war, when his bomber crashed in the South Pacific. Therefore, it will be of interest to class members to hear of the recent wedding of his widow, Frances Lapp Welch, former St. Mary's girl, to a Frank Johnson, of Washington, D. C. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Carey, C.S.C.

And that is that for this month.

Bob Holtz is with the Martin Band Instrument Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Tom Radigan, Gary, Ind., was recently appointed police commissioner of that city. Tom is managing the family furniture store after finishing in law at Indiana University. He has four children.

Frank Cosgrove is teaching at the College of Pharmacy, Loyola University, New Orleans, and is doing work during the summer at the University of Colorado toward his Ph.D. He has just become registered as a pharmacist in Louisiana and has purchased part interest in a drug store in New Orleans.

Way back on Aug. 10, Tom Sheils, 6000 Sunset Blvd., Hollywood 28, wrote to Hal Williams as follows:

"I recently returned from a flying trip to N. Y., Cleveland and Chicago. I had business in N. Y. and Chicago, but my stop-off in Cleveland was for only one reason—to see old Hook Kerwin, his lovely wife, Alice, and their three children, two girls and one boy. Hook is fine. Still living there in Shaker Heights and still with Thompson Products. It was good to see him again, and he gave me a blow-by-blow account of the reunion last year which I was unable to attend.

"Saw Gene Vasslet here in Hollywood some time back. He looked good and has been living in Laguna. He was planning to move up here to L. A. and was going to call me when he did. However, I haven't heard further from him as yet.

"Ed Kavanaugh is doing a Jimmy Stewart on us and after all these years is taking unto himself a bride, a gal from South Bend whom I haven't had the pleasure of meeting as yet. The wedding will be on Sept. 3. I'm hoping to get back for the gala affair. I know Hook is planning to be there. . . . "As for me I am still in the music business. I have my own office now out here in sunny California. It's what is known as a personal management set-up. I handle The Modernaires, Clark Dennis and others. I'm not exactly getting rich, but as you may remember it's the kind of work I like and this California climate is great for my boys. Oh yes, I forgot to mention I have three boys, Tom, Jr., Peter and Johnny."

1939

Vincent DeCoursey, 1917 Elizabeth,
Kansas City 2, Kans.

From Vince DeCoursey:

The response to last month's card appeal for news was not exactly overwhelming, but at least did draw some information that would have not been forthcoming without them, so when you get the little yellow card sit down that evening and drop us a line; without news there can be no column.

First it is with regret that we received the news from Bill Dooley that Carl Sabo had passed away, Sept. 12, at Riverside, Calif. The list of those in our class who have gone grows alarmingly long and it might be a suggestion worth considering to have some sort of memorial service at the Communica Sunday in December for those who are no longer with us.

From an old letter-writing acquaintance, Mrs. Tom Clarke of Des Moines (mother of Ed Clarke who was killed in the Pacific) we had a very welcome letter a few days ago, with some much appreciated kind words. Mrs. Clarke reported that Ed's body was reburied in June with his brother, Father John Clarke, officiating and blessing the grave. There was a request as to the whereabouts of Jules Tonsmeire, whose last reported address we have was 69 Kenwood Road, Garden City, Long Island, N. Y. We too would like to hear from Julie; there's a boy who really gets around.

As an aside to those wives who read this column and wonder why there is no news of the hubby and his friends may we offer a little suggestion—inspired through reception of a letter from Mrs. Carl Fricke, Jr. Carl is one of those who had completely dropped from the sight of this column and glad it is that we can welcome him back home, although it took the time and trouble of his wife to resurrect him. Now for a little plea to those wives above mentioned—when you find time (my wife chuckles) either drop the old boy or take pen (make him use a typewriter) and drop a few notes as to where, what, and who. The more information the better—we need news.

But back to Mrs. Fricke, a resident of 6340 Middleton Street, Huntington Park, Calif. (someone asked for the address a few months ago)—who brings much in the way of information. The Fricke family has two future Notre Dames keeping things churned up. Carl is selling paper (Taverner and Fricke) and picking oranges. Dick O'Melia was on temporary duty at the Marine Air Base at El Toro and had dinner with the Frickes; Dick was at the time awaiting a fourth child and probably has that third daughter by this time. Dick is still practicing law. George Meeker, '40, has four sons (tie with yours truly), and is in business with the Meeker Land Co. Bob Kiernan is living at Corona Del Mar. Fred R. Stubbins, Jr., wife and three-year-old son are living in San Diego, where Fred is selling radio advertising.

So much for this time. Let's get some information in—after the games this fall you certainly have had conversation with somebody, so let the rest of us know about it.

John Sullivan announces the opening of his own law office for the practice of law at 832-835 Paul Brown Bldg., 818 Olive St., St. Louis 1.

Edwin Pick has collaborated with another lawyer and two members of the law faculty of the University of Wisconsin in writing a new book entitled "Wisconsin Practice Methods." The 1,400-page volume is a "how-to-do-it" manual, outlining procedure for meeting everyday legal problems in Wisconsin.

Jim Raaf was visiting at the University over the Tulane game weekend. He is on leave from his business with International Machinery Co., Bolivia,

S. A., and is visiting in the country with his family.

Bob Schirf is an engineer with the Layne-Northwest Co., Milwaukee, where he is in charge of the pump division. He just purchased a new home and moved in with his family Nov. 1.

Dr. Jim Johnson has opened offices for the practice of medicine limited to orthopedic surgery and fractures at 620 Exchange National Bank Bldg., Colorado Springs, Colo.

1940

Robert G. Sanford, 1103 E. Kensington Blvd., Shorewood, Wis.

Bob Sanford, recent father—again—writes that plans are perking merrily for the 10th reunion of the class on June 9, 10 and 11. In the next issue of the "Alumnus" he will announce tentative plans for the weekend, the name of the local chairman in South Bend and the personnel of various committees. It goes without saying that Bob will welcome volunteer assistance. Let him know that you will help, especially in the matter of rounding up attendance.

And, right now, start writing to your special pals in '40, urging them to get together with you for the big weekend. This will of course be the first reunion of the class, since the war took away any possibility of a five-year reunion in 1943.

Start beating the drums!

Paul Glass, Los Angeles mortician, visited the campus on Oct. 31. He is planning to return for the reunion.

Bob Mahoney and Jim Daskaloff, '49, have announced the formation of a partnership for the practice of law. They will have offices at 207 Poledor Bldg., South Bend.

Bill O'Brien is vice-president of the C.M.A.C. Corporation, 50 Church St., New York City 8. Until recently, Bill resided in Chicago.

1941

John W. Patterson, Jr., 5530 Rarlington Rd., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Jerry O'Dowd, Fort Wayne, Ind., was chairman of the credentials committee for the national Young Democratic convention held in Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 17-19.

Don Tiedemann has a new position in the investment division of the general counsel's office of the New York Life Insurance Co. in New York City. The Tiedemanns also announce the birth of their third child, a daughter, Ann, on Oct. 25. John MacCauley and his wife were the Godparents. Don had run into Milt Williams and reports that Milt is with the Arabian-American Oil Co.

Don is active in the Glee Club of the New York ND Club, along with Dr. Bill Clark, '41, who, with Don, lives in Tuckahoe, N. Y.

1942

William E. Scanlan, Pullman Trust & Saving Bank, 400 E. 111th St., Chicago 28, Ill.

From Scoop Scanlan:

Hats off to the Class of '42. According to a recent survey conducted by Louis F. Buckley, '28, our class topped all the others in the amount of news contributed during the six-year period—October, 1943 to June, 1949.

Communications have been falling off a trifle but now that the post-war relocation, marriages, etc., have just about settled things, let's resume where we left off and get back into the swing of things. This record is certainly a tribute to all the '42ers, and Mrs. Lashbrook, for the faithful work during that period. So, let's hear from you all—the address is up yonder:

Let's start off this issue with a communique from Tom Powers, now of the "Chicago Tribune" and you'll note he is apartment hunting:

"Phoned Paul Neville tonight and he says he's holding up under the strain of railroad trips, pullmans, Friday press parties, Saturday pressbox scrambles and Monday quarter-backing on Sundays—all of which goes with his new job as sports editor of the "South Bend Tribune." No ulcers yet, but Paul says he may get them from the many requests for tickets from classmates. Paul says his personal ticket allotment is no larger than any one else's, just enough to carry his own personal load. Visited Neville and his wife, Lil, at their new home on South Bend Ave. and got a look at Pete. Wasn't able to attend the christening but did Godfather to David Condon's Kathleen here recently. I thought I did pretty well through the ceremony and even translated some of the Latin for the Godmother.

"Neville tells me Dick LaJoy's brother was at the Indiana game. Unfortunately, I've been working football week-ends and missing the South Bend reunions. Had a wedding invitation from Eddie Huff who was getting married Oct. 22 in West Allis, Wis. Met his bride-to-be at the Old Timers' game last spring. Missed a chance to have a party with Emmett Wright and Don Hogan and their Mrs. recently, but think my rain check is still good. Had dinner with John Homan and family recently. He didn't know we were in Chicago and it was a case of word getting around and our finally getting together. Each thought the other was still working in Pittsburgh. John's working for Chicago Blower. Add similarity: John Specht stopped by the sports desk one day and asked me what I was doing here. I answered with the same question and it developed we've both been working in Tribune Tower for some time.

"Have had several calls from Dick McHugh from Manhattan. Missed a chance to accompany him to the Purdue game.

"Saved the best item for last. Got myself engaged and am apartment hunting. Getting married Feb. 18 at St. Adrian's. Her name is Irene Stachura.

At the Chicago Notre Dame club golf outing some weeks ago I ran into Don Hogan, and Bill Hickey. Don said Willie Platt is studying engineering at Armour Institute."

From Seattle, Wash., came an invitation from Rabbi Albert Plotkin to attend a wedding to Miss Sylvia Pincus. Sorry we couldn't make it.

Looks like weddings are in order; I had a nice letter from the newlyweds John F. Dinges' who are now living at 253 Park Drive, Boston, Mass.

IN MEMORIAM

Jane Pilarski, secretary to Bill Dooley, wrote that word had been received of the death of Francis E. Buckley, ex-42, of Saranac Lake, N. Y. He is survived by his wife at 2 Charles Street in that city.

We were sorry to hear that news and hope anyone in that vicinity will take the opportunity to pass on a word of comfort to Mrs. Buckley.

In Davenport, Ia., there is a new accounting firm established . . . James Patrick Doyle and John Emmett Keenan. They are located in the Davenport Bank Bldg.

Well, the time is set for news from Mrs. Lora Lashbrook of the lawyers, '42 version:

For the information of Mr. Scanlan and others, I have not been associated with the Notre Dame "lawyers" since last year, but since I have been invited to contribute to this issue, I shall add that news I have had, and say a fond "farewell" to the "Alumnus" and the alumni at the same time.

If it is true that "no news is good news," then I may begin by reporting that all the lawyers of the 1942 class are highly successful. I telephoned the local barristers and they knew even less than I about their classmates, therefore the report will be short.

Bill Hosinski reports that his house is full of feminine influence, and that it takes a full time practice to keep them going. He has two little girls.

Al Cholis is still holding the whip over the local landlords and is doing some practice at the same time. He is still a handsome bachelor.

Joe Miller is devoting full time to his teaching duties on the campus and doing a good job, I hear. The last time I saw Ernie Timpani he too, was "professing."

Bob Miller and Art Diamond had a flourishing practice in South Bend in the Lafayette Building. Bob was married last June to June.

Charles Cavanaugh is also in South Bend, associated with the Hartford Insurance Co. He was involved in the purchase of a new home the last time I saw him.

Louie Anderson is in town, too, but I have not seen him for months. Tom Tearney, on the other hand, has to bring in his money to the St. Joseph Bank frequently in order to avoid overloading his briefcase, and from my desk in the Trust Department there I see him quite often. He is thin, but obviously in good health. I wish I could think of a lot of superlatives to use in my discussion of him because he is the executive officer at the local Naval Reserve Armory where my youngest is a seaman.

Joe Barr, always good "copy," is with the district attorney's office in Wood River, Ill., and is the father of three, and soon will make it four. Mary his wife, has been seriously ill with what was thought to be polio, but she is reported much improved now.

I had a letter from Judge McNerthney while I was in Washington this summer. Joe is practicing in Seattle, and his address indicated considerable prosperity. Fred Hoover is also in Seattle with the firm of Clark, Stone and Hoover, in the Henry Building.

Tom Mills is practicing in Wisconsin, and John Halleck is living and practicing in Bowling Green, O., and has been teaching part time in the University there. John and Virginia have three lovely children.

Mike Hines spent the past months in Las Vegas, Nev., but is back in Indiana now and is reported to be locating here permanently. We hope so.

Bob Uhl is in law school and is due to graduate next year. Jim Neu is now head of the legal department of Columbia Broadcasting System in Washington, and is living in Alexandria, Va.

Jerry O'Dowd made the headlines a short while ago when he was sent to a national convention of young legislators. Jerry is now Representative O'Dowd and we will doubtless hear from him for a long time in political circles.

Cecil Jordan is a G-man in Cleveland, O. I saw Cecil and his wife in Washington last Easter Sunday morning, but they rode away before I could say "hello."

Leo Linck is married and practices in Michigan. Gerry Feeney and George Stratigos are law partners in South Bend. Gerry is prominent in local Democratic political circles and George was recently named commissioner for the Federal Court in South Bend. Both are married and look prosperous.

Jim and Mike Godfrey are practicing in Illinois, probably in Litchfield. Dean Manion reported on them after the American Bar Association meeting in St. Louis and he tells me they are both fulfilling all the promise they showed in Law School. Tony Girolami is still in school but will graduate in the spring of 1950.

Bob Simon is with White and Simon in Ottawa, Ill. I have failed completely in my promise to get some information about Mike Stepovich for the boys before my "retirement." Bill Hosinski and I spent a considerable time this morning recalling all of Mike's good qualities and wishing for some current information as to his whereabouts. If Mike sees this, I do hope he will get in touch with some of us.

In an effort to confirm Cecil Jordan's address, I talked to Mrs. Bannon, Patricia's mother, and she told me that her son, Barney, is working for the Great Lakes Distributing Company out of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mark is in Minneapolis, Minn.

I shall be in the bank for some time to come, and for any one interested, my permanent address is: Rockport, Ind., R. R., care of Elizabeth Day. The latchstring will always be out for any of you, and perhaps some of those thousands of cups of coffee that I have consumed at your expense may be recovered. Goodbye.

It's brief, but it's about '42ers. Let's have more. REMEMBER, IF IT'S NEWS, WRITE SCOOP. IF IT'S ABOUT YOU—IT IS NEWS!

Neil McCarty was awarded a Bachelor of Laws degree from Harvard University on June 23. John Burgess received a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Ohio State University on Sept. 2.

Mike Carr is now assistant sales manager for Paper Art Company, Inc., of Indianapolis and New York City.

Father Simonitsch writes that Vic Assad has joined the Trappist order in Georgia and is now Frater Peter. Also in the Trappists, Father says, is

1943

John L. Wiggins,
2108 W. Fullerton Ave., Chicago 47, Ill.

Through the excellent efforts of Lou Buckley, alumni secretary, there has been an attempt made to organize the class secretaries, with the hope of having them produce ample copy for each issue. Lou has given all of us tips on methods of procuring class news. In reality, however, the success of the class column depends upon the contributors. For this issue I mailed two dozen postcards seeking information and received but ONE reply. Not a sharp percentage.

We would like to ask that when you receive such a card you answer with another postcard with information about yourself or any others of the class.

Here are the figures to prove just how simple a task this should be: if I should contact 20 men per issue, you would have to pause only a couple of minutes every two years to send a postcard. My immediate sources of information are limited to classmates in the Chicago area. For that reason you may read some names more frequently than others. This is not by design; I cannot write about those from whom I have no information.

And so, brethren, ends the sermon. Don't forget! Just two minutes each two years. Thank you!

INDIANA GAME NOTES

Bill Lower and Dick Hall came down from Gary, Ind., for the game. Bill is with Sears, Roebuck & Co., Dick with Gary Wholesale Grocers. Dick's cousin, Bob "Buck" Muellman, was married in Danville, Ill., to Miss Lynn Hughes. Lower said that John Bosak is selling Plymouths and Chryslers at Bosak Motors in Gary, that George Carberry is in residency at Mercy Hospital, Chicago, and that Bob Lennertz is selling pharmaceuticals.

Bob Collins of Collins Excavating Co., Blue Island, Ill., was at the game and reported that he saw Bill Kinney at Muellman's wedding. Bob said that Jack Dugan was now in Milwaukee with the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Co. Jim Delaney told me in the stands that he had left San Francisco to work in Grand Rapids, Mich., with a die-casting concern. San Francisco lost Delaney, but gained a citizen. Jack Tallett who moved to the coast city the week following the Indiana game. His bon voyage wishers at Gate 14 were Bob McKee, Lee Raymond, Ed Roney and Pete Moritz.

Bob Kuipers nailed me after the game to tell me that Bob "Red" Lonergan was married Sept. 22 in the Log Chapel. Bob said that he had seen Jack Specht who was in the Advertising Department of the "Chicago Tribune." Saw Dick Creevy as he rushed to his seat, and understand that Harry O'Melia was at the game, though I'm sorry to say that I didn't see him.

FROM THE MAIL BAG

The lone reply to the postcard plea came from George Blackmore: "Hope this gets to you in time for the next issue. I am now in business for myself, selling insurance and trying to build my own agency, the George H. Blackmore Agency, 15 Smithfield St., Pittsburgh, Pa.—fire, automobile, and miscellaneous lines. Haven't seen Bill Murrin for some time. I believe he is still going to law school in Pittsburgh. The N.D. club of Pittsburgh has a luncheon each week at "Dutch Henry's" and I plan to attend soon and perhaps get more information for you."

In response to my request, John Powers, of International News Service, will send us a report on the pep rally preceding the North Carolina game in Yankee Stadium. We hope that Bill Tracy will supply information, also.

TULANE GAME NOTES

Practically all those mentioned as being present at the Indiana game were on hand for the Tulane spectacle, and in addition there were these: Charlie

Butler, Leo Lewis, Jack Griffin, Bill Middendorf, Gail Fitch, Bernie Schroeck and Frank Kaiser.

Lee Raymond has left the La Salle St. brokerage firm in Chicago for a transfer to South Bend, where he is on the sales force of Texaco.

Herb Melton was not the usual pessimistic expecter of one in the coaching profession. He predicted a fair share of victories for his Irish fencing team this season. Herb has joined the Notre Dame faculty as an instructor in accounting. By the time this bit reaches the readers the football season will be over, so it's safe to say now that Herb's wife, Kay, is secretary to Herb Jones, business manager of athletics.

The deadline for the next column is December 15. How about marking down that date and dropping us a line here? Your friends would like to hear a word about you.

John Powers gives the lowdown on the North Carolina weekend in New York:

"The pre-game rally at the Biltmore Hotel on Friday night was packed to the chandeliers. My wife and I arrived in the company of Paul Neville, '42, sports editor of the "South Bend Tribune," Cy Donegan, '43, and Jim Ferry and Joe Lane of '42. Cy Donegan is just getting acquainted on his new job, that of selling advertising space on the new "Flair" magazine, due out in January, 1950. We spotted a lot of the boys around the various tables, among them Don Heltzel and his wife, all the way in from Ohio; Bill Herzog and Tom McCreedy, both '43, up from Baltimore and Bill Walsh, '43, formerly of Mineola and now in Levittown. One table was turned over to FBI men exclusively and every one of them having a good time: Tony Maloney, Frank Conforti, Ollie Hunter, Bill Tracy. The Bureau can be proud of them. Bill Tracy's brother, Joe Tracy, was happy too, having just finished his law work at Columbia U. and readying to leap the bar exam.

"Down another aisle, I bumped into Frank Kunkel, '43, talking with Dick Murphy, '42, both of them from Forest Hills. Frank is working for his Ph.D. at Columbia U. these days.

"After the game was over on Saturday (and what a game it was) it seemed that half of the stadium converged on the cocktail party and reception at the New York Athletic Club. Everybody was hungry after yelling their lungs out for the team to come from behind and beat the Rebels, and a tray of hors d'oeuvres disappeared in no time. There I bumped into Bill Olvany, '43, another Forest Hills resident just moved to Bayside. Bill was accompanied by his very beautiful wife, Dolores, and they told me of two children at home. Bill Johnson and Jim Cooney, '43, walked up with a drink and I learned that Jim Hubbard was about the premises, too. Jim Cawley, '40, came along with Father Simonitsch, C.S.C., whom I hadn't seen since graduation, and I heard that my brother, Father Joe Powers, C.S.C., may be back on the campus next year.

"It was a wild and wonderful weekend, Jack, and I hope I've given you a small idea of some of the guys in it."

1944

William F. Talbot,
300 Main St., White Plains, N. Y.

From Bill Talbot:

Merry Christmas!

And now that we've neatly disposed of that, there is more salient matter at hand, dished up by our Cleveland informer, Tom Bremer. He reports that other lads duly enrolled in the local alumni chapter are Bill Mulligan, Jack Doyle, Creighton Miller, and Dick Hackman. So if you ever get stuck in Cleveland—and that's what you do when you're in Cleveland—get stuck—then you can look up a couple of the lads above.

Since we do not have much copy for the column this time—due to a rascally disinclination on the part of classmates to write—we would like to quote most of Tom's informative letter, being careful, of course, to amend those jolly, earthy expletives which might otherwise impair the high tone of this here article:

"Creighton Miller, besides practicing law on his own, and being assistant attorney general for the State of Ohio, is also broadcasting football games over station WERE in Cleveland.

"Then there's Jack Doyle who is looking for people who want to invest their millions. He claims he can triple your money overnight.

"Bill Mulligan is still slaving for Fisher's Foods here in Cleveland and planning to get married some time in the near future.

"Dick Hackman is working for Hackman Leather and doesn't do much more than [EMENDED].

"As for myself, there isn't much news. Still trying to get a few clients into my office, but I broke my lasso and there went my clients."

Tom, as you may have supposed, is an attorney. That address in Cleveland is: Leonard Frost, Attorney-at-Law, National City Bank Bldg.

From out Wisconsin way comes more good news. Bill Bodden has married and taken off weight. Or vice versa. It's hard to tell in a case like that which comes first. Anyway, writing from his new address of 112 Juneau St., Horicon, Wis., Bill reports that he is a real estate broker and solicitor agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., and that he will probably tie in his law practice with these duties in the near future.

Bill reports that Larry Lenz, a fellow lawyer, lives nearby (which couldn't be far in Horicon), and that Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. O'Neill, '40, have just borne a bouncing baby boy by the name of Brian.

By a bit of indirect investigation we have also discovered that Bill is doing much better than he may let on. For he has achieved two high civic posts, as director of the Horicon Athletic Association and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Word from another lawyer on another front: Attorney Bill Kelly is "bubbling over with optimism." And in the excess of his exuberance he has deigned to drop us a line—an act which this column appreciates no end. To wit:

"About the middle of last June, Tom O'Connor spent his honeymoon on Nantucket, and on his return spent two days with me on Cape Cod. I was down with my parents at the time. He has his own advertising business in Chicago, and was doing rather well. However, have not seen hide nor hair of him since.

"Just recently Frank Grover spent some time in Lowell with his wife, and I spent an afternoon with him. He's a salesman for a furniture firm in Elkhart. Same old Frank. . . .

"Frank took his wedding trip through the South, and stopped off in your old home town of Louisville to see Jacques Veeneman. Believe they stayed the night, and hashed over old times. Said Jack had two children now and a Scotty dog. He's with the George H. Gould Co."

Blessings on all guys like Jack Collins. He keeps us all posted on the fellows who entered Notre Dame in 1941 and graduated in 1944. He supplies us, for instance, with information about Bill Grafe, now a chemical engineer in Cincinnati. Bill announced his engagement in August and was married at a formal wedding on the 23rd of November in Cincinnati. Also a word about Dick O'Hearn, who recently completed law school at the University of Cincinnati, and who has already passed the Ohio bar examination.

As for Jack himself, he's still working as a research engineer for the Union Carbide Corp., Niagara Falls, N. Y. His home address up that way is 729 Townsend Place.

Another lawyer. This time it's the old reliable Glee Club man and academic record breaker, George Bariscillo. Here from George:

"I'm leaving for Trenton tomorrow morning (Oct. 12), and I'll be there for the next couple of days taking the New Jersey State Bar Examination, so you can imagine the hectic time I've been having the past months boning up for the event. As you know, I completed my law studies at Notre Dame last January. Since that time I have been serving a law clerkship (required by N. J. law) with one of New Jersey's superior court judges in Jersey City. It's been a most interesting experience.

"Last month I attended the N. D. Club of N. J. (Welcome Party) for the incoming Frosh from this state. It was held in Newark and on hand to greet the new members of the Notre Dame family were such stalwarts from our class as Frank 'Gigs' Giordano, John Bright, and Bill Waldron, among others. Father Frank Gartland, was the principal speaker, and he gave a very interesting and amusing account of his early days at Notre Dame, and concluded his remarks with some very worthwhile suggestions to the new men of Notre Dame from N. J."

And finally we have a treat for all the old gang, a communique from Francis J. Sanfilippo. "Flip," as he was better known as in them days, has this to report anent the North Carolina post-game con-fab:

"Just talked to Dick McCabe on the phone and he too thinks the idea is wonderful. As you probably noticed in the ALUMNUS Dick was recently engaged to a South Bend girl. At present he is in his father's law office here in Poughkeepsie.

"I am with Remington-Rand here in Poughkeepsie, in the Systems division. After finishing at N. D. in August '47, I started selling in the field and finally transferred here in May of this year. . . . By the way, if anyone is interested—it has never been announced in the ALUMNUS—I have two of the prettiest and smartest girls that ever rooted for N. D.

"Andy 'Bull' Murphy is recreation director for the city of Kingston, which is just across the river up here. Nick Amato, after teaching at N. D. for a couple of years, is now up at St. Bonaventure in Olean. The last time I heard from him, Lou Horning was helping his dad in Tarentum, Pa. Lou and his wife, Florence, have a future fallback for about 1967.

By the way, do you, or anyone else, know the whereabouts of Gene Carney? That ex-roomie character of mine has eluded me for too long now and I figure it is about time for me to give him his periodic 'taking down.' Maybe this will rouse him a little."

"Flip" also sends a personal note of congratulation to John Lynch for his wonderful success in the literary field.

One point in "Flip's" letter is disturbing. He reports that, though he is listed as '48 in the ALUMNUS, Dick McCabe's loyalty is still with '44. Now it would be nice if we would all sit down and take a good deep breath and listen: Anyone who graduated in 1944 or who, during any period of his scholastic life, intended to graduate in 1944, may by this very fact denote it as his class. It is entirely a matter for the individual to decide. The Alumni Office does not want to appoint any graduates to a class which is not of their choosing. If you are represented as being a member of a class other than '44, and wish to change; or if you are listed as '44 and wish to change to another class, then simply drop a post card to me or to the Alumni Office.

There's a bit of news out our way, too. Herb Gans, '42, and Jim Quinn, '36, both local Westchester lads, put their heads together and came up with an enormously successful benefit for polio at the Coveleigh Club, Rye, N. Y. Jim was one of the principal sparkplugs of the venture, which drew statewide attention. It happened that all three of Jim's boys were stricken this summer, one of them seriously. It is good to report that all are now well, and recuperating rapidly and happily.

At the Notre Dame Club meeting in New York in October were "Black John" Murphy, John Duffy, Jack Kelly, Frank Kunkel, Chuck Koeigler, Tony Earley (an apostate who has switched to another class), and several late arrivals whom I didn't get to meet.

Thanks to the special indulgence of Alumni Secretary Bill Dooley, we are able to overstep the press deadline and bring you a hurried and partial account of events over the North Carolina weekend in New York.

Headquarters for the Notre Dame crowd was the Biltmore Hotel where, on Friday evening, the rally-reunion entertainment got underway, featuring the singing of the sensation of television and Broadway, Kyle Macdonnell—whom, if you ain't seen yet, what have you got eyes for?

Up there real close to the ringside were Jack Kelly and Tony Earley on one hand, and Frank "nylon-is-so-good-to-my-skin" English on the other. Frank and Helen confided that they and baby now make five.

get; and Dave Garraway from Chicago, alias Byron Kanaley and his wife, Sally.

Bernie Bowling never misses. He was there, and so was his old side-kick, Jim Mahoney. Ditto Jack Whitley, who has taken on the stature of Leon Hart. He's that bbbig and robbust! Bill Boss finally showed up to give us all a glimpse of his charming young wife. Joe Pons and Joe Gallagher also showed—the old equalizers.

Of course you know how the game went the next day. Immediately afterwards the Notre Dame crowd squeezed into the New York Athletic Club. Your correspondent had to miss all but the last half hour of the festivities, and probably missed most of the fellows. But those we saw and welcomed were as follows: Chuck Patterson and his wife, together with Chuck Pickhardt; Bill Carey, who is finishing at Harvard Business School; Ted Weber (and wife) and Al Sommer together; a jovial group anchored to the bar, including John O'Hara and Ed Keelan; another group was composed of Jack Sullivan, Red McCafferty, and Bill Rodgers—at which point we bumped into lawyer-at-large Joe Patrucco; the Ed Dowlings and John Murphys, who later went off to dinner together. Several others who, though they are not members of our class, are popular enough to be remembered: Father Simonitsch, Paul Lillis, Jim McVey, Paul Tafel, Bob Saw, and the mighty mite, Greg Rice.

Jerry Brown, Ed Monaghan, Charlie Koeigler, Jim Sullivan, and John Duffy made the Wednesday night New York Club meeting and presumably attended the party, though we are sorry to have missed them there.

At the Commencement exercises on June 23, Harvard University awarded master's degrees in business administration to Vince Bitter, John Hickey and Franklin Eck.

Joe Neufeld was a patient at the Hickory Grove Sanatorium, West DePere, Wis., but was to undergo a series of operations at Columbia Hospital in Milwaukee. Pray for him, and keep mail going to him. Letters can be addressed to his home, Whitney Road, P. O. Box 17, Green Bay, Wis.

Emmitt Jennings, Queen of Angels Hospital, Los Angeles, was in Chicago for a medical convention. Emmitt sat in as team physician for the Los Angeles Rams while Bob Snyder, former N.D. back-field coach, was at the helm of the Rams last season.

Jack Coleman reports an address change; he is now working in New York City for the Coleman-Pettersen Corp., 521 Fifth Ave. He lives in Bergenfield, N. J.

Ed Altendorf is an accountant for the Red Star Yeast and Products Co., 221 E. Buffalo St., Milwaukee 1, Wis.

John Zwicker, recently married, reports a change of address from Appleton, Wis., to New York City, where he represents the Zwicker Knitting Mills of Appleton. His office is at 303 Fifth Ave. Call him there.

Vail Fischke announces the opening of his private law offices at 724 Ninth St., NW, Washington 1, D. C., for the general practice of law. He is a radio consultant.

1945

James W. Schaeffer, 7516 N. Hoyne, Chicago, Ill.

Don't forget the five-year reunion, June 9, 10 and 11, on the campus. Details in the next issue. Start now to get your pals lined up for the big weekend.

Ed Faust writes from Columbus, O., where he and his wife reside at 877 Gladden Rd. Ed has recently taken a new job.

Ted Weber reports a recent move from General Electric in Bridgeport to McGraw-Hill in New York City, where he is news editor for "Electrical Merchandising." The Webers have found a fine apartment at 68 Beardsley Park Terrace, Bridgeport 8, Conn.

Bill Whalen is settled in California at 4302 Grant, Fresno, and took his California bar exam in early October.

Ray Mazza is a medical student at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and will graduate in June, 1950.

Bob Morrissey made his simple profession as a Benedictine monk, and member of St. Bede Abbey, Peru, Ill., July 11. He is known as Frater Dunstan, O.S.B., and is teaching modern history.

Art Connors was awarded a master's degree in

Ed Kelly was the principal speaker at a football rally held by St. Anthony's Catholic High School, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in October.

John "Tree" Adams, Washington Redskins tackle, is an automobile salesman in the off season.

Pat Fisher, '35, 616 Indiana Trust Bldg., Indianapolis, writes that he is holding a Notre Dame ring, marked "R.G.K., '45." The ring, found some years ago in the vicinity of Union Station, Indianapolis, was only recently turned over to Pat. He will be glad to hear from anyone claiming it.

1946

John K. Stewart, Nolan Motor Co.,
Garden City, Kans.

From Jack Stewart:

Word has it that Charlie Clauss and Ed Fisher were going to attend the Michigan-Army debacle (I can say it now) at Ann Arbor.

Elmer "Bud" Angsman got off on another successful season as a star in the Chicago Cardinal backfield.

Tom Burns writes from Clovis, New Mex., that he and his brother, James F. (Notre Dame: 1935-37), are continuing their father's real estate, insurance, loans and abstracting business. Tom says that he plans to take in the ND-SMU game in Dallas, and then asks: Can anybody help (get more tickets?)? He says that Rudy Lopez is married.

From Madison, Wis., comes word from Charlie Bartlett, barrister and member of the attorney general's staff there. He thinks that he may be in private practice next year—in Cuba City, Wis. He says that Bill Schmid "was working for his father's Crescent Electric Supply Co., and seemed to be happy and doing well."

It is rumored that Art Mosher is somewhere in his New Hampshire hills. Doing what or with whom is unknown: possibly chewing betel nuts.

En route from Washington, D. C., I met Jack Tenge in Kansas City. He has left the advertising post in his father's company and is director of publications at Rockhurst College in Kansas City.

Let's hear from some of you, Navy as well as civilian graduates. Don't be bashful: we're all interested in what you've done, are doing, plan to do.

Bill Young is a student at the Colorado School of Mines in Golden Colo. Bill's home is at 595 Longwood Ave., Glencoe, Ill.

1947

South Bend, Ind.

From J. D. Usina:

Saw Andy McKay of Algonquin, Ill., who is now in South Bend as a field underwriter for Mutual Life of New York. He passed along the following news: Jack Freeman, Mishawaka, Ind., is with General Mills in a sales capacity; Tom Egan, Torrington, Conn., is employed by Brodbeck Trucking in Detroit in sales promotion work; Jack Dee was in town for the Tulane game.

Talked to John O'Brien who is in the Trust Department of the St. Joseph Bank here in South Bend. According to John, Luke Newbold is assistant physical education director and football coach at Madison School here, and Tom Manuszak, '48, is with the Indiana and Michigan Electric Co.

Among those here in South Bend to see the N.D.-Tulane game by Bob Snee's count were Bob Cronin, John Lavery, Bob Erkins, Paul Heiman and John Caron. It was rumored that Frank Gilligan was also around but that was hard to verify.

John Hosbein writes from Glencoe, Ill., that he sees John Horrigan, recently a father, occasionally. Bob Brown is teaching E.E. in North Dakota. John says he is working in his father's plant at Aurora and keeping busy.

Had a card that Dr. John B. Meyers is located at 2310 Fortieth Place, N.W., in Washington.

Bud Gotta and Bob Erkins are, as this is written, to be married in the next few weeks. Will save the details for later.

As for your correspondent—I am with the Lincoln J. Carter advertising agency here in South Bend, which was formed when the old agency of Carter, Jones and Taylor was reorganized. We have offices in the Sherland Building and I would like to see members of the class passing through South Bend. Maybe it will be easier to extract news in a face-to-face meeting.

Bob Rosenthal received a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering from Washington University, St. Louis, in June, 1949. Bob is now working for the Process Engineering and Equipment Co. as a sales engineer.

Joe DeMuro is teaching accounting in St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas.

Dennis Stark is the new assistant physical director of the South Bend Y.M.C.A. He is the father of two children.

Dick Prosche is an engineer with the Schutte-Koerting Co., 12th and Thompson Sts., Philadelphia 22.

Frank Szymanski, in his fifth season in the National Football League, was purchased by the Chicago Bears after four years with the Detroit Lions and Philadelphia Eagles.

Master's degrees in Business Administration were awarded by Harvard to the following: Paul Ames, Jack Alexander, Frank MacCauley, Ted Oppenheim and Forrest Watson.

A grim, but smiling and courageous, fight is being waged in St. Joseph's Hospital, South Bend, by Jack Miles, son of Frank, '22, who in September was hit down by polio. In an iron lung ever since, Jack is still in critical condition as this is written. Pray for him, for his family and for his fiancée, Beatrice Marie Machek, to whom he was to have been married on Sept. 17.

1948

Herman A. Zitt, Foundation Office,
Notre Dame, Ind.

From Herman Zitt:

A number of '48 men have not sent in their '49 contributions to the Notre Dame Foundation. Thus far we wouldn't get much of a room for the $2,844.00 contributed by 339 '48 men. The average this year is above expectations, $8.39 as compared to $4.24 last year. But we need a contribution from everyone, no matter how small.

In passing from the unpopular to the popular I am glad to report that there is some news about our classmates. From the Warren Kanes comes a report that they have moved from Olean, N. Y., to Tulsa. Warren is still working for Clark Bros. Before leaving Olean they spent some time with the Rob Logan's, who have two swell kids and a nice home. Bud O'Reilly is working for EBASCO Services in New York City (and still single). The Bernie LaLones are living in Pontiac, Mich. The last report from Joe Fitzgerald has Joe working in Indianapolis.

John Taylor is working for the Blind Commission in Massachusetts. The Charlie Owens, now living in Rockingham, N. C., reported the birth of a daughter on Sept. 27. Charles Ebner just started his sophomore year in medicine at Wayne University, Detroit. John Zarante is busy with his own accounting firm in Chicago (two small Zarantes now). John and Jean were down for the Indiana game. Joe and Luella Dues spent the Tulane weekend with us (two small Dues also).

Hal Tehan has accepted a position in the legal department of the Hagggar Co. in Dallas. Hal formerly was Father Sweeney's right hand man. Frank Robinson belongs to the same Naval Reserve battalion as I do. Jim Ferstel will finish his law work here in January. Lou Burns and Jim Griffin were down for the Tulane game. Lou is raising dough for the Hoover Plan in New York City. Jim is working on an advertising concern in Chicago.

Dan Barlow is now living in Duaneburg, N. Y., Dick Brose in Mt. Lebanon, Pa. Tom Foley is working for DeCoursey's Dairy, Oklahoma City. Bill Greeley, having left Vetville, is now living in Buffalo, N. Y. Paul Jackson is in Indianapolis, John Mabey in South San Francisco, and John McGroder in Wickliffe, O. Vic Neal has moved to Brookings, S. D. Paul Pandolfi is living in Wilmington, Del., and Dave Ardito has moved to College Station, Texas.

Bill Comstock is now living in Springfield, Ill., Bill Ethridge in Alliance, O., and Dan Fessin in Utica, N. Y. Bob Kuehl has moved to New York City, Tom Kiley is now with Bendix in South Bend, and Tyrell Miller is living in Detroit. John McShane is in Law School at Notre Dame. Bernie O'Hara has moved to Augusta, Ga., Bob Reynolds to Chicago, and Sam Smith to Du Bois, Pa. John Sweeney is now living in Chicago, Charlie Trotter in Jamaica, N. Y., and Paul Wanvig in Hamburg, Pa. Bob Kopf is working for the Kimball Glass Co., Toledo.

Mary Lou Gatens reports for Don their change of address to 211 Austin Ave., Maquoketa, Ia.

Frank Puyau is a medical student at Louisiana State University. His mailing address is 3964 Louisiana Ave., New Orleans.

Gene LeFave, holder of one of the first J. I. Holcomb fellowships in chemistry at Butler University, Indianapolis, presented a paper to the national convention of the American Chemical Society, held Sept. 19 in Atlantic City, N. J.

1949

John P. Walker, Roche, William & Cleary,
135 S. La Salle St. Chicago, Ill.

BULLETIN: Johnny Walker has just generously accepted the secretaryship of the 1949 class. More later!

Dick Nolan has joined the Franciscan Order and is at St. Francis Seminary, Todd Hill Road, Staten Island 4, N. Y. Dick was previously connected with the O'Brien Paint Co. in South Bend. Ernie McCullough is studying for the priesthood at the Holy Cross Novitiate in South Bend.

John Bartley is with the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. in South Bend. His business address is 226 W. Jefferson Blvd.

Tom Brady is with the Thor Corp. in Chicago, where he is editor for the house organ. Bob Conlin, M.A., '49, is teaching sociology in St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn.

Tom Lunneen was appointed federal census supervisor of the third Indiana congressional district. Tom, South Bend attorney, is married and lives at 110 North Hill St., South Bend.
